Seniors Meet To Make Final Plans Of Year

Commencement, Picnic And Senior Gift Are Discussed

By DORIS MULLINS
IN their largest and last meeting of the year, 200 seniors, met Thursday morning to discuss plans for the picnic, the senior gift and the commencement week program. Both June and August graduates attended.

Bill Stubbs, chairman of the picnic committee, announced that class members and their dates would leave for Buffalo Springs at 2 o'clock Saturday, June 1, immediately after rehearsal of commencement. In order that committees may make necessary arrangements, each bona fide senior is asked to sign the blank given below and drop it in a ballot box in the east rotunda of the administration building. Unless a sufficient number of seniors fill their intention of going, the affair will be called off, Stubbs said.

Each senior is to arrange for his own and his date's transportation. Each car must carry enough food for the occupants, and the lunches will be spread together.

I plan to attend the senior picnic at Buffalo Springs, June 1.

Dr. W. C. Holden explained a proposed tax on library deposits to pay for the picture of President Bradford Knapp being painted by John Young-Hunter as the senior gift this year. The group voted to transfer $2 each from the library deposit to pay for the portrait, which will be unveiled at commencement exercises.

The class passed a resolution of thanks and appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Holden, sponsors.

Botany Course Preview Held

Tents And Flood Lights Provide Setting For Club Program

Tents and flood lights provided a camp background when the Botany club held a preview of the summer field course in botany Monday night on the lawn north of the chemistry building. John Marr, president of the club, directed the program.

Talks were given by Dr. R. A. Studhalter, head of the botany department, and by students who took the field course last year. Each spoke about what interested him most. Mrs. Studhalter described the side trips made by the campers last year. Marr discussed "Why Field Study Is Worthwhile." Refreshments were served.

The course this summer will be the second to be offered by the botany department. Its purpose is to provide botany students with a laboratory. Those enrolling will leave Lubbock June 11 for the mountains of New Mexico. Four weeks will be spent in Gallinas canyon northwest of Las Vegas. The party will be located in Angostura camp the remaining two weeks. Side trips will be made to Taos, Santa Fe and Bandelier National monument.

Six hours credit will be given for the course which is under the direction of Dr. Studhalter. Those interested are asked to consult him in the near future.

Knapp And Heard Are Honor Guests At Special Me e t

Dr. Bradford Knapp and Professor M. E. Heard of the textile department were guests of a special convention of the business men and sheep ranchers of San Angelo last Wednesday. The purpose of the meeting was to investigate the establishment of a woolen mill at San Angelo.

Dr. Knapp and Professor Heard broadcast their talks over the San Angelo radio station Wednesday afternoon on the feasibility of a Texas woolen mill. Samples of Tech wool woven cloth were taken to show that Texas wool contrary to belief, is excellent for weaving purposes. Mr. J. E. McDonald, state agriculture commissioner, was the other guest of the meeting.

After the speeches, an executive meeting was held, in which plans for the proposed mill were discussed. Headquarters for the meeting were in the Angelus hotel.

McDonald Back From Meeting

J. F. McDonald, director of extension, returned Monday from Lincoln, Nebraska, where he attended an annual conference of the National Extension association, of which Tech is a member. The University of Nebraska was host to the conference, which was held May 15 to 17. Forty-eight universities and colleges constitute the association.

Principal problems discussed at the conference were those having to do with adult education, extension teaching by correspondence, extension library service, education for CCC camps, relation of universities to the federal government in the matter of extension service and visual aid and film instruction. The latter is a new feature of extension work.

Two new members were admitted to the association. They are the University of Illinois and the University of South Dakota.

The association is made up of universities and colleges and has for its purpose the study of extension problems. Each institution maintains its own independence regarding extension policy.

Bill Davis, junior engineering student, is serving as a staff photographer for the Fort Worth Star Telegram during the current session of federal court here.

Students Begin Procrastinating As Final Exams Hover In Wake Of Semester Reports, Themes And Notebooks change the time on an examination to an hour "more convenient for the class."

"Is that a ghastly hour for an exam?" one coed exclaimed as she stood before a posted exam schedule which listed night exams for the first time in the history of Texas Tech. Another student, however, said she could "think better at night."

This semester is running true to form as the student body again begins feverish work on semester reports and notebooks due in the professor's office sometime next week. Every semester it is the futile hope of instructors that their classes will get up their semester reports, themes, and notebooks page by page as the weeks go by, but every semester the students complete them page by page the day before they are due.

Procrastination is one habit

Enough Is Enough Staff Declares

"Enough is enough and sometimes too much," declares the Toreador staff.

