Rodeo Queen Is Crowned Friday

Prexy's Paragraphs

BY BRADFORD KNAPP

Again we must thank those who made a good reputation for Tech not only by playing superior football, but by manifesting superior "pep" and exemplary conduct. All reports from the trip of the team and the band to Denver are gratifying. We are under very deep obligation to Mr. Walter Campbell of radio station KOA for making possible the fine concert the band put on over the radio, and for his friendly and courteous comments regarding this school as he introduced our boys over that station. "Pete" and the team put on a fine exhibition—entirely worthy of the high standard of the institution and our great team.

On Friday afternoon and Friday night for the game with Notre Dame, we expect to have a great number of visitors from all over Texas and the Plains country. Army officers are flying in here from San Antonio; important men are coming from Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo and other centers of population in Texas. Let a crowd resolve to put on a splendid game for them, but let us show the world how we all back the Matadors. So far, we have set a high standard of student support of the team. On Friday night, let us make it a clinic and show the world clean, fine, gentlemanly and womanly conduct, which will make the quality of our student body and the whole institution stand out before the eyes of our thousands of visitors. "Yea team! Beat Notre Dame!"

Commenting on what I have already said, I think the saddest thing that can happen in a football crowd is for a man to be drinking, not only because it is bad example, but because an intoxicated man just does not know what is going on, and therefore detracts from the enjoyment of the game on the part of all those who are sitting round about him. A football game is really enjoyable in the right way, but it is only enjoyable for those who are intelligently enthusiastic. The sorriest enthusiast in the world is one who is maudlin. We have had almost none of that kind of thing at any of our games, much less than I have seen elsewhere. I am only mentioning it that we may keep out this drawback to real collegiate sports.

The Registrar shortly will send out the reports regarding the mid-term standing of students. It will help you to make that check-up on your own record which I urged you to make last week. Do not be discouraged if your record is not what you think it ought to be. Make a resolution that the last half of the term will show better work, and apply yourself to the task ahead of you, so that you may show at the end of the term that you have brought up every deficiency and passed every subject.

What could we do to make the Senior class feel that their last year in college has brought some distinction? In olden days, at many colleges, seniors wore the caps and gowns throughout the senior year. It was a tradition. Who at this college knows the seniors? Do we recognize them as those who have toiled through three hard years of work, and who are to be here only this last and wonderful year before they go out to find their places in the world? What tradition could we establish here which might give to the Senior class a little recognition in their last year? The spring days will soon be here and another class will receive their diplomas and leave Tech to carry Tech's name into hundreds of communities. How may we extend to them a recognition beyond the mere handshake at commencement time and the diplomas which they will carry away with them?

Next Week's Toreador To Be Edited By Tech Alumni

The next issue of the Toreador will be edited by members of the Alumni Association, with W. E. Street, president, and J. W. Jackson in charge. Copies will be sent to all graduates of Tech to invite them to the homecoming game to be played November 11, and to interest them in the activities at Tech.

Two Girls Go Home After Being Operated On; Farris Remains In Hospital; Other Students To Be Released

Miss Barton wore riding trousers, white silk shirt, white suede jacket and rode a beautiful white horse with ease and grace. The group stopped in front of the grandstand and the coronation took place, followed by applause.

Prizes Given

Prizes were awarded to winners in the Rodeo contests at the meeting of the Aggie club last Tuesday night.

Al Simmons, senior architect, won a leather jacket, given by Carter-Houston, in the bronc riding contest. The wild cow relay race was won by a team composed of Perrin, Carr, and Elder. Elder received a gabardine jacket from the Caprock store, Carr, a silk manilla rope from Nialar Hardware company and Perrin, a pair of gloves from Ross Edwards. The wild cow milking contest was won by a team composed of Young and Rosser. Young received a shirt from Mallory's, and Rosser, a pair of gloves from J. C. Penney company.

