Supreme Court Rules on Two Election Questions

Two decisions on cases involving interpretation of the student constitution have been announced by the Tech Supreme Court. As a result of the decisions, the Student Council will next year have 19 representatives, and cheerleaders are not subject to the same residence requirement as student officers and representatives. Both cases were referred to the court by J. C. Chambers, president of the Student Association.

George Lemon, chief justice, delivered the opinion on the case concerning apportionment of council representatives. The court ruled that each division is entitled to one representative with additional representatives to be based on apportionment according to the number of students. Under the ruling, a division with 350 enrolled will be entitled to two, rather than one, representatives to the council.

Home Ec To Have Two
The Division of Home Economics will, therefore, be allowed two posts on next year's council and the Division of Agriculture will continue to have three.

Justices Bob Dickenson, Charles Harper, Margaret Lee, and Dale Hoover joined Lemon in the decision. Justices Howard Wilson and Mona Powell did not enter into consideration of the case.

The court's second case concerned the candidacy of Virginia Carr for head girl cheerleader. Miss Carr attended Tech during the 1951-52 school year and attended the University of Texas during the fall of 1953. She returned to Tech this spring. The student constitution requires that persons elected to Student Association offices must have been resident students in the semester preceding election.

Russell, Tarbox Present Case
In an open hearing held Thursday afternoon, Jerry Russell and E. J. Tarbox presented Miss Carr's case, contending that cheerleaders are not subject to the residence requirement.

Dickenson delivered the court's opinion: "It is the opinion of this court that yell leaders fall into a

Editorial . . .

While we do not doubt the Supreme Court's accuracy in interpreting from the wording of the Student Constitution that the residence requirement for student officers does not apply to cheerleader candidates, we wonder if the wording itself was not inaccurate in expressing the intentions of the writers of the constitution.

We cannot believe that those writers, who demanded that student officers and other representatives become familiar with Texas Tech through residence at the college, intended to allow a student new to Tech and unfamiliar with its traditions to be a candidate for cheerleader. Their mistake was in writing the constitution with the "loophole" making possible the classification of cheerleaders apart from other officers.

While the letter of the law has been followed and while Miss Carr's previous attendance at Tech makes her well-qualified to lead the student body during athletic season, we feel that the spirit of the law has been overlooked. We commend Chief Justice Lemon for his dissenting opinion on the case.

10,000 Enrollment Seen For Tech by W. P. Clement

Texas Tech enrollment above the 10,000 mark?

Not yet, but perhaps by 1970. A long-range estimate released Monday by Registrar W. P. Clement showed that within the next 10 years enrollment at Tech probably will double and by 1970 will reach 10,681.

Three major reasons for Tech's expected growth is that it is located in the third-fastest-growing city in the nation for the period of 1940-50, Tech is a young school and is now receiving second generation Techsians, and returning veterans will continue to increase.

The estimate showed 5,719 students for 1954, 5,822 for 1955, 5,880 for 1956, 5,950 for 1957, 6,156 for 1958, 6,419 for 1959, 6,718 for 1960, 7,198 for 1961, 7,886 for 1962, 7,951 for 1963, 8,414 for 1964, 8,843 for 1965, 9,243 for 1966, 9,799 for 1967, 10,079 for 1968, 10,311 for 1969 and 10,681 for 1970.

To date, the all-time high for enrollment was 6,145 in 1948.

different category from officers and representatives. . . . Section 500 . . . definitely implies that yell leaders fall into a category separate from the elected Student Association officers as they are specifically mentioned and listed separately. Qualifications for yell leaders are listed in Section 710 as follows: 'Each candidate for yell leader must have made passing grades in at least 60 semester hours of course work by the end of the semester in which he is elected and must demonstrate his ability as a yell leader at a rally; the time and place to be designated by the council . . .'

Justices Lee, Powell, Wilson, Harper and Hoover joined Dickenson in the opinion. Chief Justice Lemon, however, dissented.

In his opinion, he stated: "This

Delegates to Ruidoso Vote to Continue Project; Dr. Jones Evaluates Leadership Training Meet

Student leaders at the first leadership training retreat held at Ruidoso, N.M., last week end voted to perpetuate the project. The 82 students returned to Lubbock Sunday afternoon.

