

Optimism Appears For Stadium By Fall

TWVA To Sponsor Campus Clean-up Again This Spring

TWVA will sponsor a campus clean-up campaign this spring, according to Floyd Read, commander. The campaign will be one of the major objectives of TWVA this semester.

The exact date of the drive has not been decided, he continued. The objectives, set up by the executive committee last week, were announced by Read at the regular TWVA meeting Tuesday night.

Read also announced that TWVA would continue to aid campus authorities and city police in solving the traffic problem at Tech.

"Last semester, we were instrumental in instituting one-way driving around the circle. We must not stop our drive until we have provided adequate parking areas so that parking on the circle will not be necessary," Read said.

TWVA will cooperate with the Tech Chamber of Commerce in presenting a series of radio programs, Joe Meador, chairman, stated. These programs, featuring Tech talent, will stress the educational opportunities to be found at Tech. TWVA will prepare and present a portion of each program.

Read stated that a TWVA committee aided the registrar during registration and that this committee would continue to do so as long as it was needed.

"Registration was efficient and quick this semester—we hope that we can help the Bookstore next time and thus eliminate the last sore-spot in registration," he continued.

The social activities committee, headed by George Wall, reported that TWVA would sponsor at least one all-college dance later this spring. Plans for bringing a name band to Tech for a dance have been postponed because of the lack of facilities, Wall stated.

A Red Cross film, "Disaster Hits" was shown and Bedford Taylor, secretary, pledged TWVA support in the coming Red Cross drive.

All-College Dances Cancelled

Tech Chamber of Commerce's Wednesday-Thursday night all-college dances have been cancelled by the administrators of the College Cafeteria, according to J. C. Bartlett, president of TCC. This action was taken after a function held at the building last week . . . the floors of the cafeteria being ill-suited for dancing and the work required to prepare the cafeteria for serving meals the next day being more than the present staff could undertake.

A letter to the editor follows concerning the matter:

Dear Editor, The doors of the cafeteria were slammed in the face of C of C dances this week, and the building will continue to be closed each evening. This means that Tech-ans still will have no place to dance and drink coffee on the campus during evenings.

It is another case of our facilities being kept from the students, the only excuse being offered is that it is inadvisable and impractical to serve meals, between meals coffee, and floor space for dancing in one building. This reason hinges on management and labor—at Tech.

However, the TCC offered to assume the responsibility for the dances, relieving those who work during the day; and this group was prepared to pay rent on the building and take none of the profits from cokes, nickelodeon etc., served.

However, no solution was offered other than to overworking manager of the cafeteria and this being impractical, the whole matter was dropped.

The students of Tech are not getting what they deserve from this kind of management. The days of planning on a Student Union building for posterity are passing and people are wanting recreation facilities for students on the campus now.

So long as these problems are ignored by those in control of our college will be held in its accomplishments which might be enjoyed. The present attitude among the administrators of the cafeteria is, "It can't be done—Good-By."

Will our All-College Dance plans end in this way? What can the students do? There is no substitute available. Is the Chamber of Commerce giving up? I think not. I hope not.—B. P.

Tech Rifle Team Defeats Colorado School of Mines

Tech ROTC riflemen defeated the Colorado School of Mines rifle team by an overwhelming 200 point margin in a match at the Tech range last week.

The rifle team, coached by S. Sgt. Paul Reagan, former Infantry officer who is now ROTC Infantry instructor, is made up of the following men: Avery Jackson, Billy Stewart, Edward Graf, Billy Adair, and Howard Rownd. Graf is the only returning member of last year's team, which won the championship of the Eighth Service Command, and the coveted William Randolph Hearst trophy.

The next matches will be held at the Tech range, one of the best small bore ranges in the country, on March 15. The Tech team will compete with teams from the University of Alaska, and the University of Nebraska.

The Tech rifle team is chosen by elimination contests conducted by Sgt. Reagan. Any member of the ROTC is eligible.

Tech Red Cross Drive Ends Today

Tech Red Cross drive, sponsored by the Tech unit of the American Red Cross in cooperation with the Lubbock chapter, is ending its campaign for funds today at 5 p. m.

