THE TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE

Vol. 33 Lubbock, Texas, Thursday, April 17, 1958 No. 74

King, Queen, Dedication Highlight Convocation

by MERIUM JACKSON and JENNICE MARKS

Presentation of King and Queen of the Spring Festival and the dedication of the 1958 La Ventana to Dean W. L. Stangel, agriculture department, highlighted the convocation yesterday.

Neal Pipkin and Liz Wilson were crowned king and queen by Dr. E. N. Jones, Texas Tech president. He presented the queen with a bouquet of red roses. She in turn gave one of the roses to the king as a boutonniere after they left the platform.

WHEN ASKED how they felt about reigning over the Spring Festival, Miss Wilson and Neal agreed that it was a "real thrill." Neal said, "It's a great honor to be king of the first Spring Festival." He felt that the festival will grow to become one of Tech's outstanding traditions.

Miss Wilson and Neal were elected by the student body from a field of ten nominees. The other candidates were Donna Abraham, Patsy Green, Mary Alice Richardson, Janice Newsom, Dean Rea, David Thompson, Bill Bean and Bob Brown.

THE DEDICATION and presentation of the 1958 La Ventana was made to Dean Stangel by Nancy Nelson, associate editor of the yearbook. A standing ovation was given as the dean stood to accept the La Ventana. After receiving the book Dean Stangel said, "Never have I received a surprise that has touched me as much as this one." Ending his impromptu speech he commented, "This may be my final year at Tech but not my final year for Tech."

'58-59 Catalog Almost Ready

The 1958-59 catalog should be ready for distribution the middle of next week according to the registrar's office.

If you are interested in going to summer school the class schedule for the summer will be ready about the middle of May.

Examiner Recommends Tech TV Station, Despite Haley, Lineberry Arguments

Tech soon may be owner and operator of a television station on Lubbock's Channel 5 if the Federal Communications Commission does not institute another hearing.

Millard French, FCC examiner, recommended the FCC grant the station to the college. If no further hearings are called, this recommendation, in the form of an "initial decision," will become final 48 days from today.

FRENCH HELD that there was no "discernably improper conduct" in Tech's arrangements with Lubbock's other two television stations, in which the stations will furnish the necessary money to put the college's station on the air. French felt that there was no evidence of attempts to stifle competition of a third station.

Dean Stangel was born August 16, 1889, in Wisconsin, in a town named for his family. He came to Texas with his parents before the turn of the century. After being educated at Texas A&M and the University of Missouri, he came to Lubbock in 1925 with the opening of Texas Technological College to head one of the new school's departments.

AMONG HIS many honors, Stangel has been named by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as a "Top West Texan" and holds an honorary doctorate from his alma mater, Texas A&M. The theme of this year's La Ventana Paso Por Aqui, or I Passed here, was explained by Miss Nelson. The theme is carried through the book with various groups of people who passed by the site of Texas Tech and left their mark upon its ultimate greatness. Dean Stangel was referred to as "Mr. Agriculture," a man who "passed this way and left his mark."

"Atoms for Peace" Shown by Engineers

"Atoms for Peace" exhibit from the Atomic Energy Commission will be featured at the Engineers Show during Spring Festival. It will be on display at the Naval Armory.

Approximately 2,000 visitors are expected on the campus and are encouraged to visit almost 200 exhibits at the Engineers Show said Lynn Elliot, chairman.

THE ARCHITECTURAL engineering department exhibits will feature a Japanese garden to be set up in buildings X-1 and 2.

A quicksand pit and a nine-foot model of an offshore oil rig will be among the civil engineers exhibits. The electrical engineering department will demonstrate a model bus operated by remote control.

French also determined that "no improper conduct" was involved in the payment of $25,000 to C. L. Trigg, Odessa TV station owner, for expenses he had incurred in competing for the station.

FRENCH SAID testimony of Tom Lineberry and J. Exetts Haley, members of Tech's board of directors who had come to Washington to try to defeat the attempt, was of "no significant bearing" to the findings of the case because "much of such testimony did not relate to the issue involved . . . (and) was argumentative in character and was not supported by probative evidence . . ."

Lineberry and Haley contended the college had no business in TV broadcasting.