President E. N. Jones, who evaluated the retreat in a banquet address Saturday night, said the project had numerous values. It provided increased acquaintance among campus leaders and a new understanding of the purpose and problems of campus organizations.

morning Dr. Robert Blake, associate professor of psychology at the University of Texas and consultant for the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene, was introduced as the keynote speaker. In his address he said that the retreat was a "new expression of democracy." He pointed out that Tech is "about 10 years ahead of its times in relation to other campuses from the standpoint of free discussion between the administration and student leaders."

Dean of Student Life James G. Allen introduced the group to the Code of Student Affairs, which will be ready for publication this summer.

Discussion Groups

The students were divided into eight discussion groups, which considered problems and solutions of campus organization. Some of the recommendations of the retreat were: closer co-operation between organizations; good programs within the clubs; the development of new and better leadership; better advance planning;

Don't take the "news" on pages 3 and 4 too seriously. Just read the stories in the spirit of the date on today's Toreador.

Parts Assigned For Speech Play

Leading roles for "Goodbye My Fancy," Tech speech department play to be presented May 3-8, have been given to Jean Porter who portrays Agatha Reed, Cal Foster who portrays Merrill, and Arch March who has the part of Matt.

The timely comedy is the story of a congresswoman who returns to her alma mater to receive an honorary degree after having been away for 20 years. She finds that the president of the college is the same man with whom she was in love when she was a student in the college, and he was a young instructor. The play has many humorous scenes dealing with the typical college professor and student. It is a play written to appeal to the college crowd.

Rehearsals are being conducted by Ronald Schulz, assistant professor of speech, each night, Monday through Friday.

What to expect in the public relations field and how to prepare for it was the theme of a talk given by Ollice Green, assistant manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, to the Tech Press Club Thursday night, March 25. Mr. Green received his B.A. in journalism from Tech.

The speaker explained some of the qualifications necessary for a successful public relations man. He pointed out that there is no school in which to learn public relations work, but that journalism training followed by a period of newspaper work was the best available foundation.

Following Mr. Green's talk, the club held a short business session

CE Researchers Reveal New Process for Adobe

Toheck civil engineering researchers recently revealed a new process of producing building materials at a very low cost. The process is the result of many years of hard labor under the direction of the world's leading scientists, all of whom are on the payroll of Toheck under the classification of professor.

By spraying water into the midst of dust storms, it has been found that a unique type of adobe is formed. The adobe bricks are then sliced out of the sky by workmen standing on stepladders. (The mechanical engineers are in the process of developing a giant saw and elevator to lessen the work of excavating the bricks from the air.) The bricks are then lowered to men on the ground by a pulley system suspended by skyhooks.

These new bricks will be used to construct the new coliseum on the campus.

CAUTION! If you see the men on stepladders please do not go near. Their saws often cause fine fragments of dust to blow and you might get it in your eyes.

BK to SW Set; Faculty Angels?

The first of a series of improvements for students at Texas Toheck, though this one was not recommended by the Faculty Advisory Committee, will be the initiation of a Be Kind to Students Week.

Like the one originated by some instructor, Be Kind to Faculty Week, this one will be complete with angels and everything. Only one change has been made. This one will feature, if possible, faculty angels instead of student angels.

The apple polishing may also have to be done away with. Upon checking with various students the originator of this plan found apples to be disliked by some of the students. And besides it was feared that the instructors would use all their energy in polishing the apples and couldn't do anything else for the entertainment of the students.

No grades below the 'B' level will be given out. In addition to good grades each class is to see a floor show during the class period.

Each instructor will be responsible for the entertainment of his classes. Just think what a nice class period the students will have watching their instructor do some weird dance or sing some off-key song.

Should this plan prove successful the student body will perhaps vote to keep it going the year round. However, McCarthy will probably investigate for Communist infiltration and the plan will have to cease.

Oh, the angels. None could be found at Tech so representatives are checking the faculty of Baylor and Texas A&M to see if they have any which could be borrowed for the grand occasion.

Baseball Team Gets New Field

Toheck's baseball team will have a new playing field to open the 1955 campaign. It is expected to have a seating capacity of over 7,000. The team is expected to win the NCAA tournament next year with all members of its experienced team being back.

