

Moonlight-Romance Theory Exploded

By VIVIAN BROWN AP WRITER

NEW YORK. — Stay out of the moonlight, girls, if you want to win that man. Moonlight in the park or woods or on a deserted street—everyplace but on the water—is the worst possible light in romance. It has a ghost-like quality, says John Alton, one of Hollywood's outstanding photographers. He thinks the mood of mystery created by deep shadows and strong highlights from the moon suits romantic atmosphere.

But if you can lure that man to the water, and the moon happens to shine, well then, girls, you've got something. The water will filter it, he says, turning it into musical form that does spell romance. He says:

"Successful women of the world in every generation have been conscious of light. Cleopatra never appeared in public except in light that flattered her. Rita Hayworth, Marlene Dietrich, Joan Bennett, always have been conscious of the light—and they always have been surrounded by men."

If you go to the beach with your beau, be sure you sit under a beach umbrella, especially at high noon. Strong lights created by conflicting light sources—beach, water, sky, sun—create shadows. But don't leave the beach early because, just before sunset—when the light turns to orange—really is your best bet. Good on mountain tops, too, he says.

Aboard ship your best light is immediately after sunlight with the beautiful "hypnotic quality" of light coming from the east.

Carry a mirror with you at all times is Alton's advice, and wear a hat with a brim. Men adore them because it casts a soft light upon the face and keeps direct harsh sunlight off the face.

In restaurants sit away from lights than hang directly in the open—they will add 10 years to your age, and lights from below give "criminal light" illumination. Low candles are terrible, too, he says and continues:

"All women think candle light is romantic. But it isn't. Candles were never made to be put between two people. They should be like other light, used on the side at eyes height, not above or below, or else the human countenance does not seem normal."

Many a woman, he says, has lost her husband because of bad light on the breakfast table. If she was smart, says Alton, she never would put her breakfast table at the window—where most breakfast nooks are, unfortunately—to create mountains and valleys on the face. And, who looks good in the morning? he asks. Whether we have too little or too much sleep, wrinkles and heavy eyes are more prominent, then.

This can be corrected by using Venetian blinds at the windows, Alton says. Twenty-five reflectors create 25 shadows, each one a reflector of light. Lace curtains and nylon screens also can turn light into a beautifying quality. Make tests with your mirror, he says, but never trust another woman to tell you how you look!

Alton, who has just written a book on "Painting With Light," says that during the summer pink light increases naturally. So if you want to keep that man who is visiting you from developing wolf tactics, use light with a bluish tint. His pulse rate is high enough on a hot night without adding to the excitement with warm light.

In the winter, however, it is just the opposite. Give him plenty of pink light. It will heighten the romantic atmosphere in the home and your success will be inevitable—if you keep him in a pink glow, of course.

SOIL CONSERVATION

Work Started For Pasture Irrigation

Land preparation for irrigating improved pasture grasses started last week on irrigated farms of cooperators with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, Edmund Tom, supervisor in Zone 1 has announced. Among cooperators who started leveling their land and building borders were Walter Kelly, Dr. Claude Thomas, Leon Hull, Roy Powell and C. C. Davis at Stanton, and B. E. O'Neal and Dr. K. F. Campbell of Midland. The irrigation farmers will plant improved pasture grasses on their land early in September Tom said. They are using level border systems for more efficient water application to save soil and water.

J. H. Wolf, district cooperator in the East Coahoma soil conservation group, plans to plant 32 acres of cover crops in September. As soon as he gets the moisture Wolf will plant 20 acres of Abruzzi rye in sand middles. He will seed 6 acres to a mixture of Abruzzi rye and Dixie Wonder peas at the rate of 4 pounds of peas to 25 pounds of rye. He will inoculate the peas with the proper culture of nitrogen fixing bacteria to insure good growth of the peas and production of nitrogen in the soil.

Wolf is using the rye and Dixie Wonder peas for cover crop to protect the soil from blowing, improve the land by adding nitrogen and organic matter and to furnish winter grazing. Soil improving cover crops are only part of the coordinated soil conservation program followed by Wolf.

Youth Wins Battle Over Hookworms

DALLAS, Sept. 1. — Billy Gill apparently has won his battle with hundreds of hook worms which almost killed him.

The 13-year-old Gilmer lad, who came to Parkland Hospital four weeks ago, expects to be released soon. His doctor says Billy has received nine quarts of blood plasma. After the transfusions strengthened his system, he was given treatment to kill the hook worms infesting his body.

First Seeded NBC Team Defeated

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 1. — Fort Wayne is still the team to beat in the National Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament.

The Indiana club, winner of the past two national tournaments, defeated the top seeded Bellingham, Wash., Bells, 6 to 4, last night. It was Fort Wayne's fourth victory against no defeats in the double elimination tournament.

In other contests last night, the Tuscaloosa, Ala. Indians trounced the Hummelstons, Pa. Motormen, 11-0, and the Weimar, Tex. Herd-er Trunkers blanked Sycamore, Ill., 5-0.

Tonight's schedule includes Milwaukee, Wis., vs Weimar, Tex. (fifth round, loser eliminated).

Legion Inviting Veteran Units Here For Centennial Celebration

Full participation in Military Day of Big Spring Centennial week has been voted by the local American Legion post, and already members are busy working on plans for the occasion.

Letters are going out to some 300 Legion and VFW units over the state inviting these to have representation in the Military Day parade and in other activities of the day.

To encourage such participation the local post will offer a trophy to the best marching unit in the parade, a trophy for the best musical unit, and a special plaque to each post which is represented

TOKYO, Sept. 1. — Yasuo Kobayashi, 27, got the only job he could find—waiting around town carrying a billboard.

That upset his wife, Katsuko, 28. This was no job for the son of a former Japanese army lieutenant general, she said—and left him.

Yasuo added to his sign this advertisement of his own: "Bright and cheerful wife wanted. Would-be groom 27 years old."

Eight candidates applied. Trudging his rounds today, Yasuo said if Katsuko did not return by the end of October he would marry one of the eight.

TAFT AFTER REELECTION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—Republican Sen. Taft says he's not a candidate for the 1952 presidential nomination — and the only thing he's got his eye on is the 1950 Senate race in Ohio.

He said last night in a radio interview that he expects to spend the next three or four months touring his home state to "tell them why I voted for this and that."

He is running for re-election in Ohio next year.

Murder Jury Is Near Completion

SURRENDER COMING?

Truman Sees Slackening In The 'War Of Nerves'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—President Truman said today the war of nerves between the Communists and democratic nations is slackening up very much. He expressed hope it would end in surrender as did the World War II shooting conflict.

The President made the comment at his news conference on the 10th anniversary of Hitler's invasion of Poland. He did not say so but implied that the surrender he hoped for would be that of the foes of the democratic nations.

Asked for comment on the anniversary, Mr. Truman said he was exceedingly happy that the shooting war did not continue and regretted that it was followed by a war of nerves. He said he hoped the war of nerves would end likewise in surrender.

When a reporter asked what he meant by surrender, he said he meant just that.

Later on, Mr. Truman said he was hopeful that the war of nerves will cease soon. When it does he said everybody will then be in a mood for peace, the United Nations would then work as it should and we should have generations of world peace.

But he had nothing to say about Soviet troop movements in the vicinity of Yugoslavia. Secretary of State Acheson described those yesterday as part of the Soviet war of nerves.

Six Oysters Work Same As An Apple

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—Six oysters a day will help keep the doctor away.

The word comes from the Fish and Wildlife Service. In its annual announcement heralding the start of three-months oyster season, the agency said an average serving of six oysters will supply:

1. More than the daily requirements of iron and copper.
2. About half the requirements of iodine.
3. About one-tenth of the needed protein, calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, vitamin 1, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin.

"To make a completely rounded meal from a nutritional standpoint, only additional sources of calories are needed," the service said.

Acheson Pledges To Look Again At The Oil Import Situation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—Seven Texas congressmen have won from Secretary of State Acheson a promise to "reexamine" the situation on oil imports.

They had protested the State Department's stand on the matter weeks ago minimized the dangers of foreign importation of oil.

The Texans told Acheson yesterday imports of foreign oil were causing the domestic oil industry to suffer greatly. After a conference with the secretary, Rep. Gossett (D-Tex) said the Texans would seek help in Congress unless the State Department gives some relief.

Reps. Fisher, Poage, Thomas, Worley, Lucas, and Mahon were in the delegation with Gossett.

Gossett said in a statement they urged on Acheson "necessity of administrative relief and protection."

"We took exception to the State Department's release some weeks ago in which they minimized the dangers of foreign importation and reflected upon the Texas Railroad Commission administration of conservation law," the Texan said.

Ferns And Flowers New Tools In Research For Cancer Cure

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW LONDON, Conn.—Beautiful ferns and flowering plants are providing science with new tools in studies aimed at helping unravel the mystery of human cancer, a Harvard biologist said today.

Dr. Ralph H. Wetmore said recently-developed techniques employing such plants opened up the possibility of studying certain aspects of growth and development in a manner now impossible or difficult.

Plants provide a better means than animals for studying certain subtle changes in tissue development that may occur as a result of various influences that can be brought to bear by researchers, he said.

"And it is the hope of various investigators carrying on such studies," he added, "that they will lead to new insight into the particular factors involved in producing the wild growth of cells known as cancer."

Dr. Wetmore made the statements in an interview on the eve of a symposium to be held at Connecticut College here by the Society of Study of Development and Growth.

The Harvard scientist is president of the society—the only scientific organization in the world specifically dedicated to the study of growth, both normal and abnormal.

