Dog centerfolds stir Playboy

The newest way to see naked mammals is with Playdog. The Web site, www.playdog.com, offers photos of really hot dogs and loving articles about cute hounds.

Yes, a centerfold is included.

Playboy lawyers aren't in a playful mood, however. They sent creator Steve Sackman two letters claiming that the site infringes on the trademark of the men's magazine.

In letters to Sackman, a Playboy lawyer asked him to change the Playdog logo and everything else similar to Playboy.

The design of his logo does resemble that of Playboy, and the editor is listed as "Spot Hefner." Still, Sackman disagrees that he's infringing on Hugh Hefner's pride and joy.

Sackman said he'd be happy to specify that Playdog has no affiliation with Playboy.

Fiery bales lead to bail

Ric Cohen of Medford, N.J., ignited more than the flames of love when he helped his older brother propose to his beloved.

Clifford Cohen leased a twin-engine Seneca to fly his girlfriend into the clouds and pop the question. So Ric decided to write a message on the ground that could be seen from the sky.

He used 70 bales of hay to spell out "Marry Me Ruth." He asked a few friends to come over and turn on their car headlights to illuminate the hay as darkness approached.

But the pals were late arriving, so Ric set the hay on fire. In the plane, Ruth saw the question and gladly accepted.

Meanwhile, the burning hay ignited the surrounding grass. The happy couple landed just as Ric was arrested on a disorderly person charge.

Lamesa tables Mules' dreams, 41-12

By KEVIN WILSON
Journal Sports Writer

The Lamesa Golden Tors opened up a 26-0 lead in the first half and never faltered in posting a 41-12 win over Muleshoe on Friday night.

Lamesa will play Breckinridge in Sweetwater on Friday in the Class 3A Division I quarterfinals.

Lamesa's first touchdown in the regional play-off came off a standard play, a 19-yard run from Waylon Hogg. After a failed extra point, the Golden Tors led 6-0.

On Lamesa's next series, they opened it up a little bit. Hogg hit Noel Morales with a 64-yard pass.

With a 12-0 lead and the ball again, it was Morales again. This time, he caught a 69-yarder from Lucio Castro.

"We were trying to open up our running game," Morales said. "Early on, we tried to air out the ball on them and it worked."

The lead that Lamesa took was just like the defense — quick.

"I said all along they were quick," Mules head coach David Wood said, "but I didn't think they were that quick."

The defense and the quick lead forced the Mules to go to the air, which led to trouble. Quarterback James Barrett was pressured throughout the game. He completed only 3-of-12 passes and threw an interception as well.

The story of the game was the first-half domination by Lamesa, which outgained the Mules 289-87.

Muleshoe quarterback James Barrett is swarmed by Lamesa defenders Ben Leonard and Derrick Hunter during a Region I contest Friday at Lowrey Field in Lubbock. The Golden Tors ended the Mules' season, 41-12.

Wayward jurors asked for explanation

By RONN SMITH
Editor

District Judge Gordon Green isn't interested in being heavy-handed about it, but he doesn't want people ignoring a summons for jury duty.

Eight people who didn't show up for jury duty last month found themselves called into Green's court this month to give him their reason for not showing up the first time.

Most of the excuses were either "I forgot" or "nobody gave me the mail."

Green didn't impose any fines — which he said can be up to $100 plus court costs, making a total of $200 to about $300 — but he did call each wayward potential juror to the bench and gave each one an individual admonishment.

Commenting on his actions last week, Green said, "Jury service is one of the real basic rights of democracy. Countries that aren't democracies don't have juries."

"Even though it's a great privilege, it also carries a responsibility," he added.

He stressed that he, in turn, tries to be understanding in his court. "We know that things are going to come up, but we just ask that they call us to let us know why they aren't there and to avoid the embarrassment of being called in later," he said.

There was no district court session on Nov. 17, but other recent actions in Green's court have included:

- Entry of a deferred judgment against Martin Morales Marrufo on a charge of possessing cocaine with intent to deliver.

Morales was placed on community supervision for nine years and ordered to pay a total of a little more than $3,000 in monthly installments, obtain substance abuse counseling at his own expense, and perform 240 hours of community service within the next 48 months.

