

SC Adopts '52-53 Budget

the Treador

Vol. XXVII Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Tuesday, May 13, 1952 No. 28

Music Building To Be Dedicated

The music department will formally open its new building in a ceremony which will begin at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the music auditorium. President D. M. Wiggins will give the dedication address. A symposium of music and dance, including original compositions of Tech students and faculty, will be the highlight of the program.

The Tech Choir, Tech Madrigal Singers and the Tech Glee clubs will participate in the program.

The program is open to the public. Tech students and faculty, out-of-town musical directors and local persons who are active in music will be special guests.

Kappa Kappa Psi, Mu Phi Epsilon, Tau Beta Sigma and the Men's Music fraternity are sponsoring the dedication services.

Original compositions by students will be presented for the first time tonight. The works range in style from impressionistic to neo-classic. The student composers are Sammie Corley, Louis Ward, Mary Ellen Griffin, Charles Davenport and Neva Keeseecker.

Faculty members Dr. Gene Hemmle, department head; Herbert Colvin, instructor; Miss Mary Jeanne van Appledorn, instructor, and Raymond Elliott, assistant professor, will present original works. These compositions, which are mainly vocal, range from church music to music in the lighter vein.

A new $1000 scholarship fund for Tech sophomores was announced by college officials this week. Individual scholarships ranging from $100 to $250, depending on the nature of the application, will be awarded.

Requirements for application for the scholarships provide that the student must have completed 20 semester hours at Tech as a freshman, must have a 2-point grade average or better, and shown qualities of citizenship.

Application blanks may be obtained in the offices of the academic deans or the dean of student life.

The money for the sophomore scholarships was provided by the present student emergency loan fund. Proceeds from the sale of freshman caps make up the fund.

Speech Play Will Tour Three Places This Week

Schedule for the tour of "As You Like It," final Speech department production of the year, was announced Monday by Cecilia Thompson, director of the play.

The Shakespearean comedy, which closed Saturday night after a week-long run on the Tech campus, will be presented at Reese air force base on Wednesday, Plainview on Thursday, and Spur on Friday.

Tickets Limited for Junior-Senior Prom; Alvino Rey Plays at Country Club Dance

Because of the limited capacity of the Lubbock Country club, only 200 tickets for the Junior-Senior Prom will be sold, said Dick Witte, junior class president.

"There is only a limited number of tickets left. Anyone who desires to purchase one must contact me in Gordon hall," Witte continued. Tickets are $1.25.

No more stag tickets will be sold.

Alvino Rey, prominent musician, is scheduled to play for the prom, which will be held from 8 to 12 p.m. Friday.

Rey is famous for his guitar playing and his "talking guitar." This instrument "does everything from mooing like a cow to crying like a baby," Witte said.

Rey invented the electric guitar. Because he did not patent the idea, he has not profited from his invention.

Appearing with Rey and his orchestra will be two vocalists, Jimmy Joyce is the male singer, and Rey's wife, Lynn Hart, is featured as the girl vocalist.

Girls living in dormitories will be granted 1 o'clock privileges, according to the office of the dean of women.

"However, only those girls attending the prom will have 1 o'clocks," Witte added. The officers of the junior class conducted a poll of class members and students at the Rec hall to determine whether it would be better to cut ticket sales short, or change ballrooms. "The majority favored cutting sales short," Witte said.

Allocation of Council Funds Creates Heated Discussion Among Members

By PAT JOHNSON
Treador Associate Editor

Heated debate between engineering and agriculture representatives over council appropriations to their divisional organizations spirited budget discussion at regular Student council meeting Monday night.

The engineering groups led off the parley with a cry for an additional allotment for engineering organizations so that the groups could participate in more conventions and contests.

The Aggies countered saying their division should not be cut as contestants now are paying as individuals half of traveling expenses required for judging team contests.

Slight Change Made
As a result, the proposed '52-53 SC budget, with one slight change, was accepted as submitted by the budget committee headed by Harold Brannan, retiring business manager and incoming president.

The proposed budget, which is still subject to the approval of Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Tech president, is printed at left.

A lobby headed by Jim McGraw, incoming vice-president; James Dent, incoming arts and sciences representative, and Emmett Adair, incoming engineering representative, pushed through the budget change reestablishing a two cent appropriation to the Student Religious council by cutting one cent from the SC's fund of 27.5 cents.

