Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

The communities of Whon and Trickham often make the news; Whon has the unique drive-in post office and Trickham an unusual name.

San Angelo Standard Times columnist Rick Smith gave mention to Trickham in his November 23 front page column. Smith quoted a San Angelo eighth grader who furnished information about the community name and interesting events about our county's oldest settlement.

Several people have asked about local "connections" of slain highway Patrolman Samuel Long, 39, who was shot near Rankin last week. The Abilene Reporter News obituary listed his birthplace as Santa Anna.

Hospital News in the March 24, 1937 issue of the NEWS mentioned the dismissal of "Mrs. N. L. Long and baby boy of Cross Plains". To our knowledge there are no local people among survivors of the slain officer.

Now that Thanksgiving is past, Christmas is drawing near. Our annual Christmas edition of the News will be published Thursday, December 23. We will again have letters to Santa Claus, so children in the community are invited to send their requests via the NEWS office.

Deadline for the Santa letters will be Friday, December 10.

Ginning Underway At SA Co-Op Gin

The Santa Anna Co-Op Gin is open for business and has ginned a total of 92 bales so far this season. No cotton was brought to the gin for a two-week period during mid-November because of wet weather, but more should be stripped and processed now if the weather remains dry.

Cotton is of good quality, according to manager William Brown, and selling for 66-70 cents per pound, about twice the price of cotton last year.

Nearly 800 bales of cotton were ginned here last year, but only half that number is expected this year. The largest and most prolific cotton area—Rockwood and Gouldbusk—had heavy hail in September that destroyed many acres of good cotton. Most of the cotton from that area had been contracted for about 70 cents per pound.

The local gin is open each day, and approximately five to 10 bales are processed each day. The Echo Gin northeast of Coleman is also in operation this year.

Christmas Opening Friday

Parade, Other Events Slated For Holiday Season Opener

S-Anna Lions' Pancake Fiesta Slated Friday

Santa Anna Lions Club members made plans for the Friday Pancake Fiesta during the business meeting Tuesday noon. Committees were named and tickets distributed to members for sale.

There were no visitors with the group Tuesday.

C. P. Wenzel reported on the good participation of local businesses in giving door prizes that now total 65.

Visitors at the November 23 meeting were Clint Horne of Abilene, a guest of his father, Roy Horne and Tom Stevens, a guest of Bill Riley. Richard Chaffin gave the program entitled "What Makes America Great," at the meeting last week.

The Christmas holiday season will officially open in Santa Anna Friday, December 3, with special activities for the entire community. Main event of the day will be the Christmas parade at 2:30 p.m. Friday afternoon.

Donnie and Chris Henderson are co-chairmen of the Chamber of Commerce activities and have announced the parade route and some of the features of the parade.

Floater, bands and other parade entries will assemble at 2 p.m. on Avenue B near City Hall. The parade will travel east to Lee Street, south to Wallis, then go through the downtown section of town twice, making a U-turn at Fourth Street. The route will then include the block south on First Street, west on North Santa Fe, north from Harvey Grocery toward the Bank and back to City Hall.

Several local groups have floats entered in the parade, and children with decorated bicycles or in costume are invited to take part. Cash prizes will be given winning entries.

The Santa Anna and Coleman High School Bands will march in the parade, and Santa Claus will be featured. Everyone with a float for the parade is asked to contact Chris or Donnie Henderson if they have not already done so. Floats will be assigned places in the parade ahead of time if possible.

Mrs. Norval Wylie is chairman of the window decoration committee that enlists clubs and organizations to decorate windows in the vacant buildings in the downtown area. The windows will also be judged for prizes Friday.

The annual Lions Club pancake sale will be held Friday from 10 a.m. through 8 p.m. Lions Club members are selling tickets for the meal or they may be purchased at the door.

A total of 65 door prizes will be given away during the day, donated by local merchants.

An added attraction this year is the Parent Teacher Organization bazaar and sale to be held in the Corner Drug building. Several organizations will have booths with items for sale as well as the PTO bake sale and rummage sale. Members of the PTO are asking for used items to be donated for the sale or they are arranging for space for those who wish to have their own display of items.

Hundreds of area people are expected to be in town for the activities Friday, and local merchants will be displaying their CHRISTMAS merchandise and welcoming friends and customers to the downtown area.

Good Turnout Reported At Innoculation Clinic

Approximately 450 people took advantage of the free influenza inoculation clinic Monday, sponsored by the State Health Department and local committee on aging.

The well-organized clinic had about 40 volunteers assisting with the clerical work and inoculations. Mrs. Henry Newman, local coordinator, was assisted by Patrick Hosch, Coleman County coordinator. Mary Maxwell of the Abilene office was on hand for the clinic as well as several members of the Department staff.

