County Oil Territory Extended to the North—Other Oil News

Oil territory in Mitchell County extended 10 miles Thursday week with the drilling in of No. 1 of the Lou-Tex Corporation survey 116, just across the river in Scurry County. It encountered the Morrison at 2,000 feet and had drilled 20 feet to pay this afternoon. The rapidly filling with oil. This was a nice showing some time on down to Morrison depth. The Hoffman of San Angelo, disinterested oil and gas division Railroad Commission, filed the well Thursday morning expressed belief that it was the production in commercial quantities. The Moore well is ten miles northeast from the Sloan Oil Co. H. C. Miller No. 1, the producer in the field, and is set line with producers in the vicinity, extending from northeast.

Badgett No. 7 of Bill Thomas, in section 2, block 28, encountered the Morrison sand Thursday at 2,972 feet. The hole being 200 feet in oil after being pay four feet. This three miles northeast from the field and in direct line producing wells in the defined area.

Miller well produced 450 barrels of oil during a period of 24 hours Thursday morning. The fluid in the well only 1,600 feet in the county.

California Company's E. Morrison No. 1 is drilling below 2655 feet.

California Company's T. C. Morrison No. 1 is drilling below 2655 feet.

Wooland Oil Co.'s Badgett No. 1 is drilling in lime at 1440 feet. The production Co.'s Crawley No. 1, drilling in hard lime below 1440 feet.

Kelsey's Badgett No. 1 is drilling below 2780 feet.

Riley's E. Morrison No. 1, is drilling below 2175 feet.

J. H. O'Neill setting 8 1-4 inch at 1335 feet.

Writers' E. Morrison No. 5, is drilling below 1800 feet.

Writers' T. & P. No. 3, drilling below 2210 feet.

Drilling County the Fidelity Oil Company were setting 12 1-2 inch pipe their Hall No. 1 at 1920 feet.

McDowell No. 4

to fish a spear and five from the McDowell No. 4. It has been unsuccessful but the being carried forward and it is desired that they will be recovered. It is desired to have this hole drilled to the well can be properly developed.

Donald of Houston and H. D. Morrison are the General Managers of the Morrison Oil Company are here and offering every assistance to this work. They are confident a good well is going to be drilled. While the progress on this is slow, every precaution is being taken to do the work so that it will mean much to the stockholders of the Morrison Oil Company as well as to the community.

A 500-barrel producer or more on the job is most desired and we can afford to be as everything possible to the well properly is being developed.

Moody-Deats

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Deats on Main street at three o'clock Saturday, Sept. 1st was performed the simple yet beautiful ceremony which united in marriage Miss Martha Deats and Mr. Alfred Moody. At exactly three o'clock Mrs. Chas. Morris and Mrs. Ruth Hardy entered the living room where Mrs. Morris, accompanied by Mrs. Hardy, sang "At Dawning." Then to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Hardy, Miss Frances Melton, as maid of honor, entered gowned daintily in green and white, followed by the bride on the arm of her father. She wore a beautiful canton crepe heavily beaded and was met by the groom with Mr. Chas. Deats, as best man. Bro. Hardy, with the ring ceremony made them man and wife. The ring was brought in by little Jene Whitaker, niece of the bride; she was daintily dressed in a handmade dress of white, and carried the ring in the heart of a rose. After the ceremony a reception was held and dainty refreshments served.

The bride book was presided over by Miss Sallie Buchanan and Misses Lillian and Winnie Dell Rhoton acted as a reception committee during the wedding and reception making the relatives and the few close friends who were invited comfortable and welcome.

Goodpastor-Bradshaw

Friends in this city are just being advised of the wedding of one of our popular young ladies—the wedding having been solemnized August 22. On that date at the Baptist parsonage in Midland, Texas, H. W. Goodpastor and Miss Lena Mae Bradshaw were made man and wife. Belated congratulations are now being tendered to this popular couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bradshaw of Midland, and former residents of Big Spring, and is beloved by a wide circle of friends here and in Midland. For some time past she has made her home in this city while acting as manager of the Bradshaw Studio. She is a charming and accomplished young woman and a favorite with all who know her. The groom is a singer of note, and it was while he was here in charge of the song service of the Christian Revival last Spring that he met and fell in love with the one he has chosen for his life's companion. Immediately after the marriage Mr. Goodpastor left for Illinois where he is taking part in a revival meeting. He expects to return to Big Spring as soon as he completes his present engagement.

It is not known just where they will make their permanent home as yet, as Mr. Goodpastor's work calls him to all parts of the U. S.

Bringing Agricultural Products In

Many fine specimens of farm products are now being brought to the Chamber of Commerce these days and the majority of same can well be used in forming an excellent agricultural exhibit to represent our county at fairs in other parts of this state and in the north.

Among the specimens this week were some of the biggest maize heads you ever saw, and a stalk of maize containing one especially large head of grain and eleven small heads of grains on sucker stalks. These were brought in by Lawrence Simpson of the Lees community.

Eli Satterwhite brought in some especially fine maize heads.

Chess Anderson brought in a monster banana pumpkin.

R. F. Vaught brought some especially good white maize heads and some very fine black eyed peas.

S. G. Childress brought some beauties in the way of peaches from his ranch home southeast of here.

Mrs. Pete Johnson sent in the finest and best flavored Elberta peaches yet received.

Band Concert Sunday Afternoon

Musicians from Stanton and Midland came to our city last Sunday for the purpose of rendering a concert and the program was thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of our folks.

They came here at the request of Messrs. C. W. Jones and O. Dubberly, who are enthusiastic musicians. The leader from Stanton took his place among the players and made Mr. Dubberly act as band leader during the program. Horace Hamilton, manager of the Stanton band, is mainly responsible for our live neighboring city on the West having the "pep" to maintain a band.

Truth never injures the innocent.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COAHOMA

We Hope to Have Interesting News From That Progressive Little City Each Week

The Salem church united with the Coahoma Baptist Church, in a tent meeting which began Saturday, August 18th, closed Sunday, Sept. 3rd. There were one hundred souls led to Christ, either as profession of faith or reclamation. The services were conducted by Evangelist Jim Nickelson. Rev. Walter Smith is pastor of both the Salem and Coahoma congregations. There were sixty conversions to the two churches combined. The baptizing took place in the Lujan lake, where forty applicants were immersed. The Coahoma Baptists organized a Sunday school with Mr. Sorrel as Supt., and Miss Edna Graham as secretary. The teachers to be appointed Sunday, Sept. 9th.

The Coahoma school had its formal opening Monday, Sept. 3rd with many patrons present. All who attended the morning hours enjoyed the short program so aptly given. J. A. Coffman brought smiles to all the faces there, especially the pupils, with a few minutes of humor, followed by facts; then in introduced Judge Brooks. Judge Brooks gave sound advice, logically expressed, both to pupil and parent. Prof. Bittle, Supt. of Big Spring school, gave forcibly the ten points differentiating a pupil and a student. Hope each pupil in Coahoma will strive to be a student. Robert Guthrie, as secretary of the School Board, talked five minutes. That five minutes was so full of the right, that each hearer realized that to build school community, state or nation, it must have a true foundation—the Bible for its rudiments. Then Mr. Hood said a few words of welcome and bade the pupils pass to their respective rooms. Many of the parents accompanied the primary pupils to their rooms. There Miss Gilla Lawrence of Big Spring, saw for the first time her charges—at least forty-five of them. She did not seem the least bit worried, but on the contrary, proceeded to welcome each tot; and then address the mothers who were present. Miss Lawrence teaches the first and second grades. Miss Helen Hatcock bravely met forty-two who are endeavoring to make the third and fourth grades. Miss Swan Farrar of Loraine, has charge of the fifth and sixth grades. Twenty-five cheerful and smiling faces welcomed her. Miss Lola Sparks of Ennis, Texas, who was in the school last spring, was almost lifted off her feet by her former pupils' welcome. She taught last year what is her this year's seventh grade. She also has the eighth grade. Mr. Hood was made to feel the attachment that the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades feel for him, when they assembled in the class room and smiled. Mr. Hood has taught the high school work here for the past three terms.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Collins are on the sick list this week. Theo Collins has also been off duty at the drug store, on account of sore throat.

Leslie Adams bought of Cleve Holden the service garage on the south side of the railroad.

Mrs. Bert Runyan is expecting in soon some ladies' accessories to put with her millinery. Her place of business is back of the bank.

Miss Irene Roberts who has been busy with her customers welcomes in her establishment ladies, who buy, and who do not buy hats.

Junior Christian Endeavor of Coahoma met at the Presbyterian Church Sunday, Sept. 2nd, 2:30 p. m. with 18 members present. The record chart was installed. Sorry to see so many blue stars in the beginning—blue stars denotes absence; red stars present with verses, and gold stars those on program prepared.—Norma Hart, chairman of Publicity com.

Walter Rowe and family reached home Saturday, Sept. 1st, after a two weeks' absence. They motored to Oklahoma and report a pleasant trip. Houston Crocker bought out his partner so is now sole proprietor of the cafe in the old P. O. building.

