

Runoff Election Completes Slate for '58-59

by BILLY ELLIS
All remaining positions were filled in yesterday's runoff of Tech's spring election. Student Council secretary, three cheerleaders and thirteen Council representatives were elected by the 2,204 who voted, some 500 shy of last week's main election.

Gall Petersen was chosen Student Council secretary in the feature race, polling 1,410 votes to 794 for Mary Catherine Birkelbach, her runoff opponent.

JUDY ECKLUND, with 1,292 votes, won the race for girl cheerleader, joining Sharla Pepper, who was elected in last Wednesday's voting. Miss Ecklund's running mate, Sandra Hendrix, received 916 votes.

Bill Womble and Butch Lawrence were elected to the two vacant male cheerleader spots, joining Joe Naylor, named head cheerleader in the preliminary balloting. Womble received 1,328 votes, while Lawrence collected 1,147.

OTHER CANDIDATES for the cheerleader positions were Jack Burgess, who had 905 votes, and Jay Johnson, with 880.

Filling the five council positions in the Arts and Sciences division are David Edwards, Richard Estes, Mary Ann Lindley, Stan Powers and Gaynelle Williams. These join the four previously elected, Wayne Gibbins, Pat Rainer, Ken Talkington and Johannna Zournas.

All five positions were filled in the Business Administration school, with Linda Bunger, Bill Dean, Don Ledwig, Larry Merri-man and Bill Pfluger taking wins. No one was elected outright in the first vote.

THE TWO Home Economics representatives elected were Janet Vines, with 69 votes, and Deann Buske, 66. The other two making up the H-E runoff were Kathy White (62 votes) and Libby Balzer (47 votes), after voters failed to name any winners on the first ballot.

In the school of Engineering, Champ Turner defeated Mary Jane Cashion, 330-202 for the remaining position. Already elected were Bob Dyer, Larry Pinson, Claude Rogers, Gerald Seeman, Don Spencer, Hollis Swafford and Milton Vaughn.

DUERY MENZIES edged James L. Knowlton, 127-115 for the remaining representative position in the Agriculture School race. Elected last week were Bob Byrd and Roy Milhoan.

A resume of the voting results in the Arts and Sciences school shows winners Edwards with 348 votes; Estes with 338; Lindley with 346, Powers with 322 and Williams with 336.

OTHERS RUNNING were Don Grimes (261), Tom Jenkins (301), Jill Jost (269), Linda Roberts (277) and Shirley Stephens (317).

In the BA election, Miss Bunger polled 315 votes, Dean had 261, Ledwig 299, Merriman 271, Pfluger 290. Eliminated in yesterday's election were Linda Chappell (221), Ray Gressett (161), Jim Hock (255), Sandy Lynch (190) and Mike Montgomery (221).

ELECTION OFFICIALS were pleased with the voting turnout for the runoff, which typified the increased spirit of this year's campaigns.

David Thompson, Student Council president, thanked Tech students for their interest, and announced a meeting of all old and new Student Council members for Friday at 12:30 p.m. in the Council office.

$20 Deposit Rule Changed

W. L. Burgess, director of room reservations, stated today that the fall deposit for room reservation will be carried over to next fall instead of refunding it. Previously the $20 has been refunded at the end of the spring semester with room damage charges taken out. Another $20 would have to be paid if the student was planning to live in the dorm next year.

Mr. Burgess reported that this should be less trouble for both the students and the room reservations office.

In regard to those few students who have fines for damages on their rooms, "These will be settled separately," he said.

Tech, Baylor Debate On Trading Stamps

Tonight at 7:30 Texas Tech and Baylor University will debate on trading stamps as an acceptable business or as a detriment to American economy.

The debate will take place in the Aggie Memorial Auditorium and the public is invited to attend.

JAMES E. BRENNAN, Tech forensics director said, "The debate will take the form of a legal trial complete with witnesses, judge, and jury. Witnesses will be called from the audience and will include Lubbock representatives of trading stamp companies."

After examination and cross-examination of witnesses, the Baylor debaters will attempt to prove that trade stamps are detrimental to the American economy and Tech debaters will uphold stamps as an acceptable trade practice, he said.