McGraft

Toheck to Take TU

Toheck has agreed to accept the University of Texas as a branch in the expanding college program. The former university will be known as Texas Technological College at Austin.

The new system will necessitate several changes both at Tech proper and the annex at Austin. Since students may have classes at both places, college officials have decided to lengthen passing periods between classes from 10 to 14½ minutes. The original plan was to take the additional time from the classes, but because of vigorous student objection to this proposal, classes will begin 13½ minutes earlier at 7:16½ a.m. each day.

The athletic program will be affected only slightly. The name "Red Raiders" will be retained, and the Longhorns will be organized into a junior squad with senior Raiders to act as coaches. A special request of Charles Brewer has been considered, and he will be permitted to be the water-boy for the Raiders.

Others bidding for annexation were Rice, Baylor, Texas A&M and the University of Houston. Rumor has it that the reason for the final decision was that officials of Tech figured that was the only way to get their hands on any of the UT oil money.

building and complete the hexagon. The interior of the hexagon will then be converted into a baseball diamond for the Red Raiders.

Seats will be placed all around the diamond on the roof of the Museum. Games can also be witnessed from the roof of other campus buildings if a student activity ticket has been purchased by the student. All Museum seats will be $1.50. No one will be admitted to these choice seats on activity tickets.

Presidential Candidates Have Run-In As McGraft Offers Snow for Toheck

In a statement made yesterday to Toreador reporter, Bilbo McGraft, arts and sciences student and candidate for SC president in the spring elections, claimed that previous administrations—and those resulting from the election of any of his three opponents—fail to offer stew-gents the "aesthetic and athletic delights of snow."

"Too long has our fair campus been beyond the realms of snow," he stated. "If I am elected, I promise that this campus will see the greatest snow in its history; and none of my—ahem—worthy opponents can hope to compete with me in producing this needed commodity."

McGraft's opponents in the election immediately made counter-statements.

Homer Hailfellow, senior BA student: "McGraft is a Communist! Everyone knows that promising snowfalls is handled in this country by our weather bureaus, which are agencies of the government. McGraft is planning to usurp their powers, to oust our weathermen from their jobs. Doesn't that sound like a use of force? And advocating the overthrow of our government by force is communistic."

Miss Spatula Casserole, HE candidate for the office: "McGraft has just alienated the women voters of Toheck. Although moonlight on snow is lovely, what woman likes to walk to classes during the day, with that cold, white light reflecting from the snow exposing the wrinkle—uh—laughelines around her eyes. McGraft's policy is a plot against women, our country's mothers of the future, the sweethearts and wives of Toheck's own stew-gents, the..."

At this point Bruno Grrrrf, varsity letterman and fourth candidate for the presidency, interrupted: "Oh, boy, Snow!"

The candidates and their activities are: McGraft, who is president of Girdle Hall dormitory association, vice president of Delta Handa Poker fraternity and parliamentarian of the Agnostics Student Centre; Hailfellow, who is pledge trainer of Whatta Thi fraternity and president of Saddle Cramps; Grrrrf, who is an outstanding Toheck athlete; and Miss Casserole, who is a girl. All three male candidates have charged that Miss Casserole's qualifications give her unfair advantage in the campaign. When asked for an opinion on the issue, Toheck Supreme Court Justice said: "Vote for Spatula."

The annual all-college election will be held as soon as the secretary find the election rules, which were formulated early in the semester and written on an old laundry slip. (a clue to their whereabouts has been offered by reports that a local laundry has been requiring customers to file a petition signed by 200 stew-gents before rough-dry is returned.)

'Big Ten' Now Officially 'Lucky Eleven'

Toheck Ignores Southwest; A&M, TCU, TU at Standstill

The Southwest Conference was given the boot today as Toheck joined the Big Ten, now officially known as the Lucky Eleven.

This came as a blow to the Southerners who thought their invitation, issued Monday, would be unanimously and immediately accepted. Evidently they didn't know that Big Ten officials had been secretly negotiating with Toheck since their victory in the Gator Bowl.

Officials from both conferences waited anxiously this morning as Coach DeWitt Weaver, President E. N. Jones, and other B.M.O.C. discussed the new merger behind barred doors in the Administration Building. Outside, students were picketing with signs favoring the Big Ten conference.