As the M. E. Church seats were still at the tent—the M. E. S. S. was held in the Presbyterian Church Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Good attendance.

Ruby Lee Weaver is staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.

Boyce to attend school here this term.

Mr. and Mrs. Lois Madison of Big Spring spent Sunday and Monday with his father's family.

Rev. Nicholson and wife of Stanton spent Friday and Saturday in Coahoma. Rev. Nicholson preached an excellent sermon to the young converts, Saturday at 10:30 a. m. A large crowd of older Christians were made to realize that they were largely responsible for the success of the newly converted.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid enjoyed very much indeed having Mrs. Barnett of Big Spring with them Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. A. N. Hart and two children have moved into town, so that Norma and Jerry may attend school. Their attendance last year was gratifying to parents and teachers.

L. D. Hull meets Roberts' Cash store customers with a smile. He has been with Roberts since the 15th of August.

Mrs. Otis Davis of Center Point spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Lillian Thompson. Mrs. Thompson has recently rented rooms of Mrs. Thad Hale.

Coahoma vicinity has been visited by light showers the past week; relieving the intense heat and benefitting the growing crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood have recently moved into their new home, built on the site where their home stood last year. The home was destroyed by fire.

If you have a good news item for Coahoma please leave same at J. L. Collins drug store, or with Mrs. Rudder at postoffice. XXX

Yes! We Had No Ball Games

The Big Spring baseball team seems to have a difficult time persuading teams from other towns to come here for games.

It was thought that games with the Loraine team were cinched for last Sunday and Monday, but the Loraine team came as far as Lujan on Sunday and then backed out or rather turned about and headed home. Arrangements were supposedly completed to have the Coahoma team here for a game Monday afternoon but this game could not be played as the Coahoma team cancelled the engagement just a short time before the hour set for the game.

Anyway, if we can't have any baseball games, we can count on some dandy football games before very long.

Mike Sells Bakery

J. W. Freeman and S. D. Ford this week purchased the interest of Mike Michalopolous in the City Bakery and they are now sole owners and proprietors.

Mr. Freeman will be in charge as manager and Mr. Ford will continue his present work as assistant cashier of the West Texas National Bank, as he purchased an interest in the bakery as an investment.

Mike will continue to make his home here as he owns property in the city and county and considers property in this section as safe an investment as a man can make.

Labor Day

Monday, Sept. 3rd was Labor Day and one of the quietest days experienced in some time. This being a national holiday all the business houses of the city were closed throughout the day. No exercises or other observance than closing the stores had been planned. An effort to have a baseball game proved futile. In view of the fact that we used to have some big celebrations on this date, the failure to do so this year was commented on by many.

Federal Building for Big Spring

Our Congressman, Claud B. Hudspeth, is on the job and expects to ask for two federal buildings in his district. For building and site at Big Spring $75,000; for building and site at Pecos $50,000.

Our folks indeed appreciate Congressman Hudspeth's efforts to secure a federal building which is needed at this point.

Grand Leader Closed Sept. 11-12

The Grand Leader will be closed throughout the days of Tuesday and Wednesday, September 11th and 12th, on account of same being Jewish holidays.

Patrons are requested to please take note of the store being closed on those dates and avoid being inconvenienced.

PUBLIC SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

The Big Spring Schools to Have a Successful Year if You Cooperate

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Big Spring Schools on Monday morning and a cordial invitation is extended parents to attend the opening exercises. No special program is to be arranged for the occasion so just come and prove by your presence you are interested in the schools.

Superintendent P. B. Bittle is desirous of working with the patrons of the school in an effort to make this year's work the best in the history of our school. With your cooperation this is possible.

The board of trustees have used every precaution in the selection of the best teachers for the vacancies in the different schools and it is assured that an exceptionally strong faculty will direct the work the coming year. Many new students are making application for entrance; many former students are reentering school; so the outlook for the year is especially gratifying.

Just a little stronger school spirit on our part, a little more cooperation for the good of the school and it is an assured fact that a great year's work can be accomplished.

Meet the superintendent and teachers, talk to them of the plans and work of the year, take a little more interest in the work your boys and girls are doing, take a little more interest in their school activities and sports if you want to help make our schools as good as the best.

Be slow to criticize, and above all do not peddle rumors. Get the facts before you repeat hurtful rumors. It's your school and it's to your interest to aid it in every way and make it worth much to the boys and girls.

The High School is going to plan an ambitious athletic program—by entering the race to secure the State championship in Football. Our folks should encourage them in this race by attending all matches played with teams from other West Texas towns. A little encouragement certainly does help and we should evince a little more school spirit this year than we have in the past, for the betterment of our schools.

District Court

District Judge W. P. Leslie and District attorney E. I. Hill were here Monday to open the regular term of District Court.

The grand jury was impanelled with W. G. Taylor of Coahoma, as foreman; and after the charge delivered by Judge Leslie they immediately began upon their duties. That they are working faithfully and diligently is evidenced by the fact that they returned twelve indictments for felonies Tuesday and have been meeting regularly each day this week, and will continue in session indefinitely.

The criminal docket has been set for Monday, Sept. 10th at 9 a. m.

The following civil suits have been heard before Judge Leslie the past few days:

J. B. Pickle vs. A. B. Lipscomb, suit on note; judgment for plaintiff.

Lovie Nard vs. Earnest Nard, divorce, granted.

W. C. Estes vs. Blanch M. Estes, divorce, granted.

Violet Abbott vs. A. A. Abbott, divorce, granted.

Elsie Hulsie vs. George Hulsie, divorce granted.

Stella Anderson vs. Frank Anderson, divorce granted.

Emma Franklin et al vs. Sarah Wright et al, petition for partition of estate, granted.

B. G. Bly vs. Elmer Runyan et al to perfect title to land, judgment for plaintiff.

Jno. B. Littler vs. Mrs. L. E. De-graffenreid, suit to revive judgment, granted for plaintiff.

Scurry County Oil Men Here

Dr. J. M. Kurns, manager of the Camp Springs Oil and Refining Co., Cecil Howard, head driller and Joe Tuckness, a former resident of this city, were here Saturday from Scurry County to secure some casing for the test well Quinn No. 1. They are planning to set eight-inch casing at 2,000 feet to cut-off water.

The outlook for this well being a real oil well is indeed bright and they expect to encounter oil at about 2500 feet.

Revival Started Thursday

Evangelist C. McClung

The Church of Christ is now holding a revival meeting at the big tabernacle just west of the court house and extend everyone in the county a cordial invitation to come and hear earnest and helpful sermons. The revival started Thursday night of this week. Evangelist C. McClung, pastor of the Church of Christ at Fort Worth, is conducting the services, which are held each evening at 8 o'clock.

Rev. McClung is a forceful and interesting speaker and you will thoroughly enjoy his sermons as he sticks to the gospel. You are assured old fashioned preaching in the old fashioned way. Special song services will be held during each evening.

A cordial invitation is extended everyone to attend. If you hear one of these sermons you will want to hear more.

Come and bring a friend or two.

Aid for Japan Requested

The Howard County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been requested to raise two hundred and fifty dollars to aid the Japanese nation which suffered one of the most terrible disasters in history, due to earthquake, fire and tidal wave. The appeal to Big Spring came by telegram Wednesday and is as follows:

"President Coolidge has today charged the American Red Cross with responsibility of raising five million dollars for a Japanese Relief Fund. Your executive committee should meet immediately to organize campaign for raising your quota of two hundred and fifty dollars. Important to remit amounts collected each day so money can be cabled Japan as raised. The disaster is of such magnitude, and suffering is so intense that no time can be lost. American people can be depended upon to answer humanities call."

In pursuance with this request J. F. Hair, chairman of the Howard County Chapter of the American Red Cross hereby calls a meeting of the executive committee to be held at the office of the Chamber of Commerce at 4:15 Friday afternoon to start campaign to raise the quota assigned our county.

In the meantime any who wish to contribute to the relief fund may send or bring cash or checks to J. F. Hair or leave at the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

Shower

At the home of Miss Francis Melton on August 30th at 4 o'clock, Messrs. Francis Melton and Sallie Buchanan delightfully entertained a group of girl friends at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Martha Deats. As the guests assembled a book with very pretty handpainted back was passed and timely advice as to how to keep a husband was written by each girl. Then Miss Deats was called by telephone to come for a minute and to her very sudden-surprise found a Gypsy waiting to tell her fortune. Following the Gypsy's instructions she searched the house for hidden treasures which she found in the form of a bank of beautiful gifts. Dainty refreshments were served and everyone left most as happy as the bride to be.

Cotton Beginning to Come In

Up to Thursday night sixty bales of cotton had been brought to Big Spring and if rain and showers hold off the number will rapidly increase from the present rate of about twenty bales per day. Cotton was bringing 25 cents per pound here Thursday. Only six bales had been received at Coahoma up to Thursday noon.

State Presbyterian Church Notes.

