Tech Directors Seek Permission For Law School

Approval of a six million dollar contract is the only thing standing between initiation of construction of two new dormitories on the Texas Tech campus.

The contract, largest ever in Tech's history, was approved by a unanimous vote of the Tech Board of Directors, which met here Friday and Saturday in its regular fall meeting.

Contract for the residence halls—one for men to house approximately 1,000 and one for women approximately 800—was awarded to H. A. Lott, Inc., Houston.

Another item on the agenda vied with the contract for interest, however. A split vote okayed a motion by member Alvin Allison to seek permission from the Commission on Higher Education for a law school at Tech.

Harold Hinn seconded the motion and J. Edd McLaughlin and Floyd Woolridge voted in favor of the proposal with C. I. Wall the only member opposing. Two members abstained from voting.

Wall based his objection on the wording of the motion, which stated only that the board should seek permission for the school.

"I feel before we go to the Commission on Higher Education we should have a complete report on the additional cost which would be necessitated by the school because of necessary buildings and additions to the faculty," Wall said.

"I can assure you we're not going to go up there half-cocked," Allison answered. "This is just a start."

Board chairman Manuel DeBusk, who has a vote only in case of a tie, asked that the record show that he too was against the motion, not because he was against a law school at Tech but because of the reasons outlined previously by Wall.

Earlier, the board had heard an appraisal of all aspects of Tech's athletic program by athletic director Polk Robison.

Robison, in a 10-page report, told the board there are several encouraging developments in his department "despite the disappointment with the record of our 1962 (football) season." The Red Raiders won only one of ten.

In reference to the past grid season, Robison said Texas Tech coaches were faced with many problems which were not evident to the general public.

He expressed optimism over this season's freshman teams and red-shirt program (where athletes are held out of competition during a season but still retain their eligibility) and said next year's team should be "the strongest since the Gator Bowl team of 1953." Tech was 10-1 that year, defeating Auburn, 35-13, in the post-season bowl.

The board heard Robison say Tech could have had a winning team this season had it carried on the same type program a few other schools are—which entailed violating a few rules in recruiting and season starting dates. "But we did not feel this was the type program you wanted at Texas Tech.

In other items, directors also:

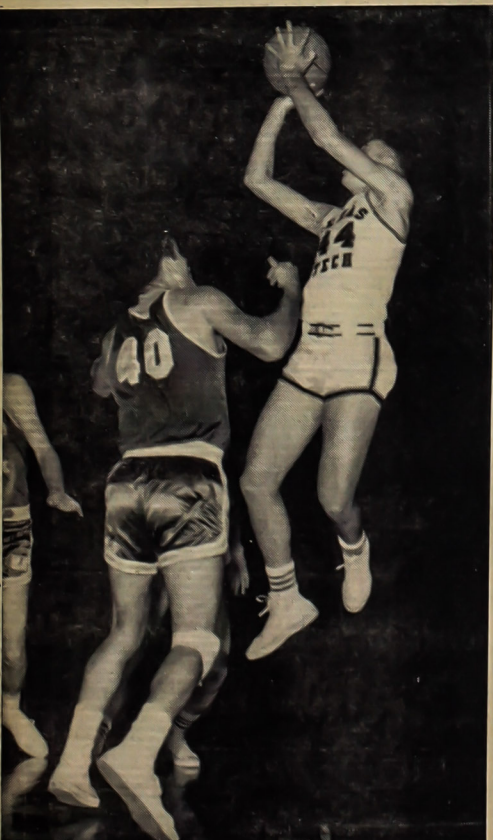

- Approved deletion and addition of several courses both on the undergraduate and graduate level.

- Unanimously voted to award an honorary doctorate during spring commencement to Cal Farley, founder of Boys Ranch, near Amarillo.

- Directed the college administration to study the possibility of adding schools or departments in the fields of education, nursing and pharmacy and possibly others.

- Gave approval to the first annual Texas Tech Water Conference in February and to the full-scale operation of a water research program at the college.

- Ordered a study of the need for separate, modern dining and study facilities for athletes.

Forensic Events Begin In Three Categories

The speech intramurals, first of three such programs, will be conducted in the Aggie Memorial Auditorium at 7 p.m. today.

