

Over 40 Enemy Planes Downed In Raid

Germany's Main Source Of Oil Was Goal At Ploesti

Mistaken Target—

Allied Soldiers Killed In Bombing Error

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 6 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker disclosed today that a number of Allied soldiers had been killed by bombs which accidentally fell from the target during the great Allied air assault on Cassino March 15.

Some of the bombs which missed the target at Cassino fell wide of their mark because of a "mechanical failure," he said, investigation showing that "the bombs had become dislodged from their racks and when the bombs doors were opened they became free."

In discussing various aspects of the bombing he emphasized that his remarks should not be considered as a criticism of the ground forces or their commanders.

er degree of devastation could have been caused in Cassino," he said, "but it probably would have had little bearing on the final result. The enemy forces in their cellars, deep dugouts and underground passages would not have been affected."

By EDWARD KENNEDY
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 6 (AP)—American heavy bombers and their fighter escorts shot down more than 40 enemy planes during yesterday's big raid on Ploesti, Rumania, Germany's main source of oil, Allied headquarters announced today.

The main targets on this raid were rail yards choked with tank cars. Bombs were showered over tracks, rolling stock and adjacent buildings, causing many fires and explosions, an announcement said.

Smaller formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators attacked railways at Nis and Leskovac in Yugoslavia.

Mediums and fighter-bombers continued their intensive campaign against German communications in Italy. It was announced that all rail lines from Northern Italy to the front area have been cut and that the Germans have been unable to move through trains since March 28.

Air Marshal Sir John C. Slessor, deputy commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces discussing the importance of the air campaign in the Balkans, said the Ploesti oil fields were vital to the Germans "on anything like a long term basis."

It was estimated that the oil field installations were 40 per cent destroyed in last summer's big raid on them by U. S. Liberators from the middle east, but the Germans are said to have repaired most of that damage.

Liberators from the middle east, but the Germans are said to have repaired most of that damage. Liberators, which were the first to go over the Ploesti yesterday, encountered intensive flak and more than 125 German planes.

As the big bombers left, the fliers said, the rail yards were in flames and tank cars exploding.

While unfavorable weather did not permit full-scale air operations in Italy yesterday, attacks were made nevertheless on Colfero, northeast of the Anzio beachhead; at Terracina and Formia, on the west coast above the main Fifth army front; at Frosinone, beyond Cassino, and along the coastal railway beyond Rome.

Warhawks attacked a battery of German heavy guns at Proculla, north of the beachhead, and bivouac areas and a supply dump northeast of Cassino.

Slessor announced that the total number of enemy planes shot down in Sunday's big raid on Steyr, Austria, now has been found to total 157 — by far the biggest bag ever scored by planes from the Mediterranean theatre in a single raid.

Allied fliers say that one reason for the large number of enemy planes destroyed in recent raids is the reduced quality of the German airman.

Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, Allied Air Commander in the Mediterranean, says he believes the Allied air forces can knock the German air force out completely. The time may not be far off, he added, when there will be little effective opposition.

"Then," he declared, "it will become practically a transport service merely carrying bombs."

Ground artillery duels raged in the Cassino area and near the west coast end of the main battle line, a bulletin said, adding that patrols inflicted casualties on the enemy.

There were excited calls for a doctor as one woman in the capacity audience fainted.

Miss Evans said she went to live in Mrs. Smith's fashionable apartment to take religious treatment and came under a spell so strong that for seven years she was the woman's virtual slave, submitting to inhuman treatment while Mrs. Smith appropriated her earnings.

Mrs. Smith, a pudgy, dwarf-like woman, sat at the counsel table between her two attorneys and kept her pale blue eyes glued to the witness.

Miss Evans testified that at first Mrs. Smith charged her only $25 a month but gradually raised this until ultimately she was turning almost all of her weekly earnings over to her because "I thought Mrs. Smith was a sacred, Godly woman."

Four years ago her father, Tom Evans, Stroud, Okla. merchant, started sending $31 weekly because he believed his daughter was ill and unemployed. Later, testified Miss Evans, Mrs. Smith induced her to make her father "suffer" in order that he "would see the light and be saved" by taping him for an additional $35 a week for a nurse.

County Attorney Dixie Gilmer accused Mrs. Smith of covering a high pressure confidence scheme under a cloak of religious asceticism.

The decision to observe Easter holidays was reached at a board meeting Wednesday evening when trustees voted to give Friday and Monday as holidays because there was no other break in the spring school term.

Liberators Hit Invasion Coast For Second Day

LONDON, April 6, (AP) — U. S. Liberators today bombed the "invasion coast" of France, striking the Pas-de-Calais area for the second consecutive day under escort of Thunderbolt fighter planes.

Air headquarters said no aircraft were lost in the operation, which encountered only meager flak and no aerial opposition.

A few hours earlier RAF bombers, flying for the first time in a week, returned from blasting German aircraft repair plants at Toulouse, France, less than 50 miles from Spain.

"The targets were clearly seen in the moonlight and first reports indicate that the bombing was effective," the announcement said.

The raid represented a round-trip flight of at least 1,000 miles, but despite the length of the journey all but one of the big bombers returned, the air ministry said.

Mines also were laid in enemy waters during the night.

The assault capped a day in which the American forces sent fighters against the Berlin and Munich areas and heavy bombers to Rumania's Ploesti oil field region in a two-way strike from bases in Britain and the Mediterranean.

Woman Admits She Helped Bilk Dad Of Large Amounts

TULSA, Okla., April 6 (AP)—Plump, brown-eyed Virginia Evans testified today she helped swindle her father out of thousands of dollars while Mrs. Fay Smith, mysterious Tulsa widow, held her under a strange, almost hypnotic influence.

There were excited calls for a doctor as one woman in the capacity audience fainted.

Miss Evans said she went to live in Mrs. Smith's fashionable apartment to take religious treatment and came under a spell so strong that for seven years she was the woman's virtual slave, submitting to inhuman treatment while Mrs. Smith appropriated her earnings.

Japs Continue Pressure Along Assam Front

NEW DELHI, April 6 (AP)—Japanese forces are continuing to exert pressure all along the Assam front north of Imphal, but Allied troops have inflicted casualties on the enemy in ambushes laid along roads north and south of that Indian base, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today.

In northern Burma, meanwhile, the announcement said, Chinese forces are driving the enemy steadily southward in the upper Mogaung valley and are advancing on the village of Wakawng.

The bulletin also disclosed that 24 Japanese planes had been destroyed in an air commando attack against the Aungmye airfield in central Burma Tuesday.

Fighter pilots who returned to inspect the airfield on the following day reported that it appeared to be almost entirely destroyed by fire. The attack was a complete surprise, the communiqué said, and was accomplished without loss to the commando squadron.

Heavy bombers hit Japanese headquarters and a transit camp at Nagorn Sawarn in a night attack which set blazes visible for 20 miles and blasted railway yards and jetties at Moulmein.

The Chinese took two tiny settlements, Mihlogar Tawng and Maranga Tawng, pin points a mile and a half east of the Mogaung valley road, crossed a river south-east of Laban and eliminated a Japanese strong point at the confluence of two rivers about 40 miles north of Mogaung on the Myitkyina railway.

To the east, Burmese troops advancing on Myitkyina along the Sumprabum road reached the Tiang river. (This apparently is about 45 miles north of Myitkyina, chief Japanese base north of the Burma road.)

In the Assam offensive the Japanese have seized 15 miles of the Imphal-Kohima highway and are threatening Dimapur, 80 miles away on the Bengali-Assam railway. It was disclosed that American transportation troops are operating and maintaining this railway, having taken over on March 1 for the purpose of pushing maximum supplies through to the Burma and China fronts.

The Japanese threat so far had failed to halt the flow of supplies, which continued to pour forward.

Willkie Pulls In GOP Bid Stakes

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A presidential nomination without strings floated enticingly close before Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York today as Wendell L. Willkie quit the republican race after losing a long-shot gamble for Wisconsin delegates.

Dewey, who reached for the prize at Philadelphia in 1940 only to find Willkie had grabbed it, stood far out as the leading possibility for the nomination in the wake of Willkie's dramatic boy out of a contest.

Willkie failed to win a delegate in Wisconsin, where 15 pledged Dewey representatives were elected despite the New York governor's previous plea for them to withdraw.

Characteristically, Dewey busied himself at Albany with a stack of legislative bills and said nothing about his future plans—a silence some of his backers said he might maintain up to the time of the June nominating convention.

