Jury Is Deadlocked In Bigamy Case; Defense Claims Victory As Clements Announces Appeal

State Presents Witnesses To Prove That DeBusk Has Married Two Present Tech Co-Eds; Defense Scores When Wrong Woman Is Identified As First Wife

A jury of 12 men was unable to reach a verdict in the trial of Manuel DeBusk on a charge of bigamy, tried in the High Court of the Pre-Law club, Friday night, November 18. When the sheriff returned with the report of a hung jury, seven being for acquittal and five for conviction, Chief Justice Clyde James stepped in and the jury was discharged. After remaining locked in the jury room for four hours, the jury returned and the foreman announced that it was hopelessly deadlocked. Justice James dismissed the jury, and Sheriff Weldon Coppell cleared the court.

No arrangement has been made concerning a new trial. The defense attorneys, Smith, Nickers and O'Neal, claimed a technical victory, as the defendant can not be convicted as long as the jury is hung. Prosecuting attorney, Canon Clements, stated, "A renewed attempt will be made to place DeBusk in the pen where he belongs, and where he will no longer prey on society."

Prexy's Paragraphs
BY BRADFORD KNAPP

Thanksgiving Holiday is at hand. For many of the students it will be an opportunity to visit home. It will be a brief rest and recreation for all. America is practically the only country in the world where we get aside a day for giving thanks. Truly in this section we have much for which to be thankful. The harvests have practically been finished, and while this country, as well as the world, remains in a distressed condition, nevertheless there is food to eat in most of the homes of this great section. This season has been a wonderful one—the soil, the rainfall and the sunshine have combined under God's Providence to bring us the food which insures life and gives hope.

If you go to your homes, convey to your parents something of your own feeling of deep thankfulness for the sacrifices they have made in your behalf. You will never understand the full measure of their love, but if you attempt to do for you until you have grown older in years and have had to assume the responsibilities they bear at this time. I beg of you in words to make manifest to your fathers and mothers, or those who have been responsible for your opportunities here at Tech, some degree of appreciation on your own part for what they have done. Remember a little bit of their pleasures and visit with them. Try to find out how the home fires are burning and what their sacrifices have meant. After you have done this, be thankful for all the blessings that have come to you.

The saddest thing in the world is to find one who fails to take advantage of his opportunities. There is an old theory that opportunity knocks but once at your door. Possibly that is not quite literally true, but it is true that you cannot neglect your opportunities and expect them to be constantly offered. They come again and again. The greatest thing in life is to know when the opportunity presents itself and to be ready for it. Prepare, the great French scientist, once said, "Chance favors only the prepared mind." The task of education is just this task of preparing your mind. If the favors of chance are to come to you, your mind and character and personality must be ready, and therein lies opportunity and chance. If you are to be the favored one, be prepared.

Come back from the Thanksgiving vacation fully prepared to do your best for the last of this term. There are only three weeks between the Thanksgiving vacation and the end of class work before Christmas. It is altogether probable that examinations will begin on the sixteenth, extending to the twenty-first. This is the test.

The test of an average student is one who is able to absorb the material presented in a course of instruction and to reproduce that material accurately and consistently. It is only the less than average student who has difficulty in reproducing what he has learned. The A grade or B grade student not only reproduces the subject matter, but does it with greater ease and is able to reason from the principles learned, when a new set of facts are presented, and reach a proper conclusion. If you have neglected your work, you may have difficulty. If you have absorbed it from day to day during the term, you ought to be able to meet the test on final examinations.

I hope we may have a convocation of our students just before examinations, probably on December 15. It is impossible to have a convocation before Thanksgiving because of certain hearings before the State Board of Education on November 22.

Woodrow Little, who has been receiving treatment at the West Texas hospital for an infected ankle, was dismissed November 20.

Miss Nora Ellen Elliott, a senior in the home economics school, has as her home guest this week, her sister, Miss Betty Elliott of Dumas.

