Board Considers Plans For Three Buildings Today

Plans for three new buildings and additions to the Home Economics building will be presented to the Board of Directors at a meeting at 9:30 a.m. today in the president's office Ad-217.

If the plans are approved, the board will call for contractors' bids. Frank Junell, assistant to the president, was informed Thursday that plans would be presented for the Science building also. Architects' plans for Engineering, Music and Home Economics buildings were originally scheduled to be presented today.

The building committee met yesterday to consider the plans. Committee members are C. E. Weymouth, Amarillo, chairman; Leon Ince, Houston; and Robert B. Price, El Paso. Price was unable to attend.

Walsh and Hazelwood, Amarillo, were appointed to draw up plans for the Music building at the last meeting. Other architects to report are: Wyatt C. Hedrick, Fort Worth, Science building; Atcheson and Atkinson, Lubbock, Engineering building; and Haynes and Kirby, Lubbock, Home Economics additions.

The utilities facilities committee will also present a report of its investigation on the campus. The expanded building program will call for additional facilities at Tech. Committee members are Charles Woolbridge Dallas, chairman; Ince; and Raymond Pfleger, Eden. The committee was appointed at the last board meeting.

Another matter for discussion will be the official naming of the seismological observatory here. Routine business will include the granting of short leaves of absence and hiring college personnel, Junell states.

HOLIDAY DATES ANNOUNCED

Students may leave for the Christmas holidays after their last classes Dec. 21, announces Frank Junell, assistant to the president.

Classes will resume at 8 a.m. Jan. 3, which is a day later than the date printed in the catalogue. Campus offices will be closed Dec. 22-26 and Dec. 31-Jan. 2, Junell says.

Foreign Language Marionettes To Be Taken On The Road

Midget actors who performed at Tech last summer with great success will return to the stage during the holidays for a repeat performance.

But this time the presentation will be in Little Rock, Ark. and the audience will be members of the South Central Modern Language association.

The actors are puppets — the same marionettes which students saw this summer in scenes adapted from Johann Goethe's "Faust."

Applied Arts Class Displaying Trees In Recreation Hall

Abstract and conventional Christmas trees are on display in the Green room and the Rec hall. These trees are designed and decorated by the Applied Arts 131 classes.

Decorations were made largely from salvaged material. Purpose of the project was to give students concrete practical problems in design and the experience of working in groups and on community projects that would be similar to projects in real life.

Students made small scale models for the trees. These models belong to the students and are being displayed in the applied arts department and in the lobby of the Home Economics building.

Packages under the trees were also designed and wrapped by the students as a part of the project.

As a practical test of the work, students will be sent out to buy Christmas wrappings and cards to see if their judgment and perception has improved.

George Long, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and his staff made the frames for the trees.

JACK WITTE

Group Selects Pre-Med Student

Jack Witte, senior pre-med major from San Antonio, has been named general director of the 1950 Varsity show. It was announced Thursday by Margaret Clark, chairman of the Varsity show committee.

He was chosen by a committee consisting of Bill Parsley, Raymond Brigham and Miss Clark. He and David Fawcett, sophomore from Lubbock, were the only two applicants for the position.

The director is a navy veteran of two years service and has been connected with the stage, both the production and acting side of it, for the past several years.

During his time in service, Witte was closely connected with the Coast Guard musical production, "Tars and Spars," which starred Victor Mature. That show toured the country playing to audiences from coast to coast.

In San Antonio Plays Witte began his work with the theatre in his home town of San Antonio, helping for two years with the San Antonio Little Theatre.

"The best part I had in those two years was that of a deaf-mute Chinese in 'Shanghai Gesture,'" he said.

Before coming to Tech in the fall of 1948, he attended both the University of Texas and George Washington university in Washington, D.C. While at George Washington, he was co-director of two musical comedies and was in the cast of several serious dramas.

Appeared In Speech Drama Since coming to Tech he has appeared in "Joan of Lorraine," a speech department production last year.

The appointment of Witte as general director marks the end of a three-week search for talent. Miss Clark said Witte's selection to the position was the first step in producing the annual musical show.

