Students Stage Protest

Many Vie For $1,210 In Prizes

by KAREN O'BRIEN

President E. N. Jones will officially open the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association Rodeo tonight in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum at 8.

A RODEO team composed of Tech students selected by the executive council of the Tech Rodeo Association will compete through Saturday with rodeo teams from seven other colleges in the Southwest region. Prizes worth $1,210 will be given to cowboys from Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian College, New Mexico A&M, West Texas State, Lubbock Christian College, Sul Ross State and South Plains Junior College.

The team who collects the most points from rodeos given by each of these colleges, will represent this region on a national level at the final rodeo of the year in Idaho this summer.

Visitors to the NIRA Rodeo to be held today through Saturday at Lubbock Coliseum are invited to attend a coffee to be held in Tech Union Ballroom Friday morning at 10 according to Ann Gordon, chairman of the Tech Union Hospitality Committee.

A TROPHY saddle, donated by the Block and Bridle Club, will be given to the Champion All-Around Cowboy who accumulates the most points. Winners of each of eight events will receive a trophy buckle. Contestants placing second, third and fourth will receive boots, hats and other western regalia donated by Lubbock merchants.

Awards may be seen on display in the Tech Union showcase. These prizes will be presented at the Awards Dance after the last performance Saturday night in the Tech Union Rec Hall. Music for this occasion will be provided by Jimmy Mackey's band.

Tickets are on sale in Tech Union; $1.50 for adults, $1 for Tech students, 75 cents for children.

False Fire Alarm Sets Off March

— by TOREADOR STAFF

Chanting, "To Hell with the 77," more than 750 male Texas Tech students staged the school's second student riot in less than three weeks Wednesday night.

ALTHOUGH THE masked males made feeble attempts at a panty raid similar to the one approximately three weeks ago, it was the consensus opinion that the riot was a result of the newly-formed faculty committee of 77 which was announced Tuesday.

Two girls, both residents of Horn Hall, were taken to Methodist Hospital in Rix and McDonald ambulances Wednesday night but the hospital reported neither was injured.

Wednesday's riot began slowly. Wednesday morning a notice appeared on the Sneed Hall bulletin board telling of a mass meeting of men students at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

ABOUT 8:35 p.m., some 25 students had gathered on the corner of College and Broadway Ave. They were joined by men from Sneed Hall to up the group to approximately 75. Some chanted, "We want panties."

The appearance of Dean of Men Lew Jones a few minutes later dispersed the majority of the crowd.

HOWEVER, AT 10:15 p.m. the bomb was lit. A false fire alarm to the Lubbock Fire Department about a fire in West Hall sent the students out into the streets when they heard the sirens.

Three Lubbock Fire Department trucks answered the call but quickly left — among much hooting and jeering — when they discovered the false alarm.

THE NOW-RESTLESS, but unorganized, crowd then poured across the street in the direction of the women's dorms. They stopped first at Doak Hall and broke up a fraternity scene.

Finding the doors locked, the mob, still shouting "We want panties," milled around about five minutes, then headed for Drane Hall.

AT DRANE, the mob seemed to grow together until a moving mass of males led a charge to the front door. Finding the door locked, the group moved south to Horn where several managed to enter the dorm through the north door. They were quickly ordered out by Dean Jones.

Several Horn coeds taunted the boys with, "Come on in, Chicken." AFTER LEAVING Horn, they moved on to Drane where all doors had been secured. By now it was 10:35 p.m.

Finding nothing at Drane, the group of wildly-shouting men managed to climb the south fire escape and rip off a window screen but failed to gain entrance.

At 11:15 p.m., the crowd dispersed in front of Knapp and spilled into the parking lot.

MOVING AGAIN, the crowd traveled to Doak Hall again and

Committee Selected

Natural or wartime disaster and student disturbance are problems that will be handled by Tech's new Emergency Committee, composed of 77 faculty members.

Headed by chairman John F. Henry, the committee has been formed following two years' study, and is similar in design to the older fire prevention and safety committee which was in power around 1954, according to Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president.

Dr. Jones and other committee members have pointed out that the committee wasn't the result of the recent panty raid. However numerous students feel that the section of the committee's duties dealing with student disturbances is a direct insult to their intelligence and maturity.

STUDENT DISLIKE of the committee has been shown by a sign in front of Sneed that proclaimed Tech the "home of the 77 club," and a student interview program held at a local radio station.

Student president Donnell Echols, when contacted by the TOREADOR, said that he had no comment to make on the committee until he had studied it further.

