R.C. Smith Named Citizen of Year

Local educator, R.C. Smith was named citizen of the year during the Chamber of Commerce Banquet held Saturday night at the school cafeteria.

In announcing the selection of Smith for the honor, Chamber president Scott Patterson cited Smith's involvement in community affairs as well as his 20 years association with the Santa Anna schools as a teacher, coach and administrator.

Smith had been named to the Texas Tennis Coaches' Hall of Fame in December and over the years had received many other honors related to his profession in education.

Smith and his wife Pat are active members of the Presbyterian Church where they both serve in leadership roles. He is also a longtime member of the Santa Anna Lions Club where he has held various offices.

Patterson described Smith as a personal friend, a friend of the community and a "molder of lives in a positive manner" in his capacity of educator and coach. He retired from full time teaching in November after 33 years. He is presently teaching on a half day schedule.

Thomas Wristen, citizen of the year for 1986, presented Smith with a plaque to commemorate the honor of being named 1987 Citizen of The Year.

Charles Wetsel, local West Texas Utilities manager, was given the "best dressed" award. Making the presentation was Rob Cheaney, a former recipient of the award that is given in jest each year, but as was noted, all citizens who have received the award have been cited for their tireless efforts on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce and the community.

Speaker for the occasion was Terry Wilson, executive vice-president of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce. Wilson lauded the local organization for their service to the community and their efforts to reach for the goals they have set for improvements in the community. In keeping with the theme for the evening, "Go For The Goals", the speaker challenged the citizens of Santa Anna as well as the Chamber members to serve with "consistency, readiness and a positive attitude."

He stressed that citizens should speak of the community in a positive manner and try to be of help in solving any problems that might exist. He cautioned the we should dwell on what is good about Santa Anna and promote a positive attitude. If we do that, we can move forward to accomplish the goals that have been set and perhaps attract new businesses that will enhance the economy of the city.

Council Has Busy Evening

The Santa Anna City Council met in regular session on Thursday, March 5, 1987, with all members present.

The minutes from the previous meeting were read and two changes were made before approval. The two changes were concerning the cleaning out of the canal on Avenue A and the M590 MPH Radar Unit. In the previous minutes it read that the City would clean out the canal, but it should have read that the city would clean the street in front of the canal. On the radar unit the wrong number for the unit was listed.

The IBM Billing System was then discussed and the subject was tabled until more companies could be contacted.

Thelma Brooker gave a report on the Park and asked about getting four or five tables for the Park. She also asked if the council would consider letting the park board use some of the property by the north side of the armory where there is a cement slab that could be used for a basketball court. A motion was made that the park board do more study on the cost of the different types of tables (cement, wood, metal, etc.) and then come back to the council with these figures. The Park Board was then granted permission to use the piece of land by the armory for use.

The council decided to let Thelma Brooker and Rusty Wells to check out the cost to make a water truck with a water tank for the purpose of wetting down the streets. If the cost exceeds $500 it was decided to have them bring it to the council next month.

A TORT Reform Resolution was introduced for discussion and it was decided to adopt this resolution by the council.

Old city vehicles were then discussed, being a 1971 Ford LTD Sedan, a '72 Dodge Pick-up, and a '74 Chevy Van. It was decided to put these vehicles up for sealed bids separately in the paper.

Gary Patterson and Louis Miles Guthrie were appointed the places on the Housing Authority Board by Mayor Joe Guerrero.

Mr. O. L. Dow was introduced to the council to discuss repairs needed for the Water Storage Tank on the Mountain. It was decided to table this discussion until the executive session.

A discussion about the cost estimate for repairs on the '81 Ford LTD Police Car was tabled until a later time.

It was suggested that the City put a fence and barbed wire up around the East Sewer Lift Station to keep people out and stop abuse to the station. The matter was tabled until a later time.

It was decided to purchase a minimum amount of sealer needed for Clark Street for the base, and to also purchase the sealer to fix both tanks at the sewer farm lagoon.

The budget was discussed and then the council went into executive session.

When the council returned to open session Mayor Guerrero brought up a discussion about the water storage tank. It was decided to check with the bank about finance availability for doing the work ($18,000 worth) on the water storage tank.

It was then decided to get the transmission for the '81 Ford LTD Police Car after a previous motion was rescinded concerning tabling the matter.

The council then approved the passing of a resolution concerning employee contracts.

The budget was discussed again and accepted as set up and then accounts payable was approved for payment in the normal manner.

6 In ISD Race

Two more names have been added to the list of candidates for the April 4th election of Santa Anna Independent School District board of trustees.

Latests to file for positions on the ballot are Jerry Ellis, local farmer-rancher and Quinton Daniel, plant superintendent for Coleman County Telephone Cooperative.

The four who had previously filed as candidates are incumbent Terry McIver, local independent oil operator; Robert Pritchard, owner-manager of Frames and Things in Brownwood; Bill Gustavus, rancher, Gustavus Cattle Company; and Ronnie Hartman, as partner in Hartman Construction Co.

