Pacifist Burns Body In Viet War Protest

NEW YORK (AP)—A young Roman Catholic pacifist, almost every inch of his body burned, lingered on the brink of death after turning himself into a human torch Tuesday outside the United Nations to protest the Viet Nam war.

Later, he apparently repented the ghastly deed.

"I'm anti-war, all wars, I did this as a religious action," said Roger LaPorte, 22, the second American in a week to set fire to himself in such a protest.

Taken to Bellevue Hospital with 95 per cent of his body seared, LaPorte showed signs of kidney damage and his breathing was labored. Nevertheless, he was conscious and able to talk.

"I know of no one who had 95 per cent total body burns surviving," declared Dr. Jay Grosfeld, a member of a medical team working over LaPorte.

The last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered to LaPorte, after he expressed repentance over his violation of its strict religious crede against suicide.

The Rev. Alexander Busuttill, Catholic chaplain at Bellevue, said: "It was the most devout act of contrition I've heard. He was clear and expressive when I spoke with him."

"He was so badly burned,"

Father Busuttill went on, "that I had a difficult time finding a place on his body upon which to place the holy oil. He was not in pain because, ironically enough, he was so badly burned that pain was not there."

A hospital spokesman said LaPorte nodded affirmatively when asked by hospital psychiatrists if he wanted to live.

Theta Sigs Will Sponsor Club Scarlet

Tech's most handsome man will be chosen at Club Scarlet, Theta Sigma Phi's mock nightclub, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. in Tech Union Ballroom.

Tickets will be sold at the Union ticket booth from noon to 1 p.m., Nov. 18 and all day Nov. 19. Tickets are $1; each paid admission is one vote for the most handsome man.

"Club Scarlet Goes to Bourbon Street" will be this year's theme. A dance featuring the Esquires and a floor show including skits will highlight the Bourbon Street atmosphere.

A traveling trophy, won by Delta Delta Delta last year, will be given to the organization with the best skit. Skit rehearsals are tentatively scheduled for Thursday night, Nov. 18. The definite time and place will be announced later.

Candidates for Tech's most handsome man are Steve Scott, Clark Pfluger, Eldon Frost, Pike Teinert, Jerry Bawcom, Gary Knust, Chris Alford, Bill Chastain, Ken Dart, Douglas (Nubin) Hollar, John Ireland, and Dennis Spradley.

Master of ceremonies for Club Scarlet will be Artie Shaw, radio announcer for KSEL.

As LaPorte, his clothing burned from his body, his meager possessions strewn about him on the pavement at 42nd St. and 1st Ave., was taken to the hospital by police, he murmured: "Give me some water. Give me some water."

Unlike Morrison, who committed suicide in full view of home-going Washington workers Nov. 2, LaPorte set fire to himself an hour before sunrise, with Manhattan still asleep and only one U.N. guard on hand. The victim's wrist watch was stopped at 5:20 a.m.

The guard, Henry Okai, 35, did not see LaPorte douse himself from a can of gasoline nor set fire to himself.

"I saw this person rolling and screaming in the street, all on fire," Okai said.

Guard Called For Help

Okai called for help from his guard booth, and later was treated for smoke inhalation and nausea after he tried to extinguish the flames with a fire extinguisher.

One of the guards who joined Okai was Sgt. Benjamin King, who said: "LaPorte was squirming and groaning when we got there. His hair was all burned off. He was a human torch, let's face it."

Of a deep religious bent, LaPorte was a volunteer in the Catholic Worker movement, a pacifist group that has no official connection with the Catholic Church. However, its members consider themselves as pursuing Catholic principles in their work for social causes and in behalf of the poor.

LaPorte apparently had not confided to anyone his plans.

CONCERT TICKETS

Tickets for the Jeannie Tourel concert Wednesday are on sale in the Union lobby. Ticket price is $4.00. Students will be admitted free by showing their ID cards.

Will Send Greetings

Men's No. 9

Backs Policy

Men's 9 will send 5,000 Christmas cards to American forces in Viet Nam.

The cards will read, "Because of You . . . America Breathes a Little Easier; America Sleeps a Little Sounder; and Americans Walk a Little Taller . . . Merry Christmas and Thanks."

