

Prom Ticket Sales Lag

Approximately 175 tickets had been sold last night. The semi-formal dance, open to all college students, is being sponsored by the Junior class.

Tickets will be sold in each of the men's dorms at noon and in the evening. Tickets may also be purchased at $3 per couple in the Tech Union and from members of the Junior Class.

The prom featuring the band of the popular saxophonist Hal McIntyre, is scheduled for Saturday from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Fair Park Coliseum.

McIntyre, a "favorite" among college campuses, is an ex-Glen Miller protege and has some 20 years as a "top musician to his credit."

Debbie Brown and the McIntots will be featured vocalists for the prom. Both Miss Brown and the McIntyre orchestra have rapidly become popular with their recordings for Decca.

This year's prom will have a special theme, according to publicity chairman Walter Schuler. The theme will be based on the "Double T" with decorations in red and black.

Members of fraternities and their dates may sit at tables designated for them. They will have the Greek letters as centerpieces.

Boxes Placed For Cancer Donations

Containers for donations to the 1957 Cancer Crusade have been placed in dormitories, the Book Store, Tech Union, and classroom buildings in an attempt to raise Tech's goal of $300.

A "fire bucket brigade" composed of fraternity pledges is scheduled to swarm through Tech Union today. The pledges are to wear firemen's suits and will seek coins to fill their buckets.

Leaflets are available at all donation points on campus. These pamphlets point out the seven cancer danger signals and explain the use of funds donated to the American Cancer Society.

Boone Brackett is campus drive chairman.

Engineers Meeting To End Tomorrow

Spring meeting of the Texas Section of American Society of Civil Engineers will continue at Lubbock Hotel through tomorrow.

Highlights of the meeting will include presentation of life memberships, reading of four papers, and an address by Pres. E. N. Jones, entitled "Engineering Education."

Arthur Martin, junior civil engineering student, will be among students from seven engineering schools in the state to submit papers. His paper is entitled "Ground Water Recharge By Spreading."

Fran B. Ogle, who directed the designing and construction of Lubbock's highway dispersal system, will be among those receiving life memberships. He has been with the State Highway Department more than 30 years.

Exes Over Nation To Fete Tech Day

More than 40 chapters of ex-Techans in eight states and District of Columbia will observe the fourth annual Texas Tech Day Saturday.

Observances will range from family-style picnics to formal dinner dances. Also featured will be a special Tech Day broadcast over many Southwest radio stations.

An increase of some 43 per cent in the number of groups participating will make this year's celebration the largest yet, according to L. C. Walker, executive secretary of the ex-student Assn.

The radio broadcast will take up where a similar tape recording left off last year. Events of the past year will be reviewed through interviews with campus dignitaries. Tech Band provides background music.

Festivities for Lubbock area exes will center around a 2:30 p.m. picnic at the barbecue pits in Mackenzie park. Roy Bass, Lubbock attorney and former Tech faculty member will be principal speaker at the event.

Other speakers include: Dr. G. E. Giesecke, academic vice president; DeWitt Weaver, head football coach and Walker; J. C. Chambers will be master of ceremonies and Joe Harter, president of the Lubbock ex-students chapter will give the welcoming address.

Officials Selected For 'Murder' Trial

Officials for the "Strout Murder Trial" at 7:30 tonight in the Agricultural Engineering Auditorium have been announced.

They are: Jim Shearer of Plainview, presiding judge; Willis Taylor of Lubbock and Oral Parks of Buffalo Gap, prosecuting attorneys; Bob Richards and Jack Gibson, both of Lubbock, defense attorneys; Lee Huddleston of Anton, sheriff; and Joe Ben Hudgens of Pecos, bailiff.

Dr. Strout, Tech English professor, was "shot to death" by sophomore Jerry Fletcher of Ropesville in spectacular fashion Tuesday morning in Tech Union. The carefully planned mock murder remained a secret until seconds before it happened.

