

Layne, Johnson To Share Sports Spotlight Tonight

Bobby Layne and Presto Johnson, Southwest conference football players whose names are high in national history, will share the spotlight with Texas Tech gridmen in Jones stadium tonight.

Sixty five Red Raiders will be in uniform for the gala Double-T Sports Parade, starting shortly before 8 p.m. Between halves of the regulation intra-squad football game, what has been termed by sponsors as "a jam-packed demonstration" of various sports will be offered.

Layne, All-American at Texas and an assistant coach of the Raiders this spring, will demonstrate passing which assisted in bringing him national recognition. Johnson, whose puntini average for SMU in the late 1930's was better than 70 yards, will show his kicking prowess as another feature of the program. In practice during the past week he has punted over 80 yards numerous times. Once in his college days he booted the ball 92 yards in the air to set Pitt back on its heels.

Elmer Tarbox, Tech halfback in 1938-41, whose ability with the ball brought the title of "Elmer the Great," also will participate in the program, spotlighted in the center of the field, giving a pantomime of a woman taking a bath. The act always "brought down the house" when put on during the Fun Nights which formerly featured social life at Tech.

Students, former students and friends of the college are joining in sponsoring the Sports Parade, with the original plan to assist in raising money for construction of a new athletic dormitory on the campus.

"Tech needs living quarters on the campus which are on a par with team schedules," Arch Lamb, former Tech head cheerleader and general chairman of the sponsoring committee, declared. "Everyone who attends the Sports Parade and who participates in the many events will be doing his or her part toward bringing a fine new dormitory to Tech."

D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Ex-Student association, has arranged the half-time program, which will include demonstrations of boxing, fencing, rope skipping, tumbling, and weight lifting in a three-ring circus fashion. Bands and majorettes will parade and teams from high schools of the South Plains will stage football relay races.

A tennis match also will be staged and American Legion Boy Scouts, directed by Chief Runkles, are to put on an Indian dance. On a stage in the center of the field square dance teams also will be presented in a quick-moving dance.

"Things will move fast and, like at a circus, the fans will have to keep eyes moving to get a glimpse of everything," McElroy announced.

Bob "Parky" Parkinson, junior A&S student from Pampa, has PASSER—A passing demonstration by Bobby Layne, former All-American back from Texas university, will be featured along with an intra-squad grid class tonight in Jones stadium.

Names Of 82 Candidates To Appear On General Spring Election Ballot

VOLUME XXIII Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Saturday, April 9, 1949 NUMBER 47

World Student Service Fund Drive To Be Staged At Tech April 26-28

The World Student Service Fund drive on Tech campus has stepped into high gear with the appointment of an advisory council to plan and conduct the campaign. Dates of the drive are April 26-28.

Chairman of the council is Marion Baumgardner. Members include: Roy Tree, Student Council; Bill McCasland, Chamber of Commerce; Lois Cone, Association of Women Students; Floyd Rector, Student Religious council; Frank Austin, APO; Bill Hoffman, Men's Inter-Club council; Gay Reeves, Women's Inter-Club council.

Contributions to the World Student Service Fund campaign here will directly benefit university students and teachers in war-devastated nations all over the world. Baumgardner said yesterday.

"The Fund, only national organization pledged to give aid to university people in all parts of the world, regardless of race, color, or creed, is working today in Europe, China, and Southeast Asia," he said.

A nation-wide solicitation, the campaign will provide money for purchase of clothing, books, food, and equipment which cannot be produced or obtained anywhere else—X-ray machines, microscopes, and mimeograph machines.

Included in the benefits of the WSSF are housing and establishment or support of student rest centers and sanatoria. From the Fund comes medical aid, especially vitamin preparations.

The Fund this year is offering its aid to students in 13 nations, while students in its 20 other member countries are participating in money-raising operations on hundreds of campuses.

Tech Varsity Show May Go On Road

"Milestones in Melody", 1949 Varsity show, may go on the road and play to local high school audiences, Lewis Terrell, publicity director, has stated.

All plans for the tour are tentative, said Terrell, but it is expected that the show will be cut to 40 minutes of playing time and be presented as a good-will gesture.

The show closed Wednesday night after a successful three-night run in the Lubbock Senior high school auditorium.

Pre-Election Rally Slated For Monday

A chance to view the campus political hopefuls will be offered all students 7 p.m. Monday night when the annual pre-election rally is staged, Oscar Allen, president of the Tech Chamber of Commerce, has announced.

