Tickets were sold on a first-come, first-served basis and only to juniors and seniors. However, class members may take a person not a junior or senior to the dance.

The tour which Shaw is currently on is a setup in his return to popular music. He has been heard on the concert stage for the past year, appearing with several prominent symphony orchestras.

His debut as a professional musician was as soloist and arranger for a dance band. His climb to popularity began with a series of popular concerts, and his recording of "Begin the Beguine."

Legislation permitting levy of a compulsory student fee to support Tech's new Student Union Building passed the Texas senate Monday with little objection.

The bill, which now goes to the House to be voted on, would allow the Tech board of directors to levy a maximum fee of $5 per student per long semester for support of the Union building and activities. The maximum fee for summer students would be $2.50 per semester.

The Council has recommended that each faculty member announce during final examinations where he will post grades.

Beautification Takes Average Coed 540 Hours Yearly

The average Tech coed spends about one hour and 45 minutes combing her hair each week. She may not always look it, but she takes about five hours and 15 minutes each week for dressing. These statistics were gathered in a survey recently taken by girls in a home management course.

Their study includes proper time and energy management to achieve more efficient living. Other interesting figures gained by the survey are: The average girl spends about two hours and 20 minutes fixing her face; She spends 45 minutes brushing her teeth; This coed takes about one hour and 10 minutes weekly for bathing. These statistics add up to 11 hours and 15 minutes per week, 45 hours per month, and 540 hours per year, for beautification.

Hegyí Will End Twilight Concerts

Julius Hegyí, violinist, will be guest artist for the sixth and concluding concert in the "Milestones in Music" series for the Twilight Music Hour Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the auditorium of the Museum.

The program will cover the contemporary period, dating from approximately 1913 to the present, a period of some 50 years of contrasts, controversies and a variety of schools and styles.

The program will be as follows: "Sonata for violin and piano, Opus 80, Allegro brusco" (Prokofiev); "Mikrokosmos, variations" (Bartók); "Mazurka" (Milhaud); "Valse" (Poulenc); "Ludus Tonalis-Valse, Fuga" (Hindemith); "Sonata for violin, Opus 31, No. 2, 111 Movement" (Hindemith); "Four Anniversaries for David Diamond" (Bernstein); "Excursions—in slow blues tempo" (Barber); "Song" (Barrier); "Precipitations—Rain" (Donato); "Mikrokosmos, Sixth dance in Bulgarian rhythm" (Bartók).

The public is invited to attend this program.

TRIPLE THREAT MAN!

The Brains of the Team

Teamwork can work miracles. In a football game the man who sparks these miracles is the quarterback. He's the man who calls the signals. There's a man who calls the signals for an Air Force flying team, too!

They call him an Aircraft Observer.

Do YOU have what it takes to become an Aircraft Observer? It isn't easy. It's tough. You have to be a MAN to qualify as an Aircraft Observer. But when you are one, brother, you're SOMEBODY! The success or failure of a mission involving over a million dollars worth of flight equipment depends on you.

THE AIRCRAFT OBSERVER IS THE SOMEBODY WHO:

- As Bombardment Officer, is number one man on a bombing run, the man who controls the plane in the target area!
- As Navigation Officer, is the pilot's guiding hand on every flight!
- As Radar Officer, is master of a new science and operator of the device that sees beyond human sight!
- As Aircraft Performance Engineer Officer, is the one who "keeps the plane flying", the man who knows his plane inside and out, who keeps it fit for the skies and sees that it stays there!

If YOU can accept a challenge like this, you'll take your place beside the best—you'll find your future in the clouds!

TO BE QUALIFIED you must be single, a citizen, between 19 and 26½ years old, have had at least 2 years of college and be in tip top physical shape. If this describes you, then YOU, too, can qualify. Today!

HERE'S WHAT YOU'LL GET! The world's best training. Good food and plenty of it. Uniforms, flight clothes, equipment. Medical and dental care. Free insurance. Flight training in Uncle Sam's greatest aircraft.

AND THEN, AFTER GRADUATION, you'll win your silver wings, and earn more than $5000 a year as an Air Force Lieutenant. You'll enjoy an adventurous, exciting career with a hand-picked crew of real men. You'll be THE BRAINS OF THE TEAM, A TRIPLE THREAT MAN... as a Bombardment Officer, as a Navigation Officer, as a Radar Officer, as an Aircraft Performance Engineer.

THE SOONER YOU APPLY, THE SOONER YOU FLY!

GET THE DETAILS: Visit your nearest Air Force Base or Air Force Recruiting Officer. Or write to Director of Training, Headquarters, USAF, Washington 25, D.C., Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch. If you are in a school that has an Air Force ROTC program, see your Professor of Air Science and Tactics.

Last Word . . .