The cards are being sent to convey thanks to the Asian-based forces and to counteract anti-U.S. policy demonstrations on other college campuses.

In a statement Tuesday afternoon, Dr. R. C. Goodwin, president of Tech, said the residents of Men's 9 are to be congratulated on their patriotism by letting our military forces in Viet Nam know "that the students of Texas Tech stand firmly behind them and appreciate the sacrifices they are making in behalf of the free peoples of the world."

Dr. Goodwin also lauded the men "upon their desire to offset the actions of those who do not exhibit a similar devotion to their government."

The cards will be presented to a representative of the Red Cross in a ceremony next Wednesday in the cafeteria of Men's 9.

Officials representing Reese Air Force Base, the Army and Marines will attend.

Tech officials are also expected to be on hand.

In conjunction with the Christmas card presentation, the dorm will sponsor a petition to be signed by Tech students supporting the United States' policy in Viet Nam.

The petition will be placed in the Tech Union later this week and will be sent to President Johnson next week.

Blackout Disables Northeastern U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York and Boston metropolitan areas and other parts of the Northeast were hit by an electric power failure and blackout Tuesday night at the height of the homeward commuter rush.

A spokesman for Consolidated Edison, the utility firm that serves the New York area, attributed the blackout to "an electrical disturbance" someplace in upstate New York.

The blackout extended to New York's Kennedy and La Guardia airports. Planes were unable to land or take off.

Travel by subways was disrupted, and the blackout created havoc in train and bus terminals.

Subways Stopped

The Transit Authority estimated that 150,000 riders were stranded on subway trains at the height of rush-hour in New York City.

Civil Defense headquarters in Manhattan asked all of its personnel to report.

All available New York City police were summoned to duty, and special patrols were being sent into the subways.

The Boston blackout was timed at 5:21 p.m. EST, that in New York at 5:28 p.m.

Boston reported that almost all the suburbs and the entire central city were blacked out.

An airplane, surveying traffic for a Boston radio station, broadcast shortly after the blackout hit that there were still lights at Providence Airport, but Boston's Metropolitan Airport and nearby Hanescomb Airport were blacked out.

AP Knocked Out

The lack of power in New York knocked out headquarters of the Associated Press, from which the assembling and dissemination of the AP news report is directed. The Washington Bureau took over direction.

In Washington, the FBI declined comment when asked if it was investigating the possibility of sabotage.

Pre-Law Society To Conduct Trial

The Pre-Law Society holds their fall semester mock trial today at 7 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

The criminal trial will have new members in the trial to introduce them to court proceedings in preparation for the larger mock trial in the spring.

Defense attorneys are Chuck Bates and Frank Eikenburg.

The prosecution will be David Cates and Elata Ely.

Chris Hickey will preside as judge.

Viet Age Limit Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered today that 17-year-old servicemen be banned from duty in South Viet Nam.

The new policy, effective immediately, will not affect men on sea duty in waters off Viet Nam. Nor will it end overseas duty for 17-year-olds elsewhere in the world.

The minimum age for service in South Viet Nam will be 18, the Pentagon announcement said.

Other Assignments
The services were ordered to cancel or change assignments of any 17-year-olds now destined for Viet Nam, and to divert these men "to other appropriate assignments."

The Pentagon said exact figures are not available but that it is estimated fewer than 1 per cent of the 148,380 American military men now in Viet Nam are in the 17-year bracket.

Until now, individual service policies have permitted most 17-year-olds in uniform to be assigned to duty in Viet Nam or anywhere else overseas.

The only exception has been in

YWCA Observes World Fellowship

November 14-20 is World Fellowship Week, observed by the Young Women's Christian Association throughout the world to promote understanding of other nations.

In Lubbock the YWCA will hold its annual World Fellowship tea from 3-5 p.m. Sunday.

Guests will wear national costumes and some will be asked to sing their native songs for the visitors.

Decorations will include dolls from other lands and flower arrangements.

the case of youths who volunteer for the draft to get their service obligations out of the way. These have been held back from overseas until they reached 18.

Need Parents' Permission

All 17-year-olds, whether they volunteer for regular hitches or sign up for the draft, do so only with their parents' written consent.

Any man, 17 years old or older, must have at least four months of basic training or the equivalent before being committed to overseas duty.

