With 8-9 Classes

Regular Thursday speech clinic will not meet tomorrow since the Texas Intercollegiate dramatic festival will be held here from Thursday to Saturday.

WAA girls presented Mrs. John-nye Langford with two logs for her fireplace at a surprise party and house-warming given last night at her new home.

Senior class meets tomorrow at 7:15 p. m. in C101.

Forum met Tuesday morning at the College Avenue drug to discuss new members for next year and plans for the Mortar-board breakfast. The next forum will be held on the last Sunday in March. Plans will be discussed for the convention and all girls are invited to attend.

Government majors and pre-law club members will attend a banquet Friday night at Mexican Inn.

Paul New, arts and science junior, was found guilty of hazing in an all-freshman trial held by the pre-law club Monday night. Judge for the evening was Buddy Sprague. Prosecutors were J. C. Bearden and Elroy Schoppa. Victims of the hazing were Jack Henry and Koderick Shaw.

Junior council is still urging all senior girls to see the silver display at the dormitory. The council receives 25 cents for each card signed by a senior girl giving her preference in silver patterns. Money will be used for their clean-up campaign.

Campus Clean-Up Slated Saturday

Alpha Phi Omega and the Junior council will clean up Tech campus Saturday in preparation for the convocations meeting here this spring.

All students are asked to assist in the campaign. Those who help will meet at the building and grounds building just west of the women's dormitory at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Work will consist in removing papers and trash and all unsightly objects from the grounds.

The Junior council will have charge of cleaning up the circle. The college building and grounds committee will cooperate with the clean-up and the staff will assist.

A set of 100 photographs and 24 photomurals of Brazilian architecture has been presented to Columbia university.

Tech Co-Eds Stampede For Rooms In New Dormitory

By MARY TUNNELL, Toreador Staff Writer

The scramble, or rather the sham battle, began at 7:30 a. m. Monday.

The anxious resident of Doak hall raced through breakfast at a more record-breaking speed than usual and rushed into the corridor to get in line. Everyone wanted to be first, for the early birds would get the choice rooms in the new dormitory next fall.

Monday at 9 a. m. was the set time to pay the five dollar deposits for rooms in the women's residence hall now under construction, and every co-ed was determined to get the room she wanted with her chosen roommate regardless of blood shed and cuts in classes.

As the group in the hall grew and the line became longer, the patient stand-ins were herded to the lounge so they could at least sit on the carpet.

Through the 90 minutes of waiting not all of the girls were idle. Many tried to concentrate on studies even in the din of complaints and arguments, and several calmly applied nail polish while others played a few hands of bridge seated on the floor.

As 9 a. m. approached, the girls returning from their 8 o'clock classes rushed in and the bedlam increased. At last, when the director, Miss Mozelle Craddock, came to collect the deposits and make room reservations, she was al-

Saturday Convocation Called For History-Making Event

Most Important Student Meeting Of Year Set

BY MARGUERITE WATKINS, Toreador Staff Writer

SPECIAL student convocation for 11 a. m. Saturday in the gymnasium for introduction of visiting legislators has been announced by Dean James G. Allen, chairman of the convocation committee. The meeting, the second of the semester, was set at a called meeting of the convocation committee Monday afternoon.

All 11 o'clock classes and laboratory sections will be dismissed so that all students and faculty members may attend, according to announcement from the president's office.

Visiting members of the Texas Senate and House of Representatives will be introduced to the student body and brief talks will be made by several of them. However, Dean Allen has announced that the program will be left entirely to the legislators. Speakers and other visitors will be introduced by President Jones. All will be seated on the speakers platform.

This is the first time in the history of Tech that a legislative hearing has been held on the campus, and the convocation will provide opportunity for students to meet their lawmakers, an opportunity afforded few who cannot be at the state capitol while the legislature is in session.

President Clifford B. Jones Monday pointed out the closer unity effected between the college and state by the acquaintance of students with those most influential in the welfare of their college. In making possible the convocation President Jones also expressed the feeling of the administration as well as the board of directors, "the college is indeed grateful for the consideration shown us by the legislators in giving of their time and energy to thoroughly inspect our facilities and hold the hearing here on the campus."

To relieve congestion and aid in seating the crowd, which is expected to be larger than at any previous convocation held this year, visitors will be from the military department. Capt. Bruce D. Rindlaub is arranging for officers of the R. O. T. C. units to direct seating.

The Matador band will play in full dress uniform. In the absence of director D. O. Wiley, who is ill, H. A. Anderson will direct the band in 10 minute series of marches as students gather. The invocation will be given by Rev. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Stitt Will Represent Texas Tech In Florida

William T. Stitt, Tech graduate, this week was appointed by President Clifford B. Jones, to represent the college at dedicatory exercises at Florida Southern college, Lakeland, Florida, March 9.

most thrown off her feet as the mob closed in. "Someone was heard to say, 'What we need is a cop and a search car.'"

Before 10 a. m. 260 girls had been signed for places in the 162 rooms of the new building. One hundred and eighty Doak hall co-eds were put on the list that morning, 20 more in the afternoon, and 80 freshmen-to-be had previously paid their deposits.