The six candidates will be seeking two (2) at-large positions on the board which are presently held by Terry McIver and Polly Warnock. McIver is completing his first 3-year term. Mrs. Warnock chose not to seek re-election after serving two 3-year terms on the board.

Deadline for filing as a school board candidate was Wednesday, March 4.

Absentee voting for the school board election, as well as the city election for mayor and two councilmen, will begin on Monday, March 18, and will conclude on Tuesday, March 31. Persons wishing to vote absentee in the school board election need to contact Judy Hartman either by writing or going by the ISD office for a ballot. Persons wishing to vote absentee in the city election need to contact Vikki Wristen either by writing or going by the City Hall for a ballot.

Terry Wilson, executive vice-president of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce and speaker at the Santa Anna Chamber of Commerce Banquet told the audience to work with "consistency, readiness, and positive thinking" in meeting goals for community improvement. Wilson gave praise to the local organization for their service to the community and their efforts to reach for the goals they have set for improvements in the community. (News Photo by Polly Warnock) honoree, Thomas Wristen (right), presented Smith with the award. In announcing the selection of Smith for the honor, Chamber president Scott Patterson cited Smith's involvement in community affairs as well as his 20 years association with the Santa Anna schools as a teacher, coach and administrator. (News Photo by Polly Warnock)

Police Report

On Friday, February 27, 1987, at approximately 7:00 p.m., Roland Ray Deal of Rockwood was arrested and charged with a Felony D.W.I. and for driving while license suspended. He was placed in the Coleman County Jail on those charges.

On Thursday, March 5, 1987 Billy Don Marney, with an address in Florida, was arrested at approximately 9:00 p.m. in the 700 block of Bowie stemming from an incident which occurred at the High School earlier. This subject was charged with carrying prohibited weapons, possession of drug paraphernalia and traffic offenses and was placed in the Coleman County Jail.

On Sunday morning, March 8, 1987 at approximately 11:00 a.m. at the intersection of Wallis and North 8th, there was a traffic accident involving two vehicles. Both of the driver's were from out of town and no one was injured. One of the driver's was issued a citation for failure to yield right of way while making a left turn.

There has been a drastic increase in the amount of citations being issued in Santa Anna due to the speeds which people are driving here. These areas include the School Zone in front of the school and all along Wallis Avenue through town.

This has made several motorists rather unhappy with the police department, but, remember—only you are guilty as a driver; the officer is only doing what he was hired to do. The speed zones are clearly marked in the school zone and also along Wallis.

The month of February had the highest number of alcohol related arrests since Police Chief Craig Terry has taken over duties here. There were three (3) D.W.I. arrests, and one resulted in an accident with injuries. Officer Terry advises, "Please folks, remember that, IF YOU DRIVE—DON'T DRINK, and IF YOU DRINK—DON'T DRIVE!!! The life you save may be your own."

Rob Cheaney presented Charles Wetsel with the "Best Dressed Award" during the Chamber of Commerce Banquet held last Saturday evening. The award is given in fun each year, but as was noted, the recipient has worked tirelessly in projects

Check It Out

The Caldecott Medal is awarded annually to a book voted the most distinguished picture book for children published during the previous year. The selection is made by a committee of children's librarians, including representatives from the American Association of School Librarians. First presented in 1938, it was the first award recognizing the work of the illustrator of a book.

The winner for 1986 is "HEY, AL" illustrated by Richard Egelski. In this book a janitor's drab existence is transformed by a tropical bird.

To win the Caldecott Medal, the book must be the artist's original creation. The illustrator does not have to write the story. The pictures, rather than the text, should be the heart of the book. A silver stamp, a likeness of the Caldecott Medal, is placed on those winners published after the presentation of the medal.

Check the list of Caldecott winners at the library, "look" them over and give them a "read."

Friendship Meal

Twenty-seven people attended the Thursday friendship luncheon this past Thursday. Mary Lela Clifford cooked and furnished the fish for the main dish. Birthday greetings were sung to Doris Griffin. Rip Keeney was welcomed as a newcomer. Frank McCary said the table grace and after the meal Fannie Gilbert gave a list of "J-ebber" from cotton picking days to walking three miles to school. Her rendition gave smiles and grins to all faces, and all left in a fun mood.

Estes, a stepson from San Antonio; Larry Lee, a son, and Bob Lee, a grandson, from Auburn, California; a sister, Willie Frances Nugent of Roseville, California; a stepdaughter, Billie Ruth Van Huss of Houston; Tanya Marsh of Huntsville; Herman Estes of Bovina; Robert, Janie and Jennifer Huston of El Paso. All returned home on either Saturday or Sunday. Herman and Edna Estes and Suez Smith spent Sunday night and will be with Jewel on Monday night, before staying at their new home in Coleman.

Thoughts From Our Pastors

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This week the pastor from the Northside Baptist Church was due to write the "Thoughts From Our Pastors" column. As the church is searching for a new pastor and does not have one at this time, I am using a devotional from the "Upper Room" written for Thursday, March 12, 1987.)

