Wet-Dry Issue Up Again Saturday

Saturday's referendum on liquor and beer sales will be the seventh local option election for Howard county since national repeal in 1933. Here are results of previous elections:

Date	Issue	Wet	Dry	Majority
Aug. 26, 1933	3.3 Beer	948	608	340 W
Feb. 25, 1936	All Liquors	1574	1296	278 W
Dec. 10, 1937	All Liquors	1029	1147	118 D
Mar. 11, 1938	Beer, Wines	3058	1863	995 W
Dec. 17, 1938	All Liquors	849	778	71 W
Nov. 25, 1940	All Liquors	1528	1344	208 W

The perennial issue of whether to permit legalized sales of alcoholic beverages will be up for another referendum before Howard county voters Saturday — the seventh time in the eight years since the first step toward return of legalized liquors was taken with approval of 3.2 beer.

With the campaign tempo stepped up considerably by both sides in the past few days, a heavy turnout at the polls was in prospect. Totals in the last elections have ranged all the way from 1972, back in 1933, to 4421 in the beer referendum of 1938. There have been wet majorities in five of the six previous tests.

Both prohibitionists and legal control forces have looked a bombardment of effort, via the press, radio, direct-mail and personal contact. What the results will be remained conjectural, because predictions on the outcome were at variance.

ATENTION JUDGES — The Herald wants to compile a complete tabulation of the wet-dry vote Saturday evening as quickly as possible after the polls close, for dissemination to the public. Your cooperation in reporting the vote will be greatly appreciated. Those judges out of the city are requested to call 728 collect.

Business In April Shows Little Change

As far as April went, it was just another steady April, business figures based on postal receipts, building permits and employment figures.

Building permits, with 41 separate permissions granted during the month, figured at $11,583, which was slightly above the $11,312 for March but sadly off from the $21,845 for April of 1941. New residential permits, three in all, accounted for $4,225, and one of these was for $4,000 of the amount.

Postal receipts barely slipped under the corresponding figure for a year ago, said Postmaster Nat Shick, in reporting his receipts. April showed $7,610.04, and last year the month yielded $7,618.33. However, the month's total was well up from the $6,449.71 in March.

Private employment placements stood at 188 for April, a gain of 10 for the month over the same time a year ago, reported O. R. Rodden, local USDS manager. Farm placement employment climbed slowly to 26, and this division was expected to show increases as plantings got underway.

New passenger car deliveries turned out to be a delivery—the total being one for the month. Two new trucks were registered.

It's A Wide Open Field That'll Run The Derby Tomorrow

Crowd Due To Be Smaller This Year

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1. (AP)—Derbytown began to look more like itself today as the butchers, the banker and the candlestick maker streamed into this horse-minded Ohio river city for the 69th running of the Kentucky Derby.

Although there was a decided increase in the tempo of arriving trains, buses, airplanes and automobiles, there were indications that the crowd for tomorrow's $75,000 classic at Churchill Downs probably would not come up to those of pre-war derbies. In lieu of an official announcement attendance has been estimated from 20,000 to 100,000 in recent years.

Today it still was possible to walk down either Walnut or Fourth streets without being forced to take to the street for self protection. In other years this focal point of all early derby arrivals has been like rush hour on the New York subway even as long as 48 hours before the big race.

With a field of 17 expected to be named through the entry box today, visitors and native alike had one common question—"Who's your choice?"

For the most part the answers either were Mrs. Payne Whitney's Power-house entry or Devil Diver and Shut Out, Ben Whitaker's well-conditioned Requested or the Texas combination of Valdina Orphan and Hollywood from Emerson Woodward's Valdina farm.

Here and there, mostly from his home sector, a good word was spoken for Al Sabath's Chicago-owned Alab, the 1941 juvenile champ that has yet to win a race this year.

Sweep Swinger, a skinny, lanky colt from T. D. Euhl's Detroit barn, was liked by others, as were Flank Grimes' With Regards, winner of seven straight races, and Warren Wright's Sun Again.

Wright and Trainer Ben Jones apparently had made up their minds to start Sun Again, Hollywood and Valdina Orphan, for they refused to give Wendell Eads permission to ride Mrs. Barclay Douglas' Fair Call.

Camilli's Homers Keeping The Brooklyns In Front

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
There was quite a ruckus about Dolph Camilli during the winter. By accident or design the Brooklyn Dodgers obtained waivers on the stocky slugger who led the National league in 1941 in home runs and runs batted in and was voted the most valuable player.

Perhaps fearing a holdout struggle and feeling that Camilli had reached his peak, President Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers discussed deals for him with the New York Yankees and both Boston clubs. A trade might have been made, too, if the New York Giants hadn't bought Johnny Mize from the St. Louis Cardinals before MacPhail made up his mind whether he wanted him or not.

Now there is another rumpus going on around Camilli—only this time the veteran first baseman is causing it himself, with his big war club.

After being ill for five days and out of uniform, Camilli returned to the lineup this week in Brooklyn's important series with the Reds and hit four home runs in three games to help the Dodgers sweep the slate and run their spring surge to 14 victories in 17 games.

