Tech Memorial Loan Fund Perfected Last Saturday

Charter Has Been Obtained And Approved By The Will Hogg Estate Which Made The Organization Possible

Organization of the Students Memorial Loan Fund of Texas Technological college was perfected Saturday in a meeting in the office of Dr. Paul W. Horn, according to his announcement late that evening.

Obtain Charter

The charter has already been obtained and approved by the Will Hogg estate which made possible the organization. Trustees of it are: Dr. Paul W. Horn, president; Roscoe Wilson, vice-president; W. T. Gaston, business manager; E. L. Doherty, treasurer; C. E. Jones, president of the Tech board of directors; and J. W. Jackson, president of the Tech alumni association, make up the remaining officers.

Mr. Hogg, well known Texas philanthropist, upon his death left $25,000 to the Tech loan fund. The amount is to be invested and its accruing interest to be available for loans to worthy students of the college.

A committee for the investigation of the investment of the money is composed of Roscoe Wilson, C. E. Jones and W. T. Gaston. The $25,000 will be ready upon the final settlement of the Hogg estate.

Requirements for Loans

In his will, Mr. Hogg made certain requirements for those eligible for loans. He specified that the student applying be of high scholastic standing, of high moral character, he must be a native of Texas, and he must have his life insured.

This same organization will also handle the other loan funds of the college, including the Hall and George T. Morrow loan funds. From these $20,000 is already available for use and more will be ready as soon as the various estates are settled.

Tech Graduate Writes Two Page Article In Tribune

There recently appeared in the magazine section of the Sunday edition of the New York Herald-Tribune a two-page illustrated article on the serving of Texas fruits. The article was written by Mrs. Leola Cox Sides.

Mrs. Sides who is a nutrition specialist at Texas A. and M. college, graduated from the school of home economics here in 1928.

Speakers Of Prominence To Be At Meeting

Dr. W. R. White, Former Pastor Of First Baptist Church Here Is Main Speaker; Fifty To Go From Here

Included among the speakers for the Plains conference for Baptist students to be held Saturday, February 28, at Plainview are:

Dr. W. R. White, State Secretary for Baptists, who was formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of this city. Dr. White appears twice on the program, and will speak on the following subjects respectively: "Overcoming Doubts," and "How to Perform the Deeds of the Spirit."

Mr. Frank H. Leavelle, author and Student Secretary for the Southern States. Mr. Leavelle is a student favorite in the South.

Among the student speakers will be Miss Helen Jackson, Texas Tech senior, who will talk on "What the B. S. U. means to Tech."

This one-day conference is a joint meeting including Texas Tech, Teachers College at Canyon, Wayland College, and Amarillo Junior College.

"T" Minstrel To Be Given

Tickets Being Sold By Women's Clubs On Campus; Proceeds To Go For Decoration Of 'T' Club Room In Gym

Pack up your troubles in your old hat and get ready for the first "T" Minstrel to be given next Wednesday night in the High school auditorium.

More than 75 men and women students will take part in the show. Daily practices are being held in Chert Casa. Girls practice in the afternoon and the boys at night. The first complete rehearsal was held last Monday night with most of the song and dance numbers being practiced.

Chorus girls, tap dancers, blues singers and a Georgian quartet all have parts on the program and should be the high lights of the show.

Dr. A. W. Jackson has been chosen by the "T" club as interlocutor and will be the only character not in black face make-up.

Women's clubs on the campus are selling tickets for the show and to the club that sells the most tickets a prize will be offered.

The proceeds are to be used by "T" men to decorate their club room.

All tickets will be 50 cents.

Three Rifle Club Sponsors Elected At Meet Wednesday

At a special meeting of the Girls Rifle Club last Wednesday night Miss Bonnie E. Dyer, Miss Helen Boyson, and Mrs. Nat Edmondson were elected sponsors of the three companies into which the club has been divided.

Miss Johnny Gikerson and Miss Zella Reigel, of the Physical Education department were made honorary members of the club.

Dry shooting has been begun by the rifle classes and will be continued for several weeks. A team will be selected in the near future to represent the college in postal matches with other schools in the United States.

Hope Is Revived Two Co-eds Now Have Hopes

Two junior girls who were about to commit suicide have been revived by a recent published article in The Toreador.

Information from a certain Mr. James Archibald Theodore Roosevelt Holcomb and a certain Willie Henry Tom Reane is desired by these two co-eds. If the above mentioned men managed by some miracle in the last stages of their college career to get dates, these two girls feel that such a thing is not impossible. The two ladies say that their feminine charms are like a gold mine—undiscovered.

Anyone interested in helping these shy maidens may do their bit by writing them in care of Box 44, Texas Tech.

