

Gov. Connally May Visit Tech

TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE

Vol. 40 Lubbock, Texas, Saturday, February 27, 1965 No. 94

A large delegation of legislators, possibly accompanied by Gov. John Connally, will visit Lubbock and the Texas Tech campus Thursday, State Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard announced Friday.

As many as 20 legislators, including members of the House Appropriations Committee, will arrive in Lubbock in time to see the Tech-A&M game, Sen. Blanchard said.

In a Lubbock press conference also attended by Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Sen. Blanchard said the delegation is interested in learning more about the college and the area.

Both Smith and Blanchard told reporters there was little chance of any kind of college and university systems proposal being passed by the legislature this session.

'Little Support'

"As far as systems are concerned, we might as well forget it at this time. As far as I can tell there is very little support in the legislature for any kind of system at this time," Lt. Gov. Smith said.

He added, "The governor hasn't even introduced his bill."

Sen. Blanchard, commenting on rumors that efforts were being made to destroy Tech, said, "There has not been a concerted attack on Texas Tech. There's not anybody mad at Tech."

"In talking with the governor, he says he recognizes Texas Tech as a multi-purpose university."

When asked what would happen if the governor pressed his systems proposal, Blanchard declared, "There would be the dangest fight if they try to place Tech with A&M."

Expresses Views

Expressing his view on the higher education coordinating board approved by the legislature, Sen. Blanchard said he was concerned about the power the board had to tell each school what curriculum it should have.

"It was a little unfair to the Senate by running it over Senate amendments," he commented about action of the bill's proponents.

When asked about the status of his name-change bill (Texas Tech University) Blanchard remarked that it was in committee but added, "I've got a medical school, law school and other things more important, in my opinion."

He said the name-change bill was not a local bill and it was of interest to others.

On the Tech law school bill, he said the Senate committee was making an effort to place funds for it in their version of an appropriation bill.

House Rejects

Earlier this week the House rejected an effort by Rep. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock to include an amendment which would allow Tech to use funds for the establishment of a law school.

Blanchard said Friday Tech has the highest priority for a law school from the Commission on Higher Education. He said the Commission strongly recommends a new law school for Texas and one to be located at Tech.

On the medical school proposal, he commented, "I have requested a hearing before the Education Committee March 8 or 9."

One reporter asked Sen. Blanchard what was his reaction to Tech's ineligibility to compete for the Southwest Conference basketball championship. He said, "I was with a large number of legislators (when he received the news) and there was kind of a shock."

Investigation

Al Allison, Tech board member from Levelland, was present at the press conference and told this reporter he planned to ask for an official investigation of the basketball problem.

He said he thought a board subcommittee probably would conduct the investigation to determine "what happened."

SC Group Investigates Dorm Food

A committee of Student Council representatives during the next two weeks will eat in dorm cafeterias to investigate student complaints of poor food and food management.

After all dorm facilities have been visited, the committee, with Tom Edwards, BA representative, as chairman, will conduct public hearings on the complaints.

The committee plans a report on quantity and quality of the food and will check cleanliness and the length of time students must stand in line.

Kent Hance, Student Council vice president and member of the committee, said a proposal would be drawn up following the investigation and be submitted "through proper channels" if bad conditions are found to exist.

If nothing is done to correct the situation, the proposal will be submitted to the Board of Directors, Hance said.

Students who want to appear before the committee at the hearings, should register in the Student Council office. Times and places of the hearings will be announced.

Hance said students should appear before the committee to register complaints rather than demonstrate in the cafeteria. Isolated demonstrations have been reported in many Tech's men's and women's dorms.

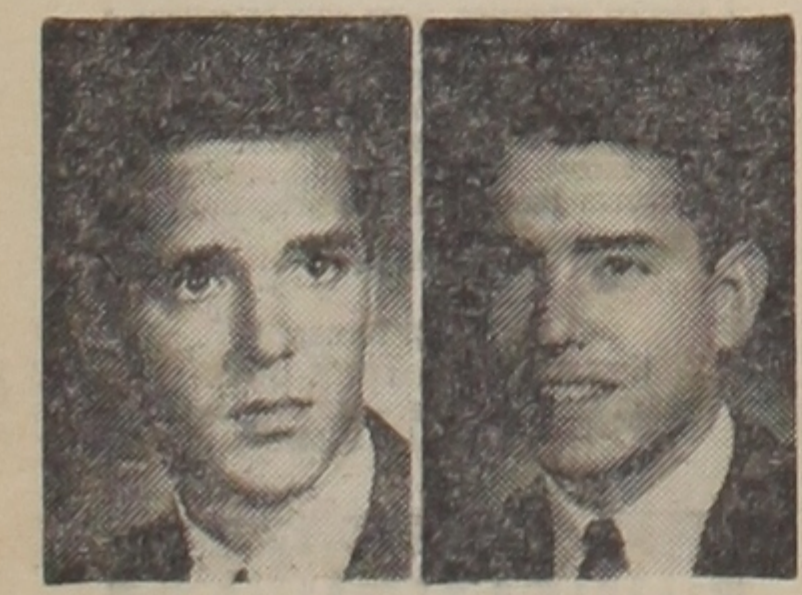

Monday Last Day To Get 'W' Grade

Monday is the last day that students may drop a class without penalty. A grade of "W" will be given for any classes dropped on or before this date.