RONNY LINAM, senior business major from Waco, and James Birkmeyer, law student from Amarillo will represent Baylor. Both have four years of debate experience.

Representing Tech will be Thomas Dale Reager, junior business major from Lubbock, and Joe Ben Hudgens, junior government major of Pecos.

The Baylor-Tech meeting marks the third intercollegiate trial-type debate to be held on the Tech campus this year. Other debates were with Cambridge University of England and Notre Dame University.

Circle K Meeting Here

Tech's Circle K organization plays host this weekend to Circle K members from all parts of Texas and Oklahoma.

Circle K's annual district convention, this year in Lubbock, will have headquarters at the Caprock Hotel. Approximately 18 clubs from Texas and Oklahoma will attend.

CIRCLE K is a campus and community service club. "It is, according to Dr. Howard Golden, "a civic organization designed to serve colleges and communities," and it is a branch of Kiwanis International.

Several visiting dignitaries are expected at the regular luncheon tomorrow. Although registration for the convention does not begin until 2 p.m. Friday, Charles B. McFarland, district governor of Kiwanis International, from Oklahoma City and Don Vaughn, district governor of Circle K, from University of Corpus Christi are expected for the luncheon.

SATURDAY MORNING the convention delegates will be welcomed by Dr. E. N. Jones, and routine business will be conducted.

At a luncheon Saturday, Melvin Munn, lieutenant governor of Kiwanis International, from Dallas, will address the group. Hal Helsey, International Circle K representative, will be present.

Glenda Keith Honored

by DONNA CHRISTOPHER
Glenda Keith, senior music major from Borger, was named Tech's Woman of the Year climaxing the annual Women's Day Banquet Tuesday night in Tech Union Ballroom.

Miss Keith is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority, Mu Phi Epsilon, Tech Choir, Madrigal Singers, and Tech Supreme Court. She is president of Horn Hall and its advisory council.

APPROXIMATELY 220 women attended the banquet. Mary Alice Richardson, AWS president, served as mistress of ceremonies.

Speaker for the evening was Margaret Weeks, Dean Emeritus of Home Economics at Tech, for whom Weeks Hall was recently named.

IN HER address, "Heritage of AWS", Miss Weeks outlined early student life and the development and growth of women's organizations participating on the Tech campus.

She concluded her talk by saying, that college girls were much the same in the earlier years as they are now . . . "Tech's women have built well on the foundations laid so long ago."

WUS Slates Carwash

The World University Service Drive, sponsored by the Student Council and Alpha Phi Omega will begin Saturday, April 26. The purpose of the drive is to help students abroad who cannot pay their own way through school, chairman Richard Estes stated.

First event in the campaign is a car wash to be held in front of the Music Building, Saturday at 1 p.m. Fraternity and sorority members and pledges will wash and dry for fifty cents a car. Kin Lawton is in charge of the car wash.

A "Mile of Pennies" will be placed on the sidewalk in front of the Union Building Monday and Tuesday. The "Mile of Pennies" drive, under the direction of Richard Riojas, will move inch by inch as each penny is donated.

MISS WEEKS received a standing ovation and was awarded
Page 8, BANQUET . . .

Saturday, May 3, will climax W.U.S. Week. "Texas Tech's First Wet Function," a swim meet that will be held from 2 until 4:30 p.m. All organizations are to contact Gail Petersen or Carolyn Williamson if they wish to compete. Entry fee per organization is five dollars and admission is fifty cents.

Dormitory drives will be headed by Pat Booth, men's dorms and Carolyn Scott, women's dorms. The girls plan to have competition between the wings to raise money, and a donation container for the boys when they buzz their dates.

Publicity chairman David Steinman announced that Tech's goal for the entire drive is $500. Similar drives are being made in other colleges.

Around the Circle

—carolyn mimms

After the Bike Race, all the open houses and shows here we are again to tell you what organizations around the Circle are doing.

Many functions have been planned this week, since many students are probably trying to catch up on studying after not even looking at a book last weekend.

Tomorrow all Texas Tech's Greek social sororities and fraternities will compete in the Annual Inter-Fraternity Sing. It is sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, music fraternity, and will be in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Tech Vets will have their semi-formal spring social in the VFW Hall at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Following the Sing fest, Phi Delta Theta fraternity will have a reception at K.N. Klapp party-house from 10:30 to midnight.