The east rooms of the north wing on second and third were the most sought after. Ninety girls had designated their desire for the nine rooms across the front of second north. "We want to see what goes on over on the avenue," was the explanation.

The many added conveniences and attractions of a new building was the probable reason that campus girls were so anxious to be housed in this dorm.

The floor plans of second and third correspond with third floor of Doak hall. However, on first, besides the 40 bedrooms, there will be a lounge and dining hall. The lounge will be on the south of the glassed-in information desk at the entrance, and will open upon a landscaped court. The dining room will be located on the north wing. In the basement there will be a playroom, later to be furnished with recreational equipment.

The bedrooms offer a pleasant change. Walls in different sections See STAMPEDE Page 4

20 Law-Makers Convene On Campus For Two Days

BY MELBA SUTTER, Toreador Staff Writer

MEMBERS of the House of Representative Appropriation committee and sub-committee, and the Senate Finance committee and sub-committee will meet on Tech Campus for the first time in the history of the college to hold a legislative hearing Friday, March 7.

Approximately 20 legislators will convene in President Clifford B. Jones' office Friday afternoon to discuss the college budget. An inspection tour of the campus will be made in connection with the hearing.

Legislative members expected to attend the hearing are Senators R. C. Lanning, from Jackboro, chairman of the finance sub-committee, Joe L. Hill from Henderson, Claude M. Isabell from Rockwall, Houghton Brownlee from Austin, chairman of the Highway and Motor Traffic Senate committee, Penrose E. Metcalf from San Angelo, Marshall Formby from McAdoo, and A. M. Aken from Paris, chairman of the Finance committee.

Members of the House of Representatives who will probably attend are Homer L. Leonard from McAllen, speaker of the House, W. O. Read, from Dallas, chairman of the Appropriations committee, W. T. McDonald, from Bryan, chairman of the Appropriation sub-committee, E. J. Cleveland from Buda, Joe Skiles from Denton, Woodrow Bean from Fort Hancock, Marcus Halsey from Lubbock, Clinton Kersey, from Bridgeport, chairman of the committee on Penitentiaries, and Ernest Boyett, sergeant-at-arms of the House.

In addition to these, there probably will be several other members of both Houses present, according to J. Doyle Settle, special representative of the college.

The delegation will arrive by special plane shortly before noon Friday and lunch in one of the dormitories. The hearing will be held in the President's office at 1:30 p. m. Following an inspection of the campus, the visiting legislators will be guests of the Lubbock. See LEGISLATIVE Page 4

Special Training Now is Offered In Army Corps

Same Salary Set As In Regular Pilot Training Course

By GILFORD MOORE, Toreador Staff Writer

ALL PROSPECTIVE students of the flying course offered by the Army Air corps may now take advantage of specialized training to qualify as aerial navigation officers, according to a communication from the War Department of Washington received by the military department of this college. Instruction will be given in schools under army supervision, but will include no pilot training.

The status, as well as pay and allowances, of cadets undergoing this specialized non-pilot training in navigation is the same as that for cadets receiving pilot training.

They are designated "Flying Cadet" and, upon satisfactory completion of the course, as well as an additional period of training with tactical or other air corps units, are eligible for commissions as second lieutenants, air reserve. The entire training period will cover approximately nine months.

Applicants for this course must meet the general requirements for appointment as flying cadet. They must be unmarried citizens of the United States between the ages of twenty and twenty-six, of good character, sound physique and in excellent health.

The training as "navigator" is designed to qualify candidates for appointment as flying cadet. They will be unmarried citizens of the United States between the ages of twenty and twenty-six, of good character, sound physique and in excellent health.

Educational qualifications are: first priority classification; graduates of accredited colleges and universities who have received a degree in engineering. Second priority classification; graduates of accredited colleges and universities who have had, as a minimum, See SPECIAL Page 4

Program Design Chosen By AWS

Theme Of National Meet Is Western

Cypress finished paper resembling a woden scrapbook will furnish the cover for the official program for the IAWS convention to be held at Tech April 2, 3 and 4.

Carrying out a western motif, the cover will contain a picture of a cowboy with his rope, rolling a cigarette. Hinges and leather lacing printed with brown ink complete the scrapbook-like appearance.

The outside cover will be nine by twelve inches in size with inside pages one-half that size. Pockets will be placed on the inside of the cover for notes.

The program will contain officers of the association, schedule of events, schools attending, and list of speakers.

Tentative program for the convention is as follows:

- Wednesday, April 2: 8:00 to 12:00, Register in lounge of women's dormitory. 12:00, Luncheon at Hilton hotel. 1:30 to 2:30, Discussion groups at Hilton hotel. 7:00, Formal dinner at girls dormitory. Thursday, April 3: 8:00, Mortar Board breakfast at Hilton hotel. 9:30, Business meeting. 12:00, Luncheon at Hilton hotel. 1:30 to 2:30, Discussion groups. 3:30 to 5:30, Pan Hellenic tea. 7:00, Ranch style dinner at Aggie grove. Friday, April 4: 8:00, Theta Sigma Phi breakfast. Breakfast in girls' dormitory. 9:30, Business meeting. 12:00, Luncheon at Lubbock hotel. 1:00, Discussion groups. Sightseeing tour of campus. 7:00, Buffet supper at Lubbock hotel. 9:00 to 12:00, Formal dance at Lubbock hotel. Saturday, April 5: 8:00, Breakfast in girls' dormitory.