More than 100 American and European scientists are here for four-day discussions which Wetmore said would embrace, among others, such subjects as:

1. The role, in growth, of body chemicals known as "nucleoproteins";

These are complex substances of all body cells. It is believed they are a main constituent of "genes"—the tiny carrier of hereditary traits in the body. It is believed, too, that nucleoproteins are close to being the very "keystone" of life—that is, substances that are right at the barrier between matter that is living and that which is not.

2. The challenging problem of human, animal and plant "hormones." These are chemical "messengers" which are associated with many important processes, including one of the big questions in living systems, but their true nature and mode of action constitute one of the big question marks of science.

Growth hormones and chemicals have made possible the new cancer studies employing ferns and flowering plants, Wetmore said.

At Harvard and other research institutions, he said, researchers have taken minute pieces of certain plants—pieces a fraction of an inch in length—and then caused them to grow into whole plants with nothing but chemical aid.

He said that plants which can be made to grow that way are preferable to experimental animals for many studies on growth and development.

He gave this explanation: There are sharp differences between the various tissues of an animal's body.

In contrast, there are less definite differences between the various tissues of a given plant. Furthermore, it's possible to bring about a new change—and then reverse it.

Thus, said Wetmore, it is conceivable that such plants will throw new light on certain processes of growth and development—possibly applicable to the cancer problem.

He said Dr. George Morel of the University of Paris, now doing research at Harvard, had been able to produce a "cancer-like" growth in a grape plant by employing a large dose of a hormone that normally occurs in grapes and other plants.

But he added that the production of such effects in the laboratory does not necessarily mean that the same agents produce them when they occur naturally in a living system.

Mexico Oil Loan To Be Worked Out, Truman Thinks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—President Truman predicted today that eventually the United States and Mexico will reach a satisfactory agreement on an oil loan for Mexico.

He said negotiations on the project will continue.

A few months ago Mexico asked the United States for a loan totaling $200 million to develop her two governments suspended negotiation and construction or modernize refineries.

After prolonged discussions, the two governments suspended negotiations about a month ago.

The official reason given then was that the two governments could not reach an agreement on terms.

President Truman has stated all along that he is in favor of such a loan provided the interested American government departments agree.

Joe Cronin as manager of the Red Sox, pinch hit five home runs during the 1943 season for an American League record.

Janet Blair Bouncing To New Success On Stage Circuit

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
AP Writer
CHICAGO (U)—Blonde Janet Blair, who twice bounced high in show business, is bouncing up again. She's now bounding along the theater and night club trail as the star of a new act. It's a series of songs, dances and skits that work up to whirlwind speed. It takes a lot of bounce. But she has a lot of it. She bounced from nowhere to a singing job with Hal Kemp's band. Then she bounced into the movies. In her fourth film she played "Eileen" in "My Sister Eileen." She was riding high on the bounding ball of fortune, and then...

Miss Blair, a bit short of breath from a tornadoic turn on the stage, took up the story from there in a dressing room interview. "What happened to me has happened to so many people in Hollywood," she said. "I got namby-pamby roles. You know, the stupid ingenue. She looks pretty and says: 'oh reeahly!'"

"I got into the ingenue rut. I was typed. The pictures got worse and worse. I left the studio and went East. I had to follow my beliefs. I believe an entertainer should entertain. It was the principle of the thing."

A maid shuffled in. She put down a dozen autograph books that had been sent in by fans at the stage door. Miss Blair signed them and resumed her story.

"There was an interlude last year of summer stock, a road show, guest spots on radio and television. She wanted to appear before live audiences in something that would fit into her an-entertainer-should-entertain formula."

"I feel dreadful when a Hollywood character comes on, says 'Veddy glad to be here,' tells a bum joke, and bows off," she said. "I wanted a new approach. So I lined up the Blackburn Twins

Dixie Demos Join Republicans To Give Truman Real Trouble

WASHINGTON—President Truman's friends may find themselves campaigning against Dixie Democrats as well as Republicans next year in attempting to win real control of Congress instead of just paper control. Real control now rests in the hands of a loose coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats. Once in a while the administration can get a piece of legislation through, but even then it usually is not in the form first proposed.

"tall, dark and handsome ex-GIs and we worked out a musical comedy vignette. "I spent $10,000—maybe more—on costumes, music arrangements, props and so forth. I put practically all my savings into it."

Miss Blair and the Blackburn boys opened in Chicago last April. They jet-propelled themselves to New York, Pittsburgh and other points. Their next stand, starting Aug. 25, is Chicago's Palmer House.

"We haven't stopped since April 29," she said. "Will she get a chance to stop for a rest soon?" Miss Blair shook her blonde head and laughed. "Maybe," she said. "I've built a Frankenstein."

furnished a hint in a little-noticed speech at Urbana, Ill.

Douglas spoke right out about "the Dixiecrats and the conservative Republicans who dominate Senate affairs."

"The November elections found a paper majority of 53 Democrats in the Senate," Douglas said. "On the face of things there was reason to believe that they could enact the progressive program which voters expected. But that majority of 53 Democrats was illusory."

"It included at least 12 Dixiecrats whose vote on all important matters were indistinguishable from the more extreme forms of Republican conservatism. It also included three northern conservative Democrats. This left a working core of but 38 liberal Democrats in the Senate who were helped now and then by from four to eight liberal Republicans."

Looking For 25 G's A Year? Big Jobs Are Needing Men

NEW YORK, (U) — Open your hearts, brethren, to the problems of the man making only $25,000 a year.

What can he do to improve himself? Can he advance or must he forever be chained to a dreary $3000 a week, to the same old country club, to the same old cabin cruiser?

Well, there's hope for the poor fellow, if only he'll visit one of the gill-edged employment agencies specializing in starched collar jobs.

"There's no question that more big jobs are available today than at any time in at least 10 years," says W. Gail Camp, head of one of the upper-bracket agencies.

"Scores of good openings have gone begging for want of the right man," says Walter Lowen, director of another agency.

These and other experts in the field cite recent examples of $25,000 a year man who made good.

The merchandise manager of a large electrical company got a $40,000 job with a machine manufacturer as vice president in charge of sales. After several reorganizations, he was made president.

A veteran salesman went to a pharmaceutical company as salesman, was promoted to sales manager of a subsidiary and then became president of a new branch.

Another man left his job as sales manager of an electrical appliance firm to become sales manager of a chemical company. In three years, he climbed to the presidency at $80,000 a year.

You see, the situation is not black.

Camp, Lowen and other agency heads report they have on hand numerous applications from companies to fill jobs paying more than $25,000 a year. They're looking for sales managers, general managers, executive vice presidents and other top flight brass in such fields as radio, television, house furnishings, air conditioning and electrical and drug manufacturing.

Camp, president of Executive Service Corp., points out that with a return to the buyers' market many firms face competition for a long time, and a lot of related problems.

"Many have cut their staffs, he says. 'Everybody is forced to work harder. A lot of top management near retirement age does not want to work that much harder. Many presidents are seeking retirement. Reassignment is going on. Practically every company is either openly or quietly looking for one or more top executives. But, in almost every case, they are holding out for the exceptional man.'"

Crowbar Identified As That Used In Forcing Warehouse

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 1. (U)—The sheriff's office said last night a crowbar found in the car of a youth had been identified as that used to gain entrance to a dynamite warehouse robbed Monday night.

An 18-year-old youth was arrested yesterday in connection with the theft.

The Southwest Research Institute identified the crowbar as the one used in prying open a corrugated steel wall at the storehouse.

Vandals were unsuccessful in attempts to blow up both the dynamite storehouse, which contains about 31,500 pounds of explosives, and another storehouse containing 50,000 caps and fuses.

They stole a quantity of dynamite.

European Newsmen To Visit Ft. Worth

FT. WORTH, Sept. 1. (U)—Western European newspaper leaders will visit Fort Worth on an air "discovery" tour of the United States.

American Overseas Airlines, hosts for the flight, said the 50 publishers, editors and writers will be here Sept. 11.

Newspapering 'In The Blood' Of New Washington Publisher

CHICAGO, (U)—Mrs. Peter Miller, Jr., who soon will take charge of the Washington Times-Herald, didn't have a bit of trouble in choosing a career.

Her interest in newspapers reaches back as far as her memory.

"I was born with it," she says. "I never had any ambition to do anything but newspaper work."

The whirl of the press long has been a familiar sound to her family. Her great-grandfather, Joseph Medill was a famed 19th century editor. Her father, the late U. S. Sen. Medill McCormick, was director and vice president of the Chicago Tribune. Her mother, the late Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms, was publisher of the Rockford (Ill.) Register-Republic and Star.

Mrs. Miller, is 28, tall and slender. Her light brown hair, parted in the center, breaks in gentle waves over the temples. Her eyes, framed by gold trimmed glasses, are blue and friendly.

She recalled, in an interview, how she got her start in journalism. She was 18 and a reporter on the Rockford Star. It was her job to dig up copy for two daily features, headed "Miss Here and There" and "Girl Reporter."

One of her first assignments was an interview with a stunt man who had buried himself alive. She talked with him through a pipe.

The girl cub met Peter Miller, Jr., on a blind date. Miller was majoring in economics at the University of Chicago. He was graduated the next year. She spent two years at Bennington College. They were married in 1941.

The young couple lived in Arizona for two years. They moved to Chicago when Miller went to work for the Army Ordnance Department. They then ran her mother's ranch, Trinchera, a 200,000 acre cattle and sheep domain in Colorado.

Miller, a crisp, affable man of 30, said:

"It was quite a life. Big ranch. Little help. We did a lot of riding on the range."

The husband-wife team went into the newspaper business in January, 1947. They bought the La Salle (Ill.) Post-Tribune and the Peru

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thursday, Sept. 1, 1949

(Ill.) News-Herald. The papers were merged as the Daily News-Tribune, and published for La Salle, Peru and Oglesby, neighboring towns 80 miles southwest of Chicago.

