By WALTER B. CLAUSEN
PEARL HARBOR, T. M., Aug. 22 (AP)—The United States Marines are settling old scores with the Japanese by wide margins, taking the lives of 22 of the enemy for each American Devil-Dog killed in recent actions in the Solomons.

hewing their way through American lines. When the action ended late Thursday 670 of the enemy had died and the remaining 50 were prisoners, the communique said. This victory cost the Marines the disproportionate toll of only 22 killed and 72 wounded.

Second in command of the Marine raiders was Major James Roosevelt, the president's eldest son. Admiral Nimitz said the raid was a success and American casualties were light.

US Subs Blast More Jap Ships; Britain Claims Big Toll

Nation Beginning To Feel Pinch Of Manpower Demand

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Wide World War Analyst
The latest official reminder of the mounting demands of the armed forces means that the United States is just now beginning to feel the manpower pinch that long since has become painful on Britain, Germany, Russia and every major belligerent.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service chief, says that men are needed "at a rate which would have been considered super-human a year ago." He advises married men without children to prepare for early summons to military duty.

Nearly a half million American married men were drafted in the first World war and every prospect is that married men will be called on in this conflict in far larger numbers and possibly in larger proportions.

The background of the manpower situation is so obscured by details and by wartime restrictions on information that a quick survey—using privileged figures—is timely.
The United States is rapidly draining the pool of men fully fit to fight. With more than 4,000,000 already under arms, as reported last month by President Roosevelt, probably more than half of the presently available, physically qualified men already are in uniform.

Unless the war shows signs of reaching a victorious conclusion far earlier than anyone has a right to expect, nearly all the remainder will be needed before the end of next year. Hershey warned months ago of the prospect that "every able-bodied young man eventually will enter the war."
The officially disclosed goal is 5,500,000 in service by the year's end, including about 1,000,000 in the navy. So there is no apparent early likelihood of reducing the rate at which men are being inducted—about 300,000 a month, congress has been told.

How much further the armed forces will be expanded is a matter of speculation, but there have been repeated estimates of 16,000,000. It is not underestimating the demands of total war.
One obvious way to meet some of the demands is to lower the draft limits to take youths of 18 and 19, as was done late in 1918. The war department has urged this step repeatedly.

Our own past experience and the experience of other industrial nations in the current conflict are the best guides to what lies ahead.
In Britain, two out of every three persons between the ages of 14 and 65, we are informed, are working full time in the armed forces, civilian defense or war industry. This, it is estimated, is equivalent to a mobilization of 60,000,000 people in the United States, or nearly half our total population.

In Russia, possibly 20,000,000 men are soldiers. Nazi Germany, with a population a third less than ours, is notoriously hard put to maintain 9,000,000 men in its armed forces and at the same time keep industrial wheels turning with workers from vast lands. Japan long since was completely mobilized for war.

Altogether, such warnings as Hershey's seem conservative enough.

Six Vessels Are Sunk Or Damaged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—American submarines, steadily blasting away at Japan's extended lines of communication in the Pacific, have sunk or damaged six more enemy ships, the navy reported today.

While these successful attacks were carried out independently of the offensive in the Solomon Islands, one was part of a campaign of attrition against Japanese in the Aleutians area.

The navy gave this account of the action:
In the western Pacific—sunk, two large cargo ships and one large transport; possibly sunk, one destroyer; damaged, one medium-sized cargo ship which suffered a torpedo hit.

In the Aleutians area—Sunk, one large merchant ship.
United States submarines to date have sunk 60 Jap ships of all types, possibly sunk 16, and damaged 18. Much of their work in recent weeks has been done in the Aleutians area where they have cooperated with surface and air forces to blast enemy merchant and warship concentrations in the vicinity of Kiska Island.

Sinking of the merchant ship raised the enemy's reported losses in the Aleutians to 11 ships sunk, one believed sunk, and 12 damaged.

Glider Sergeants Big Buddies—The T'n T Twins

Damon and Pythias were hardly less inseparable than a pair of technical sergeants at the Big Spring Pre-Glider school.

Since they met up at a recruit center on June 28, 1940, Tech. Sgt. Lewis F. Tornabene, formerly of McDonald, Pa., and Tech. Sgt. Charles E. Pipton, Corbin, Ky., have never been apart.
Thrown together at first, they at once became "buddies" in the fullest sense of the word as only military men know it. Tornabene and Pipton, the "T'n T" twins, were assigned to Chanut Field, Ill., and served in two outfits.

Then came orders to transfer to Kelly Field to the 74th air base unit, and both scuttled off for Texas. Later they were moved simultaneously to Luke Field, near Phoenix, Ariz. Subsequently the buddies were dispatched to Big Spring as technical inspectors.
But that they have been together for that long isn't the payoff—everytime one has merited a promotion, the other had an identical advancement announced the same date.

Nicaragua, Central America's largest country, has an area of 57,000 square miles.

Axis Has Lost Million Tons During War

LONDON, Sunday, Aug. 22. (AP)—The ceaseless campaign by the Royal Navy and the RAF has cost axis 1,000,000 tons of shipping sunk in the North Sea and the English channel since the beginning of the war, out of total axis losses of 6,000,000 tons and 244 warships destroyed, captured or damaged, the ministry of information reported today.

In a statement based on admiralty figures, the ministry of information said the North Sea and channel operations had cost the axis 223 supply ships sunk or captured and 135 vessels, including warships, severely damaged.

These operations, an important part of the world-wide attack on axis shipping, are particularly significant because the overburdening of German railways has forced the nazis to rely more and more on coastal shipping, the ministry said.

"PROPAGANDA TROOPS"

Sugar Stamp No. 8 Now In Effect

Sugar stamp No. 8 and bonus stamp No. 7 expired at midnight Saturday night, and apparently most ration book holders took advantage of the extra two pounds which were made available on No. 7.

Stamp No. 8, which is now good, permits sugar to be purchased for a longer period of time, although the quota has not been raised. The quota for the entire period from now to Oct. 31 may be purchased, but the one-half pound per week allowable is still in effect.

General Brett Makes Talk To New Officers

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Aug. 22. (AP)—Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett, leader of the army aviation forces that are smashing at the Japanese in the Australian area, promised only hard work, headaches and thanklessness to an officers' training class graduated from the air forces technical training school here today.

The presence of General Brett, second in command to General MacArthur in the southwest Pacific, was a closely-guarded military secret until the moment he stepped on the platform to address the graduates.

"I am here to visit my family and to get a few days' rest," he said.
Mrs. Brett and their two daughters, Mrs. B. A. Schriever and Miss Lucille Brett, have made their home at Miami Beach since the war started. His son-in-law is serving overseas, and his son, Devot Brett, is attending West Point.

"No glory and no glamour" is in store for the new ground officers, said General Brett, yet "the man who is lucky enough to come into combat with the enemy is luckier if he has a good ground crew behind him."
One glum, morose ground officer can "do more damage than 25 cases of malaria," he added.

"The fighting is absolutely dependent upon the ground," said the officer. "You carry the load. It is a thankless job with no glory and no glamour."

Canvass Tuesday Launches City's Scrap Round-Up

Mayor Asks Cooperation

Urging every man, woman and child in Big Spring to hasten the day of victory by salvaging needed scrap materials, Mayor G. D. Dunham Saturday pledged full support of the city in the local salvage campaign, set Tuesday as the day for a citywide canvass, and voiced confidence that the community would yield a great amount of materials needed in the war production effort. Said the mayor in a proclamation:

"By turning over to the Salvage Committee of Big Spring every available pound of old materials, we all can make a direct and helpful contribution to our national victory effort.

"Every 50 pounds of steel means another 100 mm. shell; a discarded doorknob will help make dozens of cartridge cases; 25 tons of steel will make another tank.

"I call upon every resident to search his home carefully from cellar to attic, looking for scrap iron and steel, copper, brass, zinc, aluminum, rubber, rope, burlap. Every one of these materials is needed today by American industry for manufacture into weapons and equipment for our armed forces.

"There are many tons of valuable scrap in Big Spring. We must collect every pound of it and see that it gets into America's war plants. Our steel mills, tank factories, shipyards, airplane plants and other war industries are already exceeding their former production records. We can help them attain even higher production by sending them all the scrap materials we can find.

"As you search for scrap in your own home, remember that the scrap you are looking for will give our armed forces more weapons to win a quicker victory."

Metals, Rubber And Burlap Wanted From Every Household

Backed by a proclamation from the mayor, pledges of full cooperation from the four service clubs and all-out participation by the city's Girl Scout troops, Big Spring swings this week into a Junk Round-Up designed to get every ounce of available materials needed for the war production plants.