No quota has been set for the Tech unit but student representatives have kept donation booths open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily this week in an attempt to raise Tech's donations as high as possible, according to Francis Bearden, chairman Officers of the campus drive committee are Bearden; Jerry Eubanks, vice-chairman, and Gladys Dawson, secretary.

The Tech unit of the Red Cross is active on the campus throughout the year. First aid classes were conducted during the fall semester in which standard and advanced certificates were issued. Two mobile units with first aid cars are in operation on the campus in case of accidents.

The Tech Red Cross unit is planning summer swimming activities and has approved the installation of seven first aid kits in various college buildings which will be available on request to the faculty superintendent of each building. The money for these aid kits must come from the Lubbock chapter of the Red Cross.

PROGRAM REPORTS

Freshmen progress reports will be mailed out today to all freshmen who have been reported failing or unsatisfactory in any course, according to the Registrar's office. A copy of the report will also be sent to the student's parents.

Lowest Quotation $202,000 Above Original Estimate

Optimism that Texas Tech will have a new stadium in time for the 1947 season was expressed Wednesday by Clifford B. Jones, chairman of the board of directors of Tech Foundation. "We hope and believe that we shall be able to let a contract to furnish a stadium by this fall," he declared, speaking on behalf of the Foundation directors.

Foundation directors met Wednesday, Feb. 26, and bids were reopened for the directors to re-canvass the situation. F. S. Oldt, Dallas contractor, representing the Oldt-Midwest Construction company, low bidder on the project, promised completion of the stadium by October 1, in time for the first home game, scheduled for October 4.

Oldt's base bid was $502,000, which is $202,000 above the estimated cost. However, elimination of such items as 3,000 seats, caretaker's house, street paving, parking area, walls at ends, and plumbing, heating and electrical work, pared his bid to $356,698. Even so, it was estimated that this would have to be increased to a $376,421 minimum in order that essential items may be provided.

Original cost of the project was estimated at $300,000 last fall, but all bids submitted at the Wednesday meeting revealed that the project would rise far above this estimate. Thus, the only solutions to the problem would be either to reduce the cost of the project or raise additional funds. Both possible solutions were discussed yesterday at the directors' second meeting.

"The high bids are disappointing, of course," Dr. Jones stated, "but somehow or other, this stadium will be built. We aren't giving up the hope that the cost can be pared considerably in revision of plans and elimination of certain phases of the construction."

In the event that building costs can be reduced satisfactorily, foundation directors and members of the stadium committee have been considering excavation of the playing field in much the same way as the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. This would lower the cost of structural support of the lower sections of the stands. This step has been received favorably by grid fans.

The stadium committee has been making every effort to start the project since last fall, when the funds were subscribed. Only last month was the go-ahead signal given for the project by the Civilian Production administration.

Foundation directors and committee members met again yesterday and were still in conference late yesterday afternoon. Results have not yet been disclosed, but it is believed that some definite step was taken.

Block And Bridle Club Contracts Rodeo Stock

Bob Boone, Aggie Rodeo manager for the 1947 show, announced at the Block and Bridle meeting of March 3, that all stock for the Rodeo of April 11 and 12, had been contracted. Other rodeo plans were reviewed and it was decided to hold the rodeo approximately one mile south of Lubbock High school instead of at the Fair Ground Arena.

Tech Artist Course Features Opera Star, Jussi Bjoerling

Justi Bjoerling, leading tenor of the Metropolitan, San Francisco and Chicago Opera Companies, will entertain at the Tech Artist Course March 12, 8:00 p. m. at the Lubbock High school auditorium.

Bjoerling toured America 25 years ago as a boy soprano then returned to Stockholm to study at the Royal Conservatory and later the school connected with the Stockholm Opera. He made his debut at the Royal Opera at the age of 19 as Don Ottavio in "Don Giovanni." Soon he was well known at all the leading opera houses in Europe singing at Vienna, Prague, Dresden, and Paris. In 1935 he made a notable debut at Covent Garden in London. In 1937 Bjoerling returned to the United States and made his debut at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thanksgiving night in 1938. Since that time he has taken over most of the principal lyric Italian roles and has become a favorite concert singer. Bjoerling is making a concert tour this year, and he is booked for the entire season.