Yesterday the Dodgers were trailing 3-6 at the end of five innings. In the sixth Camilli hit his fifth homer of the season. In the eighth he singled the tying run across and in the ninth again homered. This time with two on, to win the game.

Cleveland continued to burn up the American league by crushing the Philadelphia Athletics again 6-1 to extend its winning streak to 11 games. Vern Kennedy kept the A's nine hits well spaced and Colonel (Buster) Mills put him in front with a single with the bases loaded in the first inning and drove in another run with a single later.

The New York Yankees regained second place by pouncing on the St. Louis Browns 9-0 behind the four-hit hurling of big Ernie Bonham.

Early Wynn pitched the Washington Senators to a 1-0 decision over the Chicago White Sox in an infield out. It was Chicago's seventh straight loss.

Girl Jockeys Take Over At Ohio Track

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 1. (AP)—Three veteran jockeys leaped against the rail at Beulah Park shortly after dawn today, watching the runners go through their morning "works" in preparation for Saturday's opening of Ohio's inaugural 25-day race meeting.

Two trim thoroughbreds, with two equally trim riders astride, thundered down the stretch. Karl Horvath, who had a leg up in several Kentucky Derbies, turned to Jockeys Charlie Hanauer and Jimmy Wray, saying:

"First they get the right to vote. They start smoking cigarettes. Then they begin wearing trousers—and now it looks like they're trying to cut into the jockey trade."

The exercise "boys" who had just thundered by were girls! Feminine riders aren't new—Agua Caliente and other tracks having held novelty races for the women jockeys—but they're an innovation at the Grove City track.

Bob Diemst, president of the Beulah Park Jockey Club, declared so many girls and women were exercising horses at the mill oval that he was contemplating a "pouder puff handicap" for them, while W. B. (Bill) Daly, veteran starter, said:

"I've never seen so many women riders around a track as we have here. Most of them can ride well enough to handle runners in a race, and they're not bad lookers, either, believe me!"

The war, taking exercise boys into the armed forces and defense industry, has cut heavily into ranks of the boys who put the runners through the workouts, forcing owners and trainers to call on the women weaker sex to help.

Kansas City, May 1. (AP)—Three former boxing champions, Jack Dempsey, Jim Braddock and Tony Canzonetti, will referee a series of amateur bouts here tonight, but most of the crowd won't see them. The bouts, staged as a feature of Brooklyn Week for the eighth spectators by Don Dunphy and Sam Taub, radio blow-by-blow experts.

Pan American Games Due To Be Cancelled

NEW YORK, May 1. (AP)—The sports world's list of wartime casualties appeared destined today to include the Pan American games, originally scheduled to be held for the first time next fall at Buenos Aires.

Juan Carlos Palacios, chairman of the Argentine Olympic committee, announced yesterday that his group, which had accepted the responsibility of organizing and staging the inaugural tournament, was considering a request for postponement at least until 1943.

Although the Argentine boss has no authority to order suspension of the games, Palacios said it would recommend postponement "if replies to come from American nations continue to follow the same trend as those already received—all of which favor delaying the games on account of the war."

The recommendation would be made to the central committee, headed by Avery Brundage, president of the United States of America Sports Federation.

At Chicago, Brundage disclosed that the central committee probably would follow the Argentine group's recommendation in the matter.

The United States withdrew from the games April 18 because of the war and several other countries since have notified the committee they did not plan to participate.

High Waters No Help At Start Of Fishing Season

DALLAS, May 1. (AP)—Dr. W. M. Longnecker is an ichthyologist and he says the greatest factor in catching fish is a proper combination of bait, fish and fisherman.

He offers that today—as the opening of the season beckons anglers to stream and lake in most of Texas—as consolation. For are not the waters muddied by flood, guards posted to keep everyone including fishers away from dams and spillways and lost tackle irreplaceable?

A dark outlook indeed. High water has washed countless fish over dams, and bass do not appear too plentiful.

One gets this impression from talking with an ichthyologist, such as Dr. Longnecker of Southern Methodist university. Then he wipes it away with optimistic remarks:

High waters which hit hatcheries may affect the fish population next year but not this year's, or not much anyway. The fish you want to catch are already out of the hatchery;

Floods destroyed much fish food but they also brought in some; maybe lack of food will make the fish hungry—for the fisherman's bait;

Last week he had a friend pulled a fine mess of bream out on a lake (a private one in East Texas) and in a pouring rain, if you want encouragement;

Test catches of white perch and crappie have been excellent in North Texas the last several days, say sporting goods stores, which admitted bass apparently were not plentiful.

Today's opening is for all of Texas except 22 counties in South-

Jeff Davis Star Still Has Some Winning Points

HOUSTON, May 1. (AP)—Steve Lobue, who sored enough points single-handed to bring Jeff Davis the Texas interscholastic track title last season, hasn't been a ball of fire this year, but it's a little too early to count him out.

