Raiders, Razorbacks Vie For Cotton Bowl

By MIKE LUTZ
Sports Editor

FAYETTEVILLE — "High Noon", Southwest Conference version, comes one and half hours late here this afternoon when the "bowling" Red Raiders make a bid for Cotton against the powerful Arkansas Razorbacks at 1:30.

Success of the entire season is wrapped into what happens here today, with the winner taking at least a share of the conference championship and earning the host berth in the Cotton Bowl, January 1.

The Razorbacks, who'll play before a largely partisan homecoming crowd, enter the final regular season tilt with a 9-0 record and a chance to repeat at national champs.

Seek Second Title

A victory for Arkansas would also mean its second straight conference championship, its 22nd consecutive victory and a return trip to the Cotton Bowl Classic. The Porkers were awarded the national championship last January after defeating Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl.

Nor are the streaking Raiders without motivation.

Tech, with an 8-1 record and seven straight victories, is on the brink of its most successful football campaign ever and would gain a tie for the championship by defeating the Hogs.

Most Successful Team

Not since 1953, when the Raiders capped a 9-1 season with a victory over Auburn in the Gator Bowl, has the Double-T bunch been so successful in grid wars.

The showdown affair, which will be televised regionally at 1 p.m. will pit nationally ranked teams.

Tech is ranked No. 9 in both the Associated Press and United Press International listings, while the Porkers are rated No. 2 by both polls.

Arkansas rates a two touch-down favorite by most prognosticators, but there's a grain of doubt scattered throughout the southwest that the Hogs will be able to repel the title hungry Raiders.

The Raiders got up from the turf to mow down seven straight foes after a disastrous, 33-7 duking by Texas in the second game of the season.

Tech Much Improved

It's generally conceded that the Raiders have improved by leaps and bounds since the loss, and

December Folk - Jazz Concert To Star Serendipity Singers

After winding its way throughout the country to numerous college campuses, and traveling from Daytona Beach in Florida to Carnegie Hall in New York, the FORD Caravan of Music will bring its folk-jazz concert to Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 7 p.m. Dec. 1.

The concert stars The Serendipity Singers and features jazz pianist Earl "Fatha" Hines, winner of the 1965 Down Beat Magazine Hall of Fame Award and the comedy team of Tony Hendra and Nic Ullett.

The variety of talents composing the Serendipity Singers includes a business administration student, a prospective ancient historian, a would-be psychologist, two University of Texas graduates and several music majors.

The Singers compose about 90 per cent of their musical material which is in a folk-jazz vein. They have recorded three albums and have had two single hits—"Don't Let The Rain Come Down" and "Beans In Your Ears."

The Serendipity Singers, after a successful tour of Australia, have appeared on a number of top television shows including Shindig, Ed Sullivan, Jack Paar and many others. They appeared in October on the Dean Martin Show and in November on Hullabaloo.

The musical career of Earl Hines spans five decades. As bandleader, singer, pianist and showman, he has made a revolutionary impact on jazz history with astonishing piano solos that provide inspiration for jazz pianists of that time and the present.

For nearly 20 years Hines led his own band, and in 1948 he teamed up with Louis Armstrong to form an All-Star group.

Hines has performed in the United States and Europe. This year he will appear at both the Berlin and Down Beat Jazz festivals and plans an extended tour of Europe in early 1966.

Tickets are on sale in the Tech Union program office priced at $1.25 for students, $2 for faculty and $3 for general public.

Pep Rally Staged At Airport

More than 2,000 enthusiastic fans gathered at the Lubbock Municipal Airport to see the bowl bound Red Raiders leave for Fort Smith, Ark. in their quest for the SWC championship, yesterday.

It was the second large rally staged for the ninth ranked Raiders in two days. Almost 7,000 well wishers were at the gigantic pep rally in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum Thursday night, and then again spurred on by calls of "Eat More Pork" and "Beat Arkansas" at the airport.

In a last gesture of spirit from Texas Tech, the crowd and team heard Max Tidmore, mayor of Lubbock; R. C. Goodwin, president of Texas Tech; George McCleskey, president of the Chamber of Commerce in Lubbock; and Coach J T King.

The highlight of the rally came when Disc Jockey Lew Dee read the names of celebrities that had sent telegrams urging the Raiders to "Beat Arkansas."

Some of the telegrams were sent by: Gov. John Connally, U.S. Senators Ralph Yarborough and John Tower, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, U.S. Rep. George Mahon, and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Others who sent their well wishes were: David Parks, E. J. Holub, Debbie Reynolds, Dan "Hoss" Blocker, and Jayne Mansfield.

Coach King ended the rally on a suitable note when he said, "As far as I can see there is only one telegram missing, and we hope to have that one by Sunday morning. That is a telegram from Gov. Faubus."

