Meat Price Cut Ordered For June 21

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—A reduction in meat prices, averaging three cents a pound below current retail quotations, was ordered tonight by the Office of Price Administration in its second step toward "rolling back" the cost of living by means of subsidies.

The meat slash will go into effect in retail stores June 21 for all cuts except cured and processed pork, OPA said. For pork products the reductions become effective July 5.

OPA's action was taken in the face of a decision by the house banking committee to forbid payment of subsidies by the Commodity Credit Corp. and a protest against them by the American Meat Institute. This organization of packers asked postponement of any subsidy plan until the recently-formed War Meat Board goes into action.

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown has expressed determination to roll back the prices of butter, meat and coffee by ten per cent each, through subsidies financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at a cost of approximately $400,000,000 per year. The butter subsidy was placed in effect this week, but retail butter prices will not reflect the five cents per pound subsidy until Thursday.

As far as packers are concerned, the meat subsidy will go into effect Monday, but because of the time it will take before subsidized meat flows through the hands of packers, wholesalers and retailers, the retail prices will not be effected until June 21 or July 5.

Officials estimated the average retail price reduction will be three cents per pound or approximately ten per cent, but on individual cuts the reductions will range up to eight cents per pound.

For instance, in zone nine north, which includes the territory between Boston and Washington, the price cuts include six cents on round steak, four cents on chuck roast, four cents on hamburger, five cents on pork chops, and five cents on sliced bacon. Under present regulations, prices differ in the various regions throughout the country.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

When Birdwell tank was siphoned dry a couple of seasons ago, we observed at the time unless an open outlet was put through the base of the dam that someday there would be a repetition of its record of claiming drowning victims. Unfortunately, we were right. Showers during May had partially filled the tank and it offered—for all its warnings to the contrary—a temptation to swim.

We have no idea what it will cost to bore an opening for an outlet—but whatever it is, won't it be cheap along side the life of some other child?

Today the USO is observing its formal opening, and the occasion affords an excellent opportunity for the public to inspect its facilities. We believe that most will be pleasantly surprised with and justifiably proud of the center. We hope that they come away with the feeling that this is "our" USO if so, its work will be made more effective.

A group of youths is still working toward formation of some sort of an organization which might provide social and service opportunities. They are taking a slow, sensible course in seeking to solve their own leisure-time problems—and adults will do well to give sympathetic attention, counsel and help.

Having had success in our prolonged quest for a road to Garden City, the time is now ripe for concentrating on another needed highway connecting Big Spring with some of the neighboring county seats. A project needs to be selected and followed consistently and relentlessly until it is either granted or shown to be utterly unfeasible.

Police last week picked up a girl juvenile who admitted she had been in eight burglaries. Her case had extenuating circumstances—but the fact remains that one or more persons made it profitable for her to break into homes. So long as we have this low-type adult character with which to contend, just so long are we apt to have a delinquency problem.

Don't forget that Thursday is to be the last day for getting (See THE WEEK, Page 5, Col. 6)

New Crisis In Mine Dispute As Back-To-Work Order Is Limited

Lewis Tells Men It's For 2 Weeks Only

His Attitude Leaves No Moves Up To Government

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—John L. Lewis disclosed today that the coal miners' back-to-work order holds good for only two weeks, and there were reports the White House had thrown its influence behind legislation which would allow imprisonment of persons instigating strikes.

The explosive "expire-in-two-weeks" clause—keeping the threat of a wartime stoppage in coal producing hanging over the nation—was made known when the United Mine workers announced the text of a telegram ordering the 500,000 strikers back to their jobs.

This said the UMW policy committee had approved "a return to work on Monday, June 7, up to and including June 20."

The development, making clear that Lewis had not surrendered in his battle with the government and its agencies, immediately posed the questions:

1. Whether President Roosevelt would recognize such a limited order as compliance with his directive that the miners end their strike and "fulfill their war duties."

2. Whether the War Labor Board in view of the deadline, would agree to a resumption of negotiations between the union and the mine owners even after coal production is resumed.

Before the union announced the June 20 deadline, the board had refused to approve renewed negotiations pending the miners' actual return to work.

Both sides declared their readiness to proceed with bargaining and met this morning. But Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the Appalachian coal conference, announced he had solicited information from the board on procedure and was advised that the board would not recognize the negotiations until coal production resumed.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for northern mine owners, called this "a very grave mistake." Edward R. Burke, spokesman for the southern operators, said his group felt the back-to-work order of the UMW leadership should permit negotiations to go forward.

Lewis declared the miners regard the board's attitude as "mischievous and malicious and complete justification of our previous appraisal of the board's actions."

The board issued a statement saying the instructions not to resume negotiations until the mine workers "are actually back" on the jobs "reflects the established policy of the board, known to the parties, that negotiations in a case within the jurisdiction of the board may not be continued during a work stoppage."

It added that it was not concerned with meetings between the parties provided they were "not negotiating on the terms of the contract."

The disclosure that the UMW leadership's order for renewed coal production Monday—in compliance with President Roosevelt's demand—was only a strategic retreat and not an unconditional surrender came when Lewis made public the following telegram dispatched to all local unions:

"The National Policy Committee, by unanimous vote, has authorized a return to work Monday, June 7, up to and including June 20. This action was taken to protect your union, and its membership. Let each member cooperate with this policy. By order of the National Policy Committee."

Squeeze Foreseen On Rayon Supplies

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Prospects of a growing squeeze on civilian supplies of rayon were underscored today by disclosure that the war production board has agreed to furnish an additional 65,000,000 pounds of high strength rayon fibre for cord in synthetic rubber tires in 1944.

This big allocation will be provided, WPA officials said, by the conversion of civilian rayon facilities to the high-tensacity, super-duty fibre used for military vehicles. It brings total WPA commitments for the fibre of 174,000,000 pounds in 1944.

Byrnes Backing Anti-Strike Bill?

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—James F. Byrnes, the war mobilization director, was reported authoritatively today to have urged congressional leaders to speed passage of the Connally-Smith anti-strike bill, approved in different forms by the house and senate.

Byrnes was represented as indicating that several major provisions of the bill as it passed the house yesterday would be acceptable to the administration. His interest in obtaining quick enactment was said to stem from a desire to clothe the War Labor Board with additional authority to deal with the coal wage dispute.

As approved by the house, the measure would give the board statutory powers to decide this dispute. In the course of its deliberations it could force the attendance of John L. Lewis and other union leaders, by subpoena.

The bill also would make it unlawful to induce any person to strike or aid in a strike which interrupts production of a government-operated mine or plant, with penalties for violation of up to $5,000 fine and a year's imprisonment.

Although he said he had received no word of the administration's attitude toward the bill which the house passed, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of senate conferees said he had no doubt that speedy action can be obtained on the measure.

The general objectives of the house and senate are the same and I am sure the conferees will agree on a sound and effective bill," Connally told reporters.

New President Of Argentina Named

BUENOS AIRES, June 5 (AP)—General Arturo Rawson formally became the new president of Argentina tonight, succeeding Ramon Castillo who returned to surrender the office after a brief period of defiance aboard a warship.

Rawson's new 18-man governmental leadership includes only two civilians, the others being army and naval leaders who marched with the general to oust the Castillo government yesterday.

Although under Castillo Argentina had remained neutral and was the only South American government maintaining relations with the axis, there was no official indication immediately of the policies of the new leaders.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Montevideo said Uruguayan officials were disappointed over the almost completely military character of the new government, and the fact that several ministers were known as extreme rightists. This, they said, apparently exploded earlier hopes that Argentina finally would be ruled by a democratic team.

(Other sources, however, said the new government might be rightist in internal matters, and pro-Allied in international policy. Others suggested a wait-and-see attitude.)

An official announcement of the new regime was issued tonight after all-day conferences between Rawson and his aides.

Castillo was set free after formally resigning the presidency, but two of his ministers were imprisoned.

They are Interior Minister Miguel Calucati, who was a prisoner of the second infantry regiment in the capital after giving up with Castillo at La Plata, and Daniel Amadeo y Videla, agriculture minister, who was taken in custody by police on his arrival in a chartered plane from Montevideo, Uruguay.

The two were taken to the federal penitentiary to await prosecution, a government house announcement said.

Giraud Will Keep Reins

ALGIERS, June 5 (AP)—Gen. Henri Giraud will remain as commander in chief of the French North African army despite earlier opposition by Gen. Charles De Gaulle, political informants said tonight.

Belief that a compromise had been reached in what was probably the greatest stumbling block to a union of De Gaulle's fighting French and Giraud's forces was expressed after the conclusion of today's session of the French committee for national liberation.

It was reported that De Gaulle has agreed to permit Giraud, co-chairman of the committee, to remain as head of the army provided he does not take command in the field; in return Giraud agreed to place several fighting French generals in key positions in the newly merged army.

Although there was no official announcement, it was understood that the committee was considering the formation of an army corps combining the elements of the fighting French and the North African army to symbolize the new unity. It was believed that the corps would probably be commanded by Gen. Alphonse Juin.

HAEGG IN U. S.

NEW ORLEANS, June 5 (AP)—Gunder Haegg, Swedish distance runner, landed here today and immediately worked 2,000 meters over the municipal stadium's cinder path to limber up his legs. He left by plane at midnight for New York.

Reds Strike Aerial Blows

LONDON, Sunday, June 6 (AP)—Long-range Russian aircraft smashed a concentration of German trains at Bryansk and Karachev Friday night in a mass raid that followed the 520-plane assault on Orel, it was announced early today by the Moscow radio.

The heavy Russian air blows in this sector at the hinge of the general and southern fronts were the only outstanding developments reported in the mid-night communique recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

The Bulletin pointed out that the destruction heaped on the Orel railway junction Thursday night had caused the Germans to move back some of their equipment to Karachev and Bryansk, 40 to 85 miles, respectively, northwest of Orel.

These trains then were attacked again by the Russians, and "many fires and explosions were caused by direct hits."

Things are much milder around the hot-spots of negro town than officers would have ventured some months ago, but gradually the sector is monopolizing a space on the daily police blotter.

Outside of a few friendly carvings and one mysterious shooting in which two women received superficial wounds, nothing serious has issued from the vicinity of the Dreamland hotel, the hub of much of the goings-on in that quarter of town.

Churchill At Home, Calls Conferences

Invasion Speculation Quickens After Parley In Africa

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill hastily summoned his war cabinet for hours of secret session immediately after his dramatic return today from war conferences in Washington and Africa.

This was viewed in some quarters as meaning that major military operations were pending, and needed quick and final approval.

His swift actions at any rate created a new outburst of invasion enthusiasm, and appeared certain to add to Axis fears of a sudden and simultaneous attack in many places.

The meeting in Tunisia of Churchill, Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. army chief of staff, and African war leaders was noted here with much interest, and gave further stimulus to speculation about an offensive launched from North Africa.

Unusual activity among service chiefs was reported by the London press in the wake of the cabinet meeting.

Churchill supposedly told his ministers the details of his conference with President Roosevelt, and outlined plans to carry the war to unconditional surrender of the enemy.

He is expected to elaborate somewhat at the next session of commons, but the world will have to wait and see the riddle unfold on the field of battle.

Few expect him to go into the finer points of the military problems involved, but it was suggested that probably he would be able to assure the commons that the plans now made should see the United Nations all the way to victory.

Churchill returned to England at dawn today, and hurried to London.

The final stage of his flight across the dangerous Bay of Biscay was made in the dark of the moon with picked air fighters accompanying Churchill's bomber and watching anxiously for the Nazi aerial pack which on Tuesday shot down a British passenger plane carrying Actor Leslie Howard and 12 other passengers.

The usual precaution was taken in the belief that the Germans were gunning for Britain's war leader both when they destroyed Howard's plane and when yesterday they riddled a Canadian bomber on the same route and forced seven wounded flyers to parachute to safety in Portugal. No trace has been found of Howard's plane or its passengers.

Churchill was accompanied on the final night dash by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who flew to join him in the North African talks, and by Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the imperial general staff, who was with him at the big conference in Washington where the Allies mapped their global war strategy.

The prime minister's homecoming coincided with a rash of "invasion" talk in England, with mounting speculation that the first Allied blow would strike the Italian islands of Sardinia, Sicily and Pantelleria. The Daily Mail bore the blaring headlines: "Zero hour in the battle for bastion islands."

Last night the Rome radio exhorted the Italian people that "the Allied attack is coming" and exhorted the defenders of Pantelleria to stand fast.

DIES IN CRASH
PECOS, June 5 (AP)—Lieut. Robert F. Henrichs, 22, assigned to the Pecos army air field as flying instructor two days ago from Hangar field, was killed today when his plane crashed near the base, the office of public relations announced.

Yank Made Daring Daylight Raid On Fleet's Hideaway

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN BOMBER BASE IN NORTH AFRICA, June 5 (AP)—Scores of American Flying Fortresses in a powerful, rocking blow at the Italian navy damaged three 35,000-ton battleships—the pride of Mussolini's fleet—in a daring daylight raid on Spezia today, and also hit a heavy cruiser and one merchant ship in rain of armor-piercing bombs.

The battleships were all of the 1940 Littorio class, the Littorio itself, the Vittorio Veneto, and the Roma, mounting nine 15-inch guns, 12 6-inch guns and 12 anti-aircraft guns.

Great fires were left raging in oil depots and harbor installations, and the American air fleet returned without the loss of a single ship.

