Twenty Six Die In Violent Week-End

By The Associated Press
At least twenty-six persons died in Texas over the week-end in accidents involving traffic collisions, airplane crashes, drownings and other mishaps.
Eleven people received fatal injuries in traffic accidents, and four each died in plane crashes and from drowning.
Three deaths resulted from gunshot wounds.
Claude L. Morgan, Jr., 4, was crushed to death yesterday in Dallas when a strong wind toppled the wall of a partly constructed garage addition as he was playing in a backyard.
Two Fort Worth youths, James H. Patterson, 16, and Howard Baitz Buster, 23, received fatal injuries in an automobile collision yesterday on the Mansfield highway near Village Creek.
David H. Bryan, 29, of San Angelo, was killed Saturday night when his car struck a fence in Burnham.

Ted Hudson, 42, of Henderson, was killed yesterday when a plane crashed on a farm southeast of Powell, Tex. A companion, Wilbur Lester Dublin, also of Henderson, also died today.
Bobby T. Fickie, 23, war veteran and student pilot, died when his small plane crashed into a Fort Worth residence early Saturday, while Wayne Wallace Williams, 21, was killed when his plane crashed near Mansfield Friday.
Two deaths resulted from the escape of two convicts from the Huntsville state penitentiary Friday night.
As the two convicts, Fred Wren, of Hereford, Tex., and Ralph Dunlap of Shelby, Ohio, made their escape, they left a prison guard, Ben La Rue, fatally injured.
On Saturday, Wren received fatal shotgun wounds when he attempted to take an automobile from T. A. Bureh, 72, retired farmer at Rosebud.
At San Angelo, Harold B. Opp, 64, oil operator and former Texas rancher, was shot to death while in the lobby of a hotel Friday night.
Three youths were drowned near Paris, Tex., Saturday as a small boat capsized in an abandoned oil mill pool. They were Eugene, 13, and Eldon, 15, Kent and an unidentified 15-year-old boy. All were from Pecan Gap, Tex.
Francisco Coronado, 35, was killed instantly when a trailer he was attempting to lift with a jack fell on him Friday night at Laredo.
E. W. Emshoff, 23, Houston ironworker, fell nine stories to his death Saturday while working on a construction project.
John Floyd Black, 28, Mt. Vernon packing house salesman, was killed Saturday in a collision near Henderson.
Also at Henderson, John Robert Redwine, 22, Negro, was burned to death Friday when his automobile crashed into a concrete abutment.

Miss Shirley Morris, Southwestern University freshman, received fatal injuries Friday when she was struck by a truck as she walked along a highway near Georgetown.

Hollis Emmett Cannon, Taylor, Ark., was killed three miles east of Big Spring Friday night when his car struck a bridge abutment.

St. Paul Schools Closed By Strike

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 25. (AP)—A strike of union teachers closed St. Paul's public schools today a few hours after an eleventh hour offer of higher salaries had averted a similar walkout in Minneapolis.
Picket lines were established at each of St. Paul's 74 grade and high schools. A minimum of two pickets patrolled entrances at the smaller structures, three or more were on the line at the larger ones.
The temperature was at 3 above zero when picketing started at 7:30 a. m. The teachers, bundled in heavy winter clothing, stepped along gingerly. Reliefs were arranged at hourly intervals.
School authorities made no effort to operate the schools as the teachers representing about 1,000 of the system's 1,165 pedagogues, began picketing in an effort to enforce demands for salary increases which would raise the present $1,300 to $2,900 range to a $2,400 annual figure for beginners and a maximum of $5,000 for those having college degrees.
None of the city's 35,000 pupils attempted to cross picket lines. Instead, some of them carried words of encouragement to the teachers.
Governor Edward J. Thye, who has expressed the opinion teachers' salaries were too low in view of present economic conditions, called a conference in his office for 9:30 a. m. of representatives of the school board, teachers, state department of education and legislative leaders.
Total cash and pledges on hand was $27,850 Monday noon, giving rise to hopes that the final figure would be well in excess of $28,000.

Mercury Sags In New Wave

By The Associated Press
Texans were glad today they didn't have to depend on coal for heat — temperatures dropped in the wake of a cold, wet northern sweeping in from the Rockies.
Lowest reading today was 27 degrees at Pampa. Snow fell in the Panhandle. Even in Brownsville the mercury sagged to 70 degrees, which the natives consider chilly.
The weather bureau said it would get colder tonight — as low as 26 to 20 in the Panhandle and South Plains, near freezing at El Paso, and as low as 28 to 32 degrees in East Texas.
No heavy rains were reported but light showers and drizzles were general.
A peppering of rain fell here. North of Colorado City toward Cuthbert there were reports of as much as two inches. It rained lightly from Sweetwater to Baird.

Big Powers May Battle Over Troop Count

England Proposes Verification On Inventories

By MAX HARRELSON
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Nov. 25. (AP)—The big power battle over conflicting proposals for a United Nations troops inventory was complicated further today by a British proposal that all troop figures be subject to verification by a UN inspection unit.
The British position was disclosed by Philip J. Noel-Baker, British air minister, shortly after it was learned that the United States delegation had decided to oppose any more to inject an inspection provision into the troop inquiry. Russia also is known to be opposed to such a plan.
He announced that he was withdrawing a proposal made previously to combine the troop inventory plan with the committee's scheduled debate on disarmament, and then proposed:
1. That the inquiry be broadened to include troops at home, as well as those abroad.
2. That the UN set up a unit to verify any information reported on troops by member nations.
The new British proposal met some objections and then immediately raised others which some delegates believed might be even more serious. The Russians had protested against the proposal to link talks of troop census with discussions of their 4-point arms reduction plan but at the same time they had objected to giving information on troops at home until the disarmament talks started.
The United States, on the other hand, had agreed to combining the census with the arms debate, but had insisted on including data on all troops, both at home and abroad.
The most controversial issue, however, appeared to be the proposal for verification of information reported.

Five DWI Cases Draw $375 Fines

Fines totaling $375 and costs were levied in county court this morning against five persons charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants.
Billed were Claude Purvis, Jimmie Cannon, William Franklin, Harrelson, Mike Gomez and Arthur V. May. Each was fined $75 and costs and lost his vehicle operator's license for six months.
All were picked up by members of the city police force over the weekend and transferred to the custody of the county.
Big Spring police quartered eight subjects in the city jail on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicants during the weekend, but the entire group was transferred to the county for court proceedings.
No traffic accidents were recorded within the city on Saturday or Sunday. Several other arrests were made on charges of drunkenness and a few affrays were quelled. One Latin American was held after a family disturbance. He allegedly attacked his wife with a knife.

Collections Near 75 Pct. Level

Collection of state, county, junior college and common school taxes have attained 75 percent of the 1946 roll, according to figures released this morning by members of the tax collector-assessor's department.
A total of $221,739.37 in assessments have been paid by Howard county property owners. Only $35,704 of the entire roll remains outstanding.
Persons making their payments prior to Dec. 1 are eligible for a two percent refund under state law.

