

Student Council Will Choose Secretary, Girl Cheerleader At Thursday Session

Two new student body officers will be named Thursday night by the Student Council following action taken in a meeting Monday.

A special method was adopted for filling vacancies left in the offices of student association secretary and head girl cheerleader by Jeanne Sharp and Diane Wimberly, respectively, who failed to meet required qualifications.

Petitions for nominations for both offices will be directed to the council from the student body. From petitions the student council will elect officers. The council agreed upon the method for swift selection of officers.

A called meeting of the student council at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in Ad208 was announced by Horton Russell, student association president.

All students whose names have been petitioned must be present at the meeting, Russell said.

Petitions will be available at 2 p.m. today in the student council office, Ad323. All petitions must be returned to this office before 5 p.m. Thursday.

A petition must be signed by at least five per cent of the student body, or approximately 250 persons.

Qualifications set forth by the constitution require that a nominee must have:

Attained a 1.00 grade average in all work taken during the semester preceding his election, the semester in which he takes office, and the time during which he holds the office.

Attained a 1.00 grade average for all college work prior to election.

Been a resident student in the semester preceding the election.

Met the special qualifications set forth in this constitution for that office.

The council set its regular meeting for the second and fourth Monday nights of each month at 7:15 p.m.

The council also voted to allow the Ex-Student association to sell a limited number of silver anniversary editions of the TEXAS TOREADOR to present students. Al Stevens, a student, was granted permission to sell "touchdown" blankets from his dormitory room and to solicit business through ads in THE TOREADOR.

Plans for administering new parking regulations were discussed. Russell emphasized that the program was to be "a cooperative undertaking" for the benefit of all students. A panel of three student council members will be appointed to work with a faculty advisor in handling violations.

Board Of Directors Meet This Weekend

The boards of directors of Texas Tech and the Texas Tech foundation will hold meetings in Lubbock this weekend, Ed Smith, assistant to the president, has announced.

Foundation directors, meeting in the Hilton hotel at 7 p.m. Friday, will be presented a brochure explaining the foundation program. The pamphlet pictures various phases of activity on Tech campus, from research in cosmic rays to athletics.

Brief statements about the members of board of directors for the foundation are also printed in the booklet. The foundation seeks to obtain gifts for advancement of research and other literary undertakings at Tech.

All foundation board members will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Wiggins at the Tech-Texas football game Saturday. Other guests of Pres. and Mrs. Wiggins will be Mr. and Mrs. A.M.G. Swenson of Stamford and Mr. and Mrs. David M. Warren of Panhandle. Swenson and Warren are members of the University of Texas board of regents. Warren is vice chairman.

The Tech board of directors will hold a routine business meeting Saturday morning before attending the game in the afternoon. The board will meet again Sept. 30 in San Antonio.

Bob Maniss, president of the Tech chapter of Future Teachers of America, has announced a business meeting for 6:45 p.m. tomorrow in the Extension building.

Campus Wide Chest X-Ray Survey Scheduled For Next Week At Gym

Tech-wide chest x-ray survey will be held again this year on the campus September 26-29.

X-rays will be made in the Gymnasium from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. each day.

The survey, which is free and open to both students and faculty members, has as its purpose the screening of chest diseases, particularly tuberculosis. It has been stressed that it is not necessary to undress for the x-ray, but items such as costume jewelry, fountain pens and billfolds should be removed.

Miss Virginia Greenwaldt, executive secretary of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, said that the aim of her committee was to have every student and faculty member x-rayed.

At the time the x-ray is made, the name of the family physician

School Yearbook Business Manager Applications Open

Roy Grimes, named business manager of the 1950 La Ventana last spring, was called into the Navy, leaving his position open. The publications committee has called for applicants for the vacancy.

Prof. A. B. Strehli, committee chairman, said applicants should submit qualifications and recommendations to him in writing. Applications may be made by any student qualifying under the eligibility rules for extra-curricular activities.

Paula Fix, La Ventana editor, asked for applications for art editor to be made in the yearbook's office, J207. Any persons wishing to be on the staff are also asked to notify her.

Offices of business manager and art editor are paid positions, the business manager being paid on a commission basis.

