Texas Teachers Suggest Reforms on HB 72

The Texas State Teachers Association this week presented its legislative education agenda for the 69th Legislature. At a Capitol news conference, TSTA President Becky Brooks outlined the organization's goals of addressing inequities in the education reform bill, HB 72, as well as establishing procedure for insuring input into local school board decisions.

The TSTA leader pointed to major flaws in HB 72, including increased paperwork, longer school days, non-payment for tutoring sessions, an underfunded career ladder which subverts the promise of reward for career teachers and pay that is generally too low for all school employees.

She also added that HB 72 had shifted a great many educational and financial decisions from the state level to the local school boards, making it more necessary to formalize the teachers' role in determining those decisions.

'We are not saying kill the reforms nor stall the reforms nor dilute the reforms,' Brooks said. 'In fact, we support many of these reforms that we had been seeking for years.'

'We must, however, have reforms that actually work. We seek additional reforms that were omitted from last summer's reform package and we want to modify some of those which were passed without serious consideration as to the havoc they could reap upon students and teachers.

Senator John Sharp presented an example of this this week when he filed a bill to eliminate the controversial across-the-board, one-time competency test for teachers. Sharp's bill calls for a competency test to be given however, to those teachers deemed deficient as a result of the state-developed evaluation process now in HB 72. This evaluation would be administered at the local level. The bill also allows for substitution of an acceptable test such as the National Teachers Exam or the Graduate Record Exam for proof of literacy.

The TSTA President cited a recent survey for TSTA by professors at Sam Houston State University which reflects that 39.8 percent of all Texas teachers are seriously considering leaving the profession, the highest mark in the past decade.

'The main reason given was, of course, financial,' she said. 'But the second most frequent reason given was bad working conditions, including stress, burnout, paperwork and other problems,' she added.

Brooks said that unless conditions for teachers improve immediately, the state can expect a wave of resignations and early retirements because teachers don't want to teach anymore.

'The time has come to recognize that true school renewal requires the cooperative leadership of both the politicians and educators,' she concluded.

RRC Approves $23 Million Gas Rate Reduction to Lone Star Gas

AUSTIN, Texas, January 9—The Railroad Commission approved Monday natural gas contract changes between Delhi Gas Pipeline Corporation and Lone Star Gas Company which will reduce rates to Lone Star and its customers by some $23 million annually.

The new rates are effective January 1.

Customers of Lone Star will benefit from lower gas costs under the contract changes since the company must pass the reduced costs directly to customers using previously approved automatic adjustment clauses.

Two separate rate reductions are included in the contract changes. First, the rate charged by Delhi for the gas itself will be reduced from approximately $6.36 per MMBtu to $3.30 per MMBtu. (There are approximately one million Btus of energy in a thousand cubic feet of natural gas.) Annual savings to Lone Star from this change are estimated at $23,059,895.

Second, Lone Star agreed not to charge Delhi any transportation fees for gas transported under three agreements between the companies. Estimated annual savings to Delhi are $292,000.

Coleman Co.

Accounted for $68.6 million

Petroleum Production in Texas

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Coleman County wells made an important contribution to the county's economy in 1983 and accounted for $68.6 million of the $38.3 billion wellhead value of Texas petroleum production last year.

In its annual survey of the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association reported that the county ranked 123rd among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of the value of its marketing petroleum production. These production figures included condensate and casinghead gas.

The county's wells produced 1.5 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $43.2 million, and 11.3 billion cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $25.4 million. Owners of royalty in the county received $8.6 million as their share of the output, the Association noted.

The chairman of the Association, J. C. Walter, Jr., of Houston, said: 'These figures give evidence that again last year the petroleum industry was of great importance to the economies of those counties throughout the state with significant production.'

In addition to paying property taxes to cities, counties and school districts, producers in the county supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $3.9 million, according to the Association survey. Crude oil taxes amounted to $2 million, while natural gas levies totaled $1.9 million.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 310 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $5.4 million in 1983.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county, oil and gas producers spent a reported $47.3 million in the drilling of 378 wells, including 20 wildcat, or exploratory, wells. This effort resulted in the successful completion of 203 oil wells and 59 gas wells, although some $14.5 million was lost in the drilling of 116 dry holes. As of April 1, 1984, there were 1,878 producing wells in the county; 1,293 oil and 585 gas.

Petroleum processing also contributed to the county economy, with four natural gasoline processing plants, having a total daily capacity of 8.2 million cubic feet of natural gas, in operation.