(He has said he is not a candidate—but never that he would not accept.)

With a minimum of 132 convention delegates pledged or claimed for him, as compared with 26 pledged to Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen and three to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Dewey seemed well started. His other major opponent, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio has yet to show publicly in any of the 276 convention delegate selections made.

In an abrupt and dramatic announcement at a rally in Omaha City auditorium last night Willkie, at the conclusion of his prepared speech on "Foreign policy," told a crowd of 3,000 that he was quitting as a candidate for the GOP nomination for president, asserting "It is obvious that I can not be nominated."

While Dewey was on all counts top man in the party as of today, the question of what Willkie might do held the intense interest of republican politicians, who speculated on these possible developments:

1. Willkie might plump for a republican with liberal international views such as Stassen, thus giving that candidate's chances a boost.

2. He might return to the democratic party, which he quit before 1940—might even support a fourth term for President Roosevelt in preference to aiding a republican who did not see eye to eye with him on foreign affairs. (There was some conjecture that Willkie might be invited to share the ticket with the president.)

3. He might head a new "Bull Moose" liberal movement away from the old line republican party.

4. Or, he might go along with the GOP nominee, whoever that may be.

The explosion shattered windows in about 20 stores in Hastings, an estimated 10-12 miles from the explosion scene. Glennville, small village on the outskirts of the plant, was hard hit, with business houses there "practically collapsed," Marshal West Bruns said. There was no loss of life or serious injury to village residents.

Capt. Patterson, who said the cause of the blast was unknown, gave this report:

"This explosion occurred at 1:20 a. m., first in a railroad box car that was on a siding beside a cooling shed for bombs and mines. This box car was being loaded.

"After the explosion of the box car the cooling shed exploded. It was filled with mines and depth charges."

Texans To Ask For Rehearing On Vote Ruling

Dan Moody, Wright Morrow, Of Houston File A Petition

HOUSTON, April 6 (AP) Former Gov. Dan Moody of Austin and Wright Morrow of Houston will file a motion for rehearing in the supreme court for the Texas democratic executive committee of the decision ruling that negroes can vote in Texas democratic primaries, Committee Chairman George A. Butler announced today.

Chairman George A. Butler of the Texas democratic executive committee had announced that "I am renewing my efforts among all of the state executive committee chairmen and governors of the southern states for the restoration of the two-thirds rule at national conventions."

"I believe more than ever that the restoration of this rule is absolutely necessary as a protection to our party rights throughout the south," Butler told a press conference.

"The response to my original proposal has been very favorable. All governors and state chairmen except one who have replied have favored the idea."

He did not identify these.

It's just since 1936 when the two-thirds rule was abrogated that we have had trouble on the poll tax issue," Butler commented. "I anticipate that you will see a concerted effort in congress and particularly in the senate for a repeal of the poll tax requirement in voting in primary and general elections throughout the south."

"I do not believe that the citizens of Texas or the south realize how far-reaching is the effect of this opinion."

Russian Troops In Odessa Suburbs

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, April 6 (AP)—Russian storm troops pushed into the outlying suburbs of Odessa today and the roar of battle echoed throughout the city.

Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's cavalry and light tanks drove on the great Black Sea port from three directions, front line dispatches said, advancing from positions which last night were only nine miles from the heart of the metropolis.

The right flank of Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian army pushed through the quagmires west of the city heading for the Odessa-Ovidopol spur railway—the last remaining escape route to Rumania for the defenders of Odessa, the dispatch added.

Even if the trapped Germans and Rumanians succeed in reaching Ovidopol, they must still make the hazardous trip by ferry to Akkerman and thence by a winding single-track railway to Rumania.

Malinovsky's cavalry and tanks had cut off the main escape route to Rumania by capturing Razdelnaya, 38 miles northwest of Odessa, and then pressing southward to take Strassburg, which commands a side road from Odessa to Tiraspol on the lower Dniester river.

Four Red army pushes are being aimed at the heart of Odessa, but the units which are closest to the city appear to be advancing.

Major Tries To Extricate Trapped Texas Gunner From Wrecked And Burning Bomb Laden Liberator To No Avail

ADVANCED AIR BASE, New Guinea, April 2 (Delayed) (AP)—The motors of the bomb laden Liberator roared as she started down the runway for the takeoff on a routine Fifth air force raid.

Half way down the runway a tire blew out and the fast moving bomber lurched sideways, tipped on a wing, and buckled in the middle. Flames shot up from her and uninjured crew members pilled out of escape hatches and doors in a mad scramble.

Maj. Frank J. Krones of Eatonville, Wash., was watching the takeoff and anxiously counted the crewmen. Only seven emerged and he knew that two more were pinned inside the ship which was certain to blow up as soon as the flames reached the heavy bombs inside.

There's two more in there, let's get them out," yelled the major as he raced to the burning plane.

The pilot, Lieut. Hugh P. Papworth, Syracuse, N. Y., and two crew members, Staff Sgt. Wayne M. Smith of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Clifford H. Stacy, Knobel, Ark., followed him. The crash truck roared up behind them.

Finally they pulled one out only to hear the groans of a second man from the catwalk.

Major Krones made his way to the catwalk where the second man, a gunner from Texas, was tightly wedged.

"We'll save you and have you out in a jiffy," said Krones, trying to reassure the boy. There was no answer from the injured gunner. Krones pulled with all his strength at the metal fuselage that held the gunner fast, but could not budge it. Crash truck crewmen hacked away at the burning ship.

Finally Krones caught hold of the gunner's legs and tried to drag him out, but the gunner was stuck tight. The gunner kicked his legs and groaned, but didn't speak.

Flames crackled in the bomb bay, which was filled with gasoline fumes. Krones saw that the big bombs would go in a few seconds. He gave one more hard tug at the gunner, but failed to dislodge him.

"I'm sorry," the major called to the enlisted man. "I've done all I can. The bombs are going to go any second now and I've got to get out. So long, fellow, I'm sorry."

"The major raced to the edge of the field and hit the dirt as the bomber blew up with a thunderous crash that rocked the mountain valley for miles. The force of the explosion hurled the heavy motors a hundred yards. They found no trace of the injured gunner.

Texas Girls Are Interested In Good Grooming

By RHEBA MERLE BOYLES Co. Home Demonstration Agent

One of the subjects of greatest interest to girls in Texas is good grooming. It's natural, of course, for a teen age girl to exhibit considerable interest in the way she looks. Basically, cleanliness is the most important part of good grooming. For instance, white dickies and collars should be country snow white. And many a girl has discovered: A daily bath is good for morale as well as the best step toward cleanliness.

Your best friend may not tell you, but a mild reliable deodorant and faithfulness to the toothbrush go hand in hand with glamour. And your hair deserves more than a frequent shampoo and the right kind of coiffure. It merits a hundred strokes per day, delivered with enthusiasm and a clean brush.

That fascinating girl in the movies didn't just happen to be well groomed. Hours and hours of painstaking care have to accompany natural charm. And that's a tip the coming-of-age-gals might well remember.

Elbows, knees and heels should be satiny... not rusty. Toenails should be cared for as much as fingernails.

One other thing... another essential to good grooming is good health. That means the right kind of diet... plenty of sleep... lots of exercise... proper ventilation... cleanliness, again. Yes, good grooming is an everyday, time-demanding job, but it pays dividends.

Girls, if you've got a safety-pin in the hem of your dress or slip, you'd better get busy now!

Procedure Changed On Purchase Of Meal

Processors no longer are required to obtain a statement from buyers, approved by the county AAA committee, to deliver more than 500 pounds a month of protein meal to any individual, the county AAA office announced Thursday.

The ruling was changed April 1. The formerly required statement regarding use of more than 500 pounds of protein meal monthly in mixed feeds also is eliminated.

The former order, issued in December, did not apply to set-aside protein meal or soybean oil meal produced under contract for the Commodity Credit Corporation. The ruling regarding other meal was made in a food production order.

Sports Writing Preacher Gains Sermon Material From His Work

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
BRYAN, April 6 (AP)—The Rev. Milton R. (Mit) Maloney finds sermons in football games, track meets and boxing matches. He watches with critical eye as the men of sport rock 'em and sock 'em during the week, then on Saturday gets in some socks of his own in favor of the Lord—all leading to Sunday's homilies.

The Rev. Maloney is a Baptist preacher who writes sports—an unusual combination. But in a time of labor shortage, he stepped in to help the Bryan Daily Eagle.

