

Didya Know?
That the cotton carnival is to be held at the high school auditorium tomorrow night. Admission to the carnival will be free, and there will be a dance at the gym immediately afterward. It is to be an All-College affair.

The TOREADOR

Howdy!
Don't forget to vote tomorrow morning for officers of the student council. There will be ballot boxes in each of the four schools for you to cast your vote. Remember, vote for the man of your choice, and help to make the election a majority vote.

VOLUME IX LUBBOCK, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1934 TEXAS TECH NUMBER 33

Student Council Election Scheduled For Tomorrow

Second Annual Cotton Carnival Will Feature Crowning Of King And Queen Cotton Friday Night

Representatives of Girls' Social Clubs and Escorts Will Form Royal Court For Ceremony

KING Cotton Elliot Knox and Queen Cotton Lucille McCrummen will reign over Tech's second annual Cotton Carnival tomorrow night in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

In the court will be five girls and their escorts from the five girls' social clubs on Tech campus. Girls and their escorts will be Lola May Grundy and George Finley, Las Vivas; Mary Burke and Benton Teal, D. F. D.; Helen Barstow and Oscar Slaton, Sans Souci; Wade Moore and Preach White, Ko Shari; Maxine Clark and Elmer Fortner, Las Chapparritas.

Tech Students Participate In Dallas Meeting

Young Democrats Choose Garland Smith Student Representative; Leech Named President

Texas Tech students were members of the West Texas delegation which, by voting in a block, virtually ruled the state convention of Texas Young Democrats which was held at Dallas last week-end.

Amarillo was chosen as the 1935 convention city and MacDonald Leech of Corpus Christi was named president in the final business session.

Lubbock delegates were: Garland Smith and Manuel DeBusk, Tech students; Doyle Settle, Tech postmaster and candidate for the legislature; Mel James, president of the Lubbock county organization; W. E. Street, Tech prof.; and "Dutch" Lambert.

Garland Smith, of Texas Tech, was elected student representative which entitles him to a seat on the national executive committee of Young Democrats.

Adopt Recommendation

The convention adopted the resolutions committee's recommendation that the child labor amendment be adopted, that state officers be elected for a four year term and that the governor's salary be increased to $10,000.

Lubbock delegates held important positions on the rules, resolutions and credentials committees.

Doyle Settle was chairman of the credentials committee and of the West Texas caucus. W. E. Street was chairman of the executive committee and the committee on permanent organization. Mel James was chairman of the West Texas steering committee. All other local delegates served on one or more committees.

Amendments Made

The constitution was amended to provide for annual instead of biennial conventions. Because of a law passed by the convention declaring that no member can hold two offices, MacDonald Leech was forced to resign his position as national committeeman from Texas to assume the presidency of the Texas organization.

Lubbock Is Blown To Bits By Cadets

Had members of a class in military tactics been engaged in actual practice rather than theory Monday and Tuesday afternoons, downtown Lubbock would have been thrown into a panic as shrapnel shells burst around the Hilton and Lubbock hotels. No doubt someone would have been "shot."

But instead, Colonel Charles A. Davis' charges merely pointed their guns toward objectives and figured out firing angles, "hits" of which would have been the two hotels. Four cannons and French seventy-fives were concealed from sight of physical enemy planes under trees behind the Chemistry building, and from this point the city was "shelled."

Firing data was given the gun squad by field telephone, laid from one of the battery trucks.

The practice was one of the regular laboratory exercises of the Military Science department.

In Cotton Revue

Harriette Roach, senior liberal arts student, will represent the Double T club in the Cotton Revue of Tech's second annual Cotton Carnival tomorrow at the high school auditorium. She will model a sports dress. (See story to left.)

Club Chooses New Officers

Helen Frances Eiland Is Installed As President In Candle Ceremony At Annual Banquet

In a candle-light service new officers of the Home Economics club were installed at the second annual banquet of the club Saturday night at 7 o'clock in the Hilton hotel. Dean Mary W. Doak was the principal speaker. Her subject was "A Forward Look." A red and white theme was carried out in flowers and balloons. Plate favors were miniature candlestick holders.

New officers are Helen Frances Eiland, president; Mrs. Evaline Holly, vice-president; and Agnes Abernathy, secretary-treasurer. They succeeded Evaughn Clark, Ruth Thompson, and Maurine Havis, respectively.

Dean Margaret W. Weeks gave the toast to the seniors. The response was made by Florence Barrett. Lucille Hunt acted as toastmistress, introducing guests and former club members. Before the installation service Evaughn Clark spoke on "Club Activities This Year."

Special guests besides Dean Doak were Mrs. Bradford Knapp, Miss Zeln Riegel, Miss Margaret Turner, Mrs. O. Ellsworth, Miss Sybil Thomas, Miss Gussie Lee Teague, and Mrs. Anna Burt Gibson.

About 94 guests were present. The banquet was sponsored by the May group, of which Miss Mabel Erwin is advisor. Eleanor Hodges, chairman of the group, was also chairman of the banquet committee.

Jot Smyth Jr. Elected Aggie Club President

Jot Smyth Jr. was elected president of the Aggie club for next year Tuesday night at their regular meeting.

Other officers elected were: Fred Elliott, vice-president; A. B. Rieger, secretary; Ray Dunlap, treasurer; J. P. Smith, reporter; and Leldon Hudson, marshal.

Aggie Club Will Initiate Pledges Monday Night

Pledges of membership for the ensuing year were received at the regular monthly meeting of the Block and Brille club Monday night. The new members were selected from the sophomore class who anticipate majoring in animal husbandry.

Formal initiation of new members and annual election of officers for the coming year will be held at the weekly meeting Monday night.

Odis Holly, Spur, is president of the club and Jack Downs, Lubbock, vice-president. Others officers are T. L. Leach, Brownwood, treasurer, and E. R. Steen, Loving, secretary.

Simmons Cowboy Band Appears Here Saturday

Famous Organization Features Artists On Program; Wiley Is Director of Group

HARRY Woolridge, clarinet player; Billy Morrow, xylophonist, and Walter Dickinson, cornetist, will be among the featured artists on the program when the Simmons Cowboy band appears in concert at the high school auditorium Saturday night. Tech and the high school bands are sponsoring the concert.

Woolridge, teacher of woodwinds in the school of band music, was a member of the band of the old march master, Sousa, from 1920 to 1928. He has also had experience in Libertini's band and with the San Paulo Opera company and with bands and orchestras throughout the Middle West. He came to Simmons from Drake university in Iowa, where he was instructor in the conservatory of music.

Leading Cornetist
Walter Dickinson, leading cornetist, and Billy Morrow, young xylophone artist, will have a featured part on the program. They have both been with the Cowboys for three years and have appeared with them in some of their biggest engagements in large cities.

