

Toys for Tots Campaign Shows True Christmas Spirit

"It is better to give than to receive." This unspoken slogan will permeate the annual Toys-for-Tots campaign which started yesterday.

Circle K, Tech Kiwanis organization, will assist the Marine Corps in sponsoring the campaign which features inter-campus competition according to Don Avery, campaign manager.

TOYS WHICH are collected for underprivileged children during the drive may be placed in receptacles in the form of red barrels in the Tech Union, Dec. 19 is the last day that toys will be accepted. The toys will be turned over to Lubbock welfare organizations for distribution at Christmas.

"This year, we are asking organizations to sponsor Christmas parties at which each boy (or girl) will buy his (or her) date a toy. THEN CIRCLE K will collect the toys for the campaign," stated Avery.

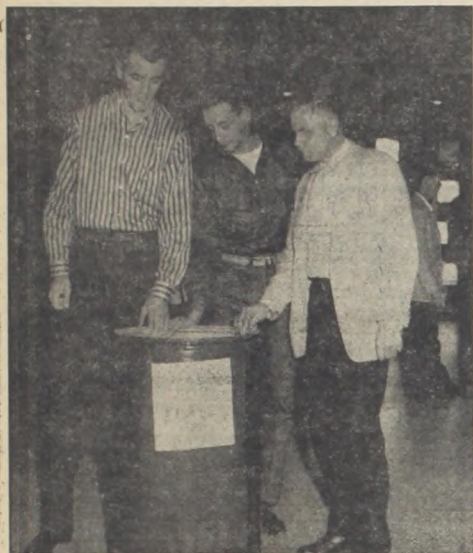

Campus organizations donating the most toys will be awarded a rotating trophy. Knapp Hall residents, last year's winner, hand-made all the dolls contributed by Knapp. The campaign received good support last year.

"Tech students are urged, when they go home during the Thanksgiving holidays, to round up any toys that might be available around the house for the drive," Avery said.

NEW TOYS are preferred, but old toys, regardless of repairs needed, will be welcomed. The Marine Corps will repair the old toys.

Organizations wishing to participate should contact Don Avery at PO3-7758 or Don Ludwig, Circle K president.

"NO TOYS FOR TOTS" these three sober young men seem to be thinking, as they study the empty container placed in Tech Union for the purpose of collecting gifts from students for "Toys for Tots" campaign. Left to right, they are Max Gaines, Charlie Heming and Don Avery.

Last Rites Held For Bandera Frosh

Funeral services were conducted yesterday for Adolf John Nesky, 18, a freshman student from Bandera.

Rites were held at the Bandera Baptist Church with Smith Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Nesky was killed at 1:10 p.m. Saturday 2½ miles north of Meadow when he ditched the car he was driving to avoid a collision with a car making a left turn in front of him.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Nesky of Bandera and was reported to be enroute to visit his brother, Ted, in Odessa.

College officials said that Nesky had enrolled in Tech this fall as an engineering student and was planning to become a petroleum engineer.

Capacity Crowd Attends 'Dark of Moon' Premiere

by DEANIE KILLION

A capacity first-night audience watched eagerly last night as a cast of 25 masterly unfolded the story of the legend of Barbara Allen in the speech department's production "Dark of The Moon," scheduled to continue through Saturday.

Bringing a professional quality to the play, Charles Akins portrays John, the witch boy who was made human so he could love and marry Barbara Allen. A compliment to the production with her assured stage manner, Marsha Reilly capably performed the part of Miss Allen.

Directing the play was Ronald Schulz, acting speech department head, and staging the dances was Miss Jane Perry, associated with the women's physical education department.

Outstanding in the roles as the Conjur Man and Conjur Woman, Roland Myers and Mary Ann Putnam were a credit to the performance. In the presentation they had the power of influence over John's life. Not to be forgotten are the witches, played by Anne Barasch and Marilyn Morris, who antagonized John throughout the play, but whose dances and acting dramatically added vigor to the production.