"Selection of committee members was made after suggestions were received from the different schools," Dr. Jones pointed out. "The committee makeup is inter-departmental in character."

THE FACULTY Advisory Committee, which usually makes nominations for faculty positions on committees, was not consulted for the Emergency Committee. The reason for this, according to Dr. Jones, is because the Emergency Committee is a special committee, not a standing one.

Working with the larger committee will a policy-making one headed by Dr. Jones, and composed of Charles Wilson, Dean of Men Lew Jones, V. E. Thompson and Dr. Fred Kallina.

The smaller committee will work as a coordinating group between the larger committee and outside units working during the time of disaster.

COMMENTING on the section of duties dealing with student disturbance, Dr. Jones said "it is the few who will participate in these disturbances who need controlled. The majority of the students don't need it, but that few must be controlled."

Duties outlined for the individual committee members include calling Lt. Col. Henry or Dr. Jones in case of emergency, or calling Dean Jones in case of a disturbance. Members will go to the campus when called.

WHEN WORKING in a disaster area, the members will wear arm bands or handkerchiefs tied

Land Purchase Made for Greeks

Purchase of 24.8 acres of land for 20 sorority and fraternity housing sites has been announced by the Texas Tech Interfraternity Housing Corp.

LOCATED two miles due west of the Tech Administration Building, the land was sold to the housing corporation by Mrs. Lizzie B. Turner, long-time Lubbock resident.

Robert E. Maxey, president of the interfraternity corporation, accepted the deed signed by Mrs. Turner Wednesday.

THE BRIEF ceremony marked the first stage of acquiring centralized housing area for national social fraternity and sorority houses at Texas Tech. Most of the organizations now have rented lodges scattered about Lubbock.

Each of the ten fraternities and ten sororities invested more than $3,000 in the corporation to obtain a housing site. Further development of the area will get underway when at least three-fourths of the 20 social groups decide to put in utility lines in the next two years.

IN THE MEANTIME, the Greek organizations will work with the Tech administration in arranging details of the plot and determining the development restrictions on what style of lodges may be built, James Whitehead, assistant dean of student life, said.

For Mrs. Turner, the sale meant leaving a home site she had lived on since 1925. She and Mr. Turner first built a two-room house when they began farming on the 25-acre tract. Their five children "cut through" the new Tech campus to go to high school. They built her present home in 1927. She now plans to live elsewhere in Lubbock.

All of her children attended Tech and four were graduated from the institution. They are Mrs. Agatha Turner McDonald of Palo Alto, Calif., Class of '41; Mrs. Carrie Bell Turner Anderson of Lubbock, Class of '37, Mrs. Rowena Turner Ryan, Class of '33, B. H. Turner Jr. of Houston, Class of '47, and Mrs. Elfreda Turner Knight of Phoenix, Ariz.

AICE Selects Officers For 59-60 School Term

American Institute of Civil Engineering officers for 1960 were elected Tuesday at the last meeting of the school term.

NEW OFFICERS elected are Clair Garden, president, Sid Seligman, vice president, and Jack Crane, treasurer. Joe Teller retained the office of secretary.

Dr. G. A. Whetstone, AICE sponsor, gave a summary of the national association's evaluation of the student chapter which was rated third in competition with chapters from 31 other schools in the southern region. Tech AICE chapter will receive a presidential citation from the national association.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS of the meeting included a discussion of the construction of the Fort Randall Dam in South Dakota by Prof. K. R. Marmion, civil engineering.

'The Medium' Begins Friday

The screen version of Gian-Carlo Menotti's opera, "The Medium," will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 in the Aggie Engineering Auditorium.

This movie, which won the grand prize for "Lyric film drama" at Cannes International Film Festival this year, is sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha, music sorority and fraternity. Tickets are 75 cents and may be purchased from any Mu Phi Epsilon or Phi Mu Alpha member or by calling the music department.

Frosh Picnic Slated Sunday

Clapp Park will be the scene of the annual Freshman Picnic Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Freshmen or freshmen and their dates should go prepared for swimming, baseball and dancing to the jukebox.

Those attending the picnic should take a lunch. Free cakes and ice cream will be waiting.

Theme Choice To Be Made

Homecoming Committee met Wednesday afternoon, holding a "brainstorming session" to bring forth suggestions for next year's Homecoming Parade. Among the ideas were Space Age, Predictions of the Year 2000, Space Age Beatniks, Wet Lubbock, Southwest Conference Competition, Disneyland, and First in Texas.

NEXT YEAR'S Homecoming is on Nov. 14, with the Raiders playing the University of Houston.

