Swift Russian Columns Less Than 50 Miles From Warsaw

Pilots Report Scenes Of Panic Around Warsaw

By DANIEL DE LUCE MOSCOW, July 25 (AP)—Swift Russian columns paced by churning tanks, Kuban Cossacks and swarms of planes were less than 50 miles today from Warsaw after splitting German armies in the heart of Poland by capturing Lublin and Lukow.

The Russian drive over the dusty, unobstructed plains carried the Red army 40 miles forward in 24 hours. More than 12 hours ago, they were on the approaches of Siedce (which the Germans said they had evacuated), 50 miles east of the Polish capital.

The Soviets were less than 20 miles from the Wisla (Vistula) river, which flows by Warsaw and forms the last natural barrier to Germany itself. A swift crossing of the Wisla would outflank the Warsaw region and expose the garrison of the city of 1,265,700 to attack from the south.

LONDON, July 25 (AP)—The Moscow radio broadcast in an official statement tonight that the Russian government viewed the entry of the Red army into Poland as an entry into a friendly country and that no Soviet organizations would be established in Poland.

Red pilots report scenes of panic around Warsaw, with roads choked with transport. The main frontal assault toward Warsaw was 50 miles wide and indicated that other army groups from the northeast Bug river and from captured Lublin were about to join in a coordinated assault on the capital, 319 miles from Berlin.

The German communique reported bitter fighting continuing inside Lwow, third city of Poland already by passed and 60 miles behind Red army vanguards.

Positions of other Russian Army groups as shown by communiques were:

Within two hours forced march of East Prussia.

Frontally attacking by-passed Brest Litovsk, cut off and isolated far behind the front.

Less than 70 miles southeast of the Baltic port of Riga.

Frontally attacking Bialystok on the Leningrad - Warsaw railroad.

Recall Of Ambassador Completes Break Between Washington And Buenos Aires

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—The recall to Argentina of Ambassador Adrian Escobar completes the diplomatic break between Washington and Buenos Aires which has been developing since the Farrell regime took office last January.

Diplomatic quarrels here awaited with considerable interest tomorrow's promised statement from Buenos Aires as a possible hint whether last night's action is to be followed by the withdrawal of Argentina's ambassadors to other American capitals or whether Escobar is to be the only one affected.

In the latter event, the move would be interpreted in Washington to mean that the Argentine government headed by President Edelmiro Farrell is pursuing a policy of trying to drive a wedge into Pan American unity and split off some of the South American countries from the United States.

To combat this the other American nations have insisted on taking no action regarding Argentina except after consultation among themselves and agreement on a course satisfactory to all.

Anglo-American Oil Talks Begin

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Anglo-American talks aimed at a common postwar oil policy get underway today with both sides expecting quick agreement.

Lord Beaverbrook heads the British delegation, which is talking with an American cabinet group led by Secretary of State Hill.

The conversations are based on recommendations worked out by a group of British and American technical experts two months ago, and conclusions are to be set down in a signed agreement or exchange of notes.

The main goal is a permanent Anglo-American commission to study world oil resources and needs, so that production can be regulated accordingly.

Once an agreement is reached between this government and Britain, other countries interested in petroleum, such as Russia and several South American nations, will be invited to similar discussions.

The American plan to build a pipeline across Saudi Arabia is not expected to come up, because his government has dropped the idea as a federally-sponsored wartime project.

Germany Seeths With Confusion

Field Marshal Congratulates Adolf Hitler

LONDON, July 25 (AP)—A leader of the battered German armies in the east, Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Model sent a message of congratulations to Hitler today on his escape from assassination last week—perhaps in tacit admission that the nazis at least temporarily control the armed forces of the reich.

The message was broadcast by Transocean after the nazis had hinted they were preparing even more drastic measures to tighten their grip on the war-weary home front and Hitler's henchmen apparently had gained complete mastery of the German army.

At the same time Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons the reich government "had been at great pains" to prevent information on the upheaval in Germany from leaking out and that he was unable to estimate the full extent of the trouble "or to draw any inferences as to its likely development."

Out of a mass of reports of seething turmoil gripping the reich it has become clear that as long as the nazis are directing the war—and without question they are in the driver's seat now—they are prepared to carry on even though Germany herself becomes a battle ground.

The crowning humiliation of the army, however, came in an order yesterday substituting the Nazi "heil Hitler" salute for the regular military salute. This emphasized pointedly the army's subordination to the Nazi party.

From the immediate military standpoint the full significance of what is happening in Germany will come with the revelation of the new front commanders.

Two high commanders on the eastern front, Field Marshal Busch on the central sector, and Col. Gen. Lindemann in the Baltic states, have been replaced by SS men, the London Daily Mail said in a dispatch from the German frontier.

Solons Race Holds Interest In Texas

DALLAS, July 25 (AP)—A close congressional race between Rep. Ed Gossett and State Senator George Moffett with Gossett the apparent victor, held attention today in returns from Texas' Saturday democratic primary.

