Union Program Committees Named; Orientation Meeting Begins Work

Student Union program committees for the spring semester were announced today. A short orientation meeting was held Tuesday night to acquaint members of committees with their jobs. Dick McCollum, Student Union Council president, explained the goals for the coming semester.

A weekly news letter to students will keep them informed on committee activities and general happenings. The news letter committee is composed of Margaret Wood, Pat Harklerod, Mary Miller, Sam Camp, Charles Whitfield, Tom Friday. Program committee members are:

Games and tournaments: Dayle Clark, Church Strehl, Bob Wheeler, Harold Farr, Patsy Ann Smith, Huda Hassen, Kenneth Johnson.

Personnel: Sylvia Dietering. Publicity: Bill Trammel, Doris Wempler, Virginia Carr, Marlin Hamlin, Jim Eysen. Special Events: Bob Moore, Jack Nelson, Reeves Gilbert, Jerry

BK to FW Plans Made by Forum

Be Kind to Faculty Week will begin Monday, Feb. 22, and will be sponsored by Forum, senior women's service organization. All teachers will be plainly labeled with black and white tags.

As a new addition to this third BK to FW all teachers are invited to come to the Union Tuesday from 5 to 5:30 p.m. for a chance to meet students interested in knowing their professors outside of the classroom.

Committees in charge of Be Kind to Faculty Week activities are: Talent Show, Sue Duggan, Margaret Ann Garlin; Apple Polishing, Mona Powell, Ruth Smalley, LeNell Enochs; Angel Day, Kathy Phillips, Kathy Beiard; Publicity, Mollie Jordan, Lena Schmidt, Harriet Henderson. Overall chairman is Marjore Seales. Miss Sue Rainey is sponsor of Forum.

Charles C. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Tech board of directors, has been elected for a three-year term on the Houston Farm Credit Board by the national farm loan associations of the state.

Registration Total Reaches 4,461

A total of 4,461 students has completed registration at Tech for the spring semester, with still another week remaining in which to register. The total number of students is only about 100 short of the total for the spring semester of 1953.

Of the 4,461 students, there were 3,298 male students compared to only 1,163 female students. The Division of Arts and Sciences was first in enrollment with 1,316. Engineering was second with 1,112, third was the Division of Business Administration with 929. The Agriculture Division was fourth, having 630. Home Economics was last with 230 students. 244 students have enrolled in the Graduate Studies Division. The total number of veterans is not known, but officials estimate that about 890 will enroll this spring.

CLASS MEETINGS SET

Meetings have been scheduled by both the senior and junior classes for 5 p.m. Wednesday. Seniors will meet in Ad219 and juniors in Ad301. Committee assignments will be made.

North Carolina's Former Head Coach Will Fill Vacancy Left by Resignation

Beattie Feathers, former head football coach at North Carolina State, will take over the post of backfield coach for Texas Tech. Robert Kellogg, last year's backfield coach, resigned this week to accept a similar post at Mississippi State College. His resignation followed closely to that of Wade Walker, line coach, who also accepted an offer at Mississippi State.

Script Is Submitted for 1954 Tech Varsity Show

"Pardon, Mr. Shakespeare," by Roy Smith, Odessa junior, is the latest script submitted to the Student Council committee in charge of the 1954 Varsity Show.

Jay Fish, committee chairman, said that there will be a meeting of the Varsity Show committee and the director, Jack McCabe, tonight to select a script for the show and to choose some of the staff positions. Fish announced that if a script is selected at the Thursday night meeting, tryouts will be scheduled immediately afterwards.

The show will be staged March 22, 23, and 24 in the Lubbock High School Auditorium.

Feathers was an All-American back for Tennessee in 1933, and played five years of professional football with the Chicago Bears. Last year Feathers coached the Fort Jackson army team.

Dee Andros, Wade Walker's successor, was all-conference guard for Oklahoma University in 1949. He was the Kansas line coach last year.

The new coaches are due to arrive in Lubbock about Monday. They will take over their duties Feb. 22, when spring practice begins.

DRAMATICS DISCUSSED

Miss Olga Schrottky of New York discussed "My Experience in Theater" Friday night in the Lubbock Little Theater building. She emphasized the importance of creative dramatics in the development of one's personality.

Miss Schrottky, who is now dramatic consultant for the national staff of Girl Scouts of America, was formerly on the faculty of Mount Holyoke College. Her discussion was sponsored by the Tech speech department and the Little Theater.

Hendl Will Conduct Orchestra In Second Tech Appearance

Metropolitan Star Encores Monday For Artists Course

By ANN RAE LEE
Toreador Staff Writer

Rise Stevens easily captured her audience with her magnificent voice and her charming actions Monday night in the Lubbock High School auditorium before a near-capacity crowd. Her concert was sponsored by the Tech Artists Course.

Miss Stevens used gestures and facial expressions as well as vocal interpretations creating a suitable mood for each song. James Shomate, her accompanist, presented three selections after intermission, and for an encore Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Miss Stevens performed three encores: "Were You There?" a Negro spiritual; "Look Edwin" by Bernard Wagner; and "Homing" by Del Riego.

It was the Metropolitan Opera star's third appearance in Lubbock. Her first appearance was in 1937, and her second was as a guest in the 1950-51 Artists Course series.

Making her first appearance in opera on Dec. 17, 1938, at the Metropolitan Opera House in "Mignon," Miss Stevens has since appeared in movies and on radio and television. The opera star is married to Walter Surovy who accompanied her on her visit to Lubbock. They have one son, Nicky, 8.

Most of the camera and audiovisual equipment stolen from an exhibit in the recreation building last August has been recovered. Authorities reported that Lee James Pharr, 27, 101 Ave. W has been charged with burglary in connection with the offense.

The Dallas Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Walter Hendl, will present a program sponsored by the Tech Artists Course Monday night in Lubbock High School auditorium. The orchestra played last year for the Artists Course series.

