I

By Johnny Valentine

The man on the street says to be an interesting conversationalist it is necessary to let others do ninety per cent of the talking.

There are many such obvious mistakes such as forgetting an ingredient in cooking, or a mistake in addition in our checking accounts. These mistakes are obvious to anyone coming in contact with them for they are there for all to see: something you are anyone else near to put their finger on.

But then there are the not-so-obvious mistakes. Mistakes undiscernable by the general public; only you and perhaps one or two others are conscious of it. This mistake is anger.

Do you disagree that anger is not a mistake? All right, so you lose your temper and take it out on someone, and what does it gain you? Does it truly change the happenings around you? And if it does, the changes done will be grudgingly? And, isn't there generally a little hurt pride on the recipient of the tongue lashing with a little loss of respect toward the fiery one?

So what is gained? Could not the same goal have been accomplished by a friendly word of encouragement toward the right with a mutual admiration plus a correction of ways as the end result? Therefore—don't you agree that anger is nothing but an expensive mistake?

Doctor, this is Mr. Smith. My wife has just dislocated her jaw. If you're out this way within the next week or two you might drop in."

This is sponsored by the Improvement Club and members of the Garden Club assisting. Everyone in Santa Anna and surrounding neighborhoods are invited to attend. We surely do not want our candidates to find only a small group here to greet them. BE THERE.

Part of a $2,000,000 expansion program, the ride includes a 60-foot volcano which explodes and erupts, pouring lava down the mountainside towards the passenger-filled trains below.

Santa Anna Fire Is Total Loss

An unoccupied house at corner of Fourth Street and Wallis, owned by J. L. Goodglon of Brady, burned last Tuesday night. The building was a total loss, cause of fire was undetermined.

Jim Lovelady, night watchman, reported location of fire and Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department answered call at 10:40 p. m., using both fire trucks, four lines, and possibly 1200 feet of hose. Fifteen regular firemen were on duty, remaining until between 2:00 and 2:30 a. m. Harry Walker, fire marshal remained until 3:30 a. m.

The home of Mrs. H. W. Walker, about 20 feet west of the burning building was undamaged, speaking well for the efficiency of the fire department.

Deputy Sheriff, Gary Fleeman, explained how walkie-talkies were used for the first time, with so great help in operating trucks and hose the fire department met on Monday night and voted to purchase a third set. The two now in use were donated by Bob Walton.

The fire boys had special thanks for citizen co-operation, especially Ken Bowker, Nick Buse, Jim Lovelady and J. D. Stocks.

Congressman Omar Burleson Announces For Re-Election

Congressman Omar Burleson has formally announced his candidacy for re-election to Congress, subject to the Democratic Primary on May 4 and in the General Election in November.

"The people of Coleman County responded most generously to my campaign two years ago when I had an opponent and when the area was new to the District," Burleson said in his opening statement. Coleman County was placed in the 17th District by the State Legislature in 1966, and he began officially representing it at the beginning of 1967.

The 17th Congressional District is now composed of 31 Counties, covering approximately 30,000 square miles. Within this area live about 440,000 people.

"With this tremendous area, and the fact that the Congress is in session almost continuously, it is pretty difficult to see and know people as I think their Representatives in Congress should," Burleson said in his comments. "I believe it is incumbent upon a Congressman to know people and that they know him, to have the best representation. This is fundamental to our system," he said.

In his statement, Burleson says, "During my tenure of office I have followed two guiding principles: First to know the views of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest degree possible in my actions in the Halls of Congress. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect our District, our State and our Nation."

Burleson termed his approach to Government as one of "common sense," gained through the years of public service. "I have tried to see that the people's tax money is spent as wisely and as judiciously as you would have spent it had you been in my place," he said.

"The record will show that a greater part of the time I have found myself in the minority in opposing the vast spending programs which have been put into effect in recent years. In every Session of the Congress the record will show my votes for expenditures below that recommended by the Executive Department and far less than actually appropriated by the Congress, except in the field of National Defense," Burleson said. He continued,

"Without meaning to appear boastful, if the Congress had followed those of us who have voted consistently over the years for fiscal responsibility, our financial affairs would not be in the shape they are today."

"In areas providing for the defense of our Country, I have always supported those things to make and keep our nation stronger than any other in the world," he said. "I have been discerning in separating those activities which the Federal Government was not designed to do, from those which are truly its responsibility," he said.

Burleson stated that activities of State and local governments, in accordance with the Constitution, should not be infringed and encroached upon by the Federal Government.