Fulbright Would Outlaw Strikes In Basic Fields

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) proposed today that Congress outlaw strikes and compel arbitration of labor disputes in basic industries such as coal mining directly affecting the general welfare of the country.
Such machinery could be made applicable to future coal work stoppages if not the present walkout. Fulbright told a reporter. He said it might be applied also to enterprises such as oil, steel, transportation and public utilities.
His idea, Fulbright explained, would be to ban strikes altogether in these industries and force arbitration of disputes either through a new agency set up on the pat-

Ships Collide, Both Go Down

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 25. (AP)—Two small freighters collided and sank off Miami today and the Coast Guard began a sea and air search of about 17 members of the two crews.
First word of the accident came from the Caribbean trader Evangelos, which flashed a distress call a few hours after leaving Miami for Haiti for a cargo of bananas and other island products.
The craft reported she was in collision with the freighter Marsidee, from Nassau, and was sinking.
A short time later the Marsidee reported the Evangelos had sunk and she too, was sinking.
Coast Guard rescue craft sped to the scene in the Straits of Florida about 30 miles south of Miami, but discovered no survivors immediately.
Coast guardsmen said first reports were that the Evangelos carried a crew of 10, and the Marsidee a crew of 7 men.

Vacancies Amid Big Demand As Dallas Landlords Strike

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
DALLAS, Nov. 25. (AP)—In this crowded Texas city, where classified columns daily plead the urgent need of housing, hundreds of rooms, apartments and residences are empty. Landlords are striking for abolishment of the OPA.
Mrs. Frank Morris, 55-year-old Dallas clubwoman, president of the statewide Landlords Incorporated and the local property owners and associates, is leading the militant drive against the government agency.
"This is a quiet strike," she said. "Mostly, there have been no evictions. When tenants move out, doors are locked and stay that way. At least 3,000 Dallas housing units are being withheld. The landlords aren't fooling."
Mrs. Morris owns no rental property but feels rent control is "undemocratic, unconstitutional and is cheating homecoming veterans out of a place to live." Her only son, a radio operator, was lost in a B-17 raid over Germany.
Mrs. Morris guided me on a tour that took in dozens of ghost apartments and houses — places marked by untended yards and drawn shades.
We called on Joe H. Blann, totally disabled by heart trouble as a result of German shellfire in the First World War. He said he had sold a duplex and a triplex because of burdensome controls and that a five-room rent cottage would stay empty until "the government restores property to landlords."
He lay abed in his own unit of his otherwise empty apartment house which, until last March, accommodated 18 other tenants. Last February he got into a price squab-

Delay In Hearing Denied By Judge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough declared today that John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers "undertook to decide the law for themselves" and ordered them to trial Wednesday for contempt in the soft coal shutdown.
The trial probably will run into next week while industrial paralysis tightens from the diminishing coal supply.
Welly K. Hopkins, counsel for Lewis and the union, sought a delay to permit Joseph A. Padway, general counsel of the AFL, to join in the defense but Goldsborough refused the request, commenting that the "public interest" requires as speedy a settlement as possible in view of the mine walkout in its fifth day.
Speaking in low tones, Goldsborough also expressed the hope that labor unions would not "do something that might influence Congress" to pass legislation which might "set the labor movement back for years."
"I don't know whether I was justified in making that statement," he commented afterwards. "It was extra-judicial."
The White House meanwhile maintained silence. Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters there was "nothing" there on the coal situation.
To questions whether there is any movement under way to bring Republican leaders to the White House to talk over the coal crisis, Ross replied with "no comment."
Goldsborough's ruling that Lewis had not purged himself of the contempt charges directed against him Nov. 21 for failure to withdraw a no-contract notice to the government. It was Lewis' cancellation of the work agreement that touched off the walkout of 400,000 soft coal miners.
Lewis sat silently in the crowded courtroom during the 40-minute session while Hopkins argued that Goldsborough lacked jurisdiction either to issue an order requiring Lewis to rescind the notice or to issue the contempt citation that followed.
Attempts by government counsel to argue that point immediately were cut off by Goldsborough.
When court opens Wednesday, Goldsborough said:
"I will pass on the contempt citation first, then pass on the merits of the restraining order."
Then Hopkins announced that Lewis and the union had taken no action to comply with the court's order that the no-contract notice be withdrawn and were ready to go to a trial which might result in punishment of the union chief if convicted of contempt.
Hopkins attempted, however, to delay the trial date. He said the union has had no opportunity to read the government's argument. A bulky brief was presented at the start of the session by Assistant Attorney General John F. Sonnett.
Hopkins declared also that some union counsel were out of town and would not be ready.
Contrary to the government's position, Hopkins argued that Lewis' notice to Secretary of Interior Krug terminating the UMW contract was "both legal and proper." He said also that neither Lewis nor the union had taken any action in compliance with the court's order to withdraw the cancellation notice.
Goldsborough hailed Lewis into court to answer a contempt citation for refusal to withdraw the notice, which signalled a nationwide strike in the soft coal fields.
"The defendants, and each of them, respectfully deny the jurisdiction of this honorable court to issue a restraining order," Hopkins said of Goldsborough's order.
The union also challenges the court's right to order the con-

Election Date Opposed By US

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—The United States objected today to the Jan. 1-9 date for national elections in Poland and again said it expects "equal rights and facilities" to be accorded all democratic and anti-Nazi parties.
A new note voicing the American viewpoint was handed the Polish foreign office Friday by the American charge d'affaires in Warsaw, Gerald Keith.
The note pointed out that the American government had expected the elections to take place this year, in accordance with the Big Three agreement at Potsdam in the summer of 1945 for the holding of Polish elections as soon as possible.
"Although my government is surprised that the Polish government would fall, without explanation, to fulfill this formal assurance," Keith's note declared, "its chief concern is not with any particular date but with the discharge of its responsibility under the decisions taken at the Crimea and Potsdam conferences with respect to the holding of free elections in Poland."
All retail and wholesale grocers of the Big Spring, Lamesa and Stanton trade areas have been invited to attend an organizational meeting at the Settles hotel at 8 p. m. Tuesday.
Principal speaker at the session will be Rufus G. Starnes, president of the Texas Retail Grocers association.
Among the pressing issues that will come up for discussion are the Fair Trades act and anti-discrimination policies.
An election of local officials to assist in directing the State Grocers' association business will also be conducted, according to A. W. Allen, secretary.

Grocers Invited To Trade Meet

Distribution of number cards for the annual treasure hunt to be held Friday was scheduled to begin this afternoon, the chamber of commerce announced.
The treasure hunt, which will climax the official opening of the local Christmas season and the unveiling of display windows at dozens of Big Spring business firms, is expected to attract thousands of people again this year.
To date, 84 business establishments have announced plans to participate. This represents five more than the total number for 1945, and it still is not too late for others to take part, the chamber of commerce advised.

Scouters To Attend Analysis Meeting

Several Big Spring men are scheduled to attend a meeting of the analysis committee for the Buffalo Trail Council of Boy Scouts in Midland Tuesday afternoon.
The committee plans to take definite action on recommendations made by sub-committees after summer studies on future operation of the council.
Among the matters expected to be presented is a recommendation that council headquarters be moved nearer the geographical center of the council. The headquarters is now located in Sweetwater, the extreme eastern edge of the council.

Postmaster Gives Mailing Warning

Packages will not be accepted at the postoffice for shipment this Christmas season if senders are guilty of putting seals or superfluous messages on the address side of mail. Postmaster Nat Shick announced this morning.
Persons should also exercise great care in seeing that parcels are bundled tightly and tied securely before the items are referred to the postal clerk, Shick said. Packages that do not conform to wrapping regulations will not be accepted for shipment.