Currently in its fifty-fifth season, the orchestra is playing before sell-out subscription audiences. It has planned 18 Dallas concerts, a month-long tour of five states, and other concerts in and around Dallas.

The orchestra is today the result of fifty-four years of growth and musical achievement. During the 1952-53 season just past, 52,000 persons attended the subscription and special concerts in Dallas; 33,000 school children heard their Saturday morning programs, conducted and commented by Mr. Hendl; and 46,000 persons in 18 cities and five states heard the Dallas Symphony on its annual tour.

Mr. Hendl is now in his fifth season with the orchestra. His other activities include a series of ten lectures on "What to Listen for in Music," some 26 radio broadcasts on "The Human Side of Music," and a series of five television programs.

Adult tickets for the performance are $2; students' $1. Tech students will be admitted on activity tickets. The box office will sell tickets starting at 7:30. The performance will begin at 8.

The program is:

Horn Quartet, Music Instructors At TMEA Meeting

Tech's Horn Quartet, directed by Robert Taylor, music instructor, is playing today and tomorrow for the Texas Music Educators' Association convention in Dallas.

Members of the group are: Guy Knowles, Big Spring, first horn; David Wiggins, Hobbs, second horn; Kathaleen Gilbert Lubbock, third horn; and Gordon Collins, Texarkana, fourth horn.

Representing the faculty at the convention are: D. O. Wiley, Tech band head and TMEA secretary; Dr. Gene Hemmle, music department head; D. K. McCarty, music instructor; and Mr. Taylor. Two other students, Wyatt Burkhalter and Tim Magness, are also attending.

Dr. Hemmle will present a demonstration of the use of recording in elementary music classes.

The quartet is one of five representative in the band and chorus divisions. The Baylor University band, North Texas faculty and advanced students chamber music group, the Texas State College for Women faculty trio and the Texas A&I Madrigal Singers are the other four.

On the local group's program are numbers by ten composers, including Beethoven, Bach, Schubert and McKay. A modern number, "Patterns" by Miss Mary Jean van Appledorn, Tech music instructor, will also be performed.

The quartet played at noon today for the band division luncheon and will play for the same group tomorrow morning at 11:30 in the Cactus Room of Hotel Adolphus.

Press Mechanical Clinic Saturday

J. Russell Hartman, head of the journalism department, is making arrangements for the South Plains Press Association Mechanical Clinic on the Texas Tech campus Saturday. Approximately 40 newspaper publishers, editors, and association members will attend.

Allen Hodges, Littlefield, is president of the organization and is scheduled to open the clinic.

An explanation of the operations of the Fairchild engraver will be given by a representative who will be introduced by Curtis Sterling, vice president of the association from Brownfield. Most of the activities are scheduled in the Tech Press, college print shop. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a lunch for the group.

The Miehle Printing Press and Manufacturing Co. will sponsor a film, "Advancements in Printing Press Design," to be shown at 11:15 a.m. A trip through the Avalanche-Journal plant is scheduled after a visit to the Tech Museum at 1 p.m.

College, Military Officials Fly to Alabama Air Base

Plans to enlarge Texas Tech's services to the armed forces will be studied this week by a group of delegates which flew Monday to Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

Dr. G. E. Giesecke, academic vice president of the college, suggested the trip in order that Tech might adjust its program as much as possible. The delegates will study methods and procedures in handling various types of education, training aids, and programs.

Accompanying Dr. Giesecke from Tech is Lt. Col. C. E. McClelland, assistant professor of air science and tactics.

Maj. John D. Duffus, academic director; Capt. Norman J. Fowler, director of training analysis and development; and J. M. Ugle, civilian assistant T-65 director, will represent Reese AFB.

Texas Tech has an active AFROTC unit, and Reese hosts an AFROTC summer encampment.

PASSES C.P.A. EXAM

Miss Frances Arledge, who was graduated from Tech in May, 1952, has recently passed the Certified Public Accountant exam. She is employed as a credit analyst at the State National Bank of El Paso.

While at Tech, Miss Arledge was a student assistant in the department of accounting.

Event To Honor Prof. Hardgrave

J. C. Hardgrave, late professor of mechanical engineering who died Dec. 25, will be commemorated at the annual Engineering Show this spring. Prof. Hardgrave came to Tech in 1926 and was one of the oldest faculty members in term of service.

Under his leadership the engineering shop was started and at the present has machine tools and equipment valued at $250,000. Professor Hardgrave devoted his life to the shop and it became his hobby interest, and work. He employed student help and many outstanding mechanical engineering graduates have worked in his shop.

Prof. Hardgrave is survived by his wife, twin sons, Lyle and Lynn, and one daughter, Mrs. Jo Howze. The sons followed in their father's footsteps and graduated from Tech with degrees in mechanical engineering. Mrs. Hardgrave lives in Lubbock.

A member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and a registered professional engineer,

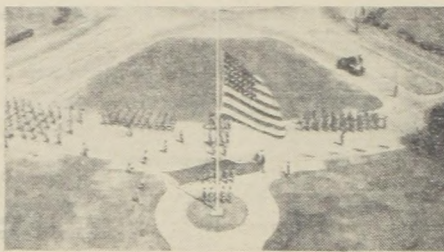

Silk Screen Show Open on Campus

A modern form of what is probably the oldest of all printing processes is on display at the south end of the main hall in the Home Economics Building.

The exhibit of 18 silk screen printing samples of a variety of fabrics and designs was obtained from Central Washington College, Ellensburg, Wash. Reino Randall, associate professor of art at Central Washington College and brother of Arne Randall, head of the local applied arts department, sent the textile display to Tech.

The modern application of the process, which is several thousand years old, has become a favorite because of its versatility and its speed. However, it is limited in that it is not suitable for reproducing subjects with fine detail and delicate gradation of tone. The silk screen process is used for all custom printing in the United States.