The concert will be directed by D. O. Wiley, who is making his last tour with the Simmons musicians before coming to Tech as Matador band director. Wiley is a violinist as well as a director and originally went to Simmons as head of the violin department.

Although the Cowboys have appeared in a number of Texas cities and towns before, they are offering an entirely new program on this tour. The program will be one of concert music and novelty cowboy entertainment. Marches, popular tunes, and cowboy songs will be interspersed with the solo numbers of the individual artists and performers.

John Regan, Artist
John Regan, English-Australian cowboy, another featured performer, will present a varied bag of tricks. He is an expert with the rope and lariat. He joined the band while it was on a tour of England in 1930.

The concert here is one of a long list of appearances the Simmons band has made all over the world. The cowboy musicians have played at rodeos, fairs, conventions, and concerts throughout the United States and in several European countries. They were featured in the World's Championship Rodeo at Madison Square Garden, New York city, last fall.

"Fish" Vengeance To Make Amends For Punishment

UPPER classmen had better put shingles in their trousers and get under cover, for Saturday the Fish worm will turn. All year the freshmen have been the slaves of their superiors, the brunt of their jokes, but the day of days for the abused is coming.

For the class of '37 will celebrate Fish day May 12 at Silver Falls, and on this day tradition says the lowly Fish may band together in a mighty array to wreak a long-nursed vengeance on all upper classmen.

In past years the latter have been nobody's fools. They not only hide out; they leave town. For a turning worm is a vicious creature, and freshmen won't forget all the "yes, sirs" of the past, all the shoe-shining, nor the paddlings.

Rotten Eggs at Premium
Last year on Fish day rotten eggs were at a premium, for upper classmen not only rotten-egged the Fish train as it left the depot, but way-laid it that night 12 miles from Lubbock and did the job all over again.

Tickets are two dollars, and Freshmen are asked to buy them today in the halls of the Administration and Engineering buildings. Ned Bradley's orchestra will play for dancing; there will be boating, skating, swimming, and horse-back riding; and two beeves will be prepared at a chuck wagon barbecue.

A special train will leave at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and will return at 7 that night. Train tickets are included in the two dollars. Tickets will be on sale also at Pinson's Drug store No. 2 Friday till 12 o'clock.

Double Key Society Will Meet With Dean Weeks

The sophomore home economics student who will receive the Double Key loving cup for ranking highest in scholarship and leadership, will be chosen at the final meeting of the Double Key society, which will be in the form of a dinner and quilting bee at the home of Dean Margaret W. Weeks and Miss Mabel Erwin, May 17. Officers for next year will be elected.

Members of the society will finish a quilt, which has already been sold.

Graduating While At Sea Is Latest Tech Tradition

BOYHOOD dreams of being tossed about in a rough sea aboard a fast clipper are about to be realized by two Tech boys.

Only it isn't a sail boat on which Rob O'Hair, senior pre-law student, and Inter-club council president, and Max Wagborne, senior business student and advertising manager of La Ventana will work their way to Europe this summer.

O'Hair and Wagborne are leaving Saturday for Houston to take a steamer May 15 for France and points on the Mediterranean. They intend to work their way across. Their object in going is to "travel" and "for experience." Their wages will be one dollar a month with no increase in salary, but money is a small matter compared with the experience they will receive.

Dirty Work Aboard
All they know about the work they are to do is the instructions they received to "bring dirty clothes," so it may be anything from swabbing decks to punching beer tubes, but at any cost they are Europe bound for the next three months.

Both O'Hair and Wagborne will receive their E. A. degrees this spring "absentia" in government and business administration respectively.

Close Haircuts
Wagborne, who was born in Canada, may have trouble entering the United States when he returns. The boys are getting "convict" haircuts for the trip and are collecting old clothes and sailor hats from all who possess them.

The steamer will return to Houston in August. The boat will make a landing at Havre, France.

Griffith And Ince Nominated For Prexy; Martin, Curfman, Bradley Unopposed In Races

J. H. Smith, Ruth Rutledge, Christine Bundy, Are Candidates For Secretary-Treasurer

BEGINNING tomorrow morning at eight o'clock, Texas Tech's students will cast their votes for candidates running for council positions for the year 1934-35. All polls are scheduled to open at eight o'clock and remain open till five o'clock tomorrow evening. Voting hours will be from 8:15 till 11:45 a. m., closing for the noon hour to reopen at 1:15 until 5:00 o'clock.

Tabulation of votes will be made as soon as the polls close in the presence of the administration and student council officials. The same method of voting and counting of votes will be used as in the publication elections held February 22 of this year.

Offices to be filled for the coming year will include the presidency, secretary treasurer, athletic council representative and head yell leader. All nominees in the race must have completed at least 60 semester hours of scholastic work. The candidate's qualification for office must be approved by the council and must offer a recommendation from the registrar of the college.

Election Notes

Places to Vote
Toreador office, room 110 Engineering building, rooms 109 and 110 Aggie building, and first floor hall of the Home Economics building.

Election Judges
Judges in the election will be members of the senior class, student council and the faculty. There will be three judges at each ballot box. One senior, a council member, and a member of the faculty.

Voting Instructions
1. Each student votes in the division where he is registered.
2. Student applies to one of the judges for a ballot and signs name opposite his name on the list of bona fide students.
3. Places an "X" in the box before the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to cast his vote.
4. Hands his ballot to a judge, who places it in the ballot box.

Tech Enters Tucson Meet

Four Tennis Men and One Track Man to Enter Intercollegiate Athletic Meet

Five men—four tennis players and one track man—will leave this morning for Tucson, Arizona, to represent Texas Tech in the Border Inter-collegiate conference athletic meet to be held there tomorrow and Saturday.

The men to make the trip are: Larry Taylor, Sam Hergert, Henry Roberts, and coach Polk Robinson, tennis representatives; and Cowan, pole vaulter, in the track meet. Coach Ballard will accompany the group on the trip. The party will return to Lubbock Sunday.

This is a very small representation for Tech, but due to the fact that track was practically abandoned when coach Morgan left for Auburn; and the golfers could not finance the trip, it is impossible to send a larger group.

Last year a large squad of track men made the trip, only to bring back two places in the entire meet. Cowan should bring home honors in the pole vault and the tennis players should cop some honors in their events.

This will be the only intercollegiate meet the Tech track team will enter this season, having no other meets scheduled. The tennis team has been enjoying considerable success all spring, holding victories over McMurry college of Abilene, and two wins over West Texas Teachers Buffalo team. Robinson's men made a clean sweep of the Canyon matches held here last Saturday, winning both the singles and doubles matches 6-0.