The Varsity show is put on every spring by an all-student cast and production crew. In addition to choosing the director, the committee has urged that students who are thinking of writing a varsity show script to put their ideas on paper.

"We will be more than glad to read every script turned in and we

Marshall Gettys Is Slain By Enraged Professor; Scandal To Be Aired Monday

A brutal slaying shortly before noon Friday claimed the life of Marshall Gettys, senior from Amarillo, terminating the career of one of Tech's most promising personalities and resulting in the arrest of Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, respected head of the education department.

Dr. Jackson has been arraigned for public trial Monday night before a mock pre-law court. The trial will be held in C-101.

The scene of the brutal crime was the office of the professor in the Administration building at the college. It is rumored that the football star had gone to the office for a conference and had become involved in a heated argument with Doctor Jackson.

Book End Was Death Weapon. It is alleged by District attorney.

Max Osborn, and his assistant, Bruce Hinsey, that the argument became violent and Gettys was maliciously slain by the enraged Dr. Jackson. He is said to have hit the twenty-four year old student with a heavy, cast iron book end.

Jimmy Vaughn, graduate education student, who was in the office anteroom at the time of the slaying immediately notified police after he had discovered the body. He will act as pivotal witness for the prosecution.

A Rix Funeral home ambulance was summoned to the scene of the crime and Gettys was taken to West Texas hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Bail Set At $10,000 Jackson was immediately arrested and summoned before the honorable Alton Griffin, chief justice of the pre-law club supreme court. He was granted freedom on a $10,000 bail which was arranged by his attorneys, Jerry Wilson and Bob Stealy.

The two attorneys for the defense when contacted by phone Friday declined to comment on the case other than to make the following statement: "This is nothing but a subversive Communist conspiracy to discredit and malign the noted educator and the institution of Texas Tech. We are confident that the trial Monday will expose the whole sordid affair as such."

Scandal Hinted Prosecution was seeking to contact a prominent school beauty whom it was rumored that the defense has spirited away to prevent questioning before the trial. Both sides declined to name other persons who would appear in behalf of either side during the trial.

It was predicted by certain "insiders" that many well known persons will be involved in the scandal. John Tom Baker, fellow football team mate of the victim, has been served and his appearance is mandatory.

Council for both sides seemed confident of victory in the approaching legal battle which is slated for Monday night at 7:30 p. m. in C-101. Attendance is open to all for a small fee of nine cents. The price of admission entitles the person to cast a vote as a jurymen.

Several Changes Made By Seniors In Recent Meeting

Seniors approved changes in the wording of commencement invitations at a Wednesday afternoon class meeting attended by 40 persons.

They also voted to include a list of graduates in the invitations.

As the invitations have read for some years, the roster of graduating seniors has been labeled "list of candidates for degrees." Invitations hereafter are to carry the words "tentative list," in order to spare embarrassment to persons whose names may not be included on the list, but who might for scholastic reasons be unable to graduate as scheduled.

Harold Luke, class president, said that date for the annual senior carnival has been changed from Apr. 8 to March 4.

He appointed a committee to plan the carnival. Members are Bob Hogan, Margaret Clark, Glens Winston, Dale Thut, Ernest Sears and Garland Nix.

At a meeting of the junior class Wednesday afternoon, the junior-senior prom was discussed, but definite action on the annual affair was tabled until after the Christmas holidays.

Reds In America Should Be Dealt With In The Open

When eight school systems, including Lubbock's, received propaganda bulletins from the Russian Embassy recently, all except one either threw them away or hid them. The Houston school board banned a civics book containing an "objectionable" paragraph describing certain United States government trends as socialistic and communistic. Are these the methods for teaching tomorrow's Americans what their foe—communism—looks like?

Perhaps Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago answered that question when he spoke at the American Legion's symposium in Chicago recently.

He said: "Americans should be able to hear communism expounded in its most seductive form—and to reject it because they know better, not because someone has told them to. This requires background."

Tyler school officials seemed to be thinking somewhat in the same vein when they kept the Russian propaganda bulletins for possible use in the journalism department to study propaganda techniques.

