

Allied Forces Press Closer To Tunis

Key Roads Cleared; Nazis Lose Tanks In Hasty Retreat

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 27 (AP)—Allied armored forces have driven to within four miles of the Tunis-Pont Du Fahs road and have destroyed 80 German tanks in the big scale battle which has raged since Sunday, Allied quarters announced today.

Further north, the British First Army infantry cleared 11 miles of the road from Medjez-El-Bab to Tebourba and reached Toun railroad station, only 23 miles west of Tunis, front line dispatches reported, and for the first time since last November the Allies were again on the threshold of the Tunis plain.

The same reports said the French skirting the Mediterranean had penetrated to within six miles of Lake Achkel, which almost adjoins Lake Bizerte. (Apparently this placed the British and French within 23 miles of both the twin cities of Bizerte and Tunis.)

In the sector between Medjez-El-Bab and the Mediterranean, the Americans of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., continued an advance so rapid that German rearwards were unable to bury their dead and assaulted the two strategic knobs, Green hill and Bald hill, the most heavily fortified mountains in the northern sector.

These Allied thrusts accompanied gains all along the 140-mile front in fighting which the Allied headquarters communique characterized as "unabated ferocity." They were participated in by Allied air forces which flew more than 1,000 sorties in an air offensive which the announcement said was of "increasing intensity."

Armored spearheads of the British jabbing southeast of Goubellat threatened to cut off the big supply base of Pont Du Fahs, 34 miles southwest of Tunis, which already was menaced by the much-feared Moroccan Goumiers who had driven northeast along the Tunisian Dorsal to a hill overlooking the town.

The tank battle here, which appeared to be the key to the great fight raging all along the front, had cost the Germans 20 tanks in the last 24 hours.

In the wild and deadly action first army armored columns had reached one point only four miles from the supply road running northeast of Pont Du Fahs, and a second column had battered its way to within six miles of the artery.

Among the 20 enemy tanks destroyed in the battle in which the Germans were believed to have committed all or most of their armored reserves were five 60-ton Tigers.

The day's most spectacular air blow was struck by Flying Fortresses which made their longest flight of the North African campaign and bombed Grosseto flying field, 90 miles northwest of Rome to give it Duca a hint of bombing to come.

Losing hundreds of fragmentation bombs in two waves over the airfield, the Fortresses scattered destruction among the buildings.

Nelson Raps Officials For Squabbling

Says Production Programs All Can Be Carried Out

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Sharply critical of publicly-aloud "fighting" between government officials, WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson testified today he believes that not only the synthetic rubber and high octane gasoline programs can be carried out this year, but also the planned production of airplanes, escort vessels and merchant shipping.

Called before the Truman committee inquiring into a dispute involving Rubber Director Jeffers, Undersecretary of War Patterson and Petroleum Administrator Ickes, Nelson said:

"Everything that can be done to expedite construction of plants for manufacture of high octane gasoline will be done," adding: "This can be done through cooperation, not through fighting."

Without mentioning either Patterson or Jeffers by name, the war production board chairman declared:

"Any indulgence in personal rivalries in time of war is completely out of place." Asserting that if any program had been endangered, there was an "established procedure" for review, Nelson added that nothing could be accomplished by "stirring up personal rivalries."

"I never will object to any one going to the press after all the other actions for settlement are taken," he said. "I've had experience in personal rivalries. Any indulgence of that sort in time of war is completely out of place."

Extension Of East Howard Pool Is Seen

Northern extension of the East Howard pool and opening of what appeared to be one of the most promising pay areas for the field was in prospect Tuesday with the showing of the Sinclair No. 1 M. F. Davis.

The test is 1,670 feet of nearest production on the Stanolind (formerly Shasta) lease and is just south of the highway, two and a half miles east of Coahoma.

It topped pay at 2,520 feet, reportedly higher than for the first zone in the pool, and was bottomed at 2,537 feet. Operators estimated it had flowed more than 200 barrels of oil to noon Monday through eight inch string. Where efforts were made to run seven inch string, the test cut loose on another spere, said A. J. Wirth, Sinclair production superintendent.

Plans were to set seven inch casing, possibly test the show and then drill ahead for the lower pay. Location is 330 feet from the south and 990 from the east lines of section 44-30-1n, T&P.

Cosden No. 1 Willard R. Road, 330 feet from the south and west lines of section 30-30-1n, T&P, a wildcat 3,500 cable test to test the area three and a half miles to the east, was reported below 400 feet. The test also is a west-east outcrop to the Read pool in extreme eastern Howard county.

In Martin county, the wildcat M. J. Delaney No. 1 Scharbauer, section 27-39-1n, T&P, was reported shutdown at 2,990 feet in salt after logging the anhydrite top at 1,900 to 1,910 feet. The test is eight miles north of Midland.

Labor Policies At Crucial Stage Strikes Point To Coal Tie-Up

By the Associated Press. The government's wartime labor policies entered a crucial stage today as new walkouts and a threatened wave of strikers portended a possible nationwide tineaup of the soft coal industry by the week's end.

While district leaders of the United Mine Workers gathered in New York for a policy committee meeting with President John L. Lewis, the war labor board made its first appeal to the union leadership for help in stopping the spreading strikes.

Although UMW spokesmen said no strikes had been authorized, they pointed out that Lewis had not forbidden them, and the number of idle miners was estimated more than 23,000 in the Pittsburgh and Birmingham areas.

Most of the Pittsburgh and Birmingham operations are captive mines whose total output is used by the steel companies that own them. At least two commercial mines in Pennsylvania, however, were hit by walkouts and several thousand southeastern Kentucky coal miners quit work.

Bituminous operators in Alabama, Illinois and Indiana have received notice that the miners will not work after midnight Friday. Those states do not come under the Appalachian agreement now in dispute before the WLB, but this dispute is the key to the situation generally.

A panel which is to begin consideration of the issues tomorrow will be headed by Morris Llewellyn Cooke, Philadelphia engineer who was the first administrator of the rural electrification program, as the public's representative.

Representing labor is David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. The employer representative is Walter White, assistant to the chairman of the business advisory council of the commerce department.

Duisburg Blasted By RAF In One Of Heaviest Raids

1,000 Tons Of Explosives Dumped

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—Britain's biggest bombers blasted the great German inland port of Duisburg last night in "one of the heaviest raids" ever carried out against the reich, an official British announcement declared today.

Seventeen bombers were reported missing from the attack, which an air ministry communique described as highly concentrated.

The language of the communique indicated that at least 1,000 tons of bombs were dropped on the city, the weight of explosives probably approaching that of the first 1,000-bomber raid on Cologne last May 30 when 1,500 tons of bombs were dropped.

The night raid followed blows by swift Mosquito bombers late yesterday at railway centers in northwest Germany, in the Rhine-land and in France near the Loire river. All of the raiding planes returned safely to bases, it was announced.

It was the 59th raid on Duisburg, which is situated 12 miles west of Essen at the junction of the Rhine and Ruhr river. The city, which is the site of many heavy war industries and an important communications center, was last bombed the night of April 9, in a raid from which eight bombers failed to return.

Last night's raid was the first time that British heavy bombers had been active since the sweeping assaults on Stettin, Rostock and Berlin last Tuesday night.

The air ministry news service said four-engined Lancaster, Stirling and Halifax bombers and two-engined Wellingtons met "one of the strongest defenses our crews have encountered for some time" in the attack on Duisburg.

Allies Push Near Major Enemy Base In New Guinea

By The Associated Press. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today that American and Australian troops now command hills overlooking Mubo village, only 12 miles south of the big Japanese base at Salamaua, New Guinea, and Allied patrols have penetrated within six miles of the base itself.

Details of the Allied advance were lacking, and it was not immediately clear whether Gen. MacArthur's forces were preparing a new offensive.

H. W. Leeper, Pioneer Resident, Succumbs To Heart Attack

Henry Watkins (Mike) Leeper, pioneer resident of Big Spring, was found dead of heart failure in his bed at his home at 7 a. m. Tuesday.

A funeral was set for Wednesday afternoon at the St. Mary's Episcopal church, of which he was a member.

As city health officer, Leeper had been engaged Monday in making final arrangements for a city-wide rat extermination campaign and was apparently in good health. He became ill before retiring, but seemingly obtained relief and slept all night.

He came to Big Spring in 1893 and spent half of that time as an employe of the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. Mr. Leeper was a machinist by trade and was foreman of his department before he walked out in 1922 in the general railroad shop strike.

Since February 1933 he had been connected with the city as health officer and sanitary inspector, and one of his achievements was in developing a grade milk supply that put Big Spring as one of the first five Texas cities to be on the state honor roll in 1935 and kept the city there continuously since.

