

Greek Night To Climax Freedom Drive

Hungarian relief moves into its final two days of the 7 day drive today approximately $9,476 short of the goal.

An all-out campaign in dormitories tonight and the Greek night tomorrow night will highlight the final two days of the drive.

Tonight, contributions will be taken up in the different dormitories. One dorm, Sneed, has planned a campus wide variety show in the dorm dining room to benefit the drive. Dancing, skits and pantomines will highlight the show. Over 150 sorority pledges have promised to attend.

The show, to be held at the "Blue Boar Inn," will be on a night club theme as "Wetback" Womack and his Juarez Five will play for dancing. A different floor show will be presented every 15 minutes. The band includes George Nelson, Walter Schuler and Roy Boyd.

David Pool and Pat Cassidy will also be on the program. Highlighting the evening will be the appearance of a torch dancer whose identity will remain unknown until her part in the floor show.

A trophy will be presented to the sorority pledge class with the highest percentage of membership present at the night club.

Bill Waddle will act as master of ceremonies during the floor shows.

The occasion is sport dress and admittance to the show is 50c per person.

Tomorrow night, everything from a jam session to the auctioning off of Tech beauties and football players for dates will highlight the Greek night in order to raise funds for the drive to help Hungarian students and other refugees.

Co-sponsored by both Pan-hellenic Association and the Inter-Fraternity Council, the affair, which is open to all students, will be staged in the Student Union Building from 8:30 until 10:30 p.m.

A total of 8 acts including four bands will provide entertainment for the jam session and a dime-a-dance will also be staged in the downstairs area of the Union.

Gene Steel, in charge of attendance, reminds members of each sorority or fraternity to sign at the door, as a plaque will be presented to the group with the largest attendance.

Last night during the half time of the Tech-University of Tulsa basketball game the Tech Vets explained the drive and the club's unorganized drill team presented a demonstration of the close order drill.

Following the game girls from the different sororities took up donations at the doors of the coliseum. Tech students and other fans at the game contributed $368.60 to give the drive a big boost.

The Saddle Tramps mailed letters to most of the members of the staff and faculty asking them to join in the drive. The Tramps have announced that they were unable to get a list of some of the (See FREEDOM DRIVE, Page 2)

SHAKESPEARE STANDOUTS — Heading an impressive cast at the first performance of the speech department's "Merchant of Venice" production last night were Bennie Wygal, right, and Marlys Harris, left, who portrayed the parts of Bassanio and Portia. In the background is Lon Amason, who was cast in the part of Gratiano. The play is expected to be held over two days in Speech Auditorium after its regular six night run, according to director Ronald Schulz.

Oris Robertson, portraying Shylock, and comical Roland Myers, as Lancelot Gobbo, highlighted an impressive cast last night as the speech department production of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" began a six-night run.

Dale Karpe as Antonio and Bennie Wygal as Bassanio were favorites of the capacity first night audience.

Marlys Harris' complete command of the part of Portia, put her audience at ease throughout the play.

Also outstanding were Barbara Van Horn as Jessica, Allen McCree as the Prince of Aragon, Patsy Mullens who played the part of Nerissa, and Lon Amason as Gratiano.

Kathryn Jeffus is to be commended on her superior job of costuming this Elizabethan cast, as is Judy Hyatt for her work on designing and creating the hats.

Scenery for the play was handled by Dale Karpe and his crew.

Others in the cast were Thomas Mosley as Salario, Louis Young as Salario, O. C. Renfro as Lorenzo, Keith Elliott as Balhazar, Cecil Trahor as the Prince of Morocco, Arthur Evans as Old Gobbo, Darrell Fletcher as Tubal, Bill Boyd as a Gaoler, and Arthur Evans as the Duke of Venice.

Also included were Kathryn Jeffus, Rebecca Pierce, Judy Hyatt, Lynnita Jacobs, Kay Frazier, Robert Lapham, Jackie Lawrence, Jerry Adams, and Tommy Pelt.

Ronald Schulz ably directed the play assisted by Pat McDaniel and Jane Shawver, Dale Karpe is stage manager, Marsha Reilly is in charge of properties and Mickie Paterson is in charge of lighting.

Publicity for the play was directed by Gordon Stalcup, Cecil Trahor was in charge of make-up, and sound effects were under the direction of Tommy Pelt.