Carrying giant 2,000 pound "battleship busters"—bombs that can smash through armor—the Flying Fortresses made the longest operational flight of the North African campaign for the first surprise daylight assault on the Spezia naval base in the northwest coast of Italy.

They made the long hop without escort, dropping many tons of bombs.

All came back despite minor Italian fighter opposition and the heaviest flak the Italian fleet could hurl aloft in a desperate effort to parry this stab at the heart of the Italian naval defenses.

The raid was a painful offensive blow at the hiding Italian navy, a navy possibly being held in reserve to fight any allied invasion of Italian soil.

The inaction-jittery Italians had hoped Spezia harbor might be a haven safe from the far-ranging fortresses, but the big American planes made the long over-water hop to explode that hope.

Direct hits or near misses with 2,000-pound bombs were reported on all three of the battleships and the heavy cruiser. The near misses were within 50 feet, close enough with one-ton bombs to cause heavy damage, in the opinion of air bombing experts.

The merchant vessel struck was estimated to be 350 feet in length. Fire and smoke from jetties, oil depots, storage areas, and electrical shops in the navy yards indicated that the short installations as well as the ships were hit hard.

The returning fliers, fagged from their eight and half hour ride but jubilant over their first great smash at a far away Italian naval shelter, leaped from the unscarred fortresses for coffee and doughnuts.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 5 (AP)—American Liberator bombers of the Middle East air force dumped nearly 125 tons of explosives on Grottaglie airrome near Brindisi in southeastern Italy yesterday and other allied air units struck again at the enemy's Mediterranean island strongholds and additional points on the Italian mainland.

The two-wave daylight assault on Grottaglie airrome splintered hangars and administration buildings with direct hits. One entire section of the field was said to have been knocked out as the whole place was covered with explosions, large fires and columns of smoke.

A formation of fighters challenged the big bombers, which blasted four of the enemy planes out of the air, and a U. S. communique said all of the American raiders returned safely.

Here's Change In Ceilings On Meats

DALLAS, June 5 (AP)—A representative list of new meat prices which go into effect June 21 in Zone Four, which includes all of Texas and Oklahoma, under the "roll-back" orders announced in Washington today, was issued by the regional OPA office here.

The list contains some of the new and old retail ceilings for Grade A beef and veal (second highest of five grades) and also Grade A lamb and Grade 3 (prime) mutton.

The list gives the ceilings, or highest prices the retail stores may charge. Prices lower than the ceiling are permitted.

The ceilings for Class 1 and 2 are for independent retailers who did less than $250,000 gross business in 1942. All other stores are in Class 3 and 4.

Few Work Stoppages In The Southwest

DALLAS, June 5 (AP)—The state of Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana have far surpassed the recent national record of only three one-hundredths of one per cent of man-hours lost through work stoppages. Floyd McGowan, chairman of the eighth regional War Labor Board, announced today.

Only four strikes have been recorded in the regional WLB office in the seven months since its establishment, he said.

Victory For The Chinese Is Growing

CHUNGKING, June 5 (AP)—The proportions of the Chinese victory in the upper Yangtze area, which the Chinese call their greatest of the war, continued to grow today and the high command announced the capture of a point in the outer defenses of Ichang, the main base from which the Japanese started their drive in the direction of Chungking.

Chinese press dispatches said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's of a crumbing girl in a city park, treated into Ichang itself Thursday morning and created "utter disorder and confusion," setting fires and explosions which shook the city.

The high command announced the capture of Kungang, south of Shasi on the Yangtze and 65 miles southeast of Ichang, from which one Japanese column had set out on the abortive campaign. More than half the garrison was wiped out and the remainder retreated.

Dispatches from the front said a number of other points had been captured in a triumphant sweep to the southeast of Ichang, with the fleeing enemy abandoning large quantities of arms and stores and even discarding uniforms in an effort to escape in Chinese clothing.

One force of about 4,000, making a last ditch stand in Tain-shih, in Hunan province north of Lake Tungting to the southeast of Ichang, was said to be cut into small isolated units.

"Their fate is sealed," the dispatches said.

Pacific Islands Are Raided By Bombers

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sunday June 6 (AP)—Langgoer on the Kai Islands and Dobo on the Aros were raided lightly by Allied medium bombers Friday night, today's news communique reported, but action yesterday virtually was at a standstill because of stormy weather.

The Langgoer airrome and the village itself were attacked by medium bombers which started fires. The two-engine planes also bombed and strafed Dobo, setting fires which could be seen 60 miles away. A coastal vessel in the vicinity took a direct hit.

The Aros Islands are 300 miles above Darwin and the Kai Islands are just west of the Aros.

Bob Hope, Dottie Lamour Hit A High In Gaiety In 'They Got Me Covered'

Bringing the top favorites, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour, together for the sixth time on the screen, "They Got Me Covered" is a sparkling romantic farce of a foreign correspondent's troubles with a band of enemy agents. The picture is at the Ritz today and Monday.

In this Samuel Goldwyn production Hope plays the role of Bob Kittredge, Moscow correspondent of the Amalgamated News Agency, who muffs the German invasion of Russia and is called home in disgrace and violently discharged. Going to Washington to visit his girl friend, Christine Hill (Dorothy Lamour), Kittredge gets a tip on a sensational story regarding Nazi spy activities in this country and hastily goes after it.

Tracked by Gestapo gunmen, the informer is unable to give Kittredge the information, but subsequently dictates it to a stenographer friend of Christine's. The Nazis get the girl's notebook and then, unable to read her shorthand, kidnap her.

Kittredge, urged on by Christine, tries desperately to find his informer-friend, but falls into the hands of the Nazis instead. Fearing an investigation if they kill him, the spies evolve an ingenious plot to discredit Kittredge and make him the laughing-stock of the country. But Christine remains true to him, and between them the pair manage to rescue the kidnapped girl, round up the Nazis and straighten out Kittredge's professional and matrimonial future.

Directed by David Butler, who also handled the two stars' last two hits, "Road to Morocco" and "Caught in the Draft," the new offering is said to be the funniest of all the Hope-Lamour vehicles, as well as the most timely. It also introduces to picture-goers Goldwyn's newest find, gray-eyed Le-nore Aubert, who plays the part of a fascinating spy in the thrilling film as her first American portrayal.

Otto Preminger heads the supporting cast as the leader of the spy ring, with Edward Clannell, Donald Meek and Philip Ahn as his aids and Marion Martin as a glamorous blonde to whom Bob Hope is married by the Nazi agents, as part of the discrediting process. Donald MacBride as Hope's explosive boss, Phyllis Ruth as the stenographer, Florence Bates, Walter Catlett, John Abbot and Frank Sully have other important roles.

They're Covered—But you'll see more of Bob Hope and Dottie Lamour when you see this hilarious antics in "They Got Me Covered," a fast-moving comedy which headlines the Ritz theatre's bill for today and Monday.

Unusual Story Unfolded In Lyric Film

Sark realism, vivid drama and exciting romance are blended in the new David L. Loew-Albert Lewin production of the famous Somerset Maugham novel, "The Moon and Sixpence," which is the Lyric Theatre's feature for today and Monday. The cast of this film, records the adventures and romances of a brooding genius who differed from other men.

Includes George Sanders, Herbert Marshall, Doris Dudley, Elena Verdugo, Albert Basterman, Eric Elton, Robert Grieg and Steve Gately.

"The Moon and Sixpence" tells an unusual story about an unusual man, a wealthy banker who abandoned his family and Society in order to become an artist.

Charles Strickland, played by George Sanders, is the hero of the film, and when he defies the world into which he was born, his travels and adventures resolve into a kaleidoscope of color and movement and sharp contrasts.

He goes from London's fashionable West End to a shabby Parisian garret, to raucous waterfront dives in Marseilles, and on to the magic beauty of a coral isle in the South Seas, a storied haven of enchantment for all harried souls seeking escape.

An entire Tahitian village was constructed on a sound stage for this South Sea setting, and over 200 Polynesians, male and female, were employed as extras. The grass houses were built of genuine dried pandanus leaves and bamboo poles. And the tiny village church was furnished with a thintoned red organ.

According to Devi Dja, Javanese dancing numbers tell a story and most of the time it is romantic stuff about boy-meets-girl. She also pointed out that modern boogie-woogie is an absolute derivative of tribal dancing that is centuries old and flourished in places where no white man ever penetrated.

'Casablanca' Is Offered At The Queen

La Medina, the mysterious vice-infested section of Casablanca, will soon be as familiar to American picture audiences as the Algiers, made famous in the picture, "Algiers."

For La Medina figures importantly in "Casablanca," the new Warner Bros. film, starring Humphrey Bogart, Ingrid Bergman and Paul Henreid, which is at the Queen Theatre today and Monday. That section was created on the screen under the technical supervision of Robert Eisner, French army officer, who escaped the Nazi claw soon after the fall of France, and went to Casablanca, where he remained several months before he obtained a passport to Lisbon and thence to the United States.

La Medina, located in the northwest section of Casablanca, Morocco, is enclosed by a high wall, with its back to the Atlantic. It is the old Moorish part of the city and later became the refuge for underground leaders, political fugitives and escaped French, Czech and Polish army officers.

At Queen—These two players of note, Ingrid Bergman and Paul Henreid, appear with Humphrey Bogart in "Casablanca," the popular story of that city which is a haven for desperate war refugees. "Casablanca" is at the Queen theatre today and Monday.

It is with such refugees that the plot of "Casablanca" concerns itself. The action of the story takes place in Casablanca, with a flashback to Paris just prior to the German occupation, which tells of the love between Humphrey Bogart and Ingrid Bergman. Paul Henreid is cast as a prominent leader of the underground.

A featured supporting cast is headed by Claude Rains, Conrad Veidt, Sydney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre.

Steel Production Feels Effect Of Coal Strike

Tennessee is also known as the volunteer state. "Friendship" is the motto of Texas.

Children's Aid Association May Take Custody Of 'Rest Room' Baby

Apparently the "rest room baby" found abandoned here in a service station rest room over two weeks ago, is about to have a foster home.

A visitor in town Saturday was the Rev. W. A. Nicholas, superintendent of the West Texas Children's Aid and Welfare association, Abilene, who made formal application for the custody of the boy.

As head of the association, the Rev. Nicholas has been a frequent visitor here, seeking homeless, neglected and destitute children and finding homes for them in Christian families.

Application was filed Saturday by County Attorney George Thomas, stating that the abandoned infant was a dependent and neglected child.

Such procedure is usually followed by the district court judge entering an order that the application is true. If such is the case, it will be possible to award the custody of the child to the welfare home.

CUBAN SHIP SUNK

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The navy reported today that a small Cuban merchant ship was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Caribbean area early in May. Survivors were landed at Miami.

Several Blast Furnaces Are Closed Down

PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—Vital steel felt the effects of the big coal strike today, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation reporting eleven of its blast furnaces had been closed down because of the lack of beehive coke—the source of which was choked off by the coal production stoppage.

This brought to thirteen the number of blast furnaces shut down. One had been closed by the Republic Steel corporation at Birmingham, Ala., and another by the Shenango Furnace company at Sharpsville, Pa.

The announcement by a spokesman for Carnegie-Illinois, describing the effect of the coal strike on its mills as more serious than expected, came as the end of the coal strike was being cheered. Other steel companies reported sufficient supplies on hand, with production continuing normally.

No estimate on the effect of the shut-downs on employment or production was made by Carnegie-Illinois. Under routine operation, however, the blast furnaces feed the open hearth furnaces, whose product goes into ingots for the rolling mills to produce finished steel. No open hearths were reported shut down.

The Carnegie-Illinois spokesman said every effort was being made to keep other furnaces in operation and those suspending would be restored to production as quickly as possible, depending on how quickly supplies of beehive coke become available.

Beehive coke derives its name from the fact it is produced in ovens shaped like a beehive. Coal from the mines, usually situated nearby, is fed to the ovens for the cooking process. Thousands of ovens dot the mine country in the great Connellsville coke field of Pennsylvania. From the ovens, the coke is sped to the mills to produce pig iron.

Summer Term Opens Monday

Summer school students will meet at the high school Monday morning at 9 o'clock to enroll for classes, make out schedules and receive books, it was announced Saturday.

Students, who may take a maximum of three courses, will attend school each morning from 7 a. m. to 12 p. m. during a three months period.

It is an opportunity for seventh graders, promoted on condition, to remove that condition during the summer, officials advised, and also a chance for high school students to receive extra credit.

Reba Debenport is to be principal of the summer school, assisted by Mrs. M. W. Paulsen and Lynette McElhannon. There will be no afternoon courses taught.

School Board Will Meet Monday Night

The school board will meet at 8:30 p. m. Monday in the administration building of the high school to discuss routine matters, W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said Saturday. Teacher vacancies will also probably be discussed, the superintendent said, although little action can be taken until later in the summer when definite plans of teachers are known.