No Letter Submitted
Originally, the SRC had been assigned one cent because the group had not submitted a letter asking for an appropriation.

Money from organization appropriations comes from the not wishing to be named, states that its decision is not intended to influence the other seven groups.

Four of the five women's clubs will prepare their petitions, signed by members, patronesses, and their alumnae, to be presented to President Wiggins Tuesday afternoon at 5, Joann Applebay, president of WICC, states.

The national question has been studied on Tech campus for nearly a year. Speakers have been heard on the subject, and there has been much discussion. Each club voted individually and was required to obtain a two-thirds majority before approval.

President Wiggins is expected to present the petitions before the board of directors for consideration.

Notices to Seniors

Get Caps, Gowns May 21

Caps and gowns may be picked up by seniors about May 21, says W. C. Cole, Bookstore manager.

A $2 rental fee and a $5 deposit, must be paid at the time seniors get their academic dress. The deposit will be repaid when the gowns are returned.

"The Bookstore will be open immediately following graduation May 26," Cole continued. The deadline for the return of the caps and gowns is 5 p.m. May 27.

Senior Rehearsal Date Set

Rehearsal for graduation and baccalaureate exercises will be held in Jones Stadium Sunday morning, May 25, at 8:30.

Baccalaureate service will be held in the stadium at 8 that evening, and graduation exercises at 8 p.m. Monday in the stadium.

The Rev. Robert E. Goodrich, Jr., pastor of the First Methodist Church of Dallas, will speak at baccalaureate, and Dan K. Thornton, Colorado governor, at the graduation exercises.

Senior Class To Meet

A meeting of the senior class has been set for 5 p.m. Wednesday in Ad219, says George Morris, class president. Major business item will be the official approval of the senior gift, which has been chosen by the gift committee.

This year's gift committee will recommend that the class give money to help purchase a conduit for the public address system of the new Student Union building.

Invitations Now on Sale

Seniors may purchase invitations now at the bookstore. "Those invitations not bought by the seniors on general order about May 19. Any senior desiring additional invitations may come by then," Cole added.

Invitations are on sale at the supply counter.

SOCIETY

Women Step Into Spotlight Tuesday As AWS Honors Outstanding Coeds

Outstanding senior women, newly elected women's club presidents and new Forum and Junior council members will be introduced at the May Day dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Hilton hotel.

The dinner is sponsored annually by the Association of Women Students.

AWS officers for 1951-53 also will be installed at the banquet by retiring president, Claudyne Young. Mary Jo Craig, Plainview junior, will take oath of office as president of the organization; Pat Townsend, Fort Worth junior, vice-president; Nancy Herrington, Lubbock junior, secretary; and Patsy Haws, Ropesville freshman, reporter.

Mrs. Marjorie Neely dean of women, will conclude the evening's program with a short talk.

Forum Officers
New Forum officers who will be introduced are Patsie Scates, president; Margaret Smiley, first vice-president; Sybil Jones, second vice-president; Pat Townsend, secretary-treasurer; Marvel Gibner, historian; and Evelyn Sue Burks, AWS representative.

Other Forum members include Nancy Crosby, Pat Edwards, Wanda Ramsey, Mary Jo Craig, Shirley Johnson and Sandra Sadler. Jo Francis Overton, Breckenridge sophomore, will be presented the Forum award for the woman maintaining the highest grade point average during her freshman year. Peggy Carter, retiring organization president, will present Mrs. Overton a pendant replica of the Forum pin for her outstanding record.

Junior Council Officers
Officers for 1952-53 Junior council are Kathy Phillips, president; Marjorie Scates, vice-president; Marjorie Hendricks, secretary; Mary Frances Korkner, reporter; Pat Bolinger, AWS representative; and Le Nell Enochs, parliamentarian.

Other Junior council members are Margaret Ann Garlin, Betty Haberer, Molly Jordan, Rosemary McKee, Martha McNeill, Betty Mills, Mary Francis Sheffield, Pat Sibson, Nina Spearman and Betty Williams.

LaJuana Smart, Canadian senior, will receive the Alpha Lambda Delta book for the highest grade-point average maintained by a senior woman while in Tech. Shirley Johnson, retiring president, will present the award and recognize Sharon Cone and Elizabeth Schovajsa for their four-year academic record.

Lena Schmidt of Slaton is general chairman for the banquet.