Lobue is a fine competitor. He's had some weak days on the cinders this spring, but his coach, Bruce Kivell, said he was due for them and come state meet time, he might perk up a bit.

He has not approached his best marks this spring as he was good enough to roll up 21 1-4 points in the city meet and in the regional at Huntsville, he led for high-point honors with Milton Ferrell of John Reagan, the winning school, at 11 1-4.

Dallas Dominates School Golf Play

DALLAS, May 1. (AP)—Play in the state high school golf tournament proceeds today with five Dallas lads, one each from Refugio, Longview and Fort Worth in the quarter finals.

The Dallas survivors were Ray Kenney and Paul Lacy, both of Highland Park, Maurice Beckham of Terrell Prep, A. R. Franks of Woodrow Wilson and L. M. Cranell of Sunset. The others were James Beardsley of Refugio, E. C. Gaunt of Longview and Charles Royer of Fort Worth.

B'mont Player Has A Perfect Day At Bat

Outfielder Hoot Evers of the Beaumont Exporters is maybe eligible to have a gold star pasted alongside his name.

He had a perfect day at the plate yesterday as the Exporters triumphed over the often-walloped Dallas Rebels, 7 to 2. His rapped out four hits including a four-base knock and it was the sixteenth consecutive game in which he had hit safely.

Thus did the Shipper roll along in the Texas league lead, satisfied with the pitching of Clarence Gann and Les Mueller, who allowed the Rebels seven hits, one of which was a homer by Tracer.

The other clubs were having their worries and playing close games, as follows: Houston 4, Oklahoma City 3; San Antonio 2, Tulsa 1; Fort Worth 6, Shreveport 4.

Paul Dean, Houston's big right-hander, was three runs behind when the Rebels came along with the four winning scores in the eighth. Dean pitched eight innings, struck out six and allowed eight hits.

The Missions had to come from behind to beat the Oilers—just as the night before both of the San Antonio runs were tallied in the seventh.

It was Old Ed (Beartracks) Greer who permitted the Fort Worth Cats to win from Shreveport. The Cats were ahead all the way with their six runs on the board after the fifth inning, but the Sports threatened four scores in the eighth.

Old Ed went the distance, allowed the Sports 10 hits and didn't let them score except in the eighth and made it a good night for himself by clouting out a home run.

Russia Can Save World From Hitler, Says Stalin

Has No Plans Of Occupying Other Nations

MOSCOW, May 1 (AP)—Representing Russia as the hope of all freedom-loving nations, for "a force which is capable of saving the world from the Hitlerite plague," Joseph Stalin declared today, "we have no such aims as the occupation of foreign countries, the subjugation of other peoples." Then he added, in an order of the day for May Day: "Our aim is clear and noble. We want to liberate our brothers, the Ukrainians, Moldavians, White Russians, Lithuanians, Latvians, Estonians, Karelians, from the shame and humiliation inflicted upon them by the German fascist blackguards."

(In this passage the Russian premier indicated an intention to restore the Soviet Union's western borders as of before the German invasion. He might also have been hinting that he is satisfied with the status quo on the eastern frontier where the U. S. S. R. abuts the Japanese empire.) Stalin said that the first place among the freedom-loving countries pinning their hopes on Russia is held by the United States and Britain "with whom we are connected by ties of friendship and unity and who are giving our country more and more military assistance against the fascist invaders."

With increasing help from them, he said, Russia must smash Adolf Hitler's troops on a surrender-or-death basis to make 1942 "a year of final defeat of the German fascist armies."

"We are able to do this and we must do this, whatever happens," the premier-defense commissar told Soviet armed forces, guerrillas, workers and peasants on this "international labor holiday, which was observed within Russia at work instead of at play."

He said Russia was fighting simply "a war of liberation, a just war." Stalin declared "we have no such aims as the occupation of other countries or the subjugation of other peoples," but added that the only way to win the war was to smash the invaders to the last man if they did not surrender. "We must do this at any cost," he stated.

His message was carried to all Russians by billboards, newspapers, radio and a nationwide network of loud speakers that drowned out the hum of machinery in flag-draped factories.

As he spoke, military reports told of new Soviet successes. Besides the announced slaughter of 1,300 Germans on the central and Kalinin fronts, extensive guerrilla activities in the Crimea were declared to have cost the Germans and Rumanians 900 dead. Twenty-five Rumanians joined the guerrillas in attacking a food depot, Crimean reports said. The partisans were reported so well organized they now are publishing a paper, "The Crimean Guerrilla."

The premier-defense commissar asserted that Germany has weakened while "our country has become stronger" since the invasion June 22, 1941.

Japs Concentrating For A Slash At US Supply Lines

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Reports of a concentration of Japanese warships and troop transports among the Marshall Islands in the south central Pacific gave rise to speculation in informed quarters today that a major thrust against the American supply line to Australia was imminent. The island of Jaluit, center of the area in which the Japanese apparently are concentrating, is but 1,500 miles north of New Caledonia, where American troops landed recently to join forces with the Free French. An equal distance to the southeast lies American Samoa, and 2,100 miles to the northeast is Hawaii.