Few Americans today know exactly what communism looks like or how it behaves. We seem to believe it is a witch that can change forms when it desires. We scream "communism" at every bush in the dark and it slips upon us because we cannot recognize it.

We are learning, but tomorrow's generation must KNOW, because communism may be stronger, better organized, more widespread and wearing more clever guises.

Tomorrow's generation must be able to weigh democracy fairly against other forms of government and not in scales set out of balance by lack of knowledge and lack of ability to judge.

High schoolers need to be developing this judgment. They need a course—democracy vs. communism—because, though they do not understand communism, neither do they understand democracy. They should be spared no facts or propaganda, but should be given ability to discern which is which.

Knowledge is a far better safeguard than concealment. Who is going to protect these students from "objectionable" paragraphs tomorrow? It might be the communists if we are not careful. . . . D.A.

Carelessness, Causes More Harm Than Students Realize

When it was casually mentioned in the columns of The Toreador recently that more than 300 cases of coke bottles had been broken or lost by students, pointing up the idea that the loss slowed down work on the Union building, it also suggested that thoughtlessness is almost always a stumbling block to progress of any sort.

Profit from the vending machines is supposed to go into the Union building fund, but with such losses of bottles, the profit is reduced appreciably. It will take much longer to amass the needed amount of money as long as the profit is decreased by students who are not willfully destructive or bad citizens, but merely careless and thoughtless.

Such lack of concern is responsible for marred walls in the buildings, trampled grass and other damages to the campus and buildings. All these injuries cause unnecessary expense; worse, they detract from the present picture of Tech and do far too much to retard future progress.

Let's all consider the campus and the future of Tech in our daily activities in this, the growing stage, of our school. If we do so, visitors will get an impression of better student citizens. The time when Tech has a modern Union building, and other facilities for the student good, will come much more quickly.

THINKING ALLOWED

By Jerry Hall

Although hundreds of words have already been written and spoken about the splendid showing SMU made against the Irish last weekend we would like to extend our own small but faint congratulations to the mighty Mustangs. Golly, what a ball game!

Another subject not related to football but one about which just as much copy has been written and which we would like to dwell on briefly is attendance at the Tech Artists Course programs which were presented this fall. We realize it's a difficult subject to try and analyze, but after the final attraction this semester Tuesday night, something should be done about larger crowds.

Those who attended Miss Lucia Albanese's concert this week came away agreeing that the soprano was indeed in fine voice. They were treated to a rare night of classical music at its best. But back to the problem of why more students weren't present. One angle to the situation, which could be answered in two ways, is the fact that the high school auditorium where the programs are presented is not exactly in an easily accessible location for the majority of students.

Of course those with cars of their own have no trouble in getting there, but what about those who have to depend on the bus or a taxi? There is no direct city bus route leading to the high school from the campus, and cabs still cost a little more than we like to pay. The most obvious solution to the matter is, of course, the building of an auditorium on the campus which would serve all of the needs of the entire college. We understand this is being planned in connection with the current building program.

That will be fine and dandy when it is completed, but until that time we still have the problem on our hands. With the really cold weather coming on, perhaps it would be better to try to work out a temporary solution whereby Techsans could, if they so desired, find cheaper and faster transportation to and from the high school.

Here is one solution that has been suggested. Maybe it would work and maybe not, but why couldn't the Lubbock City Bus company designate one or two special busses to make the round trip to and from the high school.

on the nights when Artists Course numbers are being presented. The bus could leave every 15 minutes or so from some assigned central location on the campus and if necessary return for another load. It could also be there when the program was over and transport the students back to the campus.

During baseball season the busses are used as direct travel to and from the ball park north of the city and it seems to us they could just as easily be used for the purpose of carrying students back and forth to the high school when the need arose. It would also mean money in the bus company's pocket.

Naturally this is not going to completely solve the problem of obtaining larger and more enthusiastic audiences from the campus for the artist Course numbers. This is merely a suggestion whereby it would make it more convenient for the student who desires to attend, but hates to go to the trouble of getting to his seat in the high school auditorium.

