Senior Carnival Is Scheduled Tonight

Decision On Council Election Tie Is Awaited

Supreme Court May Decide Way To Name Winner

For the first time in the history of Texas Tech, the runoff elections held Tuesday for Student Council seats resulted in a tie for an office, Marshall Gettys, Student Council president, stated.

Keith Schier, junior from Houston, and John Huckabay, senior from Lubbock, each received 98 votes for the contested business administration post. John Tom Baker, junior from Denison, received 175 votes in the arts and sciences balloting to win over Fannie Beth Allen, junior from Loop who received 98 votes.

There are several possible solutions to the tie, Gettys pointed out. The president plans to call a meeting of the executive committee of the council to discuss the matter. The only provision found in the constitution is that the council has authority to make supplementary laws for elections when the need arises.

The council may ask the Supreme Court for an interpretation. Another possibility Gettys suggested was calling in the council to decide the matter. The names could also be referred back to the students for an additional voting. The problem will be solved by the time the next issue of The Toreador goes to press, Gettys promised.

Voting was unusually light in the runoff, Gettys said. There were 273 votes cast in arts and sciences out of a total enrollment of 1,920 in the division. In the division of business administration there were 196 votes cast out of a possible 749.

Douglas McSwane, business administration student from San Angelo, was the only candidate who received enough votes to be elected before the runoff.

The vacancies on the council were brought about by the January graduation of Robert Lee Craig and Bill McCasland, business administration students, and the assumption of the vice presidency of the council by Bill Trenfield, arts and sciences student.

Annual Class Gala Boasts 29 Booths

By PAULA FIX
Toreador Staff Writer

The annual Senior carnival will be held from 7 to 11 p.m. tonight in the Administration building, Harold Luke, senior class president, stated.

A total of 29 booths are entered in the carnival, making it the largest entertainment of its kind in the history of Tech, Luke said. All profits made by the carnival will be put in a fund for the senior gift, Luke explained. The amount made at the carnival will determine what the class gift will be, he added.

Women's social clubs are presenting the following booths, each under the direction of a chairman: Las Vivarachas, style show, Joan Chapman, room 320; Ko Shari, minstrel show, Pat Sprague, room 220; Las Chaparritas, Varga calendar, Shirley Fields, room 202; Sans Souci, taxi dance, Shirley Harris, room 210; DFD, Gay 90's revue, Pat Keffer, room 320.

Admiral Zacharias Will Appear Here

Read Adm. Ellis M. Zacharias, author of the best-seller, "Secret Missions," will speak at 7:15 p.m. Thursday in the Recreation hall, James G. Allen, dean of men, has announced.

Admiral Zacharias, a naval intelligence expert during his 38 years of service, will be the second speaker on the spring semester Rec hall program. He recently went on record as saying that the United States possesses an atomic bomb 50 times more powerful than those dropped on Japan to end the war.

In addition to writing, he is engaged in a nationwide lecture tour and is a radio analyst on world

Traveling Engineer To Give Talk Here

Burritt S. Mills, industrial sales engineer who has traveled over the world for 35 years, will speak to the Press club at 5 p.m. Tuesday in J-204, Guida Miller, vice president and program chairman, said.

Mills, who has been in every state and 29 nations, will speak about personal relations in the journalistic field. Before his retirement, the lecturer surveyed industries in Europe and Africa.

news and foreign affairs, on a program titled "World Intelligence Reports." He also serves as narrator on the radio dramatization of his book, "Secret Missions."

Enrollment Figures Given By Registrar

A final breakdown of enrollment figures for two semesters of the 1949-50 school year at Tech shows 6,511 persons enrolled during the year.

Men far outnumbered the women in all divisions except home economics and in all four classifications. There were a total of 4,905 men registered for the year, and only 1,606 women. These figures were released by W. P. Clement, registrar.

Seniors led other classifications in enrollment with 1,746 students. Freshmen followed closely with 1,675. Next came sophomores with 1,296, followed by juniors with 1,272. Leading all other classes in number of women enrolled was the freshman class with 459 women and 1,216 men. Sophomores had 349 women and 947 men, juniors registered 279 women and 933 men and seniors had 320 women and 1,426 men.

Arts and sciences showed the largest number of students, both men and women, in the division breakdown with a total of 2,638 students—1,663 men and 975 women. Figures showed engineering second with 1,631 students—1,596 men and 35 women. Agriculture ranked third and had fewer women than any other division with a total of 946, 838 of them men, and only 8 women. Business administration had 900 students in all. Of these, 708 were men and 192 were women. Home economics is the only division not enrolling any men. It had a total registration of 396 for the year. Graduate students numbered 822 for the year, 323 men and 199 women.

Mrs. Margarette W. Walker, dean of women, will present the second in a series of talks to the Sudan Women's club Monday. Mrs. Walker will speak on "Music, The American Way," and will sing a group of songs by American composers.

Baritone To Sing In Artists Course Program Monday

Baritone Igor Gorin will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday at Lubbock High school auditorium. His recital will be the second in the spring Artists Course series.

All students are entitled to attend the program upon presentation of their activity receipts, R. A. Mills, Artists Course chairman, said.

Selections which Gorin will sing include "Ah, quanto a vero" by Cesti, which is to open the program. Handel's "Silent Worship" and "Chi vuole innamorarsi" by Scarlatti complete the first part of the recital.

Two numbers of Schubert, "An di Leier," and "Ungeuduld," and two of Strauss, "Traum durch die Dammernung" and "Zueignung" comprise the second section of

Three Tech Students Gain Mention In Dallas Contest

Three students have gained mentions in the second annual Texas Crafts exhibition at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.

Mamie Lou Welch, senior home economics student from Friona, won honorable mention in cabinet work and wood carving.

Sue Winter, junior home ec student from Lamesa, and Virginia Kennedy, senior arts and sciences student from Friona, received special mention in The Dallas Morning News as having leading pieces in cabinet work.

Noted Texas Editor Will Exhibit Original Paintings In Museum

By JOAN MAPLES
Toreador Staff Writer

Presentation of Houston Harte, editor of In Our Image, a showing of the original paintings for the book, and the Twilight Music Hour will be the first program of the museum on the Tech campus in conjunction with the Art Institute, at 4 p.m. Sunday in the west gallery auditorium of the Museum.

Harte will speak on the paintings, the artist and the book. He chooses the 26 selections from the Old Testament that are illustrated by 32 paintings by Guy Rowe. The selections were made and edited in an effort to present the Old Testament in an interesting, forceful and readable manner.