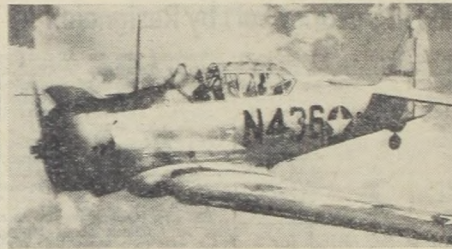

Professor Hardgrave was also an active member of the First Methodist Church.

1. Pilot training begins at Lackland Air Force Base, where Aviation Cadets get 3 months of officer indoctrination.

2. It's a hard grind, but Cadets also find time to relax.

3. In primary training the Cadet flies his first planes, a Piper Cub, and this T-6. Later he will fly the more advanced T-28.

4. After flying conventional planes, he moves on to jets... going up with an instructor in this T-33 trainer.

College Men! Fly with the Finest in the Air Force

QUALIFIED APPLICANTS WIN WINGS AS AIR FORCE LIEUTENANTS, EARN OVER $5,000 A YEAR!

For a fast, exciting and rewarding career, make your future in the sky as an Air Force pilot. As a college student, you are now able to join that small, select band of young men who race the wind in Air Force jets. You'll have the same opportunities to learn, advance and establish yourself in the growing new world of jet aviation.

Fly as one of the best

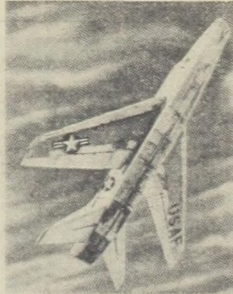

The pilot training you get in the Air Force is the best in the world—the kind that makes jet aces. You'll learn to fly the fastest, latest planes in the air—and fly them safely and well. Those who look to the skies will look to you for leadership and confidence.

Into a brilliant future

You'll graduate as an Air Force lieutenant, earning over $5,000 a year. Your Air Force wings will serve as credentials for important positions both in military and commercial aviation. Air Force wings mark you as the very best in the flying profession.

How to qualify for Pilot Training as an Aviation Cadet!

To qualify, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between the ages of 19 and 26½, and in top physical condition. If you think you are eligible, here's what you do: Take your high school diploma or certificate of graduation together with a copy of your birth certificate down to your nearest Air Force base or recruiting station. Fill out the application they give you. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class.

6. Then winds up his training with the latest and fastest planes in the air.

5. He wins his wings as an Air Force officer, earning over $5,000 a year.

7. He's tested those silver wings... And won the respect and admiration that go to every jet pilot in the United States Air Force! From now on he'll rule the skies in an Air Force jet.

WHERE TO GET MORE DETAILS:
Contact your nearest Aviation Cadet Selection Team, Air Force ROTC Unit, or Air Force Recruiting Officer. Or write to: Aviation Cadet Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

He had a head start

It took a class reunion to show Ed Mahler, '50, that all first jobs are not alike. He tells us why. (Reading time: 33 seconds)

The class reunion at his alma mater, Swarthmore College, was an eye-opener for Ed Mahler. The talk among the Class of '50 switched to jobs. Ed had taken it for granted that everybody was happy with his work.

Then he found that some of his classmates had had two or three jobs since leaving school. Others had kept the same one but weren't satisfied. By sticking with his first job and intending to make it a lifetime career, Ed suddenly discovered he had a head start.

After being graduated with a B.A. in Economics, he went to work for Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania in 1950. He reports he chose the Telephone Company because it seemed to offer the best chance for a career.

After a year of training in which he worked in each of the departments—installing telephones, handling business contacts with customers—Ed felt he had a good look at the entire company.

He was assigned to the Traffic Department, which has the responsibility for seeing that customers' calls are handled efficiently. The job included personnel work in addition to developing better operating methods and practices. He was quickly put on his own.

Now Ed has been transferred to the job of estimating the amount and type of new equipment which will be needed in central offices as their customers increase.

Ed points out that projecting himself into the future isn't anything new. That's precisely what he attempted to do when he chose his first—and only—job.

Ed Mahler's job is with an operating company of the Bell System. But there are also jobs for engineers, arts and science and business administration graduates with Western Electric, Sandia Corporation, and Bell Telephone Laboratories.

National Scabbard and Blade Chapter Installed Here; Officers Are Announced

Twenty-seven cadet officers and four associate members were installed as Company D, 11th regiment, in the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, an honorary organization for collegiate ROTC officers, in ceremonies held in the Student Union Saturday evening.

Two Installation Teams
Major T. S. Crockett, national executive officer of Scabbard and Blade, was the chief installing officer for the ceremonies.

Following the installation services, the new unit honored the visitors and new associate members with a banquet in the Skyline Room at Lubbock Municipal Airport.

Three Ag Majors
Jay Eudy, of Turkey, was elected captain (president) of the new unit. Other officers elected are Phil McGee of Fourth Worth, first lieutenant (vice president); Herbert Seigler of Matador, second lieutenant (treasurer); Everett Abernathie of Vineyard, first sergeant (secretary). All are seniors.

Following the installation services, the new unit honored the visitors and new associate members with a banquet in the Skyline Room at Lubbock Municipal Airport.

PRESS CLUB HEARS EDITOR
A. B. Slagle, editor of Southwest Crop and Stock, will speak to the Tech Press Club at 7:30 tonight in J-206. His subject will deal with journalism prospects in the agricultural magazine field.

Town Girls to Elect
Town Girls club will elect officers at a meeting Wednesday noon in the ballroom of the Student Union Building. Transfers and conflicting activities will necessitate an entirely new slate of officers to serve during the spring semester.

Faculty to Perform
The second annual Faculty Talent Show will open Wednesday night starring among others, Dean James Allen and Miss Annah Joe Pendleton. About ten acts will appear in the hour and a half show.

