

Intramural Athletes Vie In 'Night Of Conquerors'

by RALPH W. CARPENTER and PRESTON MAYNARD

Techsans will have their first opportunity in Texas Tech history to witness "Noche de Conquistadores," or "night of Conquerors" at 7 p.m. tonight in Lubbock's Municipal Coliseum.

Top individual athletes and teams in Tech's expanded intramural program will compete in everything from table tennis to tug of war tonight, all conducted inside the giant Coliseum. The name of the event was submitted by Preston Davis, junior from Lubbock.

There will be no admission charge. The event is sponsored by Tech's intramural department, headed by Edsel Buchanan, and the Intramural Council.

Events slated for tonight are trampoline competition, volleyball, table tennis, weight lifting, fencing, badminton, tug of war and wrestling.

Trophies will be presented the winners in each of the events, along with the winners of most of the intramural program's sports throughout the year.

Jack Dale, popular local sportscaster, will give a running report and commentary on the simultaneous activities as they progress.

Highlight of the evening will be the announcement of Tech's top intramural athlete and top team. In the running for top individual are Bill Lewis, Wendell Morrow, Mike Crookshanks, Ken Bailey, Dewey Bryant, and Charles Goodbread. Top teams vying for honors are Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta.

Competing in the events tonight are:

Trampoline: Don Williams, Don Roper, Glaze Sacra, Ken Bailey and Yancy Jones; volleyball, Phi Delta Theta and the Dwarfs; table tennis: David Hurt and Mike Lundy; fencing: Jerry Gerald, Lige Turner, Dale Johnson, and Fred Gaunt; badminton: Larry Jackson and Carl Rennett.

The scheduled boxing match between E. J. Holub and Pete Peterson will not take place, due to the equipment not arriving.

Dooley Speaks Here In Third Appearance

Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, famous for his work in Asian hospitals and in organizing MEDICO (Medical International Cooperation), will speak at Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 7:30 May 17.

THE 34-YEAR-OLD crusader against disease in southeast Asia will deliver his third address to Lubbockites, this time at his own request.

Tickets for the lecture are $1 and are on sale at the Auditorium box office, Lubbock banks, the Varsity Bookstore, the Tech College Bookstore and the PIX Bookstore 2405-A 34th.

Dr. Dooley lectured in Lubbock in 1956 and in 1958. This appearance will coincide with the release of his two latest books, "The Night They Burned the Mountain" and "Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, My Story."

BOTH BOOKS will be on sale at the lecture. All proceeds from the lecture and half the proceeds from book sales will benefit MEDICO.

Dr. Dooley is a graduate of Notre Dame and St. Louis University School of Medicine. After serving a military internship at the U. S. Naval Hospital at Camp Pendleton, Calif., he was sent to Indo-China where he helped build refugee camps within communist-dominated North Viet Nam.

Dr. Dooley's experiences with refugee work formed the basis of his best-selling book, "Deliver Us From Evil," published by Farrar, Straus and Cudahy.

IN ASIA, Dr. Dooley said he "found the chance that every doctor, deep in his heart, hopes to find . . . an opportunity to provide for sick people who desperately need it, the merciful care he has been trained to give."

After his resignation from the Navy in 1956, Dr. Dooley returned to Southeast Asia, this time to troubled Laos. He planned to open hospitals in the remote regions where medically trained assistance and care for the sick and diseased had been lacking.

IN ACCORDANCE with his original plans, Dr. Dooley found the time to put three hospitals into operation, two of which are five miles from the Communist China border.

"I believe," says Dooley, "that those of us who attempt to aid in a foreign land must be content with small achievements. In the jungle, I practice nineteenth-century medicine. It's the best I can do under the conditions there. When I leave, the personnel I've trained practice eighteenth-century medicine. Good . . . this is progress, because most of the villagers live in the fifteenth century."

MEDICO COSTS are remarkably low. Each treatment costs approximately one dollar and about 35,000 people are treated each year.

'Imaginary Invalid' Will Open Tonight

The speech department's final production of the year, "The Imaginary Invalid," begins its eight-day run tonight at 8:15 in the Speech Auditorium. Tickets are free to Tech students with I. D. cards and $1 to all others.

