Spectators At Tech-HSU Game Will See Six Long-Awaited Card Stunts Tomorrow

Six card stunts will be performed during the Hardin-Simmons-Tech game Saturday by students sitting in Section O of Jones stadium.

Colored movies to be shown at a later date and pictures for the Student council bulletin board will be made at this time.

The committee tri-chairmen, Charles Joplin, Larry Bedform and Bobby "Parky" Parkinson, ask students sitting in Section O to follow these directions:

1. Sit between the black lines marked on the seats, disregarding the seat numbers.
2. Cooperate with the person passing out the cards since this person is responsible for the success of his row.
3. Remain in seats at halftime, until the stunts are completed, so there will not be gaps in the rows.
4. Follow the directions of the people in front of the stands. They will demonstrate how to hold the cards and when to raise and lower them.
5. Pass the cards in after the stunts are over as they are expensive and difficult to replace.

Top Band To Be Selected For Junior-Senior Prom

Partial list of big-name bands which could possibly be secured for the Junior-Senior prom was obtained by Dick Witte, junior class president, from the General Artists corporation in Dallas.

Witte made the trip last weekend and returned with the following tentative names:

Ray Anthony, Ralph Flanagan, Jimmy Dorsey, Jan Garber, Johnnie Long, Woody Herman, Bernie Cummins, Ray Hearbeck, Shep Fields, Will Osborne, Chuck Cabot and Ray Robbins.

Other names may be added to the list at a later date.

La Ventana Ed Sets Final Dates

Deadlines for club pictures and the return of proofs for class pictures have been set by Dick Brooks, La Ventana editor.

Clubs having their own pictures made for the club section of the annual must have the pictures in the La Ventana office by Dec. 20, Brooks said. This concerns only those clubs having their own pictures made, and not the clubs using re-orders of class pictures.

Final deadlines for the return of proofs for class pictures are Dec. 4 for freshmen and sophomores and Dec. 6 for juniors and seniors. If the proofs are not returned by that time the annual staff will chose the pose to be used in the annual.

"Clubs are reminded that payment for club pages are past due and should be paid as soon as possible," said Brooks.

He made a plea for additional help on the annual by saying, "Work is very heavy, and we need help every afternoon Monday through Friday between 1 and 5 in Room 205 in the Journalism building."

WSSF Show Set For Wednesday

Approximately 20 acts have been entered in the World Student Service fund talent show, to be held in the Recreation hall at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, according to Hardy Clemons, chairman.

Proceeds from the tickets, which are 25 cents, will go to the WSSF, which provides aid to students in other countries.

All clubs on the campus have been invited to turn in acts to the committee, which consists of Clemons, Brian Boyett, Breckenridge senior, and Rhea Myers, Dallas senior.

Script Deadline Is Set For 1952 Varsity Show

No scripts have been submitted as yet for the 1952 Varsity show, according to Charles Joplin, show committee chairman.

Deadline for submitting scripts has been set for Dec. 21 Joplin said. A director will be chosen for the show after a script has been selected.

Tech Board Of Directors Will Meet Here Tomorrow

The Texas Tech Board of directors will meet here tomorrow instead of Dec. 8 in order that the members can attend the annual class between Tech and Hardin-Simmons University.

At least two of the board members will not be present at the business meeting. Chanslor E. Weymouth, Amarillo, and Thomas F. Abbott, jr., Fort Worth, have indicated they will not be able to attend the meeting, according to J. Roy Wells, assistant to President D. M. Wiggins.

Members expected to attend the board meeting are Leon Ince, Houston; C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder; Raymond Pfleger, Eden; Robert Price, El Paso; Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City and George E. Benson, Lubbock.

'Matador Song' Is Made Official

"The Matador Song," unrevised, was chosen as the official school song by an overwhelming majority in Tech's student elections Monday and Tuesday of last week, according to Elizabeth Schovajsa, chairman of the elections committee. Eight class favorites were also chosen in this election.

Pep Rally, Dance Set For Tonight

Final pep rally of the season will be held at 7 p.m. tonight in the gym and will be followed by an all-school dance in the Green room, according to Head Cheerleader Phil Thompson.

Graduating players who will be playing their last game will be presented. A skit, entitled "Mr. and Mrs. Hardin-Simmons," will be enacted by three Dallas freshmen, Bob Hathaway, Jim Weaver and Charles Ashworth.

Saddle Tramps sponsored a parade at 3 p.m. today, starting at the circle and ending at Women's Dormitory IV.

POWERS SPEAKS AT ASME

L. J. Powers, professor of mechanical engineering, will speak to ASME Monday, Dec. 3. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the ME shops lecture room.

Seniors elected Mary Ruth Shannon, home economics major from Plainview, their class favorite over four other candidates. Aubrey (Red) Phillips, from Fort Worth, was elected senior man favorite. He was the only candidate for the honor.

Junior Favorites

Carolyn Schaeffer, arts and science student from Fort Worth, was chosen junior woman favorite while Harold Brannan, another arts and science student from Dimmitt, overwhelmed his opponent to be named the junior class' favorite man.