The Twilight Music Hour is to be presented by the Tech music department. The Tech Mixed Choir under the direction of Dr. Gene Hemmley, will sing the Gloria Patri Palestrina; Let Thy Holy Presence, Tschonokoff; Ave Maria, Bach; Beautiful Saviour, arranged by Christiansen with Katherine Shafer, soloist; and The Omnipotence, Schubert. The choir will be accompanied by William Dardorf at the organ.

Quintet Will Play
The Tech Band Woodwind Quintet will present four numbers; the Andante Cantabile from Tschonokoff's String Quartet transcribed by Trinkaus; Minute Fantasy, Solt Cohen; and Episodes from Dedication, Frankliser. The quintet is composed of Paul Huntington, oboe; Eddie Golteze, clarinet; Shelly Hudnall, French horn; and Gary Garner, flute.

Throughout the afternoon from 2 till 6 p.m. organ music will be played. J. F. Metts will play from 2 till 3. Mrs. Ernest A. Wilpitz from 3 till 4 and Mrs. John Oldham, 5 till 6.

The museum and the exhibit of the paintings will be open to the public from 2 till 6 p.m. The Twilight Music Hour and Harte's talk will also open to the public, provided that there is space left after Museum and Art Institute members have been seated. Members of the Museum Art Institute who have not picked up their tickets beforehand will be able to get reserved seats if they get their tickets before 4 p.m. in the museum rotunda.

Ushers during the afternoon will be Pat Todd, Alice Hix, Janet Moore, Viola Sensom, Lucy Womack and Marlin Dennan.

Proposed Sports Arena . . .

In a recent column, Joe Kelly, sports editor of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, brings to light several important and interesting facts about one of Lubbock's most urgent needs—a "Sportatorium."

Kelly advances the theory that such a building would provide a location where all indoor sports could be carried out and ample seating space would be available for fans. The idea is indeed a good one and it looks as if it will materialize sooner than expected.

A group of Lubbock business men who have the money and the know-how to build such a building, have begun preliminary plans and, barring any unforeseen changes, the job will be done.

The effect on Texas Tech that such an auditorium would have, would also be great. For example, the proposed plans call for the sportatorium to be built at Fourth and College, on the northwest corner. That would place it just across from the campus.

It's not entirely impossible that campus functions of all types could be held in the new auditorium. In fact, being that close to the college, it would definitely be to the advantage of the owners to rent space to college groups on nights when it was not in use for its original purpose—sporting events.

From all angles, there is no doubt that such an undertaking would be not only a going concern for the owners, but also would provide Lubbock and Texas Tech with a much needed site of that kind.

Senior Carnival . . .

The annual Senior carnival will be held tonight in the Administration building and it should prove fun for all. The carnival committee has missed no chance to make each booth as entertaining and interesting as possible.

The purpose of the carnival, in part, is to provide funds for use by the departing seniors to leave a class gift of some sort on the campus. This year a record breaking graduating class is in the offing and a record breaking gift should be provided for.

The various booths and games are worked up by campus clubs and the members are responsible for seeing that the crowd is kept happy and entertained. Of course if there is no crowd to keep laughing then there can not be too much cash poured into the gift fund.

Everyone is busy and many people just don't have time to stop and take in a carnival—at least to hear them tell it you wouldn't think so. Saturday night is the one night of the week when we should take time out to enjoy ourselves just a bit.

It's up to us to attend the carnival now to make it the success it deserves to be. The booths and the chorus lines have been set up and rehearsed to near perfection so that all that remains is for the crowds to turn out.

We have it on reliable authority that the "most beautiful dancing girls in the world" are to be found at the Double T follies and if you miss that, well, friend—you just haven't lived. It's up to you to be on hand and see for yourself.

Thinking Allowed

By JERRY HALL

One day last week a group of Lubbock business men and Tech's athletic heads met in the dining room of West hall to discuss a proposition that should prove to be one of the most beneficial additions to the athletic setup here for some time. It was decided by the group to try and make the annual post spring training intrasquad football game a permanent affair. Head Coach Dell Morgan and Line Coach G. B. Morris were on hand and both expressed satisfaction with such a move. If you will remember the first of these games was held last spring between Glen Lewis's Ranchers and Bill Kelley's Farmers and despite a combination sandstorm and blizzard, it proved to be a pretty good football game.

D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the ex-student association, Paul Cates, Lubbock oil man, Leon Harris, local advertising executive and Arch Lamb, Lubbock dairyman, were in the main responsible for the step. Lamb, who was elected as the first president of the group, was essential in producing the show last spring which included several side attractions besides the football game. A tentative name of "Red Raider Round-up" was given to the event by the group.

With local help, which we must have, this scheme can prove to be of unlimited value to the financial side of sports here at Tech. The money gained from such a venture can be used in all sorts of ways to generally improve and pay for the "little" things which are always popping up to plague officials. The game for this year has been set, tentatively, for the middle of April and definite plans will be announced later. This year's affair will be on the same order as the game last year with special entertainment provided before the game and at the half. Here's wishing good luck to a worth while enterprise!

Students were startled with the results of last week's elections and so were we. After all it's not every day that a tie vote, down to the last ballot, is found in campus wide elections. The question of how the matter will be settled is now being considered by the elections committee and the results will be announced in the near future.

Thursday night marked the final appearance of two of the Red Raider's most popular and efficient basketballers, Gene Gibson and Chester "Jiggs" Jackson. Both men have proved themselves to be true sportsmen and darn good ball players. It's with regret that Tech sees both of them go because in losing them the college not only loses two good athletes but also two players who have been a credit to themselves and the school at all times. We understand Gene is thinking of trying pro basketball and we wish him the best of luck. Whatever Jiggs does after his graduation good luck to him also.

Delegates Named For Dallas Meeting

Tech delegates from the Major Minor club to the National Convention of Health, Physical Education and Recreation on Apr. 18-23 at the Baker and Adolphus hotel in Dallas, were announced today by Janice Berry, club reporter.

Physical education students to be delegates are Bobbie Adams, senior; Nell Quattbaum, junior; Harriet Moltz, sophomore; and Margie Dyer, freshman; Peggy Strickland, junior; Mary Ann Kveton, junior; Rhetta Mc Masters, senior; and Patsie Seales, freshman; will serve as alternates. Mrs. Richard Richards and Sue Rainey, physical education instructors, are club sponsors.

James W. Stewart, senior from Lubbock, has been appointed general manager for the annual Engineers' show Apr. 21-22. Assisting him will be Paul Ramer, senior from Lubbock.

Looking Backward

Thirteen years ago this week: The Toreador published a 26-page special Museum edition—and the pages were full size. . . . Local businessmen were helping Tech's athletes, Student Council and the American Business club collect money for band uniforms. . . .