Jussi (Swedish for Jack) Bjoerling will sing selections by Beethoven, Verdi, Schubert, Strauss, Mascagni, Bizet, Alfvén, Sibelius, and Puccini on the program. Tech

Contest To Highlight Club Scarlet Tonight

"Club Scarlet," an annual night-club sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary fraternity for women journalists, will have as its main feature two floor shows, according to Lometa Hodge, program chairman. Numbers to be presented on the first floor show at 9:00 p. m. are Fern Houtis, boogie piano player; Mary Lou Blair and Jimmie Carter, dance team; Terry Sanders, singer, accompanied by Carolyn Coie; Maxine McCollum, impersonation; and Joe Miller, tap dancer.

The second floor show to begin at 10:30 p. m., will consist of La Rue Malouf and Bob Burk, dance team; Winstead Layman, singer; Corrine Kennedy, tap dancer; and two other numbers to be disclosed at "Club Scarlet."

Tech's most handsome man will be selected at the night club from the candidates pictured above. "Club Scarlet" will be held in the college cafeteria March 7 from 8 to 12 p. m., and a limited number of tickets are now on sale.

John Price Is Guest Speaker of Press Club

"Problems and Opportunities of Young Journalists" was the theme of a speech given by John Price, former publisher of the Littlefield County Wide News, and former staff member of the Denver Post, to the Press Club at the meeting Tuesday. Price is now vice-president and president-elect of the Texas Editorial association.

The Press Club Banquet is to be April 8, 6:30 p. m. at the Hilton hotel, instead of the Lubbock hotel as was previously announced. Tuesday was the deadline for membership in the Press Club. Bob Weedle, president, said that the club now has thirty members.

Rehearsals Begin For Varsity Show; Cast Announced

Cast of acting parts for "Law West of College Avenue," 1947 Varsity Show, was announced Sunday by Jamie Trainer, general director. The show will be April 15-17 at the High school auditorium. The cast is:

- Belle Moon - Dorothy Carmack
- Rascal Red - Terry Sanders
- Evie Pearl - Eugenia Watkins
- Fee Wee - James Pinson
- Slick McGoo - James Pinson
- Hop-a-Long Halsey - Clinton De Wolfe
- Dizzy Spells - Bob Carr
- Indian Joe - Joe Meador
- Little Jell - Maxine McCollum
- Walter - Bob Harvey
- Fee Wee - Burl Hubbard
- Birdie - Alice Walther
- Barker - Roy Grimes
- Lawyer - Ray Cox

The Dalton boys will include a singing trio, Lamar Jackson, Milton Butler and Richard Dicey; and Bill Thurman, Bill Puryear, Bob Burks and Jim Elliott. Song and dance specialties will be announced later, according to Marion Sprague, choreography director.

Trainer asked that the cast watch the call board in the foyer of the Ad building for announcements and rehearsal schedules.

Additions to the production staff include Jackie Cogdill, stage manager; Jimmy Carter and Marilyn Anderson, dance directors; and Betty McWhorter, Jacqueline Small and Bettie Hart, costume designers.

The script was written by Mary King and Sarah McDonald. Student Council Varsity Show committee includes Trainer, Wesley Hamilton, Marshall Mason and Hoyle Moss.

ME Display To Be Included In Show

Exhibits and demonstrations in the Department of Mechanical Engineering will be held in the mechanical laboratories of the main Engineering building, in the Mechanical laboratories of the main Engineering building, and in the College power plant, during the Engineering Show, April 15-19. ME exhibits will be under the supervision of Marshall McDonald, senior ME from McAdoo, Tex., and departmental superintendent.

Displays will illustrate many of the processes and much of the equipment used to generate and utilize mechanical power. Mechanical engineering shops to be open to visitors will show small machine parts in various stages of production, from wood pattern and foundry rooms to final polishing and finishing processes. Special emphasis is to be placed on demonstrations of exhaustive tests made on metals, machine parts, and complete machines.

Devices and demonstrations to be set up in the mechanical laboratory of the main Engineering building include: a centrifugal pump testing setup; ammonia refrigeration machinery; equipment for testing the heating value of gaseous fuels; full size cutaway automobile engine; fuel research engine, used to test gasoline for octane rating, and antiknock properties; automobile engine-electric dynamometer set for loading and testing performance of automobile engines, under varying load conditions; several steam engines; model of Hero's reaction turbine; the laboratory boiler and its auxiliary equipment; and Diesel engines, air compressors, and small testing apparatus.