Social Security May Be Taxable

People who had substantial income in 1984 in addition to their Social Security benefits may have to pay federal income taxes on part of their benefits, Priscilla Ely, Social Security Manager in Brownwood, said recently. Ely estimates that only one in 10 persons who received Social Security payments in 1984 will actually owe any taxes on the benefits.

To determine if any tax is owed on Social Security benefits the first step is to figure 'countable income,' Ely explained. Countable income includes all taxable income, plus non-taxable interest, plus one-half of 1984 Social Security benefits. Couples filing a joint return should be sure to include their combined income and benefits, even if only one of them gets Social Security.

According to Ely, if the total countable income is less than the base amounts shown below for a person's tax filing status, Social Security benefits are not subject to tax.

$25,000 for a person filing as a single taxpayer.

$32,000 combined income for a married couple filing a joint tax return. Note: This may include people recently widowed).

$0 for a couple married for part or all of 1984 filing separate tax returns.

If countable income is more than these base amounts, the amount of benefits subject to tax is the smaller of: one-half of countable income above the base amounts, or one-half of the annual Social Security benefits. Thus, never more than one-half of Social Security benefits is subject to tax, Ely pointed out.

Every person who received a Social Security benefit in 1984 will receive a Social Security Benefit statement, Form SSA-1099, before the end of January, 1985, Ely said. The form will show the amount of Social Security benefits received in 1984 and any amounts returned or paid back. The net figure provided should be used in figuring 'countable income.' A worksheet, IRS Notice 703, which can be used to determine if any benefits are taxable, will come with the Form SSA-1099.

Ely urged beneficiaries who need information about the figures shown on the Form SSA-1099 to call the toll-free SSA number provided on the form. Also, a free pamphlet, Publication 915, Tax Information on Social Security and Railroad Retirement Benefits, is available at any Social Security or Internal Revenue Service office, Ely said.

If Publication 915 doesn't provide the answer to taxable income or tax liability questions, Ely suggested people contact local tax assistance volunteers or call the toll-free IRS number for their area provided on the back of the Notice 703.

Senator Bentsen Looking For Senior Interns

Washington, D.C.—Senator Lloyd Bentsen asked Monday that older Texans interested in participating in the Senior Citizen Intern Program, May 20-24, contact his Washington office.

Each year two Texans 65 years or older are selected to spend a week at the nation's capital learning about their federal government by working in the Senator's office and attending seminars.

'This is a wonderful opportunity to learn about government first hand for older Texans who are vitally interested in their community and the political issues affecting them,' the Senator said, 'With the insights they gain, these senior citizens can help their contemporaries better understand legislation and agency functions.'

Since the Senior Citizen Intern

Program was initiated in 1973, some 1,500 older Americans from across the country have been sponsored by participating Members of Congress.

While in Washington, the interns attend seminars with representatives of the White House, Congressional Committees and various federal departments and agencies. The topics usually are related to the problems of aging, including transportation, housing, Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid. In between seminars, the interns are familiarized with the workings of Senator Bentsen's office.

Any Texans interested in becoming a Bentsen senior citizen intern for 1985 should send a brief summary of their community activities and their reasons for wanting to participate to Senator Lloyd Bentsen, U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C., 20510.

Santa Anna Police Department Excited

TEXAS MOST WANTED

Chief of Police Russ Ellis reported two accidents this past week. Both were one car accidents.

The first of these occurred on Wednesday, January 9, 1985, out by the Seventh Day Adventist School. The car, owned by Tommy Culpepper, was driven by Arnold Wayne Moyer who lost control of the automobile. The car was totaled but the driver sustained no injuries.

The second of these occurred on Saturday, January 12th two miles north of Santa Anna on FM 76. Brent Hamlin of Santa Anna lost control in a curve and rolled the automobile one time. He was not injured but the Datsun 280Z was heavily damaged.

The Officers would like to remind citizens that all green inspection stickers and all 1984 license plate stickers are out of date. Current inspection stickers are red and light blue. Tickets will be issued on persons stopped with out of date stickers.

The Santa Anna Police Department is very excited about a new program called Texas Most Wanted.

Each year thousands of criminals who have been charged with committing major crimes here in Texas drop out of sight to avoid capture. It is a very costly process to catch these fugitives and, while they are running from the law, many of them continue to commit crimes and endanger society.