The college newspaper has received insults, abuses, criticisms and even horse laughs. They have suffered such phrases as: "Is that weekly rag out today?" or "Have you read the campus squawk?" They even smiled when some infuriated person called and demanded to know why his story wasn't on the right hand column of the front page. Lack of copy paper made the publication of the paper difficult, but the reporters' management of the administration called the office and instructed one of the staff members on how to mix paste, "Always be careful to use warm water and mix it only in half gallon quantities," the proverbial canard's back broke.

Vocational Ag Teachers Convene Here Saturday

South Plains vocational agriculture high school teachers will have a general meeting in the pavilion of the agriculture building tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

GRADE BOOKS DUE

W. P. Clements, registrar, requests that students turn in their grade books immediately, so that grades for the spring semester may be recorded.

He states that more than 500 grade books are still in the hands of students.

It will be "Hell on Earth" at the Lafayette college (Easton, Pa.) Junior Prom. At least, that's the scene the decorations will depict.

After the regular business session, H. O. Woods of the Texas Utilities spoke.

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND" NY

ATHLETES SAY

LOU GEHRIG has played in more than 1500 consecutive big league games. Such an athletic achievement takes "wind"—healthy nerves—"condition." Lou says: "For steady smoking I pick Camels. They're so mild they never get my 'wind' or my nerves."

So mild, athletes smoke as many as they please—and that's real mildness!

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette. And the athletes—to whom "wind," healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness.

Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says: "Camels are so mild they never get my 'wind.'" George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing. For my cigarette I long ago chose Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for the golf stars, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree: "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you!... It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camel's costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

Keys Take Social League Title By Winning Second Half

Flip Of Coin Gives First Half Winners Flag For Second Straight Season

By JIM LINDSEY
Toreador Sports Editor

Los Ratos, Independent Loop Victors, Meet Keys For Crown

THE flip of a coin at a meeting of representatives from each club in the league at the gymnasium Wednesday afternoon gave the Silver Keys the championship of the Social circuit of intramural baseball for the second straight season.

With a game scheduled between College Club and Kemas for Wednesday and Silver Keys and Los Camaradas tied for first place in the standings, it was decided to determine the winner by the toss of the coin, since the playing time was limited. A College Club victory over the Kemas, who were out of the race, would have thrown the chase into a three-way tie for first position.

Coches Virgil Ballard, director of intramural diamond warfare, acted as arbitrator. "Sleepy" Clark, representing the Kemas, lost the flip to Padgett Maddox, College Club representative. With this forfeit win, the league leadership fell into the hands of College Club, Keys and Los Camaradas.

Then Pete Hudgins, manager of the Silver Keys, Maddox and Raleigh Upshaw, representing Los Camaradas, tossed coins with the old man out of the race. Upshaw's coin fell tails to eliminate Los Camaradas. Maddox then attempted to match Hudgins and failed, giving the Silver Keys the circuit pennant for the year. The Keys won the first half championship, thus making a playoff unnecessary.

Ratos Win.
Los Ratos, victors of the Independent league for two years and holder of the school intramural baseball title from last campaign, will struggle with the Keys in a three-game play-off. The series got underway Thursday.

Pete Hudgins has been given the privilege of choosing his club from all members of the loop. The list will be awarded silver baseballs by the athletic department.

Representatives Listed.
Tracy Watson's baseballers breeched through the Independent struggle. The champions annexed eight consecutive victories over demeritory nines.

Attending the meeting were: Clark, Kemas; Upshaw, Los Camaradas; Hudgins and Houston Westler, Silver Keys; Tommie Taylor, Wranglers; Maddox, College Club; Tracy Watson, Los Ratos; Coach Virgil Ballard and Jim Lindsey.

Cams Defeat Kemas Entry

Merle Jones limited the Kemas entry to three hits and whiffed 11 batters as Los Camaradas toppled "Sleepy" Clark's nine, 11-5, Sunday in a Social loop contest.

The victors found the pitches of Hardy in the opening frame for five runs. After Rule and Haight went out, Holmes singled, Raah got on by error route followed by bingles from the bats of Barron and Jones. Moxley walked and Read singled. McCormick connected to send Moxley across the plate with the fifth marker.

Three Kemas flies came in the initial stanza. Lynch made first on a miscue. After Hutton singled and Hardy struck out, Mitchell binged scoring Lynch. Hutton and Mitchell dented the plate as Mossley's grounder was muffed.

After scoring once in the second, the victors halted the game away in the third by pushing four runs over the platter. Two Kemas errors, three hits and a walk were responsible.