Vineyard Nursery Expands Facilities

Extensive improvements have been going on at Vineyard Nursery in order to give people of Big Spring a better and more complete service.
And backing the material facilities up is the staff, aided by the return of George Vineyard from the Army, to join his father, J. O. Vineyard, who has been operating the nursery here for the past five years.
During the summer steps were taken to provide more and better acclimated plants. In addition to the nursery proper at 1705 Scurry, the Vineyards have installed a 12-lot growing field in the Wright Airport addition where many small plants already have begun to put on growth.
A greenhouse has been added for rooting shrubs and keeping pot plants. Another addition is a lath-house for maintaining shrubs in sounder condition.
The office of the nursery has been enlarged in order to display flower, vegetable and grass seeds as well as flower bulbs.
Out of the nursery's stock wide selections are possible for evergreens, flowering shrubs, fruit trees, rose bushes, and shade trees.
The Vineyards not only advise on plantings and care of plants, but they also are expert in landscaping.
Site Committee Member Fancies Frisco Location
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. (AP)—The United Nations site subcommittee flew to Boston today on the final lap of its tour of inspection of possible permanent homes for the world's peace organization.
Before departing last night from San Francisco after a four-day visit to sites in the San Francisco Bay region, a committee spokesman told a news conference that the Presidio of San Francisco, historic army post overlooking the strategic Golden Gate, was a "most marvelous site."
Emphasizing that he was speaking personally and that the committee had not yet taken an official position, Dr. Eduardo Zuleta Angel, site commission chairman, added that "no certain official offer" of the presidio site had been made to the subcommittee but "we are taking all possible steps to ascertain the position of the federal government."
He said he had seen no deficiencies in the 2 1/4-square mile presidio as a possible site for UN headquarters.

Hilbun-Biassattie Vows Read In California

At St. Bernard's church in Oakland, Calif., Giannina Biassattie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Biassattie, became the bride last Sunday of Joseph Sidney Hilbun of Richmond, Calif.

Rev. John McKenna officiated at the ceremony.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of ivory brocade satin, designed with an off shoulder neckline, finished with a net yoke and tight-fitting sleeves. The slightly hooped skirt extended into a full train. The cathedral veil was held by a coronet of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a shower arrangement of ivory chrysanthemums, and bouvardia, centered with purple throated gold colored orchids, tied with ivory satin.

Betty Carter of Santa Monica, maid of honor, wore a rose colored gown of moire designed with a bustle of net, tied with pale blue flowers. The fitted bodice was attached to a bouffant skirt. A band of flowers held her short veil.

Bridesmaids were Mary Biassattie, Mrs. Rita Azzarello and Claire Scullion. All wore matching frocks of pale blue net designed with a peplum trimmed in rose. The bodices had sweetheart necklines, and the skirts were full.

They wore heart-shaped bonnets of matching net. Cyclamen and sweet peas formed their bouquets.

Best man was Louis Gardella Jr., and ushers were Donald E. Sullivan, Donald Waters and Edward Kincaid.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Hotel Alameda.

Following a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hilbun will make their home in Richmond. For traveling Mrs. Hilbun chose a suit of turquoise wool, with which she wore brown lizard accessories and a brown flowered hat. Her corsage was of yellow orchids.

The bride attended St. Michael's convent in Livermore and was graduated from Livermore high school.

Hilbun, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Hilbun of Richmond, and grandson of Mrs. A. J. Hilbun of Big Spring was graduated from Oakland Technical high school, after which he served overseas with the navy for four years.

Mechanized Hunters Freeze Their Prey

CLEVELAND, Ohio. (UP)—Even hunting has been mechanized.

When D. H. Henderson goes hunting now he brings 'em back frozen.

On a recent hunting trip to South Dakota, Henderson installed a freezing cabinet on his truck. Henderson and two companions returned with 72 pheasants, five teal and six rabbits as well preserved as the day they were bagged.

The six-cubic-foot freezing box runs on ordinary 110-volt current. Twice the party stopped overnight to connect the freezing unit, bring the temperature down to its lowest possible point. It never rose above zero during the whole trip. Henderson says the money he saved in shipping and storage expenses was considerable.

Moral For Motorists: Avoid Family Rows

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UP)—The morning spat with the wife over burnt toast may lead to a bashed-in fender, or the price tag of a new fur coat can be the cause of a right-hand collision, says the Pittsburgh Motor club.

The new school of thought on the cause and effect of auto accidents is called Emotionalism on Wheels. It means that a motorist may sidetrack another car because his mind has been kicked into a turmoil by a heavy argument he has just had. His emotional condition shows in visual perception and muscular reaction.

Army Trucks Fight To Save German Crops

FRANKFURT, Germany. (UP)—Army officials have thrown a fleet of 2,800 trucks, with GI drivers and gasoline, into the largest single trucking operation in Germany since the end of the war for a last-minute rescue of the German food crop.

The trucks are moving an estimated 800,000 tons of potatoes from fields and collecting points before they rot.

Jazz Losing Its Hold, Band Leader Says

AMES, Iowa. (UP)—Band leader Frankie Masters believes that fast jazz and noisy stomp numbers are on the way out.

Masters, who with his band was on the Iowa State college campus to play at a pair of home-coming dances, said "Definitely, very definitely, the trend is toward sweet music."

The popular orchestra leader explained that every place his band plays the dancers like sweet music best. He said when the band blasts out with a "jump" number, the dancers either leave the floor or crowd around the bandstand to watch.

MIXES DDT COCKTAIL
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP)—Two-year-old Ronald Chaffin mixed himself a drink of DDT powder and water when his mother wasn't looking, but he apparently suffered no ill effects. He was hurried to a hospital where physicians said he had not swallowed much of the drink.

Campus Signs Boost Landon For President

MEADVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Reminiscence of the 1936 general election, "Landon for President" campaign posters have appeared on the Allegheny college campus.

The placards aren't leftovers from the Kansas Republican's unsuccessful race against the late President Roosevelt. They are the work of supporters of Robert M. Landon, Elmira, N. Y., a candidate for president of the freshman class.

Seal Envelopes Now In Mail

A study unit, telling the story of the National Tuberculosis Association is being introduced in the Big Spring high school today in connection with the Howard County Association's annual Christmas seal sale.

The seal sale was launched this morning by local tuberculosis associations throughout the country, and the seals will be offered to the public until Christmas Day.

Envelopes containing seals were mailed to 2,800 individuals in Howard county Saturday, although posting of many envelopes was delayed temporarily when it was discovered that they were a fraction of an ounce overweight. The overweight envelopes were re-opened and left unsealed, however, and should be delivered to addressees within the next day or two, C. O. Nalley, seal sale chairman said.

"We want to advise the people receiving these re-opened envelopes that they have not been tampered with in any way," Nalley said. "We just had to re-open them and leave them unsealed to conform to postal weights regulations."

The study course at the school, called "The Message of the Double-Barred Cross" is published by the National Tuberculosis Association, and has been distributed to principals and teachers of the local high school, with approval of the superintendent.

Ambassador Says Treaty Is Fair

SHANGHAI, Nov. 25. (AP)—U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart branded as "preposterous" today the assertions of some Chinese newspapers that the recently signed Sino-American treaty imposed "unequal conditions" upon China.

The ambassador told a news conference that there had been a misunderstanding of terms of the treaty, especially its most-favored-nation clause. Some critics said this clause meant a series of new, unequal treaties, but "that is not true," he said.