Top Campus Leaders To Explore Changes

Four high-ranking and influential campus leaders will explore the changes taking place at Texas Tech and the challenges for the future at a public forum Sunday evening.

Ronnie Botkin, Steve Magee, Steve George and Mike Stinson will discuss such things as the "Welborn articles," academic freedom, student government, campus political parties and the influence

Noted U.N. Correspondent Tells Of Growing Struggle

By BARBARA WORLEY
Staff Writer

"The struggle toward something better is, in effect, life itself," John MacVane told the Model United Nations Friday.

The veteran newspaperman and commentator said this struggle is exactly what the United Nations is undertaking now. MacVane is ABC's correspondent to the U.N.

He cited doubts and criticisms hurled at the U.N. today, and said many of these feelings stem from the idea that the U.N. is some kind of mysterious organization.

Country Relations

Denying this, MacVane said the organization is "mainly and almost wholly an expression of the relations between the member countries."

Whatever doubts come up should not be in the organization itself, but in these relations, he said.

In describing the advance of the U.N. as a powerful world organization since its birth 19 years ago, MacVane said on 20 occasions the U.N. has stopped armed conflicts through intervention.

On at least 20 other occasions, when countries were fighting and could not find their own solutions, cease-fires were arranged by the U.N. so conferences could be held.

Describes Forces

He described the organization's Mobilized International Organization forces which fought the Soviet-backed Communist attack on Korea.

"Sixteen member countries contributed to the armed forces which went to Korea and 50 contributed supplies and goods."

This was done after the Soviet walkout of 1950 when every representative from the U.S.S.R. walked out of the organization.

"The world found that the U.N. could function, surprisingly enough, even without them," MacVane said.

"The U.N. was not on the rocks." Looking more to the present, the newspaperman said the U.N. is going through a period of transformation, "every organization of such size and importance does."

Rise In Power

He cited the rise in power of Communist China as the notable change in the 20th century, and said the Soviet leaders are beginning to realize the impossibility of their dreams of a world empire.

glad to give them an opportunity to express their views."

Wilson said Bronson Havard, Daily Foreador editor, will participate as forum moderator.

Near the end of the program the floor will be opened to questions from the audience, he said.

The public is invited to the forum which begins at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Catholic Student Center, 2304 Broadway.

of Berkeley on students.

According to Clancey Wilson, program co-chairman, the Newman Club is sponsoring the forum to encourage an open discussion of campus affairs and to give student leaders an opportunity to inform the student body.

Botkin is Student Association president; Magee, chief justice of the Student Supreme Court; George, Tech Union president; and Stinson, Student Council representative and senior member of several important college policy-making committees.

Commenting on the program Wilson said, "It promises to be an hour of stimulating discussion and debate on the ideas and forces motivating and guiding the Tech student body."

Syria Calls For MUN Session Tech Faculty Member To Give Music Recital

Syria requested an emergency session of the Model U.N. Security Council Friday, charging Israel with illegally diverting the Jordan River waters.

The Jordan delegation refused to recognize the legal existence of Israel on the following grounds:

- The Israeli had violated the U.N. plan of 1947.

- Jews had no right to live in the Middle East.
- Arabs living in Palestine have been ousted from their homes and deprived of their property.

The China delegation asked the Jordan delegation to explain how it could make charges against a non-existent state.

Proceedings were temporarily disrupted by a violent demonstration staged by the Arabs. Arabs armed with signs reading "Down with the Imperialist Jews" stormed the session trying to capture the Israeli delegate. They were quickly thrown out by the sergeant-at-arms.

Later the Israelis put on a rebuttal demonstration, screaming "down with Arabs."

Sessions today will be from 9 a.m.-noon and from 1:30-3 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. The General Assembly will be followed by an awards banquet at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Coronado Room.

Walter Kent Hill will be heard in recital at St. Paul's Church on the Plains Monday at 8 p.m.

Hill, who joined the Tech Music Department in 1963, attended Wesleyan Conservatory and obtained his Bachelor of Music degree from Oberlin College. A Master of Music in Church Music was awarded at Eastman School of Music in Rochester where Hill is now completing work leading to the A.M.D. degree.