Exhibits in the Mechanical Engineering shops will present completed wooden patterns used in molding metal in the wood pattern shop, types of molds in various stages of completion in the foundry, a small reamer manufactured in the machine shop, equipment and work found in the welding shop, and microscopic tests made on steels in the testing room.

SENIOR CARNIVAL MEETING

Representatives of each club participating in the Senior Carnival will meet tomorrow at 2 p. m. in J-206 to complete organization of the Carnival, according to Orville Alderson, senior class president. The Carnival will be held March 22 in the Ad building.

BOOK SECTION

"The reserve book section of the library is to be moved from its present location to the space which is now devoted to the loan desk," stated A. S. Gaylord, Jr., librarian. The student will be able to look for the desired book without having to fill out a reserve slip. Tables which will accommodate 25 to 30 people will be placed in this section of the library, Gaylord said.

We Take You Back

By MARY LOU SPENCE
And DAVID BUCKINGHAM

Five years ago in The Toreador, a drastic change was made in the style silhouette of the college student. It was formally announced that the "College Drog" had replaced the long-sleeved "Stylish Swapper". The fashion plate lad or lassie who wished to keep up with his roommates and classmates were required to have a weary forward slump of the shoulders, back curved, and hips well forward. For a backward ground, the dormitories had placed new landscape around their buildings.

Exactly one year later, something which came more close to the hearts of all the dear 'ol Techs was the announcement that the Engineering Show was cancelled for the first time since 1929. The reason for such cancellation was weary students who believed war work to be more important at the time than displaying new devices—an excellent contribution to the war-conscious students. About the campus, College Training Aircrew were beginning to make their debut. We also found that all the College Jacks and Jills were good—no gossip column.

Back when we were freshmen and sophomores or wearing Uncle Sam's clothes, the College Training Aircrew celebrated their first anniversary and Wayne Kitley left our mortal portals to edit the "Sudan News". Appearing in the same issue were two editorials, "Why Join The Service," and "Why Go To School"—what the heck's left for a fella? Frances Clark made fame by win-

Editorial . . . TCC Dances Called Off

Kind words are even more rare than a day in June, no matter what the poets say. But we think some well-earned words of praise are due the Tech Chamber of Commerce, its president, J. C. Bartlett, and its sponsor, T. C. Root.

TCC's all-college dances have been thwarted at least temporarily, but its efforts in this direction appear to be the first time any group has aimed at sponsoring such functions on the campus. Admission was to be 25 cents per dance, or $1 a semester.

At present, it is impracticable to hold these dances in the cafeteria as planned. Serving three meals a day and coffee between meals is a full schedule from 5 a. m. to 7 p. m., without adding the unavoidable confusion of cleaning up after the shindigs twice a week.

Eating is still one of necessities of life, and it was quite a victory last summer when the cafeteria was opened for student meals. The building had previously been a social center, and frequently student organizations were unable to secure it for their functions since townships were also allowed to schedule functions there.

The crying need is for a Student Union building—but we've sung that song before.

Meanwhile, here's a pat on the back for Root and Bartlett and TCC, in recognition of the work they've done. And here's a wish that other arrangements can be made somewhere, somehow.—W.L.

Dorm I Has Problems of Its Own

A resident of Women's Dorm I has complained to the editor about three matters which she thinks are worthy of mention. The question was asked why Women's Dorm I has only one dance per semester. Dorm II has two dances. This is a matter to take up with the WSGA of the dorm. If they refuse to settle things to the satisfaction of the majority, then The Toreador will be glad to handle the problem.

The fact that the time was cut for meals is controversial. Six seconds for each pupil to eat, since the dorm has allowed thirty minutes for dining, is not long enough. However, this too, should be discussed at House Meeting, with the house mother. There does not seem to be any reason for cutting the time limit for meals in one dorm, and leaving the other three without a change.

The matter of students getting in line ahead of other students for meals is indeed a problem; but there is no remedy to offer. Folks will let their friends in line with them, and any rule making this a punishable offense, would cause more ill feeling than it would ease.

The next year, 1945, Corinne Payne was carrying the torch for Pete Waller and the editor of the Toreador took a rest, as the Journalism 337 class had great editors. Sixteen students made us burst with pride by having an "A" average.