Further suggestions for parade themes may be brought by L. C. Walker's office, Ad. 101, by next Tuesday afternoon.

Symptoms of Final Exams Begin to Show

Grand Finale Draws Nearer

by TRICIA McCULLOUGH
Longer beards and shorter fingernails begin to show on Tech campus telling the tale of woe — spring finals. The administration, faculty, even Dudley, the mailman, as well as the students feel the tension.

STUDENTS LOOK anxiously at the exam schedule and there will surely be several with three exams the first day and not another one until the last day. The faculty will get a barrage of requests for exam changes. What can they do in the light of those pitiful expressions?

Tech men let their beards grow as a visual proof of "how hard they are studying." Nail-biting seniors feel pressure mount as Dudley brings letters from home threatening, pleading, demanding, threatening, wishing, hoping, that this will be their last semester of college. Undergraduates, too, get orders to "pull up those grades."

GIRL'S dormitories observe quiet hours. Noisy girls in Horn Hall will be asked to attend a study hall each night until the end of finals. The only exceptions made will be for girls already attending a supervised study hall.

Sororities, fraternities, dormitories, individuals — all are worrying over the final examinations of the 1959 spring semester at Texas Tech.

By the way, have you seen your exam schedule?

Vets Present Sweetheart

The Tech Vet Sweetheart will be presented Saturday at the Vet's annual Spring Dance beginning at 8:30 p.m. in National Guard Armory.

Candidates for Sweetheart are Beverly Hollingsworth, Linda Barlow, Louise Agurie and Brenda Rout.

MEN OF Notes will play for the dance and admission is $2.50 per couple. Tickets may be bought from all Vets and will be on sale Saturday in Tech Union and at the door.

*Proceeds from the dance will be used for a Texas Tech flag to be presented to the school as soon as possible.

Akins, Berry Given Honors

Eldon Akins and Lyle Berry were presented as having the highest scholarship grades and best pledge respectively in Delta Sigma Pi, Saturday night at the annual initiation banquet at the Ming Tree.

OFFICERS FOR 1959-60 were installed as follows: Jimmy Spencer, president; Jerard Lyons, sr. vice president; Bill Dean, Jr. vice president; Loyd Cunningham, secretary; Delwin Renfro, treasurer; and Marshall Johnson, historian.

George Dupree, local attorney, was the speaker for the evening. His subject was "The Basic Foundation for a Successful Career in Business" in which he gave advice and experiences to members and sponsors of the fraternity. Dupree is also an honorary member of Delta Sigma Pi.

President Comments About Committee

by DR. E. N. JONES

The time seemingly has arrived for a decision by the students of Texas Tech — all the students — as to what the reputation of their College is to be. Will a very small per cent be permitted to lower the esteem in which it is held to the point where many students who are considering coming to Tech and their parents will decide this is not the place for them? Or will the wish of the majority of the students prevail that the reputation of their College not only be upheld but the value of the Texas Tech degree be raised to even higher levels?

DORMITORY RAIDS lower, and if repeated, can ruin a school's name. I had a telephone call shortly after the recent "spring fever episode" from a father who moved his family to Lubbock sometime ago to put his children through high school and then through Texas Tech. He said, "If in this type of student conduct is permitted to continue, I shall move elsewhere."

A student has just told me of a recent visit to his hometown during which he learned that three families who were seriously considering sending a son or a daughter to Tech next fall are now seriously questioning the advisability.

THIS IS the type of reaction that so-called "blowing off steam" brings if locked buildings are entered and public property destroyed. Because the public expects college students to be above such behavior, any violation of the expected level of conduct makes news, and such news travels fast.

News which is in error can also travel fast. The most recent example is that the Emergency Committee just recently reorganized is reported as having been set up solely as a countermeasure against student disturbances. That it was set up solely for this purpose is incorrect.

The facts concerning this committee are these:

1. It is not a new idea. Rather, it is a reorganization of a Committee which was first set up in 1952-53.

2. The purpose of the Committee is to be ready to act in case of any disaster or emergency which may strike the campus at any time. The campus is a concentrated community which would need first aid and damage control action following a tornado, for example.

3. In addition to serving in the case of a natural disaster, the Committee, by virtue of its emergency nature, can and will be called just as quickly in event of a human disturbance which is getting out of hand.

I indicated at the first that the time seemingly has arrived for all of the students of Texas Tech to decide what they want the reputation of their College to be. I am sure I know the thinking of the vast majority on this question. As far as I am concerned, as President of the College, there can be but one decision. The esteem in which the College is held must not be lowered.