TO BE COMMENDED for an excellent performance in the role

AP Highlights 'Butcher' Thought Widow Was Deer'

A shy little bachelor recluse who held shaking, red-gloved hands before his face, today admitted that he killed a Plainfield, Wis., widow last Saturday and butchered her in his woodshed "because I thought I was dressing out a deer."

Edward Gein, 51, handy man and sometimes baby sitter, also said in a statement dictated to Waushara County officers, that 10 other human heads found scattered around his secluded farmhouse, were "collected from cemeteries."

Girard Convicted

MAEBASHI, Japan, Tuesday, Nov. 19 — A Japanese court today convicted GI William S. Girard of killing a woman brass scavenger on a "childish whim" and gave him a suspended sentence of three years.

The suspension provides for four years' good behavior.

It permits the 22-year-old specialist 3C of Ottawa, Ill., to return to the United States if neither defense nor prosecution appeals within 14 days.

Committee Investigates

The House General Investigating Committee will decide whether of Preacher Haggler, Arthur Evans, marked the performance with sparkle.

Others who added to the performance include: Mike Abel as Mr. Atkins; Marsha Lehev as Edna Summey; Tommy Hancock as Uncle Smellicue; Dwayne Cox as Hank Gudger; Jean King as Miss Metcalf; Cheri Lauri as Mrs. Summey; Morris Bruns as Floyd Allen; Nancy Mahan as Mrs. Bergen.

Ronald Wetherington as Mr. Bergen; Benni Dunn as Greeny Gorman; O. C. Renfro as Mr. Summey; Benny Wygal as Marvin Hudgens; William Fowler as Burt Dinwitty; Nancy Haines as Mrs. Allen; Bill Luck as Mr. Allen and Gail Cooper as Jinny May and Hattie.

THE PLAY WOULD have lost a considerable amount of appeal had it not been for the excellent work on the part of the make-up department. Also displaying talent and imagination in working with limited facilities were those concerned with costumes and lighting.

The production as a whole was outstanding entertainment and a definite credit to the department which presented it.

The production staff which capably assists Schulz includes: Miss Dunn, assistant director; Evans, stage manager; Myers, assistant stage manager; Hancock and Renfro assistance with musical numbers; Hancock, Bill Clark and Louis Martinez, incidental music.

ALSO INCLUDED ARE: Bruce Jackson, scene design; Evans, Akins, Cox, Nancy Haines, Jackson, Luck, Sally Miller, Myers, Madelyn Patterson, Lee Pritchett and Kurt von Osinski, concerned with scene construction and painting. Properties are headed by Betty Donovan, assisted by Clifford Curry and lighting is directed by Jackson, assisted by Janet Boeghl and Donnie Williams.

The sound is produced by Wetherington and in charge of costume Page 4, PLAY OPENS . . .

THESE PERFORMERS were caught in the act last night as the premiere of "Dark of the Moon" kicked off season activities for the speech department. The scene above shows Barbara Allen shortly after the birth of her child. Relatives and neighbors try to convince her the baby's father is a witch.

Industrial Panel Featured at Town

A panel of industrial men from throughout Texas will be featured at the 1957 Tech Town Hall Meeting Friday in the Aggie Auditorium, from 10 a.m. to noon.

Town Hall, sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi and the Texas Manufacturers Association, is an event conducted annually on many Texas college and university campuses.

The panel at the Tech meeting will answer and discuss questions students may have concerning current events, political happenings, industrial and social problems.

A luncheon for panel members will follow the meeting. Last year, more than 1,000 students attended the Tech sessions.

Aggie Club Presents Awards At Annual Pig Roast Tonight

"Aggie of the Month" and other awards will be given as Tech's Aggie Club celebrates with its 30th annual Pig Roast tonight in the Aggie Pavilion.

The annual event which will begin at 6:30 p.m. is presented as a send-off and an opportunity to honor men who will represent Tech in their respective contests which will be later this year. The teams are crops, livestock, dairy cattle, wool, dairy products and meats.

Special guests for the roast will be outstanding agricultural, civic, college and governmental leaders from the Southwest, according to Dean Rea, Aggie Club reporter.