Presbyterians are looking forward with great interest to the annual meeting of the synod of Texas, Southern Presbyterian Church, which will convene on Tuesday evening, September 11th at 7:30 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church, Dallas. The synod is coming to Dallas in response to an invitation extended at the last meeting, from the five Presbyterian Churches of Dallas. The synod of Texas ranks third in size of the sixteen synods of the southern assembly, and it represents the greatest home mission field in the church. This latter fact was emphasized at the last meeting of the general assembly in connection with the invitation from San Antonio to the assembly to hold its next meeting in that city. The invitation was accepted and the mind of the church is now directed in a very special way to the great field of the church within the state of Texas.

There are ten presbyteries in the synod of Texas, with a constituency of 43,108. Dr. H. C. Evans, Austin, Texas, is the present Moderator; Dr. S. J. McMurry, Gatesville, Texas, Stated Clerk and Treasurer; and Dr. J. G. Varner is Permanent Clerk.

An interesting program has been formulated, beginning with the opening sermon by the Moderator on Tuesday evening and continuing through a series of sessions to the final adjournment on Friday morning, September 14th.

Some of the principal events following the opening sermon and organization of synod will be: sermon by Dr. Robert Hill, Tyler, Texas, on "Vicarious Atonement" at 11 o'clock Wednesday; address by Dr. M. E. Melvin, General Secretary, Assembly's stewardship committee, Chattanooga, Tenn., Wednesday night on the "Presbyterian Progressive Program"; sermon by Dr. A. G. Jones, Austin, Texas, on the "Deity of Jesus Christ"; home mission conference on Thursday evening presided over by Dr. Brooks I. Dickey, Dallas.

The campaign for $2,000,000 for the Presbyterian schools in Texas, authorized at the last meeting is one of the really big undertakings of Texas Presbyterians. It will be gratifying to synod to know that the assembly's executive committee of Christian education has already established its campaign headquarters in Dallas and is now engaged in the preliminary work of the campaign.

The woman's auxiliary synodical, according to custom will hold its annual meeting simultaneously with the synod in Dallas. Mrs. J. L. Brock, Bryan, Texas, is the efficient president of the synodical and an interesting program has been arranged for this meeting that will be under her direction.

Rev. W. L. Shepherd, pastor of the local church and E. A. Kelley, one of the ruling elders expect to attend the meeting of synod in Dallas. Mrs. E. L. Barrick will represent the local auxiliary at the synodical and will bring back a report of that important meeting.

Junior C. E. of Coahoma Elects

Junior C. E. of Coahoma met at the usual hour, 3 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 26th, and held their annual election of officers. The following were elected: President, C. H. De Vaney; vice president, Tillman Schultz; recording secretary, Jerry Hart; first asst. secretary, Noble DeVaney; second asst. secretary, Gussie Thompson; treasurer, Pearl Thompson; corresponding secretary, George Graham; recorder of pearls, Vera Hale.

The following were appointed as chairmen of committees: Social committee, Lena Coffman; music, Opal Madison; visiting, Bee Warren; flower, Banna Hale; lookout, Frankie Smith; publicity, Norman Hart.

Many of the Juniors have the "Verse" book down to "K," and several have completed the entire alphabet. Three scriptures to each letter of the alphabet.

THE FARMER'S
NEW POSITION

By WALTER W. HEAD.

First Vice-President American Bankers Association

The farmer today is more than a tiller of the soil. He is a business man. Raising crops is only a part of his business, if he is a real up-to-date Twentieth Century farmer. Problems of marketing, distribution and financing are equally important.

Walter W. Head

The complexity of our modern economic organization makes it necessary for the farmer to understand and assist in solving these problems if he is to succeed in this new role—as a business man—the farmer steadily has advanced to a better position.

There was a time when the farmer was dependent wholly upon private marketing agencies, whose interest was not always identical with his own, whose greed for profits sometimes out-matched consideration of the farmer's need. Today there are many great co-operative marketing organizations that handle a large part of the farmer's crop and win for him more liberal treatment from the private agencies which still handle the bulk of his production.

Today the farmer also has his own co-operative agencies of credit. If not satisfied with the terms upon which his local capitalist is willing to advance money upon a land mortgage, the farmer can go directly to the Federal Land Bank, which, by reason of tax-exemption and other advantages incidental to its governmental character, can loan money at a rock-bottom rate of interest.

In addition, the federal government has established another group of banks which permit the local bankers—by rediscount privileges—to extend the farmer credit for his current operations on a more favorable basis than ever before. If he thinks his local bank is not sufficiently responsive to his need, this same legislation enables him to join with other farmers in a co-operative marketing association and arrange for credit direct from the government banks.

New Credit Facilities

For years it has been the farmer's complaint—with considerable justification—that he, alone of all producers, has been forced to market his crop on the buyer's terms because of his inability to use his products, in storage, as a basis for credit. Today the agricultural credits act authorizes the acceptance of warehouse receipts, on non-perishable agricultural products, as collateral for loans, the same as in the case of sugar or other commodities of commerce.

These developments have relieved the farmer from what seemed to be persecution by short-sighted, tight-fisted, grasping grain dealers, landlords and bankers—for there were some bankers who were guilty of this very thing, who thought of the farmer principally as a weak and ignorant opponent in a game whose only stake was the collection of a high rate of interest. The farmer's suspicion of the banker arose because of misunderstanding, because he judged bankers as a class by the derelictions of a few. Today, with these sources of government-controlled credit available at his call, the farmer cannot charge or even suspect that the bankers are conspiring to do him harm.

As the real farmer has taken advantage of these opportunities, he has made himself a business man. Like other successful business men, he is equipped with credit to finance his operations, he is able to make use of labor-saving machinery, he is able to barter with buyers of his products as their equal.

COMPULSORY THRIFT

In Kansas a group of power and telephone companies is trying a compulsory thrift plan, which affects about 1,200 employees and applies to every member of the organization from the president to the humblest day laborer. The plan requires that each shall save and invest monthly at least 10 per cent of his income.

Every month each employee must make a report to the general office of how much he has saved, and in what he has invested it. The investment must be approved by a committee competent to advise. Government securities, savings bank accounts, building and loan stock, payment on a home, even payments on furniture are allowed. If debts have been incurred, these must be listed and payments may be arranged on them, but no more are to be assumed. The idea is to make the employee live within his means and also lay aside something in a definite form.

Reports for the first nine months show that about 13 per cent of the wages have been saved, no single employee falling below 10 per cent. This amounts to over $100,000. Failure to report or to save brings dismissal, but in only two instances among the 1,200 employees was such action needed. Budget books are distributed and their use explained as a helpful method in establishing a working scale of living that will allow for thrift.

In asking American people to observe constitution week from Sept. 16th to 22nd, the American Bar Association is rendering a distinct service. There is too much irrelevant talk and thinking about our laws and government. It would be far better to make a careful study of the fundamental law of this country, the Constitution of the United States. Sir William Blackstone said that a knowledge of the laws of England ought to be a part of the equipment of every educated Englishman. Under our form of government it is all the more important that every American citizen should know the American Constitution. A man may be a good citizen and have a very indefinite idea of his government, of his relation to it or its relation to him, but he would be a better citizen if he understand his own importance as a unit of responsibility, with a clear conception of the constitution under which he lives and by which his rights as a citizen are protected.

WHO INFLATED THE CURRENCY?

George E. Roberts Gives Common Sense Explanation for Currency Increase and Decrease.

GOVERNMENT TOOK NO PART in Changes in Supply, Demand and Prices of Commodities Caused by War—Federal Reserve Not to Blame.

The mistaken notion that the currency is inflated and deflated by the government in the United States from beyond the understanding of average people is effectually set at naught by George E. Roberts, noted author and exponent of sound money in an article in the Journal of the American Bankers Association.

There has been inflation by the governments of Germany and other European countries, which have issued money for the purpose of paying expenses. Mr. Roberts says the United States Government has done nothing of this kind since the war.

There is a genuine need for elasticity in the volume of currency, and machinery to adjust it to the legitimate needs of the country. The means provided are the Federal Reserve Banks, authorized to issue currency to their member banks, either in payment of deposits or for loans.

Side-Tracked Like Freight Cars More currency is needed in September, October, November and December than in January and February. As business slackens, currency naturally retires from circulation. Money accumulates in the member banks and they send it in to the Reserve Bank, which in effect retires it, as freight cars are retired when traffic is off.

What caused the great inflation of 1918 and 1919? It was due primarily to the war, which made extraordinary demands upon the industry and caused a great rise of wages and prices. It was inevitable that credit and money would be called for to carry on business.

The boom year of business that followed the armistice was likewise abnormal. The end of the war released great many demands that had been held in check. The foreign demands were at first increased. There was temporary stimulus, but the volume of business was abnormal and could not be sustained. Agricultural production in Europe revived, the prices of agricultural products moved back toward normal, importations from the United States fell off, prices declined, "deflation" began.

Some say "inflation should not be permitted," but if war occurs inflation is unavoidable. Recruiting armies takes a labor scarcity. Contractors bid above going wages to attract men. The war industries did the same and the peace industries raised wages to bid their men. Governments of Europe sent representatives to this country to buy food and they bid up prices in the grain exchanges. Higher levels of wages and prices meant that more credit and money was required to handle business.