Army Officer Is Here Today

Colonel W. A. Castle Will Inspect Military Unit And Investigate Situation For R. O. T. C. Unit

Col. W. A. Castle, United States Army R. O. T. C. officers of the 8th Corps area, from San Antonio will be on the campus today to inspect the military unit of the college.

The military unit is operating under the 58th division of the national defense act and today Colonel Castle will investigate the situation for the establishment of a local R. O. T. C. unit.

Colonel Castle visited the campus last year at a time that was most favorable report on the unit to the war department.

Belgian Etchings To Be Exhibited

A valuable collection of Belgian color etchings arrived from abroad recently and are to be shown at the Engineering Auditorium. These pictures were secured through the efforts of Prof. F. A. Kleinschmidt and are reported to be of extremely high class workmanship. They consist of various scenes etched in Belgium in harmonious color.

Prof. Kleinschmidt is to be complimented on past exhibits that he has sponsored at Tech. The exhibits have been of excellent quality and have received much favorable comment from the students and towns people of Lubbock.

The public is cordially invited to view the Belgian etchings which will be shown in the Engineering Auditorium from 13 to 15.

Say, Matador, did you stay true to that little girl back home all fall, answer her letters promptly, make numerous week-end trips home to see her then why not get a valentine? Well, Jay Timmons did.

An optimist is one who smiles when the doctor advises him not to start any more continued stories.

Party For Junior Class To Be Given

Formulating plans for a party to be given next week was the main discussion of the junior class meeting held last Tuesday night. The picnic will be at the country club and as soon as the date is selected posters are to be placed in all the buildings, giving the day it is to be held.

Junior prom plans were discussed. Committee on the selection of the orchestra made a final report. Decorating committee reported that elaborate designs were being worked out by Al Simmons, W. B. Rushing and Robert Maxey. A report was made by the program committee on how the dance was to be conducted.

"The class was highly enthusiastic over the idea of a picnic," Bill Collins, president of the class, said. "And it is expected the majority of juniors will attend."

Third Artist Course Show Given At Gym

First Part Of Program Consisted Of Compositions By Brahms; Thrills Audience With Piano Solos

From the opening notes of Brahms' "Allegro Energico" to the final strains of Liszt's beloved "Waters of Minnetonka," Jan, Leo, and Mischel Cherniavski entertained an audience that cheered for encore after encore in the gymnasium last Monday night. This trio of musicians, violinist, cellist, and pianist, gave the third of a series of concerts sponsored by the college art society.

The first part of the concert was a selection of compositions by Brahms played by the trio.

Accompanied by Jan at the piano, Mischel Cherniavski played a number of cello solos from Tchaikovsky and Pumper, as the second part of the program. His superb bowing and the simplicity of his touch won the hearty applause of the audience.

The climax or high note in the evening's entertainment was reached in the third part of the program when Jan Cherniavski thrilled the audience with soft, music then with reckless, glorious piano solos. Such applause followed that he was obliged to give encore after encore.

Violin solos, "Hebrew Melodie" by A. Chiron, and Wieniawski's well-known "Polonaise" by Leo Cherniavski followed the piano solos.

After an encore, Mischel Cherniavski joined the other two artists in the last part of the program, "Romance Orientale" by Rimsky-Korsakoff and "Scherzo" by Arany. The encore and the last number on the program was "By The Waters of Minnetonka."

Cherniavski Trio Loves To Play For Americans

In Thirty Years Of Concert Famous Artists Cover Two Million Miles

By EVA ROB WATKINS

"We love to play for you Americans. This is what Mischel Cherniavski, violinist, who appeared in concert last Monday night, said when interviewed. It was while his brother Jan was thrilling the audience with his piano solos. "Listen to him. He loves it and he could play and play for you."

Then the American audience is very much different from audiences in other countries?

"Most certainly," he assured the interviewer in charming broken English. "Ah—you know what I mean. We play in Mexico, we play like a bull fight in right down in front of the stage. We play fast and furiously. We put on such a different feeling into that same music maybe we play for you people."

Tenth U. S. Concert

"Always," he added, "we play in a country once, maybe twice, than there comes a feeling for that country's music that wasn't there before. Quer but it is that way. This is the tenth time the trio has given concerts in the United States.

"In northern Europe always we play softly and carefully. Particularly in Germany the audience is critical, because they know music. No. No. No. I don't say that Americans don't know music, but they are very good people. If we make a tiny mistake, they forgive us, because they want an evening's entertainment, and if we give it to them they are satisfied. So, yes, we like Americans very much."

At Home Three Months

Three months of each year these men spend with their wives and children who are in their London home. They do this to get away from the "sure" Mischel said quite frankly, "Music, music, and nothing else would soon kill us. It would kill all the music in us and we would soon grow stale. For three months we don't do anything but get away from it by fishing, hunting, golf and boating."