Jury for the trial will be made up primarily of students in Dr. J. William Davis' constitutional law class.

The trial will be open to the public.

Symphony Offers Cole Porter Tunes

Two hours of Cole Porter tunes are scheduled for 8:15 p.m. Monday by the Lubbock Symphony at its annual "Pops Night" in Municipal Auditorium.

Five soloists and a 30-voice chorus will participate in the performance. Several Techsians are working with the symphony and chorus. Cleve Genzlinger, Tech voice instructor, is featured as one of the soloists.

Tickets are on sale at the Lubbock Symphony business office, 1625 Avenue Y. Admission ranges from 75 cents to $3.

Council Votes To Pay Part Of Banquet Cost

A decision to use Student Council funds to help finance the annual Student Council banquet highlighted Tuesday's meeting of the student governing body.

Edwina Schovajsa, Council secretary, announced the banquet for incumbent and newly elected Council members would be May 14 in Top Of The Plains Restaurant. Tickets will be $1.75 per person.

Engineering Representative Max Merrell moved money be taken from Council funds to pay for the present Council member's dinners. Discussing the motion, David Thompson, business manager, pointed out that the Council has been operating in the "red" and if the motion passed, the money for the dinners would have to come from the Council's reserve fund that has built up in previous years.

While discussing the motion, Arts and Sciences Representative

Wick Alexander proposed an amendment to Merrell's motion that provided for present Council members to pay $1 for their dinners with the remaining 75 cents coming from Council funds. The amendment passed.

Last year was the first time dinners for Council members were paid for from Council funds. Newly elected Council members are installed at the banquet.

In other business the group voted to give dramatics $50 from the sinking fund. The possibility of doing away with the present activity book and combining it with the identification card fee also was discussed.

Trevino Plays in Union

Servando Trevino's Latin American combo is the feature entertainment at Sunday's Raider Review show, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the Union snackbar.

The group will be in charge of the whole evening's program.

With a wishful glance, Lynn Cundiff contemplates a dip in the K. N. Clapp pool. With temperatures daily hovering near the 80's, more and more Techsians will get that look in their eye. Lynn decides to take a pre-opening day swim (center panel) and displays "come on in the water's fine" smile. Soaking in the sun, (right) Lynn's thoughts turn to summer days ahead. Opening dates for Lubbock's two pools have been announced by Jim Crawford, supervisor of swimming pools of the City Park and Recreation Department. K. N. Clapp will open Sunday; Mackenzie will open May 12.

AM I TO BLAME? . . .

The House of Representatives has approved and the Senate is considering a bill which, if passed, would raise the tuition at state-supported colleges and universities from $25 to $50 a semester.

The reason for the proposed bill is clear enough: the State Legislature wants to raise public school and college teachers' salaries without having to raise taxes.

Techsians have shown that they are particularly interested in the low salaries paid their instructors. Petitions bearing the signatures of approximately 5,000 students were sent to the Legislature requesting that salaries be raised. Who other than the college students can better realize that many of the better instructors are being attracted away from teaching by the much higher salaries offered by business and industry.

But the question that immediately arises with the financially strained college student is: Am I to blame because the State Legislature has not provided teachers with decent salaries? Can I help it if members of the Legislature, for political reasons, refuse to raise taxes or tap other sources of revenue for the most needed salary increase?

When discussing the bill, shouldn't the possible outcome of the following questions be considered: Should not the objective of public education be an education that is economically possible for all, rather than a more expensive education for a select few? Will this measure tend to discourage attendance at state colleges? How will it affect veterans and married students? Is this bill merely an easy way out; a fast way to raise the necessary funds? Could the money be appropriated from other sources?

These questions must be answered by each person before the bill is allowed to pass. We feel that NOW is the time for the voter, the student and the teacher to inform the Legislature of his wishes.