Art Institute Members Preview Art Collection

Preview of the twelfth exhibition of Cleveland oils was shown at a tea given by members of Tech Art Institute last night in the museum. The collection is composed of 35 oil paintings chosen from the annual Cleveland exhibition of arts and crafts held last May. The pictures depict various scenes from American life. The exhibition will be here until the last of March.

F. A. Kleinschmidt, professor and head of the department of architecture and allied arts, is director of the Tech Art Institute.

Chaps Landslide Elections With Three Winners

Re-Count Looming In President's Race; Changes Likely

LAS CHAPARRITAS apparently had sewed up Association of Women Students' elections late Tuesday night as The Toreador went to press, sending three candidates into winning positions on a landslide of votes that will be rechecked for final tabulations today.

Marian Lee Mason, junior from Post, apparently was safely ahead of Independent Candidate Onita Bell Hufstедler for the presidency's post.

Jerrene Verner, also a Las Chap, was well ahead of Mildred Hankins for vice-presidency.

Evelyn Cooper, still another Chap, virtually was assured the presidency of Junior Council.

Two races were near deadlocks, with final tabulations and checking today swinging the election either way, but:

1) Marguerite Brannen of Ko Shari led Mary Margaret Tunnell for AWS treasurer, and

2) Bobby Felts was scantly ahead of Betty Shryock, DFD, for secretary of AWS.

Three hundred and sixty-one legal votes were cast, 13 being ruled out.

Save The Wrapper Tinfoil Campaign On For Britain

First it was "knittr'n for Britain" and now it's the collection of tinfoil in the red cans which appeared in all buildings this morning.

This latest move is another proof that coeds are becoming defense-conscious. A committee headed by Harriet Willford and sponsored by Miss Jonnie McCrery placed the cans in the buildings and is asking that the student body do their part by putting all tinfoil into them.

Doak Hall was the first campus organization to help in this nationwide movement. Residents have been saving candy and cigarette wrappers for some time. Girls in the dorm are also knitting sweaters for British war relief.

Nina Tynes, a member of the committee craftily suggested that the drive would also aid the campus by helping in the clean-up campaign.

Machine Makes Appearance

Pedro the Voder, the machine that talks, laughs and sings, will be brought to the Lubbock high school auditorium March 12 at 8 p. m. by the Texas Tech Board of American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The machine will be put through its paces by "Voderette" Miss Anna Mae Swenson. A free lecture on "The Artistic Creation of Speech" will be given by Dr. J. O. Ferrine of New York, pictured above. Dr. Ferrine is assistant vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

You'll Be Surprised By Tech's Spirit

IT LOOKS like a New Deal in Texas Tech athletics," say the men around Avenue drug stores. "Does this mean we'll get Southwest conference games?" asked the students in the bookstore. "Why, it's the dawn of a new era. Tech's rolling at last."

And so goes the sentiment of this student body. For many it's hard to realize that those hectic, hell-roaring 1930's are over; that the slender little man with the sorghum thick drawl will be packing up his pictures over the Double T gymnasium before long; that he won't be falling off medicine kits next fall coaxing his teams from the side like a symphonic orchestra conductor.

But, had he been picking a successor, Peter Willis Cawthon would have smiled upon bushy-browed Dell Morgan who returns to Texas Tech campus today. He would be the first to tell you that Dell is a top man for the job, and that under him, the name of the Red Raiders will continue gaining prominence in the nation's sports world.

From the campus for Dell Morgan, Morley Jennings and Walker Nichols, there exists nothing but unabridged student support. Perhaps at no other time has there been a college so unhesitant, so wholeheartedly behind its new coaches.

There was dissension even in the University of Texas when Dana X. Bible signed his 10-year $150,000 contract. The students were uncertain about their New Deal. They weren't sure of the quiet little man with the bald pate. He had produced winners for Texas A & M and for Nebraska, but could he compete with Southwest conference razzle-dazzle that had grown up since he left?

Perhaps there are some who ask that of Texas Tech's new regime. Their's is a tested question. At Baylor Morley Jennings has built such performers as Bullet Billy Patterson, Lloyd Russell, the singing quarterback, Sam Boyd, the finest conference wingman in a decade, and old Bochy Koch, first All-American footballer in conference history.

Dell Morgan's rise to gridiron coaching fame has been nothing short of spectacular. A builder of Tech freshmen in 1935, he was promoted to line-coach at Auburn. So rock-ribbed were his forward walls, so well grounded in the fundamentals of football that Frank Leahy took him to Rice last fall as line-coach of that Southwest conference school.

Together they turned a predicted flop into a flock of victory-mad Owls that proved the surprise of the league in last fall's grab-bag race for the crown.