Other plans for the company include sponsoring the annual Military Ball, which will be held Saturday, Feb. 20, in the Student Union Ballroom. Ticket sales for the event are already in progress.

MAJOR-MINOR TEA
A Valentine theme will be used for the annual Major-Minor Club tea honoring graduate seniors in physical education from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the K. N. Clapp party house.

Infirmaries will be Joyce Davis; Carol Glahn; Pat Bolinger; Sarah Lillard; and Jan Duggett, president of the club. Miss Sue Rainey is sponsor of the group.

Tech's Rose of Delta Sigma Pi Competing for National Honors
Sue Hefley, sophomore business administration major from Texline, is competing for the title of National Rose of Delta Sigma Pi, international business fraternity. She was presented as Rose of the Tech chapter of Delta Sigma Pi last month.

Miss Hefley will vie with 85 other chapter sweethearts for the national title. Hollywood talent scouts will do the final judging this month from photographs of the girls.

KAPPA SIGMA INITIATES
Eight pledges and two College Club alumni were initiated into Kappa Sigma fraternity Sunday at the Gulf Building.

TEA IS GIVEN
A tea for new freshman women and transfers was sponsored by Junior Council Monday night.

Placement Office Sets Interviews

Interviews with representatives of various companies have been announced for the coming week by the Placement Office. Students interested may contact the office for appointments and further details.

Monday and Tuesday will bring interviews by Procter and Gamble Company for chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers and for management majors with masters degrees.

General meetings will be held Thursday by the Houston Lighting and Power Company and by the Soil Conservation Service.

Bridge Tournament Set For Monday

Several teams from Tech will compete in the 1954 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Monday at 7 p.m. in Room A of the Student Union building.

Ten teams have registered so far, according to Bill Scott, director of the Student Union.

The tournament, now in its eighth year, is one of the few intercollegiate events in which men and women can compete on an equal basis.

Infirmary Planned
Tentative location for the Len and Harriet McCellan Infirmary was announced today by the President's office.

The infirmary will be a two-story structure. The ground floor will contain an out-patient clinic and the second floor will contain a 20-bed hospital. Work is scheduled to start later this spring.

EX-AGGIE NOW TECHSAN

Clark Enters Tech Without Fanfare; Impressed With Raider Friendliness

By CHARLES MAPLE
Toreador Staff Writer
After being the center of a storm in "Aggie Land" last fall, John Clark, Odessa government student, has entered Tech with little fanfare.

Clark, whom a group of students forced to leave Texas A&M last fall as a result of his expression of opinion on certain Aggie traditions, seems to feel that Tech "is certainly better than A&M in most ways."

AVALANCHE AWARD GIVEN
Dale Basye, Lubbock junior, this week was given the Avalanche-Journal Award of $50 made annually to the junior journalism major doing the best work in reporting during the first semester.

SNEED ELECTS OFFICERS
Gayle Erickson, Midland junior, was elected president of the Sneed Hall Dormitory Association Monday night.

Other officers include: Robert Bryant, Brownfield sophomore, vice president; John Burleson, Abilene junior, secretary-treasurer; Ray Lunn, Olney junior, social chairman; Lyle Shelton, Brownfield junior, athletic chairman.

Elected to the board of governors were: Eldon Reynolds, McAllen sophomore; Randall Kubena, Midland senior; Lee Gill, Fort Worth freshman; Walter Greenwood, Calallen junior; and Johnny Jones, Mercury sophomore.

He states that he is impressed by the students who "act like they really want to meet and to speak to you." When asked how he would compare the spirit of Tech and A&M, he says that he has had little chance to compare the two in respect to athletics but that Tech definitely has "a more friendly, natural spirit without someone saying that you have to do it because it is tradition."

"An example of what traditions have done to A&M," Clark says, "is that vast year 41% of the eligible freshman and sophomore students did not return to A&M. Instead, they either transferred to another school or quit completely."

"Tech is quite a bit better than A&M in most of its courses, especially in German and government," he continues. Clark claims that he came to Tech as a result of a talk with his history professor, who had received a master's degree from Tech.

Upon personal observation, it seems hard to believe that Clark could cause such a storm of controversy as did his letter to the Battalion, A&M student newspaper. Outwardly he is a very quiet-spoken, friendly person. His dark features and dark-rimmed glasses give one the impression that he is a serious, studious worker.

He is through with all-male schools, he says. Using the name Aggies give to students of co-educational schools, Clark concludes that he would rather be a "cookie-pusher."

Looking for a Spot to Begin a Career?

THE Bell Telephone System offers a wide variety of opportunities for graduates who can qualify.

Next Wednesday, February 17, officials of these five Bell companies will be at the Placement Office to talk to Tech men about a career when they graduate:

- Western Electric . . . manufacturing unit of the Bell System. Also develops, makes, and services electronic products for the armed forces.
Southwestern Bell . . . builds, maintains, and operates the Southwest's vast communications system.
Bell Laboratories . . . largest industrial research organization in the world. Electronics and communications research is fascinating.
Sandia Corporation . . . applied research, development, and design on ordnance phases of atomic weapons.
A.T.&T. Company . . . builds, maintains, and operates the nation's interstate communications system.

How about dropping by the Placement Office and arranging to talk to these officials?

Donelson has been appointed purchasing agent, West Texas division of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, and C. I. Poole has been named division engineer, both being engineering graduates.

Woody Herman and His 'Herd' Play for Friday Rec Hall Dance

Approximately 500 students danced to the music of Woody Herman and the Third Herd Friday night in the old Recreation Hall.

The clarinet player and ex-vaudeville hooter is making a tour of colleges giving concerts and playing for dances. He stopped in Lubbock on his way to a Fort Worth engagement.

Mr. Herman has organized three bands. "The Band That Plays 'The Blues'" played during the depression and until the war; then came "The Herman Herd," and finally, "The Third Herd."