SHE STATED "even the ink in which the book is printed is in keeping with the Great Southwest. Next time we have a sandstorm, take your book and compare the colors of the sand and the ink. You'll see why we call it Sandstorm Sepia."

Pat Cullum was recognized for her outstanding work as La Ventana editor. Miss Marie Miles was given a copy of the yearbook by Miss Nelson for her long service as a member of the Student Publications Committee.

MISS NELSON announced that this would be the last spring delivery of the annual and that students can pick up their copies on the lawn in front of the Journalism Bldg. between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Sigma Delta Chi members unloaded the "16 tons" of annuals and are helping to distribute them.

Dr. Jones, addressing the group assembled on the Ad Bldg. green, stressed the fact that the Spring Page 5, CONVOCATION . . .

CHEMICAL ENGINEER display will explain the catalytic cracking process. They will also present a magic show. Various weaving and dying displays, including a multi-color dye bath highlights the textile engineers exhibit.

Petroleum engineers will have a natural gas display and a hydraulic pump model. Other exhibits will be shown by the industrial engineers.

Chairmen for the show are: general chairman, Lynn Elliott; auditor, Eddie Henson; Assistant chairman, Bob Dyer; advertising, Butch Lawrence; traffic, Gerald Freeman and Publicity, Jess McIlvain.

Springtime Brings Romantic Notes

The month of April brings to Tech spring, festivals and serenades.

Serenades, ah, now there is something that every Tech coed likes.

Group serenades are usually scheduled with the dorms after hours on Wednesday nights.

But spring is here! Who can wait to schedule a serenade when the heart and soul calls one to sing to his lady love?

Obviously there was such a strong call from hearts and souls of four Spanish-singing lads yesterday morning that they could not wait.

The four harmonized beautifully with one strumming his guitar in accompaniment. The serenaders proceeded to greet the sun and to wake up their listeners to the rousing choruses of spirited Spanish music.

Only one sour note—Knapp was serenaded at 5:30 a.m. and Horn at 5:45 a.m.

Steinman is Veep; Most Races Close

Donnell Echols

David Steinman

by JAMES HAMM

In the feature race of the spring elections Donnell Echols defeated Neal Pipkin, 1,596 votes to 1,125 votes, for student body president.

David Steinman, garnering 2,203 votes, defeated John Offerle, 392 votes, for vice president. Dan Howard was unopposed in his bid for business manager.

In his platform, Echols states that he will work for a more reasonable solution to the parking problem, continue support for the proposed student insurance plan, work toward having a separate election for executive officers and Council representatives, and represent the student's welfare in maintaining adequate as well as good seats in the expanded stadium.

Steinman advocates better communications between faculty, students and the administration; better scholastic recognition; the addition of one student member to each student-faculty committee to insure rightful representation, and a true representation of Tech to other schools.

In the race for student body secretary, Mary Catherine Birkelbach, 624 votes, faces Gail Petersen, 1,005 votes, in the runoff.

Other secretarial candidates were Leta Merle Roberts and Rosa Elia Riojas.

Joe Naylor, collecting 1,697 votes, was elected head cheerleader, and was the only clear-cut winner among the men candidates for cheerleader. Sharla Pepper, with 1,485 votes, was the only coed elected cheerleader.

In the runoff election, Jack Burgess, 1,236 votes, Jay Johnson, 1,190 votes, Butch Lawrence, 937 votes, and Bill Womble, 1,238 votes, will compete. Judy Ecklund, 697 votes, and Sandra Hendrix, 656 votes, are the coeds in the cheerleader runoff.

The 19 amendments were also approved by the student body in the election.

In the Student Council representatives elections, out of 27 positions, 13 were filled. 28 students will compete in the Student Council representatives runoff.

In a breakdown by schools: Arts and Science elected Wayne Gibbens, Pat Rainer, Ken Talking-ton and Johanna Zournas to four of nine positions; Agriculture, Bob Byrd and Roy Milhoan to two of three positions; Business Administration, no one; Home Economics, no one, and Engineering, Bob Dyer, Larry Pinson, Claude Rogers, Gerald Seeman, Don Spencer, Hollis Swafford and Milton Vaughn to seven of eight positions.

Following is a resume of the voting in the representatives races:

Four of nine positions for Arts and Science representatives have been filled, and nine students are in the runoff for the other five positions. Wayne Gibbens, 176 votes; Pat Rainer, 248 votes; Ken Talkington, 223 votes, and Johanna Zournas, 193 votes are the four elected.