$500,000 Natatorium Boosts PE Department, Intramurals

By BEN MCCARTY
Toreador Staff Writer

"We can stop stooping under doors and bumping our heads when we get moved into the natatorium," says Dr. Ramon W. Kirellis, head of the physical education department. The "stooping and bumping" refers to the short doors in the men's side of the old gym.

The $500,000 natatorium, which is expected to be completed in October, will boost the physical education department and intramural program, Kirellis said.

The swimming pool, with 400 to 500 spectator seats, will have one and three meter diving boards and a ceiling height of 22 ft. 6 in. to allow plenty of room, he said. Water depth is 14 ft. sloping down to 3 ft. 6 in.

The pool dimensions are 75 ft. by 12 ft. and there is a gutter all around the pool with adequate depth to provide proper sanitation and less splashing of water, Kirellis said.

Beginning next fall, 13 swimming and two life saving classes, with lab charges reduced from $10 to $5, have been scheduled.

"We also plan to have regular recreation swim hours with no charge to the student if the state legislature passes the bill presented by the college," he stated.

Intramural plans for the pool are to have a one month training period for contestants and then have an intramural swimming championship meet. After the first year plans call for water polo also to be added to intramural sports, Kirellis said.

The pool is the only facility for women in the natatorium as they will occupy the old gym for other physical education classes.

Two Gyms Are Feature

The gym area in the natatorium will include two 84 ft. and one 94 ft. basketball courts for the use of the varsity and men's physical education classes.

Other facilities in the natatorium are a locker room, check out room, drying room, staff offices, two classrooms and a women's locker room adjacent to the pool.

Gymnastic room, wrestling room, weight lifting room and handball courts were originally planned, but were cut out because of high costs, Kirellis said. He expressed hope that they would be added when new building appropriations were made.

Awards Banquet Slated April 30

The intramural awards banquet sponsored by Tech's Forensics Union will be held Tuesday, April 30 at 5:15 p.m. in the Workroom of Tech Union.

Awards for the intramural speech tournament will be handed out. Awards include: the sweepstakes trophy for the winning organization based on total points, individual trophies in each of the events, and the certificates for superior and excellent ratings that have not been claimed.

CAMPUS NEWS BRIEFS

Union May Sponsor Varsity Show

Tech Union may again sponsor the annual Varsity Show next year, according to David Thompson, Student Council business manager.

The decision is subject to a vote by the Tech Union Board.

This year's Varsity Show, "On The Town," lost approximately $100, Thompson said. About 3,000 students and townspeople witnessed the production. Wayne Gibbens and John Gilbert, producer and director, are working on recommendations to give aid to next year's staff.

Cadet Col. Larry Byrd had charge of arrangements.

'L'avare' Run Ends

The last performances of the French play, "L'avare," are tonight at 8:15 p.m. and tomorrow at 3 p.m. in room 217 of the Administration building. Tickets are 50 cents.

"L'avare," meaning "the miser," is a comedy given in French dialogue. French pupils have translated the script so audiences can better understand the story.

Clement Attends Meet

Warren P. Clement, registrar, left Sunday to attend the National Association of American College Registrars meeting in Denver. He will return to the campus Friday.

Class Conducts Toreador Poll

A readership survey of the Toreador is continuing under the direction of Wallace E. Garrett, journalism department head.

Members of the news editing class are questioning a representative number of Techsians from each of Tech's schools in an attempt to see who reads the newspaper and which sections of the paper are most read.

Music Department Schedules Recitals

Juniors, seniors and faculty members of the music department are taking advantage of the remaining weeks of school to offer a series of recitals, reports Dr. Gene Hemmle, music department head.

Carol Caddel, soprano, and Don Armstrong, baritone, students of Cleve Genzlinger, presented their joint junior recital last night in the Music Building auditorium.

Saturday at 7:30 p.m., sopranos Ray Ola Schneider and Sarabeth Simpson, accompanied by Roberta Elliott, piano, will present a joint junior recital in the Music Building Recital Hall.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock Frances Treadway, soprano, will be presented in senior recital in the Recital Hall.

