

Freshmen Elect 17, Leave Four in Runoff

Nine out of eleven dormitory positions were filled in yesterday's Freshman Council election, while freshmen living off-campus elected eight representatives.

Eight more representatives-at-large will be elected to the Freshman Council at the Oct. 8 general election.

FRESHMEN elected as dormitory representatives are Allen Nichols, Gordon Hall; John Laneri, Men's Dorm No. 7; Lee Creson, Horn Hall; Tim Ritter, West Hall; Mike Davis, Sneed Hall; Dennis McCarty, Men's Dorm 8;

Joe Bailey Stephens, Men's Dorm No. 5; Serge Chernay, Mens' Dorm No. 6; Mike Armstrong, Bledsoe Hall.

Off-campus representatives elected were Jerry Cowan, Myrl Raines, Carol Wheeler, Joan Carvey, Robert O'Neal, Don Sledge, James Tabor and Paula Wilker-son.

RUNOFFS in Drane and Knapp Halls are scheduled for Monday noon. Melinda Harrison faces Betty Sue Meinecke in the Drane Hall runoff, and Elaine Bowron and Eva Jo Miller are in the Knapp Hall runoff.

Anyone who did not win in yesterday's election is eligible for the Oct. 8 election, provided he turns in an expense statement to the Student Council office by 1 p.m., Oct. 7.

THOSE FRESHMEN who were disqualified in the Friday election because of failure to turn in an expense statement, but who presented a legal petition before the election, may enter the Oct. 8 election, provided they sign up at the Student Council office before 1 p.m., Oct. 6 and submit an expense statement by 1 p.m., Oct. 7.

Dormitory residents voted in their respective dorms at noon, and off-campus students voted between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. in the Administration Building, and in the Tech Union at noon.

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS were turned in by candidates by 1 p.m., Thursday, with those failing to do so being disqualified.

Candidates in the Friday election were:

Knapp Hall—Glenda Akin, Elaine Bowron, Eilan Chedsy, Lynn Churchill, Pat Crouch, Jane Ann Henry, Eva Jo Miller, Annelle Morriss, Judy Pettitt, Lynn Ragsdale, Doranna Scott, Geraldine Sizemore and Beth O'Quinn.

HORN HALL—Susan Craig, Carol Lee Creson, Sharon Darr, Mary Lindsey Hutchison, Tricia McCullough, Mary Kay Swafford and Susan Wigginton.

Drane Hall — Sally Bowen,

Nancy Carmichall, Nancy Ezell, Suzanne Halbrook, Melinda Harrison, Kathleen Kelley, Maree Koshin, Jeanel Lambert, Amy Lloyd, Betty Sue Meinecke, Gail Pfluger, Jody Ruhl, Julia, Marjan Stone, Kay Woody and Jane Sessums.

Men's Dorm No. 8 — Dennis McCarty; Men's Dorm No. 7 — David Brumley and John Laneri; Sneed Hall — Mike Davis; Men's Dorm No. 5 — Joe Bailey Stephens Jr.

Men's Dorm No. 6 — Serge Chernay, Charles Goodbreed and Joe Tom Powell; Bledsoe Hall—Mike Armstrong, Tod Callett, John Clayton Walling; West Hall —Tim Ritter; Gordon Hall —David Arlon Groves and Allen Nichols.

Weaver, Jones Speak at Pep Rally

by CAROLYN JENKINS

Damp weather did not damp Raider spirit as Techsians turned out for the second pep rally of the year last night. Banners proclaiming "Rip 'Em Raiders,"

"Shoot for Victory," Baffle the Buffs" and cheers of "Beat 'Em" showed the Red Raiders that Tech students are behind them rain or shine.

The 1958 cheerleaders headed by Joe Naylor were introduced by ex-cheerleader Stan Powers. They are Sharla Pepper, Judy Eklund, Bill Womble, Butch Lawrence and Naylor. Following the introduction of Student Council officers and the band director, D. O. (Prof.) Wiley, the cheerleaders led the crowd in some Tech-size yells.