Heavy Rains Over Parts Of Texas

By The Associated Press
 Heavy rains benefitted some sections of Texas and brought material damage to others yesterday. Lashing storms throughout the South Plains counties left one dead and caused injury to two others. A lightning bolt in Lubbock county Friday night killed W. B. Wright, Deport, Tex., a farm laborer, and severely shocked his two younger brothers, Wayne, 11, and Billy, 9. Hail beat paths through the south and southwest portions of Lubbock county, eastern Hale county, and near Lamson. Rain of waterpout proportions devastated crops in several Lubbock county communities, necessitating the replanting of cotton and feed. Only .65 of an inch of rain fell in the city of Lubbock, but farmers in some localities estimated precipitation at 10 inches. Rain, hail and wind damage was spotted, many localities reporting only a beneficial amount of moisture. The lower Colorado river authority at Austin reported that the already heavily taxed Buchanan and Mansfield reservoirs would be built up even more by heavy rains over the watershed. Rains during the last three days ranged from two inches to 8.04, authority engineers said yesterday. In northwest Texas grain harvesting was interrupted by rains. Wichita and Clay counties suffering most. Only small damage was reported to wheat. Winds unroofed part of a hangar at the British training school and overturned several planes at Terrell, near Dallas. About a quarter of an inch of rain fell in Dallas. Navy river gunboats are usually named for island possessions of the United States.

FD Wants Higher Security Payments

Repeats View On Curbing Inflation

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP) — President Roosevelt renewed today his recommendation that contributions to the social security system be increased as a means of combatting inflation.

In signing a local bill amending the District of Columbia compensation act, the president noted that the measure provided for "an untimely reduction in the rate of contribution for the great majority of employees in the district" although it contained what he called "other desirable improvements."

Then his statement said:

"This period of inflationary pressure is not a time to reduce taxes. This is a time to reduce expenditures, pay off debts and build up reserves."

"I have repeatedly called attention of the congress and country to the desirability of increasing contributions in all branches of the social security system as a means of absorbing excess purchasing power now and providing a fund from which payments can be made in case of need at a later time."

"Although approving this local law, I adhere to my earlier recommendations for national policy. The existing five per cent levy for social security will rise automatically to seven per cent January 1 under the social security act unless congress intervenes."

An increase was scheduled for the current year, but a congressional group which included Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) sponsored and put through legislation which froze contributions of employees and employers at the previous one per cent levy for each. The remaining three per cent of the total five per cent figure involves unemployment insurance.

Pending in congress is a bill for a broad, postwar security program. Introduced earlier in the week by Senators Wagner (D-NY) and Murray (D-Mont), the legislation, among other things, would establish a six per cent employee and a six per cent employer contribution on all wages up to $5,000 a year.

USO Center To Be Formally Opened With Program Today

Coahoma Woman Serves Faithfully As Seamstress

Several months ago when locals were still rather shy in volunteering their services for work at the USO Club, a small quiet woman came in one afternoon, and inquired if she might help in some way. According to USO officials, Mrs. Tonn, who resides in Coahoma, felt that she wasn't doing her part toward winning the war.

Even though her family takes up a large portion of her time, she manages to spend two days each week at the soldier center, tacking on chevrons and insignias, and replacing missing buttons. On Mondays, she comes over for sewing orders and takes measurements. Tuesdays are spent completing her work.

After the idea got started, and made the rounds in day rooms and barracks, soldiers flocked to the club with their bundles of clothes to be mended. Now she is content with her contribution to the war effort. Quite by accident did workers at the local center learn that she has two sons and a husband in the service.

Club Remodeled And Refurnished At $12,000 Cost

The major morale builder for the men who wear Uncle Sam's uniform—the United Services Organizations—comes into its own in Big Spring today, with formal opening of a remodeled, re-equipped and refurnished club at First and Runnels streets.

A dedicatory program, starting at 4 o'clock, and climaxing with the presentation of keys to the USO by Mayor Grover C. Dunham to Col. R. W. Warren, commandant of the Big Spring bombardier school, will mark the official opening of the new layout which represents a renovation cost of around $12,000.

Council Heads Up Policies For USO

Acting as a buffer between the USO and the city is an important part of the organization of the soldier center—the War Recreation Council.

The council, headed by G. J. Staples as chairman, includes in its membership G. C. Dunham, mayor; B. J. McDaniel, city manager; J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager; Capt. H. W. Wheeler, special services officer; Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, Ross Clarke, USO director; the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Ben LeFever, and Mary Whaley.

The council is set up to act as an over-all planning group and to provide machinery for clearing all individual group plans and programs.

Members are responsible for seeing that the activities of each group gear in smoothly with the work of others and that there is no overlapping of activities or plans and no competitive programs.

As a sponsoring group, the council is responsible for mobilizing all the resources and services, public and private, for men of the armed forces and the civilian population.

Committees in the council include facilities, finance, program, church relations, hospitality, hostesses, talent, athletics, troops in transit, information and transportation, public relations and negro activities.

Under such combined planning, the council's function is to keep rolling smoothly the programs and entertainments of the armed services for men in the armed services.

Since the establishment of the USO here, the council's work has been greatly simplified with professional assistance of the USO, but its responsibilities still remain important in order that plans and programs work toward the one aim, happy service men.

Crash-Proof

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)— Sgt. Varden Schow's motorcycle and an automobile collided.

At the moment of impact, the sergeant jumped. He cleared the car and landed on his feet on the other side.

"That 20-foot dive was a cinch," he explained. "I've done lots better. I'm a tumbling instructor."

"Open house" will be held at the club through the week, with banquets, concerts, dances and other entertainments.

Lieut. Joe Fond of the Texas Home Guard will act as presiding officer, and the opening program will get underway with a 30 minute concert by the AAFBS band, directed by W-O Robert Brunner. Chaplain Emerit A. Lawrence will give the invocation following the singing of "America," and the pledge to the American flag.

Dedicatory prayer will be offered by the Rev. J. E. McCoy, pastor of the First Christian Church, and various councils and committees, working with the USO will be introduced. J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, will present awards to those persons having served 50 or more hours as service hostesses at the USO club.

The audience will sing the National Anthem and Cpl. David Macarow will close the program with the benediction.

The building will be open from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. for inspection, and the public is invited to attend the various activities of the day. Refreshments will be served by women of religious organizations in town.

Miss Elsie Willis, local piano teacher, and Sgt. Joe Kling, tenor, will present a joint concert at the club, at 6:30 p. m.

Highlight of the Tuesday evening entertainment will be "All Men's Night" with service men of AAFBS as hosts, and members of the Rotary, Kiwanis, ABC and Lions Club along with other Big Spring men as guests.

The Rev. Dick O'Brien will be guest speaker and special numbers will be presented by club members.

All USO hostesses are invited to attend an informal tea which will be held at the USO club Thursday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock with service men's wives as hostesses. A community sing song is scheduled for 8:45 o'clock with an informal talk "Splattering Remarks" by Shine Philips, author of "Big Spring."

A square dance, honoring the old settlers will be held at the club Friday evening 9 o'clock with Jim Winslow as caller and music furnished by Bill Thomason and his string band.

Climaxing the week, a formal dance will be held at the soldier center Saturday evening with music furnished by members of the Big Spring bombardier post orchestra. Members of the Girl's Service Organization will serve as hostesses, and are asked to present their cards at the door.

"Virtus, Liberty and Independence is the state motto of Pennsylvania.

A Real Help— Not all the USO's activities are along the social line. The new Big Spring center operates an alteration service for the soldiers, and the young men get free help with alterations, clothing repairs, sewing on of chevrons, buttons, etc. Here's a volunteer at work at the USO center, and a sergeant will be the beneficiary. (Kelsey Photo).

Girls Carefully Chosen To Assist In The Entertainment Of Soldiers

It isn't so easy as one might believe to become a junior hostess, or member of the Girl's Service Organization, because of rigid requirements which must be met in order to serve at the local USO club. Girls who become members of the organization must meet with the standards which have been set up by the National USO Headquarters in an effort to have only carefully selected hostesses as game and dancing partners for the soldiers who visit the center.

Applications are filed with the USO and are approved or rejected by the GSO board. Included in the hostess application are questions as to church affiliation, age, personality and character. References must be furnished when members are accepted.

The purpose of the organization is to cooperate with the USO recreational program for men in the service. Its function is to provide wholesome recreational opportunities for service men in the form of dances, parties, informal gatherings and special entertainments.

Blue and gold are the official colors, and GSO pins lettered on a blue and gold shield are issued. Identification cards which are issued to club members, must be presented at the door before girls are admitted at the local club.

According to USO officials, applications for membership are turned down repeatedly, when girls do not meet with specifications.

Paid Staff Of Three Serves At Center

ROSS CLARKE

Along with the outstanding number of hostesses, social service workers and volunteers who serve regular hours at the local soldier center is the USO staff which includes Ross Clarke, director; Mrs. Ann Houser, assistant director and Mrs. J. R. Farmer, stenographer and bookkeeper.

Clarke, who was serving with the Young Men's Christian Association in the last war, has had a great deal of experience with his work. During the first world war, he was affiliated with the Houston YMCA as physical education director, and also served in a similar capacity with the YMCA at Youngstown, Ohio, where he worked from 1925 to 1932. Other towns included Indianapolis, and Terre Haute, Ind. and Orlando, Fla. He spent 10 months in Baton Rouge, La. where he was director during the construction of the USO club there, before coming to Big Spring.

Mrs. Houser, assistant director, who has taught music in Big Spring for the past several years, served on the furnishing committees before the USO was opened in October, and later served on the hospitality committee.

When Clarke arrived in Big Spring to assume duties as director of the local club, Mrs. Houser was named assistant director. Her duties include supervision of all programs, and activities and general hostess work at the club.

Mrs. J. R. Farmer serves as bookkeeper and stenographer at the soldier center along with her duties as official hostess of the club.

Machinery Sales Not Affected By Ration Changes

Relaxing of rationing quotas on farm machinery has not affected volume of sales yet in this county, M. Weaver, AAA administrative officer said Friday.

The reason for this, Weaver said, is that farmers have already purchased their machinery for planting and cultivating and have not yet bought new machinery or parts for harvesting machinery.

Also, Weaver said, while there are no quotas on the machinery, farmers must find their machinery in the dealers stock and certify to that effect before they can purchase the equipment and most dealers have very little machinery on hand.

Barbecue Surprise

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP)— The Connecticut Slaughterer's Association, suppliers of beef and other meats to local markets, invited various food department agents and OPA representatives to their annual "steak barbecue."

The invitation urged them to "come and eat all (the meat) you want. It's free."

Chicken was served at the outing. The OPA denied the association on issue of ration points for beef.

New Center A Result Of Much Groundwork By Local Groups

Seeing the newly remodeled USO building with its fine furniture, good equipment, and well-managed staff is like seeing a dream come true as far as the original members of the War Recreation Council are concerned. It is a far cry from the place that the city and civic clubs sponsored until the USO took over and it is also finer than any dream that the original council members might have had for a soldier center.

In the spring of 1942, Mayor G. C. Dunham, city manager, B. J.

McDaniel, Mrs. Hayes Stripling, the Rev. Dick O'Brien, Mrs. Obie Bristow, C. J. Staples, Mrs. W. E. Milam, J. H. Greene, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mary Whaley met at the chamber of commerce office to discuss what could be done to have a soldier center here.

The group didn't have much of a plan, just a desire to see that some recreational facilities were provided for soldiers who were to be stationed at the post and for those at the already established Glider school here.

One meeting led to another and with Mrs. Bristow elected as chairman, plans finally began to take shape. After a decision on a WPA-FSA sponsored center, WPA went out of existence by presidential decree and the council was right where it started, no funds, no building, no nothing.

Meeting again, this time with an FSA representative, the council found that Big Spring was eligible to obtain USO funds and red tape was unrolled on the new project.

Meantime, August and September came and soldiers began arriving at the post and the council suffered a bad case of conscience for no provision had yet been made for soldier entertainment.

That is when the city and the civic clubs got together and the site of the present USO was selected for a temporary center. Begging, borrowing and snatching at furniture, using worn out equipment, and a limited number of hostesses, the group got the soldier center opened on Saturday night, October 3rd, 1942.

Refreshments were furnished by clubs and organizations whose members took turns at the job of hosting. Only two rooms were open to the soldiers, but they crowded in each weekend, glad to have a place to go.

The original council numbered only nine persons, now has 12 active members and its main activity lies in acting as a liaison body between the city and the USO.

The council's work is by no means over, but the tough sledding has just and the dream of an up to date USO center established as reality.

Sunday's dedication service is a milestone in achievement for the council whose members are still a little amazed at the results of their labors which started with such small beginnings.

Game Room—One of the chief recreational features of the new USO center is the game room, a portion of which is pictured above. Here soldiers may play billiards and other games. In the rear is the Snack Bar, over which are dispensed refreshments free to the uniformed men. (Kelsey Photo).

In Recital—One of the features of today's dedicatory ceremonies at the USO center will be a musical recital to be given by Miss Elsie Willis (left), and Sgt. Joe Kling of the Bombardier school. Miss Willis is a well-known local pianist, and Sgt. Kling, tenor, has been heard in several programs here. Their recital will be in the USO parlors at 6:30 p. m. today. (Kelsey Photo).

First Wheat Reaches Ft. Worth Market

FORT WORTH, June 5 (AP)—First cars of wheat of the 1942 crop were received in Fort Worth Friday by the Uhlmann Elevator company.

One car came from Crowell and Jack Greenman of the elevator company said it went into government storage while the other car came from Haskell and was sold here.

Reports from Crowell are that the average of fields harvested this week has been 15 to 20 bushels, largely No. 1 dark hard testing 60-1-2 to 64 pounds to the bushels. The Haskell car was No. 1 dark hard testing 61.7 pounds. The Haskell harvest is averaging 20 to 21 bushels to the acre.