The box office was attended by Nancy Henson and Benni Dunn served as house manager.

The play continues nightly through Saturday in the Speech Auditorium. Tickets are $1.25 for the public, 75c for students and faculty, or activity book tickets. All seats are reserved and activity books must be presented at the Speech Building for reservations.

At least a two-night holdover is anticipated by Schulz.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Upperclassmen Begin Spring Registration

Pre-registration for more than 3,000 Tech upperclassmen begins tomorrow with individual conferences with departmental heads and advisers, according to W. P. Clement, registrar.

The Council of Deans has provided that juniors and seniors enrolled for the fall semester 1956-57 will have the privilege of such early conferences in order to plan schedules for the spring semester registration. This will guarantee an early hour for completing final registration on Jan. 31 for enrolling upperclassmen.

Only students currently enrolled who had credit for 45 or more semester hours at the beginning of the fall semester of 1956 will be eligible for the early pre-registration.

In order to distribute the load, students should report on the day assigned for their alphabetical group in accordance with the following table:

Those whose last names begin with:

I, W, R, S, meet Wednesday, Dec. 12;

H, E, K, N, O, T meet Thursday, Dec. 13;

C, D, G, P meet Friday, Dec. 14;

M, L, U, X, Y, Z meet Saturday a.m., Dec. 15;

A, B, F, J, Q, V meet Monday, Dec. 18;

Engineers should meet in the foyer of the East Engineering Building. All others will assemble in the hallways in front of the Registrar's Office in the Administration Building.

Students will be furnished a trial schedule, an application for registration and a housing card. They should then report to major professors or departmental advisors to plan their courses and fill out a partial schedule by writing in the day and hour for each class but not the section or room number.

After filling out and turning in the necessary forms, the student will receive a registration packet stamped with an early hour for registration on Jan. 31, which will be the first day of spring enrollment.

On registration day, at the hour indicated on the packet, the student will report to his building where the schedule will be returned to him and will receive further enrollment instructions.

More detailed instructions for filling out forms will be given at pre-registration.

Union Photography Exhibit Continues

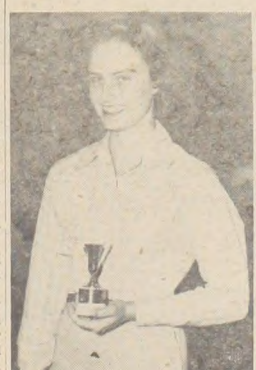

Over 110 photographs representing some of the finest examples of contemporary photography will continue to be exhibited in the Union lobby this week.

The photographs, which include the work of leading professionals and amateurs from all over the world, are selected from prize-winning entries in Popular Photograph's annual $25,000 International Picture contest.

A wide variety of subject matter, ranging from dramatic and human interest types to serene landscapes, highlight the exhibit.

Of particular interest to photographers is the technical data on each picture, describing the type of equipment and camera settings used in taking the pictures.

Julia Reed Named Little International Milk Maid

MILK MAID — Julia Reed, junior from Meridian, received a milk pail and trophy after taking first place in the Little International Milk Maid contest Saturday.

Julia Reed and Myron Hillman received honors Saturday, as they topped their field in two major contests at the 1956 Little International Livestock Exposition held at Tech.

Julia Reed, junior from Meridian, won the Little International Milk contest as she defeated 14 other contestants while milking five pounds from a cow in three minutes. This contest was held in conjunction with the Little International show. Hillman, junior from Mullin, received grand champion honors for his showing of the top lightweight lamb.

A tie in the greased-pig contest race resulted when Richard Ridgway, senior from Brownfield and Nolie Elliston, senior from Hereford, ended up with the pig after 10 minutes of wrestling with about 22 other Tech students. The winners of the pig contest represented Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We do not feel that the hanging of an effigy on our campus last Monday night was merely the result of someone trying to keep step with other colleges in the Conference. Rather, we feel that definite and undeniable reasons exist to prompt such action.

We think we had the material, financial support, and physical plant necessary for a good football team. Our team flopped. Let's face it, there must be other reasons.

In short, we don't want unsupported alibis. We want a football coach that will give credit where credit is due and that will accept the blame where blame is present.