In its announcement, the Pentagon said McNamara's action "is being taken in order to make the assignment policies of all the armed forces uniform."

ACCOUNTING SOCIETY

The Tech Accounting Society will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in room 106 of the BA Bldg.

Tech AROTC Wants Coeds For Nursing

"Uncle Sam wants you" is a phrase which has been aimed at young men on all campuses for some time. Now the women on campuses are hearing it too.

The Army needs qualified nurses and has initiated a nursing program for coeds.

Tech's Army ROTC department is serving as a recruiting station for the program at Tech.

Students accepted will be enlisted in the Army Reserve and will receive tuition and book allowance.

The Army will enroll the student in any accredited college or university of her choice during her freshman and sophomore years. At the end of her second year, she will be transferred to the Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing in Washington, D.C.

According to Col. Buechler, Assistant Professor of Military Science at Tech, "The program has been received fairly well." He went on to say that the program is a good one for girls in college who want to become nurses.

Students who enroll in the program will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Army Nurse Corps after graduation and licensing. They will be obligated to serve for at least three years in the Army.

JOHNSON PROCLAIMS DAY OF PRAYER

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson has proclaimed Nov. 28 "as a day of prayer" to honor all those "who are risking their lives to bring about a just peace in South Viet Nam."

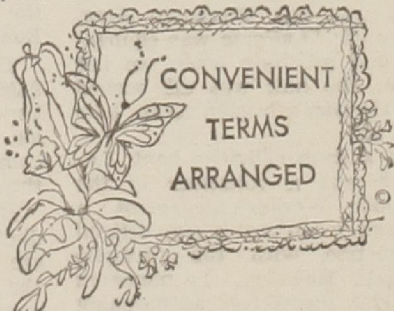

Johnson signed the proclamation Saturday but his action was not announced by the Texas White House until today.

The proclamation was suggested by Congress in a resolution passed at the end of the 1965 session.

Cornelius Solos, First From Tech

Air Force Cadet Samuel Blackman Cornelius, 22-year-old senior physical education major from Spearman, became the first student to solo this year under the AFROTC Flight Instruction Program. Cadet Cornelius flew without an instructor pilot for 10 minutes in a Piper Colt.

Concerning his "flying feat," Cadet Cornelius said there was less pressure than one might imagine. Even though he was on his own up there, he did not have the pressure of the instructor pilot watching his every move. "In a way, it was a relief to solo," he said.

Cadet Cornelius entered AFROTC in the fall of 1961. He selected AFROTC because of his interest in flying and his desire to enter the service as an officer.

He is presently a C/Lt. Col. and commander of the 801st Group. He plans to make a career of the Air Force or to become a commercial pilot.

Cadet Cornelius played four years of football for Texas Tech. In 1963, he was awarded the Del Morgan Courage Award for the outstanding courage which he displayed on the gridiron. He likes all other sports and plays basketball in the intramural leagues. He is currently president of the Double T Association.

Civil Service Offers Jobs

The Social Security Administration offers career opportunities for college graduates.

The usual starting position is Social Insurance Representative with beginning yearly salary $5,181. After two years, the salary is raised to $7,479.

A Civil Service representative will be recruiting Monday at the Texas Tech Placement Office.

Senior students interested in employment with the Social Security Administration should contact Clyde W. James on any date at the Social Security Administration District Office at 34th and Ave. H.

MUN Sign-Ups Now Available

Extra applications for delegations to the Tech Model United Nations scheduled for March 3, 4 and 5 may be obtained in the Tech Union program office between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. every day until Nov. 15.

All applications must include a full delegation and the registration fee. This is a correction of an announcement made earlier that the steering committee would help place individuals in delegations.

Three Against Time...

AFTER MANY LONG months, Gov. John Connally finally named the three new members of Texas Tech's Board of Directors Monday.

The three are Retha R. Martin, chairman of the board of Dunlap Co., Lubbock; C. A. Cash, president of the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp., Amarillo; and Dr. Fladger F. Tannery, executive vice president of Pepsi Co., Inc., Dallas.

They are replacing Manuel DeBusk, Charles Mathews and Wilmer Smith, whose terms expired almost a year ago.