The intramurals will consist of three categories — duet acting, Bible reading and prose reading. The speech department is sponsoring the event.

The preliminary rounds in Bible and prose reading will begin at 7 p.m. The finals in those contests will be at 8:15. The contestants in these two events will perform twice.

Duet acting will begin at 7 p.m.

with only one round being held in this event. First, second and third place in each event will receive points.

A total of 45 to 50 entrants are expected to be on hand for the contest. Seven different organizations have entered. They are Pre-Law Club, Phi Beta Phi, Alpha Psi Omega, Sock and Buskin, Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta.

The judges for the contest will be Lubbock residents.

The second and third speech intramurals will be in February and April respectively.

Tech Coed Captures Scholarship

Glenda Miller, Tech pianist and senior music major from Amarillo, was awarded the first annual Browning Memorial Scholarship in competition last week.

The scholarship carries an annual stipend of $400 and is the largest available scholarship in the Tech music department. It was created by Miss Eva Browning of Lubbock as a memorial in honor of her parents, the late Judge and Mrs. R. J. Browning.

Qualifications for the scholarship include musical talent, character, leadership and financial need.

Student runners-up in the competition for the scholarship were Mark Pair and Bonnie Apple.

Cadets, Angels Attend Area Conclave In Austin

Tech's squadron of Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight attended the Area G-1 conclave in Austin Dec. 7-9.

The AAS, honorary service organization of outstanding Air Force ROTC Cadets, attended meetings at Bergstrom AFB, Austin. Cadets attending from Tech were James C. Akers, Wayne L. Harrison, Joe W. Barnhart, Jerry Casstevens, Pat Markham, Bill Mercer, George Metcalf, John Murphy, Ronald Ryno and Bill Tomlinson.

Angel Flight, accompanied by Capt. Bill J. Williams and Capt. Albert Wilson, attended their conclave on the University of Texas campus. Flights from Oklahoma State, Baylor, East Texas State, Texas, Southwest Texas State and Tech attended the meeting. A total of thirty girls representing these schools were present.

Among the subjects discussed at the meeting were money-making projects, a trip to Colorado in the spring, transportation, a drill meeting in the spring and publicity.

Lt. Col. Fala, representing Col. Lindly of AFROTC, gave a talk on Air Force position and responsibility. Important points Fala brought out in his speech were (1) a need to develop a lively interest in professional work in the Arnold Air Society, (2) a need to learn the skills and attitudes necessary to survive in our troubled world and (3) to encourage within ourselves a tranquillity of spirit which will enable us to successfully carry out our duties.

Motions introduced by Tech's Angels at their meeting pertained to future area drill meets and unanimous support of Oklahoma State for national headquarters in May. Oklahoma State has been national headquarters for the past year.

In addition to the regular meetings a dance was given Saturday night with the combined Army and AFROTC cadets.

Angel Flight members from Tech who attended the conclave were Dana Pope, Pat Deason, Carolyn Wood, Kay Haldy and Kay Dudley.

Awards Board Elects Burton

The College Awards Board of Texas Tech elected officers at its last meeting.

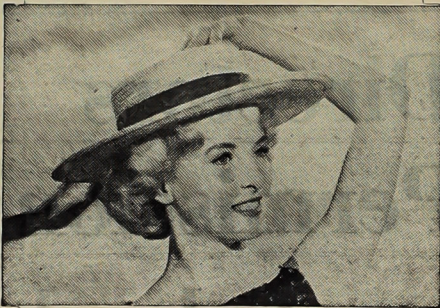

The officers are Amon Burton, chairman; David Gattis, vice chairman; Stanley Timmins, secretary and Sherell Bell, publicity.

The Board met yesterday at 2:30 to discuss the best plan for getting nominees for awards. The board was established by the president of the college in order to give recognition to deserving students who, because of their efforts, had given an additional dimension to Tech, according to James Allen, Dean of Student Life.

These awards are given to those who would not in any other way be officially recognized. The awards are based on individual or group contributions to the college.

Amon Burton and Stanley Timmins are on the committee to devise a plan for getting recommendations for consideration.

Spokesman Announces Broadcast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency plans a running account of Mariner 2's "fly-by" of Venus on Friday afternoon — including broadcast of the radio voice of the space probe as it whizzes within an expected 19,000 miles of the planet.