More recently he had joined with other city officials in resisting attempts to let the bars down on milk production requirements.

His health department assignment, however, was not his first contact with the municipal government, for he was elected as alderman in 1914 and served a term in that capacity. Subsequently, he was made chief of the volunteer fire department. In fraternal affairs, he was a Knight Templar and a Mason.

Survivors include his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Maude Bennett, Big Spring, and Mrs. Thelma Helton, Houston; three brothers, Fred Leeper, Big Spring, Harry Leeper and Paul R. Leeper, Fort Worth. He leaves one granddaughter, Louise Ann Bennett.

Charges Filed In Ft. Worth Slaying

FORT WORTH, April 27 (AP)—Detective Chief Howard Grant said today that murder charges will be filed against R. L. Holland, 30, for the pre-dawn slaying on a downtown street of Ruel E. Fowler, 23, whom Holland accuses of breaking up his home.

After Rescue—Whiskered but well, Lieut. Thomas Harmon, former Michigan football star, managed to grin after friendly natives guided him to an American base in Dutch Guinea. This official U. S. Army Air Force photo shows Harmon seven days after his bomber crashed in the jungle.

School Board Buys $12,000 In War Bonds

School board members voted Monday afternoon in a special session to purchase $12,000 of Series G. United States War Bonds with funds originally voted for a building fund for the Lakeview Negro school and the Kate Morrison Americanization school.

The fund was originally set up for building purposes in June of 1941. Superintendent W. C. Blankenship said, and architects drew up plans for the buildings. But when bids were taken on the contracts, they overran the fund.

Architects then made revision of the plans and bids were asked again, but again the contractor's bid was more than the sum available, Blankenship said. Then before any more revisions could be made, the war brought priorities on materials, scarcity of building equipment and made the building of the schools impossible, it was pointed out.

The $12,000 since that time has been idle in the bank, the superintendent said, until on April 15, the government authorized that such school building money could be used for the purchase of war bonds. The money cannot be used for any other purposes such as operation expenses, Blankenship said, so rather than let the funds continue idle, the school board unanimously agreed to purchase the bonds.

13 New Raids On Kiska Isle

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Army bombers broke a four-day lull in raids on Japanese-held Kiska Island, the navy reported today, by blasting the enemy base 13 times Sunday.

Results were not observed exactly due to poor visibility, a communique said. The same day a flight of heavy bombers struck at Attu Island, subordinate base to Kiska, and scored hits on the runway there. The Japanese have been working for months to build air bases on Attu and Kiska.

Secretary of the Navy Knox said at a press conference earlier today that they might conceivably use those Aleutian positions for attempts to raid the west coast although he declared that the possibility of such an operation is remote.

You Can Do Something About This!

Tokio's Savagery Against Our Young Fliers Will Be Avenged. You can help speed the day when we will bring the murderers of our boys to justice by buying War Bonds to the very limit of your ability. Every American has been stirred to burning anger, every American can do something about it today. Your War Bonds will become the bombs which the comrades of our martyred boys will unleash time and time again upon these Japanese fiends until they beg for mercy. They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money.

$140,000 In War Bonds To Be Sold In 3 Days

The hour is growing late—"ten minutes to midnight," the treasury puts it—and Howard county still has close to $140,000 to go if it carries out the assignment Uncle Sam has handed down in the Second War Loan.

But the people were "coming through," and Campaign Chairman Ted Groebel and his co-workers were feeling more confident Tuesday that the $708,000 goal will be reached, probably passed, by the time the drive ends Friday night.

Subscriptions took a jump Monday, with about $30,000 accounted for. And there were some major sales reported Tuesday morning, issuing agencies through Monday night had reported a total of $504,148.

The farther we can go beyond our quota, the prouder we should be," Groebel said. "This is no time to let up, and we hope nobody with money he can put in war bonds is letting up—until Uncle Sam has the money."

The local campaign gets another boost Wednesday, when the Safeway Stores set aside all sales receipts for the day for bonds. Safeway is following this day's observance throughout the nation.

How the military can use the people's loans will be demonstrated Wednesday evening at the Army show at the city auditorium. Groebel joined army officials in urging full attendance at the program, which is free.

Reds Strike From Air Trade Pacts Get Approval

MOSCOW, April 27 (AP)—Aviation activity had reached a new fury on the Soviet-German front today as Russians, with increased air strength, continued to blast nazi forward and rear positions and communications.

The most intensive action still was in the Kuban region of the Caucasus. Red Star, the army newspaper, said that followi... great air losses, the German air activity in the Kuban slackened after April 23 but Russian activity increased.

Reds Strike From Air Trade Pacts Get Approval

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—The house ways and means committee voted 14 to 11 today approval of the administration's reciprocal trade agreement program essentially as it was requested by the state department after rejecting a series of republican amendments.

The committee accepted one change, offered by representative Dewey (R-N.Y.), that would include as a reason for suspending trade with another nation evidence that the country dealt with international cartels.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said the measure, renewing for three years the state department's authority to negotiate reciprocal pacts with other nations, would be presented on the floor of the house after the tax problem has been settled.

RAIDS IN BURMA. NEW DELHI, April 27. (AP)—Liberator heavy bombers of the tenth U. S. airforce struck the Thilawa oil refinery south of Rangoon yesterday and scored many direct hits on installations around the distillation plant and among storage tanks, today's U. S. communique said.

Varied Entertainment In Army's Show Wednesday

Music—instrumental and vocal—tap dancing, novelty skits and brief inspirations talks make up the all-star show to be presented by the army at the municipal auditorium Wednesday night—an event shaping up as one of the stellar presentations of the year for Big Spring folk.

The program, a climax to a special army observance which also includes a colorful street parade at 8 p. m. Wednesday, is all free, and the public is invited to attend.

Complete program was announced Tuesday by the Special Services section of the Bombardier school, whence most of the talent is coming. There also will be a detachment of WAACs here from Lubbock to present a special skit.

The AAFBS band will open the show with a 10-minute concert.

Then Marcia Nell Patterson, NBC radiol soloist on leave from special programs for a visit here with her officer-husband, will sing "Daybreak" and "There Are Such Things." Jean Odele will present a tap dance, to be followed by the WAAC number. Bill Mavromatis will present accordion solos, and Sgt. Hal Harris and his "Cornhuskers" will offer novelty music. Cpl. Phil Tucker, who also is to be master of ceremonies, will be seen in a tap dance, and the band will conclude the program with selections climaxing in the Star Spangled Banner.

The parade at 8 p. m. Wednesday will include the color units, the AAFBS and high school bands, a cadet detachment, the WAACs, jeeps, and Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

A-B-C-D Stamps Expire Friday

Friday, April 30, will mark the expiration date of all A B C and D red stamps in War Ration Book Two available for meats, fats, cheese and butter.

The date will also be a deadline for typewriter dealers to secure certificates for rental of class B typewriters.

FOOD SHOPPERS NOTICE!

EVERY PENNY

EVERY NICKEL, EVERY DOLLAR WE TAKE IN ON SAFEWAY-BOND-DAY, WED. APR. 28 GOES FOR BONDS!

Wednesday, April 28, is Safeway Bond Day. On that day the entire gross sales of the Safeway organization will be turned into War Bonds! This includes every Safeway Store in the nation. The amount collected in each town will be spent there and the bond purchase can be counted in the local drive. The total will be huge! Thousands and thousands of dollars for tanks, guns, planes, half tracks, guns, jeeps... and yes, food for our boys!

YOUR FOOD MONEY GOES TO WAR ON BOND-DAY!!!

Every penny that you and your friends spend for food... Safeway's good food at Safeway's every-day low prices... on Bond Day goes directly to the aid, protection and comfort of our men under arms. It costs you nothing. Not one cent of food value will your family sacrifice; not one cent will you spend except for good value received. And yet... the more you buy, the more Uncle Sam can buy!

SPEND EXPIRING FOOD STAMPS... TELL YOUR FRIENDS!

On Friday, April 30, just two days later, Red Stamps A, B, C, D, and Blue Stamps, D, E, F will expire. Spend them on Bond Day and help Bond sales. Remember, you save money at Safeway every day of the week by paying lower prices for quality foods. Besides expiring stamps, Red Stamp E and Blue Stamps G, H, J will also be spendable on Safeway Bond Day.

HELP BUY MORE BONDS!!!!

