MISD Trustees

Plan Meeting

Monday Night

After formally opening the MISD Board of Trustee meeting Monday night, members of the board will consider the following items:

Under business are to hear audit report from Randy Field and take appropriate action; consider participation in TASB cash management program and take appropriate action; hear preliminary reports from principals regarding TAAS scores and review 1989-90 annual performance report and take appropriate action.

Tax collections and financial reports will be considered.

The board will go into executive session to consider accepting resignations and to employ new teachers and to discuss a disciplinary action.

Take a group of motivated high school students, lead them to numerous victories on the football field, and turn them loose on an unbeaten team for a regional title -- and you have the Lazbuddie Longhorns.

Going into regional playoffs Friday night against the unbeaten Guthrie Jaguars, the 'Horns were rated as the 'underdogs' by all major news media.

But, guess what? Somewhere along the line, the Longhorns were not convinced that they were second-best, and proved that very thing at Smyer Friday night.

They came home with a 50-47 victory over the Jaguars, and advanced in the 1990 football playoffs to the semi-finals.

Six-man football is very fast, very exciting and at times, heartstopping. And that's just what the action was Friday night when Lazbuddie's football coach, C. W. Williams took his team to the regional playoffs.

In the waning seconds of the game, with just :19 seconds left on the scoreboard clock, the Jaguars took over the ball, and after making one play, :11 was left, and the Jaguars tried a desperation pass. Playing Johnny-on-the-Spot was Lazbuddie Quarterback Paul Williams, who latched onto the ball and onto the victory for the Longhorns.

Playing cautious football in the first quarter, the teams knotted-up at 6-6, but by halftime, the score was Lazbuddie 24, Guthrie 19.

And here's how it all took place.

At 6:54 of the first, the Longhorns scored on a pass from QB Paul Williams to Doug Barnes. The 24 yard TD came on a fourth and 13 for the Horns. But, the PAT failed, and the Longhorns had a 6-0 lead.

Some three and a half minutes later, at 3:08 of the first stanza, the Jaguars got on the board on a 13 yard pass from QB Clint Miller to Jamie Barton. The extra point attempt failed and it was all tied up at 6-6.

It took the 'Horns six plays covering 54 yards before Paul Williams made it into the end zone from eight yards out to give the Longhorns a 12-6 lead.

As the quarter ran out, the Jaguars had the ball, but had not added any more points.

On the first play of the second quarter, the Longhorns recovered a Jaguar fumble. From there, it took them another six plays before Paul Williams scored again, this time from the one. Again the PAT failed.

After Guthrie failed to get the necessary yardage for a first down, the Longhorns took over again, and Kirk Jesko raced for 18 yards into the end zone to take a 24-6 lead. The extra point

By Sheryl Borden

Information on microwave oven accessories, cooking fast, nutritious meals, and dolls that care about children will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 27 at 12 noon and Saturday, December 1 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.)

Amy Makemson, representative of the Tappan Co. in Dalton, GA, will explain what gives the most even cooking pattern in microwave oven: a turntable or a stirrer blade.

Karen Babin, home economist with the Rice Council in Houston, TX, has a simple solution to those who are looking for ways to save time in the kitchen and still have nutritious, delicious meals.

Diane Creston, from New York City, will introduce a line of dolls called "Children for Children" that is affiliated with the Save The Children Federation. Ms. Creston will explain how the program works and how the "Children for Children" dolls play a role in the program.

On Tuesday, November 27 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, November 29, at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on making gingerbread and slicing foods.

Stephanie West will share her recipe for making gingerbread, talk about how to cut out the pieces and bake them, and then show some tried and true techniques for making this fairyland creation. Half of the fun comes in "decorating" the houses, because you can make each one unique. These gingerbread houses can even be saved from year to year. Ms. West lives in Portales.