Classes Offered Away From Tech

Three night classes away from Lubbock have been organized and six others are tentatively planned under the direction of the Texas Tech extension service.

Two workshop courses in curriculum and instruction, being taught by Dr. R. L. Davidson, began this week. The first class was held in Spur High school. The other is at Crosbyton.

Flaming Double-T To Light North Campus

VACATION'S OVER—Tech's familiar emblem, the double-T sign, is shown above as construction workers bring it back into the open and hoist it to its new location on Jones stadium.

Pep Rally Kicks Off Sign's New Role

The first pep rally for the 1950 football season will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, east of Jones stadium. Coffee Conner, head cheerleader, announced.

Highlighting the program will be the dedication of the lighting of the double-T sign. Donated to the college by the 1938 graduates, the double-T was located at the west end of the parking lot between the Library and the Chemistry building. Last spring the sign was moved due to construction of a new Science building. For several months it has been hidden behind the Mechanical Engineering shops. Last week it was erected above the center gate on the east side of Jones stadium. Facing the highway, the sign may now be seen by College avenue traffic.

Following the dedication by Andy Behrends, vice-president of the Saddle Tramps association, Coach Dell Morgan will introduce the football players. The band will play.

Conner states that all the old school songs and yells, plus one new yell, will be used. He will be assisted in leading by Ben Willis and Kenneth Hobbs.

All students are urged to be present for the rally.

Tech Offers Doctorate Of Philosophy Due To Expanding Graduate Program

Senior Architects May Enter Contest

Senior architecture students will be eligible to enter a competition sponsored by the Texas Society of Architects. Prof. F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of architecture department, said.

The purpose of the contest is to design a clinic building for medical doctors. Among the schools which will participate in the contest are Texas Tech, Rice institute and the University of Houston.

Faculty and staff of the schools will arrange judgment so that only the three top competitors from each school will be entered, judged and exhibited at the convention of the society, Kleinschmidt announced.

Top prize of $150 is offered by the society to the student winning the contest. Traveling expenses to the convention for the three top competitors of each school will be furnished by the society.

Tech Purchases Stallion Quarterhorse, Amigo Man

Amigo Man, a yearling quarterhorse stallion with champion blood in his family, was purchased by Tech from R. L. Underwood of Wichita Falls.

The purchase was announced Monday by W. L. Stangel, dean of the agriculture division.

The stallion is a half brother to Betty Lou and Peggy O'Neil. Betty Lou, owned by Underwood, has been the champion mare in every show in which she has been entered. Texas A&M's Peggy O'Neil was the grand champion at Stamford in 1947.

Amigo Man will replace Sir Chubby, who has been in Texas Tech stud for four years.

Saddle Tramps Seek Pledges

Men students interested in pledging Saddle Tramps are instructed to meet at 5 p.m. today in C101, Andy Behrends, vice president of the cheering group, announced.

Nine students are now working toward the doctor of philosophy degree, which will be offered at Tech this year for the first time.

In an expanding program of graduate work the college offers the doctorate in three fields of study, American civilization, English, and history. Dr. W. B. Gates, dean of graduate study, has announced that the program will grow in 1951 to include a doctorate in chemistry and geology. Plans are also being made for the inauguration of the degree of doctors in education.

Although there will be no candidate for the Ph.D. in June, Glenn Ivy, Vernon G. Spence and Zane Mason are working toward a doctorate in history while teaching in the government department.

Mrs. John Shinn, Bevington Reed and William J. Hughes are doing part-time teaching in the history department while working on a doctorate in the same field.

In the English department, Estus Polk, W. R. Thompson and Joe F. Tarpley are candidates for the doctorate in that field. They are also instructing in the English department, Gates said.

Jobs For Women Outlook Uncertain

Miss Marion Thompson, assistant dean of women, has announced that it is impossible at present to find part time employment for all the applicants on file in her office.

The situation is partly due to the fact that campus offices have not as yet turned in their requests. When these lists have been filed with the dean of women, the demand may once again coincide with the supply. Miss Thompson said, however, that many requests have been made for girls who would work for their room and board. Very few of these positions have been filled.