Who is my neighbor?—Luke 10:29

Read Isaiah 58:1-7.

Houses in many parts of Brazil are not made to keep out much wind and cold. It is not often very cold. So I am sure that one particular family (friends of ours in the northern part of our state of Parana) were huddled together and perhaps wrapped in blankets to keep warm one cold night in July 1975.

Then the father of the family remembered the homeless who slept near the bus and train stations. Covered with shabby blankets or newspapers, they spent the nights in doorways or on benches. Leaving the little comfort that was his, he set out on foot, rounded up all the homeless people he could find, and put them in boarding houses at his own expense. In other cities in Brazil, many died of the cold that bitter night. But not those rescued by our friend, who acted in the Spirit of Christ.

PRAYER: Dear God, who showed Your love in Jesus Christ, thank You also for showing Your love through those who follow Him. We celebrate the power of Your love that motivates us to do good, to hate evil, and to avoid complacency. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: We cannot save everyone, but we can help someone.

—Written by Lawrence A. Brown (Parana, Brazil)

PRAYER FOCUS: Homeless People.

Sorority Has Meeting

Sixteen members met at the Telephone Coop Meeting Room for the March 9 meeting of Delta Omicron Sorority.

The meeting was called to order and the minutes and roll were called. A financial report was also given. Correspondence was read from the Santa Anna FFA thanking the sorority for contributing to the Livestock Show Bar-B-Que and an invitation to the District VII Meeting in San Angelo on March 15.

It was announced that so far $512.40 has been collected for the March of Dimes. People of Santa Anna have always been very supportive of this program and Delta Omicron thanks you for making this endeavor a success. The nominating committee presented a list of candidates for office for the year of 1987-88. These will be voted on in April.

A couple's social will be held Friday night, March 13, at the home of Burgess and Gayle Stewardson. The theme will be in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Hostesses are Gayle Stewardson, Gail Loyd, Jan Brixey and Dorothy Harris.

Lane Dryden of Lane's Nursery Early presented a program on landscaping and lawn care. He talked about the different kinds of fertilizers to use, when to use them, and how long the effects last. Mr. Dryden spoke on the trees to plant that grow quickly. The fastest growing tree is the cottonless Cottonwood. An almond tree is the best nut tree to plant for the return will be good. A bald Cypress grows well in really damp areas including a creekbed. Mr. Dryden also spoke on the use of Texas Native Plants in landscaping. Once these plants, such as Purple Sage, take hold, they will require very little water.

Refreshments were served to Bernidine Watson, Debbie Dean, Gail Horner, Coyita Bowker, Gay Martin, Donna Bradley, Gail Loyd, Becky Martin, Jo Ashworth, Betty Martin, Susie Voss, Kathy Pearce, Patti Musick and a guest, Kim Hubbard.

Area Residents Due Money!

The Texas Treasury has about $80 million in unclaimed money, safe deposit boxes, oil royalties and stocks and bonds that it wants to return to about 100,000 Texans.

"On Sunday, March 8, we will publish this annual list of names," Treasurer Ann Richards said, "and we hope to return a sizable portion of that money to its rightful owners."

Persons who find their name on the list may reclaim their property by calling the State Treasury, toll free at 1-800-321-2274 or by writing to the State Treasury at P.O. Box 12608,

Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. "There is no set time limit for making a claim," Treasurer Richards emphasized. "We will hold the account in the owner's name forever."

She said that last year, the State Treasury published a similar list and about $50 million was reunited with owners.

The Unclaimed Money Fund list was first published when Treasurer Richards took office in 1983. Since that time, the State Treasury has returned 73 percent of all the money ever returned since the law took effect 26 years ago.

Under her administration, the State Treasury has also substantially increased efforts to collect dormant accounts. Collections have increased from $6.3 million in 1962 to $69 million in 1986.

"The amount of money that we collect is important," the Treasurer said. "Because in the past, accounts which were not turned over to the Treasury for safekeeping were often lost. Now, at least, the accounts are protected at no charge by the Treasury."

The list is being published statewide in 16 newspapers. The list is also available at public libraries and county offices (and is also available at this newspaper office). As a public service to our readers, those names listed from Santa Anna are: L. A. Clinch; Elmer Cupps; G & E Oil Corp.; Mrs. J. R. Gipson; Mrs. James L. Harris; Holland-Page Const.; W. M. Morgan; Bradley Pape; Lee Smith; R. C. Tallman; Wm. E. Tryon; Era O. Walters; Grady Williams; and Lela Willson.

Under state law, checking and savings accounts, mineral royalties, insurance payments, safe deposit boxes, utility deposits and the like are turned over to the state if accounts are inactive for at least three years.

The state may use the funds for general state services and for education, but the owners or their heirs may file a claim at any time in the future for the money held by the state.

Aviation Club Sets Air Show

COLEMAN—Aviation fans in Central Texas will get what may be their only chance to see a local acrobatic display this year on April 11 at the sixth annual Coleman Air Show.