Lt. James L. Lockley, 1950 accounting graduate at Tech, is stationed at Norton Air Force base in San Bernardino, Calif. He is serving as a budget fiscal finance officer.

Bobbie Wilson Is Military Sweetheart

Bobbie Wilson, Dallas freshman, was presented as the Texas Tech Military association sweetheart at the annual ball Saturday night in Drane hall.

Miss Wilson was escorted by Joel Wilson, Claude senior.

Military science personnel attending the dance were Lt. Col. Edward T. McConnell, Lt. Col. Orlen Turner, Maj. Victor B. Penuel, and Capt. J. H. Groseclose.

Decorations for the dance were red and black paper streamers hanging from the ceiling.

Reese air force base orchestra furnished the music for the ball.

Methodist Students Plan Three Events This Week

Leroy Reynolds, Tech senior, will be in charge of the forum at 7:15 p.m. in the Methodist student center. The topic is "He passed this way."

Herbert Brannan is in charge of arrangements for a picnic sponsored by the St. John's college department Thursday. Those attending are to meet at the Methodist center at 5 p.m.

A picnic and initiation are planned for the Wesley players Saturday. Twelve pledges will be initiated, Patti Pipkin is in charge of the picnic and Carolyn Parker is in charge of initiation.

Billy Wayne Selke, former Tech senior, is now serving aboard the USS Yancey.

Aggies To Elect Officers

The Aggie club will elect officers Tuesday night for the fall semester of '52, says Jack Ashworth, club sponsor.

Nominations have been made and more may be made from the floor at the meeting.

Dean Goodwin To Attend Meet

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, dean of arts and sciences will attend the Southwest Regional conference on Pre-Professional Education in Galveston, Thursday through Saturday.

Dry Those Tears . . .

Aw, dry your tears! It wasn't that bad. So the Southwest conference slipped up again. Does that mean Tech is going down for the third and last time?

Heck, no! Tech's athletic prowess is just getting a fresh injection of independence from this latest SWC move and we have a feeling that school spirit will get a boost from Saturday's results.

Coach Weaver has already expressed his views on the whole deal by declaring that the SWC decision would in no way affect Tech's athletic expansion plans. It might be wise for all Techsians to follow Weaver's example of "stick-to-itiveness."

SWC or no SWC, Tech is going to make good in the next few years as expected.

We may have to set some SWC teams down on their ears on the gridiron to do it but if that's what it takes, more power to us.

The thing to keep in mind is not to feel bitter against SWC officials who voted Saturday. They were doing a job which had been dictated to them by college officials who knew what they wanted. We may not approve of the way they did it and we're certainly not pleased with the results. Sure, we're disappointed. But not bitter! Anyone can make a mistake now and then, even the almighty SWC.

The time will come when athletic officials of the Southwest conference will realize the worth of our institution which, scholastically and otherwise, ranks with the best.

Until that time, mark these words, Tech will GO in the athletic field regardless of conference affiliations!

Let that be a warning to opponents of future years.

Under the Breezeway

By SHIRLEY JOHNSON
Toreador Associate Editor

Good old teachers. We love them dearly (it says here.) This week, the one before dead week, no quizzes have been assigned. That's fine, of course. (Never have been one to grip about too few tests.)

About The Campuses

A professor at Ohio State university has said that college students who date make better grades because the dates fulfill certain desires which tend to lessen worry and inferiority feelings.

Prof. Merton Oyler, director of the university's marriage counseling clinic, believes that a minimum of dating is necessary to prepare for life.

Russ Kersten, Editor of the Daily Texan, University of Texas paper, reports overhearing a UT student say that he planned to form an All-Sin Party next year, since there are undoubtedly more sinners than saints on the campus.

A graduate student is one who graduates but still refuses to go to work, says Louie Mroz in his column, The Pitchfork, in the State Press, Arizona State at Tempe.

He also calls these his famous last words: "They won't flunk me, I'm a senior!"

Three editorial writers of The Prairie, West Texas State at Canyon, have discovered a means of determining the sex of goldfish.

Add one-half ounce of sulphuric acid to the water in a goldfish bowl. If he comes to the top, he's a boy. If she comes to the top, she's a girl.

But then the rub comes—nearly every one of the teachers decided to have a quiz during dead week, "just to wind things up and give you an extra grade."