The action of this farce by Moliere is centered around Monsieur Argan, a hypochondriac who tries to obtain better, cheaper medical care by marrying his daughter, Angelique, to a doctor. Argan's maid, Toinette, and his brother, Beralde, manage to persuade Argan that Angelique is in love with someone else and should be allowed to marry him instead of the rather stupid doctor chosen by Argan.

Heading the cast are Barry Corbin as Argan, Jo Fields as Toinette and Sandra Clark as Angelique.

The play, which is set in the 17th century during the reign of Louis XIV, is directed by Miss Shirley Cadle, Tech speech instructor.

Organizations File For '60 Allocations

All student organizations interested in receiving allocations for next fall from the student matriculation fee must file budgets in the Student Council Office by 5 p.m. Monday.

Additional information may be obtained from Larry Campbell in the Council office 1-5 p.m. daily this week.

Tri Delts Honor Seniors With Awards Breakfast

Delta Delta Delta staged its annual Pansy Breakfast in honor of the senior members Sunday morning at the Johnson House.

HIGHLIGHT of the breakfast was the presentation of awards to outstanding members. Miss Ginger Forest was named outstanding freshman; Miss Suzanne Davis, outstanding sophomore; Miss Suzanne Stafford, outstanding junior; and Miss Gail Peterson, outstanding senior.

Miss Peterson also received the Peggy Donnell Brown Award, given annually to the member who has contributed the most to Texas Tech.

Miss Kathy White was named recipient of the Phi Eta Award, given to the girl who has contributed most to Phi Eta Chapter.

SENIOR MEMBERS honored were Linda Bunger, Grant, Ellen Edwards, Suzanne Hood, Sue Ann Jenkins, Judy Matejowsky, Patsy Painter, Gail Peterson, and Lajuana Rabb Bear.

Margaret Ritter, Sherre Smith, Kathy White, Marty Wynes, Diane Dale, Linda Luksa, and Carol Sanders.

The Tri Delts attended church together at the First Methodist Church after the breakfast. Rush workshop was held at the lodge Sunday afternoon.

Beta Upsilon Elect Officers

The Beta Upsilon chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, professional business administration fraternity, has elected officers for next year.

The new officers are Jerald Lyons, president; Marshall Johnson, vice president; Ronnie Watkins, junior vice president; Eldon Atkins, junior treasurer; Ben Wolfenberger, secretary; and Wallace McDaniel, comptroller.

Roger Flowers, chancellor; Mike Briggs, historian; Billy Small, social chairman; Gene Price, ritual chairman; Raymond Green, chapter advisor; and James Tom, professional chairman.

The officers will be installed at the spring initiation today at the Chicken Village.

Pikes Honor Gardenia Girl

Sallie Trail, a junior student from Dallas, was selected Pi Kappa Alpha-Gardenia Girl for March. She was honored at a western dance April 23.

Pi Kappa Alpha selects a girl each month to serve as their Gardenia Girl.

Bledsoe Names '60 Sweetheart

Shirley Stephens, Denton junior, is the 1960 Sweetheart of Bledsoe Hall. She was chosen from an original field of 20 Tech coeds.

Miss Stephens is Miss Top Flight of 1960, junior class secretary, junior favorite, a finalist for 1959 Homecoming Queen, and a Tech cheerleader.

UNION RATS, INC.

"Hawaiian Luau" is the theme of the Friday Night Dance to be held in the Rec Hall from 7 to 8:30. There will be special entertainment with refreshments to follow.

The last record hop of the semester will be Tuesday night in the Rec Hall from 7 to 8:30. KSEL disc jockeys will play the records, and so let's have a great turnout.

All square dancers make plans to attend the last square dance of the semester to be Thursday night in the Rec Hall at 7 p.m.

We all had better get all of our playing done now, because there is only so little time left before dead week. These next few weeks will no doubt be full of parties and dances, and then the serious business begins. Whew! (Maybe then we can all party together in summer school. I hear that repeating any course is easier.)