In checking the "Backtalk" column in this year's file of Toreadors and in remembering conversation with both students and faculty members, we realize that you, the readers, have had a lot to say about the paper.

Some of the criticism has been favorable, which encouraged us; some of it has been unfavorable, which either kept us in line or made us mad enough to take increased interest in our own work.

Thank you for your interest in the paper. We've enjoyed covering and discussing the events of one of Tech's most active and prosperous years.

Under the Breezeway

by shirley johnson, toreador editor

Once again dead week and the end of school approaches, but this year we're saying goodbye as we graduate. It all seems somehow unrealistic.

Column - writing is quite simple: one merely inserts a sheet of paper in the typewriter and types as the ideas come. The trouble is that the ideas don't come very fast. Whenever you have a general topic that is timely, a campus incident is guaranteed to turn up so that you cannot write it; then when there is little activity on campus, you have no timely general subjects.

Leaving a job such as editor naturally means cleaning up the office and removing all traces of your occupancy so the incoming editor will feel the office is his alone and always will be.

While cleaning off the desk, we found numerous clippings, papers, pamphlets, etc., all marked "Column" or "Hold this for column." Most of these ideas failed to materialize, but the thought and intentions were good.

Into this category fell such items as:

A book of poetry, sent by the publishers, with a request not to release our review until October 5, 1952. We had some dandy comments, too.

A news release from Esquire magazine, enclosing a copy of the article, "The Shame of Our Colleges", published in the March issue. Typical quote: "Many of our college graduates—perhaps a majority—cannot think at all: they can only emote."

A pamphlet, "Ike and Dick: All-American Partners". Just what you would think. Enclosed was a copy of the condensed Republican platform, for 1952. A book, "How to Win in 1952". Published by the Democratic national committee. Between reading the two, we could have worked out a good column; wonder who'll win?

Several booklets entitled, "What the Colleges Are Doing." These contain a general summary of collegiate thought and action the previous month. Subjects covered range from "More Funds Are Needed" to "Language Should Be a Dynamic Activity". The latter presented the idea that learning English is an active process, and urged that classes be cut to a smaller size and class periods doubled. The idea came from Colgate University; we can see the reaction on Tech campus.

Copies (thick ones) of speeches by Benjamin F. Fairless, of United States Steel Corporation. These are interesting creations, with titles such as "The Great Mistake of Karl Marx", "The Power to Destroy", "Whose Sacrifice?", "Your Stake in the Steel Crisis", "The Boy Next Door". If you have nothing better to do on some rainy afternoon you are welcome to the comfort offered by these charming speeches.

It's been fun writing this column, however, and we hope you have enjoyed it. See you Under the Breezeway in years to come.

TECHNICALITIES

by Ralph Shelton, Toreador Associate Editor

Next year's Toreador will take as the theme or plan for its editorial page the basic principle of the popular television show "Omnibus," which bills itself as "something for everyone."

Interpreting this maxim as calling for an effort to please everyone, we present the following observation on the ideal content of the page.

To please those persons who are undecided on campus issues, The Toreador must write editorials taking a firm and definite stand on such matters. However, to please those whose minds are made up, the paper must saddle a fence and go middle-of-the-road in order to avoid forcing its opinions on the masses.

Solution to the problem seems to be the publishing of short, objective editorials on the following topics: Mother's Day, School Spirit, Christmas Day, Tolerance, Valentine's Day, Hope for the Future, Straw Hat Day, Moderation, New Year's Day, Americanism, Guy Fawke's Day, Voting In

BACKTALK

DEAR EDITOR:

In the May 2nd issue of the Toreador, Bob Lovelace had an article dealing with the proposal to move Tech students out of Section O for future Raider football games. In his article Lovelace said, "Now that we're trying to produce a winner, no one wants to give up the necessary sacrifices to have one."

Is it possible that the 150 boxes the section would be divided into could bring in more money than the $8.50 from each activity ticket next year? If so, they will certainly be out of the price range of most of the people in this area.

Lovelace claims we need this extra money to improve our athletic teams. Does this mean an increase in the number of athletic scholarships or what? We know that next year's baseball team will be picked after an intramural or roundrobin, and that no scholarships will be given for it. Would an increase in money give us a better football team, Bob? We had the potential last year, and it didn't come through. Would an increase in athletic funds have helped that situation?

If the directors of the athletic department of the college really want to improve the so-called minor sports, why did they decide to enlarge Jones Stadium when everyone knows it hasn't been filled by the Raiders too often? Couldn't the money spent on that project serve a better purpose if it had been spent on some new tennis courts or at least a little work on the interior of our fire-trap barn we use for a gym? We did have three good tennis courts, but two of them were torn down for a parking lot. Of course we know our gym is as old as the college but that Lubbock is going to build a coliseum. But there is no telling when that will be. Why not a few improvements on the gym now before it falls in on our basketball teams?