AWS Cabinet Has Meeting

Four Tech Girls Make Report On AWS Meet At The University Of Arizona In May

AWS cabinet members and Junior club members attended a meeting from 7:30 Tuesday night at Seaman Hall to hear a report from the four delegates, Emily Davis, Kathryn Liedigh, Sue Michie, and Kathleen Jennings, who went to Western Intercollegiate association of Women's Student meeting at the University of Arizona, Tucson, April 18-21.

Each of these girls attended meetings in which they were especially interested and brought back reports of what other colleges in the West are doing to remedy girls' problems on the campus.

"Customs and Traditions," "Financing and Organization," and "Vocational Guidance" was presented by Sue Michie and discussed by the group. Emily Davis talked on "Unaffiliated Girls," "Types and Enforcement of Rules," and "Financing for Next Year." Kathryn Liedigh spoke on "Orientation and Interrelations of Men and Women Students." Kathleen Jennings presented "Women's News," and the "Honor System."

These problems were all discussed by the group led by Kathleen Jennings, President of AWS and applied to Tech campus. With Tech's new dormitories being built, such problems as these are of vital importance, and the AWS will have much to do with shaping the rules of the dormitories.

Retiring Officers Give Tea For Double Key

Miss Sybil Thomas, district supervisor of home economics education, spoke about "Carrying on After College" at a meeting of the Double Key society Monday.

Following the talk, Mary Liedigh, retiring president of Double Key, and Evaughn Clark, retiring secretary-treasurer, were hostesses at a tea for members of the society. Guests were Eloise Lancaster, Emily Davis, Gertrude Samson, Maurine Havis, Miss Harriet Tilden, Miss Mabel Erwin, Miss Jennie McCrery, and Dean Margaret W. Weeks.

Junior Council Girls Organize For Next Year

Fifty Sophomore Girls Announce Intentions Of Serving On Freshman Advisory Group

With 50 sophomore girls announcing their intentions of working on the Junior council, freshmen advisory group, the council for 1934-35 met Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock for organization. Katherine Liedigh, who was elected president by popular vote of women students in March, presided. Mary Genevieve Hardberger was chosen vice-president of the group and Nancy Leaverton secretary.

Plans for the following year were outlined by the president-elect. Council work is to be organized under three headings: actual work in orientation classes; vocational work; and leadership training courses. Orientation in the Divisions of Home Economics and Arts and Sciences will vary, but the general outline of the work will be the same.

Eligibility Stated

Eligibility of sophomores was based upon an average of "C" for all their college work and approval of their deans. Those who are to be councilors next year are: Idell Bacon, Kathryn Barr, June Bieler, Julia May Bihl, Alma Brown, Mary Ruth Carter, Mrs. Georgiana Cooper, Mary Louise Douglas, Margaret Duff, Hazel Dell Dunn, Alice Eason, Irene Fletcher, Pauline Hall, Mary Genevieve Hardberger, Sybil Hazel, Margaret Heas, Elsie Marie Hudson, Nancy Leaverton, Margaret McAllister, Frances McKee, Virginia Magee, Margaret Maloney, Frances Mayhugh, Beatrice Payne, Lois Pitts, Catherine Royalty, Ruth Rutledge, Mary Scott, Hermona Shadle, Katherine Shannon, Evelyn Sloan, Emma Smith, Weta Spykke, Gladys Sturgeon, Lois Watson, Ruby Wedding, Geraldine Wicker, Evelyn Wichelmeper, Margaret Anderson, Evelyn Bagwell, Ellen Booker, Marjorie Bowers, Sarah Louise Cook, Fannie Eaton, Eleanor Hodges, Mary Frances Johnston, Lucile Rose, Georgia Mae Smith, Pauline Yeager, and Linda Caldwell.

College Glee Clubs Will Give Oratorio On Sunday, May 13

Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," will be presented in a performance Sunday, May 13 at 4:30 at the First Methodist church by Glee clubs of Texas Technical college assisted by other singing organizations of the city.

The following Tech students will take part:

Boy's Glee club: Jack Carr, F. H. Richards, Ed Wilson, Burnett Howell, Woodrow Montgomery, tenors; Hubert Boyd, Arthur Gamble, Horace Harrington, Clarence Wakefield, Paton Price, George Thomas, Thomas Hood, basses.

Girls' Glee club: Dollie Clements, Frances Moore, Mary Etta Bean, Pauline Haynes, Virginia Magee, Connie Jones, Irene Fletcher, Christine Price, Marie Swett, Frances McKee, Margaret Medford, Margaret Glazier, Catherine Royalty, Kathleen Waudy, Dorothy Griffith, Alice Joy Bowlin, soprano; Roma Gause, Anna Ferns Hudson, Nancy Jo Haynes, Eleanor or Simmons, Idell Bacon, Margaret Hess, Ellen Booker, alto; La Verne Brown, Lucille Wheeler, Helen Edgett, Ruth Donnell, contralto sopranos.

Senior Recognition

AFTER four years of diligent effort, another graduating class of seniors is preparing to leave Tech and go out in the world to gain recognition for themselves and their Alma Mater. Since freshman day the first year in college, these seniors have not had a day's rest—only classes, labs, lectures, study for nine terms and two semesters. One fitting means of recognition for the senior class was instigated last year—that of seating them in the front chairs in convocation, and permitting them to pass out first.

When a student has been consistent enough to earn a college degree, and in some instances, only by great sacrifice and long hours of study, he should receive some special recognition. This is being recognized more and more in the colleges and universities in the South. Texas Christian university seniors get out of classes this week Oklahoma university graduates get out the last two weeks, and so on, ad infinitum, according to the exchange list of The Toreador.

The purpose of this is three fold: to enable the prospective graduates to get out and personally apply for positions; if they should secure a position, they can go to work May 15 or June 1, instead of June 15 or July 1, as is so often the case otherwise; and a recognition of faithful work.

Seniors are so burdened with work at this time of the year that they either do not have time to make proper applications for positions, or they purposely delay it until after graduation when they will have time and can devote all effort to it. June 1 is the usual time to begin summer employment and if the student cannot get out until after graduation to apply for positions, he is handicapped considerably.

If a college student has shown the stickability and effort to earn a diploma, give him special recognition for the good work.

A Library Building

TECH needs a large number of new projects in order that it might be on a par with its enrollment, and one of the most important to the institution as a whole and to the efficiency of the students would be a Library building. The library, as it is, will accommodate only one hundred and thirty-five students at one time. This is meagre efficiency for a student body of two thousand.

Obviously, when the legislators of Texas created the college with the library to be in the administration building, it was with the foresight of accommodating only four hundred or five hundred enrollment, but the enrollment of one thousand the first year was sufficient evidence to warrant a separate building immediately. Now seven years have passed, and library efficiency for the student body has been an ever increasing problem yearly.