Student Association To Present Wright

Rep. Jim Wright, tagged by newsmen as "one of the few congressmen who has an open mind on almost any question," will be at Tech Tuesday to discuss "What's Going on in Congress."

His talk, sponsored by the Student Association, will begin at 4:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

At 42, Wright has achieved 17 years of experience in local, state and federal government. In December, 1966, he will complete his 12th continuous year of service in Congress, after five re-elections to that seat.

His Congressional career began in 1954 when he was elected to represent the 12th District of Texas. (Fort Worth)

President Johnson has publicly described Wright as "one of the greatest Congressmen in the United States. His services were also hailed by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Wright is a key member of the House Public Works Committee, chairman of the Watershed Development Subcommittee, has been a guiding hand in the passage of major legislation, and has authored numerous laws.

'Give 'em Hell Raiders' Says No. 10 Banner

Perhaps the biggest Raider booster sign on campus this weekend is sported by the third wing of Men's No. 10.

The sign measures 70 inches wide and 15 yards long and can be seen from Flint Avenue. It reads "Third South Says Give 'em Hell Raiders." Materials were purchased from the Textile Engineering Bldg.

The 50 members of the wing began working Thursday at 9 p.m. The sewing committee, painting committee, clean-up committee and miscellaneous committee completed the banner and hung it at 3 a.m. Friday.

It is supported by adhesive tape on window sills, corners tied around window posts and strings extended to the ground.

The voluntary project for the wing was directed by David McClendon, wing governor.

SENATORS MEET

MOSCOW (AP)—Five American senators met today with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Viet Nam was expected to be a main topic of their talks. The group was led by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

Debaters Off For Tourney

Tech debaters are participating in two directions to tourneys this weekend.

Two experienced teams are in Kansas for their second cross-examination tournament while new squad members will participate in a one-day novice debate tournament in Abilene.

Vernon McGuire, new director of forensic activities, left Thursday with the senior teams for Wichita State University, Wichita, Kan. In addition to debating in the tournament, Tech's representatives will compete in individual events. Debaters in Kansas are Hal Upchurch and Janine Coats, Jon Holmes and David Bradley. Upchurch will compete in oratory and after-dinner speaking. Miss Coats and Bradley will enter extemporaneous speaking.

Three novice teams left this morning for Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. They are Janet Abernathy and Jerry Wilkinson, Terry Wood and Jerry Knott, B. L. Oxford and Margaret Walker. Dr. Alfred Funk accompanied the teams.

They all will return to Tech Sunday night.

'Operation Senorita' To Bring 30 Coeds

Thirty coeds from Mexico City will visit the Tech campus Dec. 1 as participants in the fourth annual "Operation Senorita."

Each year the Junior League of Lubbock invites 30 students from the National Teachers College in Mexico City to Lubbock to acquaint them with the United States and also to promote good will between the two countries.

The girls will arrive in Lubbock Nov. 29, and, following four days of scheduled tours and visits to places of interest in the city, will return to Mexico Dec. 4. They will stay with Lubbock families during the visit.

Tech Activities Planned

During their day-long visit to Tech, the students will tour a dormitory, the West Texas Museum and Planetarium, the Tech theater and library, and various classroom buildings.

The coeds will eat lunch in Tech Union, will meet some of Tech's student teachers. Attending the Ford Caravan of Stars featuring the Serendipity Singers will climax their visit to Tech campus.

In Lubbock, the girls will tour the Citizens National Bank, Avianche-Journal, Lubbock Christian College, Reese Air Force Base, and the Lubbock Country Club.

Will Be Teachers

Special attention will be given to the public school system during "Operation Senorita." The students, all studying to become teachers in Mexico, will visit local elementary and high schools and a near-by rural school.

Besides the guided tours, the coeds will be guests at several Junior League activities including a luncheon.

"Since this will probably be the only opportunity to visit the United States these girls will have in their lifetime, it is our desire to extend to them a warm and friendly welcome," said Mrs. Joe R. Horkey, publicity chairman of the Junior League.

Catholic Leaders Approve Liberty

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The leaders of the Roman Catholic Church voted final approval Friday of a religious liberty declaration designed to improve relations with all the world's non-Catholics. Protestant observers at the Vatican Ecumenical Council said it would.

By a vote of 1,954 to 249, the bishops of the Vatican Ecumenical Council cleared the declaration for promulgation by Pope Paul VI on Dec. 7.

"What do you mean you don't have any footballs either?"

Our View On: University Happenings

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: From the University of Texas' Daily Texan came this gem of a statement, found in a sports column:

"The Sun Bowl in scratching Texas from its list of possible candidates did an imprudent and unnecessary thing. We can't speak for Royal, but it is quite unlikely that he would choose to go there regardless of his team's record."