Since almost all semester projects, reports, thesis and other clever inventions are due during dead week, this leaves us with a desperate, "I know I can't get it done; I just know it!" attitude.

Walking across the campus in front of the Home Economics building the other day, we heard a little whistle such as we used to think elves and gnomes made. Since we are now beyond the age of such gullibility, we decided to investigate.

There's a one-inch lead pipe which extends about two feet above the ground. In the pipe near the top are two small holes, which cause a whistling sound when the wind blows through them. Very simple.

With all kinds of bargains made with people attending the SWC meeting in Dallas about calling the instance anything was announced, etc., the entire journalism staff was sitting around Saturday morning, staring at the telephone.

Once, about 11:35, (which was about the scheduled time for the call), the phone rang. Six eager little hands grabbed it, and voices all over the room chorused, "Is it? Is it? Are we?"

A small feminine voice said, "I understand you all would like to have the names of new club officers. We haven't elected ours yet, but we do have some predictions."

With this column, we bid farewell for the year. No Toreadors will be published during dead week, and The Toreador has been suspended from summer publications.

To the seniors, best of luck. To those of you who will be returning next year, we'll see you then. May you have an interesting summer.

Texas Tech Talk

Saddle Tramps Begin New Member Drive

By JOHN NORCROSS
Toreador Editor

Refusal of the Southwest conference to admit Tech will not affect the quality of football played here next year. Neither will it affect the support given the team by the cheerleaders and the Saddle Tramps, male cheering organization.

A new program for securing new members has been designed by the organization. It is hoped that the club will get approximately 100 new members next fall.

With The Colors

Brodie Adair, former business administration student at Tech, is now stationed with the marines at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside Calif. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Adair, this week in Lubbock.

Second Lt. John J. Boyd, who is stationed at Clarksville Air Force base, Clarksville, Tenn., is a former agricultural economics major at Tech. He is on the air police force.

A 1948 Tech graduate in textile engineering, Lt. Commander Welton Clark is stationed at the naval base at Cocoa, Fla. He is working with guided missiles.

Saddle Tramp members have been asked by President Bill Bales to turn in names of persons interested in the organization. Invitations will be mailed to those included on this list next fall. However, membership will be open to any male student with 30 semester hours.

During freshman orientation, talks will be made by Saddle Tramps explaining the purposes of the organization. Other activities to be held at the opening of the fall semester will include a smoker and an initiation of new members. Announcements of Saddle Tramp meetings will be printed in The Toreador.

The red shirts will be divided into groups, each having new and old members, which will be assigned to various activities such as decorating the gym for the Howdy dance, aiding in pep rallies, preparing for the annual Homecoming bonfire and decorating the goal posts for each game.

Saddle Tramps also plan to make booster trips to high schools in this area next spring.

A big turn-out is expected Wednesday for the annual freshman class picnic. Class members and their dates will go to Buffalo Lakes for the celebration. Each couple should bring its own picnic lunch, said class president Elmer Wilson. The picnic is slated to begin at 5 p.m.

End of - year activities are coming off fast this week. The annual Junior - Senior prom will continue to the last minute before dead week begins Saturday.

The traditional prom honoring upperclassmen will be staged Friday night at the Lubbock County club, with Alvin Roy and his orchestra providing music. Tickets are being sold this week by class officers and from the milk delivery cart in front of the Administration building. Date tickets are $1.25, while stags must hand over $3.

Students interested in serving on any of the Recreation hall committees next year should get their applications in immediately to Dan Pursel, Recreation hall director. Applications will be considered by the Rec hall governing board.

Fire Drills: Are They Grade School Stuff?

"Fire drills in the dormitories! Who ever heard of such a thing?" "Why, that's grade school stuff,"

Such were the remarks passed from room to room as Horn and Knapp halls had their first fire drill last week.

The fire drills were not a direct result of the recent fire in the kitchen between the two dormitories, but were the result of research into the need of safety precautions on the campus made by several campus officials, particularly by members of the fire prevention committee.

Standing Committee

This standing committee, made up of five faculty members headed by John M. Penick, associate professor of industrial engineering, has worked quietly behind the scenes for years to make Tech campus a safer place to live and work.