Coach DeWitt Weaver then took the stand. "We know you'll be with us win or lose," stated

Weaver as he urged students to back the players not only at pep rallies but also at the games.

At this point the varsity descended from their seats on the Double T bench as Coach Weaver introduced captains Jerry Bell and Mack Pougue. The rest of the team was introduced in order of classification, senior first.

Not to leave anyone out, Weaver also called the freshmen football team forward as Raider supporters cheered both teams. His concluding words were that "we certainly appreciate this showing."

After the singing of "Fight, Raiders Fight" Dr. Lewis Jones, Dean of Men, was introduced by Powers, chairman of the committee sponsoring the rally. Dean Jones told the crowd that there was nothing more gratifying to football players than to know that the student body is behind them. In response to his "Y'all with 'em?" came a rousing cheer from the students.

The rally ended with the Matarador Song as the varsity filed out. Instead of the anticipated Saddle Tramp Circle site, the rally was held on the Ad Building Green due to inclement weather. The originally planned bonfire in the Tramp Circle pit will be held next week before The University of Texas—Tech game.

Students were reminded that rallies will be held before all out-of-town games on Thursday nights and before home games on Friday night.

Rallies will also be held not only in Lubbock but also in Fort Worth and Dallas during the school trip. Naylor said tickets are going fast for the Tech-TCU game and if you want one, you better get your money in.

ID's Necessary

ID. cards will be distributed at the Rec. Hall today until 5:30 p.m. They must be presented at the gate for admittance to the Texas Tech-West Texas game tonight.

Students who fail to get their cards today may do so any time next week at Herald Photo, 1405 College. They will not be distributed after that time.

J-Day Features Newsman

Journalism Day for high school journalists will begin this morning at 9:30 a.m. with a keynote speech by Dr. David R. Bowers, executive editor of the Hutchinson, Kansas, News.

AS ONE OF five American newsmen awarded a Reid Foundation Grant to observe European life, Bowers spent last year in Switzerland, Germany and the Scandinavian countries studying school systems.

Before going to Europe, Bowers was managing editor of the Idaho State Journal.

AT 11 A.M. the teen-aged journalists will hear six Lubbock news, feature and advertising writers discuss journalism careers in a panel discussion.

Members of the panel are Rex Webster, of Craig & Webster; Ralph Shelton, KCCD-TV; Alton Slagle, of Southwestern Crop and Stock magazine; and Dudley Repp, Henry C. McKee and Mrs. Emil Carmichael, of the Avalanche-Journal.

A TOUR OF LUBBOCK news media facilities and a business meeting of the West Texas High School Press Association will precede a 5 p.m. awards banquet.

Presented at the banquet will be awards for the best small, medium and large yearbooks, given by the Newsfoto Publishing Co. of San Angelo, the Taylor Publishing Co. of Dallas and the Intercollegiate Press of Kansas City.

NEWSPAPER trophies will be awarded for the best junior high newspaper and for the best mim-

Texas Tech's Red Raiders will be shooting for their second win in a row tonight when they entertain an old rival—the West Texas State Buffaloes—at 8 p.m. in Jones Stadium before an estimated crowd of 25,000.

THE RAIDERS, fresh from their stunner over Texas A&M 15-14 last week, will meet a big rugged ball club that hasn't "found themselves" yet but are always ready to go against the Red Raiders.

The Buffs lost their opener last week to VPI 28-12 but according to all indications have a much better ball club.

This is the second week in a row that the Raiders will face a new coach. Clark Jarnagin, who took over for Frank Kimbrough last spring, will be directing the West Texas crew for the first time against Tech.

JARNAGIN HAS the nucleus for a good team but must count on several youngsters to come through. His line is fairly well intact following graduation losses but the backfield was hard hit.

Lost from last year's eleven which trimmed Tech 19-0 are All-Border Conference fullback

Charlie Sanders; halfbacks Ron Mills, Mark Clapp and Don Beck; tackles Harold Lamb and James Kauffman and center Clarence Whittenberg.