Mischel is perhaps more enthusiastic to finish this present tour and return to England than his brothers are, because he has a three months old baby girl whom he has seen only a short while. "But since we don't return until the last of next May she probably will be cutting teeth before I see her again," he added laughing.

Leave For Dallas

After the concert last Monday night the trio left immediately for Dallas. "This is quite a contrast to the way we used to travel when we started on our tours. We have travelled all kinds of ways. Actually we travelled in ox carts in South Africa."

In thirty years of concert tours, starting when Jan, the youngest was only seven years old, these men have travelled over two million miles, have played in every civilized country in the world, and have played before almost all the rulers of Europe, and the Rajas of India.

Prefer Warm Climates

The trio prefers to play in warm climates. It is much easier on their instruments and their hands do not perspire. This is a family trait and it has helped them to a great extent. "Even when we play in Java when it is very warm, we are not handicapped by our hands perspiring," he explained.

These brothers, born in Uman in the province of Kiev in Russia, are the sons of an orchestra director. "When we were very small we would get our father's drums and play rhythmic games with them. Of course we were caught several times—but, but, there is my note—and he rushed out to join his brothers in the final part of the concert."

Many Seniors Interested In Foreign Work

Many Desirable Positions Are Presented By Service For College Grads; Useful Term Four To Seven Years

In response to the announcement of the Tech Christian association of the opportunities for Tech students in foreign service, several Tech seniors have signified their interest in the foreign service and the wide field of work that is offered. The service presents many desirable openings for college graduates and the demand for trained men of ability is very great. Most of these positions are in the schools and colleges which are maintained by the different religious denominations in the various countries. In Chile, Yucatan, China, India and Burma teaching and other technical positions are awaiting the student from beyond the seas.

The usual term of service is from four to seven years with an interval of a year's vacation in the states. The volunteer is given his choice of the type of work and the country in which he desires to go to. Most of the students seem to be interested in the Far East and in Mexico. After the term of service has been completed, there will be the opportunity of making connections with foreign firms or of returning to America.

Initiation For Frat Is Held

Program Is Under Direction Of National Fraternity President From Charlotte, North Carolina

Textile engineering students were recently initiated into the national scholastic fraternity of Phi Psi. The initiation was under the direction of Mr. A. E. Thompson, national president of the fraternity. Mr. Thompson is from Charlotte, North Carolina, and is a former classmate of Carl Brandt, head of the textile department.

Purposes of the Phi Psi fraternity is to foster scholastic standing and promote good fellowship among not only textile students, but students of other schools of the campus. The work of this fraternity will bring the Kappa chapter of the campus, in close contact with all other chapters of Phi Psi.

Those initiated are the following: Winfred Wardell, Frank Maddox, Cary Lodal, Mark E. Wood, Curtis Stephen, B. E. Needles, Ford Benham, Alphonse Spikes, Lloyd Reeves, J. H. McWhorter, John Wolfman, and M. E. Heard. Qualifications for membership are high scholastic standing, membership in the Bobbin club, and at least Sophomore standing.

Part Of College Avenue Widened

That part of College Avenue lying between Eighth street and the Seagraves branch of the Santa Fe railroad has been widened about fifteen feet and the level of the avenue has been raised about 12 inches above the old road bed. A force of eight men with tractors and graders were employed on this part of the avenue for a period of five days in making the improvements.

According to the surveyors who are staking out the right-of-way, this work is preliminary to the paving of the highway. The actual paving will not begin until later in the spring when all threat of bad weather has passed. All of the widening of the avenue has come from the Tech side of the road and at first sight, seemed to be encroaching on college territory but highway engineers stated that the right of way extended into what has been thought as part of the campus between the cross lining the avenue and the old avenue.

Tech To Ship Four Car Loads Of Stock To Show

The Southwestern Exhibition and Fair Stock Show will be held March 7-15 inclusive in Fort Worth. On about March 1, according to Mr. W. L. Stangel, the college will ship four cars of stock to the exhibition.

The breeds that will be exhibited are Aberdeen-Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn, in their respective divisions. Breeding sheep that will be shown are in the Hampshire and Southdown divisions. Holstein and Guernsey breeds will be shown in the dairy division.

In addition to the exhibition to livestock the junior college stock judging team will compete in the stock judging contest on March 7. Mr. R. C. Mowery is coach of this team.

Officers Elected At Math Meeting

(Special To The Toreador)

FORT WORTH—Prof. H. J. Ettinger of the University of Texas was selected chairman of the Texas section of the Mathematical Association of America at the meeting held recently at Texas Christian University.