Another charge pending against Morales was dismissed:

- Rejection of a plea agreement on behalf of Lionel Ray Attaway, charged with possession of methamphetamine (more than 4 but less than 200 grams) with intent to deliver, as

City to proceed on refurbishing two water towers

By RONN SMITH
Editor

The city of Muleshoe has approved a contract to refurbish the city's water towers, one of which may need more than a routine re-painting.

The city's east water has prompted considerable discussion in recent months because there apparently is some question whether a new paint job will adhere to the surface or whether the tank needs to be stripped down to the metal before being painted again.

In discussing the project's bidders, City Manager Rick Hanna expressed some consternation over the fact that one bid came in 33 percent lower than the next lowest bid. But he added that the project's engineers had expressed no reservations about the bidder, Phoenix Tank Services of Indianapolis, Ind.

"They haven't inspected the tanks yet, and

Bailey County group begins project for women's shelter

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

A group of Bailey County residents have committed themselves to raising $10,000 to furnish a quadruplex unit at the Women's Protective Services facility in Lubbock.

"We're proud of Bailey County for being the first to commit to participate in the Adopt-a-Quad campaign," said Kelley Roach, development director at the facility.

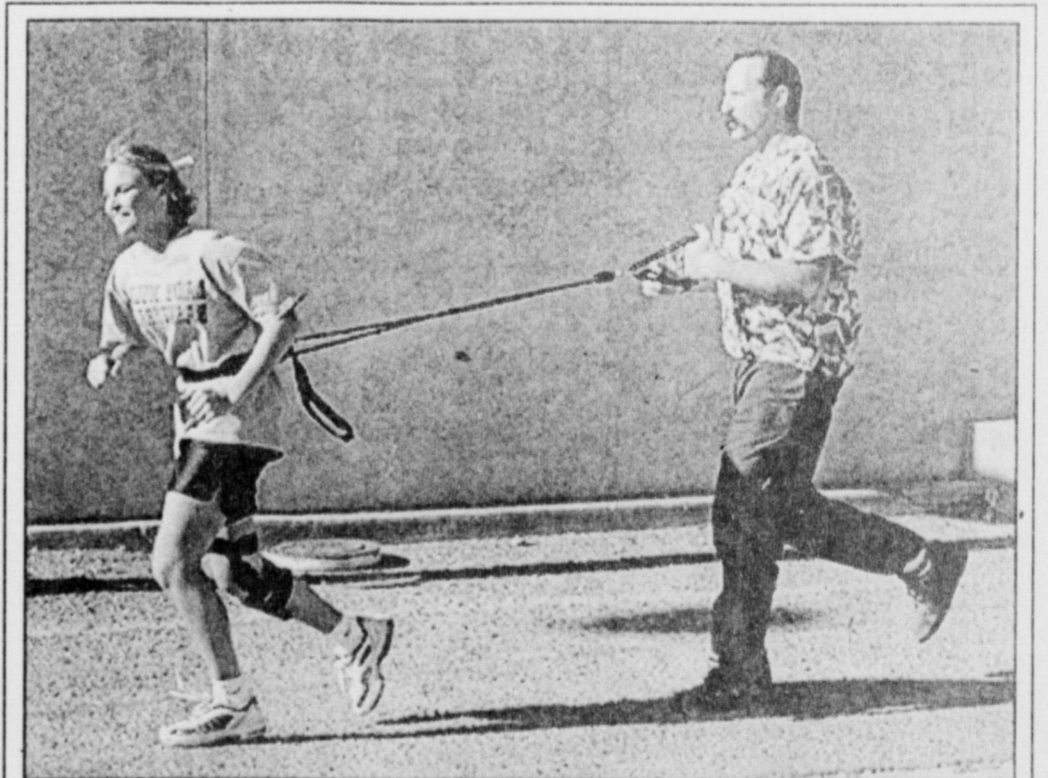

At a Nov. 11 luncheon at Leal's Restaurant in Muleshoe, the group raised $1,000 and committed itself to raise the rest and participate in the facility's Adopt-A-Quad campaign.