Besides studying recommendations from the National Safety Council and reports of fire conditions on other campuses, the committee investigates every fire that occurs at Tech and recommends safety precautions to the administration. It also inspects the buildings at intervals and re-

Professor Grades Tech Jersey Herd

Dr. Clyde Rougeau, head of the department of animal husbandry of Southwestern Louisiana Institute, was on the campus yesterday to classify the Tech Jersey herd.

He judged one Jersey of the herd as being excellent, the first cow in the history of Tech's Jersey herd to receive this rating.

Of the 38 head classified, one was judged excellent; seven, very good; 27 were classified as good-plus; one, good, and two classified fair. The cattle are judged on type alone.

The average classification of the Tech herd was 83.03. A cow must score 90 or above to be classified as excellent, and 85 or over to be classified as very good.

All the cattle classified were bred by the college.

ports fire hazards to the proper authorities.

Major Project

Among its major projects has been getting fire extinguishers installed in every building on the campus and seeing that fire drills are practiced in the dormitories and other campus buildings. In buildings such as the Library or Administration building, the committee advocates teaching instructors how to evacuate the building and what instructions to give students, since a continuous stream of students go in and out of the classrooms.

Among the committee's records is a report of a fire in the Library in January, 1950, when an evacuation order was considered and the personnel were found to be untrained to carry out such an order. The school has not suffered a major fire disaster, the worst perhaps being a fire in the infirmary last year which destroyed part of the building and caused the evacuation of twenty persons who were in the infirmary at the time.

This is a record which the fire prevention committee works hard to maintain. It is a task which depends upon the cooperation of every person on the campus, from the student who smokes in his dormitory room to the building supervisor who has a basement that needs cleaning up.

The fire prevention committee is only one of 21 faculty committees on the campus whose members work for the betterment of Tech.

Home Economics Club Has Spring Banquet at the Hilton

The Home Economics club held its annual spring banquet at 7 p.m. Friday in the Hilton hotel. Toastmistress for the evening was Joy Wells.

Speaker for the banquet was Miss Iris Davenport, woman's editor for the Farm and Ranch-Southern Agriculturist magazine. Her subject was "Quality vs. Quantity."

Marie Lewis, president of the organization, introduced officers for the fall semester of 1952. They include Nancy Arnold, president; Carol Jean Sandlin, vice-president; Mary Lou Crump, treasurer; Novella Crump, secretary, and LeNell Enochs, AWS representative.

Future Teachers Elect New Officers for Fall Semester

Margaret Smiley, Lubbock junior, was elected next fall's president of the Future Teachers of America Thursday.

Officers also chosen were Annie Tate, first vice-president; Viola Stinson, second vice president; Margaret Ann Garlin, secretary; Bob Larabee, treasurer; Mary Ford and Kenneth Davis, librarians; and Helen Rae Slagle, reporter.

Budget—ing teams five cents in favor of the newspaper fund was squeaked with only three consenting votes.

Cuts were made in allocations to the Tech band, Association of Women Students, Alpha Phi Omega and the Tech Radio club. Changes were made because of the way organizations had used their money this year. A letter will be sent to each organization by the budget committee explaining reasons for the cut.

KITC was added to the budget listing for next year. Money for the campus radio station was taken from the Radio club as the members had stated they could operate the station more efficiently. The committee suggested the cut in hopes that the two organizations would combine for monetary purposes and a result of less expense for either organization.

Suggestions Voiced

Two budget suggestions were voiced during the session by Dent and Jack Alderson retiring, SC vice-president.

After a statement by Brannan to the effect that organizations which needed more money could apply for it, Dent commented, "The organizations should plan their activities around their budget allotment," and should not expect more money from the council.

Alderson proposed a plan whereby divisions would support their own activities during the Aggie-engineering cross-fire. Gist of the plan was that $2 be used by general student activities such as the student paper and the band. The remaining 76 cents from each student would revert to his division. For example, the Agriculture division would get 76 cents for each of its enrollees.

No action was taken on either suggestion.

After the budget discussion, Brannan took office as new SC president to conduct end-of-the-year business.

Out-of-Town Game

In the sports department, date for the official out-of-town game was set and Buddy Barron, business administration representative, was elected to serve on the athletic council.

The visiting football game will be with North Texas State college on Nov. 8 in Denton.

Money for cheerleaders' uniforms will be allotted by the SC executive council and a $15 debt incurred by the sophomore class will be paid out of the council dance fund. The bill had been overlooked when an appeal was made by the class earlier in the semester for aid in settling claims for the Sophomore Hodge-Podge.