Feature of the event, to be held on the Ad building green, will be two minute speeches by candidates for the major student association offices. Allen indicated. Cheer leaders aspirants will make one minute campaign talks and candidates for all other positions will be introduced.

Joe Meador will act as master of ceremonies at the rally. Allen said that a large turnout of students interested in campus affairs is expected.

Student Council To Vote Monday On Amendment

The Student Council will vote Monday night on a proposed amendment to the Student constitution, Clint Formby, president, has stated.

The amendment would change the method whereby the editors of La Ventana and The Toreador are chosen. It would empower the Publications committee to choose qualified persons for the editorial positions. They are at present elected from the student body.

If the proposed amendment passes the Student Council by a two-thirds majority, it will probably be presented to students to vote on during the general election run-off April 20, Formby said.

Formby expressed approval of the amendment but indicated that he believed too many faculty members are on the Publications committee for its choice of editor to reflect the voice of the student body.

There are six faculty members on the committee and six students.

Engineers Are Interviewed

In addition to mechanical engineers being interviewed by Chance Vought Aircraft, industrial, electrical, and civil engineering students also will be interviewed on the same days, Monday and Tuesday, Mrs. Jean Jenkins, executive secretary of the Placement office, said. Interested students should complete individual interviews immediately.

LEAGUERS NEED LODGING

Dennis Ford, instructor in the accounting department and director of housing accommodations for the Interscholastic League is interested in contacting anyone who will be able to give lodging to Interscholastic League participants on Friday night, April 22.

Campus politicians go into the final stages of campaign frenzy today, as only two more days remain before Techsians go to the polls Tuesday to vote in the general spring election.

There are 82 candidates running for 30 student offices for next year. A total of 86 students took out petitions but the registrar's office declared four ineligible.

Voting will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the divisional buildings. The divisions of business administration and arts and sciences will not vote in the same booth as has been the practice in the past. Arts and sciences students will vote in the east side of the Administration building rotunda and business administration students in the west side.

Absentee ballots may be cast from 4-5 p.m. Monday in the Student Council office, Ad-323, Clint Formby, president of the council, has stated. To vote on the absentee ballot a student must have a legitimate excuse for being absent Tuesday, signed by an instructor, Formby said.

Student Council Executive Offices

Running for the number one campus position, president of the Student Council, are Bob Stewart, agriculture student from Jacksboro, and Curtis Sterling, junior arts and sciences student from Knapp.

Marshall Gettys, junior engineering student from Amarillo, and James Rider, senior engineering student from Waco, seek vice-presidency of the council.

Raymond Brigham, junior agriculture student from Stamford, has no opposition for business manager of the council.

Grass And Legume Garden Project Is Experiment Of Plant Industry

By JACK WALKER
Toreador Staff Writer

The department of plant industry is starting a garden project which is expected to be valuable in class work instruction and pasture planning.

Under the supervision of Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department, additional grass and legume plots are to be planted south of the livestock pavilion. This garden will have 240 different plots which will include many varieties of grasses and legumes of economic importance. These plots will be 15 by 20 feet in size. Each plot will have a different variety of grass or legume separated by a six foot walk.

According to Doctor Young, this garden project will take two years to develop and will be a big help to agriculture students in learning to recognize the different kinds of grasses. The Soil Conservation Service regional office is cooperating in planning the garden.

About 75 per cent of the plots will be in varieties of buffalo grass, Kentucky blue grass, Texas blue grass, mesquite grass, rescue grass, broom grass, Dallas grass, slender grama, blue grama, black grama, and others. Approximately 35 per cent of the area will be devoted to legumes which will include alfalfa, white clover, ladino clover, red clover, emerald sweet clover, madrid sweet clover, hairy vetch, lespedeza, cow peas, soy beans, and others.

At present there are 60 plots for class room instruction and experimentation. With the expansion of the garden plot, the agriculture student can study grass varieties in greater detail.

Doctor Young, Judd Morrow, assistant professor of agronomy, and Dean A. H. Leidigh, professor of agronomy, will keep records showing how the various grasses and legumes respond to moisture and temperature during the growing season. In the future, grass identification contests will be held using specimens from the garden. These contests will be held on a high school vocational basis and at college levels. The need for reseeding overgrazed range lands, increasing interest in irrigated pasture lands, and the need for a wider education on grasses and legume plants have been the major factors stimulating the development of this project on the campus.

Following the development of this garden, all species will be labeled and the garden will be open for public inspection and study.