Rumor has it that acceptance of the Big Ten offer will mean a giant new gym for Toheck, an ultra-modern athletic dorm with a swimming pool in the shape of a double T, of course. Other possible benefits will be a private plane for transporting players to games and the completion of Jones Stadium into a 100,000-seat Dux Bowl.

Toheck officials finally decided in favor of the Big Ten, after fifteen and one-half minutes of debate. The news was flashed to all points. Classes came to a standstill at A&M, TCU, and Texas.

Freshmen! Get on The Bandwagon

Gen. Hambone Fleen, big wheel in military sciences, has announced that the Army and Air Force ROTC will offer unlimited contracts to freshmen next year.

The contracts will entitle the stewed-gents to $35.11 per month through the rest of their training plus a captain's commission in the armed service.

Gen. Fleen states that this is part of the Congressional plan to get rid of the nation's surplus money. "In connection with the program," Fleen says, "the Army and Air Force are cutting out all privates and non-commissioned officers."

Stewed-gents, when interviewed on the subject, said that they aren't interested in the commissions because they would rather enter the Army as privates and really learn a trade. "Besides," they say, "we are making too much money on our bumper crops at home."

ALL EXCEPT ONE

Guilt-stricken Techsians have at last all paid their activity fees for the spring semester—that is all but one.

That delinquent one has been identified as Joe Blooper, long-time freshman and resident of West Hall. Blooper sheepishly explained that since he was blind, deaf, and has flat feet, he did not feel that he would be able to reap the benefits from an activity ticket.

Faculty Concedes; Classes to Move

A majority vote by students has forced the faculty to concede defeat. Student demand has moved classes from the classroom to the dormitories.

A campus-wide sit-down strike by students has forced President Jones to take immediate action. The student-faculty meeting held yesterday revealed Tech students are tired of walking to classes. Lack of parking space near classroom buildings has made transportation to and from classes impossible. The faculty argued with the students that the exercise they would receive by walking to classes would be healthful.

Final balloting resulted in a majority vote supporting the students' cause. A faculty meeting was called immediately to make arrangements for satisfying student demand. Demands by the Student Council for additional space in dormitories to accommodate laboratory equipment and similar facilities cannot be met this semester. Transportation to lab courses will be provided for the remaining part of this semester.

Students living in Lubbock will not be required to attend classes until a satisfactory schedule can be completed. Dormitory residents will resume classes April 12. A schedule of classes will be issued to each student for his approval by dorm presidents April 8.

Sheeves of History Department to Take Tour to France, Austrick, Slaton, etc.

By SLIDE FALTER
EL Cuspidor Travel Editor

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Sheeves of Toheck faculty will conduct a little sashay around a whole passel of countries (none as big as Texas) in some a them furin countries after a while. If'n the money holds out, they expect to hit some a them famous places like: France, Switserland, Italy (where they got pizza pie), Austrick, German, England, Slaton, Post, Holland Tunnel, and Levelland.

It's a real crazy trip lasting one semester, and costing the kids $1135 Tourist Class or $1403.12 First Class postage prepaid.

Visits will be done at historic things in Paris, Venice, Monte Carlo, Stratford on Avon, Bourbon on Rocks, Amsterdarn, Bob's Cafe, and a quaint little place just off the Rue de Mowdelawn called Lil's.

This tour is open to stewed-gents, faculty, and the common public. Those who sign up for Hysterical 3314 and 3315, won't get credit for nothing, but will shore do a lot of messin' around.

When interviewed about the sashay, the sponsor said, "I'm for it," and to the stewed-gents who might be hankerin' to jine up, he added, "Ya'll come."

HOW DO YOU RATE?

A pioneer judging team experiment will be conducted, with the aid of two chimpanzees to be brought to the campus, by Dr. Sylvan J. Kaplan, new psychology department head. Since Tech has no more worlds to conquer in the crop and stock judging field, the college is ready to start a human judging team with the chimpanzees acting as judges.

Human beings will be judged on depth, width, showmanship, and over-all muscular development. Standards will be high, ratings will be Prime, Choice, Good, Commercial, and Canner. The decision of the judges will be final.

Requests should be in by Friday, April 9.