Tuesday, Aug. 25, is the big day of the week, when Girl Scouts—possibly 150 or more of them from eight troops—will canvass the entire residential area while service club men call on all business houses. This blanket contact is for the purpose of getting pledge cards signed—which simply pledge the householder to clean up his place and make available all pieces of salvage, no matter how large or small.

Know Soldier Before You Write Him

RANDOLPH FIELD, Tex., Aug. 22. (AP)—Don't write to a soldier unless you know him personally. That was the request and warning of Col. Frank J. Coleman, assistant chief of staff, Gulf Coast Army Air forces training center, today as he explained misguided enthusiasm of many clubs and high school students seeking to be friendly with soldiers through correspondence was hurting the war effort.

Correspondence with unknown persons by soldiers might easily be a means of spies obtaining information the war department wants kept secret, he explained. Col. Coleman said he did not mean that writing letters to soldiers who are relatives or friends should stop. This is encouraged by the army but unsolicited letters from persons unknown to the soldiers are not.

Here's what's wanted:
Scrap iron, steel, copper, brass, zinc, aluminum, rubber, rope, burlap.

All individual has to do is to scrape all such items from his own place and do one of four things:

Put the junk into the hands of a scrap dealer;

Take it to the Salvage Depot—a special pen which will be up Monday on Main street between Third and Fourth;

Notify the chamber of commerce (Phone No. 4) that a supply of scrap on hand is too large for easy handling and a truck is needed;

Put the scrap items out for the Scouts, or place them in piles in your own block.

"Salvage Depot" signs will be placed throughout the city—probably one to every few blocks, and from those places of accumulation, city trucks will pick up the junk. All net proceeds from sale of scrap handled through the city will be turned over to the Girl Scout organizations.

The latter method of disposal of the salvage is the preferred one, since through this method the city can handle all pickups, and the Girl Scouts will get the financial benefit.

"We don't think it is asking too much of a person to request that he walk a block or two with the salvage material collected at his place," said B. J. McDaniel, salvage chairman. "If he has too much to be moved, a call can be made to salvage headquarters at the chamber of commerce and a truck will be sent to pick up the material."

McDaniel appealed for complete response to the salvage drive. Girl scouts, service club members and many others are giving their time in an effort to make the program 100 per cent successful, he said, and all citizens are asked to be just as patriotic.

All the metals, rubber, etc., asked for are materials that are desperately needed to keep war factories turning out finished products for our war," he said. It makes no difference how small an amount your attic, basement or yard might yield—it's just that much scrap to slip a Jap."

McDaniel reported that the Girl Scout organization and service clubs were in readiness for the Tuesday canvass. Pledge cards have been prepared for presentation, the city has been districted. The campaign takes on the proportions of a Commando raid Tuesday.

Boilermakers To Decide On Opening Union To Women

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 22. (AP)—The time has come when the boilermakers have to make up their minds about women.

With women flocking to war plants by the hundreds, they have to decide once and for all: will they or won't they admit women to the union?

Members of the AFL Boilermakers Union local 29 at the Moore Drydock company, have started the ball rolling. This week they took a poll of day shift workers, and determined that, locally, the boilermakers favor issuing union cards to women by a vote of 120 to 60.

It will be three months or more, Ed Ryan, business agent of the Moore local estimated, before the nationwide vote of the National Brotherhood of Boilermakers is in.

Meantime those feminine welders, buggers, and sheet metal workers among the 100 women presently employed at Moore must operate under a work permit issued to them free of charge by the local.

Lyric Feature Has Mystery With Comedy

Murder reaches its bony fingers into the New Orleans Mardi Gras for a couple of innocent victims, and Paramount's mirth-packed mystery, "Night in New Orleans" is off to a flying, hilarious start, a pace which it manages to maintain to the surprise finish. The picture is at the Lyric theatre today and Monday.

The players are a compact group of star names including Preston Foster, Patricia Morison, Albert Dekker, Charles Butterworth and Cecil Kellaway.

Foster, as the detective who is involved in the murder of a leading New Orleans figure, is a live-wire actor well-deserving of his increasing popularity. His role in "Night in New Orleans" calls for a sense of humor and comedy timing, both of which he seems to have in abundance.

A new blonde Patricia Morison plays opposite Foster as his scatterbrained wife and self-appointed assistant. It is because of her that Foster is implicated in the murder. In her younger and flightier days Patricia had written some flaming love letters to the murdered man and it is when Foster breaks into his house to retrieve them, that he gets into trouble. Foster's story is that he found the man on the floor, already dead.

Albert Dekker, a police lieutenant, is delighted at the opportunity to pin the crime on Foster, his rival for the captaincy, and he piles up evidence against that innocent gent faster than you can say "Night in New Orleans."

Whereupon Foster and his frau go to work to extricate themselves, and excitement and fun go hand-in-hand with them.

Both Butterworth and Kellaway have important parts and acquit themselves with their usual finesse. There's a very fine contribution by Paul Hurst, a veteran actor who's always good for a laugh.

Abbott, Costello Take Their Antics To The South Seas In Ritz Feature

Comedians Have New Hit In 'Pardon My Sarong'

Abbott and Costello in their brief but spectacular career have portrayed detectives, cowboys, sailors, soldiers, mechanics, and carnivalspielers.

In their newest Universal comedy, "Pardon My Sarong" at the Ritz theatre today and Monday, they will appear as bus drivers who later become castaways on an uncharted south sea island.

According to advance announcements, the new vehicle takes the famous comedians halfway around the globe in a combination chase, treasure hunt and encounter with a tribe of south seas dancing beauties.

Virginia Bruce has the leading feminine role and the very imposing cast includes Robert Paige and Laif Erickson. Other notables in the line-up are Lionel Atwill, Nan Wynn and Samuel S. Hinds.

Entertaining novelties are promised by the appearance of Tip, Tap and Toe, dancers, the Sarong Dancing Girls and the Four-Ink Spots of radio, stage and juke-box fame.

Many new numbers are listed in the musical score which was supervised by Charles Previn. Selections include "Island of the Moon," "Lovely Luana," "Vingo Jingo," "Do I Worry," "Java Jive" and "Shout, Brother, Shout."

The last three numbers are presented by The Four Ink Spots.

Three well known Hollywood movie scribes wrote the original screen play. They are Truse Boardman, Nat Perrin and John Grant.

The photography, described as unusually effective, is credited to cameraman Milton Krasner.

Erle C. Kenton, rated as one of the most successful comedy-makers, was the director and the picture, a Mayfair Production, was made under the skilled associate producership of Alex Gottlieb.

Nuts On Islands—Susan "Tagalong" Levine finds it difficult to choose between goofy Lou Costello and oh-so-romantic Bud Abbott in "Pardon My Sarong," the Ritz theatre's feature for today and Monday. Newest of the laugh riots put up by the zany pair, "Pardon My Sarong," presents Lou and Bud as a couple of truck drivers who by devious methods, get stranded on an island. You go on from there.

In Thriller—Preston Foster, Patricia Morison and Albert Dekker are starred in the triple-deck murder thriller, "Night in New Orleans," which plays today and Monday at the Lyric theatre. It has a full quota of thrills, but there is a comedy element, too.

There'll Be A Good View Of Moon In Eclipse Next Tuesday Evening

Big Spring, as well as every other point in the Americas, will be a ring-side seat Tuesday for a total eclipse of the moon.

No dimmy nicking of the old cheese, this eclipse will start at 8:02 p. m. and progress in various stages until 1:34 a. m. the following day, according to information from Chas. H. Newton, in charge of the U. S. weather bureau at the airport.

Brushing up on his lunar eclipse, Newton has come up with some interesting facts on the subject.

For instance, the word eclipse is derived from the Greek term meaning "faint" or "awoon." Astronomically, it means the darkening of a heavenly body, usually the sun or the moon.

As for the moon, its eclipses are caused by passing through the shadow of the earth, whereas the sun's eclipse is produced by the earth or some part of it passing through the shadow of the moon—which is all right, too.

Shadows which produce the eclipse are divided into two parts, to umbra (party of the first part) or inner shadow from which direct sunlight is excluded and the penumbra (party of the second part) or outer shadow which only partially excludes direct sunlight.

None need worry about the earth's shadow reaching out far enough to plaster the moon with a spot of darkness, for the cone-shaped shadow arrows out to a fine point, if you want to split hairs, some 857,000 miles away. You can allow 14,000 miles either way, depending on where the sun happens to be at the moment, but that little bit won't matter since the moon is a mere 238,000 miles over yonder way.

According to the figures which Newton pulled out of his astronomical sleeve, the moon is going to duck around the center of the earth's shadow and thus reduce its total fade-out to one hour and 34 minutes instead of the two hours which would be its lot were it strictly on the beam.