The schedule is 8:30 a.m. until 9:30 and 1:00 until 2:00 p.m. each day. All girls who applied for positions previous to enrollment are asked to come by during the scheduled hours to file their class schedules with their applications.

Tech Car Permits Checked Thursday

New campus parking regulations will be put into effect tomorrow, Lewis N. Jones, assistant dean of student life, announces.

Approximately 1900 cars have been registered under Tech's new traffic system, according to Jones. Students and faculty members who have not registered their cars should do so today, Jones said. Late registration is being conducted in Ad110.

Under the new program there will be no parking on any paved street or alley on the campus. There are 12 parking areas on the campus besides a free parking space around the Gym. Regulations will be enforced every school day from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. All violations of parking restrictions will be handled by the college through a committee of three students and three faculty members.

Stickers must be placed on all cars, as they serve as parking permits. Duplicate stickers may be obtained in Ad110.

South Plains Fair Plans College Day

Plans for an all-college program on Tech's day at South Plains Panhandle fair Friday, Oct. 6, are being made by a special committee headed by Ed Smith, assistant to Pres. D. M. Wiggins.

The program will be in the form of a pep rally with Saddle Tramps, the Tech Concert band, a team of tumblers, and the cheer leaders participating. Plans are for the Tech Men's Glee club to sing with the band. Bill Parsley, radio announcer for station KCBQ, and Tech student will be master of ceremonies.

Members of the committee other than Mr. Smith are: James G. Allen, dean of student life; Mrs. Louise C. Allen, assistant professor of journalism; Dr. Raymond W. Kirellis, head of physical education; Prof. Raymond Elliott, professor of music; Dr. F. Merville Larson, head of speech; Parsley; Bill Luke, president of Saddle Tramps; D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of Ex-Students association; Prof. Gene Hemmle, head of music; and Prof. D. O. Wiley, director of the Tech band.

Three noted Americans will be here Oct. 20 to help Tech celebrate its twenty-fifth birthday.

Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, US representative from Connecticut, completes the list of three speakers to take part in the Silver Anniversary symposium. Two famous scholars, Dr. Henry Steele Commager and Dr. Otto Struve, have agreed previously to be on hand for participation in the Oct. 20 program.

A former teacher at the University of Texas, Mrs. Woodhouse has been active as an outstanding educator and stateswoman. She has studied at Science Hill, Shelbyville, Ky., McGill university, the University of Berlin and the University of Chicago.

She was elected to the 79th and 81st sessions of Congress and was Connecticut secretary of state from 1941 to 1943. Other activities include the directorship of the Women's division of the Democratic National committee.

She edits "Women's Work and Education" and has written articles on women's work and economics for various publications. Several of her articles are based on professional relations for women, including "Business Opportunities for the Home Economist."

She has written the "Big Store" and "Studies of the Institute of Women's Professional Relations," Dean Allen said.

J. E. Williamson, holder of a master of arts degree from Tech, is new dean of men at the University of Houston.

Informal Convocation Friday Will Open Rush Week Activities For Tech Women

Rush week will begin with an informal convocation at 5 p.m. Friday in the Aggie auditorium for all girls wishing to pledge a social club, according to Mary Anne Kelley, WICC president.

Those wishing to participate in rush week must attend this convocation, she said.

Registration began Tuesday. It is compulsory that all girls register in the WICC office in the Green room. The office will be open for registration between 12:30 and 3 p.m. each day through Friday. Rushes are required to pay a fee of $1 for rush week at the time of registration. A rushing handbook containing the rules and schedule of rush week will be given to each rusher.

A woman student on scholastic probation is ineligible to participate in rush week, according to rush rules.

Members of the Women's Inter-Club council include two members of each of the five social clubs—DFD, Ko Shari, Los Chaparritas, Las Vivarachas and Sans Souci. Through this group, all rules governing the inter-relationships of the clubs are made and all rushing regulations are set up.

Girls' Social Clubs Replace Officers

Officers of women's social clubs who did not return to school this fall have been replaced by some of the clubs at elections held last week. Many of the clubs have also made plans for rush week, presidents and reporters of the various clubs have announced.