Marian Holton, Lamesa arts and science student, outdistanced three candidates for the sophomore woman favorite title. Man favorite is Bobby Cavazos, agriculture major from Kingsville.

Frosh Choose

Freshmen chose Pat Abernathy, Lubbock, and Bill Derrick of Bovina, woman and man favorites respectively. Both are arts and science students.

Outcome of the voting on Mr. and Miss Texas Tech will be kept secret until publication of the year book.

An 18-year-old Tech student was shot as a prowler by Jim Bennett of 1902 Main yesterday morning, according to Lubbock police department reports.

Heard Noise

The Lubbock man had earlier heard sounds and had come to the front of the house to investigate the second disturbance when the shooting took place. Bennett then called the police department at 1:47 a.m. yesterday. The department sent a patrol car to the scene and investigating officers found the suspect under a car at 1908 Main, the report continued.

Student Hospitalized

Upon questioning, the hospitalized student stated he had run out of gasoline and was looking for a telephone. Detective Jack Hunicutt checked the car and found the gauge registered half-full and would start and run. Further investigation proved a screen at the east side of the Bennett residence was open, and one hinge was off at the top, official police report read.

The victim is "not in serious condition" from wounds received in the side, Lubbock Memorial hospital reported.

Pending further investigation, Bill D. Tucker, assistant district attorney, said no charges had been filed.

TECHSANS ATTEND MEET IN ADA, OKLAHOMA

Dr. P. Merville Larson, speech department head, and four speech students are attending a contest being held at East Central State college, Ada, Okla. The East Central Forensic meet began yesterday, and will close tomorrow.

Students who are competing in debate, radio speaking, story telling and discussion are E. J. Tarbox, Bob Dickenson, Dwayne Carter and Glenn Rainer.

Nine Research Books Printed By Texas Tech Press Since 1936

By NANCY BROWDER
Toreador Staff Writer

Since 1936 the Tech press has printed nine research books for faculty members and is in the process of printing another at present, according to Benge R. Daniel, manager of the Texas Tech press.

The book now being printed is "Texas Politics, 1906-1944" by S. S. McKay, professor of history. This is the third book by McKay to be printed by the Tech press. "W. Lee O'Daniel and Texas Politics, 1938-1942" and "Seven Decades of the Texas Constitution of 1876" are the two previous McKay publications—the latter one being most familiar to Tech history students.

Harry Conover, New York Will Choose Tech Beauties

Harry Conover, head of the famed Conover model agency of New York, will select the top beauties for La Ventana this year, according to Dick Brooks, editor.

Pictures of the contestants are being made at Joe Manicappelli's studio and will be sent to Conover.

linotypes, one intertype and a Cleveland folder, the printing of everything from pamphlets to books has been speeded up considerably since the Tech press printed its first volume in 1936. That book was "Studies of the Yaqui Indians of Sonora, Mexico," by W. C. Holden, head of the history department.

Following this, Holden, in cooperation with W. L. Bradshaw, professor of architecture, wrote "Why Use 'Dobe'?" The Tech press subsequently printed it.

Move Made

In 1941 the press moved from its cramped quarters in the basement of the engineering building to its present location in the north side of the journalism building. This expansion movement bore fruit the next year when the press printed five books. "The Evolution of the American Prehistoric Horse" by Grayson E. Meade, associate professor of geology, was brought out at this time, as was "Breads Made from Sorghum Grains" by Johnnie H. McCreary.

The printing boom at the Tech press continued with the printing of "The Gazelle Camel, Stenomylus" by Meade and "The Relationship of Cream Acidity to Mold Mycelia in Butter" by K. M. Renner, instructor in dairy manufactures. The same year Ernest Wallace, professor of history, had his book printed. It was "Charles DeMorse, Pioneer Editor and Statesman." It was also at this time that McKay's "Seven Decades" made its first appearance.

Other Activities Listed

Aside from books, the Tech press prints The Toreador, all of

Hereford Feeding Experiment Opens

A feeding experiment on 60 yearling herefords began Nov. 21, according to W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture.

The cattle are divided into six lots of 10 each to compare the results of feeding the old form of hydraulic process cottonseed meal with the new process of expelled solvent meal. A comparison of roughages will also be made among sunac sorghum silage, cottonseed hulls and a mixture of the two.

The cattle are fed by Bobby Gray, Throckmorton, a graduate student of animal husbandry, who was awarded a $12,000 scholarship by the Texas Cottonseed Crushers association, at the Aggie pig roast last week. Gray will use the data in his master's thesis.

At the conclusion of the 140-day experiment a Cattle Feeder's day will be held to present the results of the experiment to interested cattle men.

Regular employees of the press are Joe Powell, foreman; Katherine Gillaspie, operator; Neil Wyrick, operator; J. W. Sutton, pressman, and Dan Mosley, bindery man.

Student employees are as follows: Tommie Daniel, Howard Carvajal, Margaret Nelson, Doyle Adair, Luther Buchanan, Doug Burrows, Sue Findt, Billy Hipp, Robert Jameson, Della Beth Leonard, Kenneth Leonard, Jean McRee and Alice Qualia.