Strangely, after the moon has wholly entered the umbra, its disc is usually still visible but with a coppery hue. Atmosphere of the earth turns this trick by bending rays from the sun back into the umbra. This same atmosphere squeezes out the blue from the sunlight to give the sky its color and light that gets on through is reddened.

Scientists don't chew their nails over lunar eclipses as they do over those of the sun, but John Q. Public still loves to oggle at the free phenomenon, which requires none of that smoked-glass nonsense.

The ancients put quite a bit of store by these tricks of the moon, and the date of the Christian era is determined by a lunar eclipse that occurred upon the night before Herod died.

For those who wish to lean back in a good lawn chair and follow the heavenly show, stage by stage, this is the time table: Moon enters penumbra (remember?) at 8:02 p. m. Aug. 25, moves into the umbra (the real McCoy) at 8:01 p. m., reaches the total stage of 10:01 p. m.; gets to the middle of the complete fade-out at 10:48 p. m.; and ends the umbra at 11:35 p. m.; Aug. 26 (this thing's dragging out), and the penumbra (it's all over now) at 1:34 a. m.

East Siders In New Story At The Queen

There is something doing every minute in "Smart Alecks," Monogram's East Side Kids picture which plays today and Monday at the Queen theatre. Always a lively bunch of youngsters, the East Siders outdo themselves in this entertaining film, and make it perhaps the most interesting of their entire series.

As usual, the group is headed by Leo Gorcey, Bobby Jordan, Hunts Hall and Gabriel Dell, members of the original sextette of boys and screen fame, who lead proceedings at a swift pace. The boys go from comedy to dramatic moments with a facility which stamps them as actors of no mean ability. The hard-bitten little Stanley Clements is a new member of the gang, and should prove an ideal running mate for the other boys.

Love interest in the story is supplied by Roger Pryor and the charming Gale Storm, and "Slapsy" Maxie Rosenbloom is seen as the gangster who causes all the trouble.

In the story, one of the East Side Kids goes to jail when he is unjustly convicted of complicity in a robbery committed by Rosenbloom and another gangster. The boys are later apprehended, but a jail break returns the criminals to liberty, to wreak vengeance on the boys who aided in sending them to prison. The story reaches its climax in a series of thrilling incidents.

The Marxes—Still unsurpassed as a comedy combination outstanding successes is "The Big Store." Here Groucho, Chico and Harpo are presented in a scene from this laugh riot which plays today and Monday at the State theatre.

Program Due Soon To Check Inflation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—President Roosevelt hopes to have something concrete in a week or two on additional plans for combating inflation.

He told of this at a press conference in saying that pretty good progress was being made. He has been talking the matter over with perhaps 40 or 50 people, he said, among them Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, one of his special advisers.

CAIRO, (AP)—One day soon a 93-year-old lady here is going to have a pleasant surprise. Her grandson, who is a corporal rearunner on a United States Army Air Corps four-engine bomber, has arrived in the Middle East on duty, and now will be within furlough distance of his parents' old home. The corporal was born in the United States, but his parents emigrated from the Middle East forty years ago.

He was a theater manager in Santa Fe, and elected for the heavy bombardment group in the Air Corps. When he pays a visit to his ancestral home he should have no language difficulties, as he speaks Arabic fluently—he's the only man of his unit who can hold his own in the local bazaars.

This Dog Catches Develops Footwork

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—City constablen, investigating the constantly broken-down dog catcher's truck, discovered a mighty conscientious dog catcher.

Studying Jack Turner's daily records, the council noted two stray dogs were impounded one day while the truck was in the repair shop.

"He must have chased 'em on foot," one councilman surmised.

Sub Is The Place For Philosophy

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Torpedoes directed by a sound philosophy ought to be rather effective. The combination of submarines and metaphysics is not as paradoxical as it seems.

That is the word of the Rev. Edward A. McGrath, S. J., head of the department of philosophy at Marquette University, who reports the strangest request he has ever received—from an ensign on submarine duty for books on philosophy.

The ensign is Edward F. Sullivan, Jr., of Sheboygan, Wis., who received his bachelor of science degree from Marquette in 1941.

"My taste of the scholastic system of philosophy at Marquette," he wrote Ensign Sullivan, "left me with ambitions of further delving into the subject. The long patrols of a submarine leave me with an opportunity, in fact an exigency, to read."

Father McGrath is assembling a library to send to him.

City Housing Problem Grows More Serious

Housing continued as an unsolved and increasingly acute problem as another week slid past in Big Spring.

The chamber of commerce listing service showed requests on file by 61 individuals for furnished apartments or houses, and in many cases the individuals and their families were in town frantically waiting to grasp the first presentable offering for quarters. Some few were anticipating being moved here and were looking ahead.

Added to these were requests asking for 23 unfurnished houses. Although there were not many sending in advanced bids for rooms there were a few asking for such accommodations.

The only ray of hope came during the week on the strength of a women's committee named by the chamber of commerce to seek quarters for women who will be assigned to the army air school. Through Friday they had 41 pledges from residents that they would accommodate these women with rooms.

Capt. Harry W. Nolen, billeting officer for the armed forces here, said Friday that the situation toward normal at the Vernon plant but that he had received more listings in recent days than since he had opened his office in the city hall. Those who have homes or apartments which will be vacant at a later date were urged by Capt. Nolen to call his office and list them.

Chinese Make Fresh Gains

CHUNGKING, Aug. 22 (AP)—The recapture of Yushan and Yingtin in Kiangsi province has extended the Chinese hold on the middle section of the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway to a width of 80 miles, the Chinese Central News Agency declared today.

The Agency noted that the occupation of these cities as well as of Shangiao, Kwaki and Kwang-feng within the past 48 hours is a feat never before accomplished by the Chinese.

Yingtin, was an obscure station which became a boom town after the Japanese snipped off two ends of the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway. Yingtin, 70 miles south-east of Nanchang, the Japanese base in Kiangsi, and 10 miles north of Kwaki, represents the western-most recovery of the line by the Chinese.

Yushan, was formerly the site of an important Chinese airfield which the Japanese considered a real advance base for air attacks on Japan proper, the agency said. It is only about five miles from the Chekiang border in Kiangsi province and is the easternmost advance of the Chinese in fighting for the railroad.

Wholesale Turnover In Mitchell Co.

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 22. (SpI) Mitchell county engaged in a wholesale changing of officials in the second democratic primary today.

A. F. King overcame W. W. Porter in the race for county judge, replacing the incumbent by 1,484 votes to 1,236 for Porter.

In the sheriff's race, left open previously when Dick Ratliff, incumbent, did not announce, Nick Narrell eased by Jack Delaney in a red-hot race. Narrell polled 1,399 votes to 1,237 for Delaney.

Lawrence Candier got 758 votes to 712 for Jack Smith, incumbent, in the county commissioner's No. 1 race. Moody Ritzhardson apparently had won over S. O. Givens, incumbent, in the commissioner No. 4 race, getting 265 to 335 for Givens. Only commissioner to come through was Ross Hargrove in No. 3 with 75 votes as against 28 for J. S. Boyd. The Hyman box with about 50 votes was still out but was believed to be insufficient to change the result in this or any other races.

In the state representative's race, Charles Jones, Fisher county, ran second to Harley Sadler, Sweetwater. Jones polled 1,196 and Sadler 1,486.

You Have To Be Pretty Good To Pass Test For Drivers' License

AUSTIN, Aug. 22.—There's nothing simple about these Texas drivers' license examinations, and you have to prove to the examiner that you're pretty good physically as well as smart enough to know the answers.

The first part of your examination is an eye test. It is similar to that test given by any oculist when testing for glasses.

Sitting in a chair beside the examiner, you must read certain letters on a board about 30 feet away. The examiner covers one of your eyes and tells you to read the letters. The procedure is repeated with the other eye.

If your vision is less than 40 per cent as sharp as the standard you will not be passed. If you cannot pass the test without wearing glasses, you will be required to wear glasses while driving.

Value of this test is obvious. There are a lot of near and far-sighted people driving on the highway who cannot judge distance or see adequately at night.

Next come road signs — those little standards dotting every highway, warning you a curve or a railroad crossing is ahead, repeatedly advising you to slow down and specifying speed limits.

Sixty per cent of the applicants flunk these sign questions. Here's what you know:

A yellow octagonal sign with black letters means stop.
A yellow diamond sign with black letters means danger.
A yellow square with black letters means caution.

There are more of them. . . . Major proportion of exam failures come on the written tests for road rules.

The average driver at one time or other has observed all these rules. Yet he cannot answer all of them in writing.

Here are answers to some of the most commonly asked questions:

Q. What essential equipment must your car have?
A. Foot and hand brakes; two headlights and red tail light (which can be seen 500 feet back of your car); a horn that can be heard 200 feet away; muffler and rear view mirror.