A called meeting of Ko Shari was held Saturday, according to Mary Ruth Norris, president. Officers who were elected are vice president, Pat Sprague, replacing Shelley Furr, who transferred to the University of Texas; treasurer, Lucy Womack, replacing Pat Sprague; reporter, Marjorie Prewitt, replacing Tina Haslam, who transferred to the University of Miami. Plans were made for rush week at the meeting also.

Guida Miller, president of Las Chaparritas, reported that the club had a called meeting Friday to replace former officers who are not returning and to make plans for rush week. The only office to be filled was that of the vice president. Jacque Spurlock was elected. Sue Lawson, alumnae adviser to the active club, was present at the meeting.

Las Vivarachas will hold a called meeting tonight to elect a new vice president and to make plans for rush week, according to Jane Adams, president.

Sans Souci and DFD will also meet tonight to replace officers and to plan for rush week.

Tech Red Raiders of 1938 played St. Mary's Galloping Gaels from Moraga, Cal., in the Cotton bowl Jan. 2, 1939. The score of 20-13 left Tech driving to tie.

Better Alive . . .

Would you rather be dead or slightly inconvenienced? That's about what the parking regulations have been based on—preserving lives. It is going to be hard for us who usually drive or bum rides to learn to walk from one campus building to another. Mechanized Americans, and especially West Texans, prefer to ride even for very short distances. There's no denying the fact that women students in the dormitories who have cars will find it hard to leave cars parked at the dorm while they trek to X5B class. Nor will it be easy for dormitory men to leave their cars in the allotted areas while they try to make an 8 a.m. class in the Aggie auditorium.

Hazardous traffic between classes and inadequate parking facilities caused the new plan to be put into effect. Several attempts have been made to eliminate the hazards in campus traffic, but low campus speed limits and no-parking regulations for streets did not prove to be enough. Two student pedestrians were involved in accidents which could have been fatal. Persons walking from behind cars parked on campus streets were always in danger.

Some solution had to be started this fall, and we think Lewis Jones, assistant dean of student life, and his traffic planning committee are to be commended for the area system and expanded parking lots just inaugurated. Much work and thought went into the new plan. Investigation proved that every campus comparable in size to this one has applied similar parking regulations. Many schools have entirely eliminated parking on the campus.

Bobbles will arise, just as they do in every new plan. Help from the entire Tech personnel will be necessary to make the system effective and the campus safe.

To eliminate accident potentialities and to organize parking, we do not believe it is asking too much to use leg muscles instead of accelerators on the campus.

Slime Caps Mean Money For Frosh

Where's your slime cap, freshman?

If it's on your head, you might be interested in this anyway. Traditionally, Hemphill-Wells, downtown department store, is selling the green freshman caps with the red numerals to incoming Techsians.

Price of the caps is $1, which goes into funds for the freshman class, Culver Hill, advertising director at Hemphill-Wells, said. Half the funds taken in from the sale of caps to boys goes to the Matorador club, an organization of Red Raider boosters, Hill stated. The other half goes into a freshman loan fund.

Proceeds from sales of caps to freshmen women are split in two also, Hill said. Half the money goes into the freshman loan fund and half goes into the girls' recreational activities fund to be used at the discretion of the Dean of Women, he continued.

Upperclassmen are urging freshmen to buy and begin wearing their slime caps, since it is a Tech tradition. The dollar that buys the cap will also help freshmen again when it is turned back to the college.

FRESHMAN FOOTNOTES

School days are underway again. You freshmen are already a unique class; you are the twenty-fifth group to become Techsians. If the full week of tests, registration and special activities hasn't made you feel like true dyed-in-the-sand Techsians, surely the feeling will come during this first week of classes, climaxed by the football game with some Longhorns from down south.

Plan now to make the most of this Silver anniversary year. The college curriculum is the hub for the wheel of education with spokes leading to diverse opportunities that you'll find only during your college days. Concentrate on getting a good start in every class by giving good attention to instructors and by preparing homework thoroughly. When you've done that, you'll find an endless number of worthwhile activities to ally homesickness or idleness.