Activities begin at the Coleman Municipal Airport on Saturday, April 11 at 10:00 a.m. and continue to 3:00 p.m. with acrobatic performances by Brownie Seals, Doug Warren, Sam Holoman, Pat Day, and the War Birds. In addition, a bombing competition and parachuting have been scheduled.

Static displays will include antique and classic airplanes, ultralight aircraft, radio-controlled drones and other home-built specimens.

The air show is sponsored by the Coleman Aviation Club, a group founded six years ago for the purpose of providing emergency air services to the Coleman area, and back-up services for other areas, if necessary.

The group has been called upon numerous times to search for downed aircraft and lost persons, and to provide emergency medical transport.

In order to better acquaint the public with aviation and the existing air facilities in Coleman, the group decided five years ago to sponsor an annual air show with all proceeds to go to local charities.

This year's proceeds will go to the Senior Citizen Center and the Meals on Wheels program.

In the past, over $8,000 has been donated to Meals on Wheels and the Senior Center of both Coleman and Santa Anna, as well as to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene.

No admission charge will be collected, and the public is invited to attend. A noon concession has been scheduled.

4-H Clothing Project Leaders Needed

Do you like to buy clothes? If you said yes, then you have something to share with 4-H members ages 9-19. The 4-H Clothing Project will begin in April teaching youth knowledge and skills to benefit them for a lifetime. A clothing project consists of six (6) lessons in any area of clothing. A project could include what to shop for, reading labels, using accessories, wardrobe planning, how to care for clothes, and grooming.

If you would like to be a volunteer leader for this exciting project or would like more information, please contact the County Extension Office at 625-4519.

Library Cassette Tapes Offer Line-By-Line Tax Help

Information to help taxpayers complete a federal tax return may be available at many local libraries on audio cassette tapes prepared by the Internal Revenue Service.

The tapes allow individuals to listen to step-by-step instructions on how to prepare IRS Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, and the Form 1040, Schedule A, B and W, while working on their returns.

Local public library branches usually offer the free tapes through the traditional book loan procedure. A standard cassette tape player is all that is necessary to use the tapes.

To make the best use of the tapes, taxpayers should have their tax forms and instructions on hand to work on while playing the tape. Frequently used forms, schedules and instructions are also available at many local libraries, by calling the toll-free number or by using the order blank in the tax package.

Peach Blossom Time In The Hill Country

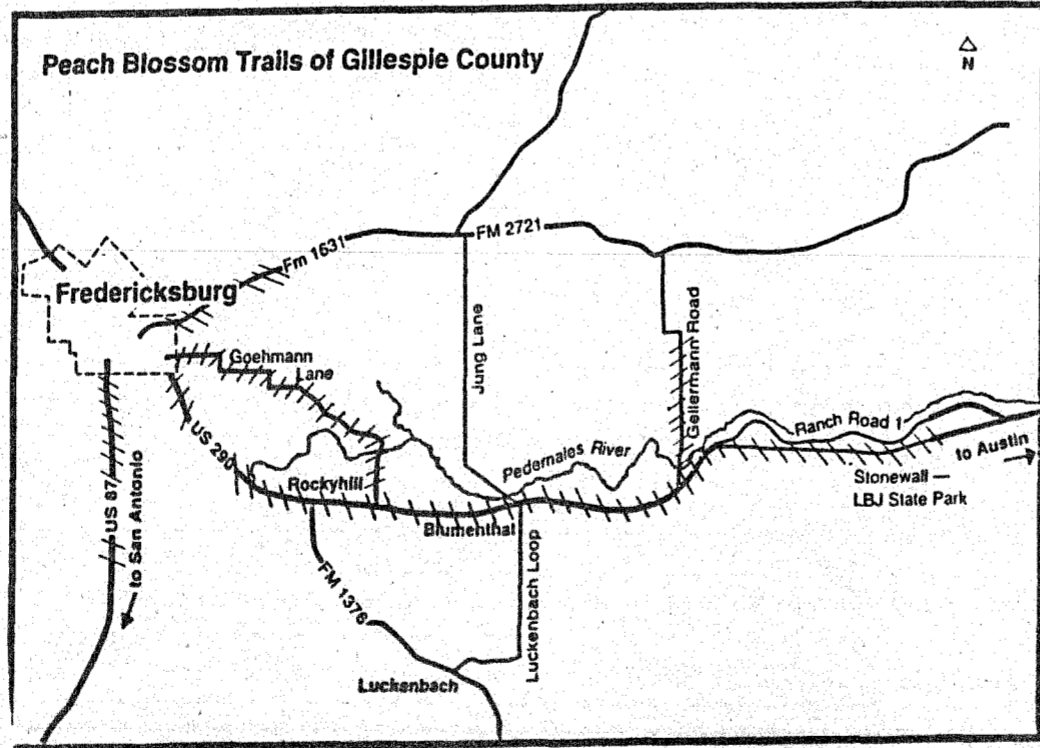

BY JOHN A. LIPE, Extension Horticulturist

Peach blossoms and the Stonewall-Fredricksburg area of Gillespie County go hand in hand in the spring. The bloom is running slightly ahead of schedule this year. Some peaches are already blooming heavily and the orchards should reach their peak beauty between March 10 and March 15.

