By DEANIE KILLION
Toreador Staff Writer

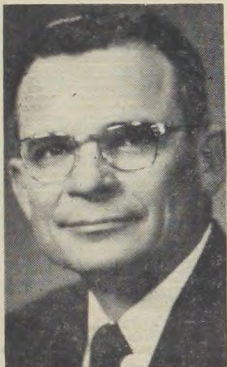

Chosen to deliver Tech's spring commencement address to more than 900 candidates for graduation is August C. Esenwein, Convair vice president and manager of the Fort Worth division.

May 28 marks the final day for more than one-tenth of Tech's enrollment to attend classes before commencement at 8 p.m. Monday, June 3, at Jones Stadium.

Dr. Granville T. Walker, minister of University Christian Church, Fort Worth, is scheduled to deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, June 2, in Jones Stadium at 8 p.m.

In the case of bad weather, baccalaureate will be moved to the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium, and commencement to the Coliseum.

Fletcher Given Life Sentence

The case of the "revenge murder" of Dr. Alan Strout by "enraged" Jerry Fletcher reached a climax last week when 12 solemn young men and women filed into the crowded courtroom to return a verdict of guilty and Judge Jim Shearer "sentenced" Fletcher to life imprisonment.

The trial staged by the Pre-Law Club took place in the Aggie Engineering Auditorium. Dr. Strout was "murdered" Tuesday morning in Tech Union.

Prosecution attorneys Willis Taylor and Oral Parks called Ronnie Avery, who was with Dr. Strout at the time of his demise, to the stand. He testified that Dr. Strout and he were in Tech Union for coffee when Fletcher began arguing with Strout over the treatment Shirley Hamlet, Fletcher's close friend, was receiving from Strout.

After Fletcher slapped Strout's

Stadium will begin at 8:30 a.m. June 2, followed by a reception honoring graduates from 3:30 to 5 p.m. given by Pres. and Mrs. E. N. Jones.

Esenwein entered aviation 30 years ago as a fixed base operator at his birthplace, Buffalo, N. Y., a year after graduation from the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale University. He received a B. S. degree in electrical and industrial engineering.

Became Liaison Engineer

He next became a liaison engineer with Curtiss-Wright Corporation at Buffalo and then manager of Fabricators, Inc., of Erie, Penn., a tool manufacturing company doing business primarily with air craft industry.

During World War II, he served with the Air Force's air material command, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel.

After the war, Esenwein helped form Aviation Maintenance Corp. at Van Nuys, Calif., and served as its vice president and general manager until 1949. At that time, he went to Piper Aircraft Corp., Lock Haven, Penn., as general manager.

Esenwein came to Convair's Fort Worth Division in Sept., 1950, as assistant division manager. Three months later he was elevated to division manager and is now in his seventh year in that position.

Named Vice President

Recently he was named a vice president of the corporation by the board of directors.

The Esenweins have two grown daughters and one granddaughter.

Dr. Walker holds B. A. and B.D. degrees from Texas Christian University and the B.D. and Ph.D. from Yale University. In 1947, he was presented an honorary D.D. from TCU.

While at TCU, Dr. Walker twice won the Gough Oratorical contest, was graduated summa cum laude and was awarded as a graduate student a teaching fellowship in Greek and Bible. He was elected a member of Alpha Chi, an honorary scholarship society.

During student days in TCU, Dr. Walker served as minister of the Christian Churches of Allen, Frisco, Lucas, Hamilton, and Jacksboro, Texas. In 1937, he ministered at St. Charles Avenue Christian Church of New Orleans, where he remained until 1939, when he returned to TCU as head of the department of undergraduate religion.

From the faculty of TCU he was granted a leave for the pursuit of the Ph.D. degree in Yale in 1941, but returned to the ministry of University Christian Church in 1943.

coffee from his hand. Avery stated that he was forced to stop the two from fighting.

Later Strout and he went upstairs to get Strout's hat, and as they were coming back down the stairs, Fletcher fired several "shots" into Strout's body.

Avery on Spot

According to Avery, Strout fell backwards on him and cried "Fletcher did it . . . money . . . waer . . . Blackwood's Magazine . . . where the hell is that ambulance."

Justice of Peace George McClusky, who performed the autopsy, testified that the cause of death was a "bullet" in Strout's heart. McClusky also said that there were two other bullets in Strout's "body," neither of which could have caused death.