Besides honoring the judging teams, the "Aggies of the Month" for October and November will be announced. Scholarships earned in agriculture will be awarded and the Alpha Zeta Award for the highest scholastic agriculture freshman will also be presented. Last year's Aggie Club president will be presented a gavel and the Homecoming Float plaque will be given to the School of Agriculture by the Aggie Club.

Membership cards will be required for admittance or dues may be paid at the door. The food will be catered by Tommy White.

Tau Delta Taus Initiate Pledges

Tau Delta Tau's last pledge class was initiated before the fraternity is installed as the Epsilon Delta chapter of Tau Delta national fraternity.

This pledge class was taken in a special rush during the spring semester. Also, these pledges will be initiated into the national chapter when it is installed.

During their last week of pledge-ship, the class worked on preparations for the coming installation festivities and community projects. Placing of Christmas Seal posters around the city was the primary project of the class.

Initiation of pledges was Sunday afternoon in the Union. It followed a Big Brother-Little Brother Breakfast where pledges presented paddles to their big brothers and presented the traditional "Brick Award" to member Gerald Dabbs. Joe Muckleroy was named best pledge by the members and presented with a plaque.

Pledge class members also presented a plaque to the chapter in honor of Tau Delta Tau. Following the breakfast, pledges and members attended worship at the Broadway Church of Christ.

Pledges initiated were Glenn Himmelberg, junior from Phillips; Bub James, junior from Fort Worth; James Lake, junior from Dallas; Wayne Lambert, junior from Ferris.

Paul Ragland was pledge trainer of the class and Norris Green, was assistant pledge trainer.

Band Crowns Betty Alice Lovelace Sweetheart at Saturday's Game

As autumn leaves fell and drifted across the campus, Tech's Red Raider Band presented and crowned Betty Alice Lovelace as this year's Band Sweetheart at halftime of the Tech Hardin-Simmons football contest.

After coming onto the field riding in a new 1958 automobile with her attendants, Miss Lovelace was escorted into a huge heart formed by the band. She was crowned by Tech Pres. E. N. Jones and presented a bouquet of roses.

Anson and Helen Ethridge, sophomore from Fabens.

Miss Lovelace is a senior from Abernathy and a majorette of Tech's Band. She is president of Tau Beta Sigma, women's band fraternity and vice president of Women's Dorm No. 5. She also serves on the Women's Inter-dorm Council, is a member of the Board of Student Organizations and a dorm legislator.

The Band Sweetheart is chaplain of Delta Gamma, national social sorority and a member of Future Teachers of America and Sock and Buskin.

She was chosen in an election last Tuesday. Miss Lovelace vied for the honor along with the two coeds who served with her attendants. The results of the election remained secret until halftime of Saturday's game.

This is the first year ribbons have been awarded and a fourth place winner has been announced.

The course of the run will be around the women's dorms, the Union and the Administration Building. It will begin on the east side of Sneed and terminate in front of Sneed.