AFTER this week-end all will be quiet on the campus as far as sports are concerned. With the completion of the playoff series between the Silver Keys and Los Ratos for the intramural baseball title, King Sport will take a holiday. Every school athletic event is scheduled to wind up by "dead week," leaving championships and honors to some and just memories for others.

"A wise man changes his mind but a fool never does." This old adage comes to our mind as we glance at this week's issue of the Collegian, official student publication at Arizona State Teachers college. Parton us, readers, but Bert Fireman has been led to see the light. He writes in his column, "Sports on Fire," under the label, "Clean Slate For The Toreadors."

"All doubt as to the status of Texas Tech was eliminated at the conference meeting at Albuquerque when a report showed that athletic conditions there... attained the necessary parity level set by the loop officials. The investigation of Dr. Emil L. Larson disproved the rumors that all was not 'clear' at Tech, especially clearing the Matadors on several points that rumor had carried about the conference."

We are glad that our old enemy has crossed the line of friendship into the light. From now on, Bert, our advice is not to believe everything you hear because of athletic rivalry.

LETTERS for information about the coaching school are pouring in from all parts of the continent. Glancing over the pile of requests on Coach Dutchy Smith's desk we noticed inquiries from Canada and from all states between the Atlantic and Pacific. Russell T. informs us that 20 letters have been received in a single day.

One group of athletes on the campus that deserves a lot of credit is the tennis racket wielders. These lads worked hard on none too good courts previous to Border conference meet and then annexed the doubles championship. While we are asking the PWA for loans to construct a stadium and swimming pool, why not include a request to cover concrete tennis courts? Good rectangles would aid the Tech netters instead of slowing them up as the present ones do. After practicing on slow courts, the netmen are unaccustomed to the finer grade of tennis grounds. Then, too, more tennis teams would frequent our tennis courts.

Baker Named Denison Coach

Former Matador Leader Made Line Mentor Of Yellowjackets

Elva Baker left for Denison Tuesday to make plans for taking over the line coaching post this fall at the high school there. The Matador captain of 1933 was named assistant to Logan Stollenwerk, head mentor of the Yellowjackets Monday night. He will assume his duties in September. He succeeds Jim Petty.

Baker, said by the Tech coaching staff, to be the best tackle ever to don the Scarlet and Black, came here in 1930 after being named all-state guard while a member of the Abilene High Eagles. Playing a fine brand of ball as a Picador linesman, Baker continued his outstanding game for three years as a tackle on the varsity.

All-Conference.
By a vote of all coaches in the Border league, Baker was awarded a tackle berth on the mythical all-conference team his senior year. He was athletic representative on the student council the same year. The past campaign, Baker served as assistant freshman coach and has been helping Coach Smith with the front wall during spring training.

Keys Win Over Wranglers In Short Affair

Showers Stop Contest As Taylor's Team Is Trailing, 8-2

It was Red Wester again when the Silver Keys trounced Taylor's Wranglers' 8-2, Monday in a Social league game. The carrot-topped hurler batted and pitched the first half winners to victory by connecting for three hits in as many trips to the platter and keeping nine Wrangler bingles well-scattered.

Wranglers Find Wester.
The Wranglers found the slants of Wester for three hits in the first and pushed across their only tallies. Pederson led off with a single and went to third when Still connected for a one-base blow. Both scored when McCullough singled. After this stanza, Wester took charge of the situation.

Putting the game on ice in the initial frame, the Keys dented the team thrice. Sowell, Hergert, Wester and Hudgins marked on a pass and three hits.

Wranglers 2 0 0 0-2
Silver Keys 3 1 0 4-8

Ratos Play Independents On Ropes Field Sunday

Tracy Watson and his Los Ratos journey to Ropesville Sunday to engage the Independents of the Hockley county town. The Ratos recently annexed the Independent league championship in intramural baseball for the second straight year. Last season Watson's nine won the school title.

Erratic fielding and inability to connect with their bats brought defeat to the Lubbockies as the Ropes baseballers won 11-7 on the Ropesville diamond last Sunday.

Archaeology Class Will Excavate New Mexico Ruin During Summer

Dr. Holden Will Direct Fifth Annual Field Expedition

ARROWHEAD Ruin, 150 room pueblo dating back to 1350 A. D., will be excavated by Texas Tech's fifth annual archaeological field expedition this summer from July 19 to August 27.

Twenty three rooms and a D shaped kiva, the only one of its kind, have already been excavated by a Tech expedition two years ago. Arrowhead Ruin, which is situated at Arrowhead, tourist camp, 22 miles from Santa Fe, has an elevation of 7,500 feet and is on top of a pine covered hill, an ideal location.