Don Sealy, Tech police force, testified that the fatal bullet was

THE WASTEBASKET

A NEAR MISS

This is the first of what may be a series of columns — most of which will appear whenever we write one, none of which will be any good and few of which will be read by any self-respecting Tech student with good taste.

We expect a large readership in the classroom during boring lectures but we probably won't be as popular as "The Little Man on the Campus."

We won't say much important and won't present much criticism, and anybody's toe we step on will not be done on purpose, as we don't have a gut in our body, but we're full of good cheer.

Texas Technological College — its administration, its student government, its outstanding student newspaper, its coffee served in the Union — is perfect. Every one of its 8,000 plus students on campus are completely satisfied with everything about their school.

At least these are our conclusions after several weeks of eagerly tackling our mail box, only to find an occasional letter to the editor there. When we came to college we didn't expect to win any popularity contest, but when we were appointed to the Toreador staff we did expect to receive some letters.

We can't believe that we're so unpopular that no one reads the paper besides the staff and our parents — so it must be that there is nothing on this campus for students and faculty members to criticize or compliment. Or maybe everyone is too busy studying for finals.

We checked our calendar and found that Dead Week starts May 16th. To you freshman who don't know — Dead Week is a week set aside before finals when campus organizations don't have any functions scheduled. During this particular week most instructors give their last hour quiz, the downtown movie houses show the best movies of the semester and when a professor announces in class that he will be working in the library at nights he will find all the students in his classes studying like mad.

We heard that the jury in the "Strout Murder Trial" found the killer guilty and he was sentenced to life in prison. We looked through "The First Thirty Years" to see if there had been any similar cases. Either there have not been any or there were so many that the author failed to mention them.

We thought that he might have been sentenced to hanging and a time could be arranged in order that all students might witness it. But the question that comes to our mind is whether or not the Dean would dismiss classes 10 minutes early like he did when we had a beard shaving exhibition a few years back?

Well, we tried. Probably by popular request we won't ever write another column. If you like it let us know and if you don't keep your mouth shut.

—The Phantom.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"OK, IN THE BACK ROW - LETS HAVE THAT GIRLIE MAGAZINE UP HERE IN THIS BASKET!"

TECHSANS TALK BACK

Dear Editor:

As I returned from Easter holidays, the first thing I noticed as I attempted to park my car was that the Doak Hall parking lot had shrunk considerably. On a closer scrutiny it became apparent that a parcel of land where we had parked seven or eight cars had been surrounded by an "iron curtain." This fact brings a question to my befuddled mind. Why has this piece of our already too small parking lot been declared off limits to us?

I realize that I haven't too much foresight or imagination but I wonder why I paid $3.50 for the privilege of searching 30 minutes to an hour each time I have to park my car on campus. My jangled nerves aren't eased at all by the fact that our parking lots are shrinking instead of growing. I sincerely believe that inefficiency in the higher levels of the Traffic Committee (or who ever does have control) is exceeded only by their poor planning.

I am not raising the question of whether students should or should not have autos on campus. The question I ask is this, should the $20,000 we spend each semester for parking permits be used to shrink our already too small lots? When I paid my $3.50 I understood that I would have some decent place on campus to park my car. Now I'm beginning to feel that I have been slightly misled.

I used to become peeved because our dirt lot was never graded as promised, now I wonder whether or not we will have a parking lot at all.

I feel that the men of Doak Hall deserve an explanation why our parking wallow is being made even more unsatisfactory.

Sincerely yours,
Larry Witten
Doak Hall

TECH'S COOP HOUSES 18 COEDS

Casa Linda Residents Share Expenses, Household Duties

By CAROL THOMPSON
Toreador Feature Writer

Girls, how would you like to pay only $180 room and board per semester?

It sounds impossible, especially in view of the upcoming room and board hike, but it is being done right now in Tech's cooperative home, Casa Linda.

Casa Linda, which houses 18 girls, is located at the corner of 19th and College. At present only 16 are living there.

Coeds plan and prepare their own meals and do all the cleaning in the house. They have the same closing hours and regulations as do the regular dorms.

"Casa Linda probably has better meals because we can choose what we want to have prepared," said Peggy Hahn, a resident of the house.

The business manager buys the groceries and plans the menus. If there is something that the girls would like to have, they ask the business manager to buy it, Miss Hahn added.

"We have a snack shelf in the kitchen stocked with cookies, biscuits, and other such food that is left over from the meals," she stated, "but we are not allowed to raid the icebox."

All the groceries are purchased from a supper market. Milk is delivered from Tech dairy, and eggs are delivered once weekly.