Mrs. Miller wrote a daily column. It was signed by "Betsy Miller." Most folks call her "Betsy."

The Millers and their two children—a daughter, Kristie, 5, and a son, Mark, 2—live in a roomy stucco house in Peru. They have 45 Arabian horses on a breeding farm near the town. But they don't have much time to ride.

COURSES ARE CHANGED

New Marks Loom In '49 Air Races

CLEVELAND, (U) — New speed marks are almost certain all through the National Air Races program here over the Labor Day week end.

An unusually large field of planes has been "suped up" since last year, and a complete change in the courses eliminates right angle turns. If the throttle-benders get the right kind of weather they should push up the records just on the basis of the faster course.

All in all, the three-day program which will open next Saturday with a Marine airborne work assault on the huge stands at Municipal Airport shapes up as the best spectator show since the postwar renewal of the flying classic in 1946.

There will be a distinct international flavor this year. The Federation Aeronautique Internationale (FAI), world body of sporting aviation, will have its 42nd annual conference during the races. It presents 32 countries, including Russia.

In addition, a supermarine Spitfire has been entered by a Canadian Air Force pilot, the first foreign entry in the Thompson Trophy classic in 13 years. The Thompson carries $40,000 in prize money and is the world's fastest closed course race. An average speed of more than 400 miles an hour is likely this year. The record of 36 mph was set by Cook Cleveland in 1947.

The Thompson course, heretofore a 15-mile rectangle, has been changed to a seven-sided course. The race has been cut from 300 to 225 miles. The shorter distance and faster turns will add miles to average speeds.

What is more important, it means the air force will fly a jet or "J" division of the Thompson, using North American F-86 Sabres, the world's fastest fighter. The slower Lockheed F-80 Shooting Stars set the "J" division record at 515 mph in 1946 and averaged 400 mph in 1947. The "J" race was not flown last year. The Sabre holds the world record speed of 670 mph, flying with full armament.

The Bendix Cross-Country Race from California to Cleveland will be flown in both propeller and jet divisions. The propeller planes will take off for the first time in a race horse start from Rosamond Dry Lake. This means that the first man past the wire is the winner. With spaced starts in the past, the crowd learned about the winner from the loud speaker. Contestants must report their positions over checkpoints at Colorado Springs, Colo.; Goodland, Kan.; Peoria, Ill.; and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Paul Mantz, the famous Hollywood pilot who has won the last three Bendix races, has entered two planes but is not listed as a pilot. His ships will get plenty of competition from Joe Debona, who literally chased Mantz across the line two years ago. Debona flew his North American F-51 Mustang to a new transcontinental record for propeller planes at 490 miles an hour last March.

The Air Force will have a jet division of the Bendix with Republic F-84 Thunderjets, long-ranging from Muroc Airbase. The Navy flew the Bendix last year. The record of 494 mph was set by the Air Force in 1946 with B-80s.

The Goodyear race for midjet planes looks like the best yet. The course has been shortened from two miles to 1 1/2 miles and changed from four legs to six. In addition, the course has been moved nearer the grandstand. The entry list for the $25,000 in prizes is larger than ever.

The midjets—they weigh up to 500 pounds—are a favorite with the crowds. Although not so much for speed—they can get 200 mph only downhill—they fly knee-high and depend on skill and daring as much as their engines.

Custard Dessert Is Luscious Dish When Crust Is That Right Texture

A baked custard that has a thin crust and is velvety smooth, tender and quivery, yet holds its shape when cut, is a luscious dish. Since it is made of milk thickened with eggs, seasoned and flavored, it's nutritious, too.

By varying the flavoring ingredients you can make them double as main dishes, desserts or garnishes for clear soups which will thrill your family.

Baked custards offer endless tempting, nourishing ways to stretch meat, poultry, fish, vegetables and fruits, and to use leftovers.

A baked bean, baked custard dessert and salad combination is as complete nutritionally as a meal can get to be so very little trouble. Custard alone is an excellent source of riboflavin, calcium, protein, phosphorus and vitamin A.

Here is a basic custard recipe that allows for many variations.

Basic Custard Recipe
 7½ cups milk
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 2-3 cup sugar (if used as dessert)
 4 eggs
 Flavoring (¼ teaspoon vanilla and a little nutmeg, for instance)
 Scald milk with salt and sugar. Beat eggs just enough to mix yolks with whites; slowly stir in scalding hot milk, blending well. Add flavorings and mix well.

Four into lightly buttered custard cups or 1½ quart casserole. Place in baking pan about 2 or 3½ inches deep. Put in oven preheated to 300 degrees F., and pour hot water around cups or casserole to depth of one inch. Bake until a sharp-pointed knife inserted into center comes out clean—about 30 minutes for cups and about one hour for casserole. To prevent overbaking, start testing for doneness shortly before baking time is up. As soon as custard is baked, remove from water bath. Serve hot or cold.

Perfect baked custards are easy to make. It is simply a matter of mastering the knack of these few easy tricks.

Bake custards at low temperatures and just until done. Custards baked too long or at too high a temperature become tough, porous and curdle or "weep." Custards baked at too high a temperature, even though they are removed from the heat as soon as they have set will be overbaked. Custards that are baked too long a time at the right temperature will show signs of overbaking, too. Custards that are underbaked will be smooth but will be too soft to be pleasing to the taste and to hold their shape when unmolded.

Beat eggs just enough to mix yolks with whites. Overbeating the eggs adds too much air to the custard mixture. This makes the custard porous, produces a foam on top and increases the baking time.

Use scalding hot milk. If the milk is scalding hot when added to the eggs, it will cut down the baking time considerably. Scalding hot milk, however, must be added slowly to the eggs while stirring so that no curdling or uneven cooking of the eggs occurs.

Bake custard in hot water bath. Baking custards in a 1-inch hot water bath tends to slow down the rate of cooking from underneath just enough to give a uniformly smooth custard.

Use hot, not boiling, water for water bath. If the water is too hot when poured around the custard, the custard becomes porous on the side and bottom surfaces.

Use sweet, fresh milk. Custards made of slightly sour milk curdle readily during heating. If refrigerated at 45 degrees F. or lower as soon as delivered, milk will stay fresh and sweet for several days. Go easy on the sugar. Too much sugar raises the setting temperature so high that curdling results

Before the custard sets.

Use acid fruits sparingly. Fruits with high acid content, like lemon, cannot be used in very large quantities because they hasten curdling. Fruits with low acid content such as dates and figs, however, tend to give a firm-bodied custard.

Butter cups or casserole lightly. When cups or casserole are greased with too thick a coating of butter, the custard becomes porous on the side and bottom surfaces. Buttered baking dishes make it easier to unmold the custards.

Varying Basic Ingredients
Eggs—Whole eggs, egg yolks or egg whites may be used in the making of custards. Two yolks or two whites are usually used to replace one whole egg. Custards made of egg whites set at lower temperatures than those made of whole eggs; custards made of egg yolks set at higher temperatures than custards made of whole eggs.

Thus, the length of baking time for custards will vary with the use of whole eggs, egg whites or egg yolks.

Milk—Both plain milk and homogenized milk make velvety smooth custards. Custards made with homogenized milk, however, set at a higher temperature than those made with regular milk and are more tender and delicate. Thus, custards made of homogenized milk must be baked slightly longer than custards made of regular milk.

Serving Suggestions
 Baked custards taste best when served very cold or very hot. If custards are to be eaten hot, they should be served as soon after removal from the water bath as possible. If they are to be served cold, cool the custards to room temperature and then thoroughly chill them in the refrigerator before serving.

How To Unmold
 To unmold custards, run a knife or spatula round the edge of the custard, pressing it close to the baking dish so as not to cut the custard. Then slip the spatula about one-half inch down the side of the custard cup to let air in.

Turn out on serving plate. Care in the Home
 Baked custards are best in flavor and texture the day they are made. Like milk, they are highly perishable at warm temperatures and quickly absorb flavors. Baked custards should not be kept longer than one day after they are made. When you cannot store them, put custards in covered containers and refrigerate at 45 degrees F. or lower until used.

Many From One
 The number of delicious, reputation-making dishes you can make from the basic recipe simply by varying the flavoring ingredients is amazing. Here are some of the tested changes.

Desserts
Apple custard: Peel and cut 1 large green apple into thin wedge slices. Saute apple slices in 1 tablespoon melted butter combined with 1 tablespoon brown sugar until transparent. Cut each sauted slice into 3 pieces. Put about 6 pieces of apple in bottom of each custard cup. Follow basic recipe, adding 1 teaspoon vanilla as flavoring. Fill cups with custard mixture. Bake at 300 degrees F. about 30 minutes. Serve cold.

Butterscotch Candy Custard: Put 2 crushed butterscotch patties in bottom of each cup. Follow basic recipe, using 1 teaspoon vanilla as flavoring. Fill cups with custard mixture. Bake at 300 degrees F. about 30 minutes. Unmold to serve.

Coconut Custard: Place 1 tablespoon shredded coconut in bottom of each cup. Follow basic recipe, using 1 teaspoon vanilla as flavoring. Fill cups with custard mixture. If desired, more coconut may be sprinkled over top of custard after mixture is partially set. Bake at 300 degrees F. about 30 minutes. Serve in cups or unmolded.

Crusted Custards: Follow basic recipe, using 1 teaspoon vanilla and ¼ cup finely chopped peanut nut meats as flavoring. Bake at 300 degrees F. about 30 minutes. Serve in cups.

Peanut Butter Custard: Follow basic recipe, combining a small amount of the scalded milk with the peanut butter to form a paste

Braised Liver With Vegetables On Rice Is Good

1½ lbs. sliced beef or pork liver
 6 carrots, sliced
 3 green peppers, sliced
 6 small onions, sliced
 ¼ cup tomato juice
 Salt and pepper
 3 cups cooked, fluffy rice

Dredge sliced liver with flour. Brown in hot fat. Top liver with vegetables. Season with salt and cover and simmer gently on top of stove about 45 minutes until fluffy rice. Makes 6 servings.