Band Sweetheart To Be Presented

Starting a new custom in Tech, the band will present their sweetheart at a dance Wednesday night in the gym. She will be dressed in a new military cut uniform.

Ned Bradley's Varsity band will furnish music and the dance will be similar to an "all college" one. It will last from 9 to 12. Bids may be had from any of the executive council: Henry Godeke, Fred Fairly, Roger S. Knapp, Dale Vannoy, W. F. Hughes, Lynn G. Gordon, or may be purchased in the lobby on the night of November 23. Admission is 75 cents for dates and $1 for stages.

Money raised at this dance will be used to purchase new uniforms for the band. They hope to get them by the first of next term.

Due to the fact that the various social clubs have aided the band during the fall term, the musicians decided no club girl could be a candidate. This idea was carried out in the election. The winner of the contest is a freshman. She took part in the Aggie Rodeo and is a brunette.

Dr. A. L. Strout Spends Seven Months In England Studying At Edinburgh University And British Museums

Regardless of how the animals may feel about it the college hog barns and polo stables occupy a conspicuous place on the officially approved list of Tech rooming houses, and Tech students are living in them today. So far no complaints of late hours have been received at any of the deans' offices, but this quiet acceptance of collegiate ways may be attributed to the dumbness of the quadrupeds.

The greenhouse and heating plant have also been included in the list, but insensitive plants and too sensitive wires have not yet given the lodgers any disturbance.

Matadors To Meet Cowboys On Tech Field Tomorrow; Special Train Is To Bring Fans To Tilt

Game Is Annual Event Between Two Strong West Texas Teams On Thanksgiving Day; Simmons Holds Edge Over Matadors On Past Games Played

For the seventh time, the Texas Tech Matadors and the Simmons Cowboys will tangle on Thanksgiving Day in the annual football game between the two teams.

When the two traditional rivals renew their grid relations tomorrow evening on Tech field, it will mark the end of the season for the two squads. The Cowboys are one up on the Bullfighters as they have three victories to the Matadors' two. In their first meeting in 1928, the two eleven battled to a scoreless dead-heat but Tech came back the second year to trim the Bulls, 10 to 6. The following year, the Matadors bowed to the Cowboys by a 19 to 0 count and succumbed to the Cowboys in 1929 and 1930 but redeemed themselves last Thanksgiving Day by a 6 to 0 score when big Murray Nichols plowed through the Cowboy line for the only score.

Dark Passages! Labyrinth Underlies Tech Campus

Huge pipes underground. Wires charged with 2300 volts of instant death. Dark passages beyond the light areas. Rats scuttling from hide-aways.

The tale of the network of tunnels underlying the Tech campus is not a myth. A perfect setting for any "Phantom of Crestwood" mystery can be found at the base of the college flagpole—if the digger only goes deep enough.

Tradition has it that in years gone by verdant freshmen were dumped in at the manholes and left to wander out by themselves, thus standing a courage test that no person need be ashamed of. Today, however, goes deep enough.

Table has been overcome by reality, and now they are the centralized medium of distribution of heat, electricity, and insulated conversation throughout the campus.

Annual Dance Held Friday

Modernistic Motif Is Carried Out In Decorations; Jones, Simmons, Maddox, Loughridge Weilenman In Charge

The annual Engineers' ball was given Friday night from 9 until 12 in the U. P. Town dance palace. About 250 people, including members of the engineering society, their guests, and dates, were present.

After the dance, the dance floor through a modernistic turnstile in the shape of a star which bore the insignia of the society. A beamed ceiling effect was obtained through the use of a crepe paper canopy in colors of blue and gold. Ultra-modern shades covered the light fixtures. The word "Engineers" was spelled out in an electric sign at the foot of the orchestra platform.

E. C. Simmons and Merle Jones were on the decoration committee and Don Maddox, James Loughridge and Don Weilenman were in charge of arrangements.