It was announced that the "Clean Up" clinic will be held Saturday, January 15, for those who missed the Monday clinic and for those aged 18 to 24 who are to receive a booster shot. The clinic will be from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Community Civic Center. Anyone in the area who missed the Monday clinic is urged to take advantage of the second one next month.

Mrs. Newman expressed her appreciation to those who assisted with the clinic that was so well organized and staffed.

Memorial Gifts To SA Cemetery

Santa Anna Cemetery Association has received a number of memorial gifts in recent weeks for people recently deceased.

Lenora and Evelyn James of Houston made a memorial gift to the late Mrs. D. W. Nickens who was buried here recently.

A memorial gift for the late Henry Turner was made by Mrs. Lee Woodward of Mineral Wells.

Those making gifts in memory to the late Mrs. J. L. Boggus have been the following: Bobby and Calvin Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Priddy, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Zachary, Mrs. Will Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Dean, Gale Allen Brock.

"Corrie" Will Be Shown Sunday Evening At FBC

A new feature film, "Corrie," will be shown Sunday evening at First Baptist Church at 6 p.m. The full-length color film is subtitled "Behind the Scenes with 'The Hiding Place'."

"The Hiding Place," a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experiences of Corrie ten Boom, who with her father, sister and brother, provided refuge for countless Jewish families during World War II. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. When the ten Booms' activities were discovered, they were sent to prisons and concentration camps.

The film includes interesting sidelights on the experiences of the cast and crew during the filming of "The Hiding Place" and it transmits part of the zesty personality and source of strength of Miss ten Boom during the dark and trying period of history.

Rev. W. M. Price, pastor of the church, stresses the showing of "Corrie" is open to the public and free of charge. Families are encouraged to attend together for what should be a memorable experience.

CONTEST ENTRIES... These three Santa Anna tots are local entries in the Coleman County "Little Miss Christmas Spirit" contest in Coleman Saturday. They will be featured in the Coleman Christmas parade at 10 a.m. December 4. Enjoying the mid-day sunshine and making friends with a pet kitten are from left, Christi Strother, Clarissa Henderson and Julie Dean.

S-Anna To Have Entries In Coleman County Events

Three Santa Anna children will be among the 50 entries in the "Little Miss Christmas Spirit" contest to be held in Coleman Saturday morning. The children will also take part in the Christmas parade at 10 a.m.

Clarissa Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Henderson, is four years of age. Her escort for the contest will be Michael Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beck Knox of Coleman.

Three-year-old Julie Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roddy Dean, will be escorted by her brother, Jason, at the contest Saturday.

Christi Strother, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Strother, will be escorted by Scotty Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson.

The children will be judged prior to the parade Saturday morning. The contest is sponsored by the Action Club of Coleman.

Also to take part in the parade Saturday will be five girls of high school age who are entries in the "Miss Christmas Spirit" event. They include Terry Kilcrease, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Kilcrease, Delma and Sylvia Salazar, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Salazar, Anita McPhail, daughter of the Royce McPhails, and Sandi Hipsher, daughter of the Edwin Hipshers. Local merchants are sponsoring the girls in the county-wide event, that has 40 entries.

The Santa Anna Band will also be marching in the parade Saturday in Coleman.

Greet The Holidays—Head On

It's the start of a busy holiday season with goings and doings for all members of your family. It's also a season when everyone wants to look their best—and well-styled, sparkling hair is a major part of your image.

If it's been a while since you've had your hair professionally cut and styled, give yourself a present that will carry you beautifully into the months ahead. Put yourself into the hands of a good hair stylist and get a cut that's best for your face and hair type. The newer styles are all body and shape and—though they may seem casual—require proper care to stay looking their best. This is equally true for men with today's longer yet well-groomed look that is so popular.

To keep hair looking good with minimum of fuss, turn to one of the versatile, efficient hair care appliances like the Super-Pro professional style pistol dryer from General

Electric. The dryer provides 1400 watts of drying power with six blow drying heat and speed combinations. The women in the home will really appreciate the five versatile styling attachments which include a body waver to give hair body or a slight curve at the ends; a curl dryer and curler for tighter spot curling; an air flow concentrator for faster styling and drying and a hands free styling stand that allows you to read, write or even flip TV channel dials between Super Bowl games.

Well-groomed is the look for the season. And a Super-Pro dryer by GE makes it super easy to do.

The following stories are from the December 3, 1937 issue of the NEWS:

The staff dormitory for the Sealy Hospital Staff Nurses has been completed and is ready for occupancy. The home is the residence one block south of the hospital formerly occupied by Mrs. H. Stevens.