Because of this strategic location, experts said, the Japs would be able to move in any of three main directions or they could try a series of feints in an effort to test American strength and then strike with full force whenever conditions appeared most favorable. First indications of what seems to be the latest development of Japanese strategy were given in dispatches from Australia recently saying that the enemy was gathering ships and men in the mandated islands area. These reports were linked here with the disappearance of powerful Japanese naval units from the Bay of Bengal, off India, about a week ago.

Informed quarters suggested that those units, having carried out a purely raiding and reconnaissance mission against the British there, had been withdrawn eastward in preparation for an at-

Crest Moves Down Trinity

By The Associated Press The Trinity river's crest is expected today along the Houston-Madison county line after breaking records yesterday by reaching 45 feet near Midway.

Carl Murray, owner of a 40,000 acre farm on the Houston county side of the Trinity, said the water was within three feet of the levee top, but he believed the levee would hold. A break would mean the foundation of many thousands of acres of fertile land. At Liberty the flood stage was over. Breaks in the levees below Dallas apparently saved Trinidad from a second high crest. After a moderate rise Wednesday the Trinity stage at Trinidad was falling.

This is enough money to pay more than 3,000,000 American soldiers for one year. Chief of Staff Marshall, War Secretary Stimson, Corps Area Commander Donovan, all have said they do NOT want local prohibition for training areas. They do not want to take all personal liberty from soldiers who are fighting to preserve that very thing. They know that Prohibition doesn't prohibit. National Dry leaders know that too, and have said so on many occasions.

National Defense Are social conditions better since Prohibition? The F.B.I. says crime has decreased sharply since Prohibition. The National Safety Council says the auto death rate has decreased. The U.S. Census Bureau says alcoholism has decreased one-half. Texas' per capita liquor consumption is down to 3 quarts yearly. The dominant gang lords of the Capone era are gone with National Prohibition. Wealthy bootleggers can no longer buy courts and officers. Tomorrow's issue is NOT whether we shall or shall not have alcoholic beverages. We will have them regardless of the vote. But it is important to decide properly whether they shall be kept out in the open for taxation and control, or turned over to the bootlegger for back-alley operations.

Old Age Pensions The last Official Report available shows that 48 cents out of every dollar of Texas' share of the Old Age Pension Fund was derived from alcoholic beverage taxes. The Texas Liquor Control Board reports that from Nov. 16, 1935, through Dec. 31, 1941, the Old Age Pension Fund received $26,402,710.79 from these taxes. There are 288 citizens of Howard County who receive old age pensions from this money. During the same period alcoholic beverages paid $8,243,041.25 into the Texas State Available School Fund. Money not collected cannot be spent. It must come from the beverage tax, or from some new source like Sales Taxes—or else!

Business, Jobs Prohibition, having utterly failed, was recognized as a failure and repealed by President Roosevelt and the Democratic party to help cure a panic born of the Dry Era. And it worked. By 1939 (before defense prosperity) the national income had increased 49 per cent over the last Prohibition year, retail store sales were up 35 per cent, postal receipts 28 per cent, and bank debits 26.5 per cent, Federal government records show. Today 331 persons in Howard County earn respectable livings for themselves and their families and spend their earnings with local merchants. Stores that were vacant are now occupied. The bootlegger is neither a financial nor a social asset. Don't let him come back. Don't send our shoppers to Midland and Odessa.

Public and authoritative records of fact, available to dregs as well as liberals, disprove practically every major point of the Prohibition argument. Don't be misled when the truth is so easily available.

"NO SUGAR USED"
"DURING YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1941, REGISTERED DISTILLERIES USED 1,713,548,610 POUNDS GRAIN FOR WHISKY, GIN AND HIGH PROOF SPIRITS. NO SUGAR USED."
The above telegram to Charlie Sullivan from Stewart Berkshire, Deputy Commissioner of the Alcohol Tax Unit, U.S. Treasury Department, Washington, does to Dry claims about sugar what the Roberts Commission report did to their claims about Pearl Harbor.

WE PRESENT THIS

- "The managers of the 285 Taverns operated by alien Japs in the Hawaiian defense area knew well when to have a great number of liquor parties... and they had them for the officers just the night before the Pearl Harbor attack... Saturday night. All liquor was banned the next day after Japan struck, not only in this area but in the Philippines as well."
- "Liquor was closed out for the duration in all the war zones of the Philippines and Hawaii, immediately after war broke out. Why not let us here at home do the same thing now?"
- "You know that our statement that liquor was banned the next day after Japan struck was true, and that it was not now allowed. Why do you deliberately accuse the men chosen and spiritual leaders of libel against their own friends at Pearl Harbor by saying we accused them of all being drunk? You know we made no such statement at any time. Ascribe false statements to us, then call us libellers!"

Ruth Class Has Anniversary Party On Ranch

To observe the 12th birthday anniversary of the First Baptist Ruth class, members met Thursday at the ranch home of Mrs. B. Reagan for a party and business session.

