Tech Matadors Lose Hard Fought Battle to Yellow Jackets by Score of 26 to 7

McCarver and Gibbs Prove Too Much for Tech Forwards But They Went Down Fighting; Moffitt, Doose Are Outstanding; Touchdown Culminates 75-Yard March

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 19.—Texas Tech's Scarlet and Black gridiron warriors found the going exceedingly tough against the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets here today and the best they could do in the way of scoring was to sustain a 75-yard drive in the third period against the Howard Payne reserves for a long touchdown, at the same time putting up a strong defense to keep the Jacket reserves out of scoring distance.

In the other three quarters the Jacket regulars had their hands full and earned their 26 to 7 victory.

The powerful Jackets back, led by Nig McCarver and Buck Gibbs, proved just too much for Tech's weaker line and secondary, though at no time did the Matadors let up, scrapping and fighting all the way, but seeing numerous "breaks" go against them.

Freddie Moffitt, Tech's star backfield player, one of his best games of the season, but his size and weight made it impossible for him to travel far against the towering Jacket linemen and backs. It remained for C. A. Doose, barely recovered from injuries and sickness, to star against the Jackets, the team with which he had formerly played as a freshman at Howard Payne.

Substituting for Westner, who had also played a good game, Doose charged the heavy Jacket line for consistent gains and made the most thrilling run of the game when he took the ball on his 17-yard line and ripped the 51 yards through a broken field. The drive had been started a play earlier when Moffitt took 8 on an end run. France and Moffitt gained 17-yards on the next two plays, and Doose took 5 more. With the ball advanced to the 3-yard line, the Jacket line held for four downs, and, Westner, the Jacket back, kicked out of bounds on his 10 yard line to Woolridge, who went over for a touchdown. Tech was offside and drew a penalty, but on the next play Woolridge took a lateral pass from Moffitt and crossed again for the touchdown that counted.

Howard Payne scored in the first period when a pass, McCarver to Colinger, an end, for a touchdown from Tech's 18-yard line after the Jackets had been pushed from the 4-yard line. On the next play, Doose's fumble on the four-yard line gave the Jackets the ball. In the second period, a pass, McCarver to Gibbs for 15 yards was good for a touchdown, after the Jackets had driven down the field from their own 40-yard line.

EXTENSION OF INTRAMURAL SPORTS

A college education consists of more than just book learning and memorizing factual terms. A student must not only learn the theoretical view, nor what some one else thought about a certain subject but he must also learn to execute ideas of his own. This is obtained in college through the club organizations that are found on the campus. The pre-law club, the Dramatic club, History club, and many other organizations of equal value give students that belong to them a more school interest and something really worth while is obtained.

There are also social clubs on the Tech campus of both boys and girls. The purpose is and should be, not only to give social events but to create a more friendly feeling among students of the college. They should even the college atmosphere on and off the campus so that students will have an incentive to go on with their studies and not become discouraged with lack of interest and drop from the enrollment of the school. There are more ways than just giving social functions and dances to accomplish the should be ultimate aim of the social clubs. They should not only enter into scholastic standard of the school, bringing it above par, but also enter into other activities on the campus.

Each year there have been intramural athletics, these contests having been between the engineers, liberal arts and aggies. This is not a wide enough range to effect the majority of students in each school. Perhaps this is the reason that only a few are attracted by the call for intramural. Students know that they do not have a chance and therefore not wishing to waste that surplus energy are content to sit back and watch the other boys perform.

So why can't the intramural conference become larger and take in more organizations and clubs. Give a prize in the form of a cup and the club that wins it three years in succession may keep it permanently. This goes for social clubs as well as others. Tech is not, or should not, be so much different from other colleges of its size. Therefore, as other colleges enter wholeheartedly into the sport of inter-college athletics, then why should not Tech with its more than one-thousand men students, enter all types of intramural athletics. There are about one-hundred boys coming out for the freshman and varsity football teams and a small percent coming out for basketball. Then only approximately one-tenth of the men students are entering athletics in Texas Tech.

Therefore, the social clubs and other organizations should try to make a way to enter into the intramural events, and a greater school spirit will be developed and a better feeling manifested among the student body.

VALUE OF OPTIMISM

A person who can live up to the motto, "grin and bear it," is one to be admired. He helps both himself and others in making life seem more worth living. Optimism, friendliness, and cheerfulness go a long way toward smoothing the pathway leading to ultimate happiness.