The house has been completely rebuilt and four rooms have been furnished. Those residing there will be nurses who are members of the staff of the hospital whose homes are not already in the city.

The Texas Ranger Headquarters at the Pan American Exposition Grounds at Dallas has announced that the rustic furniture used at the location for the past two summers would be donated to Santa Anna for the use in the Texas Ex-Rangers Museum to be built here if Santa Anna citizens would pay transportation costs.

The new road to Coleman has been opened up and traffic will use it for about a week, when it will be closed again for a short time while tar is being added.

Construction of the road has taken about six months.

The alarm was turned in at 4:30 a.m. by George May, nightwatchman. Fireman fought the blaze three hours before the fire was extinguished.

Jud Porter, owner of the grocery, was in San Antonio getting a load of supplies for the store when the fire occurred. T. M. Hays owned the building which was destroyed.

Basketball practice at the high school started this week with a workout Tuesday in preparation for a game scheduled today with Buffalo at the consolidated school. The game will be one of several scheduled for a tournament.

A good time was reported by most everyone this holiday season. Many turkeys met their destinations at our Thanksgiving dinner tables.

In order to celebrate Thanksgiving in a big way, Aaron and Troy Avants decided to have a coon stew, but their hunt proved quite serious when Troy mistakenly shot Aaron's foot instead of the coon.

Sixty-five guests attended the openhouse given Friday night by Miss Marilyn Baxter at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Baxter. Those calling were college students home for the holidays, members of the class of '37 members of the football team, pep squad, band and their sponsors.

Bless <sup>THIS</sup> Mess

By Billie Wheatley

The weather of the last few days has left much to be desired. There's nothing like freezing temperatures, turned-off water, stopped up sinks, cold feet, and a runny nose to put most folks in a bad mood.

Stephen Schlitzer penned a little goody that fits me pretty good these days.

MORNING REPORT

The sky is dull and cheerless, The clouds are black and many, The day looks like a dismal flop.

And I'm not helping any!

Have you noticed anything rough and painful lately? Well, if you tried to do that last minute paint job, then had leaves to rake and pecans to pick up you're well aware of your hands. Don't get your hopes up, I don't have a remedy either. All I can offer is gloves, and when that fails, I hide them.

I found the following in the Farmer's Almanac and it made me feel considerably better so I will pass it on.

HANDS

The hand has been spoken of as a marvel of engineering and anatomy, and the human body's most outstanding structure. The hand's functions are innumerable.

Hands perform a thousand separate tasks a day. A mother renders first aid to a bruised knee; a surgeon wields a scalpel; a tailor threads his needle; a laborer swings his pick; a writer pecks away at his typewriter; a musician manipulates a keyboard or the strings of his instrument. Hands are symbolic of service, of helpfulness, of accomplishment.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman was a preacher of unusual ability in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was called to a humble home by one of his members who was gravely ill.

The minister listened to the lady's story of hard work as a breadwinner for a large family. Her financial support of the church had been small indeed. She whispered wistfully, "What shall I do when I stand before my Master?"

Dr. Cadman noticed her workworn hands clutching at the bedcovers. He knew that her life had been spent in unselfish service for others. He replied with all the tenderness and assurance he could command, "Show Him Your Hands."

Clothing Needed

At SDA Center

The Seventh-day Adventist Community Service Center distributes clothing and household goods to people of all denominations who need help of that kind. They are now in need of mens coats and jackets and clothing for children.

Anyone with good clean clothing is asked to donate it to the Center which is open each Tuesday from 1 to 3 p.m. or you may call Mrs. O. C. Barker and arrange for the items to be picked up.

ON HONOR ROLL

Mike Pape, a junior student, qualified for the six weeks and quarter honor rolls at Santa Anna High School. His name was not listed with the group last week.

"Call to Action" Stressed By SDA

Evangelism is to be the keyboard for the Seventh-day Adventist churches around the world, says Elder A. L. Swanson, pastor of the Santa Anna Adventist Church.

Delegates to the church's Annual Council in Washington, D. C., recently approved a "call to action" that puts evangelistic efforts at the forefront of the church's mission, says Swanson. "The document calls for relieving the local pastor of many administrative responsibilities so that he may spend more time preaching the gospel. Church laymen are to take on the task of caring for the church and its plant."

The plan also stresses placing ministerial graduates of the church's seminary in Berrien Springs, Michigan, in cities where there is no Adventist church. More effort is to be placed on radio, television and press outreach.

Other matters considered at the meeting was the rebaptism of divorced members, funding of church programs, and the role of the credentialled (but unordained) minister.