Saturday at 2 p.m. students are invited to a jam session in the Tech Union. It is being sponsored by the music and exhibits committee.

The Women's Inter-Dormitory Council is planning a retreat from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday in the Union ballroom.

Phi Gamma Delta fraternity will have its Fiji Olympics at 2 p.m. Saturday in front of Horn Hall. The Olympics were postponed earlier because of weather but Saturday, Tech women can compete in the olympic games planned by the Fijis.

Pi Beta Phi will have initiation at its lodge at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Picnics are finally being planned by two campus organizations. Our hopes for these spring outings have not been in vain.

Kappa Sigma will take a trip to Palo Duro for a picnic all day Sunday. It is an annual affair for all Kappa Sig members, pledges and their gates.

Bob Winston of Berkeley, California, will lecture and show slides at 7:30 p.m. today in the Faculty Club Lounge.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Winston, fabricator of contemporary jewelry, is competent in designing play sculpture for park departments. He has built his own home and studio in the Berkeley Hills of California and created many pieces of jewelry for individuals.

He says he produces three types of jewelry — architectural, tailored and wearable sculpture. However, it is not only in the designing field that his interest lies for as a photographer, he is represented in the collections of many universities and colleges in the country.

If asked what he would say his success has depended upon the answer would go like this—"The nine years it took me to graduate from the University of California — 1936 to 1945, my slide lectures on the close relationship of nature and art of all ages, exhibitions, and my willingness to produce an object for sale without losing my integrity."

Phi Gam Olympics Set for Saturday

WUS Donations for Good Cause

WORLD UNIVERSITY SERVICE will kick-off this weekend on its annual drive to raise money, featuring a car wash, drives in dorms, the mile of pennies and an intramural swimming meet.

But how many Tech students know what WUS is and why it is asking you for your money?

As the name implies WUS is worldwide, operating in 39 countries. It was founded in 1920 by the World Student Christian Federation to provide relief for European universities damaged during World War I. Today it includes Protestant, Catholic, Jew and works in universities throughout the free world.

The money you give will go to helping universities in the Middle East (Egypt and Israel), Southwest Asia, the Far East and Africa. A Latin-American program is being started.

Yearly there is an international assembly held, composed of the national committees of the member countries who decide to whom WUS funds will be given for aid.

The funds are allocated on basis of need and the extent the funds will help the recipients. Usually the country receiving aid tries to match the grant from WUS and sometimes more than doubles it.

The funds are divided into four areas:

lodging and living, health, educational equipment, and individual student emergency relief.

There are definite needs in each of these areas. For example, 3,000 students in Calcutta University are literally homeless, living under street lamps and sleeping on sidewalks.

One of every 16 Indian students have malaria. Between 3,000 and 5,000 Japanese students require immediate treatment for TB.

Five textbooks were available to 600 students studying inorganic chemistry at the University of Mysore. Three hundred pre-med students at the University of Saigon, Viet Nam, had last year one microscope and one balance to work with.

Last year emergency relief went to escaped Hungarian students. Thirteen hundred of the students were placed in American colleges and universities under coordination by WUS.

This is WUS and this is where and what for your money will go for.

That We are lucky there is not much argument. Our facilities could be better, but as they are they're infinitely better than in many places as shown above.

The little bit we can afford to pitch in the pot for WUS will help. It will certainly go for a good purpose.

Theft, Destruction of Books Is Costly Library Problem

(Editor's note: This is the final article of a series on the book stealing and destruction problem at Tech. This article deals with losses in the Library due to mutilation and theft of books.)

by BARBARA WRIGHT

"One who steals a library book is stealing from his classmates and the future students of Tech," said Ray C. Janeway, head Tech librarian.

Since a volume is usually good for 60-100 readings, John Q. Techsan, the typical Texas Tech student, with the theft of just one book steals material and information from a possible 99 students. Multiply this figure by the number of stolen books, and the result is a huge total of victims of John Q's innocent "borrowing."

HE cheats his fellow students not only through theft, but also through defacement of books. A recent example of mutilation which was costly both to the Library and its users was last week's clipping of five "Reader's Guides" and one "Literature and Essay Index."