Meet The Bombardiers— Sports, Arts Dropped While Young Men Learn Bombing

Sports and arts interest many of the young men who make up the newest class of cadets at the Big Spring Bombardier school. But right now, they are concentrating on learning to be top precision bombers so they can deal out block busters on Tokyo and Berlin. Meet others in the newest cadet class:

ILLINOIS
George E. Pluhar, along with seven other lads, came all the way from Chicago to visit with us for the next twelve weeks. George is an Alpha Sigma Lambda from Tilden Tech, and he goes for softball, football, bowling and golf. In civilian life he was a salesman for A. Sulka & Co. The next lad from the windy city is Don Perolat, a former De Paul University student, who has worked both as a grocery clerk and an auto screw machine operator. Don really goes in for a lot of things on the side. He's quite talented in sports, in addition to being an expert swimmer, a talented writer, a first class musician, and an able photographer, he's quite a hiker. Thinks nothing of tearing off twenty miles or so before breakfast. Don's idea of a large evening is a good old fashioned "bull" session.

Jimmy Mulay, a shipping clerk, is next. He's a Lane Tech lad whose favorite sports are baseball and golf, he manages to keep in shape for these strenuous activities by jitterbugging on the side. And when Jimmy jitters, he's like a bowl of jello with the DT's. His ambition is to become a good bombardier, and pass his jitters on to the Japs.

Edward Francis Morgan is another Lane Tech lad, whose main sport is basketball. He was a member of the National Guard as far back as '38, and in March of '41 he enlisted in the army. Eddie's brother, Bob, is in the 291st Infantry stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. Sidney Nelsken, a former Wright Jr. college student, was a foreman for a lamp manufacturer in civilian life. Sid goes in for bowling, tennis, volleyball and art. He's been in the army for about two and a half years now, and has a brother named Sam who is a private out at McClellan field in California.

Jerome Francis McLaughlin, basketball, baseball and singer extraordinary. (that's right, Miss Haley—the lad's got a voice) earned his living as a production engineer before the army won him over. His chief sport is swimming, and his main hobby is anything mechanical. Jerry's brothers, Bill and Dick, are both lieutenants in the army. And Jerry's ambition is to wind up as a chemical engineer. Harry Haid used to be an insurance clerk. He's a Wright Jr. college boy who insists that he has absolutely no hobbies whatever. No sports either. Therefore we can't tell you anything about him at all except that he's been in the army since April of '42.

The last lad from Chicago is John Aloysius Gutzwiller, Jr. After graduating from Mt. Carmel high school in '35, he spent several years at Central YMCA college, and went on to study law at the John Marshall Law school. Johnny is very partial toward football, basketball, softball, music and photography. His ambition in life is to be a commercial aviation lawyer.

Robert Allen Garrison, a native of Cambridge, was a letter man in football, basketball and track during his four years at Cambridge high. In civilian life he was a machine operator in a shell plant, and his hobby is building model airplanes. Bob has a brother stationed in London, England.

The next boy hails from Danville. His name is Theodore Henleur dramatist and a good dancer to boot.

The next lad is from Indianapolis, and his name is John Elmer Maguire. John graduated from Technical high school in 1937, and went to work for the International Harvester company as a machine operator. He tells us all his talents are strictly vocal, which might mean singing, talking, hog-calling or what have you? John has two brothers in the armed forces. Lt. Thomas Maguire is in an armored division, and aviation cadet James Maguire is training to be a pilot. John is married, and his chief ambition is to have a happy home life—and he's willing to fight for it.

Joe Watson Masters, a Frankfort boy, is next. Joe is just nineteen years old, and after his graduation from Frankfort high school in 1941, he joined up to help whip the Axis. He goes in for volleyball, football, photography, writing, and stamp collecting. Then we have Kenneth Butler McCoy, a timber buyer from Indianapolis. Kenneth is a former De Pauw University student who shone in tennis, track and baseball. In addition to these accomplishments, he's a sket shooter and first class forester. He last worked for the Wells Lumber company in Lumber City, Georgia, and his ambition is to own his own sawmill.

Harry Elmo Motesinger hails from Salem. After graduating from the Pekin high school in '41, Harry Elmo went to work for the Goodyear Engineering Corp. He has a brother in V-8 naval aviation reserve.

IOWA
Donald Lee McAdams hails from Dow, a pleasant little farming community in Wright county. He spent a couple of years at St. Olaf college in Northfield, Minnesota, and then left to enlist in the army.

Don is a Phi Gamma Rho, a star basketball player, and a baseball player until recently as a laborer for the Coca Cola company in his hometown, and his main ambition, to quote him verbatim, is to die of old age. Our next cadet used to be a watch worker, (and by that we don't mean that he just watched others work—his business was repairing watches.) He answers to the name of Howard Leon Moss, and he hails from Dundas. Howard graduated from Dundas high school back in '35 and went to work for the Elgin people in the town of the same name. His sports are hunting, fishing and basketball. From Highland Park comes Vincent Joseph Peddie, former student at Northwestern University. Vincent is a football and track man who left school and traveled until recently to Hoboken, N. J., to get himself a job as a factory supervisor for the Lipton Tea firm. His hobby is tearing down machines, and putting them back together again. And his ambition is to practice his hobby on the axis—that is—the first part only.

Donald Phillip Peterson from Rock Island is the last cadet from Ill. He's an Augustana college student who studied engineering and worked at it in Davenport, Iowa, until March of '41 when he entered the army. He says he's an all-sport boy. Likes 'em all, plays 'em all, and expert at none.

INDIANA
Max Alton Heiderman, a native of Oaktown, is an associate of arts from Vincennes University. He's also a De Moay, an Alpha Iota Upsilon, a school teacher, a basketball star, a track man, a trumpet player, a debating champ and an amateur actor for good measure. Not bad for one guy. The next gent from Indiana is one Wilfred Eugene Herring, a native of Goshen, and a graduate of its local high school. His hobby is model aircraft design and construction, and his ambition after the war, is to become an aeronautical engineer. Wilfred enlisted last year in Orlando, Florida.

Jack Bertram Orlopp is a shipping clerk from Indianapolis. Jack was a star basketballer during his years at Arsenal Technical high school, and after graduating in June of '36, he tried his hand at many jobs including that of a cartoonist. Jack's brother, Wayne is a private stationed at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana. From South Bend, the home of famous Notre Dame, we have Richard Peil, a Northwestern University man. Dick was a genuine all-around athlete, and has practically a trunk full of letters to prove it. He starred in basketball, football, swimming, baseball and track—all varsity stuff too. In civilian life, Dick was a processing engineer for General Motors, and in addition to this job, he has had considerable experience as a commercial artist. And if that isn't enough, he's a Phi Kappa Psi, a Purple Key, a Rotarian, an ama-

Five Million Tires By End Of Year, Jeffers Says

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—Rubber Director William M. Jeffers, scheduled to return to Washington today, said the nation will produce 5,000,000 tires out of synthetic rubber by the end of this year. "We have made a good many already and have made tests of them," he said. "They are not yet being released on the market. I am hopeful that eventually we can meet all requirements." Texas and the Gulf coast may become as great a source of synthetic rubber as Malaya was of crude, the rubber director, who returned here from an inspection trip of synthetic rubber plants in this area, said. Jeffers said there will be enough tires by the middle of 1944 to meet all essential requirements.

Week's Oil Output Down 44,350 Bbls.

TULSA, Okla., April 27 (AP)—Daily crude oil production in the United States decreased 44,350 barrels during the week ending April 24 to 3,921,920, the Oil and Gas Journal said today. Arkansas increased 600 barrels; eastern fields 700 to 92,000; Kansas 8,000 to 118,800; Louisiana 100 to 346,300; Oklahoma 1,800 to 341,400; Texas 1,150 to 1,390,150; Rocky Mountain States 2,200 to 125,240. California decreased 7,000 barrels

M'Nair Already Out Of Hospital

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN EVACUATION HOSPITAL IN NORTHERN TUNISIA, April 27. —(Delayed) (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Leslie J. McNair, chief of all American ground forces, left a hospital bed today only three days after he had been injured by a German artillery shell. Pinned on McNair's uniform was the order of the purple heart put there yesterday by the second corps commander for wounds received when a shell landed nearby while McNair was observing a doughboy advance in northern Tunisia.

TWO DIE IN CRASH
VERNON, April 27 (AP)—Arch D. Collins, Jr., 24, pilot, and W. P. Smith, Jr., Vernon business men, were killed yesterday when their plane crashed into the east porch of the Hillcrest country club here.

Army Needing Much More Equipment

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—The army, instead of accumulating a surplus of munitions, is so far from its needs that it will not be able to furnish all troops with basic equipment until late next year, Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell said today.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the U. S. chamber of commerce, the commanding general of the army service forces stated categorically "there have been no huge accumulations of stores which could not be moved overseas."

"In point of fact," he added, "we are still not free from difficulties in providing essential cargo for the shipping which is available to us."