One of our favorite columnists in the daily newspapers is the dynamic Walter Winchell. He not only presents the news, but also comes up with some very rare gems of American lore which at times are too good to pass up. In one of his more recent columns, his description of the feuds and battles which the early day newspapers got into is really good.

He cites some of the blasts loosed by such famous members of the fourth estate as William Allen White, Joseph Pulitzer, Charles A. Dana and many others. At one time, the soon-to-be-president of the United States, Thomas Jefferson, was engaged in a verbal war with his old enemy Alexander Hamilton. The latter once wrote in an editorial: "The truth will win." Jefferson immediately came back with the words: "Thank you for conceding defeat!"

But the best one which Winchell recalls is when one big city editor, James Cheetham, lashed out at a rival with these words: "He is a contemptible scamp, a liar, a blackmailer, swindler, fifth-merchant. A vampire full of innate diabolism. He has the mind of a reptile. May death be his ally!" Winchell says this was the 18th century method of saying, simply, "Drop dead!"

Letters To The Editor

By cutting a jab, I was able to visit Texas Tech's campus just before the holidays began for Thanksgiving. It was indeed a pleasure to walk down the old familiar halls and see a few of my

Council Members To Attend Meet In Austin Today

Three members of the Tech student body are attending the Texas Inter-Collegiate Student Association Executive Council meeting being held in Austin today.

Curtis Sterling, president of the student body and senior from Snyder; Margaret Clark, secretary of the student body and senior from Van Horn; and Bill McCasland, senior from Lamesa and business administration representative to the council, are representing Tech.

Topics to be discussed at the business meeting, which will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the University Student Union building, are: (1) Stimulating student interest in elections; (2) cleaning up undesirable eating places around the campus; and (3) getting a number of colleges to cooperate in getting more desirable artists to appear on our Artists Course programs each year.

Following the general meeting, a banquet for all delegates will be held, accompanied by a dance for delegates and their dates, Sterling said.

Sterling said, "We feel that much is to be gained from this organization, if we can continue to get the cooperation from our 26 charter members that was displayed at the convention held last spring."

The committee which is meeting is composed of the 26 charter members who formed the constitution at North Texas State college at Denton last spring. The TISA was organized to help solve student problems and to promote better inter-college relations. Problems discussed last year were panels consisting of such topics as supreme courts, disciplinary committees, campus publications, and sanitation in and around campuses.

Plans will be made Saturday for the annual convention which is to be held at Baylor university in Waco next spring. Also the committee will decide what the panel topics will be.

Representatives to the Denton meeting from Tech were Lamar Jackson, Clint Formby, Marshall Gettys, Miss Clark and Sterling.

Foreign Language

The puppet drama was presented by the foreign languages department with the cooperation of local merchants and Mrs. Alan Strout, internationally-known puppeteer.

It is the same two-act, 20-minute adaptation, offered as a part of the Biocentennial, which is to be seen by members of the association Dec. 27.

The show is scheduled for the ballroom of the Hotel Marion, which is to be headquarters for the two-day session.

Equipment From Tech

All equipment for the puppet play, including the stage, small-scale sets and the sound effects, as well as personnel for running the show is coming from Tech.

Maneuvering the puppets will be Mrs. Strout, her son Dickey and James Block, August graduate of Tech. This trio worked the strings of the midget actors in the summer presentation.

The marionette play is a summary of the Margarete episode from "Faust" as adapted for the puppet stage by Theodor W. Alexander, instructor in foreign languages.

Drama Of Man's Soul

Emphasis in the play is on the temptation of Faust toward Margarete and of Faust's own misconception of his own soul.

Faust sneeringly explains to Kasper, a wooden-man character who appears recurrently in German literature, that the soul is the innermost constituent of the human body which must be answered by the Great Judge on Judgment Day.

The devil, in this play called Mephistopheles, gives Margarete to Faust in exchange for the latter's soul. When the devil comes to claim Faust, the German says that only half his time has gone and that Margarete is yet his.

But the tricky Mephistopheles says that he has also served Faust at night, which is doubled time. Midnight strikes, and the devil carries Faust away.

Stage Described

The marionette drama is to be presented on a stage which is approximately two feet high, two feet wide and three feet long. Golden satin curtains can be drawn across the front of the small stage.