Anne Greer is representative of Cuisinart, a cookbook author and restaurant consultant. She will show how versatile a food processor is and present some of the optional discs that are available for making cutting jobs easier. Ms. Greer is from Dallas, TX.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of materials offered on the show by sending one 25 cent stamp for each handout requested. Send the stamps, along with your name, address and booklets requested to:

GINGERBREAD RECIPE

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. ginger
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. cloves
- 1/2 cup water

Cream butter and sugar thoroughly with electric mixer. Beat in molasses. Blend all dry ingredients. Alternately add blended dry ingredients and water to the butter-sugar mixture. Dough will become very stiff so the last dry addition may need to be blended by hand. Work dough until smooth in consistency. If dough sticks to hands, dust them with flour. (Be careful and do not use too much flour as it will make dough dry and hard.) When dough is easy to work, you're ready to roll it out and make house pieces. If you're not going to make your house right away, wrap dough in plastic and refrigerate. Refrigerated dough will keep for a week, but remove it 3 hours prior to rolling so it softens and is pliable.

Roll out dough on back of cookie sheet. (Lightly coat cookie sheet with vegetable oil or pam to facilitate rolling out dough.) Dust pattern with flour. Lay pattern on dough and with sharp knife cut around pattern. Remove excess dough by lifting it away from pattern pieces. Bake at 375 degrees for 8-10 minutes. While pieces are still soft, place pattern pieces on top and trim edges to shape, if needed. Make at least 48 hours before assembling.

Now imagine how bad you'd feel if you were six years old.

That's exactly how some kids are going to feel this year. They're in shelters, in children's homes, in hospitals, or in families who just can't afford Christmas.

And they'll get nothing for Christmas. Unless you help by becoming a Sunbelt Santa.

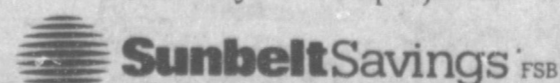

Just bring a new unwrapped toy to any branch of Sunbelt Savings where you see the bright red Sunbelt Santas banner between now and Christmas. For the address of your nearest Sunbelt branch, call 1-800-527-5165.

year ago. To date for the year, Littlefield shows a decrease in total payments of 13.00 percent. They have received $209,501.93 to date this year, compared to last year's total of $240,794.28. From Parmer County, Friona shows an increase, the only one in this immediate area in comparable cities. They are 'up' by 0.59 percent for current payments. They received $10,885.64 for their most recent payment, compared to $10,822.09 at this time a year ago. For the year, they are up by 4.51 percent. They have received total payments to date this year of $102,462.53, compared to the $98,044.39 they had received by this time last year.

Houston received $23 million, the state's largest payment while Dallas received the state's second largest payment of $13 million. San Antonio received $7 million and Austin received $5 million.

Rebate checks to counties totaled $12 million this month for an increase of 19 percent over last year's total payments at this time.

This month's checks reflect taxes collected on September sales and reported in late October by businesses filing monthly returns. Also included in this month's sales taxes payment are sales taxes reported by quarterly filers whose collections reflect sales made in July, August and September.

Merchants collect the state and local sales taxes and send them to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its share and sends cities and counties the local portion of the sales tax each month.

All local sales taxes must be approved by area voters and may be used for any legal city or county expenses. Most areas put their money in the General Fund and use it for operations like fire fighting, maintaining roads and law enforcement.

Tightened up defense saw a see-saw game with neither team advancing the ball very far.

With :54 left in the half, the Jaguars added another six points on a seven yard pass from Clint Miller to Jamie Barton. The PAT was good, and as the halftime clock ran out, it was a 24-19 ball game.

SCAC Honors Local Duo For Project

Student Community Action Club (SCAC) met recently at the home of Kent Oliver. Brian Bush called the meeting to order and Courtney Graves gave the prayer. Robin Berry read the minutes of the last meeting and Galin Latham informed the members that the club had $213.04 in the bank.

Kent Oliver introduced the guest speakers and Citizens of the Month, Maurine Hooten and Cara Juan Schuster. They were presented corsages by Galin Latham and Brian Bush.

These two ladies recently represented the Heritage Foundation at Washington, D.C. in the Take Pride in Your Community competition.

SCAC would like to congratulate the Heritage Foundation on becoming semi-finalist in this competition.

After Mrs. Hooten and Mrs. Schuster shared their experiences in Washington, money-making projects were discussed.

Memberships were also given Erin Kelley, Tami Randall, Lupita Pineda and Monica Swint.