However, those positions in the line appear to be in fine shape with Eddie Meyer, Raymond Kauffman (James' younger brother), and Carroll Stafford moving up from the second team. In addition, RAIDERS, Page 7 . . .

Angel Flight Try-Outs Set

Angel Flight girls' drill team sponsored by the AFROTC, will have try-outs at 5 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday behind the music building. Girls must wear straight skirts for the try-outs. Marching practice before the try-outs will be at 5 p.m. Monday and Tuesday behind the music building. Twenty-eight regulars and thirteen alternates will be chosen for the drill team. Girls must have a 1.00 grade average or an 85 grade average in high school to be eligible. Dues will be $7.50 a year. The drill team will have practice during the year at 5 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. During the year the drill team will march in ROTC parades before performing for football and basketball games.

Alpha Phis Set for Fall Activities

Alpha Phis will attend a fall planning workshop at K.N. Klappert House at 10 a.m. Sunday. This will discuss plans for the coming year. A picnic lunch is scheduled along with a pledge signing. AFTER ALL THE when's and where's of future social events are settled a pledge pinning ceremony will be held in the Alpha Phi lodge. Big and little sisters will be revealed at the ceremony. Three women pledging Alpha Phi during open rush will also attend the workshop and pinning service Sunday. They are Suzanne Alexander, Doris Lewis and Gloria Wakefield.

Delta's Picnic

McKenzie Park was the scene of a Delta Tau Delta picnic and party last night. After the picnic, the Deltas and their dates went on a hay ride to Johnson's Ranch for dancing.

All Campus Retreat Stresses Leadership

What is a good leader? How should a good leader act and live? How should he look at his past work? These are some of the topics to be discussed at the All Campus Leadership Retreat today and tomorrow at Ceta Canyon.

THE RETREAT will get underway at 1 p.m. when all students going will meet at the Westminster Fellowship House, 2114 13th. The group will travel in cars. Student leaders of all denominations and school organizations will attend. These leaders include Jim Thompson, president of Tech Union, Dave Steinman, vice president of the Student Council and Gayland Poole, president of the Board of Student Organizations. OTHER LEADERS include the Reverends Tom Anderson, David Zacharias and Albert Tippet; Joe T. Smith and Chuck Stréhl. Keynote speaker for the retreat is Harry Walker, director of Business Research Bureau at Tech. Mr. Walker is past president of the Lubbock Toastmasters. As representative of the Southwest, he placed second in the National Toastmaster's Speech Contest.

Walker worked on his doctorate at the University of Colorado and his major field of interest is regional economics.

BSO Needs Secretary

The Board of Student Organizations has announced that interviews for a BSO secretarial position will be Tuesday and Wednesday, September 30-31 in Room B of the Tech Union.

Those interested must have the following qualifications:

1. Typing ability

3. Be able to spend three hours a week at the job.

Anyone interested in the position but unable to be interviewed at the scheduled time should contact Cathie Conklin, Rm 117, Doak Hall.

scavenger hunt and bonfire and will end with a dance.

The group plans to return tomorrow about 4:30.

D. J. Dance Is Set for Tuesday

Tech's new stereophonic Hi-Fi record player plus the monthly visits of Lubbock radio station KDUB's disc jockeys will be adding to the fun and frolic of the Tuesday night dances this year.

KDUB with their "Big Eight" disc jockeys are scheduled to make four appearances this fall. They are planning to give away long play record albums and other prizes to encourage attendance.

Jill Jost Director of the Tuesday night dance committee is in charge of the weekly dances.

The dances prove a good place to brush up on dancing as well to meet fellow students and have a good time.

All Tech students may attend the free dances. If they wish they may bring along their favorite records to be played.

Dance Set Tonight

Kicking off Tech's big dance series this year will be the Double T Association's Howdy Dance in the Student Union Building tonight after the Tech-West Texas football game.

Featuring the Four Teens, the annual get-acquainted dance is being held in honor of the football players.