Hill has been the recipient of numerous awards including the Breckinridge Scholarship at Oberlin, a U.S. Defense Education Act Fellowship at Eastman and a finalist in the Young Organist's National Competition of the American Guild of Organists.

The artist has been a guest performer for the Organ Historical Society National Convention in New York State and has recorded for that organization.

As a Fullbright Scholar in Europe, Hill received critical acclaim in recitals in Denmark, Sweden and Germany besides his several appearances in New York, Ohio, Alabama and Texas.

His program will be as follows:
 Partita on "O Gott, du frommer Gott" Bach
 Prelude and Fugue in a minor Bach
 Finale from Symphony No. 1 Vienne
 Clair de Lune Karg-Elert
 Variations on a Noel Dupre

Critical importance and vigor are fused into this one meaningful word, vitality. What does this mean to you?—a graduate about to make the major decision of career selection. By selecting a company with vitality, you'll find more challenging and rewarding work. Ford Motor Company is such a firm.

At our Company, you'll have the advantages and resources of a large corporation, along with the high degree of personal responsibility you'd expect in a small one. For our Company is composed of many small management teams, each with responsibility for a specific activity. Activities so vital, they can affect hundreds of jobs and involve millions of dollars. You play in the big leagues—early—at Ford Motor Company. An example: Bob Bowen's experiences in marketing.

Early in Bob's career, he helped prepare comprehensive reviews of our current and planned marketing activities. He also studied special problems in market representation. Later, he was assigned to one of our Product Planning Offices. Here, future vehicle concepts are explored with accompanying financial, marketing and production factors. Market research is conducted to determine trends in customer preferences. Critical data like this led to the design and development of the highly successful Mustang.

Maybe vitality is what you've been seeking in a position—and in an employer, too. We also offer the opportunity for early responsibility and the pay that goes with it. See our representative for the complete story when he visits your campus.

Honors Seminar Typifies Ideal Classroom Situation

By JACQUE GILL
Feature Editor

Students have said the ideal classroom situation would be something like this: stimulating topics to study and discuss and an excellent instructor who required no note taking, no homework and no quizzes.

The Honors Council has coordinated a program such as this for Tech students.

An interdepartmental honors seminar is offered to all students at 11 TTS. Speakers for the programs are drawn from different segments of the campus. Topics for this semester's lectures are "The History and Philosophical Impact of the Sciences" and "Aspects of Russian Culture and History."

Although students are presently given no credit for attending the seminar, proponents of the program hope that in the future two hours credit will be given for the course.

The seminar originated two years ago and discussions then were origin of the universe, the basis of life, philosophy, literature, science, music and art.

According to Dr. Kenneth W. Davis, sponsor of the Honors Council, the purpose of the course is to bring about a synthesis of knowledge the students would ordinarily get only in several specific courses. He added that another purpose was to help the student acquire knowledge, not merely facts, and to relate and coordinate his knowledge of various fields.

Any student may attend any single program or all of them.

Agenda

Programs and speakers on the agenda are:

• March 2, 4, 6—Dr. P. N. Strong — "History and Developments of modern Psychology" — Ad 260.

• March 9, 11, 13—Dr. J. Collins — "English-Russian Imperial Conflicts in the 19th Century" — Ad 260.

• March 16, 18, 20—Dr. Gene Hemmle — "The Music of Russia" — Music Bldg., room 1.

• March 23, 25, 27—Dr. R. M. Lawrence — "Military and Foreign Policy of the Soviet Union" — Ad 260.

• April 6, 8, 10—Dr. F. E. Edleman — "The 19th Century Russian Novel" — Ad 260.

• April 13, 15, 17—Mr. W. T. Zyla — "Slavic Linguistics" — Ad 260.

• April 20, 22, 24—Mr. R. E. Schulz — "A Perspective on Stanislavski" — Ad 260.

• April 27, 29, May 1—Dr. Elizabeth Sasser — "Art and Architecture in the U.S.S.R." — Architecture 101.

Viet Lull Suggests Raiders Successful

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (P) — A marked lull in Viet Cong activity suggests the massive raids by U.S. Air Force jets are getting results. The Red guerrillas staged fewer incidents Friday than in any other 24-hour period since the jets were unleashed last Thursday.

No major ground engagements were reported.

B57 Martin Canberra bombers pressed the air attack.

In 47 sorties from the flight line at Bien Hoa airbase they showered more than 150 tons of high explosives on suspected Viet Cong hideouts in the jungles by Phuoc Tuy Province, on the South China Sea east of Saigon.

