Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

Activities for the 1971 Student Homecoming are being planned with many arrangements already completed. The date for the two-day festivity will be November 5 and 6.

Former Santa Anna students are asked to note the date of the homecoming and make plans to be present.

Spectacular crape myrtle blossoms in the community faded and disappeared as quickly as they appeared. However there are beauty spots throughout town, and the flower boxes along the sidewalk at the Mountain City Apartments would receive our vote for "best dressed" this week.

Dove season arrived with almost no "bang" at all. Doves were scarce during the first days and the limit was easy to stay within. We heard that there were more hunters than doves on the opening weekend.

The NEWS has not yet printed football schedules for friends and patrons, but perhaps they will get printed before the season is over! Billie Gregg, advertising manager, finally scratched out the open date on the football schedule on her desk as she kept counting 11 games.

Morey Mast, one of our employees, looked at the marked-out schedule and said, "I don't know where Open is located, but I'd bet you'll wouldn't go there anyway."

Several parents are interested in starting a Girl Scout organization in Santa Anna. An information sheet will be sent to parents of elementary school girls this week seeking names of those in the community who are interested in taking part.

A meeting of the girls and their parents will be called soon if there are enough who indicate interest in girl scouting.

Santa Anna Lions Club members enjoyed their guest speaker Tuesday. William Vernon of England was guest of the club and told of his country and his impressions of the United States and Texas.

The unstable value of the American dollar has made exchanging British currency difficult in the United States, Vernon said, but O. L. Cheaney at the local bank made the exchange for the young man.

A guest of the Lee Vaughans, now visiting in the home of Mrs. Barnett in Coleman, the young man is very impressed with Texas and thinks it is the friendliest place he's ever been.

Serena Bryan Elected Prexy Of Sophomores

Serena Bryan was elected president of the sophomore class in an election at SAHS last Friday. Other officers chosen were David Huggins, vice-president, Leslie McCreary, secretary, Lane Guthrie, treasurer, and Mark Wagner, reporter.

Student Council representatives from the class will be chosen at a later date.

Faculty sponsors for the sophomores this year are J. A. Smelley and Larry Steele.

SA Application For COG Grant Waits Approval

The West Central Texas Council of Governments will receive $162,000 in Federal funds to be distributed to local governments to help generate new jobs in the area, COG Executive Director Cecil Mayes confirmed Monday, August 30.

The funding will come through the Emergency Employment Act of 1971, which is a Federal job creation program enacted to generate employment for unemployed and under-employed persons.

Under the plan as administered in Texas, regional Councils of Governments will serve as 'program agents' to equitably distribute their allowable funds to local governments in their respective planning regions, excluding cities or counties of 75,000 population or greater, which will serve as program agents to public agencies in their own respective jurisdictions. In announcing the plan, Gov. Preston Smith said that the money will help satisfy unmet needs in state and local government in such fields as environmental quality, health care, housing, recreation, education, public safety and park and street maintenance.

All applications are to be in by Sept. 10 when a rough guideline will have to be presented in Austin to the Department of Community Affairs.

Also the WCTCOG executive will have to approve this work plan before the funding will start about October 1.

Santa Anna, a member of the COG organization, has applied for funds from the recent grant to employ an assistant city secretary. The local application is for $3,900 for a 12-month period.

Two Are Named Directors For SA Co-op Gin

Emzy Brown and Garland Powell were re-elected directors of the Santa Anna Cooperative Gin at the annual membership meeting held on Saturday night, Sept. 4, at the elementary school cafeteria. The two men were elected for three-year terms.

Hold-over directors of the cooperative are C. H. Wise, Grady McIver, Dick Baugh, William Brown and James Eubank.

During the business meeting there was the presentation of the auditor's report for the past year. The current cotton crop was discussed which indicates the shortest crop in many years and even less than the 1950-bale season last year.

Acreage of cotton in the community is short because of the weather conditions at planting time, and the cotton that has been planted has not grown well and is being damaged by insects. Farmers who do harvest cotton this year can expect to have higher prices due to the supply, it was reported.

The directors of the Coop Gin will meet on Saturday, Oct. 9, to elect officers. Emzy Brown is current president of the group.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL
Mrs. Ford Barnes is back at home after spending several days in the Coleman hospital. She is getting along well at her home.

