Campus Election Season Arrives

Court Will Rule On Number of Council Seats

Tech's Supreme Court has been asked to interpret the Student Constitution's provision for apportionment of Student Council representatives among the undergraduate divisions. J. C. Chambers, Council president, announced yesterday that the case had been referred to George Lemon, chief justice of the Court.

The provision in question reads: "There shall be one representative to the Council from each college division offering undergraduate degrees and additional representatives to be apportioned among the divisions on the basis of one representative for each 350 students enrolled in that division and for the last two-thirds fraction thereof. Apportionment shall be made by the Council on the basis of the official enrollment figures as furnished by the Registrar for the semester in which election is held."

In doubt is whether a division with approximately 350 students enrolled should be allowed one representative "automatically" plus a second on the basis of its enrollment. If the Court decides that such is the case, the Division of Home Economics, which had only one representative this year, will be allowed two for next year and the Division of Agriculture will continue to have three. If the Court rules that an enrollment of 350 entitles a division to only one representative, Home Economics will continue to have one and Agriculture will be cut to two.

BEAUTIES PRESENTED

As a special attraction the Varsity Show presented the 1954 La Ventana beauties. As chosen by Movie Star Audie Murphy, they are: Jerry Anglin, Mary Alice Braselton, Elna Dunagan, Ruth Carpenter, Mary Jane Johnson, Carolyn Northington, Betty Jane McGeehe, Joyce Tharp, Pat Tiney, and Ann Perkins.

THE TECH CHOIR will tomorrow begin its spring tour, which will be climaxed by its appearance in Dallas with that city's Symphony orchestra. Dr. Gene Hemmle, head of the department of music, is director of the group.

★ ★ ★ CHOIR TO GO ON TOUR

The 56-voice Tech Choir, directed by Dr. Gene Hemmle, music department head, begins its spring tour tomorrow in Arlington.

After appearing in Arlington, the choral group will go to Dallas, where they will have rehearsals Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning.

The choir will perform in Dallas with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra Sunday afternoon and sing again that evening at the First Methodist Church of that city.

Following the Sunday evening service, a reception at the home of James Dean, member of the choir, is planned for the choir members.

Featured with the Tech Choir on the tour are the Tech Madrigal Singers, directed by Robert Elson, the Tech Harmonknights and the Tech Harmodears. These groups are composed of Tech choir members.

The choir will return to the campus Monday.

Stars, Sets, Script Distinguish '54 Show

"Pardon, Mr. Shakespeare," 1954 Varsity Show, opened Monday night in Lubbock High School Auditorium for a three-night run. The cast and staff:

- Director Jack McCabe
- Script Roy Smith
- "Gordon Underwood" Fritz Stanley
- "Connie Lansing" Gale Ewing
- "Bill Nelson" Ken Kummer
- "Harry" Gayle Erickson
- "Avalaide Crawford" Gayle Erickson
- Averill Brinkman
- "Al Stanowitz" Leonard Gaston
- "Ruth Henderson" Lavoy Berry
- "Cass A. Nova" Dale Travis
- General Manager Jay Fish
- Business Manager Joe Jack Reynolds
- Technical Director Bill Cartwright
- Tickets Cathy Beard
- Publicity Glenn Rainer
- Programs Danny Owen
- House Manager Ed Weyman
- Set Production Eldon Smith
- Stage Manager Dean White
- Set Design Brad Wilde
- Costume Design Mary Johnson
- Costume Production Mollie Jordan
- Orchestra Jack Hen
- Dance Director Virginia Carr
- Properties Huda Hassen
- Makeup Betty Doris Hamilton

—weak on the higher tones, but warm and clear of diction throughout.

Competing with her for high honors was Lavoy Berry, playing the part of her roommate at mythical Mid-State University, which was the setting for this varsity show - within - a varsity show. Miss Berry, a veteran of speech department productions, successfully carried out the hackneyed situation of a homely bookworm transformed into a Campus Queen with Sex Appeal. Her singing voice displayed purer tones than Miss Ewing's, but her technique and confidence did not compare.

Engineers, Home Ec, Prepare Annual Show and Open House

For the first time in the history of the Engineers' Show, a new department, Agricultural Engineering, will be represented this spring.

The 22nd annual show, set for April 23 and 24, will commemorate the late Prof. John Coyne Hardgrave, a member of the Texas Tech faculty for 27 years prior to his death last Christmas. He was professor of mechanical engineering in charge of the shops. Paul Griffith, electrical engineering senior from Tulia and general chairman for the 1954 show, states that plans are underway to make the show larger and better than ever before. The show annually draws between 5,000 and 10,000 visitors to the campus.

Griffith's staff is comprised of Don Mason, Loretta, assistant manager; Ann Lee Turner, McKinney, secretary; and the following officers and assistants:

Committee chairmen have been chosen for the 16th annual Home Economics Open House April 23 and 24.

General chairman for the event is Joann Patching. The co-chairman is Lois Cleavinger. Dean Willa Vaughn Tinsley is the general faculty advisor and Mrs. Winnifred G. Gifford is her assistant. The chairmen, co-chairmen, and faculty sponsors of the various committees are as follows: hostess and guides, Sarah Mckey, Lynn Mitchell, Miss Geraldine Clewell; registration, Sue Duggan, Beverly Garner, Mrs. Hattie Camp; program, Donna Jameson, Charlotte Pace, Mrs. Ethel Beittler; posters, Anne Thomas, Mary Edwards, Mrs. Troy Lockard; publicity, Lois Foster, Virginia Carter, Dr. Mina W. Lamb; invitations, Mary Lou Miller, Martha Blankenship, Mrs. Vivian Adams.

Stars, Sets and Script were the three factors which made the 1954 Varsity Show the best of the annual, all-student productions staged here in recent years.

Stand-out in the star category was Gale Ewing, who carried the heaviest load of lines and songs. Her rather frantic and uneasy delivery of the lines was balanced by the leisurely and self-confident style of her singing. The Ewing voice is a low-pitched one.

Deadline Announced for Seniors To Order Regalia and Pay Fees

April 3 is the deadline for graduating seniors to order their caps and gowns at the Tech Bookstore and to pay $5 graduation fee if a diploma is to be received at commencement.

It is also the last day for a refund of the $5 graduation fee if the candidate cannot graduate on May 31, and for each dean to send to the registrar the list of candidates who have met the graduation requirements.

April 3 comes on Saturday and the Bookstore closes at 12 noon that day.