LET'S BACK THE MATADORS

Thanksgiving day marks the close of the most successful football season that Tech has ever had. Out of the eleven games played, there has been only one defeat. This is an enviable record for any college. This season has made a name for Tech throughout the entire football world and it is recognized as a power.

Tomorrow, the Fighting Scarlet and Blacks will meet with the Simmons Cowboys. Simmons is one of the oldest and worst enemies that Tech has had. Sports writers and dopesters predict an easy victory for the Matadors. They are probably right, but the team will need the support of the students no matter how easy the battle might be.

Many of us want to go home for the Thanksgiving dinner and enjoy a few days of rest, and so do the members of the team. Why not wait until after the game tomorrow and then all of us will be free to celebrate. We should stay with the team until the last whistle blows and then enjoy the holidays with the Matadors, instead of leaving them to fight it out alone.

Let's all postpone our trips for one day and help make this a perfect season by fighting with the team against Simmons.

Let's back the Matadors.

THANKSGIVING

It is an old story about how, after the first harvest was gathered and food was stored away for the winter months, the first settlers in America paused to give thanks to the Supreme One for the many blessings that He had bestowed upon them. From this has developed our present Thanksgiving Day custom.

This year, there are many who might find it hard to give thanks, because of financial reverses and the like. But let us not think of the disagreeable things. Let's turn our thoughts to the multitude of things for which we can give thanks.

Are we not thankful for having friends and loved ones? Are we not thankful for having food, clothing, and shelter? Are we not thankful for having a chance to attend college and to better fit ourselves to meet the problems of life?

There are dozens of things for which we can give thanks. Let's try to brighten this shadow of gloom that has dominated our beings and pass a cheerful word on to those we meet who are less fortunate.

Aptitude Test Is To Be Held

Date For Event Is December 9; Test Is Required By Medical Schools; Thirty Students To Take Quiz

Medical aptitude tests as administered the last two years by the committee of the association of American Medical colleges, have been scheduled for December 9 at 2 o'clock in room 101 of the Chemistry building.

Last year the tests were taken by 9173 students of 257 colleges. Thirteen students of Tech took the test. Dr. R. C. Goodwin, head of the chemistry department, believes there will be thirty students this year.

Approximately 90 per cent of the approved medical schools of the United States use this as a factor in the selection of students. Those who plan to enter a medical school in 1933 should arrange to take the test. A student who will have completed all the pre-medical requirements in time for entrance to a medical school in the fall of 1933 may take the test now. It will only be given once this year.

At the present time he is field assistant with Cornell University.

Mysterious Mike Moses Around

Well them ENGINEERS shore put on a purty good dance last Friday nite. Most of them SLIP-STICK fellers have one date a year and that is when they throw the ANNUAL BALL. . . . two and two ain't five. I seen DUANE ORR, S. A. COUBINS, B. MANIRE, ORDIS FORBIS, and AKE LOUGHBRIDGE courtin'.

Seen GAIL QUINLAN and JESSIE ROGERS courtin' in the back booth at DAVE MARTIN'S. Guess that history does repeat itself. And MUSCLE-BOUND MANLEY stayed at home. And then, . . . Ah . . . and then, MUZZLEFLITON HARBER can more dance in corners, and the one was WON to nothing 'til BANK GODEKE started playing "BLACK and TAN" thing—by special permission of the copy-right owners. Another score was 39 to 6. ME and MOSES shore do wonder why JELLY BROWN didn't take his real date to the Engineers dance? Well them WRANGLERS threw a football dance Saturday nite and RAY MORE said that they shore did have sweet music. I guess that it is a good thing that they did have good music. And ADRIAN CLARK is my pal. I wonder why the SANS SCOUTS didn't have their dance this past week-end. We hope they have decided to quit giving these fish gals the big-head. Wasn't that gray good, or, as DEAN GORDON'S son LYNN GRAY would say, "have you heard that joke about the SCOTCHMAN?" Well them WRANGLERS shore am nice fellers. JOE CLAYTON has more fun than nearly any one I have ever snoped on. There am a lots of people tryin' to find out who old MIKE is, especially the LAS CHAPS. Well, that is just something else they won't know. But they might talk somebody into tellin'. All of us want to stay here THANKSGIVING and see them MATADORS give the SIMMONS COWBOYS what they need, and to run their scores over 400 points. I'll see you THANKSGIVING.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"
THE PILGRIM'S FIRST WINTER
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Herbert Rose, celebrated painter...inspired by the bitter hardships endured by America's first settlers in their conflict with raw, wild nature (1620). "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies—that's why they're so mild
WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Matadors Are Favorites To Beat Simmons