Brian Bush and Kent Oliver gave a short report about the last Heritage meeting. Volunteers were asked to help move items from the log cabin to the Heritage Center.

The Citizen of the Month for November was chosen.

Refreshments were served by the host, Kent Oliver.

SCAC held their next meeting on November 19 at the home of Amy Turner.

the third, the Jaguars took the opening kickoff and inched downfield, making six plays before Heath Adams made it into the end zone from three yards out. The PAT failed, but at 6:52 of the third, the Jaguars took the lead in the game for the first time, with the score showing 'Horns-24-Jaguars 25.

Paul Williams took the kickoff and at 6:38 of the third, added another six points for the Longhorns on a 62 yard scramble. The PAT failed, but the Longhorns took back the lead at 30-25.

Two plays later, at 6:20, on a 52 yard pass from Clint Miller to Lanham Jones, the Jaguars again had the lead at 33-30.

But, the wily Longhorns were not through -- by a long shot!

Taking the kickoff, Kirk Jesko made 10 yards, then the Longhorns added 22 yards in three plays before Paul Williams connected with Doug Barnes on a 38 yard pass. This made it a 36-33 ball game.

At 5:03, the Jaguars received the kickoff and made a good return of 51 yards. Then they bogged down, with a one yard gain and an incomplete pass before the 'Horns recovered a Guthrie pass. Kirk Jesko slammed through the defense line and raced for 45 yards with 2:55 left in the third to the end zone and another six points. This widened the Longhorn lead to 42-33.

Jaguar Stewart Goodlett came through for Guthrie with 1:39 left in the third, and made a 48 yard dash into the end zone, and with a good PAT, the Jaguars drew to within one point at 42-41.

With Lazbuddie in control of the ball, the third ran out with the 42-41 score.

The Longhorns made their final TD of the game at 9:51 of the fourth when Paul Williams lobbed a four yard pass to Leland Brockman. They ended up with 50, while the Jaguars stayed at 41.

At 6:03 of the final stanza, Jaguar Darren Jones made it into the end zone from one yard out, and the scoring ended, with the last six minutes of the game being another see-saw action.

JH Basketball Season Gets Underway

On November 19, the WJHS seventh and eighth grade basketball teams played at Littlefield.

Muleshoe's seventh grade fell to the Littlefield seventh grade by 35-61. Muleshoe's leading scorers were Daniel Garbarino with eight points; Michael Jaramillo, seven points; Josh Slayden, six points; Ernie Paez and Alfredo Gonzales, each with four points and Cyle Marr and Michael Del Toro, each two points.

Coach Tom Duncan said, "On the opening day of the season, we had a track meet, it seemed like, a lot of fast-paced action resulted in the Mules' first young season game.

"After approximately a week of practice or less, both teams defense and hustle impressed me.

"We had a tremendous effort from our seventh and eighth graders last night. It fires anybody up who likes to see "In the seventh grade tussle, two big kids made the difference in the outcome. But, we were just 'plain green' in our first game.

"But, not everyone is a Dominguez or Michael. The encouragement comes in the form of the hustle, sparks of good defense and aggressively pushing the ball up to score, spell good things in sight for both the seventh and eighth grade teams in 1990-91.

"In the eighth grade, we battled them tooth-to-tooth and nose-to-nose and did a great job of hustle.

"What I see out of our experience at Littlefield is that we will need to work hard to gain more patience and smooth confidence. It will be there soon. In both grades we have the ability to have many good things happen.

"I would like to thank the parents and fans who came to Littlefield. A big THANK YOU for your positive encouragement."

Monday night, Dimmitt will be in Muleshoe to play the seventh grade at 5 p.m. and the eighth grade at 6 p.m.

In the Littlefield game, Muleshoe's eighth grade was narrowly defeated, 48-43, by Littlefield's eighth grade.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - With the election of Ann Richards as the next governor, Texas stands on the brink of a new era in state history, one which undoubtedly will see many "firsts."

Richards has already promised that women, Hispanics and blacks will receive enough appointments from her to match their quota in society.

She might appoint the first woman in Texas history to a vacating seat on the Texas Railroad Commission, and she may name one of the Legislature's finest women lawmakers as secretary of state.