Timely Tips
 While peaches are "best buys" plan to preserve some for next winter.

Latest tests show that packing peaches in a syrup is better for freezing than a dry pack. Flavor and color are better—and it takes less time.

Build late summer meals around hearty main dishes—they're tempting-tasty-thrifty—and so popular with the family.

Frankfurters-Beans Accompany Custards

Frankfurters and baked beans in a casserole would be an ideal main dish to serve with custard dessert.

Frankfurters and Beans in Casserole
 2 lbs. butter or margarine melted
 1 tomato, sliced
 Dash tabasco sauce
 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses

1 tbs. mustard
 1 tsp. onion salt
 Dash fresh black pepper
 2 cans baked beans or home baked beans
 8 frankfurters
 ¼ cup sweet pickle relish
 8 slices bacon
 Melt butter; add tomato and tabasco sauce. Heat for 2-3 minutes, stirring frequently. Add molasses, 1 tablespoon mustard, onion salt and pepper. Add beans; mix thoroughly. Place in greased casserole. Split the frankfurters lengthwise almost but not quite clear through. Spread insides lightly with extra mustard and stuff with pickle relish. Wrap with bacon strips and fasten with toothpicks. Place on top of beans, pressing them in a little. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30-45 minutes with cover for first 15 minutes. Serves 6.

If beans are baked at home, they may be baked at the same time the custard is.

Accompanying salads should be lightly clad for hot weather as a lot of oily or soupy dressing can ruin even the crispest lettuce leaf. And with salads practically a staple item of diet, there's no point in ruining them. Make dressings full of flavor chopped up each to 1 cup French dressing.

For Wine Lovers
 Add 2 tablespoons honey and ¼ cup sherry to 1 cup French dressing. Combine well with rotary beater. Serve on greens with fruit—orange slices, avocado wedges and onion slices, for instance.

Special Spanish Dressing
 To ¼ cup French dressing add 1 sieved yolk of a hardcooked egg, 1½ tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon chili powder, and 1 finely chopped green onion or scallion. Jab a toothpick through a garlic clove and drop into the dressing. Remove the garlic just before serving. This dressing is best made several hours in advance and, at the last minute, poured over a bowl of shredded lettuce or other greens.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

More Dead, Injured Counted In Wake Of Typhoon In Japan

By G. M. P. KING
AP Staff
TOKYO, Sept. 1. — Dead and injured piled up today in Tokyo's typhoon-flood ravaged area with 68 known dead, 223 injured and 20 missing in the Central Honshu storm area which includes Yokohama.

Heavily to sandbag river levees likely to sandbag river levees against a repetition of property damage from wind and water mounted steadily after the blow which lashed the Tokyo Bay metropolitan area last night, leaving 6,000 homeless.

The big danger was to come when the Tone River and other streams—swollen by 13 inches of rain—raged down onto the Kanto Plain north of Tokyo.

It was here, authorities feared, that the 1947 devastation to the Tokyo area might be repeated.

Waters of the Tone already lapped at the bridge of the main rail line. And the flood crest was yet to come.

All the dead were Japanese. The only American mentioned in either casualty or missing lists was an Eighth Army soldier hospitalized by flying glass cuts.

Less than 24 hours after the typhoon whipped Tokyo Bay into 50-foot waves with 100-mile winds this was the dismal picture:

Eighteen ships and boats sunk and 50 missing.

In Tokyo alone, 40,000 persons were being fed and sheltered by the Japanese Red Cross and government agencies. Many left damaged homes but most fled rising waters.

School Book Committee To Make Purchase

AUSTIN, Sept. 1. — A nine-member textbook committee will begin plans next week for recommendations on possible purchase of $1 million worth of books by the state in November.

The committee was named yesterday by the state board of education.

In other action, the board approved creation of county-wide junior college districts for the Hillboro and Waxahachie Junior Colleges. The new districts would take over assets of the present colleges.

Taxpayers voters in those two counties—Hill and Ellis—still must vote, probably before Oct. 1, on the matter of the college district expansions.

H. A. Glass, of the education department's textbook division, said he would call an organizational meeting of the textbook committee no later than Sept. 10.

The board set its next meeting for Sept. 19 in Austin. A meeting in Mineral Wells scheduled for Sept. 12 was postponed until October.

In naming the textbook committee, the board quashed a point raised by Member Jack Binion of Houston. He said he thought a 15-member committee should be chosen to conform with the new Gilmer-Alkin bills, instead of nine, under the old law.

Marvin Wood Is Presented Dealer Award

Marvin Wood, Big Spring Pontiac dealer, Wednesday night became the third dealer in the Dallas zone to receive a special "better dealer" award from his company.

Only four of 141 dealers in this zone have qualified for such an award, said J. C. Jamieson, zone manager, who was here for the presentation. The award is a reproduction of the original painting of Chief Pontiac by Jerry Farquhar, national academy award winner. The original hangs in the company administration building at Pontiac, Mich.

Dealers in Fort Worth and Garland were presented similar awards earlier in the week, and the El Paso dealer is to receive one at a meeting there. Such awards are presented only to dealers whose establishments meet rigid standards outlined by the company. The rules specify that award winners must use reputable policies in dealing with their customers and personnel, far-sighted planning to promote efficiency, and intelligent management of all departments in their respective businesses.

Some four-dozen Pontiac dealers of this section of West Texas attended a meeting Wednesday night in the Settles hotel to witness the presentation of Wood's award.

Other zone officials here with Jamieson were Gary Hogan, business management manager; Georg Weatherbee, service manager; and Ike Ardiss, parts and accessory manager.

JUST A LITTLE FRIENDLY VISIT

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1. — Police Capt. Fred Ford wishes he had been at home.

Burglars entered his place, ransacked it and greeted his wife on the way out, indicating to her that they had been visiting the captain.

She discovered otherwise.

Gone were the captain's diamond ring, wrist watch—and his gold badge.

Bargaining Opens In Bus Dispute

WACO, Sept. 1. — Contract negotiations to forestall a threatened bus drivers strike in Waco open there today.

A federal conciliator from Dallas is due to meet with Tom Green, vice president and general manager of the Waco Transit Co. today.

Later he will confer with the negotiating committee of the bus drivers union (CIO).

The present contract expired at midnight last night.

However, Union Local President H. K. Brenner has said repeatedly that the union will exhaust every effort to reach a peaceful settlement in their demand for a 20 cents an hour wage raise.

Chinese Reds Make Advance

CANTON, Sept. 1. — Communist irregulars today hit a huge bank out of northeastern Kwangtung Province.

New dispatches conceded the fall of Hsiangming, 123 miles east northeast of Canton, to irregulars who slashed down from Kiangsi province.

Methalen, 20 miles northward, was abandoned without a fight.

The Kwangtung port is 50 miles east of Peking, which the Red guerrillas took. Nationalist forces were trying to retake the village.

In Hunan Province the Reds appeared to be regrouping for a massive drive toward Canton. The attackers were east of the Hankow-Canton railroad. A big concentration of men was reported northeast of Hengyang.

Nationalist sources claimed Tzeli, 125 miles northwest of Hengyang, had been retaken. A strike to the east from Tzeli might endanger Red supply lines from the Yangtze River.

Shivers Names Committees To Study Laws

AUSTIN, Sept. 1. — Gov. Allan Shivers has made his appointments to interim committees set up by the 51st Legislature to study three sets of laws.

Named to the committee to dig into the state's criminal and penal code and make recommendations were William McCraw, Dallas, former attorney general; R. L. (Bob) Long, Austin, Travis County district attorney, and Dan Jackson of Houston, Harris County district judge.

The committee to study the state surface water laws and recommend necessary changes were John D. McCall, Dallas; J. T. Canales, Brownsville, and Phil S. Hardy, Texasarkans contractor.

The election law revision committee will have two members of the late Gov. Jester's unofficial committee on election laws, and one Republican.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thursday, Sept. 1, 1949

Shivers' appointments to that group were John Ben Sheppard, Gladewater attorney; Mrs. William Y. Penn, Midland, and William H. Bryant, Sherman attorney.

Bryant is the Republican Party representative. He is the son of Federal District Judge Randolph Bryant.

Sheppard and Mrs. Penn were members of Gov. Jester's committee.

House Speaker Durwood Mansford has not yet named his appointees. When he does, they will complete the committees and will serve with Shivers' selections and those already announced by Acting Lt. Gov. G. C. Morris.

Lobbying Count Against Texan Is Reduced To A Misdemeanor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. — Lobbying charges against James E. McDonald, Texas state commissioner of agriculture, were sealed down from a felony charge to a misdemeanor yesterday by the Justice Department.

McDonald, Tom Linder, commissioner of agriculture in Georgia, Ralph W. Moore, Granger, Tex., of the National Farm Committee; and the Farm Commissioner's Council was accused by a District of Columbia grand jury June 16, 1948, of lobbying for higher farm commodity prices for the benefit of personal gain.

The grand jury also indicted them for not registering and filing financial statements as lobbyists—a violation of the lobbying registration act—which carried a penitentiary term as punishment.

Defendants challenged the validity of the indictment on numerous grounds and moved to dismiss it. The Justice Department agreed yesterday, and then filed a simple information, charging a series of misdemeanors.

All the defendants have denied any violation of the lobbying act and said the prosecution was "politically inspired."

Tropical Storm Brings Warnings

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 1. — A small but growing tropical storm today moved on Martinique Island, about 1,400 miles east southeast of Miami.