Furniture is made to scale. The backdrops were painted by Block, who also built the stage under the direction of Mrs. Strout. All materials for the stage were donated by Lubbock merchants for the Biocentennial celebration.

The puppets were made, painted and costumed by Mrs. Strout, who is a member of the international council of puppeteers.

Tech Delegation

Going to the association meeting from Tech will be Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Strout, Dickey Strout, Block and Dr. C. E. Qualla, professor and head of foreign languages.

Alexander is to give a paper on "Picture Method in Second Year German," and Doctor Qualla will present a paper on "La Gaviota 106 Years After."

The group is leaving Dec. 26 and expects to return about Dec. 29.

Any student, no matter what division he is in, is eligible to prepare a script. There is no stipulation other than it is preferable that it should be typed.

Road Tour Planned

Plans are being made to take this year's show on a road trip to high schools in the surrounding area in an effort to build good will toward Texas Tech.

Casting of the play cannot begin until a script has been chosen. Since the script deadline is Thursday, the final choice will more than likely not be made until after the Christmas holidays, Miss Clark said.

Three Representatives To Attend Annual Chicago Speech Convention

Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, head of the speech department, and Miss Helen Lindell and Elyene Cunningham, assistant professors, will attend the speech association of America meeting to be held Dec. 27-29, at the Stevens hotel in Chicago.

The association meets yearly to discuss new methods in teaching and producing in the theater, radio and television. Outstanding personalities from these three fields will be the speakers.

Interested in any phase of backstage work is urged to come by the Student Council office and leave his name.

Brigham will act as business manager for the show. Parsley was director of the 1949 Varsity show.

Raiders Bow To Baylor, 58-37 After Losing To Rice, Trinity

Basketeers Drop Third Game In Row For Record Of One Win, Four Losses

Texas Tech's touring basketballers, while not grabbing any victories over some of the finest cage teams in the state, are grabbing some valuable experience that will stand them in good stead when they open competition in the Border conference.

Thursday night the Raiders dropped the final game of their current road trip when they lost a 58-37 tilt to a classy Baylor Bear quintet. The Baylorites paced by Don Heathington, who was high point man in the contest with 16 markers, easily took the measure of the Red Raiders.

Chester "Jiggs" Jackson led the Robisonmen with 13 points. A fighter Tech five held the Bruins on almost even terms throughout the first period. At the half the score was 22-16, but in the final portion of the contest the Bears pulled away to win in a walk.

The Red Raiders returned home from Baylor. Their next game will be against Wayland college in Plainview Tuesday night.

The Raiders lost a Tuesday night game to the Rice Owls by a 57-45 score, after leading throughout most of the encounter. Only a last quarter surge by the red-hot Owls saved them from defeat at the hands of a scrappy but inexperienced Raider quintet.

Even in defeat the Tech hoopers looked good and perhaps the outstanding man on the floor for the night was Jiggs Jackson who ran the Rice defense ragged throughout the first half scoring 16 points. The Owls changed their defense for the second half and effectively bottled up Jackson long enough to cop the win over the Raiders.

The Raiders roughness in the last period was responsible for their defeat giving the Owls 18 free tosses of which they connected for 13 points.

Loss To Trinity
On Wednesday night the Raiders again suffered a defeat, this time at the hands of Trinity college in San Antonio by a 65-53 count.

The keen-eyed Tigers were not missing and took command early in the game and remained in charge throughout the contest except for one brief period in the first quarter.

Tech's careers were led offensively by sophomore Jack Alderson who scored 14 points on six field goals and two free tosses. Gene Gibson controlled the backboard all night for the Raiders, taking rebound after rebound from the boards, but the Raiders failed to take advantage of the opportunities offered and when Gibson fouled out in the early stages of the second half, he was sorely missed by the Raiders.

Tigers Lead At Half
The Tigers of Trinity led at half-time by a 32-25 score and soon lengthened it to 56-36 before Alderson, Jackson and Eddins poured 34 quick points through the hoop to bring the score to 56-50. From this point the Tigers turned on the steam and soon built up a 63-50 lead and from then on were never threatened.