The Texas Election Bureau's latest tabulation, final unless changes developed, showed Gossett leading Moffett 358 votes in District 13, with 13 of 15 counties complete, and most of the votes in the incomplete counties in.

"It appears on the basis of these returns that Gossett is elected," the bureau said, adding, however, that there was a possibility that official canvass of the vote Saturday could cause a change.

The results moved Rep. Lindley Beckworth into the group of nominees which included Speaker Sam Rayburn, Reps. Hutton Summers, Wright Patman, Lyndon Johnson, Bob Poage, Luther Johnson, Fritz Lanham, Eugene Worley, George Mahon and Albert Thomas.

Governor Coke Stevenson and most of state offices gained reelection.

Congressional runoff were slated between Rep. Nat Patton and District Attorney Tom Pickett of Palestine, who was leading in District Seven; between Rep. Joseph Mansfield and State Senator L. J. Sulak in District 9, and between Rep. Sam Russell and former Congressman Clyde Garrett in District 17.

Stevenson's total had surged to 632,786 of the 751,022 votes cast and the bureau listed Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith as a certain winner with a majority of 10,504 over three opponents.

Dewey To Confer With Running Mate

ALBANY, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—The itinerary mapped for his trip to the conference of Republican governors in St. Louis next week, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey prepared to confer tomorrow with his running mate in the Republican bid for the presidency.

The visit of Bricker will afford Dewey the first opportunity to confer with the vice presidential candidate since they were nominated at the GOP convention.

It was announced that Dewey would expand his conferences with party leaders on the St. Louis trip to include talks with Illinois republican leaders.

Leaving New York City next Sunday night, the Governor will stop in Pittsburgh Monday, July 31, for conferences with Gov. Edward Martin and other leaders.

The following day Dewey will arrive in Springfield for similar talks with Gov. Dwight H. Green and Illinois members of congress.

Yanks Advance Against Heavy Nazi Resistance

By GLADWIN HILL SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 25 (AP)—British and American armies sprang forward in powerful twin assaults in Normandy today, supported by heavy air and artillery bombardment.

British-Canadian tanks and infantry gained up to a mile in early hours of a dawn push striking south of Caen on the east flank.

American troops jumped off shortly before noon under a strong canopy of planes, "advancing against heavy resistance," a field announcement said. No details were given but the American First army has been strung along a winding front from fallen St. Lo to Lessay on the west coast.

(Berlin said the U. S. attack hit from the area northwest of St. Lo, and admitted a "small penetration" declared to have been sealed off later.)

The double offensives broke a four-day stalemate in France.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, side-stepping a formidable German anti-tank screen southeast of Caen, sent his forces piling southward on the road to Falaise along a four-mile front, heading toward firm, open ground excellent for tank battles.

The ridge highway which the British and Canadians were following leads to Falaise and to Paris. In the early hours of the push, while the advancing troops still were shielded by ground mist, the British and Canadians reached May-Sur-Orne for an advance of 700 yards and Verrieres for a gain of 1,500 yards.

Montgomery achieved an element of surprise—although the Germans for two days have been forecasting a drive—by shifting the weight of his attack during the lull five miles to the west.

British ground troops signaled the Air Force that last night's bombardment concentrated in the La Hague Wood southeast of Caen and been "most effective." The weather today was described as good with virtually a cloudless sky.

It appeared that Montgomery was side-stepping the hidden wall of anti-tank guns just southwest of Troarn which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had managed to in place during the recent days of bad weather.

Supreme headquarters warned against premature interpretation of the New British drive as a breakthrough and said it had "limited objectives," but this is a non-committal term which would cover a thrust as far as Montgomery's powerful and keyed-up fighting machine could press it.

The Caen - Falaise highway is a 25-foot paved road running along a ridge between the Orne and Dives rivers over rising ground and through fields somewhat larger than the ones through which the Americans have been plowing to the west.

The greatest threat to the Nazi defenders of Falaise, however, was from the south. Fifth and Eighth army units steadily drove the enemy back on an arc running southwest to southeast of the historic city.

The Germans managed to stabilize the Adriatic front somewhat and brought up long-range cannon and shelled the port of Ancona but failed to prevent the continuation of the port repairs. Polish troops meanwhile brought up tanks for an assault on Ostra, 18 miles west of Ancona.

From the heights of Monte Pisano to the northeast German guns shelled portions of Pisa, south of the Arno river, which the Americans occupy, and growing enemy activity was noted along the north banks of the river.

Tokyo Reports Powerful Task Force Off Marianas

By J. B. KRUEGER Associated Press War Editor Radio Tokyo, averting its eyes from the bad news of its roughly-handled ground forces on Guam, Tinian and New Guinea, today broadcast that several powerful U. S. fleet task forces were prowling off the Marianas 1,500 miles from Japan.