Time out from dancing was taken as "The Third Herd" played several old numbers such as "Laura" and "Caledonia" and several late jazz numbers. Vocalist Dolly Houston and pianist Nat Pierce were featured with the band.

ENROLLMENT FROM REESE

Approximately 57 airmen and officers from Reese Air Force Base are taking advantage of Tech's evening course this semester, according to J. F. Reeves of the RAFB education office. More are expected to sign up for classes by the time evening course registration ends this week.

Most popular courses being taken by airmen, says Reeves, are English, psychology, government and American history.

Tech Aggie Judging Teams Win Places At Fort Worth's Annual Fat Stock Show

Tech's dairy cattle judging team won first place honors at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show held in Fort Worth earlier this month. The livestock team took eighth place in the livestock division of the same show. Also competing was the meats team, which placed tenth in the show.

The dairy team edged Arkansas State by a slim 11-point margin.

LIVESTOCK TEAM COMPETES

Tech's livestock judging team took fourth place in the National Western Livestock Show contests held in Denver earlier this month.

The team was second in judging cattle and seventh in sheep, hogs and quarterhorses. It placed sixth in the carlot judging contest.

Individual honors were won by Jerry Vines of Brownwood, first in quarterhorses; Ralph Willingham of Rotan, fourth in sheep and seventh in the contest; Joe Ash of Bronte, seventh in cattle; and Wayne Porter of Rotan, eighth in cattle judging.

Members of the team were Porter, Willingham, Lawrence Downe, Vines, Ash, and Hugh Lackey.

as they compiled 1940 points in the contest. The team earned first place in judging Guernsey cattle, second in Jersey cattle and third in Holsteins.

Joe Ash of Bronte, Elgin Smith of Willow City and Jerry Brumlow of Fort Worth won first, second and third, respectively in judging Guernsey cattle. Brumlow and Smith shared fifth in overall individual honors. Ash took seventh place, Garland Reese, Plainview, was the other member of the team.

Tech's livestock team ranked eighth among 15 teams competing in the Fort Worth show. The teams best showing was sixth in judging quarterhorses. Myron McCartor, of Perryton, was high man for Tech as he placed as 11th individual in the contest.

The team was composed of McCartor, Bill Conner, Fransworth, J. D. Jones, Godley, Joe LeGendry, Shreveport, La.; Thomas Mason, Tahoka; and Frank Newsom, Lubbock.

The meats team placed last in a field of 10 in their contest. It tied for fifth in lamb carcass judging.

Charles Cunningham, Garden City, won fifth honors in the lamb division. Other members of the team were Bobby Waddle, Cedar Hill; and Isaac Trimble, Seminole.

Semester's Activities Launched By Student Centers, Churches

Local churches and student centers opened their doors Thursday night to welcome all students of Texas Tech to their annual spring semester open houses. The purpose of these events is to encourage each student to find his place in a local church while attending Tech. Students are also encouraged to take an active part in the functions of the various student centers.

Methodists built their program around the current Western hit "Y'all Come." The Christian Church incorporated the theme of the "Old Camp Meeting."

Ronnie Clark acted as master of ceremonies for the Church of Christ. The Baptists met in several churches. The First Baptist Church group used the theme "Going Places" while the College Avenue Baptist students rode the "Welcome Wagon."

All the student centers announced that there is always an open house for you to attend and enjoy the facilities that have been placed there for your use and amusement. Study facilities are always available in the libraries and study rooms.

BIBLE COURSES

Three courses are being offered at the Episcopal Bible Chair at the corner of 16th and X under the auspices of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. These courses are to be taught by Rev. Paul F. Hebbberger, curate of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Courses offered this semester are: 223, Book of Romans; 231, Church History; and 235, The Prophets.

Several other Bible chairs have offered these and similar courses in the past. The courses are listed under the department of Biblical Literature of the college and elective credit is given by the college.

Wesley Players Give One-Act Plays in Munday and Tahoka

Wesley Players presented two one-act plays this week. "Blue Beads" was given Feb. 7 in Munday, and "Pink for Proposals" was given Tuesday in Tahoka.

"Blue Beads" was directed by Ruth Smalley who also played a part. Barbara Thurston, Norma Hatfield, and Jim Medford completed the cast and Pat Senter was assistant director.

The cast for "Pink for Proposals" was Priscilla Baumgardner, Nayna Bratcher, Bob Ford, Lucille Owsley, Eldon Reynolds, Dan Creson, and Marjiam Wilson. Bobbie Smotherman directed the play and was assisted by Jim Medford. Glenn Lust was in charge of properties.

About 25 pledges were initiated at the annual banquet of the chapter in the Student Center on Friday, Jan. 15.

Applications Being Taken for Awards

Applications will be accepted through Monday by Dr. A. W. Young, Room 233, Agriculture Building, for the Danforth Graduate Fellowships for the academic year 1954-55.

Students submitting applications should have high academic records, be of good health and emotional stability, have personalities adapted to teaching and counseling, have concerns for the welfare of people, be of deep religious convictions and must be seniors when the applications are filed.

These fellowships are open to students in all fields of graduate study, which are teaching fields in the undergraduate colleges. They are acceptable in any recognized graduate school.

PLAY ANNOUNCED

Lubbock Little Theatre officials have selected Moss Hart's "Light Up the Sky" for their February production. The Texas Tech speech department presented the production last spring.

The play is being directed by Ronald Schulz, who directed the Tech presentation. Jeannine Stearns Smith has been cast for the part of Stella, the same role in which she appeared in the Tech production last spring.

Lutheran Students Meet

A Texas regional convention of Gamma Delta, Lutheran students organization, met in the Student Union Building Friday through Sunday. The program consisted of business meetings, tours of the campus, and inspirational messages.

Tom Wendt, a Tech student from Dallas, is Texas regional president.

