Knapp Will Stress Tech Decennial Plans In Talk

President To Give Speech At Alumni, Ex-Students Banquet June 3 Honoring Seniors And Members

By JOSEPHINE POWELL
PRESIDENT Bradford Knapp will stress the Tech Decennial celebration in an address to be given at the Alumni and Ex-Students association annual banquet honoring seniors and members, Monday evening, June 3, at 7:30 o'clock.

Plans for the Decennial will be discussed and the candidates for the 1936 officers will be announced. Mart G. Pederson, president of the association, will be toastmaster. Holmes Webb, principal of Hamlin Grammar school, will welcome graduates into the association and Jimmy Gammill, 1935 senior class president, will respond.

Directors To Attend
Special guests will be Doctor and Mrs. Knapp; members of the college board of directors: Clifford E. Jones of Spur, Roscoe Wilson and W. T. Gaston of Lubbock, Dennis Zimmerman of Tulla, Mrs. John A. Haley of Midland, Mrs. Emma G. Meharg of Plainview, Joe T. Snead of Amarillo, James M. West of Houston, Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie, and Tomas G. Pollard of Tyler; Dean and Mrs. James M. Gordon, Miss Margaret W. Weeks, Dean and Mrs. O. V. Adams; Dean Mary W. Doak; J. Doyle Settle of Abernathy, state representative and Author P. Duggan of Littlefield, state senator.

Tickets may be secured from the following: J. W. Jackson, chairman of the sales committee; Ellis Foreman, Mamie Wolffarth, Webb, Collins, W. E. Street, R. C. Middleton and Cecil Horne's office. Seniors both June and August graduates, alumni and ex-students of the college are eligible to attend.

Home Ec Clubs Plan Socials

Several Groups To Have Parties During Last Week Of Semester

During the remaining days of the spring term, seniors, as well as various classes and clubs, in the home economics school will be entertained.

Miss Mabel Erwin, head professor of clothing and textiles, and Dean Margaret Weeks, dean of home economics, will honor home economics seniors with a coffee Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend.

Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the home economics seniors will be entertained at the home of Dean Weeks. Faculty members will also be guests.

Class in advanced dressmaking will have an outdoor supper at the home of Mrs. Margaret Stalner, Thursday evening at 6:30.

Home Furnishing class was entertained Thursday, May 24, from 2 to 4 o'clock by Miss Erwin at her home.

Miss Mayme Twyford, associate professor of foods and nutrition, gave a breakfast in honor of present and former members of the practice house. Twenty-four girls were present. Dean Weeks and Miss Erwin were special guests.

Toreador Office Selected As Zoo

The mammalian and reptilian classes of the South Plains have selected the Toreador office as Texas Tech's official Zoo.

Two snakes, gliding around the office at the first of the year, started the managerie. The next addition to the collection was an off-brand mongrel who made his home under the file table of cuts. A white stringy cut became the mother of three kittens in the left cubbyhole of the big desk.

A centipede waved 500 of its 1000 legs at two of the staff members a few days ago, and the bass dust of two frogs rang through the office after the recent rains.

However the recent hopping greeting of a ground squirrel to gether with the general nuisances that frequent the Toreador office has convinced the staff that at last Tech has the beginning of a zoo.

Large Attendance Is Expected For Meeting In June

Approximately 1,500 teachers and persons interested in the public school curriculum are expected to attend the second annual curriculum conference sponsored by the college. It will be held here June 28 and 29. The general session will be in the gymnasium, and ten other meetings will be conducted in other buildings on the campus. The purpose of the conference is to discuss and lay plans for the production work to be conducted next year in the public schools.

Among the leading educators of the state who will speak at the conference are: W. A. Stigler, State Director of Curriculum; Dr. Henry Harap, Western Reserve university, Cleveland, Ohio; Fred C. Ayer, University of Texas; Superintendent State Teachers association; B. E. Cobb, executive secretary of Texas State Teachers association; L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Where 32 years ago Monday, June 3, he received his bachelor of arts degree, Dean James M. Gordon will deliver the commencement address at Trinity university, Waco, Texas, at the same place and time.

Sixteen years later he received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the same place, and now sixteen years later, he is being honored again by being asked to give the address.

And for the first time Dean Gordon will be absent from graduating exercises, with the exception of August services, for Tech seniors.

Dean Gordon was undecided for awhile about where to go, for both schools will have exercises at the same time.

"I wish to take this opportunity to extend my heartiest greetings and sincerest good wishes to the seniors of the arts and sciences division who are graduating in June," Dean Gordon said. "I regret exceedingly that it seems impractical for me to be present either for the baccalaureate session or for the commencement," he added.

"My heartiest good wishes to you as you graduate and as you take up further activities of life of whatever nature they may be."

Honor Medal Given Gamel

Textile Student Receives Award For High Four Year Average

Worth Gamel, senior textile engineer, received the National Association of Cotton medal for the highest four year average of any student in the textile engineering department.

This medal is awarded each year to the highest ranking student in each of the textile schools of the United States by the National Association of Littern Manufacturing company. This medal is accepted with the same distinction in the textile engineering field as the Phi Beta Kappa key is in the liberal arts school. The NCA medal is made of bronze, three inches in diameter.

Elliot Knox, senior textile engineer, won the Textile Colorist medal, awarded by "The Textile Colorist," trade magazine, to the highest ranking student in textile chemistry engineering in each of the textile schools of the United States. Only students majoring in textile chemical engineering may try for the medal.