Sounds like the Teasips are not quite used to being on the short end of a losing football record.

Maybe with time they will learn that beggars can't always be choosers, especially when it is the one-time choosers that are now reduced to begging. Soon, they may be ready to take whatever they can get when and if anything is offered . . . including a Sun Bowl berth.

The Board of Regents of the State University of Iowa were slated this week to discuss the possibility of serving beer in the student union.

The question of whether Iowa's state schools should allow beer to be sold in their unions was raised at the October regents' meeting in Iowa City.

At the request of other members, says the Daily Iowan, discussion was postponed until November to give them an opportunity to consider the question.

Several groups are opposing the selling of beer in the union on the grounds that those who would be old enough to drink in the union wouldn't want to in the first place.

Texas Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth, scheduled to speak on the Tech campus next Tuesday, spoke at East Texas State University earlier this week and attacked extremist groups of both political right and left.

According to the East Texan, Wright called the groups " . . . poor, twisted, demented souls" who fail their country's interests "in the middle of the crisis."

Alluding to recent demonstrations in opposition to the United States' policy and involvement in Viet Nam, Wright condemned the philosophy that the "only way to prove that you love your country is to prove that you hate your government." That, he said, "isn't patriotism."

Wright's visit to East Texas was sponsored by the Young Democrats Club; his visit to Tech will be sponsored by the Student Association. He is a speaker worth hearing.

More than 5,000 young people, mainly high school students from Saigon and neighboring Bien Hoa participated in a recent youth program in Viet Nam, according to the Asian Student.

The program included construction, literacy, agricultural and public health projects.

The camp was directed by a group of university students from Saigon under the guidance of a Sacramento State College professor and the International Voluntary Service.

The students volunteered a week to help in civic action projects in villages and hamlets. Work included filling swamps and building latrines.

There was no evaluation of the program, but any effort in which people will help themselves and their own countrymen should be called a success from the start.

The University of Houston is conducting a "Let Concern Speak" drive on campus, collecting useful articles to send to Viet Nam children and homeless.

According to the Daily Cougar, the drive started when a UH coed received a letter from her Marine fiancé serving in Viet Nam.

He described the conditions of the people over there and some of the basic items they desperately need.

From this simple start, UH students are collecting food, clothing, medicine, sheets, diapers, soap, toothpaste and many other "luxury" needs.

Bins for depositing goods are located at several campus entrances and in many buildings. Several loads of goods have already been shipped overseas.

It seems that the UH students are realizing the true needs of a people in war and are reacting accordingly. Thanks for the good job, Cougars.

The Serenaders, an all-girl dance band from Texas Women's University, left for Europe this week and a tour of USO shows for U.S. armed forces located there.

We are glad to see the USO people reach into colleges and universities for some of their traveling shows; it gives good talent a chance to be heard before an appreciative audience, besides giving the students a welcome respite from studying.

Rumors are out on campus that the Tech choir or some other group from the music department may be taking an extended journey overseas before the school year is out. It will be a good deal if the details can be worked out.

Reveille, the official mascot of Texas A&M, is getting old, says the Battalion, and the talk around College Station is where to find a new mascot in the next few years.

One candidate to replace the perky little dog that is the pride of the Corps is one pugnacious bulldog—by name of Ranger—who is considered somewhat of a campus pet.

Opinions are somewhat divided about Ranger's ascent to the throne, in fact some wonder if Reveille is even ready for retirement.

But no matter which canine reigns supreme, the question is still being kicked around many campuses: "Is A&M still going to the dogs?" The question remains to be answered.

Reaching The Voters...

THE UNIVERSITY OF Houston has a good idea to better improve representative government—constituency meetings.

According to the Daily Cougar, Senators post hours when their constituents can meet with them to discuss current issues, campus problems and subjects they would like to have brought up during Senate meetings.

Why doesn't Tech institute a program similar to this? This could probably be done by simply expanding a program already in existence at Tech.

For instance, all senators have certain hours when they work in the student government office. However, very few students know when their respective representatives are in the Student Senate Office.

Why not post a list of when each Senator is in the office and what school they represent? Further, why not designate these as constituency meeting hours and encourage students to meet with their representatives?

If senators feel this would interfere with their present work at the Senate office, then designate certain hours for meeting with constituents and others for working at the Senate Office.

This might be a good way to make Tech's student government more representative. Certainly, Senators cannot adequately represent their constituents unless they know how they stand on certain issues and in what areas they would like to see action taken.

Beat The Razorbacks

Reveille Comments On 'Playboy' Ban

(ACP) — Men's housing, which like its counterpart for women often suffers from too mother-like attitudes, has lapsed again with enforcing of a ruling banning Playboy magazine from the dormitories, comments the Daily Reveille, Louisiana State University:

The ban stems from regulation 11 of the residence halls which reads, "Nude or obscene pictures are not allowed." Although the rule is not very explicit, it has been interpreted to mean that such pictures are not allowed in any forms—whether on dorm walls or in books and magazines.