The task forces are maneuvering in waters vital to Japan's safety but, said Tokyo, "the time is not yet ripe for our fleet to come out and attack the enemy."

The broadcast conceivably had two purposes: To explain why the Japanese navy made only one move to defend the Marianas—and that a costly one—and to fish for an indication of where the U. S. fleet would strike next. In the Marianas sea battles in June Japan lost 747 planes and more than 30 ships.

For the second time in two weeks the Japanese brought the Hengyang battle in China to a climax, Chungking said. Chinese relief columns were unable to pierce the ring the enemy is compressing about the rail city. The Japanese need Hengyang to close the 170-mile gap in the Hankow-Canton railway which divides China.

On newly-invasion Tinian, a Marianas island just south of Saipan, U. S. fighting men surged a mile inland to capture a third of the island's main airfield.

Marines and Army infantry met stronger opposition on Guam, 123 miles south of Tinian, but isolated an airstrip and hammered the approaches to Agaña, principal city of the U. S.-owned island and its capital.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur told of three more lunges by trapped Japanese at Allied lines hemming them in near Aitape on New Guinea. In column of companies the Japanese drove head-on into the Japanese lines.

Heavy losses made bloodier the battle of Hengyang, which sits athwart the Canton-Hankow railway the Japanese covet. The Chinese high command said Hengyang's defenders maintained their positions. U. S. planes shot up 45 aircraft in raiding an airbase near Tangling lake north of Hengyang.

Soviet Sponsored Council Demands Slice Of Germany

MOSCOW, July 25 (AP)—Demanding the inclusion of postwar Poland of all of East Prussia, most of Pomerania and other portions of eastern Germany, the Soviet-sponsored national council of Poland has declared itself "the sole lawful source of authority in Poland" and termed the Polish government in London an "imposture" and "incompetent authority."

In a manifesto released yesterday but dated at Chem, Poland, July 25—the day the city was liberated from the Germans by the Red army—the council said the "basic principle of Poland's postwar foreign policy would be a firm alliance with our direct neighbors, with the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia" and that the blood shed in joint battles against German aggression will further consolidate our friendship and strengthen our alliance with Great Britain and the United States x x x.

The London Polish government, which has been recognized by the United States and Britain, declared the formation of the liberation committee was "an attempt by a handful of usurpers to impose on the Polish nation a political leadership which is at variance with the overwhelming majority."

Vitamin C Takes Distress Out Of Hay Fever

Ohio Test Brings Hope To Pollen Victims
 A large group of Ohio people are facing "hay fever season" with new assurance and hope—thanks to a dramatic vitamin test in which they served as "guinea pigs."
 Under scientific supervision, these former victims were given generous amounts of Vitamin C during the period when pollen counts were high. Of 23 persons in the original group, 22 reported marked relief from the uncomfortable symptoms of their condition. It is still unknown, however, whether the vitamin program overcomes the allergy which causes distress.
 The simple program can be tried at home. Starting a week before "sniffles" usually appear, 5 Wheatamin CEVIGARDS may be taken daily by adults. If discomfort comes "on schedule," this dose may be doubled for a few days. Young children may receive smaller amounts.
 Wheatamin CEVIGARDS are suggested because they provide the pure vitamin in generous amounts and convenient form—and because they are made with a natural B-Complex base which provides additional nutritive values. You may obtain genuine CEVIGARDS, together with a free hay fever pamphlet, at Collins Bros., and Walgreen Drug Stores, in Big Spring. (Adv.)

Housing Shortage Is Back In One Of Its Distressing Acute Stages

Big Spring's chronic housing shortage is back in one of its distressing acute stages, according to Howard Bell, USO director, who pointed out that requests of enlisted personnel alone ran as high as 40 on some days.
 "The boy assigned to the Bombardier School in Big Spring has the same desires as your boy or your neighbor's boy who is stationed in other fields," he said. "It is natural that they want their families with them for this short time. I can't think of a better morale builder than for Big Spring people to really make an effort to make room and furnish living quarters for these men and their families."
 "The USO has an average of 30 to 40 people daily seeking places to live. Many of these days we have nothing to offer them."
 Bell outlined a new plan to handle the housing problem more efficiently, provided apartments or rooms are listed with USO. Applicants must come in person and receive a written introduction.

Housing Shortage Is Back In One Of Its Distressing Acute Stages

Big Spring's chronic housing shortage is back in one of its distressing acute stages, according to Howard Bell, USO director, who pointed out that requests of enlisted personnel alone ran as high as 40 on some days.
 "The boy assigned to the Bombardier School in Big Spring has the same desires as your boy or your neighbor's boy who is stationed in other fields," he said. "It is natural that they want their families with them for this short time. I can't think of a better morale builder than for Big Spring people to really make an effort to make room and furnish living quarters for these men and their families."
 "The USO has an average of 30 to 40 people daily seeking places to live. Many of these days we have nothing to offer them."
 Bell outlined a new plan to handle the housing problem more efficiently, provided apartments or rooms are listed with USO. Applicants must come in person and receive a written introduction.