Under this treaty (covering commerce and navigation) China does not lose its tariff autonomy or its power to control its shipping or foreign trade, he declared.

"The treaty does provide that Americans in China and Chinese in the United States shall not be subject to discriminatory treatment and each shall enjoy in the other country reasonable and necessary rights and facilities," he said.

TURKEY DAY CLASH WILL BE LAST FOR DANA BIBLE AS HEAD COACH

AUSTIN, Nov. 25. (AP)—Dana X. Bible, who has coached at both Texas A&M and Texas during his 34-year career as a director of gridiron elevens, will watch the Aggies and Longhorns battle here Thursday in the final game which he will view as a head coach.

The Longhorn mentor was on the other side of the fence from 1917 to 1928 when he directed the Aggies to four wins and a tie with the Steers.

He has improved his average in the Thanksgiving Day classic since coming to the University as head man of the school's football destiny, having won seven and lost two.

The Longhorns now hold six consecutive victories over the lads from Aggieland. They want a victory Thursday, not only to uphold a tradition of never being defeated by A&M in Memorial Stadium but also to put a good finish on a season which began brilliantly but is ending up poorly.

Student ticket holders took the last of the Thanksgiving Day tickets last week, and barring bad weather, 48,000 fans are expected to see the game—an all-time record for a Southwest Conference tilt.

Teen Agers Challenge Wrong Man To Race

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Two youngsters have decided not to challenge fellow automobile drivers to a race again; they might turn out to be cops.

Plainclothes Officer Alvin Leach said two teen-agers drove up behind his car and challenged him to a race.

After a brief chase Leach caught them and found a "sizeable" amount of full and empty beer bottles in the car.

Commission Faces Vital Decision

City commissioners have opened the way for applications for the post of city manager to succeed B. J. McDaniel, who is assuming the management at Abilene on Jan. 1 next.

By accepting McDaniel's resignation at this time, the commission sets the date when a vacancy will occur, and thus have a position to fill.

Members of that body acted with wisdom, we believe, in expressing a desire to find the "best man who can do the most good for Big Spring." Where or who this person may be, none can say, and commissioners made it clear they had no preconceived choices in the matter.

While recognizing that it will be well to make the replacement as soon as possible, it also was discreet that the commission was in agreement against too great haste.

This is an important position. The choice of a manager will weigh heavily upon the commission, for it could mean much in the administration of city affairs.

The attitude of not closing the doors on any worthy prospect, and of seeking the "best man" as members of the body see it, is wholesome. Upon this spirit, perhaps a happy selection will be made and the city's progressive program go forward in stride.

Contest May Become An Expose

An inquiry concerning the seating of Theodore G. Bilbo as senior senator from Mississippi may not result in the denial of a place in the congress to the senator. Whatever else is developed in the hearing, the philosophy that a people is entitled to name its own representative, good or bad, is apt to weigh heavily on the final decision. On this premise, it is doubtful that Bilbo will be denied his seat.

But the fact that the hearing is to be held in Mississippi is noteworthy, for it is clearly a move to deprive "that man" of some of his verbal ammunition about being persecuted at Washington where he could easily claim "foreign" persecution.

But more than this, attention will be brought to focus on Bilbo's activities and methods, and perhaps many of his allies will be exposed in front of the home folks.

Thus, the probe might well develop more in the form of an expose rather than a mere contest of a seat. If it does, it might get at the roots of the attitudes which create Bilboism, which matters a great deal more than Bilbo himself.

Labor Hates Court Injunctions

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A court injunction (order) to prevent a strike is sheer poison to organized labor.

That's why the CIO and AFL so bitterly blasted the government for seeking a federal injunction to prevent the coal miners' walkout.

Organized labor has had an uphill struggle in this country. For most of our history the courts have been on the side of the employers.

Until the 1880's unions were often prosecuted as conspiracies. Then the courts clouted unions on the head by issuing injunctions.

(An injunction is a court order forbidding a man or group of men to do something. For example: Striking.)

The courts' view — meaning the judges' view — was this: The right to do business is a property right. If a man can't do business — says, because of a strike — he suffers a property loss.

In 1890 Congress passed the Sherman anti-trust act to curb business monopolies and prevent their interfering with trade. This came at a time when corporations were getting badly bloated.

But federal judges began to use the anti-trust act — through injunctions — against trade unions on the grounds that some of their activities, like those of big corporations, interfered with trade.

Organized labor fought long and hard to wipe out this interpretation of the anti-trust act by the courts. And in 1914 Congress passed the Sherman act and protect unions from it.

But then the Supreme Court ruled that the Clayton act did not exempt labor from the anti-trust provisions of the Sherman act. So federal courts continued to issue injunctions against labor unions.

At last Congress in 1932 passed the Norris-Laguardia act — a very famous act in labor history — which puts a stiff limit on the use of federal courts to make injunctions in labor disputes.

Many states adopted similar laws. And that pretty well put an end to the injunction as a powerful anti-union weapon, a weapon freely used by courts and employers for 50 years.

The most famous — or infamous — use of the injunction was in 1894 when an order against the strike leaders smashed the great Pullman strike led by Eugene V. Debs.

In the Lewis case the Norris-Laguardia act in their argument an injunction should not be used in the coal miners' walkout.

The government argues this way: The Norris-Laguardia act never meant to prevent the federal government's getting an injunction, or else it would have said so specifically in the act.

It was meant, the government argues, only to prevent private employers from using the injunction.

Some 400 separate events are presented annually at the Academy of Music alone, covering every phase of public cultural interest.

Since the Institute is the oldest and largest organization doing its type of far-flung artistic and scientific work, it is an eloquent and permanent rebuttal to the folks who think Brooklyn is simply a low-comedy community dedicated full time to hoping for next year's National League pennant.

Edmundson then sought an injunction in the US courts, citing the by-laws of the United Mine Workers which call for free and fair elections, and demanded the right to sit as a duly elected delegate and also to have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate for president.

Not in ten years had any miner had the courage to challenge Lewis' iron-fisted rule. Edmundson at least had the satisfaction of forcing Lewis into court. That, however, was far as he got. Judge Goldsborough who last week ruled against Lewis, in this case ruled for him. John L's rival candidate for presidency of the United Mine Workers found himself out of court.

Culture In Brooklyn

NEW YORK — By some curious turn of the century had assumed mass proportions.

"We were doing practically everything cultural one would expect to find in any city," Bloom explained. "Library, concerts, lectures, courses for adults, museum, botanic garden, children's museum and so on."

SOME 400 separate events are presented annually at the Academy of Music alone, covering every phase of public cultural interest.

Since the Institute is the oldest and largest organization doing its type of far-flung artistic and scientific work, it is an eloquent and permanent rebuttal to the folks who think Brooklyn is simply a low-comedy community dedicated full time to hoping for next year's National League pennant.

Millions Allotted On Emergency Housing

CHICAGO (UP)—Five states have made multi-million dollar appropriations for this year for emergency housing, the National Association of Housing Officials announced.

A special session of the New Jersey legislature appropriated $6,000,000 for immediate operations and provided a $35,000,000 bond issue for approval by the electorate.

New York earmarked $35,000,000 last spring for housing, and recently added $80,000,000 for low-rent slum clearance projects. Connecticut appropriated $5,000,000 to match equal local expenditures, California set aside $10,000,000 for housing aid to cities, and Ohio appropriated $6,000,000 for allocation to counties.