Methodist Student Conference Draws 26 Techsians To SMU Meet

Twenty-six Methodist students from Tech attended a meeting in Dallas Friday through Monday. The meeting was the annual Texas Methodist Student Movement.

The conference was held at Perkins Theological seminary at SMU.

Library Exhibit Features Books Of General Interest

A cross section of books of general interest to students is featured in a book exhibit in the Library, according to Frank Semple, assistant circulation librarian.

This exhibit places special emphasis on poorly circulated books which are unfamiliar to students. "These books represent a wide variety of subjects in the library besides books of purely academic value," explained Temple.

Selections of these books will be placed on the circulation counter from week to week and may be checked out by students and faculty.

Aggie Team Takes Second In Contest

Breaking through existing records, Tech's crop judging team placed second in the Intercollegiate Crop Judging contest at Chicago Saturday with nine teams competing.

Oklahoma A&M won first place in the contest, held at the International Livestock Exposition.

Tech's team made a total of 1799.8 points out of a possible 1800 in identification. The local team amassed a total of 1764 points in judging out of a possible score of 1800. Leonard Wilson set a new record for individual scoring with 593 points out of a possible 600.

Major Firms Begin Interviews Today

Three industrial firms began interviews on the campus today in search of new talent. Latest companies to schedule interviews are Gulf Oil, Sunray Oil, and DuPont.

Gulf Oil wants January graduates who are majoring in any phase of engineering. Sunray Oil will have representatives on hand for talks with January grads who are majoring in accounting and finance management.

DuPont's representatives are looking for any 1952 graduates with majors in Chemistry, Chemical Engineering, or mechanical Engineering and in addition Thursday and Friday of next week E. R. Price, manager of the Amarillo branch of Westinghouse, will interview January, May and August graduates majoring in Electrical, Mechanical or Industrial Engineering.

Students who are interested in going to work for Westinghouse should meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Extension Building. A film entitled "You can be sure, if it's Westinghouse" will be shown at the meeting. Mrs. Jean Jenkins, placement service director, says that arrangements for interviews must be made through her office.

Idaho has the world's largest lumber mill, at Lewiston.

Tech's Crop Judgers Win Honors In Kansas City Meet

The crop judging team of Tech won first place in the Intercollegiate Crop Judging contest at Kansas City in a field of 10.

Individual honors went to Leonard Wilson, who placed fourth; Jack Bond, who placed sixth and Archie Campbell, seventh.

Bond and Campbell tied for first in identification with perfect scores of 600 points each.

Third Music Hour Is Slated Sunday

Mrs. Eunice Shannon, pianist, and Mrs. Betty Boren, contralto, will be presented on the third Twilight Music Hour program at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Museum auditorium. Both women are from Lubbock.

Numbers by Mrs. Shannon include "Concerto in D Minor" by J. S. Bach; "Hommage a Rameau," Debussy, and "Rhapsody in C Major," Dohnanyi. Mrs. Boren will accompany Mrs. Shannon on a second piano for the Bach number and play with her "Andante, Opus 59," Chaminade and three preludes by Gershwin.

Mrs. Boren will sing three old English melodies, arranged by H. I. Wilson; "How Sleeps the Crimson Petal," by Quilter, and "Hills," LaForge. The contralto will be accompanied by Martha Judah.

Lubbock Symphony Presents Chorale

The combined choral organizations of Tech will be presented as guest artists with the Lubbock Symphony Monday and Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Lubbock High school auditorium.

The choral group includes the men's glee club directed by Raymond Elliott, the festival chorus directed by Ira Schantz and the Tech choir directed by Gene Hemmle and Herbert Colvin. The group will be directed by William Harrod, head of the Lubbock Symphony.

The group will sing "For Us a Child Is Born" by Bach, "Hallelujah" (from Mount of Olives) by Beethoven and "Polovetzian Dances" (from Prince Igor) by Borodin.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. A. C. Sanders at 7385. Student prices are $1.20, $1.00 and $ .85.

Candidates Named For Queen Contest

Five candidates have been nominated for queen of the Engineering ball to be held next Friday in the Hilton hotel. The only qualification for the honor is that the woman be a regularly enrolled student at Tech.

Nominees to date include Kay Smith, freshman from Lubbock; Joan Bolinger, junior from Lubbock; Johneen Bice, senior from Dimmitt; Laura Lou Bailey, freshman from Lubbock, and Ruth Carpenter, sophomore, of Odessa.

Any engineering division which has not entered a queen candidate may do so by contacting John Shoemaker in Sneed hall.

Three All-College Dances Scheduled For Rec Hall

Three all-college dances will be held in the Rec hall this weekend, according to Dan Pursel, Rec hall director.

A square dance is scheduled for Friday night with Jimmy Baker's orchestra furnishing the music. It will last from 8:30 until 11 p.m.

Also Friday night will be a dance in the Green room of the Rec hall. This dance is in connection with the pep rally and will begin as soon as the pep rally is over. Records will furnish the music.