Through the combined efforts of the Governor's office and the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council a new fugitive will be selected to be publicized each week. The council will prepare a news release detailing information about the fugitive and include a photograph.

A $1,000 reward will be offered for information leading to the fugitive's capture. To be eligible for the reward, citizens are asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program.

To top the list, Edward Harold Bell has been running from the law for the past five years.

Bell, now 45 years old, is wanted for Failure to Appear in Court on Charges of Murder and four counts of Indecency with a Child.

A former diesel mechanic, construction worker and pharmaceutical salesman, Bell was originally apprehended August 24, 1978, just a short time after he allegedly shot and killed Larry Dean Dickens, 26, of Pasadena.

Police reports indicated Dickens was at his mother's house and saw a man exposing himself to children in the neighborhood. Dickens, who was the father of a young daughter, went outside and grabbed the keys to the suspect's truck in an effort to detain him for police.

It was a brave act that cost him his life.

The suspect pulled out a pistol and began shooting at Dickens, who staggered into the garage of his mother's home and collapsed on the floor with his wounds. Witnesses say the offender then pulled a rifle out of his truck, walked into the garage and, ignoring pleas from Dickens' mother that his life be spared, shot the young man in the head at close range.

A short time later, police apprehended Edward Harold Bell.

Bell is described as a white male, 5-11, 220 pounds, with brown hair and hazel eyes. He forfeited a $125,000 bond when he failed to appear in court on January 8, 1979, to stand trial.

Anyone with information about Bell's whereabouts is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program. Callers do not have to reveal their identities.

City Employees Receive 10 Percent Pay Raise

The Santa Anna City Council met in regular session on Thursday, January 10, 1984, at 6:30 p.m. in the Mountain City Community Center.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Edd Hartman. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Within the minutes, two special sessions were noted for the month of December.

The first of these was held on December 13, 1984, only one council member absent. Business taken care of in this session included the approval of a 10 percent pay raise for city employees and Christmas gifts for the employees. These items were approved unanimously. It was felt that by increasing salaries turnover for city employees would be reduced.

The special session held on December 26, 1984, was reported in last week's paper.

Lone Star Gas continued the regular monthly meeting with a lengthy discussion regarding the company's need for an increase. One of the biggest problems Lone Star seems to have is that are not a money maker for investors. At this time the company is capable of returning only 7 to 9 percent to a shareholder. Another problem noted is leakage which is at this time 18 percent in Santa Anna. The Railroad Commission only allows Lone Star to charge back 5 percent of this to the customer. Many other facts and figures were discussed with the council, though no decisions have been made at this time. If you have questions, feel free to contact the Lone Star office in Coleman.

Complaints have been registered for awhile now regarding citizens of Santa Anna having to mail Lone Star Gas payments due to lack of a local drop box or office. Simmons Feed and Seed of Santa Anna has offered to accept these payments in their store on Wallis Avenue as well as listen to any complaints by customers of the Gas Company. At this time Lone Star has made no decision on this solution.

Mrs. McClintock appeared again on the agenda. She presented many income figures and requested to know where the money was going. She was given a copy of this month's accounts payable report and was requested to come by City Hall for further information.

Joe Wallace came before the council to see about correcting a water drainage problem around his house.

Chief of Police Russ Ellis submitted a very impressive set of figures for 1984 year. 75 criminal cases were filed through his office, which included 23 felony crimes. 30 misdemeanor arrests and 12 felony arrests were made. 15 traffic accidents were investigated with no deaths. A second officer was added to the department on October 1st. A total of 3,869 hours were put in for the police department in 1984. At a rate of 40 hours per week, this adds up to 96 2/3 weeks.

Chief Ellis noted that the position of dog catcher became vacant and remains unfilled. He mentioned that due to various reasons, there has been no further progress on the reconstruction of the kennels.

In the report that Chief Ellis submitted notations were made regarding the police cars. One set of new tires was put on Car No. 1. Car No. 1 which is the Chrysler, was found to have one burnt valve, a problem in the electrical system, the siren does not work and the door window handle on the driver's side needs repair. In fun, Officer Bill Allen was given a bit of a hard time. It seems that he was in pursuit when the wires for the lights became smoking and melted.

Appointment of the Santa Anna Park Board was announced. Glenda Cook will be the chairman for 1984. Others serving will be Councilman Gary Fleeman, Mary Garza, Earlene Scott and Pearl Wilson.