But, while it expects to get a check on the condition of the spacecraft, including its temperature, hurtling some 26.3 million miles from the earth, the agency does not expect to have details on Mariner's findings about Venus "for at least weeks and possibly months" after the space probe makes its nearest approach.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration told a reporter this Monday. He said it would take that long to analyze the data accumulated by Mariner's various scientific instruments as it approaches the planet, passes it, and then continues on in an orbit around the sun.

The plans for filling the public in on this historic event:

There will be a news conference at Washington headquarters of NASA, beginning at 2 p.m. Friday — just about an hour before the fly-by — that is, the closest approach — which is expected at 3:01 p.m.

During the news conference, a "hot line" — open telephone line — will be established between Washington and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., where signals from Mariner are being received.

Reporters should be able to hear the voice of Jack James, Mariner project director at the laboratory passing in information to Dr. William Pickering, laboratory director, who will be at the Washington news conference.

At the moment of fly-by, scientists at the laboratory will feed the radio "voice" of Mariner to the news conference whence it should be heard over television and radio networks.

Buckingham, Burton Attend Conference

Lynn Buckingham and Aron Burton will leave Wednesday for the Student Conference on National Affairs being held Wednesday through Saturday at A&M.

Student representatives from more than 80 universities in the United States, Canada and Mexico will hear outstanding speakers give lectures and lead discussions on the national and international problems. The students will discuss population problems, economic systems, nuclear weapons ban and the United Nations.

Miss Buckingham is a journalism major. In her activities at Tech she is secretary of Delta Delta Delta social sorority and member of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism society. In 1960-61 she was society editor of THE TOREADOR; and junior View editor of La Ventana.

During 1961-62 she was a foreign exchange student to Sweden. She has won the Tri-State Press Association Scholarship.

Burton, a history major, is chief justice of the Tech Supreme Court, a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity and Delta Phi Alpha, German professional fraternity.

During 1961-62 Burton served as president of the Campus Religious Council and he was one of Tech's nominees to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Miss Buckingham and Burton were chosen as Tech's delegates from among nine students who made applications for the appointments.

LBJ VISITS TEXAS

AUSTIN (AP) — Vice President Lyndon Johnson will speak at a noon rotary club luncheon here Tuesday and then fly to Fort Worth for another talk Tuesday night.

Range Society Gives Awards

Two Techsians were honored as outstanding range management students this weekend at the annual meeting of the Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management.

James E. Biediger of Moore and Jack M. Prichard, Sherman, were presented Outstanding Range Student Awards during the meeting Friday and Saturday in San Angelo.

Dr. Thad Box, associate professor of agronomy was appointed secretary-treasurer and editor of the society's newsletter for the coming year.

Next year's meeting will be in Lubbock.

Search Teams Find Victims

CARMICHAELS, Pa. (AP) — Search teams found more torn bodies and greater destruction Monday as they probed deeper into a blast-shattered coal mine where 37 men were entombed Wednesday.

Nine bodies were sighted and eight of them recovered, bringing to 16 the number of miners accounted for. Hope was slim the other 21 would be found alive.

The findings bore out predictions by officials that larger groups would be found as searchers advanced closer to the working face of the mine some 650 feet underground.

Livestock Show Provides Excitement

HERE'S HOW YOU DO IT . . . says Geri Pirkey to Connie Mitchell as she practices for the Milk Maid contest. The contest is part of the agriculture department's Little International to take place here Saturday. —Staff Photo

By EUGENE YOUNG
Toreador Staff Writer

Sportsmanship, entertainment, excitement and lively bidding will be in store for spectators and buyers Saturday at 1 p.m. in the Livestock Judging Pavilion when the Block and Bridle Club presents the 15th annual Little International Livestock Show.

Guys and dolls and even professors, will be competing for top honors in activities which include the championship contest, the milk maid contest, the faculty harnessing contest and the blue ribbon ham sale.

This year's Little International will be in memory of James F. Boyd, senior animal business major from Fort Worth, who was killed in an automobile accident during the summer.

