HOUSTON HARTE

ON BEST-SELLER LISTS

Author Of 'In Our Image' To Autograph Books Here Monday

A West Texas newspaperman who had an idea about encouraging more people to read the Bible is now finding himself on the "best-seller" lists with a Biblical art-literature work he conceived and edited.

He is Houston Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times, and a prominent leader in many civic and public service projects in West Texas.

His book is "In Our Image," a collection of character studies from the Old Testament.

The best-seller lists are compiled in metropolitan book centers but "In Our Image" also has been selling as rapidly as deliveries will permit in Big Spring. In recognition of the local response to the book, Harte has been prevailed upon to come to Big Spring to appear at local stores where he will autograph copies.

The Angelan will be here Monday, spending several hours to meet those who wish to have their copies of "In Our Image" autographed. He will be on the following schedule:

From 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., Cunningham & Phillips No. 1; from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., at the Book Stall; and from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at Memphis-Wells. All three shops are stocking the book.

In the short time since its publication in late September, "In Our Image" already has arrived on the non-fiction best-seller lists as reported by the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune.

On October 30, the Biblical work was in 12th place on the New York Times list and 13th on that of the Herald Tribune. Last week the book had advanced to 11th place according to the Herald Tribune. Such sales are considered unusual.

for a book of its type, since it is beyond the modest-class in price. Christmas gift purchases are expected to swell sales even further.

"In Our Image" came as the result of Harte's conviction that more people should read the Bible as living literature, and that more people would read its narratives if they were presented more in keeping with modern style. With the help of noted clergymen, he selected 26 Old Testament narratives. These stories were not changed in any respect, and their text is in the King James Version. What Harte did was to remove chapter and verse numbers, and delete various genealogical passages and verses not immediately connected with the story. The result is a presentation of the Bible made far more "readable."

Outstanding feature of the book are the 32 color illustrations by Guy Rowe, a former Time magazine cover artist. Rowe's conception was that famous figures in the Bible could be interpreted in the light of today's human beings, and he has received acclaim for a style that breaks completely with the traditional ideas of Bible art.

So impressive has been the reception to "In Our Image" that the Associated Press has carried a series of feature articles on the various chapters, distributing these throughout the United States. Time magazine adopted an unusual format in presenting a four-page full color "spread" of several of the Rowe paintings.

School Board Authorizes Refunds On Over-Payment Of 1947 Taxes

Last of the refund checks on over-payment of 1947 school taxes has been authorized by the board of the Big Spring Independent School district.

The board instructed issuance of checks for the remaining $20,663.98 due taxpayers who had paid on a $1.50 rate for 1947. The 50 cent increase subsequently was held invalid by the supreme court. When this decision was handed down in 1948, the board paid off $39,921 in refunds and last year paid half the remaining amount.

Action in clearing this account was taken at the board meeting Friday noon at the Douglas.

Reports on tax collections for this year showed 66.3 of the levy on the $2,038,782 roll had been paid. The gross was $209,711.22 after discounts of $6,254.74. Of this $183,312 was in local maintenance funds, $20,143.66 in interest and sinking funds. Delinquent collections for the month amounted to $2,038.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ruby Blankenship as a teacher and elected Mrs. Margaret Mobley, who holds a M. A. degree from the University of Arkansas, Elected as visiting teacher, a new position created by the state foundation program, was Foster L. Patterson, a North Texas State college graduate.

Formal release of the First National bank depository funds was voted, subject to approval from the state department. The State See SCHOOL BOARD, Pg. 6, Col. 4

Tito Junks Pact With Albania

BLEGRADE, Nov. 12. —Yugoslavia junked her treaty of friendship and alliance with Albania today, 10 days after delivering a virtual ultimatum to her little southern neighbor.

Marshal Tito's government charged that Albania, goaded by Russia and her eastern European dependencies, committed unfriendly acts.

In a note Nov. 2, Yugoslavia sharply told her to stop these hostile gestures and to live up to their 1947 friendship treaty. A reply was demanded "within the shortest possible time."

"Albania ignored the demand. It was the first time Yugoslavia, badgered for months by Russia and her Balkan followers, has taken the initiative in scrapping one of the alliances which formerly bound them together.

Earlier, following campaigns of mutual abuse and accusation, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria severed treaty ties with Belgrade. Diplomatic relations, however, continue.

Steel Mills Of Nation Again In Operation

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12. —Back to work parades of cheering thousands put America's economic lifeline—steel—back in business today after a 43-day strike costing nearly a billion dollars.

Smoke billowed from mill stacks across the country. Workers celebrated and then geared the giant industry for top production early next week.

The CIO United Steelworkers who won their insurance and pensions started sweeping scattered hold-out firms into the contract fold. Fewer than 100,000 are still idle out of the more than 500,000 who struck Oct. 1.

All top producers now are signed. The government said there is no steel crisis since production quickly goes back to near normal.

Some of the little fellows haven't signed. But Union President Philip Murray predicts 90 per cent of the industry will be under contract by Monday.

Burg, the union signed two Mid-Major holdouts include Allegheny Ludlum, 12,500 employees, Crucible Steel, Pittsburgh Steel, Sharon (Pa.) Steel and Wheeling (W.Va.) Steel. Allegheny Ludlum and Wheeling are near agreement.

ABSENTEE VOTE STARTS MONDAY

Absentee voting the Howard County Junior College bond election will start Monday, it has been announced. Voting may be done at the college office.

Absentee ballots may be cast through Friday of this week, in accordance with election laws.

Voters will go to the polls Nov. 22 to determine whether or not the college district may issue $350,000 in bonds to finance a permanent new college plant.

T&P Prepared To Move Cotton From City Now

Ample Number of Cars on Hand to Clear Bottleneck

The Texas and Pacific railroad is prepared to furnish freight cars for immediate transportation of cotton from Big Spring to ports and other major storage centers, G. L. Brooks, general agent, announced Saturday.

Brooks made his announcement in response to a query from J. H. Greene, Big Spring chamber of commerce manager. Greene said the chamber was particularly interested in seeing the cotton bottleneck here cleared up.

The T&P has the cars to transport all loan cotton and any shipments that regular buyers might require, Brooks declared. He said the railroad had kept the buyers advised that many cotton shipments already had moved out of Big Spring over the T&P.

The T&P general agent was doubtful that any possibility of a car shortage might arise. Cotton can be shipped in any type of box car, he explained, and many so-called "rough load" cars that normally bring oil-field equipment, etc., into the area and then return empty could be used for cotton transportation.

Says Reds Invite Atom Inspection

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 12. —Andrei Y. Vishinsky said today the Soviet Union has offered to open wide its doors to international atomic control and inspection.

The Soviet foreign minister firmly told the special political committee of the UN assembly, however, that Russia never would give up one bit of its soil to ownership by any international commission.

He said also, in a wrap-up speech on the atomic question for the Soviet Union, that Russian requirements for atomic energy are "tremendous, and they are growing."

Assistant Secretary of State John D. Hickerson told the committee yesterday that the United States is sending isotopes, radio-active tracer elements for research, to some 30 countries. He asked what are the Russians doing.

Vishinsky said that was all right "but the fact is that we are using atomic energy for large scale explosive projects, blowing up."

"Blowing up what?" he asked.

"Pieces of rock. After all, we are not going to just shake the air. That would be economically unprofitable. Although there have been cases in history where atomic bombs shook the air rather than do good to mankind, and in addition to shaking the air they killed scores of thousands of persons without any need, militarily speaking, from the point of view of prosecuting the war or from the point of view of anybody's war aims."

Vishinsky said statements had been ascribed to him about moving mountains with the help of atomic energy. He said someone perhaps thought of a report in a German paper but that he had talked of blowing up mountains, razing them.

Facilities For Storing County Crop Planned

Warehouse, Yard Service Will Be Available Here

There was hope Saturday night that Howard county's huge cotton crop would have storage facilities within a few days, as the Farm Bureau Federation moved ahead with its plans to launch a warehouse and cotton yard business on a temporary basis.

The Bureau, through a special committee, leaped into action early Friday immediately following announcement of an embargo at the West Texas Compress and Warehouse Co., which maintains the only accredited storage facilities in the county.

At the time its embargo was posted Thursday evening, the bales of cotton in storage in its compress company had some 60,000 warehouses and on temporary open yards. Compress officials said that was the maximum their insurance would allow.

Farm Bureau officials were hopeful that their agency could be organized for warehouse and yard operations early in the coming week. The Bureau launched its action primarily to assure storage for loan cotton. Many farmers need to process loans with the Commodity Credit Corp. immediately to provide payrolls for harvest workers, they explained.

If established as planned, the Farm Bureau storage facilities will offer warehouse space for loan cotton. Yard storage will be available to all cotton, since the concern would operate as a public storage agency.

The Bureau already has made arrangements for a superintendent, in case its plans develop as outlined. It was announced late Saturday that operation of any Bureau facilities would be supervised by Frank Loveless, a former public weigher. The Bureau plans to request the county commissioners court to appoint Loveless as a public weigher.

Tentative negotiations already have been made for something over 100 acres of yard space and some warehouse facilities. It was disclosed at a special meeting of Farm Bureau directors Saturday afternoon.

Bureau officials were in communication with the Commodity Credit Corp. office in New Orleans Saturday. At the same time the Bureau had virtually completed raising $15,000 in capital, which is required before CCC approval as a storage concern can be solicited.

The Bureau plans to send County Agent Durward Lewter to Austin on Monday to confer with the Secretary of State on the proposal. It was not known immediately whether the storage agency would

$12,683.51 COLLECTED HERE

Chest One-Third Of Way Toward Quota

The Community Chest stood one-third of its way toward a $37,000 goal today on the eve of the major push for life-blood funds for six welfare agencies here.

As Ray Griffin marshaled forces for the kick-off on the general solicitation Monday at 8:30 a. m., Ted O. Groehl, general chairman, announced that the total reported from special gifts and the Day's Pay plan stood at $12,683.51.

While this left plenty of room for help from the public, it was considered a good start. The Day's Pay group still has spade work to do in enlisting employer cooperation in this phase of the campaign.

At the end of the week, response was just beginning. Latest group to sign up 100 per cent to give a day's pay was the faculty of Kate Morrison school.