New Division

However, there was a report that elements of a new Communist division trained and equipped in North Viet Nam have shown up to reinforce the Viet Cong in the 1st Army Corps area fronting on the 17th Parallel.

MacVane...

He also discussed U.S. intervention in South Viet Nam as an attempt to "strengthen a non-Communist country to handle their own affairs."

Only Wednesday, MacVane said, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant made public his desire to set up a dialogue between the U.S., Communist China and North Viet Nam; thus illustrating the interest and effect of the U.N. in today's critical affairs.

Too Important

"The U.N. is too important to disintegrate," he said. "It is functioning today all over the world to raise social and economic standards, to provide educational opportunities and to combat disease."

He said that of the 23,000 U.N. officials, only 2,500 are working on political matters reaching the front pages of the newspapers everyday, while the other 20,500 are out trying to better the standards of the world.

Viewing the work of the U.N. and its success or failure, MacVane said, "I am neither a cynic nor an optimist."

He described the growth of the organization from its beginning as "exciting; somewhat like watching the growth of a child."

He then added, "We may owe our lives to the 19 years of the U.N. and its influence."

'Audio One' Continues

"General Issues which Confront all Tech Students" will be the topic of discussion at 8 p.m. Sunday on KTXT's "Audio One."

Guest speakers will be O. A. Keeter, Penny May, Ken Hendrix and Cecil Green. The program will be moderated by Nicky Redinger, station manager.

This is the second of a series of open-mike discussion programs dealing with campus controversies.

'Reuther-Less' Raiders Win

By DAVID SNYDER
Copy Editor

The Red Raiders proved that they have the championship material in the Southwest Conference Friday night as they pulled out a 93-91 win over TCU on the heels of their voluntary withdrawal from contention for first place. Playing without the 20 points and 10 rebounds regularly contributed by now scholastically ineligible Norman Reuther, the Raiders jumped off to a quick 6-0 lead. However, after leading most of the game, the home cagers saw a 13-point margin disappear in a seven-minute span in the second half as TCU almost shot Tech out of the saddle they received at half-time for defeating the Horned Frogs last fall in football.

The Raiders rang up 57 points in the first half at Municipal Coliseum, but the Froggies ran and shot along with them and it was 57-50 at the buzzer. The second half was a different story, as TCU tied it up at 81-81 with 6:29 left and the lead see-sawed back and forth the rest of the game.

"We had to win tonight, so we, ourselves would still know we're champions," senior Glen Hallum explained following the game. "Everyone had to dig deep down in his pride to come back like we did tonight . . . we couldn't have done it without the tremendous support of the fans."

With Tech leading 90-89 and a minute left in the game, officials called Raider Royce Woolard for walking after emerging from a clump of Froggies. Archie Clayton hit a 10-foot jump shot to give TCU the lead, but Dub Malaise re-established Tech's advantage with a 20-footer. Clayton missed a shot, Bob Measels pulled down the rebound and finally sank a free shot as the game ended.

Malaise and Harold Denney paced Raider scoring with 20 points each, Malaise adding his fancy ball-handling and Denney his 19-rebounds. Hallum dropped in 14 and Dave Olsen 10, all coming in the first half.

Rich Sauer was the big man for the Froggies with 32 points, 2 more than his season average. Gary Turner added 23 to the TCU cause.

Tech's conference record now stands at 10-2, with a game and a half lead and two games left. The Raiders can still win the unofficial championship since their game are allowed to count in SWC standings.

"Tech was not mentally sharp for the contest partly due to the withdrawal," Malaise said following the game. "But we had a good physical effort as we gave all year," he said.

"We felt we had to win to make up for what happened," Denney said. "It's hard to come back after taking a big wheel like Reuther out of your machinery."

But the Raiders did come back in the words of Tech Saddle Tramp sponsor, Dr. Paul Woods, in a pre-game talk ". . . to really represent this great multi-purpose university."

IM Softball Meetings Set

Intramural softball and slow pitch softball organizational meetings have been scheduled Monday and Tuesday according to intramural director Edsel Buchanan.

Monday fraternity "A" and "B" teams are requested to meet at 5 p.m. in the Intramural Conference Room, Intramural Gym. All team rosters must be in at that time since the schedule will be completed for both the "A" and "B" and slow-pitch fraternity leagues.

On Tuesday at 5 p.m. all club dormitory and independent team will meet in the same room.

Slow-pitch softball is identical to regulation softball with the exception that no fast-ball pitching is allowed. It is essentially a hitting and fielding game with pitching de-emphasized.

Actual play is tentatively scheduled to start in the fraternity division Sunday, March 7.

Entries will also open Tuesday for horseshoes, wrestling, weight lifting (olympic), weightlifting (odd style) and scratch bowling.