Prof. Charles R. Sherr of T. C. U. was elected vice-chairman, and Prof. Nat Edmondson of Texas Technological college was elected secretary-treasurer for a period of five years.

The Matador Band, assisted by the college orchestra, opened last night at the Lindsey Theatre for a two night performance. The band is under the direction of Harry LeMaire.

Freshman Queen Election To Be Next Monday And Tuesday

Plans Being Made To Hold Coaching Session At Tech

Tentative plans for a coaching school sponsored by the Tech athletic department are underway. The school will probably be held during two weeks of August. F. W. Coates, athletic director, is inviting several coaches to assist him in selecting the leader for the two week session. Jimmy Phelan or Wallace Wade may be selected to conduct the Tech coaching course.

Texas Tech Is To Be Filmed Next Monday

Texas Tech will again appear in the movies; this time in a romance centered around the growth and development of Lubbock and the South Plains.

News reel men, in the early days of Tech, heard about and came to take pictures of the youngest college at that time, in the state. The films were flashed upon the screens of leading theaters over the country. Now comes the Photo Art Production of San Antonio to promote a picture of Lubbock, its public schools, churches, business houses, and the college. The scenes will be filmed into a story using local talent as characters.

Campus shots of students and all the buildings will be taken Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Messrs. Shuler and Saterwhite, promoters of the picture, are anxious that a good representation of the school be made. In order to do this, according to college officials, classes will be dismissed ten minutes before 10 o'clock and the picture will be taken at 10:10. The picture will be taken at the Lindsey Theatre, March 4, 5, and 6.

A College Co-ed May Be The Leading Lady In Picture

At a recent class meeting four nominees were made for Freshman queen, but, unfortunately, one of the girls had to withdraw. Eleven girls were placed in the race for the coveted honor. The nominees are as follows: Tena Alexander, Evelyn Healy, Mona Gowen, Mildred Price, Eleanor Aycock, Dorothy Griffin, Louise Garrison, Harriet Bosch, Josephine Curaway, Harriet Swain, Maryann Lindsey, Tempy Boone, Ruth Norman, and Beatrice Gastel.

As the crucial time draws near, the air of the campus is thick with comments regarding the election. "Who will be Fresh Queen?" "For whom are you going to vote?" But the Fresh must await the formal coronation for their answer.

'Y' To Publish Fish Handbook

Following the custom of many colleges, the first annual freshman handbook will be published under the auspices of the YMCA and YWCA during the summer. It will be ready for distribution by September 1, 1931, and will be mailed to all students who send in the transcript of their credits before school opens. It will also be available to new students at the beginning of the fall term, 1931.

Freshmen are asked to keep this book in their pockets at all times, to learn all songs and yell immediately, and to be able to quote any particular part on a moment's notice. It remains to be seen that traditions will develop out of this material.

This publication will be pocket size and will include information concerning first things a freshman should do, athletic activities, personal schedules, publications, departmental, professional, departmental, and scholarships and loan funds.

Space in the college monthly bulletin will be used, and the publishing will be done in collaboration with Dean Leight and his staff.

Co-editors from the two Christian Associations will be announced at a later date.

Engineers Are Set For Feed

Tickets were placed on sale this week for the annual engineers' banquet which will be held Saturday night, February 28, at the Lindsey Theatre. Big Springs has been named as one of the principal speakers and Winnifred Wardell, president of the Engineering society which is sponsoring the event, has announced that at least two other prominent men would appear on the program.

Strange was one of the speakers at the banquet two years ago and is well known for his wit and also for the interesting pointers he gives along engineering lines. A toastmaster already has been selected. Edgar O. Shelton, member of the architectural faculty, will be master of ceremonies and an unusual program is being worked out.

Class speakers were named several weeks ago and several after-dinner speech books are reported checked out of the library while the engineers cram their heads full of jokes and funny sayings. Practically every Texas Tech engineer is a member of the society which sponsors the banquet each spring. The annual date is March 1, but that date falls on Sunday this year and the meeting was moved up a day. Tickets are selling for $1.50 which is 50 cents cheaper than last year.

Invites Sents To Tech Engineers

Prof. J. H. Murdough of the Civil Engineering department recently had some very interesting correspondence which is expected to materially help the engineering students of Tech.

The American Society of Testing Materials has extended invitation of membership to all junior and senior graduate students of the school of engineering. The A. S. T. M. is nationally organized and makes tests on various materials of construction.

The date is March 1, but that date falls on Sunday this year and the meeting was moved up a day. Tickets are selling for $1.50 which is 50 cents cheaper than last year.

Prof. Murdough has also received invitations for engineering students at Tech to apply for research fellowships both the University of Texas and the University of Wisconsin.