The third dance will be held Saturday night with Ted Crager's orchestra playing. The dance will last from 8:30 until 11:30 p.m.

Dorm Queen To Be Revealed At Dance

Disclosure of the Dorm Queen's identity will high-light the annual December dance to be given by Men's Dormitory IV at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the dorm.

The queen will be selected by members of the dorm organization from a list of seven candidates. Those who have been nominated for the honor include Geraldine Barton, Turla Bates, Donna Caldwell, Jo Ann Hampton, Jeannine Hill, June Osborne and Pat Sibson.

Decorations for the dance will center around a December and winter theme. Dick McCune's Quin-Tones will furnish music.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 29...THE HYENA

Hysteria reigned from the moment he heard the details of those quick-trick cigarette mildness tests. First he giggled . . . then he guffawed . . . wound-up rolling in the aisle! He knew that the "single sniff" test or the "one puff" test didn't prove anything! Millions of smokers have reached the same conclusion — there's just one test that really proves cigarette flavor and mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Birthday Meeting Held By HE Club

The Home Economics club celebrated its 26th birthday Tuesday night at a regular meeting.

Nancy Arnold, senior from Dallas, gave a history of the Tech chapter, which gained membership in the American National Home Economics association Nov. 6, 1925. The Margaret W. Weeks Loan fund was started in that year and is still open to deserving home economic students.

Miss Arnold lighted the first candle on the cake to represent the first year of the club.

Eight candles were lighted for the years of 1926 to 1934 by Joyce Bayte, freshman from Lubbock, as she gave their history.

Rebecca Coles, freshman from Colorado City, lighted candles for the years of 1934 to 1942. During that period the club gave donations to the fund for foreign students. The fund sponsored nine German girls who studied at Tech from 1950 to 1951.

The remaining candles were lighted by Sue Duggan, freshman from Seymour. These candles represented the years of 1943 to 1951. During this time the club adopted a German school and sent boxes to the students.

Long Live The Matador . . .

At last Techsians have a school song known and universally loved by students over the campus. The "Matador Song" was named the official anthem in an election early last week.

Students voted overwhelmingly in favor of the beloved "Matador Song." It had previously been sung as a fight song.

Some students have felt that the name "Matador" was not in keeping with our football team's title, the Red Raiders. However, the team was originally named the Matadors. The word today is used to mean not only the athletic teams, but the entire student body.

We would like to see the former college song, "O College Mother, Beautiful," kept as a college hymn. At various occasions throughout the year, the traditional hymn could be used. Though we are glad to see the song replaced as the official anthem, we would hate to see it be discarded altogether.

New Plan Is Inaugurated . . .

A student traffic court will soon be appointed by the Student body president to make traffic regulations on the campus more effective.

Composed of four students and a faculty sponsor, the court will hear the cases of all students who receive traffic tickets on the campus and recommend necessary action to the Texas Tech Disciplinary committee.

The committee will be empowered to ask a student to have his car returned home or kept off the campus, if he should demonstrate that he is not capable of responsibility in the use of his car.

Improper use of cars on the campus includes:

1. Violation of traffic laws
2. Improper parking on campus
  - a. On paved drives, streets, traffic ways, entrances and loading zones
  - b. On the grass
  - c. In between rows in parking lots
  - d. Blocking sidewalks
3. Irresponsible use of car
4. Transportation or storage of beer and liquor

We quote from a statement by the committee. "The disciplinary committee feels that a student who has or uses a car while he is enrolled in the college should use it as not to interfere with his best achievement as a student or his growth as a person.

"In the use of the car, the student is responsible for exerting good judgment and evidencing regard for his own best interests and those of the college and community at all times."

Southwest Conference Football Classic Interrupts Toreador Working Hours

Texas' two Thanksgiving days caused quite a problem in the Toreador office yesterday.

Just when staff members were settling down to diligent work on the Friday edition after Tech's weekend holiday, an Aggie rooster brought in a radio and tuned in the annual "Turkey day" football battle between Texas A&M and the University of Texas.

Work became slow-motion and bedlam reigned throughout the afternoon as team backers exchanged taunts, threats and yells for their favorites.

As UT could scrape up only five supporters, the noise grew in volume each time the talented underdogs from Aggie land raced across the goal for another series of points.

Luckily the game ended with a majority ruling in a 22 to 21 A&M victory so reporters and editors could return to the jobs at hand, happy and content.

And now we have a new answer to an old question—when one doesn't know the answer.

The other day in an advanced government course, the class had failed to read an assignment. As the disgusted professor went down the role asking a question students answered, either, I don't know or regretfully shook their heads.

Finally one enterprising scholar broke the monotony by slowly drawing in answer, "Come to think of it,—I don't think I know, either."

Then there is the case of an intellectual upperclassman.

This skirted Techsan listened quietly to members of the male population discuss a business deal until one of the conversationalists said "Well, he didn't give me that $250 tie for nothing."

Young innocence spoke up questioningly, "Well, how much did he charge you?" Nuff said.

The hunting season must be upon us!