The special gifts group was making a good start, but it had by no means reported on the major end of its prospects. Contributions from these sources, said Groehl, are holding the line with last year. The same is true in the number of responses from firms with out-of-town headquarters, according to reports from Marvin Miller, in charge of this division.

Most of the division workers for the T&P were announced Saturday, and contacts are due to swing into action this week. The rural committees were due to be completed.

This problem, of course, will also confront the Farm Bureau storage agency if it is established as planned. However, officials of the organization hope that enough of the loan will go into the loan or be sold to require steady shipments and stabilize storage demands at their warehouses and yards.

Canvass Teams Are Announced

Forces will be briefed and sent into the field Monday for the general canvass portion of the Community Chest campaign.

Sixty-four workers under eight captains have been lined for participation in the contact of more than 600 concerns. Kickoff is to start with a coffee and doughnut session at 8:30 a. m. at the Settles.

Ray Griffin is directing this phase of the drive for an overall budget of $37,000 to finance the Salvation Army, YMCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Alcoholics Anonymous (home maintenance only) and a minor figure for the Chest.

Ted O. Groehl, general chairman, urged workers to be in their places promptly and to follow through quickly. He said that

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

Better take a good look at the 1949 cotton harvest. You'll probably never see another one like it for years—if ever—in this area. Saturday evening estimates show that 36,000 bales had been brought to gin. Only two crops have exceeded that amount. Within three weeks, all records could be eclipsed if good weather holds out.

Producers were working feverishly Saturday to overcome an embargo resulting from the influx of cotton to market. With some 60,000 bales from the area and western points on hand, the compress and warehouse reached the limit permitted by underwriters. Saturday the T&P had pledged any number of box cars needed to transport cotton to storage points and producers were setting up an organization to handle loan cotton.

National Education Week brought an encouraging response on the part of patrons. A total of 754 visited in elementary schools, a gain of more than 100 over last year. Interest on the part of parents is

INTRODUCING COMMUNITY CHEST AGENCIES

City Girl Scout Program For 1949 Included Many Worthy Activities

Outstanding accomplishment of the local Girl Scout program during the past year was the opening of a Girl Scout center located at 1409 Lancaster. Many other activities were carried on during the year, but none received more interest from Scouts or the general public. The house not only provides adequate facilities for Scout sessions, but is providing a space for other club meetings, too.

Highest Scouting figures for the year were listed last May. At that time, there were 20 troops including Brownies, 7-9 years of age, Intermediates, 10-14 years of age, and seniors, 14-18 years of age. There were also two colored troops and a Latin American group. Scout officials still consider these troops which reported 214 registered girls, a minimum number. They emphasize the fact that many local girls would like to get into scouting work, but find it impossible because of lack of leaders. Most of the troops reported in May are organized again, others are in the formative stages, but still others do not have leaders yet and there is a need for more troops than last year's top figures.

In addition to the 214 registered girls, those who hold national Girl Scout memberships, some 40 or 50 other girls take part in Scout activities. For several reasons, including financial, the other girls take part in the work but have not paid national dues. Officials say that 200 or more girls are served by the scouting program.

According to available records, last year found more Big Spring Scouts taking part in camping programs than at any time in the past. Big Spring's Girl Scout Council pays $5 of the expenses of each girl who attends the area Camp Tonkawa near Abilene in June. Fifty-nine Scouts attending from Big Spring gave their city the largest representation of any other city in the area. Swimming, crafts, dramatics, sketching, nature lore, singing games, camp fires, out-of-door cooking and star gazing are part of the camping program. Each Sunday, inspirational programs entitled "Scouts Own" were held.

Forty-two campers were present for the day camp held by Brownies and Intermediates July 11-14. Seniors helped with the camping program which was held in the city park. Nature lectures, folk dancing, Red Cross swimming instruction, cook-outs and one over night camp out were on the day camp program. During the summer 43 percent of the total Big Spring Girl Scout enrollment took part in some camping program. Officials believe this to be a record.

The Girl Scout program, which is carried on, not only in camps, but in regular troop meetings throughout the year, is almost unlimited. Work is completed in eleven major fields. Not only do the fields provide recreation, but practical knowledge which helps the growing girls to find a better way of spending their leisure and working time. The major fields are agriculture, arts and crafts, community life, health and safety, international friendship, homemaking, literature and dramatics, music and dancing, nature, out-of-doors, and sports and games.

Girl Scouts are one of the six local welfare organizations which depend on the Community Chest for operating expenses. The annual campaign for chest funds is now underway.

DAY'S PAY HONOR ROLL

School teachers have joined the Community Chest "Day's Pay" Honor Roll. Members of the Kate Morrison faculty have contributed 100 per cent in the equivalent of a day's pay to do their share in the Chest campaign. The Day's Pay Honor Roll now reads like this:

250 Register For Sales Lecture Course In City

More than 250 persons had registered Saturday for the sales lecture course here Nov. 21-23. Identification cards, which entitle the holders to admission, had been issued. The three one-hour lectures will be delivered by E. C. House, New York sales expert, at the high school gymnasium, starting at 7:30 p.m. each day. House, here for a few days toward the end of the week, urged those participating to bring notebooks and pencils. All persons connected with the schools, ministers, and students not employed by merchants will be guests of the merchants at the series. They will receive their identification cards at the door the opening night.

Concerns wishing to enroll employers and employees in the course have only to call the chamber of commerce for details.

Twenty-three firms have been added to the list of those already registering staff members for the course.

Included in the latest list are White's Auto stores, Lane Star Chevrolet, McPherson Standard Service, Truman Jones' Motor, Marvin Hull Motor, Marvin Wood Motor, Faye's Flowers, Dibrrell's Sporting Goods, Thorp's Paint, Tally & Worthan Electrical Co., Furr Food, Montgomery Ward & Co.

City Pastor Will Attend Conference At Grand Rapids

DALLAS, Nov. 12. (AP)—Twenty-three Texans will leave here Tuesday night for Grand Rapids, Mich. They will attend a national Methodist conference on Sunday school and related church work. They are officials in Sunday school and education work of the church.

The delegation will include: The Rev. C. E. Lewis, San Angelo; the Rev. Algie H. Carleton, Big Spring; Miss Opal Rogers and Miss Evelyn Doak, both of Fort Worth; the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Cole and Miss Claudia Henson of Waco; the Rev. C. R. Fraser, Beeville; the Rev. Vernon Perry and the Rev. R. E. Burzmark, both of San Antonio; and the Rev. C. W. Moerner, Corpus Christi.

ALIENS MAKE BIG MONEY

Braceros In Texas Are Not 'Wetbacks'

By TIM PARKER Associated Press Staff

The spectacle of the U. S. Border Patrol chasing "wetbacks" out of Texas may have distracted too much attention from the Mexican aliens they welcomed—the "braceros."

"Wetbacks" are Mexican aliens illegally in Texas. The name arises from the fact that many swim the Rio Grande because they can't or don't want to comply with immigration rules.

"Braceros," on the other hand, are Mexican aliens legally in Texas. That means their entry was according to this year's U. S.-Mexico international agreement. The agreement calls for contracts by employers to pay suitable wages, provide adequate housing and other accommodations, and refrain from discrimination.

While the border patrol was rounding wetbacks up by the thousands in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, thousands of braceros were making good money under contractual agreements.

The Texas Employment Commission says 37,000 braceros have been put to work in Texas this year. TEC had certified a need for $8,000. It did not explain why only 37,000 showed up but alleged discrimination in certain counties is the most common reason for Mexican refusal to send more workers.

The only estimate available on the number of illegal aliens in Texas comes from the immigration and naturalization service in Washington. It recently guessed the Texas wetback total at about 50,000.

In most cases, the braceros and their employers have found their contracts mutually profitable.

TEC's Wichita Falls district is an example. Gins are running 24 hours a day in those parts of Northwest Texas where braceros are helping harvest the cotton crop. In many other areas gins were idle part of the time while cotton remained in the fields, unpicked.

Manager G. B. Purcell of the Wichita Falls TEC district estimated there were about 3,500 braceros in the eight counties in his district. About 300 were in Baylor County. The other 3,200 were about evenly divided between Knox and Haskell.

Purcell visited one field at 3 o'clock on a recent afternoon. Several pickers who weighed in while he was there already had made $15 that day with about three hours of work still remaining. On the basis of the $6.10 exchange rate recently quoted, this meant they had earned nearly $130 in Mexican money each by mid-afternoon.

The braceros there were earning from $1.50 to $1.75 per hundred pounds of cotton harvested. Many of them are housed in Army barracks moved to farms or near gins. On the whole, they seemed to be comfortably cared for and to like the work. There were no reports of discrimination.

On the Venon Pfluger farm near Eldorado, one couple and their four children made $140 in one day. The standard pay for pickers in the Eldorado area remains at $2 per hundred pounds but some farmers boosted the rate to $2.50 for second picking.

By contrast, there's the situation in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Growers there wanted thousands of braceros—in fact, 2,885 growers applied for 25,000 braceros. And there were thousands of Mexican nationals who wanted the work—wanted it so much they "wetbacked" across the Rio Grande in droves. Bodies of Mexicans who drowned trying to swim the big border river were found.

Why couldn't the employers and Mexican nationals get together? The reasons include:

1. Many of the growers wanted to contract for help at 25 to 35 cents an hour. The Mexican government has decided its citizens should not work for less than 40 cents an hour.
2. Eight Texas counties were blacklisted by the Mexican government, because of alleged discrimination.

While the border patrol was rounding wetbacks up by the thousands in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, thousands of braceros were making good money under contractual agreements.

COLLEGE STUDENT SHOT TO DEATH BY 'BERSERK' FRATERNITY BROTHER

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12. (AP)—An Ohio State University student was shot to death by a fraternity brother early today after a homecoming party at the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house.

The victim was Jack T. McKeown, 21, of Norwood, a senior and managing editor of the Ohio State Lantern, student daily. Norwood is a suburb of Cincinnati.

James D. Heer, 20, of Euclid, a first year veterinary student, was taken into custody at the Columbus sewage disposal plant, 5 miles from the fraternity house. Euclid is near Cleveland.

Detective Kenneth Anderson said Heer admitted the shooting. The officer quoted the student: "Whenever I get drunk, I get trigger-happy."

McKeown was shot once with a .45 calibre automatic pistol as he tried to disarm Heer on the fraternity house lawn at 2:30 a. m., fraternity men said.