Winners Named

Five places were given in the girls riding contest. Miss Billie Bob Jones won first place, Sue Barton, queen of the Rodeo, second, Helen Barstow, third, Vonelle Gilkerson, fourth, and Frances Snyder, fifth. According to a report from Curtis Williams, manager, the Rodeo was a bigger success, financially than has ever been before. Miss Douglas and Farris are being operated on at the West Texas hospital. Students who were recently operated on for the same cause at the West Texas hospital and who will soon be released are Lorane Caldwell, Mrs. Davis Gaylord, Alfred Holeman, and Robert Wyatt.

Joe Harter, aggie senior, was called home last Saturday night by the death of his father.

Captain Ross Ayers And Our Matadors Are Going To Need Real Support Tomorrow Night

There will be people here from all over West Texas. Let's make a lasting impression on these people. Let's let them know that Tech has the toughest opposition they have faced this season and need the support of the entire student body to hurdle this obstacle. The only way for the team to give the best they have is for you, and you to get behind them. It is planned to have Crites, Ayres, Moffett, and other athletes tell the student body just what the game means to them. They have the will to win and can win if the entire student body will get behind them. There will be the largest crowd of the season present for this game.

Although the first year of her leave was spent in Spain, Miss West vacated in the British Isles the summer of 1931. It was an invitation to Anglo-American Historical Conference which took her there, but after its close, she relieved her work by several pleasure excursions. The most interesting of which was a walking trip through Scotland.

Editors Note—There has been much discussion on and about the campus for the past few weeks about the organization of Greek letter fraternities on the campus. The Toreador does not wish to take any sides in the question, but will be glad to print any signed letters received on the subject. Below are two anonymous letters handed in this week.

DEMOCRACY OR SNOBBERY?

One of the things that has made Texas Technological College what it is today is the democratic spirit of the student body, the absence of any class distinction and especially the absence of Greek letter organizations on the campus.

The late Dr. Paul W. Horn was opposed to any artificial distinction among members of the student body. His idea is expressed in the following excerpt: "In a great democracy like our own, it stands to reason that democracy of spirit among our student body makes possible the best preparation for a democratic citizenship."

The College and the Board of Directors expressly forbid any Greek letter social organization among the students. If the various campus clubs are sub-rosa members of Greek fraternities, or of sororities, the best interest of the College would be served by the disbanding of such outlaw groups.

Proponents of Greek organizations deny that the organization, as such, tend to make their members into snobs. As far as Tech is concerned, this argument is defeated by the manner in which the present social clubs congregate, during class changes, on the second landing in the east end of the Ad building. If some students attend college with the idea of making a fraternity or a sorority the chief end of their educational opportunities, it is evident that they must have misjudged what a college offers to a person.

There are cases in the College today whereby students are denying themselves almost the necessities of life in order that they may have enough money to maintain a "front" which deceives no one but themselves.

Many Greeks, leaders in their fields, are so, not because of being Greeks, but because of inherent ability to forge to the front.

Is Texas Technological College going to remain a great democratic school or is it going to become a school in which Greek letters are the chief prizes instead of scholarship and real worth to the college and to the state?

SOCIAL CLUBS — THEIR WORTH

The thing that has made Texas Tech what it is today is the democratic spirit prevailing among the students. Such spirit is obtained by unity and co-operation of all.

This unity and co-operation may be termed by one word—comradeship.

How is comradeship better obtained than by organizations, whether they be clubs, fraternities, or sororities? Practically there is no difference between clubs and Greek letter organizations, other than local and national affiliations. These groups, as the names imply, try solely to promote one thing, brotherly and sisterly love. When one thinks of comradeship the accompanying thought is organized societies. The two are as inseparable as home and mother.

Perhaps the greatest value of clubs on a campus is that they are organized and presided over by leaders. A president of any institution cannot enforce the scholastic rulings without the aid of organized groups. When any project is to be attempted, or any meritorious work for the betterment of the school, band, or football team is to be done, organized groups are the first to be called upon. Without organization nothing can be done. With organization comes teamwork. What is better training for teamwork than that of clubs and like organizations? Positive proof of this is shown most clearly on our campus.