STD Gives Lit Awards

The second annual awards banquet of Sigma Tau Delta, English honorary fraternity, will be held tonight at the Holiday Inn Motel at 7:00.

Dr. Jay Hubbell, Tech English professor from Duke University, who is teaching this year at Tech, will speak on "Ellen Glasgow, the First Modern Southern Novelist."

Awards will be presented to the person who wrote the best short story and to the person who wrote the best poem for the "Harbinger," Tech's literary magazine. An award will also go to the student majoring in English who wrote the best M. A. thesis.

The student with the highest average in English will be presented an award and an award will also go to the freshman who wrote the best theme during the year.

Approximately 80 persons are expected to attend the banquet.

Sigas Honor Senior Woman

Liz Wilson was chosen Sigma Kappa's most outstanding Senior Woman at the Senior Banquet Sunday morning. She is a senior English major from Lubbock.

Sigma Kappa's annual Mr. Pledge Dance will be Friday, at 8 p.m. in the Rec Hall with music by the Four Teens.

Each fraternity has been asked to send two pledges representing their fraternity to a reception in their honor Wednesday night at the Sigma Kappa Lodge.

"Mr. Pledge" will be revealed during the dance, which is open to the campus.

Equipment Sought

Anyone having information about the baseball equipment belonging to Alpha Chi Omega is asked to get in touch with Miss Daphne Green, Box 234, Knapp Hall.

The equipment was last seen in front of the president's home on Thursday, April 21.

Noche De Conquistadores

Intramurals Capture Spotlight

Tonight for the first time at Texas Tech the top teams and athletes of Tech's intramural program will compete under one giant roof in simultaneous events for top awards in various intramural sports.

"Noche de Conquistadores" has been in the fire since early last fall. After the Texas Legislature disbarred use of state educational monies for intramural athletics, among other things, Texas Tech levied a student services fee to provide operational funds to replace the lost money.

In order to make the intramural program more worthwhile for the student body as a whole, in addition to those participating, two plans were undertaken. First was to expand the program itself, which required an expanded budget and staff.

In December the Tech Board of Directors approved a $25,000 addition to intramural funds from campus concession receipts. This provided the increased support for the budget and staff.

The all-intramural night—Noche de Conquistadores—was the second plan, developed under the guidance of the Intramural Council. The Council is composed of Edsel Buchanan, director of intramurals, Bill Dean and Bob Honts of the Student Council and Tom Schmidt and Ralph W. Carpenter of the Toreador.

A unique event planned as an annual affair at Tech, Noche de Conquistadores is a needed addition to the intramural program at Tech.

Even more, it is a refreshing innovation in the schedule of spring events and as such deserves the full support of the Texas Tech student body.

On Sit-Down Strikes

Former President Speaks Out

Harry S. Truman has never been known to take a discreet attitude toward anything or anyone who has upset his personal ideas or beliefs. He speaks his mind.

This distinct and also quite popular trait of the former president's was never more apparent than when he commented on the recent Negro sit-down strikes in Southern lunch counters by saying, "If anyone came into my store and tried to stop business, I'd throw him out. The Negro should behave himself and show he's a good citizen. Common sense and good will can solve this thing."

Needless to say, officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People were "shocked and disappointed," as common sense and good will seem to be beyond them at times.

But for Harry Truman to make this remark and then to confirm it, is slightly shocking in itself. Nevertheless, the venerable and oft-outspoken ex-president said it, and from it the public must glean any lesson to be learned.

Harry said that he would throw them out, if they tried to stop business. By this, he meant that it's un-American to interfere with a man's legal enterprise and that he has the right to sell what he pleases to whom he pleases.

From this one should not assume, however, that Harry said it is morally right to deny a Negro lunch counter service, for he has long been a champion of civil rights.

What the old war horse meant was that the Negro's cure is as bad as the disease.

A Tribute To Ventris

Writer Explores Language

THE DECIPHERMENT OF LINEAR B
John Chadwick
Random House
Modern Library Paperbacks,
1958

by ELLEN VENABLE

In the 1890's an English scholar, interested in prehistoric civilization, took a close look at some ornamental gems worn by the women of Crete and discovered written on them what proved to be the earliest script of Greece.