He is pastor of a couple of small rural churches near here and when the Eagle lost its sports editor, John Sidney Smith, to the Houston Post, the Rev. Maloney took the job with the understanding that his hours would be such as to give him ample time for his charges.

Smith was an active Baptist deacon and Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, publisher of the Eagle, a staunch Methodist. "Mrs. Rountree is said to have plans for securing a Methodist bishop for her next sports editor," the Rev. Maloney confides.

The minister's daily column is called "Goal Lines" and is given over each Saturday to a discussion relating to Christian truth. These items are based on some phase of sports, calling attention to sports references found in the Bible. "Paul must have been a great sports enthusiast," the Rev. Maloney said as he revealed this Biblical character came in for most comment.

The minister discusses nicknames of athletic teams and Bible names concerning these animals, such as the Longhorns (the cattle upon a thousand hills are mine saith the Lord) and broncos (it takes a good man to tame a wild horse but only od can conquer a wild man).

"The field of sports is a rich source for illustration in sermons or comments upon Christian living," the Rev. Maloney says. "Sports is merely boiling down the hectic game of life to a few hours of game competition."

Too Many Guns

CHICAGO (AP)—Because, she said, her husband's hobby of collecting rifles, pistols and shotguns made marital life both dangerous and uninteresting, Mrs. Pearl J. Venard obtained a divorce from her husband.

Mrs. Venard, through her attorney, told Superior Court Judge Joseph Sabath that her husband spent all his time cleaning his guns. Guns frighten her, she said.

West Point: Army's Backbone

AP Features
America's mighty Army, marking another milestone on this Army Day, still looks to West Point as its No. 1 training ground for officers despite the growth of its other schools in the rush to expand.

General George Washington, looking for a line his harried army could defend with his able eye of a surveyor-warrior called the site of West Point the backbone of American defenses.

He spoke even better than he knew. Turning out highly-trained officers in war and peace, West Point has been not only a backbone of American defense but a backbone of American offense.

The U. S. Military Academy at West Point, which celebrated its 142nd anniversary recently, has come far since an act of Congress established it in 1802.

Ten men were in the first class. Last year, 1,200 cadets, largest class in West Point history, entered the grey stone buildings in the Hudson River valley.

Some 14,000 men, trained in discipline and the fundamentals of war, have been graduated since the academy was founded.

It does not turn out officers at the rapid "90-day wonder" rate of Officers Candidate Schools, but thorough-going West Point has accelerated training to wartime speed.

The course was reduced from four years to three in 1942. In the Revolutionary war, both the British and the Americans realized the strategic importance of West Point. Before Washington established his headquarters there in 1779, a committee of the New York legislature unanimously recommended it as the best site for fortification of the river and its narrow passes.

By the end of 1779, West Point was the strongest military post in America, with batteries placed on the hilltops and an enormous iron chain obstructing the river. Because of its strength, West Point was selected by Benedict Arnold as the prize which he treasonously attempted to turn over to the British.

lies and loved ones of those who gave their lives in the courageous fight to resist the Japanese aggressor."

Naturalization Fraud Overruled

NEW ORLEANS, April 6 (AP)—A contention by the Southern Texas district court that Dr. Heinrich Karl Ernst Meyer, 39, had obtained his naturalization certificate through fraud was overruled yesterday by the U. S. fifth circuit court of appeals.

The appellate court set aside the cancellation of Dr. Meyer's citizenship and ordered the government's petition dismissed. He was a former professor of German language at Rice Institute, Houston.

In its opinion the appellate court said Dr. Meyer came from his native Germany to this country in 1930, was naturalized in 1935 and that the charges were based upon Dr. Meyer's assertions about the war prior to December 1941.

The court said the Texas court based its conclusions without benefit of a later decision by the U. S. supreme court in the Schneiderman case, when the supreme court was quoted as saying in effect that "a naturalized citizen has the same freedom in thinking and speaking as a native citizen has."

Invasion Date Is Definitely Made

By JAMES F. KING
ARMY SOMEWHERE IN BRITAIN, April 6 (AP)—"D" day has been set.

The Allied western invasion timetable has been worked out to the minutest detail.

Only a few high-ranking officers know the date, however, and only a few will know it beforehand.

But topflight commanders in talks with their officers and men are being amazingly frank in some respects—even to the extent of telling the troops the job cut out for them.

Among American troops who will participate in the initial assault on Adolph Hitler's fortress a growing tenseness can be noticed.

In their barracks the soldiers talk among themselves but there is tremendous security consciousness among them when they are outside camp.

Simplified Aids To Tax Estimate

Editor's Note: This is the first of two columns dealing with declarations of estimated 1944 federal income tax. By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)

Here it comes again, the federal income tax.

By April 15, about 15,000,000 of the 50,000,000 taxpayers must file declarations of estimated 1944 tax and pay the first installment on any amount of tax that isn't being taken out of wages and salaries.

This includes you if:
1. You expect to have 1944 income of more than $2700 if single, or $3500 for a married couple, or—
2. You expect to have outside income (in addition to wages or salaries) subject to withholding of taxes under pay-as-you-go of more than $100 this year. Or—
3. Your income isn't subject to withholding of taxes. (Exception: farmers, who may wait until Dec. 15 to file—but if they wait, will have to pay the whole amount of tax at that time.)

You estimate your 1944 income and how much (if anything) will be taken out of your pay for the tax during the year, then start paying the difference in quarterly installments. (If you had a refund coming in 1943, and elected to have it applied against 1944

March Produced Unusual Weather

By way of post-mortems, it can be recorded that March was an "unusual" weather month. It came in like the traditional lamb, turned lionish right quick and then stalked off like a polar bear.

In the first place, instead of pointing up to spring moisture as March is supposed to do, the month turned off without any recorded precipitation other than a trace on nine days. The wind blew from almost every point on the compass and, wonder of wonders, only four days produced reasonable facsimiles of sandstorms.

Not until March 28 and 29 was a killing frost recorded, and then the bottom fell out to 19 degrees and with it prospects for early vegetables and fruit. Mean maximum was 67.8 and mean minimum 29.8, slightly below the average. Highest temperature was an 82, followed a few days later by the freeze. Clear weather was at a premium, only seven days falling into this category. Fourteen days were cloudy and ten partly cloudy.

For this reason, the short-form is particularly suitable now. Note, though, that if the "streamliner" becomes law, childless couples will face a tax boost, and in that event may find it advisable to file an amended declaration.

That's one of the three means of protecting taxpayers against penalties for underestimating. The law requires "reasonable" estimates, which can be amended once each quarter, if desired, on or before June 15, Sept. 15 or Dec. 15.

The other two protections are:
1. No penalty is to be assessed if the estimate is based on last year's actual income (but at present rates and exemptions) and installments are paid on time.
2. No penalty is to be assessed if you estimate the tax within 20 percent (33 1-3 per cent for farmers) of the final 1944 tax as figured next March.

If you expect to go into the armed services, you'll have to decide for yourself when you "reasonably" can be expected to be called.

(Tomorrow: A sample declaration.)

Cpl. J. R. Moore of Big Spring, son of Mrs. Julia Moore, was graduated from the AAF Training Command's flexible gunnery school at Buckingham Field near Fort Myers, Fla., according to word received. Cpl. Moore is a graduate of the AM school at Sheppard Field.

Missing Fishermen Return To Safety

GALVESTON, April 6 (AP)—While the U.S. Coast Guard continued its search for five persons missing since Sunday's squall on Galveston Bay which resulted in the drowning of two others, James O. Collins and J. D. Harris returned from their fishing trip to learn they, too, had been the objects of widespread search.

Collins and Harris said when the squall struck, they found refuge on Tididium Taddium Island, about 30 miles west of Galveston, and resumed fishing when it was over. They said they saw searching planes over the area but did not know there was any alarm over their absence.

The body of J. N. Collier, a known drowning victim, has not been recovered. The body of Mrs. A. M. Jones of Pasadena was recovered Monday. Missing were her husband and their two fishing companions, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Knight of Houston and L. B. Eastman and John O. Jackson, of Galveston.

CATCH THE SPIRIT OF EASTER IN PLANNING HOLIDAY PARTIES

FOR SMALL FRY ONLY: An Easter luncheon party.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS AP Food Editor

Easter is a happy time of year. Perhaps in a war-torn world the only people who can be really happy—and should be—are little children. But we adults can catch some of that spirit if we help to make our children happy. Easter is one of the nicest times to give a children's party.