Our friend John Q., who felt he had not the time nor energy to copy while at the Library the information for a class assignment, ripped out entire pages, cut out with a razor blade small sections, and conveniently took home the material he needed.

But what about classmates who had the same assignment? Two girls who arrived after the defacement to get the required information resentfully said, "I wonder how he would have felt if he had gotten here after someone else had mangled the books?"

JOHN Q.'s assignment was an expensive one. It will cost the Library about $60 to replace the six reference books. It cost his classmates the opportunity to get their assignment, since the defaced books were the only source of the material needed. Also, though John Q. may not be aware, it could cost him $200. That is the fine for defacing state property, which includes Tech's library books.

Unfortunately, John Q's destructive nature has shown itself many other times past. Mr. James Platz, associate librarian, reported, "The set of American Association of Geologists has had to be replaced twice because of repeated clippings. When we bought the third set, we had to restrict its use in order to protect the volumes."

AS FOR MAGAZINES, Gloria Lyeria, periodicals librarian, said that $2000 worth of damage and theft occurs each year in the periodicals department alone. "That is the cost of our loss. The replacement expense is much higher. For example, a 1941 issue of the Saturday Evening Post which originally cost five cents now sells at $2.50.

Any defacement or theft," commented Mr. Platz, "destroys Tech's high moral standards and actually reflects upon the home training of the guilty."

ROSA LEE FULTON, circulation librarian, stated, "The person who steals or defaces a library book has an improper attitude toward public property. Neglecting the rights of others, he feels that public facilities are for only his convenience."

"The actual extent of book theft and defacement is impossible to estimate until the next inventory, because the library contains almost 250,000 bound volumes," said Mrs. Fulton. "However, on the basis of the last inventory and the current record, our losses, though not excessive are much greater than we wish they were."

"WE ARE CONSTANTLY striving to reduce the number of stolen books, but to do so, we need each student's cooperation," she continued.

John Q. Techsan can help prevent theft by always stopping at the librarian's desk when leaving the stacks or Reserve Room and showing his books.

"Turning the spine of uncovered and the top rim of covered books makes checking possible at a glance," said Alat Johnson, reserve librarian. "The majority of the students are cheerfully cooperative in checking books," she added.

PLANS FOR A NEW Library building will include provisions for book checking. A separate room at the Library exit, proven successful at other schools, has been suggested for Tech.

"A decrease in lost, stolen and defaced books would increase the rate of the library's growth. Money otherwise spent to replace missing volumes could be used to add to our collection," commented Mrs. Fulton. "Since the expense of one theft is not only the price of the book but also the cost in time and labor of ordering, cataloging and shelving, there could be savings in all departments."

THIS SAVING might even be reflected in taxes, because every theft takes money from the taxpayers' pockets since the Library is state supported.

"If there is any improvement in the campus situation of theft or destruction of books, the students themselves must bring about the change through cooperation and proper attitudes," concluded Janeway.

Spring? Spring? To hell with spring! So girls' dresses blow — so does the sand. So flowers are blooming — who has time to look at them. All spring does is make everybody dissatisfied. So what if it's spring and all is green and warm? Having already cut at least a half-a-dozen times in every course, it's impossible to go out and enjoy all the glories of the season.

BUT, BUT, the girls are all wearing shorts and . . .

Yes, but what if you've got a test in English at 8? Result? — Frustration or Failure.

And as for the Spring Fun Festival — tests in History, German, and algebra pretty well take care of our fun. Besides there are so many other people to see everything that, who gets a chance to enjoy oneself? Except for the convocation, of course, and then what fun is that?

AND THEN, TOO, there was the traffic. For instance, Saturday while on my way to the Library to prepare a 25 page report on the influence of Sigmund Freud on Edgar A. Guest, or vice versa, ("Mother," you know), the traffic was so terrible I wound up at the Engineering Show instead of the Library!

— Ah, but think of all the culture you can get during spring — of all the things you can learn!

LEARN, SCHMERN! To quote Agnes in "wet wash," "I don't have time for an education. . . I'm having a hard enough time getting a degree!"

—But your classes aren't very hard, are they? All grade point courses like Bookkeeping 18826.

That's what I thought, too, but ever since they started using English instead of numbers . . .