Cleaning Duties Rotate
Cleaning duties are assigned by the house director. She takes class and working schedules and makes up a work sheet, assigning each girl a different duty each week.

In addition the house director is in charge of locking the doors each night, sees that all regulations are kept, and takes care of late minutes and campuses.

"There are not many campuses at Casa Linda," commented Miss Hahn. "I have been here three years, and can remember only three girls being campused during that time."

This year an advisory council similar to those in the dorms has been set up, Miss Hahn added. The members of this council include the president, house director, and one elected delegate.

Girls living in Casa Linda do their own laundry. An automatic washer and dryer have been placed in the house for this purpose.

Social Dues are 75 Cents
The only additional expense in Casa Linda is dues set up for social events held each semester. The amount of these dues depends on the girls living in Casa Linda at the time. At present, the social dues are 75 cents per semester.

Casa Linda was the first officially named building on campus. It was established by the Quarterly Club before any dormitories for women had been built.

The first Casa Linda was a rented house on Main Street. Two years later the state legislature appropriated money to build a women's dormitory. The money provided was not nearly enough to construct a dormitory, so a co-operative house was built instead.

That building, located at the corner of Broadway and College, stood for 25 years, but was torn down this year to make room for the new women's dorm now under construction.

Casa Linda then moved to its present site, which is owned by Tech Foundation.

Residents of Casa Linda include: Phyllis Sears, president; Dorothy Foltyn, house director; Dorothy Lowry, vice president; Betsy Donovan, secretary-treasurer; Alice Webb, business manager; Shirley Mullins, assistant house director; Carolyn Nelson, historian; Helen Etheredge, La Wanda Vinson, Lynna Arthur, Glenda Harris, Margaret Hash, Mary Ann Parks, Sandra Stadler, Ruth Ann Strain, and Miss Hahn.

Assistant Dean of Women Jacqueline Sterner is in charge of Casa Linda. Girls interested in living there should put in applications with Dean Sterner.

First event scheduled is the appearance of a nine-voice cast performing William Schumann's operetta, "The Mighty Casey." The production, under directorship of Instructors Cleve Genzlinger and Jule Foster, will be staged in the Gymnasium May 6, 7 and 8 at 8:15 p.m. Tickets for this event are now on sale in the Union for $1.

Groups participating in this program include: Tech Choir under direction of Dr. Gene Hemmle, music department head; 16 voices of Tech Madrigal Singers directed by Genzlinger; Tech Orchestra with Robert Taylor, music instructor, as guest conductor; and the Tech String Quartet, consisting of Instructor Paul Ellsworth, first violin; Harold Clampitt, second violin; Jean Pipkin, viola; and Tom Wallis, cello, accompanied by Foster, piano.

Guest conductor for the Friday evening event will be Leon Brown of the music faculty of North Texas State College, Denton. He will direct the choir in his original composition, "To God Be The Glory."

Third event in the series will be a "Contemporary Piano Concert" scheduled for Saturday May 11, at 8:15 p.m. in the Music Building Auditorium. Guest pianist for the evening will be Walter Schenkman of the music faculty at Colorado State College of Education, Greeley, Colo. Schenkman's program will consist of great works by such masters as Stravinsky, Debussy and Bartok.

The last event highlighting the Symposium series will be a "Contemporary Band Concert" by members of Tech Band, under direction of Dr. D. O. Wiley, music professor and director of bands. The concert is scheduled for Sunday, May 12, at 3 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Clifton Williams, chairman of the Southwestern Symposium Committee of the University of Texas and faculty member of Texas' School of Music, as guest conductor will lead the Raider Band in his original compositions: "Symphonic Suite," "Pastorale" and "Fanfare Allegro." Scott Couch will be featured trumpet soloist for the band's participation in the Symposium.

All events except the operetta presentation are open to the public without charge.

"Until I joined General Electric's Research Laboratory in 1951, I never realized science could be such a challenge — or so much fun. My job involves research in physical chemistry — the investigation of new ideas which can lead to new and better products people can use. In a company of this size, I have the unique advantage of having the tools and facilities I need and the experience of others close at hand. And in return, of course, I'm expected to apply myself to the best of my ability in each new job. As I see it, if a big company like General Electric invests time, money and faith in my creative ability, and if I respond by creating, then we both benefit. To me, at General Electric business and pleasure do mix."