It has been said that clubs tend to make their members into snobs. In Hubbard's "Scrap-Book", a snob is defined as "a person who is not sure of his, or her position". Such a person is one without friends. Anyone without friends cannot belong to a club. He has not the qualities. In the case a club man becomes snobbish, his fellow members are the first to see and correct these disgusting qualities, as is their duty. The one object of social club, or any department society is to better our school, whether it be the social, scholastic, or athletic phase.

The predominating factor of being a club man is that he has to retain a scholastic standing. Clubs are not exclusive, they are made up of men and women that love their school enough to take an active part in the betterment of that side of college life.

Alumni News

Riley Alexander, who formerly was the custodian of the college greenhouse while a student in the Aggie school is now stationed in El Paso. He holds the position of Plant Quarantine Inspector with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Since graduation he and his wife, (Lois Perse) have made El Paso their permanent home.

From textile engineering to practicing law is a rather far fetched move as an occupation but one Tech alumnus has made just such a change. We are referring to Nat E. (Pop) King of Laredo, Texas. He is stationed with Mann, Neel and Mann of the above mentioned city. And what is more he likes the work.

John R. Powell, who was a very popular student in his day, still honors Dumas as his place of residence. The firm of Bob Powell is an abstractor, and also tax collector for the Dumas independent school district.

Adolphus H. Smith, of Brownfield is employed by the Texas highway department at Brownfield.

Another ex-student living at St. Louis is R. H. Archibald who is employed by the Missouri highway department. He and Glimp were present last month at the annual engineers' picnic and celebration.

Zed Glimp, another engineer, is on the sales force of the Westinghouse Electric company. He is stationed at St. Louis and his territory includes most of southern Illinois.

He reports that he sees Merle Williams, former Home Ec student who is now Mrs. Dr. James E. Pittman in addition to serving as chief dietician at Barnes hospital at St. Louis.

Capt. Hugh E. Killin, former head of the Military Science department at Tech and wife are living at Sudan, New Mexico, where he is superintendent of the school. Mrs. Killin is the former Margaret McNabb, secretary to Dean Gordon.

After spending two years in Columbia university doing graduate work in English, Otis Koen, former editor of the Toreador is now owner and manager of a traveling photographic enterprise. Koen, it will be remembered, taught one year in the local high school following his graduation in 1929.

Another former Matador, Sid Knowles, is coach of the Boy's high school, at El Paso. Knowles is working on his Masters degree between school sessions. He recently married Luvenia Boyd, former student of Tech.

June Hargus, graduate of 1931, is teaching social science in the high school at Eastland.

Wade Harwick, who calls Clovis, New Mexico, his home returned to work after attending Tech in the last summer session.

Leon Havis, after graduating from Tech in 1931 attended Colo-

Mysterious Mike Moses Around

Fellers old MIKE shore does feel sad and sorter down. You see MOSES and me went to that bridge party the SAN SOUCIS throwed for the band, and while we was playing MOSES keeled over. We started to bury him with simple honors but he woke up. HANK GODEKE shore am getting absent minded, at least he went to Denver without takin his horn. Some people are naturally born lucky; just take JASPER HUBBERT for instance, his nose is like a good book—it is red to the very end. I heered yesterday that if you wanted to make a big hit with LOIS WATSON, just call her MELBA'S little sister. BOB TRACY has had a bad cold and when I axed him how he got it he tole me that he drank out of a damp rodeo. Then AGGIES shore had a good rodeo and they coronated LA REINA DEL RODEO. At least that is what the mgr. CHESTER WILLIAMS tole me after I had followed him around that shute until that ENGLISH RIDING contest was over. I was sorter sore by that time cause I wanted to see them ferners ride. Fish HOLLIS CARROLL was walkin in front of the Ad building tother mornin when a little dog ran past and nearly tripped him. As he was collecting his feet he was knocked down by that feller in that Austin auto. When he was asked, by SLIME STILL, whether he was hurt or not he replied: "The dog didn't do any harm, but that tin can tied to his tail nearly killed me." The LAS VIVARACHAS held a reception Saturday nite and I shore met lots of strange people. I heered MOCO say that beer was going to be back in a few months. I guess that they will announce it on a nation-wide HIG-UP. I seen one of them CURP-MAN boys courtin tother nite, and he was talkin so smooth that he lost all of that MATADOR HALL broge. I has been so busy that I sint had time to find out how many dates JULIA DAVIS has had. JOE TURNER axed CLARYCE ADCOCK what the eternal triangle was tother nite and she tole him that it