Northeast storm warnings were ordered extended from Martinique to Antigua and southwest storm warnings flew from St. Lucia southward to Granada Island, in the Caribbean Island chain.

The weather bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said the storm is attended by winds of 40 to 50 miles per hour over an area 75 miles to the east of center and is increasing very slowly in intensity.

It is moving northward or west northward at about 12 miles per hour.

Small craft from Granada to Antigua was advised to remain in port until the storm passes.

Probers Have Task Of Putting Vaughan In Proper Perspective

Yes, said Presidential Aide Harry H. Vaughan, he had helped a number of business men in their dealings with the government, but never in an improper way, and never for a fee, gift or favor.

He was telling this to the "5-percenter" probers of the Senate, in a 1,000-word formal statement which he read at the beginning of the day's proceedings. Later under stiff cross-examination, Vaughan stuck to his story: he had accepted gifts from friends, but never for favors given; he had accepted nothing from business men he had helped in their dealings with government agencies.

General Vaughan got unexpected support at one point. Republican Senator McCarthy said he had the feeling that Vaughan never profited personally from any of his activities as a go-between.

Restoration Of World Trade Seems To Be The Major Goal

World trade is now seriously out of balance, President Truman told American Legionnaires at Philadelphia this week. Part of Britain's troubles are due to this factor, he said, in promising that the U.S. would do all it can to help its old ally out of the jam she's in.

Just how serious this imbalance is, and the role the U.S. has played in producing it, was set forth last week by the Economic Cooperation Administration in its report to its public advisory board.

At the present rates, ECA pointed out, the 16 participating nations will import from the U.S. this year $4,600 million worth of essential goods, but in return the U.S. will import from those countries only $900 million worth. These are figures which explain why Europe is short of dollars, and is depending for them mainly on ECA gifts and grants, instead of getting them by selling their goods to the U.S. A trade deficit of $2,700 million in a single year is enough to kill Europe, much less cripple it.

ECA points out that Europe must either whose Tariff Commission had gone to bat to get building restrictions removed. He had accepted $2,000 from the fabulous John Maragon, one-time White House hanger-on. Both these contributions, Vaughan recalled, went into the campaign fund in Missouri.

Maragon, he insisted, never amounted to anything at the White House; he had helped Maragon at times, but never had he authorized the little Greek to "represent, or speak, for me or the White House."

President Truman was not aware of his activities in behalf of various business men with government agencies, the general testified. He did not think it necessary to tell the President about them. All he did in this line was without the knowledge of his good friend and patron, Harry Truman.

Like the three blind men examining the elephant, the public can gain varied impressions of Harry Vaughan from his words and deeds. Maybe the Senate probers can place him and his activities in the proper perspective.

increase her exports to the U.S., or cut down on her imports from this country. A drying up of U.S. exports to other lands would quickly produce disaster in American industry and business.

For the period 1936-38 the U.S. bought from the 16 ECA countries about $600 million worth of goods a year, or seven-tenths of one percent of the total market value of all U.S. produced goods. Figures based on the first six months of 1949 show U.S. imports from those countries running at a rate of $900 million a year, which is only three-tenths of one percent of all the goods produced in the U.S.

As one remedy President Truman urged continued negotiation of reciprocal trade pacts with ECA countries and the lowering of trade barriers, of which this country has quite a few of its own.

Britain's dollar shortage is only a part of the general condition that prevails. Only by restoring trade to its normal flow can the nations achieve stability and prosperity.

Ten Years Ago Today Hitler Began War; Here Are Results

NEW YORK — It is ten years ago today since Adolf Hitler plunged the world into its first trillion-dollar war.

No paperhanger in history ever messed up a place more.

Remember? Millions of people heard the broadcast of the fateful speech to the Reichstag in which Hitler told the German people their troops had marched into Poland.

It gave a shivery feeling. The fiery emotionalism of the little man seeped through his alien tongue into the hearts of listeners in many lands. The hall in which he spoke was hung with scarlet banners, for red is the color of war. And the hall shook with bursts of massed applause—as if led by invisible cheerleaders. It was like something out of the middle ages.

Exactly 2,074 days later the returns from Adolf's speech were in.

His Reich and many other countries were in ruins. Some 22,000,000 men, women and children had been killed. Benito Mussolini, who ended the war hanging by his heels beside his mistress, dead and bleeding. Some 34,400,000 had been wounded.

It was the biggest jackpot of all time for brother Mars. He had rung up $1,116,901,463,984 on his cash register and about $230,900,000,000 in property damage. This doesn't even include the cost in money and damage of the long war in China, which is still in flower.

The United States picked up the biggest part of the check—$330,030,463,084—and it is still picking up the checks.

What does it all add up to?

Well, the Germans are still sorting bricks from the rubble of their cities, and will be for years. They are bystanders now. But the chief issue raised by Hitler is still undecided—freedom or tyranny, the oldest issue on earth and never settled.

War didn't even dent the global population. Wars never do that so well as a good long plague. It is a tremendous tribute to the imperishable vitality and optimism of the human race that it has gone on having children like mad. There are some 2,300,000,000 people in the world. More than ever, and some 150,000,000 dwell in America—more than ever.

Czech Revolution Threat Adds New Importance To Cold War

FAST MOVING EVENTS ARE HIGHLIGHTING the disclosure in Washington that Russia's grip on its eastern European satellites is reliably reported to be badly shaken by the fight with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Treading on each others heels have come these significant developments:

- (1) Czechoslovakia's Communist government has announced that it smashed a large armed revolt by conspirators who tried to capture Prague and establish an anti-Soviet regime.
- (2) Yugoslavia has applied formally for a loan of 25 million from the Export-Import Bank, an American government agency. Tito needs quick cash with which to buy American machinery for his country's copper, lead, and zinc mines. Washington officials expect him to get the loan. He also has received permission to buy a three million dollar steel mill from an American concern.

(3) Moscow has in another hot note—its eighth—to Yugoslavia, charging that the Tito government is working "only on instructions of its western masters."

OF THESE DEVELOPMENTS BY FAR the most important of course if the revolutionary plot in Czechoslovakia. This in itself would be enough to rock the foundations of the Red eastern European empire, and it is doubly dangerous since it is coupled with Tito's political revolt, dissatisfaction in other satellite states and the defiance of little Finland which Moscow is trying to force within the Soviet zone of domination.

These reports of discontent and disaffection are expected to have an important place in the forthcoming meetings in Washington among Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman. Observers are looking for these diplomats to review the strategy of the Cold War with Russia in the light of the developments and devise new moves to counter the Kremlin's drive.

A significant aspect of this situation is that disaffection often is like an avalanche in the way it gathers weight as it progresses. Who knows but that the defiance of Finland and of Tito may have encouraged the Czechoslovak revolt?

This looks like a crucial moment in the Cold War.

One Of Truman's Official Family Coming In For Lobbying Criticism

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
For DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Truman, who has complained repeatedly about lobbying, is due to get a similar complaint against a member of his own official family.

He is John D. Clark, of the White House Council of Economic Advisors.

The former Standard Oil of Indiana official has aroused the ire of a group of anti-monopoly congressmen. They charge he has been quietly lobbying to restore the basing-point price system outlawed by the Supreme Court.

Chief complainers are Reps. Wright Patman (D-Tex.) and John Carroll (D-Cole) who were largely instrumental in putting through the House recently the bill barring business mergers. This measure is the most important anti-trust legislation enacted in many years.

Patman and Carroll are taking their lobbying complaint against Clark directly to the President.

Their contention is that it is futile for them to seek to strengthen the government's hand against monopoly when a member of the White House staff is opposing them. They want the President to muzzle Clark.

His position on this issue is curious.

Last summer, he vigorously backed the Federal Trade Commission when a committee headed by Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) tried to browbeat the agency into approving basing point legislation. Clark strongly upheld the FTC in its refusal.

Four months later, the Supreme Court ruled against Standard Oil of Indiana in an anti-trust case brought by a group of Michigan small-business men. Following this decision Clark, apparently, reversed his attitude. Since then, he has been quietly pressuring for restoration of the basing-point system.

and has been practicing corporation law since 1946.

SUPPRESSED ECA REPORT

One of the major differences between the House and Senate on the deadlocked ECA appropriation bill is continuance of the so-called Marshall Plan watchdog committee. The Senate is insisting on continuing the committee; the House is opposed.

Senate demand for continuance of the committee is based on the contention it is needed to maintain an independent check on ECA operations abroad. But while the Senate has been pressing this argument, the committee has been withholding a highly revealing report on French attitude toward ECA.

Reason for the suppression is not clear. The report contains the type of information the committee is supposed to supply Congress. But, whatever the reason, the committee has been sitting on the report for more than two months — while battling with the House for another $350,000 to continue functioning.

Basic theme of the report is that very little effort is being made to inform the French people what the U.S. is doing for them under the Marshall Plan.

As a result of this failure, says the report, "this enormous operation, which is costing the United States so much money, is viewed with hostility. This effort is viewed by the great majority in France to be a meddlesome, presumptuous scheme of the United States to use France to our own ends."

The report warns that the Marshall Plan cannot succeed as long as this attitude prevails.

"It is a possibility," says the report, "that this plan will have come and gone, had its short stay of four years and cost the U. S. taxpayer perhaps $15 billion without its real intent being realized in Europe. To the extent that the Marshall Plan fails of achievement of its goals by 1952, American's problem, far from being over, will have just begun. We will be up against a France which has never understood the Marshall Plan, or that America was in good faith offering to underwrite recovery and the consequent protection against communism."

The report severely criticizes the French government and French press for not publicizing the work of the Marshall Plan. "They have left the job of explaining American efforts to succor France," the report says, "to the biggest, one of the richest and the most effective publicity organizations in the world, the Communist Party. That party has not missed a bet to decide, malign and falsify the Marshall Plan with every segment of the French population. The French administrators of the Marshall Plan have not begun to match these hostile operations."