David Edwards, 124 votes; Richard Estes, 155 votes; Don Grimes, 126 votes; Tom Jenkins, 141 votes; Mary Ann Lindley, 133 votes; Jill Jost, 119 votes; Stan Powers, 157 votes; Linda Roberts, 133 votes; Shirley Stephens, 136 votes, and Gaynelle Williams, 161 votes, are in the runoff.

James Adams, Vanda Carter, John Green, Judy Harris, Ola Sue Johnson, Peggy Johnston, Ginger Myers, Candy Parker, Ken Pickett and Weldon Schaefer are the others who ran.

Pyros Fire Rocket Near Roswell Site

A new experimental rocket was fired 4100 feet into the air near Roswell, N.M., Sunday by Pyros, Texas Tech's rocket club.

Purpose of the firing was to test a new type circular fin designed to make the rocket spin in flight and thus stabilize the flight of the rocket.

The 4 foot 2 inch rocket contained a fuel mixture of 3000 grams of hand-ground zinc and sulphur. It was fired by a Model A Ford spark coil powered by an automobile battery.

THE ROCKET WAS fired at an angle of 88 degrees and it stayed in the air 32 seconds, traveling a distance of nearly 2000 feet, developing an approximate maximum speed of 400 mph.

The circular fin improved the stability of the rocket's flight, which had been lacking in previous tests.

The rocket will be exhibited in the Pyro section of the Engineering Show along with other rockets fired by Pyros.

Photographs of rockets currently being tested by the U. S. Government at White Sands testing grounds also will be on display.

Around the Circle

—carolyn mimms

That big week has arrived. Isn't it something to think of all the many things that are occurring on campus at one time?

With all of the Spring Festival events, organizations around the Circle are not planning many activities of their own.

Alpha Tau Omega will have a dinner dance from 6:30 to 11 p.m. in the Palm Room tomorrow.

SIGMA CHI will crown the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi at a Ball in the Lubbock Hotel from 7 to 11:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Along with the Spring Festival the Union is sponsoring Frantic Fun Fair from 7 to 11 p.m. tomorrow. If you like to take chances or like to gamble, this will be your opportunity. The Fair will have all sorts of games of chance and lots of excitement.

Scabbard and Blade is planning a Military Ball for 8 p.m. in the Union Saturday. This is the annual dance for the Army ROTC and a Queen of the Ball will be crowned. All students are invited to attend.

KNAPP HALL will have its Spring Tea in the Knapp living room from 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Pi Omega Pi is planning an initiation dinner from 5 to 6:30 p.m. in the Union Sunday.

Have a great time during the Festival.

Union Events

Thursday—Music Listening Hour, 2 p.m. Varsity Show, Municipal Auditorium, 8 p.m.

Friday—Frantic Fun Fair, Varsity Show, Municipal Auditorium, 8 p.m.

Sunday—Movie, "To Hell and Back," 2:30 p.m.

Raider Revues, Snack Bar, 5:30 p.m.

Monday—Movie, "To Hell and Back," Ballroom, 4 and 7 p.m.

Tuesday—Dance, Rec Hall, 7 p.m.

Travel Lecture on Hawaii, Workroom, 7 p.m.

Army Crowns Queen at Ball

Military Queen will be crowned at the annual Army ROTC Military Ball Saturday in the Tech Union Ballroom from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Queen candidates are Cam Murray, Karen Key, Janet Hopkins, Suzie Eastwood, Janice Walner, Dorothy Jean Cochran, Ann Seelman, Winn Sherrill, Madelyn Maddox, Sandra Hendrix, Betty Hargrove, Barbara Quintanella, Leta Merle Roberts and Mary Lynn Peveto.

Decoration will emphasize a military theme and will include a simulated missile on stage, six pictures of various military campaigns around the room and a powder blue and red crepe paper ceiling.

In the receiving line will be PMST Col. James B. Carvey and Mrs. Carvey and Cadet Commander Richard Price and his date. A grand march to the music of the Kingsman Combo will officially open the dance.