After the turn of the century more gems and clay tablets were found at Kossos, Crete. Three different scripts were noted but all were traceable to the Bronze Age and indicated a highly developed economic system—in a civilization 300 years before Homer.

This, the transcription of a prehistoric language and a little ancient history constitute an absorbing evening with The Decipherment of Linear B.

Michael Ventris was the man who in 1952 finally broke the script called Linear B. This book is the attempt of his colleague John Chadwick to popularize the technical details of their earlier book and to pay tribute to Ventris who died in a car wreck in 1956.

An architect by profession but a linguist by hobby, Ventris believed that the script was a forerunner of Greek. Legend tells of Athens being subjugated by Crete, which was more advanced even in the Late Bronze Age. Most scholars thought the Cretan script was related to some other language; one or two, however, using Greek as a basis, laid the groundwork that Ventris was able to proceed from.

The scripts are generally believed to be three dialects of the language and are classified as follows: (1) hieroglyphic because of its resemblance to the early Egyptian signs (2) Linear A because it contains only outlines and (3) Linear B because it is a modification of Linear A but cannot as yet be related to it.

Ventris' decipherment of Linear B and further archaeological excavations have thrown a little light on the culture of these early people but not enough. Excavations are costly and time-consuming and the Linear B tablets, preserved as they are today by virtue of being baked in a great fire that destroyed the city, are only highly abbreviated inventories and accounts of agricultural produce.

DUSTING COBWEBS

If you notice a strange, new odor coming from today's Toreador, there is a reason for it.

Next year's staff is trying its hand at putting out the next three issues of the paper in preparation for 1960-61. For all you lovers of wit and nonsense, Tom Schmidt and his staff of spastic copyreaders will be back for a farewell blast in the last issue (May 10). I'm sure you'll want to stick around for that one.

In the meantime, we'll be experimenting with this thing for at least a week, looking forward to next year.

We have occupied the editor's chair only a day now and we have discovered it is no picnic. Some people have the idea that running a newspaper is nothing but one party after another. They think that the newswriter has nothing to do but sit back and think up barbs to throw at his enemies. There are other things . . . like stripping the wire machine for news copy.

We have our little headaches too. For example:

EXPLAIN to some coed why her birthday party was not carried on the front page.

EXPLAIN to an advertiser why it was impossible to get him on page four.

EXPLAIN deadlines five hundred times a day and why you have to have them.

SOOTHE a group who failed to get their news item in the paper.

SOOTHE a person's feelings when his name is left out of a story concerning him.

EXPLAIN why some days you've got news running out your ears and other days the paper reads like the Associated Press owns the joint.

DECIPHER scribbling that comes to you written on check backs, paper napkins, a corner of a math paper or the back of a quiz sheet.

TRY to talk to everyone who comes in, despite being about three hours behind your work.

EXPLAIN to a person arriving late with copy that if you get his stuff in you'll have to leave somebody else out—and then explain to the one you left out.

COPE with page dummies that are anti-social and wallowing in their own importance that can . . . if you can't fill them, keep you from getting a paper in circulation.

AND when the last run is made, you feel a sense of relief— for about five minutes. Then you start explaining why you did this or didn't do that and then before you know it, it starts all over again.

THINK ABOUT IT—Have you ever tried to leave Tech at noon from the parking lot behind the COB and Journalism building? It's like trying to get a quick beer at Post. Why, if the Russians should attack, or a Texas Tornado should be on the way, the people parked on those lots might as well dig holes right where they are. They sure couldn't get out of that place in a hurry.

FOUR STUDENTS AND A VOLKSWAGON TOURING THE U. S. . . . University of Pittsburgh to Texas—quite a trip.

US By VW!

Four U. Of Pittsburgh Students Tour U.S. In A Volkswagon

by CAROLYN JONES
Toreador Staff Writer

Spring, travel, fun! These make a combination that would tempt any college student.

Four enterprising students from the University of Pittsburgh are enjoying all three. Bill Andrews originated the idea of touring the nation in a Volkswagon this spring. Three friends, Dave Johnson, Ken Lucas and Ken Putkovich, agreed wholeheartedly. They had one main problem—none of them owned a Volkswagon.