First on the agenda of activities will be livestock judging. Five divisions of livestock will be judged: (1) beef cattle, (2) dairy cattle, (3) sheep, (4) swine and (5) quarter horses.

Judging will be based on the students' ability to fit and show the animal, not the individual animal's showmanship.

A winner will be chosen from each division, and the Grand Champion will be selected from these five winners.

At 2 p.m. over 10 Tech coeds will contest speed with skill when they vie for the top spot in the Milk Maid Contest. In the hilarious and entertaining contest, the contestants will have three minutes in which they try to coax a cow into giving as much milk as possible. This can prove to be a battle of the cow feels she is not being treated with care. Swishing tails and flying hooves can also cause a hindrance.

Entries for the Milk Maid Contest will end Thursday.

Two Percheron horses and a mule will add excitement to the contest when they meet professors from the animal husbandry department. The event will be the faculty harnessing contest. Each team, composed of two staff members, will try their skill at untangling a mass of harnesses and fitting them to the proper horse or mule.

This contest will get underway at 4 p.m.

"Hey, who'll give me $5? . . . Do I hear $15? . . . $15 goin' once . . . goin' twice . . . sold to the gentleman in the red shirt." What can be livelier than the cries of the auctioneer at an auction? Ken Bozeman, auctioneer, will return to auction off 85 hams at the 7th annual Blue Ribbon Ham Sale at 5 p.m., the final event of the Little International.

A minimum bid of $15 will be asked on each ham. The Grand Champion Ham and the Reserve Champion Ham will be the highlight of the bidding. Last year the Grand Champion Ham went to Durward Lewter for $100. H. D. White had the high bid of $32.50 for the Reserve Champion Ham. The hams were bought, cured and smoked by the Block and Bridle Club.

Ribbons will be awarded to five places in each division of the livestock show. The winner in each division will be awarded a banner. The grand champion trophy will be awarded to the student whose animal shows the best results of good fitness and showmanship.

There is no admission charge for the day's activities.

Instructor Breaks Up Discussion

Suzann Davis, attractive — and bachelor-type — instructor in the government department, had some minor difficulty Friday in naming the Defense Department's weapons systems.

Miss Davis was discussing the problems of national budget and as an example was attempting to outline the department's expenditures. Missiles and airplanes were mentioned and in trying to name a few, she said, "The Polaris is a missile they use, and . . . Oh, I know there are some more."

With that, a bright fellow in the rear of the class said, "The 'Hustler' (SAC's B-58 Bomber)."

Without thinking, Miss Davis, halfway in another world, came back with, "Oh, I'm not familiar with the 'Hustler'." Thereby breaking up the class.

Nonaligned Nations Meet

COLOMBO, Ceylon — Six nonaligned nations friendly to both India and Red China met today seeking to bring peace to the Himalayas without taking sides in the undeclared war.

Fears that the future of the African-Asian political structure was at stake were clearly evident as delegates met from the United Arab Republic, Ghana, Indonesia, Cambodia, Burma and Ceylon.

Ghana's justice minister, M. A. Ofori Atta, suggested the conference take a direct hand by making recommendations if New Delhi and Peking fail to reach a settlement of their boundary dispute.

Other delegates expressed more caution and warned about getting directly involved in the conflict.

Red China's Premier Chou EnLai sent a message to the delegates, contending that Peking has "always held that it is desirable and entirely possible to secure a fair and reasonable settlement of the boundary question through peaceful negotiations between India and China."

India did not send any message or delegate to the conference.

U.S. Launches Explorer Satellite

WASHINGTON — The space agency said today it may attempt as early as Wednesday to launch an Explorer satellite from Wallops Island, Va.

It will carry instruments to gather data on the micrometeorite impact hazards for manned and unmanned spacecraft.

If the Explorer achieves orbit, it will be the third successful satellite launching from Wallops on the Virginia coast, 120 miles southeast of Washington.

Negro Pastors Promote Boycott

PHILADELPHIA — Negro pastors have called on this city's 150,000 Negro householders to boycott A&P food stores until demands are met for hiring and promotion of Negroes.

A spokesman for the selective patronage program said 400 ministers here told their congregations not to patronize the food chain until further notice.