First, let's mention a few basic principles. When you plan a party for children, remember that almost anything that doesn't happen every day can be a party for them. Fuss and feathers aren't necessary a bit. The party I've planned here is for really little ones—say five to seven years old. It's always best to make this supper or lunch, and to have the food not too far from what they'd ordinarily eat at home. Ice cream and cake in the middle of the afternoon spoil appetites for more important food and may lead to minor disaster, as any parent of a very young person knows!

For simple decorations in tune with the times, go to the "dime" store. All the Easter stickers and other decorations illustrated here came from there.

Here's the party menu:

- MEUN
- Creamed Eggs on Toast
- Green Peas in Coral Rice
- Carrot Sticks
- Bunny Rabbit Sandwiches
- Molasses Milk Shake
- Ice Cream with Oatmeal Cookies
- Creamed Eggs on Toast

- 6 hard sooked eggs
- 4 tablespoons fortified margarine
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1-2 teaspoon salt
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 2 cups milk, heated
- 1 teaspoon minced parsley
- 6 slices hot toast

Melt margarine in top of double boiler. Add flour and blend carefully. Add hot milk slowly and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until smooth and creamy. Add salt, bouillon cube and minced parsley. Slice eggs and arrange on toast slices. Pour sauce over top. Sprinkle with paprika. Serves six.

- Green Peas in Coral Rice
- 1-2 lbs peas
- 3-4 cup rice
- 2 cups tomato juice
- 2 tablespoons fortified margarine
- 1-2 grated onion
- Salt to taste

Shell peas and cook quickly in a small amount of salted water until tender. Add one tablespoon margarine and keep hot until ready to serve. Wash the rice through many waters until free of all extra starch. Cover with boiling water. Boil 5 minutes. Drain. Heat the tomato juice to boiling point. Add onion and margarine. Pour over the rice. Cover and cook an additional 10 to 15 minutes until rice is tender and dry. Serve rice on supper plate, hollowing out the center in a lit-

Would You Say A Chocolate Bar is "Habit-Forming"?

Not really. And cola drinks? They aren't either. How about tea? Hmmm! And coffee? Well, well—the modern generation! Indeed, yes. Unknowing people actually used to believe coffee is "habit forming." This fallacy arose from the fact coffee contains caffeine. Of course it does. That's why it accomplishes the wonders medical science so generously credits it. Cocoa, tea, and other foods contain caffeine, some in even greater quantities. But who would accuse an innocent chocolate bar? Drink a cup of delicious, aromatic Admiration Coffee any time your taste dictates. You'll enjoy the pick-up, thrill to its richness—and ask for a refill! This superb blend of choice, full-flavored coffees, roasted to perfection, comes to you oven-fresh in the Lamofilm Package.

Admiration Coffee

TEXAS' LARGEST SELLER

Foolish Fables People Used to Believe About Coffee

"TOO YOUNG"

Twenty-one used to be the minimum "age of reason" for coffee drinking. Another silly bugaboo was that coffee "stunted the growth." Many a six footer fancied himself a miracle!

"TWO CUPS"

Even sillier was the one about two cups. One cup was all right. But two cups—that kept you awake. Sometimes generations garbled the legend and reversed the order.

"CAUSES ACIDITY"

Coffee in itself can't. Poorly made coffee, like poorly fried fish, can. But coffee got all the blame. Science has since discovered that some people are allergic to coffee—just as they are to strawberries, milk, wheat, etc.

Kaiser-Town Licks Woes

By BONNIE WILEY
AP FEATURES WRITER
RICHMOND, Calif. — Richmond is getting over its growing pains.

But don't ask the first passerby the way to the postoffice or the city hall. One out of six will scratch his head and tell you, in a Kansas, Texas, or Oklahoma drawl: "I'm a stranger here, myself."

Gold Rush Boom
A quiet, unassuming little industrial town of 20,000 before the war, Richmond zoomed to more than 105,000. This industrial bounce and its attendant civic headaches are unequalled by any other war center in the nation.

There are two reasons. One is ships. The other is the man who builds them, Henry J. Kaiser.

Little Richmond, basking peacefully in its mild climate, on the tag end of San Francisco bay, looked good to Henry J., when he was casting about for shipyard locations. So Kaiser concentrated more shipbuilding — four huge yards — in the Contra Costa county town than in any other part of the United States.

Muddles Multiplied
Problems, immediate and terrific, hit Richmond.

With the shipyards employing nearly 90,000 and Richmond's peacetime 20,000 occupying all available living space, the housing shortage was acute.

Schools, adequate for Richmond's offspring, were swamped. And, just when it was needed most, the new $400,000 junior high burned to the ground. Then vice and juvenile delinquency came along.

The city fathers, dazed, started looking desperately for Aladdin and his magic lamp.

Right here should be the flutter of calendar leaves, indicating the passage of nearly four years, with a background of soft Oriental music to show that the city found Aladdin.

With the year 1944 nicely underway, Richmond took stock and found it had done the impossible. Special housing projects had been constructed with almost inconceivable speed. Within city limits there are 16,800 home units, dormitories for 6,876 persons, a trailer park for 330 cars, and 5,085 new privately-built homes.

Back in January, 1940, 5,865 pupils attended 14 schools. Today 20,713 go to 17 schools, or attend classes in portable buildings, some in a four-shift basis.

Post office receipts jumped from $147,865 to $550,000 and bank clearings are up 400 per cent. New crews were hired to handle the influx.

Rush Hour—Men come off shift at the Kaiser shipyards in Richmond, Calif., where war dropped 90,000 war workers on an unsuspecting municipality of 20,000.

Electric power for home consumption soared and 219 miles of new wire were strung. Two additions made to the substation to handle an increase from 7,361,000 to 44,490,000 kilowatt hours per month. Nearly 30 miles of new gas mains were laid to pipe natural gas.

New Tax Basis
Special taxes have been imposed and federal funds allotted to help Richmond out of its fiscal dilemma, created by the shifting of nearly $2,000,000 in private properties from the tax rolls to government control.

Vice is being discouraged by a boost in the city police force from 36 to 100 men and juvenile delinquency is bowing to a child recreation program.

After the war, what? Richmond has its fingers crossed but there is a distinct feeling around town that this industrial giant has cured its growing pains in war time and ought to be able to solve its peace time problems piece by piece.

Fletcher Henderson To Play For Dance Here

Saturday night when Fletcher Henderson, celebrated negro orchestra leader, comes here for a one-night engagement at the Settles hotel, local dancers will glide to music of the man who was the first to use full orchestration in the current swing style and one of the finest musical units the Maestro has had during his career of over 20 years.

Henderson, composer of Christopher Columbus, was twice the winner of the national award for the creation of America's finest dance arrangements.

Feeling he could contribute more to modern music by concentrating on the art of arranging, several years ago Fletcher disbanded his own fine orchestra. A good deal of his work was created especially for Benny Goodman. But the urge soon obsessed the Maestro to have a band again to play his own melodic patterns. With the forming of his great new orchestra, Henderson picked up where he had left off. His following in the millions keeps right on growing by leaps and bounds without a letup in sight.

Steel Interests May Be Involved

TEXARKANA, April 6 (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex) says he suspects big steel interests may have been concerned with the recent reorganization of the Kansas City Southern Railway, "calculating to make trouble for the development of the steel industry in the southwest."

The Texarkana congressman, addressing the Optimist Club, said his concern in the shift of control of the KCS from the C.P. Couch interests to a midwestern group originated from doubt that the new owners would be as strong for developing the southwest's industrial empire as were the Couch interests.

"The big fellows keep fighting us," said Patman, who has done considerable work in Washington in connection with development of the Lone Star Steel Corporation's blast furnaces at Daingerfield, Texas.

He said he suspected big steel interests were involved in the railway reorganization because "there were no charges of mismanagement, extravagance or anything else."

(In New York Tuesday the announcement was made that Couch would resign as chairman of the boards of the Kansas City Southern Railway and its affiliate, the Louisiana and Arkansas Railroad.)

Chicago Majors To Play Benefit Game

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP) — Chicago's major league baseball teams will put on a pre-season preview for the city's high school students in a war bond game April 17.

Delicious! Coffee Blanc Mange

Here's a simple-to-make dessert that adds a party atmosphere to any meal.