We noticed a picture in one of the state's daily newspapers in which a farmer has found a way to protect domestic livestock from the blows of gun-toting humanity.

In huge white letters on the sides of a Jersey heifer, the industrious New Englander had printed the word C-O-W.

It seems last year hunters had shot one of the farmer's goats and blown a large hole in a bear skin rug which was draped over the radiator of his automobile.

Judging Team Wins Honors In Two Meets

By JOHN NORCROSS
Toreador Editor

Hats off to the Aggie judging teams for their excellent showings in national and international judging contests this year.

Latest wins in judging competition were chalked up last week in meets in Chicago and Kansas City by the crop judging team. Keep up the good work, boys.

Tech's first distinguished professor, Dr. Carl Coke Rister, will be honored tonight at a dinner given by the Lubbock Citizens' committee. Dr. Rister, distinguished professor of history, will deliver an address to the group entitled, "Preserving Our Cultural Heritage."

We have interviewed Dr. Rister twice since he has been a member of Tech's faculty, and find him as colorful as the southwest itself.

Dr. Rister is full of exciting tales of pioneer days. His special interest is in uncovering and preserving the records of the oil industry's beginnings in this area.

Texas Tech is rightfully proud of its new distinguished professor. Probably no other individual has done more than he to preserve our "cultural heritage."

About The Campuses

West Texas State's newspaper, The Prairie, has voiced a protest against having WT's home football games in Amarillo. Said the Prairie, "Amarillo has the big city's bad attitude in athletics of supporting the spectacular and winning teams and ignoring those which aren't." It seems that the Buffaloes have been playing this year in an "empty Amarillo stadium."

Greek fraternities' efforts to "educate" their pledges by making them study in the library at night backfired at the University of Arkansas. Librarians complained that the pledges made so much noise that no one else could study. The fraternities weren't discouraged, however. They simply transferred the pledges to the agriculture building for study periods.

Tech now has a new school song, but most of the student body won't feel that any change has been made. The "Matador Song," now the college's official anthem, has been sung by Techsians since way back in the twenties.

Of about 1,100 students who voted in the election just before the holidays, more than 600 favored adopting the "Matador Song." "O College Mother Beautiful," which had previously been the school song, will still be used as a college hymn.

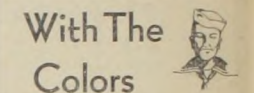

Tech's Matador Band sweetheart will be announced at half-time during the Tech-Hardin-Simmons game Saturday. Finalists are Sue Haynie, Dorothy Salters and Harriet Henderson. Who the lucky gal will be is anybody's guess. They all three look good to us.

The TCU Skiff printed a copy of the Southwest conference sportmanship code before its first home conference game. The purpose of this code in its own words is "to further good relations between Southwest conference schools."

Desperate officials at the University of Detroit have given up trying to keep students on the sidewalks and off the grass. They have decided to pave the paths students wear through the grass. Similar action at Tech might result in a slightly cob-webbed effect, not to mention the cost of cement needed to cover every path the students tread on our campus.

With The Colors

Stationed with the Navy at Great Lakes, Ill. is Bruce Patton.

Lt. James L. Lockley, '50 graduate, is stationed at Norton Air Force base in San Bernardino, Calif.

He is an assistant budget fiscal finance officer. He was an accounting graduate at Tech.

Wendell White, aviation electrician in the navy, visited Lubbock the week before the holidays. He is being transferred from Florida to San Francisco.

White was an accounting major at Tech before his enlistment last January. He is from Dimmitt.

Student Council SPEAKS

Why, don't more people vote in elections?

That's been the question which has been floating around the last few days since the election for class favorites and Mr. and Miss Texas Tech.

But statistics show that there's not as much cause for alarm this year as last, because 1185 voted compared to 915 last fall. Of course the percentage was larger this time too, being 36.7% (counting 3,226 regular students enrolled. The 680 night students were not counted in determining the percentage.)

Last year the percentage of students voting was 22.5% (4,005 regularly enrolled students and 470 night students). Perhaps the increase in number voting was because the election was held on two days, rather than on one day as was previously done.

Whatever the reason, we still need to work at promoting and stimulating interest in campus elections. Why don't some of you, who feel that Tech needs to improve its elections, send in your suggestions for helping solve the problem, to the elections committee of the Student council office in the SC.

This is your campus . . . and you should be interested in who is elected. Let's help make the general election this spring, bigger and better than ever before.

Newcomer, Old Hand Fill Deans' Positions

By THELMADEANE HUTCHINS
Toreador Staff Writer

"A newcomer to Texas and Tech and a man who has grown up with the college, rule the roosts of the offices of dean of women and dean of student life, respectively. "I like being a part of a growing, developing institution," said Marjorie M. Neely, dean of women, when she was asked for her reaction toward Tech. "I felt that it was a school that was building fast," she added, "and it presented a challenge."

Has Difficult Job

Mrs. Neely, who has the difficult job of dealing with hundreds of women, is thoroughly fascinated with her work, for she feels that in the college personnel field "There is nothing stereotyped." She has the additional problem of living in a completely new section of the country. She is pleased with Texas, but concluded with "I didn't think too much of the sandstorm yesterday."