Q. What equipment must your car not have?
A. Any red light showing to the front; siren, bell, whistle or air horn; muffler cut-out; spotlight; anything extending over running board and fenders.

Q. What should you do when you're involved in an accident?
A. Stop immediately and render all possible aid to the victim; notify nearest police officer; make a written report of every accident involving a death or injury to person or total estimated property damage of $50 and send the report within 48 hours to the department of public safety in Austin; if you run into a vehicle that doesn't have a driver or if you do damage to property, leave your name and address on the vehicle or property so that the owner may find it when he returns.

Q. How quickly should your foot and hand brake stop your car?
A. Within 45 feet from a speed of 20 miles an hour.

Q. What are speed limits?
A. For cars, 30 miles an hour in cities day and night, 60 on highways in day, 55 on highways at night.

Q. In what places on the highway must you never drive to the left of the center of the roadway?
A. Approaching a bridge, viaduct or tunnel; at railroad crossing or underpass; intersections; approaching top of hill or on a curve where you cannot see 500 feet ahead; where approaching car is so close that it is not safe to cross the center line; where there are two or more traffic lanes in each direction.

Q. When must you never pass and overtake a car?
A. Never on curves, hills, intersections or when approaching within 150 feet of any bridge or viaduct not more than 18 feet in width.

Q. What does a blinking red and yellow traffic light mean?
A. Stop on blinking red, go slowly through blinking yellow.

Q. If you're driving on a slippery highway and start skidding, what should you do?
A. Never apply the brakes; turn your steering wheel in the direction of the skid and do not disengage the clutch.

'Services' To Be Put Under Price Ceiling

Notice that many special services will be required to conform to price ceiling regulations in the near future was announced by the local rationing board, upon receipt of instructions from the OPA.

Exact number of services to be affected was not immediately determined, but several which are specified as exempt from the regulations were set out in the instructions. Persons engaged in public services other than those in the following list should contact the rationing board: motion picture shows, cleaning and pressing shops, advertising (including radio), insurance, press services, etc.

Persons or firms engaged in performing services which come under the new regulations must meet the following requirements:

1. Preserve for examination by the OPA all existing records relating to prices which were charged or pricing methods used for such of those consumer services as supplied during March, 1942, and during prices for supply of such consumer services during such month; and
2. Prepare on or before Sept. 1 to the full extent of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours a statement showing:
  - a. The highest prices charged for consumer services supplied during March, 1942, for which prices were regularly quoted in that month;
  - b. The pricing method, if any, regularly used during March, and
  - c. All customary allowances, discounts and other price differentials.

Duplicates of this statement shall be filed on or before Sept. 10, with the appropriate war price and rationing board of the OPA.

Army Bands Wanting Men

Bandmen are wanted to fill vacancies in the Army Air Forces bands, Sgt. Edwin R. Turner, recruiter, said here Saturday.

White men between the ages of 45 and 60 years and who are otherwise qualified for enlistment may apply. Deadline for this type of enlistment is about Sept. 21. So far there have been no restrictions on the kinds of instruments needed. Full details may be had from Sgt. Turner in the postoffice basement.

In a totally different field, experienced mechanics and radio men who want to serve in the U. S. Army Air Forces may enlist now for immediate assignment to work on planes and equipment, according to Sgt. Turner. The air force needs all the men it can get now who are experienced in the use of hand tools.

"Of course," Sgt. Turner added, "we don't expect a man who has been, say, an electric refrigerator serviceman to go right to work on an airplane engine and fix it. He'll have to be given some sort of training, but he'll be trained on the job."

High School Grads Getting Ready To Have Try At College Studies

Summer heat may still be bearing down, but you can't get a group of '42 high school grads to worry about the weather.

Their minds are on fraternities, sororities, early morning classes, clothes, expenses and a host of other related subjects concerning their new scholastic adventure—college.

Some already are toiling over college lessons, having gone directly from June graduation exercises to places of higher learning which now operate on a full-year basis due to the emergency. This is true of five of the nine who have specified Texas A. & M. as their college. Twenty-two others are going to a dozen colleges and universities sprinkled about the state.

Those who prefer A. & M. are Calvin Boykin, Dean Miller, Donald Patton, Delbert Shultz, C. A. Smith, Howard Smith, Hayes Stripling, Louis Thompson and James Tidwell. Texas University came second with eight headed that way. They are Jack Crenshaw, Raleigh Guiley, Wofford Hardy, Emily Frager, Shirley Robbins, Frank Sholte, Travis Smith, Grover Cunningham.

Three girls will be off for NTSTC at Denton; Cornelia Frazier, Gloria Nall and Bettye Newton. Headed for Denton is Lorena Brooks, who will attend TSCW. Polly Roberts enrolled at TSCW in June. Verna Jo Stevens plans to enter Texas Tech at the beginning of the first semester.

Robbie Finer will attend Baylor University. Jessie Rhea and W. E. Plunkett's choice is Sul Ross. Paul Kaech has accepted an offer from SMU to play football, as has Frank Barton from Southwestern University and Horace Bostick from TCU. Charles Harrell will attend Schreiner Institute. Doris Satterwhite is entering in the vocational field of nursing and will be at Baylor Hospital in Dallas.

Other grads are to return to high school for a postgraduate course, attend business school, take beauty courses, or go into defense work and other jobs.

Nelson Acts With Care On Cargo Planes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Production Chief Donald M. Nelson said today he wanted to "go down the line" with Henry J. Kaiser on the latter's proposal for mass building of huge cargo planes but that many questions had to be answered before Kaiser could be told to go ahead.

Nelson said he felt that cargo planes might prove an important part of the production program, and thought the navy would be delighted to have them. But, he added, nothing must be allowed to combat planes.

Kaiser, who has broken records for building cargo ships on the Pacific coast, came to Washington recently with plans for making the cargo planes at his shipyards. It was understood that Nelson and other officials had decided to proceed with the program and that a letter of intent would be issued. The letter when written, however, turned out to be a request for more information.

Credit To Be Given On The New Course

Pre-flight training with credit toward graduation will be offered at Big Spring high school when the new term opens on Sept. 5, it was announced Saturday by Supt. W. C. Blankenship.

Although similar courses have been offered here under CAA regulations in the past, this marks the first time that the training has become a part of the school curriculum and as a course exclusively for high school students. It is being undertaken in accordance with a request from the U. S. office of education, which in turn set it in motion following parleys with army and navy leaders.

Joe E. Ratliff, a former member of the Big Spring school instructional staff and currently teaching a similar course in the U. S. Naval Reserve Aviation Base at New Orleans, will be instructor for the course.

John A. Coffey, high school principal, said that not only could the course count toward graduation, but that it might be taken as a fifth subject where youths had a sufficiently scholastic background to warrant their carrying that many subjects.

"The course will not be a 'snag,' Blankenship warned, but any student of average ability who is willing to apply himself should experience no difficulty in successfully completing the course. This means that a 'knack' for mechanics or science is not necessary.

Although there is no guarantee that students completing the course of study will be able to pass the Civil Aeronautics Authority examination for civilian pilot training, it is considered probable that those with credit would satisfy the CAA requirements.

There is no obligation to the army or navy by taking the course, but Blankenship said that "it should not be forgotten that the prime objective of the program is to train pilots." Those who take it will probably in effect be grabbing an inside rail in their career as pilots if and when they take that step.

Subjects to be taught include aerodynamics, airplane engines, aircraft communications, air navigation, Civil Air Regulations, and identification of aircraft.

Although it is for high school students, if there are enough out-of-school men from 18 to 28 who wish a class, one might be arranged after school hours. The training is being offered along with hundreds of other schools over the nation in an effort to overcome a pilot and ground crew bottleneck in our all-out efforts to win the war. "To fly 185,000 planes will require a total of more than 2,000,000 pilots, bombardiers, navigators, mechanics and trained men," said the superintendent and the CAA course is a step to meet that demand.

Rains of both last weekend and on Saturday of this week boosted the prospects considerably for both cotton and feed crops. Only three areas out of the 10 in Texas were awarded more degrees than this (area II), W. E. Williams, Alpina, district supervisor of vocational agriculture, has announced.

At the same time, the record was made more impressive by the fact that only one area in the state has fewer schools than the territory served by Williams.

Among Lone Star Farmer degrees, to which Williams referred, awarded in this immediate area were: M. E. Templeton, Sweetwater; Jeff Anderson, instructor; James Hart, Garland Strain, Max Cowell and Wallace Hestond, all of Colorado City; F. C. Schillingburg, instructor; A. J. Barron, Charles Finley, Leland Hamilton, and Wayland Roberts, all of Lorraine; Ed F. Brown, instructor; Ewing McIntire, Sterling City; H. M. Carter, instructor.