Spokes from the hub lead to interests in departmental clubs, social activities, religious groups and perhaps one or more honorary groups, if your study habits are given a good start and maintained. Select carefully the activities you feel are necessary to your happiness, then enter into them with enthusiasm, always remembering that you must give to gain. Don't neglect a single important spoke in that educational wheel. Friendships will be a very important one. Never fail to be friendly, but don't feel that you have to clasp every single person you meet here to be your constant friend. On the other hand guard against getting so involved with one group that you won't be able to add worthwhile friendships. Remember the hundreds of potential friends around here and keep that friendship circle open.

Departmental clubs can be valuable professional aids and so can honorary groups. A certain amount of social activities are highly desirable. When you registered you paid for certain privileges which you would be wise to use. The Artists course will bring outstanding performers to you to enjoy. Rec hall programs have already begun furnishing planned activities, which later will include movies, square dances, and lectures by well-known persons. Sports activities are open to you, too.

Tech is not a denominational school, but Lubbock is certainly a church town. Many denominations are waiting to be of help to freshmen. Just go your half way. Understandably bewildered by a new level of education, you will be challenged to seek advice and counsel from qualified persons. Regardless of senior ideals, upperclassmen are not unfeeling sources of knowledge. Qualified persons are available to help you with your problems or questions.

Student Defense Specifications

Students will not be in the armed forces as long as they are doing satisfactory work.

According to a directive by the office of the president, Gen. Paul L. Walker, Gen. of Texas School of Military Science, a resolution will be passed by the board of trustees regarding students pursuing a course of study satisfactory to the school.

The statement from Walkerfield stressed that no student is not automatically placed on a list for post-graduate study unless a student's selective service is supported by a statement from an official of his school.

Students at Texas Tech who are deferred from such a deferment, must be notified by the board of trustees, said Ed Smith, assistant to the president.

The directive from Walkerfield stated that any person who voluntarily pursuing a course of instruction at university or similar institution, is ordered to report to the end of the year shall, upon the fact of the local board, be deferred (1) until the next academic year or (2) until such course of instruction is completed.

The academic year is to be from September 1 to August 31.

Official Silver anniversary items are being given a Tech bookstore.

Statue of Will Rogers was dedicated last week at the Texas Tech by Amos C. Worth, publisher and founder of Tech board of directors.

Student Deferment Specifications Told

Students will not be inducted into the armed forces as long as they are doing satisfactory school work. According to a directive received by the office of the president from Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield director of Texas Selective service, induction will be postponed for all students pursuing a fulltime course of study satisfactorily.

The statement from Brig. Gen. Wakefield stressed that the postponement is not automatic.

A request for postponement of induction must be placed with the student's selective service board supported by a statement signed by an official of his school.

Students at Texas Tech who seek such a deferment must have a signed statement from their academic dean, said Ed Smith, assistant to the president.

The directive from Wakefield said in part:

"Any person who, while satisfactorily pursuing a fulltime course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning, is ordered to report for induction after the beginning and prior to the end of an academic year shall, upon the facts presented to the local board, have his induction postponed (1) until the end of such academic year or (2) until he ceases satisfactorily to pursue such course of instruction, whichever is the earlier."

The academic year is considered to be from September until June.

Official Silver anniversary emblems are being given away at the Tech bookstore.

Statue of Will Rogers on Soap-suds was dedicated last February. The equestrian statue was given to Tech by Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher and former member of Tech board of directors.

Troy Enis, Rec hall director, is the father of a new son, Troy A. Jr., born Thursday morning.

Sue Rainey Named Acting PE Head

Miss Sue Rainey will serve as acting head of women's physical education, Dr. R. W. Kirellis, head of physical education, has announced.

A new instructor, Miss Ruth Hall, has been added to the departmental staff, Kirellis said. Mrs. Richard Richards is back again this year, he stated.

Miss Rainey succeeds Mrs. George Langford, head of women's physical education until her retirement last spring. An associate professor, Miss Rainey is sponsor of Forum, senior women's service organization.

Kirellis outlined plans for swimming courses to be offered to women students, as well as to men. The courses will not be open to women this semester, he said.