"The Federal Government does have specific missions," he said. He gave as examples the conservation of our natural resources, the defense of the Country and its general welfare.

"At the same time," he said, "the Federal Government can not and should not try to take care of everything from Washington, either foreign or domestic. The Federal Government has grown to colossal proportions and centralized power in Washington has increased," Burleson pointed out. "This I am opposed to, and my record is clear in this respect."

Burleson is among the senior members of the U. S. House of Representatives in point of service. His seniority has carried him to the chairmanship of the potent House Administration Committee, and to the second position to the chairman on the powerful Foreign Affairs Committee. In addition, he serves on two important joint committees formed from senior member of the House and Senate, as Chairman of one and Vice Chairman of the other.

Burleson is a former County Attorney and County Judge of Jones County. He was appointed an FBI Agent, and served in a number of assignments over the U. S. He resigned from the FBI to join the Navy in World War II, and saw duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Burleson ended his formal announcement by saying, "Although not having opposition in this year's election, it is my hope to visit my constituency as opportunity affords. The Congress being in session at this time and expected to be long after the Primary Election, there will be little time to leave duties in Washington. I expect, however, to get back home at short intervals to do the best I can in seeing my friends and to make new ones."

Garden Club To Preview Flower Show

The Mountain City Garden Club will meet Friday, April 5, at 10 a. m. in a preview of the Flower Show to be held Saturday, April 27. Mrs. Edd Burnam of Coleman, National Flower Show judge, will be guest speaker. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

Thursday, March 28, a called meeting was held at the City Library Club Room, when plans were made to clean the lot between the Premier Station and the Matthews building, and plant trees for the proposed park, honoring Mrs. Kate Mathews, first Garden Club president.

Joe Dibrell's Ruling Upheld By Supreme Court

Judge Joe Dibrell's original ruling in August 1964 was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States in a 5 to 3 decision on the question of redistricting County Commissioners Precincts in Midland County to give each precinct an equal number of population.

Dibrell said he thought the decision would effect all the counties in the state—"some more than others."

Judge Dibrell, who ruled in district court in favor of, said, "I could only do what I thought best. It was like plowing new ground in that there was no actual case law to follow." "In some ways it was perhaps a regrettable affair — which is the case any time members of one organization (a county commission for instance) are at odds with one another," he said. "However it was a decision that had to be made and, according to the high court, I made the right one."

Easter Seal Appeal Is Going Well

Coleman County's Easter Seal representative reported today that the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas is going well. Mr. Amon Johnston serves as Easter Seal Appeal Treasurer for Coleman County.

The 1968 Easter Seal Appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for children and adults in Texas. Last year the Society helped 17,622 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

The Easter Seal Society helps support 21 treatment facilities in Texas where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. These centers offer physical therapy, medical diagnosis, speech and hearing programs and related services to help the disabled build happier and more useful lives.

As Easter Seal representative Mr. Johnston is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. He can be contacted at the First Coleman National Bank, Box 552, Coleman, Texas, 76834.

When contacted for services Mr. Johnston will request the Easter Seal Society to investigate the needs of the disabled person and will ask that the Society advise the handicapped person of the best resources available to help him.

Mr. Johnston added that additional contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent him as soon as possible, as the 1968 Appeal ends on Easter Sunday, April 14.

ON MAKING QUALITY HAY

The two secrets for making good quality hay are fertilizing for rapid growth and harvesting before the plants reach maturity. Neal Pratt, extension agronomist, says a soil test should be the starting point. Because of the adequate moisture, he says, opportunities for efficiently using fertilizer are very good.

Adventists To Help Build Church in Spain

Santa Anna Seventh-Day Adventists this Saturday for the first time will contribute a special offering to help build Adventist churches and chapels in Spain.

"Since passage of Spain's 1967 religious liberty law, Adventists and other Protestant church may now look like and be identified as churches," explained Mrs. Priscilla Peterson, leader of the local Sabbath school.

"Now Adventist pastors," continued Mrs. Peterson, "may conduct public worship meetings, advertise in newspapers, and openly invite the public to worship services."

"In fact," said Mrs. Peterson, "the new Adventist church in Zaragoza, Spain, is the country's first Adventist church that looks like a church. A recent series of 30 public meetings there drew up to 850 persons a night to hear Bible and health lectures."

"Twenty-five persons were baptized as a result of the meetings, and another 450 are studying a Bible course with Adventist layment from the Zaragoza area," she said.

The Adventist church in Spain was organized in 1963. It now has 21 organized congregations with about 10 per cent of Spain's Protestants.