Mayor Hartman mentioned that Attorney Harold Feldt of Midland is in the process of drawing up tentative note papers for the Benton and Starnes payments.

The accounts payable were reviewed and approved to be paid in the usual manner.

The meeting was adjourned.

Don's Diary

By Don Rutherford

Have you ever sit down and filled out a schedule of the extra things you do in your life. By extra things I mean those things outside your job and home.

In last week's article I said something about checking out my lifestyle. I was amazed at the extras I have going on.

On Monday nights I teach a class on Evangelism. On Tuesday and Thursday nights I am taking a class on the Theology and Methods of Missions. On Wednesday nights is a prayer meeting and Royal Ambassadors. On Saturdays we have R. A. Basketball. And of course Sundays are full. That leaves only Friday night that I am at home.

Somewhere during the week I work out three times at the gym. These articles are written as well as doing some work on the writing assignment that I have from the Brotherhood Commission.

And on top of all this we have family activities. Gloria is about to finish her Masters Degree in Education. Kevin has many church and school activities. And Holly has many activities. It sometimes is like a three ring circus around our house.

If being busy were a scale of fulfillment I think I would rate a eight or nine on the scale. But being busy even in worthwhile things is not necessarily being fulfilled. The same is true being rich or famous does not mean that we are happy.

In his book 'Life is so great that I don't want to get off,' Milo Arnold says 'To yearn is human. To aspire is the nature of man. To seek, to become, to possess, to accomplish speaks of the deep urges of personhood.' In other words to be fulfilled as a person is a natural and good trait.

Life's fulfillment is not found in the highs and lows of our individual lives. We can't find total fulfillment in one experience such as graduation, buying a house, or securing a job. To be full of life is a lifetime project. For life fulfillment is found in what we are on the inside, how we respond to a given situation, what makes us do the things we do.

Each of us need a place where we can respect ourselves. We don't have to be rich or famous but we need the place where we can respect ourselves.

If your place or my place is in a labor's job and we can respect ourselves for it, then we are living as well as the president of a large company.

What brings fulfillment to our lives? One question we can ask is, 'Do we know what we want, do we have a purpose?'

If the Mayflower, sailed from England today and harbored in New York's harbor it would not be the same. But when the 'Mayflower' sailed, there was a real purpose for those Pilgrims to be on it.

Another thought on fulfillment would be; it is not what I get but what I give and how I give it that makes a difference.

Three women in the Bible were fulfilled by their nature of giving. Mary of Bethany poured out a very expensive bottle of perfume on Jesus. She is remembered in Scriptures for this unselfish act of kindness. The widow in the Temple gave two of the smallest coins in the offering box. The gift was small but it was hers. A woman of the night, scolded by the good people and hated by the so called moral people came silently to worship Jesus. She anointed His feet with her tears. She gave the best she had, her tears.

Can you see, we find ourselves as we give ourselves.

And of course, the gift of simplicity comes into play in the quest for fulfillment. I read somewhere, 'A man is at his best when he is doing his best at what he can do best.'

How much simpler our lives could be if we could find one or two things we are good at and do them well.

To live a life full of meaning is to find our place in the sun and then to shed a little light in the corner we live in.

The Cinderella slipper will not fit every person, but each one of us has a slipper to fit our feet. One may be a slipper of riches, that may not be ours. Other slippers may be one of being famous, that may not be ours. The slipper that fits our feet can be a slipper of fulfillment if we allow it to be.

To be a real success, we must be real, we must be willing to give and we must have a purpose.

Think about it: Every act of kindness is like a prayer to God. 'Let all that you do be done in love.' I Corinthians 16:14.

ARBOR DAY TOMORROW

Arbor Day, an observance which recognizes the importance of planting trees, will be celebrated in Texas on January 18, this year.

Beginning in a Swiss village more than fifteen hundred years ago, Arbor Day symbolizes the need to plant trees in cities and towns as well as for wood and paper products.

In the United States, Arbor Day began in a state which had at the time less than three percent of its land area covered with trees, Nebraska. Since that first Arbor Day in 1872, the idea has spread to fifty states and the Virgin Islands.

Temple was the site of the first Arbor Day in Texas in 1889. An Arbor Day resolution was passed shortly after that first ceremony by the Texas State Legislature. In 1949, the third Friday in January was designated as Arbor Day in Texas.

Because only 13.6 percent of Texas' total land area is in forest land, and this mostly in East Texas, many Texans are not aware that this amounts to an estimated 11.7 million acres, or 18,583.2 square miles.