For the first time at an Annual Council, a delegate from the Soviet Union was present. Mikhail Kulakov, pastor of the Tula Adventist church south of Moscow, represented the association of churches in the U.S.S.R. He estimates the church has 30,000 members in his country.

Elder Cyril Miller, president of the Texas Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, attended the Council. The Santa Anna Church is one of the about 150 churches in the conference, which includes about three-fourths of the state of Texas.

Local People Will Attend TFB Meeting

Coleman County Farm Bureau will send 10 voting delegates to the 43rd annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Dec. 5-8 in Fort Worth, according to Victor Cardinas of Coleman, president of the 1011-member county organization.

More than 1,000 voting delegates from 210 organized county Farm Bureau will convene at the Tarrant County Convention Center to adopt state policies and approve recommendations for national policies. The latter will be forwarded to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation which will be held Jan. 9-12 in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Attending as delegates from this county will be President and Mrs. Victor Cardinas, Vice-President and Mrs. Charles Greenlee of Santa Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Neff of Santa Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Pate of Voss, and Mr. and Mrs. Felton Martin of Santa Anna.

Activities Sunday evening will include vesper service, Discussion Meet and Talent Find.

Speakers Monday morning, Dec. 6 include TFB President Carrol Chaloupka and Bill Clayton of Springlake, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. Special conference will be held during the afternoon.

Shirley Cothran Barret of Denton, Miss America of 1975 will speak at a ladies' luncheon and style show.

The annual Queen's Contest will be Monday evening, Dec. 6, with 12 district winners competing for the state crown.

The business meeting and voting session will be held Tuesday and Wednesday. Final order of business will be election of directors from even-numbered districts and the president.

The TFB Board will meet following adjournment of the contention to select a vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

Another beautiful Thanksgiving Day is history, and our little community had a nice day. But later old man winter played another trick on us, but we did miss the snow and any moisture. But oh, not the cold windy weather. Monday has been a very nice day weather wise.

Mr. Randy Keller of Baytown came Wednesday and was with the Tom Rutherford family until Saturday.

Co. Wolf Club Seeks Support

The Wolf Club of Coleman County is cooperating with the State Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service and is going to sponsor some aerial hunting to control coyotes and other predators. The helicopter has proved to be a highly effective way of controlling coyotes, but it is fairly expensive.

The Wolf Club is asking all landowners and livestock producers in Coleman County to make a donation to support this program. The target fee is .05c per acre of land that a man operates (owned or leased). Any donation will be accepted and this fee is to give people a guide to go by.

It is very important that we work together and fight predators. The coyotes have already made deep inroads into the sheep and goat industry in Coleman County which has brought in two million dollars income annually.

When the coyotes have no rabbits, sheep, goats or chickens to work on, they will kill and eat calves. One of their favorite tricks is to catch a cow calving and kill the calf and the cow. This has happened, even in this county. So the fight against predators should be of concern to the cowman as well as the sheepman.

Sportsmen and hunters will also be adversely affected by the predator build-up. Young fawns are especially helpless against a pack of coyotes. Many people feel that the large batch of turkeys we had last spring has been mainly reduced by fox and bobcat.

Livestock (Cattle and Sheep) account for from five to six million dollars annually in Coleman County. This is nearly half of the total income generated each year in Coleman County. It is an industry we need to protect.

All livestock operators who wish to support this program may make their donations to Bill Sneed at the First Coleman National Bank or Curtis Skelton at the Coleman Bank. Mr. Isaac Pate of Voss is the chairman of the Wolf Club.

Sites Staked In SA Area

Additional drilling sites have been staked in the Santa Anna area as interest increases in area oil and gas production.

Precision Drilling Co. of Coleman will drill No. 2 Duane C. Holt on a lease in the regular field three miles southeast of Santa Anna. The project is slated for 2,800 feet to test the Marble Falls.

Applications to drill two wells four miles east of Santa Anna have been made by Reserve Oil & Gas Co. of Dallas. They are in the Santa Anna East Field and include the No. 2 Campbell and No. 10 Brewer.

In the townsite of Santa Anna, JAK Oil & Gas of Brownwood has applied for re-entry of a 1,836 foot well, the No. 1 Dorothy Hull Watson. The well produced from 1950 to 1961 as No. 1 Bertie Hull.

Other locations in the Liberty area are the No. 1 and No. 2 W. D. Sheffield, two miles east of town.

The No. 22 Pettway in the Santa Anna (KROC) Field has been completed by Norman Pautsky of Wichita Falls, located eight miles southeast of Santa Anna. Daily potential was measured at nine barrels of 34 gravity oil, plus 20 barrels of water. The Brenecke Sand site is pumping from perforations at 1,293 to 1,308 feet.