Plans Abilene Youth Assembly

Priscilla Baumgardner, Wellington freshman, is a member of the Northwest Texas Conference Council of the Methodist Youth Fellowship which met recently to plan a youth assembly at McMurry College in Abilene in June.

BSU INSTALLS OFFICERS

The Baptist Student Union installed officers for the coming year Sunday in Ford Memorial Chapel of the First Baptist Church. The BSU choir, directed by Hardy Clemons, sang. An address was made by C. A. Roberts, student from Southwest Seminary.

$120 COLLECTED

Approximately $120 was collected as a result of a door-to-door March of Dimes campaign in the dormitories Tuesday, Jan. 26. Charlie Pipes, Chairman of the campus drive, reported.

Lockards Make Film on Watercolor Painting

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lockard, both Texas Tech faculty members have completed "Brush Tips in Water Color," a film on landscape painting.

Mrs. Lockard is an assistant professor of applied arts and her husband is a professor of architecture and allied arts.

Mrs. Lockard filmed her husband painting landscapes. Several prints are available to art groups. The nationally advertised film will be of interest to students and hobby painters.

There's plenty of "head room" for you at Boeing

If you are a senior in any field of engineering, it would be advisable to consider the advantages of a career at Boeing after you graduate.

Boeing, for instance, makes a policy of "promoting from within." Regular merit reviews give you steady opportunity and recognition. And in a company with a growth record like Boeing's, there's always plenty of "head room" to move into.

Another advantage at Boeing is career stability. Boeing has grown practically continuously during its 37 years of operation. Today Boeing actually employs more engineers than even at the peak of World War II.

Still another Boeing advantage is the variety of experience and contacts available to you here. Boeing is constantly alert to new materials and techniques, and approaches them without limitations. Extensive subcontracting and major procurement programs—all directed by engineers—give you contacts with a cross section of American industry. Aviation, in fact, is unique in its variety and breadth of application—from applied research to production design, all going on at once.

At Boeing you'd work in Seattle, Washington, or Wichita, Kansas—two fresh, modern cities with a wide variety of recreational facilities, fine shopping and residential districts, and universities which provide excellent graduate study courses. The company will arrange a reduced work week to permit time for this study and will reimburse tuition upon successful completion of each quarter's work.

There are openings in all branches of engineering (mechanical, civil, electrical, aeronautical, and related fields) for DESIGN, PRODUCTION AND RESEARCH. Also for servo-mechanism and electronics designers and analysts, and physicists and mathematicians with advanced degrees.

For further information, consult your PLACEMENT OFFICE, or write RAYMOND J. B. HOFFMAN, Admin. Engineer Boeing Airplane Company, Wichita, Kansas

Raiders Enter Last Month of Cage Play

Texas Western, New Mexico A&M To Play Crucial Games Against Tech

Tech begins its final month of cage play tomorrow night when it faces a crucial trip against New Mexico opposition. Tech will challenge a high-spirited Texas Western five in Anthony, N. M., and then invade New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces the following night.

Tech, with a 5-1 conference standing, must take both games to stay even with the pace-setting Buffaloes of West Texas State. The Buffs will meet an offensive-minded University of Arizona team in Tucson tomorrow night. If Arizona topples the WTS lads, and Tech defeats Texas Western, the conference leadership will be stalemated between the two teams.

Tech has six more scheduled games, four on its home court. Only conference defeat for the Raiders came from an 80-72 double over-time handed them by the goal-happy West Texas five. The conference championship ship could rest on the outcome of their next meeting, March 2, in Lubbock.

Tech dropped a heart-breaker against the Southwest Conference-leading Longhorns of Texas University on a benefit tilt held Monday night in Austin. TU decisioned the Raiders 64-56.

Texas jumped to an early 11-4 lead, but the Lubbockites pulled within one point at the end of the first period. The score was twice tied in the second period, and with seconds remaining in the half, Decker McKim popped the hoop to give the Raiders a 26-25 halftime margin.

The Steers moved out in front at the close of the third period, 48-43. Texas stalled the ball the last five minutes of play to take the victory. Jim Richardson dropped in 18 points for the winners. Eugene Carpenter, Tech forward, ram-rodged the Raider attack with 14.

TECHSANS GO SKIING

Several Tech students spent a few days between semesters skiing at Santa Fe. They were Lena Schmidt, John Ochsner, Pat Harkleroad, Charles Scaling, La Faun Edwards, Tim Russell, Ann Hudspeth, T. K. Knox, Joe Jack Reynolds, Red Raines, Bill Hudson, Peggy Pittman, Jody Roberts, Patsy Donn, and Tom Fior.

Plans are being made by the Plains-Alpine Association for a trip during Easter vacation to Aspen, Colo. New badges are being ordered.

This club is open to those interested in skiing. Persons seeking information should contact Willie Berry or Ben Lee Wilson.

Tech Pugilists Win Bid To State Meet In Local Tourney

Three Texas Tech boxers fought their way to a bid in the state Golden Gloves tournament, to be held in Fort Worth Feb. 17, by winning championships in the open division in the regional tournament held in Jamboree Hall last week-end in Lubbock. Two other Tech sluggers won titles in the novice division, but are not eligible for the state tournament since it is limited only to open division winners.

Jerry Johnson, Tech junior from Hale Center, repeated as open middleweight champion with a technical knockout over Carson White of Slaton. He connected with a smashing left to White's jaw in 1 minute 10 seconds of the first round for the win.

Keith Newman, Lubbock junior, gained the featherweight crown with a knockout over Keith Elliott in 1 minute 35 seconds of the first round.

Lyle Shelton, junior from Brownfield, decisioned Ronald Reiser, Lockney, to take the welterweight title.