Former President Wiggins Pleads: 'Keep Channels of Information Open'

A leader's aim should be to express the will of the group he represents, Texas Tech Student President J. C. Chambers said at a meeting of the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association in Abilene Saturday.

Five of the ten member schools were represented at a session on the McMurry College campus to discuss qualities, responsibilities and aims of student leaders. Jack Scott of Abilene Christian College was chairman of the panel.

"We Don't Trust Each Other" "Keep all channels of information open" was given as the key to the solution of all problems in the world and more specifically, on a college campus, by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, past president of Texas Tech.

Dr. Wiggins, speaking at a banquet as a climax of the district convention of the Texas Intercollegiate Students Association, said, "If there is any one problem in the world today, or any one col-

Petitions Out For Cheering, Council Posts

Twenty-eight persons had taken out petitions for offices in the Student Council by yesterday afternoon. The petitions must be signed and returned by 5 p.m. Monday.

The general spring elections will be held April 14. All executive and representative posts are to be filled as well as a head boy and girl cheerleader.

At present, Carl Kennedy and Glenn Rainer are candidates for president; Charlie Pipes, Jerry Hoase and Bill Hudson for vice president; Melvin Dearthoff for business manager; and Gwenn Williams for secretary. Joe Jack Reynolds, Joyce Matthews, Rodger Line, and Tom Nash have signed for cheerleader.

In the representative positions, Ronnie Averyt, Pat Harkleroad, Margaret Lee and Ann Lee Turner are candidates for the Arts and Sciences divisions; Bob Waddie, Graves Nelson, J. D. Jones and Jim Howard from the Aggie division; Mary Lou Miller from Home Economics; Fred Currie, Ronnie Clark, Jack Gibson and Glen Cary from Business Administration; and Dayle Clark, Ted Hannah, Phil McGee and Johnny Meyers from the Engineering division.

All candidates for president and vice president must have completed 90 semester hours by the end of this semester. Candidates for secretary, business manager and cheerleaders must have 60 semester hours. All candidates are required to have both a 1.0 overall average and a 1.0 average for the fall and spring semesters of this year. They must have been a resident at Tech since September.

Signature by 250 is necessary for candidates for the executive positions and cheerleaders, and 100 are required for the representative posts.

The April 8 edition of The Toredor will contain photographs and platforms of the candidates. They must be in by Saturday, April 3 to be included.

lege campus, it is the fact that we don't believe in or trust each other, which in turn comes from the fact that we don't understand what the other fellow is doing. We are not afraid of the atomic or H-bombs, but of the men who handle them, because we don't understand them."

Cooperate With Newspaper
To abdicate these problems, he named frequent conferences with "those men who work behind closed doors marked 'Office of the President' or 'Office of the Dean,'" and "especially close cooperation with the college newspaper so that the students may understand what is happening."

He challenged the group of student leaders: "This job of achieving better understanding among all concerned is your job."

Representatives were present from Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, McMurry, Texas Tech, and West Texas State.

VARSITY SHOW—

ner teamed with Author Smith's dialogue to produce some of the show's best moments of comedy. In supporting roles were Gayle Erickson, as a loud and occasionally humorous director and Averile Brinkman, as a languid and occasionally intelligible Southern Belle. Leonard Gaston and Dale Travis made the most of their minor roles, with Travis struggling gallantly with "Blue Moon."

The sets were characterized by bold lines and colors. The one for the campus scene, with its stylized columns and trees, should rank with the finest products of professional set designers.

The Dialogue

The script followed the "Kiss Me, Kate" formula for the play-within-a-play, showing the cast both backstage and during the numbers of the Mid-State show. The dialogue brought continuous laughs from the audience and was free of the Joe College type of banality that has long been standard with Tech Varsity Shows.

Jack Hon's orchestra played top-quality music for the show and served to pacify the audience during some painfully long scene changes. The orchestra could have been used profitably in playing some incidental music for the various scenes, which often ended in awkward silence as the curtains came together.

Chorus Line

The show was distinguished by a fine example of the precision chorus line. In the chorus were: Marguerite Paschall, Mary Jane Miller, Bev. Wood, Cathy Gouse, Eileen Vaughn, Sue Ledbetter, Joyce Davidson, Elaine Russey, Ann Witty, Shirley Harrison, May E. Johnson and Joanne Holmes. Other dancers included: Joanne Hooper, Gladys Bain, Beverly Champion, Gladys Crandall, Dsanie Edwards, Lawrence Cook, George Hargrove, Joe Partle, Jack Cloud, Jerry McDonald, Dick McDuff, Jimmy Nickell, Ron Ferguson, Margaret Williams, Helen Norris, Mariann Forrest, Peggy Pittman, Tom Nash, Gerald Clark and Jim Winsted.

Opening and closing the show as cheerleaders were: Nelda Vaughtner, Marilyn Stonecipher, Bev Bennett, Roy Smith, Freeman Gross and Joe Goodin.

The dances were created by Virenia Carr, who soloed brilliantly in the Spanish number—where she couldn't resist using a few incongruous classic ballet steps.

The show's printed program was distinguished by an attractive cover and by competent layout.

Air Force Unit Rates Near Top

"The AFROTC unit here is one of the top units in the country," remarked Col. Byron R. Switzer informally during the federal inspection at Texas Tech last Thursday.

Accompanying Col. Switzer during the inspection were Lt. Col. Ernest J. Boucher and Maj. James M. Hughes.

The inspection team, from Air Force ROTC headquarters in Montgomery, Ala., inspected the unit's facilities, met college officials, and observed classroom procedures and the training in a two-day tour of the campus. Because of the weather, a formal review was omitted from the schedule. Each squadron was inspected in one of the auditoriums on the campus.

The inspection is an annual affair, and the Tech unit has been given a satisfactory rating each year since its beginning.

Tuesday Nights Reserved For Women Pool-Shooters

"Put the eight-ball in the corner pocket. Wait, you're holding your cuestick crooked. You're down too low. Hit it a little more to one side. That's it. Oh, well, it was a nice try."

That's just a sample of the sideline coaching that goes on at ladies nights at the pool tables. But no matter how much coaching is offered, the girls always seem to make the hard shots and miss the easy ones.

Amil Anderson, assistant director of the Student Union, figured that the girls weren't getting value on the pool tables from their $5 student union fee so Tuesday nights have been reserved for female pool sharks.

A good turn-out from the girls would mean their having the whole thing to themselves, but so far only about eight or ten girls a week have taken advantage of the program.