Fraternity brothers said Heer "went berserk" after accompanying a young woman home from the party.

$300 Mark Nearing In Poppy Sales

Legion Auxiliary officials hoped to reach the $300 mark before Poppy sale totals were completed, said Mrs. Culin Grigsby, sales chairman, late Saturday.

She said that the sales did not move as fast as officials had hoped they might, but that the Auxiliary had very little time to prepare for the sale.

Assisting the organization in the sale were the following Rainbow Girls: Lillian Rowe, Mary Jane Rowe, Jean Tucker, Janice Boardman, Fern Crabtree, Kitty Roberts, Jackie Marchant, Francis Rice, Martha Hughes, Jo Ann Haley, Shirley McGinnis, Cathryn Williams, Florine Cass, Ellen Eastham, Mary Frances Norman, Peggy Lamb, Mary Sue White, Doris Ann Stevens, Fern Crabtree and Martha Hughes.

Coahoman Injured In Car Collision

W. C. Westfall, Coahoma, received severe lacerations and a head injury when his car became involved in a collision about three miles west of Fairview Friday afternoon.

Westfall, about 70, is under treatment in a local hospital and will probably be hospitalized for several days, doctors said.

The mishap occurred at a road intersection, Deputy Sheriff E. Kiser who investigated the accident said. The other vehicle figuring in the collision was driven by J. W. Fryar Jr., of Knott. He was uninjured.

Job Of Managing Big Hotel Is No Sinecure

By WAYLAND YATES

Everyone seems to have his problems, but—pity the poor hotel manager!

Omer Elliott, manager of the Settles hotel here, quickly ran out of fingers as he started enumerating the difficulties encountered in the operation of a large hotel. Managers of other similar establishments around town found themselves in like predicaments. Ranking high among the problems faced by the group is the regular disappearance of linens and pieces of silverware. The practice of making reservations and failing to show up, lack of parking facilities, fire, credit, and breakage of both furniture and chinaware cause additional headaches.

The Settles, Big Spring's largest hotel, has approximately 2,200 pieces of linen used regularly in its 182 rooms, the manager said. Towels, sheets, and even bedspreads have a habit of disappearing daily and have to be replaced from the reserve of some 2,500 pieces which is maintained.

Silverware, likewise vanishes from dining room and room service, necessitating replacement, amounting to about two and a half per cent of the food department's income annually, Elliott explained. Spoons and cocktail forks are the most popular items as far as memento collectors are concerned.

Fires, practically always started by cigarettes, frequently damaging beds and chair cushions, the hotel manager said. Furniture is often damaged too badly for repair if guests fall asleep or leave their room yet knowing that a spark is smoldering on upholstery.

The parking and automobile storage problem, caused by congested downtown conditions and lack of adequate garage facilities, has grown increasingly acute in recent years. Elliott stated. Many guests must leave cars on the streets, often several blocks from their overnight homes. The lucky ones, or early arrivals, find garages or parking space near their hotel.

Persons who make room reservations and then fail to arrive without sending cancellation notices probably cause hotel operators as much anxiety as anyone.

"The minute we decide he isn't coming and rent the room to a waiting guest, he's sure to appear," Elliott lamented. "We almost always respect reservations throughout the night."

Checks and credit business call for more grey hair and furrowed brows. Elliott estimated that the Settles accepted $750 in checks daily, but losses are held to a minimum.

But, in spite of all the little worries that harass the hotel manager daily, probably the biggest and most lasting is that of offering "pre-war" service, meeting motor courts competition, without pricing themselves out of business. Operating costs are higher than they've ever been, according to the Settles manager, and competition is keener.

Approximately 35 per cent of the large hotel's gross income is turned into wages for its scores of employees. Supplies have to be maintained, rooms and furniture cleaned and repaired, elevators and heating and cooling equipment operated.

Large boilers, a water softener of several thousand gallons hourly capacity, and large refrigeration units have to be maintained. On top, in the penthouse, generators and motors run constantly as elevators work up and down the interior. A repair shop is operated to keep furnishings in order.

Hotel operators will take extra notice of their businesses next week in observation of National Hotel week which opens Sunday.

Several American hotel organizations plan conventions, to be held during the week. Elliott will attend the Rocky Mountain Hotel association convention to be held in Albuquerque. It is to open Sunday with a Hotel week program, and is to feature discussions of a number of problems facing hostelry managers.

70-Mile-An-Hour Storm Hits Isles

MANILA, Nov. 12 (AP)—A tropical storm threw 70 mile an hour winds and torrential rains at the typhoon-battered central Philippines today. First casualty reports listed five dead or missing.

The Philippine Red Cross feared the new storm would hamper relief operations in the Central islands where 832 persons lost their lives in a typhoon that hit only 11 days ago.

First reports said five were dead or missing on Camiguin Island, home of Hibok Volcano, off northern Mindanao. Cebu and Leyte Islands reported vast areas under water.

Heavy rain, driven by gusty winds, beat on Manila tonight as the storm center headed northwest between Palawan and Mindoro toward the South China sea.

Fort Ringgold Now Echoes To Shouts Of Kids

RIO GRANDE CITY, Texas (AP)—Historic Fort Ringgold, which once rang to the shouted commands of such men as General Robert E. Lee, now echoes to the shouts of school children.

A $1,500,000 school system is being built on the military reservation by the Rio Grande City Independent School District.

The school children now yell and scamper across the parade ground and maneuver areas which knew the trample of cavalry horses and drill commands of General Lee. Phil Sheridan, George Patton and Jeb Stuart.

The new football field is laid out on the maneuver grounds. The children go to classes in barracks. Assemblies are held in the old post theater.

The school district paid $228,000 for the property, which includes 333 acres of ground and all the buildings.

Stocks Decline Despite Better Labor Picture

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Good news left the stock market cold this week.

The steel strike sputtered out by Friday when U. S. Steel Corp. agreed with the CIO United Steel Workers.

John L. Lewis sent his miners back to the pits. General Motors' directors ordered one of the largest dividends in history.

Market response was a decline for the week of more than half a billion dollars.

Day-to-day declines were small and a number of leading stocks moved ahead on their own. But the front edge of a rising market was definitely blunted.

General Motors' year-end dividend of 4.25 a share to owners of 44 million shares exceeded some of the most optimistic expectations. They surged ahead and for a short while stimulated demand elsewhere. At the close Saturday GM, most active issue of the week, was up 2 5/8 at 71 1/2.

One of the highlights was a sudden drop in gold stocks after President Truman said the price of gold would remain at 35 an ounce.

Saturday's market was wishy-washy. The Associated Press average remained at 87.8.

Closing higher were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Studebaker, Goodrich, United Aircraft, Safeway Stores, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge Copper, and American Can.

Losers included Youngtown, Radio, Anacosta, Du Pont, International Paper, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and Texas Co.

Woman Killed By Fallen Wire

BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 12 (AP)—Mrs. R. H. Connally of Stephenville was electrocuted Friday as she stepped on a fallen electric line trying to aid two Brownwood youths hurt in an automobile accident.

The wire was knocked down when a car occupied by Mark Kelo, 21, and Rayford McShann, 20, overturned 14 miles north of here.

Mrs. Connally's husband received a serious shock and E. V. Liveley of Breckenridge suffered burns on a leg trying to rescue Mrs. Connally.

The Connallys were on their way to Knox City. They were behind the Brownwood car when it overturned. Mrs. Connally failed to see the wire in the grass as she tried to reach the overturned car. She was killed instantly when she came in contact with the wire.

Neither Brownwood youth was hurt seriously.

Cafe Building Hit By Car, Damaged

A cafe building on W 3rd street was damaged extensively late Friday when an automobile crashed into its front after careening off another vehicle with which it was in collision, police said.

The car was driven by Don E. McKinnon, Big Spring. Pete Green, chief of police said. The other auto involved in the mishap was driven by M. O. Eakins, Ellis homes.

Green estimated that "400 or $500" would be necessary to repair the building. Both cars were also damaged in the accident which occurred about 5 p.m.

Shell Club Members Have Chicken Dinner

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 12—Members of the Shell club had a chicken dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Rich Tuesday evening.

The Thanksgiving theme was carried out in decorations. Question and answer games were played after dinner.

Attending were Claude Bunch, LaNell Ward, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Gillispie, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Smith and Phillip and Pamela, Martha, Dan and Paul Gillispie, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Fryor and Donald, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Rich and Tommy and Georgia Lee.

Ex-XIT Cowpuncher Says Things Sure Are Changed From Old Days

DALHART, Tex., Nov. 12 (AP)—Eighty-year-old Mack Johnson who used to herd cows on the XIT ranch says things aren't the same anymore.

When he was chief of police of Dalhart between 1906 and 1910 there were 13 saloons in the town, open day and night.

And one time he himself got arrested.

"The Humane Society had me arrested, while I was chief of police here," Johnson remembers. "There was an old burro staked out near the railroad tracks, and I told the folks they'd just have to get rid of it, because it couldn't be kept in town that way. When I caused a horse to run away with a woman one day, I decided to take the burro to the pound."

That burro sulked, and I had to rope him and drag him on his side about 200 yards over grass to the pound. I was ridin' old Turkey Track, the best cowhorse you ever saw, and we had made three trips to Montana," Mr. Johnson recalls.

Johnson was back visiting his old hometown this month from his home now in Vallejo, Calif. He is an oldtime fiddler, and has kept it up through the years. Until his hearing became bad, "I was a fiddler, not a violinist," he said. "Since I played entirely by ear, it has ruined my fiddlin' since I don't hear so well."

Music Slated For C-C Radio Program Over KBST Today

Both vocal and instrumental musical selections have been scheduled for the chamber of commerce radio program to be presented over KBST at 3 p.m. today. Edith Gay, chamber secretary, has announced.

Miss Gay is to be master of ceremonies for the broadcast which will include a discussion of the proposed Junior college bond issue. A. W. Dillon is to discuss the proposal which will be submitted to Howard county voters Nov. 22.

Piano numbers, by Chopin, will be played by a group of students under the direction of Nell Frazier. Luan Nall, Larry Evans, and Susan Logan are to give the instrumental selections.

A vocal group, directed by Mary Jane Hamilton, will sing. Anita Forrest, Peggy Carter, Joan Touchstone, Shirlene Walker, Dolores Sheats and Darlene Coulter will make up the sextet.