May 16 will feature Louise Crook, soprano, and Sandra Hemmle, contralto, with Amanda Ward accompanying, in their junior recital at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

Scott Couch, trumpet, and Joy Sue Downing, piano, will present a joint senior recital May 17, at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

Also to be presented in senior recital will be Wayland Stephens, baritone, at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall on May 18.

Presenting a faculty recital on May 19 at 4 p.m. in the Recital Hall will be Richard La Mar, piano instructor.

Thompson To Join Staff

Bud Thompson, 1939 Tech graduate, has been appointed to the Tech speech staff for next year, according to Dr. P. Merville Larson, head of the speech department.

Thompson will join the staff as a part-time instructor to teach courses in radio and television broadcasting, programming and production. He is associated presently with KCBD-TV in Lubbock and is working toward his master's degree in psychology at Tech. He has been associated with KFVO in Lubbock and KGNC radio and TV in Amarillo.

Wreck Toll Reaches 18

Eighteen wrecks have occurred on the campus since the beginning of school, according to Capt. S. E. Thompson, chief security officer.

Most of the wrecks have occurred on the West Hall parking lot and the room reservation lot behind Drane Hall.

There have been very few injuries, but damage to the cars has run extremely high.

Salvaged Signs Save Seekers

Newcomers to Tech campus no longer need wonder what building is what, as new signs were erected in front of all major buildings on campus last week.

Signs had been donated by the summer graduating class of '45 and the spring class of '46 for this purpose, but these were torn down several years ago by vandals after a football game.

Tech's maintenance department took the signs which could be salvaged and repaired them, and purchased new signs for the newer buildings. Each sign, including labor and materials, needed to set the signs in place, cost nearly $100.

65 Coeds Sign Up For Charm Course

About 65 women have signed up for Tech's charm school next week, sponsored by Phi Upsilon Omicron and the Home Economics Club, according to Barbara Smith, co-chairman for the school.

Coeds wishing to take the course, which will include group and individual instructions on correct accessories, posture, costume selection and color, may still sign up by contacting Marian Jo Wilson, Priscilla Jacobsen, co-chairman Carolyn Reynolds or Miss Smith.

The school, to be taught by Mrs. Bess Rothman, former teacher for John Robert Powers Modeling School, costs $15.

Beginning Monday, classes will be taught every day during the week from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m., so that the girls who sign up will be able to come at one of the two times, making a total of 10 hours,

Etiquette Expert To Present Lecture

Russell Curry, an expert in etiquette from Boston, Mass., will present a lecture entitled "It's a Date" in the Tech Union Ballroom, tonight at 8 p.m.

He has had vast experience teaching dance and etiquette in his private school in Boston. He urges listeners to ask questions at any time during the program and he takes great delight in putting in ad-libs.

For example, one young man asked what he should do if he invited a girl to go to the movies with him and when they arrived at the box office she insisted on paying for her own ticket. Curry suggested that he marry her.

Russell Curry's appearance is being sponsored by the Special Events Committee of the Tech Union and there is no admission charge.

Collection Receives Magazine Records

Tech's Southwest Collection has received 5,000 illustrations plus other records of Southwestern Crop and Stock Magazine since its founding in 1947.

Included in the gift by Publisher Raymond Lee Johns and Editor A. B. Slagle of Lubbock are office files, reference books and copies of each issue since the magazine first appeared.

Sylvan Dunn, associate archivist of the Southwest Collection, called the gift a "major contribution to the Southwest Collection's efforts in gathering information on Great Plains farming and ranching."

The pictures and drawings will be indexed into at least 75 reference categories.

Tuesday Dance Features 'April in Paris' Theme

April in Paris will be the theme of the Tuesday night dance at Tech Union from 7 to 9 p.m.

The dance is informal and all types of records will be available free of charge to Tech students. The snack bar area will be decorated for the dance.