TALKS TO AGGIE CLUB

Raymond King, president of the Lubbock Agriculture Club and former president of Texas Tech's Aggie Club, spoke to the Aggie Club Tuesday.

Mr. King discussed soil conservation, illustrating his talk with color slides.

Plans for furnishing an Aggie lounge in the Agriculture Building were presented to the club, and were discussed by Dean W. L. Stangel.

Painting Exhibition Shown in Museum

There is a storehouse of treasures on the Tech campus. It can be found in the Museum.

Not all the items in the Museum are of historical nature. For example, a circuit exhibition of paintings by outstanding Texas artists is on display in the art gallery. The South Plains Art Guild sponsored the exhibit, one of six to be displayed later in the Museum.

Lubbock residents who contributed paintings to the exhibit are: Prof. Robert Lockard, instructor in architecture and allied arts at Tech; Mrs. Bruce Bryan, 1904 Main; Mrs. T. R. Prudeaux; 3123 19th, trustee for this area; Mrs. O. L. Armstrong, 1405 Ave. S.; Knox T. Thomas, 203 E. 26th; and Mrs. Anne Birkman Hubbard, also of Lubbock.

SIX ARE INITIATED

Ralph Kreebs, local insurance man and former Tech student, discussed "Opportunities" at the Sigma Iota Epsilon initiation and banquet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Caprock Hotel.

Six pledges were formally initiated into the honorary and professional fraternity for management majors. They were John R. Bizzell, Pat Ellebracht, Kenneth Owen, Oran Roberson, Ladon Sheats, and George A. White. The Harmonaires provided musical numbers for the program.

TECHnicalities

RALPH SHELTON
Toreador Editor

The Dean of Student Life has asked us to announce again that Tech men interested in membership in a national social fraternity not already established at Tech may register in his office.

Response will help the dean to determine if there is a need for more fraternities at Tech. Heavy response could mean that fraternities will carry on a colonization program similar to that used by Delta Gamma and Alpha Chi Omega, women's nationals, in the recent establishment of their Tech chapters.

We recently received a letter, addressed to "Student Publication, Texas Tech. College." The writer says:

"I wonder if any student at Texas Tech would care for an English correspondent? Would be glad to hear from anyone there, and will reply at once. I am at Technical Institute of Harrow, so we will have something in common. Best Wishes to you all at Lubbock. Sincerely, Charles Windsor, 14 Courtfield Avenue, Harrow, England."

Choicest item of the week is the unsigned letter sent yesterday to The Toreador by one who describes himself as "a veteran who is tired of seeing education opportunity wasted by a bunch of kids in sororities and fraternities."

The writer goes on to suggest that the way to "mature" the campus is to elect independents in the general elections this spring. The writer further charges the Greeks in office with "corruption," particularly the editor of The Toreador and the president of the Student Association.

The editor, according to the writer, "is dictated to by his fraternity Phi Delt." The president "spends all his time and a lot of the student councils money going to meetings like in Abilene where all he probably does is visit with his fraternity brothers."

We'll try to explain things to that writer this way: for some probably "corrupt" reason Phi Delta Theta did not rush the editor of The Toreador this year. Moreover, our latest information tells us the Mr. Chambers' fraternity has not yet installed chapters at Hardin-Simmons, McMurry or Abilene Christian. Anything else?

Air Force ROTC Make Ball Plans

Final plans are being made for the annual Air Force ROTC Ball which will be held at 9 p.m. April 3 in the Student Union Building.

Music for the ball will be furnished by Hugo Loewerstein's 15-piece orchestra from Amarillo. Loewerstein was formerly with the Charlie Spivak and Tommy Dorsey orchestras. Marie Allen will be featured as vocalist.

Tuesday, a television program will be given at 6 p.m. over KDUB-TV, channel 13, on which the Air Force ROTC sweethearts will be presented, and information concerning the ball will be given. Sweethearts to be presented include: Joyce Sharp, Littlefield freshman; Pat Tunny, Bowie freshman; Jody Miller, Big Spring freshman; Charlene Williamson, Fort Worth freshman; Pat Boyce, Lubbock freshman; Mary Katherine Kerbow, Sweetwater freshman; Shirley Thompson, Lubbock freshman; and Donell Phillips, Plainview freshman.

A ticket rally will be held Thursday, April 1, in front of the Music Building during drill to promote the purchasing of tickets.

Plans are being made to have part of the Air Force broadcast over a local radio station.

STUDENTS AT MEETING

Five delegates from the Future Teachers of America chapter at Texas Tech are attending the seventh annual state-wide meeting of the organization at Pan American College in Edinburg this weekend.

One of the entertainment features of the convention will be a trip to Reynosa, Mexico, for a tour of the city and a wild-game dinner.

TO CONDUCT CHOIRS

Dr. Gene Hemmie, Texas Tech music department head, will conduct school choirs in El Paso and Ysleta April 5-9.

Dr. Hemmie will conduct a mass student choir for the annual Spring Choral Festival held at Texas Western College, El Paso, April 8. While in El Paso, he will conduct in the high schools and junior highs.

BAND TO TOUR

Texas Tech's 86-piece band, directed by Dr. D. O. Wiley, will tour April 5-7, playing before high school groups and in public concerts in six cities in the West Central Texas area.

The band will perform April 5 in Snyder and Sweetwater; April 6 in Colorado City and San Angelo; and April 7 in Ballinger and Big Spring.

Featured with the band on its tour will be Keith McCarty, clarinet; Chuck Wilson, trombone; Ned Hardin, piano; and the horn quartet composed of Guy Knowles, Gordon Collins, David Wiggins and Kathleen Gilbert.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

It's not surprising Luckies lead in college circulation—These better-tasting cigarettes Are tops across the nation!
Roger Maserang
Southern Illinois Univ.

In cigarettes that always please, The flavor must be right, So students wise choose Lucky Strike, The tops in taste delight!

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES
A comprehensive survey—based on 31,000 student interviews and supervised by college professors—shows that smokers in colleges from coast to coast prefer Luckies to all other brands! The No. 1 reason: Luckies' better taste!

Army Promises Consideration To Science, Other Graduates

Students graduating from and entering the army may find it beneficial to take a transcript of their college credits with them. An Army bulletin states that consideration will be given as far as possible to a science and professionally trained man with transcript and certifying his proficiency. If the inductee is passed favorably by the Army, he will be given a Military Occupational Specialty number according to major education field and experience. In addition to a score on the army aptitude test, the inductee must have a letter's degree in one of the fields. Most fields, however, require either one year of college or a master's degree. A few fields, such as science and biology, require two years of college or a master's degree.