Judy Denton Named Birthday Honoree

Judy Denton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Denton, was honored at a birthday party given at the Williams Kindergarten, 1211 Main. Balloon plate favors formed the centerpiece for the refreshment table which was covered with a Thanksgiving cloth. Napkins and cups also carried out the Thanksgiving theme. The large white cake was trimmed with pink icing and the letters, "Happy Birthday, Judy."

Members of the afternoon class were present.

PEMBERTON IS TACITURN MAN

Stage Manager, Once Dramatic Critic Himself, Holds Peace

By MARK BARRON
AP Staff
NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Brook Pemberton is one Broadway theatrical producer, a very successful one, who never flings burning words into the faces of dramatic critics when they say harsh words about his production. Like many politicians who boast that "I was once a newspaperman myself," Pemberton can say "I was once a dramatic critic myself" and that makes him remain quiet. And, Pemberton, born in Leavenworth, Kan., is probably the most taciturn man since Alfred Landon and Calvin Coolidge combined.

Pemberton, when he left his native Kansas, became assistant critic first to Louis DeFoe of the New York World, and later to Alexander Wolcott when the latter brilliant judge was critic for the New York Times.

So, with that background, I doubt that Mr. Pemberton is saying any unkind remarks today about the reception given by some critics to his new presentation. This is the new Doris Frankel comedy, "Love Me Long," which arrived this week with Shirley Booth, George Keane, Russell Hardie and Anne Jackson in the leading roles.

Despite its lack of exciting dramatic content, "Love Me Long" is a straightforward exhibit of the kind of theatre in which Pemberton is interested, a play which clings closely to the American scene or, else, one in which he thinks there is a foreign quality which will appeal to Americans. For instance, he has been one of the most generous of producers to risk their fortunes in presenting the Italian Luigi Pirandello. For example, his enchanting production of Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search Of An Author" in 1922. And after that, he offered other foreign plays which did not find an open market among the Broadway managers.

Pemberton has always been a pioneer among theatre producers, a courageous one who staged first plays by such dramatists as Maxwell Anderson, Preston Sturges, Sidney Howard and others who were unknown when this quiet spoken Kansan said "I'll do it." And that is about all he said, and he did it.

That is the reason that it is difficult to report that his "Love Me Long" is, I am sure, a play that will not succeed. It is a weak comedy that probably would have experienced a profitable run a decade or more ago when bedroom farces were in vogue.

This one concerns itself with Abby and Ike, a nice couple who have just been divorced for the second time. Abby is about to be married again. But, the two arrive with their prospective mates at the New York apartment where Abby and Ike had lived when they were married. Then the housing trouble starts, counter romantic trouble starts and there is only one solution: Abby and Ike go away to be remarried for a third time, and the boy and girl they are jilting find it's with each other.

It is the sort of play that was thought intriguing back in '30 days of "Up In Mable's Room" and "No, No, Nanette" and isn't the sophisticated entertainment that can match these days of 1949.

There are several scenes where the girls come in attired in filmy pajamas at the wrong moment, and there are moments when the telephone rings at the wrong time and where doors open at a deceiving moment. All of which seems a bit dated in this era when hotel detectives and suspicious mothers-in-law seldom prowls the hotel corridors.

It should be noted that Miss Booth contributes in this "Love Me Long" another of her many comedy characterizations which has made her one of the most winning of the feminine funmakers of our time.

Lombardo's Band On Air 2,600 Hours In 25 Years

By WAYNE OLIVER
AP STAFF
NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Guy Lombardo estimates he and his Royal Canadians have been on the air at least 2,600 hours in their 25 years of radio.

The band leader figures an average of two hours a week on the air in live broadcasts going out directly to listeners as the Royal Canadians played "the sweetest music this side of Heaven."

This does not include the millions of times radio stations have played the 800 record sides made by the Lombardo band or its weekly half-hour transcribed show done especially for radio.

Currently his Royal Canadians are on the air live five a week in live broadcasts. A 15-minute show when they switch networks. They switch three times each week, then start all over again. They are heard on CBS Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights, on Mutual early Saturday night, and on NBC late Saturday night.

Most of the live broadcasts are pickups from locations where Lombardo and the Royal Canadians are playing dance engagements, although they have done numerous sponsored shows especially for radio.

Decca Records, for whom Lombardo records, says there's little doubt but that he and his band have been heard more times by more people than any other organization or individual in history — except Bing Crosby. Bing is unchallenged in the No. 1 spot.

Lombardo says the distinctive quality of the Royal Canadians' music is due to two things. The first is that "we learned to play that way." The other is the arrangements. They always are in a singing key, he explains, so you can never mistake the tune being played. And the saxophone, or trumpet is the lead instrument with the drums following — in a way of the other way around.

The 47-year-old band leader has definite plans for television. But he says the program will not be a show — only the Royal Canadians as they would play in the Roosevelt Grill or the Waldorf Roof. He adds that he believes there's a place in television for easy-to-listen-to dance music without the trappings of a variety show or musical.

If ever a program was a family affair, it's "The Truex Family" on Television Station WPIX in New York.

The regulars in the cast are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Truex, three sons, a daughter, a daughter-in-law and a granddaughter. But that isn't all. They play themselves — the Truexes — in portraying the life of a theatrical family.

"It not only is our family," Truex says, "but is about things that happen to our family, or reasonably could be expected to happen."

"It has its ups and downs" relates the 59-year-old veteran of stage and screen. "One advantage, though, is we can go over our lines while eating breakfast and washing dishes."

"But I'm always nervous about the children," adds Mrs. Truex who is Sylvia Field of films and theatre. She explains the younger two, Sally and Barry, object to the "golly," "gee," "super" teen-age lingo of the show which they insist isn't used by the sophisticated modern generation.

Also, says Mrs. Truex, some of the things that happen to a theatrical family "are too fantastic to put into a program — they would seem unbelievable."

Truex says the program frankly is an experiment. But of one thing he's sure.

"I defy anyone to be Sylvia and Ernie Truex as well as we do."

LEAP WASN'T NECESSARY

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12 (AP)—A woman alone in her south Philadelphia apartment didn't wait to ask any questions when a strange man barged into her home last night.

Police said Mrs. Bernice Griffin, 33, jumped two stories from a window to the sidewalk when the stranger entered.

She was taken to Graduate Hospital with a possible fracture of the left foot. Neighbors told Detective Earl Barnes they saw a man run from the apartment house.

His loot? A pan full of hot food from Mrs. Griffin's kitchen stove.

Doctors All Dead On 75th Birthday

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 12 (AP)—Artists and newspaper friends will help Jimmy Swinnerton, veteran cartoonist and painter of desert scenes, celebrate his 75th birthday tomorrow night.

Preparing for the party, Swinnerton, creator of "Little Jimmy" and "Canyon Kiddies," recalled that nearly a half-century ago he was sent to Palm Springs, suffering from tuberculosis. Doctors gave him a month to live.

"The three doctors are all dead," Swinnerton observed.

French Attorneys Fight Sword Duel

PARIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Two French lawyers fought a duel with swords today in the suburbs of Paris.

Jean Tixier-Vignancour was the victor, wounding Roger Nordman slightly on the arm.

The duel stemmed from a bitter exchange of words between the two lawyers during a recent trial.

The duel was fought in the hamlet of Marnes-La-Coquette, on private property, between Paris and Versailles.

Fuelling is illegal, but French people usually wink at such affairs. There was no indication they would take action against the lawyers.

ANNUAL AUDIT RELEASED

HCJC Assets Now Total $342,737

Fiscally speaking, Howard County Junior College has grown in less than four years to be an institution with assets of $342,737.

Its principal liabilities are in bonds and one small note totalling $109,436, according to the annual audit received by the board.

For the year, the audit compiled by Merle J. Steward, shows receipts of $156,718 and disbursements of $139,985. Both exceeded budget estimates.

Principal excess in revenues, which ran $50,288 beyond budget figures, was in tuition in the amount of $62,157, or $30,332 more than had been estimated. Taxes also exceeded budget estimates by $10,187. Chief items were $70,187 taxes, $9,495 state subsidy, $6,349 rentals, $62,157 tuition, and lesser amounts for lab fees, book store income, etc.

While tuition, resulting from encouraging enrollment gains, increased sharply, it brought with it need for more faculty. Accordingly, salaries exceeded budget allotments by $12,772. A $1,289 deficit in the cafeteria fund was the only other over-run of consequence.

Major expenses included $65,279 for administration and instruction staff and $6,510 for clerical and maintenance. Operation of plant exclusive of salaries, cost $7,344. repairs $2,981, auxiliary services (library, student activities, athletics, cafeteria) $6,543.

Capital outlay $21,621 (including $5,747 equipment, $3,112 conversion for gymnasium and $12,766 for purchase of 100-acre site for permanent home) debt service $10,806 (including $3,788 principal).

At the end of the year the building fund had a cash residue of $28,218. To this could be added $124,000 in bonds, the remaining portion of the original $200,000 issue at the creation of the county-wide college district. This would give an apparent total of $152,218 immediately available to the fund. In addition, the district had a general fund cash balance of $14,642. Value of the buildings secured from the War Assets Administration was listed at $50,715. To these had been added values of $33,009 through reconversion. The district also had acquired, since its inception, equipment valued at $60,702 and the 100-acre site mentioned before for $12,766. Thus, the total capital accounts stood at $152,193. By coincidence, this is virtually the same as the available building fund total.

Copies of the audit are on file and are open at the college offices for public inspection.

Lynda Kay Parsons Presides at Meet

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 12—Lynda Kay Parsons had charge of the business meeting as the 4-H club met here Tuesday afternoon.

Preparation of breakfast and the value of various foods were discussed by Mildred Chapman, home demonstration agent. She also conducted a demonstration on proper table settings. Christmas entertainments will be discussed at the December meeting.

Glasscock HD Club Has Garment Study

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 12—Instructions on tailored garments were given by Mildred Chapman, home demonstration agent, as the HD club met here Tuesday.

Garments started the week before were finished. Attending the meeting held in the high school building were Mrs. Jimmie Cook, Mrs. E. M. Teale, Mrs. Sam Rath, Mrs. Ronald McDaniel.

Gratitude Topic for Garden City GA Unit

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 12—Gratitude was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the GA group here Tuesday at the First Baptist church.