"Pin Worms Can't Harm MY Child!"

Better learn the Truth, Mother!

You may think that Pin-Worms are just a harmless nuisance. Or you may think that this tormenting, embarrassing infection strikes only certain types of people.

ENDS 5-YEAR SIEGE OF CONSTIPATION!

"Now as Regular as Anyone!" Says H. C. Durand
 Here's a sincere, uncollected letter every disappointed "dozer" will want to read!
 "I'm 33 years old, and have been constipated over 5 years, going as much as 5 days without a movement. Pills and laxatives would relieve me only for the day I took them. Next day I'd be as bad as ever. Then I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Am now on my second box, and so regular as anyone could want, thanks to regular use of your wonderful product!"
 Mr. H. C. Durand, 221 N. Columbus Ave., Peapack, Long Island, N. Y.
 Sounds like "magic," doesn't it? Yet, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really can, and does, get at a common cause of constipation—lack of certain dietary "cellulose" elements! That's because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora stuff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out!" It is simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!
 If your constipation is of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins daily. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

To keep your fan ON the JOB ...lubricate it Regularly!

MANUFACTURERS of electric fans are making weapons of war, so your fan must last the duration. Help keep it on the job of keeping you cool by lubricating it according to the manufacturer's instructions. Remember, some fans use oil, while others have grease cups that should be filled at least once each season. Grease should be used in the gears of oscillating fans.

Since your fan probably has been working overtime during the past two months of hot weather we've had in this part of Texas, now is a good time to attend to the lubrication job.

Oil and grease other motor-driven electric appliances too that require attention. Ask at our office for helpful pamphlets and other information on the care and use of electric appliances.

Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Use what you need, but need what you use.

Editorial - - - Lost Manpower, Money

Killed—18,000. Injured—1,500,000.
Our casualty list for two and a half years of global war? No, this is the approximate toll taken by accidents to farm people of the United States every year.

No other industry in our nation has been called on to perform more miracles in production than agriculture, according to Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator. Yet more farm people were killed in accidents in the nation's first two years of participation in the war than the number of fighting men killed in actual combat. Deaths from farm work accidents last year totalled more than those in any of the other five major industries.

Machinery, or rather misuse or careless use of machinery, ranked as chief source of farm work accidents with livestock ranking second, and falls third. The toll here is appalling, but curiously enough, farm work accidents only account for one-third of the total. The other two-thirds are in the home where falls and burns rank in order as chief causes of mishaps.

But the accident harvest does not stop with lost manpower, which every year is sufficient to produce the annual wheat crop of the United States. It spreads out into property damage, as witness the annual farm fire bill of $75,000,000 to $100,000,000. The causes are about the same as in town—cigarettes and matches carelessly thrown, faulty stoves and flues, improper handling of gasoline and kerosene, defective wiring and flammable roofs. Always there is carelessness.

It is too easy to imagine the farm as a tranquil place where one is safe from any harm. Truth is, the farm is fraught with dangerous situations which spring up and threaten to sap the happiness and productivity of the farm just as weeds sap moisture in the field.

Facing the tremendous task that they do, it is to be hoped that farmers will take steps to do something about this needless loss of life, bodily injury and loss of property. It is money and manpower worse than thrown down a rat hole.

How can the job be done? First of all by good housekeeping, in the home as well as around the place. Second, by avoiding unsafe acts. Third, by not toiling around moving machinery with loose clothing. Fifth, by practicing fire prevention sensibly and continuously, including careful use of matches and smoking materials and regular checks on stoves and flues.

Competition To Meet Demand

Consumer surveys, based on information gathered from government agencies, bear out the belief that this nation will be in the market for every luxury and necessity. In the book once the war is over. Everything is included, and the demand for automobiles, refrigerators, homes, etc., will be insatiable.

The big job is to fill this demand and at a reasonable price. This will not be easy for both wages and materials costs are way up due to the war and getting them back down is likely a long way off. The solution seems to be free competition, for to survive, business will have to operate efficiently and will have to produce maximum amounts or fail. It probably won't fail.

Washington— Women Voters Count Heavily

(First of two articles on two great November unknowns—the Women's Vote and the Worker Vote.)

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — One prediction can be made now: the next president of the United States will be that man who can make the deepest inroads on the woman and worker votes.

For the first time in a presidential election, the women undoubtedly will outvote the men. Of the nearly 89,000,000 potential voters in the country, approximately 45,000,000 are women. However, in 1942 women cast 53 per cent of the total vote in congressional elections. Cross-section polls and examination of registration records indicate that in November they may cast as much as 55 per cent.

Of these potential women voters, 16,000,000 are non-agricultural workers, and it is assumed that their interest will be as workers as well as women.