HARDIN PLAYS SUNNY

Ned Hardin, senior pianist, in his senior piano recital Sunday afternoon featured "Five" by Miss Mary Jean Agelton, member of the faculty. Hardin performed about 150 persons in the Bulling. Other selections on the program were from Bach, Beethoven, Liszt and Rachmaninoff. As an encore he played a Mendelssohn "Scherzo." Hardin, who gave a juried recital last year, is a student of Herbert Colvin.

Speech Play Will Open May 3

Casting Complete For 'My Fancy'

Casting has been completed for the speech department's play, 'Goodbye My Fancy,' to be presented May 3-8. The cast is as follows: Ginny, portrayed by Susanne Burnett; Amelia, Winona Richards; Clarisse, Rita Danenburg; Mary Nell, Jody Miller; Miss Shaackletord, Joan Terry; Susan, Virginia Carr; Woody, Betty Doris Hamilton; Agatha Reed, Jean Porter; Ellen, Lavoy Berry; Miss Birdshaw, Harriet Henderson; Carol, Joyce Selman; Jo, Carol Baker; Dr. Pitt, Bob Hawley; Professor Dingley, Marlin Hamlin; Claude, Hardy McNew; Merrill, Cal Foster; Matt, Arch March; telephone man, Jack Cloude; janitors, Bob Richards and David Larson.

The production crew has also been chosen. The assistant director is Hardy McNew; stage manager, Nancy Alexander; scenery, Bob Hawley, Jack Huddle and Ted Simon; properties, Bob Warren and Barbara Smith; lights, Joyce Davis and Nancy Dodd; costumes, Virginia Carr and Nancy McKisack; make-up, Bayard Foster. Positions remain open for assistant stage manager, publicity chairman, and sound chairman. Students will be admitted to the play on presentation of their activity tickets or 75 cents. All other tickets are $1.

Army Promises Consideration To Science, Other Graduates

Students graduating from Tech and entering the army may find it beneficial to take a transcript of their college credits with them. An Army bulletin states that consideration will be given, insofar as possible, to a scientific and professionally trained inductee with transcript and letters certifying his proficiency. If the inductee is passed upon favorably by the Army, he will be given a Military Occupational Specialty number according to his major education field and experience. In addition to a specified score on the army aptitude test, the inductee must have a bachelor's degree in one of the specified fields. Most fields, however, require either one year of experience or a master's degree. A few fields, such as geology and biology, require two years experience or a master's degree.

HARDIN PLAYS SUNDAY

Ned Hardin, senior piano major, in his senior piano recital Sunday afternoon featured "Sets of Five" by Miss Mary Jeanne van Appledorn, member of the Tech faculty. Hardin performed for about 150 persons in the Music Building. Other selections on the program were from Bach, Beethoven, Debussy, Liszt and Rachmaninoff. As an encore he played a Mendelssohn "Scherzo." Hardin, who gave a junior recital last year, is a student of Herbert Colvin.

'Showboat' Will Be Given In German at Tech Tonight

"Showboat," the musical that thrilled thousands on Broadway, will confuse many tonight when it is presented in German by Der Liederkranz German club. "Schauboot" will be the fourth annual presentation of "Der Liederkranz Melodien. The show starts at 8 p.m. in the Aggie Auditorium. No admission will be charged. Sponsor Ted Alexander, instructor of German, said the annual project will make the study of foreign languages more appealing than formerly. Rosemary Sprague, Lubbock senior, is directing the production.

Two Senior Engineer Students To Present Papers at Meeting

Two senior engineers, Kenneth Taylor, Hobbs, N. M., and Richard Gray, Lubbock, have been selected to present technical papers at the American Society of Engineers regional student conference in Boulder, Colo. next weekend.

According to Louis J. Powers, head of the mechanical engineering department, Taylor's paper will be on "Vibrations in Pipe Systems" and Gray's will be entitled "Automotive Air Conditioning."

Eight colleges will be represented at the University of Colorado meeting. Approximately 33 mechanical and chemical engineering students will make the trip to Boulder, where mechanical engineering students will stay for the conference and chemical engineering students will continue on an inspection trip.

WILLSON SPEAKER SET

Dr. George F. Thomas, chairman of the Department of Religion at Princeton University, will deliver the Willson Lectures April 5-8.

Classes meeting at 10 a.m. April 5 will be dismissed to permit students to attend the lecture in the Gym. The remainder of the lectures will be delivered in the Student Union Building at 7:30 o'clock each evening.

Dr. Thomas received his Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1929. At present he is also professor of religious thought at Princeton University.

CHOIR ATTRACTS 300

The Tech choir performed before about 300 persons Sunday afternoon, previewing the numbers they will sing on tour this weekend and with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra in Dallas Sunday. The 56-voice choir presented the program in the Student Union Ballroom under the direction of Dr. Gene Hemmle, head of the music department.

Three excerpts from Bach's "Cantata No. 4" were first. Next were Palestrina's "Response No. 3," Gretchinoff's "Only Begotten Son" and "The Lord's Prayer," arranged by Glenn Johnson of Dallas.

Polgar To Appear At Tech April 9

Dr. Franz Polgar, hypnotist, will appear for the third time on Tech campus at 7:30 p.m. April 9 in the Student Union Building ballroom.

"I'm not a superman," modestly admits "the Great" Dr. Polgar. "I'm just a genius."

If that's what it takes to intoxicate five college men with water just by telling them it's strong champagne, then Dr. Polgar is a genius.

The unmysterious, balding man did just that in an appearance at Marshall College, according to an account in Life magazine. Dr. Polgar is a hypnotist who believes that hypnosis has many beneficial uses in medical science and is campaigning for a wider application in psychiatry and surgery.

"I must be very careful, though, not to put the ten million people who watch me to sleep," says Polgar, who has made many guest TV appearances.

Students will be admitted free, but must first get tickets by showing their auditor's receipts by April 7.

Tech Army ROTC To Hold Annual Field Day Thursday in the Stadium

Tech's Army ROTC unit will hold its first annual Field Day from 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday. The event will be held in Jones Stadium.

The program, sponsored jointly by the regimental staff and Scabbard and Blade, contains a six-event schedule. Events included are best drilled cadet (manual of arms), best drilled squad, best drilled platoon, best guidon bearer, assembly and disassembly of rifle, and grenade throwing for accuracy and distance.

Competing units and individuals have been selected by their immediate superior officers. Three platoons, one from each battalion, will compete for best platoon honors. Six squads, one from each company, will compete for best squad and 12 cadets, two from each company, will compete for the individual award.