Last year, what came to this campus—MEN. Girls transferred hurriedly from TSCW and social club girls realized they would no longer have to write their hands, wondering who and if they would be anyone to present them. LAAF housing was begun at Tech to accommodate the students who were suffering from the housing shortage. In the sports field we found that Garland Head once more proved himself the great basketball star that he is—just as he did this year.

That brings us to the present day. What is happening? Why you know—and if you don't, the Toreador doesn't dare print it.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor: With the welfare of our college in mind, I trust that you may deem worthy of publication this reminder to Tech students.

A much-discussed subject during the past few days, among outsiders as well as many attending Tech, has been the behavior of Tech students at basketball games. Such behavior as has been witnessed in Tech gymnasium recently is the poorest type of sportsmanship that can be exhibited and is inevitably leading our college to an extremely undesirable destination.

Must we always entirely disregard the judgment of our referees, and fail to recognize that they too are subject to mistakes? By putting our team in the place of our visiting squad and in the presence of such a rude and inconsiderate group of spectators, we may get an idea of the impression that is made. If our doubts are sincere as to the ability of our referees, let's do something about it beforehand and not wait until a game is in progress to express such doubts.

Basketball season is now over, but there will be others. And in the intervening time, our teams will participate in various types of sports and contests. Let's treat our opponents with the courtesy and respect that they deserve and that we wish to receive in turn.

How about it, fellow-students, are you with me?
W.J.N.

Dear Editor: I concur one hundred percent with that part of your editorial (Toreador, Feb. 28) that states, "persons who passed petitions . . . should come out in open . . . If such a large segment of the student body were willing to attach their signatures to the petitions in question then the sponsors of the project should not consider it necessary to go on 'hiding their light under a bushel' so to speak.

In fact, this is the very least they can do. Otherwise, innocent persons will feel the backlash of their misguided actions.
John F. Wright.

FAT STOCK SHOW
The Division of Agriculture has shipped five bulls, four Herefords, four fat steers and nine hogs to Fort Worth Wednesday for the Fat Stock Show and Exposition to be held March 5-16.

This year is the first time fat barrows will be shown since before the war. Two of the Aberdeen-Angus bulls will be for auction. The hogs are of the Duroc and Poland China breeds.

In all previous shows Texas Tech has exhibited a grand champion barrow of each of the breeds.

Whyburn Writes Textbook; Sequel To 1944 Edition

"First Year College Mathematics With Applications" is the title of a new mathematics textbook written by Dr. W. M. Whyburn, president of Tech., in collaboration with Paul H. Daus, chairman of the mathematics department at UCLA. The book deals with algebra, analytical geometry and calculus and will be used in first year engineering courses.

This textbook is a sequel to the one written by Dr. Whyburn and published in 1944 entitled "Basic Mathematics For War and Industry." The Macmillan publishing company will publish the book. Dr. Whyburn is working on another manuscript with Professor L. J. Adams of the Santa Monica Junior College of Santa Monica, Calif.

1945 NEWS ITEM
Cigarette Shortage Still Acute
Crowds Queue Up... Millions Try Different Brands... Smoke Whatever They Can Get.

EXPERIENCE TAUGHT MILLIONS THE DIFFERENCES IN CIGARETTE QUALITY!

IT'S ONLY a memory now, the war cigarette shortage. But it was during that shortage that people found themselves comparing brands whether they intended to or not. And millions more people found that the rich, full flavor of Camel's superb blend of choice tobaccos suited their taste to a "T." And that their Throats welcomed the kind of cool mildness Camels deliver. Thus the demand for Camels grew so great that today more people are smoking Camels than ever before. But, no matter how great the demand, you can be sure of: We don't tamper with Camel quality. Only choice tobaccos, properly aged, and blended in the time-honored Camel way, are used in Camels.

According to a recent Nationwide survey:
More Doctors Smoke Camels than any other cigarette
When three independent research organizations asked 113,597 doctors—What cigarette do you smoke, Doctor?—the brand named most was Camel!

Your 'T-ZONE' will tell you...
T FOR TASTE...
T FOR THROAT...
That's your proving ground for any cigarette. See if Camels don't suit your 'T-ZONE' to a 'T'