The accompanying map shows crosshatched routes with the greatest number of peach orchards. The largest single block of peaches (near 600 acres) in Texas can be viewed by driving 2 to 3 miles north of U.S. 290 on Gellerman Road, about 1 mile west of Stonewall. This drive up Gellerman Road gives a scenic view of the orchards stretching into the Pedernales River Valley around Stonewall.

Most of the orchards on U.S. 87 south of Fredricksburg are within 5 to 6 miles of town. Follow FM 1631 (Cave Creek Road) for 4 to 5 miles east of Fredricksburg and see more large orchards.

Side excursions from this route will reveal additional orchards throughout the Fredricksburg-Stonewall area.

Students Attend Symphony Concert

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade students of Santa Anna were in Brownwood Monday, March 9, for a performance of the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra.

Area school children were guests of the Orchestra for a special presentation at the Brownwood Coliseum.

Teachers accompanying the children on the trip were Elementary Principal Frank Gray, Betty Moore, Lena Hendry, Susan Snipes, Betty Coffee, Gail Loyd and Lonnie Baker.

A recording of the concert was made for future study by the children in instrument identification and other related musical training.

Fannies Funnies

BY FANNIE GILBERT

When I get to be an old woman I shall wear purple, with a red hat that doesn't go and doesn't suit me. And I shall spend my pension on brandy and summer gloves and satin sandals, and say we've no money for butter. I shall sit down on the pavement when I'm tired and gobble up samples in shops and press alarm bells and run my stick along the public railings, all just to make up for the sobriety of my youth. I shall go out in my slippers in the rain and pick flowers from other people's gardens. I'll start dancing anywhere I am when I hear music, and I'll learn to spit, but maybe I ought to start practicing a little now, so people who know me are not too shocked and surprised when suddenly I am old and start to wear purple and do as I please.

A newcomer to a small town noticed that a retired couple next door always seemed on the go. She asked another neighbor the reason. "Oh," the neighbor said, "their five children and twelve grandchildren live down the block." "I see," the newcomer said, "they go babysitting." "No," the neighbor said, "they go out so their kids can't catch them at home."

Poisons Act Fast ... So Do Children

Poison Prevention Week March 15-21

"Poisons act fast...so do children." And so must anyone who finds a child who has been poisoned. Would you know what to do?

If you think someone has swallowed a poison, remain as calm as possible. Call the nearest hospital, pharmacy, or poison control center. Emergency numbers should be kept near each phone in the house, but these numbers are also located on the inside covers of most telephone directories. If a 911 system exists in your community, the answering dispatcher can help; or a call to the telephone operator, stating a poison emergency, can also gain quick assistance.

As a reminder during Poison Prevention Week, March 15-21, Texas Safety Association and many other concerned groups and individuals recommend that you "poison proof" your home, including the garage and storage areas. Very common household products such as cleaning products, cosmetics, over-the-counter medicines, and more can cause severe internal injuries, even death, for a child if immediate help isn't provided. If an accidental poisoning happens, have the container in your hand when you call for help so that you can describe the substance swallowed by the victim.

To avoid the need for one of those emergency phone calls, follow a few prevention tips:

- +Store all household cleaning products out of a child's reach and away from shelves containing food. Lock up all toxic products.
- +Keep medicines, cleaning products, paint, drain cleaners, and any other potentially harmful products in their original containers. This includes items stored in the garage such as antifreeze, paint thinners, etc.
- +NEVER tell children that medicine is candy since that may tempt them to search for it later. Even too many of those chewable children's aspirin can harm your child.
- +Buy only child-resistant packaged medicines and keep them closed properly. These packages are only "resistant" for children-kids learn quickly, so keep even the resistant packages out of reach. +Be sure to keep emergency telephone numbers close to each phone in the house.

Loving and caring people can be the cause of tragedy. Parents tend to remember the need to child proof a home, but relatives might not be as aware if their children are grown or gone. If you visit other homes with your children, or you have youngsters visiting you, the same precautions need to be taken—a little one takes his or her curiosity along when away from home. Findings from a U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission study showed that 36 percent of the accidental childhood prescription drug ingestions involved a grandparent's medication.

A poisoning can happen anywhere when prevention isn't given enough emphasis. Child Proof your youngster's surroundings and keep emergency phone numbers handy.

Poisons act fast...and so do children.

Decedent's Executor Might Have to File

A taxpayer's death does not necessarily mean that a federal income tax return is no longer required to be filed for him or her. The Internal Revenue Service said.

If the taxpayer died before filing a 1986 tax return, his or her personal representative, if one has been appointed, must file and sign a return for the decedent if a return is required. If a joint return is filed, the surviving spouse must also sign. A personal representative can be an executor, administrator, or anyone with legal responsibility to take care of the decedent's affairs. If a return is not required, but the taxpayer had tax withheld, a return should be filed to obtain a refund, the IRS said.