Club Organized At College Inn

The College Inn club was organized last week at College Inn dormitory. Mrs. James, housemother, made a shot talk before the following officers were elected: Lazelle Goldsmith, president; Elizabeth Beyham, vice president; Mary Sneed, secretary-treasurer; Lorene Oliphint, reporter.

Plans were made for the social occasions of the year. Open house, October 29, will be the club's first main event. Other social affairs will be picnics, parties, and dances. All girls now staying at College Inn are charter members.

Was what MAHATMA GANDI wore. B. E. MILLER tole me that they was puttin gas stoves in COLLEGE INN, then that has asbestos backs; and when LELA HOLLAN started to lit hers she wanted to no if she has to pick that cotton off first. Some people shore are dumb. Guess that me and MOSES had better go over to nokstore and get our koffee and look fer some news.

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the noted artist, Karl Godwin . . . inspired by the fierce and brilliant assaults by Clive and a handful of followers, outnumbered 20 to 1 by savage hordes of bloodthirsty natives, at the Battle of Plassey—the birth of the British Indian Empire—as described in the famous Henty book, "With Clive in India."

They are not present in Luckies . . . the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

Under The Double "T"

BY BOB TRACY
Toreador Sports Editor
This past week end, Syracuse beat Penn. State. The week before, S. M. U. took the New Yorkers for a cleaning. Now, Tech beat the Methodists, so draw your own conclusions. Tech is now enjoying the best year in its entire athletic history, and with the fish showing up like they did last week against the reserves, it looks like next year will be plenty good.

"Beat Notre Dame". That's the watchword for this week. The South Bend team is strong and to beat them will mean more to Tech than any other victory this year. According to some information received by "Dutchy" Smith, visiting team will be made up mostly of transfers and other varsity ineligible that are serving their year of probation, before being placed on the regular team. This means that the boys will have had enough experience to know what the game is all about, and also, that they are going to play a good game so that their records will show up when they come out next year for the first string club. They are going to be tough, but, if the columns of some of the sports writers in South Texas mean anything, Tech has a pretty tough team itself. It's going to be a great game.

Much to the writer's disappointment, Rice had to take a back seat last week because there was not enough room on the front row for both Mr. Dohn Hilliard of Texas university and the feathered flock. For the last three seasons, Rice has been building up a powerful machine to throw at the Southwest conference this year, and the first loss was "no dice". It's tough, but that's football for you, however, the Houston school is not out of the chase yet.

The Texas Aggies threw that "little thin red line" up at Waco Saturday and the score for both teams was nil in all four quarters. The Bears have a perfect love for the Cadets and of course the A. & M. boys are glad that these two schools have renewed their athletic relations. This Solla kid did himself proud at Denver, Saturday. The left-hander threw the pigskin to the four winds and Hitchcock turned out to be a perfect target. Solla made a 72 yard run from a kickoff that was a whiz.

This may not be straight dope, but Del Morgan has big things planned for the cage followers this winter. "Lefty" Bryant who is conducting the intramural basketball this year, said that "Del" is trying to arrange a four game series with Rice Institute. Two games are to be played here and two at Houston, if the thing goes through. Tech is trying to show the Southwest conference her wares in basketball as well as on the gridiron. Rice has all her lettermen back, but Jake Hess and the Owls will be good competition for Morgan and his five.