Wanda Hooten of Muleshoe is serving as chairperson for the fund-raising campaign.

Women's Protective Services had asked that each of the 11 counties (other than Lubbock) in the facility's service area consider "adopting" one of the units and buying furniture for it. In May, the agency completed a new 45,000-square-foot shelter that consists of six quadruplexes, or a total of 24 units.

Each of the fund-raising campaigns around the area is aimed at paying for furniture, appliances, phone system, security system and housewares for one unit. Seven of the 24 units have been adopted so far.

A therapeutic run

Lynsie Black and her "personal trainer," therapist Justin Brozek, had some people scratching their heads Wednesday. Actually, Brozek was helping Black get over a knee injury in preparing for basketball season. He alternately pulled in different directions, doing a real "Lynsie frenzy."

AROUND MULESHOE

Center seeks vintage Christmas decor

As part of its annual "Old-Fashioned Christmas" open house, the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation is asking for donations of vintage Christmas ornaments or other decorations to use during the open house.

These items should be typical of those used in the old days on the plains.

The Heritage Foundation views this as yet another way to share the area's heritage with younger generations and help them see what life was like in the earlier days of the settlement of this area.

Donated items may be dropped off at the Heritage Depot from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays, or for pickup call the depot hostess at 272-5873. Please include the donor's name and the approximate age of the donated items.

Donations should be received by Nov. 29 in order to be used for the Dec. 4 open house.

Entries sought for Christmas parade

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is seeking entries for its Dec. 4 Christmas parade.

The entry fee is $10 and each entry must be signed up by Dec. 3. Entries may be made by calling Pam McCaul at the chamber, 272-4248, or by visiting the chamber office at 218 Main St.

Chamber business hours are 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and noon to 2 p.m. weekdays.

Parade entrants will be instructed where to line up when they sign up for the parade, with line-up time being 5:30 p.m. on parade day. The parade is scheduled to start at dark, or about 6:15 p.m.

Entries will compete for cash awards of $300 for first place, $150 for second and $50 for third. Winning entries will be displayed on the Mule Lot (near the Mule Memorial) until Christmas.

More information is available by calling 272-4248.

Volunteers needed for meal delivery

Volunteers are being sought to handle Meals on Wheels delivery routes during the Thursday and Friday Thanksgiving holiday period, when Meals on Wheels does not operate as usual.

The regular delivery period is 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; volunteers may be able to make arrangements for slightly different times by calling Berta Combs.

Thursday paper will observe early holiday deadline

Because the Thanksgiving holiday will require an early printing of Thursday's Muleshoe Journal, the newspaper's display advertising deadline has been set at noon Monday.

Classified advertising will be accepted Monday morning only on a space-available basis.

Sunday's newspaper will observe the usual deadlines.

Prepare pantry for unexpected visitors

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

It was a long day at work and now it's time for some serious relaxation. After the mail is tossed on the coffeetable, unopened, and the shoes are kicked off, the lightning bolt hits — the holiday season is here again and nothing's been done to prepare!

There are festive feasts to plan, lists to make, cards to write, gifts to buy, halls to deck, and little free time in which to do any of those things.

Panic time is interrupted by the sound of the doorbell announcing another inevitable holiday season reality: unexpected guests. Being a gracious host is going to be tough when all your pantry contains is a can of stale peanuts and half a carton of milk that's passed the expiration date.

It doesn't have to be that way. With a little advance planning, anyone can be ready for anything (or anyone) this holiday season.

• Gourmet cheeses — A cheese board is a quick and easy option for entertaining holiday guests.

Simply arrange a few wedges of cheese on a cutting board or dinner plate, surrounded by crackers or slices of French bread.

If the guest traffic is likely to be fairly light, choose varieties that will stay fresh in the refrigerator for a week or two. Firm, aged cheeses, such as gouda, Swiss and Cheddar will last up to three weeks. Softer cheeses, such as brie and gorgonzola, should be eaten within a week of purchase.

• Fresh bread — Forget about do-it-yourself kneading of dough; just pick up a fresh loaf of crusty French bread from the corner bakery or grocery store.