Widespread discussion of recent reductions in the production program for the ground forces, Somervell said, has failed to take into account that the action concerned future schedules, not current production, which is still increasing at a rate of about $100,000,000 a month.

Branding reports of a munitions surplus and rumors that the automobile industry was shifting from military to civilian production as axis-inspired propaganda designed to slow up the war effort Somervell declared that "victory is not just around the corner."

He paid his caustic respects to "the drugstore admirals and the powder room generals," and said specifically:

"We are not neglecting the submarine."
"We are not neglecting the civilian economy."
"We are not neglecting the rights of labor."
"We are not neglecting industry's rights."

"We are giving each of these, we think, consideration in its proper proportion and at the proper time."

"But the one thing above all else we do not neglect is the business of winning the war."

Daffy variety is the keynote of the USO-Camp Shows "Crazy Show," which comes to the Big Spring Bombardier School on Thursday. Among performers are Wilbur Hall and Benie, a whole show themselves, for they sing, play a variety of instruments, wisecrack and clown. The show is designed along lines of the hit Olson and Johnson shows in New York and feature such well known vaudeville favorites as Arkey and Roberts, Lee Bartell, exotic vocalist, Vivian Frances, Eddie Hanley, Ben McAttee is master of ceremonies. The shows, at 8 p. m. and 9 p. m. in the post theatre, are open to soldiers and their families only.

Rites Are Held
LAMESA, April 27 (Spl)—Funeral for Vernon W. Bryant, 24, who died Sunday afternoon at Marlin following a prolonged illness, was held here this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial was in the local cemetery. Bryant was a member of the city commission.

Retreat

parked planes, and smashed buildings at the reserve German air force base.

In union with British first army and American advances, the British eighth army infantry too made "slight advances" in difficult hill fighting, a spokesman said.

But the main theaters were on the axis' western flank where British Churchill tanks had been used in some cases to climb peaks 2,000 feet high and support the infantry.

The American advance in the Jafna area, too, was against "extremely difficult resistance," with the German rearguards leaving heavy minefields behind to cover their general retreat.

But the Americans were reported making progress in the valley east of Sedjmanah and west of Lake Achel, whose western shore is only 17 miles west of Bizerte.

The communiques said 260 prisoners were taken in the Germans' rock and concrete grottoes on long Stop hill, the eastern end of which finally was cleaned out to allow the British to advance on Tebourba, the gateway to Tunisia.

City Commission Convenes Tonight

Routine matters are scheduled for attention of the city commission when it goes into session for its regular semi-monthly meeting this evening. It was considered probable that the question of whether to open Moss Creek lake to fishing with the beginning of the season Saturday will be discussed. Indications, however, are that the lake will not be opened at this time at least.

Negro Singers On Radio Broadcast

Negro soldiers of the 350th aviation squadron will be featured in quartet numbers and negro spirituals tonight at 7:15 p. m. when the public relations office of the Big Spring Bombardier school will present a radio broadcast. Ted Groehl, chairman of the local bond drive, will also speak during the 15 minute program.

Song Convention Held At Hartwells

The Howard county semi-annual singing convention was held at Hartwells school Sunday before a large crowd which selected officers for the organization during the day.

N. F. King was named president and Carroll Rogers, vice president. Mrs. M. N. Lowe is to be secretary-treasurer and L. W. Butler, chairman.

Next meeting place is to be selected by the officers and will be held the fourth Sunday in October. Singers from over the county participated and dinner was served on the grounds.

Announcement was made of the West Texas Singing convention to be held Sunday, May 2, in Big Lake by Paul Attaway, vice president and acting secretary.

Plans are to have the Stamp-Baxter quartet from Dallas to attend the convention.

Three local men at the Big Spring Bombardier school recently have been given promotions. Advanced from corporal to sergeant were Ward R. Hall, 1006 Scurry, former operator of Hall Wrecking company; Weldon D. Engle, 605 Lancaster, former rancher of Coahoma; and Robert R. McEwen, Jr., 708 West 20th, formerly associated with his father in the McEwen Motor company. All are members of the 817th squadron.

It may take time, but Red Cross eventually gets word through to friends and relatives in occupied countries. Mrs. Charles White had written a friend in Copenhagen, Denmark early in May of 1942 to make inquiry of her father, who lives a short distance from there. She has just received reply dated Nov. 22, 1942, but unfortunately it made no mention of her father. Mrs. White has hopes of hearing from him soon since she wrote him about the same time.

The Staked Plains Masonic lodge will confer the Fellowcraft degree at 8 p. m. today, and all Masons are invited to attend.

Jack Hendrix left Tuesday morning for Fort Worth to enter employ of the Consolidated Aircraft company. Mrs. Hendrix and the children will join him in about two weeks. For 15 1/2 years he had been associated with the R. & E. theastres here, and for the past year had served as assistant manager.

Friends here have learned of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Drouet left Tuesday for New Orleans, La., where she will visit her husband's father, Edwain Drouet, and his sister, Mrs. Pierre J. Stouss, for several weeks. Mrs. Drouet heard recently from her husband, S-Sgt. Drouet, who is in North Africa, that he has met Capt. James Couch in his section of the country. Drouet and Couch formerly worked here for Commercial Credit company.

The regular monthly Boy Scout camp will be held Friday, H. D. Norris, scout executive, reminded Tuesday. Boys will meet at the Texas Electric Service parking lot after school to leave their bedding, etc., and most will hike to the scout grounds.

One of the products of the West Texas frontier, J. J. Halsell of Lubbock, was a visitor in Big Spring Tuesday. Halsell, 83 years "young" rode the cattle trails throughout the Southwest, and knows the routes like you know your backyard. He was in this country to see the "big spring" as a great watering hole, in 1853 when the T&P was pushing this way. Author of such range lore as "The Old Time Chisholm Trail," "The Old Cimarron," "Cowboys and Cattleland," and "Romance of the West" Halsell now devotes his time to his books.

Replace Dark Shade Linings

You'll get better light if you replace lamp shades which have dark linings with shades having white or very light linings. You can reline the inside of dark parchment shades yourself, by rolling the shade around a large sheet of heavy white paper, and marking the outline. Trim and stick inside the shade with scotch tape.

13 Nags To Run Today In Derby Trial Event

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 27 (AP)—Derbyville put on the wartime version of its annual war paint today as 13 of the hopefuls and the "not-so-falls" got out their running shoes to shoot for a spot in Saturday's select Kentucky Derby set.

The Derby trial mile was scheduled today. This time, the trial mile has drawn all but four of the "name" horses for Saturday's big pot, but despite the classy collection of hay-stokes who'll be on hand, the big interest of the day is in a gee-gee who is not even in the gallop.

This naturally is Count Fleet, the hottest Mr. Big ever to grab at the Derby brass ring. He's one of the quartet of Saturday's likely starters who won't try for the trial pot, but he'll keep his hand in by taking an airing over the full Derby mile and a quarter route.

Second place looms large for today's preview and Saturday's main event.

This year, most of the boys are about reconciled to the outlook that second money in the Derby is all they'll get.

The result is Warren Wright's Ocean Wave, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' No Wrinkles, W. E. Boeing's duet of Slide Rule and Twosies, J. Graham Brown's Seven Hearts, Mrs. Henry L. Finch's Modest Lad and Ed J. C. (Rochester) Anderson's Burnt Cork are all given a chance today as well as a look-in for the runner-up slot Saturday.

TCU, Texas Losing Many Star Gridders

By The Associated Press

Another batch of football players starts moving from Southwest conference schools into the army today with the Texas Christian and Texas the hardest hit.

Every school has gridders in this latest call on the army reserves, T. C. U. leading the list with nine, including Ralph Porter, fullback, and Bob Balaban, end, on last year's first string, but with Texas losing the most lettermen.

In fact, both of the men slated to be regular tackles on the Longhorn team next fall—Glen Morris and Henry Harris—are due to depart today. Texas also is losing Walton Roberts, fine running and passing back, and End Rex Baumgardner. Two freshman stars, Loran Weems, guard, and Frank Gues, back, are included in the list.

Texas A&M loses four, Southern Methodist three, Rice one and Arkansas three although few of them are lettermen.

Those called from T. C. U. are Balaban, Porter, David Bloxson, Horace Bostick, Pete Clark, Richard Stubbs, Ross Stazley and Ernest Caffey. Clark, a quarterback, was on the varsity squad last season along with Balaban and Porter. All are to report Camp Wolters Friday.

A&M's four entering the service Thursday are from last fall's freshman team. They are: Hans Neumann, Milton Routt and Homer Moore, guards, and Walter Ruff, tackle.