The state of optimism bordering too closely on the Polyanna type is not always appreciated, but no one underrates the value of a smile and a glad hello. When everything goes wrong and all work done seems to lead nowhere in particular, a well-meant friendly greeting may change the person's attitude entirely.

Marking the steps forward in progress toward the goal of accomplishment are glances backward at friends and happenings of the past. The persons long remembered are the ones who always gave a helping hand. Forgotten are those pessimistic persons, for the human mind is so constructed that disagreeable things are soon erased from memory.—The Lasso.

GETTING OUR NAMES IN THE PAPER

Kathleen Sams and Kathleen Conrad, that new combination we see on the campus, want their names in the paper. In fulfillment of our promise we're putting them in.

Belva Walkup asked a member of the debate squad who received a key, if she got it at the Tech Drug Store. Score no. 8000 for Tech Drug.

Here's God's gift to women—he thinks—in our midst again. I. J. Thornton, in person. Heavens, can we stand another year?

Ed McDonald in just another of these numerous engineers that the girls hear so much about, and see so little of.

If anyone is interested in knowing sweet girls, he should get an introduction to Elaine Henry and Marjory Drake.

The next time anybody wishes to conduct a rummage sale at a big profit she should consult Inez Hensley. She will manage it, and be able to secure experienced assistants.

Do you remember Bill Thomas, that tall, skinny boy from Happy, that finally got his degree in August of this year? He got married about three weeks ago. We don't know any particulars, but when we find out we will pass them on.

James Demarey is one of those Aggie students, but don't hold that against him, because he's O. K.

We have recently noticed Floyd Norman driving around in a new Chevrolet coupe. He hasn't been around to take us riding like he promised, either.

Rees Ayers has broken his nose 5 times more or less this year, while playing football. If anyone in school can equal this number, please drop in at the office, we're like to see what his nose—if any—looks like.

Our staff member this week is Bryon Claunch. Too much cannot be said for Bryon, because he keeps things running. He is scarcely ever heard of but is always there—to get adds and cash from innocent individuals.

Plans Being Made For Home Ec. Sale

Plans are being made for the annual Home Economics Club sale which will be given November 20 in the Home Economics building. Proceeds of this sale go to the club loan fund, and for payment of the piano purchased by the club.

Articles suitable for Christmas gifts are being received from New York importing houses. While in New York last summer, Miss Mabel Erwin, club sponsor, placed orders with these houses for articles.

Dr. Carter Owns Hamlet Facsimile

One of the thousand facsimile's of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" is owned by Dr. Allan L. Carter, head of the department of English. This facsimile was printed at the order of Queen Victoria, and the copies are as nearly identical to the original as it is possible to make.

Due to the fact that the Ben Greet players will present "Hamlet" tomorrow night, Dr. Carter has this book in the English office and will be glad for any faculty member or student to see this facsimile. This copy, which Dr. Carter

Military Camp Is Modelled In Sand

Camp Burris military reservation, north of San Antonio, has been modeled in sand and clay on the sand table which has recently been added to the equipment of the military science department. A vertical scale of 4 inch to 20 inch was used and all relief features of the terrain are shown in detail.

Students in military science will use the Camp Burris model in studying range estimation and map reading. They will make models of other sections of the country from time to time for practice in the various other phases of military operations, according to Captain Killin, head of the department.

A LAY OF ANCIENT ROME

Oh! the Roman was a rogue,
He erat, was, you betum,
He ran his automobile
And smoked his cigarettum;
He wore a diamond studibus,
An elegant cravatium,
A maxima cum laude shirt,
And such a stylish hatium.

He loved his luscious hic—haec—hook,
And bet on games and equi;
At times he won; at others, though,
He got it in the necki;
He winked (quo usque tandem?)
At puellas on the Forum,
And sometimes even made
Those goo-goo oculatorum.

He frequently was seen
At combats gladiatorial,
And ate enough to feed
Ten boarders at Memorial;
He often went on sprees
And said, on starting homus,
"Hic labor—opus est."
Oh, where's my hic-hic-domus?"
—Thomas Yharba.

HE AND SHE
When I am dead you'll find it hard,
Said he,
To find another man
Like me.
What makes you think, as I suppose
You do,
I'd ever want another man
Like you?
—Ironquill.

EQUALLY genuine is the response of smokers to Chesterfield's satisfying goodness, its wholesome smoothness.