Game Is Seventh Tilt Between The Schools; Five Seniors To Finish Eligibility On Turkey Day

When the Tech Matadors line up against the Simmons Cowboys on Tech field, it will be the seventh annual meeting of the two teams on Turkey Day.

At present, Simmons holds the edge over the Matadors in games won and lost. Last year, Tech went to Abilene with a fine team featuring Jack Durham, "Shorty" France, Harold Crites and Murry Nichols. The teams scuffled up and down the field and in the last half, Nichols plunged through the Simmons line for the only score.

Matadors Favored
In comparative scores, the Matadors are over whelming favorites to take the game Thursday. Simmons had trouble defeating Trinity University last year. The Matadors ran over the Tigers 7-0. Friday, Simmons beat Austin College 16-0 and Tech scored at will against the East Texans to run up a 64 to 0 score.

Despite the poor showing of the Cowboys, the season will be a success if they slip up on the Matadors. Tech had been defeated only once during a handpicked schedule of 11 games.

Veterans To Finish
Five Tech seniors will play their last game for Texas Tech on Thanksgiving Day, barring a post season tilt. Carl McAdams and "Speedy" Moffett, quarterbacks will direct the team for the last time. McAdams has not lettered before and probably will get a sweater this fall. Moffett has been a first string quarterback for the past three years. Bill Teal, Ross Ayers, captain, and Harold Crites will hang up their equipment for the last time following the game. Teal has been a regular for three years. He has been slowed down this year by a leg which was broken by the Haskell Indians last fall. Ayers was appointed captain by Tech coaches last fall. He has played his full share of games during the past three years and has been one of the reasons of the strong play of the Matadors line during the current season. When Crites ends his eligibility, he will leave a hole that will be hard to fill. For three years, the powerful fullback has been the backbone of Tech backfield and he will be sorely missed.

Tech Defeats New Mexico Lobos 39-6 In Final Conference Game Of Season; Matadors Run Wild

Crites Runs 65 Yards To Put Game On Ice; Lobos Score On Tech Varsity; Fans See Blocking Team Demonstrate

BY BOB TRACY
Toreador Sports Editor

The Texas Tech Matadors, that romping bunch of Red Raiders or any other name that you may pick out to tack on them that signifies the out fightingest crew of gridirers in the southwest, arrived at Albuquerque last Friday, saw the situation and then conquered a determined bunch of Lobos by a 39-0 score. The victory marked the tenth of the season and ran the seasons total points up to 370 points. A homecoming crowd of 3,000 fans saw the Texas boys with one of the best exhibition teams played in this section of the country this year.

Living up to the advance dope that the Matadors would run rough shod over the New Mexico team, the game was never less during the full sixty minute period. Long gains of from 15 to 35 and 40 yards, helped the Cowboys to lay the Lobos aside. The fans had expected to see a smooth running grid machine in the Tech team, but did not expect to see a wholesale scoring spree such as the Matadors put on for the homecomers. The outcome of the Lobos-Tech clash virtually clinched the mythical Border Conference championship for Texas Tech unless the Tempe Teachers of Tempe, Arizona, who have lost only one game to date, lay claim to the title.