Jennings and Morgan will make a great combination for Tech, the former with his color, his connections and his consistency; the latter with his background in the school and his line-building talent. Addition of Lubbock high's line coach, Walker Nichols, means another Tech graduate on the staff, a 1935 captain of the Raiders, a genial, likeable man who can do wonders with his teams.

The Toreador welcomes you. Perhaps Texas Tech hasn't all the traditions acquired by time that Baylor and Auburn boast. But we're building.

And when the going tough at Double T field next fall; when the score stands against us and there isn't much hope left, you'll see three thousand students boil over their grandstand like a tidal wave. They'll stand by your side on the field and they'll keep your team fighting until the final gun.

Goebels' Department: Explosives By Mail

THE GERMAN library of information, 17 Battery Place, New York, will send free literature to any American, giving the Nazi view of the present war and their idea of it.

A five-cent rifle bullet will kill a man, ending his power to do good or evil. It takes more than bullets to stop an idea. Men kill each other for the sake of ideas and beliefs.

Nazi Germany has an idea of government which conflicts with the democratic ideal. Between these two opposing trends of thought men are crushed to death.

Before the coming of fatalitarianism there was peace. The doctrine of the immortal state and the infallible leader brought a rain of bombs and terror. (Nazism came first, and then as a storm of blood and iron.)

From the source that gave rise to the growing cancer that blotched Europe, there is pouring into our country a steady stream of carefully prepared propaganda. Operating on the principle that truth is whatever the majority of people can be made to believe, Germans seek to justify their disruption of world affairs.

This misinformation is sent by mail to all schools and newspapers in the United States. The doctrine that "might is right" uses the bloodstream of a democratic nation to scatter the disease regimented thinking.

There is a statute in force in this country which forbids use of the mail for fraudulent purposes. Why can this not be applied to these international claim jumpers who send forged proofs of their title to stolen goods through the United States postal service?

Explosives must be marked and sent by express. Printed on the best quality of paper and plainly labeled "information," these far more destructive ideas circulate freely in the mails of a nation whose foundations rest upon the ideas that they seek to destroy.—Louie Johnston

Around The Table

BY FANIBETH HARRIS

SEEMS AS if the new dormitory for women is just about filled. The rush of reserving rooms caused not a little dissension Monday morning. Girls were lined up at seven-thirty in the morning in order to sign up at nine o'clock for their choice of rooms. As the line grew, those who were first, were no longer first but last. It seems that girls coming in from classes and a little more anxious to get their rooms reserved shoved in front of those girls who had been waiting for an hour. It could hardly be called sporting in view of the fact that there are quite a few rooms over there, and that all are just about the same.

We have been wondering just what the new hall will be named. Several persons have made predictions, but as for anyone having the slightest idea, we haven't heard about it. The suggestion of a poll, as was conducted before Knapp hall was named, be inaugurated seems a good idea.

THURSDAY and Friday students from all over the state will be here for the Texas Intercollegiate Dramatic festival. Talent scouts from Warner brothers and Paramount studios will be on the campus. There should be a lot of talent here about in those two days, and we are wishing the students a lot of luck.

The AWS convention is really underway. Finishing touches are being put on the plans and all are waiting for the grand finale with great anticipation.

TWO COMMITTEES from the House of Senate and House of Representatives of the Texas state legislature will be here the last of the week. Prominent figures from over the state are included on the committees. The college budget and building appropriations will be subject of the discussions and investigations.

For the past few years the student body has been cramped in close quarters. A need for more class rooms, laboratories and equipment has long been recognized. It is our hope that Tech will receive much needed buildings and equipment in the near future.

Quotable Quotes

But New Mexico, one of our favorite states, has other troubles these days, too. From the Mustang of New Mexico State Teachers college, Silver City, comes this plaintive report:

Flagpoles are very short-lived on the campus of New Mexico State. The average age is about 12 years. Two were dethroned by playful bolts of lightning, a third by an equally playful March wind. The present pole will "come of age" two years hence, and students are beginning to wonder if the wind can again beat the lightning to the draw.

We trust that in their spare moments all flagpole fanciers will give their best attention to this newest problem of education.

"Unquestioning obedience under all circumstances is not the supreme virtue in a democracy. On the other hand, obedience under appropriate conditions is essential to co-ordinated group activity, without which civilization could not exist." The American Youth Commission of the American Council on Education declares that democracy demands two types of citizenship—conforming and contributing.

The law speaks too softly to be heard amidst the din of arms.—Gaius Marius, Roman soldier and statesman.

St. Clair Named To Hoover Group

Ex-President Herbert Hoover, honorary chairman of National Committee for Food for Small Democracies, has appointed O. A. St. Clair, head department of industrial engineering, as one of the three Texans to serve on this committee.

Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls attorney and Grace Noll Crowell, past poet-laureate of Texas are the other members from this state. Among the national dignitaries on the committee are such men as Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Theodore Roosevelt Jr., Gen. John J. Pershing and other high officials of both church and state.

Purpose of this committee, according to information received from American feeling that steps should be taken to prevent starvation in the small democracies of Finland, Norway, Holland, Belgium and central Poland, so that arrangements may be made with Germany and the British government to send food supplies to starving people in these countries.