Tech's Infirmary Adds Two to Staff

Two members have been added to the Tech infirmary staff. Dr. Embree Rose, college physician, has announced.

Miss Ruby Howell, a 1950 graduate of West Texas hospital, and Mrs. Mary Botkins, who was graduated from Baptist hospital in Nashville, Tenn., have assumed duties in the infirmary. Mrs. Botkins' husband is a Tech student.

New PE Courses Provide Activities Fitted To Student

As long as a student is able to breathe and walk there is an activity in physical education fitted to him, says Dr. R. W. Kirellis, new head of the department.

Since assuming the post as head of the department, Kirellis has added several freshman and sophomore level courses to enable students to follow a development program.

New advanced courses are also being planned, including courses in sports officiating, organization and administration of intramural programs and care of athletic injuries.

Freshman and sophomore courses offered for the first time include beginning and advanced swimming and life saving offered at the Boys' club pool, bowling, weight lifting and golf.

Students who have had polio will be able to participate in swimming classes, and those who have weak hearts can take part in such sports as golf or bowling, he states.

Business Courses, Teacher Studies Offered In Night Classes, On Saturday

Partly responsible for the enrollment at Texas Tech this term are 27 night and Saturday classes offered for business personnel and teachers.

When the TB X-ray examinations are given in the gym Sept. 26-29, all freshmen and sophomore physical education students will be required to take the tests. The X-ray will show not only the TB status of the student, but will also furnish information about the student's heart, according to Doctor Kirellis.

After the X-rays have been made, students will be placed in special classes if their heart is shown to be weak by further examination.

With the introduction of the new courses, Kirellis also announced the beginning of a new course program which will require each student to take part in one individual sport, one team sport and one dual sport. The student may elect his fourth semester of physical education from any of the three phases.

Previously courses have been offered on the campus at night, but not on such an extensive plan.

The schedule of night classes as announced by Warren G. Harding, assistant to the registrar, includes courses in education, English, history, accounting, finance, marketing, economics, management, architecture, agricultural education, clothing, home ec education, psychology and music education.

Fall semester courses in business administration will be followed by advanced studies in the spring and subsequent semesters, according to Dr. G. G. Heather, dean of the division.

Offered in the division of business administration are elementary accounting, CPA problems, business law, principles of marketing, principles of economics, principles of advertising, CPCU insurance, employee supervision and machine accounting.

Business personnel or other persons interested in these courses should see COURSES Page 7

Earl Jackson Promises To Continue Red Raider History At Fullback Slot

Tech's long history of sparkling fullbacks is likely to be continued this year by a 190-pounder from Phillips. Earl Jackson who is playing his last year of football for the Raiders has been demonstrating in scrimmages that he is capable of perpetuating the line of backs begun by Walter Schlinkman of the 1944-45 Raiders and continued in recent years by such players as Ed Robinett and Leete Jackson in '46, Leete Jackson in '47 and Bud Conley in '49.

Always a hard runner and dependable player, the 21 year-old fullback has seen action in varsity games beginning in his freshman year when he scored Tech's only touchdown against a victorious Baylor team in 1947. Capable in the open field as well as in the plugging department, he has been known to score on long runs when broken loose. Notable was his 30 yard-plus jaunt against the Rice Owls last autumn.

Jackson was conspicuous in scrimmage activities carried out by the Raiders last Saturday afternoon, gaining consistently against varsity opposition and breaking away for two long runs against the frosh team. Although admittedly the freshmen did not offer a defense on a par with that of the varsity, no other backs were able to move with Jackson's regularity.

In the line, Saturday, tackle Jerrell Price was distinct, on offense. One railbird cracked that the stocky junior went downfield after a halfback as though he meant to take a piece of him home. End Dick Jackson starred as a pass receiver and placement kicker.

Junior Arterburn, junior college transfer, secured his position as leading candidate for starting quarterback. His passes were satisfactory and his ball handling and signal calling left little to be desired. Arterburn also stood out in his running ability, making several nice gains on keeper plays.

In pass reception the Raiders showed their most obvious weak point. Receivers in the clear were unable to grab passes with consistency from the arms of Seale and Arterburn.