These fellowships carry a stipend of more than $800, payable in ten monthly installments during the student's attendance at the schools mentioned.

The Matador Band, assisted by the college orchestra, opened last night at the Lindsey Theatre for a two night performance. The band is under the direction of Harry LeMaire.

THE WORLD COURT

Again the World Court becomes the interest of the American people. Students over the United States are to express their opinion whether the United States should or should not take immediate action on adhering to the protocol of the Court.

Almost entirely American born the Permanent Court of International Justice is for the promotion of world peace. The ideal of American people and yet ratification by the Senate under present rules is doubtful.

After stepping into the World War to restore peace, the United States assumed that her job was over, and now she is content to let the European countries rebuild world peace alone.

Labor unions, Rotarians, Lawyers, and the majority of major organizations over the United States favor adhering to the court. Settle disputes by arbitration and not by war.

The United States is one of the most powerful nations and should be deeply interested in establishing peace. Letting the other fellows business alone seems practical but when the other fellows business "comes home" then it is time to take an active part.

No one in the United States would like to see another war like the one just passed. Modern science would make the next even more dreadful. Then, surely, some measures to prevent such a catastrophe would be in harmony with the world.

Articles amended to the court by Elihu Root safeguards the American people. If there is any question that will affect the Americans then without taking part the United States can withdraw.

Therefore, with a slight expense, which is not even a thimble full compared to the world war debt, the United States may adhere to the court of International Justice and take an active part in settling disturbances with brain-power and not war-power.

THE CO-OPERATION OF THE PRESS

Texas Tech is happy indeed to list among its friends the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM. Since the establishment of this college six years ago our publicity has been treated with the utmost respect by the Fort Worth paper. The past month has seen the publication of many columns of Tech news and pictures in the Star-Telegram. Mr. Editor, we thank you for your thoughtfulness in aiding us to tell the world about Tech.

A still greater service, however, has been rendered by the Star-Telegram. The edition of February 9 devotes its leading editorial to the boosting of Tech. The Star-Telegram has cast its lot with our board of directors in their continuous campaign in the state legislature for appropriations. Again, Mr. Editor, we extend our appreciation for your co-operation. All Texas Tech is for you.

Well folks prepare for letters from home concerning your midterm reports. The worst is yet to come.

Midnight oil will surely be used during the latter part of the term and for something besides coming home after dances. Get out your spectacles and brush off the cobwebs. Find a comfortable chair suited for reading purposes and dig in. The saying, "It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all," might be said in a different key. It is better to have studied and failed than never to have studied at all."

Imagine a senior's embarrassment, who upon the day of registration is asked by a sophisticated sophomore if he wanted to buy a couple of tickets to the president's reception.

Men be getting ready for another one of these fun nights. This one promises to be even bigger than the last and girls don't figure on the boy friend troubling you for a date that night. You will have to be content for one night just looking at his picture.

It might be interesting to the Year Book staff to know that McClelland Barclay, noted artist, will select the beauties for the University of Oklahoma. To those who have not been reading the Toreador, it might be interesting to know that Mr. Barclay has accepted the job of choosing the eight beauties that are to appear in La Ventana.

The freshman engineer says that he certainly has to go by lots of rules in this college. Why just the other day one of my professors said, "Now you freshmen at the first of next year will have to go by a slide rule." Call them slip-sticks and maybe the freshman will understand.

Things are happening so fast now days that I wonder what we would do if the world slipped back just 50 years. Figure it out for yourself just how you would like it.

A few but not enough responded to the call for writers on the Toreador. Why not give it a try?

Don't forget that tickets are now on sale for the "T" club minstrel. Reserve a couple of seats now and help Tech athletes furnish and redecorate their club room.

THE WOMAN-HATER REFORMED

He said to sue for maiden's heart And hand required too much of art. In fraying phases, making pleas And swearing vows on hended knees "Till death (or court decree) doth part."

One's oh, so apt to get the cart Before the horse, and at the start Break down. It's torture by degrees. He said, to sue.

Yet when sweet Susan, coy but smart, Safe landed him, and Cupid's dart Went through his breast as through a cheese, And pierced his heart with perfect ease, He—well, I'll not the words in part He said to Sue.

Over one fourth of the class officers at the University of Utah were forced to vacate their offices because of scholastic delinquency.

Grinnell College has a smoking room for the co-eds. The lettermen at the University of Colorado enforce all the laws regulating freshmen activity. Sophs have the privilege of bringing charges against the fish but the "C" men see to it that the punishment is inflicted. An icy dip in the lagoon usually awaits unruly frosh.

Drake University has adopted a new school song, "Hall Drake" will rally the Bulldogs in their athletic contests from now hence. All but one graduating co-ed at Knox College during the last two years has married a Knox man. The one shirking girl married a Lombard graduate but Knox took over Lombard and so the average remains perfect.