Sheek Troops Start
Coach Pete Cavthon ran in his second string of Raiders to start the game and they pushed over a touchdown on a series of line plays from mid-field before the period ended.

The Lobos momentarily fared better with the Tech regulars, who went into the game with the expectation of the second period, than they did with the subs. Taking the ball in mid-field, the New Mexicans opened a drive that wound up in a touchdown. A Boyd, halfback, scored the tally. Joel Cross missed the try for extra points.

Lobos Fight
The homecoming crowd into spasms as the Lobos displayed a disposition to carry the fight into the Matador camp but their enthusiasm sank as low as the bottom of the ocean when Crites, Tech fullback, broke back and raced 65 yards to the Lobos goal. Before the half had ended, the Matadors had carried the pigskin on another long journey and ran the score up to 21 points. In the third period the Lobo outfit displayed an inspired brand of football and held the Tech team scoreless.

In the last frame the Matadors began slashing at the forward wall and romped over the New Mexico eleven at will, scoring 18 points. McElroy intercepted a Lobo pass and raced 45 yards to the payoff stripe. A pass, McElroy to Crites, who gathered in the pigskin and ran behind perfect interference for 61 yards, netted the Matadors another touchdown. Curfman, on a line plunge, scored another, making the final score 39-0 in favor of Texas Tech.

Wilson, Gilmore, also a Matador Haller, was second with 11 points. Green looped six points to lead the Army five. Thomas of the Army turned in the outstanding defensive bit at center.

The Army line-up included Jessie Holmes, and "Stoops" Bryant, at forwards, "Bulldog" Hale and Greer at guards, and Thomas at center.

In the Matador Hall line-up was "Lefty" Bryant and Polk Robinson at forwards; Wilson Gilmore and Demp Cannon at guards; and F. Gilmore at center.

Tech Picadors Beat Wayland

Frosh Make 22 First Downs As Baptists Are Snowed Under; Davis Kicks Extra Points; Slimes End Season

BY LOMAR NELSON
Toreador Sports Staff

Displaying a versatile offense and an airtight defense, Tech's rampaging Picadors concluded a highly successful season Thursday afternoon on Tech field by crushing Wayland college, 43 to 6. The scrap marked the fourth consecutive triumph for the slimes.

Running behind a fast charging line, the frosh leather luggers, featuring Ted Wilson, Brode Puckett, J. V. Beachamp, and Ray Brandon, smashed, dashed, and passed to roll up 425 yards from scrimmage and 22 first downs as compared with 51 yards and four first downs for the Jackrabbits.

Fish Get Hot
After playing listlessly in the first half, during which time they made only one touchdown and allowed one to be registered against them, the Picadors came back fighting in the last half to amass 37 points and to completely subdue the junior college eleven.

The freshmen started up the touchdown trail when Brandon recovered a Wayland fumble on the initial kick-off return on the 33-yard line from where Wilson finally plunged it over.

Wayland's lone tally came a few minutes later as a result of a "hidden man" play. Pearce, a Jack-rabbit back, faded back and heaved a pass to Durham who had hidden out near the side line. The pass netted 62 yards and placed the ball on the slime 1-yard line. A Wayland back went over for the counter.

Long Run Is Made
Three touchdowns and a safety came in the third period when the future Matadors marched to a touchdown from midfield and later from the 4-yard mark; Puckett rebounded a 40 yard sprint to the Wayland 2-yard line from where Wilson crossed the pay-off stripe. Joe Barlow, a frosh tackle and a transfer from the Haskell Indians, blocked a Playview punt for a safety.

Early in the final frame, the Picadors drove 82 yards for a touchdown with Kincaid, Beachamp, and St. John totting the ball. J. V. Beachamp, signal changer from Greenville, grabbed a jackrabbit punt and zigzagged 92 yards for the last counter.