Basis Of Toreador Summer Finance Changed By Group

A change in the financing of the summer Toreador was inaugurated at Monday's Publication Committee meeting. A. B. Streib, committee head, has announced.

The summer editor and business manager were formerly paid no salary, but divided the gains and losses between themselves at the end of their term. The present change places these two officers on the same salary basis as those of the spring and fall officers. The editor will be paid a salary of $50 per month and the business manager will work on a commission basis.

Previously the summer Toreador was run on income from advertisements and subscriptions from the summer recreation committee.

From the summer activity fee, six cents each six weeks per student enrolled is taken to supplement the paper's income from advertisements.

Committee Turns Down Request To Okay Candidacy

The Publications committee Thursday refused an application of Fred Gibson, junior business administration student, asking that his name be placed on Tuesday's ballot as a candidate for La Ventana editor.

Gibson based his plea on a clause in the student constitution which states: "The Publications committee shall pass on the qualifications of each candidate (for La Ventana editor) and may enter names of additional qualified candidates on the ballot."

Prof. A. B. Streib, head of the committee, stated that the group, to his knowledge, had never used this authority in the past and could not justify breaking the precedent at this time, thereby encouraging students to circumscribe regular election channels. Gibson had presented petitions bearing over 100 names. Regular deadline for filing election petitions with the council, however, was March 20.

College Directors To Discuss School Building Problems

When Tech's Board of Directors meets in Austin Monday, it will for the first time consider recommendations of the board's building committee for a long-range construction plan.

The committee has been gathering data relative to classroom, office and laboratory space needs since the board earmarked $1,960,000 of the college's unappropriated funds for building at its February-10-11 sessions on the campus.

Included in the information collected by the committee are the total amount in square feet of floor space used at present, the amount required to accommodate growing enrollments in the future.

The board is expected to make more definite allocations of funds at the Monday meeting set to begin at 9:30 a. m. in the Stephen F. Austin hotel. The committee is to convene prior to the board's session.

Also on the agenda for the board will be consideration of parking needs and campus lighting and possible changes in scholastic requirements and regulations.

Attending the meeting from Tech will be Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president; W. T. Gaston, college business manager and secretary to the board; and Frank Junell, assistant to the president and assistant secretary to the board.

Panel Discussion To Be Featured In Southwestern Journalism Congress

When some 200 delegates from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana colleges convene April 29-30 at Texas Tech for the annual Southwestern Journalism Congress, leadership in the various fields of journalism will be on hand for a full two-day program.

In addition to speakers picked from over the nation for general sessions, a number of young men prominent in southwest journalism have been chosen to conduct a panel which is to be a sounding-board for student questions and opinions.

Selected to serve on the panel are: Koen Rafferty, head of the journalism department at the University of New Mexico; R. W. Whipkey, a publisher, from the Big Spring Herald; Bill Donnell, a city editor, from the Wichita Falls Times; and Forrest Weimhold, editor and publisher of Hockley County Herald, Levelland. Rafferty, as a teacher of journalism outside the congress and an experienced newspaper man having served as assistant news editor for the Baltimore Sun, is to be panel chairman.

The panel will afford students one of their best participating opportunities, since they will be free to ask any question relative to the profession of journalism, Clark Schooley, assistant professor of journalism and panel organizer, said. He said also that delegates "will have a chance at all the speakers to find out the answers to some of their journalistic problems."

Although the congress is of primary interest to students in the journalism department, several campus organizations in other divisions have signified interest in the congress and are joining in social entertainment.

Exposed Car Act To Be On Exhibit

Displays of machines and mechanisms which people frequently use will be featured in the mechanical engineers' exhibits in the annual Tech Engineer's show to be held April 22-23.

An example of this will be the completely exposed-action automobile differential, or the power transmitting the rear wheels will be demonstrated showing why one rear wheel may be stopped while the other rotates freely.

Another exhibit is a refrigeration system designed especially for the show. A complete explanation of the refrigeration system will be given and the action that actually takes place in the system may be seen in the transparent cooling coil. A self-contained air-conditioning unit will be displayed along with deep-well pumps for irrigation and water supply purposes.

These two latter exhibits, the air conditioning unit and the deep-well pumps, were chosen because they are two of the most vital engineering problems in this part of the country.

Men will be posted to provide continuous, brief explanations of all their colorful displays, many of which are natural physical phenomena that directly affect the everyday life of everyone.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president, gave the principal address at a dinner Monday night of the Lubbock Optimist club.