WELL SUITED . . . Suwane, Robin and Lucinda Smith, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, display the coats of their new band uniforms as they were issued last week. Suwane, a senior student in SAHS, shows the back view of her uniform. Robin, center, a seventh grade student, is wearing the tuxedo-style coat without the overlay and Lucinda, a junior, shows the front of the military uniform. The Smiths are the only family with three students in the senior band.

NEW BAND UNIFORMS ISSUED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT APPEARANCE

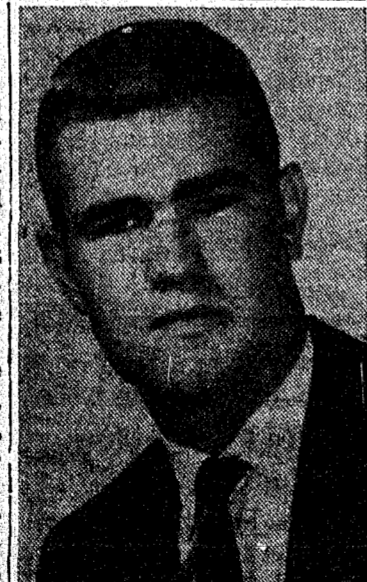

For the first time in 12 years, Santa Anna senior band students will be wearing all new band uniforms. The well dressed group will make their first public appearance at the Santa Anna-Baird football game at Baird Friday night.

SCOUT LEADER TO HOLD MEET NEXT MONDAY

Jess Sheets, District Boy Scout executive from Abilene, will be in Santa Anna next Monday, Sept. 13, to meet with all local boys interested in scouting. Boys from eight to 15 years of age who are interested in cub scout or boy scouts are urged to be present with their parents. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. at the elementary school auditorium.

The present scouting program in Santa Anna has been underway about six months and has an enrollment of approximately 30 boys. Allyn Early is Scout Master for the local troop which is sponsored by the Santa Anna Lions Club.

KORKY WISE Gets BS Degree From Texas Tech

Ag Ed Degree To Korky Wise At Texas Tech

Demby W. (Korky) Wise of Rockwood was one of approximately 1,050 students who received a degree at the 1971 summer commencement at Texas Tech University last month. He was awarded a bachelor of science degree in agriculture education.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Wise, Korky has been a member of the Block and Bridle organization, Texas Tech Collegiate FFA chapter and a member of the senior livestock judging team.

A cost of over $6,000, the Band Booster Club sponsored the purchase of the new uniforms and is raising money to pay for the giant purchase. Projects last year from which proceeds went on the first payment included bake sales, dinners, band work days and a play. Projects this year have started with a supper and will include a membership drive and other activities. The school district is aiding the organization with the financing of the project.

The black worsted wool uniforms are made tuxedo style and the one-button jackets are monogrammed with SAHS on the pocket. A white and gold "overlay" turns the formal concert uniform into a military uniform. A mountaineer emblem is applied on the gold back of the overlay and Santa Anna is embroidered across the front.

Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. W. D. Aldridge and Mrs. Aubrey Edwards assisted band director Aubrey Edwards in issuing the new suits last week. There were a few alterations necessary and all but a few of the 60 new uniforms have been issued. There are several additions to the senior band since last year and a few who have moved away or dropped out of the organization.

The Santa Anna Mountaineer band is led by Deborah Aldridge, drum major, Carol Kingsbery is feature twirler and Judy Busenrhan is head twirler. Other twirlers are Janice Martin and Regina Cupps.

The 60-member band will have approximately 55 in the marching group. The band last year won a first division award for marching and II rating in concert playing.

YOUTH NIGHT AT FBC SUNDAY

Young people of the First Baptist Church are planning the monthly youth night at the church on Sunday, September 12. Special music will be presented and Joe Robbins of Brownwood, a lone next week exhibiting sion of the Brownwood Police Department, will be guest speaker.

The 7:00 p. m. service will be preceded by a coke party for all young people in the community, beginning at 6:00 p. m.

Everyone in the town is invited to attend the special service prepared and directed by the young people of the church.

Mountaineers Travel To Baird To Open Football Season Friday

The 1971 football season will open for the Mountaineers as they travel to Baird on Friday night for an 8:00 p. m. game with the Bears. Although showing considerable improvement during the past week, the Mounties are expected to have their hands full with the experienced Baird crew.