Woman's Day Features AWS Banquet, Presentation of Woman of the Year

Prominent Dallas book reviewer, Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer, is slated as the principal speaker for the annual Woman's Day banquet at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the Union Ballroom, when Tech's Woman of the Year will be named.

Women students have been asked by Associated Women Students, sponsors, to dress in white to celebrate Woman's Day on campus and the semi-formal dinner is open to all women. Tickets are $1.75 and can be obtained from any AWS representative.

Nominees for Woman of the Year have been received from 15 organizations and will be voted on in open election in the Union on Tuesday.

The banquet program will include recognition of women with

Initiation Ceremony Slated Sunday For New Mortar Board Members

Initiation of 17 women into Mortar Board, national woman's honorary scholastic society, is scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday in the parlor of the First Christian Church.

Old members and new initiates will gather at 5:45 p.m. for a banquet at the Lubbock Women's Club before the initiation ceremony.

Costume for the event will be white blouses, black skirts and black shoes.

Mary Randal, Mortar Board president, will preside, and with her in the ceremony will be Joanne Holmes, vice-president; Kay Robinson, secretary; Frances Allison, historian; Sue Ranney, senior sponsor; and Assistant Dean of Women Jackie Sterner.

Those to be initiated were chosen for membership on the basis of scholarship, campus leadership and participation. They were named during a ceremony last week.

Two women chosen will be initiated next fall, when they become seniors.

high scholarship standings; recognition of members of Mortar Board, Junior Council and Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic societies; recognition of officers and legislators of the four women's dormitories; presentation of intramural baseball awards; installation of AWS officers; and presentation of Woman of the Year.

Nominees for the honor are Edwina Schovajsa, Mary Allen Carr, Mary H. Randal, Lucinda Birtel, Barbara Smith, Averill Brinkman, Juanita Haseloff, Kiesling, Kay Robinson, Mariana Wilson, Mary Jane Hartley, Frances Allison, Marguerite Winder, Joanne Holmes, Marian Jo Wilson and Helene Edwards.

Co-chairman for the affair are Mary Alice Richardson and Sue Jo Cole. Committee chairmen include Marihelen Jones, publicity, Grace Wheeler, tickets, Janna Murray, decorations, and Pat Curry, election.

DEADLINE SET

Beauty and Beast Contest Slated

Entries in Alpha Phi Omega's Beauty and the Beast contest must be submitted to the office of the Dean of Men by noon tomorrow. Each campus organization may enter one contestant.

Students may vote for their choice at a booth in the Union Monday through 8 p.m. Wednesday. Votes may be cast for a penny.

The winning man and woman will be presented during a contest of area jazz bands beginning at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Rec Hall. The Kingsmen Combo, Four Teens and other local bands are entered in the musical show. Those attending will choose the best band, which will be given a trophy. Admission is $1, stag or date.

Money from the contest goes to the building fund for the "Saddle Tramp Circle," to be erected by Homecoming next year and used for pep rallies and other campus gatherings.

Names of organizations whose entry is chosen will be placed on a plaque in the circle, and each group is to be given a permanent silver cup.

Silver keys go to the Beauty and Beast, plus a paid dinner date to one of the city's restaurants.

Although selection of the Ugliest Man on Campus is an annual event, this is the first year a Beauty has been chosen to reign with him. Students who enter the contest must be regularly enrolled at Tech and fill college requirements for participation in extracurricular activities. Entry blanks must be accompanied by a picture of the contestant and a $2 entrance fee.

THE THUNDERING MARCH OF PROGRESS

Today, as everyone knows, is the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Gransmire College for Women which, as everyone knows, was the first Progressive Education college in the United States.

Well do I recollect the tizzy in the academic world when Gransmire first opened its portals! What a buzz there was, what a brouhaha in faculty common rooms, what a rattling of teacups, when Dr. Agnes Thudd Sigafos, first president of Gransmire, lifted her shaggy head and announced defiantly, "This here is no stuffy, old-fashioned college. This here, by gum, is Progressive Education. We will teach the student, not the course. There will be no marks, no exams, no requirements. We will break the iron mold of orthodoxy, hey."