As late as 1912 most movies consisted of one or two reel films.

Judge Has No Bias Against Lewis

WASHINGTON—One of the most interesting things about the government's injunction against John L. Lewis is that it was granted by Judge Alan Goldsborough, who previously had decided a vitally important case in Lewis' favor.

Thus the Justice Department had the fortune to appear before a judge who certainly cannot be suspected of prejudice against Lewis, especially in view of the sensational nature of the case which he decided.

For on Jan. 10, 1945 Judge Goldsborough handed down a ruling which, if it had gone the other way, might have shaken the iron throne from which John L. Lewis long has ruled over 400,000 miners. The case—also an injunction suit—involved the right of another mine leader to run as a rival against Lewis for president of the United Mine Workers.

ed Mine Workers found himself out of court.

LEWIS' HATCHET MAN
To those who knew the inside dealings of the mine workers, Ray Edmundson's break with Lewis had great significance; because for ten years Edmundson had been Lewis' so-called hatchet man in the long and bloody Illinois battle with the progressive miners. Testimony taken by the Illinois Mining Commission shows page after page where Edmundson operated for Lewis in the feud which saw 21 of Lewis' rivals killed.

Most significant of all was the fact that Edmundson helped Lewis put across the payment of around $300,000 to Mine Operator Carl Eishoff at Springfield, Ill., to keep his mines closed in order to throw progressive miners out of work.

One interesting development in this extraordinary case is that William Green, president of the AF of L, heard about Lewis' secret payment to Eishoff as early as 1938 but did almost nothing about it—even though the progressive miners were then members of the AF of L in December 1938. Green got a letter from Banker F. J. Lisman, of the Lisman Corporation, New York, stating that "a man by the name of Eishoff, lessee of a mine, is paying a rental of $2,000 to the owners of the mine at Springfield, Ill. There is something very peculiar about this situation, of which you would like to be informed. I think one union is paying rental in order to keep the workers of another union out."

Green at that time was the hated rival of Lewis. The latter had left the AFL and was calling Green all sorts of names. However, Green did nothing except pass Lisman's letter on to the progressive miners.

SQUELCHING A RIVAL

Ray Edmundson, once appointed by Lewis as president of District 12 which takes in the entire state of Illinois, was duly elected by the Cincinnati United Mine Workers convention in 1944, at which he proposed running against Lewis for president.

However, Lewis had Edmundson barred by the credentials committee from even setting foot on the convention floor. This was contrary to all the by-laws of the United Mine Workers, which gives any delegate the right to be heard.

Furthermore, Lewis proceeded to kick Edmundson out of the union, thereby making it impossible for him to be employed as a coal miner.

Edmundson then sought an injunction in the US courts, citing the by-laws of the United Mine Workers which call for free and fair elections, and demanded the right to sit as a duly elected delegate and also to have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate for president.

Not in ten years had any miner had the courage to challenge Lewis' iron-fisted rule. Edmundson at least had the satisfaction of forcing Lewis into court. That, however, was far as he got. Judge Goldsborough who last week ruled against Lewis, in this case ruled for him. John L's rival candidate for presidency of the United Mine Workers found himself out of court.

LEWIS' SECRET FINANCIAL DEAL

How close Edmundson and Lewis were at that time, is shown by the way Edmundson, then president of District 12, appeared before mine locals to squelch criticism of the $300,000 payment. The Illinois miners had had no idea this amount of money was being taken out of their dues to pay a mine operator to stay closed for two years and a half. In fact, they did not know it until the secretary of the treasury started his income tax probe of Lewis.

When the word finally leaked out, however, the rank and file of the United Mine Workers were sore, especially in Illinois where they had been asked in the fall of 1940 to vote an assessment of 1 per cent against their earnings in ad-

Revisions In Film

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—The atom-bomb picture, "The Beginning or the End," is going back for re-takes, following a showing before presidential advisers in Washington. Government bigwigs and MGM officials agreed on altering scenes picturing President Truman for two reasons:

(1) There was a factual error in showing the president making decisions for the Los Alamos and Hiroshima bombs at the same time in Washington. Actually, the trial bomb was decided there, but the final word on the second came while he was at Potsdam.

(2) Rohman Bohnen's impersonation of Mr. Truman was excellent, but neglected the president's military bearing. And the chief executive was shown full-face, breaking a precedent for film portrayals of living presidents. In the added scenes only the side or back of his head will be shown and camera emphasis will be placed on Secretary Charles Ross, who will be played by Harry Carey.

You should have heard the ruckus when Veronica Lake returned to Paramount after a loan-out and found Marlene Dietrich had been given her dressing room. Miss L. threatened to leave the lot unless she got her old room back. The fireworks ended when Joan Caulfield offered to share her room with Marlene.

Producer Joe Pasternak tells me Jose Iturbi will play a serious, dramatic role in his next, "Triumph of Music." Incidentally, Jose was showing off his new pen and some one remarked it was the kind that wrote under water.

"Don't tell Joe that," Jose said: "He'll have me playing the piano under water in the next picture."

Selznick has word from the color lab that he'll be able to get a print of "Duel in the Sun" for Los Angeles release this year, and thus get the film in academy running. With the strike situation getting no better, the studio is going to start "The Paradine Case" Dec. 9 and not wait for a settlement. "Little Women" will follow.

Mineral Wells, Pasadena Newcomers To Title Play

Last Of 16 League Winners Will Be Decided This Week

By The Associated Press
Some new names are to be found in the half-filled roster of teams qualifying for the state play-off starting next week in Texas schoolboy football.

Mineral Wells, which ousted that perennial district champion, Breckenridge, and Pasadena, playing its first season in Class AA football, are strangers to championship contention.

These are among eight district titlists certified to date for the opening round of the state play-off. Mineral Wells won the district 9 title and Pasadena eased through District 14. Other champions waiting for the bi-districts to start are Amarillo, District 1; Odessa, District 3; Ysleta, District 4; Adamson (Dallas), District 8; Conroe, District 12, and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), District 15.

All of those teams except Adamson and Conroe are recent district champions. It has been 15 years since Adamson (then Oak Cliff) came through and it was 1927 when Conroe won its first and only district title.

The eight other district champions to compete in the state play-off will be decided this week as follows:

District 2—Graham vs Wichita Falls, District 5—Sherman vs Denison, District 6—Highland Park (Dallas) vs McKinney, District 7—North Side (Fort Worth) vs Paschal (Fort Worth), District 10—Waco vs Temple, District 11—Marshall vs Tyler, District 13—Milby (Houston) vs Lamar (Houston) and District 16 where Edinburg has to beat McAllen to be the Brownsville for the lead, thus winning the title since Edinburg beat Brownsville when these teams met.

There are no new names among the contenders for these eight titles although some of them haven't been in the state play-off in years. It has been more than two decades since Graham took a crown and it was 10 years ago when McKinney last capped a district championship.

One district champion was decided unexpectedly last week. Thomas Jefferson, while top favorite for the District 16 title, eased into the throne room when Austin and Corpus Christi played a 6-6 tie. Under aggregate net point play this district decides champions in triple ties for the lead by awarding the title to the teams that scored the most points net against the other two teams. Thus, even of Brackenridge (San Antonio) defeated Jefferson Thursday and threw Jefferson into a tie with Austin and Corpus Christi for the top, Jefferson still would be champion.