The logic for the ban is obviously that the magazine contains nude pictures. The court definition of obscenity leaves Playboy in the clear, so that portion of regulation 11 does not apply.

If housing officials would follow this same logic to its conclusion, we would find many of the textbooks for upperclass premed students, many books in the library and numerous issues of the more "respectable" magazines outlawed in the dorms. Would this be any different?

Though we exaggerated the possibilities a bit, the ban on Playboy is still ridiculous. Not only do the magazine's contributors include some of the top thinkers and literary figures of our day, but the most cursory reading of the letters to the magazine will show that it is not read only by over-sexed kids who look at only the nude pictures. Many letters come from ministers, college professors and administrators, and executives who comment not on the nudes but on the literary content.

We see no wrong in men's housing enforcing a ban on nude pictures on dorm walls, but to ban magazines with top literary content simply because they carry a few nude pictures is inexcusable.

We strongly urge that men's housing review its policy regarding the ban on Playboy magazine and revise it accordingly.

Oversea Academic Program Available To Tech Students

Four undergraduate academic programs to be offered in Europe next spring will remain open for applications until Dec. 10, according to their sponsor, the Institute of European Studies, in Chicago. Located in Freiburg (West Germany), and in Madrid, Paris and Vienna, the programs emphasize liberal arts and social science studies at the sophomore and junior levels. The institute also conducts full academic-year programs in all four locations, as well as in Nantes, France.

In Freiburg, students take the regular courses of the University of Freiburg, a 400-year-old institution whose faculties have included such scholars as Erasmus and Martin Heidegger. Applicants must have junior standing, at least B averages, and two years of college German or equivalent ability. Students in the Madrid program select courses from curricula organized under the direction of the university's faculty of political and economic sciences.

All instruction is in Spanish. Requirements include junior or sophomore standing, a C-plus average at least, and two years of Spanish. In Paris, the institute has formed a special spring program emphasizing accelerated development of skills in French together with studies in other fields. Courses are taught in French by French university professors.

Sophomores applying for the program must have three semesters of college French, and juniors five semesters. All must have averages of at least B.

The spring program at the University of Vienna offers English-taught courses in a wide variety of fields, intensive German language training, and opportunities.

One semester of German and an average of at least C-plus are required of sophomores and juniors admitted to this program.

The institute's full-year program in Nantes is the first generally offered for undergraduates majoring in engineering and mathematics, and also admits students majoring in French literature. No spring program is conducted there. Comprehensive fee for the programs, including tuition, room, most meals, transatlantic transportation and field trips, range from $1,605 to $1,750 for spring programs, and from $2,405 to $2,760 for full-year programs.

Students are housed in private European homes or, occasionally, in European student dormitories. Sailings are set for about Feb. 1, with return in mid-summer.

Further information can be obtained from the institute, at 35 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago.

Wool Contest To Be Hosted By Home Ec

LUBBOCK—Approximately 150 contestants from 60 West Texas counties are expected to enter Tech's School of Home Economics "Make It Yourself With Wool Contest" Dec. 4.

District Director Dr. Gene Sheldon, professor and head of Tech's clothing and textile department, said selection of the entries each county is to send will be made before Nov. 27.

Winners at the district level will compete in the state contest in January at Texas A&M University. National finals will be Jan. 20 in Portland, Ore.

The 1965 contest will have four groups of entries: sub-deb, 10 to 13 years of age, inclusive; junior, 14 to 16, inclusive; senior, 17 to 21, inclusive, and adult, over 21 years.

Garments will be judged prior to the district contest at Tech and will be modeled by the persons who made them for final judging on the morning of Dec. 4. Winners will be announced at a "grand finale" fashion show at 2 p.m. in the ballroom of the Tech Union building.

The 'Make It Yourself With Wool Contest' is sponsored by the American Wool Council, the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

AFROTC Cadets Visit Installation

Capt. Herman Jones and 40 AFROTC cadets returned Thursday afternoon from Amarillo Air Force Base after a one-day visit.

Air Force personnel at the SAC installation directed the cadets through the base's technical training unit and displayed aircraft and equipment.

The purpose of the trip was to show the cadet what work in military units is actually like and to give him a glimpse of what he will be doing after graduation.

Hulen Hall Sends Books To Viet Nam

Hulen Hall sent 175 paperback books to Viet Nam as their Christmas project for the dorm.

The books ranging from the Bible, James Bond to Peanuts were mostly donated by the girls in the dorm, but 100 books were purchased to be sent. Most of the books were light fiction.