In the novice division, Jackie Miller, freshman from Amarillo,

Tech Swimming Team To Challenge University of Oklahoma this Saturday

The Texas Tech swimming team will challenge one of the top teams in the nation Saturday when it competes against the University of Oklahoma in a dual meet at Norman.

This will be Tech's first attempt against top competition, says Dr. R. W. Kireilis, swimming coach. He does not expect Tech to beat the O.U. team, but the meet will furnish the local swimmers with top-quality experience for the Border Conference meet April 9-10 at the University of Arizona at Flagstaff.

According to Dr. Kireilis, the following boys are on the team: James Terrill, James Miller, Fred Jobe (one letter), Eddie Brown, Malcolm Daniell (one letter), Fred Newby, Bill LaShier (one letter), Robert Shackelford (one letter), Bob Janes, Jim Gaede, Richard Tilton, Louis Yell, Ed Butterfield, Larry Puig, and James Donnelly.

This is Tech's fourth year of swimming competition. The overall record for the past three years is 12 wins against 8 losses. Last year Tech defeated New Mexico Military Institute twice, Baylor University, and Odessa High School twice. The University of Arizona beat Tech on two occasions. In 1951-52, Tech won 4 and lost 5. In 1950-51, they won 3 and lost 1.

Tech has a 1-0 record during the current season. They defeated Odessa High School Dec. 9 in a meet held in Lubbock. The next home engagement will be with Texas A&M March 6, at the Lubbock Boy's Club pool.

Coach Kireilis urges all boys interested in coming out for the team to see him in his office in the Gym.

Major Leagues Take Notice

A baseball-playing hen was one of the feature attractions of the South Plains Poultry Conference held on campus this week.

The "baseball player" has learned to peck at a rubber ring on a baseball bat, thus releasing it to hit the ball past the toy players to the fence. When the ball hits the fence, feed falls into the hen's cage.

HUGHES Cooperative Fellowship Program for MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREES

Purpose The Hughes Cooperative Fellowship Program has been established to enable outstanding graduates to pursue work for the Master of Science degree while employed in industry and making significant contributions to important military projects.

Eligibility Eligible for consideration are students who will receive the B.S. degree during the coming year and members of the Armed Services being honorably separated and holding B.S. degrees. In either case the field of the B.S. degree must be: ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING, PHYSICS, OR MECHANICAL ENGINEERING. The awards will be made to applicants who have evidenced outstanding ability and some degree of creativeness. They must also possess traits enabling them to work well with others.

Citizenship Applicants must be United States citizens for whom appropriate security clearance can be obtained, as their work in the Hughes Laboratories may be related to National Defense projects.

Universities Applicants must be able to meet the requirements for admission to graduate standing at the University of California at Los Angeles or the University of Southern California.

Program Participants will be employed at Hughes full time in the summer and 25 hours a week during the university year while pursuing half-time graduate work.

Salaries Recipients will earn five-eighths of a normal salary each year. This salary will be determined by the individual's qualifications and experience, and will reflect current salary practices in the electronics industry. Salary growth will be on the same basis as for full-time members of the scientific-engineering staff. Recipients will also be eligible for health, accident and life insurance benefits, as well as other privileges accruing to full-time staff members.

Sponsorship Tuition, admission fee, and required books at either the University of California at Los Angeles or the University of Southern California, covering the number of units required to earn M.S. degree, will be provided.

Travel Expenses For those residing outside the Southern California area, actual travel and moving expenses to this area will be allowed up to 10 percent of the full starting annual salary.

Number of Awards If a sufficient number of qualified candidates present themselves, as many as 100 Fellowships will be awarded each year.

Selection of Candidates Candidates will be selected by the Committee for Graduate Study of Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

Application Procedure Application forms should be obtained immediately. Completed applications must be accompanied by detailed college transcripts.

George Gershwin's 'Of Thee I Sing' To Be Presented Here April 21, 22

Auditions for the campus-wide production of George Gershwin's "Of Thee I Sing," to be presented April 21 and 22, have been announced by Robert Elson, Tech music instructor and music director for the play.

The leading women's roles are double cast. Alice Ann Yates, Plainview, and Irma Knowles, Lubbock, are cast as Mary Turner, Ruth Hurmeine and Nancy Davis, both of Lubbock, share the role of Diana Devereaux. Rosemary Sprague, Lubbock, and Beverly Thomas, Floydada, are assigned the part of Miss Benson. Gwen Williams, Lubbock, and Jean Porter, Floydada, will play the maid's role.

Mr. Geisert in Cast

Men's parts are assigned to Billy Cormack as Louis Lippmann, Tim Magness as Gilhooley, Wyatt Burkhalter as Lyons, Robert Jacobson as Jones, Roy Melton as Throttelbottom, Ross Cass as Wintergreen, Winstead Layman as Jenkins, Myron McCarter as the chief justice, Warren Forsythe as the French ambassador, Jimmie Williams as the guide, and William Geisert, assistant dean of Wiley, will take the part of Fulton. Baird from dancers include Mary for the production. Accompanists Colvin, music instructor, Herbert Hardin, music major, Dean

Lubbock junior, is general production manager.

More Help Needed

Rehearsals for the musical, which started last week, are scheduled for Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 and Saturdays from 2 to 5. All students, faculty and staff interested in any phase of staging are still needed, according to Mr. Elson.

"Of Thee I Sing" is one unit in the series of musical programs for Tech's third annual Symposium of Contemporary American Music.

Ex-Students Give To Loyalty Fund

Eighteen per cent of Tech's ex-students contributed $19,103 to the loyalty fund in 1953, according to a booklet recently issued by the Ex-Students Association.

At Texas A&M, 35 per cent contributed $98,224 to a similar fund in 1952. A&M was the only other Texas college for which comparative figures were given in the booklet. Percentages of exes contributing at various institutions cited ranged from 19 per cent at Stanford to 66 per cent at Dartmouth. Latest available figures for colleges other than Tech were for 1952.