Well sir, forward-looking maidens all over the country cast off their fetters and came rushing to New Hampshire to enroll at Gransmire. Here they found freedom. They broadened their vistas. They lengthened their horizons. They unstopped their bottled personalities. They roamed the campus in togas, leading ocelots on leashes.

And, of course, they smoked Philip Morris. (I say "of course." Why do I say "of course"? I say "of course" because it is a matter of course that anyone in search of freedom should naturally turn to Philip Morris, for Philip Morris is a natural smoke, with no filter to get in the way of its true tobacco taste.)

But all was not Philip Morris and ocelots. There was work and study too - not in the ordinary sense, for there were no formal classes. Instead there was a broad approach to enlarging each girl's potentials.

Take the course called Basic Motor Skills

Take, for example, the course called B.M.S. (Basic Motor Skills). B.M.S. was divided into L.D. (Lying Down), S.U. (Standing Up) and W. (Walking). Once the student had mastered L.D. and S.U., she was taught to W. - but not just to W. any old way! No, sir! She was taught to W. with poise, dignity, bearing! To inculcate a sense of balance in the girl, she began her exercises by walking with a suitcase in each hand. (One girl, Mary Ellen Dorgemicht, got so good at it that today she is bell captain at the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia.)

When the girls had walking under their belts, they were allowed to dance. Again no formality was imposed. They were simply told to fling themselves about in any way their impulses dictated, and believe you me, it was quite an impressive sight to see them go bounding into the woods with their togas flying. (Several later joined the U. S. Forestry Service.)

There was also a lot of finger painting and gourd rattling and sculpture with coat hangers and all like that, and soon the fresh wind of Progressivism came whistling out of Gransmire to blow the ancient dust of pedantry off curricula everywhere, and today, thanks to the pioneers at Gransmire, we are all free, every man-jack of us.

If you are ever in New Hampshire, be sure to visit the Gransmire campus. It is now a tannery.

© Max Shulman, 1957

And be sure to light a Philip Morris when you visit Gransmire, or anywhere else for that matter, because Philip Morris is always a naturally perfect companion and brings you this column each week and is ignitable at either end.

Prep Stars In RR Relays

By BILLY ELLIS
Friday Sports Editor

The largest field yet has been assured for the third annual Red Raider Relays, to be held tomorrow on the Texas Tech track. Fifty-nine schools have entered 168 athletes, who represent the "cream of the crop" in Texas high school track and field.

Serving as an ideal tune-up for the state meet next weekend in Austin, the RRR is open only to first and second place winners in regional competition, who will be competing in the state meet. Everett Peel of the Lubbock Amateur Athletic Assn. is meet director.

Relays Cover State
Begun in 1955, the Relays are rapidly becoming a state-wide event. Teams are entered this year from Eagle Pass, Del Rio and El Paso, where all four high schools will again be represented. Last year there were 42 schools and 136 athletes here, while 40 teams and 114 athletes made up the initial Relays program.

With anything resembling good weather, an entire new slate of records could be written. Outstanding individuals include Calvin Cooley, expected to single-handedly win the state meet for Class B. Hawley. Cooley last week ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.0, tying the national high school record.

McClellan Defends Title
Mike McClellan, Stamford's outstanding sprinter, will make his third Relays appearance. McClellan was the meet's high-point individual last year, and will be a threat for the individual trophy again tomorrow. Canyon's hurdler-sprinter Charles Neblett is another threat for high-point honors. He and Cooley have entered the same five events—making for quite a personal duel.

Probably the outstanding event of the day will be the mile run. Among the select field are four milers who have toured the course in less than 4:33 this season. Carlos (Speedy) Gonzales of El Paso High has the best time in the state, 4:27.8. Littlefield's Bobby Cunningham has a 4:31.3, and beat Gonzales earlier this year.