Southern Methodist will see Johnny Collins, Ed Green and Jack Moncrief, all backs, report Thursday. Collins is the only letterman but the other two were on the varsity squad last fall.

Jim Sprull, sophomore tackle, is the only loss at Rice while Arkansas lists reserve center Floyd Thomas, reserve back Bill Muncy and freshman Guard Everett Crosslow.

Baylor University is not expected to have a football team next season anyway.

Majors Move Into Other Cities For First Games

New Check On Attendance Available

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues will undergo another attendance test from baseball fans, or vice versa, today as the National and American leagues present their "second opening," the home debuts of the clubs which have been on the road since the start of the season.

Advance estimates were that about 90,000 fans would turn out for the eight games and if the predictions are fulfilled baseball not only will have its biggest day of the spring, but will have a load lifted off its collective mind.

The schedule and the expected attendance:

National League—Boston at New York 15,000; Cincinnati at Pittsburgh 15,000; Chicago at St. Louis 10,000; Brooklyn at Philadelphia 7,000.

American League—St. Louis at Detroit 25,000; New York at Boston 10,000; Cleveland at Chicago 5,000; Philadelphia at Washington 3,000.

Up till now attendance at games has been far below expectations and observers have been casting around for explanations as well as solutions. The approximate total turnout for 27 ball games (double-headers counted as one, of course) has been 248,000 divided 125,400 in the National league for 13 dates and 121,600 in the American league for 14 dates.

That amounts to less than an average of 10,000 in spite of the fact that the figures include opening day, Saturday and Sunday—usually three peaks. Only two games, the inaugurals at Washington and Cincinnati, have drawn as many as 20,000 fans.

Baseball magnates are hopeful they can find the answer to the mystery of what has become of the almost fanatic followers who once flocked to their parks rain or shine, good teams or bad.

Two National league clubs, the Cincinnati Reds and the Phillies already have announced forthcoming experiments with morning games. Most of the members of the senior circuit also have decided to use last year's baseballs till a new and livelier model of the 1943 balata ball can be produced.

812th Wins Over Medicos, 5-2

Three unearned runs broke a deadlock and gave the 812th Squadron a 5-2 victory over the Medical Detachment as play was resumed in the Big Spring Bombardier School softball league Monday afternoon.

Cpl. Melcher for the Medicos and Sgt. Ruffolo for the 812th squared off in a pitchers duel with Melcher whiffing six and Ruffolo seven.

After the Medical Detachment had tallied twice in the opening stanza, Ruffolo singled home Sgt. Barclay and Sgt. Carr for the 812th in the fourth to knot the county. Then in the next frame, Sgt. Pye's bouncer got away and two runs trickled across. Pye scored himself a moment later on a miscue.

Cpl. Ware of the Medicos led hitting with a pair of singles. Pvt. Barbour, third base, Pye, shortstop, and Barclay, shortfield, shone for the 812th while Sgt. Lis of the Medicos contributed the most sensational bit of fielding for the day—a one-handed, bare-handed stab of Carr's long foul.

Grid Squad Gets Some Unexpected Line Strength

Prospects for the Steer football team are brightening daily, for not only are inexperienced lads showing up well but some old hands thought to be lost are reporting back.

Last week this was the case for Noel "Goat" Hull, busy tackle who was converted to guard by Coach John Dibrell.

Monday Goat was back at his old tackle spot with I. B. Bryan as a running mate on the strength of the projected return of Ray Thomas as at guard. Ray has been out and was feared lost to the team next autumn, but he was due to be out for practice Tuesday afternoon. With Harlan Morgan at one guard and Thomas and Lee Christian at the other, not to speak of an improved situation at tackle and the sparkling brand of end play being turned in—things are looking rosy around Steer stadium these days.

There will be fundamental drilling Tuesday afternoon, more of the same capped by a scrimmage Wednesday. On Friday the rough-and-ready inter-squad scrimmage will be staged and a considerable crowd is expected to be on hand to see.

THE WAR TODAY: Finnish, Polish Problems Difficult

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Post-war reconstruction in Europe seems to be heading into some dirty weather, what with Soviet Russia's severance of relations with the Polish government in exile, and the diplomatic ties between Washington and our once good friend, Finland, shivering in the balance.

Moscow charges that the Poles, "to please Hitler's tyranny," have been accusing the Reds of murdering 10,000 Polish officers.

In the Russian-Polish imbroglio we have ready-made one of the knotty problems of any peace conference. Actually the Finnish refusal to abandon making war on Russia is a piece of the same cloth, for here again the question of territories is the real issue.

While no state of war exists between Finland and the United States, we are suffering—and the Allied cause is suffering—many of the damaging effects of a declared hostility. The Finns are working in full cooperation with the Huns in making war on our Russian ally.

Helsinki maintains the fiction that the Finnish war is quite apart from the global conflict. This was emphasized at the time that Field Marshal Mannerheim visited Hitler at the latter's headquarters last June.

Mannerheim's first order of the day to his troops, as they went into battle against the Russians in June of 1941, summoned them to "a holy war against the enemy of our nation" and declared that "we set forth side by side of the mighty armed forces of Germany as their comrades in arms." If that doesn't make the Finns the allies of the nazis, then language has ceased to

Cadets Learn To Be 'Fish'

Finland is said to swarm with Germans. Field Marshal Mannerheim, who is the country's greatest hero and one of the outstanding personalities of her history, certainly seems friendly enough to the axis. He has been decorated by the Germans and Italians. On the baron's seventy-fifth birthday last June 4, Fuehrer Hitler flew clear from Germany to Helsinki to congratulate him and present him with the golden grand cross of the German eagle.

It looks as though little Finland has strained the bonds of friendship with the Allies pretty hard. Indications are that she will have to make a mighty quick shift in her attitude or take the consequences in the peace conference.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 27 (AP)—A wirephoto picture of the finish of the 100-yard dash in the Drake Relays has brought belated recognition to Leon English of the Prairie View, Texas, Teachers.

After studying the picture, relay judges and officials announced that English was the rightful winner of second place instead of Harold Wimberly of Illinois, the judges' choice Saturday.

"The photograph clearly shows that Joe Rhy of Missouri is the winner of the race, but beyond a shadow of doubt English was entitled to second place," Bill Easton, relays director said.

"It is a regrettable error," Easton added "and we are going to send a second-place medal to English and give him official confirmation."

The revised official version was shy in first place, English second, John Murphy of Notre Dame third and Bert Lindsey of Texas fourth. Easton also announced that a special honorary gold medal will be sent to Harold Osborne, University of Illinois assistant track coach, whose 21-year-old Drake Relays high jump record was broken Saturday when Pete Watkins of Texas A. and M. cleared 6 feet 8 inches.

The medal will be inscribed: "To a real champion—1922-1943, high jump, Drake Relays."

She entered T. T. Mott's Lone Gallant in today's steeplechase, over Pimlico's "about two-mile" jumping course.

Service Men In Need Of Sports Equipment

HOLLYWOOD, April 27 (AP)—They liked "Mousie," and "Elmer the Great"—characterizations Joe E. Brown has made famous—but what went over biggest among soldiers in the Pacific war theatre was the comedian's motion picture of the Georgia-U.C.L.A. Rose Bowl game.

Brown made this disclosure yesterday in announcing he will seek a fund of at least $5,000 to provide boxing gloves "for every post in the Pacific."

Sports equipment, he said, is sorely needed in the outposts where American troops await a crack at the Japs, and in this view he has the support of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"He (the general) feels that sports are a necessity out there," Brown declared. "The boys get a tremendous kick out of listening to sports broadcasts and reading papers which contain sports news."

It used to be A Headache!

THIS YOUNG MAN'S MILLINERY is merely a dramatic way of picturing the plight of the average car owner after trying to decide between the conflicting claims and values of all the motor oils on the market.

Trying to choose between them is something of a headache, especially when you are neither a petroleum chemist nor an automotive engineer. You need facts to guide your choice of a safe and saving motor oil.

So read this frank, simple statement, if you want to know which lubricant to use in order to care for your car for your country. If you want our best oil, remember we definitely specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality . . . the highest grade and greatest value . . . among all the oils we offer to average motorists.

In times like these, when cars must last, it is almost impossible to overestimate the value of quality in motor oil. Play safe by asking for Phillips 66 Motor Oil when draining winter-worn lubricant, or when making the recommended every-two-months oil change.

Editorial - - Planning Without A Workable Foundation

Laying plans for what is to be done when the war ends has been called blueprinting for tomorrow. Plans for construction being accompanied by blueprints that direct the mechanic how to cut his material and where to put it in what he is building.