A strong passing game is expected from the Baird Bears as they will seek to continue their winning ways after defeating the Mounties 34-7 last season.

At the local stadium last Friday night the SAHS team looked much better than the previous week as the out-scored the Evant Elks in a controlled scrimmage practice session. According to Coach J. A. Smelley the offense looked much better than in the Wylie scrimmage with Ricky Beal running better and the offensive line looking good.

Tommy Lewis and David Huggins were running well, according to Mr. Smelley.

The Mounties begin their non-district schedule this week with five games on tap with class A teams before starting the district 18-B battle.

Leading the 1971 Mountie squad are co-captains Ricky Beal and Mark Wise, seniors, and Rocky Dean, junior. Ricky son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richardson, is serving his second year as co-captain. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Wise and Rocky is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Dean.

The probable starting offensive lineup for the Friday night game will be as follows: Ronnie Daniel, center; Eilly Diaz and Randy Long, guards; Mark Wise and Randall Lovelady, tackles; Danny Valdez and Tony Beal, ends; David Horner, quarterback; Ricky Beal, fullback; Tommy Lewis and Rocky Dean, halfbacks.

Probable defensive starters will be David Drake and Randy Long, guards; Randall Lovelady and Mark Wise, tackles; Billy Diaz and Rocky Dean, ends; Tony and Ricky Beal, linebackers; Tommy Lewis and David Huggins, halfbacks, and David Horner, safety.

All Santa Anna football fans are urged to accompany the Mounties to Baird on Friday night for the season's opener.

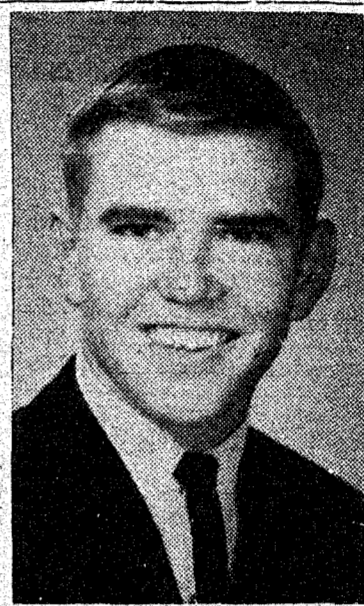

PEP RALLY FRIDAY

The first pep rally of the season will be held Friday afternoon at the gymnasium at 3:35 p. m. SAHS cheerleaders will be in charge of the program which will include skits and yells, band selections and routines by the twirlers.

All local people are invited to attend the pep rally Friday afternoon and each Friday before a football game. Different entertainment is planned for each rally.

Mr. Strickland, who was an evangelist at the Northside Church during a revival in May, is now a full-time evangelist. Wheat is a licensed minister and song leader.

Services will be held at the regular hours on Sunday with the visiting ministers to be on hand for the evening service. The final service will be on Sunday morning, Sept. 19.

Rev. Vernon Parnell, pastor of the church, extends a special invitation to community residents to attend the series of services.

Area Doctors, Pharmacists Vote Against Welfare Vender Program

Doctors and pharmacists of the Central Texas area voted not to go along with the new Vendor program of the State Health Department in a meeting held Tuesday night at Brownwood Community Hospital.

Declaring the program as "completely unworkable" they agreed that compliance with it would be next to impossible.

Attending from Santa Anna were Robert and David Barkley of Phillips Drug, and many doctors and pharmacists from Brownwood, Bangs, Coleman and other area places were in attendance.

"The paper work on a single prescription under this plan takes at least 20 minutes," Robert Barkley said on Wednesday morning.

In other aspects of the program, recipients would be limited to two prescriptions a month with a maximum expenditure of $12.00. "Most of the older people are taking up to five prescriptions now," Barkley said, "and even at cost their prescriptions will run over $12.00 a month. If the doctor orders more than their maximum allowance, it must first be approved by a board in Wichita Falls, and returned to the pharmacy before it can be filled. "They could die in that time," Barkley said.

Not only the pharmacists are loaded with paper work, but the doctors also. According to opinions expressed at meeting, doctors would spend more time signing papers than seeing patients. Also, even at best, every doctor's office and pharmacy would have to hire additional help to take care of the "red tape."