Sincerely,

B. Randolph Swindle, Elmore B. Scott Jr., Dean Alexander, Owen M. Akers, Harold Elledge, J. M. Doherty, Kelly Sears, Vernon Brewer Jr., Jerry Craft, Pat Groves, Oel Castner, Enoch Dawkins, Al Waldrop, Clark Hampton, Bill Lapham, Robert A. St. Clair, Bob Gray, David Shoemaker, Glen Himmelberg, Jim Brown, Tommy Shipman, Gary Southern, Bill Dick, Ralph Elledge, Frank Prachaska, Bill Boverie, S. P. Tomlinson, G. S. Windham, Derwood Jones, Fred Cross, Billy Morris

Every college student body wants a winning football team. And when the team turns in a bad win-lost record for a season, there is always a standing percentage of students ready to yell "hang the coach" at maximum lung power.

Tech's football accomplishments under Coach Weaver are a matter of record, including four Border Conference championships in five tries, Southwest Conference membership, and national respect for every team we've had since 1951.

If Tech can't continue to cheer Weaver even in the face of a losing season, then coach replacement isn't our problem—we need a new cheering section.

—Ross Short

Field Trip To Oklahoma Is First Tour For Horticulture Department

Tech's horticulture department, including students of park management, floriculture and horticulture, participated in the first official inspection tour of the year last weekend.

Leaving early Friday morning 23 students accompanied by R. H. Rucker, associate professor of park management, and E. M. Zukauckas, assistant professor of horticulture and park management, visited three Oklahoma cities: Guthrie, Norman and Oklahoma City.

While in Guthrie, the students visited several greenhouses, and saw 60,000 poinsettias readied for Christmas. The girls each received an orchid corsage.

Proceeding to Norman, the trippers visited a snow-and-sleet covered University of Oklahoma campus where they viewed the research and instructional greenhouses of the horticulture department.

Interested also in design, the party toured two contemporary homes in Oklahoma City and inspected the municipal parks and golf course.

The group returned late Sunday afternoon.

Word was received at Tech Saturday that a similar drive at the University of Texas' goal of $10,000 had been reached. The University's drive also included Austin citizens.

The drive will close tomorrow with the AWS sponsored penny-a-minute activity. Coeds will be allowed to remain out of the dorm an hour longer, provided that they pay a penny for each minute that they stay out.

Different Approach To Gym Announced

The Women's Physical Education department requests that all students cooperate with them in helping to relieve the danger caused by students crossing the archery field while a class is in progress.

Since construction on the new men's gym began, many students have been using the archery field as a way to get to the gym or other classes. If a class is in progress, a serious accident might occur because many times it is impossible to stop the action of shooting.

Staff members of this department ask that this field not be used as a passage during these class periods. Archery classes are held at the following times: 8 o'clock MWF, 10 o'clock TT, 3 o'clock MW, and 2 o'clock TT.

H. E., Aggie Clubs Plan Spanish Party

Breaking the pinata, singing Christmas carols, and dancing will furnish the evening's entertainment at the annual Home Economics-Aggie Clubs Christmas party to be held tonight at 6:30 in the aggie engineering shed. The pinata will carry out the Spanish Christmas theme.

Tickets are 25 cents each and are on sale in the lobby of the Home Economics and Agriculture Buildings. Guests are asked to bring food to carry to a needy family for Christmas.

ROTC LEADS PARADE

Tech's ROTC band will lead the 1956 Lubbock Christmas parade Saturday.

The Christmas parade will contain only one band this year as an experiment to determine if a Christmas parade with a religious theme is more effective with one band.

ACID PETROFRAC

powerful one-two punch for "reluctant" formations

ACID PETROFRAC® combines the benefits of acidizing and fracturing. In some formations it has given better results than either fracturing or acidizing.

Since Acid Petrofrac uses an acid-oil emulsion as a fracturing fluid, many of the addition agents developed for regular acid may be used. For example, agents for intensifying, silicate control, or emulsion control may be used to tailor the treatment to the requirements of your well. Retarded acid action is inherent in Acid Petrofrac.

The emulsion reverts to a water-thin fluid after the treatment and returns easily to the well bore.

Discuss Acid Petrofrac with your Dowell engineer. It may be just the treatment your well needs to make it produce as it should. If it is not, you can depend on your Dowell engineer to recommend a service to give you the best results.