The meeting was opened by singing "Count Your Blessings." Lynda Kay Parsons brought the devotional. Each girl attending participated in the discussion of the topic. After sentence prayers, work was continued on the forward steps.

Refreshments were served to Patricia Crouch, Jamie Talum, Martha Gillispie, Mary Gillispie, Georgia Lee Rich, Fred Christ, Emma Stephens, Retta Stephens, Lynda Kay Parsons, Sandra Wilkerson, Marjorie Self and Mrs. A. Wade.

Insanity Trial for Petersen Set Monday

DALLAS, Nov. 12.—Keith Lewis Petersen, 21, college student who shot his sweetheart to death, goes to trial Monday for insanity.

Assistant District Attorney Henry Wade made known the trial date today. Petersen's mother last month filed an affidavit in district court claiming the former Southern Methodist University student was insane Sept. 2—the day he killed Carolyn Schofield, 20, Dallas, secretary, in a downtown office.

Petersen said she told him she planned to marry someone else. The insanity hearing was postponed last month. Wade said Defense Attorney Maury Hughes had told him he would be ready for trial Monday. A murder charge is pending against Petersen.

LIFE COMES BACK TO LITTLE RED BRICK SCHOOL HOUSE IN TEXAS

WINTERS, Tex., Nov. 12.—Halls that have been silent for years once more resound with laughter and children's voices, which replaces the work-a-day jeans, work shirts, and print dresses when Saturday and Sunday roll around.

Students' desks are serving for other purposes than just furnishing seats. On top of one is a small portable cook stove; another serves as a receptacle for bed clothes and odd pieces of wearing apparel; a third holds an array of bottles containing hair tonics, cosmetics, and such. The window ledge, on which teacher's "big red apple" once lay until it could be shyly handed to her, now holds bottles of shoe polish. The floor is covered with bedding at night and cleared during the day.

For Independence school, with its six rooms, is serving as a home for eight families of Latin-Americans from South Texas. The curtains of the small stage is lowered to make living quarters and a seventh room behind it.

Three weeks ago Eliseo Hernandez with his family of six; the Pablo Perez family in which there are five; Henrique Perez with a family of eight; the Jose Moreno family made up of four, three in the Ramundo Samora family; Mr. and Mrs. John Moreno, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Leon, Mr. and Mrs. Gregorio Padilla and Refino Gutierrez arrived from Beville for the cotton season. With other living quarters lacking, they were moved into the school building.

With a shortage of pickers in the area, the arrivals looked good to local farmers, for the group can pick 5 bales a day, according to Ramundo Samora, owner of two of the trucks and "boss" of the outfit. Pablo Perez owns the third truck in which part of the group of 33 people travel. The youngest is a babe in arms—the oldest, one who has seen many cotton seasons come and go.

In several weeks more, silence will again reign on the school grounds. Trucks will be loaded quickly—the cotton pickers travel light—and headed for the plains, where pickers will find whiter fields then.

June Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cook, 1611 Main, was elected queen of the 1949 football team at the high school Thursday.

Miss Cook will be crowned at the beginning of the Sweetwater-Big Spring game played on the local stadium Thanksgiving day. Co-captains for the day will place the crown on her head.

A senior in the Big Spring high school, Miss Cook will be featured in a full page picture of the Sports section of the El Rodeo, high school annual.

Miss Cook is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, the student council and the volley ball team.

Case histories and cuts from files of Chiropractic offices throughout the nation. They are related here to show the extent of Chiropractic—PARALYSIS AND BLINDNESS:

Girl: Age 3: This girl suddenly became blind in one eye and almost blind in the other eye. She was taken to several medical doctors, including a brain specialist, who diagnosed the condition was a result of tumors on the eye nerves, and that she should return home and prepare for the worst. She was now paralyzed from the waist down. She was then taken to Chiropractic Clinic where a Neuro-alometer and X-Ray analysis revealed a subluxation (partial dislocation or misalignment) of the first two vertebrae. Corrective adjustments were given. Her eyesight has improved and she is now able to walk as well as ever.

Farm With Crick In It Gets Name Of 'Lumbago'

By ED BRYSON
Paris News Staff
PARIS, Tex., Nov. 12.—"I have named my farm 'Lumbago' because it has a crick (creek) in it."
That's one among scores of entries received in the "Name-Your-Farm-and-Ranch" contest sponsored by the Paris News. The News still has its feet planted firmly in the soil, its agricultural-minded publisher, A. G. (Pat) Mayse says.
The contest offers $500 in cash prizes for the most appropriately named farms and ranches in Northeast Texas and Southeast Oklahoma. The top prize is $150. Others are $100, $75, $50 and there are five prizes of $25 each. The contest is aimed at promoting greater pride in farm and ranch ownership.
Most of the entries reflect sincerity and serious thought.

Some are sentimental. "Paradise Hill" is the name chosen by one couple who have worked long and hard to become sole owners of a small piece of land. "It's just a little place," they wrote, "and may not be regarded as a good farm. But it is what we have dreamed about for years and to us the little house and hillside acres mean Paradise."
The names also advertise the variety of farm crops and products. There is a "Cotton Bowl Farm," a "Hilltop Dairy," a "Hereford Ranch," and others of that order. There is also a "Combination Farm," as well as "Diversified Acres."
Trees are a popular tie-in for names. Oak, walnut, pine, willow, cedar and pleasant groves are all used. Even the general topography is not overlooked. It is included in names using hills, valleys, prairies. Names also are tied to springs and streams. Unusual agricultural enterprises are also uncovered in the entries. One is "Pine Ridge Fur Ranch." Investigation shows the owner to have several hundred mink.
One farmer, who evidently had waged a long losing battle with Johnson grass named his place "Johnson Grass Special."

Italian Mother Has 17-Pound Daughter

ROME, Nov. 12.—A baby girl weighing 17 pounds was born to Signora Luciana Zenobi in Fossombrone, Central Italy, the Italian news agency Astra reported today.
Both the mother and the girl were reported in excellent health.

Rep. Mahon Says 81st Congress Did Good Job

Record of the 81st Congress, in general, stacked up well, Rep. George Mahon said in an interview at Colorado City Friday.
He stuck by his guns in supporting the 58-group Air Force and felt that "we should continue in our efforts to promote friendship among European countries while fighting aggression of communism."
Failure to balance the national budget was one of his chief regrets over the session. It would have been an easy matter to have accomplished this by deleting Marshall Plan aid and skimming on national defense items, but the representative thought this would have been risky policy.
Rep. Mahon, chairman of the powerful sub-committee on military expenditures for the appropriations committee, was firm on his position for a 58-group Air Force.
The air arm is "unquestionably our first line of attack and a major part of our defense," he said. Relative to the President's opposition to the 58-group Air Force, Rep. Mahon said it was the responsibility of Congress, not the executive, to provide for the armed forces.
He added that he planned to confer with President Truman later in an effort to clear up this point between the executive and legislative branches.
The passage of a new farm measure, replacing the Aiken law would peg farm supports at 90 per cent, a figure that Rep. Mahon felt was vital to national as well as agricultural welfare.

Radium, Uranium Deposit Found

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—Discovery of a rich pitchblende deposit—source of radium and uranium—has been reported by two Los Angeles prospectors.
Richard E. Darnell and George Taylor claim that ore from a giant slab between California's Panamint Mountains and Death Valley had been assayed at $16,000 to $17,000 a ton. Darnell said that rolls of ordinary camera film taken into their mine shaft had been exposed by radioactive rays.
A spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission said that if the claim is substantiated, it will be the first major pitchblende strike in California. The mineral is not being mined in the state at present, he said.
The AEC would take over as guardian of sources of uranium, a basic material of the atom bomb.

Rats Plaguing South Texas City

RIO GRANDE CITY, Nov. 12.—Farmers near this South Texas city hope poisoned grain will take the place of a pied piper in saving crops from hungry rats.
County agricultural agents said pack, kangaroo and field rats have devoured tomatoes and green peppers as high as a foot off the ground. There is one report of rats eating citrus fruits.
The invasion of rats started about three weeks ago near La Grulla, Tex., 15 miles east of here. The hordes of rats have swarmed over between 4,000 and 5,000 acres of fertile farm lands along the Rio Grande bottoms.
J. B. Talcott, Starr County farm agent, said Friday the farmers may or may not be able to check the tide with poison grain. More than 1,000 pounds of grain poisoned with strychnine have been distributed.
He estimated that an area south-east of Sullivan City to about four or five miles east of Rio Grande City is plagued with rats.
He said six farmers had reported to him that their tomato crops were destroyed.

Masonry Falling From Cathedral

YORK, Eng., Nov. 12.—York Cathedral is falling down.
The Very Rev. E. Milner-White, of the centuries-old church, said four tons of masonry tumbled from the west front during the summer. He has just posted warning notices.
It will take $700,000 fully to restore the historic structure, Milner-White said. Meanwhile it remains in use.

Knife And Fork Club Unit To Be Organized Here

Invitations are going out through the mails for memberships in a Big Spring unit of the Knife and Fork club, a lecture dinner organization which, through affiliation with the national organization, may bring speakers of world prominence here for dinner lectures.
The Knife and Fork club does not operate as a civic organization, but limits itself to the lecture engagements. Membership predominantly is of married couples, and a $20 fee ($10 initiation and $10, first year's dues) pays for man and wife. The dues pay for the speakers and all operating expenses of the club.

Knife and Fork clubs have operated for a number of years in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Austin, Amarillo and Lubbock, and new chapters have just been enrolled in Midland and Odessa. There are now 31 units in the state and 327 in the nation, according to E. M. Avery, secretary who is here handling the local organizational details.
When the required number have signified their wish to join the Knife and Fork club, an organization will be called, Avery said. Members of a organization committee who have signified willingness to join the club include W. C. Blankenship, R. B. G. Cowper, E. J. Dodd, Omer Elliott, Otis Grafa, Ted Groebel, Allen R. Hamilton, W. B. Hardy, Byron Little, R. Gage Lloyd, P. W. Malone, R. McEwen, K. H. McGibbon, P. D. O'Brien, Douglas Orme, R. T. Piner, Lewis Price, Marvin Pucatti, R. B. Reeder, Marvin Saunders, H. W. Smith, Robert Stripling, R. W. Whipkey and Cliff Wiley.