No one ever has to "acquire" a taste for Chesterfields. You don't have to learn to like them. Smokers take to their pleasing flavor instinctively . . . and here's why:

MILDNESS — the entirely natural mildness of tobaccos that are without harshness or bitterness.

BETTER TASTE — Such as only a cigarette of wholesome purity and better tobaccos can have.

STEEL under the microscope

Burnished mirror-bright, etched in an acid-bath, a shiny square of steel is placed in the projector microscope in the metallography room at Crane laboratories.

To the layman, the texture disclosed is surprising as the filigree design of magnified snowflakes. Sometimes it is like a relief map of mountain ranges, sometimes like finely veined marble, sometimes like cumulous clouds.

But to the scientist in metals who judges it with a connoisseur's eye, the surface tells a far wider story. It discloses coarse uneven or beautiful fine grains, tells of disproportions and proportions of constituents in the alloy, speaks volumes concerning malleability, ductility, hardness . . . gives a key to action of the metal in service, all based upon knowledge of the product.

Careful metallographic records of all metals used in Crane valves and fittings, painstaking microscopic examination of all new metals offered for possible use, are a part of the check and double check and triple check which is routine in Crane research and manufacturing.

The full story of Crane application of chemistry and science to metals is told in a fascinating book, "Pioneering in Science." It is a valuable reference book for students. Let us send you one.

Country Club Is Scene Of Party

Decorations featuring the Thanksgiving motif were used in the halls of the Country Club Saturday evening when the Las Vivarochas Club members entertained with one of the outstanding parties of the week. Fifteen tables were arranged for bridge; dancing was another diversion of the evening. Friends of the members, the club hostesses and their husbands. Early in the evening, the club members and their dates met at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Decker and started for the Country Club in a group. The cars were topped about every half mile and the young women progressed to the next car, thus changing cars every few minutes.

Las Chaps Give Informal Dance

One of the gay affairs of the past week was an informal dance given by the Las Chaperitas club last Friday evening at the Tech gym. Autumn leaves and branches brought out the fall motif. Confetti and horns added to hilarity of the occasion. During the evening punch and suckers were served. Guests present were Misses Sue Barton, Cheryl Whitehill, Josephine Caraway, Ruby Spurluck, Effie Smith, Ruth Norman, Dorothy Griffin, Cecile Horne, Rose Mary Leaverton, Veta Stafford, Mary Beth Sheeley, Leona Rodden, Nell Rosequest, Tina Alexander, Verlene Stinger, Ruth Horn, and the members Misses Gail Quinlan, Sylvia Wilson, Mary Lois Gamel, Camille Stobaugh, Vonelle Gikerson, Evelyn Hartzog, Virginia Murray, Sarah Nichole, Wilma Parks, Maxine Clark, Jean Shelley Jennings, May Tom Simmons, Marjorie Ann Amersworth, Beth Wulfsman, Lucille Hartzog, Elizabeth O'Connell, Zella Reigel, Rilla Mae Willis, Johnny Gikerson, Gertrude Standefer, Helen Blythe.

Black beads bloom bountifully at Utah University at the present and will continue to do so until a few days before their Thanksgiving. This time the engineers have broken loose and started the contest for beard growers, which promises to be bigger and better than ever. Imagine two or three hundred engineers running loose wearing a stubble nineteen days long, unshaved, uncombed, and uncombed, and also feature the humidity of the your little fellow who hasn't yet cultivated a crop.

One of the most attractive stunts ever given by the girls pep squad at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, Texas, was performed at the recent St. Edwards game which was played at night. The girls marched single-file to the center of the field then spelled out the Howard Payne College motto "For H. P. My All" with the aid of placards. This was something different and many compliments were heard concerning the brilliant idea.

C. I. A. Denton, Texas, is fortunate in being able to hear so many excellent lectures on colleges in foreign countries. One in particular was "Past and Present University Life in France," delivered by Monsieur Auguste Desdieu, a representative from the national office of universities. Students noted that colleges of France are not vocational, but primarily for the attainment of culture, and many other interesting features of the colleges. Also, Miss Valliere Decker gave a lecture on "University Life in Munich" in which she told interesting characteristics of that German university and its students.

A recently organized class in penmanship has been progressing rapidly at T. C. U. according to a late edition of "The Skiff." The dean urges any student who is conscious of the need for improvement in penmanship to join the class and not wait for a recommendation.