Raiders Squeeze Tulsa 66-62

Texas Tech overcame a nine-point lead with a late drive in the second half and sneaked by the Tulsa Hurricanes 66-62 before 4,000 thrilled fans last night in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

The game was actually won at the free throw line with Tech hitting 22 free tosses to the visitor's six.

Guard Gerald Myers once again led the way for the Raiders with 19 points, 11 coming from the charity line. Myers led the second half comeback, contributing 14 of his points during that period and off-setting the terrific work of Tulsa guard Junior Born, who racked up 20 points for the night.

Myers was aided by "Podd" Hill's 12 points and Ned Underwood's 11. Jack Pontius assisted Born with 17 for the Hurricanes. The Raiders, who held the lead only briefly in the first half, fell nine points behind at 14:43 of the second half, but kept creeping back on fielders by Hill, Myers, Underwood and Charlie Lynch to finally tie the game 56-56 on two free throws by Meyers at 6:47 of the period.

Again Tulsa took the lead but again Myers tied it up at 3:10 with two more free throws after stealing the ball and being fouled on his drive. Then Underwood grabbed off a misfire by the Hurricanes and drove the length of the court for a lay-up that gave Tech a lead they never lost, 62-60 at 2:47.

Seconds later the Raiders went into a one minute stall with Myers dribbling around, under and over the 'Canes. Finally he was fouled and added two more at 1:29 for a 64-60 lead.

Tulsa guard Roger Wendel hit a fielder at 1:03, but Techsan Lynch matched it with two more foul tosses at :26 and the game ended in a Tech stall 66-62.

The first half was fairly mild in comparison with the wild second part. Tulsa jumped into a quick lead with Born scoring 11 of Tulsa's first 15 points. Then the Raiders came back with Hill leading the way, only to lose the lead at halftime 38-36.

It was the first win of the year for Coach Polk Robison's crew against two losses. For the Hurricane of Coach Clarence Iba it was their fourth straight loss against no wins. Iba left no stones unturned showing his displeasure at the officiating.

Tech Becomes Voting Member In SWC

Texas Tech became a voting member of the Southwest Conference Saturday at the conference's winter meeting in Dallas.

"I was delighted over the whole thing," declared Dr. J. William Davis, faculty chairman of athletics, on his return from Dallas. Dr. Davis attended the meetings Friday and Saturday with Athletic Director DeWitt Weaver and Jimmie Wilson, business manager of athletics.

In a formal statement the conference declared that, "As of the date (Dec. 8) of this meeting Texas Tech becomes a full voting member of the conference." "This is more than we even hoped for," continued Dr. Davis. "It just shows the sincerity of the conference to clear the way for Tech's final admittance."

It was also decided that Tech will start competing in athletics in the 1957-58 school year, except in football and baseball. Competition in football can't begin until 1960 because of scheduling difficulties. Baseball competition will not be considered until various problems, including weather at Lubbock in the training season, travel, etc., can be worked out.

The Tech freshman track team can begin participation in the freshman division of the conference this spring. Track coach Delmer Brown is reported to have one of the strongest freshman track teams ever assembled here.

All students who enrolled in Tech last September come under SWC regulations. All students registering before that time came under Border Conference regulations.

In the Border Conference a boy can compete on the varsity for four years while the Southwest limits varsity competition to three. The conference had already ruled out that Tech's golf and tennis players can compete four years.

This action relieves a lot of worry over the possibility of loss of eligibility by players who participated in the Border Conference as freshmen.

This year the golf and tennis teams will compete as independents and all members will be allowed eligibility when actual SWC competition begins in 1958. This also applies to the swimming and track teams.

The conference also voted not to carry on a fencing program. However, the Tech fencing team will continue to compete in inter-collegiate events.

Tech will come under the conference letter of intent provisions on January, 1957 and will have representation on the Cotton Bowl board in March, 1960.

When Tech becomes a full-fledged member of the conference in the fall of 1960 with the start of competition for the football championship it will then share in conference monies to the extent of one-eighth. Until then it will pay its share of expenses in the interim and on April 1, 1960, will pay to the conference an amount equal to one-seventh of its assets.

Tech will retain all TV and bowl receipts coming to it between now and 1960. The capacity of Jones Stadium will also be enlarged. meet the average capacity of others in the conference by 1960.

Tech representatives also voted on a motion to invite Houston into the conference. The motion was defeated.