LECTURES SPONSORED

Each year a lecturer of national distinction in the fields of science and religion is brought to Texas Tech for a series of four lectures. These lectures are made possible from the income of an endowment set up by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, Texas, in 1947. They highlight a week in which the Student Religious Council regularly sponsors a program or student-directed panel discussions on topics suggested by the Willson lecturer.

This year's Willson Lecturer will be Dr. George F. Thomas, professor or religious thought and chairman of the department of religion at Princeton University. Dr. Thomas is also a noted writer.

Tech Baseball Team Defeated in Alpine Twice by Veteran Sul Ross Cowboys

Sul Ross State College handed the recently formed Texas Tech baseball team a double shellacking in Alpine Friday and Saturday.

The polished Sul Ross Cowboys plastered the Raider nine 23-1 in Tech's first game of the season Friday.

Getting off on the wrong foot from the very start, Tech allowed the Alpine lads 5 runs in the first inning and could never show any potentialities for catching up.

The lone Raider run came as a result of a ninth inning walk to Elmer Wilson with the bases loaded, forcing Frank Wright across the plate.

The following day, the Cowboys went on to finish the series by pounding the Tech pitching staff for 12 runs in the first inning, posting an 18-12 victory.

The Techsans scored their only tallies of the day in the fifth inning. Moe Turner, Elmer Wilson, Frank Wright, and Vic Spooner were all safe on errors.

The two runs resulted from a fielder's choice by Frank Reeves and Jack Miller. Wright, Raider second baseman, collected 4 of the 6 Tech hits, 3 singles and a triple. Wilson and Reeves also slipped singletons past the Cowboy defense.

Moundsmen for the Lubbockites included Glen Webb, Bill Jones, Leo Chase, and Frank Reeves.

Tech's next diamond engagement will be against Texas Lutheran at Seguin Tuesday.

COURT— decision places the position of cheerleader in a peculiar if not doubtful category. They are neither Student Association officers nor representatives of the Student Association, but a separate and distinct category.

AGGIE GROUP INITIATES - Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity, initiated nine new members Tuesday night, according to Spencer Norwood, club member.

Tuesday's initiation concluded a week of pledging for the new members. During the week they were required to wear overalls, hat and bandanna.

HORN QUARTET PLAYS - The Texas Tech horn quartet presented the weekly luncheon program of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday in the Caprock Hotel.

Chess Trophies Awarded Winners

W. C. Marshall, 1907 Avenue S, and Jim Liggett, sophomore civil engineer from Jacksboro, were presented trophies Tuesday night for winning the all-city and all-campus chess championship, respectively, in the second annual Sneed Hall chess tournament.

The all-campus winner was not determined until David Edwards, junior engineer from Galveston, and Liggett finished a four-hour play-off.

The all-dormitory championship was not awarded due to lack of entrants. Others playing in the tournament include Billy Hunter, Robert Roberson, John Taylor, Herbert Lindsey, Frank Wolf, Paul Branon, J. R. Borum, B. J. Borum, and Gordon Mills.

SUPERTONES SING - The Supertones, vocal group of dormitory supervisors at Texas Tech, presented three numbers at the Parade of Quartets Saturday evening in the Lubbock High School auditorium.

The Supertones are made up of: William Geisert, Bledsoe supervisor, tenor; Lou Stamatakos, Sneed supervisor, lead; Ken Gilbert, wing supervisor of Gordon Hall, baritone; and Buck Rogers, Gordon supervisor, bass.

Sick List

The following students were admitted to the Tech infirmary for treatment during the past week: Amos Mills, George Hargrove, Francis Holt, Mary Jane Miller, Fannette Dinger, Harry Lee Harrison, Jack Henley, Don Ray Stephens, Jimmie Hart, Bayard Foster, Shade Goat, Raymond Barrier, James Walton, William Jones, Dorothy Dees, Jane Carlisle and Joan Norris.