Rob O'Hair and Bob Walker have planned a mammoth pep rally for tonight and it is urged that every student attend. It is your duty to attend this rally as well as the rest of them. Coach Cawthon and the football squad have worked hard to bring honor to us and our school and you should be at the rally to-night and then at the game Friday and yell for that fighting band of Matadors. A good program is being planned for your entertainment and those of you who are not there, will miss something good. I am not at liberty to tell you what the program is but I can assure you that it will be the best of the year at the pep rallies. Get the score, get behind your team and your coaches.

Tech Defeats Colorado Miners 21-0; Crites, Solla, Anthony Lead Matadors In Denver Game

Scarlet Gains 299 Yards From Scrimmage; Hitchcock Makes Touchdown After Snagging A Pass From Solla

Flashing smooth working offense and a powerful defense, the Texas Tech Matadors ran roughshod over the Colorado School of Mines Miners at Denver 21-0.

Tech made 21 first downs to the Miners 3, gained 299 yards from scrimmage to the Miners 53, completed six passes for 113 yards to three of the Miners for 36 yards and completely outplayed the Oregidgers in every other department. Lefty Solla and Harold Crites were the outstanding men on the field for Tech. Solla made the most sparkling play of the game when he returned a Mines kickoff for 72 yards to the Mines 7 yard line. The blocking offered by his teammates was perfect as he was hardly touched by a tackler.

Mines won the toss and chose to receive with the wind at their backs. D. M. McElroy got off a good kick to start the game, the ball going over the goal line. After making a first down on a two line play, Daggett of the Mines got off a nice punt that travelled 55 yards in the air got by McElroy the Tech safety man, and rolled over the goal line. Tech took the ball on their own twenty yard line and with Butts and Harris leading the attack made two first downs. The Mines line tightened up and Tech was forced to punt. The remainder of the quarter was a punting duel between Daggett of the Mines and Harris of Tech.

As the second quarter began, Coach Cawthon sent in a complete new team. Shortly after it went in, Tech got a break when Mines fumbled on their own 14 yard line where the ball was recovered by Crites. McElroy swept around end for 12 yards and a first on the Mines 2 yard line and on the next play Solla went around end for the touchdown. Crites placekicked for the extra point. The Miners chose to kickoff, after which Solla took the ball on his 21 yard line and behind the Tech blocking raced 70 yards before being brought down behind. On the next play, Solla passed to Hitchcock for a touchdown. Moffett converted, making the score 14-0. The Matadors threatened several more times in the second quarter but each time a penalty on the field of the Oregidger line kept them from scoring.

The last tally came after an exchange of punts with Tech gaining the ball about midfield. A tripple pass, Solla to Crites to McElroy placed the ball deep in Mines territory and on the next play a lateral pass Solla to Crites was good for a touchdown. Crites converted.

In the fourth quarter, the Miners threatened when Townsend intercepted a Matador pass on Tech's 34 yard line. A pass was good for seven yards but the Tech line held and Mines was forced to kick. The play of Daggett, Townsend, and Kinyon was outstanding for the Miners.

Aerial Attack Features Play Of Slimes; Beauchamp Flips 45 Yard Heave To Jones For Touchdown

Coach Dell Morgan's husky Picadors got revenge in a big way last Wednesday week night when they blanked the Matador Reserves 12 to 0 in a battle featuring a dual aerial attack.

The first half ended in a scoreless deadlock with the teams playing on even terms. Smarting under two previous defeats handed them by the Reserves, the fish came back strong in the third quarter and broke into the tally column. After a series of completed passes which put the ball on the Reserve 7-yard stripe, McCubbin lumbered through center for the counter. The second touchdown came in the last period when little J. V. Beauchamp heaved a 45-yard toss to wingman Gury Jones who sprinted across the end zone for the marker.