Dr. J. P. Blitz, head of the music department, directed the combined classes in singing "Crossing the Bar" — "The quality of the singing was very good," said Doctor Blitz.

Mrs. Mamie Neal, professor of pipe organ at Tech, accompanied her classes at the organ.

Foreign language teachers and students will attend a Spanish American Fiesta Saturday at West Texas State college. Mrs. South Mae Tucker, language instructor, was announced.

Injuries Riddle Tech's Hopes In Abilene Track Meet Today

By OTICE GREEN
Toreador Staff Writer

Track Coach Maxey McKnight is without two top performers for the quadrangular meet in Abilene today as the Raiders meet ACC, McMurry and Hardin-Simmons. Charles Reynolds, Border conference dash champion, suffered a broken blood vessel in his foot and torn leg muscles Monday afternoon in practice.

Ben Wilson, quarter and half miler, pulled a muscle in his leg. Both men will be out for at least a week, and Reynolds may not be back this season.

As a result of these injuries Tech will be handicapped in the relays as well as individual events. Reynolds has been running the 110 and 220 yard dashes and on the sprint and mile relay teams. Wilson has been running the 440 and 800 yard runs and on the mile relay team.

Coach McKnight is using Ed Clepper, James Mullins and Seth Murphey again on his sprint relay quartet, with Joe Wilson, a quarter miler, replacing Reynolds. On the mile relay Costin Bufkin and Joe Wilson, regulars, will run along with Seth Murphey, a sprint man, and Harold Barber, a distance runner. Neither Murphey or Barber have run the quarter this year.

Coach McKnight praised Bufkin's progress in the 440 yard dash. "Bufkin will break 50 seconds in the quarter before the season is over. He sure is coming along," he said.

Clepper is entered in the high and low hurdles, broad and high jump and is running on the sprint relay. He was high point man last year and placed second in the Texas Relays last weekend in the high jump.

Others on the team are: Barber, distance runs; Bufkin, 440 and mile relay; Henry Briscoe, javelin; Jim Elliott, javelin and weights; Edgar Hawkins, distance runs; Mullins, sprints; Murphey, sprints; Ted Peabody, weights; Joe Overton, high and broad jumps; Ed Wilson, 880 yard run; Joe Wilson, 440 and mile relay; Frank Douglas, broad jump and 440; Claude Freeman, 1948 Border conference two-mile champion, distance runs; and Gerald Davis, weights. The team left early this morning by bus and will probably return tonight.

Silver Keys went through the season without a defeat to win first place in the MICC league. Wranglers lost only one game to place second, and Kemas won third place.

"Competition between MICC teams was keener this year than in recent years as is evidenced by total scores of all the teams," said Roland Drake, intramurals official.

There is a difference of only seven points between total scores of third, second and first place winners, he pointed out.

Keys scored 204 points, Wranglers made 202 points, and Kemas scored 197 points.

Wranglers, Keys Dominate MICC All-Star Cage Team

MICC All-Star intramural basketball team has been selected by league officials, announced George Philbrick, intramural sports director.

Ed Smith, of Los Camaradas, and Bo Barkowski, Wrangler, were picked as the two top forwards of the year. Smith made a total of 60 points during the year, and Barkowski netted 49 points.

Monte Roy, of the Kemas, and Joe Wheatley, Silver Key, were chosen as the two best guards. Wheatley scored 75 points during the year, more than any other man, and Roy dropped 55 markers.

Carter Page, Wranglers' center, and Sam Davis, who plays either guard or forward for Silver Keys, were named by the officials to

Tech Tennis Teams To Play SMU, H-SU This Afternoon

Texas Tech's tennis team will be host to Southern Methodist university and Tech's "B" squad will play Hardin-Simmons university at Abilene this afternoon.

Tentative lineups for the "A" squad, playing SMU here beginning at 2 p.m., have been announced by Coach Glenn Ivy as Jake Broyles of Lamesa, Carl Schmidt of Mexico City, Eddwin Scudday of Lubbock and Ivey, also of Lubbock.

Joe Wheatley, Pittsburgh, Calif.; David Hester, Lubbock; Jack Prentiss, Laredo; and Emil Beck, San Angelo will form the "B" squad which journeys to Hardin-Simmons Saturday.

Tech beat SMU, 4-2, in their last meeting at Dallas. SMU won the number 2 doubles and the number 3 singles matches. Coach Ivey said the match with SMU may prove to be close because SMU will undoubtedly be out for a win against the Raiders.