TOO TALL FOR CRIME CAREER

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—If a man is unusually tall, he better not try a crime career.
That's the advice Magistrate Eugene R. Canudo gave Friday to six-foot-eight-inches-tall Bernard Dugan O'Keefe, 18, who was held in $2,500 bail on a burglary charge.
"No wonder you couldn't get away with it," said the magistrate. "You're so tall you couldn't get lost in a crowd."

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Slick Airways Will Be Many Customer

Slick Airways, an air freighting concern with headquarters in California, is to be among the regular customers at Municipal airport.

Contract for supplying fuel for the company's ships in this section was made Saturday, Jack Cook, airport manager, said. Several Slick planes will probably land here each week.

A "Super DC-3" one of Douglas aircraft's newer cargo planes, completed one leg of a test hop at Municipal field Friday. The modified DC-3, the first one constructed by Douglas, was crewed by a factory staff from California.

All grades have been run for landscaping work at the new terminal building at Municipal airport. Jack Cook, field manager, said Saturday. Landscaping of the area will probably be started as soon as paving and sidewalk construction work is completed.

A supplementary application has been filed with the Civil Aeronautics Administration for assistance in completing construction work around the new building. H. W. Whitney, city manager, announced early in the week. Paving will probably be started within the next four or five days, he said. The CAA has set tentative dates for the installation of new communications equipment in the terminal. Airways communications officials said the work would probably be started Nov. 21 and completed by Dec. 15.

communications equipment in the terminal. Airways communications officials said the work would probably be started Nov. 21 and completed by Dec. 15.

The moving of airlines agencies, Weather Bureau, and CAA offices will probably be coordinated to take place after all equipment is installed, the city manager said.

Stories of Famous Hymns

Jesus Saves!

We have heard the joyful sound:
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!
Spread the tidings all around:
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!
Bear the news to every land,
Climb the steeps and cross the waves;
Onward!—'tis our Lord's command,
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!

Waft it on the rolling tide:
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!
Tell to sinners far and wide:
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!
Sing, ye islands of the sea,
Echo back, ye ocean caves;
Earth shall keep her jubilee;
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!

Give the winds a mighty voice:
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!
Let the nations now rejoice—
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!
Shout salvation full and free,
Highest hills and deepest caves;
This our song of victory—
Jesus saves! Jesus saves!

Boys and girls in a Baltimore Sunday School were delighted, one day about seventy-five years ago, when their teacher announced that she had written a new hymn for them to sing in celebration of a missionary anniversary.

Miss Priscilla Owens was the teacher and her missionary song, "Jesus Saves!", soon was being sung in churches everywhere. Today it is a favorite in evangelistic services and mission meetings as well as at Sunday School gatherings. The tune to which it is now wedded was written for it by William J. Kirkpatrick, Pennsylvania musician and composer.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, who helped compose some of the marching songs used by soldiers in the Civil War, was an accomplished organist and a widely known singer of gospel songs. He composed a good many of his own hymn tunes and sometimes he wrote verses to match his music.

It was while he was working on one of these hymn poems, late one night in 1917 in his Philadelphia home, that he was called Heavenward. Twice during the evening Mrs. Kirkpatrick looked in at the library door to find him busy with his new song. Later, when she tiptoed back to see how he was getting along with his writing, she found him slumped over his work table—dead. On the table were the lines which he had finished just before he went out to meet his saving Jesus:

"Just as Thou wilt, Lord, this is my cry,
Just as Thou wilt to live or to die;
I am Thy servant, Thou knowest best,
Just as Thou wilt, Lord, labor or rest!"

El Paso Author Wins $1,000 For Year's Best Book

DALLAS, Nov. 12. (AP)—"The Brave Bulls," won Tom Lea of El Paso the Texas Institute of Letters' $1,000 prize as the best Texas book of the year.

The award was made last night. A $500 award by the Dallas News went to Carl Coke Rister of Norman, Okla., author of "Oll! Titan Of The Southwest."

"Hound Dog Man," Fred Ipson's national best seller, won a $250 prize for the best first novel. Lea's book is a poetically intense novel about bullfighting which is also a parable of man's struggle with fate.

The awards were presented at the institute's annual banquet.

J. Frank Dobie of Austin was given a special award of merit for outstanding work in Texas literature over a period of years. His "Apache Gold and Yaqui Silver" won the first institute award back in 1936.

Lon Tinkle, book editor of The News, was named to a third term as president of the institute.

Roy Bedicheck of Austin was elected vice president; William H. Vann of Belton, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Rylee of Denison, Miss Mabel Majors of Fort Worth and Tom Lea, councillors.

Central Midland Test Deepens after Shows

York 1 Harper, Inc., No. 1-A TXL, Central Midland County deep prospected, 12½ miles south of Midland, and 690 feet from north and 690 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 25, block 29, T.P. survey, T-3-S, was making hole below 12,468 feet in an unidentified lime and chert.

It developed some signs of gas in a drillstem test at 12,289-444 feet. The tool was open 23 minutes. The packer appeared to have leaked and to have let in 720 feet of drilling mud in the top of the drillpipe.

Recovery, in addition to the 720 feet of mud was 1,200 feet of gas cut water blanket and 1,230 feet of gas cut drilling mud. No signs of oil or of water were developed.

46 Diarrhea Cases Reported in County

Diarrhea continued to head the list of communicable diseases in the Big Spring-Howard county Health unit report Saturday.

A total of 46 cases of the disease were diagnosed here during the week, the report said. Four pneumonia, one polio, and one diphtheria cases were also reported.

Alice Pearl Stewart, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stewart of Big Spring, is confined to a local hospital with diphtheria. A polio patient is Martha Burrow, four daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burrow, Ackerly.

Soldier Saves Head By Some Fast Talking

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Silence isn't always golden. A Lackland Air Force Base soldier from Guam, kept his head by convincing a Japanese general he was too stupid to execute.

CRUSHED LOOK ANNOYS MOM

BEAUMONT, Nov. 12. (AP)—Tommy Key, one of six veterans who depicted raising of the flag on Iwo Jima in an Armistice Day parade, wanted his fighting clothes to look realistic. The night before a parade he stuffed them in an old barracks bag to give them that crushed look.

Shortly before the parade started, Key found his mother pressing out the old green fatigues.

However, when the Americans were about to return to the Pacific island, the Japs decided Juan knew too much to be left behind.

An impromptu court martial sentenced him to death. Juan watched a Jap truck driver prepare a sword.

But as the young man knelt at the chopping block he started talking—fast. He convinced a Jap general he was too young and stupid to remember anything and to smart to talk.

When the Americans landed Juan slipped away at night and enlisted in the U. S. Air Force. Now he works as a records clerk in the 3725th orderly room.

Children's Book Week To Be Observed Here

Children's Book Week is being observed throughout the nation and in Big Spring, beginning today and closing Saturday. Mrs. Bennie Collins, librarian of the Howard County Free Library, said that plans for the local observance were still incomplete, but that the week would be highlighted with a radio program to be given over radio station KBST at 10:30 a. m. next Saturday.

The 30-minute program will include scenes from the books, "Dinner At Antonne's," "The Fountainhead," and an autobiography by Sigmund Romberg. Casting is not complete, but Don Lilly will do the courtroom scene from the "Fountainhead" and Terry Ryan will do a scene from Romberg's book. For some 30 years, Children's Book Week has been an annual November observance in the nation's schools, libraries and book stores. This is a cooperative effort to promote children's reading and better books in the home. It has been a primary factor, say librarians, in the rapid growth of children's libraries. In encouraging authors and artists, and extending the wide popular sale of the best books for children, new and old. During Book Week libraries, schools and bookstores all over the United States have special exhibits of books. Each year a central theme is selected, such as "Build the Future With Books," "New Books—New Friends," and "United Through Books." News of Book Week and special Book Week programs are given on the radio; stories are carried in newspapers and magazines. In some cities, the mayor makes a proclamation about Book Week, and in some states, the governor also makes a proclamation. Various women's organizations have meetings at which guest speakers talk about children's books. Some of these groups raise funds to buy new books for the library, or to start a new library.

The children, in the schools and the libraries, put on plays which usually are dramatizations of popular books, have puppet shows, reviews of books, make their own book posters and exhibits, form reading clubs, and in general make the week a grand celebration with everybody doing something centering around children's books. Libraries use the week to draw special attention to their community services, and each community uses the national interest created to further the needs of its own children in the ways that seem most effective locally.

Mrs. T. N. Culwell Is Hostess To Class

Mrs. T. N. Culwell entertained the members of the Gleaners Sunday school class of the East Fourth Baptist church with a social and business meeting in her home, 1908 Scurry, Friday.

Members of the class repeated the class motto, "Do with all your might what your hands find to do," and read the scriptural text for the afternoon. The text read was, "Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest."

Mrs. R. T. Lytle offered the opening prayer and Mrs. R. L. Click brought the devotional. During the business session, Mrs. V. C. Barber presented the class visitation plans.

Announcement was made that the class will entertain with a dinner at the church Monday, Nov. 21 at 7:30 o'clock. Those appointed to the menu committee included Mrs. T. N. Culwell, Mrs. Cliff Proffitt and Mrs. Arthur Leonard.

Mrs. Carl Madison conducted the entertaining games during the social hour.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. T. N. Culwell, Mrs. I. W. Kidd and Mrs. R. E. Stocks.

Those attending were Mrs. Carl Madison, Mrs. M. F. Ray, Mrs. V. C. Barber, Mrs. Richard Lytle, Mrs. Arthur Leonard, Mrs. Ernest Rainey, Mrs. J. B. King, Mrs. K. L. Click, Mrs. A. B. Livingston, Mrs. A. F. Gilliland, Mrs. Ira Raley, Mrs. J. C. Harmon and Mrs. Frank Cathey.

Friendship Class Has Thanksgiving Banquet

First Baptist Friendship Class members honored their husbands at a Thanksgiving banquet held at the church Friday night.

Tables were decorated with a large "horn of plenty," autumn colored leaves, flowers and berries. Candles provided the table lighting.

Mrs. Relece Jones, class president, introduced the class's new teacher, Mrs. W. F. Taylor, who made a short talk. Mrs. C. W. Mabe directed a "monkey show."