Since athletics are going to get $8.50 from each activity ticket next year and we students are the ones paying that fee, and since the only improvements noted this year were the unnecessary ones on Jones Stadium and nothing else, let's leave the students in Section O. Let us be able to get some satisfaction for our money even if it isn't anything but a good seat.

Respectfully,
RONNIE AVERY

Campus Elections, Thanksgiving Day, and Scholarship.

If it appears that there is sufficient objection to the discussion of any of those subjects, we shall fill the space with something less controversial, like the protective tariff, finals for graduating seniors, senator mccarthy, section o, esquire magazine, campus fertilizer, the united nations, and la ventana.

Seriously, though, The Toreador editorials next year will follow the policy that has been set through the years at Tech. They will be views formed by the editor, who will make a continual effort to present them fairly, logically, and impersonally.

You can influence the attitude taken in the editorials by informing the staff of your opinions. However, if you do not care to have your thoughts interpreted by the editors, you may have them presented verbatim by putting them in the form of a letter to the editor. All letters will be published, space permitting, with the exception of those anonymous and/or profane. The editors' own

DU PONT SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING GRADUATES MEET THE PUBLIC IN

Technical Sales

More and more, industry is on the lookout for technically trained men and science majors who have an interest in and aptitude for selling. A number of departments at Du Pont prefer men with such training for sales positions. A technical understanding of the properties of a substance helps a man do a better selling job—and offers the customer better service.

Because of the diverse applications of Du Pont's many products, there is a need for sales representatives with widely varying technical backgrounds. There are problems involving chemistry in such fields as plastics, ceramics, textiles and many others.

Technical men may work in direct sales, sales service, or sales development groups, depending on depart-

Technical men interested in sales work at Du Pont usually acquire needed background in a laboratory or manufacturing plant. Depending on their interest and abilities, they may then move into technical sales service, sales development, or direct sales.

In any of these fields, the man with the right combination of sales ability and technical knowledge will find not only interesting work but exceptional opportunities for growth in the Company.

"What is this department called 'The Institute of Americanism'?" "Is it a textbook course?"

"Is it part of the history department or is it in the department of government?"

How many times has a student on the campus asked questions such as these?

Director J. Evetts Haley explains what the Institute of Americanism is and why it is at Tech by pointing out that it is not a textbook course nor is it part of any department on the campus.

Formed by Maedgen Foundation

He further explains that the Institute was founded in the summer of 1952 in keeping with a trust established by the Charles Earnest Maedgen Foundation of Lubbock. The trust provided for the "establishment and maintenance" of a department at Tech to "teach and emphasize" to the students and to the public the basic principles of Americanism.

Mr. Haley, noted historian and writer of Southwestern literature, states that the principal function of the Institute is to sponsor lectures and research and promote panel discussions on current problems.

To Promote Sound Thinking

"In a broad sense," he says, "we can do anything that seems worthwhile to promote sound thinking, sound economy, and a decent way of living."

He states that to date the Institute has sponsored informal lectures on specific problems dealing with the Plains country, but in the near future it plans to branch out into more extensive fields.

Panel Discussion Program

Plans are being made to have outstanding persons give lectures, and a "Meet your Government Program" is being prepared. This program will be a panel discussion open to the public in which questions could be asked about local, state and national government.

"We are not only interested in teaching basic principles of Americanism on the campus," Mr. Haley says, "but we also propose to extend its influence to the lives of the citizens of the greater West Texas area."

The idea of an Institute of Americanism seems to be spreading. Since the establishment of the one at Tech, Southern Methodist University and Cornell University have organized similar departments.

Chapter Presidents To Be Recognized

Chapter presidents of women's fraternities for the coming year will be recognized at the annual Panhellenic coffee to be held at 9 a.m. Sunday in the Caprock Hotel.

The Panhellenic scholarship cup will be awarded to the organization which has attained the highest grade point average during the spring and fall semesters of 1952. Pi Beta Phi won the trophy last year.

The softball trophy will be presented to Delta Delta Delta, winner of the annual Panhellenic softball tournament.

GREETINGS TO SAN ANGELO COLLEGE:

The staff of The Toreador wishes to compliment you on the good taste you showed in reprinting a rodeo cartoon from The Toreador. We know that you liked the cartoon, which appeared in our issue of May 1, since you attempted to give the impression that it was your own—by failing to include any line of credit to its original source.

In the event, however, that we reprint anything from your sheet, we will give due credit. It is unlikely that we'd care to create a false impression.

INVITATIONS READY

Commencement invitations and announcements are now being distributed by the college bookstore. Caps and gowns will be distributed starting May 21.