More Business, More Money The increased issues of currency as a result of allowing business to go ahead, upon the rising level of wages and prices. When a factory payroll doubled, twice as much currency had to be furnished for it. When cotton rose from 10 cents a pound to 30 and 40, more currency was required to handle the crop, and so it all around the circle.

Deflation did not come by an act of the government or the Federal Reserve authorities in suddenly withdrawing money from circulation. Deflation came naturally when business fell off and prices declined. Just as the increasing volume of business at higher prices called more currency into use, so a decreasing volume of business at lower prices released currency from use and caused it to return to the Reserve banks.

There has been absolutely nothing strange in these price movements related to the war. Inflation and deflation have been just as always when wars have occurred. The only new factor has been the population. That is always being renewed, and most people do not learn by the experience of others. When hard times come it is always the thing to lay the blame on somebody, and this time the Federal Reserve System has taken most of it.

AMERICAN SAVINGS INCREASE New York.—Continued increase in the savings of the American people as indicated by the latest national compilation just completed by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association. Savings deposits in banks and trust companies of the United States were reported at $17,000,000,000, June 30, 1922, the last available nationwide figures, as compared with $16,620,000,000, June 30, 1921. This is an increase of $380,000,000 or 2.3 per cent.

The number of savings depositors, as indicated by the number of accounts, shows an increase of 4.9 per cent since the reporting for the same time in 1922 excluded. The third annual report of the Savings Bank Division shows increased American thrift, 1,371,000 people having savings accounts during the school year of 1921-1922.

From Vacation to School

When school opens in the fall, rural children that have been playing or working out of doors should be watched rather carefully. The change from a day of physical activity to one of seven or more hours of confinement is great and may bring on an illness unless a few precautions are taken. For a short time at least, the school day might well be broken up into more than the usual number of periods and the children given frequent recesses. They should be advised to eat less heartily of strong foods during the first two weeks of school so that the physical machine, considerably slowed down as it is, may have a chance to adjust itself.

Moreover, the first assembling of large numbers of children from different homes may mean bringing in the germs of colds, measles, scarlet fever or other diseases. Proper foresight on the part of school authorities can nearly always keep these from being epidemic. The school should be the most healthful place we have for children.

Lincoln's Trust in the Toiler

"The prudent penniless beginner in the world labors for wages, a while, saves a surplus with which to buy tools or land for himself, then labors on his own account another while, and at length hires another beginner to help him. This is the just and generous and prosperous system which opens the way to all, gives hopes to all, and consequently energy and progress and improvement of condition to all. No men living are more worthy to be trusted than those who toil up from poverty, none less inclined to take or touch aught which they have not honestly earned."

The United States offers the opportunity for the humblest man or woman to go from the bottom to the top of the ladder unhampered by class distinction or official dictation. Let us always keep this basic principle of our government intact.

Tales They Tell in the Smoking Room

Respectively, they were from Iowa, Missouri, and Arkansas, and quite naturally, they fell to discussing crops the while they smoked. The Iowa man boasted of excellent corn crops in his state, in its every section. The Missourian was less enthusiastic. He said corn was doing fine in the northern part of his state, but in the south it had been illy affected by adverse weather conditions. "How are crops in your state?" they asked the Arkansas traveler.

"Rotten!" promptly and bitterly replied that individual, as he flooded the cuspidor. "Pretty bad. No rain, lots of hot weather, and the crop is poor. Why say, pardner, the crop is so blankety-blank poor in my section that we are going to be compelled to import corn this year to make our whiskey." Fort Worth Press.

Death Claims Mother of I. M. Milstead

Mrs. Nancy Katherine Riddle was claimed by death at the home of her son, I. M. Milstead, four miles northwest of this city, at 4:15 o'clock Monday afternoon, September 3rd. She had been very ill the past three weeks.

Mrs. Riddle, who was aged 93 years, 9 months and 25 days, had made her home here with her son for several years past and was loved by everyone who knew her. She was of a kindly nature, a true and faithful Christian and all were benefitted who came in contact with her. During a long and useful life she has scattered sunshine, and many are they she has helped along life's pathway, and her death is sincerely mourned.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. D. Green and the remains were laid to rest in Mt. Olive cemetery at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

To the son, I. M. Milstead, and her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Steaphenson of Fisher County, and other relatives, who mourn for one dearly beloved, is extended the deep sympathy of their many friends.

Riding the Old Trail

The long trail from the Missouri to the Pacific resounds again with the hoofbeats of the flying mounts of the Pony Express. The part played by the wiry plains riders and the tough little mustangs in the winning of the West is being re-enacted. Out from St. Joseph, Mo., in the days of '49 the "farthest West" of civilization, and out of Sacramento, the Pacific end of the pioneer trail, horsemen bearing the mails of the United States dashed Friday in a race against time across the lands that separate these two cities which, not so long ago, were on the two frontiers of a young republic struggling against the wilderness.

The riders of 1923 are seeking to better the record time established by the riders of 1861, who in seven days carried the news of Lincoln's re-election and his speech declaring for the preservation of the Union. To what purpose? one may ask.

Over the heads of the laboring horsemen whir the mighty engines of the postoffice's mail-carrying airplanes that in 12 hours cover the distance that the reincarnated Pony Express hopes to cover in a little less than seven days. No, it is not speed that is the goal, although seven days between St. Joseph and Sacramento was speed in the days of '49.

It is the spirit of the old West to which the flying horsemen pay their homage, and it is in that the adventure recalls that spirit to the new West that its value lies. The vast wild lands when the time of their fruition came, spawned a race of men, and whatever reminds the West today of its splendid heritage is worth while. — Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Japan Suffers Terrible Disaster

Japan suffered one of the worst disasters in history last Saturday when earthquake, tidal wave and conflagrations exacted a toll of lives estimated at from 150,000 to 300,000 and property damage of billions of dollars.

Large cities were practically wiped out and millions are homeless. Shortage of food and clothing is causing much suffering and the civilized world is asked to extend every aid to the stricken people.

President Coolidge has asked the people of the United States to donate $5,000,000 to a Japanese Relief fund, immediately.

THE ETHICAL SERVICE BUSINESS RENDERS

BY J. H. PUELICHER

President of the American Bankers Association

I sometimes think we lay too much stress on the technical efficiency of our business instrumentalities and too little on their moral services.

Is it enough to say to our radical opponents of the present capitalistic order that it effectively feeds and clothes and houses and furnishes us with physical comforts and pleasures and therefore it is good? That is not enough. They can rightfully tell us that, even though a system may minister to our physical well-being, if it stunts us morally, if it does not positively make us better ethically, it is an inadequate system.

The general answer to this assertion is obvious. The very fact that our industry, commerce and finance serve us so amply with the materials and means for physical well-being gives us the opportunity to build and support our churches, to foster the arts, to develop our great educational system,—to be kind to one another.

But need we deal in generalities? Do we not find in the direct effect of our business upon the individual much to improve his ethical standards? To toughen his moral fiber? Is it not good for the personal character of the race to do business as we are now doing it?

Let us take the business of banking, for example. Is it a mere mechanism or is it a vital moral force? Does it do more than, by facilitating production, raise the physical standard of living, or is there anything inherent in the manner and methods of banking that raises the moral standard of living as well?

Nine-tenths of our business is done by means of credit. The great bulk of that credit is obtained from the banks. It is obtained from the banks because men have character,—because they are honest, because they keep faith,—because they can be trusted.

If they did not have these qualities they could not do business with credit, they could not do business at the banks. We say banks deal in credit. That is but a way of saying they deal in honor and honesty. They build the business structure with the faith of man in man.

The part banking plays in our business life is growing. That means that the faith of men in each other is growing. The more men who come to the banks with characters that entitle them to credit,—the more men who realize that to gain credit at the banks, they must possess themselves with characters that win them unquestioned trust, the higher becomes the ethical standards of the nation.

Is not this a great moral service that banking renders? It is a greater justification for our present financial system than even its wonderful efficiency in providing us with the material things of life. No greater service could be rendered the nation.

Cotton Bears Snubbed

Whatever hopes were entertained on the bear side of the market that cheaper cotton might result as the harvest proceeded were banished Friday with the issuance of the Government estimates lopping nearly a million bales off the forecast of yield. There were many students of crop conditions who believed that the official figures in the July 25 estimate placing the crop at 11,516,000 bales were higher than the facts warranted, and many sound objections to the practice of issuing early estimates, necessarily inaccurate, were recorded. The same criticism may well apply to the August 31 estimates, which, however, perhaps closer approach the actual extent of the crop.

But the cotton market traders have had their play with the big crop propaganda, and their time is up. We are now promised a crop of not more than 10,788,000 bales, with the smallest carryover in history. In the new figures, Texas, with her crop at 55 per cent normal, slightly above the general average, is promised a total of 3,722,000 bales, as against more than 4,000,000 held out in the July 25 estimates. But the higher price that will result from revising the figures downward will more than likely make up for the smaller number of bales to market.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Killed in Explosion at Ranger

Frank D. Griffice, aged sixteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Griffice of Ranger, and grandson of G. D. Griffice of this city, was killed at Ranger, Texas, at 9 a. m. Monday September 3rd. Griffice and three companions were killed by an unexplained explosion which wrecked a building, in the automobile parking station of Bob Hansford in the heart of Ranger. One of the injured boys just prior to his death, stated that the four were sitting on a truck chatting when one of them struck a match and the explosion came.