STARTED WHAT?!

Yeah, add these up for instance: Eighteen dollars and fourteen cents

Nine dollars and sixteen cents Six dollars and twelve cents Four dollars and —

That's enough—I see what you mean. Gad! Wonder what started that—Oh, well . . .

Oh, say! How about seeing Christopher Marlowe's great play, "Macbeth," tonight?

WELL, I'D LIKE to, but I've got to cram up on my spelling for a geology test tomorrow and read up on complex sentences in my "Guidebook to the Study of Grammatical Structure for Elementary Geology."

Oh, yeah, ever since they started teaching English in geology and quit teaching English in English, I've had it. What do you think was on my last English quiz? — "What were the results of the Battle of Agincourt?"

Yeah, that's really rough. But, like the man said, "What is higher education coming to?"

Has this sort of thing been happening to you, too, lately? If so just remember what we of the "Idealist" always say, If spring comes, can summer be far behind?"

Festival a Tech Milestone

During my five years here at Texas Tech, I have seen and have been a part of many changes—most of which have been for the betterment of Tech.

Tech has changed from a little college to one with a large, more mature university-type of atmosphere. It's a scholastic requirement is more rigid. It has graduated from the Border Conference school it was to its present status—a respected Southwest Conference school.

THE MOST OUTWARD evidence of this evolution of maturity, I think was the Spring Festival I just completed. I would like to congratulate all who took part in and had any responsibility for the organization of the Festival.

However, to me, the people who deserve the most hearty congratulations are the student body. These, four years ago, such an event would not have been allowed, maybe for the protection of school property, but nevertheless the Spring Festival would not have been.

Therefore, this in itself is evidence that the administration and faculty as a whole now have the utmost confidence in the integrity and maturity of the student body.

FELLOW STUDENTS, we have worked for this faith and trust for a long time, for our own sake we must never betray that which we now possess.

The highlight of Festival was the Varsity Show. I can remember two years ago when the Student Council felt it could no longer absorb the prepayment debt of the Varsity Show and asked the Tech Union to accept the responsibility.

The Union accepted the responsibility and the production showed a dramatic improvement, so much, in fact, that it was decided to try it one more year before

TECHSANS TALK BACK

Festival a Tech Milestone

Editor,
During my five years here at Texas Tech, I have seen and have been a part of many changes—most of which have been for the betterment of Tech.

Tech has changed from a little college to one with a large, more mature university-type of atmosphere. It's a scholastic requirements are more rigid. It has graduated from the Border Conference school it was to its present status—a respected Southwest Conference school.

THE MOST OUTWARD evidence of this evolution of maturity, I think, was the Spring Festival just completed. I would like to congratulate all who took part in and had any responsibility for the organization of the Festival.

However, to me, the people who deserve the most hearty congratulations are the student body. Three, four years ago, such an event would not have been allowed, maybe for the protection of school property, but nevertheless the Spring Festival would not have been.

Therefore, this in itself is evidence that the administration and faculty as a whole now have the utmost confidence in the integrity and maturity of the student body.

FELLOW STUDENTS, we have worked for this faith and trust for a long time, for our own sake we must never betray that which we now possess.

The highlight of Festival was the Varsity Show. I can remember two years ago when the Student Council felt it could no longer absorb the perpetual debt of the Varsity Show and asked the Tech Union to accept the responsibility.

The Union accepted the responsibility and the production showed a dramatic improvement, so much, in fact, that it was decided to try it one more year before dropping it forever. Yet, because of the short-sightedness of a few, this fall, it was almost discontinued anyway.

THE DECISION to allow the Show, on trial basis, came almost too late for this year. However, I sincerely believe that if those few had been in the audience Thursday or Friday night, they would have had a startling eye-opener—it was great!

Congratulations, Varsity Show personnel! You have caused the rebirth of a cherished Tech tradition on a firm foundation.

The only envy I have is for you freshmen because before you is a brilliant and exciting future here at Tech.

Sincerely,
Ted Carthel

Disciplinary Report

Awash in indignation after reading certain parts of the Discipline Committee's report on cheating, I question the wisdom of the paragraph:

"THE DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE views with serious concern the willingness of any faculty member or members of any college agency to advise students not to sign statements concerning their guilt or innocence in the matter, and to advise students to say as little as possible when questioned."