The distress call "S O S" was adopted internationally in 1908.

Individuals Aid In Programs As VSO Members

One of the most active organizations which functions according to regulations of the national United Service Organizations is the Volunteer Service Organization which was established in Big Spring several months ago.

The plan for the formation of the local auxiliary was set up for the purpose of supplying a program of service to the men in the armed forces in cooperation with the national USO program.

Membership is on an invitational basis representative of all the women in the community who meet with the standards and requirements of the organization. The group functions entirely on a local basis in line with the purpose and suggestions outlined by a USO manual. Local needs determine the organized plan of work which is carried on.

Members of the local USO act as chaperones at dances, furnish refreshments, work at the information desk; serve at the canteen; provide transportation; participate in lobby games (bridge, checkers and chess) collect reading material; write letters or cards home to parents of service men; wrap gift packages at holiday time, and plan and accompany soldiers on sightseeing trips and entertainments.

The Circus Maximus at Rome could hold 385,000 spectators. The military term plateau originated in the 15th century.

Here's hoping you men in service enjoy the conveniences and pleasures offered at the enlarged new USO Recreation Center.

Clubs and churches, cooperating with the soldier center, contribute members as service hostesses on regular schedules each week. Fourteen churches participate in Hospitality Hour activities which are held on Sunday afternoon of each week, when sandwiches, cake and other refreshments are served to the visiting soldiers.

'Home Away From Home' For Soldiers; That's Description Of New Center

A trip through the newly completed USO building which covers 9,500 square feet of floor space will prove to Big Springers that the United Service Organizations is truly going all out in an effort to make a home away from home for the service men at the Big Spring Bombardier School.

The lobby which centers the building is furnished with divans, easy chairs and couches upholstered with leather in soft browns, tans, yellows and greens. Phone booths for long distance telephone calls are placed along one side with a bulletin board which lists the schedule of activities along with messages to soldiers and telephone calls. To add a homelike atmosphere, ivy, potted plants and fresh flowers are placed throughout the room, with scores of ash trays which also serve as home reminders.

The Snack Bar, busiest section of the entire building, fronts a small kitchen, well equipped with electric ice box, stove and plenty of cabinet space. Popularity of the bar is attributed to fact that food which is served to the visiting soldiers is free. Two large pool tables and other games are also in the room.

The men's lounge, complete with shaving facilities and ironing board, has been completed along with the girls' powder room which is furnished with full length mirrors and dressing tables.

Newest and largest section of the building is the larger game room which is furnished with leather upholstered sofas, chairs and lounges outlining the dance floor. Ping pong tables, pianos and nickelodeons are other equipment.

The lounge, left of the main lobby, is arranged conveniently and according to plans drawn up by the USO building counselor. Here letters may be written at desks equipped with free stationery, pens and ink. The room also serves as a library and reading room. Lamps softly shaded in matching colors which harmonize with the green, yellow and rust upholstered furniture add a homelike air to the surroundings.

The sewing room, which also served as the recording room, opens into the USO garden now under construction.

The patio which will prove particularly useful during the summer months, will be furnished with lawn furniture, potted palms, ping pong tables and shuffle boards.

Reinforcements

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—Rosecrans Field, of the army air force transport command, will have two new units next month: a contingent of WAACS, and a detachment of guard dogs.

Some Fun—Not the least of the USO's programs is the planning of parties, picnics and similar entertainments for the soldier boys—with officially designated junior hostesses to help them have a good time. This picture was made on a recent hayride and picnic sponsored by the local USO.

Home-Like—Here's the lobby of Big Spring's new USO center, a place of relaxation that tries to measure up to the atmosphere of a home away from home. Soldiers may use the piano, the phonograph, or take it easy with books and magazines in the lounging chairs. (Kelsey Photo).

Alterations On Those GI Trousers Among Many Services At The USO

Holding up newly issued GI trousers with one hand and clutching an overnight kit, furrough papers and railroad ticket with the other, a worried rookie waited his turn at the reception desk in the USO club, aware that his train would arrive in a short time, and that he must be on it, baggy pants or not!

A calm hostess frowned at the tent he stood in, ushered him into a partitioned booth and asked for the pants to be thrown over the top. A seamstress was rounded up, the alterations were made and the GI made his train. . . . This is typical of the local center which furnishes everything from wedding attendants to welcoming hostesses, who meet trains which bring in visiting relatives and housing committees who spend countless hours keeping tab on vacant apartments, houses and bedrooms.

The club keeps in contact with Red Cross emergency services, and helps soldiers and their families with traveling problems and reservations.

Hospital visitations rank as another service which is greatly appreciated by the boys in the post hospital at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

There are several hundred varieties of cultivated rice.

Council Aids In Organizing Recreation

The Big Spring USO council, which was formed in Big Spring when the soldier center first opened, is a cooperative body composed of ministers, service men, physicians and citizens who work with religious groups and representative church bodies in an effort to provide services to the men in the armed forces.

Its function is important and its effectiveness depends largely on local leadership.

The USO council which was appointed in Big Spring on February 10th includes Victor Mellinger, Sam Blum, Nick Brenner, Helen Duley, the Rev. George Julian, O. M. L. pastor of St. Thomas Catholic church, Mrs. W. E. McNallen, George W. Dabney, H. H. Rutherford, C. O. Nalley, Dr. Charles W. Deats, Gene Salazar, Ben LeFever, Manley Cook, J. H. Greens, Capt. Harry Wheeler, Lieut. James Patterson, W. S. Satterwhite, Mrs. James T. Brooks, Mrs. Ben Carter, the Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, R. N. Beacham and Mrs. Ollie Eubanks.

Miss Willis And Sgt. Kling Will Give Recital

Miss Elsie Willis and Sgt. Joe Kling will present a joint recital this afternoon at the USO club following the formal dedication ceremonies which are scheduled for 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Willis, pianist, will be featured in the first part of the concert, and will play "Impromptu in A Flat" by Schubert; "Pois Ecossais" by Chopin, "Dedication" by Liszt; "Harmonica Player" by Gulon, "Waiting Doll" by Poldine and "Cracoviense" by Paderewski.

Sgt. Joe Kling, tenor, will sing "Calm as the Night" by Bohm; "The Rosary" by Nevin; "Nocturne" by Curran; "Christ Went Up Into the Hills" by Hoegman; "Celestial Aids" by Verdi, and "La Donna Mobile" by Vargi.

USDA War Board Serves The Farmer Well, Without Cost

Acting as a buffer for farmers between the OPA, the Selective Service and WPR, is a little known, unpaid, and unsung organization, the USDA War Board, composed of persons in charge of government agricultural agencies.

The War Board with its multiple duties more often than not could be called the farmer's best friend, when it aids him in getting priority ratings for necessary material and equipment and assists him in making applications for gasoline for trucks and tractors.

The board also is called upon to make periodic statistical reports on the farm and labor situation to the State War Board; to assist in licensing meat dealers; to furnish Selective Service with information as to needed workers that should be kept on the farms. In addition, the organization keeps farmers informed on all war programs.

Also set up in its body is the Farm Machinery Rationing committee which acts on all applications for certificates for farm equipment.

The work of the War Board has grown since its inception a year ago and it continues to grow with the advent of new rationing programs and farm war measures.

In this county, the War Board is headed by L. H. Thomas, as chairman representing the AAA. The board, while it has little power except to make recommendations, aside from its farm machinery rationing committee, has tremendous responsibilities.

War board members, who receive no pay for this part of their services, meet each Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the local AAA office as they have done for the past year.

Members other than Thomas include O. F. Griffin, extension service; C. L. Barnes, production credit; O. E. Bryan, Stanton, REA; Dudley Mann, Soil Conservation; U. D. Kendrick, FSA; Ed F. Jay, Sweetwater, Farm Credit Association; and Dorothy Miller, AAA employee, who serves as secretary to the board.

WAAC Needing More Recruits

An urgent call to women of Big Spring to investigate the advantages of joining the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps for service with the army was issued today by Mrs. Shine Phillips, local civilian WAAC recruiter.

The corps needs many more than its present strength to fill requests for WAACs by commanders of army units, Mrs. Phillips pointed out.

"Our goal is 150,000 enrolled members by this summer," she said. "Requests already on hand in Washington for assignment of WAACs amounts to seven more than this. So you see that we need every woman whose patriotism and desire to speed our soldiers to victory has an opportunity here to devote her full time to the cause."

The army air force, continued Mrs. Phillips, alone has asked for thousands of WAACs so that men be released for flying duty.

Any woman who wants to do her part in this way may get full details at the U. S. Army WAAC recruiting office in the postoffice basement, said Mrs. Phillips.

War board members, who receive no pay for this part of their services, meet each Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the local AAA office as they have done for the past year.

Confesses Slaying Of A Year Ago

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 5 (AP) — A one-year hunt for the slayer of highway patrolman James Long, shot down as he raced to the aid of a screaming girl in a city park, was climaxed tonight by a police report that a 30-year-old ex-convict had made a signed confession.

Police Detective Jake Robertson said the man, picked up for questioning in a routine check-up of night spots, admitted shooting the officer last July 11 and dictated a lengthy statement after clippings of newspaper stories about Long's death were found in his pocket.

Two Negroes Sent Into Navy Service

Only two of the group of negroes sent to Lubbock last week for induction in answer to the June quota for colored registrants were accepted, Margaret McDonald, chief clerk of the Howard county selective service board, reported Saturday.

They were Jake Turner and Charlie Lee Merritt. Both were accepted for service in the U. S. Navy.

Local Meat Committee Appointed

A meat committee, charged with handling slaughter and butcher permits among other duties, is being set up in Howard county.

Acting on orders from state headquarters, the Howard County (farm) War Board Saturday selected four of a six-member board and paved the way for choice of the other two.

J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, accepted appointment as chairman of the committee. Others selected by the war board were Dr. O. E. Wolfe, to represent the city's health interest; Marvin Sewell, to represent the butchers and slaughterers; and M. M. Edwards, to represent livestock producers. The board asked W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of city schools, to nominate a woman to represent the housewives; and asked the OPA board to name one of its agents, preferably a woman, to represent it.

In addition to passing on applications for slaughterer's and butcher's permits, the meat committee also would be charged with cooperating with the food administration in combatting black markets, and with the additional responsibility of fostering an educational campaign.

Police Saturday afternoon picked up a man in the 400 block on Gregg street. He will, they said, be charged with driving while intoxicated.

Nearly two years ago, Ben Cole, who supervises the West Texas and Oklahoma properties of the Southern Ice Co., became ill while on a business trip here. After a long stay in a hospital, he recovered and had not lost a day from illness until Wednesday when he came back on another business trip. Now he is convalescing from a pneumonia attack at the Malons & Hogan Clinic. Cole was at one time manager of the company's plant here.

Police made a hurried call to the First Methodist church Friday afternoon in response to frantic calls that a baby was smothering in a locked car. Women at the church, however, had forced a window in the car and the baby appeared to be doing all right when officers arrived.

To Drill Offset To New Producer

Cosden Petroleum Corp. is moving in materials for a diagonal southeast offset to the W. S. Guthrie (and Cosden) No. 1 Pauline Allen, opener of Howard county's deepest Permian lime producing area.

The test is to be known as the Cosden No. 1 Chester L. Jones and is located 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section E-26, H&TC and will be drilled with rotary and cable tools.

On a 24-hour pumping test, following treatment with a full 2,000 gallons of acid, the Guthrie No. 1 Allen, C SE SE 27-30, LaVaca, returned 161.63 barrels of 27 gravity oil. It was rated at 160 barrels daily.

The pool opener is bottomed at 4,096 feet and was given an initial treatment of 1,000 gallons of acid in what most observers called the Tub section of the Clear Fork. Swab troubles and the clean up job was delayed. The double shot of acid followed.

Mrs. Howard's Trial Slated Monday

TULSA, June 5 (AP) — Relying on a self-defense plea, Mrs. Ella Howard, 44, Fort Worth divorcee, will go on trial in district court on a manslaughter charge here Monday for the March 26 killing of Mrs. T. Karl Simmons, Tulsa society woman.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lawrence recently received a letter from their daughter, Mrs. A. J. Cotton in Vermillion, S. D., saying that her husband would leave soon for training at officer's candidate school at the University of South Dakota. The message was hardly here when Mrs. Cotton wired that her husband had undergone an emergency appendectomy.

James N. Turner, son of A. K. Turner of Coshoma, was promoted this week to the rank of corporal. Cpl. Turner is stationed at the army air base in Great Falls, Montana, where he is stationed with Van's Vallants, a Flying Fortress group commanded by Lieut. Col. Elliott Vandevanter, Jr. Cpl. Turner, who has been in the army since July, 1942, is an airplane mechanic.

Capt. Harold B. Mills, veterinary corps, U.S. Army, was graduated from the Medical Field Service school, Carlisle Barracks, Pa., recently after six weeks training.

Labor Recruiting Work Successful

Charles C. Williams, representative of the United States Civil Service commission, reported good response Friday evening in winding up a two-day labor recruiting campaign at the U. S. Employment Service office.

He issued 29 certificates for wartime appointments, and all but half a dozen of these were for assignment to the Big Spring Bombardier School. The others were for West Coast duty.

In all, Williams had 63 interviews. He is to return here Friday for another day of interviews.