Both Knox and Gamel will graduate this year and will make the textile tour, sponsored by Phi Psi. They will leave here June 7 and be gone three weeks. They have jobs in a textile mill at Hartsville, South Carolina, upon completion of this term.

Head Of Home Ec Division Resigns

Mrs. Jim McJinsey, head of the applied arts department, has turned in her resignation to be effective at the beginning of the second term of summer school, Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of the division of home economics, announced Tuesday.

Before coming here, Mrs. McJinsey taught at the University of Texas two years. She received her B. S. degree from Iowa State university, Ames, Iowa, and her master's degree at New York Teachers college, Columbia, N. Y. She was married in December, 1934.

She plans to go to Ames when her term here expires.

The Toreador Receives High Rating Award

Publication Is Only Paper In Southwest To Obtain High Ranking Score

CERTIFICATE of award has been received by The Toreador for attaining All-American "superior" honor rating, the highest ranking granted by the 15th annual All-American Critical service of the Associated Collegiate Press of the National Scholastic Press association at Minnesota university.

There were five possible ratings: All-American honor rating (superior); first class honor rating (excellent); second class honor rating (good); third class honor rating (fair); fourth class (below average, no honors). Two hundred and seventeen newspapers were entered in the contest.

To Be Placed In Office
The certificate, which bears the seal of the association, founded in 1921, and the signature of the chairman of the Minnesota university journalism department and of the director of the Associated Collegiate Press, will be framed and hung in the college newspaper office.

The Toreador is the only college newspaper in Texas and in the Western states, with the exception of the University of Wichita and the University of Santa Clara, to receive this distinction. Out of a possible 1000 points, 825 points, only 30 less than the highest score of the 19 papers grouped in the "superior" class, was totaled by this publication.

Sports Page Praised
With a perfect score of 80, the sports page received the highest individual score discussed under a department. The page was completed by the staff.

Class To Study In Mexico City

Language And Customs Of People Will Be Noted By Group

Students interested in the Spanish language, literature, and civilization to be conducted in Mexico City during the second term of summer school are making applications daily, according to Dr. C. B. Qualla, head of foreign language department. The limit of 30 has almost been reached, but there will be no registration until early in the first term.

Those having as much as two years high school or one year college work in Spanish will be admitted for credit work. The course carries a maximum credit of six semester hours, graduate or undergraduate, depending on the preparation of the student.

Purpose of the course is to give students an opportunity to obtain daily practice in Spanish as it is spoken naturally in every day life, or studying certain literary figures and their masterpieces. Besides the regular work, a trip to Guadalupe and Lake Chapala, summer resorts on the west coast, will be included.

NEW COURSE TO BE OFFERED
The history department will offer a new course, "History of the American Indian," the second term of summer school. The course will count three semester hours for history students of advanced standing; it will later be enlarged to a six-hour course. Dr. W. C. Holden will teach the course.

Students Candidates For Spanish M. A. Degrees
Two students, Miss Marian James and William Nelle, are candidates for their master of arts degree in Spanish this spring. A large number of applications have been made to Dr. C. B. Qualla, head of foreign language department, for similar work during the summer terms. The lack of a larger and more extensive library at Tech is preventing many from working on their master of arts degree.

STREHLIS TO EUROPE
Mr. A. B. Strehli of the foreign language department and Mrs. Strehli are to sail June 14 on a tour of Europe. They are to make extended visits in Paris, Strasbourg, and points in Spain and Portugal, where Mr. Strehli will study. They are to return in September.

President's Annual Reception Opens Commencement Week Tomorrow; Senior Entertainments Arranged

Baccalaureate Sermon Will Be Delivered Sunday Evening

COMMEMORATION week for Tech graduates will begin tomorrow with the president's annual reception for the graduation class, faculty and visitors and conclude Monday with the annual banquet and business meeting of the Alumni association.

Sunday, Seniors were honor guests at an informal reception in the men's dormitory. Tomorrow, after rehearsal of commencement at 1:00 o'clock at the Ad building, they will go on a picnic at Buffalo Springs.

Reception Friday
Dr. and Mrs. Bradford Knapp will give the annual reception at the president's home tomorrow night from 8:00 until 10 o'clock.

For a pre-view of the portrait of Dr. Knapp, painted by John Young-Hunter, the senior gift this year, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden are giving the seniors a tea Sunday afternoon. Calling hours are between 3 and 5 o'clock, at the Holden home, 3109 Twentieth Street.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium, by Reverend W. M. Wright, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church, Paris, Texas.

Colonel Clarence Ousley, Fort Worth, will make the address at the graduating exercises, Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Degrees will be conferred at this time.

The Alumni and Ex-student association banquet will be given in the women's dormitory Monday evening at 7:30.

Bill Stubbs, chairman of the picnic committee, states that seniors who go to Buffalo Springs Saturday must provide transportation and food for themselves and their dates. Each car must carry enough food for the occupants, and the lunches will be spread together.

Candidates for degrees should gather at 7:40 Sunday evening and at 9:40 Monday morning, at the east end of the textile building, and form in line in the order designated by Leon Ince, the marshal of the day.

Have You Lost An Article? Maybe It Can Be Found Yet

What have you lost and couldn't find during the past school year? Since October, the lost and found department located at the information office in the Ad building has been receiving lost articles and restoring them to the owners. However, there are a few articles still unclaimed and they can be obtained at that office.