THEREFORE, may I say, in all frankness and definiteness, to what I am sure is but a small fraction of one per cent of the student body, that if the regulations of the College and the required atmosphere in which the processes of education may be carried on properly are irksome to you, perhaps you can find another campus elsewhere you can carry on as you please. It is not to be Texas Tech. No very small group of any one year's student body has the right to contribute to the ruining of the reputation of the College which has taken years to build.

SDX Plans Picnic As Semester Ends

Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, will meet Friday at noon in the Anniversary Room of Tech Union.

Main business of the meeting will be the discussion of final plans for the annual picnic and supper at Johnson's Ranch Saturday night.

LAUNDRY CONFERENCE

Home Ec Sponsors

"Imageneering-1965," is the principal address of the Home Laundry Conference tomorrow in the Home Economics Building from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Ten representatives from the nation's top manufacturers of home laundry equipment and supplies, will discuss the newest information of home laundry supplies, equipment and procedures. The conference, sponsored by the department of home and family life, is also made up of college and high school teachers and other home economists.

Dean Willa Vaughn Tinsley will welcome the visitors at 8:30 a.m. Conference orientation will be given by Miss Lola Drew, associate professor of home management.

The Principal address will be delivered by Frank Spangler of the Westinghouse Corp. Other addresses are "Laundry Supplies," by Miss Anne Lyng of Proctor and Gamble; "Basic Principles of Washers," by Miss Virginia Van Nostrand of the Whirlpool Corp.; "How To Do A Wash," by Miss Velda Perkin from the Frigidaire division of General Motors.

"Basic Principles of Dryers" will be discussed by Hamilton Manufacturing Company's Mrs. Helen Tangen. "The Fabric Tree," will be Mrs. Mary Margaret Boyer's topic for the Maytag Co. Philco Corp. will end the conference with a washer-dryer demonstration.

Miss Anna Bines, home service director for the Texas Electric Service of Fort Worth will point out job opportunities in the field.

riot follows committee change

a little bit
james hamm

In this last column I would like to thank the Tech student body, faculty, administration and staff for its response to "a little bit."

Although all of the letters received were not complimentary, they were educational and entertaining—a few were even thought-provoking.

The purpose of writing this column once a week during the past school year was to encourage thought and discussion, and we hope that we were successful.

It has also been rewarding to serve the TOREADOR and Tech for the past four years as a journalist. Serving as managing editor and editor, this year has been particularly rewarding.

As a TOREADOR staffer it has been my privilege to meet and work with a large number of students, faculty members and administrative officials, and most of these contacts have been rewarding.

The TOREADOR's reading public has been a discerning one, and it has been a challenge to produce the quality of work demanded by that public. This public's formal education average is several years higher than the overall national average.

Working with this year's staff has been great. They are fairly talented journalists, as well as likeable characters. Arthur Mayhew, issue editor and managing editor; Tommy Schmidt, news editor; Lee Sullenger, Mary Gretzinger and Jim Walsh, issue editors; Merium Jackson, campus editor; Bill Dean, sports editor, and Ralph Carpenter and John Lewis, sports writers, have all done wonderful jobs.

Don Lechwig, business manager, and J. C. Conyers and Roy Lemons, ad staff, have kept the TOREADOR in the black finance-wise this year.

JOE SPEARS head photographer, and Arthur Burks and Travis Harrell, assistants, have done great jobs in spite of the editorial staff.

Many of this staff will be returning next year, giving promise to another good year for the TOREADOR, while others, such as Ludwig and Spears, will be gone.

Next year's staff will be a good one, headed by Editor Tommy Schmidt, who will be beginning his fourth year of work on the TOREADOR. Mayhew, the humorous, but also talented, vice president of the Southwest Journalism Congress, will serve as managing editor.

RON CALHOUN will take over as news editor, and Carpenter will move in as sports editor (he has already lined up a very adequate sports staff).

Walsh will be back as an issue editor, joined by sophomores Preston Maynard, named this year's outstanding staffer, and Billy Patton.

We're certain that this staff will correct the mistakes made by the past year's staff, and will carry the TOREADOR one step closer to becoming a daily.

As we say goodbye and sign the final "30" to this column, we sincerely hope that Texas Tech will continue on its climb toward a prominent position among the nation's colleges and universities, and that the TOREADOR will always serve Tech in the best manner possible.

'LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS' — Bibler

"SO I GAVE HIM BACK HIS OLE FRATERNITY PIN."

Techsans Talk Back

danger in complacency foreseen

Student body: Sit on your behinds and you will be completely dominated. This week 77 members of the faculty were appointed to a committee called the Emergency Committee.