Delegates from nine colleges in West Texas and New Mexico were attending an International Relations club convention on the campus. . . . Miss Frances Turner was presented as honorary coed cadet major of the ROTC engineering unit at a military ball. . . .

The registrar's office reported it handled 113,526 grades during a fall semester—and that was when enrollment was only a fraction as large as it has been since 1946. . . .

Pledges of Socii, men's social club, have elected officers for the pledge term. They are Pete Morris, Level-land, president; Paul Russell, Level-land, vice president; Jimmy Small, Tahoka, secretary; Fred McMurry, Midland, treasurer; Charlie Lockhart, Pampa, sergeant-at-arms.

Cecile Butler gave her fiance, Tommy Cooper, his Wrangler pin following his initiation into the organization.

DFD women's social club, celebrated its twentieth anniversary at the annual Founder's day dinner Thursday night at the Hilton hotel.

Gail Tyson, former Tech student, and Jerry Henderson, January journalism graduate, were married Feb. 13 in Lubbock. Henderson is connected with radio station KFYO.

Open house for members of Tech Institute of Finance was held Thursday night in the Museum dining room. The purpose was to better acquaint members with each other.

Mrs. Jeff Hooper, sponsor of the organization, presided at the serving table. Other sponsors attending were Jeff Hooper, assistant professor of accounting and finance, and Fred Miller, instructor in finance. Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Jones and Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Wiggins.

Former Tech students, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hutchins, have been recent campus visitors. Mrs. Hutchins was Josephine Catterton before her marriage.

Mary Alice Mitchell, Las Chaps prexy, gave Bill Velvin his Socii pin. He became a member last week.

Ann Walker, former Tech student, is working for the Abilene Reporter-News. She attended Tech in 1947-48.

Dave Fawcett, member of Wranglers, is editor and publisher of the Arnett-Benson Enterprise, a weekly publication for Arnett-Benson district.

Favors for the dates at the Kemas dinner-dance Saturday night were personalized gold bracelets with the girls' names engraved on one side and "Kemas" on the other.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sterling attended the Kemas dinner dance as special guests. Sterling was president of the Student Council last semester.

Pat Smith and Beth Norman were initiated as members of Las Vivarachas at the club's regular business meeting Wednesday night. New pledges entertained with a program and served refreshments.

Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of home economics, and Mrs. Vivian Adams, professor and head of home economics education, will be in Austin today to attend a curricula committee meeting which will discuss the college curricula for home economics education majors. Tech will be one of nine colleges represented.

Miss Sallie Hill, editor of the Progressive Farmer, will speak to home economics seniors at 5 p. m. Monday in Annex G of the Home Economics building. In her talk she will stress the value of journalism in home economics fields and the positions available for home ec students with journalism training.

Awards Made During Banquet

By BETTY WRIGHT
Toreador Staff Writer
Willis Tate, dean of men at Southern Methodist university, spoke to approximately 400 persons attending the seventh annual Men's Inter-Club council smoker Wednesday night in the Hilton hotel.

The address preceded the awarding of the scholarship plaque to the Centaur club for maintaining the highest grade point average of any men's social club during the past year.

"Your college career is the most important time of your life," Dean Tate asserted, "Your most important decisions are made during this period. Decisions which seem small today may shape the destiny of your futures."

The SMU dean compared life's decisions to the decisions made in a football huddle. The play which results on the gridiron, he noted, may seem just like the others and the huddles may all appear to be alike, but the outcome of the entire game may be changed by a single decision.

James G. Allen, dean of men, made the presentation to the Centaur club. John Huckabay, president, accepted the annual award on behalf of his organization. The Centaurs maintained an overall average of 1.55 on grades made by their members during the spring and fall semesters of 1949. Centaurs nosed out College club, which had a 1.48 average, to take possession of the plaque. College Club had won the award the past two years and would have gained permanent possession if it had won this year.

Other awards included the presentation of trophies to Los Camaradas for winning in inter-club football competition last fall, to the Silver Keys for basketball, and to College Club for softball.

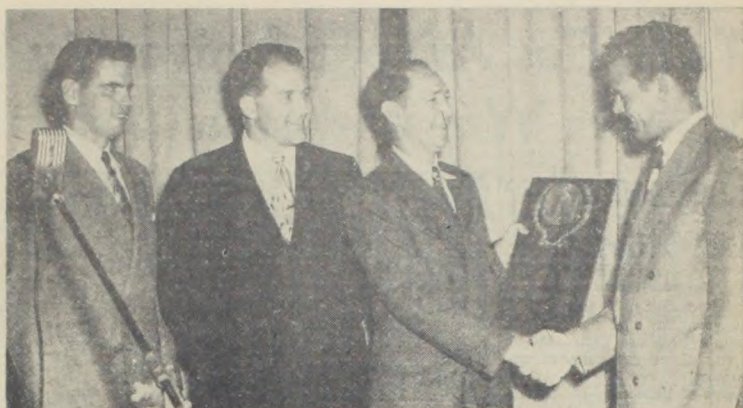

Kemas were third in line from point of scholarship achievement with a 1.45 grade point average, followed by Socii and Silver Keys with a 1.41 each. Wranglers maintained a 1.30 and Los Camaradas had a 1.26 grade point average.

Individual recognitions was given the member of each club maintaining the highest grades and the pledge for both the spring and fall semesters. Those members winning were: Jack Alderson, Silver Key, 2.91; Billy Easter, Centaur, 2.87; Floyd Rector, Kemas, 2.67; Robert Pfleger, College Club, 2.52; Edward Campbell, Wrangler, 2.33; Zackie Reynolds, Socii, 2.30; James Bowen, Los Camaradas, 2.00.

Anderson, assistant professor of economics and management, Kemas; J. B. Lowrey, history instructor, Los Camaradas; Emmett Hazelwood, professor and head of mathematics department, Silver Key; Maj. William Curik, assistant professor of the department of air and military science and tactics, Socii; Marian Minter, assistant professor of electrical engineering, Wrangler.

Several selections, John Hinchey, president of MICC, was master of ceremonies.

Banquet Held
A banquet for officers of the seven men's clubs, their sponsors, and administrative officers of the college preceded the smoker. Special guests were Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Tech, who spoke on the important work done by sponsors; Dean Willis Tate; Dean James G. Allen; W. P. Clement, registrar; Dean George G. Heath; and Dean O. A. St. Clair.

Two students have turned an idle pastime into what promises to be a profitable business. Jimmy Carter, senior business administration student from Big Spring, and Robert Norman, senior arts and sciences student from Dallas, are originators of "Laff-Letter" cartoon stationery.