Which Will It Be? A "Pass" Or A "Bust"

AS a student, do not imagine that you can save a money trying to "get by" without owning text books for every subject on which you want credit.

WITH such a policy, the exams and quizzes are a nightmare—resulting too often in a "Bust" or a "Flunk" and the work must be gone over and made up. This is a waste of energy and a far greater expense than if you had fortified yourself with the required books in the beginning.

JUST figure your time and tuition, and you will easily see the cost of a text book is only a fraction of the aggregate expense.

IN the long run you will save both time and money if you prepare, by possessing texts on each of your subjects.

WHEN your professor assigns a book for you to buy, he is NOT asking you to buy a book because it is in stock at some BOOKSTORE; but for the simple fact that he has requested the BOOKSTORE to order that particular book for his classes, and he therefore expects his students to secure the books ordered in advance for them.

YOU will find that your grades would have been of passing quality had you availed yourself of the proper tools—BOOKS—as your instructor holds you responsible for assignments he makes in the text.

THIS advertisement of the TEXAS TECH COLLEGE BOOKSTORE is published for the benefit of STUDENTS who do not understand that text books in our stock have been especially ordered by the instructor in advance to have assignments made in them.

Simmons Wins! Veteran Northsider Gets Prize

E. C. "Al" Simmons, veteran architectural student, former varsity tackle, power house engineer and fixture on the north end of the campus, had a unique experience at the Aggie Rodeo the other evening. After riding his first bronco, Simmons alighted on the other side of the arena fence. A few moments later, riding another bronco he dismounted rather quickly at almost the same spot. After the wild cow milking contest, Simmons stated that inability to run faster after he had milked his cow was the only reason that he lost. However, after it was all over, Simmons was named as winner of the broncho busters of the Tech campus.

Bears Prepare For Matadors

Baylor Team Is Stronger Than Last Season Club; Jennings To Stress Flank Attack In November Game

Baylor University which meets Texas Tech on Matador field Nov. 11 boasts a team much stronger than the one that beat Cawthon's grid-ders last year on Carroll field in Waco.

The Golden Bears will bring a strong club to Lubbock this year. Notwithstanding the fact that Raymond Alford, one of Baylor's greatest passers has graduated along with Doyle Smith, a hard plunging full-back who rated high in the Southwest conference, the coaches feel that the team is man for man stronger.

After taking a drubbing from Arkansas two weeks ago, the Bears held the Texas Aggies to a scoreless tie. This week, Coach Morley Jennings is sending his boys against the Horned Frogs of T. C. U. and barring any injuries in this game, he maintains that his team will be ready for whatever the Matadors may offer.

Bears To Pass

Jennings is a great tutor of the passing game and he may take to the air when the two teams meet on Armistice Day. Defeating the University of Loyola at New Orleans serves notice in advance that Baylor does not intend to occupy the Southwest conference cellar.

Coaches Cawthon and Smith have made no comment on the coming game, but it is a known fact that they desire to take this game at any cost. The Matadors have not quite forgotten the defeat of last year and will be out hunting for "Bear" meat.

Tech Prepares For Irish Team

Matadors Work On Offense And Defense For Notre Dame; To Shoot The Works In Effort To Win

After beating the Colorado Miners, the Tech Matadors returned to Lubbock Sunday night. There were no men injured in the Miner game. Matador coaches are making plans for the first real hard football game of the season when the Techsters tangle with the Notre Dame B team on Tech field.

Hunk Anderson, Notre Dame coach, states that he will send a stronger team to Lubbock, due to the great showing of the Matadors to date.

Matadors Work

The Matadors are putting in this week in perfecting a pass defense and offense. The squad has been divided into two teams and signal drill has been the order of the day. Adrian Clark, who has been out of a number of games, will be running at quarter and will bolster the backfield quite a bit. Crites, Solla, Hitchcock, and Martin are due to put on a good passing attack which is apt to bring results.