THE STATED objective for this committee goes such: "To enable the college to take prompt and decisive action in the event of a natural or wartime disaster or student disturbance on the campus."

How far are we going to let the Board of Directors and the wheels of the school go? We have asked why the prices are higher for dorm living than at some of the other state-supported schools. Why haven't we gotten a definite answer? We say the food is bad? They then say, "The food is good. You are too young to know whether or not the food is good. The dietitian says it's good. You are just students, how would you know the food is not good. You just eat it."

SO THEN YOU try other activities to prove the food is poor. Your hands are then spanked for being a bad boy, and you are told that if anyone is heard talking against the food it can be interpreted as trying to entice a riot and you will be kicked out of school. Your transcript will then be put so far down in the basement it will never be seen again.

A semester or two ago, we had to start signing statements that we understood the rules on cheating and plagiarism. All that has to be done according to the rules is to be accused of cheating and you can be kicked out of school. The members of this emergency committee can accuse us and it can lead to disciplinary action. There was nothing said about proof in either case, just being accused. The burden of proof lies on the student. What happened to justice our forefathers fought for?

WHAT HAS happened to Tech? This could be a great school, but it is heading with faculty police and other rules into a paid reform school. We are being treated as delinquents; granted, there are some students that deserve to be treated as such, but not the student body as a whole.

There are peaceful and legal methods of subduing a dictatorship or what is fast becoming one. All they lack is taking over the school paper, and they will do that as soon as possible. Each semester I become less and less proud of Tech, mainly because we are not, as a group, standing up for our rights. I, by myself, cannot do anything, but the student body can if they will. We are the ones that are going to have to do it, because of past showings, the Student Council can not or will not do anything. But it must be done in an orderly and mature manner so as to show that we do not deserve such action that has been brought about.

If something is not done, the freedom of the press will go next. After that they will probably set hours for the dorm males to be in.

Something can be both bad and good at the same time. Tech's newest committee, the Emergency Committee, falls into this category.

This committee is definitely good in that it provides for a more adequate way of meeting disaster, and it could provide positive, speedy and qualified leadership during a disaster.

The committee is big enough to serve adequately in this capacity, and the membership cuts across departmental lines to make it an all-school group.

But in its other function, controlling student disturbance, it is definitely weak. This attitude gives the student body the impression that they are being treated as if they are high school — rather, grade school students.

College students are young adults, and deserve to be treated as such. When they don't get this treatment, they react. This situation contributed toward the near-riot of two weeks ago, and the portion of the new committee's duties dealing with student disturbances was largely responsible for last night's activities.

Also, serving on this committee puts the faculty members in a bad light. They have these students in their classes every day, and are often called upon to associate with them outside of the classroom.

However, all of the blame does not lie with those who are responsible for setting up the duties of this committee. Students engaging in a party raid act like grade school students, and these persons who designed the committee honestly felt that this segment of the student body deserved to be controlled.

A riot definitely puts Tech in a bad light, discouraging future enrollment and giving the school a black eye — something that definitely reflects on Tech graduates when they try to get a job.

Tech's national prestige is hurt by a raid, and thus its reputation is lowered, and, indirectly, good personnel is scared away from Tech's teaching ranks.

Although the first riot had a little merit, the second one was completely uncalled for. The spirit had gone out of the student movement, and everyone was thinking about the finals.

But with the announcement of the formation of the "famous 77," students felt honor-bound to riot. There was no spirit in last night's affair, but the defiance was so thick it could be cut with a knife.

Small groups of male students wandered around aimlessly, some with masks, making cutting remarks to Emergency Committee members.

Perhaps the Emergency Committee wasn't formed because of the first raid, but certain segments of its duties sound as if they are based on the raid — particularly the part that speaks of entering coed dorms by window or door.

Whether or not there is any connection, the timing in releasing the information on the committee was certainly bad. But that's past history, and a solution should be reached. Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president, has stated that he will gladly listen to any suggestions as to how the problem should be solved.

All elements should work toward solving the problem, for best interests of Tech and every one connected with it.

The TOREADOR, official student newspaper of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, is regularly published each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning during the two long terms, excepting holidays, by students of the College as an expression of student news and opinion only.

The TOREADOR is financed by a student matriculation fee, advertising and subscriptions. Letters to the editor represent the views of their writers and not necessarily those of the TOREADOR. Letters must be signed, but may be published without signatures in justifiable instances. The views of the TOREADOR are in no way to be construed as necessarily those of the administration.