Several theories have been advanced, among them being that one of the men had a quantity of nitroglycerine on his person, and another that natural gas had leaked into the building, forming a pocket. Relatives from this city went to Ranger to attend the funeral services.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wise died in the Knott community Wednesday morning at 6:30 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. I. N. Barber and the remains were laid to rest in Mt. Olive cemetery in this city Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

Hunters Must Have License

According to the law hunters now must secure a state license from the county and district clerk. Any person hunting without having secured a license is subject to a fine. Better keep this in mind and advise your friends so you will not be penalized.

Much discussion and some misunderstanding has resulted from the amendment to the Federal law on migratory birds, ducks and doves, which divided the State into the northwest and southeast zones with a difference of season.

In reply to inquiries Mr. Boyd has advised that State officers can not enforce the Federal law, but will cooperate with Federal wardens by giving notice when their law is violated. The purchaser of a hunting license will find printed on the back of the license a synopsis of State and Federal law indicating the season in which one may hunt without violating either law.

The synopsis follows:

You must not kill, catch, possess or ship at any time during the year antelope, mountain sheep, woodcock, wood duck, egret, or other plume, bird, nongame waterfowl, songbird, insectivorous bird, pheasant, turkey, hen, doe, or spotted fawn.

You must not hunt from motorboat, sailboat, airplane or boat under tow and must not hunt at night with any sort of light or lantern.

You must not buy or sell (or barter) any game bird or animal.

You may kill at any time, in any numbers, English sparrows, rice-birds and blackbirds, buzzards, crows, owls, hawks (except sparrow hawk), and rabbits.

Do It With a Club!

Whether it is a baseball club, a corn, calf, or canning club, a pig, potato or poultry club, the boys and girls are learning how easy it is to do things through clubs. They are learning early the value of organization. Is this not a promise that the next generation of farmers will know how to organize for success? One of the first activities of the new school year will be the formation of clubs in thousands of country schools. The wise teacher will encourage the movement knowing it to be a means of promoting regular attendance and increasing the interest in school work. In addition to one or two of the clubs mentioned every school should have a School Improvement Club in which the boys and girls can unite.

City Federation Notes

At the regular meeting of the City Federation Tuesday afternoon reports were furnished by the various chairmen as follows: Mrs. DeVries reported over $50.00 cleared on the ice cream supper, and that all enjoyed the music furnished free by the Colorado band. Many of those present spoke of hearing the band also as they passed thru from Lubbock going home. It is always a treat to hear such splendid music, and we do appreciate our neighbor city's generosity with same.

Miss Barnes reported the City Park now in daily use. The four swings erected by the Federation are kept in constant use by the children. The lights so kindly furnished us make our Park a genuine beauty spot in the evening, and we are to have several other seats in addition to those in use at present.

Our president reported our lease all signed and recorded. A vote of thanks was tendered Messrs Debenport, Johnson and Prichard for assistance rendered our organization, and our secretary instructed to write all three expressing same.

Mr. Keating of the American Legion was introduced, and asked to tell us of the auditorium plans. He very kindly told us all the details so far. At present no large fund is available for an auditorium suitable for a place this size, but the Legion is still at work and intend to put the thing over, if our community will only give sufficient backing to the venture. The Federation gave an open endorsement of the work and pledged loyal support to the Legion in their undertaking. It is a most unselfish movement on the part of our home boys, and deserves heartiest cooperation from the entire town.

Our treasurer reported all the bills due now paid. They were $100 for the park lease; $30.00 for cream, for the supper; $35.75 for the swings; $5.00 deposit on lights, making the largest expenditures for any one month in our history. The City Federation of 200 women represents the spirit of our community to foster and develop all that is best for our town. Any woman interested in our efforts is urged to join and attend our meetings. Reporter.

Methodist Sunday School Notes

It is fine to see our attendance climbing once more. We had 274 at S. S. and quite a nice crowd for the morning service.

Bro. Hardy gave us a good practical talk on Methodism, after which several new members were taken into the church. We still have several due to join, and hope they will all be present for the purpose this coming Sunday.

Little Frances Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross of Bunkie, La., gave us a reading at the Sunday school hour, that was thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Ross herself has been very kind in assisting in story telling in the Beginners Dept. during her visit with us.

On Friday evening, Sept. 14th, at 7:30 on the Parsonage lawn we are to have a big get-together meeting of all Methodists. This is an annual affair to which we look forward each fall. Let every Methodist man, woman and child begin to plan to be present. It is a strictly informal affair, and we want all our new members, all our old and all those whose friendly feeling to our church leads them to our Sunday school, League or Auxiliary to be sure to be present. The invitation is to "whosoever will." Save the date, Friday, Sept. 14. Come to the well kept lawn and be glad.

Bus Line to Lamesa

On September first a bus line was placed in operation between Big Spring and Lamesa. A handsome, sixteen passenger International auto bus is being used on this line. The bus leaves Big Spring upon the arrival of T. & P. passenger train No. 5—about 9:15 a. m., and returning leaves Lamesa at 3 p. m.

This splendid passenger service is being supplied by G. E. Newton and J. V. Davis, who have the contract to carry the mail between the two cities. In addition to operating the bus they will continue to transport passengers in their mail cars as heretofore.

Miss Minnie Ebersoll and mother of Stanton were shopping in Big Spring Wednesday afternoon.

Sell 3520 Acres of Slaughter Land.

R. L. Cook reports the sale of 2720 acres of land out of the C. C. Slaughter pastures in the northwest corner of Howard County the past two weeks, at the prevailing price of approximately $16 per acre.

Among the purchasers were: T. F. Stokes of Lamesa, 640 acres; C. S. Carwile of Lamesa, 320 acres; Tom Phillips, Big Spring, 320 acres; Moore Bros., Lamesa, 320 acres; Lauderdale & Son, Lamesa, 320 acres; Jim and Sam Hale, Colorado, 180 acres; Harry Graham, Big Spring, 160 acres; C. S. Sabell, Gorman, 160 acres.

In addition to the above Mr. Cook and J. B. Shockley sold in that same section of the county, 640 acres to Reece N. Adams, Big Spring; and 160 acres to Mr. Holler of Big Spring.

Investigate This Land

We still have about 5,000 acres of land northwest of Big Spring—offered in any size tracts. This land was formerly the C. C. Slaughter ranch land—no better farm lands in Texas. Prices and terms right. See or write me. R. L. COOK, Big Spring, Texas. 51-tf

Music Students, Notice

I will resume my class in music on Sept. 15th. All former students and others who wish to take music should see me at once. Call at 503 Goliad street. Mrs. W. A. Mancil. 1t.

What do you think of a country that continues to produce roasting ears, black eyed peas, peppers, tomatoes, okra, watermelons, cantaloupes, string beans and other good things at this season of the year. All these are now being raised in Howard County and sold to the stores in Big Spring. Old Howard County is mighty hard to beat.

J. M. Morgan left Thursday for Midland where he has the contract to remodel the lower story of the handsome four story Llano hotel building. This is a big undertaking which is to cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.00. Two months will be required to complete the improvements.

On Tuesday, Sept. 4th Judge Jas. T. Brooks performed the ceremony which united in marriage Frank C. Beard and Mrs. Elsie L. Hulsie.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Notes

Each Monday afternoon in August has found the Presbyterian women assembling for regular meeting. The Bible Study Class, the Program, the Circles and the Business meetings, all indicating interest and enthusiasm on the part of most of the women.

At the business meeting Mrs. Barnett, who is chairman of a Group Conference, composed of the auxiliaries at Colorado, Coahoma, Big Spring and Midland, explained her work, and announced the first conference to be held at Coahoma on Sept. 20th. Mrs. Fairly, the Presbyterian president, will be present and Mrs. Barnett and her committee are arranging an interesting program. This and other particulars will be published next week.

Next Monday is the day for the Sept. program. Mrs. H. Markham and Mrs. W. L. Shepherd are in charge and have prepared the following program, which will take place at the church at 3:30. All the women are urged to attend:

- Subject: Japan and City Missions. Mrs. T. S. Currie—Leader.
- Hymn, 28.
- Lord's Prayer in concert.
- Scripture reading, John 4:7-42.
- Roll Call. — Answer with an item of interest of Japan.
- Hymn, 350.
- Prayer for Japan's Christian worship and city missions—Mrs. Caylor.
- Kindergartens of our Japan missions—Mrs. Dubberly.
- Duett—Mesdames L. S. McDowell and C. D. Read.
- Our new mission in Houston. (Missionary Survey, page 707) — Mrs. J. T. Brooks.
- What is the greatest moral lack in our city missions—Mrs. C. W. Cunningham.
- Mizpah prayer—all standing.

Looking Backward and Forward

The American labor movement never retreats. It may lose a skirmish with the enemy now and then, but the march is ever forward. To those who at times grow discouraged and lose hope of complete victory, it is only necessary to look back to the first Labor Day celebration in 1882—only 41 years ago—and then measure the remarkable progress since made by organized labor.