The Stormy Petrel of Oglethorpe University is having considerable words with the faculty over "faculty censors'hip". Students here at Tech interested in College Publications will discuss in detail the exchange papers from various colleges.

Journalism Students Submit Editorials To Denver Post

Several students who are studying editorial writing under Professor Cecil Horne are submitting their articles to the Denver Post which is devoting an entire page, called "The Open Range" to editorial contestants.

Student In France Writes Tech Co-ed

In the international exchange of correspondence between students of French in Tech, and students of English in various schools of France, Miss Eleanor Nelson is one of the first to receive an answer to the initial letter.

Renee Mollard of Lyon, France has replied with eight pages written partly in English and partly in French. She included a photograph of herself and two sisters.

Renee is still in high school but is to take the examination this year which is given in order that those who pass may go to college at the expense of the nation. In France the government defrays the cost when a student qualifies for higher learning.

The American custom which seems queerest to Renee, is the lack of wine. She explains that she drinks it at every meal and adds that she is healthy. She wants to know more about this country though, and has asked Miss Nelson to describe in detail, Texas and other parts of the United States.

How are the French wearing their hair this year?—Renee writes, "I am short haired. Are you?"

Crockett Lectures To Tech Engineers

Two lectures were given in the Engineering Auditorium last Tuesday by Mr. A. E. Crockett, manager of the Bureau of Education of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation. Mr. Crockett, who is a very interesting talker, spoke to more than 200 engineering students on the manufacture of steel, a subject on which he has had a great deal of practical experience. Numerous illustrations were employed during the course of the lecture to explain the various phases of steel manufacture to the students.

Most of those attending the lecture were freshmen, who were urged to acquaint them with the various engineering fields before they definitely select the field in which they are best fitted.

Architects Plan Dance Decorations

Students of the Architectural Department have been designated to design plans for decoration of two of the outstanding dances of the next several weeks.

W. B. Rushing and E. C. Simmons are in charge of plans for the stage to be used by the Junior Class for the coronation of their queen at the annual Junior Prom, while James Atchison and John P. Foster are working on an elaborate scheme in Chinese motif to be used by the Architects at their second annual costume ball.

The Architects Ball is the only costume ball of the school year which makes it doubly attractive. Foster and Atchison were selected on basis of designs submitted in a competition held recently in the Architectural department for that purpose.

Two Motion Pictures Will Be Shown During Next April

According to Prof. F. A. Klein-schmidt, head of the Architectural department, two more motion pictures have been secured for showing in the Engineering Auditorium during the second and third week of April. They are "The Last of the Wood Engravers" and "Sculpture and Stone."

These pictures are a continuity of an educational series being shown by the Architectural department. "The Egyptian Pyramids and Tombs" having been shown last week. Invitation is extended to all students to attend the showing of these pictures as they have a profound educational value and are very interesting.

Cuban Plotters?

Down in Cuba, where students have risen up against the Machado dictatorship, these two young women, university students, Rita Shelton, top, and Lete Casuso de Torrientes-Brau, below, recently were arrested for alleged activities against the government. They subsequently were released after being confined in the jail at Cabanas fortress. Three other girls were arrested with them during a raid on the home of Suarez Sols, writer for a Spanish language newspaper.

Mrs. Carter was formerly a nurse in the employ of Doctor D. Overton of this city.

Invitation is extended to all students to attend the showing of these pictures as they have a profound educational value and are very interesting.

New Members Presented By Club At Valentine Dance

Members of Las Chaparrillas Club presented eleven new members at an annual Valentine dance in the Uptown Dance Palace Friday night. The presentation was made in a setting of modernistic design with improvised walls of greenery, a low hung canopy, and soft lighting effects.

In a profusion around the walls, hearts in varied colors were hung, and palms and ferns were used to decorate the orchestra pit. A huge Valentine, of red and silver, which was located at one side, opened at 10 o'clock and presented Little Grace Marion Griffith dressed as Cupid.

The presenters appeared immediately afterwards; each presentee came into sight one after the other, he disappeared, with soft flood lights thrown upon them, Harold H. Griffith made their introduction.

Escorts joined the new members after their presentation, and the grand march followed, led by Miss Gail Quinlan, club president, and Ben Anthony.

Presentees were Misses Maxine Clark, Jean Shelley Jennings, Wilma Parks, Gertrude Stander, Dorothy Griffin, May Tom Simmons, Ruth Norman, Helen Elythe, Sue Barton, and Eloise Nelson.