Other threats will be Coleman's Dale Byerly, who has run a 4:32 this season, and has edged out Cunningham in two state meets. Paul Balderrama of Brownwood has turned in a 4:32.2, and a fifth entrant, Carter Conway of Abilene, has done 4:35.

Good Marks Listed
Others to watch include: Dickie Murphy of Odessa, who could clear 6-5 in the high jump; Bayles Bennett of Amarillo, coming closer to 13 ft. in the pole vault with each try; Don Dishong, Odessa's 880 man who has been pushing 1:57; Pat Holmes of Del Rio, a 55 ft.-plus man in the shot put; Odessa's Jack Tayrien, who will push 170 ft. in the discus throw; and John Dale Lewis of Coleman, who along with McClellan has equalled the state mark of 9.6 in the 100, and also run the low hurdles in 20.9, 2 seconds off the national record set by Eddie Southern, now of Texas U.

Members of Tech's freshman track team will put on two exhibition races during the meet. Before the first event, Coach Delmer Brown will match three men in the high hurdles. Before the mile relay starts, the Picadors will run two matched teams in that event.

State Official Here
Starter for the meet will be Dr.

C. J. (Shorty) Alderson from the University of Texas, who serves as state meet starter. Referee will be DeWitt Weaver, head football coach and athletic director at Tech.

Trophies will be presented to the over-all winner and runner-up, divisional (B, A, AA) champs and runners-up, winning relay teams and high-point individual. Wrist watches will go to coaches of winning teams, and track shoes will be presented to every place winner in the meet.

Preliminaries began at 10 a.m.

Tech, SAFB Clash Today

Texas Tech's baseballers wind up their home schedule this weekend, hosting the Sheppard AFB team in games this afternoon and tomorrow. The Raiders wind up the season next weekend by returning the games.

Coach Beattie Feathers' nine will be trying to insure their second straight winning season in today's game. The Red Raiders have a 6-3 record to date, with the four-game set remaining.

Houston Powell, Lubbock right-hander who has improved with the season, will be seeking his third mound victory of the year today as he starts on the hill for Tech. Powell has allowed only one run and eight hits in his last two efforts.

Powell will be trying to preserve Tech's pitching record when he starts today. The last four games have seen the Tech pitcher go the distance for the win. Powell was the hurler on two occasions, with Leo Chase and Wick Alexander going the route one each.

In the last three games, Tech pitchers have given up only a single run.

Tech's lineup for today's game, set for 3 p.m., reads: John (Buzz) Bates, (250) catcher; Walter (Chili) Bingham, (188) first base; Dave Allen (273) or B. A. (Sonny) Donelson (400), second base; David Potter (219), third base; Monroe Henderson (333), shortstop; Norman Huggins (300), leftfield; Gehrig Garrison (235), centerfield; Darrell Summers (344), rightfield; and Powell (2-2) on the mound.

Picador Trackmen Host ACC

Tech track fans will get a chance to see their Picador team perform this spring, after all, as Coach Delmer Brown's frosh will host the Abilene Christian freshmen in a dual meet on the Tech track Tuesday afternoon beginning at 3.

The Picadors, limited to five meets by Southwest Conference rules, had a previous meet at Abilene postponed by cold weather. Coach Brown's thin-clads have taken wins at Ft. Worth's Southwest Recreation meet, a four-way meet at Austin, and the unofficial team title in the freshman-junior college division of the Texas Relays.

The dual meet will serve as a warm-up for the SWC meet, to be held at Austin May 10-11.

The cornerstone of the Administration building was laid November 11, 1924.

DON'T JUST STAND THERE... STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES

MILLIONAIRES: do your friends yawn at yachts? Do they think diamonds are dreary? Here's a present that would make even a banker hanker: introduce him to Luckies! While you're at it, be a sport: give him a whole Startin' Carton! A Lucky is all cigarette . . . nothing but fine tobacco—mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Invest in a carton yourself. You'll say Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