If the surviving spouse did not remarry during 1986, a joint return can be filed. If the taxpayer dies in 1987 before filing a 1986 return, joint returns can be filed for 1986 and 1987. However if the surviving spouse remarries in 1987, a joint return cannot be filed.

Further information is contained in the free IRS Publication 559, Tax Information for Survivors, Executors, and Administrators, available by calling the IRS toll-free number or by using the order form in the tax package.

COLD FACTS ABOUT THE COMMON COLD

NEW HOPE FOR COLD SUFFERERS?

Although the common cold has been around since the beginning of civilization, scientists are still searching for a cure. Since a cold can be caused by any of 200 viruses, this is no easy task. There is, however, a great deal of promising research currently under way.

The research concerns a variety of approaches:

• Interferon: This is one of the most talked-about treatments. Interferon is a substance found naturally in our bodies, which functions as the body's own defense against infections. Synthesized interferon, when applied in the nose (drops or spray) of an infected individual, appears to be effective in limiting the spread of colds, that is, breaking the chain of transmission from the cold sufferer to other family members.

Scientists are trying to determine optimal dosage and length of treatment to avoid potential side effects, including nosebleeds, nasal dryness and stuffiness.

• Zinc: A common metal found in our bodies, zinc is necessary for a strong immune response. Clinical studies have shown zinc to interfere with the reproduction of some cold viruses. In one clinical trial, researchers found that zinc lozenges (nutritional supplements commonly available in health food stores) dissolved in the mouth every two hours shorten the life of a cold by as much as seven days.

However, zinc's effectiveness remains to be confirmed by other research. In addition, scientists recommend caution in the use of zinc, since large doses can be toxic.

• Virucidal (virus-killing) treatments: Researchers are experimenting with disposable tissues treated with something that actually kills cold viruses. In clinical testing, the tissues have proved effective in halting transmission of the most common types of cold viruses, including the rhinovirus, which accounts for about 30 percent of all colds.

Until these and other possible cures for the common cold are available, however, what should a cold sufferer do? Physicians recommend a common-sense approach towards both prevention and treatment.

Since colds are usually spread through hand contact, doctors suggest washing your hands frequently, using disposable tissues and cleaning contaminated surfaces with disinfectant spray or soap and water.

If a cold is not prevented, experts agree that the best treatment currently available for the common cold includes staying comfortable, drinking plenty of fluids, eating a balanced diet and not smoking. Just as important as rest and proper diet, is use of an over-the-counter cold medication. Such products are quite effective in relieving symptoms of sneezing, runny nose and congestion.

There are numerous brands for sale over-the-counter; one of the most familiar is CONTAC, which contains both an antihistamine and decongestant in a 12-hour continuous action formula.

The decongestant reduces swelling of the nasal passages, which relieves congestion and allows you to breathe easier, while the antihistamine dries up the excess secretions and decreases the sneezing associated with the common cold.

To receive a free CONTAC "Cold Facts About the Common Cold" brochure, write to CONTAC, P.O. Box 10000, Dept. W, Long Island City, NY 11101.

(Editor's note: following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.)

Q—I plan to travel overseas to visit the gravesite of a close relative of mine who was killed in action in World War II. Do I have to pay a fee to obtain a passport?

A—No. Immediate members of the family (widows, parents, children, sisters, brothers and guardians) of veterans buried in or commemorated on the Tablets of Missing of the permanent American military cemeteries of foreign soil may be eligible for "Non-fee or Fee-free" passports. For more information you should write to the American Battle Monuments Commission, Room 5127, Pulaski Building, 20 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20314.

Q—My husband has been rated 100 percent for his service-connected disability and has been receiving compensation for the last 15 years. If he dies from other than service-connected causes, will I be entitled to Disability Indemnity Compensation (DIC)?

A—Yes. The widow of any veteran who was in receipt of 100 percent compensation for service-connected disabilities for ten or more years immediately prior to death, is entitled to receive DIC benefits, regardless of the cause of death.

Q—How can I obtain copies of my military service records which are not a part of my Veterans Administration claims file?

A—Military records are kept at the National Personnel Records Center in St. Louis. Contact your nearest VA regional office or any veteran's service organization for information on how to request copies of your military records.

Q—For VA improved pension income purposes, can burial expenses for a spouse be claimed for exclusion along with unreimbursed medical expenses?

A—Yes. Expenses related to illness and burial of a veteran's spouse or child can be claimed.

Q—I am a member of the military reserve and entitled to education benefits under the new GI Bill-Reserve. Will I receive an additional allowance for my dependents once I begin training?

A—No. Additional allowance for dependents is not paid for those training under this new program.

IT'S A FACT!

Ever wonder why sinus flare-ups are so painful? When membranes in the sinuses become swollen, they close the passageway and prevent the sinuses from draining. The result: painful pressure builds up in the sinuses.