The articles include numerous keys of all kinds, any number of books ranging from texts to novels, white tam and also brown ones, a slide rule (has the name of Glen Newton on the case), a biology lab set, ladies black felt hat, brown tam, and a black purse (woman's).

The lost and found department reports that about this time of year numerous calls for lost articles come in and many articles are restored to rightful owners. About three weeks ago unclaimed articles collected during the year were donated to the Salvation army.

Fountain pens are the most frequently lost articles among the students. Lots of calls for lost text books come at the end of semester, but few are turned into the office.

Aggie Class To Leave In July

Dr. Ellsworth Is Head Of Agricultural Group To Travel In 13 States

On July 19, a group of agricultural students, accompanied by Dr. Ellsworth, head of agricultural economics, will leave on a tour of eleven states that extends to August 30.

This group of students have as their objective the study of different types of farming ranching in the various sections, irrigation, fruit growing, marketing conditions, and work in general of the experiment stations in the western states and to visit the historic points of interest.

Dr. Ellsworth and his group will place stress upon work done by the experiment stations. The directors of the stations are now preparing a detailed study for the students and have arranged for some one to accompany the group and help them while in the various states.

To Tour Western States
All of the western states except Nevada are on the itinerary. Dr. Ellsworth has already made out a chart of the various cities to be visited, work to be studied and the approximate time to be spent at each city. The route extends from here to El Paso, through the lower part of Arizona, up through California, Oregon and Washington, across to Idaho and Montana, and down through Wyoming, Utah and Colorado. The group will study production in each locality. While in the states along the coast, they will visit harbors and study imports and exports. Some of the historic points to be visited are the Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Canyon.

Five students have signed up for the trip and there is a possibility of four or five more going according to Dr. Ellsworth. Those who have signed up are: Leon Marks of Clovis, New Mexico, J. L. McDade, Richard Sparks of Foard City, Lloyd Miller of Tulla, and Robert Roger of Lamesa.

Mrs. Dingus Will Attend Meeting Of Association

Mrs. W. G. Dingus of the foreign language department is to leave June 28 for Los Angeles in a special car of Texas women to attend the bi-annual meeting of the American Association of University Women. She is to give a panel discussing international problems.

After the meeting, Mrs. Dingus plans to do work at the University of Southern California and to visit in San Francisco.

The Last Deadline

THE staff of the 1934-35 Toreador has "made" (?) the last deadline; the paper has rolled from the press for the last time this year. Now it is time to look back with regrets or satisfaction and to write our "thirty."

During the school year The Toreador has attempted to do more than merely present the news accurately and fairly. The Toreador has stood for what it believed was right. Many of its beliefs may not have been in accordance with those of some readers. The administration has charged that The Toreador has been unethical in its attacks upon certain conditions which it believed should be corrected. The administration on one occasion voiced the accusation that "as usual the editorial is written without any knowledge of what is happening." On the contrary we have been aware of many things that were happening and have attempted to inform others of them.

But right or wrong, The Toreador has taken a definite stand on questions, believing it the duty of a newspaper to express itself through its editorial column. Staff members have not consciously sidetracked issues which should be discussed. It should be noted here that nothing was ever written by any staff member which did not honestly and wholeheartedly express his own opinion.

WE have commended what we believed was right and opposed bitterly what we believed was wrong. Sometimes a newspaper must be destructive as well as constructive. We have made mistakes, but we believe the mistakes were justified, however well-conducted, no newspaper functions without making errors.

Our contacts with readers have not always been pleasant, but it is a dull newspaper, whose staff members are possessed with fear and inertia, that never gets strong reactions.

We have advocated many things this year for which we were threatened and warned against. Yet in nearly every instance something was done to correct the matter in question. Among these were: poor telephone service, better hospital service, method of selling artist work tickets and many more.

Because we carried an editorial opposing compulsory military training at Texas Tech (we are for it at the proper schools) and ran an editorial (the facts were taken directly from the Literary Digest), giving the results of the national college Peace Poll we were branded as a Communist and a Red by the head of the Tech military department, because he wished to protect his own interests. Not content with that he went one step further, which can't be mentioned here.

Not satisfied with these slanders he made inspiring speeches among the cadets in an effort to stir up feeling and opinion against us. Could these narrow-minded actions be termed characteristic of a Colonel?

TO our sorrow we found that there are too many white elephants and sacred cows on the campus. Freedom of the college press????

The Toreador this year was given All-American honor rating or a "superior" rank by the National Scholastic Press association in competition with 217 college newspapers. The Toreador was the only newspaper in the Southwest to attain this rank.

During the course of our experiences of editing a college newspaper we have discovered: that more people know less about editing a newspaper than probably any other one business in the world; publicity "hounds" with three-column cuts are numerous and there are too many "know-it-alls" who try to run the paper for you; that the editor is the most criticized man on the campus.

Notwithstanding, we have enjoyed every minute of it and on the whole one would have to go a long way to find the equal of the Tech student body and faculty.

Special credit is due staff-members and reporters. Without their aid the paper could not be issued, much less have a definite personality and purpose.

THE Toreador is grateful to students, faculty members, townspeople and advertisers for their cooperation in producing the paper during the school year. We hope we have not failed in our efforts to make The Toreador a frank expression of student opinion.