Forty years ago labor orators and what there was of a labor press devoted most of their energies to defending the labor movement and giving reasons for its being. Today no defense is necessary, and the reasons for organized labor are self-evident, being commonly accepted by the American people. Trade and labor unions are recognized everywhere as essential institutions.

Organized labor has contended and will continue to contend for a larger and still larger share of what it produces. It must always share in the general prosperity. To be sure, labor in the skilled and highly organized trades today receives a wage many times greater than in 1882. But this is not enough.

Labor proposes to have a voice and a determining vote in directing the industry in which the very life of the worker is invested. This is the next great forward step. We call it industrial democracy. It means the overthrow of industrial autocracy, such as prevails in the iron and steel industry and to some extent on the railroads.

What organized labor has achieved thus far in betterment has been mainly through the exercise of its economic power. It has been fighting, its battles with one hand. The other hand, with enormous political power, has not been brought into use except in rare instances. That this political hand has the heft to swing a deadly swat at the enemy was demonstrated last November and more recently in the Minnesota election. This was merely a tryout.—Labor.

Don't forget that we should have a big delegation from Howard County at the annual meeting of the Puget Sound to Gulf Highway Association at Fredericksburg, Texas, Sept. 14 and 15th. If we don't, they may do some swapping that will leave us off the main north and south highway through West Texas.

A. Williams returned last Friday from a three weeks' trip to St. Louis, Chicago and New York, where he purchased a large stock of Fall and Winter goods for the Williams Dry Goods Co., of this city. Being convinced that the Big Spring country is due for a prosperous era Mr. Williams bought a big stock in all lines.

Chocolate Shoppe Display

The Chocolate Shoppe had a snappy advertising stunt in vogue in connection with the showing of the famous photoplay, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," at the R. & R. Lyric Thursday night, and will repeat same Friday night.

In the lobby of the Lyric was an elaborate display of King's Candies—the leading candy handled by the Chocolate Shoppe. Miss Ruth Miller attired in a costume of the days when knighthood was in flower presided over the display and each night presented each lady entering the theatre a sample box of King's Knighthood candy. Then, too, Miss Miller appeared at the Chocolate Shoppe to announce the names of those who were to be awarded one and two pound boxes of the famous King's Knighthood Candy by the management of the Chocolate Shoppe.

Lutheran Service

Regular services will be conducted at the Soash schoolhouse Sunday, Sept. 9th. The hour for services is 3 o'clock in the afternoon, preceded by the Sunday school. The Pastor has chosen Matt. 3:13-17 as the basis for his sermon. The topic of his discussion shall be: "The Baptism of Jesus Christ." Baptism is one of the great doctrines of the Bible. It is, therefore, necessary to speak of this doctrine occasionally. May all lovers of Biblical truth come to services next Sunday; may all those also attend that are of a different mind. You are all cordially invited. To Jordan came our Lord, the Christ, To do God's pleasure willing, And there was by Saint John baptized.

All righteousness fulfilling: There did He consecrate a bath To wash away transgression, And quench the bitterness of death By His own blood and passion; He would a new life give us, Rev. A. J. F. Meier, Lutheran Pastor.

The Chief Says—

"A crack in your chimney is a sure sign that you are going to move. If you dream of smelling smoke it is a sign you are asleep and had better wake up. To see a paper-hanger papering over a flue-hole indicates an impending loss. It is bad luck to look into a dark closet with a match. If you can see your shadow from an oil lamp while filling a gasoline stove it indicates a crowd of people coming to your house. When the wind moans it is extremely bad luck to burn trash near the house. If you smell gas or gasoline and look for it with a light it foretells that you are about to start on a long journey. Even if your house and furniture are covered by insurance, it is extremely unlucky to have them burn on Friday, the 13th." —Chief A. J. Trodick, of Great Falls, Montana.

Just one taste convinces

The test of good beans is to try them cold, just as they come from the can. Try White Swan Pork and Beans that way. Compare them with what you have been accustomed to. Cold or hot they hit the spot.

In the sanitary White Swan kitchens at Fort Worth the best grade of Michigan bean is cooked to a turn in a rich tomato sauce with a flavor all its own, and just enough pork is added to please the most fastidious appetite.

This fine product is one of fifty or more which bear the White Swan mark of unusual quality, which has identified the best in food products for more than fifty years throughout the Southwest. Your grocer has White Swan Pork and Beans—try them today in either the 10c or 15c size.

Government Report Boosts Cotton

An increase of $5 per bale, the most important rise in weeks followed the receipt and publication of the government crop report.

This year's cotton production was forecast at 10,788,000 bales of 500 pounds each. The forecast was based on the condition of the crop on August 25th, which was 54.1 per cent normal, indicating a yield of 134.8 pounds per acre. Last month's production forecast was 11,516,000 bales, based on July 25 condition of 67.2 per cent. Last year's crop was 9,716,817 bales.

The Proof Is Here the Same As Everywhere

For those who seek relief from kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladder ills, Doan's Kidney Pills offer hope of relief and the proof is here in Big Spring the same as everywhere. Big Spring people have used Doan's and Big Spring people recommend Doan's, the kidney remedy used in America for fifty years. Why suffer? Why run the risk of dangerous kidney ills—fatal Bright's disease. Here's Big Spring proof. Investigate it.

G. D. Griffice, prop. of blacksmith shop, Runnels St., says: "Bending over the anvil constantly put my kidneys in bad shape. I had pains across my kidneys and if I bent for any length of time, it was hard to straighten again, my back hurt so. There was a constant ache in my back and I was also troubled with my kidneys acting too freely. Doan's Kidney Pills soon eased the pain in my back and regulated my kidneys. Before long I was entirely cured and my work doesn't bother me now at all."

Musician Locates in Big Spring

J. D. Chenault of Fort Worth, teacher of violin and band instruments, has definitely decided to locate in Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Chenault arrived last Saturday and are now at home at the T. H. Johnson residence, 509 Scurry St. A studio is being prepared adjoining their apartments and he will start a class in violin next Monday with fifteen pupils tentatively enrolled.

Mr. Chenault comes to us highly recommended and with a record of over twelve years as a successful teacher in Fort Worth. Some of his pupils after two years are able to compete with professionals, a record to be proud of.

In addition to giving instruction in music Mr. Chenault is also a manufacturer of violins and his instruments command a high price on account of their superiority.

It is especially pleasing to have a man of Mr. Chenault's qualifications locate in our city. It is to be hoped that our folks will now get busy and make possible the organization of a fine band for our city. We understand a movement has been started to persuade him to undertake the work of instructing a band here.

Why?

The writer would like to know the why of a number of things in this world, and one is why Howard County refused to pay for or help work out the road which connects the Brown community with the P. S. to G. Highway.

This entire community altho in Martin County, does 100 per cent of their trading in Big Spring and Knott. Also it is estimated some 300 bales of cotton will be hauled over this same road into Howard County to the gins and market.

And—Brown community was allowed to work Howard County's road free gratis, while—and here is the strange part—a road, one mile south which is used by about three men is being worked and paid for by Howard County. Again, I ask, Why?

A Howard County Citizen.

Feeding Experiments Assured

Fred Keating, superintendent of the U. S. Experiment station here received a message from the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. authorizing him to expend $1,000 in the construction of silo, corrals, etc. to carry out the feeding experiment under the direction of the Texas A. & M. College in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce of Big Spring.

Mr. Keating will proceed with the work just as rapidly as possible in an effort to have the feed experimental work started this fall.

A meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to secure funds to supply 40 head of cattle and the necessary feed will be held at once.

Wedding Breakfast

The Misses Rhoton entertained at their home on Johnson Street Friday morning, August 31st, with a breakfast, complimentary to Miss Martha Deats and the girls in her wedding. The bride's chosen color scheme of green and white was carried out in the center piece and the fruit-cups with green tulle bows also in the last course were green ice and white cake were served. The guests found their places by dainty place cards with a bride dreaming in a silver moon. These were handpainted by Miss Abbey Nell Rhoton. Each guest brought a jar of jelly, jam or fruit of some kind which they assured Miss Deats was intended for the groom's future breakfasts.

You can scarcely keep house without fresh vegetables and fruit. Why not buy it all at one place. P. & F. COMPANY.