POLISHING BRASS for Richard Price of Amarillo is Barbara Quintanella of Dallas. They are getting prepared for the Army ROTC annual inspection today. Inspection will be by Col. Norman D. Aboosh of Ft. Sill, Lt. Col. Robert W. Milam, from Fourth Army headquarters in San Antonio, and Lt. Col. John D. Beaver of Ft. Hood.

Ice Capades Begins Monday; Tech Night Set For Tuesday

Tuesday has been designated Tech night at the Ice Capades, John Harris' star-studded 17th edition, which will open in the Municipal Coliseum Monday.

The show will continue through April 6 and is being sponsored by the South Plains Lions Club.

Such famous stars as Aja Zanovna, twice acclaimed world champion figure skater, will highlight the show.

Miss Zanovna will be performing two numbers—a solo patterned after her Olympic routine, and in the production number "Rhapsody in Blue" along with Alan Konrad and John Lettengraver.

"Disneyland" and "Rhythmic Waters" will be among the 20 featured acts.

At the age of three Miss Zanovna began her career on frozen lakes in her native Czechoslovakia, but when the Communists took over the rinks were out of bounds to Czechoslovakians at normal times. So Miss Zanovna practiced from 4 to 5 a.m. She won her first championship at the age of six.

She attended the Olympic Games in Switzerland in 1948; Paris in 1949 and in London in 1950.

In 1951 Miss Zanovna signed a contract to skate professionally in the United States and has been featured in the Ice Capades since 1954. Last January she received her United States citizenship.

Sigma Chi's Plan Sweetheart Ball

"The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" will be announced tomorrow at Sigma Chi's annual Sweetheart Ball in the Lubbock Hotel from 7 until 11:30 p.m.

Sweetheart nominees from each of the ten sororities are: Mary Jane Winder, Alpha Chi Omega; Jan Farris, Alpha Phi; Suzanne Hood, Delta Delta Delta; Joan Wimberly, Sigma Kappa; Nancy Reams, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Theta Houwe, Gamma Phi Beta; Martha Sue Thompson, Delta Gamma; Sharon Snow, Kappa Alpha Theta; Bobbie Carroll, Pi Beta Phi; and Beverly Hollingworth, Zeta Tau Alpha.

The Sweetheart will be presented a bouquet of white roses, the traditional flower of Sigma Chi.

The Sultans of Swing will provide the music for the occasion.

Take Notice! Don't Exceed

All women students are asked to check their activity points as set up by AWS which are printed in Tech Tips.

Girls having more than 15 activity points will be asked to reduce their activities so that their total points will not exceed 15.

Girls should check by this fall to see that her activity points do not exceed the total. The 15 activity point system is definitely in effect for women on the Tech campus.

Curtain Rises at 8

by DONNA CHRISTOPHER
The curtain will rise tonight at 8 in the Municipal Auditorium for the first performance of the 1958 Varsity Show production, "Guys and Dolls."

Based on a Damon Runyon story, the musical boasts a cast of some 26 Tech students plus the 26 member singing and dancing chorus.

APPROXIMATELY 50,000 man-hours have gone into the planning and production of "Guys and Dolls," according to producer Roger Loter.

John Gilbert serves as show director with Marilyn Morris as assistant director. In the leading roles are Bob Hancock, Sky Masterson; Kay Adkins, Sarah; Rex

Pope, Nathan Detroit and Elizabeth Wilson, Adelaide.

SUPPORTING ROLES are filled by Beverly Austin, Glen Burns, Art Dodds, Rodney Hill, Bill Leonard and Marilyn Morris.

David Edwards and Bob Huff are business manager and house manager respectively. Stage manager is Claude Rogers and John Ashby, his assistant.

ALL OF THE dance sequences featured in the show are creations of choreographer Jean Groesbeck and assistant Mary Herrington.

Tom Shamburger is publicity chairman, and Carolyn Porter, wardrobe manager. Miss Quannah Lewis, English instructor, is sponsor.

STUDENTS IN THE chorus groups are Gayla Cauthen, Dorianne France, Gail Galbraith, Nancy Pat Houston, Janis Jones, Judy Long, Martha Kenley, Rebecca Pierce, Leta Merle Roberts, Sharon Snow, Shirley Stephens, Donna Jean Smith, Leroy Plumley, Juan Tianio, Johnnie Wade and Caroline Wood.