The Rev. Leonard Carr said ministers in Atlantic City, N.J.; Wilmington, Del.; and Scranton, Pa., also told their congregations to boycott A&P. He said pastors in Camden and Trenton, N.J., and Reading, Chester and Allentown, Pa., have indicated their support.

He said ministers told their congregations that no Negroes work in the company's office of more than 2,000 employees. They told the parishes that only a token number of Negroes has been employed in stores as checkers or cashiers.

Pravda Uncovers Interparty Quarrel

MOSCOW — Pravda, the Communist party paper, published Monday statements by non-Russian Communists accusing the Chinese Communists of trying to split the Socialist camp. The effect appeared to be to bring Soviet-Chinese interparty quarrel into the open here.

Up to now Pravda has published attacks on Albania, with the implication that it was Red China at which the blows were aimed.

But Palmiro Togliatti, head of the Italian Communist party, and Antonin Novotny, head of the Czechoslovak party, aimed blows directly at China in their party sessions last week — and Monday Pravda published them, naming Red China.

Scientists Receive Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Five scientists — four Britons and an American — who have pried open the door to life's innermost secrets received 1962 Nobel Prize gold and honor here today. A sixth scientist got his prize 700 miles away in a Moscow hospital room.

The "Cambridge Clan" took the lion's share of awards this year. The venerable British university, at which three of the Britons and the American did their important research work, this year shut out the usually dominant California institutions.

But California had its great moment at the traditionally glittering ceremony, where Sweden's King Gustaf VI Adolf, just turned 80, distributed the awards for the 15th time.

John Steinbeck, California's author, went forward to receive the literature prize, a diploma, a medal and a check for $49,656.

Soviet scientist Lev Landau was presented the prize for physics in a Moscow hospital, where he is recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident that left him in a coma for months.

Rusk Declines To Accept Soviet Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the United States and its Western Hemisphere allies cannot accept "any Soviet military presence" in Cuba as a normal situation.

Rusk said thousands of Soviet troops are still in Cuba although the Soviet government has indicated they will be withdrawn. Their presence is a matter of great concern to the U.S. government, Rusk said.

At his first public news conference here since July, Rusk also:

1. Said the controversy over U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson's role in making Cuban crisis policy last October would not cause other officials to hold back advice from President Kennedy. He dismissed the issues involved in the Stevenson controversy as trivial.

2. Reported the United States is trying to work out with its NATO allies agreed guidelines on nuclear strategy.

UN May Apply U Thant Plan

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Robert Gardiner, head of U.N. operations in the Congo, warned Katanga President Moise Tshombe today that the United Nations intends to apply in the period immediately ahead, all phases of the U Thant plan to reunite the Congo, and "such other steps as may prove necessary."

The United Nations also charges responsibility for fighting in north Katanga squarely to Tshombe.

Reds Refuse To Register As Soviet Union Agents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party goes on trial Tuesday for refusing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union — another round in a 12-year battle with the federal government.

Gus Hall, identified by the Justice Department as general secretary of the American Communist party, charged the trial "violates the Constitution of our country and denies the American people their right of political choice."

"For the first time in the history of our country," he added, "a political party has been brought into a criminal court and put on trial."

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, however, contended that the 1950 subversive activities control law, also known as the internal security law, did not outlaw the Communist party.

The law, he said, "found that the party is a Communist-action organization, substantially controlled, dominated and directed by the Soviet Union and therefore is required to register with the government."

He noted that since 1938 agents of foreign governments, including those who are American citizens, have been required to register with the Department of Justice.

If convicted, the party is subject to a $10,000 fine for each day it refuses to register, and refuses to provide names and addresses if its officers, names of its members, and information about its financial operations.

Dist. Judge Edward M. Curran on Oct. 21 denied a motion for dismissal of the charges on the grounds that registration would violate the Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination.

Attorneys argued that if the party is forced to identify its members and register, it would in effect be admitting that it intended to overthrow the U.S. government.

This, they said, would lay its members open for prosecution under the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to belong to an organization advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Memphis Bombs Raiders

Picadors Win Over HC, 80-71

Tech's fast-moving Picadors ran their season tally to three straight wins in the Municipal Coliseum Saturday night, turning back a good Howard County group, 80-71.