This, while perhaps a small portion of the entire state, nevertheless amounts to an area larger in size than the states of Maryland (10,577 square miles) and New Jersey (7,336) combined.

It is also larger than the four New England states of Massachusetts, Connecticut, Delaware and Rhode Island, with a combined land area of 15,437 square miles.

Besides the obvious benefits of the timber industry in Texas, which generates 150,000 jobs, $62 million in taxes, and $5.1 billion in sales annually, urban tree planting can have a far-reaching effect on a community.

According to Larry Schaapveld, urban forester with the Texas Forest Service in Fort Worth, trees serve many functions in urban areas.

Trees do much more in a town or city than provide color. They also provide residents with a variety of shapes, forms and practical uses.

'In today's urban areas, trees are taking on a new importance in providing energy-saving shade,' he said.

They can, if properly selected and located, protect a building or house from the hot Texas summer sun. Then, after losing leaves in the fall, allow the warm winter sun to penetrate to the structure, he added.

As the father of Arbor Day in America, J. Sterling Morton said, 'Other holidays repose upon the past. Arbor Day proposes for the future.'

Attend

Anniversary Party

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. (Ray) Owen attended the 35th Anniversary party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Spradlin at 80 Clifton Drive, Lake Brownwood on January 5, 1985.

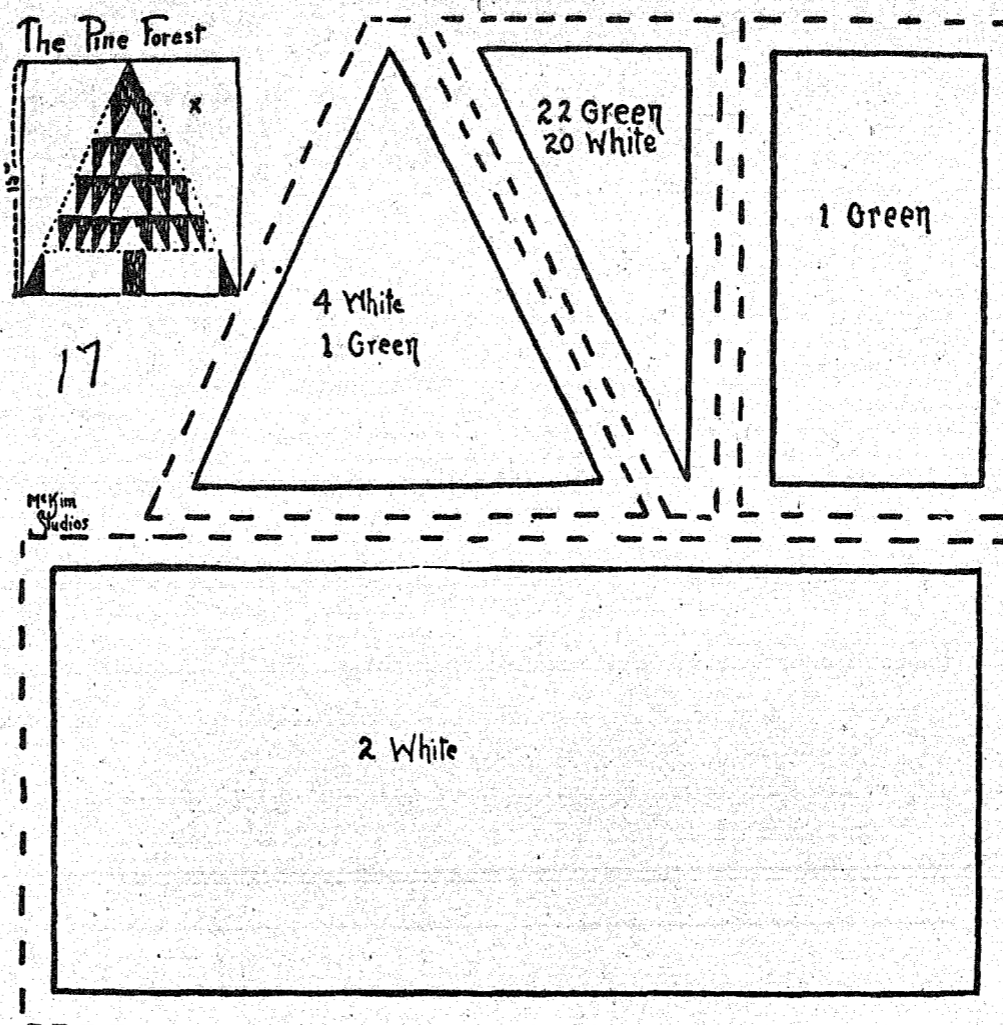

Mrs. Spradlin is a niece of Mr. Owen and the former Jodean Owen, daughter of the late Jessie Owen of Santa Anna.

The Anniversary party was hosted by the Spradlin's daughter and son-in-law, Debbie and Paul Bean of San Angelo.

The table was covered in a lace tablecloth with a centerpiece of candles and coral roses. The anniversary cake was a three tiered white trimmed in coral roses.

Approximately 40 guests shared in the celebration.

THE STATES PATCHWORK QUILT PARADE

MAINE'S QUILT, PINE FOREST

THANKS

By Linda Bartoni

In an effort to celebrate this newspaper's 100th year, I would like to begin a series of feature articles by explaining what I've learned about this newspaper.

As in any newspaper, you must have news. What came as a surprise to me here were the items that were considered news and the manner in which this news was collected.

Newspapers in general try to responsibly report news pertaining to the area, be it directly or indirectly. Though appearances are deceiving, this newspaper is no different. The only difference I have found is this area.

Unlike cities such as Dallas, where I was raised, Santa Anna's news remains on a basically pleasant and peaceful level.

Though the above statements make me sound of total ignorance, I do believe that the mountain and its serenity hinted this peaceful lifestyle to me when I first came.

Earlier I mentioned two surprises. The second of these is how the news is collected. I must admit that in the beginning I was very disappointed because it seemed there was no desire for a reporter.

To the stanch old Pine Tree State we dedicate this quaint but sturdy tree block, the Pine Forest. Of course it takes a number of trees to total a forest, our plan suggests 27 pieced tree blocks for a quilt. To make a quilt five blocks wide by six long or about 75x90 inches, piece five tree blocks for every other row across and only four for the alternate three rows, using half blocks of plain white (cut oblong about 7½x15) to finish at the outsides. This means a staggered placing of the tree blocks, the corner intersections of each two in one row coming above the center of each block in the row below. As the pieced blocks finish about 15 inches square the pattern for triangle X can be easily made, a right triangle 7½ inches on one side and 15, or the height of your finished tree, one the other.

A white border 3 inches or wider might be added to the foot and sides of your quilt for additional size. Allow 2½ yards of green and 6½ of white for a full size Pine Forest Quilt. Cutting must be very accurate and the widths of seams absolutely exact or the many points or triangles in this block will not fit accurately. Perhaps piecing a silk pillow top first of green on black instead of white would teach you all the things to look for and give you a charming cushion besides.

I quickly learned that there was for several reasons no need.

A few of those reasons are Mrs. John Hunter, Mrs. Tom Rutherford, Mrs. O. R. Boenicke, Mrs. Clara Cupps and Mrs. Annie Mae Brimer. These ladies write the Rockwood, Whon, Trickham, Cleveland and Ranger Park Inn News columns. Features on these ladies are forthcoming.

The fact that Santa Anna is a small town holds no bearing on the amount of activity here. Rather than have one person try to cover endless happenings, you as citizens seem to prefer to report your own news.

Fortunately, though it makes my job much easier, I haven't been eliminated. 'What Happens From Here,' is another forthcoming feature.

In closing this article, my congratulations are to the people of this community who for 100 years have made and reported news happenings. This combined with your advertising and newspaper purchases have made this, your newspaper, something to be proud of.

Extension Homemakers

The Rockwood Extension Homemakers' Club met at the Community Center Friday at 1 p.m. to prepare food for the Saturday meal at the Coleman County Stock Show.

President Mrs. Bettie Duus presided over the business session. Mrs. Bert Fowler read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved. The roll was called and the treasurers report given. Mrs. Billie Weatherby gave the council report and presented the new year books.

Refreshments of chips and dips, strawberries, nuts, fruit cake and coffee were served to Mrs. Bettie Duus, Mrs. Billie Weatherby, Mrs. Minnie Bray, Mrs. Sadie Bryan, Mrs. Rose Cooper, Mrs. Skeeta Cooper, Mrs. Berna Fowler, Mrs. Ella Gray, Mrs. Wilma Williams, Mrs. Jane Wise, Mrs. Faye Wise and Mrs. Pebble Ellis.

DOLLS

Seventeen beautifully costumed dolls were of interest when Mrs. C. D. Bruce was hostess at a tea in her home last Wednesday. The dolls are a part of the collection of Betty Bryan of Rockwood, who has been making the collection since last March.

Mrs. Bryan completes the facial expression of the dolls, paints and dresses them, and adds accessories according to taste. The more remarkable ones were of George and Martha Washington, Abraham and Mary Todd Lincoln, and the ones dressed in replicas of Bonnie Boyd, the four-year-old granddaughter of the Bryans. Several were of baby figures, one was pouting, others were whistling boy, school children, and period costumed historical people.

She does not sell her dolls, which will go into the collection of her daughter, and is a member of a class of doll artists in Bangs.

Mrs. Jim Spillman served coffee, punch, breads, nuts and other dainties to those present.

Other besides those names were Mrs. Hardy Blue, Betty Henderson, Mary Clifford, Gladys Hunters, Earlene Scott and Barbara Kingsbery.

MENSA, The High IQ Club SCHOLARSHIP ESSAY CONTEST

March 1, 1985 is the deadline for the 1984-85 scholarship essay contest which has been announced by the Permian Basin chapter of Mensa, the 'High IQ Club,' and the Mensa Education and Research Foundation. Awards of $1000, $500, $200 and $150 will be made in each of Mensa's nine regions, including the Permian Basin area.

It is not necessary to be a member of MENSAs to apply for the scholarships. Awards are unrestricted as to age, race, sex, level of post-secondary education, and financial status. The sole requirement for the Mensa Scholarship is that the applicant be enrolled, for the year following the award, in a degree program in an accredited American institution of post-secondary education.

In addition, two special awards will be given. The Rita Levine Memorial Scholarship will award $500 to a female returning to school after an absence of 7 or more years. The Howard M. Turney Financial Aid Program will provide $1000 for study or career in engineering, mathematics, medicine, or the physical sciences, and requires that the applicant score in the top 2 percent of the general population on a standard IQ test.

The award is made on the basis of an essay of about 500 words which describes the applicant's career, vocational, academic, or goal direction. The application should describe a career direction toward which the scholarship is to provide aid. Essays may be rejected, regardless of contest, if flawed by poor grammar or spelling or if application instructions are not followed.

For further information concerning this scholarship and to obtain application forms, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Permian Basin Mensa Scholarship Chairman, 3213 W. Kansas, Midland, Texas 79701.

MENSA is an international organization whose purpose is to identify and foster human intelligence, encourage research into the nature, characteristics, and uses of intelligence, and to provide a stimulating intellectual and social environment for its members. It also provides research in psychology and is particularly interested in Gifted Children. The only criterion for membership in Mensa is having an IQ higher than 98 percent of the general population.

Our special thanks to the Santa Anna School System and the Santa Anna School Board for allowing us to play soccer on the school property. I would like to remind each of the players that we are responsible for the fields when we play and practice on them. Be sure to dispose of your trash properly.

The Housing Authority has allowed us space for two practice fields. It is important that we do not park in the block that is reserved for the tenants.

The Santa Anna Lions Club has offered to provide us with a concession stand for refreshments. I would like each of you to support this effort.