Outlook Good For a Winning Tennis Team

Two Tournaments Booked for Immediately After Thanksgiving; Tournament Will Decide Ranking Positions

Coach O. C. Corry has two lettermen and one veteran squadman to form a nucleus for a Matador tennis team, which he hopes can compare favorably with the crack team of last year. Raymond Pfleger, number 2 ranking player last season, and Frank Emison number 3 ranking player are the lettermen to report at the beginning of the net season. Bill Sewell, a letterman from year before last, will be among those reporting for the 1931 Tennis squad.

Plans for two tennis tournaments to be played immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays practically have been completed. A tournament will be held for the varsity to determine ranking positions. The freshmen will have a similar tournament. All transfers will complete in the freshmen tournament, but Coach Corry advances the statement that there is a possibility of transfers from junior colleges becoming eligible for the varsity. Players intending to complete for either team are urged to get in as much practice as possible in the next two weeks.

To Have Courts Ready
Extended efforts are being put forth in order to have at least three of the courts in tip-top shape for the tournament. The two that courts have become rough and irregular, they are to be resurfaced. A remodeling process will take place on the courts east of the gym.

Plan Matches
Tech officials plan several matches for the coming season. At least two of the Abilene Colleges and W. T. S. T. C. will be played, the team will also enter the Great Plains meet at Canyon. Last year the Matadors beat the champion racketeers from W. T. S. T. C., entered the semi-finals at the Great Plains meet, and came out losers in a meet with Simmons, A. C. C., and McMurry.

Raymond Pfleger, this year's captain, heads the list of possible candidates. He has the honor to have been a member of the doubles team that defeated the champion doubles team from Canyon last year. "Lefty" Emison, is expected to be as deceptive as with his unique left handed return. Coach Corry is apt to place a great deal of the burden on the racket of these two men.

Homer Roberts, of Sweetwater, is the only veteran squadman to return. Zomer was kept out of the varsity last year due to lack of practice, but he is expected to blast a few of the balls this season. Rushing, Lubbock star is not to be forgotten.

"Spock" Koger, transfer from Kemper Military Academy, in all probability will become eligible and should give any of the candidates plenty of competition. While at Lempert he was an outstanding star. Standing over six feet tall, it is almost impossible to get one past him at the net.

Bickley, and Fanning are other players who are expected to try for the varsity. Outstanding freshmen candidates will be: C. L. Duniven, Amarillo; Wright, Harlingen; A. C. Beale, Dallas; Hubert Baird, Vernon; and Rob O'Hara, Lubbock.

Students who are interested in either the varsity or freshman teams should see Coach Corry, or Capt. Raymond Pfleger.

Wayne Butler and Hubert Cameron, students of Tech last year are selling aluminum ware at McCarney, Texas.

Here And There With The Office Boy

Well folks it seems that Mr. Langston went to Fort Worth last football game, and he picked an ex-Texas said ex-T. C. U. football player to go with him. Well this was just like going with a marine and a "gob" to see a boxing match between the navy and the marines. To make matters worse Mr. Langston sat right between the two men. Now when a Texas man got the ball and started running down the field the ex-T. C. U. player would tackle Mr. Langston and when a T. C. U. player was running with the ball the ex-Texas man would tackle him. He was catching it from both ways like sitting on a tack and somebody hitting you over the head with a baseball bat at almost the same time.

Now when you are on the offense the other side is supposed to do the tackling and to even matters up after one side gets tired of running the ball they give the ball to the other side and then you start tackling. Sort of a fifty-fifty proposition. Well Mr. Langston seemed to take the offense all the time and the only advantage he got out of it was that both teams couldn't run with the ball at the same time and he never was tackled by both men at once. The closest he ever came to this was when a Texas man was running with the ball, and he fumbled and a T. C. U. player picked it up. Now this ain't most come out disastrous for Mr. Langston and mathematically speaking it would have done so, but he forgot all the theory and by using practical means side-stepped them and they just bumped heads with each other.

But Mr. Langston says never again will he go to a football game with two ex-players from both sides. It's too dangerous.

Rambling about... Fish sure do have big ideas when they get to college. Why just the other day Fish Walker saw some day he was going to say something that the whole nation would listen to. Well all I can figure out as to what he is going to be is just another radio announcer. That reminds me of Barney Brady who had just got him one of those dressing suits. James A. said he would go to the window and he said I can't see for the world why they insist on calling such things dressing suits when I've been trying to dress in one for the last hour... While I hope you don't try to take after some day he was going to say something that the whole nation would listen to. Well all I can figure out as to what he is going to be is just another radio announcer. That reminds me of Barney Brady who had just got him one of those dressing suits. James A. said he would go to the window and he said I can't see for the world why they insist on calling such things dressing suits when I've been trying to dress in one for the last hour...