We feel that these new Board members have a fine record of management and progress with some of the largest concerns in the state to their credit. They all have met with success in the business and civic world—the type of background Gov. Connally said he wanted in the men who head the state's many educational institutions.

And, these men are coming to Texas Tech at a time when men well-versed in management and progress are needed.

However, we only wish that the governor could have made his decisions almost a year ago, because these men are going to have a lot of catching up to do before they get the feel of modern-day Texas Tech.

The Board has made many important decisions during the past year, including groundwork for the physical expansion of the campus and research on many integral problems.

And, these men will have to be introduced to these problems and educated as to the possible solutions. But even with the time element as a critical factor, we feel these three men will be valuable additions to the Board.

Pope's Statement Disturbs Mabrito

Dear Editor,

At the overriding risk of being branded a non-conformist, I hesitantly toss into the circle of campus conversation a matter of at least slight precedence over that of "the parking problem." (With regard to that unfortunate situation, I regret I do not possess the enlightened answer; I only pose the obvious question: who is seeking an education, that fire-breathing, 396 Chevy poised in the lot outside or the student burdened with books sitting in the next chair? Perhaps then: campus for students, off-campus lots for vehicles!)

Pope Paul VI's address to the United Nations General Assembly, Oct. 5, 1965, included the following: "You must strive to multiply bread so that it suffices for the table of mankind, and not rather favor an artificial control of birth, which would be irrational, in order to diminish the number of guests at the banquet of life."

We Neo-Malthusians had desperately hoped that the great church leader would take this opportunity to announce to the world body a major alteration in Roman Catholic doctrine.

The altruistic leader of the world's most powerful church speaks, and those of us concerned with the future of this still green planet listen closely. Response to Paul's statements varied greatly.

Surely, the political leaders of such countries as Pakistan and India drew back in awed horror, for they know first hand the problem of over-population (and the severe maladjustment resulting from "death control" coupled with a corresponding lack of "birth control.")

Need we bring to the attention of the world forum the drastic actions taken by Japan to reduce the "food gap" between arable land and population?

Will such measures become necessary on a world-wide scale within a relative short span of time? Unless the present generation of world leaders can shun the provincial doctrines of the past, our generation will be confronted with the unpleasant task of restricting family size with governmental "edicts." What has all our questing for freedom accomplished if this is the result? "Death control" without "birth control" is as unthinkable as "freedom without responsibility."

Kalb Recommends Close Crosswalks

Dear Editor,

In regards to the traffic problem might I recommend the following possible solution.

Paint wide crosswalks for the students about every half block. Guard these with stop signs which require cars to stop whether or not a student is in them. Through the use of jay-walking tickets (50-cent or $1 fine) force students to use the crosswalks.

The key to success of this plan is to have the crosswalks close enough together so that: No. 1, the students have no real reason not to use them, No. 2, cross-campus traffic will find movement so slow that only those cars that have business on campus will come on.

This plan would be inexpensive to build and maintain and after an initial period (to discourage jay-walking) would require no additional police to enforce.

Sarvis Prefers Longer Vacation

Dear Editor,

I would like to know if it is possible to extend the Thanksgiving Vacation by three days. I am sure everyone deserves it. That way we can be home by Thanksgiving and not be traveling home then.

The faculty and people who set these vacations live here in Lubbock but many of us live quite far away. I'm sure even some of these people would like to be with relatives on Thanksgiving.

Since we play Arkansas the Saturday before vacation why not dismiss class then so people can see the game and then go home? Sunday we don't have a class, and Monday and Tuesday there will still be celebrating if we beat Arkansas at their Homecoming. Wednesday, people will skip a class or two to go home so they can be there by Thanksgiving.

I am writing to see what other people think of this idea. I am sure the paper will print both sides, if there are two sides to this argument. This way we will have Thanksgiving at home and an extra day or two vacation. Remember some people have to travel a long distance, during Thanksgiving, just to have a day or two at home.

This is to the people who will make the decision, "Please give us these three days; they can't mean that much to the year, as being at home on Thanksgiving."

Thank you,
 Larry Sarvis

Gilliland Suggests Stadium Expansion

Dear Editor,

In view of the recent success of the Tech football team, further expansion of Tech's Jones Stadium is, more than likely, in the not too distant future.