A theme of traveling the highway of life was emphasized by table decorations which pictured a highway. Sprigs of green formed the trees and detour signs and WPA workers signs were placed along the paper highway. Toy vehicles pursued their way down the highway.

Mrs. C. W. Floyd, who had charge of the program, talked on moving down the highway of life. Songs carrying out the theme were sung.

During the business meeting, Mrs. T. E. Atkins presided and Mrs. Robert E. Lee gave the secretary's report. Mrs. Ethel Bartlett gave the devotional.

Mrs. George Tillinghast's group was in charge of the program.

In observance of Christian Family Week, St. Mary's Episcopal church will have a combined service of the church school and church Sunday at 11 a. m. There will be no church school on that date and all children are asked to come to church with their parents.

In place of the usual sermon there will be a brief message from all classes as to the kind of work they have done during the past year.

The presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, the Rt. Rev. H. St. George Tucker, in proclaiming Christian Family Week has declared "If Christianity has done nothing else in the world than to show what a Christian home and family can be, it has given to the world the richest and most satisfying gift man has ever known. To perpetuate the life of the Christian home and family in these days, when every social institution is being shaken, is of vital concern to the church and our people."

The Bill Barbers Are Given Shower-Dinner On Anniversary

Taking the pledge ritual were Betty Lee Eddy and Mrs. Hiram Brimberry. Betty Jo Leatherwood, Elizabeth McCrary, Omega McClain and Mrs. Leonard Skiles were given the ritual of jewels.

The banquet was in observance of Founder's Day. The table was centered with a black bowl holding yellow roses. Streamers of twisted yellow and black streamers attached at the bowl spread in fan shape to the edge of the table. Place marks were marked with the sorority crest. Roses were placed at vantage points throughout the rooms.

Phi pals were revealed and gifts exchanged. New phi pals names were exchanged.

Mrs. Paul Darrow opened the banquet program with the greetings and Mrs. Theo Willis talked on the significance of Founder's Day and the accomplishments of the sorority during the year. Toasts were given by Mrs. Hiram Knox to Victory, Sara Reddy to the air force, and Myrtle Jones to the heroes of today.

Mrs. Darrow read a message from Walter W. Ross, founder of the organization. Gifts were also presented to outgoing officers.

A dance followed the banquet. Tables were placed in cabaret style and centered with roses. Attending the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Darrow, Mr. and Mrs. Knox, Mr. Adkinson, D. A. Fraher, Roy Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Brimberry, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Wooten, Mr. and Mrs. Willis, Mrs. W. E. That Mr. and Mrs. ESCOL COMPTON can grow beautiful roses we can testify, because she brought us a lovely bouquet of roses ranging in shade from palest pink to deepest red. It looked like a professional bouquet but it came out of their yard.

Also saw some honeysuckles, roses and iris in a bouquet that Mrs. CECIL WALKER sent to Mrs. BILLY THOMAS that came from her yard too. It takes a lot of work to raise flowers but the results are certainly worthwhile.

Heard a cute one the other day on little MARGARET MARTIN, who won the personality child contest. MARGARET who is about 5 years old, heard her parents, Mr. and Mrs. PEECH MARTIN, gasp in surprise when they saw their daughter's picture as winner. But MARGARET didn't seem to be a bit surprised. She just crawled back in bed and said, "Well, now, you can just bring me my breakfast in bed!"

Take a tip from Washington, girls, you are being asked to save metal containers which your lipsticks, cold creams, powders and the like come in. In the future, it seems, the containers may be made of paper, cellophane or other non-permanent lids and the woman who has saved her old jar can transfer the cream or other preparations into it. In addition, women are asked to save mascara cases, vanities, rouge and powder compacts since only refills will be available in quantity in the near future. So, now you know!

Washington Daybook— Government Offices Really Moving Out

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON.—The government is really in earnest about this decentralization business.

The first big exodus of non-war agencies is about completed. It moved some 12,000 persons, including government employees and their families, out to such cities as St. Louis, Kansas City, Columbus and Richmond — anywhere that suitable office space could be found.

Trouble was that only about 20 per cent of the employees of the 12 transplanted agencies moved with their desks. The rest simply quit their jobs and got new ones in other government offices. And you can't criticize them in many cases. Many were long-time government workers who had established homes here and had children in school.

Now plans are under way to decentralize still more agencies. One high government official estimates that 20,000 employees, with their families, must go in the next six months. The grim truth is that Washington has just about reached the saturation point, both in office and living space. Along with the shortage of space go the problems of water supply, sewage disposal and transportation — none of which can be expanded indefinitely.

This official predicted that from now on two employees would be sent away for every three new ones brought in. Furthermore, he said, decentralization will be pushed until all government offices have been cleared out of apartment houses, several of which have been taken over entirely.

One way that the brakes will be put on expansion of offices here is to freeze staffs at their present size. Already the Veterans Administration has been ordered to hold its Washington payroll down to 6,300 persons after July 1. Any further expansion must be in field offices.