Your New Social Security

(By R. R. Tuley, Jr., Dist. Mgr.)

(Editor's note: This is the 10th of 11 articles giving the pertinent details of the new provisions in Social Security.)

Of special interest to military men and women and their dependents is a provision in the new social security law which promises a greater protection for them and their families.

Under the old law only a person's military base pay was counted toward social security benefits. Starting with January 1968, an additional $100 will be counted for each month in which the person in military service is receiving active duty pay.

Since social security benefits are based on average earnings over a working career, you and your family may be able to receive higher benefits later because of the additional credits.

The Congress recognized that under the old law, the social security protection of a worker might be greatly impaired during a period when he is in military service, because of the relatively low earnings covered under social security. This new provision seeks to take into account the value of payment in kind... such fringe benefits as food, housing, and clothing, and medical services which are in effect part of the serviceman's earnings.

These earnings credits will automatically be credited to your social security account, and you do not have to make any kind of application to receive them. They will not mean additional social security contributions from your paycheck, but will be attributed to the general funds of the Treasury.

March 17 to March 23, 1968.

Cause and Effect

Was Mrs. O'Leary, whose cow kicked over the lantern, legally liable for burning down the whole city of Chicago? After all, if she had not left that lantern in the barn, the fire never would have gotten started in the first place.

Obviously, in following the chain of cause and effect, it is only fair to cut off responsibility at some point. Even if you do something wrong, the law won't blame you for every single consequence, from here to eternity.

But just where is the cut-off point? That is a crucial issue in a great many of the personal injury suits so common in our courtrooms today.

To begin with, you are not liable at all if no causal connection can be shown. Suppose you are driving with an expired driver's license, and a pedestrian steps in front of your car—too suddenly for you to stop.

True, you did wrong by driving with an expired license. But that would not make you liable for hitting the pedestrian between the two events.

Even assuming a causal connection, you are still not liable if your action was not the "proximate" cause of the harm.

What is a proximate cause? Of course, no two cases are identical. But what the law looks for most often is foreseeability. That is, you are usually not held liable if harm was not reasonably foreseeable as a result of your action.

On the other hand, if harm was indeed foreseeable, you may be responsible even if the exact form of the harm was not. Pulling away someone's chair, making a minor bump likely, could lead to liability for a major injury as well.

What if there is an "intervening" cause—some misconduct by a third party, following your own misconduct, and leading to the accident? Does that intervening cause let you "off the hook"?

Often it does. Yet you might still be liable if that intervening cause was something you could fairly have expected.

For example: a hardware dealer left a rake, standing upright, in a busy aisle. A small boy, running by, stepped on the teeth of the rake, snapping the handle again a woman's head.

When she sued the hardware man for damages, he argued that his original error was nullified by the boy's misconduct in running thru the aisle. However, the court held him liable in spite of this intervening cause.

Reason: he should have foreseen, when he left the rake there, that boys—especially small ones—will be boys.

Austin, Texas — Greatest tourist - vacation season ever experienced in Texas is about to get under way. Austin will share in it, as will every other town in Texas.

Gov. John Connally has just opened the first of the 10 new Texas Travel Trails—Mountain Trail in Trans-Pecos — and dedicated the improved Davis Mountains State Park.

Spending by out-of-state visitors in Texas last year totaled $1,200,000,000. Indications are 1968 will top that substantially.

HemisFair opens April 6 (granted some near-miraculous feats of speed in construction and clean-up activities) and will continue on through October 6. Historic San Antonio's 250th birthday will be celebrated in connection with the grand open-

COURTS SPEAK

In a landmark case, the State Supreme Court found the Methodist Church's Hilltop Village non-profit retirement home, which has some residents who pay up to $215 a month, but cares for others on a charity basis, does not meet the test for tax exemption as a purely public charity.

In a long list of other decisions, the high court:

- Upheld a $5,500 judgment for a man hit by a train at Midland after he pushed a car containing a woman and eight children off the track.
- Agreed that a Potter County widow should be allowed to seek damages from a builder for defective residence construction.
- Held that Garland cannot require a permit of Texas Power and Light Company to serve an area the city wants served by its own power plant.
- Decided that a suit against an interstate truck firm, which damaged equipment in an accident near San Marcos, must be tried under the Federal Interstate Commerce Act.
- Ordered a hearing at Eastland on the effort of a candidate for district judge to prove that he meets the residence requirement necessary to get on the ballot.
- Agreed with a judgment against the J. C. Penny Co. for malicious prosecution of a man whose driver's license was used by another to cash a stolen $100 money order in their store at Marshall.
- Accepted a motion to dismiss a suit against a Houston woman for refusal to tell a judge the whereabouts of her son who was involved in a divorce action.
- Refused to grant an application for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain release from jail of an El Paso juror who was sentenced to three days and fined $100 for contempt after he flatly refused to obey a judge's order to wear a coat in the courtroom.
- Austin district court has begun a long-hearing on the application of Trans-Texas, Braniff and Continental airlines to enjoin Texas Aeronautics Commission from certifying Air Southwest Co's, four engine Electra flight service linking Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio.