Their escorts were Messrs. Tom Cudd, Bill Collins, Clarence Hodges, James Loughridge, Dick Bond, Joe Leaverton, Clyde Thompson, Courtney Harris, Wilson Holden, and Claude Thompson.

Club members in attendance were Misses Mary Lois Camel, Vendie Gilkerson, Sarah Michie, Virginia Murray, Gail Quinlan, Camille Stobaugh, Brilla Mae Willis, Sylvia Wilson, Marjorie Ann Alsworth, Gladys Grimsey, Zella Riegel, Betty Whiffman, Mrs. Clarence Rollo, Mrs. Ed Allen, Jr. and Mrs. Jerome Merrell.

Their escorts were Messrs. Walton Nixon, Vincent Ferer, Herbert Southworth, Woodrow Wilson, Audrey Kelley, Ernest Wesner, Lee Edwards, Charles Watson, Dennis Vinzant, Milton Landover, Ed Allen, Clarence Rollo and Jerome Merrell.

Out-of-town guests were Misses Jo Ann Estes, of Memphis, an Elizabeth O'Connell, of Crowley, former members. Their escorts were Chuck Williams and Tedo Hazelwood.

Early in the evening the patronesses formed a receiving line. They are Mesdames W. O. Murray, F. R. Friend, Mary W. Doak, Harry N. Roberts, J. T. Hutchinson, and J. H. Hankins.

PRINCESS PERFECT "SITTER"

Princess Margaret Rose is a perfect "sitter," according to Richard Speaight, the Court photographer, who took the first pictures of the new princess and her mother, the Duchess of York. The baby was two months old at the time. "I have never photographed a better baby. She was wonderfully good, and is very healthy and happy," Speaight said. "The drawing-room had to be turned into a studio, which meant introduction of powerful lights. The little Princess's eyes must be very strong, for I have never taken so many pictures of a baby with no eyes always open. Not once did she whimper or close her eyes. She was a perfect disposition. I was struck too, by the quick way she seemed to 'take notice' of so young a child."

Advent of the talkies has brought forth a brand new crop of screen stars—including the Scandinavian. Here are some of the most popular newcomers to the Swedish screen who, unlike their countrywoman Greta Garbo, haven't emigrated to Hollywood—yet. Above is blond and demure Vera Nilsson; Greta Soderberg, lower right, is known for her old-fashioned beauty, and Gertrude Paalsson-Wettergren, is lower left.

DELEGATES TO ATTEND MEET

The Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations of Texas Tech will be represented at the North Texas Student conference at Dallas, February 27-March 1, under the auspices of the National Councils of the YMCA, YWCA, Student Volunteer movement, and the Methodist Student Federation of Texas. The theme of the conference is, "The Place of Religion in Higher Education." Sessions of the conference will be held on the campus of Southern Methodist university.

EXHIBITS ARE NOW BEING DISPLAYED

A special collection of hand-woven coverlets and tapestries is being exhibited in the home economics building this week.

Three of the tapestries are from Russia, Italy and Algeria. Two coverlets dated 1850 and 1880 were woven in the United States.

There are also in the exhibit a number of hand-woven purses made by the girls in the weaving class. This class is under the direction of Miss Mabel Dean Erwin, head of the clothing department.

BAND IN INTERNATIONAL MIX

Possibility is looming that the League of Nations may have to settle a dispute over instruments of the Smithborough, Ireland, band. The British Customs authorities have seized the pieces after they had been sent to the parish priest of Roslea, County Fermanagh. This was a sequel to the evidence given in a case heard at Monaghan, from which it appeared that the members of the Smithborough Band had a dispute, and the instruments were taken to the parish priest's home.

Part of the parish is in the Free State and part in Northern Ireland. The trustees undertook to take the instruments back to Smithborough and pay the customs duty; but the British Customs authorities have taken them now, and are demanding duty on them, as well as a penalty for taking them into Northern Ireland by an unauthorized route.

TO FEATURE DUET

Among the special numbers to be presented by the Tech Matador band tonight at the concert at the Lindsey theater will be a cornet duet by Stancel Baywell and Ronnie Sheppard, regular members of the organization. The band also played at the theater last night and a percentage of the window receipts for the two nights will be turned over to the band fund to help finance the organization.

Several new men have been added this term to take the place of the members who were here last fall but did not return for the winter term. Last night was the first time the members had appeared in their uniforms this term.

Tickets for tonight's show are being sold by the members for fifty cents each. The band will play from 8:30 o'clock until 9 o'clock tonight.

DR. HORN SPEAKS

Dr. Paul W. Horn, Tech president, delivered an address at the McClain High school Tuesday afternoon. He also spoke at a meeting of the Parent Teachers association at that place the same afternoon.

The next Sunday evening series at the First Methodist church by Rev. Joseph O. Haynes is to be on young men. The first of the series for Sunday is on "The Standard Fool."