This problem, which would have stopped less interested students, did not bother them long. Andrews sent a letter to the manufacturers of the little car offering free advertising for the use of one of the cars. The head of advertisement in Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey, thought it was an excellent idea.

A Volkswagon Microbus was provided the students for an unlimited time. Papers were signed putting the car under their name until their return from the trip.

In April, which is the end of one of their semesters, the students prepared for their trip. The University of Pittsburgh operates on a tri-semester system. (There are three semesters instead of the customary two.) A student may go only two semesters if he wants to do so, and this is what they did. Next came the problem of lodging on such an extended tour. Again the four were enterprising. All are members of Sigma Chi, so they made arrangements to stay in the Sigma Chi lodges at colleges in all the cities visited.

On April 20 the trip began. Signs on the Volkswagon aided the advertisement they promised to do. The signs proclaimed, "Students of the University of Pittsburgh seeing America in this Volkswagon." A chart on the back of the car showed how many miles traveled and the amount of gas used.

"As we reached this part of the country, hospitality increased," Andrews said. "We think this is one of the friendliest parts of the country."

Andrews was also impressed with the friendliness of Tech students, especially of the Sigma Chi members who escorted them around Lubbock and the campus.

Their only regret is that they do not have more time to spend in each place. "One thing, we're seeing enough to make us want to come back and see it all when we have more time," one of the travelers commented.

Allowing an overnight stay in each city visited, they plan to be back in Pittsburgh about May 21 to start summer jobs.

"It's all been exciting and very educational," Andrews said.

Therefore, Tech students, when spring and the urge to travel come next year, don't say it's impossible. Do as these students did and "have a wonderful time."

Professional Lauds Tech Architecture

"I believe that Texas Tech has one of the best schools of architecture in the Southwest Region," stated Karl Kamrath, widely known architect from Houston, who is visiting Texas Tech for three days.

TODAY KAMRATH will visit the city planning labs and criticize students' work. He will speak at a luncheon and seminar today at noon in the Tech Union. Wednesday morning he will visit with the fifth year architecture students and discuss their thesis problems.

Concerning Kamrath's opinion on the new Classroom and Office Building, he said, "It does not show as much regional influence as buildings on other campuses." He added that if Texas Tech were to continue using the Spanish Renaissance architecture of its older buildings, they would be hard-pressed to find a capable architect and then the school could not afford to pay for it.

KAMRATH thought that Tech had a nice layout of its buildings with plenty of space between them. He was very favorably impressed with the whole campus.

A Fellow of the American Institute of Architects, Kamrath is also a member of the Texas Society of Architects, American Institute of Architects and Chairman of the Frank Lloyd Wright Memorial Committee.

SOME OF HIS most famous works include the Temple Emanu El in Houston, Dow Chemical building in Freeport, University of Texas Dental Branch and the Supreme Court building of Texas. For these and other works he has received numerous awards and been written about in several magazines including Time and Newsweek.

Kamrath's visiting tour has included the University of Arkansas, University of Texas, and University of Illinois.

Pictures of his selected works are on exhibit in the East and West Engineering building.

Circle K Holds Rummage Sale

The Circle K Club is having its annual spring rummage pick-up today through Saturday.

The pick-up is to collect rummage to be sold at a Kiwanis rummage sale in the fall. All proceeds from the rummage sale will go to the Underprivileged Children's Milk Fund.

Barrels have been placed in all residence halls for the convenience of students who have clothing or other articles which they wish to donate.

A representative of Circle K stated that the reason for the spring pick-up is that so many students are moving home and have clothing they will not be using.

Raiders Battle In Meet Without Star Leg Man

Tech's track team, minus the services of their ace hurdler Bob Swafford, will compete in a Southwest Conference quadrangular meet at Waco Thursday.

Other teams entered in the meet include Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and the host team, Baylor.

Bob Swafford, who pulled a leg muscle in the Kansas Relays, will be unable to participate in the four-way affair.

According to Coach Feathers,

Swafford's absence dims Tech's chances of winning the mile relay, sprint relay and both hurdle events.