If you liked the paper this year, the staff is glad; if you didn't, don't tell us about it. It is all over now. Which reminds us of a little poem which aptly expresses the situation:

"What have you done," Saint Peter said, "that I should admit you here?"
"I ran a paper," the editor replied, "for my college for one long year."
Saint Peter pityingly shook his head, as he gently touched a bell.
"Come in, poor thing, select your harp."
"You've had your share of hell."

Give The Editor A Square Deal

WITH the beginning of the next school year the student publications will have a "new deal" compared with what they have had to contend with in the past. Many defects have been corrected, many more changes are needed and are now under consideration.

Included among these "new deal" measures are: equal student representation on the publications committee; The Toreador will have access to a subscription fund for the first time; a semi-weekly Toreador is planned and it is highly probable that it will become a reality; more spacious and presentable quarters are being considered for La Ventana; a higher advertising rate will be sought for the paper; and the Toreador editor will be reimbursed to a greater extent for his efforts.

The editor's salary is what we are concerned with at present. The business manager of The Toreador has always received at least twice the remuneration as the editor. Yet the editor works three times as much on the publication as does the business manager who doesn't even have to work at night. All responsibility for the paper falls to the lot of the editor and it is his duty to see that the paper reaches the student body week after week.

THIS year's Toreador editor has averaged 15 hours a day for four days a week getting the paper ready for publication, and he has worked all day and night on several occasions. He has averaged 60 hours a week (these figures are under estimated, if anything) and figuring on the basis of 34 issues this year he would have devoted 2,040 hours to the paper. There is no question but that The Toreador and La Ventana editors work twice as much as any individual on the campus and receive far less financially.

Is it fair that the business manager receive a larger sum than the editor? The business manager deserves what he gets but at the same time the editor's salary should be raised to a figure that can be termed "decent." At most colleges the editor is treated more fairly in respect to salaries. To cite an example, the editor of the paper at Louisiana State university is paid $700 a year and formerly received $1200 a year. Of course Tech can't expect to equal this amount but the salary should certainly be raised to a sum that could be termed reasonable.

THE associate editor should be salaried so that responsibility could be placed upon his shoulders, thereby relieving the editor of much of the routine work, giving him more time to plan the paper.

La Ventana editor receives a measly $30 per month, which officials, by a stretch of the imagination, call a "salary." Yet the yearbook has a yearly balance of from $500 to $1000. Why can't the annual editor be paid in proportion to what he does? He is being used at present to make money for someone else. It should not be the aim of college publications to make a big profit, but rather to pay all expenditures, provide a sinking fund and convert the remainder into improvement of the publication, keeping pace with the yearbook of the leading colleges and universities of the country. At present La Ventana is too commercialized. Recently the printers demanded an extra $750 which was not stipulated in the contract, before they would print the current yearbook according to the editor's layout. This was no fault of the editor, but apparently a means by which the printers could break even on a low contract bid. Why not give the contract to a dependable company in the first place, who would abide by their contract. Even though the cost would be higher, it would save money in the long run.

THE student council and the publications committee are working on a plan whereby the editors of the two publications will receive a larger salary. They are to be commended for their efforts, but the amount they are considering is still too small under present conditions, especially to put out two papers a week. It takes more to create a successful publication than a stodge cigar and a cushioned swivel chair (which we don't have.)

SOMEWHAT LITERARY

Melody In F

Day after exams they'll all be away
To Europe, New York, and Santa Fe;
My prof is going to Mexico;
My room-mate will visit San Angelo,
And half of the student body goes
Back to the farm at the session's close.
They'll loaf by day and play by night,
And once or twice a month they'll write:
"Wish you were here—nice and cool,
Spent the day at the swimming pool.
How are things in summer school?"

Refrain:
Oh, I must have said "No" when the answer was
"Yes";
I should have known, but I had to guess;
I'll not be one of the happy throng
That fritters away the summer long;
I cannot sell my books to raise
The price of some cokes for sultry days;
Alack, alas, I'm fortune's fool—
I've got to go to summer school!

AT Syracuse university 92 per cent of the student body voted in favor of having a block week before final examinations, but the faculty downed the idea, arguing lack of time and interference with the definitely scheduled work planned by the professors. However, next October the matter will be taken up in more detail.

Near the Texas university campus grounds is "Petters Park" which is always protected by police—who never bother the students! It came about after a series of molestings and shooting in the park.

Via the Utah Chronicle we learn of the New York university professor who has found a method to stop students from being late to classes. A vicious and large police dog has been placed outside the classroom door and those who arrive tardy are greeted by snarls and lunges, discouraging entrance.

A questionnaire sent to a representative number of Texas university women students revealed that the average expenditure of women students during 1934-35 was $927.25 for dormitory students. Those living in sorority houses spent $1,340.86 and $1,087.59 was expended by boarding house residents.

And here's what the Purdue Exponent thinks about dust storms! Under the heading entitled, "This Space Reserved for Dust Storms," two columns were filled with lines of dots. At the bottom of the first column were these words, "Dust storm continued next column." At the end of the second column, this sentence was found, "These dust storms are persistent as hell."

ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS

Question: What would you do if you had this year to live over again?

Billie Allison: "I'd want more and hotter dates and would not let study interfere with my college education."

Alberta Adkison: "I'd carry a heavier schedule the first term and sleep less."

Ova Milling Brown: "Keep irregular hours and ride my bicycle more."

ATHLETES SAY: "THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND!"

TOMMY ARMOUR, a Camel smoker of many years' standing, who says: "I've smoked Camels for years, without jittery nerves or cutting down my wind."