Moving a government agency is about like moving an army. It involves vast problems of transport and coordination. Some 600 trucks were used to move office furniture and files of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Immigration and Naturalization Service to Philadelphia. Officials said they believed this was the largest trucking operation in history.

Fifty freight cars were needed to haul the goods and chattels of the Rural Electrification Administration to St. Louis.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds — Origin Of Jazz Gets Through Probing

By ROBERT COONS
HOLLYWOOD.—If Leith Stevens ever doubted that jazz came out of the jungle, he doubts no longer. For nearly a year he has been picking his way through a jungle to find it—a jungle of myths, conflicting claims, scanty records.

Leith is the 32-year-old man of music from Mount Moriah, Mo. He's the fellow who, at 14, began touring as a concert pianist, who 12 years ago began making a name as arranger, conductor, composer on CBS. He's the man William Dieterle, preparing a movie on the origin and development of jazz, chose for the dirty work.

All Leith Stevens had to do was find out the how and where and what of jazz, produce authentic first-day samples, weave them into a score to fit the dramatic story of "Syncopation," get the musicians, and conduct.

The job was a search for needles in a musical haystack. Practically everybody knows that jazz was born in Basin street, New Orleans, and that it spread to Memphis, St. Louis, Chicago, thence to fan out over the country and the western world.

But Basin street was low, disreputable, illiterate. Nice people didn't go there. Nice New Orleans dancers to Stephen Foster folk music and to European waltzes, and stuffed its ears to the ungody noises from the dives and barrel-

Man About Manhattan — Things To Remember About Names In News

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK.—Here's something to remember about Irving Berlin. . . . He covers lots of ground but never lingers in any one place for long. . . . He just "looks in." . . . I've seen him on starlit roofs and in Broadway drug stores, uptown and down, and he asks for his hat almost before the checkroom girl has time to put it away. . . . The other night at the Waldorf he came in, shook hands with the band leader, had a quick bite—and was gone. . . . Guys who punch night watchmen's clocks are gentlemen of leisure compared to Irving Berlin.

Here's something to remember about Billy Rose. . . . He can be a dandy on a street corner or look like a bum at a first night, but I've never seen him in street clothes at home, morning or afternoon. . . . He likes to wear pajamas and a candy-stick robe. . . . All day. . . . He works that way. . . . His office and his desks adjoin his sleeping quarters. . . . When he gets up in the morning, he slips on a robe and is ready to argue with actors or think up a new carnival. . . . He hates evening clothes. . . . Once, while planning a New Year's Eve party, I asked him if he thought we ought to dress. . . . "What for?" he snorted. "Each other!"

Here's something to remember about Johnny Long. . . . He's the only left-handed fiddle-playing band leader in the country. . . . But Johnny wasn't always a southpaw. . . . He was raised on a North Carolina farm. . . . One day he got fresh with the pigs at the feeding

SECRET ORDERS

By ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 23
WARNING FROM LIU
Guy appeared at the library door, then, and spared Stephanie an answer. Later, she would think of a way to save Kurt from himself.

"Pardon the interruption, folks," Guy said, his eyes twinkling as Stephanie slipped out of Kurt's arms. "Don't tell me the blackout scared you that much, Stevie!"

Stephanie winced for Kurt's sake and hurried to interrupt. "Mind your own business, Daddy," she said saucily and then, noticing that he wore an overcoat, heavy shoes, "Where are you going?"

"Up to the plant," He pulled on heavy driving gloves.

"Oh, Daddy, not tonight. Not this late."

"Have to. Had planned to go up tomorrow morning, but this blackout may have slowed them up, up there. I want to be sure."

He stopped as the sound of a door opening, closing came from the back of the house.

"Who was that?" Guy demanded.

"Oh, Tsang, probably," Stephanie replied, concerned at the thought—of having her father away again. "Why do you have to go to Titan?"

"A special load of dynamite is going out tomorrow night. I want to be sure there is no hitch."

"Oh, Daddy, you will be careful and try—" she stopped short as, over her father's shoulder, she saw someone move out of the old-fashioned parlor beyond. "Who's that?" Then, as the man stepped into the light, "Henri! Mercy, how you startled me."

Henri smiled, came toward them. "Forgive me for bursting in this way. I stopped at Miller's to deliver a package, so I took the liberty of coming through the sun-room entrance. I knocked but when no one answered, I boldly walked right in."

Guy scowled, jammed on his hat. "Well, I'll be seeing you. Bye, Stevie. Watch your step."

He brushed a kiss against Stephanie's cheek and stamped out with only a curt nod to Henri.

"Vicky will be back in a little while," Stephanie explained quickly, trying to cover Guy's abruptness. "Sit down, won't you."

And when he had taken the chair across the hearth from where Kurt sat, "Tell me what luck you've had training Hajami!"

Sparks

Henri glanced quickly at Kurt. Then back to Stephanie, who, answering the unspoken question, "Oh, Kurt knows all about it. He even has some theories about 'whodunnit' himself."