Some of these blueprints are veritable dreams, others have some workability, in part at least, according to our lights at the moment. Whether they will stand up under the conditions that we shall face when the war ends is another question.

Perhaps it would be better for these architects of the future to give their time and talent, if any, to blueprinting for today. There are problems today that must be solved before we tackle those of after the war, for unless they are solved and a remedy applied the war will drag on for so long that we will have little left for which to plan.

Suppose all this energy used in formulating and setting out the post-war plans were devoted to offering reasons why we should buy more bonds, or to study of the difficulties of preventing inflation, or to one or more of the very pressing problems that we are wrestling with right now. Might it not be that out of all the multitude of counselors there might come a grain of something really workable and that could be put to work.

The man or men who make the road today smoother and shorter in reaching the end we are fighting for is worth all these planners for the future. Practical blueprints who make plans for a building know beforehand what materials are available for being put into the structure, what each will cost and how it is to be used. The future planners have none of this definite information to make their plans workable. They are proposing to build on an unknown foundation, with questionable materials, and from a plan that will have many alterations when it comes to be put into use.

Washington Daybook—

'Lick The Platter Clean' Is The Way To Stop Waste

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—If you haven't heard of Rep. Chester H. Gross, the little Republican from Manchester, Pa., the chances are you soon will, by indirect means.

He's the "Lick-the-platter-clean" man, who is staging a one-man war on food waste—not at source, but on the home and restaurant tables and in the American garbage pails.

Congressman Gross is a double-dyed freshman in the house of representatives. He served one term in 1938-39, lost what little seniority that amounted to on the minority side of the house, and came back again this year. But his past record doesn't give him any right to be heard or seen any more than other freshmen.

Until a few weeks ago, Mr. Gross observed perfect behavior so far as his house tradition is concerned. Then he got up and made a little one-minute speech. He has made half a dozen since. The theme of all of them is, "Lick the platter clean." While others are blustering about production and distribution of foodstuffs, the gentleman from Pennsylvania has hit upon the idea of mopping up at the table.

If you don't think that's a good idea, listen to the last report Mr. Gross had from the department of agriculture. Summed up, it amounts to this: 15 per cent of our food supply is wasted somewhere between the stove and the garbage can. If we could just cut this waste in half, he says, "our food problems would be solved."

Those are strong words, but the congressman already has the department of agriculture, a slew of restaurants, and some consumer and civic organizations on his side. In New York, the other day, one of the larger restaurants in the Broadway area tacked up a sign of highway billboard proportions asking customers to "Lick the platter clean." Some consumer organizations already have started making it the "tagline" on their letterheads. The moguls of a few civic organizations are getting their pictures in the papers by demonstrating how to dunk the last drop of gravy from a plate with the last crust of bread. The department of agriculture is reportedly building brochures and pamphlets around the idea.

Mr. Gross is taking it all very calmly. But there's the gleam of the pioneer in his eye. While his colleagues were stomping around with pay-as-you-go and farm parity legislation, he was hacking away at "lick the platter clean" with those little one-minute, on-the-record harangues.

In view of that and the fact that most of us think only of platemoppers as pre-war urban Frenchmen, it may be surprising information that Mr. Gross is a fifth-generation farmer. Not only that, but he's the kind of farmer who can take the agriculture department's estimates for maximum production on his land and add them by 20 to 40 per cent. At least so his friends tell me.

Mr. Gross is slight in stature. He's 55 years old. He and Mrs. Gross are the parents of eight children, seven of whom are still living. Aside from his farm accomplishments and his two terms in congress, he has held numerous township offices and has had one term in the Pennsylvania legislature.

If the nation really starts "licking the platter clean," don't forget the name of Chester H. Gross. The drive is strictly his baby.

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

Chapter 15

"Me?" said Tubac. "You ain't believin' I'm counterfeitin'?"

"Look!" the marshal said. "Either you talk, or . . . Hell! I've wasted enough time."

"I sh'd say so!" Tubac flickered a thumb at the recuperating banker. "There's the guy you're lookin' for—the Great Hi Grab, The Widower's Friend, The Orphan's Advisor. He takes care of my money for me—every nickel I spent comes outa his vaults."

The marshal's hard eyes turned grim focus on Haines. "What about this, Haines?"

"This is preposterous!" Haines snarled thickly.

Mueller said to Haines: "Jones got an account with you?"

"No—y-yes. Come to think of it, he opened one yesterday; but you—"

"That's only half the truth," Tubac growled. "He give me a receipt written in some kinda fading ink an' when I got out to the ranch all I had was a blank piece of paper—"

"I explained all that, spluttered Haines, almost beside himself. "I fired the man quick as I learned of it—"

"Yeah—I'll bet you did! Ask him," Jones jeered, "where he gets all the money to buy X & L on margin!"

Haines looked about ready to swoon. "This—this is ridiculous!" he snarled. "It's nobody's business but I do with my money—"

"If," grinned Jones very meaningfully, "it's your money."

"I think," Mueller said, "I'll have a look at your books—"

"You'd do nothing of the sort! You've no right—"

"Are you tryin' to tell me how to run my business?"

"It's high time somebody told you," Haines, almost beside himself with fright and anger, was in no mood to prune his language. "You monkey with this bank an' I'll have that star off your shirt so quick it'll make your head swim!"

"Oh, you will, will you!" Jinx Mueller said softly; and Tubac, on a sudden hunch, said:

"Guess I better leave you gents to iron this out by yourselves. Bankers an' counterfeitin' is outa my class. I'll be across the street."

Tubac was feeling good as he pushed through the mob that was crammed like sardines in the lobby. Bug-eyed and gaping, they were all standing round for a look at the two-bit neater in the brush-scattered chaps who thought he could buck Grab Haines and his backers.

Tubac threw back his shoulders and, cuffing his hat to an arrogant angle, strode through the crowd, flinging out smiles like he'd seen Haines do; and then, by the door, he saw Archie McGillis, and Sheriff Ike Shallet was right by his side.

"Well, well!" Jones said. "Come sneakin' outa your holes again, have you? Where's the widder an' orphans Haines sent you to round up? Better ketch him some quick 'cause he's sure goin' to need 'em!"

"Ahr—you an' your blowin'! Why'n't you rent yourself out fer a windmill?" sneered Shallet; but McGillis stretched out his fingers to stop him.

"Hold up, mom! What's a-brewin' in there?"

"Why'n't you push in an' see?" blared Jones loudly. "Hell of a bank director you are—don't even know what's on in the place! If this sheriff was worth a fifth part of his badge he'd arrest you for criminal negligence. An' that reminds me," he muttered and, breaking loose of the storekeeper's hold, he jostled his way to the cashier's window and shoved Haines' receipt through the grill.

"I'll be takin' my money," he said grimly; then he noticed the others had followed him.

"You'll have to take this down to the teller's window—" began the cashier; but Jones cut him off with a billow. "What's the matter? Ain't it good? How that darn potwalloper tricked me agin'! First he gives me a receipt that ain't nothin' but a blank piece o' paper. Now he gives me another an' you won't pay—"

"Just a moment, sir—ah—er—I'm afraid I didn't understand what you wanted—"

"What're you doin' in a bank then?" Jones spluttered. "Biggest pascal of imbeciles I ever stumbled onto! There's Haines signature right on the line—see it? A'right then! You goin' to give me my money or ain't you?"

"Pay it, mom! Pay it!" yelled McGillis, pumping up and down in his excitement.

"Oh! So you're tryin' to gimme the bum's rush, are you?" Tubac folded his arms. "Well go right ahead! Just roll up your sleeves—"

"Pay 'im!" snarled McGillis; and the cashier was doing his best to. And Ike Shallet was beginning to look ugly. But Jones wasn't to be hushed that way.

Capital Comment Spuds Scarce In Washington

By GEORGE STIMPSON

Herald Washington Correspondent

Army chaplains are conducting noontday religious services in the auditorium of the Pentagon building for the benefit of the 30,000 employees. . . . Dr. William R. White, president of Harvard-Simmons University of Abilene, who has been attending a Baptist convention at Richmond, spent a day in Washington with Congressman Sam Russell of Stephenville. . . . J. A. R. Moseley, Jr., of Texarkana, is one of the four directors of the Small War Plants corporation, which was largely a creation of Congressman Wright Patman; another Texan with the Small War Plants corporation, which has its offices in a building near the Capitol grounds, is John Roberts, formerly of Houston and Dallas.

Washington is a city with a split personality; I guess all capitalists are like that; a Texas friend of mine describes Washington as a larger version of Austin. . . . Today I received the following announcement on a postal card: "Calling all Texans! We want you to be a guest of honor Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Temple Baptist church for a service dedicated to Texans."