Whitted Asks SDX For Tech Chapter

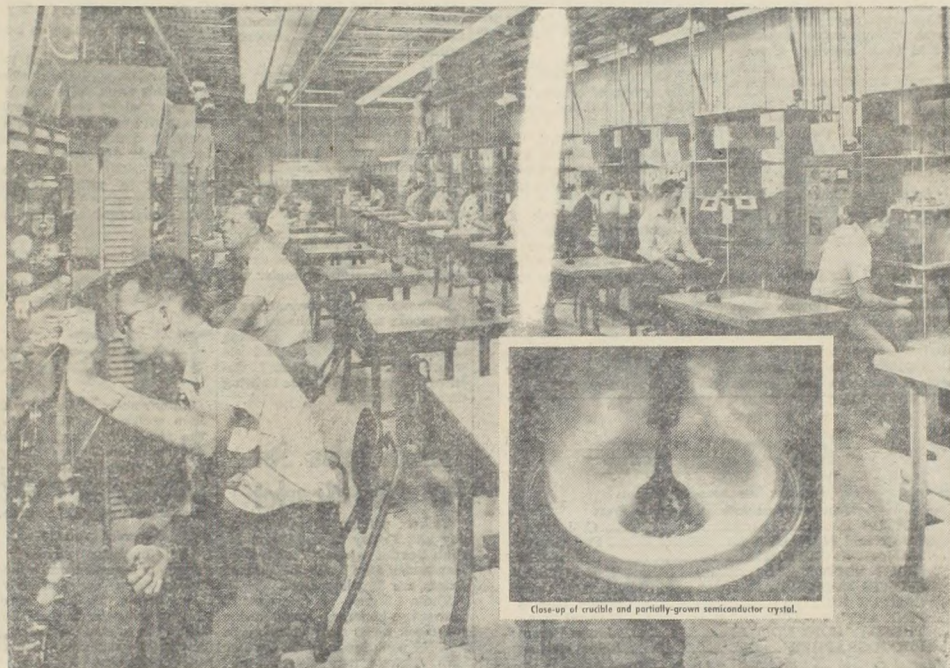

Bill Whitted, faculty business sponsor for THE TOREADOR, attended the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, at Houston over the weekend. About 600 journalists attended the meet, held at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel.

Whitted asked the convention for permission to petition for an undergraduate chapter of SDX at Tech. As a result of his request, the national organization will investigate Tech's journalism program before making the final decision.

Tech already has a chapter of the women's professional journalism society, Theta Sigma Phi, and Kappa Alpha Mu, professional photography fraternity. A professional chapter of SDX has obtained group status and is now working on its constitution and by-laws.

The Tech Ad Club is petitioning for a chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, men's professional advertising fraternity.

The formation of the new chapters would give Tech the top societies in each field of journalism.

"What this school needs is student integrity," said the council member at a meeting. "There just isn't any overall feeling of 'belonging' here. Everyone's working for his own interests. We don't have any school spirit."

The members of the council stirred a bit uneasily in their seats. This was either because they were trying to keep awake or because they were anticipating hashing out this same old question. It could have been both.

"The only thing in common among students here," the member went on, "is the fact that they're all students." This was a very profound statement, and everyone nodded acquiescently; some, sleepily. Continued the member, "If this institution is ever to gain prestige, we will have to find a means of instilling this integrity — this spirit. We must find something to bind us all together."

At this, another member spoke up. "But what more can we do?" he said. "Why, we've promoted this and that activity already. We've encouraged pep-rallies, even made attendance at them a competition."

By now most of the council was wide awake, all of them ready to defend their past attempts at school spirit. "Yes indeed," quoth another. "Why, our spirit is already boosted far above last year's. Witness the hearty competition between two of our boys' dorms. If that doesn't signify school spirit, what does?"

"And look at the high spirited vying for recognition among organizations during Homecoming; look at the gala floats, the peachy dorm decorations," another said.

"And we mustn't forget," said still another, "the screaming masses at our football games whenever we near the goal posts. Gad, the thrill! The excitement! The tingling sensation all over!"

All the members were wide awake by now, and several cheers came forth from the back of the room. A few threw confetti.

"Wait, my friends," the first members now held up his hand. The seething mob quieted down. "What has this accomplished?" he asked. "Is this inter-dorm competition to gain integrity for the school or the dorm? Is pep-rally competition for each group or for the school? And to whom," he pounded his fist, "do the trophies go, the organizations or the school?"

"Easy, lad," a second member spoke up. "Let us answer one at a time, hev. Of course the competition is for each organization, but these represent the school!"

"Only because they are a part of the school," the other answered. "Something seems backwards here. Should unity and integrity in each organization bring it to the school, or should we first get overall school integrity?"

"What do you mean by integrity?" said one.

"Why, spirit, of course."

"And what do you mean by spirit?"

"Why, heavens, man! School spirit is a combination of pride in institutional heritage and unity of the student body towards a common goal!"

A voice from the back of the room spoke up. "Well, I'll be dogged! I thought it was something simple — like boosting the football team! You make it complicated!"

The gavel rapped the table. "We've taken too long on this," the chairman said. "Next order of business, please!"

Some of the members were beginning to snore again.