Though the foregoing is expressed as a view today, it might become a nuisance tomorrow, which is to say an ordinance.

The question is bald: Is there academic freedom or no? Some of us were around last summer when three of our professors got the old heave-ho for "incompetency." How does our liberty leak away? These rights which are contained in the first few amendments to the Constitution are conditioned to a noticeable extent by an infinite series of obscure bylaws and insidious directives which assume the dimensions of categorical imperatives in their cumulative effect.

I CONTEND that liberty is seldom felled by a single stroke. It is more often chisled away by honest but too earnest men.

Too often these matters are taken from the hands of the judicious (you and I according to the Constitution) and turned over to the judicial.

Not wanting to be marked as a troublemaker, I leave the remainder of this agonizing analysis and action to the hordes of idealists who will jump to and win the battle (probably by ramming through one more idiotic bylaw. Nay, ten, twenty, ... n).

... Circle K

... sident will also be present.
THE BUSINESS of Saturday will also include the election of new district officers of Circle K. The Governor's Ball at the Caprock will be in their honor.

Tech's Circle K is sponsoring a date bureau for the visiting delegates. Any young lady interested in attending the Ball is asked to contact Jim Bell. Dates will be arranged with Circle K members from other cities.

Sunday, there will be a breakfast for the delegates at the Caprock.

Visitors will be able to look over the Tech Campus during intermissions in the business of the convention.

BAYLOR was the site of the 1957 convention. Saturday, delegates will decide where the meeting will be next year. The international convention of Circle K at Huntsville this fall will also be discussed at these meetings.

Handling arrangements for district convention are Tech Circle K officers: Jim Bell, Bill Plumlee, Ed Golden, Don Connelly and Bobby McDonald.

Hutto Says Freed

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Pardons Board Wednesday asked for corroborating facts to back up William Hutto's contention that he was pardoned in 1925 and should not be imprisoned after 32 years of freedom.

"The whole thing turns on whether or not the man was led to believe by someone in authority that he was released from his sentence. Hutton has said this but we have to have other statements," Chairman Jack Ross said.

For those students graduating or not planning to live in the dorm next year, their $20 deposit will be refunded to their home address.

"It is hoped that the students will be prompt and cooperative because this is for their benefit too," added Mr. Burgess.

Score Shuts Out Chi-Sox; Giants Nip Cardinals

CLEVELAND (P)—Herb Score proved he is back on the beam Wednesday by pitching a three-hit shutout and striking out 13 Chicago batters as the Cleveland Indians defeated the White Sox 2-0.

The left-hander, whose career almost ended when a line drive struck him in the eye last May 7, showed good control. His curve was breaking sharply, and his fast ball really zipped-cracking loudly as it popped into catcher Dick Brown's mitt.

In matching his 2-1 record last season, the 23-year-old tossed his first shutout in exactly a year. He walked only three and was in trouble only twice.

In the third inning the White Sox loaded the bases on a walk and a single and Score's wild throw on Nellie Fox's grounder. The fireballer then got Al Smith and Serm Lollar to bounce into force plays to end the threat.

Score had trouble again in the eighth because of two errors. Luis Aparicio was safe on a fumble by Bobby Avila. After Fox flied out, Aparicio stole second and continued to third base when Brown threw wildly. Smith then popped out, but Lollar walked and Jim Rivera went in to run for him. Rivera stole second, but with runners on second and third, Score got pinchhitter Walt Dropo for his 11th strikeout.

The Indians scored in the second inning on Carroll Hardy's sacrifice fly after a double by Rocky Colavito and a single by Chico Carrasquel.

They added another run off Billy Pierce in the third inning on Avila's home run over the left field fence, his first of the season.

Score's 13 strikeouts are the high for the major leagues this season. He had to be in good form to top Pierce, another left-hander.

Spencer's Blast Sinks Cardinals

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Short stop Daryl Spencer crashed in the ninth-inning home run into the left field bleachers with Orlando Cepeda on third Wednesday and gave the San Francisco Giants an 8-victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

A crowd of 14,715 in Seals Stadium saw their new favorite score twice in the eighth and four times in the ninth to snatch the game from the Cardinals, who had led since opening with a five run barrage in the first.