The group prepared statements to send Raymond W. Vowell, commissioner of the State Welfare Department, and also letters to Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and other officials in Austin, expressing their objections to the program.

"The sad part of the program is that it hurts the very people it was designed to help," Barkley said. It was believed that the Department would have to make some changes to simplify the program if it is ever to work.

"The program was originated without any knowledge of anyone in the medical or pharmaceutical professions," Barkley said. "It was dropped on them without warning."

Auto Accident South of Town Injures Three Sunday Night

Three persons were hospitalized Sunday night, one in critical condition, following a two-vehicle collision south of Santa Anna about 8:30 p. m. The accident occurred at the intersection of the Rockwood highway and the Shield farm road ten miles south of town.

Hospitalized in Brownwood was the driver of a pickup, James W. Greenlee, 29 of Brownwood and his wife, Joyce Kay, 28. In critical condition following the accident and reported to be transferred to Hendricks Hospital in Abilene was Patrick Caudle, 10, of Dallas, a passenger in the other vehicle.

Also injured but not hospitalized was Sam Cobb, Jr., 48, of Dallas, a former Coleman resident, Casey Cobb, 14, of Dallas, and Robert Foster, 23, of Austin, a passenger in the Cobb station wagon.

According to reports the accident occurred when the Cobb auto, traveling east collided with the pickup at the highway intersection. The station wagon was towing a jeep which had been used by the Dallas group as they hunted doves in the Shield community.

The Greenlees were enroute to their home at Brownwood after visiting south of Rockwood in the home of his brother, Charles and family.

According to reports Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Greenlee were improving and expected to be dismissed from the hospital in a few days.

Both vehicles were demolished in the accident which was investigated by highway patrolman Al Chambers.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

WHEN THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT resorts to blackmail to get its way it is carrying bureaucratic power too far.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has threatened to cut off federal funds for the whole state of Colorado because one county, Montezuma, has not performed according to their prescribed program.

The whole thing stems from the HEW demanding that their welfare staff be increased from 14 to 21 people for a county of 13,000 population which has a present case load of 700. This would give each employee a load of 35 cases to work every 90 days, that would be one each two and a half days for each worker. Now there ain't no use working a good mule to death, is there? If a business man didn't get any more work than that out of an employee, he would be broke in 24 hours.

Yet a bunch of Washington bureaucrats can sit up there in their ivory tower, spending our money, and demand that we accede to their nutty notions and we sit back and take it. I believe it is about time we quit sending their pay checks!

Getting back to Colorado, what really confuses the situation — even if Montezuma County wanted to do the HEW's bidding — is that the Colorado state legislature prescribes in detail how much taxes a county can levy for specific purposes. Under the law the county can only levy a tax of three mills for welfare and the county has already run out of this fund. But in far off Washington, the HEW has decreed that unless Montezuma County performs according to its decree then federal payments for the entire state of Colorado will be cut off.

Where do they get that stuff? Since when are we going to sit down here and let a bunch of radical liberals dictate what we are going to do — especially when they don't have a law to back it up.

What they are doing is making their own laws, and interpreting present laws to suit their particular desires.

People, we had better get off our "blessed assurance" and get a bunch of mail going to Washington. Write everybody you can think of, whether they are from our district or not. And that includes the President!

We have had so much slop crammed down our throats that it is difficult to understand how we can keep anything on our stomach. And the sad thing is that as long as we allow them, they will continue to cram it down.

Are we going to sit back and take it? Or act?

WATER USERS in Santa Anna, Bangs, Brownwood and Early and others who get their water supply from Lake Brownwood, are up in arms about the application of the City of Coleman to dump 1.2 million gallons of sewage effluent into Hords Creek, which runs into the Jim Ned and eventually into Lake Brownwood.

Of course the result of this application is yet to be known, but the downstream water users do not relish the idea of drinking Coleman's sewage effluent.

The Texas Water Quality Board and the State Department of Health have the last say about this and citizens have the right to let their wishes be known. So if you wish to write them, the addresses are as follows:

Texas Water Quality Board, James Showen, acting director, 1108 Lavaca, Austin 78701; and Texas State Department of Health, Dr. James C. Peavy, commissioner, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin 78756.

You must understand that in cases where sewage effluent is drained into a public stream, the bacteria count is required to be below a certain standard. However, how well this check is made can be an important factor.