When that happens, many people ask their pharmacists what to do. That's the person who can tell you about a new sinus medicine designed for night use. Called Sinutab Night-time Sinus Formula, this product is sugar- and alcohol-free. It's made by the same company that's offered the leading sinus remedy—Sinutab—for three decades. This liquid is a complete remedy designed to provide relief of sinus complex, to help sinus sufferers get the rest they need.

Tax Board Meeting Held

Members of the Coleman county Tax District Board of Directors met in regular session at the District office Monday, March 9. Barbara Kingsbery, chairman, led the meeting that was attended by members Jake McCreary, Dwight Nanny, Billie Wright, and Lang Martin Jr.

Chief Appraiser Bill Jones gave financial reports and reviewed accounts that were approved for payment.

A report of 1986 tax collections showed an average of 82 percent collected at the end of February, down slightly from the same time last year. However the dollar amount of taxes collected was an increase over the previous year.

A contract with the Austin law firm of Calame and Graham was awarded a two-year contract for collection of delinquent taxes for the next two years. The firm receives a percentage of the collections made.

It was announced that Arvella Simpson has been hired as clerk in the office to replace LeAnn Warren who recently resigned. The resignation of Jana Knowles was read and accepted. Ms. Knowles has been employed with the Tax District for over five years and is moving from the community.

Mr. Jones gave information showing Coleman County appraisals at 70 percent of the statewide average figures, up from last year.

The next meeting of the group will be Monday, April 13.

Here's a tip . . . a tax tip.

If you've got tax questions, you can get the answers by calling the IRS Tele-Tax service, a recorded information service on about 150 topics. The phone number is in your tax package and telephone directory.

QUICK QUIZ

Getting older—or better? If you're down on getting older, taking this quiz about it might pick you right up.

1. True or false: There are more older people than ever before living longer than ever before.

2. Who said it? "Some folks as they grow older grow wise, but most folks simply grow stubborn."
a. George Burns
b. Josh Billings
c. Ronald Reagan

3. The Graying of America...gray hair is caused by ----
a. decrease in the production of melanin.
b. increase in the production of melanin.

4. Are you as hot as you used to be? True or false: Your body temperature drops as you grow older.

Answers: 1. True. 2. b. 3. a. This can happen as a result of aging, or, in some cases, occurs prematurely. In any case, there's no longer any reason to look older than you are—or feel. Many Americans use a product called Grecian Formula 16 to restore lost color to graying hair. It works with the hair's natural chemistry to produce a similar acting pigment where the melanin used to be. It combines with the hair's protein inside the hair to gradually "reverse" the graying process and bring back natural looking color. It's as easy to use as a hair tonic. You can even leave a little gray around the sides if you like. 4. True.

Your Amazing Skin

THE WICKED ITCH

That wicked itch! Itchy, irritated hand and body skin seem to plague many people especially during cold weather, studies show.

Proper skin care during cold weather is important.

What makes this a time so many suffer from skin problems? Dermatologists cite three main factors:

- Dry air
- Cold air
- Clothing irritation

To soothe the wicked itches of winter, many people use a special medicated cream proven effective for the therapeutic treatment of dry skin pain and itch. The fast-acting, doctor-tested anesthetic in Lanacane[®] Medicated Creme starts to work in just four seconds to stop the itching. Isn't it rather ironic that some business people will get up in the morning... clean their teeth with an advertised brush and advertised toothpaste... wash with advertised soaps and shampoos... put on advertised underwear, innerwear, and turn down a proposal to advertise on the grounds that advertising doesn't pay.

Help Your Heart

American Heart Association

Toward a Smoke-Free Young America

Someday tobacco products may disappear from American society. The Surgeon General of the United States believes the first step toward that objective is to bring about a smoke-free generation of young people. He expects that to happen by the year 2000, and the American Heart Association shares that goal.

The emphasis is on youth because most smokers pick up the habit between the ages of 14 and 17.

To help create a smoke-free young America, the AHA is working with other voluntary health agencies on three fronts: increasing the federal cigarette excise tax, eliminating or restricting tobacco advertising and promotion, and assuring the rights of nonsmokers through legislative means.

Higher cigarette costs usually mean lower sales to teens, so an increase in the federal excise tax should help reduce the number of young smokers. In fact, many economic experts believe that a 10 percent increase in the price of cigarettes would cause a 12 percent drop in the number of teenage smokers as well as a decrease in the number of packs sold. The AHA supports doubling the federal excise tax rate from 16 to 32 cents per pack, with future rates tied to inflation. This could result in an estimated 850,000 fewer young smokers.

Some teenagers start smoking regardless of the cost. Many are lured to the habit by cigarette advertising. A ban on all tobacco advertising is supported by most health organizations, including the AHA and the American Medical Association. Even though tobacco companies claim young people are not the targets of advertising, cigarette ads portray smokers as people who enjoy professional, social and athletic success. The underlying message to teenagers is that smoking is an integral part of this lifestyle. If they dream of success, the cigarette becomes a part of that dream.