The petite dean stressed the importance of student activities as she said, "Learning to live with people can be achieved through practice, and college is a lab experience in that course. College years are certainly the time to learn to think on your feet."

Aided Tech's Growth

Down the hall two doors, you'll find a man who has helped Tech grow from a toddling baby to a young adult. James G. Allen, dean of student life, came to Tech 25 years ago with plans to get a year or two of experience. He's still here.

His reason for staying can be expressed in his own words. "The students I want to work with are the students at Texas Tech." He added "It is tremendously important that you be happy in your work."

Former Dean Of Men

Dean Allen, who was dean of men for 13 years, is beginning his second year as dean of student life. Perhaps the most unusual phase of his new job is dealing with women students as well as men. He seems to regret only one thing about this added duties and that is that his work has pushed him back from frequent direct contact with students.

A look at the past will give you some idea of the versatility and highly entertaining personality of Dean Jimmy Allen. While he was in school at SMU, he directed a dance orchestra which was one of the first to broadcast for Station WFAA in Dallas. "I made more money the last two years I had my band," he said, "than the first ten years I taught school." Dean Allen still plays the piano for his own enjoyment and for his many friends who still know him as Jimmy Allen and remember his Serenades.

Has Wide Interests

His interests have ranged from music to Little Theatre work, but Dean Allen's heart is with Texas Tech. "Tech has its own personality," said the entertaining dean, "and I hope it doesn't get to be super-duper sophisticated."

Eight Are Initiated Into HE Society

Eight new members were initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary Home Economics fraternity, Nov. 18 at a breakfast at the Plainsman hotel.

Mrs. Grace Bailey of Texas State College for Women, Denton, district counselor for the home economics organization, was the featured speaker at the breakfast.

Phi U alumni was represented by Mrs. Paul Mills of Lubbock.

Others on the program were Jane Foster, president of Tech chapter; Velma Ruth Howell, a new member; and Mary Marie Byers, an old member. Elizabeth Schovajsa presided over the initiation as membership chairman.

Those initiated were: Jan McDonald, Fort Worth; Miss Howell, Tahoka; Mary Ruth Shannon, Plainview; Wanda Ramsey, Plainview; Ellen Massengill, Littlefield; Mary Ruth Sims, Lubbock; Nancy Crosby, Lubbock; and Marvel Gibner, Spearman.

Membership is chosen on basis of scholarship and leadership.

Six Raiders Make All-Conference Team

BALL-pointed pennings . . .

By Jimmie Henley

Tech's Red Raiders will play their best home game of the season, and possibly their best game of the year when they face the Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons university in Jones stadium Saturday afternoon.

Tech enters the game slightly favored over the Cowboys, who take special delight in upsetting the Techs. This year, as in many past years, the Border conference title crown rests on the outcome of Saturday's game. However, that fact has little influence upon the Cowboys, who seemingly take as much delight in downing the Raiders as in winning the conference.

Although the Raiders are seriously crippled with illness, we think they will take the Baptists by a margin of six points.

We congratulate Jerrell Price, Aubrey Phillips, Junior

Arterburn, Bobby Cavazos, Jim Turner and Ray Howard upon being named to the All-Border conference teams.

We are anxiously awaiting the numerous All-American teams to see how the nation rates Price and Phillips. Either or both could deservingly be placed on the first team, either defensively or offensively.

As football draws to a close, Tech's Red Raider hoopers are warming up for what is probably to be their most successful year on the court.

The Raiders opened their season last night in Tulia against Texas Wesleyan college of Fort Worth. They round out the tournament tonight, then play their first home game Monday night against McMurry college of Abilene.

For the real test of the season, Tech's quintet heads eastward to meet one of the nation's best teams and two other highly rated quintets.

Six Red Raiders are on the All-Border conference teams which were announced Tuesday. Raider captain Jerrell Price and alternate captain Aubrey "Red" Phillips were named to both the offensive and defensive platoons.

Jim Donarski of the University of Arizona was the only other conference player named to both squads.

Ray Howard, Tech freshman guard from Childress, was one of two freshmen in the conference who were named to the mythical team. Howard was named to the defensive platoon. Ed Matestic, a freshman tackle at Arizona State at Tempe, was named to the offensive platoon.

are Price, Phillips, quarter-back Junior Arterburn and halfback Bobby Cavazos. Named to the defensive platoon were Price, Phillips, Howard and Jim Turner.

Other Tech players who received votes for the conference first team were Alton Linne, end; Vernon "Punk" Whitaker, freshman guard; Buddy Barron, guard; Bill O'Grady, back.

Hardin-Simmons, Tech's opponent tomorrow, placed three players on the teams. Arizona and Texas Western placed a like number. Arizona placed three on the offensive platoon and one on the defensive, while Hardin-Simmons placed one on the offensive and two on the defensive.

Dec. 13. NCS is the only one of the three eastern opponents placed in the top 25 teams by Look. Tech is rated twenty-fifth, behind Arizona at 21 and Texas Christian at 19. TCU furnishes opposition for the Raiders in the Cotton Bowl tourney on Dec. 19.