"IN CASE OF CAMPUS DISASTER"

Students Print Rules

by PRESTON MAYNARD

As an apparent student take-off on the recent formation of Tech's Emergency Committee, mimeographed sheets titled "EMERGENCY RETALIATION IN-STRUCTIONS" appeared on the campus early Wednesday.

THE SHEETS were reportedly placed on many trees around the campus, including those around Drane and Knapp Halls, Tech Union and Administration Bldg. They were also said to be placed on the Faculty Lounge doors, the Rec Hall doors, faculty office doors and on bulletin boards in the various men's dorms.

It was reported that over 500 copies were mimeographed between 12 and 3 Wednesday morning.

Sources indicated the movement was not restricted to any one dorm and that it was very well planned.

IN AN apparent attempt to be humorous, the sheets gave "instructions" to students in case of "interplanetary invasion" or "faculty or administrative oppression."

During such "interplanetary invasion," students were urged to wear "identifying arm band" or, lacking a "band," to "stick your arm in an old Viceroy package."

THE SHEETS also urged students to "organize spectators present to assist you in hampering fire and medical personnel."

Referring to "faculty or administrative oppression" the sheets called upon students to note "description of the leaders" and names.

Apparently the sheets were printed in protest of the recent formation of the Emergency Committee, with opinion of some students seeming to be that the committee was formed solely to prevent future student group action, such as the recent riot-panty raid.

around the arm, and will organize students and other faculty members into damage control teams. In the event of serious disaster, ROTC units will be used.

In case of student disturbance, members will note the description and actions of leaders. If they know any of the leaders, they will urge them to desist in their activities.

They will also take names of those they know and what they are doing (such as trying to enter a woman's dorm), and will also take the names of those damaging property. A written report will be made to the Dean of Men's office the next morning.

then to Weeks. Chanting "To Hell with the 77," the mob moved into the street, blocking traffic at the intersection of Broadway and College Ave.

Spent, the crowd finally called it a night around 1 a.m. Thursday.

DONNELL ECHOLS, president of the Student Council, an eyewitness to Wednesday's scramble, commented candidly Wednesday that he thought the riot represented "only about one per cent of the students on campus."

Asked about the formation of the "77 Club" as it is called by the students, Echols stated that the primary function of the committee is to aid in the after-effects of natural and national disasters.

LOOKING OVER the milling masses, Echols said that "riots are no way to find a solution to any problem the students might have," and added that "bad publicity will take away the value of a Tech degree."

'Bridge' Shows 6:30 Sunday

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey," a film adapted from Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winning novel, will be shown in the Tech Union Ballroom at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

THE FILM is under the sponsorship of the Presbyterian Student Association and stars Louis Calhern, Lynn Bari and Akim Tamiroff. No admission will be charged but a voluntary offering will be taken to help defray expenses.

Humanity Being 'Group-ism'd to Death'

"We are being group-ism'd to death," said Prof. Harry Walker at the annual Student Council installation banquet Tuesday night.

Speaking to both old and new Council members, he continued, "The pity is not the group itself, but that it is thought of as the thinking matter of the individual."

Walker, associate professor of economics, was introduced by Bill Plieger, junior from Eden, before speaking on "The Resurrection of the Individual."

Old Bow Out; New In At ROTC Ceremonies

Dr. Ernst Giesecke will be the reviewing official of the annual joint change of command ceremonies of the Army and AFROTC today at 4 p.m. He is outgoing vice president of Texas Tech.

IN THE CHANGE OF command the Army and Air Force ROTC cadet commanders for the next school year take over their command positions. Army cadet commands will be turned over by Cadet Col. James L. Mays to Cadet Capt. John L. Campbell. Cadet Col. William Dirlake will turn over command of the AFROTC to 2/Lt. John K. Cobb. The old commanders will form part of the reviewing party.

Five Techsans Attend Meet

Five Tech Electrical Engineering professors are attending the Institute of Radio Engineers regional meeting in Albuquerque today.

THEY ARE Professors B. H. Easter, L. L. Grigsby, H. A. Cardwell, J. B. Johnson and R. D. Meeks.

Highlighting the meeting will be sessions on engineering education and methods of instruction, and on electronics in space research and medicine.

The University of New Mexico will host the IRE delegates from region seven professional organizations.

Texas Sons of the American Revolution will present their annual award to one Army and one Air Force ROTC student who has won competition held in each department. Competition concerns the knowledge of each candidate knowing the "Oath of Allegiance," the "Creed," the "Preamble to the Constitution" and the "General Orders for a Military Sentinel."