W. L. (Dub) Thornton, Raider high jumper, will be in sharp contention with Eddie Curtis of Baylor. Last weekend Thornton and Curtis tied for second place in that event at Drake relays.

The Waco meet is a warm-up for the Southwest Conference meet to be held at Farmington Field in Fort Worth May 13-14.

Palmer Ties Collins on 18th; Playoff Scheduled For Today

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Masters champion Arnold Palmer, golf's top money-winner, banged in two birdies on the last four holes to tie Bill Collins for first place in the $35,000 Houston Classic Golf Tournament.

They will meet in an 18-hole playoff for first prize money today.

In a glittering stretch duel in which Collins never was behind but was twice tied, Palmer shot a 1-over-par 73 on the final 18 while Collins had a 75. The two wound up with 280 totals for 72 holes.

The last holes of the tournament were drama-packed. Palmer, who had birdied 15 with a 20-foot putt and 17 with an 8-footer, then looked at the scoreboard and saw that Collins was tied with him as the result of a bogey on 17. Palmer pitched within 10 feet of the pin on the 18th and could sink it for a birdie and go ahead. He missed.

Collins then came into 18 and 15 feet away. He needed a birdie to win it. He was a foot short.

Collins started the final round with 205 for 54 holes. Palmer, in second place, had 207.

Down the stretch the duo battled and at the 11th hole they were all tied for first place although Palmer had a double bogey on the third hole where he over-shot the green and three-putted.

Cards Dump Pirates, 4-3

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles knocked over the Chicago White Sox 11-6 Monday night on just six hits but the big blow was Jim Gentile's three run homer.

The loss dropped Chicago into a first-place tie with Cleveland which beat Washington Monday night. The Orioles moved into second place, 12 percentage points behind.

Gentile's circuit clout over the right field fence in the sixth inning came with the Orioles out in front 8-6 and gave them three insurance runs. It was his third of the season and boosted the left-handed slugger into the American League lead in runs batted in with 17.

burgh Pirates' nine game winning streak.

Stan Musial opened the winning rally in the ninth with a single and Curt Flood ran for him. Daryl Spencer then delivered his fourth straight hit, a double, with Flood stopping at third. Leon Wagner drew an intentional pass, filling the bases with none out. Face quickly ran the count to 3-0 on pinch-hitter Sawatski, slipped a called strike over, then a fourth ball.

Ronnie Kline, who was traded by the Pirates last winter, went all the way for the Cardinals. He yielded seven hits, including Brooklyn Burgess' third homer with no on in the fourth.

Face suffered his second loss. He has yet to win.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gal Bell pitched six-hit ball and V. Power and Johnny Temple provided clutch hits Monday night. Cleveland edged Washington, 3-1 for the Senators in the 12th for the Senators in the 12th to have played. They have lost six out of seven.

Cleveland's winning rally came in the seventh inning. Singles Russ Nixon and pinch hitter E. Hale and a walk to Walter Boone loaded the bases. With two on Power singled to drive in two runs and Temple followed with another single for the winning run.

Derby Trials Set For Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Calumet Farm, with seven Derby victories to its credit, expects to come up with another contender Tuesday when the Derby Trail is run at Churchill Downs.

Of the 12 horses entered in the $15,000-added race, three carry Calumet's colors: Hillsborough, Pied O'R and Fango.

"Hillsborough is our best bet," said trainer Jimmy Jones. "But he must show me something. He doesn't have to win, just run well enough to encourage us."

If he doesn't, Hillsborough will remain in the barn Saturday when the Derby horses go postward.

The one-mile trial also attracted Command Pilot, Yomolka, Orbit's Top, Efonyli, Beau Purple, Sonny's Sin, Bourbon Prince, Cuvier Relic and Spring Broker, who will be top weighted at 119 pounds.

Jones like many other trainers, figures the Derby will be a two-horse battle between Tompion and Ball's Ache.

Jones said he's giving Bally Ache the edge mostly because of his performance in the Stepping Stone Purse here last Saturday.

The L. D. Fruchtmann colt stepped the seven furlongs in 1:22 3-5, only three-fifths of a second off the track record.