Students will recognize the familiar big-eyed character which appears in the corner of each sheet of the stationery as being the one which appeared in The Toreador and La Ventana cartoons last year. Norman is the inventor of this character which has come to typify an average student.

Carter got the idea for the stationery three weeks ago when he noticed an envelope that his roommate, Norman, had decorated with a cartoon. Together the two invented personalized cartoon stationery depicting life on this campus. They attached the trade-mark name "Laff-Letter" to their product. In each package are 20 envelopes and 40 sheets of writing paper, each bearing a Double-T emblem in the upper right-hand corner and a college cartoon in the left-hand corner. There are 10 different cartoons in each package.

After the first order was sold, they plan to add a larger variety of cartoons in each package, Norman said. In the meantime, they are gathering new ideas and asking students' opinions on subjects for the cartoons. And, if the product is popular enough, they plan to expand into other colleges, giving personalized stationery for each school.

"Laff-Letter" stationery, printed by Commercial Printing company, may be purchased at Rancho cafe on College avenue.

Men's Social Clubs Hold Formal Rites For New Pledges

Formal services for men's social clubs have been held this week to initiate new spring pledges and to familiarize them with pledge duties.

Wranglers initiated 16 new pledges Sunday evening at the Aztec Inn. Following the service, the club attended the Downtown Men's Bible class.

Silver Key held services for 21 of its 26 new pledges Sunday evening in the Chemoya room of the Hilton hotel. Initiation for the remaining six was held Wednesday evening.

Socii initiated 32 men as pledges Monday evening in the main ballroom of the Lubbock hotel. Los Camaradas pledges took their vows at a ceremony held Thursday night after the preferential signing.

Men's Social Club Initiates Fourteen

Kemas, men's social club, has initiated 14 members in a formal ceremony.

Those initiated were Larry Bedford, George Belcheff, Dick Campbell, Ben Carter, Bill Cooper, Morgan Eoff, DeWitt Harvey, Bill Gray, Stanley Hazelwood, Bobby Jenkins, Bob Maniss, Walter Rector, Carl Jack Smith and Danny Smith.

Eoff was selected as best pledge, and Belcheff was chosen best potential member. Gray was recognized as pledge with the highest grade point average.

Bill Agnew was elected secretary; Bob Schmidt, executive council member; and Jack Mills, athletic director.

Tech Ties Arizona University In Tennis; Visitors Win Basketball And Golf Tilts

Cagers Lose Close Game To Wildcats

By BILLY YOES
Toreador Sports Writer

After losing 10 points to 8 in golf play and dividing six tennis matches, Tech athletic teams closed out a day of unsuccessful competition with teams of University of Arizona by losing a hard-fought 72-65 basketball battle here Tuesday night.

Tech's Red Raider basketballers almost brought the day to a successful conclusion by pushing the nationally ranked Wildcats to the limit before losing. Displaying form not often seen, the Raiders climbed to a 39-25 lead with 10 minutes to go before the half. At this point in the contest, the Tech defense fell apart as the Wildcats scored 11 points, while holding Tech scoreless. The halfway point ended with Tech holding a slim 39-36 lead.

Blevins Hot

Arizona came back hotter than ever in the second half to grab the lead with the score reading 40-39. Hanging on doggedly, the Raiders spotted the visitors leads of 42-41, 44-43 and 48-45 in the second half. After Gene Gibson's jump shot which brought the Raiders to within one point of the Wildcats and made the score 51-50, the Arizona team proceeded to run the score to 57-50. Tech again tied the score at 57-57, but this was short-lived as Leon Blevins, one of the deadliest shots seen here this year, pumped two one-hand-push shots in to put Arizona in the lead again. From this point, the Wildcats were never headed, although Tech challenged again with the score 63-60. Arizona then ran the score to 67-60 with less than three minutes to go. The Raiders, giving everything they had, managed to score 5 more points to match Arizona's 5, which made the final score 72-65.

The Robisonmen probably played their best game of the season and, with a little luck, could have taken the contest. It was one of those which could have gone either way. Jiggs Jackson, matched with Arizona's best in a scoring duel, won out with his 22 points. Leon Blevins, Arizona forward, hit 20. Jack Alderson and Gibson made 15 points each.

With 6 tennis matches played both Tech and Arizona won two singles and a lone doubles match to end in a stalemate. Jake Broyles, Tech number one netter, was the outstanding man on the courts as he beat Sam Lindamood, Arizona, 6-0, 6-1, and teamed with Joe Wheatley, number two man on the Tech squad, to whip Marty Shaw and Bill Sauer in a doubles match 6-2, 5-7 and 6-2.

Orren Beats Savers

Joe Wheatley lost a close match to Marty Shaw, southpaw netter from Arizona, 6-4, 4-6 and 8-6. Wheatley, showing a weak backhand shot, came within a cat's whisker of taking Shaw.

In another close and bitterly fought match, Charles Orren, Tech player from Fort Worth, won over Bill Sauer 7-5, 2-6 and 8-6. In the other singles match, Dan Barton, McAllen, was beaten by Bob Rodiger, Arizona.

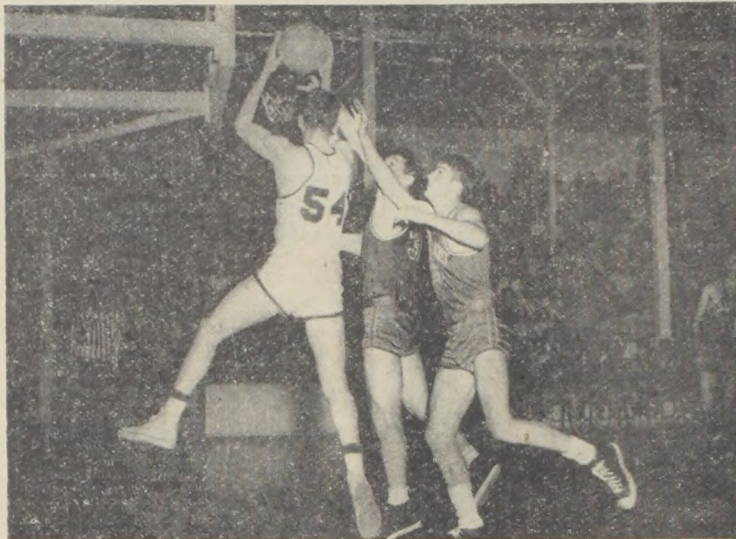

Lindamood and Rodiger teamed to win over Orren and Barton 6-2, and 6-3 in the first doubles match.