Mary Grissom, the Giants' 40-year-old relief hurler who pitched the ninth as No. 6 in the parade of home club hurlers, won his first Phil Clark who pitched to only two men but accepted a two-run trip by Cepeda and Spencer's homer, drew the defeat.

SWEENEY IN THE TREES

Spring is here—the season of tree-sitting contests. This I applaud. Tree-sitting is healthful and jolly and as American as apple pie. Also it keeps you off the streets.

Tree-sitting is not, however, without its hazards. Take, for example, the dread and chilling case of Manuel Sigafos and Ed Sweeney, both sophomores at the Nashville College of Folk Music and Woodworking, and both madly in love with a beautiful alto named Ursula Thing, who won their hearts singing that fine old folk song, I Strangled My True Love with Her Own Yellow Braids, and I'll Never Eat Her Sorghum Any More.

Both Manuel and Ed pressed Ursula to go steady, but she could not choose between them, and finally it was decided that the boys would have a tree-sitting contest, and Ursula would belong to the victor. So Manuel and Ed clambered up adjoining aspens, taking with them the following necessities: food, clothing, bedding, reading matter, and—most essential of all—plenty of Marlboro Cigarettes.

We who live on the ground know how much you get to like with a Marlboro. Think how much more important they must be to the lonely tree-dweller—how much more welcome their fire, mild tobacco; how much more gratifying their free-drawing filters; how much more comforting their sturdy, crushproof flip-top box. Climb a tree and see for yourselves.

A TREE SITTING CONTEST

Well supplied with Marlboros, our heroes began their tree-sitting contest—Manuel with good heart, Ed with evil cunning. The shocking fact is that crafty Ed, all unbeknownst to Manuel, was one of three identical triplets. Each night while Manuel dozed on his bough, one of Ed's brothers—Fred or Jed—would sneak up the tree and replace him. "How can I lose?" said Ed with a fiendish giggle to his brother Fred or Jed.

But Ed had a big surprise coming. For Manuel, though he did not know it himself, was a druid! He had been abandoned as an infant at the hut of a poor and humble woodcutter named Cornelius Whitney Sigafos III, who had raised the child as his own. So when Manuel got into the tree, he found much to his surprise that he had never in all his life felt so at home and happy. He had absolutely no intention of ever leaving.

After seven or eight years Ed and his brothers wearied of the contest and conceded. Ursula Thing came to Manuel's tree and cried, "I am yours! Come down and pin me."

But Manuel declined. Instead he asked Ursula to join him in the tree. This she could not do, being subject to moperpy (a morbid allergy to woodpeckers), so she ended up with Ed after all.

Only she made a mistake—a very natural mistake. It was Jed, not Ed, with whom she ended up.

Ed, heartbroken at being tricked by his own brother, took up metallurgy to forget.

Crime does not pay.

Tech's baseballers upset the high flying Texas A&M Aggies in a non-conference baseball game at College Station Tuesday, 3-2.

The Raiders were paced by center fielder Gering Garrison's walk home run in the eighth inning and pitcher Billy Tombs' shot to the left field which drove in the winning run in the ninth.

ARM'S TOBY NEWTON held the Raiders to only one hit in the first seven innings and no runs. The Aggie left-hander struck out 17 men and walked four until relieved by Percy Sanderson who pitched the final two frames and ultimately became the loser.

The Aggies took the lead in the second inning by a 2-0 margin when Tombs gave up a single to a

Intramural Softball In Tight Race

Intramural softball entered the fourth week of play this week with all of the league leaders in tight races for the top spots.

In the Fraternity League, the Phi Gams are still unbeaten with a seven win record behind the Phi Delta Theta with a 6-1 record and the Phi Kappa Alphas with the few wins and two losses.

The DORM LEAGUE ended in a tie between Deak Hall and West Hall each with three wins and one loss. A playoff date and site have not yet been determined.

The top teams in Independent League No. Two are the T-Squares and the Tech Vets with three wins and one loss each. The Vets almost saw their top spot melt from beneath them when the T-Squares protested because the Vets were using an ineligible player. The protest was upheld when it was discovered that the player in question was not a Tech student and the Vets stood to forfeit the 3 games won.