Tompion, the C. V. Whitney hopeful has been taking it easy since moving here from Keeneland, where he won the Blue Grass Stakes handily.

Phi Delts Grab Intramural Track Title

by CHARLES RICHARDS
Associate Sports Editor

The annual intramural track meet held Sunday afternoon on the Texas Tech track was hampered by cold winds and rainy weather, but the field of athletes managed to add two new records to the books.

PHI DELTA THETA, winning 9th relays and furnishing the winner in three other events, won the track meet, scoring 45 points. The Sports Club, with 40½ was second. Amon Burton of Phi Delta Theta was high individual for the meet. He put on an outstanding performance for the fans, winning the 100 yard dash, the low hurdles, and the broad jump. In addition, he ran a leg on the winning sprint relay team.

BOBBY CLINE of the Sports Club broke a four-year-old record in the shot put when he registered a toss of 53'3½" to break the old mark of 52'4". His winning mark was more than six feet over the record best throw of 46'10". The 440-yd. relay title was won by Phi Delta Theta in record time of 44.4 seconds, with the Phi Delts knocking more than a second off the old mark. The old record of 5.5 seconds was set only last year.

THE SPORTS CLUB met catastrophically in the 440-yd. relay, and it eventually cost them the meet title. Leading by six yards on the final leg, the fourth Sports Club runner dropped the baton. Besides the relays and meet win, a new record would have been in the making, as the Phi Delta Theta outsmaneuvered them and set the new mark.

BSU PROVIDED the meet with its runnerup for individual honors. Fannie Connell placed in four events to total 9½ points and win 11 of his team's points.

Bill Carradine, Dorm 7 freshman, won the high jump, by clearing 5'11", three inches higher than anyone else could manage. The high jump was characterized by its usual rash of ties, with ten men sharing the fourth spot.

WEBB CORBIN of Sports Club won the 880-yd. run in the time of 2:14.6 and Jerry Kimbrell, also of the Sports Club, won the pole vault with a vault of 11'6" for two of the better marks in Sunday's competition.

Kimbrell is the defending champion in this event. Last year he leaped 13'5½" to shatter the old record.

THE HIGH HURDLES race was won by Wilson of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. With this victory in the time of 16.6 second-place finish in the low hurdles Wilson gained eight points, enough to place him third among meet scorers.

Phi Delta Theta won handily in the mile relay, finishing a full 4 seconds ahead of the second place SAE's. Theirtime of 3:52.1 was still ten seconds over the record.

TONY DEATHERAGE of the Sports Club won the 440-yd. dash easily as he sped to a 53.5 clocking. In second place was Charles Goodbread of Phi Delta Theta with 57.9 seconds.

SAE won the 220-yd. dash, with Holt bringing home the honors in 24.1 seconds. Lemon of Kappa Sigma was close behind with 25.5 to take second.

ENROUTE to his high point total, Burton approached, but could not quite reach, the record in the 100-yard dash. He ran the century in 10.5.

Burton turned in a good leap in the broad jump also with 21'2½" but the 21-9 standard continued intact for another year.

THE FINAL tabulation of points found Phi Delta Theta with 45 points, Sports Club 40½, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 34 and Pi Kappa Alpha 10.

Others were BSU 9½, Roadrunners 9, Delta Tau Delta 6, Dorm 8 with 6, Dorm 7 with 5, Kappa Sigma 5 and the Runheads 1.

Events and their top places are:
SHOT PUT: 1. Cline (Sports Club) 2. Boeker (SAE) 3. Flanagan (Sports Club) 4. Stafford (Phi Delta Theta), 53'3½". (New recant, 1956).

BROAD JUMP: 1. Burton (Phi Delta Theta) 2. Connell (BSU) 3. Strickland (Sports Club) and 4. Kunstadt, 21'2½".

120-yd. HIGH HURDLES: 1. Wilson (SAE) 2. Connell (BSU) 3-4 (tie) Parker (Sports Club) and Henricks (Dorm 8) 16.6.