The contest was sparked in the last minute of play by a short-lived scuffle between Tech's Russ Wilkinson and Lou Balenton in the center of the court after a Tech cager had been fouled. The incident was cooled quickly, however, but both Wilkinson and Balenton were ejected from the game.

Little Dub Malaise was again the top scorer for the Picadors, but his 23-point total was seven below his season average going into the contest. Walter Carter also pushed through 23 points to pace the Howard County Junior College club.

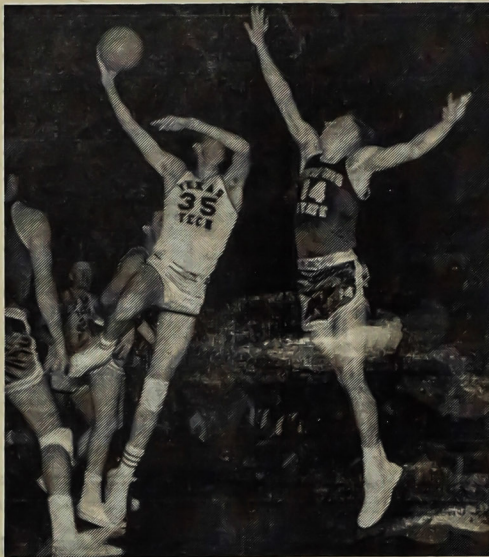

Dave Olson and Norman Reuther both earned 13 points while big James Adams collected 12 for the frosh. Bob Measles and Billy Tapp both contributed five tallies, and Wilkinson added the other nine points.

The Picadors, leading by a scant 86-35 at halftime, jumped to a nine-point lead, 49-40, with 15:03 remaining in the game. Two buckets and a three-point stunt put the Jayhawks within two, but Tech rallied and never was headed.

Tapp added four points in the last minute of play and Malaise accounted for the final two tallies to push the scoreboard to 80-71.

The frosh got off to a slow start first half, trailing by as much as 12-6. Then the talented Picadors began to make their move. Fast breaks by Malaise, Reuther and Tapp, along with some uncontested baskets by Adams gave Tech equal footing with Howard County's more experienced quintet.

Howard County's Ernest Turner drew four fouls with more than two minutes left in the first twenty minutes and the Jayhawk made a hasty exit, giving the Picadors a bit more breathing room.

Red Raider Swimmers Dunk Baylor Saturday

Texas Tech's varsity swimmers churned to a 76-19 victory over the Baylor Bears in a dual meet at Waco Saturday night.

Karl Keith paced the Raider win, collecting two individual first place awards. Keith swam to a 4:06 mark in the 200-yard individual freestyle and also took a first in the 100-yard butterfly with a 1:06.7 clocking.

The sophomore-laden Raiders took eight first places in the competition, allowing the Bruins only one first — in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Saturday the tankers will compete against Southern Methodist University, defending SWC champions, in preparation for the upcoming Southwest Conference Relays scheduled later this month in Dallas.

Results of Saturday's competition:

400-yard medley relay—1. Tech (4:16.3) Steel Grim, Jewett Schmidt, for Tech.

200-yard freestyle—1. Bill Spahn (2:10.8), Tech; 2. Mike Vohn, Tech.

50-yard freestyle—1. John Hunter, Tech (23.5); 2. Parker, Baylor; 3. Dickie Haase, Tech.

200-yard individual — 1. Karl Keith, Tech (4:06); 2. Phil Simpkins, Tech; 3. Washburn, Baylor.

100-yard fly — 1. Keith, Tech (1:06.7); 2. Spahn, Tech; 3. Jim Wright, Baylor.

100-yard freestyle — 1. Phillip Simpkins, Tech (53.3); 2. Dickie Haase, Tech; 3. Porter, Baylor.

100-yard backstroke—1. George Steel, Tech (1:03.4); 2. John Kott, Tech; 3. Arnett, Baylor.

500-yard freestyle—1. Schmidt, Tech (5:58.0); 2. Bohn, Tech; 3. Veynus, Baylor.

100-yard breaststroke—1. Jewett, Tech (1:16.5); 2. David Wright, Tech; 3. Wright, Baylor.