Ceiling Price On Silver Is Raised

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The state department announced tonight that the ceiling price on imported silver would be raised from 35 3/8 cents to 45 cents an ounce Aug. 31.

The move apparently was designed to encourage Mexican silver mining and thus increase the supplies of foreign silver available for American industrial users.

Civil Service Clamoring For Steno-Typists

Civil Service hung out an urgent "help wanted" sign Saturday, seeking to enlist as many women as possible as typists and stenographers.

Indications were that their assignment for duty in Washington, D. C., would be quick, for Lee, civil service representative, the district office in New Orleans, La., sent instructions that examinations were to be given daily and papers forwarded to the district office for grading by the fastest means.

Eligible are women 18 years of age and more by Oct. 1, 1942. Speed must be 35 words a minute or more on the typewriter and 90 words a minute shorthand.

Those classed as senior typists will go in with ratings of $1,440 a year and the same scale will prevail for those classed as junior stenographers. Those who meet minimum typing requirements may earn $1,290 per annum.

Urgency of the request for stenographic recruits for Washington duty was shown by establishment of an Aug. 29 deadline for making application. Those interested were asked to contact Lee at the city hall immediately and receive full particulars on how to proceed with their examination.

Conferences With Pupils Scheduled

Preparations for the opening of schools here Sept. 8 will this week reach the stage of contacting high school students who anticipate change in a course of study, and new students coming into the system. High School Principal John A. Coffey said Saturday.

All students who are entering Big Spring high school for the first time, or those who did not fill out probable course of study last spring, are urged to contact Coffey during this week. Unless they do by Friday, they cannot be enrolled until Sept. 9 and might have to take second choice on subjects.

Likewise, those who have reason to change the subjects which they listed last spring as their probable course of study are asked to call at Coffey's office not later than Friday. Either Coffey, Marguerite Wood or Lois Kinman will help iron out difficulties.

Next week the office force will take the schedules requested by students and work them into classes so that when they report the morning of Sept. 9, both students and teachers will have a list of classes and hours. Much confusion will be avoided and the school program get down to business immediately, said Coffey.

Baseball To Make Contribution To Army-Navy Relief Funds Today

Babe Ruth Dons Yankee Togs Again

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—Baseball figures to make its biggest contribution to the war effort tomorrow when the world champion New York Yankees and the Washington Senators clash in a doubleheader at the Yankee stadium.

Nothing has been overlooked by President Ed Barrow of the Yankees to make this the biggest ever and it wouldn't be surprising to see 80,000 fans pack the triple-decked stands and the army and navy relief funds benefit by approximately $90,000.

Like all of the major league games for the armed services, not one cent will go to private enterprises. Neither ball club will get a nickel as the players, umpires, writers, ushers, etc., will join with the fans in planking down an admittance fee. The army and navy will split the proceeds 50-50.

Aiding once again to pack a stadium which his home-run power helped to build will be 47-year-old Babe Ruth, back in a Yankee uniform for the first time since 1934. He'll shoot for the right-field bleachers, his favorite parking spot in the days when he was setting home run records, between games with the great Walter Johnson doing the hurling. Billy Evans, American league umpire when Ruth and Johnson were at their peak, will be behind the plate.

Managers Joe McCarthy and Bucky Harris will trot out their best pitching attractions. Ernie Bonham and Sid Hudson will tangle in the first game and veterans Red Ruffing and Bobo Newsom in the nightcap.

Service Pilots To Start Their Work At Kelly Field

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 22 (AP)—A central school will be established at Kelly Field, San Antonio, to train all service pilots-to-be of the Gulf Coast area. Maj. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, Gulf Coast Army Air Forces training center commander, announced today.

The new central school will begin Sept. 1 and will eliminate service pilot schools now operating at Goodfellow Field, San Antonio, Tex.; Perrin Field, Sherman, Tex.; Waco Army Flying Field, Waco, Tex., and Enid Army Flying school, Enid, Okla.

"This concentration of all service pilot candidates into a centralized school makes for efficiency and economy," Gen. Harmon explained. "Men now in their final weeks of the instructors' course at the basic flying schools will finish their work there, but all future classes will begin at Kelly Field."

THE BABE SHARPENS HIS EYE—Babe Ruth takes bat in hand and works out at Yankee Stadium in New York for an exhibition today in which he will face Walter Johnson famed speedball hurler. The catcher here is Bernie Mahoney. The Ruth-Johnson duel will be a feature of a Yankee-Senators doubleheader for the benefit of Army and Navy relief funds.

Lower Grid Attendance Is Predicted By Leo Meyer

Looking 'Em Over

With WACIL M'NAIR

Only one more week until the nation's colleges will be ready to oil up their gridiron machines and start the training grind for the 1942 season. Mid-summer predictors and forecasters already have made out their list of favorites, which, although they are subject to change as the various teams round into shape, give some indications as to where the power in the sections will be. The predictions are based for the most part on returning lettermen and the number of men lost to the service, or likely to be lost, by the individual teams.

Because they will have experienced men for every position and because most of their players will be permitted to remain in school until graduation, the Texas Aggies, last year's title winners by a nose, rule as favorites in most experts books for the coming year in the Southwest. Expected to be just a few shades paler than the Aggies are the Texas Longhorns. Texas lost all its first string last year and a few second stringers, but no less than 22 lettermen were held over. With luck, practically everybody admits that the Longhorns will be dangerous. Although not played up much by the nationwide forecasters, from purely personal observations we might say that it wouldn't surprise us if TCU should be a threat this fall.

Mission Slugger Nearing Lead In Texas Batting

DALLAS, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Texas league batting race has become a two-man battle as the teams roll into the home stretch. Dominated most of the season by Dick Wakefield, the Beaumont outfielder, it now looks like the $51,000 Detroit investment is going to have the scrap of his life to shove off the closing rush of Floyd Baker, San Antonio's slugging shortstop.

Through Wednesday Baker had clouted for a mark of 349, just seven points behind Wakefield's 356, according to averages released today by the Texas statistical bureau here.

Three veterans paced the pitching race from the percentage standpoint—John Whitehead of San Antonio with .778, Paul Dean of Houston with .773 and Hank Oana of Fort Worth with .765.

Exporters Win Two From Tulsa Oilers

BEAUMONT, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Exporters said goodbye to Beaumont for 14 days Saturday after defeating the Tulsa Oilers in both games of a doubleheader.

Earl Cook and Stub Overmire, who pitched to the last Tulsa batter, beating Hank Wyse in the first game 6 to 5, while Charlie Fuchs outpitched Joe Berry in the nightcap to win 2 to 0.

Tulsa U. To Play Service Teams

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 22 (AP)—The University of Tulsa tonight scheduled home football games with the U. S. Air Force of Waco, Tex., Sept. 26, and Randolph Field, Tex., Oct. 10.

Waco replaces Sheppard Field, Tex., on the Golden Hurricane schedule. Sheppard Field abandoned football last week.

Seven of the 10 Tulsa games will be played here.

Dodgers Tag N. Y.; Cards Keep Pace

BROOKLYN, Aug. 22 (AP)—In a game filled with heavy hitting and threatened fistfights, the Brooklyn Dodgers walloped the New York Giants, 10-5, today, weather bringing hostilities to an end in the top half of the eighth inning.

Kirby Higbe of the Dodgers started on the mound with Fiddler Bill McGee as his opponent, but both were chased to the showers early. The Dodgers, who scored in every inning except one, routed McGee in the third and continued their 10-hit attack against Bill Lohrman, Tom Sunkel and Ace Adams.

Manager Mel Ott of the Giants blasted his 22nd home run in the opening frame, but Higbe stayed on until the second when a walk to Babe Young, a single by Babe Barna and a double by Henry Danning produced the second Giant tally and brought in Hugh Casey with nobody out.

CARDS SHADE PIRATES
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22 (AP)—Driving under full steam toward a four-game collision with Brooklyn next week, the Cardinals stayed on the pace today by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 6, using four pitchers in the process. It was the Cards' eighth consecutive victory.

PHILS, BRAVES SPLIT
BOSTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Si Johnson, after a rocky first inning when the Braves got four of their six hits for all their runs, settled down to check them 5 to 3 today in the second game and give the Philadelphia Phils an even break in a doubleheader as Boston won the 10-inning opener 2 to 1 when Jim Tobin hung up his 10th triumph of the season.

HOMER WINS FOR CARDS
CHICAGO, Aug. 22 (AP)—Bill Nicholson's 17th home run of the season gave the Chicago Cubs a 5 to 4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the eleventh inning today.

All-Staters Will See Action Sept. 1

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 22 (AP)—Two squads of 22 players each, all stars of the 1941 schoolboy campaign in West and North Texas, will report to Coaches Frank Kimbrough of Baylor and Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian University here Tuesday morning for the first practice session of the annual oil bowl football game.