"We beat them fairly easy last time, but even at that there were several times during that match that the score could have gone either way," Ivey said.

The team will be gone a week, beginning April 14, to participate in the nationally-recognized River Oaks tournament in Houston, April 19-20. The Raiders will have matches with Texas university and the University of Houston on their way to the tournament.

Squad To Depend On Fish Players

Spring basketball practice at Texas Tech will officially open Tuesday, April 19, in the gym. Coach Polk Robison has stated.

Border conference rules do not set any limitation on basketball workouts, as they do on football, and Coach Robison plans to spend about six weeks working with his men this spring. Freshmen have been working out for the past month and will be joined by members of the varsity in daily drills.

Six lettermen of the 1948-49 squad are being lost through graduation and team success next season will rest heavily on the way present freshmen come through. Coach Robison has pointed out. Gone will be William Banks, Ardis Borton, Wayne Bowles, Don Grove, C. W. Dukes and James Hill. Lettermen back will include Chester

Jackson, Gene Gibson, Charles Pinnell and Bill Eddins.

Considerable work must be done to mold the team for the next campaign, the coach has cited, but indications are that several members of last season's freshmen will "come through".

Assistance is expected to come from Weldon McClure, J. R. McAnally and James Cole, all transfers.

Freshmen candidates include:

Jack Alderson, Verdell Turner and Virgil Johnson, Lubbock; Jim Eddins, Sudan; Glen Lucas, Whiteface; Ted O'Neil, Wellington; Jim Sharp, Amarillo; Don Bagwell, Claude; and Irl Brown, Katoanah, N. Y.

The 1949-50 schedule will be partially worked out at the annual spring meeting of athletic officials of the Border conference May 13-14 in Albuquerque in connection with the conference track meet.

Tech is hardest hit by graduation of any of the nine member schools. Arizona, conference winner the past three years, will lose only two starters and two other squadmen. Other schools will lose two or three men. Each of the nine last season had a strong freshman squad and each coach is expecting major aid from this source. Tech's schedule will include competition against Southwest conference opponents, possibly a tournament entry, and Border games.

Tech's chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers will make an inspection trip to Denver, Colo., April 12, said O. A. St. Clair, head of the department of Industrial Engineering.

The group will be accompanied by Professor J. M. Penick. They will return April 16.

While in Denver, inspection trips will be made to the plants of Gates Rubber company, the National Biscuit company, General Iron Works, Rio Grande Railroad shops, a beet sugar refinery, the U. S. mint and other industries.

PETROLEUM ENGINEERS

Petroleum engineers will visit one of the Standard Oil and Gas company's off-shore drilling locations, in the Gulf of Mexico, off the coast of Galveston for their annual field trip during the Easter holidays.

The students will leave by chartered bus April 14 and will arrive in Galveston that night. They are to spend the following day on the offshore drilling platform. The group will remain there Saturday for those who wish to fish or otherwise take advantage of being in Galveston. Plans have been made to return to Lubbock on Sunday.

"The trip will certainly be worth the time and expense to any petroleum engineer. Also it coincides with the Easter holidays, and only one day of school, Thursday, will be missed," said W. L. Ducker, chairman of the department of petroleum engineering.

Expenses for the trip depend on the number going, but a $20 deposit will be taken prior to the trip. Expenses for meals will be paid by the student. Those interested should come by the petroleum engineering office and make application and a deposit of $10. The deadline for application will be today noon.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

Fifty members of the American Institute of Chemical Engineering will leave for Houston at 1 p. m. this afternoon on their annual field trip.

While in Houston the students will visit several industrial plants in order to familiarize themselves with industrial processes. The major plants to be visited are Shell Oil Refinery and Sheffield Steel plant of Houston; Monsanto Chemical plant in Texas City; and the Dow Chemical plant in Freeport.

The group will leave Houston Wednesday returning to Lubbock on Thursday after spending one night in Dallas. Dr. A. G. Oberg, associate professor of chemical engineering, will accompany the members as faculty advisor.

DAIRY MANUFACTURES

Senior dairy manufactures students will leave Tuesday on their annual field trip to milk processing plants throughout the state, said Prof. J. J. Willingham, head of dairy manufactures department.

Every year senior dairy manufactures majors take a trip to the cheese, ice cream, milk powdering, and fluid milk plants in the state, Willingham said. This trip is a requirement for completing dairy manufactures 421 he stated.