The final gun found the Picadors on the Wayland 18-yard line. Big Gaines Davis, a guard from

Cage Playoff Being Held To Find Winners

First Game Is Played Monday Night; Championship Is To Be Determined Tonight In The Tech Gym At 7:30

After four weeks of basket tossing, 12 intramural basketball quintets ended the scramble for points last Friday night, leaving the army, Matador hall, fish liberal arts, and the senior aggies to fight it out for the championship. Originally 16 teams were entered in the tournament.

The play-off started Monday night between bracket champions with "Lefty" Bryant's Matador Hall dribblers pitted against "Stoops" Bryant's army hoop artists. Tuesday night Tom "Too Tall" Easley sent his senior aggies against the fish liberal arts, captained by Silme Norris. Winners of these two games clash tonight at 7:30 at the Tech gym for the championship.

Three Are Undefeated
The army, senior aggies, and Matador hall emerged from the race with a clean slate, each annexing six victories. The fish liberal arts finished with their recordblemashed once, losing to the pre-med five by default, while chalking up five wins.

The play-off promises some close contests as the teams appear to be evenly matched. In the army line-up appear such court veterans as "Stoops" Bryant, "Bulldog" Hale, Jessie Holmes, and Tracy Watson; Matador hall players include "Lefty" Bryant, Demp Cannon, Polk Robinson, and the Gilmore brothers, while the fish liberal arts have Norris, Wilkins, and Briscoe. The senior aggies also boast of several basketball luminaries.

Members of the winning club will be presented with eight silver basketballs.

Under The Double "T"

BY BOB TRACY
Toreador Sports Editor

First downs usually decide which team shall be the winner of a football game, but did you notice how the first downs went in the Rice-T. C. U. game last week, Jack Meagher's Owls were so determined to fight a stubborn battle against the Frogs that they failed to take advantage of the breaks and let a game that should have been theirs. The mistake of fighting for a moral victory probably cost them the game. Rice has certainly won her share of victories by the moral route in her day. Anyway, its good to know the "feathered flock" ruffled up enough to punch a few holes in that great senior line of the Horned Frogs.

Tomorrow the Matadors of Texas Tech meet the Simmons Cowboys for the seventh annual game. This game heretofore has been one of the main struggles on the Matador's schedule and by all means it is still as important as it used to be. First in importance is the fact that the seniors would have if the Tech boys went out there and beat a team that has beaten Tech three times in seven games. Next, it would be a fitting climax, or end we should say, to the greatest of all seasons in Tech's history. Then again, Cavthon and his footballers have a chance to keep their defeat column blank for the second consecutive year on the local field. This is fast becoming a tradition as is that of the Aggies and their famous Kyle field.

Speaking of the Aggies, you are all aware that the oldest annual football classic in the state is to be played tomorrow on Memorial Stadium in Austin, Texas. People, if you have ever been to one of these games, you probably were impressed with the spirit that was spurred on by the tradition and alumni of both the state institutions. Maybe you will get a seat next to an oldtime Aggie, and if you ever saw any enthusiasm and pep in the older generation, you would certainly see it on a large scale there. He may yell his lungs out or start out before the game with a story that begins, "When I was a fish here back in '07."

At last year's Aggie-Lanphorn clash, a delegation of fans from Sealy, Texas, home of Ernest Koy carried a large banner into the stadium with the inscription, "Sealy, Texas, the home of Ernest Koy." After the Aggies took the Texas team to an old fashioned cleaning, the Aggies were seen carrying another banner. On it was inscribed "Ernie Koy, the boy from Sealy who died from Dominque poisoning.

The homecoming game over in Albuquerque must have been a real picnic for the Matadors last week. The boys have come back with the reports that the New Mexico school showed the locals every courtesy in the world. Homecoming Lay over

Tech Ranks With The Best In Points

Matadors Score 370 Points To Opponents' 23 In Games This Season; Gains 3,004 Yards To Opponents' 737

Texas Technological college of Lubbock, Texas, is probably the highest ranking school in the United States in points scored as they make preparations to ring down the final curtain on the 1932 gridiron season when they play Simmons university on Matador field Thanksgiving day.