Read below what these famous athletes say about their experiences in smoking Camels

A suggestion: Follow the athletes in your search for cigarette mildness. They can't trifle with healthy nerves—their "condition"—their wind. The cigarette they smoke must be mild.

Tommy Armour, the golf champion, says: "Camels never bother my nerves or shorten my wind—convincing evidence that Camels are mild."

Mel Ott, heavy-hitting outfielder of the New York Giants, reports: "My experience is that Camels are so mild they never get my wind."

And Stubby Kruger, water polo and swimming star; Amy Lou Oliver, diver; and Lester Stoeffen, tennis star, agree with Pete Knight, the rodeo champion, who says: "Camels—there's a smoke so mild it never cuts down your wind, never gets you out of condition."

A mildness that will please you too! Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They are mild, cool, gentle on the throat. Smoke them all you wish. Camels don't upset your nerves... or tire your taste. And athletes find that Camels do not get their wind.

YOU'LL LIKE THEIR MILDNESS TOO!

CONSIDER THAT LIFE IS MORE WORTH WHILE when you feel good—physically fit, "in condition." Turn to Camels. Athletes say, "They don't get your wind."

SO MILD YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

Camels

COSTLIER TOBACCOS! Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

Los Ratos Annex School Intramural Baseball Championship

Independent League Winners Take Two Straight Contests From Keys

By JIM LINDSEY
Toreador Sports Editor

HERE'S the last week of school and a full sports page has descended upon the campus. Looking back over the last nine months, the student can easily see that the Tech athletic program has been highly successful. Congratulations of the highest sort are in order for Head Coach Pete Cawthon and his assistants, Dutchy Smith and Virgil Ballard.

"Jab" has capably filled the vacancy left by Coach Dell Morgan who has spent the year at Auburn. With able assistance from Jerry Baker, the former Gainesville high mentor led the Fledglers through a good season. Taking up the basketball reins with a Border conference title to defend, Ballard-piloted the Scarlet sharpshooters to their third loop crown. After this, he didn't stop. He outlined an intramural program consisting of dormitory basketball and baseball competition which was run off as smoothly as the ticking of a clock. But still his work was not over. He made track representatives out of a small number of hard working boys.

LET us pause a minute while this humble writer offers congratulations to a group of campus athletes. These are Tracy Watson and his Los Ratos baseballers, newly crowned intramural baseball champions for the second straight year. The Rats kept the flag in their possession by letting the Keys down twice last week. Silver baseballs will become the permanent possessions of these national pastime followers as rewards for their efforts. We throw in a bouquet for the Keys, rulers of the Social circuit.

While we are passing out compliments, let us congratulate Leroy Crews upon being chosen cage captain for next campaign. The Wilson High product has been a valuable asset to the varsity for two seasons and should reach the peak in his senior year. He will make the champions, almost permanent with three crowns already in Tech's possession—a fine leader.

BACK to the work of the coaching staff. Not satisfied with producing good athletic representation, Cawthon and his aides started making arrangements for the world's largest coaching school immediately after the grid grind. Thousands of letters have been mailed to mentors Coach Cawthon throughout the continent. Replies have been received. Publicity for the school along with the best instruction for students of sports are the results.

Pete returned Monday from a jaunt of 5,000 miles over the state. Despite competition from coaching schools down state, the Matador tutor states that the school is to be as big as ever. The competitors do not present instructors like those found at Tech's sessions. The price is cheap but the cream of the crop will be here. Matty Bell, Jimmie Stewart, business manager of athletics at Southern Methodist and other notables told Peter Willis that they would be present for the fourth annual show.

WHILE we were visiting the athletic director, he handed us some data from the conference meeting. Several motions were made which are heartily seconded by this scribe. The coaches association went on record as favoring publicity in a school newspaper which would foster a more friendly relationship between the member institutions. Also, correct weights and statements on the physical condition of athletic teams are to be given scribbled by the coaches.

And with such motions, we wish to thank the coaching staff for their splendid cooperation in securing news to (Continued on page 6)

Opening Game Goes Ten Innings Before Rats Annex Victory

THREE factors—the bats of Red Ramsey and Larry Trenary plus the efficient hurling of Tracy Watson—brought the school intramural baseball title to Los Ratos for the second straight season as the Independent League winners toppled the Silver Keys in two consecutive contests of a proposed three game series last week. The Keys annexed the Social circuit pennant by talking both halves of the chase in their loop.

In the opening affair, the Socialites were leading in the last half of the seventh inning when the game scheduled to close at the end of the stanza. It was then that Red Ramsey appeared at the plate to do his damage and place Manager Watson on the mound in the following inning. Larry Trenary put the finishing touch to the occasion in the tenth.

Page Mr. Ramsey! Here's how it happened. The Keys were leading, 4-3, with the Rats in town for the final stand. After Trenary walked the atmosphere, Durwood Howell, Key twirler, attempted to alp one down the middle. But Ramsey was ready and lined the nugget deep into center for a round trip ticket. Wiginton lifted to Wester in center and Thornton struck out to conclude the frame.

Watson replaced Jim Dalton on the hill for the Rats. The Rat pilot held the Keys hitless with only 10 batters going to the platter. In the tenth Trenary singled with the sacks crowded to give the Independents a 5-4 victory.