It is not the aim of the committee to give out-right aid to these countries, but only to allow them to use their monetary reserves in this country to buy these bulk foods and to bring about an agreement by which goods may pass through the British and German blockades to the smaller countries.

Christmas And Easter Slack Seasons At Tech Post Office, Says Postmaster

"I wrote a letter to my mom" I chant Tech students, but unlike the nursery rhyme in which the letter was dropped, Joe College and Betty Coed simplify matters by merely forgetting to address letters correctly. Mail is delivered to and carried from the Tech post office four times daily, with about 2,300 separate pieces of first-class mail delivered daily to students living on the campus.

Department mail, parcels, second and third class mail increases the number to about 3,000 daily, enough to make a Hollywood movie star jealous.

Students Asked To Join Arbor Day Planting

Students and faculty are asked to participate in the fourth annual Arbor day to be held on the campus March 14 from 3-5 p. m.

Under the sponsorship of the Plant Industry club trees will be planted in the enclosure behind Doak hall, similar to the Aggie Grove and to replace trees in other areas.

Volunteering students and faculty members are asked to fill in the blank below, and send it to Prof. O. B. Howell, supervisor for Arbor day, before March 10.

Toreador In Counsel Editor Appoints Policy Council

In order to form closer cooperation between students and faculty and to coordinate various divisions on the campus, Bill Wood, editor of THE TOREADOR, has appointed four students to act as editorial council. They are, Doris Peavy, Louie Johnston, Sam Johnson and Fanibeth Harris.

Meeting each week, primary duty of the council will be to discuss editorial policies of THE TOREADOR.

It's An Expensive Tinkle That Rings A $4,683 Bell

Tinkle of broken glass and damaged equipment in the chemistry building this year and a half hit the student breakage deposit a $4,683.03 blow.

Of this sum $3,060.16 was charged during the terms of 1939-40 and $1,622.87 during the last full term. Next in the deposit carve-up was the library. Books damaged, unreturned, and kept out too long, summed up a penalty of $1,186.73.

Third in ill-treatment was the dormitories. Extent of damages these was $735.65. Miscellaneous penalties amounted to $491.63. Total fines and breakage charges for the past year and one-half was $7,097.04.

Tin Pan Alley

By A. C. LAMBERT

WINNERS of the Academy awards have been announced and the boys around the office are saying I do it with mirrors because I picked two and suggested another of the major award winners in this spot a fortnight ago.

My pick for the best film of the year was "Rebecca" and behold the Academy did choose that production also. Then Walter Brennan got this concert's award for the best supporting role in "The Westerner" and he got his Oscar. In picking the major awards, the office coke bottle went to Raymond Massey for "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," but it was suggested that James Stewart's performance in "The Philadelphia Story" must not be overlooked as a possibility. Stewart got the award, and I'm satisfied thus far.

WINNERS of the Academy awards have been announced and the boys around the office are saying I do it with mirrors because I picked two and suggested another of the major award winners in this spot a fortnight ago.

My pick for the best film of the year was "Rebecca" and behold the Academy did choose that production also. Then Walter Brennan got this concert's award for the best supporting role in "The Westerner" and he got his Oscar. In picking the major awards, the office coke bottle went to Raymond Massey for "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," but it was suggested that James Stewart's performance in "The Philadelphia Story" must not be overlooked as a possibility. Patronesses Honored At Sunday Gathering

Patriotic decorations were the theme of the Sans Souci breakfast at 8:30 Sunday morning in the Hilton hotel ballroom in honor of the club patronesses.

Patronesses attending were Mesdames Floyd Beall, president; L. E. Davis, Richard Douglass, W. H. Evans, W. F. Dean, D. K. Bondurant, Rayford Hills, George Simmons Sr., A. V. Weaver, C. E. Maedgen, E. L. Klett, George Benson, J. E. Vickers, Arno Dalby, J. H. Stiles, Olen Key, Don Mitchell, Ralph Trolinger, Neil Wright, Hub Jones, E. N. Chitwood, Fred Snyder, Waldo Trotter and Miss Frada Hunt. Sponsors of the club, Miss Jonnie McCreey and Mrs. Edna Lyles, will also attend.

Members present were: Margery Hills, president; Doris Peavy, vice-president; Mary Catherine Booth, secretary; Cora Jean Watson, treasurer; Betty Burke, Ruth Campbell, Sara Davis, Wilma Ruth Forbis, Helen Jarrott, Mary Jarrott, Dee Kelly Lanell Huribut, Billy Levens, Etolie McLeod, Kitti McCallum, Marilyn Miller, Jane Parris, Mary Paxton, Jane Pickett, Dina Tredway and Helen Thomas.

Pledges attending were: Ollie Sue Armstrong, Harriet Bordwell, Ophelia May Beall, Audrey Sinky, Virginia Bowman, Monte Jo Brahear, Betty Rhea Caldwell, Fannie Dale Cheek, Martha Clark, Jane E. # Red Raiders Begin Spring Football Practice April 1

Dell Morgan Arrives Today To Assume Coaching Duties

BY DUTCHY SPRAGUE
Toreador Sports Writer

Texas Tech's newly appointed head coach, Dell Morgan, will probably arrive in Lubbock today to assume his duties. Spring football practice will most likely begin on, or about, April 1.