Coffee Blanc Mange unmolds beautifully and there's plenty of good coffee flavor in this attractive cafe-au-lait colored dessert. Of course it's important in making a dessert of this type to start with fresh coffee, preferably any kind that comes vacuum-packed in a glass jar which can be re-sealed to preserve flavor and aroma. For 6 servings:

- 4 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups bottled milk
- 1/2 cups strong brewed coffee
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix together cornstarch, sugar, and salt in the top part of a double boiler. Stir milk in gradually, mixing until smooth. Add coffee infusion. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly until mixture is thick. Cover and cook for five minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Turn into a mold, or individual molds, which have been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm. Good served with ice cream.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Thirteen years ago Lucille Tate of Cross Plains, Tenn., wrote her name on a strawberry box.

Bonds Set Against Forgery Charges

LAREDO, April 6 (AP) — Two bonds of $3,750 each have been set in the case of Carl Silver, Chicago, brought here under extradition proceedings on two indictments charging a conspiracy to pass forged instruments.

Silver and three other men — Tom J. Dix, W. B. Dix and H. C. Kerr — were charged in indictments with conspiring to enter into an agreement to pass forged instruments of writing. In the form of two bonds, on a Laredo Bank. The indictments were returned Dec. 16, 1939, by the Webb county grand jury.

Dr. Umphrey Lee Seeks New System

DALLAS, April 6 (AP) — Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University, warning that changes will have to be made in the field of student counseling after the war is over, says: "That stale stuff we've been giving students the last 25 years won't work with the boys back from the front."

He made his remarks before a meeting of the Association of Texas Colleges, adding that schools must be ready in the postwar period to operate two types of programs: one along conventional lines and the other an accelerated program for returned veterans.

Lt. Col. C. L. Brownell of the army air forces training command predicted an expanded physical fitness program which might include compulsory correction of remedial defects. He said also that military training for students is coming and that it will be more than just close order drill.

Paul Carrington, chairman of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce postwar planning committee, told the educators a prime postwar objective should be an educational program which would train youth to world citizenship and tolerance of other peoples.

Susce May "Catch On" To Indians Veteran Coach And Receiver Peps Up Cleveland Rookies

By CHIP ROYAL
AP Features Sports Editor
LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Ten minutes after a visitor arrives in this likeable college town, he reaches the hotel headquarters of the Cleveland Indians.

From then on, there are only two topics in the lobby, up in the rooms, or on the big Purdue campus: George Susce and Purdue University.

The Purdue drum beating is expected, for this is the stamping grounds of the Boilermakers—and the townsfolk are more than rabid supporters of Purdue teams. We be to those who do not agree.

But Susce? How does that 200-pounder rate so much conversation? The Tribe's roster lists the "Good Kid" as a coach.

As yes, a coach he is, and a good one, but he is also the hardest working, liveliest, and one of the best conditioned athletes here.

And, in case you don't recall the name, said Mr. Susce was once a catcher.

To get the complete picture, the scene must shift to Manager Lou Boudreau who says:

"I have only two worries, as far as I can see now, a regular second baseman and a No. 1 catcher."

Well, Susce is willing to lift one worry off his manager's shoulders. "I'm ready to catch any time Lou wants me," smiles big George. "We've got a winning team here this year and if I can help in any way I'll do it."

Boudreau admits he may be forced to use Susce at the start of the season.

If we start without Buddy Rosar, Susce will be our first catcher. He knows the hitters, and how to handle the pitchers. That will give me a chance to break in Jim McDonnell.

"McDonnell is a good prospect behind the bat, but he's got to take it slow at first."

He doesn't appear rugged enough to work too much. He weighs 165 pounds. But, with Susce starting the season, and "catching quite a few games," as Boudreau puts it, Jim would be handy to have around. The only other catcher in camp is Russ Lyon, 28-year-old 230-pounder from East Point, Ga.

You would never know that Susce is a coach and 33 years old, the way he cavorts around the Purdue field house or on the diamond.

The fellow has more pep than many of the youngsters. He leads the team in calisthenics, is the first one in the pepper games, does more than half of the receiving, and is still the liveliest player under the showers.

Some of the boys thought they would show up George, so they started to do splits and what-abouts as they washed away the dirt.

George joined in the fun and even the youngsters had to admit that the "Good Kid" was too much for them when it comes to exercises.

A lot of fans think of George as a major leaguer. True, he has been in the big time since 1939, but he only caught 31 games for the Pirates. The Phillies gave him a trial in 1928.

He played in 12 different minor leagues, though, and has a lifetime batting record of .228. Not much for a catcher, but the way he is clouting that pill this year, he could very well threaten the 300 clouters. Keep an eye on Susce.

INSIDE BASEBALL TRAINING CAMPS

By FRITZ HOWELL
NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Harry Gumbert, towering hurler for the St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the National league, is getting set to win his 100th major league game.

The tall guy from Texas is the first of the big league pitchers to go the nine-inning route, and he did it impressively yesterday in holding the second team to six hits and a single ninth-inning run.

Gumbert has won 98 games, and hopes to get over the century hump early in the season. Only seven pitchers now in the big leagues have broken the 100 mark.

Gumbert has proved a fine investment for the Cards since 1941 when Branch Rickey traded "Fibber" Bill McGee to the Giants for him. Since then Gumbert has won 30 games and lost 15, and six of his wins were at the expense of the Giants, against two losses.

McGee won two and lost nine in 1941 for the Giants, and hasn't been with 'em since.

The lowdown on the high spots: American League. St. Louis General Mgr. Bill Dwyer said all Browns now in training have signed contracts, and Manager Luke Sewell grinned broadly over the 10-2 victory over Toledo.

Washington: Weather has put the whammy on the Nationals, and Owner Clark Griffith and Manager Ossie Bluege fear rains, snows and cold have set pitchers too far back for the team to get off to a good start.

Boston: Joe Cronin, elated over recent showing of pitcher Emmet O'Neil who won one and lost four last year, expects him to be club's No. 1 hurler.

New York: Yanks will try to eliminate today the reasons the Athletics handed them that 9-1 setback yesterday.

Detroit: Paul Trout, who won 20 and lost 12 last year, finally has been nipped for a run, Rochester getting it yesterday. But it was the first marker yielded by Trout in 11 exhibition innings.

National League. Pittsburgh: Holdout Vince DiMaggio still on fence as Procy Bronswanger makes no move after confab on wage demands.

New York: Giants, snowbound, stayed in hotel lobby yesterday, but 50 teen-age kids arrived for trout camp. Steve Filipowicz, former Fordham grid ace signed contract, and Ernie Lombardi, catcher, arrived from coast.

Cincinnati: Bucky Walters and Elmer Riddle of the Reds will hurl against their teammates for Indianapolis in an exhibition today.

Brooklyn: Manager Leo Durocher, 38, intimated he might start season at second base, despite "acorns" in right elbow region.

bowling, billiards and table tennis. The rifle range is closed but that's no reflection on the Braves' batting eyes.

Bob Quinn, who was Brooklyn's general manager and in the same room with Bill Terry when the former Giant pilot made his now famous remark: "Is Brooklyn still in the league?" is a willing talker. He'll supply reams of copy on old timers, his present Braves or Manager Coleman, who incidentally has a way with youngsters.

But Quinn shies away when queried on 4-F's and he has a good reason.

"I'm running a ball club and I think it's swell for baseball when new men come into the game and plunk down something like a quarter of a million dollars without asking questions. I feel the same way about ball players. If a man is 4-F I never ask him why. All I want to know is can he play baseball?"

The two Bob's, incidentally, have eight 4-F's on the roster: Pitchers Armand Cardini and Carl Lindquist from Hartford; Catchers Phil Masi and Clyde Klutznick; Infielders Kerby Farrell, Whitey Washburn and Steve Shemp; and Outfielder Chasley

Charley Parker Comes Through In Two Races

SAN ANTONIO, April 6 (AP)—Charley Parker, San Antonio Jefferson, high school's great sprinter, boosted his three-year winning streak to 43 races in a row by winning the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes in record time in San Antonio's city track meet yesterday.

Despite a faulty start, the "pony express" sped the century in 9.8 seconds. His time for the furlong, around the turn, was 22 seconds. As a climax, Parker ran the quarter-mile for the first time this season in the mile relay and anchored Jefferson's team to a record of 3 minutes, 35 seconds.

Eight records fell during the meet and one was tied. Other impressive marks besides Parker's were a 14.5 high hurdles by August Erfurth of Brackenridge, a 51 flat 440 by James Bodiford of the same team and a measured leap of 6 feet, 2 inches in the high jump by Brackenridge's James Southworth.

Brackenridge scored 71 1-2 points to win the meet, handing Jefferson its first loss of the season. The Mustangs made 66 1-2 and San Antonio Tech 10.