Pioneer Blasts Bill

A pioneer in the development of the Texas public school system told the legislature today a proposed anti-troop bill would be a "crusher for local education."

Dr. Frederick Eby, author and retired professor of educational administration at the University of Texas, warned that recent scientific developments had made it imperative "that our education work not be stopped under any conditions."

Both state affairs committees of the Senate and House heard testimony on similar bills allowing school boards to close schools where there was sufficient violence or threat of violence to bring on military troops.

Report of New Bureau Scheduled for January

First monthly report of the newly formed West Texas Bureau of Business Research will be published in January.

The Bureau is a cooperative effort of Tech and the WTCC and has headquarters in Tech's School of Business Administration.

THE JANUARY REPORT will be the first of a series giving details about the whole West Texas region, according to Jarvis Witt of Tech, acting director of the bureau.

Up to now, other business resumes have included complete reporting on only four of 132 West Texas counties.

In the latest issue of "West Texas Today," WTCC magazine, Witt said "cooperation necessary for success" of the Bureau has been achieved.

BUSINESS GROUPS, chambers of commerce and other agencies throughout the 132 counties have pledged their help in providing information needed for the Bureau's monthly reports on business conditions.

Witt said that he and Bureau Director Harry Walker, who's on leave this week, have studied procedure used by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research and that the Tech Bureau is similarly organized.

THE TECH BUREAU is attempting to gather information from a tentative list of 313 West Texas communities, including all county seats, and incorporated cities (except those reported as suburbs of large cities).

Also included are all cities with banks, post offices or chambers of commerce.

The list excludes all towns of 800 or less population except those in the above categories.

WITT POINTED out that some of the 313 cities in the tentative list would not be able to provide the necessary data. He added that "a safe estimate" of the final list is at least 275 communities.

WTCC President B. E. Godfrey of Fort Worth said the new Bureau will provide information of inestimable value to West Texas businessmen.

"Presently, West Texas has only four counties submitting complete reports to the University of Texas Bureau," Godfrey said. "In fact, 106 counties do not have any business studies published in the existing state-wide reports."

THE TECH BUREAU will provide data on seven sub-regions of West Texas as well as the entire area. The sub-regions were determined through analysis of resources, production techniques and resources as modified by production.

Witt said the categories selected for first reporting are population, banking, construction, postal receipts, and utilities. A series of reports in those categories will be published on a city, sub-regional and regional basis.

Young Executives Hear Top Guest Lecturers

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles relating the views of college graduates and their employers. The preceding article related the purpose of the Institute of Humanistic Studies. This article is in continuance on the Institute.

everett groseclose

The Institute courses were taught by several members of the faculty from the University of Pennsylvania. To make sure the students came in contact with the best in the intellectual world, each instructor was asked to invite a series of guest lecturers. One hundred and sixty of America's leading intellectuals visited West Philadelphia. The distinguished visitors became acquainted with and, above all, were appreciated by the students.

In addition to regular classwork, the men read constantly. (More than the average graduate student.) They went on formally planned trips to art galleries, museums, and historical sights in Washington, New York, and Philadelphia. They visited and studied in some of the distinguished examples of residential and institutional architecture in the city.

All of the men seemed determined to make the most of the experience. Not only did they want to justify the costs of the program to the Bell system, but they seemed to want to make up for what they had missed in their formal education. "College wasn't like this, or at least I never found it so," some of them said. One graduate engineer said, "It was the degree as a ticket to a job, not an education, that we were after."

Most of the men feel that a real education is an emotional as well as an intellectual experience; and there were both pleasant and unpleasant experiences in this first year's experiment. Few students, for example, will ever forget the lecture on Leonardo Da Vinci in the art class or reading of Ezra Pound's Pisan Cantos.

One morning a student described the slide illustrated lecture on Leonardo. When the class was over, so his story went, the lights were turned on and the instructor walked out of the room with tears in his eyes; after several minutes of silence, the students filed out behind him. The student's eyes became moist in relating his story.