Following the election in 1940, Democratic National Chairman Ed Flynn announced flatly that it was the women of the country who elected Mr. Roosevelt to his third term. His statement was made on the basis of reports from party machines.

Public opinion polls have indicated that this trend has continued, but none of any scope has been made since Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was nominated and President Roosevelt announced his willingness to run for a fourth term.

Republicans here point out that Gov. Dewey has an exceptional radio personality, is attractive personally, is one of the best conservatively dressed men in the country; is ideally married and

by Dewitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

Here's hoping the renewal of the Allied offensive in Normandy this morning is the big show! This is the crucial moment when a concerted Allied onslaught might tear through Hitler's revolt-weakened defenses. In fact that would seem to be the acid test to tell us whether we may expect a quick end to the European war.

On that basis one would expect the western allies to extend their drive in Normandy to the utmost at the earliest possible moment in conjunction with the terrific assault by the Red armies, which are going all-out for the kill. United Nations forces already are surging northward in great strength against the powerful Nazi Gothic line which defends the upper third of Italy. The Allied fourth front—the air—continues to tear at the vitals of Germany.

A mighty Allied drive in Normandy would complete the ring of death about Hitler. Today's offensives might be the beginning but we can't gauge the operations yet because the British and Canadians on the left flank, and the Americans on the right, slipped into gear so quietly in the dawn that it isn't apparent whether the war machine is to be thrown into top gear.

The Germans have said a big offensive was boiling up in Normandy. Many Russians have taken British Prime Minister Churchill's visit to that front as presaging a fresh effort. Perhaps that's wishful thinking about Churchill's mission, but there certainly have been mounting signs that the Allied volcano on the peninsula is about ready to erupt. It's no secret that huge quantities of material, and great numbers of troops, have been pouring into France.

It presumably is this picture which encourages the Russians to expect a mighty effort in Normandy. They believe that Hitler's eastern and western fronts will blow up if simultaneous pressure is put on them in a big way. Judging from his disaster in the Russo-German theater, this might happen.

Things, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is Thine.—I Chronicles 29:11.

I pray Thee, O God, that I may be beautiful within.—Socrates.

Sing unto the Lord, bless His name; shew forth His salvation from day to day.—Psalm 96:2.

A song will outlive all sermons in the memory.—Giles.

What the political parties are doing to woo the women's vote is apparent on every hand. Never before have women had such influence in the party councils. But whether they will simply split along male voting lines or give a preponderance of their votes to either Dewey or Mr. Roosevelt is one of the great November unknowns.

Ernie Pyle: It's A Small World; Ernie Bumps Into Home-Towner

By ERNIE PYLE
SOMEWHERE IN NORMANDY (By Wireless)—The cook on LST No. 392, on which I came to France, was a beefy, good-natured fellow named Edward Strucker, of (324 17th St.) Barberton, O., which is near Akron. Cooking on these transport ships is a terrible job, for you suddenly have to turn out twice as much food as normally. But Eddie is not the worrying type, and he takes it all in his stride.

Eddie has a brother named Charlie in the Army Engineers, and in the past year he has been lucky enough to run into him four times—once in Africa, once in Sicily, and twice in Italy.

One of those small-world experiences happened to me, too, while on that ship. We lay at anchor in a certain harbor a couple of days before sailing for France. On the second day I was in the washroom shaving when a sailor came in and said there was a Commander Greene who wanted to see me in the captain's cabin.

The only Greene I could think of who might be a commander in the Navy was Lieut. Terry Greene, whom I had known in my Greenwich Village days. You didn't know I ever had any Greenwich Village days? Well, don't get excited, because they weren't very lurid anyhow.

At any rate I went to the captain's cabin, and sure enough it was the same Terry Greene all right. By some strange coincidence we had both got 17 years older in the meantime. Greene held a very important position in the convoy. He was tickled to death with his assignment, for he had been in the States almost the whole war and was about to go nuts for some action.

I haven't seen him on this side of the Channel to discuss it, but I'm afraid our trip over wasn't as exciting as he would have liked. But you can't please everybody, and it was just tame enough to suit me fine.

In your travels around the world if you ever happen to be sailing on LST No. 392 you might climb a ladder to a high platform

Comment: Capitol

By GEORGE STIMPSON
As I remember, it was Jack Garner who established the tradition that no man should serve longer than eight years as vice president under Roosevelt.

Infantile paralysis has reached epidemic levels in North Carolina and Kentucky, and Washington officials are taking precautions to curb the spread of the disease here, where the fourth case has been reported.

When the Nazis and the Japs attacked us they probably were not aware of the fact that the United States included Texas. During these hot summer days in Washington I find it hard to establish a beachhead at drinking fountains.

"What impresses you most about this country?" I asked a Texas Marine just back from two years of service in the Pacific. "The plentifulness of everything; it's a wonderful feeling to be back in a land of plenty," he replied.