The 7-0 victory by Mineral Wells over Breckenridge in winning the District 9 championship was an upset. Mineral Wells had lost to Brownwood by three touchdowns and Brownwood in turn had been beaten by three touchdowns by Breckenridge.

The state race hammers down the stretch with eight teams still boasting undefeated records but prospects are good that at least three of them will fall this week.

Undefeated, untied teams are Graham, Odessa, Sherman and North Side. Graham plays Wichita Falls, Odessa meets Midland, Sherman tackles Denison and North Side engages Paschal. Graham and Sherman are in considerable danger of being toppled.

Undefeated but tied are Pasadena, Jefferson, Lamar and Marshall. Pasadena has no game this week, Jefferson meets Breckenridge, Lamar takes on Milby and Marshall plays Tyler. Lamar appears to have the toughest row.

Grid Card Again Choice In Most Areas This Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (AP)—With the Rose Bowl filled and several major conference races settled, the college football teams which haven't quite had enough will pick up the loose ends of the 1940 season this week as promoters select the opponents for other post-season games.

The final week of the campaign will divide its grid fare between Thanksgiving Day and Saturday with the big four—Army, Notre Dame, Georgia and UCLA—risking their beaten records on the weekend date.

Army, shooting for its third straight season without defeat, plays Navy at Philadelphia. The Cadets will be top-heavy favorites to crush a Navy team that hasn't won a game since its opener.

Georgia, which breezed past Chattanooga, 48-27, to run its perfect record to nine wins, will be invaded by Georgia Tech, a team that trampled Furman, 41-7, for its eighth triumph since dropping its opener to Tennessee.

The winner probably will go to the Sugar Bowl and Georgia can clinch a tie for the Southeastern Conference championship.

Tennessee, which squeaked past Kentucky, 7-0, to match Georgia's conference record of four wins and no losses, will be a Vanderbilt.

A Tennessee loss and a Georgia triumph would give the Bulldogs the title, while both would share the championship by winning.

UCLA, which won the Pacific Coast Conference title and the right to be host team in the Rose Bowl by turning back Southern California, 13-6, winds up its regular season against invading Nebraska.

Southern Cal, meanwhile, will invade Notre Dame Saturday whose unbeaten but once-tied eleven swamped Tulane, 41-0.

It was all over but the shouting in the Big Nine, where Illinois won the title and qualified to represent the east in the Rose Bowl by whipping Northwestern, 20-0.

North Carolina, winner of the Southern Conference title with a 22-7 triumph over Duke, closes out its season at Virginia Saturday and other teams in that loop argue over second place on Thursday.

Saturday's schedule in the Southeastern Conference will find Mississippi State, 20-0 winner over Mississippi at Alabama, which dropped a 13-7 decision to Boston College; Auburn, 21-13 victim of Clemson, at Florida, 37-6 loser to North Carolina State; and Tulane at Louisiana State.

Thursday's top game in the east will send Cornell to Pennsylvania with the Ivy League title depending on the outcome. Cornell can win the championship by upsetting the Quakers.

US Polo Team Scores Win Over Gracida Brothers

By TOMMY HART
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 25.—They held the World Series of polo at Brackenridge Park here Sunday afternoon—the crack United States quartet meeting the dashing Gracida brothers of Mexico—and it was as if the St. Louis Cardinals had crossed bats with some bush league baseball outfit.

The Gracidas, nephews of the president of Mexico and the leading exponents of the rugged game in their own country, were no match for the Yankee foursome composed of Laddie Sanford, Cecil Smith, Stu Iglehart and Tom Mather, losing a 7-0 decision.

As 4,000 patrons, including an attentive General Jonathan Walbridge, looked on, the Americans rang the bell when Sanford banged one through the uprights in the first minute of play and coasted in from there. The Mexicans tried hard enough, were well mounted but could not capitalize on their scoring opportunities.

That was due in part to rugged defensive play on the part of Tom Mather—who, incidentally, halls from Lubbock—and the aggressive all-around performance of Stu

Iglehart, the world's only 10-goal handicap player.

The visitors from south of the border got a roar from the crowd in the sixth chukker when Alejandro scored a bulls' eye on a penalty shot but the goal was disallowed due to an infraction of the rules.

Mather shared scoring laurels with Smith, another Texan, and Iglehart, who hails from New York. Each had two goals.

Of the four Gracida brother, Jose, perhaps, looked the best. All however, rode well. Alternate Rincon Gallardo got a chance to play from the fifth period on when Gabriel was thrown from his horse and suffered a shoulder injury.

The US veterans haven't dropped a match in international competition in 32 years and there is no indication that the Mexicans can swing the tide when they tangle again here Thanksgiving morning.

Dr. M. H. Bennett, Pinkie Roden and Lloyd Wassen, all of Big Spring, and Lewis Rix, formerly of Big Spring and now of Lubbock, were interested spectators along with the writer. Many other West Texans were also in the stands.

Sports Roundup

Casteel May Go To E Lansing As Head Coach

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (AP)—An independent minor league baseball club owner claims the big league moguls "are attempting and practically succeeding in ruling — and running — the National Association" . . . If that is true, the big leaguers should find it very easy to take full charge at next week's meeting. . . . All they'd have to do would be to vote down the restoration of the two percent "tax" on player sales, which was dropped as a war measure. . . . That would leave the minor league governing body with no income but membership and protection and with a rapidly dwindling reserve fund. . . . Without cash, the association couldn't do much and might just as well move its headquarters to Cincinnati and become a satellite of the commissioner's office.

His, not guaranteed
Soon after the football wolves began to howl after Michigan State's Charlie Bachman, backfield coach Johnnie Pingel flatly turned down an offer from a Lansing industrialist for a job at almost double his present pay. But we also hear that Johnny isn't too popular and that the Spartans really have their eyes on Arizona's Mike Casteel. . .

Does all, brothers
Did you know that Ty Cobb held the record for votes in the Hall of Fame elections with the exception of the unanimous choice of Lou Gehrig? All but four of 226 baseball writers' ballots went to Ty. . . . Dick Schulz, the Cleveland pro basketballer, also winds a nifty paint brush and turned out some hand-painted "Little Brown Jug" ties last summer in honor of the big horse race in his home town of Delaware, Ohio. . . . As a by-product of increasing the basketball seating capacity of the Indiana U. fieldhouse, the runners will have to work on a seven-lap track this winter.

Cramer Coming To Cage Clinic

Coaches and players attending the Clarence Fox basketball clinic here Dec. 1-2 will be privileged to hear plenty of information on first aid, including the latest methods for treating all types of player injuries. Fox announced today.

Bill Cramer of Gardner, Kan., is to be here to take the lead in this part of the clinic. Cramer, who heads a chemical company which specializes in first aid supplies for athletic teams, is regarded as one of the foremost authorities on this matter in the entire country.

More reservations are being made for the clinic each day, and by the weekend something like 115 coaches and players had signified intentions of attending.

Some of the latest to accept invitations include S. T. Hawks, coach at Spur; M. M. Ellyson, Welch; and from Stanton, Superintendent H. G. Hamrick who coaches the girls team there and T. E. Green, boys mentor.

Several coaches have indicated that they will bring members of their teams to sit in on proceedings, and especially to view the climax, which will send teams of the two head instructors of the clinic, Gus Miller of West Texas State college and A. C. "Bugs" Morris of ACC, to the local hardwoods for a full dress performance.