Cadet officers judging events include Lt. Col. Phil McGhee, Lt. Col. John Nolan, and Lt. Walter Greenwood, squad competition; Lt. Col. Arch March, Lt. Col. Jay Eudy, and Lt. David Larson, platoon competition; Maj. Herbert Seigler, Lts. Cecil Barton, Phil Stribling, F. L. Ballard, and Richard Cobb, and Capt. Harold Fox, manual of arms; Lt. Lewis Woodard, Maj. Rama Oakes, and Capt. Adrian Hill, rifle assembly and disassembly; Sgt. James McKenzie, Capt. Rex Phillips, and Lt. Dudley Coleman, guidon bearers; and Lt. Jacob Watson, Lt. Jerry Russell, and Maj. James Broderick, grenade throwing.

Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military society, will present ribbons to winning units and individuals.

RANDALL VISITS NYC

Arne Randall, head of the applied arts department spoke recently on the program of the Museum of Modern Art in New York City at a meeting of the Committee on Art Education. He also worked on the committees for radio, television and legislation.

Mr. Randall stopped in Washington, D. C., to discuss problems related to education of Indian children with the Department of Indian Affairs of the Department of Interior. This is his fourth year as a consultant to the department.

Formerly with the U. S. Office of Education before coming to Tech, Mr. Randall is continuing work on projects for that office and worked with them while he was in Washington. He returned to Lubbock Tuesday.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

"I didn't know there was such a job"

Emmett Smith supervises operation of this training switchboard, which he originally helped to design.

EMMETT SMITH, E. E., '50, never heard of telephone traffic work, but what he saw of the job intrigued him. He explains how it worked out. (Reading time, 40 seconds)

"Communications have always been one of my main interests—in the Navy and at the University of Michigan. So I was very happy when the Michigan Bell Telephone Company invited me to visit their headquarters to talk about a job.

"In Detroit I had a chance to look at a number of departments, including one I'd never heard of before, the Traffic Department. I found that, in addition to the engineering of switchboards, its work involved the supervision and the actual handling of customer calls. It struck me like a wonderful opportunity to combine staff engineering and field management.

"My first impression was right, too, because my work covered both. First, I had on-the-job training assignments in several different kinds of offices—local, Long Distance, dial and manual. Then

I worked in engineering, translating estimates of future growth into the actual number of circuits and switchboard positions required.

"Now I'm supervising the operation of one of the boards I helped engineer. Briefly, my job is to see that my district gets the kind of equipment it needs and that what we have is functioning properly. Working with people is another major part of my job, too, because I serve in an advisory capacity to the supervisors of the Long Distance operators.

"Needless to say, I'm happy with my job. A job I didn't even know existed."

Emmett Smith's job is with a Bell Telephone Company. There are similar opportunities for college people with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation.

Seven Techsans Travel to Stillwater For Southwestern Journalism Meet

By CHARLES MAPLE
Toreador Staff Writer

Delegates were told to look for the "acres of diamonds" in their own back yard at the opening session of the Southwestern Journalism Congress in Stillwater, Oklahoma last week-end. Seven Tech students attended.

Robin Hood, assistant in the Oklahoma A&M journalism department, opened the two-day congress by telling approximately 100 delegates from 13 member colleges that the "acres of diamonds" are to be found in today's rural press, not in the big metropolitan dailies.

Washington Coverage
Roy P. Stewart, feature writer for the Daily Oklahoman and former Washington correspondent, closed the opening session with an explanation of news coverage in Washington.

The Industrial Press was discussed at a luncheon by Ted O'Meara, editor of Tracks, house publication of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. Potential journalists were told that while there are more available editors than jobs in the industrial field, the few qualified editors are always in demand.

Campus Problems
A panel discussion of campus publication problems high-lighted the afternoon session following a talk on radio news coverage by Ken Miller, news director of radio station KVOO, Tulsa.
Dr. Laurence Campbell, dean of journalism at Florida State University, spoke at a dinner Friday night. Choosing the subject, "When Free Men Shall Stand," Dr. Campbell told the "fourth estaters" that the duty of today's press is to "prepare for war—hot or cold—and to fight it wherever we find it." In concluding he stated that, "If we ever read the obituary of the free press, we will be reading the epitaph of democracy."

Business Sessions
Saturday morning sessions included a talk by Grant Foster, news director for WKY and WKY-TV, Oklahoma City.
Separate business sessions for students and faculty concluded the congress. Tulane University, New Orleans, was selected as host for the 1955 Congress.
Student officers elected for the 1955 Congress are Scott

Dr. Larson Co-Author Book
Dr. P. Merville Larson, head of the speech department at Tech, has been notified by the Prentice-Hall publishing company of New York that "The Teacher Speaks," a book which he co-authored, will be released to the public in April.
The book, written by Dr. Larson, in collaboration with two other authors, highlights the importance of speech in the overall picture of modern education. "The Teacher Speaks" treats speech as a dynamic element of modern education, rather than a merely mechanical voice process. It emphasizes how strongly students' success as teachers depends upon their mastery of oral communication.

The book is designed to meet the needs of prospective teachers and teachers-in-service who are aware of today's increasing emphasis on their speech abilities.

AWS ELECTS
The new slate of Association of Women Students officers was filled in last week's election. Run-offs named Betty McGehee, treasurer, and Doris Wampler, reporter.

Other officers were decided earlier and the nominees elected without opposition. They are: Iris Brunson, president; Shirley Massey, vice-president in charge of the inter-term council; Sue Findt, vice-president in charge of big-sister-little sister activities; Suzanne Matteson, secretary.

VET STATISTICS
The veteran enrollment at Tech is now complete with 856 veterans enrolled.

Korean veterans lead the field with 538, students going under the Hazlewood Act number 162 and World War II veterans 156, according to information from Warren G. Harding, assistant registrar.

Bruno, Tulane, president; George Manizias, Texas A&M, vice president; and Carlton Wilson, Southern Methodist University, secretary.

PRESS CLUB PLANS SPEAKER

Otice Green, assistant manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will speak to members of the Press Club at 7:30 tonight in J208, according to Clyde Walter, club president. Green's subject will be "The Public Information Field in Journalism."

TSCW Singers To Appear Here

Texas State College for Women's Modern Choir, under the direction of Dr. J. Wilgus Eberly, TSCW department of music director, will appear at Lubbock High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The choir, brought to Lubbock under the auspices of the Hub-City Kiwanis Club, is composed of forty-six students selected on vocal ability, previous choral experience, personality, and aptitude for learning.