It will be open to all and the admission is one dollar "stag or drag."

Receive your MS in Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering or Physics at RCA's expense, through the RCA Graduate Study Program. At the same time, you're beginning your RCA career as an engineer on a fully professional level, getting a head start in the field you prefer. RCA pays the full cost of your tuition, fees and approved texts while you take graduate study part time at the University of Pennsylvania or Rutgers University. Or, you may prefer a different path ahead... RCA Design and Development Specialized Training. Here is another of RCA's programs for careers, in which you begin by working full-time on planned technical assignments. Experienced engineers and interested management guide your progress. You may receive assignments in design and development of radar, airborne electronics, computers, missile electronics, television, radio and other equipment fields, as well as in Electron Tubes, Semiconductors and Components. MS, PhD Candidates are eligible for direct assignments in the above mentioned fields.

There's a lot more that's extremely interesting about an RCA engineering career. You should have these facts to make a wise decision about your future. Get them in person very soon when an RCA engineering management representative arrives on campus—Nov. 10 & 11

Right now, though, see your placement officer. Get squared away on a specific time for your interview. And get your copies of the brochures that also help to fill you in on the RCA picture. If you're tied up when RCA's representative is here, send a resume to:

Basketball Season Brings Problems

Although football season is still with us in a big way, it isn't too early to begin pondering the student's plight during basketball season.

For the benefit of review and freshmen, last season saw large crowds turn out for every Raider basketball effort. The big crowds are good, but when it comes to leaving the Tech student who has paid his matriculation fee outside the door—it is a different situation.

Last season, on more than one occasion, Tech students were turned away BEFORE gametime, because of crowded conditions in the coliseum. To say this is vexing would be putting it mildly.

The moral of the whole idea is that students have already paid admission to those games by paying the matriculation fee and it hardly seems fair to refuse them entry into the basketball games or any other affair covered by the fee.

As most Tech fans realize, the basketball team will have its entire team back, plus plenty of reserve strength. They tied for third place in the Conference last year, so naturally they will be a strong contender this season.

This means that the seating problem will be even more acute than it was last season. There should be a full house almost every game.

Here is a suggestion. By starting this early, it would not be too difficult to work out a system by the opening home game whereby students could be assured of a seat.

We do not know enough about seating arrangements and ticket sales to plan out a solution to this problem, but it seems feasible to approach it from the idea of holding a certain number of general admission tickets until gametime.

Tech students can be advised to arrive at least by gametime, and the coliseum can be filled by people who purchase the late general admission tickets.

It certainly is not fair play to deprive the students the privilege of seeing the Raiders play, nor it is fair to sell more tickets than there are seats. The people in charge of these arrangements should start now to prevent trouble and hard feelings later.

two party What A Trip

mccarty

If any of you have the opportunity to hear Don Ledwig make a talk on his trip this summer to Europe and Russia, and to see the slides he took, don't miss it.

Last year Don was selected as Lubbock's Community Ambassador, and his original destination was Finland, where he spent most of his time.

While he was there he received the opportunity to travel in Russia. His entire trip is too much to cover in this column, and will be covered in a feature article later on, but the best way to hear about it is from Don himself.

I saw his slide and speech presentation of his trip to Russia Thursday night following Student Council business, and I was amazed.

The pictures he showed were life like, just as if you were there. He took pictures of all types of Russian life, from the richest to the poorest. He even took pictures from inside the Kremlin.

I think Don already has a full schedule for these presentations, but if you manage to attend, it will be an experience within itself.

It's football time again at Raiderland, and the tension is mounting as gametime nears.

The question on everyone's mind is, "Will the win over the Aggies pep the Raiders up that much more, or will they be overconfident because they beat an old rival?"

The answers, of course, will be determined tonight, but its always fun to speculate on such matters. I predicted last week that we would win over the Aggies, but I failed to say how much.

This week I will go out on a limb, a very strong one I think. I'll pick the Raiders by 26 points, and the score to be 32 to 6.