Tech's Bowl Foe Exhibits Running, Passing Powers

By JIM SANDERS
Toreador Sports Writer

Statistics from San Jose give a fairly complete picture of the work cut out for the Raiders when they tackle the Spartans in the Raisin bowl come Dec. 31.

The Spartans, as things stand, boast a record of 8 wins to 4 losses for the 1949 season. San Jose opened the season against Mexico and easily defeated it 10-0, coming back the next week to take it on the chin from Stanford 0-49. The following week found a highly-touted Santa Clara eleven invading Spartan stadium to eke out a narrow 14-13 victory.

Other games on the Spartan schedule were: San Jose 40, Brigham Young 14; San Jose 20, San Francisco 47; San Jose 55, Santa Barbara 12; San Jose 7, College of Pacific 45; San Jose 47, California Poly 0; San Jose 40, San Diego State 0; San Jose 40, St. Mary's 13; and San Jose 43, Fresno State 7.

Ground Attack

The Spartans' ground game this season has been led by Harry Russell, a 182-pound halfback from Pittsburg, Pa. The hard-running, deceptive Russell has carried the mail 85 times for a net gain of 601 yards, an average of 7 yards per try. Close on the heels of Russell are Fullback, Jack Donaldson and Halfback Gibby Mendosa. Donaldson has totaled 362 yards in 47 carries for a 7.7 average, while Mendosa has a 10-yard average, having traveled 360 yards on 36 carries.

In the pass receiving department a 198-pound end by the name of Junior Morgan is head and shoulders above the rest of the team. He has caught 24 passes for a total of 455 yards and 6 touchdowns. End Billy Wilson is runner-up with 287 yards on 23 catches. Russell has accepted 4 for 112 yards and 2 touchdowns while Al Combs, a halfback, has netted 116 yards on 5 catches.

Manges Tops Passers

Quarterback Gene Manges leads in passing with 90 completions of 160 attempts for 1,359 yards. He has had 10 interceptions, but 15 were good for touchdowns. His season passing average is 542. Max Houthahn has completed 35 of his 26 aerials for 294 yards while Dean Sensenbaur has thrown 33

Los Cams Top MICC Touch Football Loop With Kemas, Silver Keys Tying For Second

Los Camaradas holds a very definite lead in the MICC touch football standings despite the fact that it is edged both in scoring and defense.

The Silver Key, in a second place tie with Kemas, has scored 81 points in 5 games for an average of 16.2 points per game. It leads the league in total points and average points per session.

Los Cams have aggregated 44 counters in 4 games, which is exactly the total accumulated by Kemas. The latter, however, required one more game to achieve this amount.

Statistics show the Kemas has the best defensive team in the league. They have allowed opposing teams to cross their goal line only 3 times in 5 games for a meager 3.5 points per game average.

The Silver Key has been almost as stingy in meting out scores to its opponents as has Kemas. Its 5 2-5 allowance is good for second place, and trailing just behind is Los Cams with 6 1-4.

The Wranglers are fourth in scoring with a 31-point total for 4 games; they are fourth in defense with 29 markers being shoved across their goal line by opposing teams, and are fourth in the standings behind the Cams, Key, and Kemas.

The College Club gridders occupy an exclusive, but not an enviable niche in the statistics. They are the only team in the men's inter-collegiate league which has not been

Post-Season Totals Show Tech Lagging In Pass Offense

By KEITH ANDERSON
Toreador Sports Editor

Tech's gridiron greats—the Border conference champs of 1949—not only won the conference crown for the third consecutive year, but finished in the back in all departments except passing offense. In passing only did they fail to surpass the total efforts of their rivals.

During the 11-game schedule the Raiders had 164 points scored against them, while they racked up 174. They rolled to 2,392 yards on the ground, while yielding 1,801 and giving up 1,185 via the air, compiling a 795-yard total. They were scored on 10 times by aerials, while 8 of their airborne heaves were taken in the ozone.

Tech made 91 first downs rushing, 47 passing and 4 by penalties, making a total of 142 for the season. In all, 69 infractions were called against the Raiders for a total of 620 yards. They made 22 fumbles, losing the ball 13 times in the 22 miscues.