Leading Mentors Are On Coaching School Staff

Fifth Annual Sessions To Start August 5 And Run Two Weeks

Builders of athletic champions—those that excel in every sport! Truly a parade of winners! That's the lineup of instructors for the fifth annual Texas Tech coaching school to be held on the campus August 5 to 17.

Heading the list of "teachers" are the moulders of the nation's outstanding grid machine. Bernie Bierman, whose Minnesota university team was considered the National Champions of 1934 and one of the greatest units ever assembled, will give pointers on the single wing back formation. The Gophers went through eight games undefeated, scoring 270 points and holding opponents to 38 markers.

Warner To Teach Pop Warner, still the foremost coach of all, is slated to return to the Tech school. Down through the years, the Temple university mentor has made champions using the double wing back formation, and will impart to students here what experience and study have taught him.

Winner of five Southwestern conference crowns at Texas A. & M. and four titles at Nebraska! That's the record of Dana X. Bible, past president of the Football Coaches association and member of the rules committee at the present time. This successful grid tutor has been chosen to teach the short punt type.

Crisler Is Coming The "Moose" of Princeton, Fritz Crisler, is returning to instruct coaches on his system of play. Crisler has made past schools a success and his personality and knowledge are due to put this summer's sessions over in a big way.

Frank Thomas of Alabama university is another coach of champions. The same system of play that sent the Crimson Tide to victory in the Rose Bowl will be explained by the coach who has lost only four games in the same number of years. His Notre clicked last year to make 316 points—the largest number of markers registered by any team in the nation. Those seeking education about the game on the floorboards will not be disappointed. Francis Schmidt of Ohio State, and for years the dean of Southwestern basketball coaches, is coming here. While at Arkansas and Texas Christian, Schmidt annexed six cage titles. The coaches of high school champs in two states will give in-

Larry Priddy, Brax Gilmore Made Coaches

Scarlet And Black Stars Are Named Assistants At Sweetwater High

Laurence Priddy of Gainesville and Braxton Gilmore of Olney, standouts on Tech athletic teams for two years, were named as assistant coaches at Sweetwater High Friday. Ed Hennig is head Mustang mentor.

Priddy, who has played guard and center on the football team, was appointed head basketball mentor and is to have charge of the Mustang forward wall. He was co-captain of the Matador basketballers last season. Gilmore To Coach Ends Regular end on the grid machine last campaign, Gilmore is to tutor the Sweetwater terminal men and assist generally with the line. Popular among his teammates, the former Olney High star has served as president of the Double T club, an organization of Tech lettermen of all sports, this year.

Not only has Priddy gained honors in athletics, but the scrapping linesman has ranked high scholastically. Twice he has won awards given the highest average, appearing on the honor roll several times.

Coaches Choose Walker Nichols As Captain Of Matadors Next Season

Grid Machine Has Tough Assignment Laid Out For This Fall

When the Matador gridmen start the football season this fall, Walker Nichols will greet the opposing captain in midfield to determine the choice of goals. The scrapping guard from San Angelo was named captain of the Fledglers by Head Coach Pete Cawthon at a meeting of football players Tuesday.

Nichols has been an outstanding unit in the Scarlet forward wall during the last two seasons. Last year he received one of the medals awarded players for their outstanding play. Getting ten tackles on the kickoff during the season, Nichols received a medal for this grid accomplishment. The new leader was recently elected secretary of the Double T club, an organization of Tech lettermen.

Grid machine from seven states appear on the ten game schedule of the Matadors for 1935 with five contests to be unrecruited on the local field.

The complete schedule is as follows:
Sept. 20 — Hardin-Simmons (Ableene).
Sept. 27 — Daniel Baker (Here).
Oct. 4 — Wichita university (here).
Oct. 12 — DePaul university (Chicago).
Oct. 25 — Loyola university (Los Angeles).
Nov. 2 — Oklahoma A. & M. (here).
Nov. 11 — Arizona university (here).

Spuhler Falls Before New Champion In Straight Sets, 6-2, 6-5, 6-3

Marshall Gordon of Lubbock became the tennis champion of Texas Tech by defeating Harold Spuhler of Tucumcari, New Mexico, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-5, 6-3 Tuesday afternoon.

This match climaxed several weeks of playing with Tech students participating in an elimination tournament. Gordon won over Albert Symes of Lubbock to enter the final matches. Spuhler gained the right to oppose Gordon in the last sets on the Morningstar addition court Tuesday by trouncing Harry Jordan, freshman from Big Spring.

Tech Has Good Athletic Year

Mats Take Conference Titles In Football And Basketball

By JIM LINDSEY

Border conference championships in football, basketball and golf, fair showings in track, tennis, boxing and wrestling plus a good intramural program—that is Texas Tech's athletic history for the past nine months.

In grid warfare, the charges of Coach Pete Cawthon and his able assistant, Dutchy Smith, brought further recognition to the school with seven victories, one tie and two losses. Fourteen members of the Tech team made their last stand as the Matadors captured their third Border conference flag by repusing the stubborn Wildcats of Arizona university at Tucson, 13-7, to close the 1934 season.

Ballard Makes Good The conclusion of Coach Virgil Ballard's first year as basketball mentor at Texas Tech found the Scarlet eagles occupying the top position of the Border circuit ladder for the third consecutive campaign. The Techsters dropped only one game in 10 contests with loop opposition. A pair of wins over Hardin-Simmons, rulers of the Texas conference, climaxed a successful season.