Now that the college has proved its value to the South Plains and West Texas as a technical institution, and has made the foundation for the future, there should be less hesitancy on the part of the legislators to expend money for a proven cause.

Meditation

By LEE FIELDS
Baptist Ministerial Student
Acts 10:34. God is no respecter of persons.

All men must come to the same God in the same way if they would have eternal life. This is one of the most beautiful realities of Christianity. The poor and rich alike must look to Jesus for salvation.

I REVIEW WITH ALARM

BY HERBERT R. SOUTHWORTH

If Hervey Allen's Anthony Adverse continues its triumphant sales march, it will shortly be enshrined in the gallery of great American Best Sellers. And that is no small honor as any one who has seen the best-seller list recently compiled by Edward Weeks will testify. This list begins in 1875 and runs up to 1933. It includes 65 titles, each of which has sold over half a million. His list does not include textbooks, manuals, oibles or book-sets.

The true literary taste of the American people is shown in the leading item, In His Steps, a clerical tale by a Kansas parson. It has sold an estimated eight million copies. I once read at this powerful work when I was a lad and if memory serves me correctly all the problems of this unhappy life were solved in the novel by a man who decided to live like Jesus. The utter lack of reality in such a position was demonstrated by Upton Sinclair in They Call Me Carpenter, in which work Jesus comes back to earth and receives about the same cheering reception he received some nineteen hundred years ago.

In His Steps has no close followers. Trailing behind the leader with a sales record of only two million copies is Freckles by Gene Stratton Porter. Sister Porter did right well with her pen and we find three others of her soul-searching opera that sold around a million and a half copies apiece. Harold Bell Wright, that venerable sage of the Arizona deserts, has five titles in the list, The Winning of Barbara Worth being his best seller. Anthony Adverse is trailing Mr. Wright's great novel by over a million copies.

Zane Grey has three western tales on the honor roll; George Barr McCutcheon has Graustark and Brewster's Millions; Jack London has The Sea-Wolf and The Call of the Wild; Mark Twain made the list with Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer; Winston Churchill and Kate Douglas Wiggin each made it twice.

The Virginian was a big seller, as was The Trail of the Lonesome Pine, Polyanna, The Sheik, David Harum, The Covered Wagon and Tarzan of the Apes.

It would be trite to say that that list shows no literary understanding, but at such a risk I say it. Looking down the list of 65 books, I should further stick out my neck by saying that it is on the whole a list of romantic and unreal novels such as a woman would choose.

I have been told that the heyday of American life was the period from 1900 to the World War, when Lewis Mumford's neotechnic life was just beginning to hum over the transmission lines. In those famous days there was not a single first rate book on the best-selling list, but Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm sold almost a million copies and David Harum went over the million mark.

Some social theorist (possibly Shaw, the influence at least is Shavian) tells of the working man who, on Saturday evening, walking home from the factory, let his mind wander to the bare walls of his shack, to his rowdy wife, to his dirty, yelling kids. He didn't go home; he stopped at the saloon. To follow the theory on the Shavian speaker pointed out that all the temperance tracts in the world would not help the situation half so much as a reorganization of society with distributive arrangements that would allow the wage slave a more abundant life.

I said the books were trashy and feminine. Let us forget the worker staggering home; think of his wife. Frowziness, squalor and drunkenness were likewise unappealing to her. But what could she do? She walked through the Limberlost with Laddie; she rode the sands of the desert with the Sheik of Araby. She took her romance cheap and second-hand because it resolved into simplicity all the complexities of life. Realism would have crushed her and she wanted escape—to Graustark with George Barr McCutcheon or to Africa with Edgar Rice Burroughs.

In the case of either the man or the woman preaching or tract distribution is of little avail. The schools educate children in the principles of the "higher life" and then drop them off into a society whose hideous inequalities make imperative the demand for escape—into a whiskey glass or a cheap novel. And then the pious reformer sticks in his nose and says, "You really shouldn't drink, my good man," or "You shouldn't read such books, my dear."

The last four titles in Mr. Weeks' list give some encouragement: The Outline of History (1926), We (1927), The Story of Philosophy (1927), All Quiet on the Western Front (1928). It is also some comfort to reflect that Bellamy's Looking Backward and Henry George's Progress and Poverty were best sellers. Of the 65 best-sellers on Mr. Weeks' list less than 52 percent is in the library. But as literature of escape we have always the funny papers.

Prexy's Paragraphs

BY BRADFORD KNAPP

There are four important needs of the Texas Technological college, so far as new buildings are concerned. It is somewhat difficult to say which would be the major need. All four of these are of great importance.

The library is a major need of this college. The present library is in space and in student accommodation, as a matter of fact, the size of the library is about sufficient for an enrollment of one-third or one-fourth of the student body of Texas Technological college. I think the library ought to be centrally located, by own personal idea is that the building should be placed immediately opposite and north of the chemistry building. In exterior it ought to be a duplicate of the chemistry building and probably the interior in order to be adapted to modern library conditions. It is difficult to estimate the cost of such a library at the present time, but if we could have such an appropriation, there ought to be a liberal sum for equipment, and especially for books.

There is a very pressing and urgent need for a new building for the Division of Agriculture, which has been inadequately housed since the beginning of the institution. That building ought to be located near the present agricultural building and probably at the east side of the square between the present agricultural buildings and the chemistry building, fronting east.

ADDITIONAL space and equipment for the Division of Home Economics are pressing needs. In fact, wisdom would prompt us to ask for sufficient funds to double the capacity of the present Home Economics building.

Fourth, the college is without adequate facilities for physical education and almost entirely without decent facilities for an auditorium. I am personally very much in favor of a combination building which, for the present, could serve both purposes. I have in mind an interior plan for such a building which could be arranged so as to be attractive in its interior, excellently lighted, and thoroughly adequate for a gymnasium and for an auditorium. As a part of the building, I believe we should have an indoor swimming pool with all the modern equipment necessary for the proper operation of the same.

The executive council of the college has been discussing the question of smoking in the buildings. Students have become exceedingly careless and indifferent. Many of the council and faculty members feel the matter has gone too far and some restrictions ought to be inaugurated. If a rule prohibiting smoking in the buildings should be put on the books unless it is observed, I have already informed the council that in case such a rule is adopted, I should certainly observe it personally and ask the observance on the part of all the faculty and the student body.

The greatest nuisance is the smoking of cigarette stubs in the hallways and other places where there may be danger from such practice. Just as in the case of driving automobiles on the campus, which I have suggested here before, the smoking rule would not be a serious need if all of us were mindful of the proprieties and would observe good rules regarding when and where. A rule prohibiting smoking in the educational buildings is under discussion. What do you think of it?