It is well known to those who have seen all of the stadiums in the Southwest Conference that Tech's ranks as one of the most beautiful and best kept stadiums. Furthermore Tech's two trademarks—the "Double-T" and the "Red Raider"—are among the most unique and outstanding in the United States.

I don't think that anyone who has seen a Tech football game has failed to receive a special thrill from watching the "Red Raider" ride up on the grass slope next to the "Double-T."

Therefore the purpose of this letter is simple and to the point—to ask that any expansion of Jones Stadium be done on the second level above the grass slope.

Thank you very much for considering my opinion. I think that the majority of the students and Tech fans feel that everything should be done to preserve and improve the beauty and uniqueness of Jones Stadium.

Sincerely yours,
 Jim Gilliland

Collections Of Debts Change Through Time

New York (NAPS—You'd be unusual if you didn't have a few small debts hanging over your head—but in 1962 the United States Government's debt reached a record level of $300,000,000,000, an amount equal to $1,604 per citizen! In dollar bills it would make a pile 17,320 miles high, weighing 315,000 tons!

Some economists look on our national debt as a bad thing, while others believe that it will be relatively harmless so long as the country's productivity increases at the same time. Alexander Hamilton, in a letter dated April 30, 1781, said, "A national debt, if it is not excessive will be to us a national blessing."

Similarly, there has been some controversy over personal loans. Critics of the installment plan often tend to overlook mismanagement on the part of the borrower.

According to the National Consumer Finance Association, the best way to protect the user of consumer credit lies in consumer education. Credit can be beneficial or dangerous, depending on how wisely it's handled—and it should be treated with as much respect as cold cash.

However, if you think you have difficulties managing your monthly payments, consider the plight of the Greek mythological hero Atlas who paid off his debt to Zeus by holding the world on his shoulders forever.

Among the "heavy" debts of history were those paid off by the Swedes of the 17th century. The Swedish copper 10-daler coins of 1659 weighed just under 30 pounds, and were the heaviest coins ever minted!

The people of Hungary also owed plenty in 1946—when one 1931 gold Pengo was valued at 130 quintillion paper Pengos. But in 147 the currency of the country was stabilized by the introduction of a new unit—the forint.

The worst fairly recent inflation is that of Bolivia. In relation to the U.S. dollar, the Boliviano depreciated 198 times between 1952 and 1962.

Long strikes can prove very costly to the people involved. For example, the walk-out at the Kohler Company in Sheboygan, Wisconsin which lasted 8-1/2 years (April, 1954 to October, 1962), left the United Auto Workers with a $12,000,000 debt.

Imagine the interest rate on that tidy sum. Today, although finance companies charge interest, strict state regulations keep it from becoming prohibitive. Members of the National Consumer Finance Association, which represents small loan offices, offer free financial consultation. They will tell you just how much credit your family can carry safely.

No more than 50 per cent of your unpledged discretionary income—that part of your salary which you are free to spend as you wish—should go into monthly payments for new credit purchases, according to the rule of thumb suggested by NCFCA experts.

It all goes to show that debt and money management have come a long way since the days of 30-pound coins and wheelbarrows full of Hungarian Pengos.

Picasso Film Slated Today

The color film "Picasso" will conclude the film series presented by the Tech Union Fine Arts Committee in conjunction with the Fine Arts Kaleidoscope.

The film slated for 7:30 today in the Union Coronado Room will include an introduction by Hugh Gibbons, instructor of architecture and allied arts.

The New York Herald Tribune said of this film, "Clear, intelligent, forthright." "Fascinating, beautiful autobiography. A distinguished art film," said Cue Magazine.

"A masterpiece of film reporting. Amazingly informative and provocative. Flamenco musical background added to impact. The vitality and power of Picasso's inventive genius dramatically filmed," is the opinion of the Educational Film Library Association.

This film pictures Picasso's work, technique and his manner of living. Through the use of 477 of his works, Picasso's career is traced from 1896 to the present day.

There is no admission charge.

Coeds Attribute Injuries To Most Unlikely Causes

By VICKY PENNINGTON
Staff Writer

Dormitories and sidewalks are dangerous places, say Tech coeds. More girls are walking around campus on crutches and wearing bandages than the entire football team.