With ten victories out of eleven games played, Coach P. W. Cavthon has steered his team through the most successful season in the history of the school. One of all the contests this year, the Matadors have piled up 370 points to the opponents 23. This record is now the leader of all the major colleges in the nation. Texas Tech, so far, has beaten Arizona university's Wildcats, the Mustangs of Southern Methodist, the Baylor Bears, and the University of New Mexico Lobos.

Besides victories over these three teams, the Matadors have shown their power in defeating the strong Colorado Miners and Notre Dame's "B" team, in two of their hardest games this season. The summaries given below are complete with the exception of the Colorado Miners game played at Denver and the New Mexico game last week. First downs: Tech, 196; opponents, 44. Yards Gained from scrimmage: Tech, 3004; opponents, 737. Passes: Tech has completed 61 out of 94 attempted for a total of 720 yards, and the opponents have completed 29 out of 97 tries for a total of 385 yards. Total points: Tech, 370; opponents, 23. Penalties: Tech, 739 yards; opponents, 285. Punts: Tech has punted 53 times for an average of 35 yards or a total of 1855 yards, while the opposing teams have kicked 100 times for an average of 34 yards or a total of 3400 yards. First returns: Tech has returned 38 times for a total of 418 yards, and the opponents returned 18 times for a total of 217 yards. Touchdowns: Tech, 50; opponents, 2. Extra points: Tech, 27; opponents, 2. Safeties: Tech, 2; opponents, 1.

There was just like a homecoming for the Matadors. D. M. McElroy provided entertainment for a number of people in a cafe after finding a picture of Speedy Moffett in the Albuquerque paper. The Dallas boy took the picture and walked over to the cigar counter, and used a cigar lighter for a microphone and proceeded to tell the world of the wonderful performances of Moffett on the gridiron.

Did you notice the cartoon in the Dallas paper last Sunday? It was pretty clever the way that artist put the proposition up to the Southwest Conference officials. Both Tech and Centenary were sketched making fun the conference door, and the teams were hidden inside just hoping that they would go away.

Intramural football season will soon be here, and the men that have been sitting around the hot stove will get a chance to play a few of their games in reality. Many good football players have been discovered by their coaches as a result of their intramural schedule.

Matador Hall Cops Cage Tilt

Army Is Eliminated In First Round Of Bracket Playoff; Robinson Is High Point Man And Wilson Gilmore Second

Matador Hall's maple court artists won the first game of the intramural play-off Monday night by defeating the Army cagers, 33 to 17.

The defeat was the only suffered by the Army dribblers through out the tournament and eliminated them from further competition.

The half ended with Matador Hall holding a slender 9 to 8 lead, but the score began to mount in the last half as Robinson and Wilson Gilmore began to hit the basket with monotonous regularity. Army sharpshooters were unable to capitalize on their numerous shots. The Army staged a desperate rally in the waning moments which went for naught. Polk Robinson, Matador Hall forward got his crisp shots and clicking and rang up 13 points to be high point man of the game.

Wilson, Gilmore, also a Matador Haller, was second with 11 points. Green looped six points to lead the Army five. Thomas of the Army turned in the outstanding defensive bit at center.

The Army line-up included Jessie Holmes, and "Stoops" Bryant, at forwards, "Bulldog" Hale and Greer at guards, and Thomas at center.

In the Matador Hall line-up was "Lefty" Bryant and Polk Robinson at forwards; Wilson Gilmore and Demp Cannon at guards; and F. Gilmore at center.

Chesterfields are Milder

Chesterfields Taste Better

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. Their mildness is just as much a feature as the beauty of their package.

The tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient ageing and curing make them milder still. And Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."