Inscriptions containing wishes of good luck, Merry Christmas, prayers for safe returns and appreciation for what is being done in Viet Nam were written in the books.

The books were mailed to the Red Cross in San Francisco Nov. 15. They will forward the books to the boys in Viet Nam.

Cotton Decision Pending

DALLAS (AP) — Indications were strong that the visiting Cotton Bowl team will be picked over the weekend and that it will be either Louisiana State or Tennessee, with the former perhaps holding a slight edge.

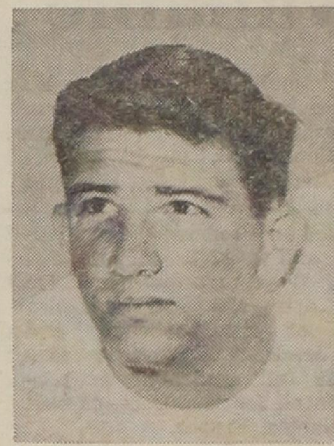

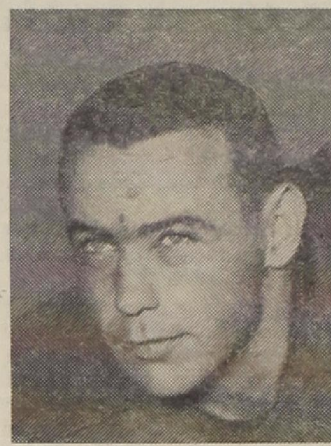

The Southwest Conference which sponsors the Cotton Bowl put out background information on these two schools Friday.

Coupled with the fact that Cotton Bowl representatives will be at Baton Rouge to watch Louisiana State close the season against Tulane and at Lexington to see Tennessee play Kentucky Saturday, indications were that the field had been cut to the two. However, Auburn, which plays Alabama next week in its closing game and Syracuse, which winds up against Boston College Saturday, were still on the list.

If Louisiana State beats Tulane, it will end up with a 7-3 record. Tennessee, which is 4-1-2, has three games left—Kentucky, Vanderbilt and UCLA. This fact seems to be the reason LSU has moved to the front.

Hoping To Bring Home The Bacon

HUNGRY FOR PORK—These three senior Red Raiders will be trying for a share of the SWC championship this afternoon against Arkansas. From left, they are, John Carrell, defensive linebacker; James Cecil, offensive guard and Bob Fuller, center. It'll be the last regular season game for the trio as Red Raiders. They'll be on hand for one of two bowl games however, depending on the outcome of today's clash. If the Raiders lose, they'll go to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., December 31.

Writer Picks Teams To Win

NEW YORK (AP)—No, the pro picker didn't pull a Norm Van Brocklin and quit.

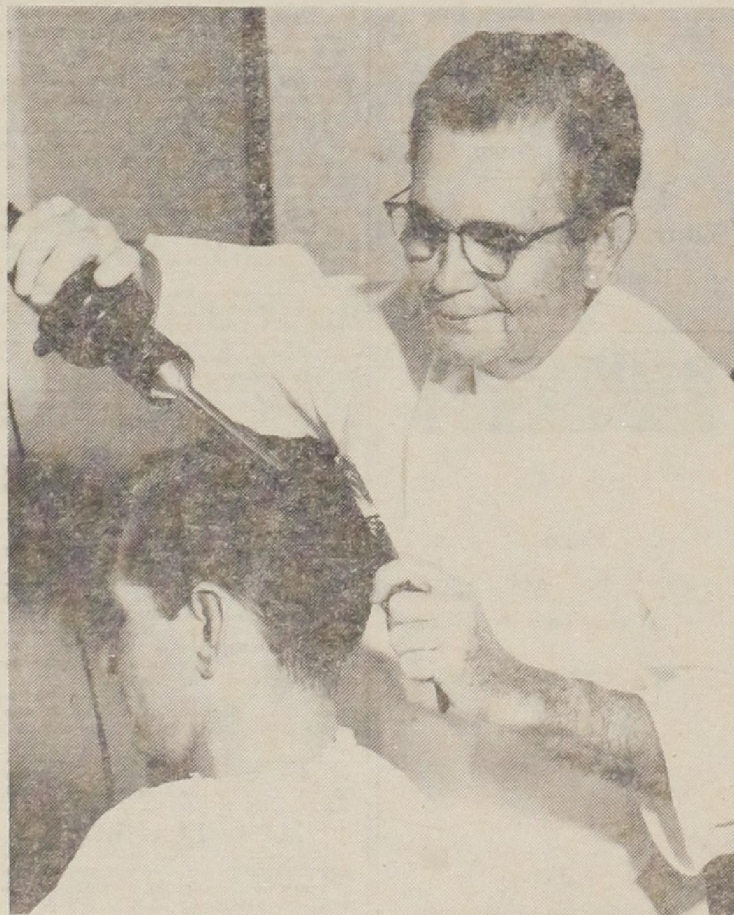

Just took a week off.