As far as I can tell by reading and listening, WTS has one big gun—Ratlift. After viewing the Tech-A&M game on TV, I came to the conclusion that Tech has several big guns on defense, mainly the middle of the line and the linebackers.

The Buffaloes won't have, in my opinion, the defense the Aggies had. This should leave the fast Raider backs a little running room, and when they got a little room, they should be gone.

After the game there will be a "Howdy Dance" sponsored by the Double T Association. It will be in the Tech Union Ballroom. It's another way to back the Raiders! See you there.

The Tech Union has sure been buzzing this semester, more, I think, than any previous semester. It has reached the point to where one has to squeeze through every little opening to get where he is going.

The east portion of the Union is especially crowded, and a whole lot of dancing has been going on. It's quite humorous to watch some of the dancers.

Often you will see a gal who obviously has the sweets on some guy, and all the time they are dancing, she will look at him with goo-goo eyes. I thought this type of stuff was for springtime, but I have reached the conclusion that it is a year-around affair.

Football season is here! The wonderful, zany time of the year that makes bookies grin and football coaches green.

THE GRID SEASON brings to mind trees decked out in their autumn finery and girls in sweaters; the last minute hurried search around the dorm for the hip flask and girls in sweaters; the thrill of the opening kickoff and girls in sweaters, the girls in general.

Football, however, has been maligned in recent years as having too much emphasis placed on it.

MANY REAMS of copy have been written about the ignorant athlete who is passed in his courses because he is the star fullback. This occurrence in Texas Tech is rare, very rare indeed.

And while on the emphasis kick, I think it would be safe to assume that the much discussed emphasis is placed on winning (and girls with sweaters), and not on football itself.

SOME ALUMNI want a winner at any cost. Others are content with an occasional win.

Tech's football fortunes received a bright jolt last Saturday with their win over A&M. Not until later will we know whether that opening upset helped or hindered the Red Raiders.

TECH MEETS West Texas State tonight in what could be a very close game. The revenge motive will be evident and the Raiders will be out to win.

There is often a lot of discussion of the old saying which goes: "It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game."

IT'S THE THINKING of a lot of avid fans who have things a little mixed up, and they think along these lines: "It's not how you play the game, but it's the score that counts."

The Raiders, if they get support, should combine the two and come up with this combination: "We played good ball, ran up a good score and won a good ball game."

WHAT EVER happened to those girls in the sweaters?

Techsans Talk Back

Editor,

I wonder just what the Committee on Higher Education realizes what will happen to the education system of Texas if its recommendation is adopted.

Apparently it doesn't realize the important area served by Texas Tech, West Texas and New Mexico will be one of the most important areas of the United States in the not too distant future.

Since Tech is the second largest growing school, Texas' education system will be done irreparable harm if Tech's graduate program is frozen.

Texas Tech must, I repeat must, progress with the people it serves. The schools the graduate programs of which must be frozen are the small teacher's colleges and other small educational institutions—not those programs of the most important and progressive schools.

Efficiency and economy can go so far before the toes of Texan's rights start being stepped on.

The proposal of the Committee on Higher Education must never be adopted and I am sure all Techsians will agree with me. I urge each Tech student and every other West Texan to write his congressman expressing his disapproval of the Committee's proposal. Only in this way can it be halted.

Fall registration for Texas Tech ended Wednesday with a new record of 8,602 students. Last year's enrollment was 8,566.

Floyd Boze, dean of admissions, however, had predicted 9,000 or more students. He stated that one reason for the high estimate was that the applications received during the summer ran 10 per cent ahead of last year.

Council Approves Ventana Proposal

by BEN McCARTY

The Student Council, representing the Student Association of Texas Tech, met in its first session of the year Thursday night in the Workroom of the Tech Union.

The first item of business was the consideration of a La Ventana proposal by Bill Whitted, La Ventana sponsor, and Billy Ellis, La Ventana editor.

During this procedure, many questions were asked about the proposal for the upcoming year-book, and the questions mostly concerned the style to be used.