Eight Tech organizations are selling tickets to the production. A hi-fi phonograph will be awarded to the organization selling the most tickets over a minimum of 200.

ACCORDING TO LOTER, sales are good and tickets are going fast. "Since there are no reserved seats," Loter said, "students plan- Page 5, SHOW . . .

BOOK REVIEW

Cullum Uses 'Paso Por Aqui' For Striking Yearbook Theme

La Ventana, Pat Cullum 452 pages; the Economy Advertising Company, 1958

by CAROL STONE

Techsians are today making a handsome addition to the collection of textbooks, "Peanuts," and class notes that adorn campus bookshelves. . . it's the 1958 La Ventana, beautifully bound in aqua, gold and brown.

The '58 staff, headed by Pat Cullum, has displayed a blend of artistic talent, originality and an unbiased sense of humor in completing one of the most outstanding La Ventanas in the history of the college.

BEGINNING with the stunning photo of Tech's own Red Raider right through page 452, which finds him riding off into the sunset, Techsians are in for a surprise as they thumb through the book.

Central theme for La Ventana, which translated means "the window," has been carried out through each section as "Paso Por Aqui" or I Passed Here.

VARIOUS groups of people who passed by the site of Texas Tech and left their mark upon its ultimate greatness adorn the cover of each succeeding section, beginning with the dedication to Tech's retiring Dean of Agriculture Wenzel Louis Stangel.

The administrative section follows the dedication and unusual shots of campus Spanish architecture, led by the Spanish Explorer. Next we see the Indian Nomad heading the Personalities section followed by the American Cavalryman and Activities.

THE BUFFALO Hunter follows with Sports, the Rancher with Organizations, the Dry Land Farmer with Schools, and finally the Red Raider, symbolizing Classes.

Even the ink in which the book is printed is in keeping with the Great Southwest, as was pointed out yesterday in the dedication speech by Associate Editor Nancy Nelson. Major pictures throughout the book are printed in "sandstorm sepia."

With the publishing of this unusual La Ventana, Tech has passed another milestone. In years to come the La Ventana will doubtless be "not just another annual" but a real prize winner like that one back in '58.

Techsans Talk Back

Editor,

"The Idealist" of April 10 implies that adequate composition can justly be expected only of English majors and only in English courses. He further reasons that only "the teacher of grammar has the right to expect (much less demand) "the writing of correct grammar" from his students.

If this be so, I ask, what has higher education come to? Since when has competence in one's native language ceased to be a minimum requirement for any educated man or woman, whatever his specialty?

One last point: "If a student leaves an English course without being able to write English correctly then it is the fault of the English instructor or the English curriculum—particularly if that student made a good or even passing grade in English." Agreed.

But whose "fault" is it, I wonder, if the student who left his English course "able to write English correctly" fails to do so in his history or horticulture course?

John Guilds

Department of English (Editor's note: As for your first paragraph I must agree with you and ask, with you, "What has higher education come to?" In our present system of higher education, whether we like it or not, we must admit that the grade is omnipotent. It is the guide to our knowledge of a specific subject and, until this changes, I think that the student has the RIGHT to expect that he be graded upon his knowledge of that specific subject and not upon his overall intelligence. His English grades alone will reveal his knowledge of the English language and if they fail to do this they should be made harder or revised.

As for your concluding question my own recommendation would be that the instructor mark grammatical errors but, unless the statement considered is unreadable or nonsensical, he should not lower the student's grade. If the student, knowing how, fails to write correctly then it is of no importance for the knowledge is already there and the instructor need not bother to try teaching him what he already knows.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS Bibler

.... The Idealist ....

patrick bennett

The sack dress is object of much merriment among the lads on the campus. But frankly, we like the things.

The principal criticism from the hairy males is that the delicate grace of the girlish form, celebrated by Rubens, Ingres, Modigliani and Playboy—is no longer out-lined for inspection.

HA! ARE THERE still those naive enough to believe they were looking at the girls' forms? Don't they know about all that padding and pinched flesh. Vanity, all is vanity.

There's another group that opposes them because some girls don't look good in them. They overlook the fact that some girls don't look too good in anything.

A PRETTY GIRL will look pretty in a sack dress as she does in a sheath dress, a ballerina skirt or a hoop skirt. Others devote their attention to developing their personalities, balancing books on their heads, etc.