A number of times I have commented on the use of automobiles on the campus. Just today, while writing these paragraphs, I have noticed a dozen perfectly obvious and flagrant mistakes made by students in parking on the campus. Two girls drove up in front of the administration building the wrong way and parked the wrong way when they had just passed signs asking that there be no parking on the roadways. They looked like intelligent girls, but apparently, were unable to read the English language. I notice also people parking at the rear of the main building in such manner as to take double space for a single car—another lack of consideration of common courtesy and thoughtfulness in knowing that the owners of these cars are fine people, possibly excellent students, but apparently utterly lacking in consideration for other people.

At the University of Texas no cars are permitted to park on the campus and no student cars are permitted on the campus. I estimate a half dozen prominent educational institutions in the United States where students are not permitted to own or operate automobiles while attending college. Our campus is large and the distance from boarding houses are considerable. We do not want to adopt drastic rules.

It is my opinion that students should obey the rules regarding parking at the rear of the administration building and that the engineers ought to park at the rear of the engineering building, thus keeping the driveways free for traffic. Now that the driveways have been completed, I want to suggest also that we do not any longer drive over areas which

WORK on the dormitories is progressing rapidly. I want to thank the students for their cooperation in detouring around the areas of construction. We have had very splendid cooperation in this matter. I know it is inconvenient. I wish to commend the student body for their conduct in this matter.

It is not long until commencement. Nearly two hundred of our students will receive their diplomas on June 5. I wish we had some method of honoring the seniors repeatedly during the latter part of the last semester of their college course. I apprehend that the vast majority of the student body would not be able to pick out the seniors who are to graduate in June. At some universities the student body itself has adopted some sort of designation which makes the seniors who are to graduate easily recognized on the campus. It is not for me to make suggestions, but I think we ought to be giving this matter consideration. If there could be developed some method of honoring seniors through the last semester, it seems to me it would be worth adopting but I recognize that such a plan must come from the students. I mention it merely to call the attention of the student body to this one lack at Texas Tech.

PALM BEACH... like raising a window

Ventilation! Air entering to evaporate body perspiration! That's what you get all summer through the wide-open pores and patented weave of the new Palm Beach.

Wide open because each pore of the cloth is a real little window in itself—with no fringe around the edges—with none of the whiskers or scales (scilla) found on the fibres of wools and worsteds, to catch dust and close the openings. That's why scientific tests show Palm Beach to be many times as porous as other summer fabrics.

Have you been a Palm Beach post-ponee all your life? Then let this summer introduce you to its luxurious coolness. It is dirt-repellant, wrinkle-resisting, crease-holding, washable, fully pre-shrunk—and it comes in white and many colors. Smartly tailored by G O DALL. $18.50

Showing how Palm Beach lets in the air and evaporates body perspiration... Your body is apt to give off a pint of perspiration on a warm day. Hence, these five jars, each containing a pint of liquid, were exposed to air. In 48 hours the jar without any covering evaporated all the perspiration. In the same length of time, 95% was evaporated in the jar covered by porous Palm Beach Cloth. Note the contrasting results in the jars covered by other summer fabrics.

Scott, Chavez Fight To Draw In Ten Rounds

Kirk Wins K. O. Over Spann In Semi-Wind Up; Is Most Colorful Army Card

A draw decision was all that could be given at the auditorium Monday night when Howard Scott and Tony Chavez tangled for ten rounds of the smartest boxing ever staged in Lubbock. Both fighters were so fast and smart that neither ever got in far or long enough to do damage to the other.

Scott, the conquerer of the former Lubbock favorite, Woody Windham, after two or three rounds of feeling out his opponent, started trying to work in on the little Mexican, but found nothing to meet him but a pair of the fastest flying mitts ever hung on one man. Scott, a little the taller and apparently slightly heavier, spent most of his time jabbing a left at the little Mexican dancing around him in a circle seemingly trying to get the white boy drunk.

Smart Boxing
In the first round, there was no fighting, the two just feeling each other out trying to discover how they could later do damage. Even the second round goes to Scott on that he took the aggressive and began gradually to work in on the little dark-skin boy.

The third round, according to your scorer, was even, with Scott still on the aggressive, but finding no place to take all the fight he seemed to have in him.

In the fourth little Tony decided to try a little rushing and made one wild rush on Howard, but was warned off to do no damage. The round goes to Chavez.

Fifth Even
The fifth was even. Both fighters standing toe-to-toe most of the time swung plenty, but never landed a harmful blow. Most of the punching being to the head and short ribs.

The sixth round, going to Scott, found more fighting on both ends of the situation. Each was trying hard to land a blow.

The seventh and eighth rounds were even, with no fighting at all in seven. The eighth brought more fighting on the part of both men, but still no damage.

In nine, Scott seemed to realize that the fight was almost over, so he began taking the scrap to Tony, trying to do some harm. Although he seldom did more than hit a button that made mits fly right at him, we give the round to Howard.

The tenth was even, both doing lots of boxing, but the same old story prevailed; nobody hurt yet.

Kirk K. O. Spann
It was "doctor, bring the arnica" for Mr. J. D. Spann in the fourth round of the semi-wind-up when Jack Kirk, after coming back for a smart spanking in the second flew wildly into the Plainview boy to down him in one minute and 55 seconds.

Bloody Prelims
Spann came out fast in the second round to send Kirk to the mat for the count of eight as the bell rang. Jack used the third round to get back on the aggressive and wear the grinning, black-haired boy down a little, then came out after blood in the fourth and got it, as he knocked the opponent out in 1:55.

In the second preliminary Homer Roberts of Littlefield and Melvin Flake of Lubbock, light-heavy class, fought six rounds of bloody battle to a draw. By the end of the match both fighters were practically out on their feet, standing swinging wildly at each other.

The opening preliminary, a grudge bout between two colored boys of Lubbock, gave the fans what they wanted in a slugging match.

J. B. Blackmon, tall lanky avenue A pride, won a knockout over George Jenkins, hero of avenue B, in the fifth round of a scheduled four round bout, when Jenkins sat down claiming a foul to be counted out.

Under The Double 'T'

By ELMER FORTNER
TOREADOR SPORTS EDITOR

CONTRARY to the belief of our good friends down around the region of the Colorado river who think that Texas Tech footballers work out the year round, the Matadors will cast aside football uniforms this afternoon until next September 10. The Border Conference, of which Tech is a member, only allows its members six weeks, or 36 working days of spring football practice. Cawthon's 36 will be up today, and although the Matadors look ragged and could stand a lot more work, the thing will have to be stopped.