Large Attendance At Home Ec. Meet

More than three hundred students and home economics teachers from fifteen schools attended the annual South Plains district meeting of the Home Economics clubs which was held last Saturday at the local high school. They were guests of the Mary Emma club for the day.

The next district meeting will be held at Plainview, but the date has not been set.

The program for the day featured talks by M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, Mrs. W. W. The Big Trail Recommended By Lindsey

The management of the Lindsey Theatre personally recommends Raoul Walsh's "The Big Trail," which has its grand opening Saturday night, with a four day engagement starting Sunday.

"The Big Trail" accurate in every detail, records the adventure of the first wagon train to cross the Mississippi river westward. It shows the perils, thrills, excitement and romance into which those wagon trains were plunged on leaving the Mississippi river.

"Every student should personally see this great epic," states the management, "for it gives a vivid lesson in history and patriotism, united with the most surpassing entertainment."

"The Big Trail" has 20,000 extras, 93 principal players, five tribes of Indians, 1800 Buffalo, and 185 prairie schooners. The company traversed seven states, traveled 4,300 miles, making this important picture.

"The Big Trail" is real. It is true, clean, and stirring. It is educational. It is reverent. It is magnificent.

Therefore the management is proud to have it at their theatre and they are proud to personally recommend this picture to you.

Fighting Picadors Bow To Broncos By Score Of 44-7; Sollis Scores Touchdown

Odom, Colling and Price Are Freshmen Stars; Numerous Penalties Drawn By Tech Crew

A hard fighting Picador squad broke under the strain of numerous penalties Saturday to let a more experienced team, the N. M. M. I. Soldiers, win 44-7. The entertainers had a scrap on their hands until the early part of the third quarter, when the morale of the Picadors cracked. Odom, Colling and Price played their part of the game in great style for the Picadors. On the Bronco side, McCoomus, A. Foley, M. Foley and Binell starred in some brilliant plays to help run up the score.

Tech Scores

The Picador counter came in the third quarter as Odom, Colling and Nichols opened up with a few running plays to put the ball on the two yard line. Lefty Sollis, substituting for Colling, pushed the pigskin over in one mighty drive. The Picadors played first class football until the main of penalties practically gave the Soldiers three touchdowns. It was then that the Freshmen seemed to weaken and the Soldiers were only too glad to take advantage of the break.

Races 90 Yards

A Foley took the ball early in the second quarter, followed a well directed interference and raced down the field 90 yards for a touchdown. In the third quarter, McCoomus took the ball on the kickoff and returned ninety yards through the Frosh for a counter. Shortly after this A. Foley tossed a snappy pass over the line to Binelli who turned and fled down the field 55 yards for another scorer. Odom, Picador half back, was caught behind his own goal line by a Soldier in the early part of the game to give them two more pointers.

El Toro

BY JAY TIMMONS
The Soldiers of N. M. M. I. made a stand against the Picador squad of Alma Mater with a great success, in the way of scoring. However the Picadors were penalized almost the distance of five of the touchdowns that the Soldier boys made. El Toro can hardly see how a squad could win a game with penalties as numerous as they must have been at Roswell. The Freshmen must have been mighty anxious to get to that bunch on the other side or the referee must have watched the Picadors or something, it's surly hard to understand.

Now El Toro is going to try his luck at following bunches. Here is what my bunch is in reference to the game between Howard Payne and Tech; Tech will win if she makes the first touchdown. Remember, El Toro wrote this before the game was ever played and he doesn't know just what the score was, but give him credit for having the nerve to try to guess.

Since there is nothing much I can say about the Howard Payne till I want to say right now that those boys over at Cheri Casa have their heads set on one thing and that is to beat Simmons bunch of Cowboys. Else, my two readers, that bunch have some energy stored up that will come out Thanksgiving Day and scattered around over the field you will see a bunch of Cowboys wondering what it was that hit like a meteor. I think that this bunch going to Tech has something stored up in the way of spirit that is going to ring out on that field in such a way that the echo won't get back until next year. Let's every one of us get in the saddle at the rest of these pep rallies and practice those yells, so that our dearest friend, the village bh sports writers, can't even hear his artistic typewriter click. Come on snap into it and we will end this year up with a bang, the likeness of which has never heard before.