Freshman players at times out-hustled the varsity although showing lack of polish due to the short length of time they have been working out. It was seldom that one man made a tackle for the frosh, a heap of the youngsters usually stacking themselves on the prone body of a varsityman.

Defensive units of the Red Raiders have shown marked improvement of late. Bulwarked by the work of ends, the defenders Saturday were more able to stop an offense which had reigned supreme in earlier practices. One stand-out was right end Dick Cavazos. Though smaller than average for a collegiate football player, Cavazos has shown unwillingness to be blocked and an ability at tackling which would be notable in a much larger player.

San Antonio Exes To Hold Reception

When Texas Tech plays Texas A&M in San Antonio on Sept. 30, the San Antonio Ex-Students association of Texas Tech will stage a reception.

Festivities open the night before the game with registration and open house of exes in the Gunter hotel.

The registration will continue Saturday morning through 12 noon. At that time, the San Antonio former Tech students have planned a luncheon to honor the college board of directors.

Registrations and a reception will continue through 7 p.m. in the presidential suite of the hotel.

The game is set for 8 p.m. in Alamo stadium.

Married students will be allowed to purchase season tickets to all Tech home football games for their wives or husbands in the student section this year.

Tickets may be obtained by presenting activity books at the stadium office following registration. Price of the tickets is $9.00 and admits holder to five home varsity games and two home freshman games.

BACKFIELD LINE UP—In the running for Raider backfield spots are Tim Hatch, RHB, Earl Jackson, FB, and Don Seale, QB. Robert Hix is center.

Scott's Freshman Football Team Shows Hustle In Weekend Scrimmage Session

The 1950 freshmen footballers, coached by George Scott, who last year was head football mentor at Canyon high school, made an impressive showing in their first scrimmage against the varsity last Saturday afternoon.

Captain Scott had an outstanding record at Canyon last year. His football team tied for district honors, and his basketball team captured the state class A title. Scott attended the University of Michigan and Oklahoma A&M. He has been coaching for nine years.

The schedule for the freshman football team includes five games: Sept. 22, West Texas State at Canyon; Oct. 27, the University of New Mexico at Hobbs; Nov. 3, Odessa Jr. college at Odessa; Nov. 10, West Texas State at Lubbock, 3:00 p.m.; and Nov. 18, Hardin-Simmons at Lubbock, 2:30 p.m. Unless otherwise indicated all games are with freshman teams of other schools.

The freshman football roster, composed of 36 men, is listed as follows: Moody Alexander, Amarillo; J. J. Barlow, Lakeview; Bob Cavazos, Kingsville; Bobby Clarke, Sundown; Don Douglas, Corpus Christi; Richard Duke, Fort Worth; Leo Erwin, Claude; Paul Edwin, Odessa; Jerry Fairley, Pecos; George Farrell, Amarillo; Buddy Farris, Weatherford; Andy

Physical Education's Program For All Tech Students Offers Participation In Intramural Sports Activities

The department of health, physical education, and recreation has announced its extensive intramural sports program for the coming year. The intramural program has

Texas' McFaden All-Star Choice

A fullback turned guard, Lewis McFaden of Texas university, may be one of two All-America candidates produced by the southwest this year.

Named along with Kyle Rote of SMU in most pre-season all-star teams, the 240 pound ex-fullback was an unanimous selection on last year's all Southwest conference eleven.

Moved in his sophomore year to guard, he has been a letterman on Longhorn teams since 1948 when he was a second team lineman.

a motto of "sports activity, not for the spectator, but full participation in some activity for all students."

George R. Philbrick, director of intramural sports, has set down the aims of the physical education staff throughout the entire program. "For every man there is a sport he enjoys, a team on which to play, and fair and even competition," said Philbrick. He also added the hope that the program will add to the student's enjoyment of life.

Relief from mental strain and help in maintaining good physical condition are other aims of the program.

The intramural program is open to all students except varsity and freshman athletes. Any group wishing to enter into competition must select a team manager and/or coach. The names of all participating students must then be filed on an eligibility list which can be secured at the gym by contacting Charles Smith or Travis Smith, intramural managers.