Loyalty to the Home Town

One of the biggest words in the English language is Loyalty, loyalty to your friends, loyalty to your government, to your home, your church, and in particular, loyalty to the community in which you live. It's the spirit that we ought to engender, for in spite of everything on earth, the town is just what you are. If you are a tightwad, old close-fisted miser, short sighted, never have a vision longer than your nose, live alone for profit, God have mercy on that town where you live. It does a good to meet a man who is brim full of loyalty for his home town, backs up and fosters every movement for the betterment of the community, never knocks, always smiling wet or dry, hot or cold, he's roaring to go. We think that the dearest thing on earth is a dead newspaper man, he fairly stinks as he walks down the street, never has a dream or vision, his paper looks like a last year's almanac, full of patent medicine ads, and if he should happen to write an editorial squib, it's like a carcass on the roadside, you have to hold your nose to get by it, else you become contaminated and stinketh yourself. And the next dearest thing on earth is a dead merchant, one that stands in his store door with a sour grin on his face, one of those hard time looks that would make the devil laugh for joy, it stops the clock of progress, clogs the wheels of do, hangs the spectacles of hard times on the sky of hope, and O golleys it gives one the blues to converse with him. Yes, everything is out of gear, there ain't no money in the country, and the whole push is staged for a fall, high taxes and short crops is his daily song, sung to the tune of a funeral dirge. Ask him to buy space in the county paper, and he will turn to a kinder of a sallow green, and how mournfully he will sing his old song of hard times and scarcity of money. And say you fellows that are crying about hard times, just ought to slip down to the Albany post office, and look in the rear, it's piled to the ceiling with merchandise from Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco and Houston and Sears-Roebuck. Yes, they read the big fat ads in the daily papers and catalogs, and always the fishermen with live bait get the game fish. Loyalty to the home town, get up and fight for it, talk about it, brag on it, toot your horn about it far and near, praise everything about it that is good, join the booster gang, roll up your sleeves and do battle for the old home town. We have in mind a small town in Texas, one of the liveliest and biggest little towns in Texas, notwithstanding that it has grown up under the shadow of one of the largest cities in the south, just sixteen miles away from the big city, and a concrete road links the village and the city, but nary-a-bundle of goods does that small town buy down at the big city. They have a live chamber of commerce, and this institution has fostered the spirit of buy at home, and this spirit is so strong that one dares not go away from home to buy goods. A man or woman walks into a store and calls for a certain article, if they do not have it in stock the merchant will say just wait a moment and we will get the article; no, no, don't allow anybody to go out of town to buy anything, hair pin, steam engine or what not, and that spirit of buy at home is so strong that they will black list any one who goes down to the big city to buy anything whatever. Every man and woman and child is a booster for that town, stands behind every movement, back up the school, the church, city council and chamber of commerce, etc. And say folks, they tell us that a knocker can't reside in that town and do business, no, there ain't no place for the old tightwad. It's said that it is the only town in Texas where the merchants fuss at the newspaper man because he will not give them more white space in their ads, and every mother's son of them advertise, else they are boycotted, and it is a noted fact that that is the liveliest country weekly in Texas, altho four big daily papers are printed right at its door steps morning and evening. Say, up there on Main Street there is a billboard with this writing on it—LOYALTY TO YOUR HOME TOWN, and we wish to God that some folks in this town would read it, and get it burnt into their craniums. Let's start a campaign for home loyalty. Let's start a campaign for buying at home. Let's start a campaign for backing our school, our churches. Let's start a campaign for civic beauty, better streets, prettier homes, prettier yards—In other words folks, let's build here a town worth while—Won't you help your county paper? Come on, let's go get things—Loyalty, and more Loyalty.—Albany News.

Barbecue at New Town

It was our pleasure to respond to an invitation from Shaw and Lindsey Real Estate firm who have sold so much land here this year, to attend a barbecue at the headquarters of the Berge Forbes properties on last Wednesday evening. It will be an eye opener to any one who has not seen the development that is taking place down there. Sixteen miles from Lamesa, southwest, they are building houses for the purchasers of their land. They have one of the finest gins just about complete ever put up in the county; they are finishing a store building to care for the local needs of their people and with all are building a small town there. Everywhere you see the new dwellings dotted about over the land for two or three miles every way that they have lately built and sold. They are going to make good crops there. They have had lots of rain. The lakes are full and everything looks prosperous. Berge-Forbes Co. just the past week bought about $155,000 worth more of land and will develop this land and sell it to actual settlers. These people with practically unlimited capital see the great opportunities for the farmer and are willing to put their millions of dollars back of it. When a firm worth over a million dollars who can easily get millions more to back them take hold of a project it means that the poor man has the opportunity of his life. They only care for a small profit and it gives the poor man a chance while they make money to share it with them.—Lamesa Reporter.

Let An Expert Solve Your Troubles

Ed Gray, one of the best automobile mechanics in the state, has accepted a position with the BANK-HEAD GARAGE, and is now ready to serve you. If you are having trouble with your car bring it to our garage and let him tell you what causes the trouble; for he knows his business and will tell you how it can be corrected. Then, too, if you want any work on your car it will be done by an expert and at a price that is reasonable. Satisfaction is assured patrons of the BANK-HEAD GARAGE.—advertisement-38-1f.

Opportunity Never Hides From nor Goes in Search of Men

The Unit Rule

By Daniel F. Cohalan, Supreme Court Justice, State of New York.
Attention has been called to the two-thirds rule by which a junta of bosses representing the worst forces of organized machine politics are able to exercise a veto power on the activities of the Democratic National Convention. Through that rule a small clique of men can defeat public opinion. They can wear down the majority of the delegates and compel them in despair to take the candidate of the bosses. However, there is another device of bossism that must be examined before the palm is given to this as the chief evil. And that is the unit rule.

Daniel F. Cohalan

This is the means by which a great minority of a delegation—any number short of one-half—can be made effectively non-existent. It is the weapon dearest to the heart of the boss because through it that opposition which is closest to him—which comes from his own State—which knows his weaknesses and his failings—can be silenced.
There have been times in the New York delegation, for instance, when forty of the representative men of the party from the State, have been made through the unit rule simply the tools of a party boss whom they despised, and the assets of a system of control against which their judgment revolted. Yet because the boss had a majority—it may be only of one vote in the delegation—he has assumed the right to vote the entire delegation and has been permitted to do so by the Convention.
No man named by such a body represents anything but the will of the bosses—which is another way of saying he has been chosen only by the masters of the bosses. The unit rule is a relic of the stone age in politics and it should be discarded.

Citrus Advertising a Success

The Florida Citrus Exchange is making an appeal to the growers of grape fruit to co-operate instead of compete in the marketing of their product, and states that the keynote of its success up to date has been found in newspaper advertising. Ten years ago, the exchange says, it started to educate the American housewives to the food and health values of grape fruit. Today, as a result of newspaper advertising, one-fourth of the American people eat grape fruit. There remain, however, three-fourths of the people yet to be reached.
The potential market for the canned grape fruit alone is staggering to contemplate. The canning of grape fruit now has been perfected.
All that remains is to have the people told about it. The citrus exchange is to be complimented on its vision in seeing that only newspaper advertising can accomplish such mutually beneficial education. The housewives of every small town in the country will learn through advertising in their local newspapers all about grape fruit. Then everybody will profit.

CRADLE OF REDS

The Reds are all evolutionists. Evolution has given them their program and method. They get the incentive of practical evolution from Karl Marx, who got it from Engels, who got it from Spinoza, who got it from the Greek philosophers, who got it from the Egyptian priests, who got it from the Babylonian priestcraft, who taught the migration of souls and the transmigration of souls.
The Reds believe that all should preach and teach evolution, working for the world wide good of the Reds. They laugh at rich and watch them pay, to know if evolution, and education are taught in all grades of schools that the masses will be Reds and will rise up and take possession of all property and resources. The end of a road is you where it ends.
Whenever you proclaim that state is everything and the individual is nothing you have fallen on a program of evolution.
When you say that man's soul is in the lower elements of the you thereby repudiate the sovereignty of God and His crown hand, and, you have licensed the world to do as it pleases. If it is not the creature of the crown hand of Almighty God, then, responsibility and accountability are gone. If you destroy man's ability to God, you destroy the line in government, wreck the and perpetuate an orgy of sin and death.
The rationalist in the church is the red radical in the world are twin brothers. They are their origin in the same bed of famous paganism and their common destiny is hell.

The Wages of Sin
The wages of sin is death.—Paul. "The wages of sin is death" because sin is the product of the carnal mind, and the assertion of the Great Apostle that "the carnal mind is enmity against God," has been proved true by everyone in proportion as he has allowed his mind to dwell on carnal, fleshly or material things. He who thinks carnally is dwelling in spiritual darkness, which is the absence of spiritual life, and this means destruction. Every sinful deed or pleasure must be paid for by sorrow or suffering, or by both. This truth was realized centuries before the Carpenter of Galilee appeared on the hillsides of Judea, or fed the multitudes on the seashores, or healed the sick and the impotent, for it is written, "Be sure your sin will find you out."

Man pays his passage to life, immortality and happiness by good works—eternal things, right things. In the accomplishment of these he is serving man, and when he is serving man he is also serving God, for he who loves his fellow-man loves God, and he who loves God loves his fellow-man. All good for man is done through man, since he is the instrument in God's hands for the accomplishment of His will. Herein lies man's great responsibility; also his great opportunity. Man must not only "work the works of righteousness," but he must fight the fight of righteousness. He must be a valiant soldier in the warfare of right against wrong, of truth against error, of love against hate.