The Red Raider golf team pushed the strong Arizona team all the way in losing 10-8. Arizona, favored to win the Border Conference golf crown, jumped into an early 3-0 lead with John Rudolph, ace of the Wildcat team, touring the par 71 course in a terrific 35-32 for a six-under-par 85 to win over Hal Hackett of Tech.

Tech got 2 of its points when John Trout, Tech's top golfer, beat Bill Goldberg, Arizona. Goldberg went the route in 35-39, quite a bit higher than Trout's score.

Golfers To Meet TCU

Rudolph and Goldberg teamed to win over Hackett and Trout and add 3 points to Arizona's total. Tech's Dick Rozar and G. W. War-

Sports Panorama

By SPORTS STAFF

Fans, approximately 1,500 of them, witnessed two artful performances in the method of roundball dunking last Tuesday night when the University of Arizona met Tech in the Raider gymnasium. Leon Blevins, Wildcat forward and individual scoring leader in the Border conference, and Jiggs Jackson, Tech guard, put on a demonstration on how to keep your field percentage up, by time after time splitting the nets with long, one handed push shots.

den split their matches. Rozar, who played Bill Bramwell, Arizona, who posted a 73, and Warden met George Bullard, who posted a 76. Each team won a point and a half in each match.

Warden and Rozar then teamed to add 3 points for Tech with a victory over Bramwell and Rozar.

This was the first match of the year for the Tech golfers. A qualifying round will be played later this month to decide the team to meet TCU in a dual meet in Fort Worth, March 22.

Jiggs perhaps got a little better of the duel by aggregating 22 points while the Arizona dead eye was accumulating 20, but both basketballers made 18 counters via the field goal routes.

Blevins brought a shout of astonishment from the spectators in a series of unerring practice shots made from almost every conceivable angle on the court before the game got underway. The Arizona hoopster seemed almost incapable of missing, and won the grudging admiration of Tech rooters at the Arizona-Tech tussle. Blevins fouled out toward the end of the contest, and was roundly applauded by everyone in Tech gym for his exhibition of court prowess.

"He was mighty good," remarked one Tech student as Blevins exited from the game after his fifth rule infraction, "and I'm glad to see him go. Perhaps we have a chance now."

Jackson was almost as stubborn about missing a shot as was his brilliant opponent, and was the only medicine potent enough to counteract the poison being dispersed by the Arizona Wildcat. Jackson's play in the second half was all that kept the Raiders in the game, and the 72-65 score will indicate that they were in the contest up until the last moments.

The smoke has cleared in the Southwest conference cage race, but the muddle that has reigned all season was not completely settled. Baylor and Arkansas emerged as co-titlists with the rather serious prospect of facing a clever University of Arizona team in a three way tourney to decide the team to represent the Southwest in the NCAA held annually.

Jack Gray, basketball coach of Texas university, is on record for having said that Arizona should represent this section of the country in the national tournament

Robisonmen Finish Cage Play Against West Texas Tonight

By JOHN LEE

Toreador Sports Writer
Texas Tech will climax its twenty-second season on the hardwood when the 1950 aggregation of basketballers meets the West Texas Buffs in Canyon tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Raiders, who were hailed as inexperienced at the early portion of the 1950 season, have come along in fine order and are expected to give West Texas a great deal of trouble. According to pre-season prognostications, Tech was to be considered good if it won as many as four of its conference tussles. The sophomore-laden team, however, proved its worth by downing nine of its conference foes while losing only six games.

The Tech '50 team not only fooled early season pickers by their rapid improvement, but they also left behind a new scoring record as a blazing standard of their prowess.

This game, discounting post-season clashes, will be the final contest under Tech colors for seniors Gene Gibson and Chester Jackson. Both Gibson and Jackson have been mainstays on the varsity squad and have stimulated initiative in their younger teammates by maintaining a torrid pace throughout the season.

Tech's basketball future looks bright, however, with such stellar squadmen as Charles Pinnell, Jack Alderson, Verdell Turner, Ted O'Neil, Jim Eddins, Jim Sharp, Weldon McClure, Irl Brown and Doral Sandlin returning for the next season of play. The freshmen promise several hardy replacements among whom are Virgil Johnson, Lewis Martin and Paul Nolen.

To Contact 200 Graduates

The petroleum engineering department is trying to contact over 200 graduates who have received degrees from the petroleum and geological engineering departments since 1927. Philip Johnson, instructor in the department, said. Object of the correspondence is to find out the addresses and occupations of the graduates. The department also wants to know with what company each is working.

Raider Spring Workouts Begin Monday; Nineteen Lettermen To Bolster Squad

Spring football training has been tentatively set to begin Monday, G. B. Morris, Red Raider line coach, announced.

Nineteen lettermen will return to Dell Morgan's football fold along with transfer students and members of last year's Tech frosh team.

Backfield Starter Bobby Close and Lineman Elbert Johnson, two of last year's Border conference champions, will participate in the spring drills. Many first line substitutes, however, will be out for the practice and Ike Stuver who ran through the San Jose eleven for 86 yards in the Raisin Bowl will be among these.

Red Raider lettermen eligible for play next year include: Tim Hatch, 175-pound back from Wellington; Bobby Close, 170-pound back from Shamrock; Earl Jackson, Phillip's back weighing 185-pounds and Ike Stuver, 175-pound Ysleta back.

Lettermen To Return

Other lettermen are: J. W. Thompson, 188-pound Odessa back; Eural Ramsey, Shamrock back weighing 170; Aubrey "Red" Phillips, 220-pound Fort Worth center; Robert Hix, 185-pound Sherman center and Dick Cavazos, Kingsville 185-pound guard.

Bobby Garner, 190-pound guard from Denison; Jack Cockburn, tackle from Denison weighing 185-pounds; Douglas McSwane, 190-pound tackle from San Angelo; John Tom Baker, Denison, tackle weighing 195-pounds; Bill Glidewell, 197-pound tackle, Ashville, Ala.; Jerrell Price, 210-pound tackle from Brownfield; Bill Sharpley, 185-pound end from Corsicana; Dick Pirtle, Lubbock end weighing 190; Dick Jackson, Phillip's 190-pound end and Elbert Johnson, 198-pound end from Temple are returning lettermen.

Transfers who may help Tech maintain her Border conference winning ways are: Frank Graves, McKinney; a fast back who played for North Texas Agricultural college last year; Joe Neel, a big center from Hillsboro Junior college; Eldo Johnson, Temple, a back who came here last year from Texas University; Bill O'Grady, back, here last semester from TCU and Junior Aterburn, quarterback from Ranger Junior college.