The sources of these minor accidents are many and varied—in fact, almost unbelievable. Susan Evans, a freshman from Houston, is suffering from a broken foot. When jumping rope in her body conditioning class, she fell on it and will be on crutches for a week.

Susan will have her foot bandaged for six weeks and is wearing tennis shoes two sizes too large to class. Irma Morrison, a Lorenzo junior, is coping with her wound in a different way.

Ran Into Coke Bottle

In a mad rush, she ran into her room and stumped her little toe on a coke bottle in a pile around her wastepaper basket. Under closer examination, Irma discovered that her toe was sticking out at an extreme right angle.

The doctor asked her if she had been kicking field goals for the Raiders when he looked at her X-rays. So Irma has been limping to class with her right foot wrapped in a sock. "I don't think that toe will ever heal," she says.

A freshman from Dallas, Jeannie Rose, will also be on crutches for a few days. When walking down the hall, not looking where she was going, she ran into another girl.

Jeannie hit her knee on the floor and sprained her leg. Thus, her long trek across campus from Wall Hall will be a slow one for a few days.

Carol Czerweic, a junior from Wolfforth, knocked her knee out of place on her bed. She stumbled into its sharp corner and is now wearing a bandage for support.

"What I mind most," Carol says, "is that my injury interferes with playing soccer. Also, bandages aren't the most attractive things to wear."

Knee Collapsed

Suffering from a knee injury too is Karen Hoffman, a Phoenix, Arizona, junior. "I was standing in the Tech Union one day," she said, "when my knee just seemed to fall out from under me."

Karen collapsed on the floor and could barely limp back to her dormitory. The doctor drained fluid from her knee, a very painful process, and gave her weights to exercise her leg muscles.

Certain styles of shoes are causing heel deformation among many coeds. Some girls buy their loafers too small because they stretch so much and they end up with large "bumps" on their heels by the time their shoes are broken in.

One girl had an operation this summer to remove her "bumps" and now has scars plus a slight limp. "It really isn't worth the pain to have them removed," she says. "I just wish I had bought the correct type of shoes."

Claudia Lewis, a freshman from Galveston, slipped when running out of the Tech Union and broke her ankle. She was in the hospital for a week and will be on crutches ten to twelve more weeks.

Advises 'Take Your Time'

Claudia's advice is "take your time girls, because you will lose more by trying to hurry."

A freshman from Richardson, Gretchen Strong, broke her foot when running out to her car. She hit the curb and will also be limping for awhile.

An unusual injury resulting in another broken toe occurred when one girl was kicking her roommate and ended up with a fractured toe.

So coeds had better heed these warnings. Watch out for coke bottles, slippery sidewalks, hard curbs, and girls walking down the hall.

And, by all means, don't kick your roommate.

WELL-SHOD Tech coeds are sporting the new look in footwear, but not by choice. A rash of accidents, ranging from collisions with coke bottles to routs with roommates, is contributing to the new fashion trend.

IFC Works On Rush, 1965 Plans

Men interested in being rushed by Tech's fraternities should sign a card available in the fraternity adviser's office, Ad 168.

The cards will comprise a list being sent to each fraternity and will indicate the interest of those wanting to be rushed. The list is a project of the Interfraternity Council.

The main activity of IFC this year is on-campus lodges.

Twenty-five acres have been allocated to sororities and fraternities on campus.

The housing corporation of fraternity alumni members, who own the land, must approve a tentative plotting of the land before it is submitted to the city. The management department is plotting the land.

Famed Bowler Tied To Gambling Offense

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted three men Tuesday for allegedly operating an illegal nationwide telephone gambling service. A famed bowler, who reportedly testified for the government in the case, was named as a co-conspirator but not as a defendant.

The jury named Clem E. Sheldon of Arcadia, Calif., his brother Melvin of Port Washington, N.Y., and John A. Belcher, also of Arcadia, in its true bill, with Edward P. Ned Day named as co-conspirator.

55-year-old Day is former world match bowling champion and has held many other records and titles. The indictment said that the basement of Day's bowling and billiard supply firm in downtown Milwaukee was the local headquarters for the gambling operation called Nationwide Service.

The defendants, the indictment said, used coded messages to provide betters with tips on horse races at tracks throughout the country. The service operated at least until June 15, the government contended.