We believe that the Raiders will better their rating before they return home from the Cotton Bowl for Christmas.

Coach Polk Robison thinks, however, that it is "a little early for the rating given by Look. We have got to show before we will qualify for such a rating," Robison said.

Arizona is the big opponent for Tech this year. The Wildcats took second in the National Invitational last year and were eliminated in the NCAA tourney by Kansas State, one of the finalists. Only two members were lost from that team.

Vanderbilt, Tech's opponent in Nashville Dec. 17, is not rated in the top 25 by Look, but is picked second to Kentucky in the Southeastern conference. Kentucky is selected for top team of the nation. Jack Alderson and Paul Nolen are mentioned as top ranking stars in the Southwest.

Raiders Face H-SU Cowboys

Tech's Red Raiders play their final game of the season and what should be their best home game of the year when they meet the Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons University at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Jones stadium.

Tech enters the game with a slight scoring advantage for the season, although the Cowboys have an edge in most statistics for the season.

Dunny Goode, H-SU senior half-back from Midland, is presently leading the Border conference in rushing and is second in the nation with an average of 5.2 yards per carry. He has carried 251 times for 1,326 yards. He has scored 14 touchdowns. Tech's leading scorer, Jim Turner, has carried 11 times for touchdowns.

Bobby Cayazos with an average of 5.1 yards per rushing carry jags far behind Goode with a 639 total yardage.

H-SU passer, quarterback Bob Hart, has completed 92 of 179 passes for 1,055 yards and six t.d.'s. He ranks sixteenth in the nation in passing.

On the defensive Tech holds an advantage on the ground, while H-SU has the pass defensive advantage. They are second in the conference in pass defense.

The outcome of the game carries with it the Border conference championship and an invitation to the annual Sun Bowl game Jan. 1. The College of Pacific has already been named as opponent for the host team in the Sun Bowl.

About 17,000 are expected for the game, but tickets will be available tomorrow.

Tech will be trying for revenge of the 28-13 victory by the Cowboys in Abilene last year. This year H-SU has won six of 10 games, while Tech has won five of nine. Each holds four conference victories.

Last week the Cowboys downed the University of Arizona 14 to 13. Tech beat the Wildcats 41 to 0. However, the Cowboys beat Texas Western 46 to 0, while Tech turned the trick by only 27 to 7.

Tech, H-SU Meet Tonight In Tulia Tournament Finals

Tech's Red Raider basketball quintet meets the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in the finals of the Tulia tournament at about 8:30 tonight in the Tulia High School Gym.

Last night the Raiders sailed to an easy 57 to 39 victory over the Texas Wesleyan College Rams in the first round match. In another contest the Cowboys were winning a hard fought 68 to 67 victory over the Wayland College Pioneers.

Virgil Johnson led the Raider scoring in a game in which Coach

Polk Robison substituted freely, using four freshmen in the lineup most of the fourth period. Johnson scored 16 points. Verdell Turner was second with 10.

At the half the Techs held a 36 to 13 lead over the Rams. They pushed that lead to 44 to 23 by the end of the third period.

Monday night the Raiders will open their season at home by playing McMurry College Indians in Tech Gym at 8 o'clock.

The game tonight takes on added interest because of the football game tomorrow between the two schools.

Preceding the Tech-H-SU game tonight, Wayland College will meet TWC at 7:15 o'clock.

Gyrmillers Edge Bums; Gain Finals

Sneed West eked out a two-yard victory over the BSU Bums for the bi-league championship in a playoff game Nov. 20.

The game had ended in a scoreless tie when a first-half BSU score was called back due to an off-side penalty.

In overtime, Sneed made a 17-yard pickup after losing yardage on the first play. BSU lost their second chance at victory when again an off-side lineman caused the nullification of a long gain and after being penalized, the hard-charging Sneed line held the Baptists to an insufficient 10-yard pass-play in the last three plays.

Tommy Crouch and Charlie Tyrera sparked the Sneed forward wal while teammate Bob Lewallen halted two BSU drives by intercepting passes and did all the Sneed passing.

For the Bums, Bob Webster filled the air with passes completing 10 of 20 in the first half for 102 yards. George Worrell was on the receiving end of most of these passes. Tom Brown aided the Baptists by intercepting three Lewallen passes.

Sneed will meet the winner of the MICC league once that team has been determined.

Aggie Club Names Student Of Month

The Aggie club caught up with its "Aggie of the Month" awards Tuesday by naming the October and November recipients.

Reggie Anderson, Lovington, N. M., received the October "Aggie of the Month" honor for the part he played in homecoming activities. He was chairman of the float and homecoming committee. The awarding of the honor was delayed a month because of the annual pig roast, Nov. 13, which was held in conjunction with the Aggie club meeting.

Hollis Smith, Roscoe, was named the November "Aggie of the Month" for his work as chairman of the food and arrangements committee for the pig roast.

The selection committee was headed by Brian Boyett, "Aggie of the Year" in 1950.