Mentioned prominently for secretary of state is state Rep. Lena Guerrero, D-Austin, a top Richards campaign operative who, apparently, is campaigning for the job.

Names popping up for the railroad commission seat being vacated by comptroller-elect John Sharp include Myra McDaniel, the first black to serve as secretary of state; Public Utility Commissioner Jo Campbell; as well as Guerrero.

Also prominent on all speculative appointment lists is former San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros, who campaigned hard for Richards.

Insurance Deregulation?

Sen. John Montford, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said last week he is seriously considering a proposal to remove state controls on property and casualty insurance rates, including those for homeowners.

"I would certainly consider it" the Lubbock Democrat said of rate deregulation, because he is "persuaded that this might be the best solution to getting affordable rates for the consumer."

Montford is generally recognized as the Senate's leading expert on insurance. He wrote major reform legislation in 1989.

The proposal appears to be at odds with Gov.-elect Ann Richards' position on insurance. During her campaign, she suggested extending price controls to health insurance.

A spokesman for Richards said the governor-elect had no immediate reaction to Montford's proposal.

Kay Doughty, the state consumer counsel for insurance, said she opposes the removal of price controls and warned that lifting them would cause rates to "go through the ceiling."

Pre-filed Legislation

On the opening day for pre-filing bills in the coming legislative session, Speaker Pro Tem Hugo Berlanga dropped in one creating a $35 million coastal protection fund, and naming the General Land Office the lead state agency for coordinating responses to oil spills.

Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, wants a tax of two-cents per barrel on oil coming in through Texas ports with a built-in escalator up to ten-cents per barrel to replenish the fund after major catastrophes.

State Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston, filed a constitutional amendment legalizing a state lottery. The idea has the support of the incoming governor and lieutenant governor.

Under the ethics category, Rep. A.R. Ovard, R-Dallas, proposed an amendment limiting state legislators to six terms in the House and three terms in the Senate (12 years), and Rep. Billy Clemons, D-Pollak, filed a bill to prohibit lawmakers from using campaign

"You never miss the water until the well runs dry." "We never think to much about our health until we lose it. Sometimes we spend so much time complaining and griping about things that we can't see how beautiful the forest is for the trees. Let us stop and look around us and make a list of all the things we should be thankful for. We should be proud for so many things. Proud to be an American. Proud to live in the High Plains of West Texas. Stop and make a list of all the plus's and minus's. Be honest with yourself and if you come out with more minus's than you do on the plus side- then sit down and see what you can do about changing the minus's to plus's. We can do about anything that we really want and set our mind to do. You can make the difference.

Let us all be thankful that so far there has not been any military conflict in the Middle East. Let us all pray that all of our young women and men will be home soon, safe. In regard to remembering all of our service Personal all over the world, the Kiwanis Club is proud to display the USA Flag in front of nearly every business in Muleshoe.

We would like to display the flag in front of every business. If you are not one of the businesses that the flag is not displayed in front of, please funds to pay for living expenses in Austin during sessions.

Clemons also filed a bill repulsive to Richards' program, which would ban abortions, require parental consent for minors seeking abortions and require a wife to tell her husband if she gets an abortion.

Bullock Sees Rebound

The Texas economy grew for the third straight year in 1990, and there's hope for industries hard-hit by the oil price bust, Comptroller Bob Bullock announced.

The energy and construction industries began a rebound, and there are signs of recovery in real estate and finance, said Bullock, the state's lieutenant governor-elect.

He also warned that the national picture "is not bright." Economists have warned that a national recession could reach Texas next year.

Another warning of economic storms was reflected in reports that in Houston, the state's leader in recovery, more than 61 percent of total loans by the city for community development projects was in default.

The loans were for projects ranging from housing rehabilitation and small business expansion to redevelopment projects.

Other Highlights

■ John Cook, D-Brackenridge, won election to House District 64 in West Texas by 45 votes, a county-by-county retabulation of votes showed. Cook replaces state Rep. Rick Perry, who was elected agriculture commissioner.

■ A recent Texas Poll indicates 58 percent of Texans think the United States should wait longer before going to war to force Iraq out of Kuwait.