Charlie Michelson, who is back as publicity adviser to the Democratic National Committee, may find that he was a little premature in the publication of his book, "The Ghost Talks." It was Job, as I recall, who wished his enemy would write a book.

Generally books written by politicians before they retire contain little that is important. It's hard to get the real truth out of a politician until after he has given up all hope of being president. The manpower shortage in Washington threatens the city with an ice shortage. The capital gets its ice from four manufacturing plants plus importations from Frederick, Md., and Philadelphia and Waynesboro, Pa. Wright Patman's 584th Weekly Letter tells us that home re-

Keys At The Capitol Gilchrist "Names" A Curve

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff
It's NOT listed officially but a long S-curve on U. S. highway 290 west of Austin will always be known to highway department engineers as Gilchrist Curve, after Gibb Gilchrist, former state highway engineer, now president of Texas A. & M. college.

The story:
When a new location was made for the highway the S-curve was eliminated by a district engineer who made up the new route map. Gilchrist approved the route map, except for the curve elimination. The plans went back to the district engineer who began building the road with curve elimination. Not until Gilchrist appeared on the job was the omission noted. He ordered the curve restored because, he said, the highway was a scenic one and that curve bordering two pretty hills was to stay in.

Gilchrist was a man who backed his ideas with action. Red flags waved by maintenance crew workers to warn motorists approaching detours irritated Gilchrist. He substituted yellow flags.

That may have been shortly after the time he came upon a worker at a detour site vigorously flaunting a red flag. Gilchrist stopped his car, jumped out and asked the worker:

"Who told you to wave a flag like that?"

"The foreman down there," said the man, who did not know Gilchrist.

"That is an awful way to wave a flag," commented Gilchrist. "Well, you wave it then," said the worker who left the non-plussed highway engineer in the middle of the road with a flag thrust in his hand.

Camp Swift, a wartime installation near Bastrop, Smithville and Elgin, is rapidly taking on a true Texas atmosphere. Two of three post commanders have been native Texans and each of the two has been promoted to the rank of full colonel while in command of the post. The present commander, Col. O. P. Houston, is a native of Kyle. Col. Lawrence A. Kurtz is a native of Edna.

State Senator Marshall Formby of McAfee who is now stationed in England with the armed forces writes that he visited Shakespeare's home and saw two of the bard's plays.

But he hastens to add he prefers Harley Sadler's productions. Sadler, a member of the house of representatives from Sweetwater, is proprietor of a tent show. Sadler decided not to seek re-nomination but his friends insisted that he run again and filed notice of his candidacy.

Senator Tom Connally's staff may soon acquire an attorney. She's already his secretary but if Miss Lou Nor. Spiller passes her bar examination (she was among the last group to be examined) she may become a secretary-attorney.

Somewhere in the Pacific the Lone Star or 99th Naval Construction battalion observed its first anniversary last June 24.

The first Seabee battalion to receive a state designation, it was so named by proclamation of Governor Stevenson who conferred honorary Texas citizenship upon non-Texans in its personnel at the time of organization. The 99th sends back a colorful anniversary edition of its publication, Lone Star.

The census bureau has a partial answer to four men from Midland who from somewhere in the Marshalls, via an Associated Press dispatch, wondered if there were any males left in Texas. The bureau says that as far back as last year Texas women far outnumbered men among civilian population in the state's seven largest metropolitan areas. The Midlanders, all naval officers and all in the same unit at an advanced base are Lawrence E. Nugent, Jr., Kenneth W. Germond, John V. Norman, Jr., and Charles P. Linehan. Spurgeon Bell of Houston who resigned as state's attorney in the court of criminal appeals to accept appointment in the United States naval reserve has completed four training courses and is ready for active duty.

Negro Voters Smack Tradition A Double Blow When They Organize Demo Parley

By BRACK CURRY
HOUSTON, July 25 (AP) — Negro voters smashed tradition a double blow when they organized a democratic precinct convention here Saturday and at another named negro delegates to the county convention July 29, says Chairman M. L. O. Andrews of the Harris county democratic executive committee.

The precinct 25 convention, called by E. H. Harrison, a negro union official and vice president of the third ward civic club, was the first ever organized in the south by negroes, Andrews believes.

With three whites and 50 to 60 negroes attending, the convention elected Harrison temporary chairman. Miss Lottie Wallis, a white woman, was named to cast the precinct's one vote at the democratic county convention. She is the precinct election judge.

Andrews, asked if this action means that the democratic party is open to negroes, answered: "This means that as a result of the Supreme Court ruling (opening democratic primaries to negro voters) political parties haven't got the right to say who can be a member. Churches and clubs can exclude individuals from membership if they desire but the Supreme Court says political parties cannot do so."

Miss Wallis was named, Harrison said in an interview, "because the custom in the precinct was that the precinct judge be elected the first delegate and we were entitled to only one delegate."