Were these men interested primarily in doing a good job in the Institute because it might mean later promotions in the Bell system for them? Having been exposed to an expensive that would presumably change their attitudes toward their jobs and their leisure, was there a chance that they would never again be satisfied with the struggle up the corporate ladder?

These were questions that those in the faculty asked themselves. Some of the answers became apparent during the course of the year. Others will remain unanswered for some time.

Raiders Prepare for 'Porker Roast'

by BILL DEAN
Toreador Sports Editor

With their second win of 1957 safely tucked away Texas Tech's Red Raiders are now looking toward the season's wind-up with Arkansas this Saturday in Little Rock.

The Raiders upset Hardin-Simmons last Saturday to pick up their second win of the year and their first one at home.

They went through a full-scale work-out yesterday and then saw game films and heard the Arkansas scouting report.

Guard Billy Woodin, out for two months with a broken thumb, should be back in action Saturday. But fullback Gene Bentley was injured in the HSU clash and joins two other fullbacks, Charlie Dixon and Floyd Cole on the ailing list.

As a result halfback John Roberts may be moved to fullback this week.

Bentley suffered a slightly twisted ankle.

Halfback Jimmy Knox will bring a string of 86 consecutive carries without a loss into the Arkansas game.

Knox carried 14 times last year and has made 72 carries for a net of 320 this year. His 320 total places him second only to Ronnie Rice among Tech's rushers.

Rice, who has a net of 417 on 63 tries, is still the leading yard-per-try rusher with a 6.7 average.

Against Hardin-Simmons Knox had his finest day. He gained 65 yards on 13 carries, caught three passes for 61 yards and one touchdown, made five unassisted tackles and broke up three Cowboy passes, two in the closing moments of the game.

Quarterback Jerry Bell also had a remarkable day and increased his total offense and passing leadership margins.

Bell completed 11 of 13 passes for 133 yards and two touchdowns and contributed 42 yards running. His total offense mark now stands at 571 yards — 409 on 31 completions of 58 passes.

End Gerald Seeman, who set a Tech one-game record by catching five passes, now leads receivers with 13 completions for 162 yards. Knox is next with 11 for 156.

Bell still leads punters with a 38.8 average, and has also taken over the scoring leadership with 30 points.

Floyd Dellinger leads in kickoff returns (24 yards) and punt returns (10 yards).

END GERALD SEEMAN gathers in a pass from quarterback Jerry Bell and prepares to score the Raider's first touchdown against HSU Saturday. Also shown are Tech's Milton Vaughn (26) and HSU's Carroll Dickson (52)

Michigan St. Back on Top!

by HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

Reflecting the results of last Saturday, when Oklahoma's 47-game winning streak came to an end and the Texas Aggies and Iowa were wiped off football's undefeated list, Michigan State was returned to the top of the college ratings today by the ballots of 219 sports writers and broadcasters.

Michigan State's Spartans, beaten once this season, edged out undefeated Auburn by nine points in the weekly Associated Press poll.

AUBURN'S GREAT defensive team got one more vote for first place, 88-87, but on the point system with 10 points for each first place ballot, nine for second, etc., down to one for tenth, it was Michigan State 1,851 and Auburn 1,842.

The national championship now apparently depends on how these teams fare in their remaining games. Michigan State has one more, against Kansas State; Auburn has two, against Florida State and Alabama.

AUBURN, WHICH has allowed its opponents 21 points in eight games, beat Georgia 6-0 last Saturday. It was the fourth game the Plainsmen from Alabama have won by a margin of one touchdown or less in piling up eight victories.

The top ten teams with points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis first place votes and won-lost records:

1. Michigan State	87 7-1	1,851
2. Auburn	88 8-0	1,842
3. Ohio State	23 7-1	1,573
4. Texas A&M	2 8-1	1,357
5. Mississippi	5 8-1	1,074
6. Oklahoma	4 7-1	1,062
7. Navy	1 8-1	749
8. Iowa	2 6-1-1	659
9. Notre Dame	2 5-2	512
10. Army	7-1	312

SECOND TEN

Phi Delt's Rally, Dump Phi Gams 20-6, Win 'Mural Fraternity Football Title

Phi Delta Theta came from behind Sunday to dump Phi Gamma Delta 20-6 and seconds later became undisputed Fraternity League champs as Kappa Sigma dropped Pi Kappa Alpha out of a first place tie with a 1-0 overtime win.