100-yd. DASH: 1. Burton (Phi Delta Theta) 2. Gibbins (Phi Delta Theta) 3. Strickland (Sports Club) 4. Williams (SAE), 10.5. (Dorm 7) 2-3 (tie) Connell (BSU) and Simpson (Dorm 8) 4. 10 way tie, 5'11".

POLE VAULT: 1. Kimbrell (Sports Club) 2. Henderson (Sports Club) 3. Fax (Roadrunners) 4. (tie) Freeland (Dorm 8) and Squires (Dorm 8), 11'6".

180 yard Low Hurdles: 1. Burton (Phi Delta Theta) 2. Wilson (SAE) 3. Mitts (Sports Club) 4. Connell (BSU), 22.0

880-yd. RUN: 1. Corbin (Sports Club) 2. Mears (Phi Delta Theta) 3. Crookshanks (Pi Kappa Alpha)

4. Harris (Kappo Sigma), 2:14.6.
220-yd. DSH: 1. Holt (SAE) 2. Lemon (Kappa Sigma) 3. Strickland (Sports Club) 4. Lollemt (SAE), 24.1.

(Sports Club) (2.) Goodbred (Phi Delta Theta) 3. Carder (Sports Club) 4. Daniels (Runhead), 53.5.

440-yd. RELAY: 1. Phi Delta Theta 2. Sigma Alpha Epsilon 3. Roadrunners 4. Delta Tau Delta 5. Pi Kappa Alpha 6. Kappa Sigma, 44.4.

MILE RELAY: 1. Phi Delta Theta 2. Eligma Alpha Epsilon 3. Pi Kappa Alpha 4. Sports Club 5. Delta Tau Delta 6. Roadrunners, 3:52.1.

FORT ERIE, Ont. (AP)—An 84-year-old Toronto clergyman in semi-retirement Tuesday starts a new career — as a horse racer.

After years of planning and waiting, Rev. John Gibson will realize his pet ambition when She's A Gem, three-year-old daughter of Selector starts in the fourth race at the Fort Erie track.

Dupas Takes Stitch

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Clever Ralph Dupas used his speed and boxing skill to win a decision over high-ranked Rudell Stitch Monday night in a 12-round bout between American welterweight contenders.

Stitch, rated No. 2 among the 147-pounders challenging for Don Jordan's title, had beaten the New Orleans boxer last Oct. 7.

A crowd of about 11,000 saw Dupas come on strong after a sluggish start to pile up points against the Louisville fighter who had difficulty reaching his dancing target. Dupas weighed 146½; Stitch 145.

Cowboy Tilt Off

MONTREAL (AP)—An exhibition football game between the New York Giants and the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League for Aug. 29 at Montreal, has been cancelled.

Fernand DuBois, general manager of the Montreal Royals of the International Baseball League in whose park the game was to have been played, said he had been notified of the cancellation.

In New York, Ray Walsh, general manager of the Giants, said he understood the Montreal Alouettes of Canada's Big Four Football League had rescheduled a regular league game for Aug. 29 and the promoter of the exhibition had been asked to be relieved of the date. The Alouettes had objected to the exhibition.

Ex-Giant Dies

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—E. Denver Butch Gibson, 55, who was a lineman for the New York Giants in the thirties, died of a heart attack at his home in North Canton Sunday.

Gibson was on the Giant squad five years, making the all-pro team three times.

Bike Race, Carnival Top Weekend

... riders jockey for positions in big race

Techsians turned into bike peddlers as 19 boys' teams and 22 girls' teams entered the bicycle races Saturday afternoon.

Dorm 8 captured first place in the boys' race followed by Independents No. 1, Pi Kappa Alpha and Phi Kappa Psi. Newman Club won the sportsmanship trophy. In the girls' race Independents No. 1 placed first with Zeta Tau Alpha, Sigma Kappa and Pi Beta Phi following.

The bicycle race was sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, Saddle Tramps and Circle K, campus Kiwanis organization.

Gamma Phi Beta won the trophy for booth making the most money with $37. at the carnival sponsored by the Tech Seniors on the lawn of the Tech Union.

Other booths drawing the crowd's attention were the Zetas' "saloon," the penny pitch by the Phi Psi's and the hoop throwing contest by the Thetas.