Hornsbys's Successor Has Not Been Named

MEXICO CITY, April 6 (AP)—No decision has yet been made concerning the appointment of a successor to Rogers Hornsby, who resigned as manager of the Vera Cruz club of the Mexican baseball league and returned yesterday to Fort Worth, Texas.

Jorge Pasquel, club president, said "We had no differences. He must have received some other offer in the United States. We don't know yet who will replace Hornsby as manager."

OFFERS TRANSPORTATION. MEXICO CITY, April 6 (AP)—President Avila Camacho offered the Cuban swimming team the use of a Mexican Army plane to come here for an international swimming meet opening June 10. He suggested that the Cuban team leave Cuba May 25.

Shorts And Shells. Jim Tabor, Red Sox third baseman, went to college at Alabama on a basketball scholarship but was signed by the Sox after a season of freshman baseball. . . . Corp. Billy Con is scheduled to box a four-round exhibition at the London, Ohio, prison farm April 19. . . . When a few English-speaking baseballers turned up at the Chattanooga, Tenn., baseball park, Sports Editor Wirt Gammon of the Chattanooga Times wrote: "The Americans established a beach head at Engel stadium yesterday."

Service Dept. The Camp Lejeune Globe, official voice of the Big North Carolina marine station, is campaigning editorially for a camp "varsity" baseball team. There are 27 ex-professionals in camp. Former Notre Dame footballers Jim Mello, Jim White, Bob Hanlon, Bob Palladino, Jim Sharp and Lou Rymkus have been assigned to the ships company at Great Lakes, which means they'll probably still be there next fall. . . . Bob Quinn, who was Brooklyn's general manager and in the same room with Bill Terry when the former Giant pilot made his now famous remark: "Is Brooklyn still in the league?" is a willing talker. He'll supply reams of copy on old timers, his present Braves or Manager Coleman, who incidentally has a way with youngsters.

But Quinn shies away when queried on 4-F's and he has a good reason.

"I'm running a ball club and I think it's swell for baseball when new men come into the game and plunk down something like a quarter of a million dollars without asking questions. I feel the same way about ball players. If a man is 4-F I never ask him why. All I want to know is can he play baseball?"

The two Bob's, incidentally, have eight 4-F's on the roster: Pitchers Armand Cardini and Carl Lindquist from Hartford; Catchers Phil Masi and Clyde Klutznick; Infielders Kerby Farrell, Whitey Washburn and Steve Shemp; and Outfielder Chasley

McCarthy Needs Man For Lindell

ATLANTIC CITY, April 6 (AP)—If Marse Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees is real hard up for a replacement for Johnny Lindell, he may find that gentleman where he found his navy-bound centerfielder—right on his own pitching staff.

In Al Lyons, a rookie right-hander who won 4 and lost 6 for Kansas City last year, he has a husky candidate who can do a better than fair job in the outer gardens where it is conceivable he might follow in Lindell's footsteps.

When Lyons broke into baseball in Los Angeles, he was a pitcher but due to an arm injury he turned to outfielding when he joined the Yankee chain at Joplin, Mo.

Lindell took his draft physical yesterday and passed a preliminary test. The doctors are giving him another once over and will pass him for the navy if X-ray tests prove that he will not be troubled by an old head injury.

Here We Go Again! 1944 Tax Estimation

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Features Writer

WASHINGTON—Some 15 million taxpayers must file by midnight of April 15 another of those daddied income tax returns. This return is the declaration of estimated income and Victory tax for 1944. It was originally due March 15 but was postponed to relieve taxpayers and revenue collectors of having to struggle with two complicated returns at the same time.

You must make a declaration of estimated tax if:

1. You are single (or married and not living with spouse) and expect to receive in 1944—
 - (a) More than $2,700 in wages subject to withholding; or—

- (b) More than $100 in income from other sources, provided total income is expected to be $500 or more.

2. You are married and living with spouse and expect to receive in 1944, either alone or together with your spouse—
 - (a) More than $3,500 in wages subject to withholding; or—
 - (b) More than $100 in income from other sources provided your total combined income is expected to be $1,200 or more, or your total separate income is expected to be more than $624.

Your declaration is made on a small form, 1040-ES. Along with this form, you should obtain from the revenue bureau a four-page pamphlet of instructions and work sheets to help compute the estimated 1944 tax. Compute your estimate on a work sheet before attempting to fill out the declaration form.

There are two kinds of work sheets. One is a simplified form for computing the tax on incomes of not more than $10,000. The other is a longer alternative sheet for estimating the tax on incomes over $10,000 or for figuring the tax on smaller incomes where more detailed, precise computation is desired.

The simplified work sheet has a tax estimating table which makes automatic allowance for deductions such as interest, taxes and contributions, amounting to about eight per cent of income after taking of personal exemption and credit for dependents. A majority of taxpayers will use this work sheet because it is easier to fill out.

However, if your anticipated deductions for 1944 exceed eight per cent, it probably will be advantageous to use the longer, alternative work sheet. While persons with expected incomes of more than $10,000 are required to use this form, any taxpayer may use it if he wishes.

Two changes have made the alternative sheet simpler than it was last year. The 10 per cent earned income credit has been abolished and a new tax table enables you to figure the combined amount of normal tax and surtax.

After computing your estimated 1944 tax on a work sheet, figure on a separate piece of paper the amount of tax to be withheld from your wages during the year. Do not send your work sheet to the collector. Keep it, together with a copy of your declaration, for use in making out your annual return next March. This copy also will come in handy if you have to make other quarterly tax payments.

Outlook For Goods Outlined By County Home Dem. Agent

RHEBA MERLE BOYLES
Co. Home Demonstration Agent

Homemakers, who got caught short on sheets and other household cottons when war production curtailed supplies for civilians, have a little relief in sight.

The Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics has notified that manufacturer's ceiling prices on bed linens have been raised to stimulate production of sheets, pillowcases, and sheetings. The Bureau saws the price increase will be absorbed by the retailer. So the price to consumers, if and when bedding is available, will remain at the March, 1942 level.

Here are a few other forecasts on war-time family living during 1944:

Brooms may become short because of the scarcity of broom corn and handles.

A few electric irons may be produced by manufacturers if this does not interfere with their war output. The WPB, however, has turned thumbs down on an increase in the number of alarm clocks available.

Homemakers will be able to obtain only about 80 per cent of the paper towels they used in 1942, and the outlook for handy facial tissues is pretty dark.

Restrictions on the sale of cutlery in boxed sets have been removed, but homemakers can expect better quality in paring knives than in the earlier war models.

Women who have been hoping for more and better elastic or elastic substitutes in girdles, brassiers, and the like are headed for disappointment. A new synthetic, neoprene, was to be

County Takes Over Bad Luck Building

The county has acquired a stone building—which was built about 38 years ago and housed the telephone company here until damaged by lightning—at the rear of 218 Main street.

The building was damaged when lightning struck a lead-in wire in 1908. The ceiling collapsed and injured several employees, one seriously. The telephone company moved its offices and after that the building housed several private offices. It has not been used since a bottling company moved from that location several years ago.

The building originally was available for these worthy uses this spring, but the Army has requisitioned the entire supply for making gas masks. The reliable two way stretch is just as remote as ever.

Willingness To Change The War Today

by DeWitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

If Anthony Eden resigns the British foreign secretaryship in order to devote his whole time to government leadership in the house of commons, as is reported to be scheduled, it will put squarely to the test his qualifications as possible successor to the great Churchill as prime minister.

That will be the significance of the move if it eventuates. Many British prophets feel that Churchill's historic task of leading his people is drawing to a close. He and the chiefs of the conservative party are said to feel that the comparatively youthful Eden—46—is the man to shoulder the burden, and they're going to put him through the mill to find out.

One important side-light is that if and when Eden takes the helm it will at long last bring the so-called "young conservatives" into power after many decades of battling with their elders for a place in the sun.

England, like the rest of the world, is on the verge of great changes, and coupled with those will be the post-war problems of reconstruction. It certainly is a period when political adaptability and correct perspective will be at a premium.

Many London observers think Lord Cranborne, secretary of state for dominion affairs, will become foreign secretary if Eden quits the post. That fits the picture well enough, for Eden and Cranborne are great friends and think alike on foreign policies.

Eden of course already is government leader in commons, but his foreign office duties require so much time that he hasn't been working very hard at his other job. Regular leadership in commons would put him on a hot spot, where he would make or break himself in short order. It's one of the toughest assignments in British politics. It calls not only for the inspiring qualities necessary for leadership, but for supreme tact.