Jake tells me that there will be bonfire the night before the Homecoming Game as big or bigger than the one we had before the T. C. U. game last year. Freshmen go to spitting the necessary firewood.

In the rest of the sports world there are several undefeated teams so far this year. Alabama, Utah, Western Maryland, Washington State, Northwestern are among the top ones in the various conferences. Each look to win the top place when the listing comes. Utah won her third Rocky Mountain Conference Championship by trouncing Colorado U. 34-0 last Saturday. S. M. U. fairly washed out the Navy Saturday and by the way, Travis, who is a friend of mine, made two of S. M. U.'s touchdowns. You see that is why I try to be a sports writer, I knew a football player one time.

Someone made fun of the name attached to this column. Well all I have to say is that it is original and to say the least it is honest and on the level. That's better than some of the titles on columns around this place.

The Picadors will play their third game at home next Saturday when Simmons Freshmen line up to pave the way for their more experienced brothers. The teams are fairly evenly matched and the game has all of the earmarks of real contest. The Picadors will still have that bad taste in their mouth caused by the N. M. M. I. Soldier boys. Simmons freshmen would just love to show their grown brothers that they are not troubled with a little thing like Texas Tech. My what a surprise they are going to get. Go Get 'em, Picadors!

"Crip" Goughly, head basketball coach, is putting his men through strenuous exercise twice a week just now, but it won't be long until he will have his Varsity bunch pretty well figured out and they will practice daily. The court has a number of new faces on it this year, but they all look fine. We're looking to "Crip" for something great this year. We sincerely believe that if he hits the material he will make a little history to hang

Picadors To Meet Simmons Frosh Team

Both Teams Of Same Weight And Each Have Their Men Of High School Fame; To Pave Way For Regulars

BY J. W. TIMMONS
"Hit low and hard", comes the command of the Frosh mentor as he prepares his Picadors to trample the Simmons Freshmen when they appear on Tech field Friday. The husky fish run their signals with a dash that seems to seek revenge for the score inflicted upon them by the more experienced Soldiers that they met last Saturday. It will be a day filled with thrills, a plenty when the whistle blows at the start of the contest Friday.

Of Same Weight
The teams are of the same weight and each have their men of high school notoriety. Although little is known about the invaders it is the general opinion of all concerned that the Simmons Freshman team is powerful and full of fight. There is no doubt but what they are coming to pave the way for their more experienced brothers who will appear on Turkey day.

Due to the fact that the Tech Picadors have had little training offensive work, their season has been unsuccessful. It will be a different story Friday because the Freshmen realize that it is probably the last game they will play in the realm of Freshman football which, by the way, is anything but colorful. The Picadors are out to win as is shown each evening in their workouts.

Trained Hard
Coach Smith has trained his charges to put their utmost into a clash on the grid field. Every man on the walls of the Gym lounge room. We're for you "Crip" in every way.

El Toro would like to see some tough competition in the intramural football contests this winter. Every man that can possibly spare the time should try his luck at spotting the pigskin or making holes for the tote to tote through. Who knows but what you might be Varsity man and don't know it. Try it. When! How! did I ever write so much about nothing.

Culture Of Mexico Discussed At Meet

At a meeting of the Spanish Club held November 13, the culture of Mexico was the topic of discussion. Illustrating his talk E. B. Fincher spoke on "The Art of Mexico".

Other talks were made by William Nello on "Literature of Mexico" and by Ruth Love on "Music of Mexico." Lole Freeman sang "La Paloma" accompanied by Ruth Love.

After a short business session, refreshments were served to twenty-five club members.

MEETS TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of the Tech Aero club next Thursday night in the auditorium of the Engineering building. At this time a completion of the organization of the club will be made, and business matters will be discussed. Mose Witherapoon, senior engineer, is president of this club.

On his squad will go into the game with every ounce of punch in his body backed by a spirit of love-in playing the game clean and hard.

Student activity cards will be recognized and a special price has been arranged for the student body. The game will be called at 2:30 Friday evening.

GOES TO GEORGIA
Clyde Williams, a graduate of the school of Engineering last year who has been working at Akron, Ohio, has been transferred to the Grod-year Mills at Rockmart, Georgia, to do efficiency work in the mills there.