Baguette slices are perfect with holiday spreads and cheeses. Don't worry about the bread going stale; if guests don't come calling, it can always be served with dinner.

• An assortment of crackers —

Combest hails legislation for the cotton industry

WASHINGTON, D.C. — As Congress works to complete its legislative schedule for 1999, U.S. Rep. Larry Combest reported Friday that important language was included in the final wrap-up spending bill, H.R. 3194, that will go a long way in helping the cotton industry during one of the worst farm financial crises in recent memory.

"Due to the low prices of cotton and cottonseed this year, West Texas farmers need our help.

The language included in this bill authorizes the secretary of agriculture to make direct cash payments to producers or first handlers of cottonseed," Combest said.

The bill gives the U.S. secretary of agriculture special authority to provide financial assistance to producers or first handlers for the 1999 crop of cottonseed. This specific authority builds upon the report language contained in the FY 2000 Agriculture Appropriations Bill (signed into law on Oct. 22), which directed the secretary to consider providing additional assistance to cotton producers through direct payments or other means to help alleviate the problems caused by the unusually low prices.

Leaf it to nature for place cards

Take the confusion out of holiday seating with decorative homemade place cards.

All that is needed is an assortment of durable flat leaves — such as those of magnolia, ivy, holly or certain house plants — and a gold or silver felt-tipped pen.

Write each guest's name on a leaf, press under a heavy book for several hours, and voilà! — a charming place card that can be set on the center of a plate or arranged in whatever way the imagination sees fit.

• Cookies for grown-ups — Cookies are no longer the exclusive domain of children and blue furry monsters.

Delicate, sophisticated cookies line the grocery store shelves, so be sure to bring home a couple varieties during the holiday season.

For a sweet treat, try Pepperidge Farm Milanos or Carr's Butter Cookies Topped with Milk Chocolate.

• Coffee, tea and hot chocolate — For those cold winter days, offer last-minute guests a steaming cup of freshly brewed coffee or tea.

Try something special for the holidays, like hazelnut-flavored coffee or cinnamon tea.

Hot chocolate also is a welcome cold-weather treat.

With a little preparation and some well-chosen kitchen essentials, serving drop-in visitors with warmth and graciousness should be much easier.

Chaplain Ruby Green gave the opening prayer, escorted by Past Noble Grand Bernie Marts.

Secretary Patsy Chance called the roll, with 12 members answering. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

It was reported that Grace Morgan Ayers died and had a Rebekah funeral; it was nice to have Brother Les Lambert with at this week's meeting.

The Odd Fellows are raffling a 25-inch RCA color television with remote control. Tickets are $2.

Lodge members voted to send Lisa Marie and Adam Lee Ramirez to the United Nations next June 18. They are the children of Albert and Mary Ann Ramirez.

The conductor, Alene Bryant, escorted Mary Ann Ramirez to the lodge deputy to present her with a certificate of perfection.

With no further business, Vice Grand Thursie Reid closed with the Rebekah Creed and two verses of the song "An Evening Prayer."

Lady Mules start season with win over Frenship

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

It was a team effort Tuesday when the Lady Mules upended Class 4A Wolfforth Frenship 69-64 in their season opener.

Lindsey Field was the game's top scorer with 18, but she was followed closely by Chyla Torres with 16, Myndi Heathington with 12 and Britni Gartin with 11.

Nicci Stewart was Frenship's high scorer with 12.

Muleshoe coach Shana Simms, in her debut game with the Lady Mules, expressed nothing but pleasure with the team and called the win a sign of good things to come.

"They (the Lady Tigers) have a good tradition," Simms said. "It was a great win for our program, no doubt about that." Field shot 56 percent from the floor and a scorching 89 percent from the free-throw line. The four-year starter, who also contributed six rebounds, four assists and four steals, "really picks apart a defense with her passing," Simms said.

Myndi Heathington was hot from the free-throw line as well, with an 83 percent total for the game. She shot 50 percent from the field.