After the two La Ventana representatives had presented their proposal, there was a brief discussion on whether to table the motion for acceptance or to vote immediately.

It was agreed, because of the time element involved, that an immediate vote would be best action, and the proposal passed.

Other business which came before the Council included reports on the out-of-town trip, Sportsmanship Committee, insurance sales, pep rally, and appointment of various committees.

Convocation Plans Set

Texas Tech's student body will come together as a college family at the annual All-College Convocation at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER will be Tech President E. N. Jones. His address will be entitled "You and the Technological Revolution."

Classes will be dismissed at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday for the event, according to James G. Allen, dean of student life.

THE TECH CHOIR, under the direction of Gene Kenney, and the Red Raider Band, under D. O. (Prof) Wiley, will entertain.

Election of class officers, directed by Donnell Echols, president of the Student Council, will follow the Convocation.

Football Play Swings Into High Gear

by JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

The so-called patriarchs of football—the Ivy League and Big Ten—join their modern counter-parts Saturday as the college football season swings into high gear.

Notre Dame, Army and Navy join the season's latecomers in beginning the 1958 fall campaign, which provided enough surprises last week to last a while.

IN ADDITION, these newcomers will have their first competitive joust with the new rules on extra points, blocking, substitution and downfield blocking.

The Big Ten's Wisconsin kicked off the weekend activity Friday night in the Orange Bowl against Miami of Florida. The Badgers are rated No. 14 in this week's Associated Press poll of sports-writers and broadcasters, the Hurricanes No. 15.

OTHER FRIDAY night games featured Texas 1-0 at Tulane 0-1, Florida State 2-0 vs. Georgia Tech 1-0, Detroit 1-0 at the Air Force Academy and Denver 0-1 at Utah State 0-1.

There is no competition between the Big Ten schools as all play some interesting inter-sectional foes.

DEFENDING champion Ohio State, the Rose Bowl King, and No. 1 this week, plays pass-happy Southern Methodist, No. 20, at Columbus.

Michigan State, ranked fourth, plays California, a 24-20 upset loser to Colgate of the Pacific last week, while unranked Iowa is at home to Texas Christian, who walloped Kansas 42-0 a week ago and gained a No. 6 ranking.

NOTRE DAME hosts Indiana and puts its No. 5 ranking against the Hoosiers, a four touchdown underdog.

Tenth-ranked Washington State travels to Northwestern where the PCC's top passer, Bob Newman, hopes to add to his team's 40-6 triumph over Stanford last Saturday.

OKLAHOMA, No. 2, meets West Virginia, 13th ranked, a 66-22 victory over Richmond last week, in the Southwest's top battle, while defending national champion Auburn, No. 3, meets Tennessee at Birmingham, Ala. The Auburn tilt is the national television game of the week NBC-TV, 3:45 p.m. EST.

For those of you, and there were many, who missed last week's Tech-A&M battle at the Cotton Bowl, may I encourage you not to miss tonight's game here with West Texas.

It's hard to describe how the Raiders won last week without almost going into hysterics. Without a doubt the last 17 minutes of the game were probably the most thrilling in the history of Texas Tech football.

One thing stands out—the Raiders, although in a hole most of the game, got two breaks and took advantage of both of them. This is the mark of a good team.

You say it was luck. Well, luck certainly had a lot to do with it. But as some of the players pointed out after the game if this had been last year we would have lost. We would have lost simply because the only luck we had last season was bad. For a change it was good Saturday night.

The Raider defensive line was terrific. The "up front" men hit hard, hustled and made life miserable for Aggie ball carriers. Everyone—from Selfridge through Seeman—did a superhuman job of stopping the A&M single wing power.

The offense looked bad. But what can you do when you play the whole first half inside your own 30-yard line. When the Raiders got some room they moved the ball pretty well, especially on the second touchdown drive. That one was really the only sustained drive that either team mustered all night long.

The win was a tribute to the hard work the players had done in their early workouts. The shape most of the team members, excepting those hit with the virus, were in was a telling factor in the outcome.