Sacred and secular songs will be presented, ranging from the 16th century to the present, including and featuring the cantata "Trial by Jury" by Gilbert and Sullivan.

Dr. Eberly has had experience in training choral groups and has made a study of the problems of all-girl groups and original music

Language Bulletin Published Here

Dr. T. Earle Hamilton, associate professor of Spanish, is the editor of The South-Central Bulletin, official publication of the South-Central Modern Language Association.

Theodor W. Alexander, instructor in German, is business manager. The bulletin is being printed at the Tech Press.

The February issue contained an article by Dr. Everett A. Gillis, associate professor of English, entitled "Literary Backgrounds of Some Western Ballads."

Associate editors of The South-Central Bulletin include staff members of colleges in Oklahoma, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

"Practical Scientific German with Color Slides" by Mr. Alexander appeared in the January issue of the Modern Language Journal. "Neighboring Suggestions" by Dr. Hamilton appeared in the February issue of the same magazine.

The Modern Language Review, published in Great Britain, contained in the January issue "Salazar Poetry" by Dr. Eunice J. Gates, professor of foreign languages at Tech.

composed exclusively for female voices. Miss Kathleen Bradford, senior piano major from Arlington, is accompanist for the group.

Tickets for the performance are on sale at the high school, the junior high schools, and Adair Music Company. Adult tickets are $1.50; students, 75 cents. Proceeds will go to the Hub-City Kiwanis club projects.

Art Exhibit Is New Museum Display

The fifteenth annual Children's Art Exhibit is now on display in the Art Gallery of the Museum. It will continue through April 4.

The paintings were entered by Lubbock children between the ages of 3 and 18. Approximately 200 paintings were chosen to be displayed out of more than 1,000 entered. They were selected for originality as well as for artistic ability.

Dr. Elizabeth Sasser, associate professor of the architecture and allied arts department, and Prof. Nolan Barrick, head of the department, are in charge of the exhibit.

Exhibits from Hiroshima, Japan, and Santa Fe, N. M., are hanging in the Rotunda Gallery. These paintings were submitted by children of the first six grades in school.

Museum officials say that the Hiroshima children show an artistic ability that far exceeds that of the other two groups. The ability shown by the children of the lower grades is unusual. The Lubbock and Santa Fe groups show a tendency to use crayon while the Hiroshima group use watercolor extensively. The choice of subject matter of all three groups is strikingly similar in character. Their modes of life are revealed to a great extent in their work, according to the Museum staff.

These exhibits are open to the public.

Joseph M. Hill, 1953 Tech graduate, recently received a commission in the naval reserve in ceremonies at Newport, R.I. While at Tech, Hill belonged to Delta Sigma Pi, national business fraternity.

SIE INITIATES

Six pledges became members of Sigma Iota Epsilon, honorary and professional fraternity for management majors, Saturday night at the fraternity's annual initiation banquet at the Caprock hotel. Ralph Krebbs, Lubbock insurance man and former Tech student, spoke on "Opportunities in the Field of Management."

New members are John R. Bizzell, Pat Ellebracht, Kenneth Owen, Oran Roberson, Ladon Sheats, and George A. White. The Harmonaires provided musical numbers for the program.

TECH COW WINS

Averaging 20 quarts daily, Tech Octagona Governor Marie, a registered Holstein owned by Texas Tech, recently completed an official Herd Improvement Registry production record totaling 15,473 pounds of milk and 505 pounds of butterfat in 365 days.

Testing was supervised by Texas A&M in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Milked three times daily, Tech Octagona Governor Marie, was 2½ years of age when her test began. Her total was about three times the production of the average U.S. cow.

Two Tech Students Air Society Meeting

Two Tech students, Albert Shamrock, junior, and G. Lottan, Hillsboro junior, attended a meeting of the officers and area committee of the Arnold Air Society at the University of Illinois at Urbana last week-end.

The major topic discussed at the meeting was the national organizational and business convention to be held in Chicago during the Easter holidays in May.

They met with the national Arnold Air Society sponsor, Easton and other chapters. Capt. Rostan is from the University of Cincinnati. Maj. Haynes Baumgardner is a member of Capt. John Baumgardner who is connected with Tech AFROTC unit, serving representative from the unit.

Maj. Baumgardner served with the Tech AFROTC unit. He arrived in the summer of 1947 and left in June 1948. He was one of the early members of the Arnold Air Society. He was promoted to major in 1947. After the unit at Tech, Maj. Baumgardner was assigned duty at AFROTC Headquarters in Washington.

Women's Business Organization Announces 20 New Pledges
Twenty women students pledges of Phi Gamma Nu, national society for women's business majors, last week.

President Nancy Dorse pledged vows in view of the Student Union. The girls had been out of a tea in the home of J. L. Quicksall and at a party in the Union Building. Pledges are Mary Jane Carson, Carmela Brown, Nevin Cox, Barbara Banks, Peggy Cox, Marie Petty, Beverly J. Carlisle Willoughby, Patty Wanda Ruth Jones, Mary Rody, Charlotte Love, Holmes Joy Holter, Linda Jo Nell West, June Harper McGehee, and Bonnie Sue Welch Lee Turner.

AGHIES TO DANCE
Tickets are on sale for the annual spring try and dance, according to Howard arrangements chairman. Tickets must be bought by March 31.

Spring pledges and their will be honored guests at a steak fry, which is only one of the members of the organization. Block and Brille's "Best of the Year" will be announced during the steak fry, which will be followed by a Western in the Agricultural and English. Fred Boren, professor of husbandry, is sponsor of the organization.

SPANISH GROUP MEETS
Sigma Delta Pi, honorary club fraternity, initiated 14 members Tuesday night in Student Union Building. Initiation, conducted by Margaret Ann Garlin, was followed by a dinner.

The program included a formal talk by Dr. J. C. D. Head of the foreign language department about his experience in Spain. Latin American dancers Polly Johnson, Mary Hand, Chuck Strehli, and sleight of tricks by Chuck.

New members are Jack Baber, Betty Bartlett, Francis Donald Fortenberry, Francis Alvin Gregg, Polly Johnson, Celene Pierce, Quathier, Mary Aandal, Marianne Jo Ann Roberts, Larry Slarnes, Charles L. Strehli, and Tony and Sandra Young.

CTA HAS 48 MEMBERS
Texas Tech's College Teachers Association chapter ranks eighth in membership among 15 chapters in the state, although it was only recently organized. The chapter's promotion of the welfare of education in Texas.