Ten whites and 10 negroes were elected delegates to the county convention in precinct 48 convention, said Andrews. Attended by a large number of negroes, this convention was organized by whites, he stated.

With negro voting for the first time in a Texas democratic primary, precinct 25 rolled up its heaviest vote in history, Miss Wallis said. Four hundred votes were tallied compared with 16 cast by all-white voters in the 1942 primary election.

Andrews said the precinct had from 25 to 50 qualified white voters and about 1,000 eligible negro voters.

Section A Pins 7-1 Defeat On The Bombers

Johnny Kowalski's homer with two mates aboard helped the Flying Section A softballers pin a 7-1 defeat on the second place Bombers Monday evening and assured Section A of a place in the forthcoming championship playoffs of the enlisted men's league at the Big Spring Bomber school.

Flynn Dunham bested Leroy Mullins, allowing only four hits while his Section A mates were gathering 10 assorted blows. Kowalski's homer, first of his three hits, broke a scoreless deadlock and gave Section A a three-run lead in the fourth.

The win assured Section A of the first half championship with a record of 13 wins against three defeats. The Bombers trailed a full game behind with others in this order: Maintenance & Supply, Station Guards, Medics, Ordnance and the Wildcats.

Play-off will get underway sometime around Aug. 25 with the four top teams fighting for the title.

Soldiers Find Chicago The Ideal Place To Spend A Furlough Free

By JAMES MARLOW
CHICAGO, July 25 (AP) — This brassy city is building goodwill for itself all over the world by the way it treats service men and women.

They can come here — and do — to spend their furloughs and leaves without ever spending a dime.

They carry the word back to American camps and to American forces overseas.

This is how Chicago does it, a lesson in community cooperation: There are four large centers: A

Heavy Bombers Support Drive In Normandy

LONDON, July 25 (AP) — Well over 1,500 U. S. heavy bombers, the greatest fleet of four-engined aircraft ever dispatched on a single mission, and an equal number of lighter planes were thrown against the Germans in the western sector of the Normandy front today to carve a path of advance for Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's new offensive.

The tremendous force, composed entirely of American planes, also was the largest ever hurled into one operation, surpassing the great armada of just under 3,600 which unloaded nearly 8,000 tons of explosives on the Germans below Caen to support the Orne river drive of a week ago today.

The Allied aerial assault in support of the Normandy ground forces followed far-flung night operations by the RAF which included an attack on Stuttgart by a fleet of perhaps 1,000 heavy bombers and a Mosquito raid on Berlin.

From these and other operations 25 planes were reported missing.

Heavy bombardment by all types of Allied bombers preceded the forenoon drive by the American first army against the Germans in the Lessay-Ferrieres - St. Lo line, which field dispatches said was moving ahead in the face of stiff opposition.

Southern France was also under attack last night for the second time in less than 24 hours as Italian-based bombers struck a German airfield in the Rhine valley in a quick followup to daylight blows yesterday in air raids in that area by MAAF heavy bombers, which also smashed at targets in northern Italy and Yugoslavia.

More Water Caught In Lakes

Reports from Moss and Powell Creek lakes Tuesday showed additional water trapped from showers during the weekend, a providential development in light of a delay in shipment of cast iron pipe for the city's supplemental water supply project.

Work was to have started Monday on the 21-mile pipeline job but when shipment of cast iron pipe was delayed by the mills, FWA set the work order date back to Aug. 7, at which time pipe is supposed to be available. This in turn means a recession by two weeks in the scheduled completion date, which would make the forepart of October the earliest date at which water from north-central Glasscock county could be boosted into Big Spring.

From Sunday afternoon showers, Moss Creek lake received an additional 18 inches of water, boosting the level to eight feet, four inches. Powell Creek caught another eight inches, making a total of five feet, six inches.

City officials estimated that the supply could be stretched well into August, thus protecting the wells, on which the city has depended almost exclusively for a year, from dangerous over-production.

Meanwhile, one well had been completed on the O'Barr ranch in Glasscock county but had not been tested in absence of a pump. The first 30-inch well was being drilled but encountered trouble as circulation was lost when drillers logged a crevice. One such crack, further up the hole, was mudded off but the second defied all efforts to restore rotary of circulation.

Marvin Ulmer Is Rotary Speaker

Marvin C. Ulmer, of Midland, who is president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Bankers association, was guest speaker at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Rotary club which met at the Settles hotel.

Ulmer who was introduced by Ira Thurman, program chairman, talked on post-war construction and the need for getting away from labor tyranny and bureaucracy. "We should get back to the fundamentals upon which our country was founded, with capital and labor sharing the burden and responsibility and all working together for the good of all communities, setting aside community and civic jealousies.

Guests attending the meeting were Tom Noel of Memphis, Col. John P. Kenny and Lt. Col. Paul Duvell of AAFBS.