There is probably more doubt hanging about the outcome of the football club for next fall than has been here in the past three years. They have one of the hardest schedules of any team in the country and have lost more this spring than anyone. To begin with, they lost a full team of the very best men to be had here. Then they lost a man who was a guiding spirit and could have gone a long way toward helping the boys out in spring training when they lost Matt Hitchcock. On top of it all, although he has been very capably replaced, they lost one of the finest ever when they lost coach Morgan to Alabama Poly at Auburn.

The girls had a great day in sports over at the gym last Saturday during their play-day. If there is anything in the way of sports that girls can do that they did not do, we don't know what it is. Although some of them may have blistered backs this week they truly did put in a full day of activities.

In all phases of sports as well as showing off some of the cleverest little play suits seen around these here parts.

Soon will come the summer, and along with it the thoughts of the fourth annual coaching school to be held here next August. Coaches Cawthon and Smith have already gained considerable fame as coaching school putters-on. They have the best layout for a teaching staff that has been assembled as yet. Indications are that a record crowd will be present.

About this time of the year is the time when everyone likes to think back over what they have done. In athletics, just what has been done around here since last September?

No one can deny that Tech had a good season in football, losing only one game out of ten. That to Southern Methodist, who by the way, could have beaten any team in the state that particular night. Such victories as those over Baylor, Arizona, Simmons and Kansas State made the S. M. U. defeat at least a little easier to forget.

The Tech Band team, under the coaching of Wilson Gilmore, won the intramural basketball title last fall. The engineers won a dull intramural football campaign spoiled by sandstorms every Saturday.

Tech's basketball team had one of the most successful seasons ever enjoyed here. Losing only four games during the entire playing season, they defeated such teams as the famous Ogden Boosters, House of David, Canyon Teachers and others who went a long way in the national tournament at Kansas City. The Matadors didn't get to go to the tournament.

Matadors End Football Work

Six Weeks' Training Is Halted By Conference Ruling; Coaches Need Every Man

With heads full of new plays to be remembered for next fall, the Matador footballers will turn in their uniforms to end the spring campaign this afternoon. The task of "carrying on" through the next fall program lies upon the shoulders of 45 men, less than half of whom have had variety experience.

Regarding the success of the spring training, Coach Cawthon says: "Although we need a lot more work, we have to stop, for we have had all that the border conference will allow us for spring. The boys have had a fine spirit all spring, but our training has been broken up so much, and we have so much green material, that we are going to have to do a lot of hard work to get over that first game next September."

"We will need every man we had out this spring next fall, therefore they must pass their work so as to be eligible or we can't expect to do any good with that tough schedule we have arranged."

For the opening game, the Matadors will meet the powerful Texas university Longhorns, under the leadership of their new coaches, Chevigny and Monihan. The following week, they will encounter the McMurry college eleven, which is reputed to be the best football team in Abilene for next fall. They are already planning to upset the dope and win from Tech. The third, Baylor university Bears, again at Lubbock, will be one of the hardest games of the year, since the Matadors have defeated the Bears for the past two seasons.

The remaining week-ends bring on the Oklahoma City U. Goldbugs, El Paso Miners, Loyola of Los Angeles, Depauw of Chicago, North Dakota state, Arizona university and Simmons.

Baseball

Hits were rained down upon the diamond Tuesday as the league leading Silver Keys took a slow affair from the Centaur entry, 7-0. The victory brought the Keys in sight of the championship with seven wins against no losses.

The victors jumped into the lead in the initial inning. Doug Howell singled to open the first frame. He took second on a pass ball and pilfered third. Hergert tripled to center sending Howell across the rubber. Hudgins reached first on a bobble by Stahler as the Key second sacker went home. Dur Howell was called out on strikes.

Wilson took the initial bag on an error and went to second on Sams single. Sams was out trying to stretch his hit into a double. Bradley connected for a three base clout and marked on an error. Barton got to first on an error and went to second on the overthrow. He was caught stealing third. Schultz scored after doubling, followed by Howell's single. Hergert fanned swinging and Hudgins popped to third to close the session.

COLLEGE INSTRUCTORS ARE DUMB ON PUBLIC QUESTIONS

TEACHERS' COLLEGE, Columbia University, N. Y.—The average professor is superficial in his thinking processes, according to Dr. R. Bruce Raup of Teachers' College, after scanning the answers of 2,000 college instructors to a questionnaire submitted to them. More than three-fourths of the instructors showed that they had never thought about the "serious educational and social issues of our time," Dr. Raup found. Most of the replies showed that the average enlightener of the young of the nation was a yes-man.

MRS. J. D. ROCKEFELLER THIRD IS A SOCIALIST

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Society here was shocked when it learned that Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, 3rd, nee Blanchette Hooker of Greenwich, Conn., daughter of Elton Huntington Hooker, former Republican candidate for governor of the state of New York, was found enrolled as a Socialist voter. Mrs. Rockefeller is known to have been a liberal before her marriage. She wrote well-informed articles on Soviet Russia, which she had visited.

The late and talented Frank Van Hoven was the first to make the "plant" really important, when as the magician he had two sidewalk urchins come out of the audience and hold his huge block of ice.

COLLEGE and CAMPUS

By JIM LINDSEY

Premier Mussolini has inaugurated a system of mass education by radio in all Italian schools, the radio lessons being broadcast from Rome and reaching even the most remote rural schools.

Queer things sometimes get into print because human beings all make mistakes. Now and then a newspaper reporter writes copy carelessly, or catches a typo.

Here are a few of the week's best: "Touches live wife, man hurled 35 feet."

"Wanted—Sales-lady. Must be respectable but after X-mas." "For rent—lovely furnished room in private family with bath on the car line."

"Experienced sales people wanted. Male or female. No others need apply." "For sale—a folding bed by a lady who doubles up and looks like a sofa."

And then there was the Scotch musical comedy producer who bought a silk worm so he could raise his own silk for his chorus girls' costumes.

Harvard abolished Yale locks from her dormitories whereupon Yale blacklisted the Harvard classics. Now the telephone company has made Harvard dial E-L-I (Eliot).

There was an old maid who had twin beds cause she figured there was twice as much chance of finding a man under them.

A flirt Sparkling eyes, pouting lips, Dancing feet and shaking hips, Even teeth, turned up nose, Perfect form and all silk hose, Ribbons, combs, and curly hair, Smooth complexion, plenty fair, Crying, scolding, longing, wishing, Billing, cooling, loving, kissing, Frills and ruffles, college rings, These and many other things, Thrown together in a skirt, Make a modern college flirt.

A beautiful girl is the paradise of the eyes, and the purgatory of the purse. A man finds his ideal in one who possesses virtue, beauty, amiability, loyalty, affection, domesticity, comradeship and patience. A woman finds her ideal man in one who has mizumna, kale, cash, coin, dough, currency, chink, and automobiles.