Policy Discussed

Report on the college's policy on absences was made by Charles Joplin, BA councilman. At the present time, the number of cuts a student is allowed depends on his grade point average.

For excused absences, underclassmen should obtain a card from their their dean which will be signed by instructors and returned. Upperclassmen should explain cuts to individual instructors.

If, at the end of the semester, excessive cuts are reported, the student will be called to his dean's office for an explanation and a possible negative hour if sufficient reason is not given for the absences.

If this call is not heeded, a letter will be sent to the student and he faces possible expulsion from school.

New Ruling

A new absence policy will go into effect next fall, continued Joplin.

Under the new plan, a student unofficially absent for the equivalent of two weeks of class may be dropped from the course with a grade of WF.

In addition, a student who earned 30 grade points in 12 hours of work his previous semester in residence and whose all-college average does not fall below 1.5, will not be subject to the first regulation.

Judging Contests Slated Saturday

The Block and Bridle club will sponsor its annual freshman, sophomore and junior livestock judging contests Saturday, according to Koy Neeley, club sponsor.

The junior contest will begin at 9 a.m., and the freshman and sophomore contests will start at 12:45 p.m. Each contestant will judge about nine classes of livestock.

Eligible Freshmen

Any freshman who has taken the freshman animal husbandry course is eligible for the freshman contest. This applies in the same way for sophomore and juniors wishing to enter the contest.

The results of the contest will be announced at the annual club banquet Saturday night. The national Block and Bridle club will present medals to the first and second place winners of the freshman division and to the first, second and third place winners in the sophomore division.

Junior Division

The winner of first place in the junior division will be presented with a year's subscription to the breed magazine of his choice. Animal husbandry seniors will supervise the contest.

The Block and Bridle banquet that night in the Museum will honor all judging teams. The annual club scholarship and merit award trophy will be given to the "members of greatest value" to the club during the past year. The banquet will also honor and present as guest speaker, Ray Willoughby, of San Angelo, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association.

American Business Club Will Hold Benefit Rodeo in Jones Stadium

Students planning to attend the annual American Business club rodeo to be held in Jones stadium Thursday, Friday and Saturday may get their tickets in advance by presenting their activity tickets and 75 cents at a booth in the Administration building.

Tickets will be sold at the gate, but will cost $1.50. Proceeds of the rodeo will go to the Lubbock Boy's club.

Banquet For La Ventana Staff Members To Be Held Thursday

The 52 Techs who prepared this year's La Ventana will attend a banquet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Plainsman hotel.

There will be no speaker. "This is to be an 'eating' banquet," says Dick Brooks, La Ventana editor. Each staff member will receive a key engraved with the name of his office.

Price To Compete In All-Star Game

Jerrell Price, Tech's all-American tackle, has been invited to play in the annual all-star game next August.

He will be among the top collegiate stars of the nation. The college all-stars will face last season's pro-football champs, the Los Angeles Rams.

Price, incidentally, was sixth-choice on the Rams' draft list and it is possible that he may play for them this season.

Tech Cindermen Fourth In BC Track & Field Meet

Red Raider cindermen were able to squeeze into fourth place in the Border conference track and field meet held Friday and Saturday at Tempe, Ariz.

The University of Arizona took the championship by amassing 59 1/2 points to barely beat Arizona State of Tempe, who picked up 55 points. Tempe had held the track crown for the past five years. Texas Western edged Tech with 23 1/2 points, compared to Tech's 21. Hardin-Simmons had 6.

The Raiders picked up three first places in the meet with Bobby Hawkins of Lamesa winning the 440-yard dash, James Farrell of Amarillo placing first in the 120-yard high hurdles, and Jerry Fairley of Pecos, picking up first in the 220-yard dash.

The Tech Mile relay team finished third but was moved up to second when the University of Arizona was disqualified because of interference.

Other places picked up by Tech were: third place in the 880-yard run by Hawkins and a fourth in the 100-yard dash by Fairley.

The outstanding performer of the meet was Javier Montes of Texas Western who won first place in the two mile, the mile and 880. This was the Texas Western senior's third straight year to win the mile and two mile.

"We're going on to greater achievements from here."

With that, Coach DeWitt Weaver turned disappointedly from the Southwest conference scene in Dallas to greener fields which consisted of SWC coaches who had intimated that they would be interested in scheduling games.