The report states that leading French newspapers blurted out they cannot "afford to declare they cannot 'bluff' it would cost them circulation."

"It is probably safe to say," the report says, "that one New York paper has carried more analytical explanation of the Marshall Plan's objectives than all the non-Communist French press combined. The parties in the French coalition will not undertake any informational program unless they are convinced that the end outweighs political differences. There are no signs that such a conviction is about to emerge, and the United States as well as France faces the consequences."

Jap Film Producer Wants 'Hiroshima'

By JACK QUIGG
(For Bob Thomas, who is vacationing)

HOLLYWOOD — Wanted by Japan an American movie firm to film John Hershey's book "Hiroshima."

"The lesson learned at Hiroshima (the Japanese city which the first war-used atomic bomb burst on Aug. 6, 1945) should be taught to the world," said M. Nagata, president of Nippon's largest motion picture company.

An American movie globally distributed, would be the best way to teach that lesson, Nagata believes. Revealing the havoc and suffering wrought by the A-bomb, he said in an interview, would provide a potent argument for peace in a troubled world.

Nagata said he is ready to supply equipment and to pay all expenses incurred in Japan to any Hollywood studio that will make the movie there.

A swarthy, wiry man with wisps of gray striding his black hair, Nagata is the first Japanese producer to visit Hollywood since the war.

He is studying motion picture technical equipment studio organization, budgeting and production procedures. He intends to apply American methods in his studios in Japan.

The Town Ain't Crazy, Podner; Just Pointing To Centennial

They say there's nothing new under the sun (or something to that effect), but the unbriefed visitor to Big Spring might feel like questioning that statement—at least until he'd had time for a second look around.

A glance at some of the shinnery sprouting on most mature male faces around here could convince the newcomer that he had discovered a series of the anthropologists' missing links. Or a survey of the monetary situation, with wooden nickels circulating like gold, might indicate that a highly developed and independent economic system was functioning within the city's limits.

Once he had been approached by one of the local stockbrokers with certificates representing everything from stock in the Big Spring Centennial to membership in the whisker growing league, the dallying visitor would probably be convinced that something new was at hand.

If he hadn't been frightened out of town already by the diminutive Chief Bush Inspector, Ray Snyder, operating from the cover of his lavish-like badge, the newcomer would begin to learn the answers to some of his questions.

He'd know that all patriotic and civic minded residents (masculine) of Big Spring, in obedience to the mayor's proclamation, were Brothers of the Bush and had vowed to not shave at least a portion of their respective faces until after the Centennial celebration.

Wooden nickels, extended as change by practically every retailer in town, would take on new value once it was explained how they were redeemable in good hard cash at any bank in town. Even the ladies, without the artificial color and flavor provided by Yardley, Lenthicor et al., would look natural as Sisters of the Swiss.

By this time, the enlightened guest would know that the Big Spring Centennial was to be a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the discovery of the "big spring" which played such an important role in the development of this area and all of West Texas.

He would have learned that the whiskers, old fashioned clothing, and even the wooden money were playing important roles in the present generation's attempt to honor those pioneers and early settlers who did the actual developing of the section.

When he left Big Spring, the visitor would probably be grasping a handful of certificates and wooden nickels, rubbing his chin, and promising to return for the Centennial celebration Oct. 2-8.—WAYLAND YATES.

British Socialism To Be Kept Out Of Monetary Crisis Talks

WASHINGTON — British socialism will not be made an issue in the U.S.-British talks here on Britain's financial crisis. President Truman said this plainly to the American Legion; he suggested further that attacks by some newspapers on the British system were primarily efforts to discredit the fair deal at home.

The President's attitude should soothe the feelings and smooth the path of the British negotiators arriving here this week. Press criticism of their methods, he has now assured them, is largely domestic politics which they can ignore.

Administration sources declare that the U.S. negotiators will take their cue accordingly. This is of importance principally because Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, the administration's leading conservative, will play a prominent role in the forthcoming conversations and it was feared that he might reflect the school of thought which blames British troubles on British socialism.

But Snyder is a Truman intimate owing all to him. It is improbable that whatever his personal economic predilections, the secretary would deviate from a policy line laid down firmly by Harry Truman.

Secretary of State Acheson, the other principal U.S. negotiator, shares the President's views, personally and professionally. Secretary of Defense Johnson, who sometimes takes a narrower view of national security than the State department, will play a minor role; also he is another who is unlikely to deviate from the President.

ECA Administrator Hoffman, another participant, has also refused to inject questions of British socialism into the problem of British recovery. Just back from Europe, he told a press conference as Truman was speaking in Philadelphia that he could not detect that the nationalization of British industry has so far contributed to her troubles. It is understood that Hoffman never has any difficulty standing with Secretary of State Acheson.

The conversations thus begin cooperatively with a potential source of friction and hurt national feelings removed. But when and as any proposed solutions reach Capitol Hill, it may prove another story. There the conservative coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats rides high.

There are at present no plans for the kind of bipartisan cooperation which for so long engaged the ways for U.S. foreign policy. The official explanation is that working parties must be small; that it is not practical to open the doors to Congress yet.

As a practical matter it is also true that unless the enthusiastic cooperation of Republicans like Senators Vandenberg and Dulles can be had, the road ahead is rough—as the foreign aid bill is now proving. At some point in any foreign-policy project of moment, the door must be opened to such men if congressional sanctions are required; they have reached the point of rebellion against endorsing faits accomplis.

The Nation Today—By James Marlow

Vaughan Cool And Composed Through His Hot Testimony

WASHINGTON — I WISH I COULD have taken the blood-pressure of Major General Harry Hawkins Vaughan when he testified in the five-percenter case. I bet it was normal.

The husky military aide to President Truman smoked a long cigar, relaxed against the back of his chair, and looked just about as cool as anybody could be in that hot, sticky, smoky, overcrowded room.

This was the climax of three weeks of Senate committee hearings on the doings of Washington's five-percenters—men who charge businessmen a fee for helping the get government contracts.

No one has accused General Vaughan of being a five-percenter; but witnesses have described him as a very busy helper-out of some of his friends and acquaintances who wanted special favors from the government.

FOR TWO HOURS TWO REPUBLICAN senators — McCarthy of Wisconsin and Mundt of South Dakota—stuck their barbed questions into — long time friend of the Democratic President.

They wanted to find out if he had received any money for himself for the help he gave people. No, Vaughan said. He said the committee could examine his financial accounts.

He was very, very careful in much of what he said. Over and over he answered a question by saying "to the best of my recollection, I don't remember that" or "I'm sorry but I can't recall that."

If you give a flat "yes" or "no" answer to a question, and later are proven wrong, you can be accused of lying. But no one can accuse you of more than a poor memory when you say "I can't remember."

The general, who has bumbled a bit around Washington by speaking too fast at the wrong times, picked his way with seeming ease among the questions flung at him by McCarthy and Mundt.

IF VAUGHAN FELT ANY TENSION IN that room, where the eyes of senators and the eyes of cameras stared at him while flashbulbs went off in his face, it didn't show. There was never a twitch of a face muscle nor a bob of his adam's apple.

He denied all intent of wrongdoing, said he had helped many people, and explained this business of helping where he could was part of his job as an administrative assistant to the President. This was the first time most people knew he also had that title.

And when he acknowledged receiving funds—for the Democratic campaign in Missouri in 1946—helped from some of the businessmen he helped, he calmly emphasized that this was not money for him personally.

In short, Vaughan put on a good show; brushy, aude as perfectly normal things which Mundt and McCarthy seemed to indicate shouldn't have been done.

Omar (Turk) Lown Hurls League's Second No-Hitter For Panthers

By The Associated Press

The second no-hit, no-run game of the season was in the Texas League today and chances for Fort Worth being dislodged from first place were slim. Omar (Turk) Lown, Fort Worth right-hander, twirled the no-hitter last night as the Cats licked Tulsa 14-0 to run their lead over the second-place Oilers to seven games with only 12 left to play.

Except for wildness, Lown pitched a perfect game. He walked nine, having the bases-filled twice. Meanwhile, the Cats battered five Tulsa pitchers for 17 hits.

The first no-hit, no-run game of the campaign was in mid-season when Clarence (Hook) left of Beaumont, elbowed one. The big hit of Jerry White provided the punch again as Dallas won its third straight over Oklahoma City 10-4. White bashed his forty-fifth home run of the year with two on in the second and Oklahoma City never could get close.

White now is five homers behind the pace set by Clarence Kraft of Fort Worth who he hung up the league record of 55 in 1924. Kraft got his fifty-first Aug. 31. The Dallas first baseman has 12 games left in which to slug 10 homers in order to tie Kraft's mark. He has hit eight in the last 14 days.

Shreveport's Sports stayed two and a half games back of fourth-place Dallas despite a 5-2 victory over Beaumont. Time is running pretty thin for the Sports in their battle to get into the play-off. Only 233 paid admissions were recorded as Jack Kraus left-handed the Oilers into submission and sank Beaumont a game and a half away from seventh-place Houston.

Houston edged San Antonio 3-2 as Pete Mazar limited the Missions to three hits. Houston got its three runs in the first inning. The famed Lexington Trots, at Lexington, Ky., will offer more than $240,000 in purses during its Grand Circuit harness meeting, Sept. 26-Oct. 8.

Two new schools will field teams in the District Eight six-man football league this year. Christoval and Paint Rock join the circuit this season, making nine teams in the league.

Play is scheduled to begin for eight of the teams on Sept. 16. Forsan is defending champion of the league and is favored to repeat in 1949.

Sterling City, Rankin, and Forsan have lighted fields and have scheduled night games. Other schools with teams in the district are Garden City, Mertzon, Water Valley, and Courtney. The circuit was known as district No. 7 last year.