Conley Leads

Individually Bud Conley, senior fullback, led the red-clads with a season total of 654 net yards from the line of scrimmage. Chl Stevenson was runner-up with 396 yards, followed by J. W. Thompson, 316 and Ike Stuver with 300. In passing, Ernest Hawkins led the chunkers with 32 completions in 84 attempts good for 500 yards and 3 TDs.

Milton Rathbone followed with 11 completions in 29 attempts for 119 yards and 3 scores. Bill Lyman passed 20 times, completing 7 for 63 yards. Stevenson was the surprise passer of the year with 2 completions out of 3 attempts for a 66.7 percent, 102 yards and 2 TDs.

In the receiving department, Dick Jackson nosed out Tim Hatch by 6 yards. Jackson took four forwards good for 136 yards and 2 tallies, while Hatch caught 12 aerials good for 130 yards. Ike Stuver was on the receiving end of 7 passes for 121 yards and 1 TD, and Jack Davis also caught 7, good for 111 yards and 2 TDs.

Stuver Tops Punters
In punting, Stuver was the most successful with a total of 1,151 yards on 32 boots for an average of 36.2 per try. Stevenson was second with 469 yards on 15 punts for an average of 31.3.

In punt returns, Hawkins was all alone with a total of 166 yards on 18 scampers for 9 yards per return. Hatch led in kickoff returns with 138 yards on 7 chances. Ike Stuver followed with 134 points on 10 carries and Herman Bailey had 85 yards on 1 return.

Christmas Music And Decorations Ready Next Week

Campus decorating for the approaching holiday season will begin Tuesday, Bill McCasland, president of Tech Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday. The work is to be sponsored jointly by the Student Council and TCC.

The committee chosen from the council for helping with the decorations is Bill Parsley, Jo Simmons, Pat Ketter, Tommie Jean Walls and Jim Steele. McCasland is chairman. Plans are to decorate the Broadway entrance to the campus with lights strung from trees. Towers in the Administration building will also be lighted with traditional season's colors.

A large lighted Christmas tree will be in the center of the circle. A nativity scene will be on the east side of the circle toward the Broadway campus entrance, said McCasland.

A contest is being sponsored by TCC, and cash prizes are to be given to the dormitories having the most outstanding scene.

Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, will play Christmas carols through the Ad tower loudspeakers starting Tuesday. Carols are to be played between classes, during the noon hour and between 7-10 p.m. nightly. They will not be heard during the holidays.

Rollin Herald Will Speak

The regular meeting of Lens and Shutter club Tuesday will not be held, but will meet Wednesday evening for a talk on "Box Camera Photography" by Rollin Herald, announced Fred Gibson, president.

Gibson said that Herald's speech was open to the public.

Rose Denies Jaundice Epidemic On Campus

Jaundice cases among students have not reached, and are not expected to reach, epidemic proportions, Dr. Embree R. Rose, college physician, said Thursday.

About ten cases of the disease, a liver dysfunction commonly called yellow jaundice, have been reported to the Infirmary. Catarrhal jaundice is the name Doctor Rose applies to the local cases. The catarrhal swelling of the mucous membranes of the bile ducts causes a yellow color in the skin pigments, the doctor explained.

"We don't know exactly what causes jaundice and therefore we are not sure how it is transmitted. It is probably a virus and may be communicated through food, droplets, or insects, but all we are sure of is that people who are generally run-down are likely to be susceptible," Doctor Rose said.

Rest Is Important

Bed rest is the important factor in both the prevention and cure of the ailment, Rose stated. Symptoms of jaundice, he said, are very much like those of influenza. The infected person usually shows symptoms of aching, general lassitude and gastro-intestinal disturbances, although the last symptom is not always present, Rose commented.

"Young people who do not get enough sleep and rest and who 'burn the candle at both ends' are more susceptible to this type of jaundice," the physician warned. "I do not think isolation of jaundice patients is necessary or practical at this time, since the disease is not as communicable as the common cold or other virus diseases which are not isolated," Doctor Rose continued.