"I really want to brag on her, the way she defended the 6-foot-5 girl," Simms said. "Myndi and Tommie Hernandez really took care of the tall girl." Simms referred to Frenship's Jennifer Bagwell.

Impressive shooting from the field for Muleshoe was Torres, a junior, who bucketed 100 percent of her field goals while managing to go 50 percent at the free-throw line.

Muleshoe was not seriously threatened until late in the game, leading by 39-22 at halftime and relying on 76 percent overall shooting from the free-throw line to maintain their lead.

"I really think we can challenge Shallowater for the district title. They seem to be the team to beat," Simms said. "Our first five players are pretty solid."

Asked about her team's upcoming Saturday game with Farwell, the No. 3-ranked Class 2A team in the state, Simms laughed and said, "It should be a game."

Against Frenship, the Lady Mules also took the junior varsity game 60-46.

Thanksgiving Can Be a Wonderful Time

Everybody I know, except turkeys (take that any way you wish), likes Thanksgiving! What's not to like?

I'm sure there are people who are utterly alone for whom Thanksgiving is a difficult time. If, by the way, there was no other reason to be part of a church family, and I think there are many, the need for human companionship is itself a pretty good one!

But for most of us, Thanksgiving is a great time! It reminds us, even in the midst of some pretty difficult times, that we have much, much indeed, for which to be thankful to the Giver of all good gifts.

Ah, but what about those who don't acknowledge the beneficence or even the existence of the Giver?

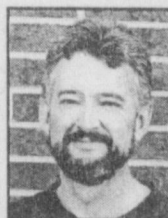

Understand, I don't mean to be harsh. I have known some fine people who were skeptics, honest agnostics who, as the term implies, were truly searching and simply didn't know what to believe. (Most atheists, on the other hand, have an axe to grind and some reason they can't afford for God to exist.) For such people, Thanksgiving must be a bit of a strange time. As author Cornelius Platinga observes, "It must be an odd feeling to be thankful to no one in particular."

Though the holiday is not, of course, one that comes from the ancient Christian calendar, it is uniquely and deeply rooted in faith. Faith that this world is no accident. (I don't have enough faith, if you know what I mean, to believe otherwise!) Faith that men and women are created in the image of a personal and loving God. Faith that all of the bounty and beauty, the love and joy, that fill our lives come from Someone who is the Wellspring, the Source.

Bible scholar A. W. Tozer put it this way: "Gratitude is an offering precious in the sight of God, and it is one that the poorest of us can make and be not poorer but richer for having made it."

Let's give thanks!
Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

Even a person who is not at all sure about the claims of Christianity, but who doesn't want to be lonely and alone, would do well to attend a church where an honest and unpretentious doubter would at least be made to feel cared for and loved. Thank God, there are many such churches!

Those who have to be at work on Thanksgiving may find it more difficult than most of us to enjoy the day as it was intended.

Those who are grieving over the loss of loved ones or weeping over the death of a marriage, those who have chosen to nurse a bitter spirit rather than their relationships, those who are dealing with deep depression and hurt, those in the midst of caring for loved ones who are seriously ill, I am sure may find Thanksgiving difficult.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

VIRTUOUS WOMAN

THROUGHOUT THE AGES A VIRTUOUS WOMAN HAD BEEN REVERED AND ESTEEMED BY ALL NATIONS AND THE BIBLICAL PEOPLE TENDED TO PUT HER IN A POSITION OF HIGH HONOR. ALL ONE HAS TO DO IS TURN TO THE BOOK OF PROVERBS TO FIND THE POETIC DISSERTATION ON THE QUALITIES OF A VIRTUOUS WOMAN. "OPEN THY MOUTH, JUDGE RIGHTEOUSLY..." SAYS THE BOOK OF PROVERBS. "WHO CAN FIND A VIRTUOUS WOMAN? FOR HER PRICE IS FAR ABOVE RUBIES." ACCORDING TO THE SAME CHAPTER OF PROVERBS, "THE HEART OF HER HUSBAND DOTHS SAFELY TRUST IN HER..." AND ACCORDING TO THIS VENERABLE BOOK, "SHE WILL DO HIM GOOD AND NOT EVIL ALL THE DAYS OF HER LIFE." THE BIBLE'S PORTRAYAL OF ITS VIRTUOUS WOMAN GOES ON, "SHE STRETCHETH OUT HER HAND TO THE POOR, YEA, SHE REACHETH FORTH HER HANDS TO THE NEEDY, SHE OPENETH HER MOUTH WITH WISDOM, AND IN HER TONGUE IS THE LAW OF KINDNESS." THIS IS BUT A SMALL SEGMENT OF CHAPTER THIRTY ONE OF THE BOOK OF PROVERBS BUT ONE CAN SEE THAT THE BIBLICAL OPINION IS A STRONG ONE IN PRAISE OF A MORALLY CORRECT AND UPRIGHT WOMAN, AND TO GIVE THE BOOK OF PROVERBS THE LAST SAY, "GIVE HER THE FRUIT OF HER HANDS, AND LET HER OWN WORKS PRAISE HER IN THE GATES!"