THE AWARD will be presented by Dr. Ben B. Hutchinson, president of the Texas Tech chapter of the SAR, to Army Cadet Larry Dehay and Air Force Cadet Waldemar K. Kerbel.

The joint ceremony will be on the parade ground just south of the Music Building; the reviewing area will be on the east side. This ceremony follows the annual inspection of the AFROTC Unit. The inspectors will be present observing activities.

RALPH'S RAMBLINGS

Ralph W. Carpenter

Perhaps you TOREADOR readers might like to know a little something about your sports department for the school year 1959-60. Maybe you already have read that I will be sports editor. Besides myself, working with me will be a group of conscientious journalists who in my opinion will strive to give Texas Tech adequate sports coverage.

Associate Editor is Wayne Glenn, senior from Big Spring. His job will be to see that all events on campus are given appropriate and proper coverage, assist with page layouts and to work closely with me on all phases of the Tech sports program.

Vernon Stewart, DeLeon sophomore, is Head Sports Writer. He will cover most of the major sports stories and assist in the coordination of staff sports writers.

Bill Blackburn, Stamford sophomore, is Intramural Sports Director. He is setting up a new system of reporting intramurals and as a result all intra-college teams will have equal coverage. The new system will be explained in detail later.

Bill McMinn, Stratford sophomore, will assist staff members and cover some athletic contests.

These four will be working on every issue of the Toreador and will ordinarily be where they can be contacted if someone has pertinent news to offer.

Other sports writers will cover sports stories on an assignment basis and will not be expected to work each issue. Applications for staffers are now being accepted. If you are interested contact Wayne Glenn at the Toreador.

NEED JOB WILL TRAVEL, that's the motto of Earl Parker, freshmen baseball coach. Parker, who piloted the freshmen to an 8-1 season this year would like to sign with a high school as baseball coach.

—RWC—

Tech's track team will be wearing new black uniforms with red lettering at the Southwest Conference track meet Friday and Saturday. Seems some confusion resulted last year when a lot of other teams in the meet showed up wearing red uniforms.

—RWC—

Work on the new press box at Jones Stadium continues to move forward. The stands on the south end of the field are also being moved out — they will be placed near the Raider track.

Coach Don Sparks will enter 10 varsity track and field men and 11 freshmen in the Southwest Conference meet at College Station Friday and Saturday.

SPARKS HAS HOPES of bettering last year's cellar finish in the varsity division. These hopes are clouded by the injured ankle of Roger Crawford which may weaken the relay team. A third place in the freshman division has been jeopardized by the leg injury hampering Iran King.

Tech's best bets for varsity points appear to be in the hurdles — with James Pettit and Dick Murphy and high jumper Dub Thornton. Thornton's 6-9 at the Drake Relays is among the nation's best, but the defending National Collegiate champion, Don Stewart of SMU, made 6-9½ at Dallas last week.

BOB SWAFFORD, who ran a wind-aided 14.2 in the high hurdles in a quadrangular at Abilene, is expected to lead the Pica-dors.

Varsity entries:

100-YARD DASH—James Morris of Brownfield (10.1)

220-YARD DASH—Tommy Davis of Granbury (21.1)

880-YARD RUN—Charles Draper of Amarillo (1:56.9), Pete Dyson of Fort Stockton (1:57)

MILE—Dyson (4:22.8)

TWO-MILE—Dyson (9:46.1)

HIGH HURDLES—Murphy (14.5), Pettit (14.8), Ken Osborne of Amarillo (15.0)

LOW HURDLES—Pettit (23.0), Osborne (24.5)

440-YARD RELAY—Roger Crawford of Waco, Murphy, Pettit, Davis (42.2)

MILE RELAY—Crawford, Davis, Murphy, Draper (3:19.4)

HIGH JUMP—Thornton (6-9), Murphy (6-9)

BROAD JUMP—Pettit (23.9), Morris (23.0), James Leonard of Abilene (21-6)

Freshman entries:

100-YARD DASH—Mike Stell of Fort Worth (9.8), King (9.9)

220-YARD DASH—Stell (22.2)

440-YARD DASH—Jimmy Williams of Lubbock, Jack Davis of Granbury (51.0)

880-YARD RUN—Ken Weaver of Idalou (1:58.5), Davis (2:01)

MILE RUN—Weaver (4:33)

HIGH HURDLES—Swafford (14.2)

LOW HURDLES—Swafford (23.4), King (24.1)

440-YARD RELAY—Swafford, King or Herbert Pearce of Monahans, William Stell (42.1)

MILE RELAY—Stell, Williams, Davis, Swafford (3:19.4)

HIGH JUMP—Bake Turner of Alpine (5-10)

BROAD JUMP—King (23-3/8), Turner (22-0)

POLE VAULT—Mike Henderson of El Paso (12-0)

DISCUS—Richard Stafford of Matador (152-11½)

SHOT PUT—Pat Holmes of Del Rio (46-6)

Two Netters Enter SWC Meet At A&M

Tech's tennis team qualified two entries in the Southwest Conference tournament at Texas A&M Friday and Saturday.