Freshmen Will Help

Freshmen who are expected to bolster the Red Raider line-up are numerous; but the most promising of these are: Backs Gene Doss, Fort Worth; Denton Lambert, Lubbock; Carl Madison, Atmore, Ala.; Jim Turner, Olney; Sandy Welton, Fairmont, W. Va. and Done Seale, Idalou.

Centers Jimmie Williams, Phillips and Sam Jones, Temple; Tackles Marlan Ribbie, Fort Worth; David Brown, Weatherford and Harold Harris, Fort Worth.

Ends James Clark, Sundown; Alton Linne, Monahans; James Thames, Alvarado and Holliee Davis, Fort Worth.

Squadmen on last year's varsity who did not letter but are back for another year include: Albert Salem, Rex Penson, John Mougton, Lewis Crossley and Don Anthony.

Attend Denton Convention

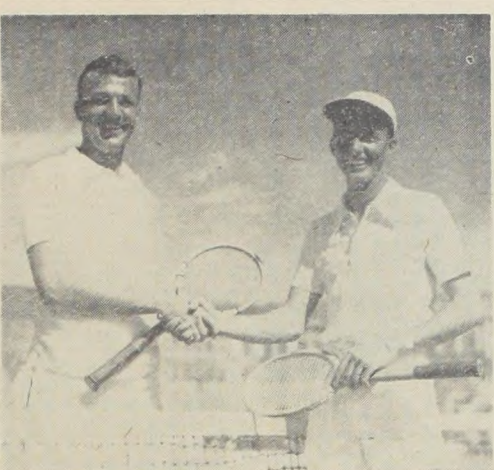

Eleven members of Future Teachers of America have been nominated to attend the Texas State convention of Future Teachers of America in Denton Mar. 17-18. Ten of those nominated will make the trip as official delegates of the Tech chapter of FTA.

ACROSS THE DAM

The greatest group of coaches ever assembled will instruct at Coach Pete Cawthon's Fifth annual coaching school at Tech August 5-17.

Cawthon has contacted and signed such men as Bernie Bierman, coach of the 1934 national championship football team, from Minnesota. Bierman is to give his observations on the advantages of the single wing system. Other notables include Frank Thomas, head coach at Alabama who will discuss the Notre Dame style of offense; Pop Warner of California and originator of more offensive plays than any other coach, will tell about his own style of play, namely the double wingback; Dana Bible, Nebraska coach, will give the history of the short punt; Fritz Crisler of Princeton will discuss the Princeton style of play which is essentially the same as the single wing; Raymond (Bear) Wolf, TCU line coach will handle line coaching and A. D. Kahler, assistant coach of Brown university will expound on the triple wingback.

Other men to be present and assist at the event are Francis Smith, head coach at Ohio State; Bennie Moore, football and track coach at LSU; Jack Torrance, world record holder of the shot-put event; Slat's Martin, best quarter miler and hurdler in the world; Gil Hermance of Rice; Melvin Petry of Hot Springs, Ark., and Blair Cherry, head coach of Amarillo High school. The preceding is a state from a 1935 issue of The Toreador in case you are interested. —Billy Yoes.

Six Intramural Cage Teams Fight For Playoff Births In Campus Loop

Intramural games approached a rapid climax Friday as six teams battled for the right to represent their division in final playoffs.

Monday night, the Quintessence Quintet met the Cavaliers in a do-or-die battle, the winner of which would meet the Jolly Jiggaboos in a playoff match to determine the League I champs. The "Double Q's" quickly took charge of the fray and polished off the Cavaliers, 43-19. Leroy Morrison and Bill Solomon led the way for the winners with 11 points apiece and Sonny Wehland was high for the losing quint with nine points.

Cross-Lee Beats ASCE

The second game was between the Cross-Lee Cage Lions and the A.S.C.E. Cross-Lee led 29-16 at the end of the third quarter and then went into a stalling game for the remaining eight minutes only to have the CE's take advantage of this slow style of play and pull within four points of the winners.

The Cage Lions won 30-26 largely due to an 11 point effort put forth by J. C. Boucher who was followed in the scoring column by Jim Holle-man with six points. High for the losers was Waymon Messick with eight points. By virtue of the Cross-Lee victory, the Cage-Lions and the A.S.C.E. team are tied for the championship and a playoff game between the two will be set for a later date.

Jiggaboos To Play Dusters

The championship game between the Athletic Dorm and the West Hall Eagles was held following the varsity game between the Raiders and Arizona U. The Athletic Dorm won by a 37-30 score in an extremely rough game with 33 personal fouls being called. High for the Athletes was Dick Jackson with 10 points and Eural Ramsey followed with six. Archie Campbell dropped in 10 for the Eagles and Sonny Stanford was second with eight points.

Monday night at 8:15, the Jolly Jiggaboos will meet the Dusters and at 9 o'clock the Quintessence Quintet meets the Wesley Wildcats.

Tuesday night, the Doak Green Hornets meet the Filthy Five at seven. All games will be played in the Tech gym.

William J. Felts of Lubbock is teaching in House high school, House, N. M. Also working in New Mexico is Milton C. Ray, agricultural economics, who is working with Veterans' On-the-Farm Training program at Dora.

Panorama

The Athletic dorm Squirrel Shooters have a very powerful sixth member starting with their regular five basketballers now. Of course it is superfluous to mention that under ordinary circumstances the sixth player on the floor would be illegal, but this extra help is an intangible asset.

The basketball playing footballers—or more accurately perhaps—the football playing basketballers, put a fear of retribution into their opponents. The West Hall Eagles lost the dorm league championship to the Squirrel Shooters while possessing what easily could be considered the better team. The Eagles were simply scared to get near the Athletic dorm boys, after finding out early in the game that their opponents were rather rugged in the clinches.

George Philbrick, assistant head of the physical education department, said that the only way a team could hope to beat the football quint was to maintain some degree of courage.

Ags Entertained By Local Jaycees

Members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce and Tech students entertained the Aggie club Tuesday night with one of the acts from a recent Jaycee jamboree entitled "The National Barn Dance." W. H. Tinney, associate professor of dairy manufactures, said.

Cast of the presentation was Tom Gambin, Uncle Patootie; Jim Reeves, Doctor Whistleblitches; Roy Lovelady, Elmer; Preston Baumgardner, Mable; and J. C. Hughes, Rudy, Master of ceremonies was Ralph Krebs.

Purpose of the entertainment was to raise funds for the new aggie scholarship. The winner of this year's scholarship, Junior Milton Winfield, 18-year-old Shallowater high school student, was introduced by L. B. Smith, chairman of the Jaycee agricultural committee.