IN A DISPLAY of college sportsmanship, the T-Squares and the other teams of the league decided to withdraw the protest when it came to light that the player under protest was alone to blame and not the Vets Club. The Vets were allowed to keep their record as it stands.

The Bums and Church of Christ are tied in Independent League No. One with three wins and one loss in a race for the flag with the Sloggers only one game back with three wins and two losses.

Red Raiders Win, Lose in SWC Encounters

Tech Whips Aggs On Garrison Hit

Tech's baseballers upset the high flying Texas A&M Aggies in a non-conference baseball game at College Station Tuesday, 3-2.

The Raiders were paced by center fielder Gerhig Garrison's home run in the eighth inning and pitcher Billy Tombs' shot to left field which drove in the winning run in the ninth.

A&M's TOBY NEWTON held the Raiders to only one hit in the first seven innings and no runs. The Aggie lefthander struck out 17 men and walked four until relieved by Percy Sanderson who pitched the final two frames and ultimately became the loser.

The Aggies took the lead in the second inning by a 2-0 margin when Tombs gave up a single to Bo Paradowski and a double to Ralph Plumlee. The next batter, Dink Patterson, hit a grounder to shortstop Dave Bourland who threw wide to first allowing the unearned runs to score.

BOURLAND TOOK a measure of revenge in the ninth as he reached first safely on a grounder to the Ag pitcher, Sanderson, who bobbled the ball. Tech third baseman, David Potter, hit another shot to the pitcher and the throw to first was wild. Bourland scored to tie the game at two all and then came Tombs drive to the left to score Potter.

The win against the Ags, who are currently tied for second in the SWC, left the Raiders at one win and one loss on the road. The loss came Monday in Dallas as the SMU Mustangs blasted two Raider pitchers for nine hits and an 8-2 win.

Red Raider Errors Aid Owl Victory

(Special to The Toreador) HOUSTON, April 23 — Texas Tech was foiled again in an attempt to even its season record as too many errors and bases on balls by the Raiders handed the Rice Owls a 10-1 win.

Tech could not maintain the form that marked their brilliant 3-2 win over Texas A&M yesterday, so finished their SWC tour with a 1-2 record, now going 4-6 on the year.

Rice won today's game with four runs in the third, but added four more counters in the fifth, then a pair in the sixth. Tech's lone marker came in the sixth. Most of the runs scored in today's contest were unearned.

The Owls' first four runs came on but one hit, aided by three walks and three Tech errors. Likewise, the four runs in the fifth came on a single hit, with three walks and four big errors spelling the Raiders' doom.

Lefthander Bruce Boyd started the game for Tech, relieved by another southpaw, Lawrence Barber, in the third. Righthander Houston Powell came in the fifth to finish the game for Tech.

Tech's run in the sixth was scored by shortstop Dave Bourland, who gained first base on an error, swiped second and third, then came home on catcher Earl Parker's pinch single.

Coach Beattie Feathers' nine almost matched the Owls at the plate, getting seven safeties while Rice had eight, but Raider mistakes cost Tech its sixth loss.

Intramural Softball Teams In Tight Race for Titles

Intramural softball entered the fourth week of play this week with all of the league leaders in tight races for the top spots.

In the Fraternity League, the Phi Gams are still unbeaten with seven wins. Close behind are the Phi Delta Thetas with a 6-11 record and the Pi Kappa Alphas with five wins and two losses.

THE DORM LEAGUE ended in a tie between Doak Hall and West Hall each with three wins and one loss. A playoff date and site have not yet been determined.

The top teams in Independent League No. Two are the T-Squares and the Tech Vets with three wins and one loss each. The Vets almost saw their top spot melt from beneath them when the T-Squares protested because the Vets were using an ineligible player. The protest was upheld when it was discovered that the player in question was not a Tech student and the Vets stood to forfeit the 3 games won.

IN A DISPLAY of college sportsmanship, the T-Squares and the other teams of the league decided to withdraw the protest when it came to light that the player under protest was alone to blame and not the Vets Club. The Vets were allowed to keep their record as it stands.

The Bums and Church of Christ are tied in Independent League No. One with three wins and one loss in a race for the flag with the Sluggers only one game back with three wins and two losses. The standings:
