Farmers Say Crippled US

Farm Bureau Speakers Assert Rubber, Steel Stocks Kept Too Low

Present shortages of vital war materials were attributed to short-sighted policies of industry today by two speakers at a district meeting here of the Texas Farm Bureau.

"While we farmers built up surproducts that can carry this naon a good while, industry was following a policy of scarcity," asserted Cliff Day, Plainview farmer and special representative of the AAA. "As a result, we are short on rubber and steel now for ighting this war."

His point was reiterated by R. G. Arnold, southern regional organizer for the American Farm Bureau Federation

Arnold pointed out that indus-trialists have an average annual income of $6,000 per year per family; that the average laborer's family has an average income of about $2,600; that the average farm family makes $650 to $700 per year.

"Can farmers contribute much to the war effort on that kind of income?" Arnold asked. He asserted dollars in 1932 to more than 11 bilions in 1941.

Day defended farmers against Naval Experts Sayaccusations that they are attempt-ing to run up the cost of living by insisting on parity prices for their products. "We are accused by people who don't know the cost of producing a dozen eggs or a pound of butter," he said.
"We could double the price of cotton and yet the cost of an average shirt would thereby be raised only a dime. But we are getting credit for all of the 50 to 75 percent increases that merch ants have added to the price of shirts recently."

Day promised that farmers of sition group in parliament, as de-scribed by the source of this specuthe nation would feed and clothe the nation bountifully during the war, as well as produce goods for shipment to the allies and for the He said the opposition to Churrebuilding of the world after the chill was diseatisfied primarily on armistice.

Phenomenal Yields—autumn came an almost incredible four bales an acre from the most productive spot in the field that averaged better than three bales to the acre. These pictures were taken on the Von Roeder farms at Knapp, Texas, in southeastern Borden county. An exact acre was measured, and when it was picked, the return showed 5,589 pounds of clean seed cotton. Since the Von Roeder cotton gins 40 per cent, this means four big bales, or as the government calculates a bale, around four and a half. Note the unique planting arrangement—two rows 40 inches apart then a 10-foot skip. In the rows, plants are $4 inches apart to allow maximum sunshine and air, thus reducing insect ravages. Early Planning Of

This shrub is guayule (pro-mounced wah-you'-lee). White men first learned of the guayule in 1519, when Cortes in Mexico observed what Christopher Columbus had observed before him farther south-Indians playing with bouncing balls. The presence of the shrub in the United States is supposed to have been discovered by accident. Cows grazing in the dry lands of the southwest died mysteriously. Autopsies showed rub ber pellets in their stomachs.

A German scientist is responsible for bringing guayule to attention as a possible source of rubber. He started commercial experiments with it in Mexico long before there was a Hitler. His work began around 1878, after prices of rubber from Brazil, then the only source went sky high.

The scientist had trouble with processing experiments, however, and abandoned the idea after an Englishman, Sir Henry Wickham, brought prices down by a more direct method: smuggling rubber seeds out of the Amazon valley and planting them in an organ-ized way in the East Indies.

Oil Allowable Change Studied

AUSTIN, March 5 CP9-The Ten as railroad commission scheduled an emergency conference today to study revision of authorized oil allowable for March.

The meeting was set as a result of a recommendation from Federal Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes that Texas production be cut to 1,338,600 barrels daily. Current production is estimated at 1,473,000

Chairman Ernest O. Thompson favored three additional shutdown days for March in order to bring Texas output within the revised estimate of the office of the petroleum coordinator which orig-inally had estimated 1,510,600 bar-rels would be needed to meet daily demand in Texas.

Nine non-producing days have already been stipulated for March. Each additional shutin would cut average daily production by about 60,000 barrels

Man About Manhattan-This Guy Cantor Never

Seems To Be In Hurry

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Yesterday be-tween 1 p. m. and 1:43 p. m. Eddie Cantor got out of bed, pulled a dressing gown over his red figured palamas, downed a goblet of citrus juice, knocked over three poached eggs, toast, coffee, hot cereal, confirmed an appointment with Edward G. Robinson, conferred with his managers, made a date to rehearse a new song, discussed the sale of naval relief tickets, commented on the news, defined the missions of actors, especially comedians, in war time, and submitted to an interview-

You didn't ask for half enough,'... And he doubled the request ... Jack Benny is a very swell guy, a very liberal guy, and a very great comedian." I pushed a button marked, "Actors in War Time."

"I'm going to see Eddie Robinson in a little while. Next to Cary given more money and time to the USO than anybody else. On one occasion he gave a hundred thousand dollars, and you know how he explained his reasons for doing it? He said, 'This is a small down B. J. McDaniel, city manager, payment on the privilege of being an American.' Cary Grant has structive job of anybody in Hollywood."

> I pushed a button that asked, What About Melvyn Douglas?" "Once upon a time, in California, there was a fruit growers strike, Melvyn Douglas committed the crime of donating a sum of noney to the children of these strikers, so that the little children wouldn't starve. I glanced at the clock, I knew that between then and midnight Eddie Cantor had rehearsals to give, tickets for the naval relief to sell, a dinner appointment, a conference with his three radio writers, a show to do, another conference with his sponsors, makeup to put on, costumes to change cross-town jaunts in taxicabs to take ... But he seemed as casual as a sailor under a palm tree on a

"The new taxes will be severe, and their impact will be felt in every American hains," the treasury chief told the house ways and means committee. "War is never cheap, but x z z it is a million times cheaper to win than to lose."

The additional taxes which he proposed would, by themselves, be greater than ever collected by the federal government in a single year prior to 1941.

As a down payment on victory, Morgenthau asked doubling of most people's individual income tax, with rates so stiff that a single man with a $5,000 salery would pay $500 tax and if he made $1,000,000 would only be allowed to heep about $100,000. Part of the tax probably would be deducted

Newspaper advertising in a nation at War

TEVER BEFORE have people turned to newspapers so eagerly, trustingly, hungrily, and in such large numbers...for all the news, for full reports, for complete details.

Total war, into which this country was forced so suddenly, has added immeasurably to the responsibility of American newspapers...a responsibility they have been quick to meet, regardless of the cost and the effort.

It is a two-fold responsibility...

A responsibility, first, to the public... to keep it fully informed in these critical days, to bring it the vital news of the day, completely, accurately and quickly.

A responsibility to advertisers, too...to give them the best means of telling their story, presenting their merchandise and services to the public where and when it will do the most good. In fulfilling this responsibility, newspapers are serving not only manufacturers and retailers who have things to sell...they are also serving the millions of readers who must continue to buy the countless things they need and want

In newspapers the advertising is news, too ... more so today than ever before. In newspapers the advertising is received as a welcome, helpful service. That is why, as The Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading shows, people read the ads as well as the news so thoroughly.

And the Study shows that big news, war news, increases the reading of newspaper ads ... that when big news breaks, the advertiser can count on even closer attention to his message by even more people than in normal times.

To the men and women of this country the newspaper is more valuable today than ever before. That's what makes it so valuable a medium today for all advertisers ... whether their problem is to produce more sales, build good-will, describe their part in the war program, advise consumers on the war-time use of their products, or to maintain brand identity, dealer friendship, and public acceptance for the peace-time years to come.

Birth Record Necessary For SS Benefits Many inquiries and investiga tions have been made recently in regard to the procedure which should be followed by individuals in establishing their proof of age. A large number of such inquiries were made on the social security board. These requested information for ready reference when the time comes for them to file claim for federal old-age and survivors insurance benefits, according to Elliott W. Adams, manager of the Big Spring office of the board.

"While it is a fact that one year one month, or even one day may make a difference in one's old-age insurance benefits, the task of establishing a birth record is not as difficult as many people believe, Adams stated.

the social security board must have in its possession proof of date of birth before a claim may be accepted for old-age and survivors insurance as a guide to people who some of the proofs acceptable to the social security board:

Barr Jury Hints At Her Sentence

DALLAS, March 5. (A)-The jury in the trial of Mrs. Juanita Barr, charged with murder of Mrs Blanche Woodall, night club dancer, sent a note of inquiry to Judge Henry King this morning asking if a penalty of from two to five years could be returned without recommendation of a suspended sentence.

The jury had been out more than twelve hours when it sent in the note.

Mrs. Barr, estranged wife of Eddie Barr, former Dallas newspaper columnist, allegedly shot Mrs. Woodall to death in her apartme