Suggestion to the college youth: Rome was not built in a day bed. How busy is the little fly, Who doth improve each minute.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The coeds who on graduation lands a good job stands a better chance to attract suitors than the girl without one, according to Vida L. Moore in the current Serenade. Young men who write books, sell soap or bonds or need business contracts, will woo an executive's secretary or assistant who will help them "to put over a deal."

GREETINGS... Mother's Day Flowers

Flowers are the choice expression of Mother's Day greetings. Their expressive loveliness and delicate fragrance have made them the eternal symbol of love and devotion throughout the entire world.

And Ribble's can send them to any place in the world... But be sure to send them. If you think you can't afford them—Well, we don't want any Mother to do without flowers on Mother's Day.

The apartment dweller never knows what a nuisance a lawn can be—unless he keeps a mustache.

Silver Keys Win From Wranglers, Kemas To Take Lead

Howell And Godeke Stage Duel In Friday Game; Camaradas Defeat Centaurs In Fast Game

Social Club League Games To Close With Two Teams Leading By A Good Margin

In a pitchers' duel between Durwood Howell and Hank Godeke, the Silver Keys tightened their hold on first place in the Social league with a 3-1 victory over Jimmie Lauderdale's Wranglers Wednesday.

The Silver Key moundmen allowed three hits, pitching shutout ball but for Hergert's error in the second permitting Daniels to score after two were down. Erratic fielding with men on the bags went against Godeke, who held the victors to four hits and whiffed seven opposing batters.

Ceasual showers of rain in the opening stanzas threatened to stop the tilt but old Sol peeped through in the third to allow the finish.

Hudgins, middle gardener for the Keys, made a sensational shoe-string nab of Jones' fly in the second. The hustling fielder came in from deep center to take the sphere as he fell in the dirt and robbed Jones of a single.

The Keys jumped into the lead with a marker in the opening period. Doug Howell walked, stole second and completed the trip on pass balls.

Keys Take Close Game From Kemas

Durwood Howell led the Silver Keys closer to the league championship by pitching his teammates to a 6 to 3 win over the Kemas early Friday. The hurler from Enochs whiffed ten Kemas willow swingers and limited the losers to three hits. He helped his own cause in the initial frame with a single to score Hergert with the first run.

Brown threw the horseshide by nine opposing batsmen but lack of hits and erratic fielding at crucial times spelled defeat for the hard working hurler. His work with the stick surpassed that of his cohorts as he registered one of the hits and scored two of the three tallies made by the Kemas.

Wranglers Mark

After Richard Godeke went out Howell to Barton and Jones filed to center, Daniels doubled down the first base line for the losers in the second. The Wrangler receiver took third on a pass ball and crossed the pan, when Hergert muffed Still's grounder. Still was caught stealing to end the inning.

A rally by the Wranglers was smothered by airtight fielding by Key infield. Godeke took first when Wilson dropped the third strike and was caught stealing at second. Wilson to Hergert, Harris walked and stole second. Sams muffed a roller by Stafford. In an effort to sacrifice McMurry popped to Howell who doubled Stafford at first.

Keys Cinch Win
 The winners came back in the third to score again and assure victory. McMurry dropped the throw from short, permitting Doug Howell to take first. Hergert laid down a sacrifice to send the third sacker to second. Hudgins singled pushing Howell over the rubber with his second out.

The final marker by the league leaders was made in the fourth session. Sams struck out to start the frame. Bradley was called out on strikes. Wilson drew a pass and pilfered second. He advanced to third and came home on Shultz's bingle.

Los Camaradas In 4-2 Win Thursday

Manager Haught proved that old adage of "if you want anything done, do it yourself" Thursday when he pitched one inning to give the Los Camaradas a 4 to 2 win over the Centaur nine in a desultory affair.

Merle Jones occupied the mound during the first eight innings for the victors. When he was relieved by Vickers in the closing frame, the Centaurs were behind four tallies.

The Centaurs found the slants of the new twirler in the ninth and filled the bases before Manager Haught could send him to the showers. Haught issued a free ticket to the first to face him, forcing in a run. The second Centaur marker crossed the platter on an error by Jones. At this point, the Los Cams manager put a story book finish to the contest by whiffing the next three opposing batters by tossing only ten balls over the rubber.

Business And Professional Leaders To Advise College Men And Women On Career

Deans and Presidents of 19 Colleges Form Advisory Board of Convention to Be Held in Newark, June 26, 27, and 28. Governor of State to Officiate at Opening

NEWARK, N. J.—One of the greatest galaxies of "Who's Who" men and women ever assembled in an educational cause will come together next June when 31 Americans of world-known achievement gather to form the "faculty" of the first Choosing-a-Career Conference for college men and women, to be held in Newark, June 26, 27, and 28, it was announced today by George Bijur, director of the conference and member of the Administrative Board of L. Bamberger & Co., where the convention will be held.

Bankers, railroad presidents, famous dress designers, noted journalists—leaders of 31 different fields, will speak on the career opportunities in their respective branches of American affairs.

Among the speakers will be Leonard F. Loree, internationally recognized railroad authority, president of the Delaware & Hudson R. R. and president, director or chairman of the board of a score of other roads and allied industries, who will speak on railroads; Colby M. Chester, president, General Foods Corporation, who will discuss the food industry; Percy Straus, president of R. H. Macy & Co., who will outline careers in retailing; S. L. Rothafel ("Roxy"), who will tell about opportunities in the entertainment field; Edward L. Einnays, organizer of the Edison Golden Jubilee, who will speak on public relations; Amelia Earhart, whose message will be on aviation; Neysa McMein, who will talk on the career possibilities of commercial art; Roy Chapman Andrews, acting managing director of the

Tech Steers In Fat Stock Wins

For the third consecutive year Texas Tech has won the dressed carcass contest at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. Each year the contest was won by a Hereford steer. In 1932 Tech's second prize junior yearling Hereford steer, Sir Wilson, won the contest with the yield of 69.2 percent, weighing 1,470 pounds, bringing $9 per cwt. The steer was sold to the Stephen F. Austin hotel of Austin.

In 1933, the fifth prize senior Hereford steer calf, Sir Diamond III, won the contest with a yield of 70.6 percent, weighing 1,075 pounds and brought $7.50 per cwt. He was sold to the Piggly Wiggly stores of Nacogdoches, Texas. Tech also had a second highest dressing steer in the first prize junior yearling Angus with a yield of 70.4 percent.

In 1934 Tech's third prize junior yearling Hereford steer, Sir Diamond V, won the contest with a yield of 70.4 percent, weighing 1,256 pounds. He brought $8.75 per cwt. and was sold to the Texas and Pacific railroad.