Coach Morgan, whose three-year contract went into effect immediately upon his appointment, says that he wants to get acquainted with his prospective material before officially starting spring training.

Morley Jennings, director of athletics and head of the department of physical education, will come to Lubbock in about two weeks although his contract is not effective until June 1. He was signed to a two-year contract that expires of athletics, handle finances of the Jennings will direct all phases August 31, 1943.

Coach Morgan, whose three-year contract went into effect immediately upon his appointment, says that he wants to get acquainted with his prospective material before officially starting spring training.

He will not be considered a "coach," but will be free to lend his assistance to the coaches in any manner he sees fit. He will supervise all physical education classes and probably teach some courses in the department.

Morgan, head football coach, will also be a professor of physical education, direct spring training, aid in making schedules and make contacts with potential athletes. His contract expires January 1, 1944.

Coach Berl Huffman was elevated to assistant varsity football coach, and retained as head basketball mentor and associate professor of physical education. His two-year contract begins September 1, 1941, and terminates March 1, 1943.

Walker Nichols, former Tech football captain was named freshman football coach and basketball coach and varsity track coach. He will be assistant professor of physical education. His contract becomes effective September 1, 1941, and expires June 1, 1943.

Assistant to the director of athletics will be Gwyn C. "Mule" Dowell, and his duties will be established by the director of athletics. His one-year contract begins July 1, 1941 and ends June 30, 1942.

Lewis "Doc" Spears was named instructor in the department of physical education and trainer of athletic teams. His duties will include teaching of physical education classes, and the training of football, basketball, and other teams. His contract, for one year's duration, starts September 1, 1941 and terminates June 1, 1942.

These selections were approved by the Board of Directors in a campus meeting last Saturday when they officially accepted recommendations submitted by the athletic council.

Sarah Lawrence college has received an unrestricted grant of $35,000 from the Carnegie corporation.

DELL MORGAN, newly appointed Red Raider football coach, who will move to the helm in spring practice beginning about April 1.

Tennis And Golf Tournaments Begin Week From Today

All entries in the intramural golf and tennis tournaments must be in his office by Saturday, March 8, according to "Doc" Spears, intramural director.

Both tournaments will open Wednesday, March 12 and end as soon as matches can be run off. Golf play will be held at Meadowbrook course, northeast of town, tennis on the Tech courts, north of Horn hall. No entrance fees will be charged but entrants in the golf tournament must pay green fees. These, however, will be at reduced rates.

No one will be allowed to enter unless he is sponsored by some club. Four members constitute a golf team, three make up a tennis entry.

A committee consisting of Spears, Jim Brigham, and L. D. Whitely will have control of both tournaments. Clubs seeking information should see any of these three.

Pairing and dates for each entry will be made Monday and posted on the bulletin board at the Dear of Mens office.

Last year, Men's Inter-club council sponsored tournaments for members of social clubs and both were successful enough to acquire the backing of the intramural directors for this year. Silver Key won the tennis championship and Centaur captured the golf crown.

Yep! They Know Something About Playing Baseball

Revival of the talk that Tech may go in for baseball as a major sport within the next year or two lends interest to the fact that both Morley Jennings and Dell Morgan are experienced veterans of the game.

A recent statement from the athletic council chairman indicated that some planning for a baseball diamond had already been done, and that serious consideration was being devoted to the matter.

Cawthon, Smith Commended At Board Meeting

"The commendation of Coach P. W. Cawthon and Assistant Coach Russell T. Smith for their long period of efficient and effective service in developing athletics, particularly football, at Texas Technological college and especially for the wide national publicity given to our institution and wish them every success in their future undertakings was the substance of a resolution adopted by the board of directors in its Saturday meeting. The resolution had been submitted by the athletic council, along with recommendations of coaches.

Seventy-nine games won, 28 lost, and 6 tied is the record that Cawthon and Smith leave as football coaches during their Texas Tech regime, which began in 1930 and continued through the past football season.

Under Cawthon, the Raiders played teams from 19 different states, and acquired fame as one of the most colorful and widely traveled teams in the nation.

Pete had chances this winter to sign with the Philadelphia Eagles, and Detroit Lions, pro football teams, but refused to accept terms which did not allow him to select assistants. He has not released any plans for the future at the present time.

Cawthon and Smith will give way to the new staff some time this week, just as soon as arrangements for the change can be made.

Tech Golf Club Renews Talk Of Campus Course

Texas Tech Golf club will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in room 302 of the Administration building.

Main topic of the meeting will involve continued discussion of installing a nine-hole sand-green course on the campus.

Plans for such a course were submitted at the last meeting and were pledged the support of the entire membership.

J. W. Jackson, coach, and Robert "Cotton" Allen, newly elected president, have again expressed their desire that more students join the club and get behind the move to

Trackmen Kick Cinders To Get Set For Laredo

With prospects brighter than at any time since Marsh Farmer and Elmer Tarbox were setting the Border Conference a fire in 1938, Coach Berl Huffman's tracksters are hurriedly getting into shape for the Border Olympics at Laredo next month.