Eden should make a good leader. He inspires confidence, has a pleasing personality, and is possessed of considerable tact, which may be an acquired quality. Anyway, he needs the experience in domestic affairs.

There is no sound basis, at least in ordinary times, for using grain, molasses, sugar and other materials to produce alcohol, for as the article went on to explain, Johnson grass, sweet or Irish potatoes, sorghums, castor plants, bamboo, etc. make excellent sources.

If the next great industrial era is that of plastics, as the news suggests, there is no more versatile ingredient than that of ethyl alcohol. There is no good reason why this section, with its broad acres, which have been diverted from cotton, could not produce more and more material for conversion into alcohol.

There is no end to how long we can produce plastics whereas there is an end to how long we can pull on our mines for metal. Because our farms may someday have to become our mines and our oil wells, it is wise now to be looking ahead at least to the extent that we will be ready and willing to change some of our cropping practices to meet the need of cheap raw materials as the development of the plastic industry unfolds.

Aloofness Makes It Baloney

Southwesterners and Texans in particular make a great deal to do over their hospitality. We are, once you get to know us, a rather friendly lot, but most of us have a pretty bad habit of being difficult to know.

A young woman tells us of a soldier and his wife, both from up North, who lived next door for more than a year. They were fine folks, and although they broadcast this news to others in the same neighborhood, during that year not another family called on this young couple. Our claim to hospitality is just so much baloney until we overcome this sort of aloofness.

Key At Capitol—

A Ranger Case Record Mean As Hell Had To Shoot

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
AUSTIN, April 6 (AP)—The National Police Academy in Washington where he lectures frequently under auspices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation never fails to ruffaw at Col. Homer Garrison's story of the old Texas Ranger who resented new methods.

Garrison, head of the state police and National Police Academy faculty member, ties the story into an explanation of the evolution of police reporting and record keeping.

When printed forms were substituted for hasty notes jotted on old envelopes, one hard bitten officer, irked at the intrusion on his time honored methods of reporting filled in the blank:

Name of Defendant: Big Nose Smith.
Nature of Offense: Murder.
Victim: John Jones.
Date committed: July 21, 1892.
Disposition: Mean as hell—had to shoot him.

zations and patriotic rallies. His speeches are delivered extemporaneously. The content seldom varies: The constitution, wisely administered, fills all needs of state government.

The constitution is his political bible and his favored address is a reflection of his political philosophy.

The constitution, he says, is a charter of human liberties and a compass by which to steer the ship of state. This was the key of his first inaugural address and he has never discarded it.

Off the cuff, State Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, an army air corps officer is preparing for overseas duty. . . . The Lone Star flag of an ordnance company

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

You'd Be Surprised—What's Surname Of English King?

By GEORGE STIMPSON
The question is often asked, "What is the King of England's surname?"

Members of royal families do not have surnames in the same sense that commoners do, but the family name of the British sovereign has been Windsor since 1917 and that may be regarded as his surname.

Queen Victoria was the last sovereign of the house and family of Hanover.

When Edward VII ascended the throne in 1901 he belonged to the family of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha.

During the First World War there was strong sentiment in Britain against German names and titles, and accordingly on July 17, 1917, George V issued a proclamation abolishing German titles and dignities and stating that thenceforth the royal family and house "shall be styled and known as the house and family of Windsor."

Before that the king's title had been "George V, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India."

It is often said that the family name of the present sovereign of Great Britain is Wettin. In one sense that is true, for Edward VII was related to the famous Wettin family of Europe through both his mother, Queen Victoria, and his father, Prince Albert.

Victoria was a Guelph, and by her marriage to Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha she changed the family name to Wettin.

But neither "Guelph" nor "Wettin" has ever been recognized by the British government as the official name of the royal family, house or dynasty.

Washington—Would Require Jap Allegiance Wrong Hand

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—Your capital in war time.

Rep. Bertrand W. Gearhart, California republican, has introduced a bill, which on the surface appears silly, but may not be at all. What the congressman wants to do is to make all Japanese in this country sign a pledge renouncing allegiance to Japan and declaring support of the United States.

The immediate question arises: Wouldn't the Japs just sign a lie, declare their faithfulness and go merrily about their business of sabotage, spying, etc? Some would, there's no doubt about it. But according to Rep. Gearhart, there already are 8,000 Japs in this country who have asked deportation to Japan and 200,000 more who have refused to take any pledge of loyalty to the United States.

At present, there's no punishment for these Japs except keeping them in detention camps, where most of them are better clothed and fed than they were before the war. The congressman's bill would put them on the dotted line, with some assurance that something could be done about it if they eventually proved to be liars.

Paul Porter, new press relations director for the Democratic national committee, paid a pretty tribute to his predecessor, Charles Michelson, when he held his first press conference.

"I feel," Porter said, "as if I were on the stage at Carnegie Hall and someone said, 'Here, Paul, is Kreisler's violin. Now play it!'"

Political observers here are betting that former Vice President John N. Garner will break political silence this year—not from any interest in the presidential election, but because Senator W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel has declared open season on all his Texas colleagues in Congress who have served more than six years.

Garner already has made a move, through a letter which he permitted to be made public, to defend the congressional tenure of office. Senator Tom Connally is the 14th ranking member of the Senate. Of the first 15 ranking members of the House, four are Texans. As long as committee assignments and congressional prestige operate on a seniority basis, Texas has an edge on the rest of the country in authority and influence in the national legislature. Garner, will argue, it's reported here, that to throw away that influence would be a bit of the old proverbial biting off one's own nose.

Since O'Daniel himself will have served eight years at the ex-

Today And Tomorrow Do More Than Right To Swiss

By WALTER LIPPMANN
For the tragic accident in which the Swiss town of Schaffhausen was bombed by our air forces, the regret in this country will be heartfelt and universal. We cannot, alas, make any reparation which will bring the dead back to life, or even make fully good the material damage. But what can be done to show our feelings and what can be paid to restore the city and to compensate the Swiss, our people will certainly want to see done to the fullest possible measure.

It is possible to do more than that. This would be a fitting occasion for the President to order a review and reconsideration of those policies of economic warfare affecting Switzerland which many think have been carried beyond the bounds of law, reason and military necessity. The President himself cannot know, the public has no means of judging, whether the regulations do not in many cases do more harm to the Swiss than they do good to the United Nations. There are grounds for suspecting that many of them may be excessive, that overzealous subordinates, intent on the total exercise of their powers, may often be failing to distinguish between the Swiss, who are true neutrals, and nations satellite to Germany.

Neutrality does not arouse much sympathy in nations who are desperately at war. But the neutrality of Switzerland is a very special thing indeed unique. Only Switzerland in all of Europe has made no military concessions. Surrounded by the Fascist world, its neutrality has been much more than a policy of staying out of war. The Swiss have maintained intact their democratic liberties because they hold them dear and because their hearts are stout. That is a great contribution to mankind. Through the darkest days of the war, when Hitler seemed about to sweep all Europe before him, the moral resistance of the Swiss has reassured us that once a nation has known liberty, it will never willingly surrender it.

Their example should never be forgotten and if there is anything this government can do to express not only its regret for the Schaffhausen bombing but its appreciation of the part Switzerland has played, it should do it. It should take the risks of giving the Swiss the benefit of the doubt as between the judgment of some official here and their honest representations. We shall be amply repaid if we come out of this war with the confidence and friendship of the Swiss nation.

Let us not forget the indispensable part which Switzerland has to play in the healing of the nations. By long historical tradition Switzerland is the seat, so to speak the capital, of mankind's works of charity and of mercy. We shall need Switzerland when the war is over. It will stand there, firm and free, in a sea of misery and hatred. We shall need the Swiss because they alone perhaps will be able to go everywhere, feared by none and trusted by all.

Realizing all that, we shall be wise if, jolted by this terrible mishap, we go beyond the obvious regrets and indemnities, to larger actions which express our moral solidarity with this admirable people.

Hollywood—Oscar Awards Create Furore

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—First the directors got sore because they were slighted in the Oscar broadcast, and then the writers. By Hollywood standards, public recognition being the bread and caviar of life, they may have a squawk coming. But outsiders, say in Iowa, must be titillated at how seriously Hollywood takes itself.

The Oscar doings make for a lot of local furore each year, and movie fans are interested, but they scarcely shake the world and the fame they confer on the chosen is as ephemeral as most things in this land of mink and money. For example, how many of us can name off-hand the acting winners of ten years ago?