The Phi Delt's, Fijis and Pikes all entered the game tied in the loss column for first place. Phi Delta Theta was leading only because they had played one more game than the other two.

THE PHI GAMS scored first on a 75-yard pass and run play from Tom Jenkins to Donnell Echols but failed to convert and lead 6-0.

The Phi Delt's came right back to tie the score on an eight-yard pass from Bobby Joe Walker to Charles Waller. Waller missed the conversion and left the score 6-6.

WITH LITTLE TIME remaining in the half Phi Delt halfback Pete Hudgins intercepted a Jenkins pass and returned to the Fijis 15. Two plays later Walker hit Jim Patterson for the tie-breaker. Waller converted and the Phi Delt's led 13-6 at halftime.

Midway through the second half the Phi's put icing on the cake with a 20-yard toss from Walker to Dewey Bryant. Waller's conversion left the final score at 20-6.

SHORTLY Afterwards Kappa Sig pulled their overtime upset and the crown went to the Phi Delt's.

In other games Sunday Delta Tau Delta won its first game of the year in a 1-0 overtime win over Alpha Tau Omega and SAE edged Phi Kappa Psi 1-0 in another overtime thriller.

Wednesday's action will end the regular season play for the fraternities.

PHI DELTA THETA drew a bye in the first round of the All-College Tournament and will meet the winner of the Dorm League and Independent League game next Sunday at 2 p.m. on Gym Field No. 1 for the All-College Championship.

* The match between the dorms and independents will be held Thursday at 5 p.m. on Gym Field No. 1.

Doak Tops Bledsoe 7-0 for Dorm Title

Doak Hall won the right to represent the Dorm League in the Intramural All-College Championship Tournament yesterday by defeating Bledsoe 7-0 in a dorm play-off game.

The only score came early in the game on a 35-yard pass from Doak's Mick Carter to Jim Blumentrip. Wayne Moses kicked the point. The rest of the contest was a defensive battle.

Doak defense, led by Benny Sherrod, Moses, Tom Crowder, Jim Moore and T. C. Rice held off Bledsoe all afternoon. The deepest penetration by Bledsoe was to Doak's 25-yard line.

Doak will meet The Big Elevens Thursday afternoon at 5 p.m. in the first round of the play-offs. The Big Elevens were champs of the Independent League and have not been beaten or scored on thus far.

Jim Shofner, King Hill Top SWC

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (AP)—Texas Christian's Jimmy Shofner and Rice's King Hill appear to have Southwest Conference offensive championships in hand.

Shofner, the hard-running Horned Frog halfback, leads in ball-carrying with 578 yards in eight games and his closest competitor has only one more contest to play while Shofner has two.

HILL HAS bombed his way to long leads in both passing and total offense.

The Rice quarterback has thrown 68 passes and completed 39 for 740 yards—274 yards better than the runner-up, Don Meredith of Southern Methodist. The latter, however, might overtake Hill if he had two more days like last week when he passed for 230 yards against Arkansas.

HILL HAS rolled up 1,020 yards in total offense with 280 yards on the ground. It was 344 yards better than Shofner, who is in second place.

Shofner's ball carrying is 43 yards ahead of Gerald Nesbitt of Arkansas. Nesbitt, who closes the season next Saturday when he plays against Texas Tech, has 535 yards.

SHOFNER ALSO leads the punt returners with nine for 146 yards and is second in kick-off returns, taking back seven for 146. Larry Hickman of Baylor leads in the latter department with 162 yards on six.

Tennis, Handball Matches Are Slated

Roy Boyd meets Ike Livingston and Eddie Taylor will meet the and Bill Pfluger plays Maurice Williams in the intramural tennis semi-finals this week.

Bob Freeman will play Woody Kelley in one intramural handball semi-final match this week. Intramural bowling entries will close November 27.