Coach George Philbrick's netters, who have compiled a surprising 19-17 mark for the season, will send junior Bob Macy and sophomore Danny Scales to the meet for individual honors.

AGAINST SMU JUMPER

Thornton After Win

by J. VERNON STEWART

W. L. "Dub" Thornton, whose 6-9 leap at the Drake Relays shot him into the national high jump spotlight, will continue his personal rivalry with SMU's Don Stewart this season. Thornton has won two while losing to the defending national champion four times, but in the last two meetings of the pair, Thornton has won both contests.

Thornton injured his right leg in the North Texas Relays, April 11, and since that time he has been nursing the injury in practice but going all out in the meets. He has been practicing this week with his bad leg taped but will compete at A&M with the tape removed.

COACH DON Sparks has started Dub on a weight lifting schedule which should strengthen his legs and eliminate most of his injuries. "Last year after the Texas Relays, I burned myself out because I wasn't in shape. This year I shouldn't have that trouble because of the training and weight lifting," Dub explained.

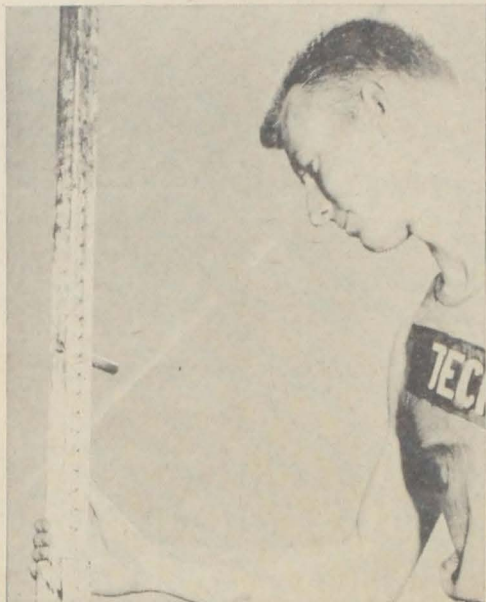

Sparks classes Thornton as an athlete who must have competition in order to come up with an outstanding performance. In practice Dub usually doesn't jump over 6-4 but in competition he usually comes through with enough to win.

THE BUILT-UP shoe that caused so much controversy last year and was finally forbidden by SWC officials was more of a hindrance than a help Dub believes. Sparks thinks Dub is capable and "My style of jumping just wasn't suited to a built-up shoe even if they let me use it," Thornton said.

Dub's goal for this year was 6-11 but he thinks the injured leg may prevent his attaining it. His goal for next year is 7 ft. This may sound unattainable to some but Sparks thinks Dub is capable and will clear 7 ft. if he isn't injured and has some top competition.

BOTH SPARKS and Thornton are looking forward to the 1960 Olympics.

LOOKING IT OVER— Dub Thornton, high jumper from Aspermont, sets the bar on 6-11, his goal for this season. Thornton faces Don Stewart, his top rival at the SWC meet in College Station this weekend.

Title Game Set Today

The Chinese Bandits will meet the Phi Delta Theta's today at 5 p.m. for the all-college championship. The tilt will be unreeled on field one.

THE BANDITS are the independent champs while the Phi Delt's took the fraternity crown. Both teams have good records, with the Phi Delt's being undefeated and the Chinese Bandit crew having lost only one tilt.

Sneed Hall fell to the Phi Delt's 15-0 in the semi-final round and the Bandits axed the Dairy Industry team 7-4.

Four Tech Golfers Seek SWC Honors

All four members of Tech's championship golf team will compete for SWC tournament individual honors at College Station Friday and Saturday.

TECH IS permitted four entries by virtue of winning the title. Second place T.C.U. is allowed three; the third and fourth teams 2; and the last four teams are allowed only one entry each.

three seniors — John Paul Cain, John Farquhar, and Don Kaplan — and sophomore Cris Blocker.

CAIN WAS tied for last year's runner-up medal honors with Southern Methodist's Jerry Pittman.

Trough the conference season the Raiders won all their matches by 4½-1½ or better except the TCU match, which was halved 3-3.