Tech Drops Fourth; State Wins By 79-66

By JIM RICHARDSON, Toreador Sports Editor

Texas Tech's Red Raiders bowed again Monday night, 79-66, this time to a nationally-rated Memphis State squad that ruined the scrappy Tech five with fast breaks and a guy named Bob Neumann.

The sharp-shooting Tiger put 25 points through the basket, 17 of them in the first half to pace the visitors to the win. Tech's Sid Wall scored 23 points to give the Raiders an outside chance until the last five minutes of the game.

Old-timers can't remember when Tech lost three straight basketball games in the Municipal Coliseum. The records show four losses against no wins for the season.

With fifteen minutes left in the contest, the Raiders began to make their strongest bid for the lead. Wall hit a jumper to pull the Tech squad within eight points, 50-42. Seven minutes later Bobby Gindorf made good on a three-point play to cut the margin to 57-50. Harold Denney closed the gap to four with a crisp with 6:35 left to give the Raiders spark with only a 60-56 deficit.

But then the Tigers put on the steam to pull steadily to the final 13-point victory.

Denney trailed Wall on the scoring finals with 15. Glen Hallum had nine and Royce Woolard, Bill Murren and Gindorf were all knotted with four points each.

Larry Garber and Hunter Beckman had 14 each for Memphis State.

The Raiders got off to a good start and mounted a 6-3 lead on a jump by Wall. A free throw and a jumper by Beckman, along with a tip in by Neumann, put the Tigers ahead by two, 8-6, and the visitors were never headed after that.

Tech scored only 12 points in the next ten minutes while the Memphis State group scored numerous successes on jumps by Neumann, Beckham, Hillman and Garber. With 10:40 left in the half, the Raiders trailed by ten, 22-12.

Neumann was a stalwart for the Tigers in the initial stanza, pushing through 17 points. Garber contributed eight for the fast-moving Tigers.

Wall tallied nine points to lead the Raiders, with Denney getting seven and Hallum eight. Tech connected on 11 of 33 attempts during the half for a 33.3 percentage. Memphis State put through 18 of 35 tries for a much better 50 per cent average.

Tech fared better at the free throw line, hitting 12 of 16 for 83.3 per cent. The Tigers managed only seven points from the free throw mark in 10 attempts.

The visitors had only four more rebounds at halftime than the Tech five, 24-20.

Little Bill Murren scored on a long jumper with a minute left to pull the Raiders within nine points, 39-30, and that was as close as Gibson's charges could get.

Grid Teams Threaten To Pull Out

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Gotham Bowl football teams—Miami and Nebraska—threatened Monday to pull out of Saturday's game in New York unless $60,000 is put into escrow to guarantee their expenses.

In response, the game's director, Robert Curran, predicted in New York that the game would be played and would be successful, with an attendance of more than 30,000.

Curran declined comment, however on the demands for an escrow deposit, saying, "We always keep financial arrangements to ourselves. We let the schools make their own announcements."

"We're not a fly by night organization," Curran said. "We have a very good credit rating with the NCAA."

"We have rented Yankee Stadium, and we have hired the Hotel Astor's grand ballroom for the awards dinner Saturday night."

Last season, the Gotham Bowl game drew only 15,000 fans but paid the competing teams, Baylor and Utah State, a total of $100,000 within 32 days.

Except for that performance, Miami's athletic director Jack Harding said he wouldn't have kept his patience this long. Neither Miami nor Nebraska has received a contract so far.

Both Harding and athletic director Williams H. Dye of Nebraska said their teams would require a minimum of $30,000 for expenses. Dye said the Nebraska squad will not leave the campus until the money has been put up.

Santa Visits Union Party

All members of the Tech faculty and all married students having children under eight years of age are invited to bring their children to the children's Christmas party Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Coronado Room of Tech Union.

Santa Claus will be there to give Christmas surprises to each child, and Nell Anne Walker, chairman of Hospitality Committee in the Union, will read a Christmas story.

Further entertainment will be provided by two Russian Christmas cartoons which will be shown to the children.

Refreshments will be served, and the children will have time to meet each other and talk to Santa.

The Christmas party is one of the big events given this year by the Hospitality Committee. Miss Walker says "We are looking forward to the party, and have been working hard on the plans." Ginny Higgins is the assistant chairman of the committee.