Illness Short-Lived

The disease runs its course in from a week to a month. Treatment consists mainly of rest and a diet high in vitamins and proteins, Doctor Rose advised.

Several cases of jaundice were treated in the infirmary about this time last year and were cured before or during the Christmas holidays. The disease seems to be prevalent among women students this year, according to college health officials.

Rev. Jan Owen Is Guest At Westminster Supper

Rev. Jan Owen, Coleman, will be guest of honor at a supper given by the Westminster council at 6 p.m. Monday in the Presbyterian student center, announced Rev. W. F. Rogan, student director.

Reverend Owen represents the executive committee on student work for the synod of Texas, said Rogan.

Morning watch at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Presbyterian student center will be held by Rev. Owen. He will also be guest at noon luncheon Tuesday for the joint committee for Presbyterian student work at Tech.

Rev. W. F. Rogan, director of Westminster fellowship, will fill the pastorate Sunday at the Presbyterian church at Lovington, N.M.

Alpha Phi Omega Helps Red Cross With Blood Types

Alpha Phi Omega, campus service organization affiliated with the Boy Scouts, in cooperation with the Dean of Men's office, is assisting the local Red Cross unit in typing students' blood. Wade Hardesty, APO project chairman, said:

Purpose of the project is for possible blood donations to persons having the same type of blood as students. Having the blood type taken is voluntary on the part of students, Hardesty said.

Each student whose blood is typed is asked to check the following circumstances, if any, under which he will donate blood; community emergency; for money, at the prevailing price; for charity, where the recipient is unable to pay; for a fellow student; and for the Red Cross, upon call, without pay.

Prefacing the card is the statement, "It is understood that the information on this card will be used only with my permission and at the discretion of the dean of men of the college."

The project has been completed in Sneed hall. The unit will make tests from 5:15 to 6:45 p.m. today in Men's Dorm III and at the same times Tuesday in Men's Dorm IV. Other dorms, including West hall, Doak hall, Drane, and Women's Dorms III and IV, will be asked to cooperate later, Hardesty said.

No pressure will be brought to bear on students should they desire not to donate blood, Dean Allen stated.

Tech Debaters Travel To Austin For Tournament

Two debate teams are representing Tech at the Southwestern Invitational Debate tournament being held on the campus of the University of Texas this weekend, Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, professor and head of speech, said.

Debating question is: "Resolved: that the president of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people."

This meet is an exhibition debate presented by representatives from Texas colleges and universities and the Universities of Kansas and Wichita to Texas high school students. Both of this school's teams are debating the affirmative. Jerry Sanders and David Blackbird are on one team, Thelma Hutchins and Bryce Campbell on the other. Herbert Graf is an alternate debater. Miss Pendleton is to be one of the judges of the meet.

The group left Lubbock Thursday and expects to return tomorrow, said Miss Pendleton. Tonight a play, 'The Inspector Calls', is to be presented to visiting debaters by the University of Texas drama department, she said.

A freshman mixer was held Thursday evening in Drane hall, named Hilary Fry, dormitory supervisor of Men's Dorm III. About 20 men attended, he said.

"Texas Women Unusually Beautiful" Says Noted Opera Star Licia Albanese

By JOAN MAPLES
Toreador Staff Writer

"Texas women are unusually beautiful," Licia Albanese, Metropolitan opera star, said Tuesday.

She judged the Tech beauties Sunday afternoon and picked the top eight of sixteen who had previously gone through two eliminations. The eight are to be featured with full-page pictures in the 1950 La Ventana.

"It was very hard to choose between the contestants—a most difficult thing to do," she said.

The diminutive soprano, whose Tuesday night concert met with great success, was impressed with the quietness of Lubbock and the fact that it is obviously a growing town.

"The Tech campus is lovely, especially the buildings," she added to her remarks about the city.

Miss Albanese will return to New York the last of this month to finish the season with the Met.

"I enjoy concert tours, but I do not like to be too long on one. It is nice to travel and see the country and towns and to meet the people."

The fact that she likes people is instantly apparent. She is modest about her work.

According to her husband, a Wall street broker, she is one of the world's best cooks, her specialty being sea foods.