Big Money Bills Go Before Senate

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — A $24,850,000,000 naval appropriation bill—the largest in history—and an $820,000,000 farm appropriation measure containing a number of controversial features were approved today by the senate appropriations committee. Senate action is due early next week.

The naval bill contains more than $9,000,000,000 for new ships, and $8,500,000,000 for naval aviation, in addition to funds for pay, maintenance, subsistence, training and other necessities.

If the senate follows an already well established pattern on war fund appropriations, the naval bill is assured of speedy and possibly unopposed passage. The agriculture supply bill, however, will furnish plenty of room for debate.

Here and There

C. G. (Pay Day) Barnett, veteran railroader, is in the Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital recovering from an operation which he underwent Thursday. He was reported to be doing nicely and able to have company.

Detailed Photographs Paved Way For N. African Invasion

DENVER, June 5 (AP)—The army disclosed today that American airmen, operating from secret bases, paved the way for the North African invasion by making detailed photographic maps of strategic areas months before that historic event.

An expedition sought out and mapped tactical positions, likely invasion points, concentrations of resistance, topographical conditions and land marks in and about Oran, Algiers, Casablanca, Morocco, Tunis, Bizerte, Rabat and other vital sections.

The war department said through the public relations office at near-by Lowry Field, where 30 members of the expedition were trained, that the mission brought back the first complete photographs of the northern Africa campaign, and was one of the most significant examples of the importance of aerial photography in modern warfare.

Leading the expedition was Lt. Col. Paul T. Cullen of San Gabriel, Calif., former assistant director of the Lowry Field photographic school. Colonel Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, was navigation officer.

A complete roster of the personnel was not announced, but among members of the group was Lt. William M. Teague, 25, Weatherford, Texas.

"We were miles from our objectives," said Lt. Teague, describing conditions of the work. "Our flying fortresses had to be specially equipped with cameras and plenty of gas tanks. Each plane had a 3,900 gallon capacity. "It was impossible to carry guns of any sort on the bombers. Weight was so carefully allotted

Herman Appleton is gone. "Josh" got it somewhere in North Africa early in May, his parents were advised last week. Guess you could pay his memory no higher compliment than to say he was typical of thousands of others who gave all they had to build up a stepping stone to victory in North Africa. A fine man he was—and an even greater American.

Navigation Training Is Added At The Childress School
CHILDRESS, June 5 (AP)—Bombardier-navigators will be trained at the Childress Bombardier School in an expanded program, Lieut. Col. John W. White, commanding officer, announced today.

Inaugurated with a class of cadets which reported Thursday from pre-flight school, the combined bombing-navigation program will extend over an 18-week period, six weeks longer than the regular bombardier course.

After four and a half months of training, during which student bombardiers will receive the same bombing instruction as in the past, and a thorough study in navigation, the new officer will be able to take over the navigator's post in an emergency.

REA Gets Loan For Extension

The Cap Rock Electric Cooperative has been allotted a loan of $10,000 from Rural Electrification Administration for extension to 75 farms engaged in the production of livestock, dairy and poultry products.

O. E. Bryan, Stanton, superintendent of the co-op, announced Saturday upon receipt of word from Harry Slattery, national REA head.

Farmers receiving electricity under the allotment have qualified under war production board regulations, Bryan said. All have one or more prescribed electrical devices which would facilitate an increased production of food, and none has less than five animal units. If the place is removed more than the base distance from the line, then one additional animal unit has been provided for each additional 100 feet of line required to initiate the service.

Meet the Stars

With Luis Rosado

The will to fight the enemy is still predominant in Pierre Aumont's life—and that's exactly what he will do as soon as he is accepted by the Free French Fighting Forces. It's a job that he is looking forward to because, "today more than ever I know that freedom from oppression is the challenge that the enemy doesn't want decent people to know too much about." Pierre was—and still is—a soldier. He fought the Germans in his native France and for his valor during a battle he was awarded the Croix de Guerre which he treasures, but which will have added meaning to him when the invaders are out of his country with him manning one of the guns.

However, Pierre hasn't been a fighter all of his life. He is a very unassuming person whose acting desire began when he was a boy. At the age of sixteen he made his debut on the Paris stage and from then he achieved success after success. His greatest pleasure was doing French versions of American plays, which he says always enjoyed long runs at the theatres. His exact portrayals of American heroes on the stage caused his friend and fellow actor, Charles Boyer, to make him an offer to bring him to this country. As much as Aumont wanted to make pictures in Hollywood he had to decline the offer because he was under contract to the theatre. But within himself he promised that someday he would attempt it. He made that promise good, for today he is under contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios where he recently finished co-starring with Susan Peters in "Assignment in Brittany," and the critics have already acclaimed him.

Before he was discovered by the burlesque in New York was taken to see Katherine Cornell who was casting a play. There was a role of a Frenchman and his friend thought he was the actress wanted. Cornell knew of his work in Europe and she just accepted him for the role without an interview. Then Aumont proceeded to memorize the entire play, since he didn't speak English. He rehearsed the play day and night until he had it letter perfect. His friend had the right intuition although most of the time he didn't know what he was saying. The play was tried out in San Francisco where he made quite an impression, but it never got to Broadway. During his spare time he studied English, helping him to understand his lines more. Today there's hardly a trace of an accent in his conversation.

Aumont is now before the cameras in "A Thousand Shall Fall," which he hopes will be his last picture for the duration and many of the friends he has made during his short stay will miss his boyish appearance with the unruly blonde hair and the smiling blue eyes. However, there will be a prayer on all of his friends lips for his quick and safe return.

On the Sets

With Irwin Allen

I am not by nature a violent guy but I will positively slap the wrists of the next bald-headed baboon who wears a cigar between two sets of golden teeth and spouts to the world at large the alleged shortcomings of the motion picture industry. This "no talent" flat-top with the hardware store crockery and the cheap stogie has for too long dotted the American scene with idiotic idioms of insult directed at a great art. Curley and his ilk have lost no opportunities to scream bloody murder whenever something happened in the business that they didn't quite understand.

The Theatre knows nothing of an office called "Hays." Censorship is a thing entrusted to the sometime not-too-critical eyes of the local censors. And if the tin-badged boys in the blue coats decide that the stuff on stage is asbestos bait, they make with the shutters. Sometimes the stuff on stage is hot enough to set fire to anything but asbestos and yet the boys in blue do nothing but laugh and laugh and laugh 'cause they know a double entend when someone explains it to them. At any rate, not too long ago, Phillip Barry's production of "The Animal Kingdom" won itself the hot plaudits of the so-called gentlemen of the press and the back-of-the-hand whippers from jibbering old ladies in lace. The stuff was hot and the box office looked like the inside of the Fort Knox vaults. People are funny that way they love to be shocked.

"The Animal Kingdom" was a smash hit and the Brothers Warner, knowing a good deal when they see one, bought it and are now making it into a picture with Ann Sheridan, Dennis Morgan, Alexis Smith, Jane Wyman, Jack Carson and John Leder.

The only trouble with the buy is that the story had to be dunked in the Well of Purity before it could be filmed. Which meant that the story had to be practically re-written. The thing that Curley can't understand is why a studio buys a story that melts down to little more than a title after the censors get through with it. The thing that Curley doesn't understand is that the picture will probably wind up being ten times the hit that the show was. And the million dollar publicity campaign that the stage production boiled-itself-into, will assure just such a picture hit.

Funny bit in the picture which leans toward the blood-pressure side is the one in which Alexis Smith makes an entrance in a shimmering negligee. Dennis Morgan greets her with, "Haven't seen that since the night we were married." What really makes this funny is that the day the scene was shot, one of the set visitors was Craig Stevens. His eyebrows did a double-take when Morgan read the lines. Reason for Stevens' embarrassment is that he'll soon marry Alexis Smith in real life.

Incidentally, although the shooting on the picture is well on its way, the screenplay hasn't yet been finished. How come? Well, maybe you better ask Curley.

By Jerry Cahill

The bombing of Japan! All Americans want to see it happen—and they CAN see it happen, at least in make-believe, in the RKO-Radio production of "Bombardier."

Much of the movie was made, with the close cooperation of the U. S. Army Air Corps, at the school for bombardiers at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

It is at Albuquerque that two rival fliers, as played by Pat O'Brien and Randolph Scott, are in competition. The former is an advocate of high-level precision bombing, of the type that has proved so highly successful in the real aerial warfare over Europe. The latter is a devotee of dive bombing. Of course their differences are reconciled in the service, and both have important parts to play, and both play them ably, in the hectic, high-tension action of the climax.

The climax arrives in an attack upon a Japanese aircraft plant. Scott leads the attack, to light the way, with flare and fire, for the main assault by the precision bombers. But Scott is downed and captured. One by one the savage Japs bayonet his men in the vain attempt to force him to reveal the base of the attacking planes yet to come. In a last desperate break he eludes his captors, and, in a flaming fuel truck in a mad, circling, careening dash about the Japanese factory, he provides the lighted target he had been assigned to establish.

He, himself, is in the target as the bombs begin to fall. Pulse-stirring action is the principal stock-in-trade of "Bombardier," but it is not without the proper moments of relief in comedy and romance. Anne Shirley has the leading feminine role. A handsome newcomer, Walter Reed, appears opposite her, and other able players present are Eddie Albert, Robert Ryan, Barton MacLane, and John Miljan.

The radio fans of the Great Gildersleeve will find film fare to their liking in "Gildersleeve's Bad Day." This is the newest of RKO's comedies featuring the airlines performer, Harold Peary, in his familiar characterization. Gildersleeve's troubles begin in the film story when he is called for duty in a case of bank robbery, and before the trouble's have ended, Gildersleeve has had to do a bit of robbery himself. Nancy Gates, Jane Darwell, and Charles Art share his adventures and misadventures.

Speaking of Glamour

By Frances Scully

Never before have so many feminine hands dug into that old sewing basket with the determined thought in mind on how to make last year's dress look new, and spruce up that last season's bonnet. Some women have always had a knack on making over clothes, but that idea has now spread universally, and even our Hollywood stars are right in there trying out their ingenuity, and it's surprising how attractive and practical the results of their labors have proven. We thought that maybe a few of their ideas might be workable in your wardrobe, so here are some helpful hints on restyling your wardrobe direct from film-land's stars.

TERESA WRIGHT'S CAMOUFLAGE: A convincing miss, Teresa Wright, who uses crocheted camouflage on her suits. Camouflage, you know is making something look like what it isn't, and that's what Teresa did to her last year's suit. The grey flannel was a perfect background for a little brightening up. Teresa crocheted dark green yarn in a leaf pattern and appliqued this on the jacket as a shoulder yoke with narrow bands of the same crocheted emphasizing the slot pockets.

JOAN CRAWFORD'S HINT: Joan Crawford took a three-year-old dressy black suit and trimmed it from the shoulder to waistline both front and back with enormous gold feathers made of bugle beads. She wore it to a swanky flickerville afternoon party and everyone wanted to know if she had bought the new creation. Joan surprised them all by stating that the beads came from an old evening dress, and she dreamed up the idea herself.

GLORIA JEAN'S TIP TO SUB DEBS: As a fashion tip to sub-debs, Universal's Gloria Jean offers a few suggestions as to how to bring last year's straw hats right up to date. Gloria has a bright Kelly green straw having a wide brim which she made over merely by edging the brim with a deep cuff of peasant embroidery. A white straw was made new by turning the brim off the face and adding a band of white raffia fringe. And a white pique sailor was converted by trimming it all over with stripes of brown rick-rack.

DEANNA'S COSTUME IDEA: Deanna Durbin's hint involves the transformation of a last year's dinner gown into a brand new daytime Spring costume. Deanna's dress was made of a lovely print of white feathers on a soft blue background and had a long slim skirt draped at the front. She cut off the skirt to a short street length and used the left over material for a matching high crowned draped turban which was caught at the front with a white feather shaped plastic pin.

BETTY RHODES APPLIQUES: Betty Rhodes now appearing in Paramount's "Salute to Three" has a good sound suggestion for brightening up last year's basic black dress. She has appliqued on her black a huge spray of colorful Spring flowers on the skirt of her last season's last black dress and the effect makes one think of a Spring flower garden.

GRACIE'S TRICK: Gracie Allen had a white pique playdress that she particularly liked, but a tiny hole was burned smack dab in the front of the skirt, so she ingeniously cut out large printed flowers from another castoff dress and quilted several of them across the play dress skirt. Who says Gracie's a zany dame?

Inside Hollywood

With Edith Gwynn

Some studios are already starting to cooperate on the OWI campaign for September, which will be on Women at War, said co-operation to take the form of slanting most of the publicity along that line. Paramount has already pushed ahead its release date on "So Proudly We Hail," dealing as it does with the nurses on Bataan, because of the drive. . . . MGM has just signed beauty-contest winner Erin O'Kelly to a contract. Sounds as if she should be in the line-up with Virginia O'Brien and Helen O'Hara. . . .