The new Student Union Building was partly financed by the Ex-Students Association which contributed more than $17,500. Building the Administration $200 scholarships, financed five silver punch services bought the college on its silver anniversary.

Job Interviews on Campus For Men, Women Students

Prospective engineers and Camp Fire Girl workers will be interviewed on the campus within the next 10 days.

A representative of the Sperry Gyroscope Co. will interview seniors majoring in mechanical engineering, mathematics, and physics tomorrow.

Senior chemistry and chemical engineering majors may talk to representatives of the American Polish & Chemical Corp. Monday, Feb. 22.

A supervisor of Camp Fire Girls will be here tomorrow to interview senior women desiring professional work with that organization.

The Placement Service will arrange interviews for students with these organizations.

Training Program Planned for March

Approximately 80 Tech students may participate in the leadership training program, sponsored by the Board of Student Organizations, at Ruidoso, N.M., March 25-28.

The proposal for an off-campus leadership seminar was made by Dick McCollum, B.S.O. executive council member, and approved by the organization at its last meeting Jan 14 at a luncheon in the Student Union Ballroom.

J. C. Chambers, president, said in a report of the meeting: "The purpose of the program is to strengthen and help all organizations to function more actively and to unify B.S.O."

The entire cost for the seminar will be $19.50; $6 for a special bus, $10.50 for meals and rooms, and $3 for extras.

Bill Scott, director at the Student Union, told the B.S.O. at its meeting about facilities available at the SUB. He said the Union rooms are available to each organization recognized in the office of the dean of student life.

Max Preston discussed the importance of the sale of activity books for the spring semester.

NEW PROFESSOR

Bruce C. Browning replaced Donald McDonald as assistant professor of education at Tech Feb. 1, according to Dr. John S. Carroll, head of the education department. Mr. McDonald resigned to become curriculum director for the Abilene public schools.

Mr. Browning, who holds two degrees from Tech, has been working on his doctor's degree at the University of Texas. He has been school principal at Spur and Quitaque and superintendent of schools at O'Brien. Mr. Browning, a native of Sylvester, is a graduate of Whitflat High school.

Tests NEW STUDENTS

greeted Tech residual counseling fers last week.

The newcomers were in Aggie Memorial Auditorium Dr. G. E. Giesecke, academic vice-president, and Dr. Ernest Wallace, chairman of the divisional representatives on freshman orientation.

English, mathematics, and psychological tests were given to approximately 125 new arrivals. The counseling program was designed to provide help in outlining the courses.

Deans Council Suggests Improvements In Several Areas of Instruction at Tech

Enlarged programs of instruction at Texas Tech in sociology, geography, entomology, philosophy and agricultural chemistry are urged, according to a recent report of the Council of Deans.

The expansion suggested would acquaint students with the people of other countries who are playing a prominent role in world affairs. Emphasis would be placed on studies of the Southern Great Plains so that Tech would become "the fountainhead of knowledge of the region."

The report was prepared at the request of the Board of Directors following the creation of the "Committee of Thirty-One" by

Tech Instructors To Talk To Park Workers Here

Men who take care of Texas Tech's 300-acre, main campus will be among those who tell park foremen how to save a dollar. The meetings, to be held Monday and Tuesday on campus are intended to familiarize park personnel with their required work.

Scheduled speakers are: E. J. Urbanovsky, head of the department of horticulture and park management; Lowell Cooke, director of the Dallas Park Department; Scott Fikes, director of Parks and Recreation Department at Abilene; Dr. George O. Elle, professor of horticulture at Tech; Chester Jaynes, instructor in agronomy at Tech; Marv Elstad, service manager of the Toro Manufacturing Co., Minneapolis, Minn.; E. V. Middleton, Lubbock world traveler and building contractor; Marcus Gosdin, superintendent in charge of Tech's main campus; and E. W. Zukauckas, Jr., Tech's greenhouse manager.

the 1953 Legislature. The committee was made responsible for examining Texas higher education and recommending improvements and economies.

Cutting Across Divisions

Early in January the Council approved recommendations of an interdivisional committee. In addition to reduction of the number of courses for 1954-55, the report recommended a program of "inter-disciplinary" study cutting across divisional and departmental lines.

Courses were reduced from 1,816 to 1,614 to avoid overlapping. Arts and sciences courses were cut from 1,076 to 981; business administration courses from 167 to 125; agriculture courses from 188 to 157; engineering from 275 to 251; and home economics from 110 to 100.

Graduate Courses Cut

Graduate courses were cut in the Agriculture, Business Administration, Engineering, and Home Economics Divisions. The largest drop in graduate courses was in Business Administration, from 34 to 5.

Music was cut more than any department. Seventeen music courses were dropped. History, anthropology and sociology were reduced by 13 courses and educational courses were cut by 12. Psychology will have six courses added, child development and family relations will be increased by five, and applied arts will have three added.

"It is the Council's belief that the resulting offerings add up to a healthy minimum, a firm foundation on which to build for the needs known to lie ahead," the report said.

Tech Foundation Director Gives $1000 in Awards

Eight Tech co-eds have been awarded scholarships in the Home Economics Division. Miss Ethel Foster, national secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, contributed the $1,000 in scholarships through the Tech Foundation. Miss Foster, a Sterling City rancher, is one of the directors of the Texas Tech Foundation.

Edith Aldridge, Tahoka freshman; Priscilla Baumgardner, Wellington freshman; Bettie Sue Bizzell, Lamesa sophomore; Gwen Gowens, Lubbock freshman; Joyce Hazelton, Lovington junior; Sarah Mincey, Plainview junior; Mary Lou Miller, Friona junior; and Lynn Mitchell, Big Spring sophomore, were selected by a committee of the Home Economics Division to receive the first scholarships.

Scholarships were awarded on the basis of academic achievements and need. There were 16 applicants.