Raiders Split Series With Sheppard AFB

By BILL SUMMEY
Toreador Sports Writer

Texas Tech's Red Raiders take to the road this weekend for their last road trip and final two games, meeting the Sheppard Air Force Base Senators in Wichita Falls.

Tech split its two contests last weekend with Sheppard winning the first one 8-1 and losing the second 5-3.

Powell Losses Shut-Out

In the opener Friday Houston Powell came within two outs of pitching a shut-out. In the short seven inning game due to the Senators' late arrival, Powell pitched a five hitter and lost his shut-out on Monroe Henderson's wild throw that allowed Mitch LaGrone to score in the seventh.

Tech opened scoring in the second on a walk to Sonny Donelson, singles by Dave Potter and "Buzz" Bates and a sacrifice by Powell. Tech was able to get only one hit after the third inning, that being Henderson's triple. However, the hit combined with four Senator errors was enough to give the Raiders five more runs.

Sheppard's only run in the seventh broke Powell's consecutive string of 16 scoreless innings which he started against West Texas.

Gageby Leads Senators

Saturday, former pro pitcher Chuck Gageby pitched and batted the Senators to their 5-3 win. Gageby allowed eight hits, struck out 12, clubbed two doubles and drove in two runs.

Tech's Leo Chase scattered the Senators 12 hits well, but a five run fourth inning was too much for the Raiders to overcome.

In that fourth inning Senator first baseman Pod Price opened with a single. He took third on Jerry Lacey's double. Chase struck out the next man but Dick Lemmings was safe on an error to load the bases. Chase then got the next man to fly out. Gageby came up and lifted a routine fly ball to right for the apparent third out.

Summers Loses Ball

However, Darrell Summers lost the ball in the bright afternoon sun and two runs scored. A muffed throw from Summers to the plate scored another and Curt Barnes' single plated a fourth.

Henderson scored the final run on a throwing error by the Senator shortstop in the eighth.

JOHN "BUZZ" BATES

Bates Is Raider Handyman

Every team needs a handyman—a player who can be called upon to fill in at different positions when injuries occur—and the Texas Tech Red Raiders have theirs in the form of 215 pound John Henry "Buzz" Bates.

"Buzz", as he is known to his teammates, has been the Raider standby this year. He has filled in at first base, is currently catching and can be used at almost any other position by Coach Beattie Feathers.

He assumed regular catching duties two weeks ago when Cullen Hunt broke his finger and has been doing an able job ever since.

Aside from his job as handyman "Buzz" is also the team good humor man. When team morale is low its usually "Buzz" who comes up with something that puts everyone in stitches and eases the tension.

Bates hails from Breckenridge where he played baseball, football and basketball in high school. He graduated with honors.

He is a junior at Tech, majoring in Petroleum Engineering. As for plans after graduation "Buzz" wants to work in his engineering field barring service.

He is a valuable cog in Tech's baseball program.

Netters To Host Abilene Christian

Tech's tennis team, with a 5-3-1 record on the year, will swing back into action tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting, hosting the Abilene Christian College team in the second home match of the season.

Wednesday the Red Raider netmen will continue their home slate by meeting West Texas State, and Hardin-Simmons will be guests on Thursday.

Coach George Philbrick's squad holds wins over North Texas, Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, Texas A&M and the University of Colorado. Losses have been to Abilene Christian and Texas University, while the team was tied by Baylor.

Billy Edd Gowan is still in the No. 1 singles post for Tech, followed by David Kent, Dick Spiers, Johnny Kniffen and Scott Cantine. Gowan and Kent team up for No. 1 doubles, with Spiers and Kniffen pairing for the No. 2 team.

MEET IS POSTPONED

The track meet between the Tech freshmen and Abilene Christian College has been postponed according to Delmer Brown, track coach. The postponement was due to the recent heavy rains that have flooded the track.

The 1926 Legislature refused to appropriate money for a gymnasium, insisting that such a structure was not needed. It did, however, allow funds for a warehouse, which is now known as "the Barn" to most Red Raider basketball fans.

IT'S FOR REAL! by Chester Field

ON CLOSE EXAMINATION*

Of all the different sorts of guys There are only two that I despise: The first I really would like to slam Is the one who copies from my exam. The other one's the dirty skunk Who covers his and lets me flunk!

MORAL: You'll pass the pleasure test with Chesterfield King. Yes, if you want your pleasure summa cum laude, smoke Chesterfield King! BIG length, BIG flavor, the smoothest tasting smoke today because it's packed more smoothly by ACCU-RAY.