Finally, there is the critical circle which opposes them because they "look strange." They're the same ones who opposed bermuda shorts and toreador pants, or in an earlier generation lipstick and jazz.

SO MUCH FOR FASHIONS. We are not among those who stand in the path of true love. But something must be done about the parking over by the new girls' dorm.

About nose count time every evening, the situation is impossible. Rounding that highly poetic curve going from 14th street to the ad building becomes a feat comparable to rounding the Horn during the heyday of the wind-jammer.

THE ROAD TO TRUE LOVE has always been a bumpy one but seldom so crooked.

Last week's Idealist column has been roughly criticized for saying that a person should not be graded off for his English in a say, his history course. We have a little more to add.

A person should not be graded off for his history in an English course. At least, some limits should be marked off as to this practice.

OBVIOUSLY A MISPELLED word or horribly mangled sentence should be red penciled. On the other hand, too many instructors have been known to dock a point for a second spelling or the violation of some Victorian rule, as obsolete today as the buggy whip.

Again, an English teacher may count off for a student saying that "the pilgrims came to Massachusetts to get religious freedom" for instance, "No," scribbles the teacher (-1) "they came over to set up a theocracy and didn't intend to give freedom to the Quaker or Seventh Day Adventists."

NOW THE WORD "freedom" is highly ambiguous. The French want a "free" hand in North Africa, but they don't intend to give one to the Africans. The South fought for freedom; but not for the Negroes.

The student has lost a point. He didn't have time on the test to define his terms like A. N. Whitehead. Injustice marches on, and another bitter freshman studies the recruiting posters.

Placement Announcements

Seven companies are interviewing in the Placement Service next week. Appointments should be made immediately in the Placement Office. Men may apply without regard to military status unless otherwise designated. Additional information on file.

SALES WORK
Majors: RETAILING, MARKETING, OTHER MAJORS (if interested in sales work).
Organization: Campbell Sales Co.; 6036 Sherry Lane; Dallas, Texas.

Date of Interviews: Monday, April 21. Company has opportunities for men interested in sales work. Men selected will be put into special training programs. Prefer men single and available for extensive travel during first two years of training. Because of the nature of the training program, preference is given to men who are not subject to Military Service.

PHARMACEUTICAL SALES
Attention: 1) STUDENTS INTERESTED IN PHARMACEUTICAL SALES.
2) Students interested in summer employment.

1) PHARMACEUTICAL SALES — Marketing or Retailing and/or background in Chemistry or Biology.
2) SUMMER EMPLOYMENT IN CHEMICAL SALES DIVISION. Must have at least three years in chemical engineering or chemistry.

All Tech Barbecue Set for Stadium

Jones Stadium will be the scene of an all school barbecue Saturday in conjunction with the spring training scrimmage of Tech's varsity football team.

The Chuck Wagon Gang from Odessa will serve the meal which will cost dorm resident 25 cents. Off-campus students will be charged $1.35 while the public will be charged $1.50.

Tech supporters will see a preview of next year's football team at the barbecue which is scheduled from 4-5 p.m. immediately following the Bicycle Race running from 2-4 p.m.

... Convocation

Festival could be made into an evidence of superiority on the Tech campus rather than mediocrity.

HE SAID, "This is the birth of a possible new tradition... which can become one of the greatest traditions of Texas Tech. There is great promise in it. There must be the inner realization that it must become a part of us — we must feel it, participate in it, and pass it down to future generations."

Wick Alexander, chairman of the Spring Festival, told of the origin of this new event on the campus. He commented that, "the first Spring Festival is a test and the success or failure of it is up to the students."

THE TECH BAND, wearing its new uniforms donated by Lubbock businesses and individuals, was introduced by Dr. Jones. Part of the matriculation fee will go to pay for additional uniforms to complete the band's wardrobe.

W. P. Clement, registrar, was master of ceremonies and David Thompson, student body president, gave the invocation for the occasion.

... Placement

Assignment to training program. Customers include physicians, hospital staffs, and pharmacists — products include antibiotics and other medicinal products. Wherever possible the new representative will be placed near the location of choice. Earnings based on salary plus bonus. Automobile and expense accounts provided. Other benefits.