■ The Sunset Advisory Commission recommended making the State Bar of Texas more accountable to citizens who file complaints against attorneys.

■ U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm, who is beginning his second term in the Senate, was elected chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee on a 26-17 vote.

contact me at 272-3553 and the Kiwanis Club will be proud to put the flag in front of your Business.

1990, with all of the things that have gone wrong, this has been and still is a good year. Be thankful for what we have and quit fussing about the things we do not have.

Green Key Admits Students To College

Good Grades and high SAT scores are only the first step toward getting into college. "Every student requires what I call 'The Green Key'" says financial aid expert Lawrence Dreyer. "A student must have not only the grades and the test scores, but also the money he or she needs to unlock the door to college."

"Every year," says Mr. Dreyer, "thousands of students are admitted to the college of their choice and then can't attend for financial reasons. It's sad. And in almost every case, it's unnecessary. Those students could have had the money if they'd known where to look for it and how to apply for it."

"Knowing that the money is available is important," Mr. Dreyer notes. "Knowing exactly how to apply for it is even more important."

Mr. Dreyer, formerly Director of Financial Aid at UCLA, left his position to form the Foundation for Educational Funding, a nonprofit organization that provides information on available financial aid to college-bound students. Using a vast computerized databank of information, the Foundation matches eligible students with available grants.

The Foundation is offering students and their parents a free copy of "The Green Key: Financial Aid For College." The 16-page booklet gives students and parents insight into how the financial aid process really works, and what can be done to improve a student's chances of receiving the maximum amount of assistance.

The booklet provides a candid look at how aid is calculated and dispensed at thousands of universities and colleges around the country.

A free copy of "The Green Key: Financial Aid for College" is available by sending a long self-addressed envelope with 45 cents postage on it to the Foundation for Educational Funding, P.O. Box 241549, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

Cotton Planting May Increase

By Mary Porter

The 1990 Farm Bill may boost Texas cotton acreage by 10 percent next spring--a development that could help beleaguered East Texas wheat and corn farmers but drive the price of cotton down.

And lower cotton prices could put an economic squeeze on High Plains farmers, many of whom depend heavily on dryland cotton crops.

That's a possible scenario envisioned by economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who worry that the planting flexibility provision of the new farm bill could encourage increased production of cotton, leading to lower prices and damage to the state's agricultural economy.

While the new farm bill seeks to reduce their government payments, farmers have increased flexibility to diversify their crop plantings.

This provision, combined with two consecutive years of strong prices for cotton, could stimulate farmers to switch to cotton. Wheat and corn growers have been hit hard by poor crops and weak prices.

Dr. Carl Anderson, Extension economist for cotton marketing, estimates that Texas cotton acreage, which leads the nation, will rise from this year's 5.6 million acres to 6.2 million next spring.

"Cotton is the number one cash crop in Texas," said Anderson. The 1990 crop of 4.7 million bales with an average farm gate price of $300 per bale produced $1.2 to $1.4 billion, he noted, representing more than 10 percent of total agriculture sales in Texas.

Anderson also expects total U.S. cotton acreage to increase from the present 12.5 million acres to 14.4 million next spring.

"Today's farmer is more market-dependent as a result of the farm bill," Anderson said. "Survival depends on taking advantage of market prices. But a small change in supply makes a big change in price."

Extension economist Dr. Ken Stokes in Dallas agreed that market prices will encourage farmers to shift to cotton. "But this increased cotton production could drive down those attractive prices," he warned.

A world drop in cotton prices precipitated by high energy costs and the possibility of world recession would have serious implications for Texas, he said.

"We now export almost as much cotton as we use domestically. If Texas produces significantly more than the market demand, we will have to find export markets for it."

"Current demand, however, is strong," said Anderson. "In November, the department of agriculture revised its estimates upward by 400,000 bales to a total of 15.4 million bales." Expectations of both low stocks and high demand have caused recent strong prices, he explained.

The so-called "triple base" provision in the new farm bill allows a farmer to divert a percentage of his or her base acres to another crop with higher market potential, while maintaining price protection on program payment acres.