Aggie-Longhorn Bout Headlines S'west Program

By The Associated Press
Although a conference championship tie is in the offering for Rice and results of the week's schedule will determine the host team in the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl classic, the Southwest Conference's final round of football will reach its climax Thursday with the traditional Thanksgiving Day battle between the Longhorns and the Texas Aggies.

Both Texas and Texas A&M are out of the title running but a victory for either would go far in healing the disappointments that have plagued each school during the 1940 campaign. A crowd of 48,000 is expected to witness the fifty-third meeting of the two teams.

Rice's Owls can move into a tie with Arkansas by downing Baylor, conference cellar dwellers, in a Saturday Houston struggle that should be a breather for the feathered flock.

Arkansas, with a title tie already wrapped up and with Cotton Bowl fever running high, has a tough hurdle in its campaign on Tulsa's Hurricane Thursday at Tulsa.

The Cotton Bowl selection will hinge on the outcome of the games at Tulsa and Houston. Should Arkansas down the Hurricane, new Missouri Valley champions, it is likely the Porkers will receive the Bowl game nod, in view of their 7-0 victory over Rice.

Should Arkansas lose and Rice defeat Baylor, however, the Owls might logically move into a stronger position, despite the Arkansas defeat. In such a case, Rice would complete its regular season with only two defeats while Arkansas would have three.

In the only other game, Texas Christian moves to Dallas Saturday to tackle Southern Methodist in a game that may prove to be the closest of the holiday week-end.

Both the Frogs and Mustangs have improved steadily in recent weeks, the Frogs having been particularly impressive on defense against Texas and Rice. SMU's smoldering offense broke loose Saturday in a 35-0 rout of Baylor, one of the worst defeats in the history of the Waco school.

Rice maintained its drive for a tie with Arkansas by tripping the stubborn TCU eleven, 13-0, at Houston, but only after the Frogs had thrown a few scares at the 28,000 fans in attendance.

Texas, Texas A&M and Arkansas were idle last week while preparing for the Turkey Day engagements.

Mobley Nearing Rushing Record

By The Associated Press
When they encounter the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys for the 1946 Border Conference football championship next Saturday, Texas Tech's Red Raiders come up against the most effective attack in the conference.

Unbeaten and untied in nine games this year, five of them winning in the conference, the Cowboys have scored 281 points, paced mainly by Rudy (Little Doc) Mobley, only 87 yards away from his national collegiate rushing mark set in 1942.

In their conference engagements, the Cowboys have registered 162 points and allowed only 28 points to be scored against them.

The Cowboys also have a strong defense, with the best record in the conference in the scored against column. In their nine games, 42 points have been scored by their opponents.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Despite the fact that the Big Spring high school football Steers took a goshawful (34-12) licking at the hands of the Abilene Eagles last weekend, Horace Rankin, the triple-threat half-back, didn't do his chances of rating an All-District 3AA berth a bit of harm.

The Hoss was fairly well bottled up by the War Birds' stout line but at that led in ground gains with 23 yards net in eight carries. Passing was his long suit. In seven tries, the youngster completed five tosses for a whopping 79 yards. In all he's picked up 305 yards in 88 running plays and helped move another 344 steps to the Steer overall attack by making good 22 passes in 48 steps. Add to that another eight steps he gained in being the receiver of one pass from Barron and you find he has aggregate gains of 659 yards.

When one considers the fact that the Longhorns' total pickup for the nine games they have played to date amount to 1960 yards, it must be agreed that The Hoss has done all-right by himself.

If further argument is needed, Rankin does some kicking, too. His average for four boots dropped below 30 yards against Abilene but his overall record wasn't effected much. He's kicked away 42 times for 1344 paces, an average of 32 yards. That's a respectable mark, considering the fact that 20 yards have been taken from Hoss (or any other) kicker every time he kicks over the goal line.

Abilene's tremendous offense enabled the aggregate foe to go ahead of the Steers in total gains for the year, even though the locals still hold the advantage in aerial advancements.

The Longhorn have picked up 1188 yards rushing and 772 yards overhead for a grand total of 1960 yards while the adversary has moved for 1446 yards on the ground and 601 paces through the air for 1960 steps, a difference of 86 yards.

Other Steer ball carriers and their records include:
GERALD HARRIS—455 yards in 92 carries. Average: 4.9 yards.
BOBO HARDY—223 yards in 75 attempts. Average: 3 yards.
GEORGE WORRELL—122 yards in 24 rushes. Average: 4.8 yards.
ERNE ACHÉ—16 yards in 7 tries. Average: 2.3 yards.
GORDON MADISON—No gain in two tries.
PETE FUGLAAR—Seven yards in four gallops. Average: 1.8 yards.

Barron, the team's other passer, has rifled 61 passes, completed 25 for 341 yards advance. Madison had tried one overhead and it fell short of its mark.

Hardy stretched his lead in pass completions by taking three in last week's game. He now has caught 15 and churned ahead for 192 steps! He's also the scoring leader with 36 points to his credit.

Enser Puckett has been the target on six occasions and gained 126 yards. Eddie Houser has gathered in four flips and ambled 70 steps.

Other receivers and their gains include:
MARV WRIGHT—9 completions good for 123 yards. GERALD HARRIS—4 completions for 62 steps. WORRELL—2 for 22. JIMMY JONES—1 for 14. B. B. LEES—1 for 3.

In nine outings, Steer backs have bobbed 21 times and lost possession of the oval on 15 of those occasions. On the other hand, the foe has juggled the pigskin 28 times and made recovery but 13 times.

Harris has kicked off 17 times for 776 yards, an average of 45.9 paces. The opposition has booted from placement 27 times for 1140 yards. That would be for an average of 42.3 yards.

A total of 33 penalties has been stepped off against the Big Springers and it cost our troops 245 yards. The enemy has lost 280 yards as a result of 39 infractions.

HSU, Okla. City Considering Tilt At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 25. (AP)—Oklahoma City University and Hardin-Simmons University have both expressed willingness to meet in a post-season bowl game in San Antonio to be staged by the Elks club for the benefit of crippled children.

Joe Connor, chairman of the Elks Club Football Committee, announced Saturday that he had received replies from both Mose Simms, director of athletics at Oklahoma City U., and Warren Woodson, director of athletics at Hardin-Simmons, in which both schools said they were extremely interested in taking part in such an attraction.

Connor said the game would be played either on Christmas Day or New Year's Day. The committee is at work at the present time completing arrangements.

DENTON TO PLAY PACIFIC DEC. 21

By The Associated Press
North Texas State's Eagles, as new champions of the Lone Star conference, will help inaugurate Houston's Optimist Bowl Dec. 21 against the College of Pacific Tigers of Stockton, Calif.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, 81-year-old coach of the Pacific eleven, accepted the invitation to attend by Coach Odus McNeill of the Eagles shortly after the Denton team had won the Lone Star crown with a 47-7 win Saturday over East Texas State.

North Texas completed the conference season with a record of four wins against one loss and wound up the season a half game ahead of the East Texas aggregation.

All-Faith Chapel Built Out Of Salvage

MOLINE, Ill. (UP)—How servicemen on the lonely island of Jimima in the Philippines built a beautiful chapel out of salvaged materials is related by the Rev. Clinton B. Meisinger, pastor of the First Christian Church of Moline.

"We enlarged a quonset hut for the framework of the church and salvaged dunnage lumber from ships. Rugs were made out of sailcloth. Our chapel became so beautiful that we wanted stained glass windows, which we obtained by removing plexiglass from wrecked planes and painting the glass.