Although bad weather has kept the group inside for the past week and their coach is busy with basketball, the boys have already started hitting their stride.

Only Lewis Locke, E. J. McKnight, Bob Duncan and Robert Keyes are returning lettermen but with a large number of sophomores and transfers filling the ranks, Coach Huffman expects a good season.

The list of candidates include, 100 and 220 yard dashes: Thyne Amonett, E. J. McKnight and Bob Duncan; 440 yard dash, J. R. Caldwell; 880 yard dash, Barkley Meadows and Red Reynolds; mile run, John Campbell; shot put and discus, Newman Ledbetter, Robert Keyes; broad jump, McKnight and Amonett; pole vault, Bob Roberts; high jump, McCulloch.

BURLY BERL Huffman's Red Raider basketballers have posted the best cage record in the annals of Texas Tech's athletics this season, with 19 victories against five defeats, compiling more than 1000 points against their 24 opponents.

In their past four games, the men in Red have rolled up 196 points against 121 for their opposition. Friday and Saturday nights of last week, Huffman's Hoopmen blasted Hardin-Simmons in Abilene to sweep a two-game season finale series. The first encounter found the Raiders taking a 52-27 victory.

In the second, Tech won 49-31. Already playing in the Southwestern Invitation tournament in El Paso, Huffman's outfit is in line for a bid to Madison Square Garden's eight-team tournament later this month.

To date, Bob Andis is in the van of individual scoring with 203 points and Jake Geron trails a close second with 202.

The Raiders have ridden their 24 opponents for a total of 1098 points, holding their adversaries to an aggregate score of 827.

ASME Papers Get Preview Monday

Preliminary presentation of papers to be given at the annual Southwestern District meeting of ASME in Houston March 28 and 29 read at the regular meeting of the Tech society Monday at 7:15 p.m., room E150.

Willard Bauman read a paper on "High Speed Indicators," and Bill Dingus will read a paper on "Inertia Supercharging." The technical papers will be in competition with papers presented from other schools.

Students planning to make the trip to Houston are George Fairley, John Marshall, Wesley Powell, Jack Mooney, Andy McIntosh, Pat Patterson, Roy McNeill, D. B. Wood, Dingus and Bauman. H. L. Kipp, honorary chairman, will accompany the group.

Athletic De-emphasis Is Not Contemplated At Texas Tech

Absolutely no basis exists for the continued rumors and reports that Texas Tech is beginning a move to de-emphasize athletics, according to W. L. Stangel, chairman of the athletic council.

At least two national sports columns have carried statements in the past ten days that Pete Cawthon resigned as football coach at Tech because of impending re-employment in the athletic field, especially in football. Mr. Stangel was emphatic in his statement that no such intention had ever been voiced in any meeting of the athletic council. The statement was made at the council meeting which officially released the names of the new coaching staff at Tech.

In a thumbnail sketch of future football schedules, Stangel brought out the fact that negotiations are either underway or contemplated to arrange games with four schools of the Southwest conference. Nothing definite, Stangel pointed out, has developed along this line yet, but such contracts are within the realm of possibility.

Games with A&M in '42, '43, and '44 are under consideration by the officials of both schools.

Other Southwest conference schools with whom games may possibly be arranged are SMU, TCU, and Baylor. The employment of Morley Jennings as athletic director and Dell Morgan as head football coach was noted as a move that should greatly facilitate Tech's scheduling of future athletic contests with members of the Southwestern conference.

Board Endorses Summer Budget

Advanced Civil Pilot Course Approved

In addition to appointment of faculty members in the athletic department, members of the board of directors Saturday approved the summer school budget, sanctioned staff appointments, and attended to other routine business matters.

The summer school budget for $77,183.94 was approved. Also passed upon were subsidiary budgets for the summer band school and vocational courses now being taught in connection with the national defense program.

Sanction was given courses in production engineering, shop work, welding and advanced instruction in civil pilot training. Staff appointments were approved for the following special instructors in these courses: Neuman T. Davis, welding; Cecil S. J. Phillips, production engineering; James Richard Van Dyke, ground school instruction in pilot training; and Carl T. Nowell, shop work.

Also approved were the appointments of Dwight L. McCrea, instructor in Bible, and Eugene Benton, government instructor.

A leave of absence for one year was granted Dr. D. W. Alden, instructor in the foreign language department. The leave is for the 1941-42 term.

Cognizance was taken and plans discussed for the hearing of the legislative committees to be held on the campus this week. Plans were discussed also for the Latin-American seminar to be held during the summer session in cooperation with the Federated Women's clubs.

A resolution of regret at the death of the late board chairman, Joe T. Sneed Jr., of Amarillo, was adopted.

The board was in session from 10 o'clock until 12:30 o'clock. After lunch all the directors made a brief inspection tour of the campus.

Members attending were: Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie, Mark McGee, Fort Worth; Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City; Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock; Milburn McCarty, Eastland; W. T. Gaston and President Clifford B. Jones, Lubbock.

mathematics to include plane geometry, college algebra, and trigonometry. In addition, applicants are preferred who have had mathematics to include analytical geometry, spherical trigonometry, and differential and integral calculus. Third priority classification: those who have satisfactorily completed two years of accredited college work and who have had the mathematics outlined in the second priority classification. In all cases the quality of the applicant's collegiate scholastic record will be considered.