Bert Garcia May Face Cats In Important Test Tonight

Locals Home For 7 Days

Baseball being the unsentimental game it is, the Big Spring Broncos will try to do everything possible to contain the Ballinger Cats' threat to move into the Longhorn league's first division in a three-game series starting at Steer park this evening. Starting time of the opener is 8:15 o'clock.

The Felines, who chilled the Steeds in three straight games last week, recently lost two straight outings to San Angelo, the present fourth-place club, and fell 2½ games off the pace. They'll need to play every game to the hilt now in efforts to climb back into contention.

The Broncos, of course, have no particular interest in the remainder of the makeup of the first division, having already clinched first place in the standings. However, they plan to play their opponents as they come to them and act as spoilers when ever and where ever they can.

Manager Pat Stacey has saved his ace, Bert Garcia, for tonight's game. If the Cats beat Garcia, they will have beaten the Hosses' best. He owns a 13-3 record and has had plenty of rest.

Ed Norton, who has beaten the Steeds twice in Ballinger, may hurl for the Felines. He could be tough to beat.

The Broncos are home for seven days, during which time they play eight games. Sweetwater is due to follow Ballinger in here Sunday meeting the Hosses in a single game Sunday and a double bill on Monday.

Tuesday night will be Baseball Appreciation Night at the park, at which time Vernon will be on hand for the first of a two-game set.

Craig Handcuffs Cayuses, 12-1

VERNON, Sept. 1.—Lefty Cliff Craig set the Big Spring Broncos down with six hits as Vernon smothered Big Spring, 12-1, here Wednesday night.

Only three members of the visiting club got to Craig for hits and all collected two blows each. They were Felix Gomez, Ace Mendez and Carlos Pascual. Gomez scored the only Bronco tally in the first on a passed ball.

Ernesto Mayorquin and Eddie Noreiga divided time on the hill for Big Spring with the former being charged with the loss. A seven run second inning on the part of the Dusters put him to rout. It was Mayorquin's second reversal.

Harry Scherting, Bob Huntley and Wayne Moon each had three safeties for the home club.

Playoff Plans To Be Aired

Officials of the Longhorn Baseball league are due to discuss playoff schedules at a meeting here Friday afternoon.

Hal Sayles, league president, has called the session for 2 p.m. in the Settles hotel.

The league officials will discuss plans for the regular Shaughnessy series, which first division teams will launch immediately after the regular season closes, and subsequent playoff between champions of the Longhorn and Rio Grande Valley leagues. The Longhorn and Valley circuits are the only Class D leagues operating in Texas.

The post-season series between the winners of the two loops was agreed upon last spring to determine the 1949 Class D champions of the state.

Herd Scrimmage Is Called Off

The practice session between the Big Spring Steers and Colorado City Wolves, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was postponed due to a number of injuries among Colorado City players. Instead, the local gridsters held intra squad scrimmages.

More rough work is cut off for the Longhorns for the next several days as they prepare for their opening game against Plainview a week from Friday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Odessa baseball fans reportedly raised a "penant fund" that would have rewarded each of their players $500, if the Oilers could get in the Shughnessy playoffs of the Longhorn league.

It appears now, however, that Odessa isn't going to make the first division. Sweetwater put the chill on the Oilers' chances by taking the series just completed.

Big Spring should have its largest turnout of the season next Tuesday evening when Baseball Appreciation Night is scheduled.

Attendance has picked up here after an early August slump and there is an outside chance last year's attendance record (close to 60,000) can be bettered. A capacity turnout that night would just about do it. If the club doesn't experience any bad weather between now and then.

The Braves have now drawn around $4,000 paid admissions. They have eight home games in seven days remaining, so the 60,000 attendance goal isn't out of reach.

Winner of the Most Popular Player contest, an event which is being sponsored by Lee Hanson's Men's store, will probably be announced Tuesday night, too. The winner, as everyone knows, will receive a considerable amount of clothing.

SWEETWATER MAY DROP OUT OF LONGHORN LEAGUE

Sweetwater newsmen have revealed the Sweetwater club may not operate in the Longhorn next year.

It seems Cy Fauett, who owns the Sweetwater franchise, has dropped around $20,000 to date due to lack of fan support.

Fauett, of course, is not entirely blameless. He's tried to give the city a winner with Albuquerque castoffs. That was a mistake. The player who can't make the ripple in that league certainly can't do much better in the Longhorn circuit. Roswell men tried the same thing with Berger farm hands and look where the Rockets are, mired in the cellar.

Sweetwater would probably do much better financially if some one decided to give the town a good team.

George Schepps, the so-called baseball magnate, has made the boast he can move his Corpus Christi baseball club out of the Valley league and into the Big State circuit for $1, anytime he wants. Valley club owners think differently, have disapproved Schepps' application to depart the organization.

Donald Webb, standout Big Spring high school trackster of two years ago and now a resident of Pomona, Calif., is visiting here. Webb's pal, Leon Lepard, is trying to get Don to go back to school with him and try out for the ACC track squad.

BILL RODEN LOSES IN FIRST ROUND OF AMATEUR

Bill Roden, the ex-Big Spring, was beaten in the first round of the National Amateur golf tournament at Rochester, N. Y., Monday when Ed Prealar of Warrensville, Ohio, beat him 3 and 2.

That means Bill will probably be in here this weekend to seek his third straight Big Spring Invitational title.

18th Show Will Begin Friday

The 18th annual Big Spring Invitational golf tournament, which has been all Bill (Red) Roden the past two years, gives prospects of being a wide-open skirmish.

The colorful show which opens at the country club here Friday (Monday), took on added importance Thursday with the arrival of two University of Texas links standouts.

They are Morris Williams of Wichita Falls and UT runnerup in the recent National Intercollegiate tournament and winner of the Texas Junior tournament, and Marlon Phluger of Austin.

Phluger breezed to the Brady Invitational tournament title recently and is considered one of the brightest young golf prospects in the Southwest.

Williams and Phluger planned to play practice rounds today and will probably compose part of Van Ligon's visiting team for the Hall and Bennett trophy matches, which get underway at the club at 1 p.m. Friday.

Roden, who has been taking part in the National Amateur tournament of Rochester, N. Y., was due to fly in from the East today. The red-head is 'on' his game and, of course, will be tough to beat here since he knows the local course like he knows the back of his hand.

If Williams and Phluger have serious designs on the local crown, they have to reckon with Billy Maxwell, the compactly-built Big Spring golfer who is now playing out of Odessa. Maxwell has never won the local crown but he's enjoying a great season and could breeze in.

The Hall and Bennett cup matches will be the big event on Friday's schedule but all masher swing-ers planning to try for the medal must qualify tomorrow.

Joe Black is captain of the local cup team. He announced personnel of his team last Monday. Ligon, a Midland man, was indefinite Wednesday about his lineup but he'll have a full squad ready to go by Friday.

Twelve more entries registered Wednesday, bringing to 64 the number ready to tee the mark.

Latest to announce were: A. G. McCrory, Colorado City; A. C. Barnard, Jr., Snyder; A. G. Barnard, Sr., Lamesa; V. T. McCabe, Colorado City; Olney Thurman, Big Spring; Weldon Bryant, Big Spring; W. J. Pierce, Midland; Roy Lockett, Midland; Rayford Lyles, Big Spring; W. E. Ramsey, Jr., Big Spring; Fred Stewart, Big Spring; and Doug Orme, Big Spring.

McCabe posted a 104. Pierce an 81, Lockett a 76 and Stewart an 84. The others did not qualify.

Colorado City now has 18 entries in the meet. Midland will be represented by nine of those already in. Lubbock has three. Lamesa three and Tahoka, Snyder, Brownfield and Barstow, Okla., one each. The remainder of the field claim Big Spring as home.

The prizes to be proffered flight winners, valued at over $1,000, are on display in the trophy case at the club house.

Red Sox Gain On Gothamites In Torrid Race

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Disaster in St. Louis, following the shocking loss of Tommy Henrich, has rocked the league-leading New York Yankees back on their heels.

Two straight drubbings by the upstart Browns while Boston was cooling off the surging Detroit Tigers, has cut the Yankees' lead to two games as the season enters its final month.

There is a chance that Henrich may be back in uniform within three weeks, but by that time the die may be cast. In the meantime the Yanks have brought up First Baseman Fenton Mole from Newark.

New York ran into the Browns in their hottest streak of the year and became the victims of St. Louis' sixth straight series victory. Once escaped from the cellar, there appears to be no stopping Zach Taylor's gang.

Bumping Vic Raschi in a four-run first inning last night, the Browns soundly thumped the Yanks, 10-3. Although nipped for 12 hits, Ned Garver went all the way for his 10th win. The 2nd homers by Jack Graham and Dick Kokos were the big blows for the Browns. Four hits by Joe DiMaggio provided the only Yank spark.

Cleveland missed a chance to nick a game and a half off the Yank lead when they lost to Philadelphia, 2-1, in the second game of a twilight-night doubleheader after winning the opener, 6, on Jim Hegan's 14th inning homer. As a result, the Tribe gained only a half game on New York and now Homers by Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams, each with a man on, lifted the Red Sox to a 1-2 win over the Tigers. Chuck Stobbs, who gave way to Tex Hughson in the seventh, grabbed victory No. 10 of his first full season at Hal Newhouse's expense.

Eight home runs were hit, five by the New York Giants, as Leo Durocher's club thumped Pittsburgh 12-5. Only 4,701 fans were on hand for the long distance hitting exhibition.