Weaver was naturally disappointed and perhaps even a bit angry and bitter and he had reason to be. It was a rather raw deal that SWC officials had handed Tech representatives.

But Weaver wasn't ready to give up. "Of course I hated to have things come to this," he declared, "but this isn't going to stop us. We're going on to greater achievements from here."

Weaver pledged his utmost efforts towards giving athletic fans in West Texas the "type of sports they want to see."

The conference double-talk issued by smug officials was designed to appease Tech (according to one Fort Worth sports writer) into believing that Houston's application had complicated the issue and that in voting against expansion and barring further applications it cleared the way for a later acquisition of Tech by invitation.

This is a little hard to swallow. The same sports writer made several suggestions for Tech which included banding with such schools as Hardin-Simmons, Tulsa, Houston, Oklahoma A&M and North Texas State to form a new conference. His reasoning included the fact that Border conference play takes Tech and H-SU out of their natural territory as does the loosely-linked and far-flung Missouri Valley to Houston, Tulsa and Oklahoma A&M. He also thinks that such a conference would indeed be a strong one.

He had some very interesting thoughts. If you want to look them up, you can find them on page one of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Sunday sports section.

At any rate, the Toreador can lay claim to a clear scoop at long last. This paper hit the street with the bad news a full half-day before any of the larger papers who must follow stricter schedules.

Too bad that it couldn't have been better news.

We met some interesting people while in Dallas.

Bill McClanhan, Dallas News sports cartoonist, and Here Fickling, Dallas News political cartoonist, were downright human.

A couple talented friendly cusses, they handed out some much needed pointers, equipment and a few kind words pertaining to the cartooning business. It was most encouraging.

Intramural Meet Reset for Saturday

Intramural tracksters will have an extra week in which to prepare for the big day, thanks to ole' man weather.

The events were scheduled to take place Saturday afternoon, but the storm which swept the plains Friday night quelled all hopes and ruined the track for a day or so.

The events will be this coming Saturday barring all further incidents which might cause postponement.

Toreador awards are ready for the winners and will be handed out as the events are run off.

Kemas defending champions, Cherry Pluckers, Doak Hall, Gym-millers, Los Cams, BSU Bums, Whirlwinds, Silver Keys, College Club, Centaurs, Wranglers and Alpha Zeta will field teams.

Officials will include Duane Durham, Bert Goodyear, Paul Nolen, Robert Larrabee, Jess Porter, Hudson Routh, Lewis Woodward, Elbert Johnson, J. H. Bentley, Buddy Brock, Cliff Dean, M. D. Stevens, Clayton Stallings, Edwin Shipman and David Burchard.

Cowboys Take 1st, Tech 2nd in Golf

Hardin-Simmons' Cowpoke golfers teed off on Border conference competition Saturday to defend successfully their golf title at Phoenix, Ariz., with Texas Tech finishing second.

The Cowpokes covered the tough 36-hole course with a four-man total of 597 strokes. This is believed to be a new conference low. Texas Tech linksmen trailed H-SU by 26 strokes with a four-man total of 623 for second.

Tech finished sixth in the tournament last year.

Arizona followed Tech with 626, then Arizona State, 628, and New Mexico A&M, 653.

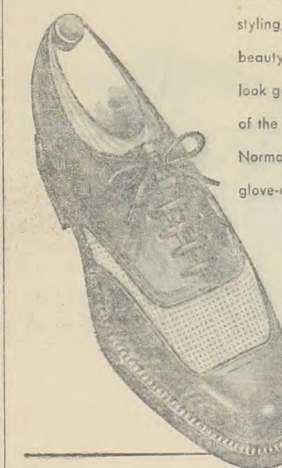

The rugged Arizona Country club course was no obstacle to youthful Tommy Hale, 19-year-old TI-SU flash who fired a 72-73-145 to take medalist honors and set a new conference mark.

His teammate, Billy Phillips, last year's medalist, followed with a 73-74-147. Other near finishers and their individual scores were: George Smith, H-SU, 150; Bill Goldberg, Ariz., 151; Ralph Melley, N. M. A&M 152; G. W. Warden, Tech, and Brad Watts, ASC, 153; Bill Paul, ASC, 154; Carl Chambers, H-SU, Jerry Thornton, Tech, and Paul McCully, Tech, 155; and Jerry Purdy, Ariz., 156.