Dr. Emmett Hazlewood is president of Tech's chapter. The newly organized chapter has 48 members, approximately 15 per cent of the faculty.

Two Tech Students Attend National Air Society Meet at Illinois University

Two Tech students, Albert Purcell, Shamrock junior, and Theo G. Lofton, Hillsboro junior, attended a meeting of the national officers and area commanders of the Arnold Air Society at the University of Illinois at Urbana last week end.

The major topic discussed at the meeting was the national reorganization and business for the national conclave to be held during the Easter holidays in Omaha, Neb.

They met with the national Arnold Air Society sponsor, Capt. Rostan, and other chapter officers. Capt. Rostan is from the University of Cincinnati.

Maj. Haynes Baumgardner, brother of Capt. John Baumgardner who is connected with the Tech AFROTC unit, served as representative from the Pentagon.

Maj. Baumgardner served four years with the Tech AFROTC unit. He arrived in the summer of 1947 and left in June 1952. He was one of the early workers with the Arnold Air Society when it was formed in 1947. After leaving the unit at Tech, Maj. Baumgardner was assigned duties at ROTC Headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The Tech representatives left Friday and returned Sunday. Maj. Homer E. Walker flew the boys to Urbana Friday and Capt. Baumgardner flew them back to Lubbock Sunday.

Scholarship Fund Is Sponsored By Lubbock Real Estate Board

A $250 scholarship open to Business Administration students interested in real estate will be sponsored by the Lubbock Real Estate Board. The first winner will be announced in September.

The scholarship will be awarded to a junior student outstanding in scholarship and personality. Selection will be made by a committee made up of members of the Tech faculty and the president of the Real Estate Board, according to Asher Thompson, now president of the board.

Edward W. "Bud" Smith, head of the Board of Development of the Texas Tech Foundation, received the $250 from realtor A. R. Osborn at a recent meeting of the Real Estate Board.

Dorm Trophies To Be Presented

A trophy for the outstanding men's dormitory and one for the outstanding women's dormitory will be presented tomorrow night at the annual spring dance sponsored by Inter-Dorm Senate.

The dance, at Drane Hall, will be from 8 to 11:30 p.m. It will be semi-formal. Burl Hubbard's orchestra will play, and refreshments will be served. It is open to all students.

Presentation of the trophies will be made by Assistant Dean of Men William R. Geisert. Judging, on the basis of greatest achievement in campus activities, will be by members of the Campus Club, a faculty group.

New officers now serving in the Inter-Dorm Senate are: President, Charles Pipes; vice president, Phil McGee; secretary, Claudia Ticer; and treasurer, John Burleson.

The Senate is planning an all-campus barbecue during the annual Western Week.

Pathology Club Officers Elected

President of the newly organized Speech Pathology Club is Daisy Holly, senior from Post. She was elected, along with other club officers, at the club's first organizational meeting March 5.

Other officers chosen were Huda Hassen, vice president; Betty Doris Hamilton, secretary; and Harriett Henderson, treasurer.

The club was organized to further interest in speech correction. Membership is open to students majoring or minoring in that field. Other students having a special interest in speech correction may apply for an associate membership with the possibility of becoming a full-fledged member.

The charter members are now working at the Cerebral Palsy Center in Lubbock observing and practicing speech therapy techniques. These members include the officers and Nona Walker, Lavoy Berry, Cal Foster, Shirley Harrison, Nancy McKissack, Dwayne Carter and Rita Danenberg. Nancy Alexander and Joan Terry are associate members.

Business meetings are at 12 noon in X18 Speech Clinic, the second Friday each month.

Whites Defeat Reds in Spring Training Game

Annual Round-Up Football Classic Seen By 3,000 Fans; Score Reads 53 to 7

By KENNETH BENNETT
Toreador Sports Editor

The Raider Whites swept by the ill-fated Raider Reds like a West Texas sandstorm Saturday before some 3,000 fans in the annual round-up football classic, 53-7, to climax spring football training at Tech.

Using the first-string backfield and the second-string forward wall, the Whites hit paydirt eight times, seven by rushing and one by a beautiful pass from Jerry Johnson to Dean White.

With 9:42 showing on the clock the Whites cashed in on one of the numerous—11 to be exact—fumbles by the Raider Reds, and were on their way. Rick Spinks took the pigskin, and on the first play scampered 18 yards to the Reds' one. On the next play, Spinks hit the line for the score, and then converted for a 7-0 lead.

Conversion Failed
Less than four and one-half minutes later, guard Bobby Hunt recovered another Red fumble on the 35. Four plays later, Spinks again swept through the Red wall to paydirt. This time his conversion failed, but the Whites were out in front 13-0.

At 9:40 of the second stanza, end Dean White fell on a Red fumble that again proved to be disastrous to the Reds' cause. James Sides skirted the end four plays later from the nine-yard line for the third White tally. Spinks converted for a 20-0 White margin.

The Reds showed their only offensive drive of the game a few minutes later when M. C. Norman sprinted off left tackle from the 30. Charles Blanton converted to put the Reds back in the game.

Ronnie Herr Breaks Loose
Lightning struck fast, however, after 15 minutes of intermission. The Whites, ready to get back to work and finish the slaughter, started and offensive drive with 10:02 showing on the clock. Johnson returned a Red punt back to the White 49. Four plays later, which seemed to be the lucky number for the Whites, Ronnie Herr broke loose around left end, and literally out-ran the opposition for the last remaining 33 yards between himself and paydirt. Spinks again converted and the Whites held a 27-7 lead.

Deep in the third quarter the Whites were on the march again. Johnson hit Dean White with an aerial on the one-yard line, White stepping over for the fifth touchdown. Spinks converted to increase the margin 34-7.

With less than two minutes remaining in the quarter, Ken Kurmer recovered a Red fumble on the opponent's 17. Gene Wheeler, four plays later, strode into the end zone from 7 yards out for the score. Elmer Wilson converted.

Young Carried Mail
With less than a minute gone in the fourth quarter, the Whites decided they wanted more blood. Waldo Young returned a punt to the White 42. On the next play,

DA VINCI DISPLAY DATED
The inventions of Leonardo da Vinci will be on display in the Museum art gallery April 11 to May 16.

The exhibit will consist of twenty-six models made by Dr. Roberto Guatelli, who spent years in study and research of Leonardo's scientific drawings. The models were secured from the fine arts department of International Business Machines Corporation.