The physical requirements are somewhat less rigid than those required for pilot training insofar as the requirements for visual acuity are concerned; however, in general the high physical standards now applicable to flying cadets must be met.

Applications for this training should be submitted in triplicate direct to the chief of the air corps. The regular flying cadet application blanks may be used but notation should be made thereon that "navigation" training is desired. Three letters of recommendation, transcript of college work and birth certificate, if not previously submitted, should also be furnished. Blanks are obtainable from the military science department of this college.

Grounds and equipment worth more than $500,000 have been acquired in the last year by Washington and Jefferson college.

Coed's Corner

Doak Hall Girls Not So Lucky As Lubbock Co-Eds

By Doris Peavy

FOR THESE windy spring days get a stars and stripes scarf to hold down your curls. Carry a flag vanity, and red, white and blue striped ribbons in your hair. It's all too simple. Nothing can be done to the plaid suit of last year, but then name a spring that plaids have not been good.

For spring coats, navy blue will always get the vote. Starched white colors and princess lines with swing skirts will catch the eye for neatness and style.

Everything buttons, but don't forget to paint your brass ones with a light coat of colorless finger nail polish to keep them from tarnishing.

Take a couple of deep tucks in the back of your box coat and you'll be all set with a brand new wardrobe.

Lubbock girls who are attending Texas Technological college certainly were privileged characters Monday night. There were very few of them that missed the Russ Morgan dance. It's a funny thing that at public dances it is the middle aged people who do the drinking, but the kids get the blame.

In Saturday's column, I wrote that Beth Newton and boy friend were through. From observation at the Social dance, I must have been wrong.

At the Gargoyle "Gay Nineties" dance last week end, Mattie Lou Christian and Lee Heatley won the prize for being the best costumed couple. Lynn Anderson was chosen the typical "Gay Nineties" girl and Robert Rapier was the prize winning best dressed boy.

The prizes were watercolor and pencil drawings by Miss Edna Houghton, instructor in architecture and allied arts, and Robert Lockard, assistant professor of architecture and allied arts.

The celebration included a parade of blankets. The first 17 blankets are, a barbecue lunch, and auction sold grossed $1700.

The mill is a 300 spindle mill and is capable of turning out 100 blankets a day. The mill has made arrangements for custom spinning, weaving and making yarns or blankets from wool supplied by local ranchers for their own use.

Pipe-Collecting Professors Put Comfort Before Looks

BY PHYLLIS HENRY Toreador Staff Writer

FOR years men have chortled and women fumed over Kipling's famous line.

"For a woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke."

A. E. Strehli, Fred W. Sparks and T. C. Root may not stand out for the feminine side, but they don't agree with Kipling either if that's any consolation.

Although Mr. Strehli collects nothing but briar pipes, Mr. Root keeps any pipe that attracts his attention and Dr. Sparks accumulates good-smoking pipes of all kinds. The three agree that pipe smoking gives greater satisfaction than any other use of tobacco.

Like most pipe smokers, Strehli, associate professor in the foreign language department, but he is sticking to a good thing once he finds it. He sees no point in getting away from his collection of smokable briar pipes.

He is not a collector for accumulation's sake, but adds new pipes when he sees one that he likes or when friends give them to him. Professor Strehli leaves his pipes scattered around in his coat pockets, his desk, his car and at home so he will always have one handy.

He is also a cigarette smoker since pipes are inconvenient for most social occasions. He is completely neutral on the subject of women smoking, but does not like to see students smoking in classes.

T. C. Root, professor of economics and business administration department, collects pipes for two reasons; for interesting appearance and for smoking satisfaction.

He has about 60 pipes in his collection. He hopes to add every new kind of pipe he can find to the collection.

First to catch the visitor's eye is the "Hookah," Turkish water pipe. The smoke passes through a vase filled with water and a long flexible tube to the smoker.

The collection varies from Indian corn-cobs on the peace-maker type to a fantastically curved clay pipe from Holland with a picture that comes to view as the pipe is colored by smoking.

He has a short golf pipe made so the golfer can see the ball while smoking. There is one with an angle in the stem made to rest on the smoker's chin so the lazy man won't have to clench the stem between his teeth.

Mr. Root's smallest pipe is a charm sent with an invitation to a party. His smallest practical pipes are two vest pocket editions that can be folded.

Like Mr. Strehli he believes that a good pipe does not need special breaking in. The secret of a soothing smoke is plenty of pipe cleaner and a frequent change of pipes.

With pipes carved to resemble dogs, skeletons, turks, a cigar, underslung like a bulldog's jaw and of every other conceivable shape, Mr. Root still contends he has never seen a pipe as odd as the plainest hat any modern woman wears.

Prize of the collection is a "calabash" or gourd pipe with a gutta percha stem and pipe clay bowl. Dr. Sparks' collection is starred by the calabash pipe with amber stem and meerschaum bowl covered by Professor Root.