Help for special diets

Gail Gladden, Bailey County Extension agent, explains interesting ways to eat within dietary restrictions during a program at the arts and crafts bazaar earlier this month at the Bailey County Coliseum. Her topic was "Holiday Foods for Special Dietary Needs."

New cooking-consulting web site on the table

HIGHLANDS RANCH, Colo. — There's a new web site designed to help cooks and aspiring gourmets alike to serve elegant meals — especially around the holidays — on time and with flair.

Highlands Ranch resident Janne Taubman launched the online cookbook, www.dinnerontime.com.

The new site provides the keys to successful dinner and holiday parties with step-by-step instructions, timetables and personal consulting.

DinnerOnTime also offers more than recipes.

Visitors to the site can access shopping lists, step-by-step instructions, decorating and entertaining suggestions and even a timetable to help cooks and gourmets alike serve dinner on time.

DinnerOnTime provides all users free cooking tips and a weekly menu. Each week, the site posts a new dinner menu, complete with shopping lists, preparation timetables and step-by-step preparation instructions.

The site also features a member-exclusive area for holiday meals and for individualized party planning and preparation consulting.

DinnerOnTime's Holiday and Special Event Planning section includes complete plans and recipes for traditional holidays and other special occasions.

Membership in this part of the DinnerOnTime pantry is a one-time fee of $14.95 and includes unlimited access to the exclusive on-line cookbook.

Plans are provided for Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's and a variety of other holidays and events.

DinnerOnTime also offers individualized party planning ranging from meal planning and preparation to decorating and entertaining ideas.

Conducted entirely through the World Wide Web, DinnerOnTime's personal event planning service provides a custom menu based on the function, budget and time constraints for each event.

Taubman said, "We live in a very fast-paced world and many people simply have never learned how to cook — especially for a large party."

DinnerOnTime offers a resource to make party planning easier and more enjoyable."

The site's timetables are designed to help cooks get all the courses on the table at their appropriate times and to serve the warm dishes warm, and the cold dishes cold.

"As obvious as that sounds, even the most experienced cook struggles with preparation timing," Taubman said.

'Creative Living' features apple recipes

Information on pricing for professional seamstresses, preparing apple recipes and cooking with onions will be featured on "Creative Living" on Nov. 23 at 1 p.m. and Nov. 27 at 3 p.m. (All times are Central.)

"Creative Living" airs on public broadcasting station KENW-TV from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

Nancy Teksten of Greeley, Colo., a spokesperson for the National Onion Association, will share some different ways we can enjoy preparing and eating onions.

Mary Roehr, sewing expert and author from Sedona, Ariz., will talk about pricing for professional seamstresses and how to price for your own home sewing business.

Texas peanuts and gluten-free cooking will be featured Nov. 23 at 10:30 p.m. and Nov. 25 at 1 p.m.

Gayle Stephenson of Gorman, Texas, a representative of the Texas Peanut Producers Board and a certified home economist, will discuss harvesting, storing and cooking with Texas peanuts.

Bette Hagman, a cookbook author from Seattle, will discuss various flours and explain which ones work best in different recipes.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden of Portales.

The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by West Link of Albuquerque.