This week's picks extend all the way to Thanksgiving Day, and there are all sorts of toughies. But here goes, all games Sunday unless otherwise noted:

Minnesota 28, Green Bay 14—The Packers have produced so few points the last two weeks it's beginning to seem as if they're playing baseball. With Van Brocklin probably pushing the Vikings just a bit harder and Fran Tarkenton on his side, the Vikings should pull it out.

Cleveland 24, Dallas 21—And it won't be easy. Browns keep winning but always seem to have trouble. The Cowboys are a team that can give you trouble with speedy Bob Hayes a threat but Jimmy Brown always gives the Browns just enough momentum.

What TT's Waited For: Sooie Time

MIKE LUTZ

The Tech campus has gone "Hog-wild" in preparation for today's scuffle with the herd of Oinkers from the Ozarks and apparently there's never before been anything like the excitement.

"It certainly doesn't compare with anything I've ever seen here," Tech Athletic Director Polk Robison said. "There wasn't near this much excitement in 1953 (when Tech had a 10-1 season including a victory over Auburn in the Gator Bowl) and of course the Gator Bowl wasn't as large then as it is now."

"We've had some pretty exciting basketball races and a lot of school spirit connected with that, but never anything like this," Robison added.

An Overdue Pat On Back

IT IS, WITHOUT a doubt, the most generous amount of support directed to Coach J T King and the Raiders since entrance into the Southwest Conference. And few probably appreciate it more than the Raider head mentor himself, who has been the subject of rabid criticism through most of his tenure at Raiderland.

But now he's beginning to reap some of the harvest he's been sowing since his arrival. In just five seasons at the helm, King has brought Texas Tech up to the SWC level of competition and now has led them to the brink of its first SWC football championship. But STILL there are skeptics.

We heard about this feller the other day who has long been a King adversary.

He and two other gents were discussing the recent Red Raider successes when the adversary came up with, "Sure, Tech is doing okay this year, but King didn't have anything to do with it. It's the boys, they're the ones who are winning the games."

But one of his listeners put him down with, "Well, let me ask you this, when the Raiders were losing, who did you blame." There was no adequate rebuttal.

Here's an interesting sidelight. Who's the winningest coach in Arkansas? Frank Broyles, you say? Guess again. The fella who gets the bow for that title ironically is named George Loss, coach of St. Something-or-Other. His lifetime record is an amazing 94 wins, FOUR losses and two ties.

And think twice before you ask Mrs. Mildred Wright, Tech's ticket manager, why she isn't going to the game today. As she walked past the coffee pot in the Athletic office building yesterday afternoon, a friend asked why she wasn't going to the game.

"My husband (she's the wife of Tech assistant coach Jim Wright) won't let me near Arkansas tomorrow," she said in mock anger.

"Why's that," someone asked.

"Well, the last four games I've been to on the road, Tech has lost," she explained, "and he's not about to let me go to this one."

Jerry Don Balch, who played out his eligibility as a Red Raider last season, is currently working with the Picador crop and commented on the 0-4 showing of the future varsity performers.

They Couldn't Get Together

"WHAT YOU SAW yesterday (Thursday, when the Picadors closed out their season with a 28-12 loss to the North Texas State Eaglets) was a typical example of their entire season," Balch said. "As you could see, we had a lot of good individual performers out there, but they didn't work together as a team. It's been the same way all year."

The Picadors threw a whole parade of quarterbacks at the Eaglets in the finale, the most promising of which could be a Plainview lad the unlikely name of Tom Sawyer.

JOIN THE "GRETSCH SET" For the Authentic Sound of the Times

The Gretsch Folk Guitar is the hands-down favorite on campus and at folk festivals. For Gretsch gives you the rich, resonant bass and the clear singing highs that only come from the work of skilled guitar makers.