"Well, I am sorry to confess that I have been able to make very little progress. If I prod too much, I am sure the government authorities would become suspicious."

Stephanie scowled. "Well, perhaps we had better disregard Liu and give the problem to the F.B.I. After all, just because she is afraid of offending her family is no reason to—"

"I think that would be a mistake. Why, I am not at liberty to explain just now," he said smiling confidently. "However, I do not think it is advisable for you to continue to have the girl live here at this house."

Startled, Stephanie stared at him. "But why not?"

"I think it involves you in some danger, unnecessarily."

"But why, Henri? She has done nothing. Surely she's safer here with us."

"Undoubtedly. But are you safe with her here? That is the question."

"Well, safe or not, I'm certainly not going to send her back home now," Stephanie said positively. "She's been a wonderful help to Tsang. Besides, I want her here."

Henri shrugged. "That is for you to say. I only repeat that I think it would be safer."

"I rather think Stephanie's right, sir," Kurt interrupted calmly and, thrilled, Stephanie realized it sounded more like the old Kurt than anything he'd said since he'd arrived.

For a moment, the two men exchanged glances that struck sparks. Amazed, Stephanie tried to see why Henri hated this defenseless soldier? And Kurt returning that hatred with something almost like his old vigor!

But the moment's crackling tension was broken in the next moment by the sound of Vicky's voice in the hall.

"Hello, everybody. Sorry to keep you waiting, Henri." She tossed her extravagantly large black halo hat onto a chair, began stripping off her gloves. "We've had a ghastly time getting home. That awful blackout caught us downtown. And afterward we couldn't get a taxi for ages." Then, as Liu appeared, hesitated apologetically, "Hello, Liu—what is it?"

The girl smiled shyly at Stephanie. "Telephone for you, Miss Merrill."

"Thanks. I'll take it on the phone upstairs," and, excusing herself, left Vicky to carry Henri

Editorial — However You Feel On Issue, VOTE!

Voters of Howard county, who already have gone to the polls six times in the past eight and a half years in an attempt to reach a decision on the legalized liquor issue, are now confronted with making another verdict by ballot.

The issue again is whether legal sale of liquors, wines and beers shall be continued or prohibited. The special election having been called in response to a petition, it is now up to the people.

While there are many important things occupying the minds and efforts of the citizens today—including the major item of winning a war—this question, too, should be given full consideration by every qualified voter in the county. It is broad in scope, regardless of whether one looks at it from the moral, the political, or the economic standpoint.

Many respected citizens of conscientious belief and firm conviction see the question from opposing viewpoints; those on both sides are entitled to their opinions and have a right to argue their views. It remains a blessing of democracy that a man has the right to think his own thoughts and to express his own views—and there remains the sacred right of franchise, through which a freholder can make his opinion count at the polls.