Even if one could enjoy the pleasures of sin throughout his earthly life, and that without penalty during his temporal existence, what an unspeakable failure it would be when he got to the end of it and knew, as he most assuredly will know, that he shall reap as he has sown! In such case he has sown the wind and must of necessity reap the whirlwind. He then realizes, after it is eternally too late, that "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Such a life is as the apples of Sodom as compared with the gold of the temple vessels; it is Dead Sea fruit as compared with the fruits of Eden; it is hypocritical mockery compared with righteousness and truth; it is the counterfeit taking the place of the real, the ephemeral and temporal claiming to be eternal, of mortality claiming to be immortality.

This suggests to us the most agonizing thought that it is possible for one to have when, at the end of life's journey, he looks back down the way he has come and finds no crosses upon which he has crucified self for the sake of the right, no fight with sin in which he was the victor, sees no despairing soul whom he has cheered and encouraged, no falling one whom he has rescued and helped to rise and climb upon the rocks of Truth; when he sees no eye brightened by his presence and hears no "God bless you" from the lips of one whom he has given a cup of cold water in the Master's name; when he realizes that in proportion as there are regret and remorse, shame and sorrow, so there must be darkness in the future with no time to make reparation.

Such a life was described by Democritus when he said: "An evil and foolish and intemperate and irreligious life should not be called a bad life, but rather dying long drawn out."

A holy life is made up, not of passive innocence, but of aggressive goodness. It must be a conquering of sin, of overcoming evil, of resistance to "the prince of the powers of the air." It is the withstanding of temptations for righteousness' sake. It is of such of whom it will be said: "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." Stopford Brooke says: "Our endurance, our self-sacrifice, our bitter conquest over wrong, are latent forces that, set free in a changed air, become strength, ecstasy and peace that passeth understanding."

The fact that "the sting of sin" is always the accompaniment of sin should be enough to deter man from the commission of evil deeds, and this would be so were it not for the headiness, the stiff-neckedness, the willfulness of man—the seeming preference he has for believing rather the lie of the serpent than the truth of God.

It is almost as bad to let another creature continue to suffer for lack of the help we could give him as it is to be the cause of his suffering in the first place. This applies to animals and people alike. If everybody always lived by the rule of doing no unnecessary harm, and helping all other creatures whenever he could, always using good sense, but never being selfish or indifferent, almost all pain, sorrow and trouble in the world would soon come to an end.

Don't Rock the Boat

"Don't Rock the Boat" was a favorite saying during the Wilson administration along about the time of the Border Trouble and just prior to our entry into the World War.
 The war over, it seemed that the phrase was no longer applicable, the ship of state, was in serene waters, we might let her alone to tug at the anchor; the crisis had passed.

But has it passed? With conditions in the old world almost to the point of chaos and absolute disruption; with economic and social conditions in our own country in a seething mass of uncertainty, and with political and religious factions striving for leadership and a place in the Sun, thinking people continue to go about adding their bit of tinder and sparks to the general conflagration that is slowly but surely enveloping our whole social and economic structure and which if we are not careful, threatens not only the existence of our national civilization
 but that of the whole world as well.
 Instead of trying to soothe and smooth out the difficulties which exist in every city, town and community in the United States, these thoughtless individuals, cliques, clubs, and societies are out to decry and abuse every other social, political, or religious faction under the sun—except their own particular "ism," which they net, pamper, and parade before the rest of their fellowmen as the "Sine qua non;" the "Ne plus ultra" for every ill of society.

Today we live in a land of plenty and of peace, if by this last you mean the absence of the tramp of armed legions, the thunderous roar of the big guns, and the deafening whirr of flying Armadas. And Peace
 we can continue to have with us—
 If. If we "Do not rock the boat."

Laugh if you wish; jest if you will,
 you cannot deny but that these be serious times and that they call for serious thinking; individual thinking and not the momentary conclusions of the crowd or the mob. Our nation did not grow up in a night. It is the product of centuries. Men from every land and clime have come to see spring up anew what every nation has visioned and what few have realized; more freedom of the individual. Though coming from the ends of the earth and bringing with them every religion, they modeled a constitution which would be a guarantee of individual freedom to each and every man "regardless of race, religion, or previous condition of servitude." They fused their petty jealousies and animosities in the "melting pot" of these United States and they brooked no class or caste, no factional, political, or religious organization which did not recognize the motto: "All for one," and "one for all." They recognized but one flag; they worshipped but one God.

Since the World War, during which we on this side of the pond, had for our slogan, "A war to end war" and "Self determination of the Nations,"
 a spirit of Nationalism has sprung up which threatens to destroy every vestige of international good will if not to plunge us into the deadliest of civil strife, with the consequent stagnation of civilization and progress mayhaps for centuries. To America the nations at war looked for example and guidance. In Peace they are doing no less the same, but the old halo which hung about us on account of our World Peace ideas which did not take form in some sort of League or World Court is fast growing dimmer to the minds of men across the sea.

Our growing disregard for law as evidenced by the increasing disposition to take the law in our own hands and by the dissemination of poisonous propaganda by the unscrupulous and the well-meaning alike, is nothing short of alarming, and continued will put us on the toboggan for Bolshevism with worn out brake bands. But with all of this hysteria we have yet men among us who regardless of religious or party affiliation recognize the danger of the situation and recognize also that at the bottom of much of this discontent and seeming disorder, lies the vision of a new order of things and see in the present tumult but the efforts of far-seeing men to accomplish this new order which after all is the goal of all liberty loving peoples. Again we say, these be serious times and call for serious thinking. Will we help to stay this tide of discontent, of hatred, and of strife and see confidence, tolerance, and tranquility restored within our borders, or will we rush on into the abyss which lies just around the corner and which has wrecked so many of the civilizations of the past?
 Will we continue to "Rock the Boat?"—Harrison (Ark.) Times.

Nothing like a vacation away from the old Home Town to make one appreciate the old burg.

That tooth brush needs to be replaced. . . . Cunningham & Philips.

McAadoo stands today as one of America's successful men and a

Your success may be in heeding the thoughts he expressed recently, which were, in part:

"The character of citizenship is in the exercise of self-control. Thrift is one of the highest types of self-control, because in practicing thrift one has to be master of self at virtually every point of attack. Thrift may be in wise expenditure of funds—or in sound investment—maybe in conceding a temporary loss to realize a permanent gain.
 Thrift is successful business—no matter whether you be

Wedded Bliss in Covered Wagon

Driving along down a country lane
 the other day we focussed a picture on the screen of memory that will not blot out. By the roadside, under the shade of a tree, was a covered wagon, and the inmates of this highland skooner were resting at noon time. They were sitting on a bed in the rear of the wagon, clasped in each other's arms, a prattling babe was lying on the bed, kicking up its heels, and they were busily engaged talking and cooing to that babe, oblivious of surroundings and road traffic. Yes, keeping house by the road side, humble tho it was, but it was their castle on wheels. To it was hitched a pair of common plug ponies, harnessed with just common ordinary plow gears. On the rear end of the wagon was the rocking chair, wash tub and a plain board cradle; underneath the wagon was the chicken coop, well filled with chickens, and of course they had a dog, and a cow and a calf were lassoed to the hind gate of the wagon, and we expect that that was the extent of their earthly possessions. To get a better glimpse of this camp and the folks by the road side, we stopped our jitney and let on like there was something the matter with our motor; we raised the hood, fumbled around like we were fixing something, but all the while we were watching that housekeeping in a covered wagon. They never did see us, if so, they never let on, wrapped up in their own business, and a babe was the central figure in this canvassed home. We do not know where they were going, but west we expect, as the horses had their heads toward the setting sun. And say, you fellows who ride in a limousine, live in a big house, have your land and cattle, bank stock and merchandise, do you think that you have all the pleasure in the world? If so, you have made a bad guess, as that house on wheels, out in the big open, camping by the road side, on the banks of the running brooks, under the shadow of trees in the wild woods, care free, traveling west, and maybe-so as the years come and go, he too will live in a big house, own stocks and bonds, sit on the bench, go to congress, for out of the loins of the comality come the rulers of men, the builders of empires and defenders of human liberty in the hour of stress—And so this picture of wedded bliss in a covered wagon on the road side lingers with us.—

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablets Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.
 In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take.
 One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts.
 A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please.
 No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package;
 ten cents for the small, trial size.
 Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Advertisement #1-13t).

Electricity For Farm

What a blessing to the electricity!
 And what tremendous the world would suffer, if ern force were lost to us suggestion is silly, of course world is not going to do electricity. In the nature of events, we are going to and more of this magic Coal," someone has been call it, and people and munities are going to be benefitted accordingly.

One of the important developments of the past half-dozen years has been the introduction of electricity onto the farms of the country. Before that time, the farmer was going ahead, using his own power in his industries and homes, farm homes were along without its magic power. With the invention and use of the individual farm electric system, however, thousands and thousands of farm homes have come to enjoy the advantages of electric power, of running the other conveniences that home as modern.

The Delco-Light company
 in the farm electric plant who operate the largest in the world for the manufacture of these electric plants have announced a new plan, which is to be of vital importance to the farmer and his family who are longing and planning to have electricity in their own homes.
 This plan provides, for the installation of a complete electric plant, wiring of the house, lights, ten complete drop cables, with bulbs in place, special electric socket for plugging up motors and other appliances.