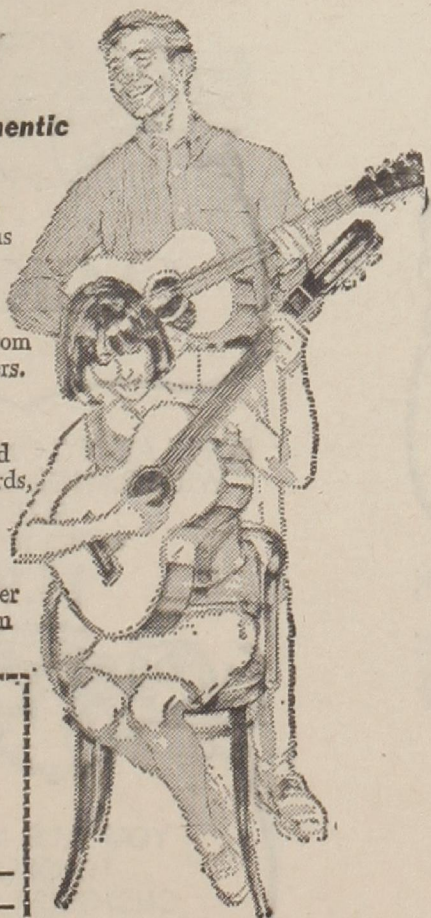

At Gretsch we work with aged woods carefully chosen for mellow resonance. Seasoned rosewood is used for fingerboards, molded to specially contoured Action-flo necks to make fingering fast and easy.

Magnificent sound... a wider world of music... is yours when you join the Gretsch Set.

It's Tom Terrific

TOP SLINGER — Tech's greatest quarterback, Tom Wilson faces possibly his most severe test today, when he and his Red Raider teammates square off against Arkansas in a SWC showdown. Wilson is the No. 2 ranked passer in the nation and fourth in total offense. He's a sure shot All-SWC candidate and may be mentioned among All-America picks. It will be Wilson's last regular season game as a Red Raider.

TCU FROSH WIN

DALLAS (AP)—Norman Bu-laich, Les Brown and Ross Montgomery led Texas Christian to a 35-6 victory over Southern Methodist Friday to win the Southwest Conference freshman football championship. The Little Frogs finished undefeated and untied in five games.

Raiders . . .

Tech has never beaten an Arkansas team, at home or in Arkansas. The series records stands 8-0. The Pigs' 27-20 win in 1963 began its string of 21 straight victories.

Arkansas has batted down one conference foe after another for its 6-0 loop mark. Highlight was a 27-24 win over Texas, that sent the Longhorns spiraling downward.

An overflow attendance of 42,000 will witness the duel. More than 2,500 will be Red Raider rooters according to Mrs. Mildred Wright, Tech ticket manager. The number includes the Tech band.

Top individual performers will be at a premium for the season's final whingding.

The Raiders will be lead into the clamor by All-American Donny Anderson, a national statistical leader, quarterback Tom Wilson, and several other supporting performers.

Biggest Raider

Anderson, who is closing out one of the most illustrious careers of any Red Raider ever, is mentioned in three categories of the latest NCAA statistics.

The big fella from Stinnett is third in the nation in kick off returns; fourth in scoring and sixth in receiving. He has caught 50 aerials for 654 yards, scored 90 points and returned 20 kickoffs for 513 yards.

Wilson, a diminutive 150-pound chunker from Corsicana has received national recognition for his aerial antics.

He's currently the second most successful passer in the land with 146 completions in 240 attempts.

And his percentage of completions, a near phenomenal .608 is also the second most accurate.

'All The Way With LBJ'

The Porkers' success can be captured in a slogan contributed by some Arkansas campaigners: "All the way with LBJ."

The U of A supporters' play on words does not refer to the President of the United States but to the Hogs' backfield combination of Jim Lindsey, Bobby Burnett and Harry Jones.