The contest will be at Coyote stadium Sept. 1. Meyer, assisted by Ted Jafferis, coach of Wichita Falls high school, will direct the North team. Kimbrough, aided by Eck Curtis, Breckenridge high school mentor, will tutor the west.

The duel of stars is expected to attract a capacity house of 10,000. One of the main attractions will be the performance of that passing combination of Wichita Falls—Gene Hill to Troy Stewart—on the North team. These lads carried much of the offensive burden in taking Wichita Falls to the state championship last year.

Five members of last fall's all-star team will be seen in action, four of them on the North squad. They are Stewart, Hill and Joe Meisner of Wichita Falls and Jack White of Paris. Roland Nabors, Lubbock center, is the all-star on the West team.

Bears-Stars Tune Up For Friday Tilt

CAMP GRANT, Ill., Aug. 22 (AP)—The Chicago Bears, in a tuneup for their football game Friday night with the College All-Stars, today filled the air with passes to overwhelm the Camp Grant Warriors 32 to 6.

Every member of the National Football league champions played except Bill Osmani and Hugh Galliarneau who were out with minor injuries. Scouting the game were Burt Ingwersen of Northwestern and Homer Norton of the Texas Aggies, members of the college all-star staff.

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 22 (AP)—"These all-stars," said Head Coach Bob Zupke today, "came here in the best of condition—and look at the pep they've got. Now in the short time left we're giving them the plays they need to army themselves for the Bears."

He looked admiringly around at the mass of talent and strength trotting up and down Northwestern university's Dyche Stadium practice field, preparing for Friday's game against the National Football league champions.

Former Rice Coach On Auburn Staff

AUBURN, Ala., Aug. 22 (AP)—Lou Hertenberger, former assistant football coach under Jack Meagher at Rice Institute, was named today as assistant coach at Auburn.

"I have been fortunate enough to obtain one of my former assistants," announced Meagher, athletic director and head football coach at Auburn. "Lou Hertenberger was one of my greatest linemen and thoroughly understands my system of play. He is in business but consented to come to Auburn for the football season and help out."

GROCERS TO MEET
DALLAS, Aug. 22 (AP)—Grocers from all parts of Texas are expected here tomorrow for the annual convention of the Texas Retail Grocers association, Roger Q. Flournoy, secretary, said today.

Borowy Gets 1-0 Triumph Over Solons

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—The New York Yankees squeezed out a 1-0 decision over the Washington Senators today as Fordham Hank Borowy shaded Alejandro Carrasquel in an airtight pitching duel to hang up his 12th win of the season against only two set-backs.

Borowy, however, needed the help of a perfect throw by Joe DiMaggio to choke off a ninth inning rally in which the Senators loaded the bases on a walk and two of their three hits of the day.

Carrasquel, only Venezuelan hurler in the majors, tossed a four-hitter and snapped their home run streak at 15 straight games, during which they blasted 17 four-baggers.

The South American watched his own five-game winning streak come to an end when the Yanks pummed over the only tally in the second frame without getting the ball out of the infield.

WHITE SOX TRIUMPH

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22 (AP)—Three stolen bases in one inning helped the Chicago White Sox to two runs which proved the margin of victory over the Cleveland Indians today. The Sox 3 to 1 triumph evened the current four game series at one each. Edgar Smith received credit for the victory.

RED SOX SWEEP TWO

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox swept both games of a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics today, taking the first 11 to 3 and the second 11 to 5. The Sox made 17 hits off Lum Harris in the second.

Coach John Dibrell, Jr., said this week that everything is in readiness for Big Spring Steer footballers to start their training grind on Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Present indications are that a fair squad will be on hand for the first practice session, although only three lettermen will be present. Dibrell said that as far as he knows all prospective players are ready to go.

Plans in the coaching department were completed this week with the naming of Tommy Beene, Dibrell's aid at Colorado City for the past two years, as assistant coach. Beene will be in charge of the Steer backfield during the 1942 campaign.

EVERYBODY
EVERY PAY DAY
10%
OF WAGES IN WAR BONDS

IT'S LIKE PUTTING MONEY IN THE BANK!

5 REASONS WHY

- 1 By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- 2 You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- 3 You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- 4 You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- 5 You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

"Listen, mister... I'm making pretty good wages these days, and so are about fifty million others. And we all think pretty much the same about the way we can help America win the war.

"Save 10% in War Bonds every payday? That's no sacrifice—it's a cinch! Like putting money in the bank.

"Take my wife, for instance. She says it's money we just wouldn't save, otherwise—dough that we just chuck away—with nothing to show for it later.

"But this is the real payoff—

"The money we save in War Bonds is going to produce the planes, the tanks, the ships and the guns to make the Japs wish they'd never even seen Pearl Harbor! It's going to produce the bombs and the bullets to make their honorable 'harakiri' seem like a picnic.

"Do you think we people on the home front want to be left out? Don't you know that the workers, the stenos, the farmers, dentists—every last man and woman of us wants to come through with his share?

"So when they came around in our plant and actually offered to help us save for the War Bonds, you can bet we all said 'yes!'

"Every week they save 10% out of our pay—a dime in every dollar—and when it adds up to $18.75, we get a War Bond—worth $25 in ten years. Yes, sir! A War Bond in our own name, or the Missus, or both!

"Honest, now, do you think we're patting ourselves on the back? Do you think we're asking for praise just because we do our part to hamstring Hirohito and Hitler—and lay away a pile of dough in the bargain?

"How about you? Are you in on this plan? If not, better get in. Better save your 10% every payday. Better do your share to wallop the tar out of the Japs and Huns.

"Say 'sure!' when they come to you...
"It's like money in the bank!"

Farm Labor Problem Is Serious

Conscription and a drift to war industries are depopulating the farms of Texas, according to a study conducted at Texas A. & M. Last year, 82,000 Texans quit the farm either to enter the armed services or to work in war industries, and it is reasonable to assume that this year's figure will be much larger.

Although draft boards have not always been wise in handling the cases of farm workers, they do represent the major part of the problem. The fact remains that farm boys are the first to volunteer for service, and if one is given a deferment by his draft board, that agency's action is nullified if the young man then volunteers or goes to the ship yards and the plane factories. That's what most of them are doing, and who can blame a farm boy for taking work in a factory, at good wages, when the rewards of agriculture are so meagre?

But, these extenuating circumstances do not improve matters any. The fact is that the drift away from the farm has been serious, at the very moment when so much depends on farm production. The farmers are asked to produce more than ever, and most of them are making valiant efforts to that end; but many are handicapped by loss of the labor of their sons, or inability to get hired help.

Sooner or later this problem of farm labor is going to be one of the most embarrassing connected with the war effort. Already in many localities it has been necessary to call for volunteers to help out. These volunteers are to be commended for their willingness to help, but few of them can make real hands due to lack of experience or inborn city-softness. The answer to this is that a systematic method of putting to work the most capable volunteers, such as high school boys, will probably have to be devised.

V-Mail Proving So Popular That It's Being Put To Use On Two-Way Basis

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—With the army in the capital:

The V-Mail (transmission of letters to overseas soldiers by transferring them to microfilm) has proved so popular that the army has placed it on a two-way basis to the United Kingdom, the Middle East, Hawaii and Australia.

In the first six weeks of the one-way service, the army postal service handled 250,000 V-Mail letters.

APO officials have had to pause in their delivery of V-Mail to war senders: (1) addresses must be correct on the V-Mail forms obtainable at all postoffices; and (2) of all things, women must not imprint kisses on letters to the soldiers, "since the lipstick may blur the writing making it illegible on the photographic reproduction."

When the army announced that it was transferring its pigeon breeding and training center from Fort Monmouth, N. J., to Camp Crowder, Mo., a couple of interesting facts came out about the army's feathered Messengers.

In the blood strains of carriers flying for the U. S. A. in World "war II are those of 'Always Faithful,' a Hall of Fame award winner in the pigeon world who several years ago winged its way 716 miles from Chattanooga to Fort Monmouth at almost 47 miles an hour; and 'General Mauborgne' who set an all-time speed record by flying 600 miles from Kansas City to Fort Sam Houston in less than 14 hours—with no tail winds.

It's the little things that win a war. For years the army has been shipping its "G.I." (government issue) cans in nests of six cans, crated—and that's the way they've been going with and to the forces overseas.

Then along comes some unnamed hero of the loading lines, and with an eye on those sub-packs, works out three new "sinks" for the 10 to 32 gallon cans that are used for everything from garbage to washing dishes. As a result, nested cans are now packed with sugar, flour, rice and dry produce—the result, space savings up to 47 per cent.