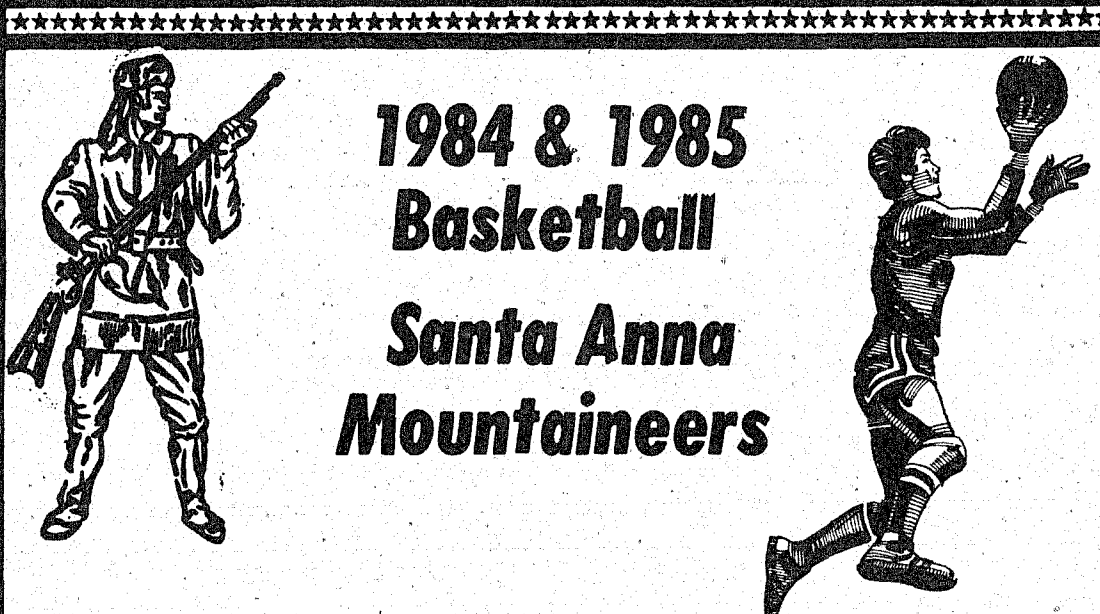

The Santa Anna Lions are well known for putting their dollars back into youth activities.

Santa Anna is especially proud to welcome Coleman and the surrounding towns in our county to our city to play soccer. You are our special guests. Anything the city can do to make your visit more pleasant, please let us know. Santa Anna is 'More Than a Mountain.' It's a 'Mountain With a Heart.'

All parents of the County Soccer Association are invited to attend the coaches clinic. We will meet at the Santa Anna Lions Club at 2:00 p.m. and move to the practice field depending on the weather. The referee training will be Saturday, February 2 at the Coleman County Telephone Co-op Hospitality Room. It is important for you, the parent, to understand the rules of the game. You are welcome even if you don't want to referee.

WHON

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

The weather has been a big topic for discussion the past weekend. Those of us who were out in the snow would probably rather not pick up the county papers and read about it. But, we did have snow both Saturday and Sunday nights. As for myself, I do hope the snow has moved out of our part of the country.

Mrs. Floyd Morris reports her granddaughter, Judy Morris of Coleman, was injured very seriously when a horse ran away with her near Christmas at Clarksville. She was taken to Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas and is doing well at her home in Coleman with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kline. Judy's father, Jamie Lee Morris of Smithville and his wife, went to Dallas to bring Judy home. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris went to Coleman and visited a while with her and her sister, Janet, on Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Lee Morris spent Tuesday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris, returning to their home Wednesday morning.

We have been saddened over the death of Mr. Doug Moore of Santa Anna. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vinson visited with the family in Santa Anna Monday afternoon.

Mr. Hilary Rutherford of Coleman, Mr. Loyd Rutherford and son, Todd, were with me Saturday for awhile. Hilary was surprised when he arrived her and the ground was covered with snow, since it had not snowed in Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick were guest with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Haloman in Grand Prairie, on Monday and Tuesday night of the past week.

Mr. Norman Floyd Morris and grandson, Rusty Garner of Brownwood, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris on Saturday. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Morris were transacting business in Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Fellers of Early visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. Loyd Rutherford and son, Todd.

Mr. Amon Ott spent several days this past week training horses near Merkle. Amon returned home Thursday morning.

Mrs. Floyd Morris visited with Mrs. Imogene Fitzpatrick Wednesday afternoon.

We were so sorry to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Ray Steward of near Odessa. Burial will be in the Rockwood Cemetery probably Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fitzpatrick attended the funeral services for Mrs. Jack (Allen) Bullion who passed away in Brownwood Regional Hospital around midnight Saturday night. Mrs. Bullion was only ill for a short period of time. Her home was in Brownwood. Mrs. Bullion was the mother of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick son-in-law, Mr. Jack Bullion of Glen Rose. Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved. She was the mother of two sons. Her husband preceded her in death several years ago.

Mr. Floyd Morris was in the Brady hospital Monday to check on his brother, Mr. C. H. Morris, who has not been feeling so well. He also visited with other relatives while in Brady.

Sunday school and church were called off due to bad weather. We had snow Friday, Saturday night and Sunday morning. We had a big 4 inches. It sure was pretty and white.

Sunday night we all lost a good friend, Doug Moore. He died in a San Angelo Hospital after a short illness. He will sure be missed. He was a good worker in the First Christian Church in Santa Anna and an elder in the church. He has friends all over the county. He use to carry the mail from Santa Anna to Trickham and Whon. He drove a school bus at one time. He and Louise had a store in Santa Anna for a number of years.