Austin — Governor Preston Smith sprang one surprise after another in announcing appointments to key state positions.

One of the biggest was selection of his longtime legal aide and top political campaign worker Robert D. (Bob) Bullock, formerly of Hillsboro, as Secretary of State succeeding Martin Dies Jr.

A few days earlier, he selected another staff assistant, V. Larry Teaver of Lubbock, to the State Board of Insurance. Surprise here was that Teaver did not replace Durwood Manford, veteran member of the board.

Manford got a new six-year term and Charles D. Mathews, a Dallas trucking executive and attorney until two years ago, was moved from the board to an Austin district judgeship.

Teaver replaced Mathews when the freshman board member became judge of the new 200th Travis County district court.

Smith stirred some controversy by naming a successor to Brig. Gen. James M. Rose an assistant adjutant general of Texas for air. On recommendation of Maj. Gen. Ross Ayers, the state adjutant general, he picked Lt. Col. Belisario D.J. Flores of San Antonio for the Air National Guard command.

Smith's other appointments included:

- T. E. (Gene) Mitchell of Plainview as chairman of the Governor's Committee on Human Relations. Dies previously doubled in that job before his appointment to the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals at Beaumont.

- Robert W. Kneebone of Houston for a new six-year term as a member of the Texas Youth Council.

REDISTRICTING MOVES ON — A two-way legislative redistricting fight moved toward a Supreme Court decision last week.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin filed briefs in appeal from the August 2 Austin district court ruling that House of Representatives reapportionment this year is unconstitutional because it improperly violates county lines. Martin said the "one-man-one-vote" rule of federal courts eliminates state constitutional provision safeguarding county lines.

At the same time, 53rd District Judge Herman Jones refused to prevent the Texas Legislative Redistricting Board from reapportioning the State Senate and said the Board may also do preliminary House reapportionment. Time for attack on board's work, concluded Jones, is when it finishes.

Rep. Fred Head of Henderson brought suit in Jones' court to prevent the Board from redistricting House and Senate. He contended new census data is not complete and that reapportionment should be left until 1973. Head indicated efforts will be made to get his suit before the Supreme Court at the same time as the attack on House reapportionment of the regular session.

TAX STUDY LAUNCHED — New Legislative Property Tax Committee began a four-year study of how property taxation can be made "fair, viable and efficient."

Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg was named chairman of the group and Jack Hart of Midland, staff director.

Hart noted a recent decision of the California Supreme Court may make the Texas committee's job more difficult. California court held reliance on property taxes alone to finance public schools is unconstitutional.

Committee's work is being financed by a charge of $1 per delinquent tax receipt authorized by the Legislature this year. Among goals is computerization of ad valorem tax records on a statewide basis.

TEACHER PAY HIKE OK — Up to 90 per cent of 138,000 Texas teachers will get their pay raise as approved by the Legislature in spite of the 90-day wage freeze, under a Texas Education Agency ruling.

Ruling by State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar is subject to approval by federal authorities. It would go to 1,200 local school districts on September 8 unless reversed in Washington, but is subject to further interpretation at local school board level.

Edgar said teachers signed contracts prior to August 15, many were at work July 1, and others had reached an agreement and established eligibility to perform with a local school before the president's freeze order. Commissioner Edgar concluded that raises were in order also in local school districts which pay salaries above the state minimum where agreements were reached before August 15.

Texas Public Employees Association filed a petition for exceptions from the freeze since Legislature last June passed an appropriations bill calling for state worker pay raises.

AG OPINIONS — Appropriations bill limitations on extended state pay to aliens do not prohibit the Texas Industrial Commission from hiring a Mexican National to work in Mexico fulltime in a Texas Industrial Commission branch office there, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

- A justice of the peace who is not an attorney must have served a minimum of two terms of four years each to be exempt from attending a 40-hour course of instruction for non-lawyers.

- Texas Rehabilitation Commission is authorized to deposit funds received from local agencies under a federal establishment grant in a local depository.

Martin said a governor's veto of funds for payment of court costs will handicap his office in prosecution and defense of state cases.

WATER PLAN ALIVE — Master $10 billion water plan to move surplus Mississippi River waters to Texas High Plains farms is still alive, according to Harry Burleigh, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board.