Sixteen seniors and two instructors, Willingham and W. H. Tinney, will make the trip in four cars. An estimated 2,000 miles will be covered, Willingham said. Some of the towns to be visited are Dallas, Ft. Worth, Houston, San Antonio, College Station and Abilene. The group will return to the campus April 20.

GEOLOGY MAJORS

Fred Warn and P. Eldon Dennis, lectures of geology, are to sponsor a field trip to New Mexico for geology majors during the Easter holidays.

The first stop, after leaving Friday morning, of the four day trip will be at three potash mines located on this side of Carlsbad, New Mexico. Lunch will be served to the group in one of the lunch rooms after which an underground tour of the mines will be taken. Saturday morning a tour will be taken of the Carlsbad Caverns.

Several stops will be made between Carlsbad and El Paso to study the geology of the area. Saturday night will be spent in Las Cruces. The organ music district northeast of there will be visited Sunday in order to collect minerals. The group will go on to Ruidoso Sunday night.

The last day of the trip will be spent collecting igneous, metamorphic and sedimentary rocks between Roswell and Ruidoso. Plans have been made to return to Lubbock Monday afternoon. Transportation will be provided by the school.

TEXTILE TRIP

Textile engineering students will make a trip to New Braunfels Mill near San Antonio during the Easter holidays. They will be accompanied by one or more faculty members.

H. E. Knox, 1935 graduate of Tech's textile engineering department, is superintendent of the mill.

Philosophy Forum Held Wednesday

A forum on philosophies, techniques and practices of college teachers, was presented at a meeting of the American Association of University Professors Wednesday night, announced Sam Laifebo, president of the organization and assistant professor of marketing and secretarial administration.

Subjects for discussion were on grades and grading, percentage of failures, tests and testing, background and preparation of students, freshmen counseling and orientation, grade point requirements, and teaching methods.

Participating in the discussions were Mrs. Vivian Adams, professor and head of home economics education; Ernest Wallace, assistant dean of arts and science division; Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, professor of animal husbandry; E. Richard Heineman, professor of mathematics; and Dr. E. L. Mize, associate professor of economics and management.

Farmers, Ranchers Clash Tonight In Double T Sports Parade Game

promised to present his clown act during the entire game, it was announced.

The Tech Saddle Tramps and Matador band are to take leading parts in the Sports Parade night activities. Both organizations have divided and taken sides for the evening.

Ernest Sears, Saddle Tramp president, and Tommy Scott, vice president, have been staging a campaign to see who, with sides, can sell the most student tickets for the evening. Half the Tramps will sit on one side of the field, cheering for Bill Kelley's Farmers, while the other half will be in the opposite stands, yelling for Glenn Lewis' Ranchers.

The Rancher band, directed by I. R. McEntyre, has selected "Home on the Range" as the official team song, while the Farmer band, under Wayne McDonald, will have "Farmer in the Dell" as its team song. Students of the respective sides have been asked to stand when the number is played.

At half-time a 35-piece dell and stomp band is to appear, featuring three majorettes who won 1938 high school honors as twirlers.

The regulation football game will terminate the spring training period at Tech and several thousand persons are expected to be in the stands. Officials will be Preston Johnson, Yancy Price, former Tech letterman; Curtis Barrett, director of the Lubbock City Recreation commission; J. G. "Goobler" Keyes, former Lubbock high school coach; and D. D. Judd, veteran South Plains official.

Members of the Tech athletic teams this week visited all downtown business houses in a ticket sales campaign, in many instances securing block sales. Booths have been open in downtown hotels all week, while on the campus the Saddle Tramp ticket campaign has been in progress. Student tickets are 60 cents, with price to others $1.00 and children under 12 admitted free. Turbos, ticket chairman, said he expects a crowd of upwards of 7,000 persons to be on hand, including delegations from many communities near Lubbock.

Relief For Skin Infections Seen As Tech Infirmary Gets New Lamp Equipment

An ultraviolet lamp and a short-wave battery have been recently put into operation at the infirmary, Doctor Rose has announced.

The lamp is being used to treat skin infections as acne, eczema and gingivitis infections. The rays are so potent that lengths of treatment are limited to only one-half to five minutes, and special glasses must be worn throughout the procedure.

Deep heat treatments are administered with the shortwave battery. Muscle strains and sprains are treated with this machine. A vice-shaped contour drum which radiates high frequency electrical current is placed around the injured part of the body. This heat penetrates deeply, but surface skin does not receive much heat. The equipment is approved by a number of agencies including, strangely enough, the Federal Communications committee.