Tech Young Women's association is sponsoring a St. Patrick's day party at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist church annex.

Engineering Grads To Be Interviewed By Stanolind Men

Representatives from Stanolind Oil and Gas company are to be here Wednesday to interview May graduates in chemical, mechanical and petroleum engineering. Mrs. Jean Jenkins, executive secretary of the Placement service said.

R. W. Collins and R. H. Smith of Stanolind have requested that appointments with mechanical and chemical engineers be limited to those in the upper level of the senior class. The interviews, according to Mrs. Jenkins, will be scheduled as follows: petroleum engineers, 10 appointments; mechanical engineers, six appointments and chemical engineers, four appointments.

Junior students majoring in petroleum engineering and graduate petroleum engineering students interested in summer employment will also be eligible for interviews, the secretary said.

Students who are interested may arrange appointments for interviews at the Placement office today, Mrs. Jenkins said. The office is in Ad-205.

KAM Pledge Rites Held This Week

Kappa Alpha Mu, national honorary fraternity for photography students, has held pledge services. New pledges are Jack Shelton, pledge captain; Savannah Tunnell, Sue Holmes, Floyd Wilburn, Audrey F. Carothers, Guida Miller, Pat Johnson, Janet Swindler, Carroll Sanders and John McAleer.

Plans for the club's annual print show, to be held the first week in April, were discussed. The divisions of the show will be news, sports, feature, industrial, architecture, pictorial, character study, pattern shots, fashions, animals and miscellaneous. There will also be an open class to exhibit 5x7 prints. A. J. Bishop, president of the organization, said. Prizes will be awarded for the best pictures.

Canterbury Club Entertains Members Of Tech Faculty

The Canterbury club of St. Paul's Episcopal church entertained approximately 40 Episcopal members of the Tech faculty and their husbands and wives with a reception Thursday night at Seaman hall.

Mrs. Neva Gahring, faculty sponsor, headed the receiving line. Others in the line were Rev. C. E. Canterbury, Roberts Bujac, club president, and Miss Mary Carey, director of college work.

Pres. D. M. Wiggins will speak at a luncheon meeting of the American Petroleum institute Thursday in Dallas. "The Flight of American Individualism" is to be the president's subject.

IGOR GORIN

Baritone

the program, Verdi's "Eri tu" from "Un Ballo in Maschera" will be the pre-intermission song.

Piano Selections Included
Herman Herz, Gorin's accompanist, will play a group of piano selections to include "Romance in F Sharp Major" by Schumann and "Rondo Capriccio in E Minor" by Mendelssohn.

Gorin's fourth section numbers are "Reverie of the Young Peasant" and "The Evening Prayer" by Moussorgsky. "The Merry Fiddler," a Russian traditional song, is also to be included.

Final selections are "Into the Night" by Clara Edwards, "10 A. M." from "Time" by Clarence Olmstead, "The Birds" by Benjamin Britten and "Song of the Open Road" by Malotte.
Gorin made his American debut in New York's Music hall in the latter 1930's. He had previously sung with Czechoslovakian Opera company, handling roles in German and Italian operas. After coming to America, the young singer appeared in M-G-M's "Broadway Melody of 1938" and on various radio shows.

Plans Are Studied For ASCE Banquet

Plans will be discussed for the second annual American Society of Civil Engineers banquet at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in C-101. The dinner, re-established last year after being discontinued during the war, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Hilton Hotel.

Guest speaker will be R. Tren Campbell graduate of 1931, who is president of Brandt Steel company in San Antonio.

A composer in his own right, the Russian-born singer prefers "Vint Vitre" (Stormy Breezes), an old Ukrainian folksong he learned at his mother's knee. This was his first recording and is usually an encore at Gorin concerts. Of his 12 published songs, the most popular is "Lullaby."

Before the last war, the artist heard Hitler talk in Vienna and decided to come to America. He is a citizen of the United States and is married to an Ohioan.

Home Ec Meeting Features Costumes Of Founder's Day

Costumes of 80 years ago were featured at the meeting of the Home Economics club Tuesday which honored Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, founder of the home economics movement. These costumes representative of her day were furnished by Miss Mabel D. Erwin, head professor of clothing and textiles, and modeled by Cleo Hall, Doris Rogers, Silvia Loyd, and Patsy Stout.

Incidents from the life of Mrs. Richards were narrated and a letter written by her when she attended Vassar in 1868 was read. In this letter she mentioned that it was "strictly unorthodox to be found outside the grounds except in parties of three, so that if one is hurt one can stay by to see that she does not slope, while one runs for help."

The next meeting of the home economics club will be at 7:15 p.m. Mar. 14, in Annex G of the Home Economics building. Angela Rattan, president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity, is in charge of the program which will be "Meet Miss Phi U."

Air Cadets Leave For Ohio Meeting

Ten cadets were initiated at the last meeting of the Arnold Society of Air Cadets and representatives were named to attend a National Convention of Air Cadets in Cincinnati, O. this week.

Two official representatives of Tech who are attending the Cincinnati meeting are Robert H. Browder and Robert Tinney. Others attending are William Parrish, commanding officer of the Arnold Society of Air Cadets, and Austin Rose. The students left yesterday morning by C&T from Reese Air Force base and will return tomorrow.

Capt. J. C. Aekley, air force liaison officer of the Twelfth Air Force, spoke to the group at the initiation on the future of reserve officers of the air force.

Campus Red Cross Drive Has Started

The Red Cross fund drive has started on the campus with both faculty and students making contributions.

Boxes have been set up in all the buildings on the campus in which persons may drop their contributions. The faculty members are asked to turn their contributions in to the business office, said Mrs. Flossie Brown, business office cashier.

The drive will end March 27. Proceeds will be used in aid of those who can't afford medical care, and those who need assistance of any type. Full cooperation of faculty and students is asked to make the drive go over the top, Mrs. Brown said.

Publications Committee Announces Rules Governing Advertising By Organizations

Campus organizations planning to issue publications containing advertising other than The Toreador or La Ventana, will be required to submit plans for approval, according to a letter sent to all organizations by Elizabeth Craig, secretary of the publications committee.

Clubs desiring to solicit advertising to pay part or all costs of their publications will be required to abide by the following specifications, Miss Craig said:

1. A student representative of the club must appear before the publications committee with a proposed budget, a statement showing what use will be made of funds derived from advertising, the approximate number of copies to be printed, the publication and circulation date.

2. The publication plan must have been approved by the dean concerned and the Student Council.

3. Upon receipt of authorization, the agents shall agree to submit at the close of the project a financial statement showing an exact account of all funds secured through advertising.