Although hindered by the lack of material, due to spring football training, Coach Virgil Ballard managed to annex some honors with his cinder path group. After losing to the New Mexico Aggies, the Mats took third in the Great Plains meet at Canyon. Maurice Cowan set a new pole vaulting record of 12 feet 6 inches. John Case was the best two-miler at the Border meet.

Carlson Is Champ Ineligibility struck the golf ranks just before the first meet with Southern Methodist. Kil Carlson was the only Tech golfer to register a win in the meet. Panny Farmer won the student tourney and (Continued on page 6)

Texans To Choose Kings On Dr. Strout's Tour In Preference To Cabbages

Group To Leave Montreal July 27; To View King's Jubilee In England

TWENTY West Texans will choose kings, in preference to the cabbages of Lewis Carroll's nonsense verse, when they go on a European tour to be conducted by Dr. Alan Lang Strout, Tech English professor, this summer.

The group, which will leave Montreal July 27, will be in England during the King's Jubilee. They will visit in four other countries: Scotland, Holland, Belgium and Canada.

To See Home of Burns

Dr. Strout plans for the party to see where Bobbie Burns ploughed his fields, the house in which Will Shakespeare was born (and the attic where he was sent when a bad boy), the old mulberry tree under which Keats sat when he wrote his "Ode to a Nightingale", the battlefield of Waterloo and Versailles of the Peace Treaty. Enough days will be spent in London and Paris to see "how the other half lives", to see the old in history and to buy the new in clothes.

Will Visit Holland Cities

The party will find in Glasgow August 3, and after 12 days in England and Scotland they will visit four cities in Holland. Next they will visit Belgium and, last, Paris.

Many side trips will be made from London and Paris. On August 24 the group of students and other West Texans will sail from Cherbourg on the "Empress of Britain", the largest and most luxurious boat on the Canadian Pacific line. After only five days on the ocean the boat will dock at Quebec and the party will visit that city and Montreal. They will be back in Texas September 1.

Complete cost of the tour, from Montreal back to Montreal, is $432. This includes boat fare and accommodations, hotels and three meals a day in Europe and all sight-seeing trips and admission fees.

Arrangements have been made to grant credit in literature, in connection with the extension department, for those making the trip.

"We can get cabbages here. But let's go to England this summer and see the kings!" said Dr. Strout.

Five Tech Beauties Are On Honor Roll

Five of the eight Tech beauties who will occupy individual pages in La Ventana this year are honor roll students. Five of the girls are beauties for the second year, and their averages are higher than the three new beauties.

Lella May Zorns, sophomore, whom John La Gatta selected for first place from pictures of 50 candidates, rated five points above the all-college grade point average during the fall semester. Judith English, Harriette Roach, Geraldine Wicker and Lois Watson, all second year beauties, had "B" averages or above.

Grades of Christine Bundy were classed "above average."

CURRENTLY featured, "Murder in the Fleet," combines a murder mystery and a navy picture in one. Robert Taylor, Jean Parker, Ted Healy, Una Merkel, Nat Pendleton and Jean Hersholt are the principal members of the cast.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Warner Baxter, versatile veteran of the screen and Ketti Gallian, glamorous young French star, are co-starred in "Under a Pampas Moon." Seen in quite a different light from his usual drawing-room roles, Baxter portrays the part of an Argentine gaucho who rides recklessly, throws the boleadora, sings, dances and makes love very proficiently. Similar to this first hit, "The Cisco Kid," "Under a Pampas Moon" is similar to most South American pictures with the typical barroom scenes, etc.

James Dunn as the daring young man in "The Daring Young Man" at the Palace, Wednesday is a newspaper reporter, who hates women. His views are changed when he meets a girl reporter on a rival paper, but on the day when their wedding is set he is sent to jail for a story and has to leave his bride "waiting at the church" for he cannot phone her because it will tip off her paper. Also at the Palace on the stage Wednesday is to be the public wedding of Lubbock's official June bride and groom.

Next Thursday at the Palace, Bette Davis appears in her first starring picture all her own. "The Girl from 10th Avenue" is her vehicle. As a spunky shopgirl she captures a disconsolate, but once brilliant and respected society lawyer, who has been jilted by Katherine Alexander. Members of the cast are Ian Hunter, Colin Clive, Alison Skipworth and John Eldredge.

Student Privacy Is Jeopardized

Do you part your hair on the right, left or in the middle? Do you use comb and brush, comb alone, or brush alone? If The Toreador business manager were interested enough he would be quizzing the student body of Tech with such questions this spring, since various organizations have sent letters asking him to do so.

One letter states: "About this time of the college year, it is customary on many campuses to take a student vote on preferences of all kinds. If such a vote has been taken on your campus this year, will you please advise me the make of garter and also suspender voted best? If no vote has been taken, what is the student preference as you observe it? What percentage of men students do not wear garters?"

Ligon Smith Brings Band Here Friday For Dance

"Old Maestro Of South" Plays Entertainment At Auditorium

Leads Orchestra

LIGON SMITH

"The Old Maestro of the South" is bringing his dance orchestra to Lubbock again!

Ligon Smith, for many years an outstanding orchestra director south of the Mason and Dixon line, brings his reorganized orchestra here Friday night to play for a dance at the Auditorium. Music lovers, greet the musical director of radio station WFAA, Dallas, on his second appearance before the dancing public of the South Plains and Lubbock.