A very distinguished Texan, the Rev. J. W. (Bill) Mayhall, official leader of 25,000 young people in Texas, is speaking at our church, the Temple Baptist church, Tenth and N Streets, N. W., five blocks northwest of Thomas Circle, each evening at 8 o'clock April 18-25. Luther J. Holcomb, minister.

We've been having a potato famine in Washington; the spud scarcity has been so acute that the arrival of a carload of the tubers from the west made the headlines in Washington newspapers. . . . There ought to be a law against newspaper publishers coming to Washington without giving advance notice to their correspondents; situations like that have a tendency to create suspicion and uneasiness. . . . Some of the worst bureaucrats in Washington are former businessmen who a few short months ago were in private life causing bureaucrats.

My best information is that the chances are almost nil that former Gov. James V. Allred's nomination to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals will be confirmed by the senate; there seems to be no disposition on the part of the senate to have its judiciary committee reconsider the nomination. . . . Gordon Auchincloss, prominent New York attorney who died this week, was well-known in Washington; in 1912 he married Janet House, daughter of Col. E. M. House, confidential adviser and undercover roving diplomat for President Wilson; Auchincloss was his distinguished father-in-law's secretary during the armistice negotiations and Paris peace conference; he was a brother of James Coats Auchincloss, republican congressman from New Jersey.

Congressman Fritz Lanham, of Fort Worth, wants to do something "to stop the senseless slaughter of dairy herds in this country"; favors reducing the amount appropriated for the bureau of dairy industry "in proportion to the diminution of the dairy herds by those herds that have been driven to slaughter by some of the foolish regimentation that has worked such hardship upon the dairymen of this country"; another Texan, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Grover Hill, a former Amarillo cattleman, says his figures indicate there are two per cent more dairy cows in the United States now than there were a year ago; perhaps both are right; the hardship on dairymen may have fallen unequally on different areas.

W. G. Koehler, manager Simplex Manufacturing company at McQueney in Guadalupe county, is made member of WPB's spraying and dusting equipment industry advisory committee. . . . When I asked one of our Texas congressmen how a Mr. So-and-So made his success, he replied that Mr. So-and-So's success was owing largely to the fact that "he married into the Baptist church." . . . C. C. Peters, of Fort Worth, is Maury Maverick's right-hand man in charge of ammunition used in exterminating predatory animals; Peters, a lawyer, graduate of University of Texas, is a large, heavy, energetic, outdoor man who goes after his job with spirit and enthusiasm.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Making Movies Becomes Everybody's Business

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It's an old saying that everyone has three businesses—his own, the newspaper profession and motion pictures.

In the case of the movies, it apparently is true. They have become everyone's business, because they deal with everyone's business. Substantiating this is the huge, heterogeneous assemblage of technical advisers, experts and directors working in Hollywood, helping film producers to turn out accurate portrayals of various businesses, callings and adventures.

Visit any studio and you'll see dozens working on different pictures, which indicates the extent to which the industry is branching out for new story material.

On one set, you'll find an engineer of a large Eastern chemical company advising a camera crew how to film an authoritative story on the chemical industry's role in the war effort.

It's a story of plastics and other products made from coal tar, of magnesium retrieved from sea water for bombers, and of artificial rubber made in bathtubs.

On an adjoining set is Mme. H. H. Chung, wife of a former Chinese minister to Czechoslovakia and Poland. She recently arrived from Chungking to assist in directing a Chinese mission sequence in an Oriental picture.

There's a bombing raid in the picture, too, and for that scene the technical expert is Walter Fentecost, member of the former American volunteer group of fighter pilots, who battled the Japs to a standstill in China with a mere handful of planes.

Jamie Haason, native of Damascus, served as an authority on a current film depicting Arabian history and culture, while Mme. Hilda Grenier, for years a dresser to the British royal family, assisted in a picture that portrays the life of Queen Victoria.

With so many war pictures in the making, technical experts from all branches of military service are practically having a field day in Hollywood.

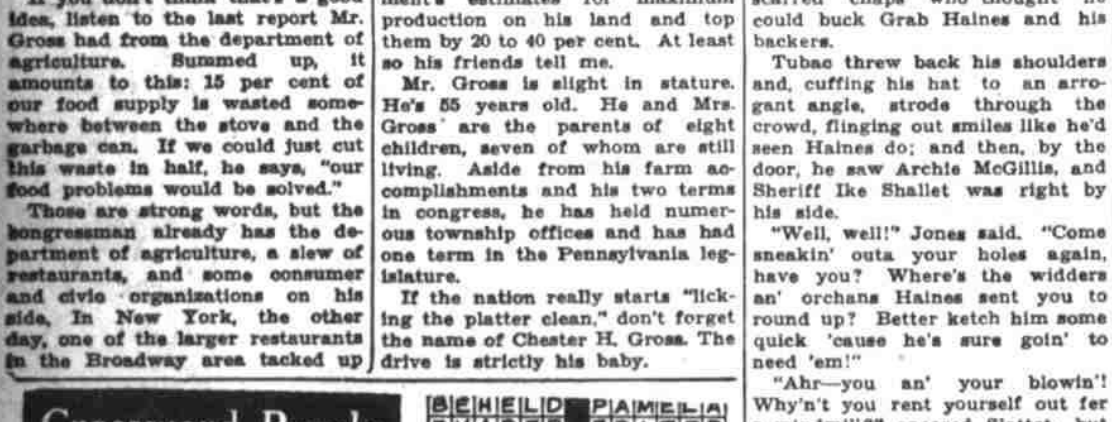

Lt. John Rhodes Sturdy of the Royal Canadian Navy was assigned by his government to assist in filming a picture of allied convoy action with corvettes in the north Atlantic. He has just completed a 15 months' hitch aboard a corvette in those waters.

Another soldier with an exciting background, here as technical expert, is Lt. Robert Elmer of the French army. He fought in the Maginot line, later escaped from a German prison camp to French West Africa, and made his way here!

But what happened to the newspaper angle to this story?

Oh, yes—two newspaper pictures now are in the making and, to be sure, real honest-to-goodness scribes are serving as technical instructors.

Nazi Plundering Of Europe Most Ruthless In History

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—German looting of occupied Europe was pictured by the board of economic warfare today as surpassing in "magnitude and ruthlessness" all previous conquests of history.

The board estimated Germany had plundered $36,000,000,000 by the end of 1941 and the rate since then is accelerating into "tens of billions of dollars per year." It added:

"Not only has wealth, accumulated over centuries, been carried back to Germany, but the industries, natural resources, and labor power of the occupied countries are under absolute German domination."

Its reports, the board said, show that armaments and other military equipment have been taken from all the vanquished armies of Europe.

Describing Poland as the outstanding example of confiscation of public property, the board estimated the loot there at $2,900,000,000.

Military equipment from Austria and Czechoslovakia was transferred to southeastern European countries for foodstuffs and raw materials, the report said, but was recovered later when Germany invaded those countries.

"Considerable quantities of relatively obsolete equipment were sold to Japan," the board added.

"Men between the ages of 18 and 26, inclusive, may volunteer for induction into the armed forces for training as aviation cadets (pilots, navigators and bombardiers), Cpl. Ray A. Noret, local army recruiter, advised Tuesday.

This is possible under an agreement between army and navy, and entails first, an examination by an aviation cadet examining board to determine suitability of the candidate for cadet training. This embraces both physical and mental tests.

If the report is favorable, the applicant may volunteer for induction through the Howard county training camp at selected colleges where they take a five month course, which includes a study of English, mathematics, physics, civil air regulations and basic military indoctrination. Basic and advanced training as pilots bombardiers and navigators follows. Graduates are commissioned second lieutenants or flight officers and may receive as high as $27 monthly if they have legal dependents and $291 without dependents. There is an initial allowance of $250 for uniforms.

Plywood adhesives, thin sheets of veneer glued together, can be bent or molded into any shape and are widely used in the aviation industry.

came out and spotted the cause. But just as Jones reached the huge brass-bound doors, opportunity came in like a pig on a platter.

It was Sloppy Gus, the stableman, and Tubac yelled with a hand to his mouth: "Lather it up if you're wantin' your money. Gus. The U. S. Marshal's got Haines in the office on—"

After that it is doubtful if even an iron horse's whistle could have made itself heard.

Ground School Work—Girls in training at Avenger Field, Sweetwater, Tex., to become ferrying pilots for the Army Air Forces, not only learn to fly, but study fundamentals of ground work. L. to R.: Helen Deitweller, Washington, D. C., former golfer; Nedra Harrison, Tifton, Ga., former "Dragon Lady" on the radio; and Dale Dalley, New York City, once a Powers model. Graduates of the course, which is under the Army's Flying Training Command, will be assigned to non-combatant ferry duty in the United States.