THREE KILLINGS IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines today had the closest thing to a peaceful election since it became independent in 1946. Police said three killings were reported, bringing to 44 the number of deaths from political violence in the year-long campaign.

In the 1963 congressional campaign 89 were killed.

Governor's Aide Denies Report Of $1 Million Coaching Offer

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Reports of a secret drive by Louisiana State University alumni to fire football Coach Charlie McClendon were squashed Tuesday by persons in position to know.

The reports, circulated here following back-to-back defeats by LSU's team, asserted McClendon would be fired and either Darrell Royal of Texas or former professional quarterback Y. A. Tittle hired to succeed him.

A New Orleans sportscaster, Hap Glaudi reported Gov. John McKeithen offered Royal a contract to coach at LSU for 10 years and $1 million.

An aide to McKeithen, who currently is on a trade mission in Argentina, said the governor "is completely unaware of this report."

"Gov. McKeithen has not consulted with either Y. A. Tittle or Darrell Royal, directly or indirectly, about this and he knows nothing about it," added the aide, Gus Weill.

Tittle, from his home in Palo Alto, Calif., said he knew nothing of the reports.

"McClendon has done a fine job at LSU," said Tittle. "I don't see how anyone could conceivably consider dismissing him."

LSU officials said they "won't dignify" the reports by commenting.

McClendon is in the first year of a five-year contract at an annual salary of $21,500. He became head coach in 1962 when Paul Dietzel went to Army.

Dissident LSU fans have been howling about the Tigers' three losses so far this fall—to Florida early in the season and to Mississippi and Alabama the past two weekends.

LSU plays host to Mississippi State next Saturday night.

Michigan State Heads AP Top Ten

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sport Writer

After five years the pendulum of college football power seems to have swung back to the Middle West.

The latest national standings, based on a weekly poll by The Associated Press, showed three mid-west teams Tuesday among the top four, with Michigan State No. 1 for the third consecutive week.

Behind Michigan State comes Arkansas and then follows Nebraska and Notre Dame.

Michigan State and Notre Dame clash at South Bend Nov. 20 in a game that many observers believe will decide the national championship. The top-ranked Spartans are unbeaten and untied in eight games and the Fighting Irish have built up momentum since their lone early season loss to Purdue.

The South and Southwest, which more or less dominated the poll in recent years, haven't shown the same over-all strength during the current campaign.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, with 20 straight victories, continue a powerful factor in the national race, but Alabama, in fifth place, has lost one game and tied one; Tennessee, No. 8, has tied two and Kentucky, in 10th, has lost two.

The last Middle West team to win the national crown was Minnesota in 1960.

Michigan State, which made Iowa its eighth straight victim 35-0, drew 32 of the 51 first-place votes from a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters for 482 points. Ten points are given for a first-place vote, nine for second and on down the line.

Arkansas got 14 No. 1 votes and 459 points, Nebraska, four first-place votes and Notre Dame, one.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points:

|-------------------|-------|-----|
| 2. Arkansas 14    | 8-0   | 459 |
| 3. Nebraska 4     | 8-0   | 406 |
| 4. Notre Dame 1   | 6-1   | 381 |
| 5. Alabama        | 6-1-1 | 288 |
| 6. So. California | 5-1-1 | 240 |
| 7. UCLA           | 5-1-1 | 170 |
| 8. Tennessee      | 4-0-2 | 96  |
| 9. Missouri       | 5-2-1 | 94  |
| 10. Kentucky      | 6-2   | 73  |

Miami Captain Wins Award

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

The equipment manager for Miami's football team has just one jersey with number 80 on the back and it belongs to senior linebacker Ed Weisacosky.

The way the 212-pound Hurricane captain played against Boston College last Friday, Miami Coach Charlie Tate figured the Eagles must have thought there was more than one.

"They must have thought we had a dozen guys out there wearing number 80," Tate smiled after Weisacosky had sparked Miami to a 27-6 victory over BC.

The husky senior's outstanding defensive play earned him Associated Press Lineman of the Week honors this week.

Weisacosky intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble that set up one Miami touchdown. He also threw the key block that sprung Andy Sixkiller for a 50-yard punt return and another Hurricane TD.