Cast Is Announced For 'Stage Door,' Speech Department's Next Production

"Stage Door," a three-act comedy by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, has been chosen as the next speech department production in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the American theatre, announced Miss Cecilia Thompson, director.

This play, which deals with the problems of young theatre hopefuls, was considered particularly appropriate, Miss Thompson said. The show will be produced in the Tech studio theatre January 14 to 18 and will cost 75 cents for students and $1.00 for adults. Tickets will go on sale in the Speech office a week before the play.

The cast includes Patti Harris, junior speech major from Garland, as Olga Brandt; Shirley Harrison, freshman speech major from Midland, as Mattie; Eleanor Lincoln, sophomore speech major from Levelland; Big Mary; Margaret Bourland, senior journalism major from Eastland; Little Mary; June Ann Morton, junior speech major from Ranger; Bernice Homeyer; Beverly Brandt, sophomore speech major from Pampa; Madeline Vauclair; Betty Becker, senior education major from Abilene; Jean Maltland; Jo Simmons, senior speech major from Lubbock; Judith Canfield; Jeanne Sierra, sophomore speech major from Monahans; Ann Braddock; and Pat Edwards, junior speech major from Fort Worth, as Kaye Hamilton; Carolyn Chick, sophomore education major from Lubbock, as Bobby Melrose; Evelyn Hest, junior speech major from Apache Creek, New Mexico; Louise Mitchell; Lavoie Berry, sophomore speech major from Levelland; Susan Paige; Jerry Reeves, freshman speech major from Wellington.

And Don Thompson, sophomore speech major from Spur, as Frank; Bill Shaner, senior geology major from Midland, as Sam Hastings; Emery Young, sophomore engineering major from Post; Jimmy Devereaux; Harrie Pruitt, graduate speech student from Lubbock; Fred Powell; Harold McNew, freshman speech major from Lamesa; Lou Mibaumer; Warren Popsy, the senior music major from Downey, California; David Kinney; Gerald Wayne Tipton, junior speech major from Tahoka; Keith Burgess; Phil Nickell, senior speech major from Roswell, New Mexico; Dr. Randall; Leonard Gaston, freshman non-major from Lubbock; Larry Westcott; David Larson, freshman engineering major from Lubbock; Billy and Jack McCabe, junior architect major from Lubbock; Adolph Greist.

"Stage Door" had a long and successful run on Broadway and was later made into a movie which introduced Lucille Ball and Eye Arden and featured Ginger Rogers and Kathryn Hepburn, Miss Thompson said.

Honorary Society Initiates Members

Pi Epsilon Tau, petroleum engineering honorary society, honored four new members Nov. 20 at a banquet in the Yaqui room of the Hilton hotel, said Kenneth Hill, second vice-president.

New members are Dewey Pierce, Winfred McCombs, Delwin Stultz, Joe Hastings, George Kunkel and Leroy Hand.

Dysart Holcomb, engineering dean, and Joe B. Alford, executive secretary of the petroleum branch of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, were initiated as honorary members.

Henry P. Mathieu, Lubbock, newly elected president of the Texas Society for Professional Engineers, gave the after-dinner speech.

In intramural football Sunday Kemas meet Centaurs, Silver Keys face Adelphi, College Club engages Los Comaradas and Socii plays Wranglers.

Garland Arrant, management 1950 graduate, is employed by the Commercial Credit corporation in Lubbock.

Alpha Zeta Holds Initiation For 22

Tech's chapter of Alpha Zeta held member initiation Nov. 20 in the Aggie building with 22 persons taking oaths.

Alpha Zeta is a national honorary aggie fraternity. Tech's chapter is the first ever formed at any but a land-grant school.

As the chancellor and vice-chancellor were in Chicago, initiation was directed by Dudley Montgomery, scribe of the organization.

New members are Montie Wallace, Frank Payn, Larry Tackitt, John Anderson, Billy Harris, Robert Becker, Authur Goheke, Wayne Logan, Deryl Henderson, and Ronny Fee, Dudley Price, Leon Cavaness, Milton Rhodes, Robert Hicks, Joslin Hopkins, James Hewlett, Jack Miller, Walter Meyer, Doyle, James Carsler, Roy Waldrop and Robert Brownell.

Mural Basketball Opens With 28 Teams Competing

Intramural basketball opens Dec. 4 when four dorm teams get into action.

The Sneed hall west wing Gym-milliers meet the Doak Green Hornets and West hall meets the Doak Trotters.

There are 28 teams entered in intramural basketball this year, George Philbrick, director, has announced. The MICC league has eight members; there are two independent leagues with six and seven members respectively and there is one dormitory league with seven members.

Wayne Bain, marketing major who was graduated in 1950, was recently discharged from the navy and has returned to Lubbock.

Play To Begin Wednesday, Entrance Date Extended

Registration for the Rec hall canasta tournament has been extended to Monday, according to Dan Pursel, Rec hall director.

All students interested in canasta are urged to sign at Dan Pursel's desk in the main room of Rec hall.

Play will begin Wednesday and will be divided into rounds. Each round must be completed every two days.