Participation in athletics is entirely voluntary, but it is hoped that every man will assure himself an adequate physical recreation program. The physical education staff is ready to advise the students at all times.

Sports included in the intramural sports schedule are touch football, tennis singles and doubles, hand ball, bowling, basketball, fencing, free throws, badminton, softball, golf, track, horseshoes and ping pong.

The first sport, touch football, opens on Oct. 5. Entries open Monday and close Sept. 30. Entries in tennis open Sept. 30 and close Oct. 8. Competition begins Oct. 10.

COURSES—

sons may register for the courses for no credit or for undergraduate credit. In some instances graduate credit may be earned, according to Heather.

Courses offered this semester in other divisions are designed principally for teachers. Included are both undergraduate and graduate level courses.

FOOTNOTES—

Two years ago the administration realized the importance of providing trained personnel to help students with personal problems. That's why each dormitory on the campus has a senior counselor. Department heads, divisional deans, house mothers and a variety of staff members will be able to help you. There's not a person on the campus who is too busy to talk to you if you are sincere.

Back to friends, though some persons are by no means objectionable in themselves, they will take your time from other contacts which would be enjoyable, enlightening and educational. Time spent standing still is almost as bad as time spent in bad company.

College days will fly past and soon only months will stand between you and graduation. You have many reasons to be optimistic about your college career, so pitch in with a wholesome spirit and a determination to make Dad's, Uncle Sam's or your own money well spent.

Bachelor Of Music Offered As Tech Department Grows

Tech's music department is coming of age in a burst of bright colors and feeling with a quality to satisfy any man.

And for the first time in the history of the college, a bachelor of music degree is being offered by the department. Until now students could only obtain a bachelor of arts degree in music, Dr. Gene Hemmler, head of the music department, stated.

The Men's Glee club, a highly select group organized two years ago, is to be directed by Raymond Elliott, professor of music and formerly connected with Texas A&I at Kingsville. Complete with maroon dinner jackets and ties, and black trousers, the Glee club is scheduled for several public appearances this semester. A tour is being planned for the spring semester.

A spring tour for the Tech choir, directed by Dr. Hemmler and composed of 40 mixed voices, is also in the offing. The boys will wear robes of black velvet, piped and lined with crimson satin. The girls are to wear full skirts of black velvet, worn with an egg-shell satin surplice. Herbert Colvin, formerly of Colorado university in Denver, will be associate choral director.

Madrigal singers, directed by Ira Schantz, formerly of North Texas State college, contains eight voices. For their concerts, the Madrigal singers are to wear formal dresses.

For students who like to sing, a general choir is open to all interested students without auditions. Schantz is to conduct this chorus.

Registration for the general chorus is still open and will be throughout this week, Hemmler announced Monday. "There is a possibility that conflicts in schedules may be adjusted for all students wanting to participate in the chorus," he said. "No auditions will be necessary," he added.

Full information on the choirs may be obtained from any of the directors. Music offices are in X3.

Proof of the growth of the music department lies in transfers from NTSC, SMU, ACC, John Tazeborn, Trinity university, Monticello college in Pennsylvania, Compton college in California and others.

Hemmler stated he felt part of the growth might be attributed to an enlarged staff of highly qualified instructors and a sound curriculum.

C Of C Sponsors Membership Drive

Texas Tech Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a drive for new members, Chip Wadley, president, has announced.

The group solicited membership during registration and is continuing a drive for new members. The club is organized for the purpose of improving and propagating Tech.

Anyone wishing to join should contact Wadley; Tim O'Connell, vice president; Jo Ann Williams, secretary; Bill Howard, business manager. Membership is $1 per year.

Five HE Students Get Sears Award

Five home economics students have received scholarships awarded by Sears-Roebuck company at the first time to students in that field.

The firm has given agricultural scholarships at Tech for many years, but this is the first year awards have been made in home economics.

Those receiving scholarships are Donna Jeanne Caldwell, Lamey; Henri Ann Vaughn, Tullia; Mary Alice Close, Lubbock; Wanda Johnson, Quail; Elita Vernon, Lealand.