HONORS ANNOUNCED

Sherman Birdwell, Jr., of Austin and Garrett Morris of Fort Worth were named by Governor Connally to new terms on the Texas Employment Commission and the Texas Liquor Control Board.

Kenneth Pearce, 37, Department of Public Safety

Intelligence agent in Corpus Christi is the new head of the undercover investigations section of the Texas Liquor Control Board.

Richard C. Gibson of Austin has been appointed to the legislative Internship Advisory Committee.

H. A. Beckwith, veteran state water official, was honored when the "Beckwith Arm" of the Falcon International Reservoir was named for him.

Dr. DeWitt C. Reddick, dean of the University of Texas Communications School, received award from Southern Illinois University for meritorious service to journalism.

Governor Connally named Irby N. Taylor of Dallas and Ward Westbrook of Jasper to the Texas Board of Accountancy.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION

Judicial sub-committee of the State Constitutional Revision Commission has recommended that judges of the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals be appointed rather than elected.

Recommendations call for appointment by the governor of top court judges from a panel submitted by a special nominating commission. Judges occasionally would "run against their records" on a public ballot, with voters marking their preference for continued services or judicial retirement. Where judges are rejected, new appointment would follow.

Norman Register, director of revenue and finance for the City of Dallas, says Texas' $250 home-furnishing exemption from ad valorem taxes should be either increased or done away with. Register told the local governments committee that in 1876 when the $250 figure was written into the constitution it was enough money to furnish a house. Now, however, that's ridiculous, he said.

Another witness before the committee said that Lubbock and Dallas are the only two cities in the state which effectively collect their ad valorem taxes on cars.

Revision commission heard strong recommendation from former Gov. Allan Shivers for four-year-terms for governors and advice from the Municipal Advisory Council that cities are losing "tens of millions" of dollars in bond interest rates because of antiquated provisions in Texas law.

"AMERICAN PARTY" NAME FREE

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has ruled that the "American Party" label may be used by George Wallace-for-President supporters in Texas.

Opinion, requested by Secretary of State Roy R. Barera, noted that the American Party name has not been certified on a Texas general election ballot since 1920, therefore it is not a "pre-existing" party whose name is protected from use today.

Martin also held that the county clerks must accept for filing American Party required notice for its conventions and registrars must furnish the party registered voter lists for not more than $5 a set in counties where it hold conventions.

Party is determined to show a membership of 14,250, the number necessary to get Wallace on the Texas general election ballot. Officials also served notice that their members will get a chance to vote at conventions on the liquor-by-the drink and the horse race betting, just like Democrats and Republicans.

MANUAL PREPARED

Atty. Gen. Martin has mailed to county and district attorney's copies of a new manual on Texas' extradition and rendition procedures.

About 800 cases involving use of these procedures for return of fleeing legal offenders to their home states are handled by the governor's office each year.

The manual is a practical guide on previously largely unwritten details, following custom and tradition rather than statutory or case law.

ATTACK WATER STANDARDS

Proposed water quality standards amendments were termed unreasonable by 200, oil, gas and chemical company representatives at a Texas Water Quality Board hearing.

One amendment would permit lowering of quality standards only where it is demonstrated to the board as needed to assure economic or social development.

It calls for the highest and best degree of waste treatment available for any industry, public or private project that conceivably could create a new pollution source. Alternative proposes industry be bound to comparably high standards of treatment the same as to those required of facilities serving the general public.

The TWQ board probably will take no action before April 25.

SULPHUR EXPLORATION

State School Land Board has approved an application by the Duval Corporation to increase from 800 to 1,800 feet the maximum depth of exploratory sulphur wells on a mineral lease in Culberson County.