The brother of what film star has named his kids North and South? . . . Fox had to borrow Albert Oliver from Lockheed for three days' work as a musical director in "Claudia." . . . Ruth Brady, well known in London and now rehearsing the lead in "Ethin" at the Beaux Arts theatre downtown, is coming the agents out of her hair. . . . Originally Columbia wasn't going to use Al Jolson in that film version of Al's life—because he wasn't "the type"! But we hear they've changed their minds. . . . That romance of Phyllis Brooks' has led. Because she found out he was more of a gremlin than the ones he was writing about. . . . You should have heard Boris Karloff remembering his nursery rhymes and quoting Yesterday George Sanders did one of those Command Performances. Fifteen minutes on the air in a playlet that called for five characters. And George played the whole bunch himself! . . . Sylvia Lamarr, (which is the right name of Hedy's stand-in), has the softest job in Hollywood this week. Because all Hedy's scenes for the next few days take place in a big, downy bed. . . . Which reminds us, "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," the Ludwig Bemmel manna tome, will be a book-of-the-month. And it will deflate a lot of supposedly "best people." . . . That song, "The Sun Will Shine Again," for which Margaret Crager (Andre Daven's secretary) did both words and music, will be used in "The Night Is Ending." Besides which the Santa Ana Band will introduce it in its show and Benny Goodman will give it an air debut. . . . Oops! When they alighted from their boat at Balboa the other night, both Humphrey and Mayo Bogart slipped on the dock and fell into the water!

There's yet another topper to the sad tale of the "well known agent," viz. His cutie-pie just informed him that she's about to get married—to somebody else, of course. Which left him very much out in the cold. So he made an attempt to reconcile with his wife, ending his plea with: "Please let me come back home—I simply can't find an apartment. I have no place to live." His wife was informed that she had been out looking around; had found him a nice bachelor apartment and forthwith handed him the key to it! . . . Virginia Bruce was telling us that she helped bring a colt into the world a few weeks ago. And it's now a fine young filly, playing around the grounds of her house with her kids. . . . That new pink tourmaline ring on Martha Kemp's finger was put there by Spencer Martin. . . . Talk about the answer to an actor's prayer! Yesterday George Sanders did one of those Command Performances. Fifteen minutes on the air in a playlet that called for five characters. And George played the whole bunch himself! . . . Sylvia Lamarr, (which is the right name of Hedy's stand-in), has the softest job in Hollywood this week. Because all Hedy's scenes for the next few days take place in a big, downy bed. . . . Which reminds us, "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," the Ludwig Bemmel manna tome, will be a book-of-the-month. And it will deflate a lot of supposedly "best people." . . . That song, "The Sun Will Shine Again," for which Margaret Crager (Andre Daven's secretary) did both words and music, will be used in "The Night Is Ending." Besides which the Santa Ana Band will introduce it in its show and Benny Goodman will give it an air debut. . . . Oops! When they alighted from their boat at Balboa the other night, both Humphrey and Mayo Bogart slipped on the dock and fell into the water!

Red Skelton was saying that while they were in N. Y. he and Willie Mahoney were two men with a purpose. They were determined to find: The first guy who walked up to someone and said, "Hey, Buddy—how do you stand in the draft?"; the fellow who mixes the cole slaw for those dollar dinners; the guy who puts the pins in men's shirts at the laundries; and the one who puts the rose-petals in fibrer-bowls. But especially the fellow who chooses the pictures that are hung in hotel bedrooms! As for us, we're looking for the man who puts those little gold bands on canary birds' legs! How about you?

Veronica Lake quite ill at her home. And they're shooting around her. But she's still denying to her bosses that she is going to have a child. . . . John Decker still critically ill after three transfusions and with 26 tubes in him. He's occupying the same room at the hospital as did his great pal, John Barrymore. He was scarcely conscious when an actor (who had recently commissioned him to do a portrait) called and indignantly demanded to know when it was going to be finished! . . . Ruth Hussey, understandably a-twitter, because Lieut. Bob Longnecker just long-distance phoned to say he'd be stationed here beginning next week. . . . Joe E. Brown very upset to read he'd been using Bob Hope's material at the Camps. Says it's not so. . . . Arthur Farnsworth taking off to join Bette Davis in the east any minute. Which should squash a lot of rumors. . . . Jean Arthur and Frank Ross, who seldom do, Ciro'ing three nights in a row together. . . . Mike Curtiz wanted a lot more light on his set the other day. He kept yelling, "What's the matter with you—can't you see I need more—much more elimination!?"

Only Eight Texas Colleges Planning Football Season

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

It's a far cry from June to September as far as college football is concerned—especially in wartime.

Meaning, you can't tell much about it at this time but there is one conclusion easily reached: the fans of Texas are going to have to do some fall traveling if they see anything like the quota of games they have viewed in the past.

In 1941 there were 55 senior college football teams in this state. Last fall there were 19. A survey just completed indicates not more than eight will start the campaign next season.

This survey consisted of questionnaires to all college presidents—both senior and junior, with even prep schools included. Not all colleges answered and in some instances replies did not come from the presidents but from other sources.

Some of the colleges that plan football are not certain it can be done. Texas Mines, for instance, says: "A regular schedule planned but its consummation depends on the emergency." Texas Tech comments: "Provided the armed forces do not take the remainder of our reserves. Although the freshmen have been made eligible, the graduates of high schools appear to be more interested in joining the armed forces than in entering colleges and universities."

While not all the junior colleges answered the questionnaire, the 20 that did showed not a single one planned football next fall. It is considered virtually certain that none of the others will have teams.

Navy Food Helps Him Hang Up New Discus Record

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Giving all the credit to the "food you get to eat in the Navy," Ensign Hugh S. Cannon today shattered the world's discus record with a toss of 174 feet 1-8 inches in the Metropolitan AAU track and field championships.

Performing in front of only a few judges and his fellow competitors in a lot outside the Randall Island stadium, the 29-year-old former Brigham Young athlete got off the toss that wiped out the 174 foot 2-1/2 inch record set by Willie Schroeder of Germany in 1934.

The recognized American record, which had not yet won approval as the world standard, is 174 feet 3-4 inches by Archie Harris of Indiana, at Palo Alto, Calif., in 1941. Although Cannon's effort surpasses the listed world mark, Ernst Lampert of Germany has sought recognition for a throw of 175 feet, 5-1/2 inches, made last year.

Sets Record In Winning Belmont

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Count Fleet won the Belmont Stakes and the triple crown today, but you'll never prove it by the other two horses in the race—they were practically out of sight when it happened.

Topping off his Kentucky Derby and Preakness romps, Mrs. John D. Hertz's brown lightning bolt just waited to a 30-length win this time in the 7th running of Belmont's ancient classic for three year olds to become the sixth triple crown winner.

One of these was his time of 2:28 1-8 for the mile and a half gallop, which wiped out War Admiral's record of 2:28 3-8 for the Belmont Stakes although falling three-fifths of a second short of the track and North American mark Boling Broke set for the distance last fall.

The other standard concerned the amount bet on one horse in one race in New York state. Today a comparatively scanty turnout of 19,190 cash customers sent $249,516 into the mutuels on him, thereby smashing the previous high of $196,192 tossed into the iron men on the Count in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica in April.

Today's betting resulted in a "minus pool" on the race and the track had to shell out $15,912.02 from its own pocket in order to pay off the winners at the legal minimum of $2.10 for $2.

The Count was to have been one of the turf's two glamor boys to see action in this "getaway day" program of Belmont's spring meetings, but he finally had to take care of the honors alone. Whirlaway was to have made his 1943 debut in the Henry of Navarre handicap on the card, but he came up with a tummy-ache early today and was scratched.

Mrs. T. D. Grimes' With Regards won this one at $14 for $2, and in the third part of the triple-header program, the national steeplechase for two-year-olds, Henry Lustig's $2,300 yearling bargain, Mrs. Ames, squeaked through to a victory worth $12,550.

With today's triumph the Count picked up a paycheck of $85,340, thereby boosting his bank roll to $250,900. Naturally, neither Fairyman Hurst, who grabbed the $5,000 second money in the Belmont, nor Deseronto, who made $2,500 for finishing third, knew anything about all this at the finish of the race, because they were too far away.

Browns Edge Yanks 4-3 In Ten Innings

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns staged their third straight nip and tuck battle today but this time the Browns came out on top, taking a 3 to 2 decision in 10 innings.

The American league champions were charged with four errors, which helped some to explain their downfall, but the chief reason was the pitching of Johnny Niggeling, veteran knuckle-ball hurler. He limited the Yanks to five hits and struck out eight to run his season strikeouts to 33.

Charley Keller's eighth homer of the year tied the game in the ninth but the visitors got a reprieve in the first of the tenth when, with one down, Nick Etten muffed up Milt Byrnes' bouncer. A wild pitch by Charley Wenzloff put Byrnes on second from where he tallied when Chet Laabs slashed a single through short for his third hit of the game.

The Yanks got one man on in their half of the tenth but Niggeling rose to the occasion and fanned two pinch hitters—Bud Metheny and Bill Dickey. An error by Joe Gordon also figured in the Browns' first two runs in the fifth. Byrnes' single scored Rick Ferrell with one of them and Laabs' deep fly accounted for the other.

A wild pitch set the stage for the Yanks fifth inning run. Bill Johnson got it lit way to second on the pitch, the fourth ball thrown by Niggeling, and romped home on Wenzloff's single.

SENS WIN.

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Washington Senators bunched eight hits to defeat Detroit 6 to 3 today and regain second place in the American league race. The Senators gained a full game on the league-leading New York Yankees, who lost to St. Louis.

WHITE SOX, 4-1

BOSTON, June 5 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox made it three in a row today, with a 4 to 1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Lefty Thorny Lee held the home team to six hits, with Boston's only run Tony Lupien's homer in the ninth.

A'S DEFEAT INDIANS

PHILADELPHIA, June 5 (AP)—Elmer Valo's seventh inning homer gave the Athletics a 6 to 5 victory over Cleveland today. The Indians outbit the A's, 12 to 7, Orrie Arntzen had enough in the pinches to win out.

Wire Netting Not Available For Tennis Courts

Possibility of establishing tennis courts within the city limits appeared Saturday to be an extremely thin one. Thorough investigations disclosed little likelihood of securing netting for back stops, and without this material there appeared little point in going ahead with the remainder of the program.

Sewell Says He Can Take 20 Games

PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—Truett Banks Sewell—more popularly known as "Rip"—is keeping stride with the major league's leading pitchers and confidently predicting he'll be a 20-game winner with "the hottest infield in the National League."

The 35-year-old, hard-working Pittsburgh veteran has garnered six victories, as against one defeat, to date, and offers one of the main hopes for the rampant Buccos to stay in the first division—and perhaps become a pennant contender.

The Buccos, who are finally letting Frankie Frisch sleep nights, won 10 of the first 12 games of their current home stand.

"It's our infield that's making the difference," said Rip today in explanation of his twirling feats. "Last year, and in other years, I think we were guilty of more errors than any club in either league. But not now. We've got a dandy infield—the hottest in the league—and they're pulling us pitchers out of plenty of tight spots."

Shortstop Huck Geary and second baseman Pete Coscarart, Sewell thought, could be credited with improving the infield, and he commented, "all the double plays they're pulling really makes a pitcher feel good." He expressed belief the Buccos were away ahead of last year in double-play killings—and he was right. The Buccos have to their credit already. Last year they tied for last place in this department.

"Shortstop was our big weak spot last year," continued Rip. "Coscarart was out of position there but at second he's great. And he and Huck work swell together. Huck is a fine fielder—gets in front of balls nicely—and boy, what an arm!" he added.

"With that support, I believe I'll win 20 games. And I won't lose any 17 and 18 games like I did the past two years."

Nine teams, two less than participated in the first phase, will be lined up for the second half play of the Big Spring Bombarrier Softball league which starts June 14.

The 812th school squadron will enter two teams, whereas it is in reality the combination of four teams. Others to be entered are the 358th headquarters, first half winners, the 78th squadron, runner-up, the 1047th Guard, the 2052nd Ordnance, the Mess Company, the Medical Department, and the 359th (Colored) aviation squadron.

In the first half, Smith (365) had the best pitching record with nine wins and no losses while Bredemeyer of the Group II Reds struck out 45 in 40 innings to lead in that department. He also was stingiest with walks, giving up only 15. When it came to slugging, the 365th and the Group I Reds tied with 10 each in home runs while the same Reds had five triples.

The 362th, however, slapped out 21 doubles. But it was extra base or nothing for the Reds, for this team had 46 men go down swinging in eight games. They also got 42 walks to lead the loop, but the 359th had 36 in five games for a better game average. The 365th scored 61 runs in nine games.

Batting champion, despite a tail-end season slump was Cpl. John Millard (365), who got 15 for 23, or a .652 average. This was well ahead of Lee (Gr. I Blues) with .400.

Other top hitting averages were: Ruffolo (Gr. I Blues) .391, Barclay (Gr. I Blues) .385; Lazarus (365)

.385; Wroble (1047th) .367; Durban (365) .345; Mallico (1047th) .323; Smith (365) .318; Hamilton (1047th) .304.

The 365th led in team batting with .317, far and away the best record in this department. Next best was .273 by the Group I Blues, followed by the 78th's .264 and the 1047th's .263. Records ranged down to .189 for the Mess Company, which, incidentally was not on the bottom in league standings.

Greatest slugger was Sgt. Lee (Gr. I Reds) with three homers. Sgt. Barclay of the same team had three triples to lead this corner, while Cpl. Millard and S/Sgt. Smeltzer, both of the 365th, tied with four doubles each. Sgt. Weinstein (365th) stirred up a wind with seven strikeouts while Cpl. Moore (1047th) worked pitchers for good pitches and came up with 10 walks. Cpl. Millard's 13 runs led this department.