Burleigh urged campaign to win congressional support of plan in 1973, when federal agency water conservation report is due.

Although Texans rejected $3.5 billion bond issue to finance state's share of giant project, it is believed much of the money can now be obtained from the federal government, Burleigh indicated. Two groups, West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Water Inc., are spearheading the new drive for financing.

WELFARE CUT DELAYED — Start of new state fiscal year September 1 did not bring reduced aid to fatherless welfare families, even though Texas refused to raise $80 million a year categorical benefit ceiling last spring.

Cuts are expected in a few months, however, State Welfare Department reports. Average of $118.53 per month assistance for families with dependent children is expected to remain through January.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas motor vehicle registrations topped $7.5 million mark for first time during registration year which ended March 31. Figure was 7,515,053, plus 120,295 exempt registrations.

New Texas Film Commission launched drive last week to get more movie production companies to work in state.

Top government and business leaders will brief Texas industrialists on economic and manufacturing developments at governor's conference here October 13-14.

Texans spent $283 million on new autos from 1,700 franchised dealers last year. All new car dealers after December 1 must have special license from new Texas Motor Vehicle Commission.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to call attention to what is happening to our water supply at Lake Brownwood.

Coleman, our neighbor, has applied to the Texas Water Quality Board and the State Health Department in Austin for a permit to dump 1.2 million gallons of sewage effluent into Hords Creek which runs into Jim Ned and right into Lake Brownwood.

Can you imagine what it would be like to have polluted drinking water?

We urge each and everyone to write Texas Water Quality Board and State Health Department and voice their opposition as downstream water users.

If Santa Anna doesn't voice their opposition to Austin, water board and health department might think Santa Anna doesn't care what happens to their drinking water, therefore granting Coleman this permit.

Coleman can dispose of its sewage in a more refined and safer way than jeopardizing wildlife and people's lives who consume this drinking water from Jim Ned and Lake Brownwood.

Please write your letter opposing this permit as Mayor Harlow of Brownwood suggested.

CHALK DUST

by Carol Kingsbery Sandra Hosch

We are all pleased at the turnout of the towns people last Thursday night at the "Mounties Night." Many football fans were at the stadium to see the practice session and were entertained by the band. The band members were introduced along with the drill team members and cheerleaders. The Junior High football team was recognized. Mrs. Eugene Harris introduced the Junior High twirlers and yell leaders.

The SAHS football team will be working hard to keep the No. 1 rating in the district. A warning to all you football boys, keep on your toes or Coach Steele will have "Rastus" on your heels!

Mark Wise, you didn't think we would put your name in the column, but we did!

A mysterious garbage can was found in the hall Tuesday afternoon. Little notice was taken until a girl popped out, then there were a few second looks and many speculations!

There was a noon meeting of the FHA Chapter Thursday. The local girls elected their chapter parents and boy sponsors. President Glenda Strickland presided over a group of about 40 girls.

Mrs. Ross Jones, dance instructor from Coleman, worked with the Mountmette Drill Team Thursday evening. They worked on a show routine for the Baird game, Sept. 19.

Coach Smelley's civics class was the scene of some hot debates Friday. Class members debated on various topics concerning our government policies. Linda Dean and Jimmy Benton, last year's debate team, each presented interesting debates.

The Santa Anna "11" led the Friday night scrimmage by three touchdowns against the Evant Elks. Tony Beal, David Huggins, W. T. Young, and Tommy Lewis each intercepted passes during the game. Hope you boys will keep this up during the season.

After the game a bunch gathered at the Kingsberys for a spaghetti supper. We entertained ourselves with stunts, skits, and a lot of laughter. It's a good thing the party was outside because it got a little messy, especially when Ricky Jones attempted to "fold" an egg! Randy Long tried to draw attention to himself by bringing two Texas Tech coeds. Randy, is two all you could manage?