Smith has been directing the "Early Birds" of Station WFAA some time. Before becoming head of that organization, he played engagements at the Skirvin hotel at Oklahoma City, the Adolphus and Baker at Dallas and the Galvez hotel at Galveston.

With a repertoire that includes the latest dance hits in his own special arrangements, Smith presents a trio of entertainers who have done a great deal in placing the Smith band near the top of the musical world. "Rats" Hill, Jimmy McManus and Jimmy Stewart are well-known here because of their entertainment rendered on Smith's last visit to Lubbock.

Smith occasionally leaves the piano to lend his voice with the music of the band. He is one of the few orchestra leaders who directs from the keyboard.

The maestro carries his own amplifying system. This equipment will insure good music throughout the Auditorium.

Mart G. Pederson, president of the alumni and ex-students association, will be here this week-end to attend the alumni ex-students banquet June 3. Mr. Pederson received his B. S. in dairy manufacturing from Tech in 1932.

Under Double T

(Continued from page 4) keep their end of the Toreador up. The student body gets our thanks, too. Your many suggestions have been accepted with the heartiest of thanks and it is hoped that this spirit will prevail when our next sports editor takes the helm in 1935-36.

When you go back home this summer, whether it be Big D or Podunk, someone will ask you what Texas Tech is going to do in football next fall without Mule Dowell, Josh Owen and the others that graduated from the gridiron ranks last fall. The boys about the corner might venture a question about the cage prospects with Lem Weaver, Larry Priddy and Will Gilmore gone.

For such queries you are going to have to be prepared. You must know all of the answers, or else be accused of being a bookworm. We are not the best authority but our pinching might suffice. In brief, the Matadors are to win the Border conference championships in both sports again. It is needless to enumerate the reasons for our assertion. Look over the list of those returning with attention to the manner in which they performed this year and the solution is in your grasp.

With this prediction we close until September 20. At that date, in contrast to the forecast of Mach, Hardin-Simmons Broad sports editor, who states the Cowboys will thump the Mats, 33-0, we hope to see you all after our CRUSHING VICTORY OVER KIBBROUGH'S CHARGES. Until Then Sportingly yours, Jim Lindsey.

was medalist in the President's cup tourney at the Country club.

Kit Carson shot an 88 in the annual medal tourney at Albuquerque to win the Border conference golf crown. Other members made fair showings at the loop tournament.

John Bell was second in individual scoring and Bob Hale third in the wains department. Tech's team of Al Ray Cooper and John Bell took second team honors.

Under the direction of Jake May and Harry Guthrie, the Tech boxing and wrestling teams made a good showing despite lack of material. Although outfought by a group of slugging Aggies from North Texas Agricultural college, the Tech leathersingers took the first intercollegiate boxing meet by virtue of forfeits and a knockout by R. C. Mitchell.

West Texas Is Victim The wrestlers nosed out West Texas, 23-19 in a dual meet at the gymnasium for their second triumph of the season. The matmen dropped the next two engagements to the Buffaloes at Canyon and the Aggies on the Arlington mat. Wilmeth Nichols, Tech's only representative in the finals in the Border conference meet, was knocked out.

Invading Abilene courts, Tech's tennis team headed by Albert Snyes and Harold Spuhler, took Abilene Christian college and McMurry Indians into camp. Honors were divided with Hardin-Simmons. At the Border conference meet, the doubles team consisting of Spuhler and Snyes were beaten in the finals by Arizona university. In the intramural baseball chase, Los Ratos kept the school title by repulsing the Silver Keys, Social league winners, in two affairs of a proposed three-game series. The Rats annexed the Independent circuit crown.

Alvin Crews led his Second Floor, West Wing quintet to victory in the dormitory cage race. The fiftists nosed out Wester's five for the bunting. College Inn sharpshooters won the intramural basketball struggle by defeating the Pre-meds in the playoff.

The freshman football and basketball teams turned in a creditable season in both sports. Coach "Jab" Ballard and Elva Baker sent the Picador gridders through the campaign with four triumphs and a single loss. The Fish loopsters put 18 contests in the win column with four losses.

mented for it presented a complete coverage for school sports and for not placing too great emphasis on major sports at the expense of minor, intramural and girls' sports. The editorial column ranked next for a department, scoring 45 points out of a perfect 50. As a whole, the page was rated excellent with comments as "editorials are well done; scope is excellent." The score on special features and departments individual to The Toreador was a percent 20.

Colleges Listed Other colleges with All-American "superior" rating are: College of St. Thomas, Lehigh university, Carleton college, Carnegie Institution of Technology, Creighton university, Wayne university, New York university, Junior College, Macalester college, Polytechnic Institution of Brooklyn, University of Georgia, University of Santa Clara, Washington university, University of Wichita, Temple university, George Washington university, Villanova college, and Virginia Polytechnic institution.

The Daily Texan of the University of Texas, Austin, received first class honor rating in the daily newspaper section. mentioned. What has been done has been the result of cooperation of the faculty, students, board of directors and all connected with the college.

The student body will soon be leaving for their homes and the graduating class to enter their life work. Much more has been accomplished by conference, understanding and earnest devotion to real worthwhile tasks than could ever be done by criticism, fault-finding, gossip and rumor. When you come back for the new year, I hope we may still continue the spirit of mutual helpfulness, cooperation and hard work.

There is much I should like to say, but the record must speak for itself. After all, Texas Tech must be known by the quality, character and spiritual devotion of its graduates, its student body and its faculty.