Anti-Roosevelt Demos Meet In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 25 (AP)—Anti-Roosevelt democrats in Alabama will gather here tonight to discuss entering a slate of "independent democrats" on the ticket in November.

R. DuPont Thompson, Birmingham attorney and member of an organizing group which met here in preliminary session July 12, said similar activities were under way in Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

If a second democratic party is formed in Alabama, Thompson said it would enter a list of presidential electors pledged to an anti-administration democrat.

Boy Suffering Polio

The first case of infantile paralysis in Howard county this year, that of a small boy visiting his grandfather near Big Spring, was reported Tuesday.

The boy is the grandson of W. H. Coeeman, 15 miles from Big Spring on the Gall road.

He is suffering a mild case and his condition is not believed to be serious.

Youth Meeting Is Called By Malone

Dr. P. W. Malone has called a meeting of all boys from 15 to 17 years of age to meet at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the high school if they are interested in the Civil Air Patrol cadet program.

From the group Big Spring representatives will be chosen to attend a CAP cadet summer camp to be held here late next month at the Big Spring Bomber school.

More Mexicans To Be Imported To US

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP) — Ten thousand more Mexicans will be imported as track workers on 29 railroads, bringing the total to 50,000, the War Manpower Commission announced today.

Under arrangements with the Mexican government the laborers, recruited by the railroad retirement board under supervision of the manpower commission, may not engage in work other than on railroads. Others, however, have been imported for farm work under sponsorship of the agriculture department.

Each railroad worker signs a contract with the United States government for six months, subject to renewal.

LONDON ATTACKED AGAIN

LONDON, July 25 (AP) — London again was the target of German flying bomb attacks during the night. A number of the robots also fell at scattered points in the southern counties. The attacks were on a lesser scale than recent nights, however.

Shortage Of Truck, Bus Tires Serious

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—A shortage of truck and bus tires so serious as to threaten essential civilian transport will be laid for solution before the full War Production board, reliable sources reported today.

The board will weigh a plan, approved yesterday by the WPB requirements committee, under which about 145,000 of the big tires would be diverted to truck and bus operators from three sources: the Army, export quotas set aside for the Foreign Economic Administration and supplies earmarked for new vehicles.

Truck and bus operators already hold tens of thousands of ration certificates but cannot cash them because their suppliers have no tires.

All agencies agree that the situation could result in transportation breakdown. John V. Lawrence, director of the American Trucking association, has estimated that the heavy truck forces off the road for lack of tires can now be "counted in the thousands."

Maj. Gen. Walker Back Among Familiar Surroundings After Service In Italy

FORT BENNING, Ga., July 25 (AP) — Back among familiar surroundings today is Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, former commander of the 38th (Texas) division which gained fame for its fighting in Italy.

Gen. Walker nearly two decades ago was a student at the Fort Benning Infantry School. Yesterday he assumed the duties of commandant of the school, and recalled:

"I was stationed at the infantry school in the early 20's as a student and an instructor and so am not unfamiliar with its operation and its doctrine."

The general said he had not had time since returning to the United States to plan any trips, although he said he had received many invitations. He remarked it would be "some time" before he could say whether he could include Texas in any journey which he might make.

Walker took over his new duties after a conference at post headquarters with Brig. Gen. William A. Hobson, post commander. He also conferred at the infantry school headquarters with Brig. Gen. George H. Weems, assistant commandant; Col. Harold E. Potter, executive officer, and members of his staff.

"The (infantry) school has done and is doing a very important and valuable job in the war and I am greatly pleased to take a part in it," commented Gen. Walker.

Concerning his experiences overseas, General Walker recalled a statement he made recently to Lt. Gen. Ben Lear, commanding general of the army ground forces.

"I have observed our soldiers in battle on the Italian front over a period of ten months and I am convinced our soldiers are better than the Germans," he told General Lear. "Our soldiers are more cheerful, more confident and better marksmen. After having seen our men going through the hardships of last winter during which they were subject to almost continual rains, mud, cold rations and a continual artillery and mortar fire, maintaining a cheerfulness far superior to the enemy, I feel confident they are capable of being made into the best soldiers in the world."

Army Needs Women In Medical Fields

"We are desperate for girls," Capt. Nina E. V. Donahue, here to interview prospective recruits for medical technicians, said Tuesday afternoon.

Captain Donahue, who is WAC representative from the office of officer procurement service at Dallas, outlined the plight in regard to caring for returning wounded soldiers and said thousands of girls are needed to fill laboratory, medical, surgical and other positions as technicians. They will work with soldiers coming from hospital ships bringing wounded back to the states.

"Any girl who is physically fit and has the qualifications is morally obligated to do her part in this work," the officer said. High school education, age between 20 and 40 and desire to do that type of work are only qualifications required for some of the positions.

Women interested in the work may see Captain Donahue until 8 p. m. Tuesday in the army recruiting office in the basement of the federal building. After today, they may see Lt. Dede N. Cook, officer in charge of the station here.