FARMERS' FORUM

THE LATEST NEWS AND VIEWS ON FARMING

CHELATES and COTTON

Chelate!
To a linguist, the word — literally — means "claw." To a cotton grower, however, "chelate" can mean the difference between profit and loss at picking time.
It all has to do with micro-nutrients, minute soil-nourishing agents that plants need to flourish. When these are deficient — either depleted or tied up in a form plants can't use — the results are unhealthy crops and reduced yields.
And that's where chelates come in.
A chelate is a micronutrient compound formed by combining a metal with a special organic mixture. In a chelated state, this metal stays in the ground in an available form until plants are ready to absorb it. Unlike other sources of micronutrients, such as sulfates and chlorides, chelates can not become tied up in the soil.
Further, a chelate like Sequestrene zinc can be used either dry or as a liquid, which means it can be simply and conveniently combined with dry or liquid fertilizer for time-saving, dual-purpose application.
How can a cotton grower find out if his soil needs a chelate supplement?
One way is to take a soil sample for testing. If the grower doesn't know how to do this, his local county agent will be glad to provide the necessary information and cartons for sending the sample to the laboratory.
Another way is for the grower to be able to recognize starved soil symptoms in his crop. A zinc deficiency in cotton, for example, will cause bronzing and yellowing between the veins of leaves shortly after emergence.
If this symptom is allowed to progress unchecked, the cotton plants can become stunted, which results in late fruit set, disappointing yields and loss of profit.
All of which can be prevented or cured with the proper chelate at the proper time!

THE FAIR CITY OF TRICKHAM

A Correspondent Tells of Its Interesting Environments
(Ed. note: the following article appeared in an early-day issue of the Coleman Democrat and is reproduced from a yellowed copy which belongs to Mrs. Fay Whitley of Bangs.)
To The Democrat:
It seems that no one has ever written a description of this beautiful country and little village of Trickham, therefore I will take the liberty.

On the south there are beautiful Hemp-plantations. There are also Rice-plantations, and some of our fair maids think this Rice the best on earth.
On the East, there are Sherfields. On the North, there are Seas, and me thinks one of our loveliest girls will sail out on the matrimonial Sea one of these fine days. But, back to the subject.
On the West—well Adam lives there, so you know 'tis not Eden. Our village is Trickham, and when you come this way be on the look out that you don't get Trick-ed. They Cheatham here also.

Our people are a working class, and believe in diversification. We have Coopers, Millers, Wagoners, Carters, and Smiths of all kinds. Our Tanner left not long since, as shoes are so cheap.
It has not rained in a long time, so our Pords are useless at the present, though they come in good play when the creek gets up and your girl lives on the other side.
We don't care whether it rains or not, Waters are plentiful as there are Bays nearby.

PASADENA VISITORS
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carothers of Pasadena are spending several days in Santa Anna with her sister, Mrs. Kate Holmes. Another sister, Mrs. Edith Newsome of Winchell, joined them here for a visit.
Mrs. Holmes plans to return to south Texas with her sister and brother-in-law and visit in the home of her son, L. J. Lovelady, who is recovering from recent surgery.

Internal Clocks And Breathing

Many animals, including man, have built-in daily clocks. Some scientists now suspect that animals, maybe even man, also have annual clocks or yearly cycles.

Most people fall asleep at roughly the same time every night. Their peak activity periods are not too different from day to day. They have daily clocks. So do most animals.

But many animals also have yearly cycles, most obvious in hibernating animals and migratory birds. According to a recent article in Scientific American, "Annual Biological Clocks," some scientists think yearly clocks may be as universal as daily ones. Research suggests the clocks are internal, already set and wound at birth, and operating independently of the environment.

Even ground squirrels raised in the laboratory — and surrounded by food — stop eating in October, just as they do in the natural environment. Their breathing becomes drastically slower and their body temperature drops almost 40 degrees.

Investigators are just beginning to explore the possibility of annual clocks in man, and a preliminary study of psychotics suggests yearly ahythmic ups and downs and cycles of inactivity.

Very little is known about annual clocks, or even daily ones, for that matter. No scientist completely understands why sleep occurs. It just does; and if people are deprived of sleep they show psychotic symptoms.

Changes in daily and yearly cycles are usually accompanied by drastic changes in breathing patterns. Your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association does not have any information on yearly clocks; but they have booklets about breathing and how the lungs work. They know it's a matter of life and breath.

Mail Service In Santa Anna To Be Speeded

Postmaster John C. Gregg this week announced that Santa Anna is to be included in the new overnight delivery service of first class mail which is being planned for the nation. The area outlined by Postmaster Gregg is that which next day delivery will be provided for ZIP coded first class mail deposited by 5 p. m. on weekdays in business areas and at collection points on main thoroughfares.