The mailing list will remain posted until May 26.

Church of Christ Will Honor Three Groups of Seniors Saturday

Seniors from Texas Tech, Draughon's Business college and a nursing school will be honored at a banquet in Fellowship hall of the Broadway Church of Christ at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Dr. Robert L. Rouse, assistant professor of economics, will be the speaker.

Pfc. John M. Jones, former Tech journalism major, is currently stationed at Barksdale Air Force base in Shreveport, La. Jones, who was on The Toreador staff in 1950, enlisted in January, 1951.

Di Stefano Gives Clear, Cool Show

Giuseppe di Stefano, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, presented in concert Monday night in Lubbock High school auditorium by Tech Artists Course. Accompanied by Martin Rich. The program:

Il fervido desiderio Bellini
 Dolente immagini Bellini
 Varcava l'arco dei turchi Bellini
 Absence Berlioz
 Vainement, ma bien aimee Lalo
 Oh, Souverain Massenet
 Che Gelida Manina Puccini
 A Barcollina

U. Patti
 Abbatiati Sicilian Folk-songs, Anonymous
 The Sally Gardens Britten
 Let It Be Forgotten Kagen
 Love's Philosophy Quilter
 Neauun dorma Puccini
 Encore: three Neapolitan songs

By RALPH SHELTON
 Toreador Staff Writer

The singing of Giuseppe di Stefano was like a drink of cool water—clear and refreshing, but somewhat lacking in stimulation. The Italian tenor, still wearing laurels from his Dallas success as Rodolfo in the Met's "La Boheme," offered his small audience careful diction and a relaxed, confident delivery. Any emotion in the music was somewhat restrained however.

The first part of his performance, composed of the three Bellini pieces, was undistinguished save for his technique on the soft, crooning passages of the songs. The program's second part was climaxed by a melodic reading of Massenet's, "Oh, Souverain."

Di Stefano's most rewarding selection was the aria "Che Gelida Manina" from Act I of Puccini's "La Boheme." He sang of Mimì's frozen little hand with power and polish and, almost, with feeling.

The tenor, whose smile should be recorded as the broadest, if not the sincerest, since Joe E. Brown last appeared on local screens, returned from the intermission with more warmth for his spectators and a more entertaining line-up of selections than he had presented earlier in the evening.

Di Stefano was ably accompanied by Martin Rich, an assistant conductor of the Metropolitan.

Job Opportunities

The placement office has announced the following job interview schedule for January 1953 graduates.

WEDNESDAY
 Petroleum engineering students seeking summer employment will be interviewed by The Texas company. This company wishes to employ men during the summer as roustabouts.
 Students interested in the above job should report to the placement office to arrange an interview.

79 Summer Profs Have Doctorates

When you meet a faculty member you do not know on the campus this summer, chances are even that you will be right by saying, "Hi, Doc."

Of the 196 faculty members who will teach in the summer session, 79, or 40.3 percent hold the doctorate, including the doctor of philosophy, doctor of education, doctor of music, and the honorary doctor of laws.

Five professors will be holding LL. D. degrees, D. O. Wiley, director of bands, has the distinction of being the only doctor of music. Two distinguished professors are included in the group of "docs": Dr. Carl C. Rister, Tech's only distinguished professor, and Dr. Fred C. Ayer, professor of educational administration at the University of Texas, will be on the summer staff.

The faculty outstrips the administration "by degrees." Of the 28 members of the administration only 33 percent held the doctorate, honorary or otherwise.

Pre-Registration To Begin Monday

Pre-registration for the first session of summer school will begin next Monday and last through May 24, according to Warren G. Harding, assistant registrar.

Students can put their pre-registration blanks in boxes that will be set up in Administration, Aggie, Home Economics, and Engineering buildings, Harding said.

Summer school registration will begin June 5 and classes will begin the following day.

Former Tech speech major Jake Sitters is stationed at Fort Banbridge, Md., with the medical corps. While at Tech Sitters was a member of Sock and Buskin, dramatic society and Le Cercle Francais, French club. He was also in the cast of the 1951 Varsity Show.

The University of California at Los Angeles has topped the national collegiate record in blood donations with a total of 1,179 pints collected.

Texas university previously held the championship with a 1,111 pint record.