Radio Genius Makes A Movie For War Effort

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Here's a fellow with his heart in his work. Arch Oboler.

Oboler is radio's "genius in a sweatshirt." "Sweatshirt Archie," they called him back in Chicago. He's the arch enemy of the collar-and-tie industries as well as the air lines' leading playwright.

His work today is directing a movie. He is wearing no sweat-shirt but an old blue and-wood sweater—equally minus collar. He also is wearing baggy trousers, sandals, an abused basket hat and his usual thick-lensed spectacles and the completely original haircut. The ensemble makes him look like a Saroyan character who just wandered into the set.

But that has nothing to do with his heart and his work, which is a movie, called "This Precious Freedom." It is from his own play which was called the best radio drama of 1941, the story of what would happen to an American family in the event of foreign occupation. Oboler's air plays have attracted an audience of 20,000,000 people, but this movie will reach no more than 1,000,000. It is not for public exhibition, but is being made for General Motors to show its war workers and their families.

"These are the people I want to reach," says Arch Oboler. "I'm making it — for less money than I would ask ordinarily—because I couldn't live under that kind of rule and these are the people whose work can prevent its happening."

It is no secret in Hollywood that Oboler and the studios have not been entirely sympathetic. Aside from scripting "Escape" he has done little for films, though he has been under contract to two or three studios with a "directing clause." He had a year on one lot without an assignment, and quit another after 11 weeks' idleness on a one-year deal.

This may have been due to his insistence that movies should have something to say—and say it. He says today that the screen's long habit of "making unreal reality" may have been to blame for the country's slow awakening to its danger. "For so many years Americans have seen movies in which the hero always came out on top and the villain was foiled," he says. "Is it any wonder that many couldn't believe it, that so many expected to wake up from the nightmare and find the war was over—like a movie on the screen the night before?"

Or his movie inactivity may have been due to a studio fear that, being a radio "genius," Oboler would be prolific with money. He suspects that every time Orson Welles spent another $50,000 on a movie, Oboler's chances grew dimmer. "Matter of fact," he says, "I come from the hardest school there is. In radio you use what you have—you can't run up!—to the producer and ask for another $50,000 or so. Comes time for the show and you go on the air—no postponing the deadline there."

When the army air forces announced recently, and with some justifiable pride, that their accident rate was 68 per cent lower than 12 years ago and 10 per cent below the 1930-40 ten-year average, they didn't tell all the story.

Some of the flying school safety records have been phenomenal. For instance, at Chico Field, Calif., student pilots have flown the equivalent of 500 times around the equator without a single fatal accident. At Craig Field, Alabama, an advanced flying school, the pilots clocked off a total distance of 1,179 times the earth's equatorial circumference with only one minor accident; and 23 million miles without any accident due to mechanical causes.

This last is important because not only were the pilot trainees, but according to the National Aeronautics Association, which gathers the records on such things, the ground crew mechanics also were students.

Destroyer Observes Its 25th Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Britain's oldest destroyer, the three-funneled 900-ton Skate, twice torpedoed in the last year, recently celebrated her twenty-fifth birthday at sea "full of fight," the British Ministry of Information reported.

The veteran destroyer, built in the last war rush of 1917, it was stated, had sailed thousands of miles in the last year guarding convoys running from a northern port.

Skate's birthday was celebrated with a special "jubilee dance" when she returned to her base. She received a refit and a new crew, but, said the Ministry of Information, the "affection of the men for the ship was so strong that many tried to rejoin her when they were paid off."

Skate is the last ship of the old "Admiralty B" class and the only three-funneled destroyer in the Royal Navy.

Chapter 12

Danger In The Jungle
The sun had climbed almost to the meridian before the retinue got under way. One of Tyra's Indians went ahead, wielding his machete recklessly to cut a trail through the vines and brush. Behind him was Tyra. Then came the other Yaqui, and after him Sandy and Helen. Gil brought up the rear.

It was slow work hacking through the heavy jungle growth. They were following a stream, a tributary of the Rio Flamboyon, and as they ascended, the canyon became more narrow, more tangled with vegetation. The country with its bright-colored birds, butterflies and insects darting among the vivid green of the trees, was just as lovely to look at as the river country had been. But, as they passed, all sorts of vicious insects dropped upon them. Again and again Helen cried out that she was bitten. At last she declared that she could stand it no longer and Sandy called Tyra to halt the cavalcade.

It was slow work hacking through the heavy jungle growth. They were following a stream, a tributary of the Rio Flamboyon, and as they ascended, the canyon became more narrow, more tangled with vegetation. The country with its bright-colored birds, butterflies and insects darting among the vivid green of the trees, was just as lovely to look at as the river country had been. But, as they passed, all sorts of vicious insects dropped upon them. Again and again Helen cried out that she was bitten. At last she declared that she could stand it no longer and Sandy called Tyra to halt the cavalcade.

In a state like Texas, where seasonal crops come in throughout the year, winter and summer, the problem is particularly acute. It is going to be very critical during the fall.

After the war is over and the post-war slackness sets in you'll see a tremendous back-to-the-farm movement; but just now it's the other way about.

Washington has taken little cognizance of the problem of farm labor so far, but it will have to do something about it before long.

Just then an insect was brushed onto one of Helen's legs. She gave a startled scream.

"Only a pinillo." Tyra said. "We'll have to halt once in a while to scrape them off with moss before they start boring into our flesh. It's the only way to do. But protect me better than the shorts and sandals the rest of you wear." "It works the other way," Tyra said. "We can keep the insects brushed off to some extent, but when you have on tight breeches tucked into boots you are helpless. If one of the men will loan me a pocket knife we'll retire behind a bush and I'll make some alterations."

Helen hesitated, but when Sandy unhealed a bowie knife and handed it to Tyra, Helen made no protests but followed meekly.

When they returned Helen's snug-fitting breeches had been ineffectually slashed off to expose her bare knees, and the tail of her blouse was hanging out all around.

"I feel like the old lady who had her petticoats cut off!" she said, and tried to laugh at herself. Tyra looked the job over critically. "You can't do much about the boots today, but I'd advise you to get accustomed to wearing guayacanes. You can at least keep them shaken out."

Just then an insect was brushed onto one of Helen's legs. She gave a startled scream.

"Only a pinillo." Tyra said. "We'll have to halt once in a while to scrape them off with moss before they start boring into our flesh. It's the only way to do. But we'll all be bitten. You become sort of immune, after awhile." It was not cheering news, certainly, but Helen swallowed it with good grace.

"I hope I become immune quickly," she said.

jecting to this expedition is—well, reasonable, I'll not bother you any longer."

She stood very still under the light pressure of his touch. Then Sandy felt a shudder pass through her body. She moved away a step. "I can tell you no more than I've already told you," she said, in a detached voice.

Almost at once Sandy crawled into his tent. He was more tired than he ever remembered being in all his life before. He guessed that it was not entirely due to carrying a heavy pack through a jungle, but that the toxins from all his bites were creating a mild poison in his body. He stretched out thankfully and was soon lost in sleep.

He awoke with a sense that something was wrong. It was light and the chattering of the birds destroyed all other sounds. He raised on an elbow, alert and tense, then unslipped the flap and peered out.

All was in order, Gil's and Helen's tents closed. But when he looked toward Tyra's tent he felt the blood drain swiftly from his face. Her tent was gone!

He could not believe it even though his eyes were staring directly at the empty space where her camp had been. He pulled on his sandals in haste, slung his cartridge belt and revolver about his waist, and tumbled out of the tent.

Man About Manhattan—

'Wake Island' Film Comes At Right Time

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—What a break Hollywood got when the Marines invaded the Solomons. They were all set for a national release of their new picture, "Wake Island," which the U. S. Marines supervised, when the headlines broke. Locally, at least, marine enlistment stations are overcrowded. Bands blare the traditional song of the marines. . . . And Paramount comes up with a day-by-day log of the last days on Wake that ended with Devereaux's terse, cryptic farewell announcement by radio: "Enemy has landed; issue is in doubt."

I've seen the picture and I've talked to General Denig, who has seen men die in more than one war, and who would need an extra shirt front to provide space for all his medals, if he chose to wear them. He was pleased. So were all the Marine biggies who were instrumental in the film, as a document on a great last-ditch fight that won more glory than half a dozen victories.

Wake Island' Film Comes At Right Time

Incidentally, like the Wake Marines who fought the first action of the war after Pearl Harbor for the U. S., the Marines were also first in the First World War. Back in '17 a detail of 15 Marines, on orders of President Wilson, seized the German warship, Cormoran, which had been interned at Guam several months previously. En route to the ship they were compelled to fire across the bow of a cutter carrying German naval officers, to bring about the surrender of those men. It preceded by six months the next shot fired by Americans—this time in France—in World War No. 1.