"The chapel was used by men of all faiths, in separate services, and an average of 450 were served every Sunday."

Flock May Get Okeh To Play Jan. 1 Today

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 25. (AP)—Rice Institute of Houston, Texas, will play Tennessee in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day, the Orange Bowl committee announced today.

DALLAS, Nov. 25. (AP)—Rice Institute may announce today that it has accepted an invitation to play in the Orange Bowl provided the Southwest Conference grants it permission.

That Rice has offered to withdraw from consideration as Cotton Bowl host team if given the conference's blessing to appear in another Bowl game was verified last night by Dr. Gayle Scott, president of the conference although there was no comment from Rice officials.

Under conference rules, the championship team is automatically invited to play in the Cotton Bowl but it declines can not play in any other Bowl game. However, any other member of the conference can play in another Bowl game outside Texas if given permission.

Arkansas has finished the conference schedule with at least a tie for the championship. If Rice wins its remaining game from Baylor next Saturday it will finish in a deadlock with Arkansas for the title. Then the conference would have to be polled as to which team it wanted to play in the Cotton Bowl.

If Rice withdraws its claim now, the Cotton Bowl can go ahead getting an opponent for Arkansas.

Dr. Scott did not say Rice had informed him it wanted to play the Orange Bowl. "It was just some other bowl; I do not know which bowl," Dr. Scott said.

However, there were reports from several directions that it was the Orange Bowl and this was verified by an authoritative source who would not be quoted by name.

If Rice, winner of seven games while losing two this season, plays at Miami it will oppose Tennessee, which yesterday accepted an invitation to play in the Orange Bowl. Tennessee has won eight games and lost one.

Texas, which claims to have more bowl games than any other state in the nation, has filled one

Postpone Decision On Baseball League

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 25. (AP)—Final decision on re-activation of the former Arizona-Texas professional baseball league has been postponed until Dec. 15.

Representatives from cities which may take part in the league met here yesterday and decided to postpone the action until six or more teams can be assured of participation.

Only four cities, Phoenix, Bisbee and Tucson, Ariz., and El Paso, were prepared yesterday to commit themselves definitely.

The group rejected a proposal to merge immediately with four teams now in the Class C Sunset League, Riverside, El Centro and Anaheim, Calif., and Las Vegas, Nev.

Representatives from Globe, Miami, Juarez, Nogales and Mesa expressed hope of entering the re-organized circuit.

Briton Stars On Grid

SHARON HILL, Pa., Nov. 25. (AP)—There may be a little bit of England on the undefeated Sharon Hill High School football team—but the heart of Eric Peter Buckland now belongs to America. Blame it on football, perhaps, or the friendly influence of U. S. youth. The 18-year-old British born fullback isn't sure what makes him want to be an American. He was evacuated from his British home in 1940 during the Nazi "blitz"—returning to his family in Teddington, 10 miles outside of London, last year. But five years in the U. S. had changed Eric. "My mother couldn't understand until she saw how much I missed America and then she let me come back," explains Eric, youngest son of nine children. "The British boys don't care much for football," says Eric. A hard-charging fullback, the five-foot-ten, 162 pound youth handles the punting assignment and placekicks the extra points for the Sharon Hill eleven. Eric has tallied three touchdowns, converted 14 extra points. He lives here with the William J. Charles family. The Charleses sponsored him when he was an evacuee.

LEWIS
 tempt hearing, Hopkins added, and is prepared to let the case go to trial with an advisory jury.
 Such a trial on Wednesday had been set by Goldsborough in the event Lewis failed to "purge" himself of the alleged contempt.
 John Sonnett, chief government attorney, immediately offered to argue against the union's position, by Goldsborough cut him short. "This complaint was filed by the sovereign power by society itself," the judge said.
 "I don't think any thinking person wants to see anything happen to labor unions insofar as their raising their standards of living are concerned."
 "The defendants say they have done nothing. That amounts to saying they did not obey the restraining order."
 "But they say they did not have to obey the order because it was not legal. That's their position."
 The United Mine Workers' leader arrived at the district court shortly before 10 a. m. (EST) to answer a contempt citation.
 He was flanked by UMW attorneys directing the union chief's strategy in the legal fight.
 Justice T. Alan Goldsborough convened the hearing at 9:58 a. m. (EST).
 The small, walnut panelled courtroom was jammed to capacity.
 Thirteen minutes earlier, Lewis and the seven union lawyers entered through the judge's door. The UMW chief spoke neither to court attaches nor to his attorneys.
 At the counsel table, Lewis surveyed the crowd unsmilingly for a few minutes, then leaned forward and spoke to Welly K. Hopkins, chief UMW counsel, who was slated to make the union's opening statement.

French Reds Gain Strength In Vote
 By The Associated Press
 The communists in France appeared today to have strengthened their hold as the leading party of the Republic while in Belgium, Uruguay and the Wuertemberg-Baden section of Germany, they ran behind in Sunday elections.
 The French chose electors to select the Upper House of Parliament. The communists elected 24-721 electors and the centralist MRP party elected 24,446 although in popular vote, the MRP led by 3,838,835 to 3,736,077.
 The Rightist Social Christian (Catholic) party of Belgium appeared to have gained strength in the first incomplete returns in municipal races.
 The Colorado party of Uruguay was leading the communists about five to one in first returns.
 German voters of Wuertemberg-Baden, small state in the United States zone of occupation, approved a new constitution and elected a legislature in which the communists ran last with ten percent of the votes.

Markets
WALL STREET
 NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (AP)—Many rallying stocks of Saturday failed to follow through in today's market and irregularly lower tendencies prevailed from the opening on.
 While scattered favorites managed to make some progress, declines of fractions to 2 points or more were widely distributed near the fourth hour. Neither buying nor selling exhibited any real urgency, however, and the ticker tape frequently was at a standstill.
 Hopes for a break in the national coal dispute brought timid bidding here and there but numerous customers held aloof or trimmed commitments pending labor developments. Adjustment of accounts for income tax purposes still was a restraining factor.
 Anaconda and Kennecott pushed up in reflection of rising copper prices.
 On the losing end were Chrysler, Bethlehem, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Union Pacific, Great Northern, Montgomery Ward, Texas Co. and American Telephone.

Little Theatre Selects First Production Date
 The YMCA little theatre committee tentatively selected a play to be presented the third week in January at a meeting held Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. B. McCormick.
 A casting committee, to be headed by Ralph Cathey, who is to direct the first play, also was named. Serving with Cathey will be Charles Romine, Clara Zack, Gail Seale and Eloise Haley.
 Name of the first production will be announced soon.
 Plans also were made for scheduling a regular winter season for presentations, from October through March, and a summer season for June and July. The summer productions probably will be staged at the amphitheatre.
 Business and planning meetings are to be held on Sunday afternoons every two weeks.
 Membership in the little theatre still is open, and officials emphasized that acting in the various plays is not required of all members. Persons interested in stage settings, writing and musical production are invited to join.
 Others attending the Sunday meeting were Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser, Mrs. Carmine Farmer, Clarendia Harris, Joy Lane, Mrs. Prentiss Bass, Dorothy Sain, W. R. Dawes and Mrs. McCormick.
 John Wolcott, veteran Howard county tax collector-assessor, underwent major surgery at the Baylor hospital in Dallas this morning.