Lease was one sold November 7 in Texas' first sulphur-lease sale on West Texas lands. State will receive one-sixth royalty on production from the lease.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has set May 7 for another sulphur-lease sale. This one covers 919 tracts of land in Culberson, Reeves and Pecos counties involving 8,933 acres.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Omar Bureson, M. C., 17th District, Texas Washington, D. C. — In view of the fact the U. S. Senate has recently passed a Civil Rights Bill, including the "open housing" provision, and the fact that a great many communications are being received on the subject, the following is a reprint of a release of July 7, 1966:

Section IV of the Civil Rights Bill of 1966 provides in substance that the owner of property for sale, rent or lease may not decline to sell, rent or lease to any person because of race, creed or color.

Other provisions of the measure make radical changes in an effort to confer "rights."

In 1789 the people of America were fearful that the government might restrict their freedoms. The First Congress of the United States in that year proposed the Bill of Rights.

The Bill of Rights essentially tells the government what it can not do and comprises the first ten amendments to the United States Constitution. Many countries have an abundance of natural resources, vast lands and climate as good as ours, but 40 million immigrants came to this land seeking something called freedom.

They came here with the hope of security and the promise of the precious right to live as free men with equal opportunity for all.

In July 1868 a new guarantee of freedom was ratified. Its purpose was to guard against human slavery. Its guarantees were for further protection of all. It is the 14th amendment to the Constitution, and it reads in part as follows: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Laws enacted during the past three or four years, and the proposal now before the Congress, erode the rights and freedoms of every single American property owner.

If anything more is needed to guarantee individual rights let it be that the individual American property owner, regardless of race, color or creed, should be allowed under law, to retain:

1. The right of privacy.
2. The right to choose his own friends.

3. The right to own and enjoy property according to his own dictates.

4. The right to occupy and dispose of property without governmental interference in accordance with his own judgment.

5. The right of all, equally, to enjoy property without interference by laws giving special privilege to others.

6. The right to maintain what, in his opinion, are desired surroundings for tenants.

7. The right to contract with a real estate agent or other representative of his choice and to authorize him to act for him according to his instructions.

8. The right to determine the acceptability and desirability of any prospective buyer or tenant of his property.

9. The right of every American to choose whomever, in his opinion, are congenial tenants in any property he owns and to maintain the stability and security of his income.

10. The right to enjoy the freedom to accept, reject, negotiate or not to negotiate with anyone.

The prohibition against the individual to do with his property what he wishes, so long as he does not infringe upon his neighbor, is the denial of the third element of fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution.

When government attempts to confer privilege by legislation upon some, and by so doing takes away the rights of others, it does grave violence to the Constitution.

Loss of these rights diminishes personal freedom and creates a springboard for the future erosion of our liberties.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Conley and Mike of Odessa visited Saturday with Mrs. W. E. Vanderford. They report his mother, Mrs. Eva Conley of Topeka, Kan., who has been in a Norman, Okla., hospital for two weeks, from a broken knee suffered while enroute to Houston, Texas, was able to return home this weekend.

Hospital Visitors Are Welcome

One of the nicest things that can happen when you are in the hospital is to have a visit by a friend.

The modern hospital is a complex of many forces brought together to provide care for the patient, and visitor relations is one of the most important.

In visitor relations the patient is an individual who, because of illness or injury, is brought into a strange place to get well. People wearing uniforms and speaking a foreign language, immediately become an intimate part of his life. Before he has a chance to accept his new surroundings the patient finds himself being examined, fed, dressed, moved, medicated and cared for by people he may not even know; he may not even see them again after his hospitalization. These people share a private knowledge of what is to be done and move quickly to do it. In the urgency of their business, the patient may feel confused and helpless like a child, whether he is nine or ninety. But the patient's confusion and helplessness are recognized by hospital people, and they try in every way to reassure him and make him comfortable. One way to help relieve the patient's feeling of insecurity is to surround him with familiar faces of those dear to him and to make him the center of their attention and care. It is important to him to know that his friends, relatives and business associates can come and express their concern for his welfare.

If the hospital visitor is a good visitor, the hospital must put him at ease. He needs to feel welcome and to know that the hospital cares what happens to him. Parking, information, and a comfortable place to wait need to be provided. He needs to know that visiting restrictions exist for the good of the patient. He may not always be a visitor. Some day he, too, might become a patient.

Visitors must be confident that the hospital utilizes every available resource to serve this community by providing the best possible care and making visitors, as well as patients, feel welcome.

STILL TIME FOR A FLOWER GARDEN

Abundant soil moisture and the late arrival of warmer weather can work to home flower gardener's advantage, says E. E. Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist. He suggests using started plants and planting them as soon as the soil is dry enough. By using started plants, he says attractive flower borders can be established before the hot summer weather arrives.

Sam Rutherford is at home, he was dismissed from the Brownwood hospital Wednesday of last week.