Billy Holmes Captures Tech Golfing Title

Freshman Who Learned His Golf At Shamrock Captures Annual Tech Tourney Title; Play In Rain

Bill Holmes, the boy who learned his golf in Shamrock and played it here in Lubbock, caddied himself around the Meadowbrook course to win the golf championship of Tech. Holmes, shooting par most of the way around, defeated weather conditions and Mendal Hughett to step into the Bobby Jones role of the Matador camp.

Ernest Nix, football player exceptional, donned his knickerbockers to enter the tourney and after giving Ed Harris a scare in the semi-final round, fell behind in the afternoon play.

Title Settled
Holmes settled the championship question with a par four on the 88th hole. At the end of the 36th hole Holmes and Hughett were tied with 192. Harris trailed with 194. Jack Wilson, Walter Pendleton, and H. H. Hickman, were among the top flight contenders.

Dr. Joekel Gives Lectures At Tech

"The Religious Philosophy Found in the Book of Job" is the subject of a series of lectures being given each afternoon this week at 5 o'clock in room 220 by Dr. S. L. Joekel, Dr. Joekel is here from the Austin Theological Seminary and his lectures are sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. organizations of the college.

Dr. Joekel, in presenting this study, is taking up the book of Job from the standpoint of an epic drama of the Old Testament.

"This is," he said in his lecture Tuesday afternoon, "the study of the process of a man's discovery of immortality." Then in discussing the religious philosophy of Job and of his friends, Dr. Joekel said, "There is no better example of fundamental thinking in religious philosophy than is found back here in the book of Job."

This study is emphasizing the three cycles of argument found in the book, and Dr. Joekel is explaining the philosophy found in these arguments.

His lectures will continue throughout the week and all students and faculty members are cordially invited to hear him.

EL TORO

BY JAY TIMMONS

The Minstrel Strains are ringing Where Ivy Vines are Clinging.

So goes the strains of music from Cheri Casa as the "T" Club Minstrel proteges swing into line nightly at 7:30 under the direction of Zella Reigel and Johnny Gilkerson. As the girls swing into line during their several chorus rehearsals the gentlemen look on in awe and surprise. From the looks of things people it is going to be a wonderful performance that they will present to you. When the ticket selling starts don't forget to dig and buy one. You'll enjoy it.

Pete has been doing his part to keep up the name of the school by refereeing many games over the country the past few weeks. I guess the boys at the Casa are doing their part to make it hard on Del Morgan while Pete is away and unable to help curb the uprisings that naturally occur with that many boys in one place. Power to you Del.

Jack Durham and Floyd Woodridge lost a rough and tumble battle that they started over on thirteenth street this week. I'm telling you Jack and Floyd you can't use the same tactics you might use on the bottom of a football pile and get by without getting it in the neck when the men are better than you. If some of you don't get the meaning at this just ask Jack or Wooley.

El Toro had a quarter round battle with a non-safety razor today and lost. After a hurried trip to the hospital and a few stitches being taken, however, he was still able to bother you with this column of bunk. Too bad that razor wasn't sharper so it would have rendered my hand entirely useless and then this couldn't be written.

The golf season started off with a bang last Sunday when Bill Holmes won first place in the final go around. Mendell Hughitt and Ed Harris following second and third respectively. It was a hard fought battle under the most trying weather conditions. Even though the Tech Golf Tournament is over there is no slack in interest at the Meadowbrook golf club and many students are seen out there during the week shooting their poor little golfs to death.

The tennis courts are busy now and much good material is expected to be lined up for the meets that will ensue within the near future. Basketball will be a thing of the past after this week when the Matadors tangle with the mighty Buffaloes tomorrow night. Here's hoping for them in a big way. Crip has been training the boys hard for this scrap and hopes to make the score show a different turn than it did with the last meeting of the Buffs.

Even if El Toro does say it that is pretty good for a person wounded in combat with a safety razor to write that much without stopping.

A George Washington sociable is being planned for the Young People's Open House at the First Methodist church next Sunday evening at 5:30.

The Young People's Choral club, a violin choir and the orchestra will furnish special music for the Sunday evening service at the First Methodist church.

You Will Feel Better

FOR HAVING GONE TO CHURCH

No one can deny the true value of the clear conscience that going to church gives to us. It exhilarates those who partake and often times gives us new light on the little problems of life that seem to confront us at crucial periods.

The big three of community life consists of the Home, the Church and the School. We have all given our services to the Home and School, but have we given the best to our church? Only those who attend church regularly can be said to have given their services.

Starting now, let's be present at the weekly services held in our respective churches. Go, with the spirit that you attend classes; to learn.