4. Applications for approved agents to solicit the advertising must be submitted to the publications committee in time for consideration at a regular meeting held no less than two weeks prior to the date of issuance of the publication.

5. No agent of the issuing organization shall make any personal financial gain from his selling activities.

6. No advertising which is merely of a signature nature, commonly called "egg ads," shall be permitted or approved.

Publications committee meetings are held the first Monday of each month. Student members are: Margory Bullen, senior commercial art major; Bill Trenfield, senior education major; Roy Teice, senior business student; Don Morrison, senior agricultural student and Miss Craig, senior home economics student.

Faculty members of the committee are: Prof. A. B. Strehli, chairman; Prof. Clark Schooley, Dr. Mina Lamb, Miss Gussie Teague, Prof. Haskell Taylor and Prof. R. A. Mills.

MODERN DANCES PRESENTED

An exhibition of modern dance was presented at Adair's Music hall Wednesday night by members of the dance class of Mrs. Richard Richards, assistant professor of women's physical education.

Liederkrantz Sings Song Hits In German

Want to hear how "I'm Looking Over A Four Leaf Clover" sounds when it's sung in German?

A six-man choral group is to present Germanic versions of several modern hit tunes at a meeting of Liederkrantz, the German club, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Ad-202. David Pinson, reporter, said yesterday.

Included in the group's numbers will be "Down by the Old Mill Stream," "Peg O' My Heart," "You Are the One" and the ditty about the rarely-found clover. Members of the chorus are Joyce Wortell, Graham Bogel, J. D. Barrington, Ivan Sorenson, Charles Rainwater and Lynn Perkins.

Bogel, Barrington and Miss Wortell are to sing "Es War so Wunder-schön," which was so popular in Germany in 1938.

Barrington has revised the music for this tune, which was sung during a supper party at the home of Dr. C. B. Qualla in honor of the committee which planned last summer's Goethe Bicentennial festival, Pinson said. Doctor Qualla is professor and head of foreign languages.

Washington Alumni Hold Social Event

The Tech Alumni association in Washington had its first social event since organizing last fall when it entertained with a chili supper Thursday night, John R. Cummings, president of the association, said.

Food for the dinner was brought from Lubbock to the Burlington hotel in Washington for the event.

Furr Food stores donated the meal. Special guest at the supper was Rep. George Mahon of Colorado city. The event was considered a milestone in the history of Tech because it showed how many graduates have attained high places in the government and the professions in the nation's capital, said Cummings.

About 115 members are in the Washington group. Officers besides Cummings are: Maurice Goodpasture, first vice president; Burnis Walker, second vice president; Marcus Owens, third vice president; Dorothy Rylander, secretary to Congressman Mahon and Fred Griffin, treasurer.

Herman Orchestra Cancels Program For Tech Rec Hall

Tech students almost had the opportunity to hear Woody Herman and his orchestra next Friday night under the auspices of the Rec hall program, Marshall Gettys, president of the Student Council, stated.

The orchestra, playing in Little Rock, had scheduled a tentative date with Tech on its way back to engagements in California. However, an engagement in Tucson, which had previously been cancelled, was reinstated, Gettys said. This date was the same one that was tentatively scheduled for Tech, so Tech was the loser, Gettys explained.

Dean Of Women Named To Club

Mrs. Margarette W. Walker, dean of women, has been initiated into Altrusa club. Membership of this international women's service organization is limited, and only a certain number of women from different professions are invited to join.

Each district of Altrusa club brings a displaced person to the United States in order to send him to school. The local chapter is trying to have the DP for this district sent to Tech, Mrs. Walker said.

Oscar Allen, August graduate from Hale Center, has accepted a position with the Southwestern Investment corporation in Carlsbad, N. M. While in school Allen was president of Tech Chamber of Commerce.

56 DAYS OF FEEDING TESTS REVEAL

Lambs Gain Most Weight From Sorghum Silage Feed

By GENE BRASHEAR
Toreador Staff Writer

Results of 56 days of a 75-day dry lot lamb feeding period show that lambs fed sorghum silage slightly excelled in weight gains those animals which were given a straight alfalfa ration.

The research is conducted to compare the feeding values of five different roughages, Ray C. Mowery, professor of animal husbandry, has announced.

The animal husbandry department is doing the experiment with Harry E. Blenden, graduate student, in charge. Support of the project is being given by the research committee.

Concentrates in all of the experiments consisted of cottonseed and milo, but the roughages were varied to determine which was most effective for dry lot feeding. The roughages were alfalfa hay, red top sorghum silage, red top sorghum bundles, African millet bundles and hegrira bundles.

Gains On Alfalfa Lot

Check lot in which alfalfa was the roughage showed an average daily gain of 33 pounds. Lambs in this lot received an average daily ration of 35 pounds of cottonseed meal, 1.33 pounds of milo and 1.47 pounds of alfalfa. At prevailing feed prices, the average per 100 pounds gain was $14.63.

The alfalfa lot was topped by the silage feed lot which showed an average daily gain of 36 pounds per head. The lambs in this lot daily consumed 35 pounds of cottonseed meal, 1.06 pounds of milo, 36 pounds of alfalfa, 3.09 pounds of sorghum silage, 4 ounces of limestone and 1 ounce of salt. The cost per 100 pounds gain was $13.30.

Three other lots ate identical rations of .35 pounds of cottonseed meal, .05 pounds of threshed milo, .35 pounds of alfalfa, 1.25 pounds of roughage, .4 ounces of limestone and 1 ounce of salt.

The lot in which red top sorghum bundles were fed as roughage showed an average daily gain of .31 pounds per head at a cost of $14.57 per 100 pounds gained. On the African millet lot, the average daily increase was .29 pounds at a cost per 100 gained of $15.34.

Hegira Was Last

Ranking last was hegrira, with an average gain each day of 27 pounds, and with a cost per 100 pounds of $16.59.

The feeding experiment is to be completed before the coming planting season. Roughages used in the project can all be grown locally and can be fed successfully in fattening lambs, Mowery said.

The experiment is to be concluded Mar. 17 so that all results will be at hand and so that the animals themselves will also be available for observance during the quarterly meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association in Lubbock Mar. 18.

To Sponsor School Here

Texas and Oklahoma Wheat Improvement associations will sponsor a wheat variety identification school Tuesday and Wednesday in cooperation with the plant industry department. The school will be held in Ag-301.

Two federal grain inspectors from Fort Worth will be instructors. Grain dealers, elevator men and others interested in wheat are expected to attend. The school is mainly for those who are engaged in inspecting wheat.