Tickets, up to the time that the Toreador goes to press, have been selling at a brisk pace.

The Notre Dame team to make the trip has not been picked but will be composed of transfers, ineligible, and men not quite good enough to make the Notre Dame varsity. Anderson had a scout at the Colorado game and Matador coaches are planning a somewhat different offense than that used last Saturday.

Miss McCrery Attends Meeting Of AAUW; Is Local President

Miss Johnnie McCrery left Tuesday for Corpus Christi to attend the national meeting of the American Association of University Women. Miss McCrery is the president of the local chapter of the association.

This is the first time in years that the association has met this far south.

Sports Predictions For Next Saturday

The office boy batted .715 last week in his predictions so here goes again. Tech takes on the strong Notre Dame B team at Matador field tomorrow night. From the reports coming from South Bend, the B team is a strong aggregation "Hunk" Anderson is going to send a full strength squad down for the game. In spite of all the dope and other predictions, the office boy is going to say that the Matadors will be victorious. How about a score of 21-7?

Hilliard Is Favorite

In the Southwest conference, Texas plays SMU. The whole office boy is stringing along with Hilliard and company so I guess I will string along with the "Orange" too. TCU plays Baylor at Fort Worth. TCU has never beaten Baylor at Fort Worth since becoming a member of the conference. It looks like a precedent might be broken so a handful of votes goes to the Frogs.

Rice plays Creighton at Houston. Those Owls will not be quite as sleepy as they were last Saturday so a couple of "hoots" should help them out.

A. and M. plays the Gents at of the Shreveport. If you can get a bet, lay the family jewels on the Gentlemen. It looks now as if they might have one of the best teams in the South. Well, this is all for this week, but there will be more next week. Incidentally, don't take these predictions too seriously.

Ruth Hearrol and Hazel Price, home economics seniors, directed the serving of simple breakfasts with guests in their home economic classes at Lubbock high school the past week. These two students are doing their practice teaching work.

Miss Margaret Weeks gave illustrated lectures this week to the liberal arts orientation classes on teas and table etiquette.

Bettie Stuart, senior of 1930, was a visitor on the campus Monday. She is teaching home economics in Idaho.

Evelyn Jennings, senior 31, who teaches in Colorado City, invited the home economics school last Friday and Saturday.

Corps Makes Effort To Secure Military Recognition; Drill To Be Held In Armory During Cold Weather

Close order drills were in order during the week for the men in the cadet corps.

The cold weather forced the Corps into the Armory where these drills were given. Lectures were given on military courtesies and some of the foot movements were given. It is the aim of those in charge to bring the corps up to a high standard of efficiency so that when the inspection officer of this area comes here on his tour, the Tech unit will be up to the standard prescribed by the government and will be recognized as a senior R. O. T. C. unit.

To Form Club

An effort is being made to get a local chapter of the Scabbard and Blade fraternity in Tech. This is a fraternity made up of R. O. T. C. officers and officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps.

An officer club will be organized in the near future and this club will be the nucleus of the local chapter if one is obtained for Tech.

It is probable that the classes this week will meet in the Armory and that some more close order drill will be given.

Aggie Seniors Will Compose Stock Judging Team This Fall

Seniors will compose the livestock judging team of the Tech school of agriculture. The team will compete with ten other teams at the National Livestock show in Wichita, Kansas; with twenty teams at the American Livestock show in Kansas City, Missouri; and thirty two teams at the International stock judging contest which will be held in Chicago.

R. C. Mowery, judging coach, will accompany the group on the Northern trip.

She wears many elaborate native costumes, one of which is a Salamanca wedding gown of fifteen separate pieces, exactly like that worn by the queen of Spain when she attended folk dances. Both dresses belonged to a noble lady of Salamanca, who presented one to the queen and the other to La Espinel. She also wears a Valencian gala peasant costume given her by the wife of a famous Spanish painter.