Women Flyers Follow Stiff Training For War Service

AVENGER FIELD, SWEETWATER, April 27. (AP)—Women flyers by the hundreds, sun-bronzed, trim as their streamlined planes, are threading the wide blue sky of West Texas in the army's new program to prepare them for war service.

It is said here there are five former Powers models in training at the field; the story would be credible if the number claimed were fifty.

There will be thousands of women in the program, under which for the first time the army is supervising the air instruction of women, as it expands from a beginning at Houston, where the first class was graduated Saturday, to this neat plant.

The flying training command which from its headquarters at Fort Worth administers the schooling of all points, bombardiers, navigators and aerial gunners for the army air forces is in charge of the women's training.

The program started almost from scratch. Miss Jacqueline Cochran, its director, surveyed the women pilot potentiality in this country in 1940 and found only four women had had flown planes of 600 horsepower and more.

"We had people who loved flying—who were acclimated to the air—and that was the only advantage we had," says Miss Cochran.

With that to build on, students were recruited and their training begun. This is the daily program designed to turn out pilots:

6:15 a. m.—First call (bugles and bells).

6:45 a. m.—Breakfast.

7:30 a. m.—Flight line. The women fly from 2 to 2 1/2 hours a day, more as their training advances.

1 p. m.—Lunch.

2:30 p. m.—Ground school, including such subjects as mathematics, physics, navigation, meteorology, maintenance.

5 p. m.—Drill and callisthenics.

6:30 p. m.—Supper.

8 p. m.—Study hall.

10 p. m.—Taps (lights out).

It's a long, hard day's work. The women's course is modified from the regular army course for aviation cadets and combat phases of flight training deleted. Gunnery is also omitted, as the women are preparing for non-combatant jobs within the United States.

During the training period, the women receive $185 per month on civil service status. When they are graduated, they don snappy blue uniforms and go into ferrying work at $250 per month.

Their duty will be to ferry planes from factory to field and from field to field, to any point in the country designated by the army. Men pilots will thus be released for other service.

From 30 states, the girls include former office workers, outdoor girls, small town girls and big city girls and girls who used to live the easy life. Avenger field is like nothing they ever knew before.

"It's the most miraculous thing that ever happened to me," says Miss Lydia M. Dunham, 22, of Boston, Mass., who was graduated from Boston University last June.

She ventured out of New England for the first time in her life to train for army air duty. Now, tanned and smiling, "getting a muscle cranking plane," she says, eyes aight, "this is really being a part of something."

Apparently there are many others who feel as she does about the work.

To be eligible, a woman must have had at least 35 hours flying time; she must be between the ages of 21 and 34 and must pass a stiff army physical test.

Chances Of Raids On Coast Remote, Secy. Knox Thinks

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox said today there is "always a chance" of enemy nuisance air raids on either the east or west coast of the United States, but he considers the possibility of such raids remote.

Knox was asked at a press conference whether the Japanese might employ their projected air base on Kiaka island, at the tip of the Aleutians chain, as a base for attacking the west coast by air.

"There's always a danger," he replied, "I think it's very remote, I should say a remote possibility rather than a danger."

He considers it remote, he explained, because of improved American defenses, the fact that "we're engaging the enemy elsewhere," and because the Japs "are already spread pretty thin."

Knox added that the country must assume the possibility of air attack remarking "it is not safe for us to do anything else."

The secretary also said that he had "nothing to substantiate" recent reports from Australia that the Japanese are massing at their naval base on the Truk island group in the south Pacific. By that, he said, there have been reports of "nothing unusual at Truk."

Former Millionaire Promoter Held On Swindling Charge

REFUGIO, April 27. (AP)—O. R. Seagraves, former millionaire utilities promoter in Houston and New York, was being held in county jail here today on a charge of felony theft by swindling.

County Attorney K. D. Hall said the charge was in connection with a $5,000 check Seagraves cashed in Refugio county. Hall said that Seagraves was indicted by the Refugio county grand jury last month.

Seagraves was arrested in a Houston hotel late Monday and returned to the county jail here by Deputy Sheriff J. E. Hemperley last night.

Seagraves formerly was a partner in the Moody, Seagraves Utilities firm in Houston. At one time this firm bought the Niels Esperson building but later relinquished ownership of the building. He also had extensive ranching interests around Kerrville.

In 1918 seven out of every thousand men discharged from the U. S. armed forces were released for psychiatric reasons. In 1942 the rate was four per thousand.

Regulations On Job-Changing Summarized

Transfer from non-essential to essential activities will be encouraged, transfer from essential to essential work will be permitted in most cases if no pay increase is involved, and only in special cases may a worker move from an essential to essential job or from an essential to non-essential job at a higher wage rate.

This, in a nutshell, is the summary of regulations regarding jobs and wages received by the United States Employment Service in keeping with the War Manpower Commission of April 18.

Here are the six chief points in the program, according to information received by O. R. Rodden, manager of the Big Spring district office for USES:

1. All transfers of workers from activities not on the essential list to activities on the list will be encouraged. Such shifts contribute to the winning of the war and any worker may make such a change even if an increase in wages is involved.
2. No shift from work in an essential activity to an activity not so classified will be permitted if higher wages will be paid.
3. If the shift is from one essential activity to another and no wage increase is involved, approval is not required except for employment stabilization plans.
4. In general if the shift is from one activity not on the essential list to another also not on the essential list, such a move is not yet subject to this regulation.
5. If the shift is from one essential activity to another and is subject to one of the WMC employment stabilization programs, the change can be made at a higher wage rate if the worker leaves his job for reasons that are consistent with the provisions of these plans. Where the terms of the plans conflict in any way with the intent of the executive order on which the regulation is based, the plans will be modified.
6. If the shift is from one essential activity to another essential activity and is not subject to the provisions of one of the employment stabilization plans, the change cannot be made if higher pay is involved.

"In which we serve"

THE achievement of American industry and American agriculture in the war to date is one of the miracles of modern times.

In factories, offices, farms and laboratories in every State in the Union... in aircraft plants, steel mills, shipyards and railroad yards... in coal mines, lumber camps, wheat fields, textile mills... in oil fields, power plants, canneries, distilleries—labor and management are pooling the might of an aroused people prepared to give, as our men on the fighting fronts are giving, their "full measure of devotion" for victory.

They know, as our men in arms know, that we are fighting the gravest threat in the history of this nation—a threat to those freedoms which we call our American way of life. Freedom to have and to hold the things that are our own. Freedom to worship according to our beliefs... to educate our children as we choose... to think what we please, say what we please, do what we please.

Not all of us can carry guns. Not all of us can even make guns. But we've learned one thing so far—there are no civilians in an all-out war.

There are war jobs for all of us to do on the home front. Check the column on the right and see how well YOU are serving your country. Do it now.

In the tremendous contribution to the winning of the war that is being made by American industry, National Distillers is doing its part. This organization, like the rest of the distilling industry, is devoting 100% of its production facilities to the manufacture of alcohol for war purposes—for munitions, rubber, medicines and other essential war needs.

Check this list and ask yourself:

"HOW WELL AM I SERVING MY COUNTRY?"

- I regularly buy War Stamps and Bonds—at least 10% of my income.
- I avoid unnecessary expenditures in order to help prevent inflation.
- I cheerfully observe all rationing regulations and do not hoard.
- I budget my ration points carefully and don't waste food.
- I work where I can do the most good for the war effort.
- I get to work on time and am never avoidably absent.
- I do my best to stay healthy.
- I do my best to avoid accidents, especially if I work in a war plant.
- I watch what I say and spread no rumors.
- I conserve tires and gasoline.
- I share my car with others.
- I travel only when absolutely necessary.
- I carry my own bundles when shopping to save manpower, gas and tires.
- I contribute to the Red Cross and all War Relief funds.
- I save and turn in scrap metal, used cooking fats and other needed materials.
- I do Civilian Defense work.
- I work with the Red Cross or other volunteer groups.
- I am a regular blood donor.
- I volunteer for Nurse's Aide work.
- I pay my taxes on time and in full.
- I do community social service work.
- I am prepared to quietly cooperate with the F.B.I. in apprehending suspicious persons.
- I am planting a Victory garden.
- I contribute books to the men in the service.
- I write to friends and relatives in the service.
- I observe dimout and black-out regulations to the letter.

This list, of course, is not complete. Every man, woman and child will find many other ways to help. Check this list with your neighbors and find out what they are doing. But get going! Do all you can! And do it now! Consult your local Civilian Defense Council for further information.