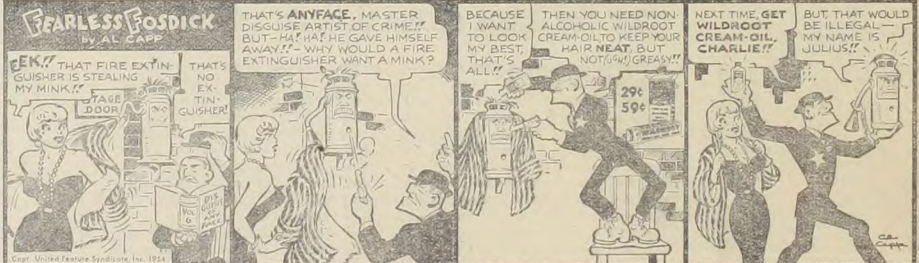

DEAN RESIGNS!

Dean Baxter C. Thrombottom startled the academic world today when he announced he was resigning. "I am resigning", he said, "... myself to the fact you just can't beat the wonderful 'Wake-Up' flavor of frosty cold Dr. Pepper. It's delicious, it's distinctive, but best of all—it's good!"

Asked about his future plans, Dean Thrombottom said: "In the future I intend to continue to drink plenty of that frosty cold Dr. Pepper. I have awakened my taste. I suggest that all do the same. That is—Wake Up your Taste—with a frosty cold bottle of Dr. Pepper!"

Net Men To Meet West Texas Team

Tech's tennis team will meet the West Texas State netmen in Lubbock tomorrow and will travel to El Paso Monday for a meet with the Texas Western netters.

Friday the Techsans fell beneath the powerful East Texas State team in Lubbock. East Texas has defeated Texas Christian and Baylor universities.

Coach George Philbrick's Raiders split the singles matches, but couldn't compete with the fleet-footed East Texas doubles team.

Results of the singles matches were: David Clark, Tech, over Bill Olson 6-1 and 8-2; Berry Teltou over Van Hall, Tech, 6-0, 6-0; Mac Bane over Harold Williams, Tech, 9-7, 6-4; and Charles Riddle, Tech, over Melvin Setzer, 2-6, 7-5, 5-4.

Doubles results were: Teltou Bane over Clark and Hall, Tech, 7-6, 6-8, and 10-8; and Hob Perry and Olson over Williams and Riddle, 7-5, 7-5.

FBI Spy To Talk At Tech Tuesday

Herbert A. Philbrick, television star of "I Led 3 Lives," will speak at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Student Union Building Ballroom. His subject will be "Communist Activities in America."

Philbrick, who posed as a card-carrying Communist while an FBI counterspy for nine years, will base his talk on personal experiences while he was in the Communist movement in Boston.

The speaker's Communist career began while he was employed by an advertising agency in the suburbs of Boston. While in this work, he participated in a "Youth for Victory" movement. However, he soon realized that this and other affiliated organizations were becoming Communist dominated. He reported this to the FBI, who warned him that as a counterspy he would be in much danger.

Philbrick acted as counterspy for the FBI for nine years before giving testimony that convicted 11 top Communists in America.

Among the subjects Philbrick is expected to present are: how does becoming a card-carrying Communist and FBI counterspy affect a man's relationship with his family, his job, and his friends?

The public is invited to attend the program, which is sponsored by KCBD-TV and the department of government.

KNAPP, SNEED WIN

Knapp and Sneed Halls were presented 12-inch trophies for being the outstanding dormitories on the campus at the annual spring Inter-Dorm dance Friday night. Gayle Erickson received the award for Sneed Hall and Sue Guthrie accepted the trophy for Knapp Hall. Assistant Dean of Men W. R. Geisert made the presentations. The dorms were judged on the basis of their achievement in campus activities by members of the Campus Club, a faculty group.

Leonardo da Vinci's most spectacular invention, the ornithopter or flying machine, will attract Engineers Show visitors to the Museum April 23-24. It will be suspended above the Museum Rotunda.

A series of 26 models of Leonardo's scientific drawings, from the fine arts department of International Business Machines Corp., will be a special feature of the show. They will be on display April 11-May 16.

A collection of 15 5-yard lengths of silk reproductions, textiles of the Italian Renaissance will also be on display in the art gallery. Each department of engineering will display lab equipments and outside projects.

Burl Hubbard will play for an all-school dance in the Student Union Ballroom at 8 p.m. Friday.

Tech Cinder Men Will Enter Relays

Six Tech track and field participants will enter the Texas Relays in Austin Friday and Saturday.

The same team, plus two pole vaulters, Homer Stargis of Brownwood and Lyndon Waldrop of Bronte, was slated to go to the North Texas Relays in Denton yesterday.