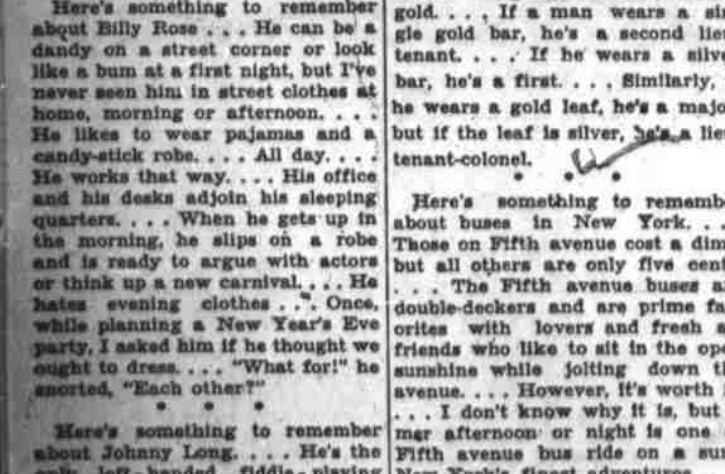

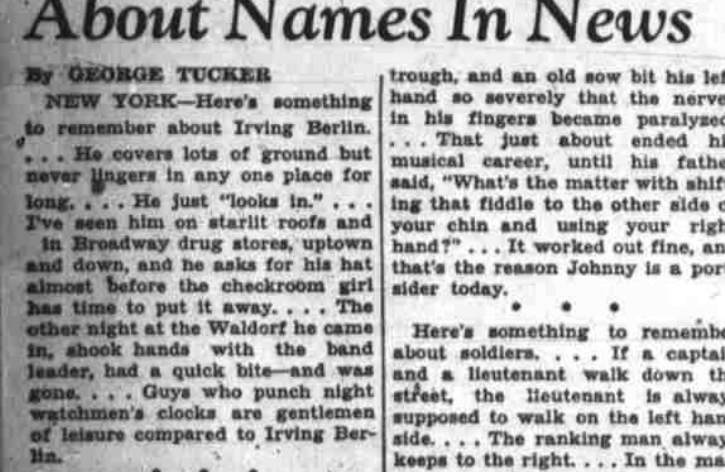

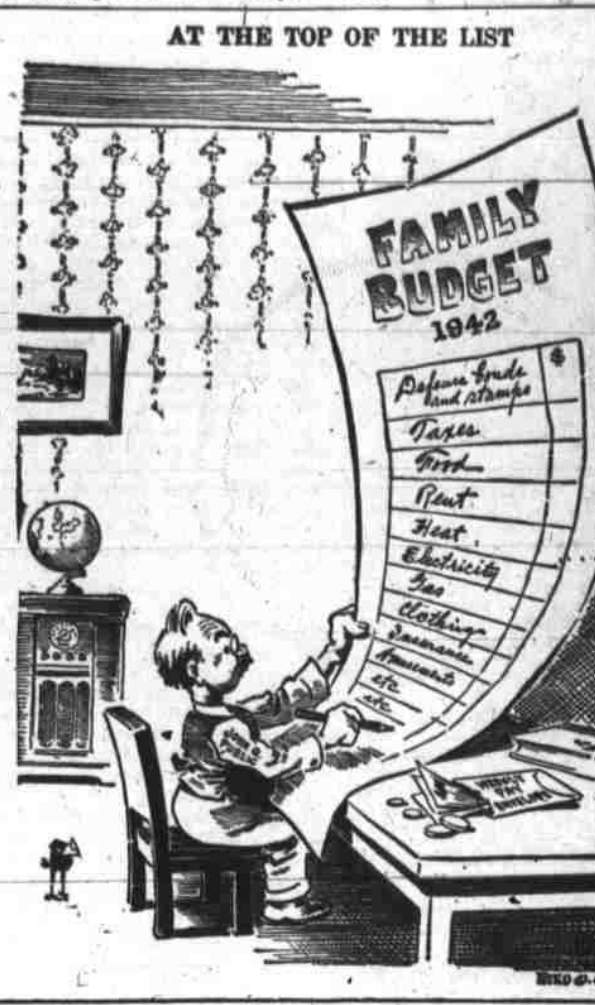

That being true, it is a duty of every citizen to make use of that right, and to fulfill his obligation as a citizen in helping decide whatever issue that affects him and his community.

This election may not be a permanent solution of the issue. The next best thing Howard county people can do, as voters, is to express themselves with a mass poll. When the majority has spoken, the majority rules. But the majority must speak, by marking ballots.

The English language contains approximately 700,000 words, as well as 300,000 more terms considered obsolete or unsuitable for the home.

Discussion Slated On Fish Production

How farmers and ranchers may raise cash crops with a very little trouble in the stock ponds and lakes will be discussed at a meeting here next Wednesday. Homer G. Townes, a fish-growing specialist, will hold the meeting in the civil service room in the post office basement at 2:30 p. m. that date. Experiments have shown that an acre surface of water often will produce a greater profit in fish than an acre of nearby land. Secret lies in feeding the fish, which is little trouble and little cost. Commercial fertilizer, cottonseed meal or barnyard manure is thrown into the shallow water of the pool, speeding growth of natural vegetation in the water on which the fish thrive.

Women Release Big War Relief Fund

FORT WORTH, May 1. (AP) — Delegates to the fifty-first annual meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs have authorized the release of a $75,000 war service fund which has been frozen for 20 years.

Raised for relief work in World War I, the war's sudden end left $75,000 in the treasury. The federation in 1922 ordered the money impounded for 40 years, only the income from it to be spent.

Today's action authorized the executive committee to dip into the principal for any war emergency service deemed worthy.

Coal supplies the essential ingredients for many of the plastics used today in aircraft construction.

DO YOU KNOW?

1. That your vote tomorrow will not in any way affect funds allocated to old age pensions and school.
2. That crime cost the U. S. Government $15,000,000,000 annually. An editorial in the Los Angeles Times Sunday, October 26, stated that booze is "a considerable factor in something over one-half of all breaches of the law. The same editorial stated that 60 percent of all arrests in Los Angeles is on that count and cost the city $2,360,000. Our nation spends annually $5,000,000,000 for liquors. The police record of Ft. Worth on driving cars while intoxicated in 1932 were 12 (Dry). This increased to 214 in 1937. This is a comparative record of other cities in general. It is a known fact that in Amarillo, Texas, a wet city, the record reached a peak in 1940 in car accidents. The records are open in Howard County for your investigation.
3. That the taxpayers of the United States are spending $15.33 per pupil on education, and $46.15 per capita on liquor.
4. That adults are buying legalized liquor in Howard County and passing it on to minors.
5. That the F.B.I. stated that the arrests of women for drunkenness in 1941 increased 35.4% over 1940 and driving while drunk increased 38.3%.
6. That the F.B.I. recently made an astonishing report that the increasing arrests for drunkenness over an 8 year period was 69%. And the increased arrests while driving while drunk over the same period was 52.5%.
7. That more than 80% of all inmates of county jails, state penitentiaries, and Federal prisons are there because of the crimes with alcohol at the bottom.
8. That since the repeal of the 18th Amendment there have been 84 men, women and children killed every day on the highways by drinking drivers.