Leonardo is best known as the artist who painted the Mona Lisa and the Last Supper. As an inventor, he foresaw more than 500 years ago the invention of the helicopter, air conditioner, machine gun, airplane and parachute. These and other ideas of Leonardo, which will be on display, were all included in his drawings.

The models will be a special feature of the Engineers Show to be held April 23 and 24. H. J. McKenzie of the industrial engineering department and C. E. Merkt, manager of the Lubbock IBM office secured the models for display.

Bill Burke broke off right tackle to the mid-field stripe, then lateraled to Young who carried the mail the remaining 50 yards. The conversion was wide.

Three minutes later, Jim Collins took possession of a Red fumble on the 43. Five plays later, after setting up the touchdown on a 23-yard scamper, Don Williams slipped through left tackle for the TD. The extra point attempt failed on a bad pass from center, and the game ended 53-7, the worst beating ever taken by either team in the spring affair.

TECHSANS TO COMPETE

Three Tech students are among contestants selected from a six-state area by the Wichita Falls Symphony to participate in the sixth annual Wallace Award Young Artist competition to be held at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, April 3.

Paul H. Laverty Jr. and Ned W. Hardin, pianists; and Nancy Davis, vocalist, will compete for one of three $250 cash awards and an opportunity to appear as guest artist with the orchestra during its 1954-55 season.

Piano contestants are required to perform Lukas Foss' "Scherzo" which was commissioned by the local symphony and composed for the Young Artist Competition. Dr. Erno Daniel directs the orchestra.

Students will see teams of the Fraternity League play tomorrow afternoon from 5 to 6. Teams matched for that time are ATO and Phi Delt, Kemas and Kappa Sig, Sigma Nu and Phi Kappa Psi, SAE and PIKA.

The Independent League is scheduled to play Monday when the Chaparrals meet the Wesley Foundation, the Nine Stars play the Crusaders and the Dairy Industry Club plays Block and Bridle. Tuesday the Rebels and the Wesley Foundation will meet.

Also the Dorm League will begin play Tuesday, with Sneed playing Doak and Bledsoe playing Gordon.

The Fraternity League will again play on Wednesday. Pairings are ATO and Kemas, Sigma Nu and Phi Delt, SAE and Kappa Sig, PIKA and Phi Kappa Psi.

The Dorm League will play again on Thursday. Games will be played between Sneed and Bledsoe, and Gordon and Doak.

Students saw games in the Independent League Wednesday afternoon between the Chaparrals and the Nine Stars, the Crusaders and the Dairy Industry Club, and Block and Bridle and the Rebels.

Games are being played Monday through Friday from 5 to 6.

Swimming Teams Shatter Records

Texas Tech's swimming team captain, Bob Shackelford, set a new pool record at the Lubbock Boys Club Saturday night. In the exhibition meet with Texas A&M freshmen, Shackelford swam the 220-yard free style in 2:30.8. This broke the old record of 2:35.8 held by Funk of Arizona.

The Aggie 300-yard relay team of Ufer, Pemberthy and Barlow broke the old record of 3:21.2 held by Texas Tech by going the distance in 3:13.0.

Funkler of the Aggies set new marks in the 50-yard free style with a 25 flat, breaking the old mark by .7, and he lowered the 100-yard free style mark of 58.7 to 57.4.

Ufer swam the 220-yard backstroke in 2:22.8 to break the old mark of 2:43.5. Woodard swam the 440-yard free style in 5:40.2 to break the old record of 6:06.8.

The Aggies won the 400-yard relay, finishing in 3:59.5. Pemberthy won the 200-yard breaststroke with 2:48.4.

Since freshmen are not allowed to compete against any varsity team, both teams swam separately, but had a chance to break the pool records.

TECH FENCERS COMPETE

Facing the best that collegiate fencing has to offer, the men's fencing team was scheduled to participate this week at Chicago in the national championship matches sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Raiders will have two years of successful competition to live up to, since the 1952 Tech team placed 12 times in 32 matches in 1952, and placed 16 in 32 last year. The 1954 team is composed of Cecil Bradshaw, Ed Sims and Wayne Latimer.

Bradshaw won the intermediate sabre in the final tournament of the American Fencing League of America in Dallas Saturday, while Jonell West of Tech won the novice foil for women.

The Tech women's team fared less well, losing to the Dallas women fencers 5-0.

Jack Carnell of Tech was first in the open epee and the Tech women failed to place in the women's open foil. Virginia Still of Tech was runner-up to Jonell West in the novice foil, and Iva Crowley was fourth.

Track Team To Enter Two Contests at Odessa, Denton

Texas Tech's track team, coached by Landon Westbrook, will compete in the West Texas Relays at Odessa tomorrow and Saturday. It will be Tech's second meet of the year.

Approximately 1,000 cindermen from all over the state are expected to compete for honors in the meet. The meet will be divided into three divisions; university, college, and high school.

The following Wednesday, Coach Westbrook's legmen will be the guests of the North Texas State Relays held in Denton. Eleven college and university teams and six high school track teams have entered the annual cinder meet.

NETMEN SCORE HIGH

Final season statistics show that all five five of Tech's starters on the Border Conference championship basketball team averaged in the double figures in scoring.

Jim Reed, sophomore from Pine Bluff, Ark., led the Raider scoring with 377 points for an average of 15.7 points per game. Carl Ince, Lubbock junior, scored 335 points for a 13.4 average. Eugene Carpenter, Big Spring sophomore, tallied 310 points for a 12.4 average. Senior Duryard Bolding from Mansfield scored 277 points and 11.1 mark. Esten Blackmon, Abernathy senior, dropped through 250 for a 10.0 average.

Mu Phi Officers Installed, Seven Pledges Initiated

Mu Phi Epsilon, professional fraternity for women in music, has announced the recent installation of officers for the spring semester.

New officers are: Joyce Miller, president; Annita Powers, vice-president; Anne Spikes, recording secretary; Carolyn Taylor, corresponding secretary; Lynn Harrison, treasurer; Dana Wampler, historian; Irma Knowles, warden; Gloria Snell, chorister; Marjorie Scales, chaplain; Kathy Phillips, alumnae secretary; and Shirley Shields, A.W.S. representative.

Seven Mu Phi pledges were initiated at a sunrise ceremony last Wednesday. A breakfast honoring the pledges followed the ceremony.

New pledges are: Alice Ann Yates, Martha Judah Anita Johnson, Kathryn Veazey, Lillian McCommas, Florence Ashcraft and Betty Barbee.