Museum of Natural History, who will tell how to enter exploring as a career; James P. Warburg, vice-chairman, Bank of the Manhattan company, who was appointed by President Roosevelt as financial advisor to the American delegation to the London Economic Conference of 1933 and who will talk on careers in finance; Elizabeth Hawes, who will describe fashion styling as a life work; and Nancy McClelland, whose address to students will be on interior decorating. Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey will open the Conference.

Nine talks will be held each of the first two days of the series, four in the morning and five in the afternoon. Following each address personal conference will be arranged between the speaker and interested students. It is believed to be the first time in history that collegians have ever had such an opportunity of meeting the heads of industry and the professions.

The first two days will be turned over to men speakers, and the third day will be for women. All sessions will be opened to both men and women.

Tech Prof Wins In Chess Tourney

When two Doctors of Philosophy face each other across a chess table a battle of strategy results. Such was the case Sunday when Dr. R. S. Underwood, professor of mathematics, defeated Dr. Alan L. Strout, professor of English, to win the championship of Class A of the Avalanche-Journal chess tournament.

The first game was drawn after 75 moves. In the second, Dr. Underwood, who had the black, gained by a pin on the knight. Doctor Strout, in recovering the pawn, lost a piece, and the end-game began when Dr. Underwood having an extra knight.

Chess sets were presented the two Tech professors by Lubbock Drug store and City Drug store.

Dean Gordon Will Address Teachers

Dean J. M. Gordon will deliver several addresses before graduating classes of schools throughout this territory during the last two weeks of May.

Tomorrow evening he will be the principal speaker at a banquet of rural teachers in Wellington.

Beginning a series of commencement addresses, on Thursday afternoon, May 17, he will speak before the graduating class of the Borger grade schools. Thursday evening he will address the seniors of Plemons High school, and Friday evening, May 18, he will deliver the commencement address at Abernathy high school.

On the following Tuesday, May 22, he will address the graduating seniors at Fecos, and on Friday, May 25, will speak at the Ralls high school commencement exercises.

DAIRY CLUB ELECTS

At the regular meeting of the Dairy club last Thursday, Walter Labaj was elected president for the ensuing year. Other officers elected were Guy Bratcher, vice-president; Claude Brown, secretary; Curtis Schainberg, reporter; and Rohrer, marshal.

The club banquet, which was to have been held May 12, has been postponed to May 18. A regular meeting of the club will be held this evening at 7 o'clock.

Capa Espada Gives Banquet At Hilton

Capa Espada, Tech Spanish club, staged its annual banquet Friday evening in the Chimayo room of the Hilton Hotel.

Miniature replicas of old Mexican pottery and little Mexican matches were given as plate favors. Mexican dishes were served to the 37 guests.

Jay Gordon, retiring president of the club, welcomed his successor, Lloyd Glover, who gave a short talk. Charles Fike played a piano solo which was followed by a Spanish monologue by Sarah Tom Jones. Dr. C. E. Qualla, head of the foreign language department, explained the meaning of Capa Espada, and talked on the Spanish author, Calderone.

Allie Heva of Rio De Janeiro was a special guest.

Seniors To Wear Caps and Gowns

With 50 members present at the senior class meeting in room 318 of the administration building at 7 o'clock last Monday night, the class went on record as accepting caps and gowns to be worn during the graduation exercises. Final acceptance by the class and the administration of the monumental slab as a gift from the class of '34 was made.

The gift is to be in the form of a reinforced concrete slab to be placed at the entrance to the college at Broadway and College avenue. On the back of the structure is to be a seat with the letters TTC engraved on a metal plaque facing Broadway.

Each senior is to pay $1.00 to one of the following students to defray the expense of building the bench marker: Odis Holly, Maurine Havis, Eugenia Smith, Parker Taulman and Bill Luce.

All money left over from the payment for the monument will be turned into a fund for the senior banquet, June 2.

Three Clubs Will Elect Officers

Resolved: That There Should Be a Federal Police System in the United States will be the subject of a debate between Paul Eubanks and Charles Fike next Monday night in room 202.

After the debate, the club will hold election of officers for the coming year.

Pre-Law club will meet in room 210 next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock to elect new officers for next year.

International Relations club will elect officers at their next meeting, to be decided by the president.

May Will Be Busy Month For Prexy

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, is scheduled to make several addresses during May. He will speak at three high schools, two colleges and at meetings of the district Rotary convention in Abilene and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in San Angelo within the next few weeks.

"Local Development of World Mindfulness" will be the title of his talk to the Rotary convention in Abilene May 8. He will speak on "Community Farm Idea and Its Application in West Texas" at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in San Angelo May 14.

On May 16 he is to deliver the commencement address for Seagraves High school students.

May 18 he will address students of the College of Industrial Arts in Denton during the short course and field day.

May 21, 25 and 28 Dr. Knapp will give commencement addresses to high schools at Olton and Southland, and to the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers college in Nacogdoches.

Pre-Meds Have Picnic At Buffalo Springs Sunday

At the annual Pre-Med picnic, held at Buffalo Springs Sunday afternoon, new officers for the oncoming year were elected. These officers will be honored with a dance at Seaman hall from 8-11 tonight.

John Hinchey was elected president, S. J. Furr, vice-president; J. M. Crowell, secretary; Wayne Hardy, reporter. Thirty-five members and guests attended the picnic. Pre-Med members and guests only will attend the dance.

Aggie Prof Back After Attending Memphis Meet

C. Luker, professor of agricultural education, returned Sunday from Memphis, Tenn., where he attended the four-day session of the conference of teachers and supervisors of vocational agriculture from twelve southern states. The Tech professor was one of the four attending from Texas and fifty in total attendance.

Teachers of vocational agriculture adapting themselves to changing economic and social conditions was the general theme of the assembly. A round table discussion dominated the program.

Professor Luker spoke on "Recreational Activities as a Part of the Activities of Future Farmers" as a special assignment.

New Orleans will be the site of the conference next year.

WAA Calls Meeting To Elect Officers

WAA will have a called meeting Monday night in room 208 in the Administration building. The purpose of the meeting is to elect officers. All members are urged to be present.

A council meeting will be held in the gym Thursday, May 10, to nominate officers.

Council Election

Leon Ince, junior engineer from Cleburne, Texas, and Ernest Griffith, sophomore pre-law student from Lorraine, Texas. The only candidate in the race for the vice-presidency of the council is Malcolm "Moon" Martin, two year football letter man from Lorenza, Texas.

In the race for secretary are one boy and two girls. J. H. Smith of Big Spring, Texas, is opposed by Ruth Rutledge of Floydada, and Christine Bundy of Silverton. Smith and Rutledge are sophomores and Bundy is listed as a junior. Leonard "Bear" Curfman of Electra, Texas, is the only candidate for representative to the athletic council.

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.