Another promotional tactic is the distribution of free cigarettes at sporting events and concerts. Teenagers may be introduced to smoking in this manner, even though industry guidelines limit distribution to adults only. Tobacco companies also recruit new smokers through sponsorship of athletic events, concerts and rodeos.

Even with the amount of money spent on cigarette advertising, nonsmokers are now in the majority. "No Smoking" signs are becoming almost as widespread as the billboards which tout cigarettes, and one reason is that many communities are adopting clean indoor air laws. Smoking is being restricted to smaller and often less accessible areas. Schools are encouraged to join the trend and eliminate student smoking areas. AHA volunteers have been instrumental in convincing school boards to implement tougher policies on smoking, and in helping secure passage of ordinances which prohibit smoking in some public places.

Success will come only with the efforts of people and organizations dedicated to helping young people avoid the addiction of nicotine. Through the work of the American Heart Association, the American Cancer Society and the American Lung Association, the Surgeon General's goal of a smoke-free young America by the year 2000 can be reached.

Resolving Car Repair Disputes

Car repairs are among the most common sources of complaints received by the Attorney General's Office. Almost everyone needs an auto mechanic from time to time. So, if you're not an expert on auto repair, you're going to have to find someone who is. The best advice we've heard is this: Ask your friends for the names of reliable mechanics and locate several you feel comfortable with BEFORE the car needs repairing. Your investigation should include a call to your local Better Business Bureau and/or the nearest branch of the Attorney General's Office to see if there are unresolved complaints against those you are considering.

One company advertised a rebuilt transmission for under $200, but when customers came in they learned that low price did not include an essential part, raising the price considerably. This company also is under injunction obtained by my office.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS

Although many other states have laws specifically governing auto repair shops, Texas has none. However, the Consumer Protection Act makes the following practices unlawful:

- 1) knowingly making a false or misleading statement of fact concerning the need for parts, replacement, or repairs;
- 2) representing that work has been done or parts have been replaced when that is not the case;
- 3) representing that goods are original or new, when they are actually second hand or refurbished;
- 4) basing a charge for a repair on a warranty instead of on the value of the actual repairs without separately stating the charges for the work and the charge for the warranty, if any.

REPAIR TIPS

When you take your car in for repair, ask for a written estimate before any work is done on your car. Tell the mechanic to call you for authorization if any additional work or parts are needed.

If the charge is much higher than the estimate or if work was done without your authorization and you feel you have been overcharged, question the bill. Ask for a written explanation and keep the statement in case you decide to take further action. You may wish to try to talk the mechanic into lowering the price. However, if you refuse to pay the bill, the mechanic can legally refuse to release your car.

My attorneys tell me there is a continuing problem with certain transmission repair companies around the state. We have sued several of these companies for tactics such as falsely advertising the price of repairs and "bait and switch" tactics. Some companies advertise a low price for a transmission check-up, for example, and then lie to consumers about the need for repairs—at a much higher price.

If you have an auto repair problem that the shop will not correct, the Consumer Protection Division offers a mediation service for such complaints.

If you or your business needs more help or information on this or other consumer problems, contact your nearest Attorney General Consumer Protection Office (in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen and San Antonio). Understanding Your Body

FACTS TO HELP YOU HELP YOURSELF

YOUR AMAZING BRAIN

Better understanding about the brain—involving possible treatments for diseases such as cancer—has helped define important goals for medical research, experts agree.

Like other organs, the brain is cleansed and nourished by circulating blood. But unlike other organs, the brain has a protective shield of tiny blood vessels that keep the fluid bathing the brain separate from the blood itself. This blood-brain barrier regulates the passage of chemicals between the brain and cerebrospinal fluid.

"Without a functioning blood-brain barrier, our brains would be constantly vulnerable to toxins and infecting viral and bacterial organisms, such as those responsible for meningitis and tuberculosis," reports Roy D. Hudson, Ph.D., director, central nervous system diseases research at The Upjohn Company.

In medicine, the challenge is to overcome this barrier and get drugs into the brain to treat head injury or diseases such as Parkinson's and cancer. According to Dr. Hudson, drugs that are not small or lipid (fat)-soluble molecules must be altered or assisted in some way in order to gain access to the brain.

One recent, radically different approach to the treatment of Alzheimer's disease involves mechanically penetrating the blood-brain barrier to deliver drug therapy. Doctors have done pioneering work with a surgical-implant technique that allows bethanechol chloride to be pumped through a tiny tube into the brain.

Drugs that can penetrate the blood-brain barrier may bring new hope to brain cancer patients and others with central nervous system diseases.

Perhaps the most exciting development in this area is the targeted delivery of anti-cancer drugs to brain tumors. New approaches being studied combine chemotherapeutic drugs with various carrier or protective molecules. For example, drugs can be linked with antibodies—immune system chemicals that attach to tumor cells. When the antibody attacks the tumor, it introduces the anti-tumor compound precisely at the site where it is needed.

Once we better understand the blood-brain barrier, medical experts say, we should be able to develop "friendly" drugs—ones with greater access to the brain and reduced side effects—for the treatment of cancers, head injury and central nervous system disorders.