2) Summer Employment - Period of employment from June 9 to September 5. Training period in Dallas. Assignment in Southwest. Compensation: For three years of college $250 per month; For four years of college $400 per month. Automobile furnished plus expenses.

ning to attend the show should get tickets while they last."

Several out-of-town high school groups will attend "Guys and Dolls" tomorrow night.

AN IDENTIFICATION card is not necessary for the purchase of tickets, which are priced at $1 each, and there are no reserved seats.

All publicity for the show was handled by the Public Relations Council of the Union.

MY CLOSEST SHAVE by Elgin Ciampi

Skin Diver, Shark Expert, Author

"My closest shave happened under water while baiting sharks to photograph," says shark expert Elgin Ciampi. "My speared bait-fish hid in a hole, pouring clouds of blood around me. Smelling blood, a 7-foot man-eater, unable to find the bait, rushed me. I dodged and started taking pictures. I kept the camera between us while the shark circled hungrily for five full minutes. Then my air supply ran short, so I used psychology: I lunged at the shark with my camera. Started, he shot away - and so did I!"

Intramural Golf Begins; 14 Teams, 45 Men Entered

Intramural Golf gets underway this week with 45 entries in the individual tournament and 14 teams competing for the team crown.

Taylor Williams, sophomore Business Administration major from Bonham, will be on hand to defend the championship he won last year. Also playing in last year's runner-up, Joe Ben Turner, and a previous intramural winner, Charles Hedrick. All three appear to be favorites to advance toward the finals.

The first round pairings will play matches on or before Sunday, April 20th: Allan Hollis vs. Jerry Hickson, Ron Calhoun vs. Burgess Donelson, Charles Beane vs. Bill Tombs, Joe Ben Turner vs. Ervis Coggan, Seth Moore vs. Charles Hedrick, Phil Reid vs. Lynn Elliott, David Rutherford vs. Charles Waller, Jim Watt vs. Gene Handley, John Carter vs. Tom Shelby, W. B. Hill vs. Frank Wright, Ralph Way vs. Clark Hampton, Tommy Wilson vs. Clayton Cooke, Taylor Williams vs. Dave Allen, Eddie Herring vs. Wayne Hatisseau, Bobby Rutledge vs. Charles Wilson, Tommy Hawkins vs. Mike Crookshank, Max Harrington vs. Wiley Doran, Dick Corley vs. Jim McPherson, Porter Davis vs. Robert Cromwell, Jimmy Walker vs. Jim Schiermyer, Ted Ferguson vs. Bob Kiker, Bill Holmes drew a bye.

Edsel Buchanan, intramural Director, has requested that each player contact his opponent and arrange a date for the first round match which will be played on the Meadowbrook Country Club course.

The team entries will play on a medal basis with each two man team totaling scores. The low score will determine the team champion.

The team pairings:

Kappa Sigma No. 1 team — Turner, Moore and Independent team—Hedrick, Coggans.

Kappa Sigma No. 2—Reid, Rutherford and Phi Delta Theta No. 1 — Cooke, Hampton.

Sigma Nu No. 1 — Hill, Wilson and Phi Delta Theta No. 2—Rattisseau, Shelby.

Sigma Nu No. 1 — Kiker, Cromwell and Phi Delta Theta No. 3 — Allen, Waller.

Independent team — Hawkins, Harrington and Phi Delta Theta No. 4 — Wright, Handley.

SAE No. 1 — Walker, Ferguson and Phi Delta Theta No. 5 — Howard, Elliott.

SAE No. 2 — Mathews, Holmes and Pi Kappa Alpha — Way, Doran.

All team matches should be completed no later than May 5.

Red Raider Golfers Seek First SWC Win

Tech's varsity golf foursome will try for its first win in SWC competition Saturday at the Hillcrest Country Club against Texas A&M.

The Raiders have recently finished a tour of the South Texas area playing in the SW Intercollegiate in Houston and conference matches against Baylor and Texas U.

The Techs did not fare so well on this campaign as they did earlier in the season winning first place honors in the SW Recreational and the Odessa Relays.

At Houston, the Raiders placed third against tough competition but did not play well enough to suit their talents. The East Texas

Intercollegiate at Jasper was next on the schedule but the Raiders decided to by-pass the tournament to practice in Waco for their first conference match with Baylor, the defending SWC champs.