Last Saturday, the Tech cinder men competed in the West Texas Relays in Odessa. The only Raider to gather points for the Tech squad was Ray McDonald, who cleared 6 feet 4 inches to share second place honors in the high jump.

Dr. George F. Thomas Will Deliver Willson Lectures at Tech Next Week

Dr. George F. Thomas, chairman of the department of religion at Princeton University, will deliver this year's Willson lectures Monday through Thursday on Tech campus.

Classes will be dismissed at 10 a.m. Monday for the opening lecture in the Gymnasium. The remaining lectures will be given at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday in the Student Union Building.

Dr. Thomas was born in Texas in 1899 and attended the Bryan Street High School in Dallas. He entered Southern Methodist University in 1915. After serving in the Navy, he earned his B.A. (with honors) in theology in 1923.

After teaching religion for two years at Southern Methodist, he received a fellowship from the National Council on Religion in Higher Education and went to Harvard to do graduate work in philosophy.

He is author of "Spirit and Its Freedom," University of North Carolina Press, 1938; editor of "The Vitality of Christian Tradition," Harper's, 1944; and contributor to "The Christian Answer," Scribner's, 1945, and "Changing Patterns in American Civilization," University of Pennsylvania Press, 1949. He is also author of "Poetry Religion and the Spiritual Life," Elsevier Press, Houston, 1952, and is at present completing a book on Christian ethics and moral philosophy.

Dr. Thomas is a member of the American Theological Society and the Guild of Scholars of the Episcopal Church and is a contributor to the volume, "Christianity and Reason," sponsored by this organization.

He has been married since 1933 to Dorothy Boyd Graves and is the father of two sons, George Boyd, 19, and Robert, 16. He is a member of the Joint Commission on Approaches to Unity of the Episcopal Church and the Theological advisory Commission of the World Council of Churches.

Ambassador's Job Open to Techsans

April 10 is the deadline for applications for Lubbock's 1954 "community ambassador," according to Frank Crowell, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce steering committee.

To qualify for the ambassadorship the applicant must be between 18 and 30 years old, be available for talks for six months after return, and be a Lubbock resident for one year prior to his appointment. Women are eligible to apply.

Glenn Rainer, last year's ambassador, was Lubbock's first representative in the community ambassador program. All of Rainer's expenses and some spending money was paid by Lubbock civic and service clubs. The 1954 ambassador will receive a similar sum.

Rainer's trip was a two-month tour of Holland coupled with a short study of history at the university in Groningen. His final five weeks were spent living with a Dutch family. The 1954 destination has not been selected.

Applicants may get blanks and information from Don Schrieber at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Tech Institute of Americanism Brings Noted Woman Columnist to the Campus

Mrs. Walter Ferguson, widely known newspaper woman, will speak on "Women in Politics" at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Museum auditorium. She will also be guest speaker at Theta Sigma Phi's Matrix Table Thursday night in the Student Union Building.

Mrs. Ferguson will be here in connection with the current American history lecture series under the sponsorship of the Institute of Americanism, directed by J. Evetts Haley.

Her father was a doctor in the Choctaw nation where Mrs. Ferguson was born at Boggy Depot, Indian Territory. She was educated at St. Xavier's Academy, Denison; Hardin College, Mexico, Mo.; and the University of Oklahoma.

Opposed Husband's Policies
Mrs. Ferguson married the son of the sixth territorial governor of Oklahoma, and moved to Cherokee, where her husband owned a country weekly, the Cherokee Republican.

Mrs. Ferguson began her first column as the result of Mr. Ferguson's suggestion that she boost suffrage and women's rights in his paper while he would oppose them on the editorial page, helping to increase circulation and balance the newspaper's budget. The sight of wife opposing husband's policies stirred interest in newspaper circles, and also profited the Republican. Her column was established as a weekly feature.

Column Is Syndicated

After moving to Oklahoma City, Mrs. Ferguson began writing a daily column in 1923 for the Oklahoma News, a Scripps-Howard paper. In a few months, the column was syndicated to all the Scripps-Howard newspapers in the U.S. In 1928, the Fergusons moved to Tulsa.