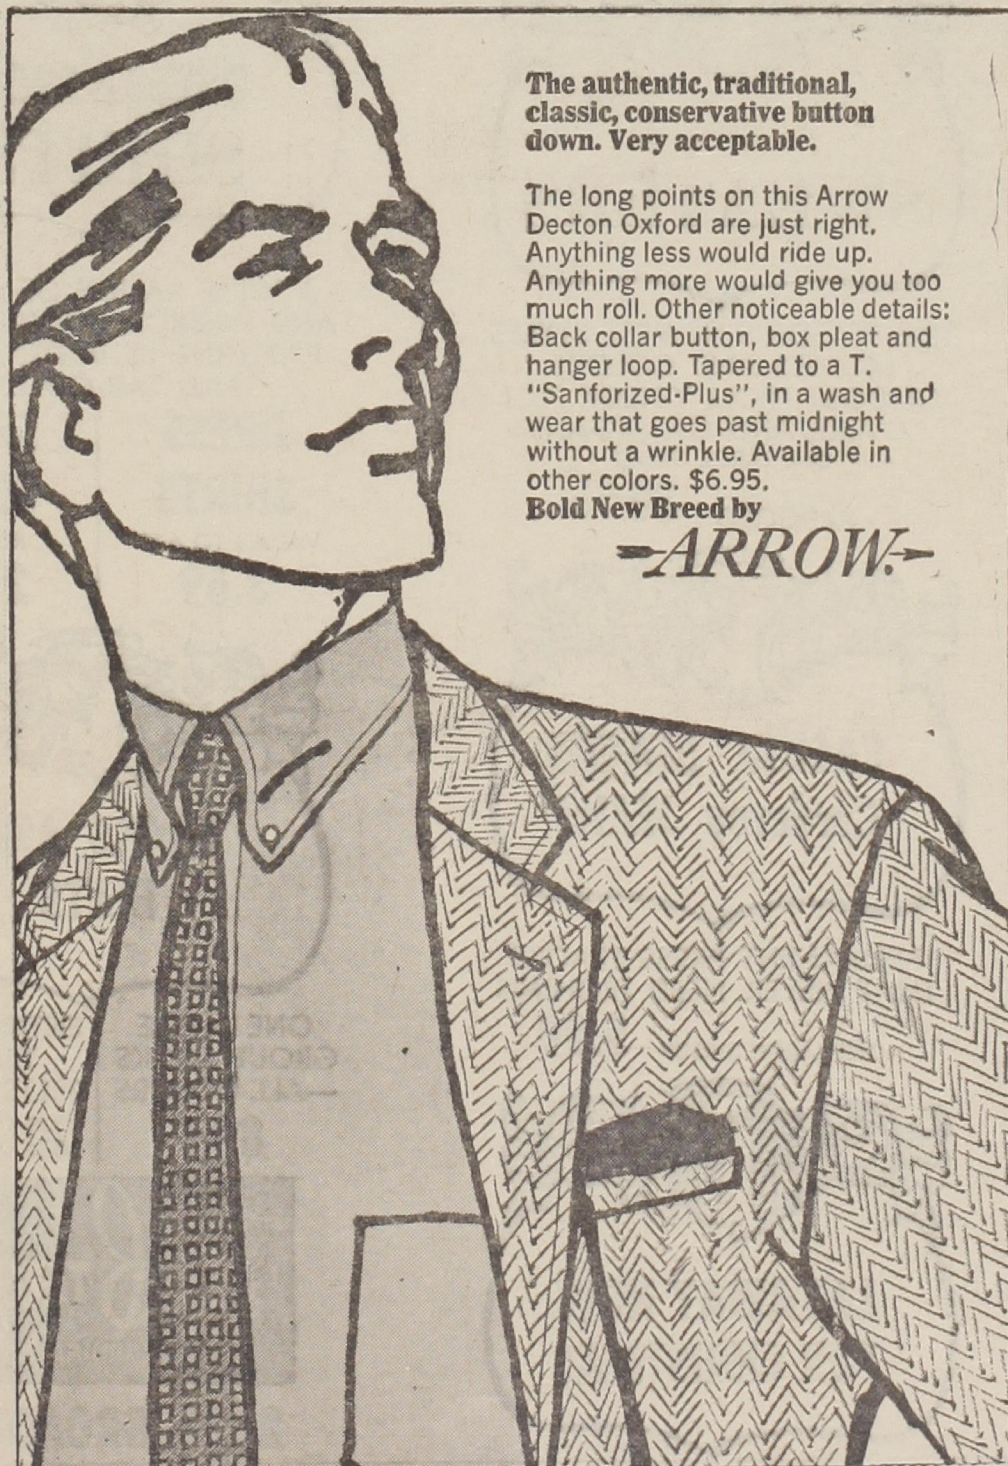

When the Raiders choose to move overland, they'll be facing the most potent defensive rushing unit in the conference. Arkansas has allowed only 69.9 yards per game to its nine foes. The Hogs are at the other end of the list in pass defense however, having permitted 153.4 yards per contest.

Still Bowl-Bound

Even if the Raiders are defeated, they are still bowl-bound. It was announced earlier this week that the Tech crew will go to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. if they do not gain the Cotton Bowl berth. Arkansas, reportedly, has the same alternative.

Starting offensively for the Raiders will be: Wilson, quarterback; Anderson and Johnny Agan, halfbacks and Kenny Baker, fullback. Trenchmen will be: Jerry Shipley and Jeff White, ends; Chester Howard and Stanley Edwards, tackles; Phil Tucker and James Cecil, guards and Jerry Turner, center.

Arkansas is expected to go with a backfield group of: Jon Brittenum, quarterback; Bobby Burnett, tailback; Jim Lindsey, wingback and Bobby Nix, fullback. Linemen will be: Richard Trail and Bobby Crockett, ends; Glen Ray Hines and Dick Cunningham, tackles; Travis Mauldin and Mike Bender, guards and Melvin Gibbs, center.

The authentic, traditional, classic, conservative button down. Very acceptable.

The long points on this Arrow Decton Oxford are just right. Anything less would ride up. Anything more would give you too much roll. Other noticeable details: Back collar button, box pleat and hanger loop. Tapered to a T. "Sanforized-Plus", in a wash and wear that goes past midnight without a wrinkle. Available in other colors. $6.95.