Three Lectures

The course consists of lectures, reading, excavation and restoration. Each Wednesday afternoon will be spent at the laboratory of anthropology in Santa Fe, where Dr. Chapman, authority on Indian design, Mr. Stallings, log dating authority, Dr. Mera, pot shard expert, and others will lecture to the class.

On week ends, trips will be made to the surrounding Indian pueblos and ruins. Students will attend the famous religious dance at San Juan August 4.

A large cabin will serve as kitchen and mess hall and the students will have access to hot and cold showers.

May Go To Colorado

The last week of the term will be spent making tours of existing pueblos and prehistoric ruins, Pueblo Bonita, and Chetro Kelt, at Chaco Canyon, 40 miles from the Arizona border. If time permits, the class will go to Mesa Verde, Colorado.

The initial fee for the field expedition is $50 and six hours credit is given for the course. Anyone interested should see Dr. W. C. Holden of the history department to make reservations immediately.

News Story Will Become Ancient Before Finished

When a newspaper story becomes ancient history, that is news!

For three years a Toreador reporter has been carrying a "follow-up" story on the textile experiment relative to three bales of cotton, one machine picked, one hand picked, and the other snapped, to see which type gives better service in material.

Professor Carl D. Brandt, head of the textile department, announced to the reporter that he figures the experiment would be ended next spring, as all of the thread from the three bales has now been spun. Only the weaving and wearing of the material is lacking for the completion of the experiment.

Alas! however the reporter is graduating, but is going to make an effort to come back in 1938 to write the ending of probably the longest "follow-up" story ever to be carried in any newspaper.

Aesthetics To Be Offered Next Fall

Aesthetics, a course devoted to a consideration of general principles of beauty and those principles peculiar to each of the fine applied arts, will be offered next fall by the department of philosophy and sociology.

According to Archie J. Bahm, head of the department, the discussions will involve an examination of all sorts of beautiful objects, natural and artistic, with the view of discovering whether there are some characteristics which all of them have in common.

The following arts will be considered: music, painting, sculpture, poetry, prose literature, the drama, the dance, architecture, textiles, interior decoration, landscaping and photography.

SPEECH MAJORS GIVE PROGRAM

At a program presented Monday afternoon, a sketch, "Tuning In On The Past," and the play, "All On A Summer's Day," were directed and presented by senior speech majors. Those taking part were Mary Scott, Mary Lucy Shannon and Lois Daniels.

Wiley Receives Many Requests

Advance Notices Indicate Enrollment For Band School To Be Large

Advance inquiries about the second annual Texas Tech Band school indicates a large increase in registration for the entire session. At the opening school here last year, 54 students and instructors took advantage of the instruction offered. Officials of the coming school expect more than 80 musicians to register for each of the six weeks' sessions. Students from Louisiana, New Mexico and all parts of Texas are expected.

Credit Offered
The school will include two distinct divisions. The college division offers accredited work to students of college standing, two six weeks' courses carrying a credit of 12 semester hours for both terms. The preparatory division for boys and girls of elementary and high school age offers private instruction and ensemble practice in keeping with their musical foundation, a six weeks' course that does not carry college credit.

The band school is organized on a systematic basis. Hours of study and recreation will be set aside for each day's work. The band work is divided into periods of instruction, class instruction, group rehearsals, conduction and individual practice.

Wiley Is Director
Professor D. O. Wiley, director of the Tech band, will be general director of the school. Wilson T. Betts, who assisted Wiley last year at the school, will be first assistant. Instrumental directors will be H. A. Anderson, director of the Lubbock high school band; Earl R. Ray, director of the Wink high school band; Lynn Gray Gordon, Tech graduate and director of the Lubbock Junior high school band; C. Sanford Eskridge, former director of the Monahan high school band; Fred B. Martin, director of the Rusk high school band; Clyde H. Rowe, director of the Slaton high school band; D. W. Crain, director of the Abilene Christian College band; Richard E. Walker, director of the Borger high school band and Howard B. Smith, director of the DeRidder, La., high school band.

Bothered by students who continually requested a certain record to be played, David Burne, University of Arkansas (Fayetteville), announcer at station KUOA, Fayetteville, ended it all by smashing the record over the mike. The piece was "I Need Lovin'."

Professor Anthony Zeleny, University of Minnesota (Minneapolis), bigs his fellow "Z's" a break by reversing the usual seating arrangements. He puts the "A's" in the back and the "Z's" in front.