Cornelia Otis Skinner is rehearsing a play by Lillian Hellman ("Searching Wind") scheduled for a New York opening. Story revolves around two middle-aged women, former college chums, and their adventures in Europe at critical times of recent history—but it's not, obviously, a sequel to the Skinner-Emily Kimbrough adventures there in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." Others in the cast are Barbara O'Neil, Dennis King and Dudley Digges.

Clifford Odets had wanted Digges for a role in "None But the Lonely Heart." Said he: "Lillian Hellman's been working on that play for two years now. Why, why would she have to finish it just when I'm starting my picture?"

"Lonely Heart" is the new Ethel Barrymore-Cary Grant film.

Recommended: "The White Cliffs of Dover" may be overly long and overly hard on crying towels, but it has strong appeal both as tender romance and a human, individualized demand for lasting peace after this war. Irene Dunne, American tourist, intended to visit England for two weeks, but a dashing Englishman (Alan Marshal) makes it a lifetime stay by marrying her. Losing her husband in World War I, she lives to see her son wounded in World War II, to hear and echo his plea for a world in which carnage will not be perpetuated. There's a strong "hands-across-the-sea" motif, embroidered by excellent direction (Clarence Brown's) and a fine cast including Frank Morgan, Gladys Cooper, Dame May Whitty, Roddy McDowall, Van Johnson, C. Aubrey Smith, Peter Lawford.

Kiwanians Hear Easter Program

An Easter program in line with support of churches week was the program at the weekly Kiwanis luncheon Thursday under the direction of Nat Shick, chairman of the committee on support of churches in their spiritual aims.

The program opened with group singing of religious songs under the direction of Ernest Hock, followed by a quartet composed of Mrs. Ruby Billings, Mrs. Ernest Hock, Eugene Hutchins and Ernest Hock who sang the hymn "What Did He Do," accompanied at the piano by Dan Conley.

In conclusion Mrs. Robert E. Lee, local artist, sketched the old rugged cross in chalk as it was sung by Mrs. Hock accompanied at the piano by Dan Conley.

The program closed with a prayer by the Rev. H. Clyde Smith, Kiwanis member.

A Red Star dispatch reported that "big forces" of Germans are tied up in the direction of Odessa and that "violent fighting" is raging on the approaches to the city.

A dispatch from Major Mikhail Mikhailov to Red Star said the Germans lost 1,000 dead and 20 tanks in their first big attempt to break out of the Skala area trap yesterday, and a second effort cost them even more dead.

At Skala, Junkers transport planes were reported making numerous trips in attempts to evacuate Nazis trapped in that sector west of Kamenets Podolsk, Mikhailov's dispatch said, and 11 of them have been shot down within the past 24 hours.

Here 'n There

The "juvenile" problem is starting at a tender age. In response to calls, police rushed to a service station at 3rd and Goliad streets and there found that two boys had smashed all windows in the place. They were four years old.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kinard plan to leave this weekend for San Antonio. While there they will visit with their son, S. Sgt. and Mrs. Dorman Kinard.

It's Sergeant Mary Jean Kimpell now. Sgt. Kimpell, WAC stationed in the Army recruiting office in the federal building, has been promoted from corporal.

Insitation to Big Spring women to join the WAC's during this week's recruiting drive again was extended Thursday. A few inquiries have been received by the recruiting office in the basement of the federal building during the drive. Young women may name the first station of their choice and be assured of being sent to that station, officers have announced.

Dionne Quintuplets' Rivals Authentic

BUENOS AIRES, April 6 (AP)—The Dionnes appeared today to have an authentic set of rivals for quintuplets honors.

Dr. Jose Alejandro Beruti informed the Argentine Medical Association that after a careful investigation he saw no reason to doubt that Senora Franco Dilligenti of Buenos Aires bore quintuplets last July 15—two boys and three girls.

Dr. Beruti, head of the obstetrical department of the University of Buenos Aires School of Medicine and first recognized medical authority to report on the case, said that skepticism which greeted first newspaper announcement of the births apparently was unwarranted by the data he had uncovered.

The skepticism arose when no trace of quintuplets could be found in official birth records. The parents explained then that they had tried to keep the event secret because of the fear of publicity.

The doctor said that according to his inquiry Senora Dilligenti was attended only by a midwife in whose home the births occurred.

IN UNIFORM

Jack Riggs, son of Mrs. Alice Riggs of Big Spring, is receiving training at Clinton, Miss., at the Navy Midshipman's School. Before entering service under the navy V-12 program, Riggs was a student at the University of Texas and was graduated from the Big Spring high school. He reported for training at Clinton on July 1, 1943.

William Woodrow (Billy) Wilson, SOM 2 c, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr. left Wednesday evening for San Diego Calif. to enter a radio and radar school for several months. A graduate of the fleet school in 1942, he has been at sea for a year and a half aboard a destroyer and was the only man on his ship to be assigned to the course which begins within the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kasch have received word from their son, Arthur Kasch, that he has been given additional responsibility at his post somewhere in England. Instead of a crew chief at a Flying Fortress base, he is now a flight chief.

Four major magazines, Colliers, Saturday Evening Post, Look and Life, will be carrying a colored AAF advertisement this week and next featuring the Rangoon Rambler, famed B-24 on which Capt. Robert Currie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Currie, now stationed in Galveston, is mentioned prominently in the text and is pictured with other members of the Rambi's crew. Colliers carries the page this week.

Oil Shortage Stimulates Drilling Even Along The Swamps And Marshes Off Texas, Louisiana Coastline

By BRACK CURRY

HOUSTON, April 5 (AP)—From bays, swamps and marshes along the gulf coast the petroleum industry is extracting a flood of oil to help power the nation's mechanized armies and air fleets.

It's "hard oil"—plucked from coastal submerged fields at depths of more than 10,000 feet and at tremendous cost.

Marine wells along the Texas coast often are as much as six to eight miles offshore in protected waters.

Feverish probing for new production in the shallow waters, the swamps and marshes of Texas and Louisiana is evidence of the critical need for additional oil reserves to compensate for dwindling domestic supplies.

The search has paid off in a number of important new fields. Though there's nothing new in drilling in coastal waters, the submersible barge principle used by Texas and Louisiana oil men is comparatively new.

Submersible barge drilling is just what the name suggests. Mounted on two steel barges are the derrick and drilling equipment. Six feet apart, the barges are linked with bolted trusses. They are towed to the drilling location, the sea cocks are opened and they sink to the floor of the bay, lake, canal or river to form a secure foundation for drilling operations. Boilers, auxiliary boiler plant equipment and generators for electric utilities are ferried on a third barge. A steel catwalk connects the boiler barge and the others. The drilling and final bringing in of a marine well do not differ from operations of a land well.

Army Day Today Is Without Gala Parading Masses

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Lest you forget while reading about seven and a half million soldiers at war, this is Army Day. By resolution of congress in the peaceful late 20's, the anniversary of America's entry into World War I was set aside as a day on which to remember the army. It was just a little army then.

Today the parades and the trek of visitors to army posts are being omitted. There is neither time nor necessity for the parades. The American public knows about the army. And so does the enemy for today it is deployed around the world.

The army expects to have five million men overseas before this year is out. That is more than all the troops mustered at home and abroad during the other war, only 2,659,629 served overseas.

The army is nearing its goal of 7,700,000, having reached the seven and one-half million figure at the beginning of the year.

Red Encirclement Reported Broken

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—The German high command said today that the German garrison of Kovel, 100 miles above Lwow in old Poland, had broken a 20-day Russian encirclement of the city with the aid of transport gliders.

Previously, Russian communiques had placed Red army columns within 30 miles of that Warsaw-Kiev rail line junction but had never claimed its encirclement.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Praise the Lord We Ain't Agoin' Fishin'"

Willie Wells was always fond of fishing. Now he writes from somewhere overseas:

"There's a song the fellows sing, goes: 'Praise the Lord, we ain't agoin' fishin'—and I guess it's so. But you know, dad, sometimes I sure wish I were back fishing for trout in Seward's Creek again."

And I guess that's the way all our soldiers feel. They're fighting a war—and they mean to fight it to a finish—till they can come home to the little pleasures that they've missed so much—the sweet feel of a trout rod... a pleasant glass of beer with friends... the smell of Mom's fresh baking from the kitchen...

From where I sit, we folks at home have an important obligation—to keep intact the little things that they look forward to... from the trout rod waiting in the corner to the beer that's cooling in the ice box. Don't you agree?