Mrs. Taylor officiated as sponsor, prayer and Dr. P. D. O'Brien, the closing prayer.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cluck, Mr. and Mrs. Loy House, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sledge, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Tally, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Grady.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown of 111 E. 18th, had as their recent guests his brother, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wiley and children, Sarah Ann and James Richard, of Lubbock. The Wileys were en route to Odessa when they visited here.

Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mabe, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ward, Mrs. Kelly Brown, Mrs. B. F. Mabe, Mrs. Relece Jones, Mrs. Rosa Boykin, Mrs. Lonnie Coker and one guest, Mrs. E. W. Atwood of Amarillo, Mrs. Taylor's daughter.

Mrs. Charles Lusk Honored At Shower

Mrs. Charles Lusk was honored with a pink and blue shower given in the Ellis Home Recreation hall. Mrs. Abby Vaughn, Mrs. Freddy Rankin and Mrs. Ed Booth were hostesses.

Arrangements of autumn flowers decorated the entertaining rooms. Games were played and refreshments served.

Guests present were: Mrs. C. E. Shelton, Mrs. Jimmy Garrett, Mrs. Peggy Simpson, Mrs. Herb Hillburn, Mrs. H. H. McKenzie, Mrs. T. D. Hughton, Jr., Mrs. Ross Bruce, Mrs. Ruth Staba, Mrs. Charles Womack, Mrs. J. T. Salters, Mrs. Frances Goodwin and Gay Underwood.

Gold Star Mothers Organizing A Local Club

Once it held a place of importance similar to that of the Fourth of July, but Armistice Day, 1949, has passed by with little more stir than any other day. Saturday, poppies were sold by service auxiliary members with the aid of other interested persons. Proceeds go to the veterans who still are hospitalized. Armistice day still has its importance for them. It still means something to the Gold Star mothers of the town, too. There are many of these women who sacrificed sons in their country's cause. Some of them are pictured as they made plans for a Gold Star organization.

UPPER LEFT—Mrs. Mary Diltz, left, talks with Mrs. S. R. Nobles, center, and Mrs. J. W. Payne, Mrs. Diltz's son, Joe C, was killed in China in 1945. He was a sergeant in the Air Corps. Mrs. Nobles' son, Stephen E., served as a private in the 80th division of the infantry. He was killed in Germany in 1945. Also a 1945 war casualty was John W., son of Mrs. Payne. He was a sergeant in the Air Corps and was killed in China.

UPPER RIGHT—Mrs. L. O. Johnston, Mrs. W. Tom Steward, Mrs. H. E. Hooper and Mrs. Mable Campbell discuss the new Gold Star organization. Marshall Welton, son of Mrs. Johnston, was a first class boatswain and lost his life while serving in the Pacific area in 1944. Mrs. Steward's son, John Ralph, a second lieutenant in the Air Corps, met his death in Germany in 1944. Horace DeWayne, son of Mrs. Hooper, was a corporal in the Air Corps. He was killed in a B-29 crash in South Dakota in 1948. Mrs. Campbell's son, Jesse Felix, a flight engineer in the troop carrier command, was killed in Shanghai, China, in 1946. His rank was sergeant.

LOWER LEFT—Mrs. Felton Smith, Sr., left, Mrs. Roy Franklin, center, and Mrs. J. Lusk, right, know something of the meaning of Armistice Day, too. Robert L., son of Mrs. Smith, a sergeant in the ferry command of the Air Corps, was killed in India in 1945. Mrs. Franklin's son, Roy Gene, was a corporal in the 36th infantry division and was killed in North Africa in 1943. Joe Martin, who died in a prison camp in Burma was the son of Mrs. Lusk. He was a sergeant in the Marine Corps and served on the USS Houston.

CENTER RIGHT—Mrs. J. H. Appleton of Lamesa, a former resident of Big Spring, talks with Mrs. Herbert Smith. Mrs. Appleton's son, James Herman, was a corporal in the 16th Armored Engineers Corps who died in North Africa in 1942. Mrs. Smith's son, Travis, a private in the 87th Reconnaissance Mechanized Cavalry, was killed in Germany in 1945.

LOWER RIGHT—Mrs. Bernard Lamun, Mrs. Harry Lees and Mrs. F. H. Talbot are the mothers of three close friends who gave their lives in the service of their country. Mrs. Lamun's son, David, gave his life in the battle of Saint Lo, Normandy, in 1944. He was a private in the 80th Infantry Division. John H., son of Mrs. Lees, was a sergeant in the 14th Air Corps and was killed in 1945 in Asia. Blake Talbot was a private in the 36th Division of the infantry and was killed in Italy on October 2, 1944.

Don't Sell Father Short, Say Experts

Until recently, there was an idea prevalent in most homes that it was mother's duty to look after the physical, spiritual and mental development of junior, while it was Dad's problem to supply the food, clothing and shelter for the family.

But attitudes regarding parenthood have changed, says the National Kindergarten Association. "Present-day parents realize that a child's character growth is more vigorous under the direction of what someone has called the 'Unified Firm of Dad and Mother, Incorporated.' Both parents' lives, too, are enriched when together they share their sons' and daughters' lives from the beginning."

The Dad, who in the past usually paid little attention to his youngsters—after babyhood—until they were at the companionable age, missed a lot of worthwhile fun. He discovered too late that he could not suddenly develop a happy, satisfying comradeship with adolescent sons and daughters. Frequently he lost out completely and Dad was to the children like a stranger—in the tragic loss of both children and father.

Today's understanding father realizes that there should occasionally be an opportunity, free from the restraining presence of the rest of the family, when son or daughter may discuss with him things close to childish hearts. Together they find such occasions and these prove to be to them, the means for building rewarding father-child relationships.

One young father, says the Association, takes frequent hikes with his son. While these seem casual, they were actually planned when brown-eyed Jerry was small, and have been faithfully continued. "As we walk, 'Skipper' asks questions and we discuss the week's personal happenings as well as what is going on in the world," he said. "Gradually we acquire new capacities for friendship, understanding and learning."

Through conversation young thinkers may be taught the true values in life. Fathers, as well as mothers, ought to learn to be good listeners. A child needs to build his experiences into a meaningful whole. To do this Dad should play a leading part, since it is important to have a masculine as well as a feminine pattern to follow. He can do much to stimulate new interests, for usually he has outside contacts. Mother's tendency toward over-protectiveness is balanced by Dad's inclination to direct children toward activities involving some risk.

A wise father avoids being the know-it-all type of parent. He encourages all progress, both mental and physical, especially the right of his children to think for themselves. At all times, must your child feel Dad will understand when he is in trouble, for then he needs a friend more than at any other time.

If daughter and son know they are approved and appreciated by the most important persons in the world, it will give them confidence and ability to build other genuine relationships. If they are unnoticed by a dad who is "too busy," they feel a loss of security—a hurt and wonderment that may leave a scar throughout their lives. On the other hand, a rewarding relationship between father and children is a stepping stone from childhood's dependence into happy and independent adulthood.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

So you want to know what you want in a society story? Maybe you don't or maybe you already know. But every day, someone calls and says something like this: "I have a report on such and such an event and I don't know what you want so I'll tell you what I have written." Most of the time, the caller gives us most of what we want and sometimes some things which we don't want. But we had rather have a little too much than not enough. We can always cut, but it is rather difficult to make up a story about which we know nothing.

First of all, we want to know what the event was, who was involved when it took place (we hope it was in the past 24 hours), where it happened, any reason for the event and what was accomplished.

It doesn't happen often, but every now and then, someone calls with an item which includes such information as the minutes were read and approved, the treasurer's report was given and lovely refreshments were served to about 75 people and "we have a list of the names, do you want them?" Frankly, we attempt to use all of the information given to us, even if we doubt the wisdom of such action. We doubt seriously that anyone cares that the minutes were read and approved and that the treasurer's report was given. Just how many organizations do you know which do not take such action at all their meetings? As for names, this writer personally does not care whether they are reported or not. We do realize that in some cases, it is a service to an organization to run a list of names and that there are sometimes special reasons for the names being reported. We do not object to their use, but we always wonder about a long list of names following a one-short-paragraph item, especially if it is a report of a regular meeting group. For special events, it seems more important to list those attending.

Most of the organizational reporters can answer their question as to what do we want in a story? Think over the happenings of your group and ask yourself frankly, "what happened today, that will interest the people who do not belong to the group?" Was any important business completed? Were there any special decorations? Did the speaker say anything in which the general public would be interested? Some clubs miss good reports by not giving us two or three sentences which highlight the speaker's discussion. Especially is this true when his discussion is a personal one, not one based on another's findings. Try to find the speaker's main idea and give us an idea of how it was presented. In most cases, we do not need facts and figures which he recited. These are usually available to the reading public.

As for writing the story out word for word, this is not necessary unless you find it difficult to report a story by notes. We edit our own copy and even if we didn't it would be next to impossible to take anything but notes over the phone. As to whether we had rather be called, contacted personally or given a written report, the phone is usually easier for both of us to reach and is often quicker than the written report or the personal contact. But, it's your choice. As for suggesting headlines, it's usually pointless. We usually try more than one before we find one that fits the proper space and sounds fairly reasonable, and we have a chart to follow.

In brief, that's how we would attempt to answer our daily question, if we had the time to do it every time we were asked. That's not half the story. And we have a lot to learn about the reporting business, too.

Newcomers Are Announced By City Hostess

Mrs. Jimmie Mason, city hostess, welcomed seven new families to Big Spring during the past week.

BIG SPRING REPRESENTATIVE—DALE SMITH

French Fashion House Announces Lower-Priced Dress Collections

PARIS—You no longer need to be Barbara Hutton or the Duchess of Windsor to wear a dress with one of the best-known labels of Paris.

French fashion houses are going democratic and, at the same time, providing their own individualized answer to American ready-to-wear styles. The discovery they have made is that of a simpler garment takes only half the work hours involved by a haute couture model, then it can be sold for only half as much.

The cheaper models—called "boutique" or "shop" collections—are described by one house as "little sisters of the haute couture." They are designed for people of more limited means who have to wear the same dress more than once. Knowing the difference between the two styles of Paris models, may in future enable smart American women buying in Paris to save around $50 on the price.

Even the masters, Christian Dior and Schiaparelli, have fallen into line, although each has a different interpretation of the new trend.