Bums Knocked Out Of First Place In Losing To Chicubs

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers dropped out of undisputed possession of the National league lead for the first time since April 24 today, surrendering it to the St. Louis Cardinals when they lost to the Chicago Cubs 3 to 2 while the world champions were noosing out the Phillies.

Lee Durocher used four hurlers in an effort to pull the game out of the fire after the Cubs had taken a two-run lead off Kirby Higbe in the fourth. They managed to drive Ray Prim from the mound in the eighth with a one-run rally but Henry Wyse promptly checked the threat.

Stan Hack's triple and passes to Ed Stanky and Phil Cavarretta loaded the bases for the Cubs in the fourth. Hack scored on a force play and an infield hit by Dominic Dilesandro brought Cavarretta home with the other.

In the fifth the Dodgers scored a run on singles by Dee Moore and Dixie Walker and a wild throw to Cyle Bullock right back with one of their own in the seventh. Ed Head was the victim of this tally as he passed Prim, who moved up on Hack's sacrifice and an error by Moore. The Chicago pitcher scored on Cavarretta's single.

Singles by Arky Vaughan, Dolph Camilli and Billy Herman gave the Dodgers their second run in the eighth.

350TH FOR HUBBELL PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—Carl Hubbell hurled one-hit ball—a seventh-inning homer by Elbie Fletcher—as he chalked up the 350th win of his career in pitching the New York Giants to a 5 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

BRAVES BEAT CINCY CINCINNATI, June 5 (AP)—An error by Lonnie Frey on a double play ball in the ninth started the Boston Braves to a two-run rally and a victory over the Cincinnati Reds today, 7 to 5. Butch Nieman tripled the runs in.

MUSIAL HITS AGAIN ST. LOUIS, June 5 (AP)—Stan Musial's single in the sixth inning ran his hitting streak to 22 consecutive games and drove in the winning tally in the St. Louis Cardinals' 1 to 0 victory over Philadelphia today in a game that was called after 7 1-2 innings.

WHAT'S THE LOW-DOWN ON SLOW-DOWN DRIVING?

As a means of conserving vital rubber supplies, there is no question about the wisdom of moves to slow down the country's automobiles. Speed is one of the worst enemies of tires, and reducing the average driving speed can greatly extend tire life.

At the same time, this makes it necessary for the car owner to look into the effect of changed driving habits on the rest of his car.

With cars running at much lower speeds, spark plugs may be affected. Soft carbon, that normally might be burned off in bursts of speed, may gather to foul plugs and waste gasoline.

When you remember that one bad plug can cut gas mileage as much as 10%, you see what the total effect of many other such "little" things can be.

The fact is that slow-down driving may require an entirely different kind of servicing program. It is a good thing to talk to an expert on the subject and readjust peacetime habits and ideas to the new needs imposed by wartime. Come in today and talk it over.

Miss Reed, Lieut. Schwarzenbach Marry At Presbyterian Church

Miss Marguerite Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Reed, and Lieut. Howard Schwarzenbach of Fort Sam Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Schwarzenbach, were married Saturday evening, 9 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, by the Rev. R. J. Snell, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Single ring wedding vows were repeated before an altar decorated with salmon pink gladioli and fern. Cathedral tapers in slanting candelabra flanked the altar and lined the chancel rail.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Travis Reed, wore an ice blue crepe street length dress with a white hat made of fresh flowers. Her other accessories were white, and she carried a white prayer book topped with a corsage of white gardenias. Showers of white satin ribbon intermingled with stephanotis fell from the arrangement.

Mrs. Schwarzenbach's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. William Lane Edwards, who wore a white pique dress with hat of pink fresh flowers. Other accessories were pink and her shoulder corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Morris Patterson, who lighted tapers, wore a pink ensemble with blue accessories and her flowers were blue carnations arranged into a shoulder corsage.

The bridegroom was attended by Morris Patterson. As pre-nuptial music, De Alva McAllister sang "Because" and "Ave Maria," accompanied by Mrs. Pat Kenney, who played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, who has been teaching at a local school, was graduated from the Big Spring high school and attended Texas Tech, Lubbock, where she was a member of the DFD social club. She was graduated from North Texas State Teacher's College in Denton, and was a member of the Kappa Theta Pi.

Lieut. Schwarzenbach, who was graduated from New Mexico A. & M., received his degree in veterinary medicine at Texas A. & M. College.

Following the wedding the couple left for Fort Sam Houston where they will be at home.

Mrs. James Edwards and Mrs. Frank McClesky honored Mrs. Howard Schwarzenbach, the former Marguerite Reed, with a cake party in the N. W. McClesky home Friday afternoon, and hours were from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock.

Notes

MARY WHELAN
 There are many people who claim they don't read the funny papers and can't understand people who do. But we come under the head of daily readers who get so intrigued that we wouldn't miss an issue any more than we'd try to do without our morning coffee.

Take 'Lil Abner for instance. Right now we are consumed with curiosity to find out what "One Fault" one fault is and speculate all the time on how it will turn out. Jack and Cindy have kept us up in the air for months or maybe it is years over whether or not they will or won't get married and whether Joy is still alive or not. The Superman tales we follow avidly mostly because each new cartoon gets just a little more super than the one before. Major Hoople is always good for a couple of laughs along with his comrades in arms. We follow them all, even the impossible ones, and snort and chuckle over the antics of the pen and paper characters. We know them better than we do a lot of our friends for they always do the obvious. Maybe it is a sign of an infantile sense of humor to get such a kick out of the comic sheets but we rest our case bravely on the fact that we don't stand alone. There are millions of us and we all laugh at the same things.

The following day reveille will sound at 7 a. m. with breakfast half an hour later. At 9 a. m. there will be an hour for advancement, followed by two hours of swimming at the municipal swimming pool, which has been reserved for the boys at that period June 14 with retreat at 6 p. m. program highlights include marksmanship instruction, handcraft, night softball camp tournament, etc. Highlights will be a hike to the Big Spring Bombardier School the afternoon of June 16, and one to the Canyon Pasture south of the Twin Sister mountains in the Morgan range. The final campfire program will feature Order of the Arrow induction rites. The camp breaks after lunch on June 18. Mess hall facilities of the Baptist young people's encampment will be used by the scouts, and camping will be done in that vicinity. Daily inspections will be held, said Norris.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT

The cause of death, nor was Roosevelt's assignment at the time of death immediately available. The department said he had been on duty in Alaska for several months. Army officers said the fact that advices from Alaska used the word "died" indicated that death was from natural causes; the words "killed in action" are used to describe death under fire. He added that he was not assigned to any particular branch of the service and that the purpose of his trip to Alaska was not on record here. He had been there several months, it was said. (In New York, Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt was overcome when informed of her husband's death. She is the former Belle Willard, daughter of Joseph Willard, former ambassador to Spain.) Roosevelt served in the British army before the United States entered this war, repeating his actions in the first World war, when he served with the British, then transferred to the U. S. army when the United States became involved. He was the only one of four sons of the former president who escaped wounds in the first World war. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was wounded twice, another son, Archibald, was wounded once, and a third, Quentin, was killed in aerial action.

L. B. Wheat, son of J. B. Wheat, Coahoma, has been selected for special training at the U. S. Naval Training station, Great Lakes, Ill., as a torpedoman. He will receive 18 weeks instruction and upon completion of his course, will be eligible for promotion to a third class petty officer rating.

Time To Stop 11th-Hour Rescues

This business of being repeatedly rescued at the eleventh hour and fifty-ninth minute from the disasters of a major strike isn't good enough. The American people are beginning to feel like the heroine in the play who worried of being carried down the fireman's ladder just before the house collapsed. The public is plainly glad that this or that group of workers have heeded a presidential demand to return to work, but is inclined to ask, "How many times have we got to go through this?"

It is time the United States had a clear-cut policy on wartime strikes. So far the President by leaping from emergency to emergency has staved off any long large-scale stoppage. But aside from the damage done by tension and bitterness, there has been loss of production, not small in the coal mines and estimated at $18,000,000 in the rubber walkout. If Mr. Roosevelt can't find something better than these hair-raising last-minute rescues, Congress should attempt to bring some order into a chaotic and explosive labor situation.

Many people believe strikes should simply be outlawed. Action in that direction is certainly coming closer. Union leaders and members might give it more go back to work.

Something needs to be done to jar workers out of the habit of striking. They may feel they haven't any other way of calling attention to their case or getting action. But when men strike because one of their number hasn't bought enough war bonds or because it is the attitude which has prevented more effective action against inflation. And the rise in living costs is the fire which puts steam behind workers' demands. Congress particularly has been lax in failing to draw off surplus buying power by higher taxes and has undermined price controls. It could remove much of the pressure for strikes by action to curb inflation.

When a showdown comes workers seem to realize that the war comes ahead of wages. They—and every other section of the community—should look a bit further ahead and without coming to the brink of action that endangers the national effort, recognize that this is war.

But just passing a law will not solve the fundamental trouble—which is a failure to feel the necessity for sacrificing to win the war. This affects the public and Congress as well as labor and the profiteering and gas chiseling in black markets and in just plain apathy as well as in strikes. The bombs are not falling on American cities, the enemy isn't visible at the border.

This attitude bears very directly

Capital Comment Jones Credited With Building Up Rubber

GEORGE STIMPSON
Herald Washington Correspondent

"The truth is," says Congressman Wright Patman, "that Jesse Jones piled up the largest stockpile of rubber ever before in history known, 700,000 tons during the 18 months preceding Pearl Harbor; and had it not been for the vision and foresight of Mr. Jones we would have been caught with insufficient rubber to carry on this war."

A bunch of Ovalde men wired Congressman O. C. Fisher, of San Angelo, saying they understood the local hatchery was discontinuing the propagation of bass and going in exclusively for perch, catfish and other non-game varieties; thought change would be unwise, because West Texas streams now well stocked with bass and should be kept so; among those signing the telegram: Jack Richardson, Fred Watkins, O. W. Mogford, David R. White, J. W. White, Sanders White Jr., Ross Doughty Jr., Claude Allen, Joe Robinson, R. M. Swift, R. D. Perkins and L. M. Smyth Jr., all from Jack Garner's home town.

Electrical Workers; in July 1940, became assistant secretary of labor and still has the job; those who know about such things say he is a good man.

E. L. Cline, Route 2, Kilgore, asked Congressman Lindsey Beckworth, of Gladewater, how about using school bus for carrying people to and from church; "The use of school buses has been restricted by our policy statement," Brig. Gen. C. W. Young, deputy O'D' director, advised Lindsey. "You will notice that item . . . makes provision for transporting people to and from church for the regular weekly service if no other transportation service is available. Thus, I believe it would be proper for you to indicate to Mr. Cline that the regulations of the Office of Defense Transportation will not prohibit supplying transportation service to church by means of school buses."

Congressman Joseph J. Mansfield, of Columbus, says: "It's no exaggeration to say sulfur is one of absolute essentials in the manufacture of explosives, in the production of steel, in the manufacture of rubber and in the refining of oil; in peacetime it is necessary in practically all branches of industry and can therefore claim its high place in our great industrial structure"; United States produces more sulfur than any other country in the world and practically all of it comes from the coastal regions of Louisiana and Texas; all the sulfur produced in Texas comes from mines in 9th Congressional district, represented by Mansfield, where one mine produces 60 percent of the total American sulfur output: "The island of Sicily," Mansfield asserts is the second largest producer of sulfur; if it falls into hands of new enemies likely, the effect upon the war-mak-

Fish and Wildlife Service officials tell Congressman Fisher they're not discontinuing propagation of bass; just put out a lot of fingerlings, but putting more emphasis on propagation of perch and catfish for two reasons; First, bass need perch for food—big fish eat little ones, and war has increased demand for food fishes; now supplying cats and perch, which are good fishes, to stock ranch and farm ponds, including victory ponds.

HIGHWAY TO HER HEART

Chapter 24
All at once, Penny felt almost shy with Powell. The general manager of Spot News Pictures, Incorporated, hadn't been displeased by the girl's willingness as she and Cleve Rockwell had. He was still the same Powell, immaculate as ever, charming as ever—when he wanted to be—and, as always, so definitely sure of himself.

Penny knew, without being told, that his first glimpse of her had been a shock. She was brown as an Indian; thinner, stronger, scarcely resembling the girl he had known but a short week before. She hadn't used makeup, she remembered suddenly, for days. She hadn't had time to fuss with her hair. She was torn and soiled, and bumpy with mosquito bites. Her boots were scuffed. Her nose peeped from sunburn.

Penny laughed. "How do I look, Powell?"

She hoped she'd always remember Powell Ward's expression—it was so blank and unbelieving, as though he actually half-suspected that this couldn't be Penny at all. Then he stepped forward and took her in his arms.

"Poor little Penny," he said, "what have they done to you? My heavens, Penny! All you've been through. Sure you're all right, dear?"

He drew her very close then, and she couldn't have answered if she'd wanted to.

Cleve said, swinging hurriedly about, "I'll have to go down and see about the canoe."

Presently Powell Ward released Penny. "Thank God, you're safe. That means everything to me. I was getting so worried I couldn't sleep, couldn't think. I had to start out after you."

"We were alright," Penny said, not quite truthfully.

"Cleve should have known better," Powell continued. "I blame him. He should have brought you right back that morning you slipped away."

"He couldn't. I refused."

"Oh, couldn't he? If I'd been there," declared Powell grimly, "I'd have taken you out of that canoe forcibly and carried you back to Baird's Stopping Place."