The Boston Braves tightened their grip on third place by edging the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 10 innings. Tommy Holmes' single over third base with two out in the tenth scored Sibby Sisti with the winning run. Elbie Fletcher added his hit to "Fletcher night" with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Fort Worth Fems In Amateur Meet

FORT WORTH, Sept. 1. (AP) — Texas' representatives in the Women's National Amateur Golf Tournament will be Betsy Rawls, state amateur champion from Austin, and Mrs. Frank Goldilwaite of Fort Worth.

Willie Turnesa Favored In National Amateur

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Staff

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 1. (AP) — The 49th U. S. Amateur Golf Championship, now that it's down to where you can recognize the players without a scorecard, stacks up as a battle between Willie Turnesa and a flock of "dark horses."

The defending titlist from Elmford, N. Y., little bigger than a full-grown brant, stood out as an ailing thumb today as the tournament swung into the fifth and quarter-final rounds.

The big question around Oak Hill's 6,800 wooded yards was: who's going to beat Turnesa?

It won't be Robert (Ske) Riegel or Frank Stranahan or any member of the British Walker Cup team.

Riegel and Stranahan, two of the hottest favorites, went out yesterday one right after the other. Part Perowne, the last of Britain's golfing sons bowed to Bill Campbell, the golfing legislator from Huntington, W. Va., who finished one up.

The international segment, with all the British fallen, was represented by a mere wisp of a boy from Canada—Bob Fair of Toronto, who is just 19, all of 125 pounds and playing his first tournament in the U. S.

Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia provided the tournament's major upset when he ousted Riegel, the No. 1 favorite, 3 and 2. Riegel had put the skids under Stranahan in the featured third round, just also 3 and 2.

Turnesa, masterful around the greens, gave par a wailing in disposing of two opponents early. He downed Sam Pencole of Elkins Park, Pa., 5 and 4, and then ousted Ray Billows, last year's runnerup at Memphis, 6 and 5.

Here's how they square off the fifth round today:

Top bracket—Harold Paddock, Jr., Aurora, Ohio, vs. Ray Westcott of Spokane, Wash.; H. MacGregor Hunter of Pacific Palisades, Calif.; Rufus King, Wichita Falls, Tex.; Frank Strafaci, of Flushing, N. Y.; vs. Fair; Charles Dudley, Greenville, S. C., vs. Turnesa.

Matty Bell Does About-Face, Opines SMU Mustangs May Win Some Games

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor

DALLAS, Sept. 1. — Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist University reversed his field today. The celebrated manager of football came right out with the assertion that SMU had a chance to win the Southwest Conference championship.

It was almost startling until Bell added: "All seven members of the conference have brought in some fine athletes and each has a chance at the title. I would say that the other six have a better chance than we have."

Bell made the statement as his squad of 80 went to work aiming at a third consecutive title in a row. The other six members of the conference — Rice, Texas, Texas A&M, Baylor, Texas Christian and Arkansas — also opened fall practice with more than 400 huskies answering the call.

Bell wouldn't pick the team he thought would take the championship. "I am like those guys up before Congress — I refuse to discriminate myself," the Methodist mentor said.

He didn't agree with the view that Southern Methodist, which has lost only one game out of 2 in two seasons and been in the Cotton Bowl twice, should be the favorite. "We lost Gil Johnson, Paul Fagg and Dave Moon from our backfield. We lost Joe Ethridge and John Hamberger, our starting tackles for two years, and we lost Browne Lewis, our best guard. I don't see how we can replace them, parti-

Publinks Tourney Beginning Today

DALLAS, Sept. 1. (AP) — The third annual Dallas Publinks Invitational Golf Tournament is expected to draw a record field of six flights of 32 players each.

The meet gets under way tomorrow at Cedar Crest.

Pre-tourney activities today will feature a pro-amateur with a score of foursomes competing.

First World Series to draw a $1,000,000 gate was the 1953 battle between the New York Yankees and the Giants.

Shorthorns To Open Season Sept. 10 Against Sweetwater 11 Here

Eight games have been scheduled for the Big Spring high school football reserves and two more will probably be added. Head Coach Carl Coleman has announced.

The Shorthorns are being coached by Conn Isaacs and Wayne Bonner.

Indications are Isaacs and Bonner will be able to field a heavy if not an experienced team.

The locals are set to open their program here at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, meeting the Sweetwater Colts.

Complete schedule:

Sept. 10—Sweetwater B here, 2:30 p.m.

Sept. 15—Seagraves there, 8 p.m.

Sept. 24—Sweetwater B there 2:30 p.m.

Oct. 1—Midland B here, 2:30 p.m.

Oct. 7—Coahoma here, 8 p.m.

Oct. 13—Robert Lee there, 8 p.m.

Oct. 21—Starton there, 8 p.m.

Nov. 17—Stamford there, 8 p.m.

Ten Years After War's Start, Berlin Is Center Of Hatred

By DANIEL DeLUCE
AP STAFF

BERLIN, Sept. 1. — Grass grows on some of the war ruins of Berlin, but this is the capital of world hatred.

On the tenth anniversary of the bloodiest conflict in human history which Adolf Hitler started and lost, people are trying fearfully to guess when the next war will break out.

The Russians are just tapering off their summer military maneuvers east of the Elbe. The Americans start a mock campaign with 110,000 troops in the West next week.

Germany, where the bloody conflict was spawned, today is a land divided.

This correspondent arrived in Europe in the spring 10 years ago, when hopeful souls still talked of "peace in our time."

For the next six years millions of men fought with the most destructive weapons the world had ever known. Cities were ruined and ports shattered throughout the continent and elsewhere in the world.

I watched a German army march through Slovakia to the Polish frontier while Hitler's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, was packing to go to Moscow.

When Hitler's infamy was launched, I headed for Poland through the back door of the Carpathian Mountains. I had never heard of Stuka dive bombers. I got acquainted with them in a Polish city called Lvov.

It is written that they who take the sword shall perish by the sword. But many more innocent are slain.

I saw Polish women and children die in the streets of Lvov when all the defense that city had against Nazi air attack was a few old machine guns.

In the next terrible years, as the holocaust spread over the land, an estimated total of 22,000,000 persons perished. Another 34 million were wounded and maimed.

What has happened to Poland? Divided once by Hitler and Stalin, cut up again by Russia, America and Britain, Lvov today is under the Soviet flag.

World War II was supposed to have been fought to crush German militarism. But the lively ghost of the German army — at least 100,000 troops strong — has arisen east of the Elbe under Soviet sponsorship. It bears the title, "People's Police."

And in western Germany certain politicians speculate not too discreetly on the day when the West Germans again will bear arms.

Two German generals were hanged at Nuernberg, but there are plenty of other German generals still around to serve either side in the next war.

'WILD WEST' ADOPTS PUNING NECKLINE—Leaning against an old corral fence, Betty Heflin of Phoenix, Ariz., models the West's version of the plunging neckline. The outfit, created by Margot of Arizona, is guaranteed to make a cowboy look twice. (AP Wirephoto)

SIMPLE CEREMONY

Franklin, Junior, Weds Socialite

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. — In a simple ceremony attended by a few relatives and friends, Rep.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. was married yesterday to Socialite Suzanne Perrin, wartime Marine reservist.

The ceremony joining the late President's third son and the 28-year-old Miss Perrin was held at the bride's East 66th St. apartment. The couple met last spring and had been engaged six weeks.

It was the second marriage for 35-year-old Roosevelt, and the first for his bride.

Roosevelt's marriage in 1937 to the former Ethel Du Pont ended in divorce last May.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the groom's mother, attended the ceremony. Roosevelt's brother, Elliott, was best man.

The Rev. Dr. Lee Vaughan Barker, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle, performed the ceremony.

The groom recently was elected to Congress from New York's 20th district, and is serving as a Democrat-Liberal.

His bride, member of a socially prominent New York family, served for two years during the war as a member of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

With champagne and accordion music for the wedding guests, the couple received for an hour after the ceremony, then left by car on their wedding trip.

Smiling at a small army of newspaper and newsreel photographers, they declined to be interviewed or disclose their wedding trip plans.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Lee James Perrin, said Roosevelt had rented a home for his bride "somewhere in Georgetown," a section of Washington, D. C.

Polio Foundation To Ask More Funds

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. — For the first time in its history, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is laying plans for a special fund-raising drive.

The drive is made necessary, President Basil O'Connor said yesterday, because of the extent of this year's polio incidence.

The foundation, he said, has spent $7,078,800 on new cases this year, and a remaining fund of $3 million will probably be used up by November.

The 11-year-old foundation until now has conducted one campaign a year.

Stopgap Fund Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. — A stopgap bill supplying operating funds for scores of government agencies was bustled through the Senate yesterday. It was made necessary by the two-month congressional delay in acting on regular money bills.

Texas Enters Billion-Level In Spending

AUSTIN, Sept. 1. — Texas today entered its first biennium of billion-dollar spending.

The state government spent approximately 850 million dollars during the two-year fiscal period which ended yesterday.

The state comptroller has not yet made his report for August, the month just ended, but the trend for the past year indicates that state expenditures will total approximately 440 to 445 million dollars for the past 12 months. The previous year's total was 403 million dollars.

State revenues surpassed the billion-dollar mark the biennium just ended. Again the final monthly report is not available, but the trend points to a 1948-49 total of some $20 million dollars. Income for 1947-48 was $13 million.

Much of the money spent by the state is federal aid. Federal grants to Texas for public health, welfare, education and highways total well over $200 million for the past two years.

Two Crash Victims Are Identified

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 1. — The Air Force has identified two fliers who died yesterday in the crash of their B-45 jet bomber near here.

They were Maj. Paul B. Neafus, 29, Omaha, Neb., and First Lt. Donald A. Paulson, 22, Webster, S. D.

Chicago Gasoline Tie-up Is Ended

CHICAGO, Sept. 1. — The 21-day strike of tank truck drivers which had brought a near gasoline famine to the Chicago area ended early today.