Tonight would be a good time to pick up right where we left off last week. West Texas is tough and they will be "up". But Tech should be ready for this one. I believe they will be.

Incidentally, center E. J. Holub who blocked the Aggie attempt for a game-winning field goal in the last few minutes of the game was awarded Lineman of the Week honors by the Dallas Morning News.

Besides the heat in Dallas, the next most unbearable thing was the A&M cheering section. It never ceases to amaze me how 8,000 male students can go completely stark-raving mad within the space of two or three hours.

I don't know if the cadets knew what they were yelling. It sounded like the natives were restless in the jungle.

I think the spirit and traditions of Aggieland at wonderful and I wish we had more of the same at Tech. But when the A&M student body, or any student body, becomes so obnoxious that everyone sitting near them can't enjoy the game and when the opposing players and coaches can't enjoy the game and when the opposing players action should be taken.

I'm not criticizing A&M for their spirit. I just think they ought to show a little consideration for everyone else. By doing this they would lose nothing and gain much respect. As it stands now it's A&M vs. the World.

If you don't succeed at first try, try again. So here we go again after "picking" and amazing total of 9 out of 16 last week.

WEST TEXAS VS. TEXAS TECH: This one will be tougher than most people think. I have to go with the Raiders.

HSU vs. Baylor: The Bears should take this battle of the Baptists.

TCU vs. Iowa: The Froggies are in for a rough afternoon. Regardless, TCU in an upset.

SMU vs. Ohio State: State is loaded and will drop some of their load on the Mustangs.

Tulsa vs. Arkansas: The Hogs should take this battle of the beetles.

Stanford vs. Rice: A nod to the Owls on their home field.

Texas A&M vs. Houston: The Cougars are untested. Another upset—Houston.

Tulane vs. Texas: The Longhorns were not too impressive in their opener but will be favored here.

Others:
Oklahoma over West Virginia
Notre Dame over Indiana
Army over South Carolina
Navy over William & Mary
Michigan State over California
Auburn over Tennessee
Michigan over Southern California
Mississippi over Kentucky
Georgia Tech over Florida State

'Mural Sports Begin

Intramural sports organizational meetings are on tap for next week according to the Director of Intramural Sports, Edsel Buchanan.

THE PURPOSE of the meetings is to draw up a schedule of competition and to discuss rules. Touch football is scheduled to start the week of October 12th.

... Raiders

tion all-conference guard Jerry Epps, blockbuster tackle Leon Manley and end Tom Coffey are all back.

THE LARGE PART of the Buff offense will generate around full-back Bob Ratliff. He was All-EC in 1952 and second team last year. The 215-pounder is a powerful, bull-type runner with good speed.

One other returnee, halfback Dan Blair, should help the attack which will be guided by Bob Davis of Plainview.

The other halfback post will be manned by Charles Denney who looked very good in the spring. THE RAIDERS, who have lost two in a row to West Texas, want this one desperately. However, Coach DeWitt Weaver has been most displeased with the offensive attack shown in the A&M game and during drills this week.

Weaver and the other coaches fear a let down and they well know that they must be ready for this team that has dealt Tech so much misery in the past.

The Raiders should be in near perfect condition for the game as there were no serious injuries following the Aggie clash.

The Raiders will probably keep their same line-up for this one. That includes Gerald Seeman (195) and Jerry Selfridge (210) at ends; Jim Henderson (220) and Phil Williams (215) at tackles; Jerry Stockton (225) and Gene Bentley (240) at guards; E. J. Holub (225) at center; Jerry Bell (192) at quarterback; Ronnie Rice (175) and Floyd Dellinger (185) at halfbacks and Bob Wittucki (205) at full.

A Special Announcement

Later on this Fall a special department of our Hair Design Institute will be established just across from Tech at our Style of Distinction Salon. At that time you will be able to take advantage of school prices for your services. At the present we are available for early or late appointments at the Salon.

We are looking forward to your continued visits to our Salon.