Powell meant what he said, but Penny was perversely amused, just the same.

"Why, Powell—regular caveman stuff. I'm surprised." Then: "Cleve did try to stop me. You'll have to be fair about this, darling. I was a blazling little rebel that morning. I was simply bound to have my own way."

"You remember I warned you what it would mean?"

"Yes, of course."

"I don't want to blot over the fact that everything turned out just about as I expected—even worse, as a matter of fact. I don't want to be unkind, Penny. I'm too happy to know you're safe."

"That's nice if you, Powell."

He put an arm about her and led her over to a fallen log. He drew her down beside him tenderly.

"I might have lost you," he said. "It could easily have happened. Neither you nor Cleve is a match for this wilderness. The odds were all against you."

Penny nodded. "It's pitiless, she said. "But I like it. I'm glad I set out."

Her fiance was amazed. "Why—why, Penny. Even Cleve admitted it was a mistake. You missed Bill, endured every hardship, experienced misfortune after misfortune, and what was gained in the end?" He paused, then added emphatically, "Absolutely nothing."

Penny said, "Oh, I wouldn't say that." She smiled. "That's not quite true, Powell."

"But it is, Penny."

"No, answered Penny, feeling just a little triumphant, you're wrong there. We missed Bill, I'll admit. Cleve got shot and—and a

Just what departments, agencies, and bureaus have their own investigating branches is hard to uncover. Most of them deny that their work is any more than an inquiry into the fitness of individuals for their jobs to which they are assigned. Civil Service makes no bones about the fact that it investigates applicants thoroughly. The Treasury department also makes no effort to hide its investigations. Employees in the White House, the Bureau of Standards, the Bureau of Engraving, the FBI, Secret Service, the Capital Police, and several other agencies are given such a thorough going-over that there is phony could slip into jobs there.

These and several other agencies where information of military value is handled are perfectly justified in assembling thorough dossiers on every person who works for them. But why several Congressional committees and such agencies as the Public Buildings Administration have to blanket investigations that already have been made is a mystery.

PBA, for example, is charged with the safety of all government buildings. Thus it feels called upon to require each agency to certify that all employees are loyal tillers in Uncle Sam's vineyard. Otherwise, they

Wire-Tapping Worse Than Ever In Washington

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — There is no such thing as a "private life" for a Washington government worker any more.

A co-worker, who probably is closer to government employees than any one else in the Capital, told me there now are more than 20 investigating agencies prying into the private lives and pasts of almost every one working for Uncle Sam.

A government official, and I can't mention even the agency, tells me that there is more wire-tapping in Washington today than there was in the whole United States a year or so ago.

The FBI and Secret Service do only a small percentage of the prying into the lives of federal employees. They gather fingerprints (all of which go into the vast BI files), make superficial queries into past activities, etc. But it is the other investigating agencies that do the real snooping into minor details.

have to be investigated. This duplication of investigations is getting to be one of Washington's big jokes. One federal worker (serving his twelfth year with Uncle Sam) told me the other day that he has been investigated by three separate agencies in the last four months.

When one realizes that the number of federal workers, over all, now is in the neighborhood of 3,000,000, the magnitude of the parent. Just why a single agency hasn't been set up to clear these federal workers as they come into their jobs and possibly keep an eye on them later, is a question that even Rep. Robert Ramspeck, who knows more about federal employment than almost any one else in Washington, hasn't answered.

Brenda Would Like Different Type Job

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Today I saw a pretty brunette girl tearing herself to pieces emotionally for the better part of a morning, after which she pronounced herself a "corny actress" and wished she knew another way of working.

Her name is Brenda Marshall. She is working in a piece called "The Night Is Ending." She plays a French girl named Yvonne, a nurse working in the "underground" with a French surgeon played by George Sanders. The scene was one in which, almost hysterical with grief because a Nazi officer has killed one of her loved ones, she confronts surgeon Sanders in the operating room to find out if he really is going to operate on that officer. The answer is yes—he must, in order to save the lives of 50 hostages.

Brenda started the scene outside the room, opening the door and moving toward the camera where Sanders was washing his hands in preparation for surgery. She entered with a dazed, stricken expression, advanced slowly. She went through the scene as if on the verge of angry tears, emotionally taut. And each time—because airplanes would fly overhead, or the sound went wrong, or the film buckled, or a line bobbed—she had to do it again. Each time, she started anew, working herself up to the point of tears. Finally, Director Leonid Moguy pronounced the "take" perfect, and the still man stepped forward with his camera.

"I can't do it again," she apologized. "May I get by if I look just a little unhappy?"

And so it was. Back in her dressing room, Brenda relaxed with a cigarette. "I hate to be so corny," she said, "but it's the only way I know I have to pretend I'm the character, and take on all her troubles, and feel terribly sad. That's because I haven't enough technique. I wish I could be one of those actresses who turn it on and off, like a faucet. Maybe I'll learn, and it won't be so wearing."

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

STRAIGHT THROUGH THE HEART OF THE SHOPPING DISTRICT WITHOUT A STOP

Brenda is starting a new career at 20th Century-Fox, after four years at Warner Bros, where she made her start in "Espionage Agent" and "The Sea Hawk." She had "possibly three good pictures" in all her time there, and when she was about to be farmed out for a "Tarzan" picture she raised the rebel flag.

"But look what Tarzan did for Maureen O'Sullivan," they argued. Brenda looked. "Yes, and she never got anything else!"

So they gave her the choice of suspension or release, and she took the latter, and signed with 20th.

CLUB HEARS THOMAS TALK ON THE U.S. CONSTITUTION
A repeat performance, asked of Clyde Thomas, Sr., after his talk last Friday noon, was given Friday for the American Business Club at the Settles Hotel.

Last week Thomas talked on the nature of the federal constitution in relation to the state constitution and this Friday discussed "Development of the Constitution."

Thomas pointed out that the liberties that Americans enjoy today such as freedom of speech, religion, politics, and right of free assembly are usually taken for granted but that these rights were not always ours.

He pointed out that the constitution as it is known today is a growth, as the instrument must grow or break. "Principles cutlined in the constitution must not change," the attorney said, "but application of the principles will change as the world changes."

He declared that after the war it will be the responsibility of good citizens to maintain these principles as "they are our salvation and our belief."

There are nearly 6,000,000 victory gardens on the British Isles.

hear it," Penny said. "You'd have tried to follow him. Nothing in the world could have stopped you. I was afraid you'd not only overtax your strength, but also, in the end, might get killed."

Cleve's expression changed. The hardness went out of it. "You Vances!" he said softly. He swung toward Powell. "What do you think of your fiancée now? She, at least, did accomplish something!"

"I've always known Penny was made of good stuff," said Powell. "The best."

From him, that was a real tribute. "The canoe's ready," Cleve said. "Boy, wait until old Bill hears the news!"

"And Constable Rennick," Po-

Penny laughed, waved them ahead. "I'll join you in a jiffy," she said.

ing powers of the Axis will be tremendous and may be decisive.

Ranchers and farmers are protesting against the imposition of "plant valuation" on breeding livestock by internal revenue bureau for tax purposes; has been customary to regard greening stock as part of capital and to count it in on taxes only when actually sold; internal revenue authorities now writing up breeding stock at present valuation and ranchmen and farmers don't like the idea at all; Congressman O. C. Fisher has been conferring with Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy Helvering to see what can be done about it.

Taxicab drivers in Washington have the reputation of being rough and hard-boiled; Grady Hill, Congressman Fisher's secretary, thinks they may have a soft spot in their hearts and are not so hard as painted; he saw a taxi driver the other day, racing full speed across the capital plaza, slap on the breaks and come to a dead stop to keep from running over a squirrel that was crossing the thoroughfare.

Farmers Rush Planting And Re-Planting

Weeds and high winds constituted the chief obstacles to prospects of a good crop over this area at the end of the past week, but farmers generally were confident that the former could be controlled and hoped the latter would subside.

While bulk of the Howard county cotton acreage was planted, there were many fields yet to be covered by planters. In most localities, farmers worked a round-the-clock schedule to get their seed in the ground—some of them for the second time.

Scratching was getting results in part of the triangular area between Fairview, Knott and Center Point where dashing rain a week ago packed and washed the soil. However, a substantial portion of this territory had been replanted during the week.

High winds which stirred raking sands across the base of the plains a week ago and then again on Wednesday seared off young cotton in some localities, and here again a replanting was made necessary.

Feed plantings generally were far behind cotton for the simple reason that feed will make far quicker than cotton. However, another week of good weather is due to see practically all of the county's acreage seeded.

The Elbow and Lomax sections in the southwest quarter of the county appeared freer of weeds than other territories, but the planting operation was clearing out the worst of the competing growth in other parts. It was reasoned that weeds left between rows could be knifed out in short order. Many farmers favor knifing anyhow as a means of maintaining a mulch to hold moisture.

Singers To Meet In Midland County

Next meeting place for the Tri-County Singing Convention is to be chosen by the executive committee, but it will be somewhere in Midland county, N. F. King, president, has announced.

King, who also heads the Howard county convention, was retained as head of the Howard-Martin-Midland county set-up last Sunday when the regular fifth Sunday meeting was held at Courtney in Martin county.

Sidney Cross, Martin county, was elected vice-president, and Mrs. Albert Edens, Howard county, secretary-treasurer. Chosen as chaplain was B. F. Logan, Coahoma.

They Call It Pacific

by CLARK LEE

Chapter 6
Later I found out more about how our Air Force was destroyed, but I never established to my entire satisfaction why it was on the ground when the Japs came over, more than ten hours after we had received word of the Pearl Harbor attack.

As nearly as I could determine, the situation was this:
The pursuit planes had been up patrolling in the morning, and the pilots had come down to eat and refuel their planes all together, instead of a few at a time.

The bombers were on the ground because it would have been impossible for them to fly around aimlessly while awaiting orders to bomb objectives in Formosa or Hainan Island.

Such orders could not be issued in the Philippines because we were not yet officially at war with Japan.

The planes were lined up in straight rows and not dispersed because our fliers had not had any experience and did not understand the necessity for dispersal. Underground hangars were being built, but were not yet finished.

Radio detecting equipment was inadequate.

Shortly after the Clark Field attack, I ran into some of the survivors of the B-17 crews of the 19th Bombardment Squadron, who said:

"That first day of the war we went up in the morning, got our planes running perfectly, and then came down again. The pursuits had also been up and had come down to refuel and to let the pilots get lunch. For weeks we had expected that if war came we would bomb southern Formosa. We knew just where and what to hit.

"Right after lunch we pilots were called to the office. I heard our commander, Colonel Eugene Eubank, arguing over the telephone with someone in Manila. He was insisting that we be allowed to take off for Formosa, but apparently he could not get an okay."

"Anyway, Eubank hung up the phone and turned to a map on the wall. He was just pointing out our objectives on Formosa when someone came running in. The messenger shouted, 'The Japs will be here in twenty minutes.'"

"We started to get out and get to our planes. Two minutes later the bombs crashed down around us."

"We had about twelve heavy bombers left when it was all over. We flew most of them down to the field at Del Monte, on the island of Mindanao."

"From then on we were under the orders of General Wavell. We heard several times that MacArthur begged for us to come up and give his troops a hand during the early days of Bataan, but instead Wavell sent us to attack the Japs at Bontoc and other islands once or twice. Then we were ordered to Java and then to Australia."

I questioned them further about why we were surprised at Clark Field. That was one of the most crushing blows in the whole Philippines campaign. It lost us any chance to gain air control, and without air control we never had a chance to win. "Then it is your impression," I asked, "that someone in Manila headquarters ordered our planes to remain on the ground?"

"That is what we understand," they said. "We were told that we were forbidden to bomb Formosa because the Japs had not yet attacked the Philippines, and perhaps did not intend to. Inasmuch as the Philippines were a commonwealth and not an integral part of the United States, we had to wait to be attacked first."

That last part didn't add up to me, because many hours before the Clark Field bombing we knew that the Japs had bombed Baguio and Aparri and Davao and many other points in the Philippines. I told one of the high officers of MacArthur's staff what the pilots had said.

"The truth is that as soon as MacArthur knew Japan had attacked Pearl Harbor he ordered our pursuits into the air and instructed that our bombers be dispersed to other fields, part of them to Del Monte," the officer replied. "Apparently those orders went astray or at any rate were never carried out."

Another factor in what happened at Clark Field was undoubtedly the fact that, at the time the Japs hit, we were not officially at war with Japan. Congress did not declare war until the following day. In the Philippines we knew that the Japs had attacked Pearl Harbor but, from the record, even that did not necessarily mean that we would go to war with them. They had sunk the U.S. Panay near Nanking four years before and no war had resulted. It seemed incredible, but there was always a possibility that they could apologize for this attack too.

In any case, the disaster at Clark Field was another chapter in the tragic story that shows we were not, as an army, navy or nation, prepared, militarily and psychologically for the shocks of war. Even individuals had a hard time realizing it when they came into combat for the first time.

On Bataan in January, Lieutenant L. E. McDaniel, who had lost his plane and was attached to the anti-aircraft at that time, told me more about the Clark Field raid.

"I was flying my P-40 from a field near Clark and was up on patrol when the Japs came over. I saw a plane on my tail, way back. When he first opened up and I saw the blue flashes of his guns, I thought he was signaling to me. Then I snapped out of it and got in there and fought him.