Jacques Heim, who has one of the season's top collections in this cheaper range, offers nearly everything, except tailored suits, at between $57 and $100. He shows them in a special salon set apart from the elegant surroundings in which his more exclusive—and more expensive—haute couture is on display.

If a customer finds something which both suits and fits she can buy it on the spot to wear away. If not, she can select one of the 25 models daily shown by mannequins and have it with a single fitting.

"Many foreign clients spend very little time in Paris and cannot wait the eight to 15 days necessary to have a haute couture dress made," Jacques Heim himself explained.

Dior also shows a "shop-model" collection daily, but offers no actual ready-to-wear and expects clients to have as many fittings as are needed. Press of work makes a wait of from ten days to two months necessary before delivery.

Balmain opened his first cheaper collection this week with a formal showing, but will hold no daily showings. This house has morning, afternoon, cocktail and evening dresses, but is rather limited by the fact that all are two-piece, to be mixed or matched with other sets. Balmain himself designs or supervises his "shop" as well as his haute couture models and the same label goes on everything.

Dresses in the cheaper range cost from 28,000 to 45,000 francs (or about $80 each to $128). Although one rival tentatively credited Schiaparelli with starting the shop-model idea, her present line—which is too sparse to be called a collection—is one of the most expensive and least extensive. It consists of only two dresses at about $170 each, a number of two-piece combinations, and many taffeta and nylon evening and cocktail skirts at about $115 each. Piquet's shop-model department includes a number of morning and sports dresses, evening skirts and separates at 18,000 to 30,000 francs ($54 to $85).

Bigony has returned to her home on the Lamess Highway following a two weeks stay with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Orville Spradling in Lubbock. Mrs. Bigony reports that the Spradlings became the parents of a nine pound son, Dennis Michael, Oct. 27, and that both mother and son are doing nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Shine Phillips, 1304 Scurry, have as their guests his niece, Mrs. Ben Coffman of Alameda, Calif. Mrs. Coffman, the former Eleanor Boswell, lived in Big Spring some years ago.

New US Pastime Is Name Tossing

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer
America is using up its supply of Big Name Anecdotes much faster than it can manufacture new ones.

This careless consumption of the anecdote is caused by the current writing formula. The formula, in case you hadn't noticed, involves making points by telling apt stories. When you can drop a big name into the story, so much the better.

For instance, if you want to write a little essay about how honesty is the best policy, the last thing in the world you want to say is: "Honesty is the best policy. What you do is string together a yard of stories, most of which sound phony, with the central characters having such names as Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller Jr., George Washington or Arthur Godfrey. It's best, if you are not too sure of your facts, to name someone who is dead. Living people are apt to deny they ever said or did it."

Of course, the Big Name Anecdote is merely on phase. It's been some months since I've read a non-fiction article which did not start out something like this: "Mrs. K, a well-to-do suburban matron, was very upset. Her husband had not come home for three years..." "A four-star general, a West Point graduate, has visited my office once a month for the past 10 years..."

The former is the concealed-identity anecdote, which gives a feeling of authenticity to the story. It wouldn't be so good if you just came out and called her Mrs. Jones. The latter is the "leaser" anecdote. You sort of run over the generals you know to see if you can find out just which one it was.

The fact remains that we are living in an age of anecdote, and people who can turn out these little stories can whip up a nice business. Personally, I could turn out an unending stream of the concealed identity and leaser types. I think, however, that I would occasionally change from the straight initial to something more stimulating like "Mrs. O.B." or "Mr. MacD."

What I'm worrying about is the future of the Big Name Anecdote. There are already signs that tellers of same are getting toward the bottom of the barrel.

It isn't particularly that the anecdotes are getting weaker that bothers, it's when I see the same set of facts used with several different names attached to it. Just who is it, anyway, that finds these little nuggets of morality, tossed off in a crucial moment by a man later to be very famous? I spend a lot of time doing research on people, and never once have I turned up an anecdote worth repeating.

Lots of people are amateurs in this type of anecdote. The amateurs are usually pure and simple name-droppers, trying to impress you with the fact they know somebody or other. But there are big name anecdote collectors, too, and they are usually columnists who

Mrs. H. G. Keaton Is Club Hostess

Mrs. H. G. Keaton entertained the members of the Music Study club in her home, 416 Dallas, Roberts Gay, program leader, directed the continuation of the study, "Music in Texas." In giving the program, Miss Gay discussed the "Period of Absorption and Amalgamation," and "Other Foreign Contributions," which included selections "Choosing A Flower," from France and "Flowers Bright I Bring Thee," from Czechoslovakia. Mrs. Bernard Lamun sang the musical selections during the program.

Miss Gay continued her study of foreign contributions with "Maid of Monterey," from Mexico and "Come O Come With Me," from Italy. Mrs. J. F. Neel was the vocal accompanist. Miss Gay presented "Echoes From the Old South," including "Lorena," sung by Mary Jane Hamilton, and discussed the "Evolution of A Song in Texas," and "Take Me Home." Others on the program included Mrs. H. M. Jarratt who spoke on

A joke I first heard as a child was reprinted lately with General Vaughn given the punchline. My favorite columnist is a Big Name specialist. His particular trick—besides misspelling the celebrity's name—is to tell an old story backwards. It makes it a sort of three-way-split game—just to read him.

Van Johnson Has Dramatic Role

The gals' choice, Van Johnson, tries a new role in his latest picture, "Scene of the Crime."

In this feature at the Ritz theatre today and Monday, Van plays a hard-hitting dramatic role, quite a jump from the comedy characters he has been playing in recent pictures.

Opposite him is Arlene Dahl, a new candidate for stardom, whose principals are Gloria De Haven and Tom Drake.

The picture casts Johnson as Mike Conovan, a police lieutenant fanatically devoted to his work and deeply in love with his young wife. When a veteran member of the police force is murdered, Mike is assigned to track down the killer aided by Tom Drake, an eager assistant who wants to be just like his boss. Miss Dahl appears as the young wife who tries to get Mike to give up his dangerous job and Miss De Haven plays the part of a seductive strip-tease dancer.

Suspense and drama work in as the crooks Mike is chasing try to

ON THE CRIME TRAIL—Van Johnson shows some new-found evidence to Tom Drake in this scene from "Scene of the Crime." The picture, featured at the Ritz theatre today and Monday, puts Van Johnson in a dramatic role after several comedy success. Gloria De Haven and Arlene Dahl are the featured feminine players.

John Wayne In Adventure Film At The State

That ever-present star John Wayne, is back this way in another action drama, "The Fighting Kentuckian," the Lyric theatre's feature for today and Monday.

The picture deals with a little known but novel phase of American history. It is the story of 340 families, once the most influential in France who, after Napoleon's defeat at Waterloo, emigrated to the territory of Alabama, eager to carve homes for themselves out of the wilderness.

Against a background of adventure, romantic Fleurette DeMarchand, pretty daughter of one of Napoleon's greatest generals, loses her heart to rugged John Breen, a devil-may-care private in the Kentucky militia. Breen, for love of Fleurette, gives up his care-free life to assist the French settlers in their fight against the Alabama rivermen.

Wayne in his usual capable self in the role of Breen. Vera Ralston portrays Fleurette. Philip Dorn, Oliver Hardy, John Howard, Marie Windsor, Odette Myrtil and Hugo Maas are others in the cast.

ON THE FRONTIER—John Wayne and Philip Dorn share laurels in an adventure film that deals with a phase of early American history. Called "The Fighting Kentuckian," the picture is the State theatre's feature for today and Monday.

AT THE LYRIC—A popular melodrama of past seasons is brought to light again for showing at the Lyric theatre today and Monday. It's "G-Men," with hard-hitting Jimmy Cagney, shown here, as the star.

Bob Hope Starred In Terrace Film

A picture "remembered" best for being the vehicle which brought Shirley Temple her first fame was "Little Miss Marker."

That Damon Runyan tale has been brushed up a bit and brought out anew under the title of "Sorrowful Jones," and this work in the feature at the Terrace Drive-in theatre for tonight and Monday night.

Bob Hope stars in the title role, and although there's another young miss to appear as Miss Marker, the story belongs principally to Skid-Nose Bob who plays the part of a down-and-out Broadway roller of the races.

Lucille Ball is co-starred as the night club singer with the heart of gold, the one largely responsible for seeing that ultimate good comes out of the whole plot.

Hope, as the bookie shop hang-around, finds himself with a little girl on his hands, left with him for security on a bet. Much of the picture's top comic moments come with the difficulties that Sorrowful Jones has in playing the part of a father, a role which is new, and for which he has no particular use.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Bob Willis Band A New Daily Feature

One of the nation's most popular bands and the leader in western music making—Bob Willis and his Texas Playboys—will henceforth be a daily feature on KBST, seven days a week.

The Willis aggregation will be heard from 12 noon to 12:15.

The program will feature a special guest star each day as an added attraction. These will include such western ballad artists as Jimmy Wakely, Ernest Tubbs, Foy Willing, Eddy Arnold and others.

"DR. I. Q." ON WEDNESDAYS
Dr. I. Q., one of radio's most consistently popular audience participation programs, is now heard Wednesdays at 7:00 p. m. over KBST via the American Broadcasting company.

Low Valentine will continue as emcee, a role he has played since the program first went on the air in 1939, with the exception of four years spent in the service.

Valentine asks his rapid-fire questions of theatre constants throughout the country. His six assistants, stationed in various parts of the theatre, select the participants and pay off winners for Dr. I. Q. with silver dollars.

"MR. MALONE" MOVES
The Amazing Mr. Malone, starring Gene Raymond, will now be heard on Sundays, starting today at 6:30 p. m., over KBST and the ABC network.

For the initial Sunday broadcast, The Amazing Mr. Malone finds himself entangled in a marital mixup as he is sent on the prowl by the wife of a man who has just met an untimely death from a couple of bullets. The wife, ignorant of the fact that her husband has been "playing around" with other women and that he was the victim of a vicious ruse plotted by another unsavory "gentleman," has requested Malone to find the killer.

"THE GREATEST STORY"
God answers our prayers—but in the way He deems best—is the lesson to be derived from "To Them That Ask," Biblical drama to be presented on The Greatest Story Ever Told, this afternoon at 4:30 p. m., over KBST.

The dramatization is based on narrative and quotations from St. Matthew 7:9-11—"Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread will he give him a stone?"