"Some farmers will leave the program if the farm bill reduces their price protection safety net too much, especially if they think prices will remain high,"

Anderson said. "That will drive producers out of the government program into 'wildcat' cotton. This has the potential to weaken prices, creating greater instability in the world market."

Anderson also said that a long-term effect will be stepped up consolidation of farms with fewer operators on larger farms. The "little guy" no longer has enough coverage to stay in business.

Anderson said his cotton acreage projections don't account for how much wildcat cotton could swell market supplies. In Texas, any major swings in the cotton market, he said, will affect dryland cotton farmers on the High Plains most severely because they have no alternatives crop.

Both Anderson and Stokes cautioned farmers to seek price protection before switching to cotton acres from other crops. "Cotton demands higher levels of capital, risk, and management expertise in return for its high price potential," said Stokes. "There is no room for error."

Anderson said the East Texas blacklands had nearly 1 million acres in cotton in 1970 but had declined more than 80 percent to only 160,000 acres by 1990. Historically, cotton prices have been volatile, with prices swinging by more than $100 per bale in a single season.

A Look at the Cross on THANKSGIVING

"Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted."

"But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed."

"All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way, and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." Isaiah 53:4-6

Our prayer this Thanksgiving Season is that everyone will attend the house of God, giving thanks unto him for his great gift, which is eternal life through his son.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Open Adoption--Bringing Precious Gift Of Love

National Adoption Week, Nov. 18-24, had a special meaning this year for San Antonio's Methodist Mission Home--and for one very happy Houston family.

In May, the HOME became the first full-service agency in Texas to lift the veil of secrecy surrounding adoption. In a progressive move, seen by many adoption experts as the "wave of the future," Methodist Mission Home has begun offering fully disclosed "open" adoptions.

In a fully disclosed adoption, the biologic parents--or "birthparents"--select adoptive parents for their baby. The birthparents and potential adoptive parents then meet to share full information about themselves and to plan for the baby's birth.

A Houston couple was the first to complete the new open adoption process at the Methodist Mission Home. Their joy over their new baby girl--Laura Grace--and their enthusiasm for open adoption are clear:

"We're extremely lucky," says Geoff, looking down at his sleeping daughter. "The whole process went very smoothly and we felt so comfortable with Laura Grace's birthmother from the minute we met her."

The high school junior had picked Geoff and Ellen after reading profiles of several potential adoptive parents. The three got together at Methodist Mission Home in August, to get to know each other, share family stories and photographs and discuss their hopes and dreams for their child. After that first meeting, Geoff and Ellen traveled to San Antonio every weekend to be with the young woman who would give birth to their child.

The baby was born in San Antonio in early September. Geoff and Ellen arrived at the hospital an hour after the birth and were able to hold their new baby immediately.

For them, open adoption has been an exciting and emotional experience and they are strong advocates for doing away with the secrecy surrounding adoption.

"The most important thing is that Laura Grace won't have to wonder about who she is or where she came from," says Ellen. "She will know her birth family and she'll know how much love went into their decision."

What about the one question that nearly everyone asks: Are they afraid that the baby's birthmother might show up on their doorstep someday wanting her baby back?

"Knowing Laura Grace's birthmother the way I do," says Ellen, "that doesn't worry me in the least. She said to us in the beginning that she had picked us to be the baby's parents--and that she would never want to disturb the family she helped to create."

Geoff and Ellen hope that Laura Grace's birthmother will become a "special friend" to the family--someone who will share in the special moments and milestones of their child's life.

Watching her tiny daughter sleeping on Geoff's shoulder, Ellen recalls the intense emotions she and Geoff felt on the day the baby was given to them.

"You feel your joy and the birthmother's pain," she says.

In a placement ceremony in the Chapel at Methodist Mission Home, Geoff, Ellen and their birthmother exchanged tearful hugs--and they traded poignant mementos of the journey they had taken together.

Laura Grace's birthmother had dressed her in a family heirloom--a beautiful pink crocheted top that she herself had worn home from the hospital 17 years ago.

Geoff and Ellen, in turn, gave their baby's birthmother a silver necklace symbolizing the precious gift she had given them--and Laura Grace.

The design? A simple and enduring Tree of Life.