Though the official day-by-day log is faithfully adhered to in "Wake Island," the names of the chief characters are fictional. For instance, the counterpart of Major James Patrick Devereaux, who was in command at Wake, is the actor Brian Donley who, as Major Patton, does a cheery, bang-up job.

They walked down the stream bank a short distance. At last Tyra halted. In the dim light Sandy could feel her eyes upon him, probably.

"You've seen a little of what this country is like, and we've scarcely begun," she said. "Mrs. Brotherton won't be able to stand the hardships, I'm afraid. Do you want to be responsible for whatever happens to her?"

He raised on an elbow, alert and tense, then unslipped the flap and peered out.

All was in order, Gil's and Helen's tents closed. But when he looked toward Tyra's tent he felt the blood drain swiftly from his face. Her tent was gone!

British Convoy Is Bomed Second Day

LIBRON, Aug. 22 (AP)—German bombers for the second day continued to pound a British convoy off the south coast of Portugal, a message from Fortissimo said tonight.

The convoy, consisting of eight merchant ships and an escort of warships, was first attacked yesterday about 200 miles northwest of Gibraltar. A British Sunderland bomber fell into the sea, but was taken in tow by a warship.

LESS SPECULATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Speculators generally adopted a hands-off attitude in the buying and selling of farm land during the four months from March 1 to July 1 of this year, leaving most of the transfers up to the farmers themselves, the agriculture department reported today.

Had Been 'Washed Out' Of Air School - - Bombardier Takes Over, Helps Wounded Pilot Return Crippled Flying Fortress

By WES GALLAGHER

WITH THE UNITED STATES BOMBER COMMAND IN BRITAIN, Aug. 22 (AP)—A slight young Florida bombardier who "washed out of flying school" and a half-conscious pilot with his arm nearly torn off emerged as the heroes today of the great north sea sky battle which saw American flying fortresses shoot down or damage

12 German fighters although outnumbered five to one. Stubble-bearded airmen who had not been to bed for 24 hours told how the gravely wounded pilot and the bombardier who had never flown a fortress before brought the big ship back safely after nasal bullets had riddled two of the four motors and killed the co-pilot. A re-check of the crews' reports of the attacks showed four of nine fortresses on the sortie had done all the fighting in the battle against about 25 Focke-Wulf 190s and Messerschmitt 109s. They shot down three confirmed and heavily damaged at least nine more instead of the six originally reported damaged or destroyed. Five other fortresses in the leading wing flight had not even been attacked. The thin, tanned bombardier, Second Lieutenant Swart Sconiers, 26, of De Funtun Springs, Fla., with eyes bloodshot from loss of sleep and nervous tension, reported on the terrific fight of the plane, "Johnny Reb," in this manner: "We were in the tail end formation when we were jumped by about 25 Focke-Wulf 190s and Messerschmitt 109s at over 20,000 feet. They set up a scooty out to our right. I was lying in the nose of the ship shooting at that when over the intercommunicating system I heard the waist gunner shout: 'Here comes three more from above.' "I heard a thud in the pilot's cabin and heard the pilot grunt and ask me to come up."

WARTIME BUY-TIPS

by Sally Look-Sharply

Today when you buy you have to be sure of "fashions that live in fabrics that last." That's why it's wise to think twice when you choose a coat. For instance, will the color go with the dresses and accessories you already own? It better—then you won't have to invest in extras.

It's smart to pick a style that you can wear for different occasions. For instance, our Princess Townsters are designed to go everywhere with equal ease.

Always examine buttonholes to see that they're made well... and fastenings, too.

If it's warm you're after, watch that the neckline and cuffs are closely fitted. This Princess coat is a good example. No space for chilly breezes to get in!

Fabric's awfully important, you know. It should have plenty of liveliness so your coat will keep its shape. Incidentally, the fabric and construction of Princess Coats are tested and approved by the United States Testing Company, Inc.

In fact every detail in Princess Coat is up to par. Today when you need all the wear you can get, it's smart to depend on them. You'll find any one in our large collection will pay you many times its cost in satisfaction and long wear. I'll be back—S.

Rat Killing Campaign Is Under Way

A demonstration on rat killing in the Cosden Refinery area conducted this week was completed Saturday night, but results of the war on rodents there have not been determined, County Agent O. P. Griffin has reported.

Pre-baiting was carried out Wednesday, when about six pounds of bait was distributed, and poisoned bait was put out Saturday night. Results of the campaign are now being awaited. It was undertaken to remove a typhus fever menace which has flared here.

All baits on residential premises were exposed only in improvised places in order that cats, dogs, chickens and other domestic animals could not get to it. About 20 residential properties were baited, and 42 pounds of poisoned bait was used in the entire campaign.

Bait was placed on scraps of paper in pre-baiting, but unless pre-baiting is done it is best to place nothing under the bait, Griffin said.

Boys of the Gayhill 4-H club will give two demonstrations of rat killing next week. On Tuesday pre-baiting and then poison on Friday. The demonstrations will be on the E. W. Love and Tom Spencer farms.

A meeting of the Lomax club has been called for Wednesday afternoon and another at R-Bar on Thursday to arrange for demonstrations in those communities.

A meeting of the Howard County Victory Council will be held on Sept. 5 to plan for a county-wide rat killing campaign.

Expected to attend the Victory meeting are all community and neighborhood leaders.

The Week

culations of consumption and supply.

While on the subject of lakes, the city advises that in all probability Moss Creek lake will be reopened to fishermen on Tuesday. Not all machinery needed to provide water for sanitary facilities is on hand, but should be by then.

The rat extermination campaign projected for city and county is a sorely needed program. Primary consideration is health as evidenced by a sufficient number of typhus fever cases to cause concern. But few people realize the tremendous economic advantage of getting rid of these loathsome creatures.

If ever there has been greater activity in the cattle market here, we can't recall it. In the past four weeks, volume at the Big Spring Livestock Commission Co. has totaled $125,000. Buying in other channels has picked up, too. Don C. Martin, Seymour, was reported to have contracted 2,000 head of short yearlings at 12.00 to 13.00 for Oct. 25 delivery. He was still here at last reports looking for more.

It's time again to warn civilians that all army convoys are to be given right-of-way. One moving through here Friday evening was jammed by local drivers who simply had more pressing business than the United States Army. Someday army trucks can't or won't stop and somebody's going to get hurt.

One of the most potent pieces of propaganda for bond and stamp sales we have seen is a film Jack Roden has been projecting before service clubs the last week. Everybody ought to see it.

Election judges did a swell job Saturday in making tabulations and returns. The county was complete in 25 minutes, the quickest this has ever happened in any sort of an election here.

Weather Forecast

WEST TEXAS: Scattered thundershowers Sunday, except in Panhandle and South Plains; cooler entire district, but only slightly cooler in Del Rio-Eagle Pass area.

Angelo Leads This Area In Navy Drive

DALLAS, Aug. 22 (AP)—San Angelo wrested the lead from Fort Worth today for the first time since the North Texas navy recruiting district put in motion a campaign aimed at the enlistment of 3,000 sailors in August and the same number during September.

Fifty-three recruits were obtained during the week ending Friday by Chief Signalman V. L. Ryan at San Angelo. This brought his station's August enlistments to 118, or 133 per cent of the quota assigned each sub-district station on a population basis.

Thus San Angelo took the lead for the award of the navy "E" burgee, given each month to the station with the best quota record. The same sub-district office won the award last month from Amarillo.

Fort Worth slipped to second place, but had obtained 124 per cent of its quota, Lieut. L. H. Ridout, Jr., district recruiter, reported.

Other offices and their standings are: Amarillo 104 per cent, Big Spring 75, Sherman 67, Abilene 52, Paris 49, Lubbock 46, Waco 43, Wichita Falls and Tyler 42, and Longview 39.

Here 'n There

Word comes of the promotion of Albert M. Fisher, Jr., from corporal to sergeant, at Fort Mason, Calif., here he is attached to the headquarters company. Albert, proprietor with his mother of Albert M. Fisher Co., has been stationed in California since being inducted into the army.

Regular meeting of the Big Spring chamber of commerce distroretate is announced for Monday noon, at the Settles hotel. President Ben LaFever is urging a full attendance.

Life Saving Class To Be Organized

Another attempt to organize a life saving class will be made this week, according to an announcement from Red Cross chapter officials.

All persons from 12 years of age and up who are interested in the free instruction were asked to either contact Champe Phillips, instructor, or to report at the municipal swimming pool at 3 p. m. Tuesday. Only if there are 10 or more interested in the course will the training be offered.

Those who have been taking the adult swimming course were reminded by Fred Mitchell, instructor, that only five lessons remain. The first three will be on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons and the remaining two on Monday and Wednesday of the following week.