Mrs. Ferguson is a member of the American Women's Club, the Oklahoma Hall of Fame, Phi Beta Kappa, Kappa Alpha Theta and Theta Sigma Phi. She is a former president of the Tulsa YWCA and Tulsa Town Hall. She is also a board member of the Women's Medical College of Philadelphia and a member of the American-Palestine Committee.

A reception for Mrs. Ferguson is planned following her talk Wednesday. Forum and Junior Council will serve and included in the reception line will be Tech sorority presidents.

Air Force Flying Club To Tour Convair's Plant in Fort Worth

Fifteen members of the Tech Air Force ROTC Flying Club will leave April 9 for a one-day tour of the Convair Aircraft Corp. plant in Fort Worth. They will be flown direct to the plant by military aircraft.

During their day's stay, the members will be shown through the huge B-36 plant and will be shown a film relative to the combat capabilities of the heavy bomber.

The members will leave early in the morning and return late the same afternoon. It will be the club's first trip this year.

Annual Spring Concert Tour to Begin; Tech Band to Leave Monday for Snyder

The Tech band, directed by Dr. D. O. Wiley, will leave Monday for its annual Spring Concert tour before high school groups and public audiences in six cities in the West Central Texas area.

On Sunday the band will perform a pre-tour concert at 2 p.m. in the band hall of the Music Building.

Members of the 78-piece concert band represent every division of the college, and about as many professions as Tech offers. Sixteen members are engineers; four are in home economics; 11, business administration; and three, agriculture. Of the 42 students in the Arts and Sciences Division, several are music majors.

Classification of Members

The band members represent 34 different towns and cities.

By classification, the band has two instructors and a graduate student, 36 freshmen, ten sophomores, 14 juniors, and 15 seniors. Dr. Wiley says, "The Tech band is smaller than it has been in several years, but its quality is still high."

Soloists playing with the band on tour will be Keith McCarty, Tech music instructor and former solo clarinetist with the University of Illinois band for two years; Ned Hardin, piano; and Chuck Wilson, trombone.

The French horn quartet is one of several specialty numbers Dr. Wiley plans to use on the tour. The quartet is composed of the following band members: Guy Knowles, Big Spring; Kathleen Gilbert, Lubbock; David Wiggins, Hobbs, N. M.; and Gordon Collins of Texarkana. This group will play in three of the six tour cities.

Quartet is Featured

The Harmonknights, a barber shop quartet of band members to be featured on the tour, include Ned Hardin, Lubbock; Tim Magness, Friona; Clarence Whiteside, Jr., Lubbock; and Bill Cormack, Amarillo.

The six cities and their performance dates on the tour are: Snyder and Sweetwater on Monday; Colorado City and San Angelo, Tuesday; and Ballinger and Big Spring, Wednesday.

The band will be guests of the Sweetwater High School band on Monday night and guests of the San Angelo High School band the following night.

TO HAVE BREAKFAST

Kappa Kappa Psi, band fraternity, has planned a "big brother-little brother" breakfast to be held at 8:45 a.m. Sunday at the Skyline Dining Room. Following the breakfast, the group will attend one of the Lubbock churches, according to Dick Baird, fraternity social chairman.

CHOIR RETURNS

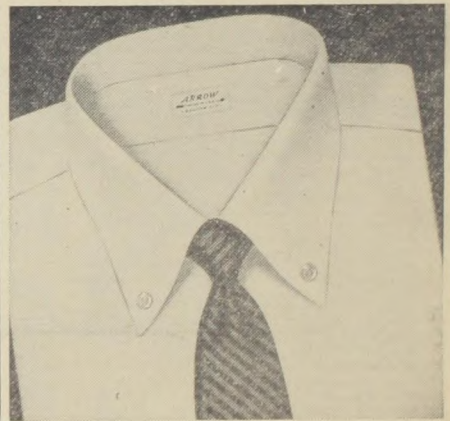

The Tech Choir, directed by Dr. Gene Hemmle, music department head, returned Monday from a three-day tour of Dallas and Arlington.

The choir performed in Dallas with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra Sunday afternoon and at the First Methodist Church that evening.

After singing in Arlington Friday evening, the members were guests of the Arlington High School Choir for a reception and dance. While in Arlington, Dr. Hemmle held a clinic for the high school choir, to work on their contest music.
